WORLD TO WATCH THEIR MEETING

In view of the stir which Chancellor Adolf Hitler caused when he announced that Germany was going to re-arm, the conference he will hold next week-end with Sir John Simon (left), British foreign secretary, and Capt. Anthony Eden (center), lord privy seal will be watched by every nation. Beyond the protest England made against Germany's plan to re-arm, Chancellor Hitler says that he is ready to discuss the entire problem of European stability.

South Starts Planting Its Crops With Much Promise

Spared Droughts, Dust Storms And Bitter Winter, Conditions Appear Near Perfect

ATLANTA, Ga., Mar. 21.—(AP)—Stimulated each by the optimistic outlook for the South starts the 1935 planting season with anticipation of crops that will be bountiful to the extent allowed by agricultural control acts.

Spared the droughts, dust storms and bitter weather that hindered farming elsewhere, the states stretching from the Potomac to Texas and from the Ohio River to Key West are buoyed by an outlook regarded by many experts as the most promising in years.

For the most part, the winter brought plentiful rains that soaked the earth to such depths as were moisture at times when grain was sown in medium soil.

At the same time, there was no prolonged cold weather sufficient to retard the progress of the spring insects, particularly boll weevils in the cotton states. But the weather provided an ample supply for farmers to get off to a good start with early planting.

The sixty states hence by contrary elements to any extent during the winter were Mississippi and Florida. Floods prevailed in some sections of Mississippi during late winter and early spring but they are expected to leave the state at that time of year and farmers customarily adjust their planting in keeping with the high water season, so the end that crop damage seldom results.

Unexpected freezes in Florida in December and February caused considerable damage to some crops but there was ample time for replanting most of the necessary of conditions and farmers are compelled with the aid of the agriculture department's corresponding agencies in the various states, follows

ALABAMA—Moderate temperatures and adequate moisture prevailed throughout the month. Weather conditions were favorable for planting and growth with 1,054,000 acres in cotton.

FLORIDA—Prospects look good for Florida growers to make some money this season, says L. M. Rhodes, director of the state department of agriculture.

Irate Farmers Dynamite Dykes In Mississippi

Guard Troops Ordered To Shoot To Kill; More Trouble Seen

GREENWOOD, Miss., Mar. 21.—(AP)—State troops shouldered guns on north Mississippi levees here today after a wild night in which two dykes were blasted and private guards, and various others, fired upon by dynamiters.

The national guard moved from Jackson to Tallahatchie and Leflore counties after several hundred men overpowered guards on the Tallahatchie river levee near Philipp, blasted it with dynamite, and then blew another dyke in the county.

Several thousand acres of land were overflowed as a result.

When officers heard that vandals were planning wholesale destruction of levees, guards were given machine guns and ordered to "shoot to kill" in the event of an attack.

Meanwhile, Governor Sennett Conner hurried several detachments of guardsmen to the petrolled area.

Reports were circulated freely during the past few days that farmers, feeling that the levee system protected certain areas from floods and exposing others, planned the general dynamiting.

Claude W. Speer, 57, Dies After Illness

Claude W. Speer, 57, retired carpenter who has resided here for the past four years, died at his home, 420 West First Street at about 9:30 o'clock last night. He had been in ill health for many years.

Funeral services will be held in Linden, Fla. at 10:00 o'clock tomorrow morning, with burial in that bedlands.

Mr. Speer was born in Oakland, Fla. on Oct. 14, 1877. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Sarah Beulah Speer; a sister, Mrs. Nannie McCormick of Oakland; four brothers, Edgene of Lake Wales, Frank of West Palm Beach, and Hosting, of Blackshear, Georgia.

DERN FLIES OVER MIAMI

MIAMI, Mar. 21.—(AP)—Secretary of War Dern spent considerable time flying over this area yesterday in a huge flying boat. He was accompanied by the wife of his son, George Dern, Jr., and 17 friends. Dern is here for a short vacation.

Belgium Remains Without Cabinet

BRUSSELS, Mar. 21.—(AP)—Belgium remained without a cabinet yesterday as King Leopold for the first time in the country's parliamentary history conferred with parliamentarians and former premiers as well as politicians in an effort to replace the government of George Theunis.

Premier Theunis and his cabinet resigned Tuesday amid controversy over maintenance of the gold standard.

Political observers believe the king's precedent as an indication that a new orientation in Belgian politics is likely to be reflected in the new cabinet.

Nearly 200 Suits Worth Over $3500 Stolen From Store

Men's suits, valued at from $300 to $1000 were stolen from the Farrell Co. store in a daring robbery which, occurring at an undetermined hour since closing time late yesterday, had gone undetected late this afternoon. The clothing was not covered by burglary insurance.

The robbery was noticed this morning when Mr. Knott, local manager for the concern, arrived to open the store for the day. Two locks on the front door had been broken off although the door itself was closed.

Quick examination revealed that nothing had been disturbed in the store except the large rack which usually contained more suits. This morning the racks were virtually clean of garments, except a few suits on a lower rack.

Nearly 200 suits were removed from the store, Mr. Knott estimated, each with an average value of about $18.50.

Chief of Police Roy C. Williams and Sheriff J. J. Mehrhof began investigation at once but clues were meager, each with an average value of about $18.50.

Chief Williams said he was informed that he had tried he does at about 11 o'clock this morning and the

Darrow Says NRA Stifles Little Fellow

Shrewd Lawyer Puts Entire Program On Trial, Ripping Each Section To Pieces

WASHINGTON, Mar. 21.—(AP)—In the strange role of prosecuting attorney, aged Clarence Darrow slouched down his in chair before a Senate committee yesterday to travel an indictment of NRA which brought a sharp reply from an official of the recovery organization.

Darrow, paradoxical combination of genial philosopher and shrewd criminal lawyer, put the whole New Deal on trial before he finished stabbing Administration officials with the verbal rapier thrusts that have made him famous.

The veteran defense attorney urged the annihilation of NRA but Sidney Hillman, member of the agency's administration board

Miss DeForest Is New Head Of Local Red Cross Chapter

Miss Elizabeth Anne DeForest was installed yesterday as chairman of the Seminole County Red Cross for the coming year.

Also installed as new officers were Mrs. A. W. Knox as vice chairman, Mrs. J. E. Higgins as recording secretary, Mrs. William Musgrove of Lake Mary as corresponding secretary, and Mrs. F. R. Mason as treasurer.

Standing committee heads included Public Health Nurse Frances Mae Dougall, pollagra survey; Mrs. Dorothy Lasch, first aid; Sec. Martin Brass, disaster committee.

The installation meeting disclosed that Seminole County has the highest percentage of pellagra incidence in Florida. The chapter is aiming to control and eradicate this malady through a campaign which will follow a survey of conditions. Miss MacDougal is directing the survey, assisted by volunteers within the chapter.

Mr. Brass plans to organize the Disaster Committee branch of the service among key men of the city and county while Mrs. Lasch has an extensive program outlined for giving first aid classes in different groups in the city and county.

Readjustment Of Economic Status Of South Urged

Probers Find Many Evidences Of Need For Prompt Change

NEW YORK, Mar. 21.—(AP)—Drastic readjustment of the Southern economic structure, its land tenure and its outmoded credit system, and a complete revision of wage rates to the lowest level required for a decent standard of living, are the recommendations of a group of investigators in the sessions here.

The committee, composed of Edwin R. Embree, president of the Julius Rosenwald fund, Dr. Will W. Alexander of Atlanta, director of the commission on interracial cooperation, and Professor Charles S. Johnson, head of the department of social research of Fisk university, Nashville.

In 250 page report (Colliers) a year's study of agricultural economic and social conditions in the South, which was financed by $50,000 from the Julius Rosenwald fund, the committee said:

The report was sent to the Department of Agriculture a month ago, Embree said, under said, that was public then. It has brought to the attention of President Roosevelt

"With deflation

"Tenancy

lands and relief for displaced tenants and agricultural

"As it may decide that the South's problem is concentrated and unsolved, even America might see in the example of Ireland, which mark and embark upon a program of government aid to peasant proprietorship."

The committee emphasized that the South's problems are not a negro problem but one of white and black, "in a state of peonage that approaches slavery."

"As a matter of fact, the negro no longer furnishes the bulk of cotton tenants," the report states. "There are 1,050,000 tenants in the South to 600,000 colored tenants. While we not be guilty of said to ugly that half the negro tenants were peons, it is startling to learn that over one-third of the white tenants are in the same poverty-stricken class.

Commenting on the report, Embree said the committee regards the Bankhead bill now before Congress as "a utterly adequate solution of the situation." He asserted that it would provide tenant farms, up to 40 acres, for landless families, plus houses, livestock and food.

"These people could grow part of what they need," he said, "and get some cash by raising a few bales of cotton, too."

Saito Predicts Era Of Peace In World

NEW YORK, Mar. 21.—(AP)—Despite heavily increased armaments among nations and still unsolved international problems, Ambassador Hiroshi Saito of Japan, last night predicted an era of peace among the great powers of the world.

Speaking at a dinner in his honor given by the Japan Society of New York, "I can see no cloud in entirely no any frontier, either across the Atlantic or across the Pacific and certainly there is none on the North American Continent. I can see in the policy of no great nation a desire or intention of making a great war."

Astor Heir At Work On $25 Week Job

NEW YORK, Mar. 21.—When John Jacob Astor, III, came home

apartment in the exclusive Central Park section, he finally dozed his coat and hat to a hooker and sank into a deep chair with a sigh of fatigue.

"Where, what a day!" he probably sighed to his 18-year-old bride, the former Ellen Tuck French, and then did the young heir to millions make his first report on his new $25-a-week job as a dock clerk.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

But—pass nations appear to be taking Hitler's latest challenge paralyzed in spite of his mustache.

It isn't the machine age which is dragging this world through hell . . . it is the machine gun.

One thing about another world war: it will serve to emphasize again how many people are killed in automobile accidents.

Herr Hitler, going to get some of his own medicine? Why has he decided to be so nice to Russia?

Chief Executive Roosevelt says there are little Communists in every state. Perhaps, but there are more than a few big ones in Washington.

Nine thousand Europeans are passing through Ellis Island every week. Not quite that many are being killed in automobile accidents.

Least criticized of any New Deal activities is the Department of Justice's drive against crime. Going into action at a time when it appeared that the underworld was about to gain a strangle hold on business and law abiding individuals which might never be shaken loose, the agents of the Department of Justice have put the fear of gods into the most desperate criminals and now, for them running for cover like rats in a suddenly lighted room.

"In a concerted drive against counterfeiters, dope peddlers, narcotic and smuggling rings—says the Literary Digest "The Treasury Department on March 15 hurled its enforcement army of nearly 12,000 men into the most effective assault against crime ever staged in the United States. On Monday morning 2,369 arrests had been made for violation of law under the Treasury Department jurisdiction. This was the result of two weeks of carefully planned action and a sudden combing of the underworld.

"A large percentage of the arrested were charged with non-payment of income tax . . . a very legitimate income being used to indict the notorious Al Capone. It will be recalled was the method used to convict Al Capone.

"The agencies participating in the drive were the Bureau of Internal Revenue, the Customs Bureau, the Secret Service, the Narcotic Bureau, the Coast Guard, the Bureau of Prohibition, the Special Intelligence Unit of the Department of Justice, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Bureau of Immigration, the Bureau of Investigation

Lilienthal Points To Proof Of Need For Utility Rules

Roosevelt Idea Sound, Grounded On Facts, TVA Head Says

CHATTANOOGA, Mar. 21 —David E. Lilienthal, Tennessee Valley Authority power director, yesterday cited a Chattanooga municipal power squabble as illustrating the need for regulation of utility holding companies.

Jo Conn Guild, president of the Tennessee Electric Power Co., a subsidiary of Commonwealth and Southern Corporation, has announced the company will not sell its local distribution system to Chattanooga, which last week voted an $8,000,000 bond issue to finance a municipal power plant.

"This refusal of Commonwealth and Southern to consider sale of the local system to the people of Chattanooga demonstrates again the soundness of President Roosevelt's insistence on control of such holding companies as provided for in the pending Rayburn-Wheeler bill," Lilienthal asserted.

"The holding company which controls Tennessee Electric Power Company common stock now is permitted to override the wishes of consumers of this area as expressed in a fair referendum, and disregard the best interests of its 651 investors," he continued. "Its refusal to sell threatens a loss of land to holders of preferred and bonds of the power company."

Brady Cowell Named Stetson Head Coach

DELAND, Mar. 21—Welch (Brady) Cowell yesterday was named athletic director and head coach of football at Stetson University at DeLand according to announcement by John Allen, president of the institution.

Chet Freeman, former star Stetson athlete, was appointed Cowell's assistant in football and physical education, and chief basketball activities.

"HANES and I are just like THAT"

"I'LL eat my shirt if these HANES Shirts aren't the swellest you ever put on your back! Man—they're feather-weight, and cool! Hanes knits them, somehow, with a husky snap so they get right up close to your hide. You don't know you've got one on! It moves in every direction you bend—just like it was painted on you. I'll tell you something else about HANES! They get their shirts plenty long. You never see me with a bulge around my waist, do you? These shirts stay where they belong—down inside your shorts. Yes, Sir, HANES and I are just like that. I'm for them!"

Shorts to match the comfort of HANES Shirts! Lots of crotch-room and seat-room. HANES Shorts are off your mind when they're on your hips . . . nothing binches or binds! Colors guaranteed.
