Newsprint Prices

Some dealers call this free market -- as contrasted with the contract market at $91 -- a "gray market."

One paper dealer is currently offering 500 tons of high-quality Swedish newsprint at $240 a ton at Curacao, Netherlands West Indies. This is equivalent to about $260 a ton delivered in New York.

Another source of supply for the high-priced free market is the diversion of Canadian paper consigned to New York for re-export.

A typical transaction occurred several weeks ago, one paper dealer said, involving a shipment of newsprint to Shanghai from a Canadian mill through the port of New York. The exporter in New York learned that his Shanghai customer had gone bankrupt after the paper had arrived in New York, this dealer said. The paper eventually filtered into the free market.

Well-informed sources in the industry stated they knew of only one instance, involving about 22 tons of newsprint, in which a Canadian mill deliberately arranged with its New York agent to divert into the free market newsprint which was ostensibly bound for re-export from New York.

A fair quantity of off-size newsprint also has found its way to the high-priced market. Normally a publisher would not bother with odd sizes but one southern newspaper paid $80 a ton for short-width newsprint which resulted in a paper with some pages only one and one-half columns wide.

The whole problem of the newsprint shortage despite somewhat higher production in Canada, the main world producer and this country's chief source of supply, now is being investigated by two committees of Congress. The Canadian Combines Investigation Commissioner has made a "confidential" report regarding an alleged "combine" in the newsprint industry in Canada.

Tax Veto

tax cutting bill with the assertion it is still the "wrong kind of tax reduction" at the "wrong time."

House leaders planned an immediate vote and confidently forecast the necessary two-thirds majority to override. But Republicans foresaw little hope of obtaining an overriding majority in the Senate. Failure of either House to override, they say, will kill any tax reduction for the current session of Congress.

Mr. Truman's veto message went to the House which originated the income tax slashing measure to become effective January 1. The first bill he vetoed was identical, except that it would have taken effect last July 1.

Since that veto, the President said, "there has been no lessening of the need to make substantial payments on the public debt."

Mr. Truman said that when the time comes to lessen the wartime tax burden it should be reduced "on a basis that is fair to low income groups as well as to high income groups."

Without specifying when he thought the time would be ripe for cutting taxes, the President asserted:

"I am unequivocally committed to the right kind of tax reduction at the right time."

The Republican bill trims taxes from 20 per cent in the lowest taxable incomes to 10.5 per cent on incomes over $302,000. But Mr. Truman termed this measure "a premature and faulty tax reduction bill" which would inject into the tax system "inequities which would greatly increase the difficulty of making desirable revisions."

He added that the legislation is "at complete variance with the fundamental requirements of a good tax bill," and said he is "compelled" to veto it.

The President referred to international obligations as another reason for delaying the reduction of taxes. He said:

"Our responsibilities for international rehabilitation have an important bearing on our efforts to secure lasting peace.

"The recent refusal of certain nations to join in common endeavors to establish conditions of stability increases the difficulty of our task."

The President said the bill represents not only "unsound fiscal policy" but would contribute "to inflationary pressures which we have made progress in combatting but have by no means overcome."

He continued:

"As I stated in the message on H.R. 1, (the first tax bill) there is no justification for tax reduction so long as price stability at sound levels has not been secured and business, employment and national income continue at peak levels.

Since his original veto, Mr. Truman said income payments to individuals have continued to rise "and the general level of business activity is establishing new high records," while the number of civilians employed has also increased.

Asserting that total employment in June increased by 1,725,000 over May, bringing the total now employed to more than 60,000,000 -- the highest in history, the President declared:

"There is still no convincing evidence that a recession is imminent.

"Tax reduction now would delay the readjustments of prices and wages necessary to maintain this high prosperity. It would lead to an even higher level of prices for consumer goods. It would increase the danger of a recession."

Peace Overture Made To Dutch By Indonesia

Offer To Raise Food Blockmade Made By Premier Over Radio

BATAVIA, Java, July 18, (AP)—Indonesian Premier Amir Sjarifoeddin said in a radio speech today the republic was prepared to halt all hostilities and unfriendly action provided the "Dutch show an eagerness to reach a peaceful solution too." The speech, broadcast over all Indonesian stations, offered also to lift the food blockade against cities occupied by the Dutch.

It came at a moment when Dutch-Indonesian negotiations appeared to have broken down over a proposed cease-fire order and police powers in a projected interim government. The Dutch had predicted armed hostilities would start this weekend because Sjarifoeddin had rejected all Dutch demands.

Reported clashes along the front lines emphasized the tension. The Indonesian News Agency asserted the Dutch had fired 210 shells into the village of Bandjatan, ten miles south of Bandoeng in West Java, inflicting heavy casualties over a three-hour period.

Another Republican report said Dutch and Indonesian troops fought yesterday at Blodjong Malakka; near Bandoeng.

A Dutch communique said the Indonesians had committed "far more than" 121 truce violations in the last two weeks and had violated the peace accord more than 1,000 times since the Republicans issued their first cease fire order Feb. 27. The Republican army charged yesterday the Dutch had violated the truce 300 times in June.

Deputy Premiers A. K. Gani and Setiadjit of the Indonesian republic postponed their return from Batavia, the Dutch capital of Jogjakarta while both sides anxiously awaited a decision from the Hague about whether the Netherlands would take up arms to solve the latest stalemate.

(A military spokesman in The Hague said yesterday the Dutch had 98,000 well equipped troops on Java and Sumatra and 16,000 more on other East Indies Islands. The Indonesian Republican army was reported to have 200,000 troops, not including guerrillas.

High Corn Prices Result In Smaller Supplies Of Meat

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE

WASHINGTON — Smaller meat supplies are in prospect for next year as a result of the high price of corn.

Government livestock experts also say that if consumer demand continues strong, meat prices are likely to be higher in 1948 because of the shortened supply.

High prices for corn tend to reduce the future meat supplies because many corn growers figure they can make more money by selling their corn than by feeding it to hogs and cattle. Farmers, particularly those in the corn belt, keep a sharp eye on the hog-corn price ratio.

The Technical Deadline

This ratio means, generally speaking, that when the market price of 100 pounds of hogs is less than the price of 11.5 bushels of corn is the "signal" for less feeding of corn in normal times, when most hog-feeding farmers are efficient and experienced operators.

However, the big increase in the demand for meat during the war and postwar period brought a large number of inexperienced hog producers into the business. Many of these newcomers figure it pays to stop or reduce corn-feeding when the price of 100 pounds of hogs is less than the price of 13 bushels of corn.

A Department of Agriculture market observer recently estimated that 100 pounds of hogs were bringing in money equivalent to only 10.2 bushels of corn. Corn prices increased considerably after that computation was made.

Fall and Winter Prospects

While prospective reduction in livestock feeding indicates smaller meat supplies next year, butcher shops probably will be heavily stocked in the coming fall and winter months. There has been a record slaughter of cattle and calves this year, and an increased output of pork is indicated for this summer and fall.

The Bureau of Agricultural Economics says this year's huge slaughter of cattle and calves will result in a sharp reduction in the number of these animals on farms. Cattle feeding in 1948 probably will be below the high rate of this year. As a result, says the bureau, beef and veal output is expected to be reduced next year.

However, food supply observers say that even if meat output is reduced as much as 18 pounds per person next year, it will not necessarily mean "a critical shortage" except possibly for those who do not have the money to buy meat.

The average consumption per person for the years 1935-1939 was 125.8 pounds, almost 28 pounds less per person than this year's estimated average of 153 pounds. This year's consumption is said to be the largest in 86 years.

Refugee Ship

identified as the former American merchantman President Warfield—approached Haifa in custody of British destroyers.

Seizure of the refugee ship was disclosed in an official announcement by British authorities, who said that the boarding party had "encountered strong resistance" and that tear gas had been used by both sides in the battle.

The announcement said that damages had been suffered by both the intercepting naval vessels and by the refugee ship during the clash.

The steamer President Warfield, once carried thousands of vacationists between Baltimore and Norfolk, as queen of the old Bay Line fleet.

She participated in the Normandy invasion in 1944 and later turned up as a troopship plying the shallow Seine between Le Havre and Rouen.

She was mustered into war service in 1942, made an Atlantic crossing under her own power, and participated in pre-invasion amphibious maneuvers off Barnstable and the North Devon coast of England.

The Warfield came back to the states battered and destined for the scrap heap, but the Weston Trading Company of New York bid for her $50,000 at a surplus sale.

A later announcement said she had been bought by the Chinese-American Industrial Company of New York and would go into service as a Chinese river boat.

But she started for China by way of Marseille, France. Most of her cargo when she set out was life preservers and mess kits. There wasn't much doubt she really was headed for a job of running Jewish immigrants into Palestine.

ing Speaker Martin (R-Mass) in line to replace him in the event Mr. Truman is unable to complete his term.

The legislation, which Mr. Truman requested immediately after he entered the White House and vacated the vice-presidency, was signed as part of the presidential routine.

The House Appropriations Committee recommended an additional $35,500,000 for construction of temporary housing for war veterans and their families.

The committee estimated that 8,026 units can be provided with the new money, which supplements $438,462,914 already provided for the program for conther war housing to temporary version of surplus military and veterans' housing. The National Housing Agency is in charge of the work.

The House Commerce Committee approved legislation to give Italy 31 merchant ships as compensation for an equal number of vessels lost or seized in the war.

The bill, already approved by Senate, also provides for return of $60,000,000 in wartime seized Italian property after deductions of amounts necessary to meet claims of U. S. citizens who suffered losses in Italy during the war.

A renewed plea for United States leadership in repatriating and resettling the displaced persons of Europe went before Congress with legislation proposing $71,024,900 as this country's share of the cost.

CHICAGO, July 18, (AP)—A city fireman punched a bear in the nose at the suburban Brookfield Zoo and thereby saved the life of three year old Terry Lee Falk, of Joliet, Ill.

Terry, visiting the zoo yesterday with his mother, Mrs. Amberta Falk, decided to feed the black bear some of his surplus popcorn. He clambered over the guard rail and across the intervening safety zone. The bear seized the child and pinned him to the cage with his huge, clawed paws.

Fireman Walter Troy, attracted by the child's screams, leaped the rail and began punching the bear's nose. When the animal relaxed its grip, Troy snatched Terry free.

At Berwyn Hospital, where the boy was treated for claw marks on his right arm and left thigh, Terry said, "I only tried to pet him."

The failure of the Seminole County Bank in 1927 accounted for a loss of more than $1,000,000 of city money derived from bonds, including the funds for the new hospital, swimming pool, fire station, $400,000 for the bulkhead and part of the sewer funds.

Paving bonds in 1927 were $423,000 and certificates of indebtedness $161,000.

In 1928, it was found necessary to issue refunding bonds to pay bills and interest and principal on serial bonds that were due. This included $616,000 issues of A-1 refinancing bonds; $261,000 of A-2 bonds and $425,000 worth of A-3 bonds.

On Sept. 30, 1929 total bonds outstanding were $7,002,000, accrued interest on bonds was $294,791 and total bonded indebtedness was $7,296,791.

By Sept. 30, 1933 total bonds outstanding were reduced to $6,187,000 but accrued interest on bonds was $1,274,246 which brought the total up to $7,461,246. Three years later in 1936, bonds outstanding totalled $5,920,000 and accrued interest was $595,422 a total of $6,515,422.

On July 1 of this year total bonds outstanding were $4,878,000 and there was no accrued interest. These mature Sept. 1, 1977.

The United States has 31,700,000 telephones, Great Britain 3,575,000, and Russia, 1,272,500.

Truman Calls For Stronger Defense Against Inflation

"Unprecedented Prosperity" Cited But Inflationary Problems Outlined

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—President Truman said today the nation has surged to a pinnacle of "unprecedented prosperity," but must stengthen its defense against inflation.

In a special mid-year economic report to Congress, the Chief Executive declared that production now is running at a rate of $225,000,000,000 a year far surpassing anything in history, and added:

"We can place the high production and the high employment that we have today on a firm foundation of enduring prosperity and peace."

But threaded through the 30,000 word document were four C's—Corn, Coal, Construction and Commerce overseas, named by Mr. Truman as developments which mean that "inflationary problems may become stronger."

Terming price reductions still necessary in many areas, the President said they must not be swamped in a wave of speculation caused by the forecast of a short corn crop or by a wave of new wage and price boosts pegged to John L. Lewis' coal contract settlement.

Mr. Truman said there are as yet "no grounds for real alarm nor for general speculative increases in food prices" arising

Court Rules On Papers And Files Of F. D. Roosevelt

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y. July 21 (AP)—Dutchess County Surrogate Frederick S. Quinterro ruled today that all papers and files of the late President Roosevelt are "a valid and effective gift to the United States government to be placed, maintained and preserved in the Franklin D. Roosevelt library at Hyde Park."

The decision came as part of a judicial settlement of the account of proceedings of James Roosevelt, Basil O'Connor and Henry P. Hackett as executors of the last will and testament of Mr. Roosevelt.

Last Spring, when the Senate War Investigatating Committee sought permission to go through the papers in search of information dealing with Navy purchases of Arabian oil, Fred W. Shipman, librarian, said "at such time and if the Roosevelt papers are turned over to the government by court order, the United States archivist would face no insurmountable problem in making the papers available to a Senate committee or any other government body for official use."

At that time, President Truman had rejected the request for the papers and wrote the executors asking for any papers relavant to the inquiry.

Shipman could not be reached immediately for comment on the surrogate's decision.

Yesterday the Senate War Investigating Committee subpoenaed papers of the late President for an inquiry aimed at determining who authorized a wartime contract to Howard Hughes for construction of an experimental flying boat.

Earl E. Koons, an attorney for the Roosevelt estate, refering to the subpoena, said today "No one knows whether the documents sought are among Mr. Roosevelt's papers. If they are they will be supplied to the committee as soon as possible. Every effort will be made to comply with the subpoena."

Two Pieces Of Local Property Are Sold

The Gulf Oil Company is planning considerable increase in the size of its filling station at French Avenue and First Street, and have purchased the Lula Miller property adjoining the station on First Street for this purpose.

The old home on the property will be moved to another site, according to W. R. Williams, realtor, who handled the transaction.

Mr. Williams also announced that W. E. Swaim had sold his home at 116 West Nineteenth Street to Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Dixon who came to Sanford several months ago from Waycross, Ga. Mr. Dixon is an employee of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad.

5,000,000 Reds In U. S. Are Said Pushing 3rd Party

House Passes Measure Outlawing Poll Tax Requirement

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—An estimate that there are about 5,000,000 Communists or sympathizers in the United States—all pushing for a coalition of Leftists, was given the House Committee on Un-American Activities today by Walter S. Steele of Washington.

Steele was the first of 14 witnesses scheduled as the committee began a week of public hearings on Communist activities. He testified as chairman of the National Security Committee of the American coalition of patriotic, civic and fraternal societies. The coalition is an organization of 84 societies promoting patriotism, Steele said. He gave this breakdown of Communists and their sympathizers in this country:

1. Upwards of 100,000 card-carrying members of the Communist Party.

2. Another 100,000 candidates for party membership.

3. Approximately 4,800 members of Communist front organizations. As for their political activity, Steele asserted:

"They are now pushing for a coalition of Leftists with the expectation of forming a major third party."

Steele called the front organizations "far more dangerous" than the party. He explained:

"The leaders are publicized as authors, professors, scientists and professional men. Ever increasing members are joining them. All are gradually veering to the party line through the pulling of the strings of the tireless workers among those forces who have party affiliations."

Steele said he submitted to the War Department two months ago a list of 2,000 Army officers or men who are members of the Communist party or of fronts.

Motorcylist Hurt In Highway Wreck

Condition of Roy Clyde Kitchins, 28 year old Ocoee mechanic, whose motorcycle was wrecked shortly after 2:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon when he attempted at high rate of speed to pass an automobile on the Orlando road at "Death Valley", is today reported as serious at Fernald-Laughton Memorial Hospital, and x-rays are being taken to determine possible concussion, according to State Highway Patrolman L. C. Bender, who investigated the accident.

Both Kitchens and his wife, Myrtle Kitchens were taken to the hospital by Charles Luke, manager of the Mather Furniture Store and a witness to the accident. Mrs. Kitchens, who was treated for cuts and bruises, was released from the hospital last evening.

The accident took place about 150 feet south of the well which is south of the Big Tree road. The motorcycle, a Harley Davidson, '37 model, collided with the left rear fender of the 1941 Chrysler Sedan driven north on the highway by Josephine Miney, 36 year old Orlando negress. According to Patrolman Bender, the motorcycle was dragged about 150 feet.

Six Man Jury In Papy Case Is Agreed On

Judge Directs Jurors Be Kept Together And Cut Off From News Publications

TALLAHASEE, Fla., July 21 (AP)—A six man trial jury was seated today after two and a half hours of examination to try former Representative Bernie C. Papy of Key West on charges of bribing fellow House members.

As soon as the jury was sworn in, the court recessed until 2:30 P. M.

Odham and Rep. Clarence M. Camp of Ocala accused Papy of offering them bribes to help defeat a bill prohibiting telephone and telegraph companies from giving their service to race bet bookmakers. They are the State's principal witnesses.

During selection of the jury, Papy sat calmly at the defense table, surrounded by six lawyers.

Neither the State nor the defense used all of its allotted challenges of veniremen and only 15 of the 93 called as prospective jurors were questioned.

Pat Whitaker of Tampa quizzed everyone of them on whether they had any connections with newspapers or relatives connected with newspapers.

He also asked them whether they would lean "to the slightest degree" toward the prosecution if Papy were not called to the stand to testify in his own defense. All replied they would not let that influence them.

Three state employees among the propective jurors were excused, either by the prosecution or the defense. Judge W. May Walker excused two men when they said they had preconceived ideas about the charges.

Before court recessed for lunch, Judge Walker directed that the jurors be kept together throughout the trial and that they be cut off from access to magazines and newspapers until a verdict is reached.

The action was taken at the

Orlandoan Fined On Out-Of-Season Hunting Charge

Ray A. Hollenbeck of Orlando was arrested last Monday near Chuluota on a charge of hunting out of season after he had killed two turkeys on the preceding day. He was taken the same day before County Judge R. W. Ware and fined $100 and costs.

Joe Hickson, honorary game warden and rider for the Buck Point Hunting Club, identified Hollenback as having shot the turkeys. According to County Prosecuting Attorney George A. Speer, Hickson heard the two shots while in his home near where the turkeys were downed, ran down the road and saw Hollenbeck in his automobile, and was told by the latter that he had shot at a hawk.

The sound of turkeys in distress made Hickson suspicious and he noted the tag number of the car. Later he recovered the turkeys and notified a member of the hunting club who in turn telephoned Mr. Speer, Porter Lansing, president of the Seminole Sportsman's Association was contacted by Tanner, wild life officer of Orange County was located and with Seminole Game Warden Walter Coursen of Sanford, made the arrest.

Prior to arresting Hollenbeck the officers traced the car number to Orlando. Joe Hickson was taken along to identify Hollenbeck. A companion who was with Hollenbeck at the time of the shooting has not been identified, said Mr. Speer. The turkeys, one large and one small, were put in the Central Florida Quick Freeze Company plant and will probably be given to the County home.

B-29s In Germany To Test New U. S. Bombs

WIESBADEN, Germany, July 21, (AP)—An initial practice flight of three B-29 superfortresses which will test the penetration power of new American 25,000-pound bombs against a "bomb-proof" German submarine factory was postponed today by bad weather.

The huge planes, equipped with special bomb-bays, were scheduled to fly over the Farge underground submarine plant near Bremen this morning to familiarize pilots and bombardiers with the layout.

An Army Air Force spokesman said the tests would cover a three-month period. Thirty "Amazon" and "Samson" bombs, with their high explosives extracted, will be loosed on the target from heights of around 20,000 feet.

Gromyko Hits Balkan Inquiry

SOVIET DELEGATE Andrei A. Gromyko (left) is shown as he spoke on the Greek situation before the United Nations Council at Lake Success, N. Y. He said that the Soviet Union "cannot agree" to the U. S. proposal for the establishment of a semi-permanent frontier commission in the Balkans. He left members of the Council in the dark as to whether he would veto the American resolution or merely abstain. Seated at right is Sir Alexander Cadogan of Great Britain. (International)

No Action Taken To Lower Auction Fee By City Body

Firm Granted Option On Lots To Build 50 Pre-Fab Homes

The City Commission declined to act Friday evening on a measure proposed by Commissioner Andrew Carraway at the request of George Austin of the Thompson Furniture Company that the license fee for auction sales be reduced from $100 a day to $20 a day. The motion died for lack of a second, City Manager H. N. Sayer said today.

Ned Smith, owner of the Sanford Furniture Company, and Jack Ratigan, manager of the Seminole County Motors, Inc., appeared before the Commission and opposed reduction of the fee for auctions.

Until Oct. 1, 1944, this fee was $10 a day, said Mr. Sayer, at that time was increased to the present $100 rate. He declared that Mr. Austin had appeared at a meeting of the Commission on July 10, requested the reduction, and had pointed out that Orlando had reduced the rate from $250 to $50 a day. Mayor Gut, with the approval of the Commissioners, then directed City Attorney Fred Wison to prepare an ordinance containing the proposed reduction to be submitted at the Friday meeting.

Commissioners Bishop and Leaher, were absent from the Friday meeting. Tonight, the Commission will meet to consider

Aiken Reports His Experience On Talent Show

New York All Right, He Says, But Needs A Little More Sun

The most noticeable thing about New York City to a country boy visiting the city for the first time is the lack of sunshine, Dick Aikin, who recently won the Arthur Godfrey talent scout program, told his fellow Rotarians at their regular weekly luncheon. Mr. Aikin added that after he caught cold, he spent a good deal of time looking around New York for some little corner where he could get in the sun.

Another unforgettable impression, Mr. Aikin stated, was the speed of the subways and the jam they produce during the rush hour. He told of taking his first subway ride on an overnight trip to Orange, N. J., where he visited some friends and said that he never will forget the funny sensation in his ears as he went under the Hudson River.

Mr. Aiken was introduced by Charles Morrison who had charge of the program. Previously, Andrew Stine announced that the Lions Club had challanged the Rotary Club to a softball game on July 30. The club voted to accept the challenge and G. A. Speer, who presided in the absence of President Gordon Brinson, appointed Orville C. Toughton, Andrew Stine and James Higgins as a committee to make the arrangements.

Mr. Aikin recounted his experience in connection with when

Camp Winona Activities Highlighted By Treasure Hunt And Stunt Night

By BOBBY PARKS
Camp Scribe

Wednesday and Thursday were busy days at Camp Winona with the many activities going full blast.

Rifling off to a slow start because of weather, is going full blast now with daily prizes being awarded to the boy who makes the highest score. "Squirrel" Bowen won a rifleman's handibook for the highest score Thursday of a 43 out of a possible 50.

Many of the boys went with Mr. Morris for an interesting 2½ mile trip around the lake. On the hike the boys visited many points of interest around Winona and the outing was a huge success even though some of the boys tangled with a hornets' nest at an old slaughter house.

Thursday night was stunt night with each cabin entertaining the rest of the camp with an original stunt. The stunts were judged by the number of boys in it, its originality and the acting. Cabin I, under direction of Danny Callahan won first place with a skit of an operation.

Dr. Quack portrayed by Wade Garner and the feminine lead by "Squirrel" Bowen drew a big cheer. Cabin II with Ronnie Garner as Daisy-Mae and Walter Graham as the villain came in second place. Cabin III placed second with a take off of Little Annie, camp legend, and Buzzie Dunn as little Annie was a scream. Bobby Morris as Long Knife Harry, George Harden as One Eyed Pete and Stanley Katz as the grandmother gave a big laugh to the campers.

Bobby Morris won the treasure hunt held Thursday afternoon by a close margin over Wesley Spencer. This gave five extra points to his cabin and an ice cold watermelon as the treasure.

Wednesday night Al Brock entertained the camp at council ring by relating his experiences in North China. The Dishwashers quartet sang another highly enjoyable song.

Billy Park won his white swimming ribbon and Kenneth Ramsey his blue. Chum Stanley and Spencer Harden report the beginners' swimming classes as all making fast progress.

Buddy Dunn caused envy when he caught a 5½ pound bass while fishing with Gene Levy and Mr. Morris.

The boys enjoyed a western movie Saturday night in the recreation cabin. Mr. Morris has made every possible effort to furnish added entertainment and activities to this year's program.

Goal Hi, soft ball, horseshoes, and ping pong are all going strong.

Dutch Forces Attack Indonesian Republic By Land, Sea And Air

Rebels Forced Into Yugoslavia By Greek Troops

UN Commission Plans To Visit Area Of Initial Invasion

ATHENS, July 21 (AP)—Press dispatches reported today that guerrilla bands had attacked two points in northern Greece near the Yugoslav border, and that in each case they withdrew after a battle to Yugoslav territory.

Greek troops pursued harassing action against Leftist forces in the mountains near the frontiers of Albania, Yugoslavia's western neighbor, after repelling the offensive against Konitsa last week.

Dispatches today from Salonika said 400 guerrillas had attacked Moutjes, 25 miles north of Salonika, at dawn yesterday but were repelled by Greek commandos who killed 10 before the remaining guerrillas fled across the Yugoslav border two miles away.

Army casualties were two killed and two wounded.

Other dispatches said 300 guerrillas raided a police station at Mesahori, about two miles south of the Yugoslav border and 11 miles northeast of Phlorina, where Greek authorities said they have feared a possible "invasion." Simultaneously a band armed with heavy machineguns and mortars was reported to have attacked the nearby village of Menokamios, setting fire to nine houses, despite strong opposition by armed peasants.

One newspaper account declared the attack supported by machinegun fire from the 58th Yugoslav frontier post.

Meanwhile, the United Nations subcommission investigating Greek border disorders announced that it planned to visit Konitsa to inspect the area where guerrilla forces launched their first

John V. Martin, Former Deputy Sheriff, Dies

John Vivian Martin, 69, died Saturday morning at 9:00 o'clock at his home on South Sanford Avenue. He had made his home in Sanford for 23 years.

Formerly with the Sheriff's office, Mr. Martin, was born June 17, 1878 in Decatur, Iowa.

In addition to the widow, Mrs. Anna Martin, other survivors include three sons, Warren W. Martin, Pelican Rapids, Minn., John V. Martin, Jr., and William R. Martin, Sanford; one grandson, Carrol Martin, Pelican Rapids, Minn.; two brothers, Chris Martin of Los Angeles and Lorn Martin of Pennsylvania.

Funeral services will be held at the Erickson Funeral Home at 4:00 P. M. Tuesday and interment will take place in Evergreen Cemetery. The Rev. Glenn E. Smith and Rev. J. W. Austin will officiate. Members of the Elks Club will have charge of the graveside services.

Pallbearers will be Jesse C. Lodge, Leo Butner, A. W. Odham, J. D. McNeil, J. H. Truluck, Frank Bauer, H. M. Jameson and J. W. Stewart.

Senora Peron Will Not Visit Britian

LONDON, July 21, (AP)—A British Foreign Office spokesman told a news conference today that Senora Eva Peron, wife of the Argentine president had definitely cancelled her plans for a visit to England.

"The Argentine ministry of foreign affairs," the spokesman said, "has informed the British Embassy in Buenos Aires that Senora Peron will not be visiting England during her present European tour."

The spokesman's announcement came less than 10 days after he had disclosed that Queen Elizabeth had "intimated" she would be glad to receive Senora Peron if she came to Britain.

Trade unions here had signified their intention to demonstrate against Senora Peron if she visited Britain and had referred to her as "a fascist ambassadress."

Curfew Restrains 90,000 Additional Jews In Palestine

Repercussions Feared On Deporting Refugees To France

JERUSALEM, July 21 (AP) A dusk-to-dawn curfew was ordered today for 90,000 Jerusalem Jews, bringing to 155,000 the number of Jews under curfew restrictions here, in Haifa and in the Natanya area. The action followed a new outburst of violence which left three dead and 23 wounded in 48 hours.

The British Army was ordered to lock in the Jewish quarters here from 7:00 P. M. to 5:00 A. M. daily "until further notice."

Some 50,000 Jews in Haifa already were under a similar curfew. About 15,000 at Natanya have been under matial law for a week as a result of the kidnaping of two British army sergeants.

Fear of repercussions for the deportation from Haifa of 4,500 or more uncertified Jewish refugees of the Exodus of 1947 was reported to be the reason for the extended curfew.

In London, authoritative Whitehall informants said that the Jews without visas seized Friday aboard the refugee ship were being shipped back to France in a "new and tougher" approach to the handling of such blockade runners.

However, the British foreign and colonial office spokesmen refused to comment.

The informants said the Jews returned to France presumably would be accommodated in displaced persons' camps.

Britain has been in touch with "certain" European countries on the whole question of Jewish immigration to the Holy Land, they said, and arrangements have been made with at least Italy and France to halt the flow of European Jews without immigration certificates by returning them to their embarkation ports.

This course has been advocated by the Arab leadership of Palestine.

In recent months, Jews arriving in Palestine above the quota have

Florida Pilots Club To Be Formed Here

Formation of a Central Florida Pilots Club was announced today by Roy Browning, airport manager, following the successful completion of the breakfast flight initiated by the Sanford School of Aviation Sunday morning. The purpose of the new organization is to encourage the use of the airplane in Central Florida and any flier with a student pilot's certificate is eligible to join.

Sunday's breakfast flight came off as scheduled, Mr. Browning stated, with 8 planes and 17 pilots leaving the Sanford airport at 8:15 A. M. They arrived at New Smyrna at 8:35 A. M. and were driven to the beach in cars furnished by Bill Wright and Windsor Rowley, operators of the New Smyrna Aero Service. Later breakfast was served at the Airport Grill.

Among those participating, besides Mr. Browning were Walter Krohne, Jr., C. B. Gunn, Howard Shryock, Oliver Bjoblom, Merrill Tindale, Charles Baker, Julian Simmons, Roy Mixon, Ted Jackson, Gene Byerly and Jerry Hasselbee.

CIO To Ask 2nd Raise From Rubber Firms

CLEVELAND, July 21, (AP)—The CIO-United Rubber Workers international policy committee has decided to ask the rubber industry's "big four"—Goodyear, Goodrich, U. S. Rubber and Firestone—for another 1947 pay raise.

The committee blamed rising living costs for its decision yesterday to more money from "Big Four," signers of the first wage contract this year among the nation's major producers.

Republic's President Appeals For UN Security Council To Take Up Issue

BATAVIA, Java, July 21 (AP) President Soekarno said by radio tonight the Dutch were attacking his Indonesian Republic by land, air and sea. He appealed to the world to force the United Nations Security Council to take up the issue.

A Dutch communique said Dutch warplanes had attacked Republican airfields in Java and Sumatra because Indonesian fighter planes were ready for action.

The Dutch, declaring they would not attack either the civil population or non-military objectives, were attempting to immobilize harassing anti-aircraft guns at the fields and the Republican air force, believed to number about 40 obsolescent Japanese planes, many in poor repair.

The Republican radio, over which Soekarno appealed, said Dutch artillery had opened fire south of Bandoeng, 100 miles southeast of Batavia. The report said two Dutch planes using rockets attacked Malaya, in west Java, and that other Dutch aircraft had strafed a Soerkarta-Staden railway train.

Indonesian broadcasts and other sources said the finely equipped Dutch army of about 120,000 men, using mostly U. S. Lend Lease surplus military equipment, was striking simultaneously at numerous points.

Dr. H. J. Van Mook, acting Dutch governor general, called the skirmishing "police action."

Lieut. General Simon H. Spoor, Dutch commander, said in an order of the day that "our enemies are those elements which try to sabotage the sincere implementation of the agreements reached,

Company Honors Production Chief Upon Retirement

More than 100 employees of the Florida Power Corporation gathered Friday afternoon to honor retired production superintendent George E. Turner at the Benson Springs Power plant which was renamed the George E. Turner plant. A plaque in the hallway of the building inscribed with Mr. Turner's name, was unveiled by A. W. Higgins, president of the company.

Mr. Turner, who lives in Orlando, had charge of the construction of the plant on the shores of Lake Monroe in 1922, was in the service of the company for more than 22 years, and has 44 years of experience in the industry.

He was presented with a 32 degree Masonic ring in token of appreciation, and Mrs. Turner recieved a corsage of red roses. W. J. Clapp, new production superintendent, served as master of ceremonies. A talk was given by Pres. Higgins, who highly praised Mr. Turner, as did also R. J. Allen, chief engineer of the company.

Following the ceremony, a fish fry and picnic was held on the plant grounds. There were many visitors of the company, formerly known as The Florida Public Service Company, from Winter Park, Deland and St. Petersburg.

Frank George Murphy Died Saturday A. M.

Frank George Murphy, a resident of Sanford for the last three years, died at the local Trailer Camp where he resided, at 1:30 A. M. Saturday after a brief illness.

Born Apr. 20, 1875 in Emery, Ill., the deceased was a retired Railroad Track Supervisor.

Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Nelle M. Murphy, Sanford; three daughters, Mrs. W. G. McCloud, Bartow, Mrs. W. A. Knight, Charleston, S. C., and Mrs. Harvey Hale, Sanford; three sons, K. M. Knight, Sanford, W. H. Knight, Los Angeles, Calif., and J. R. Knight, Bloomington, Ind.; also 11 grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted at the Erickson Funeral Home Tuesday at 11:00 A. M. with the Rev. Douglas Charles officiating. Burial will be made in Evergreen Cemetery.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

BE YE STRONG, AND LET YOUR HEREDITY YOU ARE GODS CHILD; Whosever is born of God overcometh the world—1 John 5:4.

The Pattys have announced an invention for drying cows, with hair type machines. Now it they'll just invent something for making newsprint unnecessary, everything will be all right.

Rep. Keating of New York has introduced a bill allowing working wives to deduct the cost of baby sitters from their income taxes. Why not include the cost of cook, too?

Lady Iris Mountbatten, a count of King George, was arrested in New York left week on a charge of cashing a worthless check for $88.75. We knew the British Empire was in a bad fix, but we had no idea . . .

We see where a Senate committee is going to conduct an investigation into the cause of high prices. If they carry this thing far enough, they are liable to land right back in the halls of Congress.

Remember those popular song of yesteryear, "Yes, Sir, That My Baby." "I Wonder Where My Baby Is Tonight" and "How Ya Gonna Keep 'em Down On Th' Farm?" Walter Donaldson, the man who wrote them, died last week at the age of 53.

The Miami Herald is delivering papers in Buenos Aires, 5,100 miles away, on the day of publication. Pan American Airways Clipper service is being used with planes having a cruising speed of 30 miles an hour. That is going a long way and in a hurry.

A 34 percent reduction in the bonded indebtedness of the City of Sanford during the past 14 years, despite the depression year which constituted the first part of this period, is a great credit to the people of Sanford. If the federal government can do as well in reducing its present indebtedness during the next 14 years, all will do well.

Families with children have been having a tough time doffing the housing shortage trying to find a landlord who will let them bring their children into his house. This may have been partly because so many children will be children. However, the situation is improving. Either the children are getting better or the landlords are becoming human. Out in Salisaw, Okla., the town's biggest landlord has announced that he is giving a month's free rent to any and all tenants having children. This coming winter Sanford might attract a lot of tourists simply by advertising that children will be welcome here.

Newsprint prices have soared to fabulous heights during the last year. An Associated Press dispatch reveals sales as high as $270 a ton in the so-called "free market" (though there is nothing very free about it as far as we can see) which is 219 percent higher than the government ceiling price and seven times higher than the pre-war price. No other commodity that we know of has gone up so much, either in the last year, or in the past seven years as newsprint, the paper on which your newspaper is printed. Yet, we are proud to say you are still charged the same for your weekly subscription to The Herald as you were paying before the war. Do you know anything else you can pay at the same prices as in 1940?

The Lost Family Doctor

According to Arthur J. Snider, a writer on scientific subjects, the family doctor, like the early American Indian, is slowly vanishing.

A survey conducted by the United States Public Health Service shows that one in every ten physicians in a large midwestern city is a specialist in surgery, one in every fifteen a specialist in obstetrics and gynecology, one in twenty a specialist in internal medicine, and one in twenty a specialist in eye, ear, nose and throat diseases.

One reason for this trend is the fact that the field of medical knowledge has become so wide and so complicated that no one man can keep informed about it. Another is that pay is better and a specialist has more life of his own. Then, too, the public has grown to believe that the only salvation is in elaborate clinics and specialized staffs.

Some steps are being taken to make a career as a general practitioner more desirable. Legislation is being proposed in some states to supply scholarship funds for students who will return to small towns on completion of their courses. Two years of special interne training for general practitioners are provided by some hospitals.

The old-fashioned family doctor was a force for good in the community. His understanding of human nature rivalled that of the modern psychiatrist, and his knowledge of the workings of the body was acquired by a wide and varied experience added to his school and hospital work. Much of his pay for long hours and hard work came in the form of the warm affection and confidence of his patients.

Medical students of today may well follow his example. Families really need this help. The new doctors, however, need to be more justly paid in money as well as gratitude.

Russia Written Off

Three advantages result from Russian refusal to co-operate with the Western powers in any move toward the common good, says Hal O'Flaherty, an American correspondent in Europe.

1. The division of Europe gives the United States and Britain a free hand in proceeding with the restoration of western Germany. The intolerable delays can be avoided.

2. The area to be given relief can be narrowed down and costs reduced.

3. The demonstration of Western ideals in Europe will have a foil in the struggle of Russia to impose totalitarian methods and the police state on the nations immediately adjacent. One system or the other will prove to be right.

These three advantages will make things easier for the time being. And after the problems of occupation and reconstruction are solved or have worked themselves out, and Russia has had time to recoup her fortunes, the test will come.

Can the two ideologies live side by side in the same world? Lincoln said that this nation could not exist half slave and half free. Can the world exist half under a free-enterprise system and half totalitarian? On the answer to this question the peace of the future depends.

Be Just A Little Bit Better

Does the salesman who earns $20,000 a year take ten times as much sales ability as the salesman covering the same territory with the same line who earns $2,000 a year?

Most men and women think there is a tremendous difference in ability and performance between the man who is just getting by and the man at the top between the man of ordinary accomplishment and the man of outstanding achievement.

Actually, the difference is small. A personnel officer of a corporation employing several thousand people said recently: "Our department heads and key people are just ordinary folks who got their jobs by doing a little more and a little better work than the others."

No matter what your job may be, there are only two ways to improve it: Increase the quantity of your work, and increase the quality of your work. A small increase in either will produce surprising results.

If you have been discouraged with your progress, take courage from the fact that there is actually little difference between the average man and the successful man: Then take action—whatever action is necessary—to make up that small difference!

THE HISTORY OF SANFORD CELERY

By H. J. LEHMAN

Irrigation was not the only difficulty these pioneer celery growers had to overcome. They had to work out a plan for growing young plants, and soon discovered that tender celery plants needed shelter from beating rains and very hot sun. Soon "tent" cities sprang up on every farm, from the long rows of seed beds covered by tent shaped awnings made of muslin. These could be rolled up on cool nights and lowered for heavy showers and hot sunny days, as they were mounted on "A" shaped wooden frames.

Celery seed is usually sown in prearranged beds from the latter part of July to December for earlier or later crops, and it takes from six to eight weeks for plants to grow large enough for setting in the field.

Setting plants was another problem. Colored people were trained and became experts in this work. A good setter, crawling on his knees, could set out as many as 15,000 plants in one day. For one good setter there must be two or three women pulling plants from the seed beds, two people to drop the plants in the rows where the ground has been properly spaced and marked, and one man to give each newly set plant a cup of water. Now in the year 1947 and for the past eight or ten years, celery setting machines have come in, and many farmers are doing away with hand setting. Many of the machines used in this territory are made in Holland, Mich., and with two operators on a machine, can set from 80,000 to 50,000 plants per day. Under normal conditions celery is ready for harvesting in three or four months from time of setting.

Celery growers here could not be bleached with earth as was done in Kalamazoo, as our climate was far too warm and moist for such procedure, so wide cypress boards were used for many years. These boards were held in place by driving stakes on both sides while bleaching celery. Later on, bleaching paper, coming in rolls and of correct width and length, took the place of the cumbersome boards. This paper was held in place with light stakes on both sides, then a year or two later wire wickets, lent by the farmers to resemble croquet wickets, were used. With good care this paper can be used for several seasons.

The pioneer celery growers in harvesting packed their crop in the field. The crates used were put together in the field at the time of cutting. A good crate maker could make as many as 60 crates per hour. After being cut the celery was stripped of waste leaves, sorted according to size, and packed in crates holding three, four, six, eight, and ten dozen stalks. Thus a grower preparing to cut an acre or more employed a crate maker, a cutter, stripper, sorter, packers, and men to nail the covers on the crates. In the earlier days the number of crates per acre varied. As a rule when celery was packed in the field, from 300 to 1200 or the average of 750 crates per acre.

To destroy insects detrimental to celery it was necessary to spray and dust, with different types of insecticides. This was first done by hand, then done by drawn 100 gallon sprays and dusters covering four rows, and today this is done with tractors covering 12 to 16 or more rows. Airplanes have also been used in larger fields for the past 10 years.

The years brought many changes. The Government took a hand, rules and regulations were laid down, making it compulsory that each stalk be individually washed before leaving Florida. For the 1946 and 1947 season celery, after going through the wash house runs from 150 to 900 crates per acre, and the selling price from growers was from $1.50 to as high as $7.50 per crate.

The pioneer grower would stand amazed today to see the immense wash houses and pre-coolers turn out 25 to 30 cars of celery per day. From these places celery washed, pre-cooled and crated, finds forth by truck and train loads to all parts of the United States, Canada and foreign countries.

As the Sanford Celery Belts grew and developed, other sections began to produce celery. Among these were Bradenton, Oviedo, Parsons and the district around Lake Okeechobee, in parts of the southern East Coast, and Lake Hart in the central part of Florida. For the past ten years, celery has been produced well and profitably in Sanford in the sections of Zellwood, Oklawaha and Island Grove.

Some of the Sanford celery farms have been growing cross, celery and other vegetables, for the past 45 to 50 years, and expect that if the land is properly taken care of by some fertilizer, muck, etc., it can and will continue to grow celery and other vegetables for the next 50 years.

I am indebted for the facts and figures in the foregoing article to Miss Mall Whitner and Mr. Randall Chase, both descendants of pioneer celery growers.

Libel Suit Against Newspaper Is Lost

TALLAHASSEE, July 21, (AP)—Operators of a night club cannot collect libel damages from the Miami Herald for publication of a statement that a man was also in their establishment, when actually he was shot just outside, the Florida Supreme Court has ruled.

The decision, by Justice Roy Chapman, affirmed a Dade County Circuit Court order sustaining the Herald's demurrer to a suit brought by operators of the Diagon Inn Club asking $50,000 damages for publication of the article.

Justice Chapman's opinion was entirely silent on pleas of the night club attorneys for the court to invoke in Florida for the first time the ancient English common law doctrine which allowed damages for "injurious falsehoods," even when the statement was not defamatory.

The court said the Herald "has the responsibility of supplying daily its readers and subscribers news and information occurring each hour, not only locally but from the remotest corners of the

Florida Markets Managers To Hold 2 Day Conference

JACKSONVILLE, July 21, (Special)—Four Florida Cabinet officers will participate in a conference of the United States Department of Agriculture, and a number of Federal and State experts on various phases of production and marketing of agricultural products will be in Jacksonville, Wednesday and Thursday of this week for the annual conference of Florida State Markets Managers, the official program, released today, revealed.

"Florida's system of State-operated markets is recognized nationally for its pioneering work," said Director William L. Wilson in outlining plans for the conference. "I think that recognition is based primarily on the fact that we have progressed along conservative lines—and that we have progressed steadily. The records show gains in over-all volume of business handled, for every year since our initial sales on the Sanford Market in 1925. The gross volume for the last fiscal year was more than sixty times as large as for the first fiscal year. That's a record we all take pride in. It's a record which reflects credit on the conservative policies which Commissioner Mayo has insisted upon from the beginning.

"I think a point should be emphasized however, that growth of our markets is not the most important yardstick for measurement of their worth to Floridians. Commissioner Mayo has insisted from the first that markets should only be established where the facilities they should provide were either non-existent, or inadequate. This has meant therefore that facilities have been provided where they would give maximum service to people who needed that service. To a large extent this policy has tended to build our agricultural industry in new areas more rapidly than it might otherwise have developed—as it has avoided interference with the normal development of existing markets where the industry was already operating satisfactorily.

"Every manager in our system would, as obtained by it through news gathering agencies.

"In arriving at the sense in which defamatory language is employed it is necessary and proper to consider the circumstances of publication and the entire language used.

"It is our conclusion that when an article is considered in its entirety, it cannot be said that it is libelous or defamatory of plaintiffs but simply reflects an incident of public interest in the environs of the City of Miami."

is expected to be in attendance during our conference this week. Commissioner Mayo is to be our featured speaker, at a dinner meeting, Wednesday night, and will take part in our business sessions. A wide variety of subjects will be covered by guest speakers and members of our organization, including the following "Highlights of Conference program."

Protect Children Against Polio

W. V. Bilting
Touchton Drug Co.

Polio is no respecter of little warning and plays no favorites. Suddenly the dread warning goes forth; stay away from public places, do not mingle in crowds! Polio is claiming victims.

For this reason any symptom, however slight, must be regarded as serious. One thing has been determined. Taken in its early stages, Polio can be thwarted, the patient may recover, may walk again.

Every physician knows this, is on the alert to isolate, to treat, to fight this dread malady.

Consult your doctor if your child becomes listless, sniffly, runs even a slight temperature. Play safe, be alert to the prevented drugs.

Now Is The Time To Taper Off That Tan

By BETTY CLARKE

Have you had enough? Tan that is. Before you know it, you'll be going back to school or your job of your household duties, and trying to erase a muddy complexion, all that is left of your once beautiful summer tan. When the autumn leaves fall you'll be dashing around looking for bleaching creams and lotions.

Now is the time to decide to taper off your tan so that it can still look pretty for the remainder of the summer but won't take on a spotty, streaked dullness in the fall.

Instead of your suntan oil, use a sunlight lotion with a creamy base which will filter the burning sun rays and discourage a too-deep-dyed tan. Put it on in frequent applications before you hit the sand, and again before and after each swim.

But if you've decided that a golden copper skin is what you need to keep you happy, use the suntan oil which will help you turn a berry-brown without the unpleasantness of burning, blistering and peeling.

Lotions and oils are hard to handle on the beach, but those in hand-grip bottles are easier to grasp.

TEEN TALK

Dear Judy,

Summertime is a big tattletale because it is the one season of the year when beautiful secrets are based in the easiest manner.

Kids with strawberry marks, big thighs and cellulite twists get unfortunately complexes when they step into their swim suits. They spend so little time on the beach because of this, that when they do venture forth, they are likely to be greeted with a "Hi, Paleface!"

A certain amount of plumpness is expected of adolescent girls and even if they resemble a small army of penguins, so what? There is no reason to remove their bodies at this point, and starvation diets of black coffee and cottonwool are silly. But if the avoirdupois has been accumulated by lapping up gooey sundies, that's a fifty of another color.

Teen agers who strap in their bosoms because they feel self-conscious in their swim suits are foolish indeed. More serious than Wallace told me that she had been of the "strap down" school because she was a very busty teen ager, though now she tips the scales at only 104 pounds.

"Wait girls, you've plenty of time to slim down. If you are sensible you'll eventually shed your teen-age fat. Meantime, wear a good substantial one-piece suit instead of a midriff job which will only emphasize your in-the-wrong-place bumps."

Even if you've seen a dilly of a suit that might look like heaven on Lana Turner, try to curb your natural enthusiasm and settle for a navy or black or green one-piece wool or lastex job which may prove more slimming.

Exercise will help you keep your weight down. The Central Outlook, Columbus, Ohio, suggests bowling for beauty. But caution this student paper, if you don't want broken bones, be sure to wear a pair of rubber soled shoes, because of the waxed floors; don't wear slacks which will wrap around your feet when you bowl.

You will need to wash your hair more frequently in the summer than any other time—twice or three times a week shouldn't hurt, a hairdresser tells me. Girls who wear bangs, suggests this coiffure artist, can wash them with soap and water every evening and set them out of time to give their hair a fresh laundered appearance every day.

Here's a good pick-me-up facial cocktail before a summer date:

Squeeze the juice out of a cucumber that has been well chilled in your refrigerator. Strain it. Cut a piece of absorbent cotton large enough to make a mask; dip it in fresh, chilled cucumber juice and lay it over your face. Lie down and relax for about 20 minutes. It will make you feel fresh. When you remove the mask, sponge your face lightly with witch hazel or your favorite skin lotion.

Cheers,
Vivian

BROADWAY

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK—Like the unseen men, New York florists will speak at this story, particularly because Hollywood florists were able to fix things where the New York florists couldn't.

When an assortment of potted plants was needed for background beauty in a convent scene being shot at The Cloisters, famous New York museum of mediaeval art, for the David O. Selznick movie, "Portrait of Jennie," a hurried search of Manhattan flower shops was made by the movie property men. Exactly the correct foliage was needed in ground for the presence of Jennifer Jones.

But, no "photogenic" flowers of the type wanted for that sequence was found after a bloomingdrive. So a long distance telephoning search from Brooklyn to the Bronx and Staten Island was made in Hollywood's floral experts. The correct blossoms were delivered next day, potted in the premises and filmed. And the New York florists' associations are trying to do something about it since so many movies are being shot here, and more to come, they do not want to be found with their plants down again!

So far the Selznick company has shot sequences on Swan Lake in Central Park, where the municipal pride took a previous perplexing flop when our local brand of Gotham snow, even after an extraordinarily heavy storm, was found to be artificial, hardly acceptable for movie purposes; artificial flakes were used. And further to embarrass the proud city daddies, there wasn't a light frame in our new York which would suffice for a sea scene, and the company had to dash off to Boston Harbor to find a suitable seaside beacon.

Jennifer and Joe Cotten are the lesser players, including Lillian Gish who plays a Mother Superior in a convent sequence, will emote for shots at the lovely center of bucolic rest right down the middle of this tourist forge, the Tavern-on-the-Green in Central Park, following which scenes will be made at the colorfully hectic Fulton Fish Market, thence to Times Square and, maybe, home to Hollywood.

The certain amount of plump moxie such municipal embarrassments, and if the famous Fish Market, Wm. J. U.S.N.R., in charge of commercial-style beautifying about the attractions of this biggest city in the world!

Life Raft Crossing By Army Is Success

LUDINGTON, Mich., July 21—(AP)—The Army announced the successful crossing of lake Michigan, an 18-hour, 65-mile voyage completed despite high winds and rough seas and the necessity of burning the biggest craft.

Lt. Comdr. Harry Quast of Sheboygan, Wis., U.S.N.R., in charge of the 50-man crew of the craft which accompanied the flotilla, said that the 20-man experimental raft "covered wagon" was burned about 20 miles off Ludington when it became a "navigational hazard." He said the huge raft, equipped with two outboard motors, was in difficulty because it was making little headway and was almost unmanageable in the rough water.

The personnel and equipment of the raft, he said, was transferred to the patrol boat, the raft was doused with gasoline and set fire. It burned spectacularly for less than a minute.

Comdr. Quast said that more than an hour was spent in attempting to bring the big raft aboard the patrol boat but that it could not be accomplished because of rough water.

SOME FLORIDA FARMER OR A MEMBER OF HIS FAMILY IS HURT

Some Florida farmer, on a moonlight night, will be hurt in an accident today or some one who will be hurt tomorrow, and some one the day after that, and, third, on Florida farm folks will sometime to suffer from accidents that could be prevented.

Some Florida farmer, who thought he was fortunate in having his eight year-old car sound work all right for his trip to town, is being repaired will be hurt in a smash-up, someone who thought that purchase from golf balls, referred from a golf ball, reason as gentle as a lamb will be injured and injured and crippled, and some one who thought that the tractor on the farm could stand a while for repairs, will wind up with a broken hip. Thus it goes, year in and year out, good, hard working folks suffering from accidents.

Broken glass or a sharp ax will cut a fellow's foot to the bone, a tractor that will tip over in a ditch job will crush the farmer to death, tires over a hundred years old will blow up in the face of anyone who is in the vicinity, a fall from a barn loft or a broken leg or hip if it happens on in the dark, a cow or a pet insecticide that looks like Epsom powder will poison the whole family, and a fault, fire or a spark or a fire that destroys the home and seriously injures those who live in it.

These are only a few of the hazards. They are many. Every farm and it behooves every farm family to look for these hazards, to prevent them and do everything that can be done to prevent trouble by correction and by being careful.

Accidents, man suffering, loss from work, and economic loss. National Farm Safety Week is coming up, July 20-26, and a good time to check up on farm safety and accidents. It is time to be on the alert, be careful, and try to get all through the year to prevent them.

Do Men Get More Out Of Life Than Women?

AP Newfeature Writers

Wondering—why men seem to get more fun out of life than women? Or why women often seem to get less satisfaction out of their work than men?

Dr. Harry Moore has bogged down on those questions. But Dr. Harry Moore, president of Skidmore College, Saratoga Springs, N. Y., has some interesting answers. Says a sociologist, Dr. Harry Moore, who taught at Dartmouth College and the University of Cincinnati before becoming head of a women's college 22 years ago:

"Men and women go into the business of living in completely different ways and men come out better. In the first place men know they are going to have to earn their own living, so they try to choose a field of livelihood in which they have aptitude. Most women, on the other hand, are likely to take what is offered. Hundreds of thousands they between the ages of 18 and 25 have taken jobs as a temporary job as a temporary expedient, and they don't get much out of it with the care that men do. So many fail to get the satisfaction that men do, and if they get it from their work that millions of men do, and if they don't, so many they are doubly unhappy.

"In the second place, soon as the day is finished, a man has some place he is doing to go and for a time there. To the club rooms, the stamp album, the chess table, the photographic dark room, the golf link—or some place. In one of these or in music perhaps—he finds an emotional outlet that releases him from strain and makes him forget his worries for a while. More or less need more outlets like this."

Dr. Moore practices his theory as well as preaches it. After a hard day's work he relaxes at the piano with Chopin, Gershwin and Brahms. His wife, the former Gertrude Hagge, Mrs. Moore, who taught at Dartmouth College and the University of Cincinnati before becoming head of a women's college 22 years ago:

"Men and women go into the business of living in completely different ways and men come out better. Celery Feds Win 2 and Drop 2 Contests Over Weekend

Lake Hurls 19 Inning 1 To 0 Shutout Over Red Hats; Orlando SensHereTomorrow

By ARTHUR BECKWITH, JR.
Herald Sports Editor

The fast moving Sanford Celery Feds copped two tilts and dropped two games over the past weekend to continue to play .500 ball.

Friday night at the local ball orchard the Celerymen trimmed the DeLand Red Hats, 3 to 1, as Manager Bill Steineke used four hurlers in an attempt to stem the 14 hit barrage of the Feds. Johnny Tonat and Charlie Bissen worked on the hill for the Murryman, while Jim Schantel, Ralph Verel, Yigi Alonzo and Ben Bardin toiled for the University City nine.

Saturday night the outstanding contest of many years competition in the Florida State League was played in DeLand, and it was the second tilt of the twin attraction.

The Red Hats nipped the Feds in the opening tilt of the two game evening by a 4 to 2 margin but Buddy Lake, the iron man of the Sanford Celery Feds, turned in a magnificent 19 inning 1 to 0 victory over the Hats in which Lake jammed a fast pitched curve the right field wall of Conrad Park in DeLand to decide his nip and tuck hurler's duel with Vigi Alonzo.

Lake played the first game, a seven inning contest, at third base and returned to pitch the night cap. All-in-all Lake played 38 innings of baseball for the Feds Saturday evening.

Another outstanding feat of the two contests was Don Ford's outstanding play behind the plate. Ford caught all 26 innings and played errorless ball.

Umpires Kerry Davis and Eddie Boell each have the right to place feathers in their hat for the excellent arbitration during the two DeLand contests since the games were not detained due to the dispute of an umpire's decision. This is exceptional in a nine inning contest in the Florida State League, and is nothing short of unique for 26 innings of play.

Yesterday the Palatka Azaleas tripped the Feds in a 4 to 3 tilt, that was nothing short of having raising as the spectators reclimbed glued to their seats until the last man was thummed out in the ninth inning.

Sanford entered the last of the ninth as the victim of a 4 to 0 shellacking by the A's, but Manager Don Murray opened the frame with his second single of the tilt into right field and was quickly followed by a single by Dave Bridges and a two base blow by Jerry Silverman, scoring Murray and Bridges. Silverman scored on Johnny McMahon' single to center field. Tyler flied out to end the tilt.

Tonight Lee locals invade the Azalea Bowl in Palatka for a single tilt with the A's and will return to the Municipal Park for a twin attraction with the Orlando Senators tomorrow evening.

National Pro Grid League Moves To Get College Good Will

PITTSBURGH, July 21. (AP)—National Football League owners have popped out of a huddle with a new play for college good will, but it'll take time to determine whether they "mouse-trapped" themselves or the rival All-American Conference with the maneuver.

The National Leaguers voted at a meeting yesterday to prohibit the signing of players still eligible for college competition after their original classes have graduated, if the prospects have registered for further education.

Previously, league teams were permitted to sign willing collegians whose classes had graduated or who had received sheepskins in accelerated courses without exhausting their collegiate eligibility.

The All-America operates under limitations similar to the old National ruling. With the notable exception of stars taken by the 28-year-old National circuit, the All-America now has a clear field to players whose college careers were interrupted with no loss of eligibility.

Conceivably, that could give the All-America a lodge in the highly competitive hunt for talent, at the expense of wounding some collegiers' feelings.

To Be Honored Tomorrow

Buddy Lake, regular Sanford baseball star, will be honored tomorrow night by the Sanford fans for his excellent play against the Orlando Senators in the University City Stadium Saturday night for his 1 to 0 victory over the Steineckemen in a 19 inning battle.

Buddy Lake Night Set Tomorrow; Fans To Honor Team August 9

By ARTHUR BECKWITH, JR.
Herald Sports Editor

Many Sanford fans have asked the Sanford Baseball Association for the opportunity to show their appreciation to Buddy Lake for his outstanding performance in the 1 to 0 —19 inning victory over the DeLand Red Hats in DeLand Saturday evening, and the Association has granted them the privilege of holding a "Buddy Lake Night" at the Municipal Park tomorrow evening.

Sanford is slated to meet the Orlando Senators in a twin bill and Lake is slated to hurl one of the contests, unless he is suffering some ill affects from the long tilt in DeLand.

Many records may be at stake as the result of the fracas in the University City. Among those that may hang in the balance include a 19 inning shut out victory by one pitcher, 18 consecutive innings of scoreless baseball in one contest, and the use of just one pitcher by each team for such a tilt.

The fans have also asked the management of the Celery Feds to hold a "Player Appreciation Night" for the entire Sanford baseball club, and accordingly the Association has set August 9 as the day for honoring the team.

A group of Fed fans have purchased the game and the entire net proceeds of the gate, as well as the collection given by the fans will be given to the player, The Celerymen will play the DeLand Red Hats here on August 9.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Batting, Paul Lehner and Wally Judnich, Browns, Lehner hit an inside-the-park homer with the bases loaded to account for all the Browns' runs in a third game 4-3 win over the Red Sox; Judnich's two run homer in the sixth inning highlighted a four-run rally and enabled the Browns to win the second game too, 7-6.

Pitching Hal Newhouser, Tigers and Ewell Blackwell, Reds, Newhouser doled out three hits in winning his 10th game for the Tigers with a 4-1 triumph over the Yankees; Blackwell notched his 10th straight and 17th of the season with a seven-hit 4-1 triumph for the Reds over the Giants.

Young Golfers Trim Old Men, 20 To 19

The young golfers were victors over the old golfers by a score of 20 to 19 yesterday at the Seminole County Club. Clyde Tew, village club pro, announced today. Twenty-six golfers participated, forming 13 teams. The winning team was led by Billy Fielding, University of Georgia student, and Arthur Williams who scored seven points out of 20.

Golfers who participated in the event included: Fielding, Phelps, Arthur Braun, Al Lyons, Herman Krhin, Bernard Lawson, Bill Herndon, H. C. Hetzel, James Estes, Arthur Williams, Billy Fleming, Andrew Carraway and Roy Mann.

Also John Ivey, W. G. Fleming, R. Smith, Ray Holler, Jerry Smith, Gene Smith, G. E. Smith, H. R. McCall, Dr. Fincher, Mr. Daniels, Dr. Harry Woodroff, Phelps, G. Kilpatrick, Jr., Tony Hoddleton, Mack Cleveland and Kinky Fite.

Sanford Legion Nine To Enter Tournament In Orlando Tomorrow

The Sixth District American Legion junior baseball tournament is scheduled to get under way in Orlando today with the Orlando Legion nine meeting Mt. Dora and Winter Park Juniors taking on Cocoa.

The Sanford entry, beaten only once in pre-tournament competition, drew a bye for the first round and will meet the winner of the Winter Park-Cocoa tilt in a contest tomorrow.

Each team must be defeated twice before being eliminated from the contest, it was stated.

Turf Battle Between Armed, Assault And Stymie Is In Offing

NEW YORK, July 21. (AP)—The holler was on today for Stymie, Armed and Assault to get together and settle all the horse argaments of the year.

What with Stymie and Assault passing the world money-winning championship back and forth in the east every Saturday and the Chicago shenanigans Armed has been kicking up, there just won't be any 1947 turf champion unless and until they tangle somewhere on the same race track.

You bear talk that this might be this summer, but it's more likely to be in November, in the Pimlico Special in Maryland.

Up to last Saturday, Assault looked like the glamour boy with no argument, what with seven straight wins, five of them over Stymie, and the world money-winning title to boot. Then, Stymie whipped him over the weekend in the first running of the Empire City International Gold Cup at Belmont and won the cash crown back again with total earnings of $678,510.

Meantime, Armed stayed out in left coin backyard and added to the Arlington Handicap to move up past Whirlaway into the no. 3 spot among the world's bankroll boys.

W. and M. Star Wins Western Tennis Title

CHICAGO, July 21. (AP)— Gardner Larned, six-foot William and Mary College star, today won the interscollegiate Champion, over the Western Tennis Champion, after a smashing upset victory of highly-favored Seymour Greenberg of Los Angeles.

Larned, peeded no. 2, took top-seeded Greenberg 2-6, 6-3, 6-3 and 6-1 in the championship match yesterday.

The women's title went to Mrs Lucile Davidson of Kansas City, Mo., who beat tiny Doris Popple of Des Moines 6-4, 1-6, 6-4.

Rain forced cancellation before of the men's doubles competition, but tourney officials said all four contestants planned a play-off for the championship at Sunlight, N. J. They left today for Seabright to compete in a tournament there and could stay an extra day to decide the doubles title.

In the finals, Greenberg and Fred Kovelewsky, another William and Mary star, meet Larned and his college teammate, Bernard Bartzen.

LOCKE WINS AGAIN

TORONTO, July 21. (AP)—Bobby Locke of South Africa Saturday added another victory to his American golf tournaments by winning the Canadian Open Championship at Seaforth Country Club with a record breaking 268, two strokes ahead of Ed Oliver of Wilmington, Del. The $2,000 top money increased his earnings since leaving South Africa last May to $18,730.

Doris Hart And Pat Todd Vie In French Tennis Competition

PARIS, July 21. (AP)—Margaret Osborne of San Francisco and Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., once more the double queens of two continents, will look on from the sidelines today as Doris Hart of Miami, Fla., and Mrs. Pat Todd of Hidden Valley, Calif., battle for the women's singles title in the French International Tennis Championships.

Mrs. Todd finished the latest win a round of surprises yesterday when she upset Miss Osborne, 2-6, 6-3, 6-4, to reach the finals against Miss Hart, who had eliminated Miss Brough in straight sets the day before.

But Miss Osborne and Miss Brough, who hold the two top places in the U. S. national rankings, successfully defended their doubles title by stopping Miss Hart-Todd combination, 7-5, 6-2.

Truman's Message

from the forecast of a corn harvest 20 percent below last year's. But in the event real shortages should develop, the report recommended:

1. Full publicity as to the true farm outlook, perhaps including a campaign for "strict economy" in the use of some foods.

2. Quick planning for conservation, through export controls and possibly by renewing the government's recently lapsed power to control the amount of grain used by distillers and other processors.

Mr. Truman renewed his plea of ten days ago that coal, steel and other industries forego immediate price increases until they test the real costs of the wage boost won by Lewis' miners.

"Stability in steel prices would be a wise economic policy for this industry as well as for the country," the President declared, whereas increases based on guesses and an "exaggerated interpretation" could "start another price-wage spiral in motion."

Construction and especially housing remains in some respects "our domestic problem. No. 1," Mr. Truman said.

The general health of the economy so far has concealed the dangers in high building costs and lagging construction, he said, adding:

"But it is none too early to be concerned about a possible relapse of housing into its prewar state of chronic ill-health and instability."

As for foreign commerce, exports have skyrocketed to an annual rate of $20,700,000,000, creating "some strain" of shortages at home. But foreign nations are running out of gold and dollars and exports "must be expected to decline before the end of the year," even if new foreign aid is granted, Mr. Truman asserted. He added:

"The immediate and sole objective of our foreign aid programs should be to restore a vigorous, stable and peaceful world economy.

foreign policy it is worth enforeig npolicy it is worth enduring temporary shortages of a few commodities within the United States. This will bring lasting benefits in the long run."

"In June we reached a level of 60,000,000 jobs, regarded by many as impossible of attainment. Our standard of living is exceptionally high, and purchasing power has thus far been adequate to absorb completely the enormous production of American farms, mines and factories.

"Farm income has attained a record level. The financial position of business is strong. " x x x Management and labor have cooperated in maintaining industrial peace x x x." Productivity is on the increase."

But then Mr. Truman added this warning: that full employment at high prices is being sustained by the pent-up wartime demand, by extensive use of credit and savings, and by the huge excess of exports over imports.

"These are temporary props to our economic system. As they weaken, we shall need to make many basic readjustments to complete the transition to a permanently stable and maximum-level peacetime economy," he declared.

Mr. Truman decided to send his special report to congress after Edwin G. Nourse, chairman of his council of economic advisers, presented current economic developments—including the coal contract settlement—at a Cabinet meeting on July 11.

The 1946 law creating the economic council called for only one report a year, but a White House spokesman said that after the July 11 meeting the President and members of the cabinet agreed that Congress and the public should be brought up to date.

success on the Arthur Godfrey program from his first victory in March on the Orlando talent scout show to his use of Kate Smith's dressing room where he found a chaise lounge chair big enough to accommodate him in the Radio City Music Hall. This Music Hall, he said, is the largest in the world, but more impressive than that, he added, are its wonderful acoustics.

The most unfortunate part of his trip, he explained, was the cold he contracted after taking a hot shower just before spending three hours rehearsing in an air conditioned room. As a result of this cold, he spent most of the next two days after the Godfrey program in bed trying to get ready for the Chesterfield program on Monday. However, he had not entirely recovered from his cold by the time he reurned home at the end of that week.

Mr. Aikin played a recording of his song "Gianina Mia" as sung by him on the Godfrey program, and also the final test including a few verses from each of the contestants. Sanford people in the audience that night, he said, were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shames, Mrs. MacNeill and Mrs. Tom Bolt.

Visitors at today's luncheon were A. H. Reppard and John Payne of Orlando, and Rev. Douglass Charles of Sanford.

German Production Hit By Coal Shortage

BERLIN, July 21, (AP) — Gen. Lucius D. Clay reported today that a coal shortage was hampering factory production in the U. S. zone, which had an industrial resurgence in late Spring.

The American military governor, in a report to Washington, where a British-American conference on boosting Ruhr coal production has been scheduled for this week, said the lack of coal and electric power was having a particular effect on the chemical and newsprint industries.

Clay said the U. S. zone had sent 2,550 new miners into the Ruhr region and hoped to boost the number to 50,000, but added that the program was handicapped by a housing shortage.

The report stated that absenteeism among factory workers, foraging in the countryside for food, was another reason for the setback in production.

joint request of the prosecution and defense.

During selection of the jury, Papy, wearing a light gray suit, sat calmly at the defense table surrounded by six lawyers.

Besides the principals in the case, a sprinkling of legislators from out of town also were in the room.

In addition to Reps. M. B. Smith of Sanford House Speaker Thomas Beasley of De Funiak Springs, who had been called as witnesses, there were Reps. Marvin H. Rowell of Stuart, L. C. Yeomans of Crystal River, John Branch of Tampa, J. Ed Stokes of Panama City, E. P. Martin of Plant City, P. Guy Crews of Jacksonville and C. H. Taylor of Wauchula.

Rep. Jerry Collins of Sarasota, who was one of the leaders in the fight to oust Papy from the House after his indictment, was in the courthouse but did not immediately come into the court room.

Papy was accompanied by his teen-age son, B. C. Papy, Jr., who sat in the courtroom audience.

Twenty-one of the 93 prospective jurors were excused or were absent because they could not be located. State and defense counsel started examining the veniremen. The State was represented by State Attorney Orion C. Parker, Jr., and Phil O'Connell.

Papy's attorneys of record were identified in the courtroom as former state senator Pat Whitaker of Tampa, J. Lewis Hall and Weldon G. Starry of Tallahassee and G. A. Worley of Miami, former Dade county state attorney. Also at the defense counsel table were J. Launcelot Lester and Monroe county attorney Paul Sawyer, both of Key West.

Stalin Makes First Summer Appearance

MOSCOW, July 21, (AP)—Prime Minister Stalin made his first public appearance of the summer yesterday when he attended a monster sports exhibition in Moscow's Dynamo Stadium in which approximately 30,000 Russian athletes participated.

The 67-year-old Stalin, who was dressed in a military uniform, appeared to be in good health and high spirits when he entered his special box and received the cheers of an audience of 70,000 which crowded the stadium to capacity. He was accompanied by Marshal Klementi Voroshilov and Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

Although the program lasted for five hours, Stalin remained to the end, disdaining to duck for cover during a shower midway in the proceedings.

General Bradley To Visit Europe On 6 Week Tour

NEW YORK, July 21 (AP)—Omar Nelson Bradley, the "doughboy's general," is going back over there.

In a period of mounting tension in the Balkans, America's most experienced field commander is being sent to Europe and the Mediteerranean soon for a six-week inspection of what is left of those regions of the Army he once called the greatest in history.

This brief leave from his duties as Veterans' Administrator is believed a preliminary to his taking over the key chief-of-staff post in the American Army upon the retirement next year of General Dwight Eisenhower, his wartime boss.

It will be the first return in two years for Bradley to the scenes of his victories, and he will find the situation greatly changed. What lies ahead of him on the road back?

He left Europe with four great Allies—United States, Britain, Russia and France—still celebrating the unity of a wartime triumph. He will find Europe now an area of squarrels in which no two allies agree on what shall be done with the slowly reviving foe.

He will find there neither war nor peace—for the peace isn't yet written with the main enemy—but only a twilight compromise, under which ultimate decisions have been postponed from week to week and month to month.

He will find the sureties of the battlefield, where nations and men unite in common fear, replaced by the uncertainties of the diplomatic table, where they often drift apart in mutual distrust or under the tug of separate greeds.

He will find that the superb, combat-trained, million-man American Army he led has dwindled to 200,000 men or fewer, an army containing many teen-age youngsters who never saw action, an Army that suffers from the evils that have afflicted all occupation armies from pre-Roman times — venereal disease, black marketing and the softening influence of intermingling with foreign civilians in a foreign culture.

He will find in this remnant American Army at least one unit that can strike with wartime precision and power—the mobile constabulary force built up by his old lieutenant, Maj. General Ernie (Old Gravel Voice") Harmon, tank battle veteran of Sicily, Italy France Belgium, Holland and Germany.

Bradley undoubtedly will gather information that will be reflected in future American military planning. There would be no other real purpose in his going. But along his journey also will be many mileposts of memory he helped make famous in the second World War—Hill 609 in Tunisia, Troina in Sicily, St. Lo in Normany, the Ardennes in Belgium, the Siegfried Line and the Rhine in Germany.

But he probably won't get to visit the River Elbe area, where he linked up with the Russians to end the war and swapped the Soviet commander a jeep for a riding horse as a victory souvenir. Only Red troops patrol the Elbe these days.

The Soviet military leaders know Bradley's record too well to underestimate him. But he will certainly be a puzzle to the German people. Accustomed to the showy, barking goose-stepping officiousness of Prussian militarists, they will find it hard to understand this tall school teacherish-looking man with the kindly face who has always maintained perfect discipline without ever raising his voice.

in federal elections was passed by the House. It now goes to the Senate. The vote was 290 to 111.

There are no plans for consideration of the bill this year in the Senate, where it has been blocked repeatedly in the past by Southern filibusters.

Called up unexpectedly, House action came over the futile objections of a group of Southern representatives who tried parliamentary devices to block a final vote. They succeeded only in delaying the showdown several hours.

The House Merchant Marine Committee approved a bill to block petroleum shipments to any foreign country unless the Secretary of Commerce certifies that the exports will not intefere with national defense or national security.

The bill tentatively is scheduled for House consideration late this week. It grew out of a committee inquiry into shipments of petroleum products to Russia.

The bill would embargo shipments of gasoline, diesel oil, bunker oil and lubricating oil unless the secretary certifies to the President that the shipments will not impair civilian supplies.

The secretary would be required to make monthly reports of shipments to Congress.

to hinder the restoration of law and establishment of security for all men of good will in this country and to obstruct the rehabilitation and reconstruction of Indonesia."

The shooting came after months of haggling over implementation of the Cheribon agreement, promising the wealthy Dutch East Indies independence under the Netherlands crown as "the United States of Indonesia."

The Dutch closed down the Indonesian News Agency Antara and started military censorship, light now but nonetheless real. The Dutch army announced that newsmen would be rationed to 50 words daily if they wished to send telegraphic dispatches from forward areas.

Van Mook announced last night that censorship would be confined strictly to military matters which immediately concerned the Indonesian forces. He said there would be no political censorship and that Republican newspapers would be permitted to continue to operate.

Indonesian Deputy Premier A. K. Gani—guarded by by armed Dutch soldiers—asked in an interview that the consuls of Britain, the United States and other foreign powers assemble to hear an Indonesian protest against the alleged commencement of hostilities by the Dutch.

Premier Amir Sjarifoedin broadcast an appeal from his ancient interior capital of Jogjakarta for the "whole population, men and women of all organizations, to defend our freedom and our government against the Dutch colonial war."

The Republican radio reported heavy fighting at Gunung Pati, ten miles outside the north coast city of Semarang. Within Semarang itself, the radio said the Republican underground had risen against the Dutch.

General Soerdirman, commander of the Indonesian army estimated at 200,000 troops, believed to be poorly armed and trained, warned Republicans by the radio to be aware of false reports which he said the Dutch were issuing to confuse his forces.

Police Guard Busses In New York Strike

NEW YORK, July 21, (AP)—Buses in the populous Borough of Queens moved under police guard today after 500 union drivers for two companies voted almost unanimously to continue their strike that began Saturday.

Police said 300 strikers attempted to block the movement of the first 37 buses from a terminal of the Green Bus Lines, Inc., with a picket line, but dispersed when protective police arrived. By midmorning 53 of a normal 120 buses were in operation, the line said.

been sent to detention camps on Cyprus.

This generally was supposed to have been the destination of the deportation ships Ocean Vigour, Runnymede Park and Empire Rival when they sailed from Haifa with the Exodus of 1947 immigrants Saturday morning.

The fact the Haifa-Cyprus run is only a 16-hour voyage, however, combined with the fact that there was no official announcement later Saturday of the arrival at Haifa, created tension among Jews in Palestine.

A Jewish agency spokesman in Jerusalem said today the "mystery" of the case was "a cause for new disquiet and concern and can only serve to deepen the anguish and resentment of Palestine Jewry."

A British colonial office spokesman said the Cyprus camps certainly were not full. He said probably about 10,000 Jews were in the camps, but many more could be accommodated. (Jewish sources in Palestine have estimated the number held on Cyprus at 15,000.)

The Whitehall informants suggested that this could mean that any Jews seized by the British off the Palestine coast would continue to be sent to Cyprus if no arrangements had been made with the particular European country from which they sailed for the return of such immigrants.

The return of the Jews without visas, the informants said, would cause future immigrants to "think twice" before boarding the crowded blockade runners.

The Commission voted to again meet on Aug. 4 as a Tax Equalization Board at which time they will hold a public hearing in regard to a proposed raise of 10 percent in City tax valuation for 1947.

Papy Defense Move To Bar Testimony Of Brailey Odham Denied

Representative Allowed To Relate Conversation Involving Bribery

TALLAHASSEE, July 22 (AP)—Circuit Judge W. May Walker today denied a defense motion which would have cut the ground completely away from the state's bribery charge against former Rep. Bernie C. Papy of Key West.

He declined to bar testimony of Rep. Brailey Odham of Sanford that Papy had offered him cash and whiskey to help defeat a bill denying telegraph service to race bet bookmakers.

Odham's testimony was given while the jury was excluded from the courtroom pending Judge Walker's ruling on the point. The Sanford legislator prepared to repeat it before the jurors, admitted after the ruling was made.

State Attorney Orion C. Parker, Jr., said that an order ruling out testimony involving conversations between legislators in and around the House chamber automatically would mean a directed verdict of acquittal "because we have no other evidence."

Defense Attorneys Weldon G. Starry of Tallahassee and Pat Whitaker of Tampa contended such testimony should not be admitted under a 259-year-old English common law of absolute privilege of judicial and legislative proceedings.

Whitaker said the bribery charges should have been disposed of by the Legislature and "it isn't good government for the court to strike down an independent branch and set itself up as

Sanford Bid For Legion Memorial Offered At Meet

Sanford's bid for erection here of a Florida American Legion headquarters and memorial building was personally presented by Joel S. Field, Sanford postmaster and member of the Campbell-Lossing Post 53 selectin committee to the Special Hearquarters Selection Committee headed by Col. Tom Cooley of Mt. Dora which met at the Hotel Mayflower in Jacksonville Saturday afternoon in connection with the Department summer Conference.

Mr. Field informed members of the Post last evening at their supper meeting at the Legion Hut of this submission, and revealed that of the four cities which summitted offers, Tallahassee, which was represented by Post Comdr. Walter Roundtree, was the only other Florida city to submit a bid for the site. Henry Wolcott presided at the Post meeting.

The 10 member committee in Jacksonville, at whose meeting State Commander Frank Caton was present, set Nov. 1 as the deadline for other cities to make other possible bids for the project, Mr. Field announced.

After Nov. 1, he said, Chairman Cooley will call a meeting within the next 10 days to decide on the three best bids and

Official Gives Eyewitness Story Of Burma Slaying

Single Gunman Killed Nation's Leaders At Council Table

RANGOON, Burma, July 22 (AP)—Finance Minister U. Mya, a survivor of the assassination Saturday in which seven of top Burmese leaders were slain, said today a lone gunman invaded the ministerial council chamber and calmly perpetrated the crime.

Thakin Nu, successor to the murdered U Aung San as deputy chairman of the governor's executive council, said Aung San learned two months earlier that a "terrorist murder plot" was being readied but discredited the reports. He said the de facto leader of the Burma government did not believe anyone in the country would plot against his life.

U Saw, former premier whom the British ousted and jailed on charges of collaboration with the Japanese, and 19 assistants were placed under arrest soon after the assassinations.

Speaking to a new conference U Mya gave this first eye witness account of the murders:

"One lone gunman advanced silently without faking upon the council table and aimed steadily at Aung San. Within a few feet of the table, he halted. Then he opened fire, swung the gun leftward and continued firing at those seated on the left of Aung San.

"As Aung San fell and the gunman turned his attention to the others further from me, I seized the opportunity to escape. I leaped for the doorway, pulled down the bolt and ran from the room.

"There was no guard at the door. The executive council so far has never been guarded. The only police at the secretariat that

Return Of War Dead Gets Underway Soon

PARIS, July 22 (AP) The return of U.S. World War II dead from European graves will get underway July 28, at Henri Chapelle Cemetery near Liege, Belgium, the American Graves Registration Commission announced today.

The Henri Chapelle Cemetery is the second largest in the European area, and 17,319 Americans are buried there. It was established, by the 1st. Army in September, 1944. Many of its dead fell in the battles for Aachen and in the Ardennes campaign.

"Only those dead whose next of kin have elected to have their remains brought back to the homeland will be returned" the AGRC said.

The first shipment is scheduled to depart from Antwerp early in October.

House Kills Tax On Jewelry Under $25

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP) The House voted today to cut the taxes camera fans must pay on films and equipment.

Without a dissenting vote, it passed a measure dropping from 15 to 10 percent the tax on amateur roll films and cameras and ending the 25 percent tax on lenses and various other still and motion picture equipment.

The bill also takes the 20 percent tax off jewelry selling for less than $25 and exempts musical instruments purchased by religious or educational from tax.

To become law, the bill will also have to win approval by the Senate and President Truman.

Red Satellites Receive Warning To Aid U.N. Plan

Punitive Action By Security Council Threatened by U. S.

LAKE SUCCESS, July 22 (AP)—The United States warned the Balkan states today that any refusal to cooperate with proposed border watch commission might bring punitive action by the United Nations Security Council.

The warning was voiced by Herschel V. Johnson, Deputy U. S. delegate, in reply to Soviet contentions that the council could do more than make recommendations under Chapter VI of the U. N. Charter under which the present case is being considered.

Johnson said the refusal of any country to cooperate with the proposed border commission would lay it open to much graver charges and action under another chapter of the charter. He presumably referred to Chapter VII, which provides for sanctions and military action.

Johnson said he accepted a French amendment to the preamble of the American resolution which would stipulate that continuation of the disturbed situation in the

U. S. Hits Slow Pay Of Reds For Supplies

WASHINGTON, July 22, (AP)—A new American protest to Moscow involving $1,000,000 worth of oil machinery missing in Romania clouded Russia's hope today of getting lend-lease refinery equipment from the United States.

Delivery of $18,000,000 worth of post lend-lease supplies, much of it oil equipment, has been stopped by Congress because of Moscow's delay in settling the Soviet Union's wartime account.

Administration officials who have urged Congress to relax this stand lest it be interpreted abroad as an American disregard of contract pledges acknowledged that Russia's tactics in Romania might permanently bar the shipment despite Moscow's willingness to pay for the goods.

The State Departent disclosed yesterday a formal note had been handed the Soviet foreign office, protesting Russia's failure to pay for 7,000 tons of oil equipment removed from Romania by Red army troops.

U. S. Envoy To China Begins Conferences

NANKING, July 22, (AP)—China's military situation came under close scrutiny today by an American presidential envoy on a fact-finding mission and by top Chinese generals who conferred with Chiang Kai Shek on coordination of operations in the war against Chinese Reds.

The American was Lieut. General Albert C. Wedemeyer, whose survey for President Truman, likely will determine U. S. policy toward China. He held informal conferences at the American Embassy soon after his arrival, and tomorrow he will talk with Chiang and other high government officials.

In a written statement, Wedemeyer said:

"My mission is essentially one of fact-finding in which I am aided by a small group of men expert in several fields of economics, finance, engineering and political affairs. We are interested particularly in learning and seeing something of the efficacy of measures taken by the Chinese government looking toward Chinese recovery.

Soviet Operation In America Through Party Revealed By Former Communist

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP)—Victor Kravchenko told Congress today that "every responsible representative of the Soviet government in the United States may be regarded as an economical or political spy."

Kravchenko, former official of the Soviet Purchasing Commission in New York, testified before the House Committee on Un-American activities.

He said that Mr. Sedov, who was deputy chairman of the Purchasing Commission, actually was superior to the Russian ambassador from the Communist Party point of view.

Andrei Gromyko, now representing Russia in the United Nations, was ambassador at the time, Kravchenko said.

The one-time Russian army officer described Sedov as the "main personality representing the central committee on the Communist Party in the United States.

He said no decisions could be made without Sedov's participation, adding that when secret conferences were held at the purchasing commission, Sedov presided rather than the general who was head of the agency.

Kravchenko later broke with the Russian government, renounced Communism and told why in a book, "I Chose Freedom."

Robert E. Stripling, chief investigator for the committee asked Kravchenko for information on actual assignments to spy work made by the Communist Party in this country.

In general, the witness said, no person holding a position in connection with economic affairs arrives here from Russia "without a specific assignment with reference to collection of secret documents." Then he went on to say that every responsible Soviet representative here may be regarded as a spy.

Dressed in a neat, powder blue suit, Kravchenko testified chiefly through interpreter, Dr. Vladimir Gsovski, chief of the foreign law section of the Library of Congress. Both men ap-

Navy To Cut Forces By 1,000 Officers

WASHINGTON, July 22, (AP)—The Navy announced today an immediate reduction" of 1,000 officers because of budget cuts voted by Congress. The move will reduce the number of Navy officers from a present strength of 47,000 to 46,000.

Congress gave the Navy $3,300,000,000 for its operations until July 1948, or approximately $600,000,000 less than President Truman had asked.

Of the 1,000 officers affected, 800 will leave the Navy and 200 will revert to non-commissioned ranks, the announcement said.

All officers concerned will be notified not later than Aug. 15 and the change will be completed by Oct. 1.

Of the 800 to leave the service, 500 will be reserve line officers now on active duty and a small number of Wave officers. About 300 regular Navy temporary line officers who were formerly enlisted men and given officer rank during the war will also be separated, the Navy said.

About 200 temporary line warrant officers will go back to the ranks.

Dutch Troops' Landing On Java Gain First Objectives; Note To UN Outlines Policy

Netherlands States Police Measures Compelled By Republic's Actions

LAKE SUCCESS, July 22 (AP)—The Netherlands government informed the United States that it had been compelled to "resort to police measures" against the Indonesian Republic because of continued "acts of violence."

At the same time, it was disclosed that the Indonesian government itself had sent a communication to the Security Council. The contents were not known, but the note was presumed to be an appeal for aid.

The Dutch note charged the Indonesians with "senseless destruction," with maintaining a food blockade, and with carrying on "hostile and inflammatory propaganda."

"The Netherlands as the state with whom the sovereignty of this territory rests and which consequently is ultimately responsible for maintaining law and order cannot allow these inimical actions to continue," the Netherlands government said.

"It has become patently clear that the present republican government is incapable of maintaining security, law and order in their territory while refusing to cooperate with the Netherlands government to create the necessary conditions thereto.

"In these circumstances her majesty's government has with the utmost reluctance been compelled to authorize the Lieut. Governor-General to resort to police measures of a strictly limited character.

CAB Announces New Regulations For Air Safety

WASHINGTON, July 22, (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board has given formal notice of proposed new rules to require radar terrain clearance indicators in airliners for a two-year experimental period beginning Jan. 1.

The board also announced a proposed new rule requiring increased clearances in flying over mountainous terrain during bad weather and the revival of a pre-war rule requiring the carrying of an automatic flight recorder.

The two new proposals grew from President Truman's special air safety inquiry board. The third is one which has been under discussion for some timeas an aid to enforcement of flight rules and investigation of accidents.

The flight recorder is a device placed in the tail of the plane to show its path through the air and also the effect of rough air on the plane. Use of the recorder was dropped in June, 1944, because of war-time materials shortages.

The radar absolute terrain proximity indicator will be used as a supplement to pressure type altimeters. One now on the market shows a light and blows a horn when the plane approaches within a specified distance of an obstruction. The board's proposed rule would require such a device in all scheduled airline planes flying at night or through overcast.

The proposed terrain clearance rule would increase the minimum altitude over the highest ground on a route from 1,000 feet to 2,000 feet under certain conditions.

After an active day Friday, the campers gathered around the campfire for an exciting gopher race. A fearful hush settled around the fire as the gophers sat like brightly painted stones. Suddenly there was a victorious yell as Cabin III's gopher began to slowly make his way toward the finish line.

He finished first and was carefully packed in his box before any of the other turtles even began to move. Then, evidently waking from his nap, Kilroy, of Cabin V, moved slowly in the wrong direction and settled down by the fire for another nap. Soon the blaze danced higher and the gophers began to move. After the race, with Cabin V's Kilroy coming in second, there was a beauty contest with Kilroy winning.

Saturday was a busy day with preparations being made for the visitors Sunday. After supper Saturday the campers hurried to the recreation hall to see the movie, "Thunderhead, Son of Flicka."

Indonesian Revolt Seen As Sign Days Of Imperialism Are Fading

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

There is no dark mystery about the warfare which has erupted again between the Indonesian Republic and the imperial Dutch forces; it is just another of many indications that the day of empires is fading.

To understand the cause of the current crisis we must go back a bit. The revolutionary Indonesian Republic has been the de facto government for the major portions of the rich islands of Java and Sumatra since the winter of 1945. Lengthy negotiations between the Dutch rebels (heavily punctuated by warfare) finally resulted in an agreement whereby a United States of Indonesia, encompassing both the republic and the remainder of the East Indies, would come into being in 1949.

This new nation was to have dominion status. Holland was to retain a hand in foreign relations, defense, finance and in subjects of an economical or cultural nature. The Queen of Holland also was to be Queen of the Dominion. Disagreement over the method of implementing the new government is credited with precipitating the latest upheaval. However, I think we must go deeper than that. If we could look into the mind of the In-

Auction Fee Cut To $20 Per Day By Commission

Minneapolis Club Assures City On Bali Park Conditions

The City Commission last evening voted to reduce the license fee for holding auctions by Sanford merchants from $100 to $20 a day, with the amendment that a maximum of 15 days be allowed during the year to any firm to hold auctions. This action followed a statement of City Attorney Fred R. Wilson to the effect that in his opinion, a $100 a day fee would be tered excessive by the courts.

The motion to reduce the fee was made by Commissioner Robert A. Williams. Mayor H. J. Gut presided over the meeting. Commissioner Andrew Carraway was present. Two commissioners were absent: George Bishop, due to illness, and Lea R. Lesher who is out of town.

The matter of reducing the fee was first presented to the Commission on July 10 by George Austin of the Thorpe Furniture Company. Mayor Gut then directed Attorney Wilson to draw up an ordinance reducing the fee from $100 a day to $20 a day. At the meeting last Friday, Commissioner Carraway moved that the ordinance be adopted, but the motion died for want of a second.

Following the opinion given by Attorney Wilson, the ordinance was passed on its first reading last evening. The reduction, said Mr. Sayer, applies to firms that have been in business two years or more. For firms that have not been here that length of time

Action Postponed By Committee On Glades Park Bill

Protection Of Oil Interests Of Private Owners Is Urged

WASHINGTON, July 22, (AP)—A House Public Lands subcommittee voted today to delay until the next session of Congress any action on legislation giving the Secretary of Interior "unquestionable authority" to expand the Everglades National Park in Florida to 1,200,000 acres of land.

The action was taken over the objection of Rep. Peterson (D-Fla) after Chairman Barrett (R-Wyo) told the committee if it took no action today he would not call another meeting of the group before Congress reconvenes, either in special or regular session next January.

Rep. William A. Dawson (R-Utah) moved to deferr action until the next meeting of Congress. His motion carried on a voice vote.

Peterson suggested that the committee merely close its hearing on the park today and permit him to submit a substitute bill at a later meeting. Barrett then announced his intention to call no further meeting during the current session of Congress.

The Everglades National Park was established June 20 by Secretary of Interior J. A. Krug on 454,000 acres in southern Florida. At that time, the State deeded to the federal government free of oil and mineral leases, all State owned lands in the area. It also presented Krug with a check for $2,000,000 for the acquisition of private lands within the contemplated 1,200,000-acre park.

Rep. Dirksen (R-Ill) urged the subcommittee today to "protect the mineral and oil interests" of private owners if it recommended that the Secretary of Interior be given "unquestionable authority"

Death Of Gulf Fish Due To Smothering

TAMPA, July 22, (AP) — The death of hundreds of thousands of fish in the Sarasota area during the past week was caused literally by smothering, Dr. Clyde T. Reed, head of the Biology Department of the University of Tampa, said today.

After he and two assistants made a thorough study of the conditions, Dr. Reed said Sarasota coastal waters were teeming with billions of tiny organisms which clung to the fishes' gills and shut off their breathing."

"These organisms I provisionally identify as diatoms called 'asterionella japonica', which always exist in normal amounts in sea water but spring up in countless numbers when conditions are ideal for their growth", the Tampa scientist said.

Southern Pacific Strike Is Shortlived

SAN FRANCISCO, July 22, (AP)—A strike by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers which immobilized the western lines of the Southern Pacific Railroad ended early today six hours and 45 minutes after it began.

Thirty-nine minutes later the first of hundreds of locomotives idled by the brief strike puffed back into service. It was a switch engine in the railroad's Oakland, Calif., yards.

Mission To Explain Republic's Position Planned By Former Premier

BATAVIA, July 22 (AP)—Indonesian sources said today troops who stormed ashore on the north and east coasts of Java yesterday had been engaged in heavy fighting. The Dutch, reporting all objectives reached in operation, said resistance was "less than expected."

A Dutch army communique placed Dutch casualties yesterday at 150 dead and wounded.

President Soekarno of the Indonesian Republic announced that former Premier Sutan Sjahrir had left Java on a mission to explain the republic's position abroad. (Arriving in Singapore, Sjahrir said he would visit the United States, India and Australia on his mission.)

A Royal Netherlands navy communique said landing craft of the navy and warships disembarked troops at Banjoewangi on the east coast of Java and at Pasir Putih on the north coast. It was the first amphibious operation since the end of World War II. A Dutch army communique said the troops gained initial objectives and made additional advances.

A severe five-hour engagement in the Padang sector of Sumatra yesterday and other clashes on that island were reported by an Indonesian army communique. The bulletin also said that on Sunday, two Dutch warships off Merak on the extreme tip of Java were shelled by Indonesi-

Greece Reports Crete Uprising, Rebel Attacks

ATHENS, July 22, (AP)—Civil strife erupted anew on the island of Crete today and sporadic guerrilla attacks were reported elsewhere in Greece, the government announced.

The Canea area of Crete, quiet for the past few weeks, was under a curfew ordered by the military governor, Col. Frangadakis, after a band of 20 men attacked a radio station just outside the capital. (This dispatch did not further identify the attackers.)

The authorities announced that guerrillas near Canea set fire to the village of Kamilina and blasted a bridge in reprisal for the slaying by a Canea mob of two persons held in connection with the killing of a Rightist attorney.

In northwest Greece in the area east of Ioannina, two minor clashes were reported between government forces and remnants of Leftist Guerrilla units. One guerrilla unit, attempting to reach Agraphia, was reported under attack by government forces south of Grevena. Other minor clashes were said to have taken place on the southern slopes of the Grammos Mountains.

The government announced that on Sunday Guerrilla forces lost 67 killed, 19 wounded and 17 captured.

North of Kilkis, a band coming down from the hills attacked and held a village near Sariza for three hours before armored cars and troops recaptured the community, military sources said.

Far to the east, virtually on the Turkish border at Orestias military sources said Leftist Guerrillas were routed with losses of men and war supplies in a battle with an "Evros" (Rightist) unit.
