While folks in Sanford are speculating on who will be the new mayor, residents in the South Seminole cities of Longwood, Casselberry and Oviedo are talking about who will be the new council chairmen in their cities. We hear W. H. (Bill) Martin probably will be re-elected to the post by his council in Oviedo. Meanwhile, in Longwood, the talk is Councilman Paul Maloney or newly elected Homer (Bud) Scott will most likely be chosen. Not a whisper of a hint can be heard in Casselberry.

Tottering Action Group Gets $$ Shot-In-The-Arm

A shot in the arm has been received by the tottering Community Action, Inc. in form of a $36,929 grant "for a 12 month program of direction and coordination of community action projects."

Or, at least, the word has been received.

E. D. Kirchhoff, executive director said today he has not received a check, "only notification that the Office of Economic Opportunity has approved the grant."

He predicted it would be "ten days to two weeks" before the money would be in the local treasury — which has been empty since Nov. 21.

The staff has been working without salary since that time. It is understood that new funds will not be retroactive.

Funds from the $36,929 grant will be used to pay administrative costs and salaries of the executive director, the assistant director, Amos Jones, the secretary, Mrs. Richard Gleason and three field workers.

Studies and application on the Headstart program here have been on file with the OEO for several months, but no indication of when funds for the projects will be available has been learned by local officials.

Kirchhoff said OEO officials had indicated they were "hopeful of being able to finance at least one action program for each community action group."

He said Community Action officials here would be working on other projects which can be financed by other federal cabinet departments such as the Department of Labor, Health, Education and Welfare and the Housing and Urban Development Department.

Mize Urges Chamber To Work To Heal Split In County

Decision to "stay out" or at least "hold off" taking any stand on the courthouse controversy was made by members of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, Thursday.

Retiring President C. Vernon Mize said members of the executive board felt they should "wait until the county commission receives all the facts, figures and information that is being gathered now."

"We are vitally interested in promoting the welfare of the county and to do so we must avoid sectionalism and seek to heal this split and avoid division of our efforts. Our job is to attract industry and commerce.

"We have many irons in the fire and many projects which may take several years to complete. We have some new blood in the Chamber and we need more," Mize declared.

DeWitt Mathews was unanimously elected new president with Kenneth McIntosh as vice president and Howard McNulty as treasurer. Douglas Stenstrom and Clifford McKibbin were named to the executive committee.

Handing the gavel of office to Mathews, Mize told him,

"It's not going to be smooth sailing and you've got a hard year's work ahead of you."

He praised the help, assistance and coordination supplied by John Krider and the Chamber staff.

Mize was given a standing ovation by Chamber members.

DOUG STENSTROM

Exonerated

CLEVELAND (UPI) — The Cuyahoga County grand jury Thursday exonerated the man and woman named by Boston attorney F. Lee Bailey as the killers of Marilyn Sheppard in 1954.

The closing of the Sheppard murder case, at least "as far as this grand jury is concerned," brought criticism from Bailey and the men he defended, Dr. Samuel Sheppard.

★ ★ ★ YMCA Study Due In About Two Weeks

Jack Bolt, chairman of the YMCA study committee for the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce told members Thursday the study is not complete and would not be ready for about two weeks.

Bolt said his group is attempting to get as much information as possible to present to the Chamber so they will be able to decide on a "Go" or "No Go" answer. Bolt and his committee have met with Orange County and southeast regional directors of the YMCA on the possibilities of establishing a "Y" here.

Indications are that to set up a branch of the Orange County YMCA would require about $17,000 with establishment of a separate organization to come to around $50,000.

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) — Vince Gibson, defense coach at Tennessee, is the new head football coach at Kansas State University, the Associated Press learned today.

C Of C Plans Celebration For Metro Phone Hookup

Request to have "some sort of celebration" when the metro telephone hookup between Southern Bell and Winter Park Telephone Company takes place Feb. 19 was made by members of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, Thursday.

"We worked hard on this metro system for many years to tie this county together with non-toll telephone service and feel it deserves more than a passing mention," said Douglas Stenstrom.

Robert Sheidden, Southern Bell manager, agreed to work on plans for an "observance be fitting the occasion."

Sheidden pointed out that though Southern Bell subscribers will pay a small rate increase, Winter Park Telephone Company subscribers will not be charged more, since their bills are presently nearly double that of the Southern Bell subscribers.

Residents Up-In-Arms

Where Were The Longwood Councilmen?

The Longwood City Council was severely criticized at a public hearing Thursday evening by a resident attending for its "disgraceful conduct" in not being able to muster a quorum.

The hearing was scheduled several weeks ago on the proposed paving of Reider Avenue and Orange Avenue from Grant Street to SR 427.

At 7 p.m., scheduled time for the hearing to begin, only two councilmen, Eugene Jaques and E. E. Williamson, were present.

By 7:30, 22 residents of the two streets and A. E. O'Neall, engineer of the proposed paving projects, were still waiting.

Jaques then invited O'Neall to give report on the costs of the several types of paving which may be used on the street.

Lt. Col. (ret.) M. W. Donovan, one of the Reider Avenue residents accused the members of council not present of "not being interested in the taxpayers of the city. In fairness to us, they should be here," he said. "This is disgraceful!"

Jaques announced that he had been notified that Council Chairman Percy White is in Tallahassee on business, but could offer "no excuse for the absence of Councilmen John Deaton or Paul Maloney."

O'Neall reported that costs of various types of paving for Reider Avenue from Oak Street to 660 feet west of Oleander for the various types of paving would run from $2.20 to $4.15 per front foot. The residents, for the most part, agreed that 20 feet wide paved street with limerock stabilization and double surface treatment with three feet paved swails on each side at $2.60 per front foot is most acceptable to them.

Howls of protest were heard from residents of Orange Avenue when assessments for the same type of paving as Reider Avenue were estimated to cost $4.30 per front foot.

O'Neall stated that the difference in cost is caused because the street will be built though "a lot of land no one owns" to bring it to the new alignment of SR 427.

Jaques announced another public hearing on the paving will be scheduled.

Operation 'Cake' At Naval Station

Christmas is the season of giving . . . and not even thousands of miles can hinder people who want to share.

As a result, a group of sailors and Marines at Sanford Naval Air Station shared an ample supply of cake Thursday, presented by a Melbourne resident to a local sailor.

Mrs. Edna Perkins, of Melbourne, has a son, Airman 2cl Jon R. Perkins, serving in the Air Force at Lowrey AFB, Colo. And Mrs. Perkins wanted her son to have some fresh home made cake.

So, the Melbourne mother advertised in a Denver newspaper for a share-the-cake companion. And Mrs. Patricia K. Rieggen, of Denver responded. Mrs. Rieggen has a brother in the Navy serving here at SNAS, Lee Zimmerman, of Albuquerque, N. M.

Mrs. Rieggen furnished fresh home made cake to Perkins at Denver and Mrs. Perkins presented eight home made cakes to Zimmerman, an aviation fire control technician with RVAH-5.

If the idea of baking-cakes-across-the-nation catches on, then a lot of servicemen will get fresh home baked goods all year round.

Employment Shows Big Jump Here For November

Seminole County recorded one of the highest employment totals in its history during the month of November according to latest statistics released today by the Florida State Employment Service.

Total civilian labor force was listed at 17,200 with only 600 persons unemployed, the normal number for this time of the year.

Those employed in the agriculture industry were 1,700 and 11,400 in non-agricultural establishments. Other forms of employment used an additional 3,500 persons.

Trade, both wholesale and retail, led non-agricultural establishments with 3,100 while government was second with 2,300. Other industries were services and miscellaneous 1,700; manufacturing, 1,600; transportation, communication and public utilities, 1,200; contract construction, 1,100 finance, insurance and real estate, 400.

Provisional estimates of the University of Florida research department show Seminole County population reached 70,000 during the month of July, 1966. This was a 27.5 per cent increase since the census was taken in 1960 placing the population at that time at 54,900.

The report placed the county far above its neighboring counties in growth rate.

Pastor's Corner

God's Open Window

By REV. ROBERT J. JENKINS
First Methodist Church

A man said to me the other day, "Preacher, why don't you fellows preach more about the good news, about the joys of the Christian life, and lay off this sin bit. It seems to me that you would get better results if you took us to look what has come into the world, rather than be so possessed with 'look what the world has come to,' especially at Christmas," he countered, just as I was about to answer him.

I suppose he is right in one sense. Crusaders can be awful by worrisome at times. Some of these fellows get on one pitch and they can't seem to let it go. Their whole ministry is pitched on this one wave length . . . that one problem, which plagues the world.

But let's consider for a moment the Christmas story. Think if you will, "what the world had come to," when God spoke finally, and magnificently making the "Word become flesh." Look what a mess things were in. He came into a world where there was no room for Him to have a proper birth. He barely escaped infanticide, and only then because an angel spoke to his parents. The Roman boot cared little or nothing about He who was to conquer their very world within 300 years. He was nothing, as well all non-Romans were.

Now suppose God had to write the whole human story for the first time today? And suppose He had not yet spoken through His Son? Suppose Jesus was still the "Logos," the "Idea of God," spoken of in John's Gospel? Would he write the human story, and the coming of His Son in the same manner?

What are the elements, the circumstances under which He wrote the original Christmas story? Notice first of all God spoke first to people. He spoke first to the shepherds. Why? Well I like to think it was because they were listening for Him to speak. They were also expecting Him to speak. Christmas reminds us that the whole of His creation was done for people, for you and for me. After all, did God build a tree, a rose, an ocean, a mountain or a Florida sunset, just to show off his creative genius? I hardly think so. Like everything, including Christmas Day itself, they were made for Man.

And notice also that God spoke through His Son to man at Man's greatest need. He spoke amidst conflict. Oh! how much is contained in that little passage in Luke's Gospel "And it came to pass that in those days, there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world would be taxed . . . when Cyrenius was governor of Syria." The pain, the hardship and the suffering it meant. Well perhaps this is enough to answer my friend with concerning Sin, but there is more. What most people do not realize is that our conflicts, personally, and the conflicts in the world, yes even our aims, reveal the point of, and in themselves reveal the cry of our greatest need. Conflict unearths our needs and our crys for help. Would there have been any need for the "Prince of Peace," if there was peace in the world? Would there be any need today for the Savior in our lives if we were not hopelessly lost in a sea and muddle of confusion? When our need is greatest we will also discover that our cry is loudest for just what Christ comes to give.

And did you notice also in the Christmas story that somehow God always writes into every situation a way out of our dilemma. The Prophets seemed to realize that the only way out of man's dilemma was for God to come Himself. God could not do that, so He sent a part of Himself, His Son, as the way out of our dilemma.

The note read . . . "Serious tumor . . . operation unnecessary . . . treatment possible with medication." It told of her little son. She had waited all day for them to tell her something after she had brought him to the hospital for tests. Then as she read the note from the doctor, with tears streaming down her face, she turned and looked across the street, to the little church where she had prayed at the altar. "Thank you God," she said, "for opening a window for me." That's the Christmas story. God always opens a window when the world closes the door.

Answers For Veterans

By Herb Johnson

Q—How can I go about obtaining another discharge. I lost mine?—L. A. C.

A—A certificate in lieu of lost or destroyed discharge may be issued upon application to proper service department. Veteran or next of kin must file DD Form 1108, which are available in this office, with the service department at address shown on reverse side of form.

Q—We have recently moved here from Indiana. I am receiving a VA pension. Is it necessary for me to transfer my records to Florida?—M. F. I.

A—If you intend to make Florida your permanent home, you should. Chances are good that you will have to transact some business with VA in the future and if your records are here at that time, there would be no delay in getting the benefit you would be seeking.

Q—I have received my annual income questionnaire card and have it filled out for 1966. How can I possibly tell them what I'll be making in 1967? I don't know if I'll even live through 1967.—H. H. S.

A—The part of the card calling for estimated 1967 income is intended to give some basis for continuing your VA pension in 1967. It shows VA that your projected income for 1967 is low enough to qualify you for pension. Also, if you showed your expected 1967 income was too high, it would prevent you from drawing benefits that you would be required to repay to VA.

Q—I attended school for two years under the Korean G.I. Bill but had service after January 31, 1955. Am I still entitled to attend school—R. T. G.

A—The cold war G.I. bill allows a month of training for each month of service after January 31, 1955, not to exceed 36 months. If you had previous training, it would be deducted from your total entitlement of 36 months (if you had that much coming), and you would be entitled to the remainder.

THE ART FORM of stripteasing has lost its West Coast queen to the big movie screen. Her real name, incidentally, is Beverly Montgomery.

Drama, Speech Workshop Held For Thespians

By JANE CASSELBERRY

An abundance of talent and ingenuity was displayed by Lyman High School students when the Speech and Drama Club sponsored a four-hour theater workshop.

The aspiring young thespians ran the gamut, presenting skits, monologues, dramatic readings, one act plays, and scenes from well known plays and musicals. Several of these were original works.

A panel of judges, which judged and evaluated each presentation, was composed of J. Hugley, co-producer of Orange Blossom Playhouse; Nancey Sharpless, president of The Rollins Players; Fred Valentine, member of the Rollins Players, and James Watson, assistant manager of the Seminole Cinema.

Judges were impressed with the quality of the offerings and surprised at the difficult scenes chosen and the good lighting effects.

Chosen as the best group scene from a serious play was a court room scene presented by Gail Gleason, Marilyn Mesick and Joy Bishop.

Miss Gleason also was picked as the girl having the best stage voice.

The "Rock Island" scene from "Music Man" was chosen as the best in the group comedy category.

Best serious entry by a single actor was an original scene written and acted by Courtney Durrell, "After Death."

In the humorous vein, "First Baseball" by Susanne Folley was chosen best. The judges also praised her for her exceptional makeup as "Death" in a scene from "Everyman." The "Everyman" scene also was picked for the best movement and beste classical selection.

Ann Shelton was named best actress and was recognized as having the best original script.

Tom Green was named actor with the best voice for his scene from MacBeth.

Jim Turner was singled out as best actor for his performance in a scene from "Death of a Salesman."

The best musical presentation was a lively song and dance number from "Funny Girl" by Roberta Connelongo and Sandra Parkerson.

A skit "Radio Rumpus" had the best set and also received honorable mention.

Special plaudits also went to Karen Cass for a musical number from "The King and I"; a one act play, "All This and Allen, Too"; Mark Brewer, as John in "Lion in the Winter"; Ron Green as Officer Krumpke from "West Side Story," and Helen Rackard in the "Rock Island" scene.

Jeannie Olsen was director of the Theater Workshop and announced each part. Mrs. Carolyn Durak is the faculty advisor.

Rolling Hills Country Club held a Blind Bogey Tournament last Saturday and a two way tie developed for first place between Campbell Triggs and Bob Boutchard. Dr. Barker, Lloyd Wordon, Bill Roof, Buck Buchanan, Pete Howard and Bill Dilworth all had 79's to finish second.

On Sunday Rolling Hills had a Mixed Blind Partner Tournament which was a two ball, best ball, full handicap event. Apollo Kobylok and Virginia Stockman made up the low net team with a fine score of 61. Lloyd Wordon and Barbara McKinnon were close behind with a team average of 64 and were awarded first runnerup team honors. Fred Harlin and Vivian Conklin, Clarence Dressel and Midge Frey, Ben Kuenz and Fran Gaipla, and Burlie Mullins and Jean Hitchcock all had a team total of 65 and tied for second runnerup position.

On Sunday Dec. 18 the Mayfair Men's Golf Association will have a mixed Toy Tournament which will be a blind draw, full handicap, and entry fee is donation of a toy. This tourney is open to all members in good standing.

The big President's Cup Tournament will begin this month and all members in good standing will automatically be entered. No entry fee will be charged and it will be a match play, full difference in handicap. The prize will include the bowle of having your name inscribed on the clubhouse trophy and individual trophies will be awarded to the winner and runnerup. The first round is to be played by Dec. 31st. Second round will be completed by Jan. 8th, third round will be played by Jan. 15th and the final round will be played by Jan. 22nd.

The pro-amateur got underway today at the Mayfair and Bill Morgan, Bob Cooke, Grover Todd, and Jim Brass are just a few of the area golfers competing.

Our Junior Golfer of the Week selection goes to Dennis Epps who is an active participant in the Sanford Junior Golf Association. Dennis is ten years old and in the fifth grade. He shoots in the high 90's.

Harold Sherwood recorded an eagle Wednesday at the Mayfair when he used a three wood on the first hole which was for 380 yards. Other members of the foursome included his son Larry, Paul Weber and Dr. John Cox.

The Club Championship Tournament is still in progress at Mid Florida Country Club

On the national news, Billy Casper seems to be a trifle upset over a money controversy involving he and Arnold Palmer. Palmer's total was $154,692 while Casper had a total of only $121,944. No matter how you slant it or how you add it Palmer still came out on top in dinners.

Actually, the whole thing is academic because golfers like Casper, Palmer and Jack Nicklaus all make much more off the course than they do on it, but there is always a matter of professional pride and Casper can not be blamed for feeling the way he does but this does not automatically give him a claim to a title he does not deserve. Palmer is still number one, on and off the course.

The local high school football season came to an unofficial close with the selections announced for the annual Sanford Herald All Seminole County Football Team. In addition to the top eleven local high school gridders, the poll provides a flourish with three separate distinctions—Back of the Year, Lineman of the Year and the Coach of the Year.

As might be expected, Seminole's Frank Whigham was chosen as the Back of the Year. Whigham established many individual records for the Fighting Seminoles this year and recently was offered a scholarship to Florida State University.

The Lineman of the Year recipient is Danny Overton of Lyman High School. Overton is a senior for the Greyhounds and played outstanding ball at the end position with his 5' 10", 175-pound frame.

Head Coach Herman Lofton of the Oviedo Lions was tapped for the Coach of the Year. Hampered from the beginning with a lack of numbers for the various football positions, Lofton molded a fighting eleven which provided exciting football for the most critical armchair quarterback and fan alike.

The nominations to the All Seminole County Team were made by the four area high school football coaches and the Sports Department of the Herald.

On the first team, at the end positions are Overton and Vernell Ellzy — Crooms Senior, 6' 4", 205 pounds.

The only sophomore to make the team is guard Steve Bratton of Oviedo who tips the scales at 190 and stands an even 6 feet along with Lyman's Tom Fletter—senior, 5' 9", 17 pounds.

Roy Dunn of the Fighting Seminoles was the choice for center. Dunn is a senior, 6' 0", 180 pounds.

The All Star backfield is headed by Whigham at quarterback with the half-slots filled with speedsters Hank Tulp of Oviedo and Buddy Stumpf from Seminole. Both are identical in the weights department, an even 150, with Stumpf three inches taller than Tulp at 6' 0".

Fullback Paul Lambert of Lyman carried the pigskin through the line with enough force and success this season to merit this position for him on the star studded eleven.

Named as linemen to the second team were Mike Long — Seminole, Emory Blake — Crooms, Bob Olson — Lyman, Leonard Davis—Crooms, John Airie—Oviedo, Bruce Stuart—Lyman and Greg Ganas of Seminole.

Backfield positions were filled by Simon Harper—Oviedo, Bobby Eldridge—Lyman, Bill Bracken—Seminole and Jimmie Hallie of Crooms.

Honorable mention: Norris Robinson — Crooms, Regine Alexander — Crooms, Barney Headrick—Seminole and David Straughan—Lyman.

Slim Chance

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The staunch defensive unit that has carried St. Louis' flickering title hopes on its broad shoulders for six weeks in the National Football League will be battling for half a loaf Saturday.

Not only must the Cardinal defenders handle Cleveland in their survival test, but the New York Giants' defense — most maligned in NFL history — must turn back Dallas' potent attack Sunday if St. Louis is to sidestep elimination in the Eastern Conference stretch race.

Oviedo Sets Daytona Cage Clash

Saturday night the Oviedo Lions basketball squad will travel to Daytona Beach to play Father Lopez High School.

The Lions will be depending on Simon Harper to lead their scoring effort. Harper has been the Lions leading rebounder and scorer in every game this season.

Oviedo has a 2-1 record this season, after having breezed through their first two games but then were stopped by Bishop Moore last Tuesday night

The Lions offense has been hitting nearly 50 per cent on its shooting from the floor and has out-rebounded every team it has played. Wally Jarnigan has played a big part in the Lions offensive being both the second highest scorer and the second highest rebounder.

The full court press will be the Lions main defense as it has been all season. Coach Dick Prater has been working hard to build-up the team's stamina which plays an important part in this type of defense.

The starting five will be Simon Harper, Wally Jarnigan, Ted Janson, Rex Clonts and Bill McClellan.

Junior Hi Fives Drop 2 Games

Sanford Junior High's "Braves" basketball teams lost their matches with Bishop Moore in Orlando yesterday.

The eighth grade team dropped its tilt 37-27 as Al Grooms dunked 7-1-15 points.

The score was 58-42 in a losing cause for the ninth graders, also against Bishop Moore, as David Lee 6-2-14 and Mike Krecek 7-0-14 led the scoring of the local quintet.

Busy Weekend Set For Sanford Cagers

Seminole High faces a full slate of week-end games as they host the Ocoee Cardinals tonight at Bill Fleming Memorial Gym at Seminole High and on Saturday, they travel to Leesburg to take on the Yellow Jackets. Both games have 6:30 junior varsity and 8 varsity starting times.

Seminole has suffered two losses by very close margins to Kissimmee 61-55 and to Lyman 54-53 and they are anxious to meet the Ocoee Cardinals, whom Coach Blythe terms as, "a good ball club, they are fast and it won't be easy getting on top of them."

Coach Joe Mills' junior varsity is sporting a 1-1 record as they downed Kissimmee's JVs and then lost to the Baby Hounds from Lyman.

The varsity is a relatively short club with no one going over 6'1" and the shooting, which is potentially the Seminoles strongest point, hasn't materialized. Seminole shot 32 per cent against the Kowboys and 29 per cent at the Lyman tilt.

Frank Whigham is hitting the hoop for almost 18 points per game and is the Seminoles' top rebounder so far. Bobby Lundquist, Buddy Stumpf and Lamar Oxford have all shown their scoring potential.

Blythe will probably start Oxford and Lundquist in the backcourt and Stumpf and Whigham at the forward slots. Either John Weston or Mike Long will start at the pivot.

Raiders Underdog Saturday

The high flying Seminole Junior College Raiders will again be put in the underdog catagory Saturday as they travel to Orlando to face Orlando Junior College's high scoring Highlanders at 8 p.m. The OJC Scotts are 5-2 and boast of an 80-point-plus game average and the state's fourth defense.

The SJC Raiders are well noted for their defense which has held opponents to under 60 points and is currently rated the best in the state for a junior college. Last week, SJC put down Central Florida Junior college 73-65, holding the Rebels to their lowest point production all year. CFJC had averaged 89 points per game before their encounter with SJC.

Starting for Seminole at the guard slots will be Steve Groover and John Thomas, forwards will be Earl Stokes and Jacob Wallace, Fred Milton will start at the center post.

Homecoming

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings celebrated a kind of homecoming Thursday night.

Gordie Howe had another good night, Andy Bathgate regained his old form and Roger Crozier was Mr. Zero in the nets again as the Wings whipped Boston 4-0 in the only National Hockey League game played.

Unbeaten Lyman Plays Tough DeLand

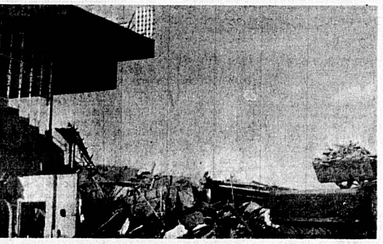
The Lyman Greyhounds, unbeaten in two contests will move into Orange Belt competition Saturday night, traveling to DeLand for a meeting with the powerful Bulldogs.

Hound coach Murray Arnold, whose cagers have been very impressive in wins over Regional Champion Bishop Moore and District Champion Seminole, will be returning to DeLand for the first time since accepting the Lyman coaching job last spring. Arnold was head mentor for seven successful years at the DeLand school.

The Bulldogs have won three of their first four games and are rated as the top class A power in this part of the state. They have defeated Bishop Moore, Seabreeze, Palatka, and with the lone loss to Orlando Oak Ridge by five points. A sell-out crowd is expected to watch Arnold's underdogs from Longwood attempt to upset the ORC champions who lost just one player from last year's 14 man squad.

Lyman has swept to two victories on the rebounding of pivot men Charlis Newell and Bruce Stuart, who together have hauled down 78 rebounds thus far. Guards Mike Haris and Lenny Westt have been the top outside shots. Hargis hit for 29 points against Seminole, including the game winning basket with just three seconds left.

Arnold will probably use a starting five of Stuart at center, Newell and either Darrell Aligator or Bob Means at the forward, and Hargis and West in the backcourt.



THE TWO-STORY clubhouse at Seminole Downs in Casselberry was demolished this week to make way for a more modern structure. Built during the '20s, the stucco building stood as a once proud reminder of the boom time era. (Herald Photo)

Set For Opener

Downs Applies For Dates

Seminole Downs in Casselberry has applied to the Florida Racing Commission for the dates of April 18 through July 8 for thoroughbred horse racing.

Races would be scheduled five nights a week with the plant dark on Thursdays and Sundays. A ruling is expected from the commission early next month.

Meanwhile, the raceway is a beehive of activity with many changes underway, according to Ralph Cholsser, manager.

The old clubhouse adjacent to the grandstand has been torn down to make room for a new clubhouse, plans for which are now being drawn up by the architect. The first story of the two-story building will be constructed this year to house a lounge and limited dining facilities. It will be built closer to the track and rounded for a clear view of action in the stretch.

Other new facilities planned include a saddling and walking paddock, modern jockey quarters, racing secretary's office, horsemen's bookkeeper's office, horse identifier's office, track dispensary, stewards office, and a Florida Racing Commission office.

The parking area will be resurfaced and a new entrance built.

The five-eighths mile track itself is being enlarged with the chute being extended to allow for seven, six-and-a-half, six, or five-and-a-half furlongs. A chute for four-and-a-half furlongs is being added on the back side of the track.

All-Out Battle Shapes Up For SOKC Inaugural

According to the early odds, tonight's inaugural handicap at the Sanford - Orlando Kennel Club shapes up as a real battle between Patrolman Day and Mr. Whirl.

During schooling races the two great dogs met only once. If the inaugural turns out the same as in that race, the winner will be Mr. Whirl.

The explanation probably lies in last year's records. Patrolman Day, from the Homer Herndon Kennel, won more races than any other greyhound in the track's history—17.

The Herndon ace will be breaking from the No. 2 post position while Larry Hughes' great sprinter goes from the No. 4 box.

Next in the line of favorites by the Mr. Morning line will be Clager and Martin's L.G.'s Ares, from the No. 1 post and Paul Boone's Rosa Pluma from the No. 7 post. Both are shown at 5-1.

Then comes R. K. Hutchings' J.A.'s Rawhide from the No. 5 box and Ivory Tower's Robust Robin from the No. 8 hole. Both are listed at 6-1.

Longshots will be M. V. McCurdy's record heat at 8-1 and Henry Caswell's Nana's Nancy at 12-1. Record heat will be in the No. 3 post and Nana's Nancy breaks from the No. 6 box.

The 12-race card begins at 8:10 p.m.

Constitution Framers Wrap Up Deliberations

J. K. RICHARDS

Young GOP Organize At Jr. College

Young Republican Club of Seminole Junior College, in its first official meeting Thursday evening, discussed plans to send representatives to Tallahassee for the inauguration of Gov. elect Claude Kirk.

The club's sponsor, Thomas A. Tipton, economics and world civilization teacher, appointed these officers until the regular election in late January:

J. Kirk Richards, president; Steven Pearce, vice president; Yvonne Oliver, secretary, and Edward Wagner, activities chairman.

Fred Bryant and Gary Gibson were named to the constitution committee and Gibson and Miss Oliver were appointed parliamentarians.

Richards said the club will assist in the Republican spring voter registration drive; will serve refreshments at the college's winter formal Monday, and plans functions for the next trimester with well known speakers from the Florida Young Republicans.

ARC Training Program Held In DeBary

By Mrs. John Leone

A training program on Red Cross disaster relief procedures was conducted Dec. 6 at the DeBary Community Center for members of the DeBary, Deltona, Orange City and Enterprise disaster relief committee. Ray King, ARC official from Orlando, led discussion.

King explained that Red Cross responsibilities for relief programs are primarily in the area of natural disasters. Red Cross does not duplicate or undertake responsibilities of government or local agencies.

In general, aid is given when five or more families are involved. In special circumstances, however, aid is available when disaster strikes a single family. On recommendation of local ARC disaster committees, aid in emergency needs is given in form of first aid, shelter, clothing and food. Local committees handle emergency situations as far as possible with the understanding that trained personnel and services from the National Red Cross will be available when needed.

Another training session will be conducted to outline duties of individual members of the community committees which include canteen, first aid, communications, transportation, and shelter.

Bad Spot For Animals

MOOSE, Wyo. (AP)—A cat driven by a woman named Stogg struck and killed an elk on the highway near Moose this year.

A few weeks later a car driven by Devere Sparrow of Ogden, Utah, struck and killed a cow on the highway—also near Moose.

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—The borrowing power of the state was liberalized in the proposed new constitution for Florida Thursday despite charges that action gives "the next Legislature an extra billion to spend."

The Florida Constitutional Revision Commission voted 26-9 to give the Legislature power to finance capital improvements by general obligation bonds and raised the debt limit to 200 per cent of the annual tax revenue.

Meeting until 8:30 p.m. without a dinner break in an effort to finish drafting the proposed constitution, the commission also gave solid backing to annual legislative sessions and raised again the question of a formula for secondary gasoline tax distribution. No final decision was reached.

Commission Chairman Chesterfield Smith expects to be able to wrap up deliberations by tonight and end the document session on schedule. The document then will be sent to the Style and Drafting Committee for polishing; members will meet again Jan. 28 to give final approval before sending it to the Legislature.

The bond proposal, led to the longest floor debate by William O'Neill of Ocala, gives lawmakers authority to issue bonds without voter approval on road projects. The money would be used to acquire sites, and build or expand state facilities.

"The total principal amount of all state general obligation bonds, revenue bonds and certificates outstanding at any given time shall not be more than twice the total tax revenues received during the state's fiscal year . . ." said the amendments.

It passed handily 26-9 after withstanding an attack by House Speaker Ralph Turlington who said "there isn't the first spending safeguard on this. You're giving the next Legislature an extra billion to spend."

Turlington said the lawmakers could conceivably push the state debt from its present level of around $750 million to $1.8 billion "in one fell shot."

O'Neill countered with an argument that Florida had progressed "in spite of present debt restrictions.

"We are a fast and rapid-growing state and need the power to borrow for the future," he said.

A proponent of the amendment, Sen. John E. Mathews of Jacksonville, brought a commission visitor, Republican Gov.-elect Claude Kirk, into the debate.

"There's a loud silent voice up there on the rostrum which is saying 'no new taxes.' I ask you how we're going to do it without new taxes without the power to borrow?" Mathews asked.

North Orlando To Have Party For Children

By MARILYNE PETERSON

The annual Children's Christmas Party sponsored by the North Orlando Garden Club, Volunteer Fire Department and Ladies Auxiliary, will be held Sunday in the building adjacent to the North Orlando Super Market.

The party, scheduled to start at 2 p. m., will be visited by Smoky the Bear, courtesy of the Forestry Service, with a clown in attendance to entertain the children.

Santa Claus is expected to arrive at approximately 2:30 p.m. via the first truck, provided there isn't too much snow between here and the North Pole. Santa will have candy, fruit, cookies and punch for the children, and will take all Christmas lists back to the North Pole to insure delivery on the big night.

WALT DISNEY

Disney Death Not To Halt Florida Plan

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Officers of Walt Disney Productions and state officials both say preparations for the $500 million entertainment center in central Florida will continue.

The Disney executives, in a statement issued through the Florida Development Commission, said from California that the death of Walt Disney would not disrupt plans for Disney World, a huge complex which will rival Disneyland.

"It is the determination of Roy Disney, the Disney family and the entire Disney organization that these plans be carried forward," the statement said.

The statement said Disney, before entering the hospital, had outlined his plans in "great detail" for the individual elements of the Florida project.

Gov. Haydon Burns and Gov.-elect Claude Kirk praised the late film maker and said they were confident his Florida plans would be carried out.

In Los Angeles, Disney's older brother, Roy, president and chairman of the board of Walt Disney Productions, said "Walt Disney's preparation for the future is a solid, creative foundation.

"All the plans for the future that Walt had begun through motion pictures, the expansions of Disneyland, television production and our Florida and Mineral King projects will continue to move ahead."

Disney planned a $35 million recreation facility at Mineral King in California's High Sierra.

Warplanes Shy Away From Hanoi Area

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — U.S. warplanes stayed away from the Hanoi area Thursday as controversy continued to rage around the world over American attacks in the vicinity of the North Vietnamese capital.

With missions over the Communist North limited to 58 by bad weather, American pilots made two attacks in the neighborhood of Haiphong, North Vietnam's chief port. But most raids reported by the U.S. Command were in the southern part of North Vietnam, with a few in the area of Dien Bien Phu, near the Laotian frontier.

Rainstorms and a low ceiling were reported in the Hanoi area.

The U.S. Command denied Communist charges that American bombs hit inside Hanoi on Tuesday and Wednesday. The command said a "complete review of pilot reports and photographs showed that all ordnance expended by U.S. strike aircraft was in the military target area" five miles south and six miles northeast of the city.

The lull in ground fighting in South Vietnam continued, with only small scattered skirmishes reported.

The targets in the Haiphong area Thursday were a radar site 11 miles southeast of the city and cargo barges 26 miles east-southeast of the harbor, the U.S. Command said.

In the special communique denying that American planes had bombed Hanoi, U.S. military headquarters said that U.S. pilots on Wednesday reported seeing one of the surface-to-air missiles which the Soviet Union supplies to North Vietnam hit a South Vietnamese junk and destroyed it.

Girl Scouts Plan Annual Carol Sing

The sound of Christmas carols will fill the air at Sanford Plaza on Wednesday, beginning at 7 p. m., when the Girl Scouts' Annual Christmas Carol Sing is held.

Brownies, Juniors, Cadettes, and Seniors from all over the Tangelo District are invited to participate, in uniform, according to the district chairman, Mrs. Gerald McGinnis.

The Tangelo District (formerly Seminole District) is composed of Seminole County and West Volusia.

Pageant Grows

The Junior Miss Pageant, started in 1958 by Jaycees in Mobile, Ala., has grown in the past eight years to be a nationwide event with more than $50,000 in scholarships offered on the national level along with various scholarships in each state.

CHARLES A. Vining, a native of Sanford and 1942 graduate of Seminole High School, re-enlisted this morning for another four-year hitch aboard RVAH-9 at SNAS. Stationed at the local base since December 1958, Vining, a senior chief aviation electronics technician, resides with his wife and four children at 700 West 25th Street. (Navy Photo)

Citrus Problems Outlined To U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A group of Florida citrus officials told Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman bluntly:

The state's citrus industry faces a serious problem of overproduction and underconsumption this year.

The Floridians Thursday urged Freeman to order purchase of 15 million gallons of Florida orange concentrate for the Federal school lunch program.

They said they had planned the marketing of a crop expected to be 20 to 25 per cent above last year but the current estimate is for a crop 42 per cent greater.

This increase amounts to a greater supply of oranges than is produced in all the other orange-producing states of California, Texas, Arizona and Louisiana.

W. Albert Carlton, president of Florida Citrus Mutual, told newsmen that Freeman showed interest in the problem and requested more information.

Carlton said Robert W. Rutledge, executive vice president of Florida Citrus Mutual, was to meet with Freeman again today for further talks.

Carlton said growers hope to get enough from the sale of oranges for the school lunch program to at least cover production costs.

The government would advertise for bids for whatever amount of orange concentrate it would buy and the processors would offer bids to meet the government's need.

Carlton said the Florida economy will receive a serious setback if the department does not make the purchase.

He said the group also discussed with Freeman the possibility of putting into effect a proposed marketing agreement regulating the handling of frozen concentrated orange juice produced in Florida. A hearing on the agreement will be held in Lakeland Dec. 19.

Carlton reported that purchase of the concentrate by the government and approval of the marketing agreement would enable the growers to dispose of the expected bumper crop on an orderly basis and avert a loss of about $50 million.

Fire Auxiliary Gives $1,000 To Department

Gifts totaling $1,000 will be given to the DeBary Volunteer Fire Department by the Auxiliary, it was voted at the Christmas party and installation meeting of the ladies in the Firemen's Recreation Hall.

A sum of $500 is to be used for equipment, the remaining $500 to go for completing the ladies room, the stage dressing rooms, and the parking lot at the hall.

Officers installed by Miss Beatrice J. Tyson were Miss Kay Ryan, re-elected president; Mrs. Charles Ullrich, vice president; Mrs. Paul Froetscher, recording secretary; Mrs. Ellsworth Ogden, treasurer; Mrs. Ruth Hamilton, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Ray Pinto, three year director; Mrs. Otto Hartwig, two year director, and Mrs. John Leone, one year director.

Refreshments were served prior to the business session and a social hour followed its conclusion.

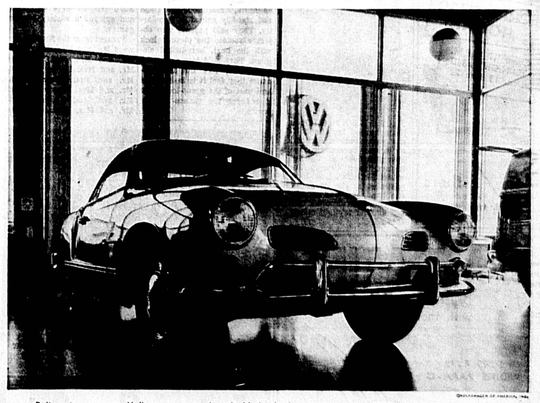
Come in and drive a Pussycat wild.



Believe it or not, our Volkswagen Karmann Ghia has a lot in common with expensive sports cars.

(We named it the Pussycat to attract attention, not little old ladies.)

To start with it has a stick shift with four forward gears. And to slow down you can down-shift, just like a race car driver. And to stop in your tracks, the front of every Pussycat now comes equipped with disc brakes.

Also like on many racers), each wheel has its own torsion bar suspension system. So if you're rounding a curve, or cruising along at 82 mph, a bump bumps only one wheel while the rest of the car sticks to the road.

Of course, if you'd rather not stick to the road, you can drive off with less chance of getting stuck, because a VW engine is in the rear. It bears down on the rear wheels, giving them extra traction in mud and snow.

A lot of people buy our Pussycat strictly for its looks.

Later they find out that it's more car than they bargained for.

Mrs. A. H. Parker Hosts Palm Circle Yule Luncheon

Mrs. Alton H. Parker of 112 Oakland Ave. opened her home on Thursday, Dec. 8, to members of the Palm Circle of Sanford Garden Club.

The holiday season was observed with a delightful Christmas buffet luncheon. Assisting hostesses, Mrs. Gene Merrill, Mrs. Elwood Heiss of Casselberry and Mrs. Clara Crosby, used white poinsettias with white candles in the table decor, with favors made by Helen Dewit.

After the luncheon a brief business meeting reviewed the recent Christmas bazaar and the president, Mrs. Wade Garner, appointed chairman for special bazaar committees for the coming year.

Mrs. Cyrus Darling was then welcomed into membership. Mrs. Blanton Owen, program chairman, presented the speaker of the day, Mrs. Harold Howe, whose paper on "The Hollies" included historical data on the Christmas shrub, its legendary uses and significance in the Christmas celebration in many lands, as well as its present intensive cultivation in our own Pacific northwest.

For further detailed information on the many varieties of holly now extant, Mrs. Howe recommended H. Harold Hume's book, "The Hollies," as an authorative text and reported the prevalent theory that the life and freshness of clipped holly used in home decoration can be lengthened by arranging the boughs in a solution of water (tepid) and brown sugar . . . one cup of brown sugar to one quart of tepid water.

Mrs. Harry Oaks exhibited and discussed four varieties of holly grown in her garden on Scott Avenue. Through the courtesy of Mrs. D. M. Ladd of Geneva, Mrs. Howe was able to show and distribute sprigs of an exotic hybrid, "Golden Crispa," from Mrs. Ladd's garden.

At the close of the program members visited the hostess' garden and viewed the protective frames used there to protect choice or tender plants and shrubs from sharp cold dips during the winter season in this area.

The next meeting of Palm Circle, Jan. 12, 1967, is scheduled with DeDiary hostesses, Mrs. Peg Newton and Adele Ferguson, with Mrs. G. Andrew Speer featured on the program in a talk on "Interpreting Flower Show Arrangements."

MISS HANSEN

Hansen-Rathel Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Rueben M. Hansen of Quasqueton, Iowa, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Mary Hansen, of St. Petersburg, to Clifford E. Rathel of Apalachicola, formerly of Sanford.

Miss Hansen was born in Independence, Iowa, and attended schools in Quasqueton, where she was president of the junior class and active in many school clubs.

She later attended Marion College in Indiana where she was treasurer of the College Forensic Speech Club and won honors in speech. She was a member of the Eurekan Society and on the honor roll.

She presently is employed as secretary, bookkeeper and general office manager of the Asheville Radio and TV Corp. in St. Petersburg.

Rathel was born in Sanford and attended schools here. He studied at Central Wesleyan College in South Carolina and is now minister of the Apalachicola Wesleyan Methodist Church. He also is employed by the IGA Store there as produce manager.

The wedding will be an event of Jan. 27 at 7:30 p.m. at the Wesleyan Methodist Church at St. Petersburg with reception to follow.

EAR-PIERCING

BOSTON (UPI) — Ears, it seems, are "in" this year — but only if pierced. Doctors at the Children's Hospital Medical Center here feel that if girls want pierced ears, they should have it done by a doctor.

They also feel that parents should not get unduly upset about the craze, which, some estimate, started four years ago and steadily gained in popularity. They said parents who object associate the pierced look with the beat, bare-footed element. They said teen-age girls, meanwhile, like the look because they feel it is fashionable and part of the group-look, plus it reduces the chance of lost earrings.

THE ROMANTIC LOOK has returned for the holiday party season. Richard of Helena Rubenstein creates this look of flowing tresses, even though the model has short hair. Two postiches at the crown of the head, one fall loosely curled on the shoulder and one smaller topknot create this effect.

Coleman-Brown Wedding Vows Recited In Longwood Church

Miss Gretta Gail Coleman and Doyle Rentz Brown were united in marriage during a candlelight ceremony at the Longwood Baptist Church, Nov. 22 with the Rev. Jack Lindsay officiating at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson Coleman of Sanford. The groom is the son of Mrs. Mary Ette Brown of Longwood.

The sanctuary was decorated with baskets of palms and greenery forming a background for four candelabra, each holding seven lighted tapers.

A massive white arrangement of poll and giant mums was placed in the center of the altar of the baptistry. The family pews were marked with large white satin bows.

Ronald Lady, pianist, played the traditional wedding music and was accompanist for Miss Jeri Wheatland, soloist, as she sang "Walk Hand in Hand" and "The Wedding Prayer."

Miss Darlene Coleman, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor, with Miss Shalaine Crain of New Smyrna Beach and Miss Freda Hanson, cousin of the bride, from Orlando, as attendants.

They wore identical floor-length dresses of olive green moss saki. Their headpieces were small bows to which were attached circular nose tip veils. The maid of honor carried bronze mum and asters, with the bridesmaids bouquets of alternate color.

Petite Melanie Conway served as flower girl. Dressed in her full length green moss sakl dress she carried a white basket with the lily of the valley accessory. Small white daisies filled her basket.

Christopher Wetherington, cousin of the bride, served as ringbearer, carrying a small, white heart-shaped pillow with lily of the valley streamer.

Donald Conway served as best man, with Donald Brown and Randy Griffin as groomsmen.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her vows a formal floor-length gown of Chantilly lace. The fitted basque bodice featured a Sabrina neckline and long tapered sleeves. The bouffant skirt was accented by tiers of lace ruffles and terminated in a full sweeping chapel length train.

Her illusion veil fell from a double crown of hand cut crystal to an elbow length.

For "something old" the bride had a linen handkerchief which belonged to her great-grandmother; for "something new" she carried a small white prayer book given to her by Miss Shalaine Crain. For "something borrowed" she used the wedding veil of Mrs. Carol Ann Scott and for "something blue" she wore the traditional bridal garter.

The bride's mother chose to wear a teal blue satin brocade dress with matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations tinted with pink.

The bridegroom's mother wore a pink suit of satin with black accessories and a white carnation corsage tinted blue.

Mrs. E. C. Wetherington Jr., cousin of the bride, directed the ceremony and assisted with the reception.

Following the ceremony, a reception was given in the church reception hall.

The bride's table was covered with white linen cloth with lovely gladioli arrangement at one end to accent the four-tiered columnated wedding cake embossed with white roses and mounted by a miniature bride and groom. Fruit punch was served.

Assisting with the reception were Mrs. Olan Elgin and Mrs. Randy Griffin, with Mrs. Fred Hanson, the bride's aunt cutting the cake. Mrs. E. C. Wetherington kept the bride's book which was placed on a table similar to the bride's table decorated with a white carnation in a bud vase.

PANTSUIT IS NEW STANDBY

The new standby wherever you go will be the pantsuit. For added intrigue, find one with many parts. Some are in a dashing combination of plaid and plain consisting of pants, jackets, skirt and shell. Do what you will in mixing or matching —you'll be well-dressed wherever you go.

You can bring joy to a child confined to the hospital this Christmas by sending him or her a gay little floral snowman. It could be made of white pompons and carnations, with cherries for the eyes, nose and mouth and nuts serving as buttons down the front. It is small enough to be placed on a windowsill or bedside table.

Pants stay on the fashion scene for spring. Some marks of the pants story: slightly bell-bottom, straight slacks, jeans, knickers, bloomers. There will be pants for travel, lounging, street, even formal. They come in safari, nautical, military moods. Also to figure in the sporty vein: miniskirts and kilttie pleated skirts.

MRS. DOYLE R. BROWN

The Bill Gordons Hosts Yule Fete For Friends

Merry Christmas fun and good cheer reigned at the party given by Bill and Libby Gordon at their home on Lake Minnie last weekend.

Guests at the delightful event were treated to refreshments and enjoyed a variety of party games.

Present from the Sanford area were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Blythe, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Moughton, Mr. and Mrs. Randy Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Sonny Haskins, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Louria, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gordon, M. Shaw and M. Adams.

Out-of-towners at the party were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Browning of Altoona, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Melvin of Winter Park, F. Harrington and B. Marini of Cocoa and Mr. and Mrs. Ron McGee, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Adernato, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Herrmann, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bessy and Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Gehr, all of Orlando.

SHAPE OF TROUBLE

NEW YORK (UPI) — Two Navy doctors say they can predict trouble late in pregnancy by checking the shape of the mother-to-be's abdomen, according to a report they made to the American Academy of General Practice.

Unusual bulges, predominantly on one side and other shape abnormalities, are associated with miscarriages, premature births, and other pregnancy or delivery problems. Experience with the contour examinations has enabled them to predict trouble correctly nine times out of 10, reported Drs. James P. Semmens, of Oakland, Calif., and James Lee, of Philadelphia. Both serve in naval hospitals.

Here's How To Make Him Sit Up And Take Notice

Does your husband read the evening paper at the dinner table?

Do you wish you had something special to wear to the Doyle's holiday party? Something to change the conversation from farina to fashion?

Would you be interested in adding a bit of spice to last year's at-home skirt or pants?

Need something to bedazzle for a mid-winter cruise to a land of soft breezes and gentle words?

Introverts beware! Fashion followers take heed! A new outerware bra has sparkled into view. The mood is clearly theatrical, evoked by a white sequin halter or a black crepe bra-top shot with jet.

They glisten subtlely into view beneath a shirt not-so-sheer . . . the top three buttons left diabolically open. Or glimmer, uncovered, above low-slung, flaring crepe pants or a soft evening skirt.

The outer-inner bra is jolly-well not intended for a quiet evening at home alone.

Mathews' Team

Seminole County's Chamber of Commerce has high hopes for the community this year with the new president DeWitt Mathews putting special emphasis on a "young" administration.

Mathews stressing the new goals of the directors and committee chairmen has expressed the hope that his team would set a new record of accomplishment.

The early start in organizing committees under new leadership and the other groundwork suggests that the new president intends to get a great deal accomplished.

His committees have heavy work schedules. Their agendas are lengthy with projects which are to receive special attention during the year.

Specific goals have not been announced, but the flurry of activity demonstrates a desire for actual accomplishment rather than advance boasting about what might be done. All of this is to the credit of a vigorous president, and certainly Mathews is this.

Mathews' teams have a great deal of opportunity to make a significant contribution. Seminole County is advancing slowly but surely, and growth is bringing on mammoth problems which must be solved.

The chamber is always a key factor in smoothing the way for progress. It puts a lot of people to work and directly involves them in community improvement.

We place a great confidence in DeWitt Mathews and his group in the year ahead.

Avoid Controversy

This question was aked of us: "Should a newspaper deal with controversial subject?" Our answer is a quick one—yes.

A newspaper is a privately owned institution but it is oriented to the public. Regardless of the private ownership any American newspaper has a public responsibility. The responsibility includes the preachment of the American concepts, the right of the individual, honesty in government, dedication to the interests of all of the people and the sponsorship of those things which are to the good of the people as a whole. A newspaper has the obligation to seek to make its community a better place in which to live. Thus it is impossible to avoid controversial issues. The newspaper must encourage the things that are in the interest of the city, county, state and nation and conversely oppose those things which curtail these interests.

Despite the fact that a newspaper may be privately owned it should not uphold those things which exclusively serve its own interests. For example, a newspaper which opposes the aroused passions of the people in time of stress will find that it can make itself momentarily unpopular through such opposition. When obstructionists seek to obstruct progress it follows that the promotion of progress creates the disenchantment of the obstructionists.

But there is a rewarding fact concerning this matter of controversy. It is generally recognized that a newspaper can not promote the best interests of the people of this country through a policy of conformity. Conformity is the easy way for the moment but it does not command respect in the long run. With time even the conformists recognize that the spineless acceptance of conformity is shortsighted, even wicked.

A respected newspaper usually is one that is willing to participate in controversy with the will to see the best interests of the town or country upheld. The great newspapers of the nation are the ones which are forthright editorially. The newspapers which meekly go along with any proposition with the purpose of offending no one usually are regarded as weak newspapers.

Someone could ask, "What about the newspapers which have no commanding editorial policy but which make big profits from their large volume of advertising?" There are some American newspaper organizations in this category. But actually they are profit-making organizations, not respected news papers as such.

There are no great newspapers in Red China, Castro's Cuba or in the Soviet Union. The proof of this charge is easy. The basic concept of newspapers in totalitarian countries is not to inform the people. Freedom of information is not the goal in these countries. But in America the purpose of newspapers must be to keep the people informed and to provide some editorial guidance. No newspaper can do this if its staff is unwilling to: (1) Become involved in controversy, (2) offend someone if it is necessary or (3) to refuse to use the editorial and news pages to serve personal goals for privileged interests.

Hal Boyle Says:

NEW YORK (AP) — The postman would be a true Santa Claus if he brought this kind of holiday dream mail:

"Harry, this is just a hasty note to let you know that your Christmas bonus this year will be $1,000. I'd appreciate it if you'd keep the amount secret, as the rest of the staff are only getting $500 each. But your work this last year has been so outstanding that we—"

"Dear Dad, I don't want you to faint from the shock, but my college roommate and I are doing so well with that cleaning shop we opened just off the campus that we're rolling in lot. From now on I won't be needing that $75 a month you've been sending me. The way we're going now, I'll be able to handle my own tuition and room and board bills for the next semester. I am enclosing my check to you for $50 to buy your self something nice for Christmas. Don't spend it all on bubble gum. Your son, Joe."

"Dear Brother Slurch, as chief totem of our lodge, it gives me heartfelt pleasure to inform you that you held the winning ticket in our annual lodge raffle to raise scholarship funds for underprivileged Bedouins. The first prize, you will remember, is a brand new four-door automobile. Would you care to drive it home yourself, or have us send it gift-wrapped as a surprise to the other members of your family?"

"Dear sir: Although it is not our usual custom to lure executive talent from one of our competitors, the sudden retirement of one of our key vice presidents leaves vacant a post which we feel only one with your proved talents can fill suitably. In strict confidence, it pays roughly double what we estimate to be your present salary, plus use of the company yacht, paid membership in the country club of your choice, a liberal petty cash fund and—"

"Dear Mr. Slurch: As manager of the Jamboree Night Club, I am answering your wife's letter for two reservations at our annual New Year's Eve party at $75 a head, drinks extra. Unfortunately, our reservations list has already been filled for that evening, so—"

"Dear Harry, I hope you don't mind the informality of my addressing you by your first name, but out our way they say if you don't know a fellow by his first name, you don't know him at all. Well, it get's kind of lonely in Texas this time of year, and if you and your family have never spent Christmas on a ranch, Lady Bird and I kind of wondered if—now don't bother stopping off at the store for any barbecue sauce. We got plenty."

Animal Ingenuity

RUSH CENTER, Kan. (AP) — Roy Peterson said he watched several woodpeckers hauling walunts to an old tree stump on his farm.

He wondered why until he saw them push the nuts into cracks on the stump and peck away while the nuts were held firm until they reached the goodies in the hard shells.

The New Congress Sits For His Portrait

Analysis Of The News

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bill D. Moyers got $30,000 a year as President Johnson's press secretary and after his brother committed suicide last September friends began telling him he ought to look out for himself.

Moyers is 32 and his brother, James H. Moyers, a widely liked but much more inconspicuous man, was also a very hardworking Johnson aide. He was 39 when he died.

Bill Moyers, with chronic ulcers and bright blue eyes, has been in a kind of Johnson alter ego. He labored endless hours. He got involved in all kinds of White House business, foreign and domestic.

He could speak with great confidence about what the President had on his mind which, in this case, took some confidence.

He was always on hand and totally dedicated. And he was always so cool, so composed, that after watching him for months you'd ask yourself: "Does anything bother him? Does anything get under his skin?"

But he has a wife and three children and almost from the time he became Johnson's press secretary in July 1965 — he had been with Johnson almost continuously since 1959 — there were rumors this was just a stepping stone.

No one ever seemed to know for sure where he wanted to go but only that he was ambitious. There were rumors, unconfirmed, that he'd like to be an ambassador, that he'd like to go into politics.

In either direction Johnson — so long as he was in the White House — could have been a big help. But the months passed, Moyers stayed, so did the ulcers, so did the fixed salary of $30,000, and there was the brother dead at 39, and, as it turned out, he was seriously thinking of doing better for himself, at least financially.

Wednesday came the news: He was leaving Johnson and the White House to become publisher of Long Island's Newsday, the country's largest suburban daily, with a circulation of 415,000.

Although the salary wasn't disclosed, it can be assumed Moyers will get a lot more than $30,000.

The news of Moyers' new job was hardly off the wires before the Washington guessing game began:

Was money the real reason for his going into publishing or did he have inside information that Johnson would not seek a second term and that now was the best time to make the best kind of deal he could for himself?

That same question about Johnson and the second term was being asked before Moyers' resignation was announced and will continue to be asked until there is some change in Johnson's political attitude which for months now has seemed almost indifferent.

Letters

To The Editor

Editor, Herald:

I'm writing this letter to you because I want the people of Seminole County to know that as a mother (who is a registered Democrat) I want to thank everyone who is responsible for helping my daughter, a Kirkette, to go to Tallahassee.

My daughter and 15 more girls will be representing Seminole County in the Inaugural Parade in Tallahassee. This is an honor for these girls and one they are going to remember all their lives. How many of us have never even seen an Inaugural Parade until the television came out? There are a lot of grown people who would like to be in their places.

These girls also will be going to the Inaugural Ball. There are a lot of good Republicans that won't even be able to go there and how they envy these girls. The dream of a young girl, "To be going to a ball at his age and maybe even get to dance with the governor!" You can understand the anxiety of these girls.

They have worked hard for the Republican party and now will be setting an example of Seminole County youth on the go. What a wonderful way to learn about politics at an early age. A number of these girls will be of voting age in seven years.

Thanks to the mothers of those girls who are working hard to earn money to send the girls to Tallahassee, which they had started doing before they asked the county for help. They've had bridge parties, fashion shows and bake sales, and on Dec. 22 we will have two skating parties at Melodee Skating Rink. Also there will be auctions, etc. So you see we're not sitting still and waiting for someone to just give us something. All we ask of the people of this county is to support the doings that are put on by the mothers. But, wouldn't it be a nice Christmas present to these girls if every person that voted Republican sent $1 to the Kirkettes to show that they want Seminole County represented?

The money donated would be used to buy these 16 girls formals and suits alike and pay for motel and feeding bills.

Since I started this letter I found out the Seminole High School Band will be going to Tallahassee, too. They are in need of money to pay for their lodging. What a shame not to help our school band, too.

Come on people of Seminole County — let's get behind our young people and show them that we care and appreciate them. Whether you're a Democrat or Republican, let's support these girls and boys from Seminole County.

Any donations can be mailed to the Kirkettes, P. O. Box 230, Sanford, Florida.

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Eleanor points out one of the most common faults of American husbands. Before you marry, be sure to take a course in public speaking and become a salesman, if only for a few weeks. For women want words! Sex is usually not as important to a woman as conversation! Men, get hep! Gilb salesmen run circles around human clams!

Case B-511: Eleanor Z., aged 25, has a common gripe.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "we have been married for 3 years.

"And I love my husband, though I sometimes feel like scratching his eyes out!

"For he is too silent, if you know what I mean.

"He doesn't talk or tell me any exciting things that have occurred at the office.

"Instead, he slumps down in his chair with the newspaper and merely grunts when I talk to him.

"Except for the physical bond that holds us together, I think we have little in common.

"Shouldn't a husband and wife be good friends, apart from their romantic attraction?"

TEST YOUR SWEETHEART

Eleanor is quite right in saying that a married couple should be good friends!

Apply that test right now to your mate and see how you rate.

Do you enjoy many things in common, such as sports, gardening, church, music, fishing, auto trips, card playing, singing duets, etc?

Remember, the erotic bond that blinds many young couples at the outset, will subside greatly as the years pass by.

Then you must have many mutual interests or hobbies, or you will experience the frustrating lack of rapport during those in-between times when you are not romancing.

Young couples should deliberately cultivate civic and church obligations TOGETHER, so they will weld themselves into closer friendship as the years pass.

One of the reasons why children also helps prevent divorce is the fact that the children give papa and mama many mutual problems to discuss and future educational goals to strive for.

Another asset in a good husband is his conversational skill.

Most men are not deft either at talking or writing letters.

So it would be excellent insurance for happy marriage if every prospective husband took a course in salesmanship.

And if he tried a sales job, even for no more than 6 weeks, his rating would zoom remarkably as a husband.

For salesmen become adept with spoken words.

Thus, they have much more entertaining companions and consequently rate higher with their wives on the "friendship" score.

Sex is usually not as important to a woman as conversation!

If you teen-agers can't sit and talk for hours with your sweet-heart, you are bad risks for marriage!

The magnetic attraction of kisses may preoccupy your attention when you are 17 or 18, but unless you can talk happily and be good friends the rest of the time, don't be blinded by mere sexual infatuation!

Sex may be considered the dessert in the usual 7-course marriage menu, but you can't live exclusively on dessert!

Being good friends and intensely conversationalists with many jolly hobbies and joint activities really will furnish the "meat and potatoes" for a permanently happy marriage.

So send for my 20c-point "Rating Scales for Successful Marriage," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA) — A good deal of rank misinformation is being circulated these days on the probable delegate make-up of the 1968 Republican national convention.

The argument is being made that the next convention will be heavily dominated by arch-conservative Goldwater types. Indeed, here and there it has been estimated that 70 to 75 per cent of the 1968 delegates will be repeaters from the San Francisco convention which nominated Barry Goldwater.

The chances of that happening are virtually zero.

In the several GOP conventions before 1964, the average of repeating delegates is generously estimated at 40 to 50 per cent. The avalanche of Goldwaterites on the 1964 roster reduced the repeaters that year to around 35 to 40 per cent.

Says a Republican professional with high credentials as a delegate expert:

"I don't see any evidence at all to support the theory that 70 per cent or more of the 1964 delegates will be coming back."

He and another party veteran argued, in fact, that the old 40 to 50 per cent repeater average may be artificially high. As a matter of history, it strikes an average over a period when forces of Thomas E. Dewey and the late Robert A. Taft were in more or less continuous combat—and flushing out the same sets of delegates.

Countless delegates simply have no wish to repeat. Even the staunch ideology of a dedicated Goldwaterite does not necessarily win over all. These people who weather a convention often emerge to find that their strongest conviction is never again to endure the shoving, the boredom, the interludes of near-famine, and the poor view of the proceedings which can be a delegate's lot.

On top of this factor, many delegates are chosen almost automatically by dint or party or political status. High party officers, leaders of party auxiliary outfits like the women's federation, some key officeholders, finance men, significant county chairmen are samples.

But the turnover in these posts is tremendous. A check by this reporter exactly a year ago disclosed that for the 50 states, the District of Columbia and the Caribbean islands, there had been 285 Republican chairmen in the period after the 1952 convention. For the more than 50 national committee posts, there were 101 who held the jobs.

The year 1966 has seen no letup. The party roster today shows another batch of new names.

Nor does anyone need to be reminded that the 90th Congress, some of whose members will make it to the 1968 convention, contains several dozen new Republican faces.

Newcomers seem likely to abound in great force at the next convention, and it is risky to assume they will be carbon copies of the Goldwaterites many will replace.

It is, however, reasonable to contend that the 31 additional delegates awarded to the 11 Old South states will give that stronghold of GOP conservatism a relatively louder voice in candidate deliberations than it has ever had before. Altogether, the South will have 210 delegates out of a projected total of 1,333, with 667 needed to win.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I are retired. We rented a beautiful apartment (not cheap) which does not rent to couples with small children. That's one of the reasons we took this place. The people directly above us have their grandchildren over three and four afternoons a week. They are three little kids, under six years old, and you have never heard such commotion.

They chase each other around knocking things over, screaming and yelling and thumping and bumping. I have pounded my ceiling with a broom handle, and even got out some pots and pans and banged them together to give them a taste of their own medicine, but it didn't help.

I complained to the manager. He told me to talk to the landlord. I talked to the landlord. He told me to complain to the manager. We have a three-year lease and like this apartment. What do we do now?

STUCK

DEAR STUCK: The "kids" are under six years old. What's your excuse? Mature, reasonable grown-ups do not "give people a taste of their own medicine" in the manner you described. Go upstairs knock on their door and talk with the adults.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: A few days ago a girl was standing near me in the hall at school while I was repeating to some of the guys a poem I'd heard. It was a short thing. The girl asked me if I would write it out for her so I did.

Well, the girl's mother got a hold of it in some unintentional way and read it. I guess I should mention, the poem was in rather poor taste. I called the girl the next day, and her mother answered the phone and said I was never to call or see this girl again.

I like this girl a lot and she likes me. We are both very upset over this incident. I called and apolozied to the mother, but she won't let us see each other. What should I do?

DYING

DEAR DYING: Nothing. Perhaps in time the mother will reconsider and give you another chance, but personally, I think you're dead in that league. There is a good lesson to be learned from this. DON'T put anything in writing that could incriminate or demean you.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Because of you, my Christmas is a lot merrier this year. Last year my husband was driving me crazy sitting around the house doing nothing. He had just retired at age 65, was in good health, and didn't know what to do with himself. He'd worked hard all his life and never had time to cultivate any hobbies.

I kiddingly suggested he write to you. And he did. You told him to offer his services to some volunteer group, and you named a few. He called the Crippled Children's society, and they gave him the names of some handicapped children who needed transportation to and from the therapy clinic. He's never been happier.

Aren't men peculiar? They'll listen to advice from a stranger, but just let their wives tell them the same thing and they'll say she's off her rocker. Merry Christmas, Abby!

DORIS

CONFIDENTIAL TO "WILLING TO LEARN": This may seem like an over-simplification, but if marriage is to be successful, both husband and wife should remember to use these three phrases frequently: "I love you. I'm sorry. Thank you."

Jacoby On Bridge

Jacoby and Son

A letter from Toronto reads, in part: "In a recent duplicate almost every North-South pair wound up at four spades. The bidding usually went as I have shown and several West players opened the three of diamonds. After this start the rest of the defense was easy. West would rise with the ace on the first trump lead and give East a diamond ruff. East would lead back a heart and a second diamond ruff would defeat the contract. I was the only man to double and I am pretty proud of that double in spite of the fact that North, South and my partner all united in criticizing me. What do you think?"

We have seen enough of such Toronto players as Eric Murray and Sabapathy Kokila to know that some of the best bridge in the world is played there but we did not realize that the average players there were sharp enough to reason out the diamond lead against the four spades contract.

It is very good reasoning indeed. East's raise is obviously based on distribution, not on high cards. Thus he is likely to have a singleton in the diamond suit which both opponents have bid. He is also marked with three trumps so that the diamond opening will produce two ruffs.

As for this West's double we have to consider it as sheer brilliance. He decided to get a top, not just a good score, and he got his top.

On the other hand we must point out something that everyone at the table overlooked. If either North or South had run out to five diamonds (no reason why they should) there would have been no way to defeat that contract against Sabapathy Kokila. He would have cashed the diamond lead against the four spades contract. It is very good reasoning indeed. East's raise is obviously based on distribution, not on high cards. Thus he is likely to have a singleton in the diamond suit which both opponents have bid. He is also marked with three trumps so that the diamond opening will produce two ruffs.

As for this West's double we have to consider it as sheer brilliance. He decided to get a top, not just a good score, and he got his top.

On the other hand we must point out something that everyone at the table overlooked. If either North or South had run out to five diamonds (no reason why they should) there would have been no way to defeat that contract against Sabapathy Kokila. He would have cashed the diamond lead against the four spades contract.

We The Women:

By Ruth Millett

Who says this isn't a wonderful time to be a woman?

Today, if a woman wants to be a wife, mother, and a dynamic person in her own right, she can manage it. For today's homemaker there are jobs to be had, community work to be done, and all kinds of ways available for her to continue her education and her growth as a person.

Today a woman needn't hate her looks. She can change the color of her hair or wear a wig, get her nose bobbed or her face lifted, keep a young figure by joining her husband on the golf course or going to exercise class, and she doesn't have to yearn to be pretty by conventional standards, because there aren't any. The idea today is to cultivate a "different" or individual look.

Today a woman in good health can stay active and enjoy a good life years and years after women once took to a rocking chair in the home of a son or daughter.

Today a woman who doesn't like the way her town or her state or her country is being run, can get out and work for the candidates of her choice, or she can run for office herself.

Tday a woman can shift a lot of the back-breaking drudgery that once went with housework to her many labor-saving devices. The energy she saves can be her own to use to enrich her own life and the lives of her family.

Today a woman can speak her mind and know that if she has something sensible to say she won't be marked down as unwomanly for having a mind of her own.

Today a woman can space her family the way she wants to.

Today a woman doesn't have to pay for the rest of her life for a mistake made in her youth or after dating long enough to show compassion instead of scorn for the girl in trouble.

If this isn't a good time to be a woman, whenever was there a better time?

Polly's Pointers

By Polly Cramer

POLLY'S PROBLEM

DEAR POLLY— I have quite a few drapery samples and would like some suggestions for things I can make out of them. I do not want to make a quilt, which is the only thing I can think of.—MRS. A. S. E.

DEAR MRS. A. S. E.—I am sure the girls will have some good ideas for you but, in the meantime, you might start some pillows, a knitting bag or even cover the seat of a small chair. Soft silk samples often make nice scarves.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—I spray paint pipe cones silver and gold and tie them to the Christmas tree, with green crochet thread, for added decorations. They fill bare spots left by ornaments and bulbs broken by my little ones.— ADA

DEAR POLLY— Hooray for Mrs. L. F. L. who wants the reader's view on supermarket games. They are boring and expensive for the consumer and I prefer to pay less for groceries. I also deplore stamps of any sort. This is my first letter to a newspaper but I want to add my "out with the rewards for buying."— B. K. M.

DEAR POLLY—Do let me add my protest to that of Mrs. L. F. L. who is fed up with the innumberable games, gimmicks and prab bags in supermarkets, gas stations and the mail. These stupid promotions can only add to the cost of the products and we housewives are sick unto death of the unending spiral in the cost of living.—MRS. J. H. C.

DEAR POLLY—I agree 100 per cent with Mrs. L. F. L. in regard to the supermarket games and so on. I, too, would rather the stores would concentrate on the value of the food dollar.

My suggestion is (and I wish you would print it for the markets to see) if they really want to give something to their regular customers, why not have said customers save the tapes (no time limit) until they have spent $100 or even several hundred dollars and then give them a flat discount? It could be printed on cards for the checkers just as the tax new is. In this way everyone would benefit. Naturally it is nice to win $1,000 or a big prize but I think my way would be better for everyone concerned. Does anyone agree?— EVELYN

DEAR GIRLS— Believe it or not, to date we have not received one letter in favor of the grocery store games and gimmicks. The only good word received was for coupons. In the following letter from one of our gentleman friends.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY— My wife and I live on a pension and money off coupons comes in handy. I took an old recipe file and marked the index cards according to coupons—coffee, detergents and so on. Every two weeks, before going shopping, we look through the file and take out the coupons we can use. This totals up a pretty good saving in a year's time.—LOUIS

Anyone submitting a Polly's Problem, a solution to a problem or a favorite homemaking idea will receive a dollar if Polly uses the item in Polly's Pointers .

LOUISVILLE (AP)— The white plank fences erected around most horse farms in Kentucky are attractive and expensive.

The cost of installing and painting them is $1 a running foot of fence.

Beauty after Forty

by Edyth Thornton McLeod

"Dear Edyth Thornton McLeod: Isn't there some easier way to reduce than watching one's diet. I go out a great deal and it's very hard to stick to a diet list. What about heat baths and massages and exercise at some beauty salon?"—ADA

There is no easy way! Dieting is important if you are over-weight. To take on a set routine of baths, massages and exercise can become a grind, too, and be as boring as living on any diet. When you have the need for doing away with excess weight, there is simply nothing like a good, planned diet. If you will make up your mind to follow a good diet plan, send for my FIGURE CONTROL and an accompanying leaflet that will aid you in reducing. To obtain a copy send me a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25 cents in coin. These are planned, proportioned menus and if you follow them sincerely, you WILL get good results!

I've decided to get a wig. My hair is thin and graying. Would wearing a wig all day and often all evening, be harmful to my own hair? I'm buying a soft brown wig, of real hair."—MARY.

A good decision. You would be wise to condition your own hair by massaging the scalp daily with cosmetic oil. Also brush often and be sure to give your hair cut short. Be sure to have the wig you purchase fitted perfectly.

"Please tell me what I should take along to wear on a ten day visit to New York. I will stay at a famous hotel; my husband is attending a business conference and wives are not permitted. One large dinner party will be given, however. What would be most suitable for that? I'm 56."—H. A.

You will be shopping and seeing the sights. A simple dress, a smart coat and comfortable shoes are a must. (You can see New York best by walking.) For the theater and dinner, have a Chanel-type jacket suit in one of the new metalized knits and a small hat. For the company dinner, a dinner-dress of lace, wool or crepe. You should have a satin coat or perhaps you have a fur coat. If the dinner is held in the hotel where you are staying, forget the problem of a coat for evening wear.

"I have just had my gray hair cut and tinted to a warm chestnut brown. I look awful though. Could it be my complexion?—MRS. T.

Yes. Now you must choose a new makeup to harmonize with your hair color. For many years I've preached the idea that your hair color decides your "type," so there must be new makeup now to go with your new hair color.

Rust And Corrosion

By MR. FIX

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Corrosion and rust are the enemies of metal items both inside and outside the house. While most rust can be cleaned off, preventing it will eliminate another piece of work. And sometimes corrosion can go too far and cleaning will do no good.

Rust and corrosion are chemical reactions and while moisture can be a prime cause, there are other causes as well. Unlike metals used together will corrode more quickly in the presence of moisture than like metals. Aluminum storms and screens, for example, should be put together with aluminum screws and nuts and bolts. Using ordinary steel screws will result in a coating of rust around the head of each.

Tools, generally stored in a damp basemen, are prime targets for rust. There are commercial rust inhibitors available but, lacking these, give your tools a light coating of oil now and then to protect them.

Galvanized garbage containers on spraying equipment and similar items will last longer if kept clean and dry. Wash thoroughly after each use and then place them in an inverted position to dry.

Care For Cans

Galvanized garbage cans will not last forever, but they will last quite awhile if cared for. Having them stand directly on the moist ground will result in rusted-out bottoms. Set them up off the ground by placing them on wooden blocks or on bricks.

Corrosion will shorten the life of a hot-water tank. It comes about when minerals in the water form scale on the inner walls of the tank. The scale destroys the lining until bare metal can be touched by the water. At that point the tank rusts through and springs a leak. You cannot stop this sort of thing but you can slow it down. Once a month drain of some of the water in the tank through the valve at its base.

You will notice that the water which runs out at first is discolored. Drain until the water runs clear. Do not drain completely and do not prevent more water to come into the tank while draining. Allowing air to enter the tank will hasten corrosion.

When you shut down the heating plant for the summer there is danger of corrosion forming on the inner surfaces. If your furnace is gas-fired, keep the pilot burning during the summer. It will not give off enough heat to affect the house but will provide enough to keep the air inside the furnace dry.

Spray Gun Helps

If your furnace is totally closed down, spray the inside with light machine oil. An insect spray gun will do it. This will protect interior surfaces from corrosion.

Metal lawn furniture should be examined for spots where paint has worn or peeled off. Sand these down to the bare metal, prime and repaint.

Galvanized fencing will vary in its durability, depending on how well-galvanized it is. It will last longer if stretched tauntley enough between posts so that it doesn't touch the ground. Eventually it will need painting. Sand off rust first. A paint roller with a deep nap will do the job while getting the paint into all joints.

Comedy At Movieland

Double feature at the Movieland Drive-In Theatre Sunday through Wednesday includes "Last of the Secret Agents," starring the comedy team of Marty Allen and Steve Rossi, and "Deadheat On a Merry-Go-Round," with James Coburn.

A giant three-feature pistol-poppin' parade is on tape for Thursday through Saturday (Dec. 22-24): "Redline 7000" and "Fireball 500," filmed at famous tracks including Daytona Speedway, and "Thunder in Carolina."

All five movies are in color.

The heroes of today's movies are anything but the matinee idols of yesterday. They are as off beat in their looks, in fact, as the roles in which they appear.

James Coburn, for example, has a rough-hewn face and great personal magnetism, both just right for the anti-hero sort of role that he plays in "Dead Heat on a Merry-Go-Round," the Columbia Pictures release in Eastman color.

In the suspense comedy, which concerns the ingenious robbery of a Los Angeles airport bank just as a plane carrying a Soviet premier on an official visit is touching down, Coburn plays a smooth-talking confidence man who charms girls only to dump them once they no longer are useful to his schemes. As a con man, he assumes a wide variety of characterizations and dialects in singleminded pursuit of his bank-heist objective.

Now hot as a fire cracker in motion picture circles as a result of his performance in "Our Man Flint," in which he played a domestic James Bond sort of character, Coburn likes to feel that his career can now take off in the same general direction as that of Humphrey Bogart or James Cagney.

"They were the good bad guys" he continued. "Rough, tough individuals attractive to women. And, like me, they were character actors before they became stars."

MARTY ALLEN and Steve Rossi star in a new wild comedy, "The Last of the Secret Agents," opening Sunday at the Movieland Drive-In Theatre.

Gambit At Park

"Gambit," a Universal suspense thriller in Technicolor set against the exotic backgrounds and intrigue of Hong Kong and the Middle East opens Dec. 23 at the Park East and West Theaters with a cast topped by Shirley MacLaine, Michael Caine and Herbert Lom.

Miss MacLaine, a three-time Oscar nominee, portrays a Eurasian beauty who becomes involved in the theft of a fabulously valuable bust of the Empress Lissu, an art treasure unearthed by Marco Polo in China. By coincidence, the modern Eurasian girl is the exact likeness of the ancient Eastern queen. She served as the model for the remarkable replica of Indian-Iranian are fashioned for the picture by noted sculptor Alex Rosenfeld.

The actress wears a stunning array of Oriental chenongsams, designed by Jean-Louis and made from hand-woven brocades and embroidered silks imported from Damascus, Marrakech and Istanbul. In the early part of the film, as a cafe entertainer, she sings "I'm Gonna Spread My Wings."

Caine, who soared to international fame in "The Ipcress File," made his Hollywood film debut in "Gambit." Hailed as a British successor to Clark Gable, Caine combines rugged good looks with histrionic ability and is considered the potential number one matinee idol of the day.

Lom, a character actor of international note, appears as Ahmad Shahbandar, richest man in the world. An Eastterner educated at Eton, Shahbandar blends the sophistication of the West with the guile of the Levant. He pits his wits against the game played by Miss MacLaine and Caine and is relentless in his efforts to protect his art treasure.

In Ronald Neame, an illustrious name in British and Hollywood film circles, brought all of his redoubtable skill to the direction of "Gambit." Connected with such highly acclaimed motion pictures as "In Which We Serve," "This Happy Breed," "Brief Encounter," "Tunes of Glory," and "The Chalk Garden," Neame is noted for his inconspicuous direction of this consumate taste in the creation of motion pictures.

FREDDIE'S STEAK HOUSE is jealous — jealous of their reputation for fine food and service. That's why they work so hard to please you and to keep all their delectable cuisine and cocktails in the excellent reputation they now enjoy. One of Central Florida's oldest and best-known restaurants, located in Fern Park on Hwy. 17-92 we guarantee you'll enjoy your dinner there.

FOR THAT something different, when the question is—"where shall we dine?"—may we suggest PHELP'S RESTAURANT, just across the highway from Sanford Plaza. Chef Al Phelps has all your standard dishes but in addition, he specializes in preparation of good food——a la Francais——and these delicious menus are truly a delight. You'll see so many luscious looking things on the menu, you'll find yourself returning again and again to try them all.

FOR FAMILY DINING, you can't beat the TRADE WINDS CAFETERIA at Seminole Plaza. They enjoy having families and children and offer such a wide selection of good things to eat — even your "picky ones" will be intrigued.

Call and Ernie Mills.

Highlights

TV Time Previews

8-9 p.m. (ABC)) Time Tunnel. "Night of the Long Knives." (Color). Shades of the Sepoy Mutiny! Tony and Doug are whisked back to India in 1886 and promptly separated in the middle of the desert. They end up on opposite sides of an impending revolution, Doug with a tribe of fierce Afghanistan mountaineers led by Jiva Singh (Malachi Throne) and Tony rescued from the broiling desert by Rudyard Kipling (David Watson), who just happened to be passing through. It's as far-fetched as any on this series, but 'as usual it does make history live—a trifle inaccurately —for the younger set.

8:30-9:30 p.m. (NBC) The Man From U.N.C.L.E. "The My Friend the Gorilla Affair." (Color). The gorilla's name is Baby, and he belongs to a sort of—Sherma - Queen - of - the-jungle type named Girl (Vitina Marcus), who gets involved with Solo while he is in the African jungle pursuing Harry Blackburn (Adan Mobray)), a smuggler who is slipping a super-drug out of the African jungle . Now, that's not too complicated, is it? And then there's Khufu (Percy Rodriguez), the new president of the African State in which the Professor (Arthur Malet), is manufacturing the drug, and a horde of red ants, and an elephant dying ground, and a bunch of jazzed-up human guinea pigs who have been made into supermen, and I just don't know what-all. And of course, there is Illya, as always, looking marvelously exasperated throughout. It's got everything but a brass band, and who can be sure about that?

9-11 p.m. (CBS) The CBS Friday Night Movies. "Sail a Crooked Ship." (1961). This is a wild, senseless, incredible comedy that rocks its way from reel to reel, a combination Marx Brothers and Mel-Hale's Navy. Based on Nathaniel Benchley's book, it deals with the exploits of Bugsy Foglemeyer (Ernie Kovacs), an oh-so-smooth Phil Silvers-type crook who is bent on every side by ineptitude, most of it his own. He gets his hands on a liberty ship and sails for Boston to rob a bank, intending to use the ship for a getaway. That's a lot of rusty hulk for one short hold-up, but Bugsy is un-ably assisted by Robert Wagner, Frankie Avalon, Dolores Hart, Carolyn Jones and Frank Gorshin, and you simply wouldn't believe the goings on! Well worth a watch.

9-10 p.m. (ABC) The Milton Berle Show. (Color). It varies from week to week: sometimes it seems a blessing this show is going off the air, and sometimes it seems a downright tragedy. Most nights, like tonight, it seems a little bit of both. Millie's guests are Abbe Lane; Stan Fisher of the fancy harmonica; Mishel De La Vega, a French magician, and Bill Dana, who produces the show. Dana is, of course, Jose Jimenez, and besides singing "Strangers in the Night" a la Sinatra, he plays Jose trying to borrow money from Loan Shark Berle.

9:30-10 p.m. (NBC) T.T.E. Cat. "The System." (Color). Lisa Heller (guest star Lynda Day) hires Cat to protect her father, mathematician Max Heller (guest star Charles H. Radlac). Heller is the quarry of Prince Nicky (guest star Joseph Wiseman), a royal scion who has fallen on bad days and is now the curator of a wax museum. All the usual terrors of a Mme. Tussaud's are revealed in this one, with a nice creepy performance from Wiseman.

10-11 p.m. (NBC) Special. "Thailand: The New Front." (Color). This is the first of a three-part series of specials entitled "The Battle For Asia," produced and narrated by Reporter Ted Yates who spent eight months in Southeast Asia for this production. Yates' intention is to concentrate not on the war in Vietnam but the overall struggle everywhere in Southeast Asia to defeat Communism, both militarily and ideologically. In tonight's presentation he offers scenes of military action not shown before on TV while revealing the Thailand army in actual battle against the Red guerillas in the northeast. Vietnam is not forgotten in this series, but it is Yates' feeling that the broader, longer struggle has been forgotten in our concentration on Vietnam. Fascinating for the most part.

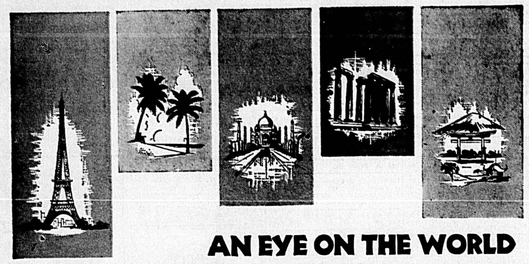
Come to Church Every Week



AN EYE ON THE WORLD

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The fascination of a globe . . . let the eye roam over the world map . . . notice the different countries and continents . . . try to imagine what life must be like in each of these places.

Yes, every spot on the globe has its particular need. Sometimes it is a need felt in that one place alone. Yet, in a sense, every place is the same, for all countries are made up of people. And all people have the same basic needs.

One of these needs is faith — faith in a God who also has an eye on our world . . . faith in a God who sustains us and who gives meaning to time and eternity. Your own life has this need. You can answer that need by attending church, and discovering the strength and joy which come through regular worship.

Push Urban Renewal Plan For Sanford

Where The Blood Is Spilled

★ ★ ★ ★

City

In the city limits of Sanford, two fatalities have occurred this year, plus innumerable accidents causing serious injury and major property damage.

Sanford Police Department lists the following ten intersections as "most dangerous", five of them where east-west streets cross French Ave. or Hwy. 17-92, a six-lane major highway.

Most dangerous places to cross French Ave. are at First, Ninth, 13th, 20th and 25th Streets, all of which, (with the exception of Ninth St.) have traffic signals.

All but three of these nine intersections are equipped with traffic signals, as well as stop signs.

"Contrary to public opinion, safety studies show that traffic signals do not decrease accidents — they increase them, but they are necessary to move traffic more swiftly, particularly on heavily traveled highways," City Manager W. E. Knowles pointed out.

Oddly enough, neither of the two fatalities occurred at any of these points.

TREACHEROUS Forest City intersection at State Roads 436-434-431 was scene again Saturday morning of accident, this time resulting in approximate damages of some $2,800 to each vehicle involved. Crash occurred after Andrew William Teslo Sr. of Lake Mary, traveling on SR 431, stopped at intersection, pulled out onto SR 436 and was hit by auto traveling west, driven by Richard Lee Atkins of Forest City. Atkins sustained minor head injury, was treated at hospital and released. He was charged with speed too great for conditions. Teslo was charged with failure to yield right of way. Investigating officer, Florida Highway Patrolmen R. W. Lovering of Sanford, praised Forest City Volunteer Fire Department which assisted by washing oil slick off highway.

County

One of the worst years for traffic accidents and deaths on the highways of Seminole County was recorded during the past year.

A survey conducted by The Herald reveals the majority of these accidents have occurred at 12 intersections in the county considered by law enforcement officers to be "hazardous or dangerous."

Leading the list is the intersection of SR 436-434-431 in Forest City. Others are Lake Mary Boulevard at U.S. 17-92; SR 436 at Interstate 4; the Five Points intersections; SR 46 at Beardall, Upsala Road and at SR 426 in Geneva; Tuscawilla Road at Red Bug Road and again at SR 419 and SR 415 at Beardall, a blind intersection.

While the situation at the entrance to the Junior College from U.S. 17-92 was corrected by providing turn lanes, a problem still exists during the peak hours at the college.

Despite the fact that all has been done engineering-wise at the intersection of SR 436 at U.S. 17-92, a high number of accidents are still occurring.

Change of Church-street at the intersection of SR 434 and 434 have decreased the number of accidents there.

Dangerous railroad crossings can be found at SR 438 in Forest City, where there are no flashing signals; at SR 46 at Midway, on South Sanford Avenue and at SR 426, east of Goldenrod where the crossing is on a curve.

Arson Probe On As Spectacular Blaze Rips Casselberry Home

Suspected arson is being investigated as cause of a spectacular house fire occuring around midnight Saturday at Casselberry.

Firemen and investigators found the house, located at 637 Seminola Boulevard, rigged throughout with Roman candles attached to dynamite fuses.

Casselberry Fire Chief Paul Bates termed the gutted frame and block structure a total loss. The building, which recently had undergone complete remodeling and enlarging, reportedly contained many priceless paintings and antiques. Damage is unofficially estimated to be around $15,000.

The owner, Mrs. Audrey Cockrell, who was in Memphis, Tenn., at time of the fire, returned here by plane Sunday. The house was purchased several months ago from W. R. Kemp of Orlando.

Deputy State Fire Marshal Charles McPherson is conducting an extensive investigation and the area has been closed off to the public until this is completed.

Deputy Sheriff Lou Huddleston is heading an investigation of possible breaking and entering and arson as the door to the home found forced open and many of the antiques appeared to be missing.

The Casselberry Volunteer Fire Department fought the blaze until 4 a. m. and was assisted by firemen from Longwood, Altamonte Springs and Lake Mary.

Longwood Man Killed In Tenn. Crash

According to the Highway Patrol there, Hyndman's car, pulling a trailer, collided with the truck on a curve. Mrs. Hyndman was following her husband in another car when the accident happened.

Public hearing on the paving of Orange Avenue and Reiter Avenue in the City of Longwood has been rescheduled for 7 p. m. Thursday, Council Chairman Percy White has announced.

The hearing originally scheduled for last Thursday was postponed due to lack of a quorum.

Following the public hearing, a special meeting of council will be held.

County Ready To Get Lake Jessup Study

Feasibility study for the proposed Lake Jessup causeway will be completed today and placed in the mail for the Seminole County Commission to study at its Tuesday meeting.

C. W. (Bill) Benedict, State Road Department district engineer at DeLand, told The Herald this morning that his office will complete and mail today the study to determine whether it would be feasible to build a causeway from the foot of an improved Sanford Avenue across Lake Jessup to service the new Florida Technological University on SR 520 three miles south of Oviedo.

Benedict refused to comment whether the study favors construction of the causeway, saying that "I prefer you get that information from your County Commission."

14 Killed

Casselberry Couple Killed In Air Crash

A couple removing from Casselberry to Colombia was killed and two of their three children escaped injury Sunday when an airliner crashed short of the runway at Bogota, Colombia.

Killed were William D. Bridge, 40, and his wife, Juanita M. Bridge. They had just recently sold their home on Concord Drive in Casselberry and his gun shop at Fern Park and reportedly were en route to establish a home in Colombia.

Uninjured in the crash were Danny, 18, and Jeannie, 15, who withdrew a week ago as students at Lyman High School. Another daughter, Mrs. Donna Montelongo, of Casselberry, is in seclusion.

Special Legislation Called A 'Must'

A special act of the Legislature must be obtained by the City of Sanford, as a first step, to permit participation in an urban renewal program and to seek federal funds for such a program.

This advice was given by Harry Lindsey of the Titusville office of the Department of Housing and Urban Development at a special meeting Friday of the steering committee of the Sanford Community Development Committee.

* * *

(Sanford City Commission rejected four years ago a proposal that it request a special act of the Legislature to permit participation in urban renewal with federal funds.

(City Manager W. E. Knowles explained that the legal phrase "urban renewal" would permit the city to condemn private property and resell it for private usage, which, he said, "is strictly unconstitutional in the state of Florida, although four communities are operating under such special acts of the Legislature."

(Knowles added that the City Commission and the City Zoning and Planning Commission for the last four months have been studying ways and means for participating in an "urban renewal program," program, and will be meeting in early January with a private concern relative to urban programing.)

* * *

Lindsey met with the committee to give up to date information and clarification of the programs offered under Urban Renewal.

Lindsey stated that despite the current limitation on federal moneys at this time for advance planning for urban renewal and other projects requiring federal assistance, more moneys will be available within five to six months.

He advised the group that some confusion exists in communities on the program and aid available through HUD and other government agencies.

"Funds up to 75 per cent of cost of planning for urban renewal can be obtained through HUD," Lindsey said.

"A workable plan for community improvement is necessary, embracing seven minimum elements, based on tested and accepted principles of good municipal management," he advised.

The seven elements, which are interrelated, are codes and ordinances, comprehensive community plan, neighborhood analyses, administrative organization, financing, housing for displaced families and citizen participation.

The committee agreed that Clifford McKibbin and Lee Moore of the group are to confer with the city manager to determine the committee's course of action.

Cleveland Named To Tax Committee

House Speaker Ralph Turlington, according to Associated Press from Tallahassee, today named Rep. Mack Cleveland to the powerful House finance and taxation committee and Rep. Thomas McDonald to the House committee on banks and loans.

How New Phone Costs Will Affect Area Users

Residential users will be the primary beneficiaries of rate reductions by Southern Bell Telephone Company, as ordered by the Florida Public Service Commission, Robert Shedden, group manager, said today.

Total rate reduction for all the Southern Bell territory will amount to $4,200,000 annually.

Reductions on monthly residential rates will range from 19 to 38 cents, with reductions beginning after Dec. 22 and slated to be completed by Feb. 22.

Only business charges affected are reflected in the method of measuring certain mileage charges for extension line business customers and the charges for message waiting lamps for hotel and motel services.

Monthly residential rates for individual lines in the Oviedo exchange will be reduced 19 cents with Sanford, Geneva and DeBary being reduced by ten cents.

Residential two-party lines service will be reduced by 30 cents in the Oviedo exchange; 20 cents in the Geneva and DeBary exchanges and 15 cents in the Sanford exchange.

In addition in the Sanford, DeBary and Oviedo exchanges, base rate areas will be extended reducing rates for approximately 1,000 subscribers in the Sanford exchange, 600 subscribers in the DeBary exchange and 275 subscribers in the Oviedo exchange. This reduction will be shown on bills received after Jan. 22.

Subscribers on the Sanford exchange will have their rates go back up after the metro-system takes effect in February. "However, the increase will be less than anticipated after these reductions are made," Shedden pointed out.

In addition reductions will be made in zone charges for customers outside the base rate area, affecting 3,470 customers in the Sanford exchange, 919 in the DeBary exchange and 543 in the Oviedo exchange.

Teens Protest Criticism Of 'Taho Club'

A delegation of teenagers are planning to attend the continued session of the Casselberry Council at 9 p. m. today at the City Hall to speak in defense of the "Taho Club," recently cited as a spot, sponsored by the South Seminole Jaycees.

The Taho Club came under fire at the regular council meet when neighboring merchants claimed the spot was giving a "honky tonk impression."

Council at that time warned the Jaycees unless action is taken to eliminate the problems created by the club, the city would take measures to close it.

Purpose of calling the meeting was to award contract for the city's insurance. Bids were opened at the regular meeting.
