under control today. Army engineers and troops, who arrived during the night, succeeded in isolating several large munitions dumps from which more explosions had been expected.

The gravity of the disaster was pointed up by the dispatch of Adm. Regaldao Rodriguez, navy minister, from Madrid to the scene.

So complete was the ruin of the naval arsenal, situated about two miles from central Cadiz, that no clue was left to the cause of the disaster.

The force of the explosion cracked buildings in the heart of Cadiz. Street cars were de- [illegible] Cadiz Cathedral were torn from their hinges.

The explosion came at 10:00 P. M. last night. Spanish authorities announced no estimate of the casualties. Reporters said most of the injured they saw had been cut by flying glass or were bruised by falling debris.

The Jerez de la Frontera radio station, 15 miles to the north, broadcast appeals throughout the night for doctors, nurses and medicines.

Ambulances and rescue teams were arriving from as far east as Malaga, west from Huelva, and north from Sevilla.

and that will end the matter," Johnson said.

He contended that Russia has "attributed all sorts of motives to the United States which we never thought of."

The United States then supported a Chinese move that the council accept a Dutch plan for a single "imparital state" to investigate conditions in Indonesia and supervise results of cease-fire orders. The first step would be an on-the-spot report by "career consuls" stationed in Batavia.

The American offer of good offices was made in the course of opening debate more than a fortnight ago when the council directed the two parties to institute a truce. The Netherlands immediately accepted the American offer but the Indonesians conditioned their approval on the outcome of pleas to the council for U. N. investigation and arbitration. Washington then sent a note to Jogjakarta last weekend declaring that if the Indonesians continued to insist on a specific method of settlement "our offer of good offices necessarily lapses."

Replying to contentions of the Netherlands government that the U. N. had no jurisdiction in the case Gromyko declared:

"The Indonesian government relies on the Security Council and expects help from it. The Netherlands acts as if this organization did not exist at all.

"The council alone must decide this question and not the Netherlands. The government of the Netherlands certainly will submit to decisions of the council if we show no indecision."

Complaining that the council had used too little of its power rather than overstepping authority as maintained by the Dutch, the Soviet delegate also renewed his demands that troops from both sides be withdrawn to positions held when hostilities broke out July 21 in Java as the result of what the Dutch called police action.

"The government of the Netherlands is not satisfied that they perpetuated a crude attack on the Indonesians," he said. "They even demand that the Indonesians not interfere with Dutch troops."

Local Communists In Greece Aid Guerrillas

ATHENS, Aug. 19. (AP)—Press reports today said a heavy guerrilla assault on the town of Naoussa, 50 miles west of Salonika, was beaten back last night after several hours of hard fighting.

The reports said the guerrillas, disguised as "peaceful citizens," entered Naoussa, an industrial town of about 10,000, with the help of local Communists and burned 150 houses, the townhall, the police station and the civil administration office before being repelled.

Loyalist forces were said to have used artillery to counter the effects of heavy mortar fire by the rebels, who withdrew to Mount Vermion early this morning.

War Minister George Stratos issued a statement saying the situation was improving. He said the army was considering the formation of independent mobile commando units to fight the guerrillas.

An announcement from Kozane said 10 guerrillas captured in a battle at Grevena July 27 had been executed.

Wedemeyer Reports To Chiang-Kai-Shek

NANKING, Aug. 19 (AP)— General Albert C. Wedemeyer, in a five-hour conference today with General Issimo Chiang Kai-Shek, gave the Chinese leader what official sources described as a "very frank" report in conditions in Formosa, Canton and Shanghai.

The American presidential envoy conferred at Chiang's residence, with time out only for lunch, and the unexpected length if the session recalled Wedemeyer's previous critical reports of conditions as he had found them in north China and Manchuria.

Wedemeyer is in China to [illegible] ed republic. After his fact-finding trips to the north, he expressed criticism of inefficiency and corruption among Chinese military and civoil officials.

On Chin's fighting fronts, meanwhile government troops based in Homan provience were reported striking sharply against the communist raiding forces of General Po-Cheng, which had cut the Taingtao-Tsinan rail line.

A dispatch to the independent newspaper Hsin Min Pao from its Suahow correspondent said nationalist forces in northern Shantung province, moving from Tsinan, had joined a second column moving westward at Chowtauh, about 50 miles east of Tsinan.

The government's campaign to recapture the vital coal mines at Poshan, about 30 miles south of the railway, was reported progressing.

A government announcement said Chiang's forces in the past four weeks had captured 100 towns in Shantung province and recovered more than 3,000,000 square kilometers of territory. The Communists, the announcement continued, have suffered 97,000 casualties, including those killed wounded and capured.

Cold Front To Hit Midwestern States

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

From high up the Rocky Mountain slope another cold front the sliding lazily eastward toward the hot and parched Midwest today with possible crop-reviving general rains.

"It's too early yet to say just how this cold push will act or how much rain it will bring," the Chicago Weather Bureau said, adding that a decided relief from the high 90 and 100 degree temperatures appeared a certainty for most of the plains states within 48 hours.

The forecaster said the cold air crossed into Montana and Idaho from Canada about midnight and that it was expected to spread into the Dakotas by tonight, and into Minnesota and Nebraska by tomorrow.

Within 48 hours, he added, the great Lakes region should have temperatures at least 15 degrees under todays continued highr readings.

The accompanying rain, the Bureau said, might turn out to be only scattered showers but it might also, just possibly, be a general drought breaker for a considerable section of the north-central and northern plains states.

Meanwhile, no relief was in sight for virtually all the remainder of the nation, sweltering again from a recurring hot blast that has spared generally only the Atlantic and Pacific coast states.

Throughout most of the region from the Appalachian to the Rocky Mountains, temperatures in the 90s or above appeared certain to be repeated today and tomorrow, the Weather Bureau said.

Reporter Flies With Sanford Pilot During National Glider Meet

By GARTH JONES
AP Newsfeatures

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. — Up front, the glider pilot wiggled a few gadgets and seemed to be having a swell time. Personally, I wasn't convinced of the extent of my pleasure. It was my first ride in a glider.

It's not like riding in a regular airplane. It's more like someone tying a kite string to you and saying "How [illegible] up there, Bub?"

"All we try to do is make a liar out of the guy who said "Everything that goes up must come down!" Glider Pilot Guy Storer of Sanford, Fla., commented over the left harness strap of his parachute.

I wasn't ready to call anyone names yet.

Down below the other sailplanes entered in the 14th annual meeting of the National Soaring Society looked like flypaper captives.

Just below a cloud up ahead a little biplane tugged at several hundred feet of tow rope. Yes sir, felt like a kite ride.

"Don't wiggle your elbows or you'll punch a hole in the fabric." Storer had warned when introducing the glider's cockpit. No one wants to punch holes in a craft that looks—and feels—about as durable and airworthy as one of Sally Rand's fans.

"How do you like it?" Storer used about the same tone of voice any auto driver would use in telling the kids to keep quiet on the back seat.

Practically no noise. Nothing but the sound of the wind rushing past the cockpit canopy and wings.

Storer pulled a lever and the tow rope fell away.

"See. Nothing up here but us and the air currents." One wing-tip liped up with the flag pole at Sheppard Field. The other could have been flirting with stars.

I never knew I had it so good on the ground.

"Those are spoilers," Storer pulled a gadget. A couple of barn door-looking things popped up on the wings. The glider practically went in reverse. Like pedaling the wrong way on a coaster bike.

Then we dropped down a couple hundred feet to pick up gliding speed again.

And I'm the lad who hates to ride elevators.

"That was a thermal." A thermal feels just like a kick in the pants.

"That's what keeps us up in the air," Storer explained. It was going to take a lot of explaining. Either the ground was coming up to say "Howdy" or we were going down faster than a greased pig on a fireman's pole.

"Guess we must have lost that thermal. We seem to be going down." There was an 'Aye' vote from the backseat.

"Think I'll just land it on the apron close to the hanger." A glider pilot's idea of 'close' is next to the wash room where he can reached the paper towels without stretching.

A used car bargain pulled out on the taxi strip. Storer whistled and yelled and bounced. The FBI can pick up a copy of my fingerprints from those etched on the ripcord of that parachute.

Somebody went over and somebody went under.

Storer cussed because the nose of the glider was barely inside the hangar doors.

And now—Has anyone seen a fellow about so high and about so wide? The one who said with such malicious sweetness: "Why don't you take a ride in a glider."

The standard bacteriological analysis of water is designed to determine whether or not coliform bacteria are present. These are the organisms commonly found in human and animal sewage. They do not cause waterborne diseases but serve as danger signals. If they are present there is a possibility that intestinal pathogenic bacteria (typhoid, dysentery, etc.), may also be present. Routinely five tubes are used, each inoculated with 10 cc of the water sample.

London Fashions Are Not Drastically New

By BARBARA WACE
AP Newsfeatures

LONDON — A new silhouette, not drastically different but clearly defined, is emerging from the "big ten" London fashion shows. Tentative attempts of the last two years have jelled into something different, though London houses still shy at extremes, out of sympathy for their coupon-circumscribed customers.

Skirts and coats of suits are longer, with waists corset-tight, hips accentuated. Skirts are of two extremes—pencil slim or accordion pleated.

Hardy Amies achieves what he calls the "barrel effect" by stiffening his jackets with canvas and padding. Digby Morton does it with pockets.

Export clothes are often 13½ inches from the floor, but for the home market most designers stick to 15 or 16 inches. Only Norman Hartnell has experimented with mid-calf lengths in his day clothes.

"I'm having pity on my home customers who have to wear last year's coat over this year's suit," said Amies.

Day dresses are fairly simple, with tiny waists and rounded hips. Some houses use drapery, mostly to the front, where the skirt fullness is usually concentrated. Hardy Amies uses much diagonal drapery. Many of his dresses show wraparound lines with side fastenings, drapery is pulled up to one side, necklines often cross over. This house shows many suit blouses in gay colors, with the bodice extended to make a bow at the neckline.

Most coats are tightly fitted at the waist and fully flared below it. But there are still a few loose, flowing, swing-back coats, with huge collars and lapels to match the lining. There are a few fingertip length coats worn over pencil slim skirts or suits. Many jackets, worn over dresses, are buttoned high.

This seems to be a year of greens. Almost all the houses featured lime and bottle green. Amies had a soft, light moss green, a quince and many brownish-yellow greens. Hartnell showed many purples, electric blues and other hard colors. There is still a lot of dull orange, brick, scarlet and crimson.

Stiebel teamed up a lot of soft English tweeds with dark or bright velveteen or new "cotton velvet" blouses. Gray and white went with Nile green, a red-flecked black tweed suit had a black velvet shirt. He showed a good deal of copper pink, toffee-beige, weak-tea and orchid-gray colors.

There were a few ankle length cocktail dresses in the collection, but British houses do not go for these as Americans do. Amies showed two ankle length evening dresses, one white with a [illegible] orange, entitled "Starlight" and "Moonlight." But the ballet length skirt for evening is unpopular here, and American women who expect to wear them to smart restaurants here run the risk of being asked to leave as they are not considered "evening dress."

Miller are subject to Senate confirmation later and were made as recess appointments.

In his statement of Dec. 22, 1945, to which Ross referred, Mr. Truman said that "the immensity of the problem of displaced persons and refugees is almost beyond comprehension."

At that time, the President said most of the persons were natives of Central and Eastern Europe and the Balkans. The immigration quotas for all these countries for one year total approximately 39,000, two-thirds of which are allotted to Germany. Under the law, in any single month visas cannot exceed 10 percent of the annual quota, or 3,900 monthly.

Congressional committees held hearings during the recent session of Congress but took no action on a proposal to admit 400,000 displaced persons, 100,000 yearly over a four-year period, to the United States. There were estimates at the hearings that there are approximately 850,000 to 900,000 displaced persons in Europe.

"I consider that common decency and the fundamental comradeship of all human beings require us to do what lies within our power to see that our established immigration quotas are used in order to reduce human suffering."

The President then directed the secretary of state, the attorney general and other officials to proceed at once "to expedite the quota immigration of displaced persons and refugees from Europe to the United States."

Congress Credited With $1,520,000,000 Saving In Budget

Truman Predicts Biggest U. S. Surplus; Spending Outlook May Be Increased

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 (AP)—President Truman said today federal spending this fiscal year will fall only $500,000,000 short of his original estimate despite the Republican economy drive in Congress. But he forecast an historic $4,700,000,000 budget surplus next June 30.

Mr. Truman gave the GOP-controlled Congress credit for cutting $1,520,000,000 from the cost of government.

But the next result because of intervening factors, he declared, will be a total outlay of an even $37,000,000,000 instead of the $37,628,000,000 he predicted last January before the Republican cost-cutters got down to work.

Furthermore, in the customary mid-year budget review made public late today Mr. Truman served this double-barreled notice:

First this country's international program, perhaps including the Marshall plan for European recovery may run up costs and trim the record-breaking surplus.

Second, taxes must stay high. The Chief Executive didn't use those words about taxes; but he said the surplus must be used to reduce the national debt and stand as reserve "against emergencies, whether at home or abroad."

The government bases its high income estimate, Mr. Truman said, on "a continuance of employment, prices and incomes close to their present levels

Progress Seen In British Economic Survival Battle

High July Exports, Increase In Coal Production Cited

LONDON, Aug. 20 (AP)—Deputy Prime Minister Herbert Morrison announced today signs of "progress," record July exports and increased coal production in the battle for Britain's economic recovery.

Provisional export figures for July, Morrison told a news conference, totaled $441,200,000, "the highest level since November, 1920, and, apart from that month, probably the highest ever recorded in peacetime."

"It begins to look as if we have stopped the rot in coal," he added, indicating Britain might be in a position to resume coal exports to the continent by next year.

But, Morrison warned: "The crisis is still getting graver. We shall have to face worse things before we are through."

While he spoke, the Board of Trade President, Sir Stafford Cripps, was conferring elsewhere in Whitehall with U. S. Undersecretary of State William L. Clayton.

Clayton arrived from Paris with arguments for further cuts in British tariffs and in some imperial trade preferences.

"We must get this dollar situation settled some how," he commented as he drove to lunch with Sir Stafford Cripps, president of the board of trade.

A spokesman for the board said the luncheon talk was concerned with "the tariff negotiations which have been taking place at the International Trade Conference in Geneva, and this, of course, includes the question of imperial preferences."

Other Whitehall (government) officials said they were "bracing" themselves for a new economic shock. The general expectation was that Clayton would tell Cripps to "reduce Empire preferences so that American goods can compete with British goods—or face the consequences of a hardened U. S. administration and Congress line on further dollar aid."

Meanwhile, the London Daily Mail said Prime Minister Attlee intended to resign "in the near

U. S. Examines British Crisis In Loan Talks

Snyder Says Problem Approached With Great Sympathy; No New Loan Asked

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Snyder today reported good progress in British-American financial talks and indicated he was probing England's internal affairs as a condition of easing the $3,750,000,000 loan agreement.

Snyder, chief United States negotiator, told a news conference flatly that the British have "not requested any additional loan" in the discussion that opened Monday.

Asked to comment on reports that he is interested in English domestic affairs, including production lags and the nationalization of basic industry, Snyder replied: "We are going to want a full understanding of this problem, so naturally we will ask any pertinent question that has a bearing on the loan agreement."

But, in answer to a question whether he was being "very tough" about Britain's "Socialistic experiments," the secretary replied sharply:

"I don't know of any such questions that have come up. As far as being tough is concerned, I have assured Sir Wilfrid (Sir Wilfrid Eady, second secretary of the British Treasury) that we are viewing the British problem with a great deal of sympathy."

Snyder said he has not "gone into the facts deeply enough" yet to decide whether he shares Prime Minister Attlee's view of the gravity of the English "dollar crisis," but he added:

"I am relying on Mr. Attlee to have voiced what he thinks is the condition of the country."

His reply was "unequivocally no" to a question whether the British had requested discussion of a clause providing for revision

Disbanding Of Balkan Probe Group Denied

Lie Says UN Investigators In Greece To Remain, Even If Russia Withdraws

LAKE SUCCESS, Aug. 20 (AP)—Trygve Lie, secretary-general of the United Nations, took sharp issue today with a Russian contention that the Balkan Investigating Commission and its subsidiary group in Greece were "liquidated" now.

In reply to reports that Russia and Poland might withdraw from both the Balkan Commission and the subsidiary group, Lie told a news conference that he had no intention of disbanding these bodies unless the Security Council specifically orders such action.

Lie supported the position of the council majority, led by the United States and Britain, that both the commission and its representatives in the Balkans would continue to function indefinitely as a result of the council's failure to find a solution to the problem.

He said he agreed completely with the opinion expressed by Council President Faris El Khoury of Syria.

"The subsidiary group is there and I think it will be there as long as the Security Council wants it to stay," Lie said.

"That is in conformity with the previous action of the council.

Asked whether he believed the failure of the council to find a solution to the Balkan dispute had affected the prestige of the UN, Lie said:

"Oh, certainly. But the situation is no more serious in my opinion than it was a year ago. We have reached a deadlock many times. There is no more reason to be pessimistic after yesterday's (Russian veto) action than there was last year. The situation is about the same."

Marshall Stresses Europe's Recovery At Rio Conference

Economic Stabilization Of Old World Takes Precedence Over Western Needs

QUITANDINHA, Brazil, Aug. 20 (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall told the Inter-American conference today that Europe's economic recovery is vital to the Americas and takes precedence because of its urgency over needs of the Western Hemisphere.

Further, in a plea for unity among the 20 nations drafting a hemispheric defense agreement, Marshall said new world unity is "vastly important" to the future of the world.

"The results of our labors will demonstrate to all the world that peoples, and nations, who really want peace can have peace by living in an atmosphere of increasing cooperative action and good will," he said.

Responding to proposals for a "Marshall plan" for the Americas, the secretary said the United States has assumed "unusually heavy burdens" in a determined effort to meet minimum requirements of war-devastated areas in Europe and Asia "now threatened with starvation and economic chaos."

Marshall continued:

"In assuming this burden we have not lost sight of the economic problems of the Western Hemisphere. As a matter of fact the economic rehabilitation of Europe is vital to the economy of this hemisphere.

"My government will continue to take up economic questions with its sister republics and seek a sound basis for practical cooperation."

Missed Death In Army Plane Crash

Atcheson, Jr., chairman of the Allied Control Council for Japan. Photo transmitted by radio from San Francisco. (International Soundphoto)

Dutch Governor Hits Indonesian Party Leaders

Republicans Plan To Move Capital As Outbreak Feared

BATAVIA, Java, Aug. 20 (AP)—Acting Governor General H. J. Van Mook declared today the Netherlands would retain authority over the rich regions of Sumatra and Madoera occupied by Dutch troops since July 21.

"Areas that have been made safe will remain safe," Van Mook said in a radio address.

He said that the authority of the Indonesian Republican government over the Dutch-occupied regions of the two islands, which flank the island of Java, would not again be recognized.

Neutral quarters in Batavia interpreted the address as indicating that the Dutch might be considering a drive on the Indonesian Republic's capital, Jogjakarta, unless Indonesian violations of the cease-fire order halted.

Netherlands headquarters said today Dutch forces had suffered 214 casualties from the Indonesian violations since the order, requested by the United Nations Security Council, went into effect at midnight Aug. 14.

The Indonesian cabinet met in emergency session at Jogjakarta to plan for removal of their capital to Sumatra if necessary, a dispatch from that city said. The cabinet was represented as expecting full scale resumption of hostilities with the Dutch.

(The Dutch cabinet met at the Hague in emergency session to discuss Indonesia and action yesterday in the United Nations Security Council.)

Van Mook's address was the sharpest criticism he ever had leveled at the native Republican government. He blamed the Jog

Hunt For Atcheson Will Be Continued

HONOLULU, Aug. 20, (AP)—The Navy announced today the search for some trace of Ambassador George Atcheson, Jr., would be continued several days although it has abandoned hope of finding him alive.

The Hawaiian Sea Frontier's announcement coincided with a promise by Brig. General Frederick V. H. Kimble to "go all the way back to Tokyo" if necessary to find out the cause of the plane crash in which Atcheson and nine others perished.

The Navy said the intensive phase of the search had ended, but that air and surface patrols would be maintained, probably for the rest of the week. A naval officer said about the only hope remaining is that Atcheson's body would float to the surface and be recovered.

Kimble, Army air inspector, arrived by plane yesterday to investigate the crash. The converted B-17 bomber, its gas tanks empty, plunged into the sea about 100 miles west of Honolulu Saturday midnight with 13 aboard. Three were rescued and five bodies recovered.

Supt. English said the school department issued eight post graduate, 221 graduate, five undergraduate, 48 provisional and 45 temporary certificates.

Seine Crossing Copied By Jamboree Scouts

ROLLEBOISE, France, Aug. 20, (AP)—Five truck loads of American Boy Scouts traveling under field orders made a surprise descent on this city and duplicated the first crossing of the Seine River by United States Army troops the ten years ago today.

Led by an Army jeep and three French Scouts as guides, the American Jamboree Scouts did not know what was coming until the trucks pulled up at a dam and they were told to pile out.

Here Arthur McKinney of White Plains, N. Y., executive director of the U. S. jamboree contingent, informed them they had been chosen to duplicate the conditions of the secret American crossing at that point Aug. 20, 1944, which was not discovered by the Germans until after a bridgehead was established.

Japs To Tell Story Of Pearl Harbor

TOKYO, Aug. 20, (AP)—The Japanese navy's version of the sneak attack on Pearl Harbor and Nippon's preparations for the Pacific War are slated to come before the International Military Tribunal tomorrow.

Defense counsel for Hideki Tojo and 24 other wartime Japanese leaders accused of war crimes concluded today their presentation of testimony relating to pre-war diplomatic negotiations.

A series of clashes developed among the attorneys after the prosecution charged defense counsel was introducing numerous official documents which the Japanese government previously had reported as missing.

Cool Front Moves Slowly Toward East

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The time table of a narrow slow-moving cool wave into the northern midwestern states was the only cheering note from the Chicago Weather Bureau today as the current scorching blast headed for new records.

Each additional day of the present high readings probably is bringing a new record for duration or daily maximum temperatures at many points, the bureau said.

While the cool front dragged eastward into western north Dakota, northwestern South Dakota and northern Wyoming today, virtually all the rest of the nation from the Eastern Seaboard to the Rockies continued to swelter.

Only scattered showers or light thunderstorms were in prospect for the Great Lakes area as corn and other crops continued to deteriorate for lack of a general soaking rain throughoutthe Midwest.

Relief was expected to feel the effects of the cooler air late today, but it would not reach Wisconsin and northern Illinois until tomorrow, the forecaster said.

With temperatures in the high 90s generally except on the Pacific Coast yesterday and in prospect for today, ice shortages were reported in some Michigan cities.

At Chicago, the record of 94 degrees for this date which has stood since 1874 was expected to topple, along with the one for the numbers of days in the month with readings of 90 or higher.

Forecaster I. W. Brunk said a maximum of 90 today would equal the record of 12 such days for the month, established in 1944.

Examinations To Be Held For Positions With Welfare Board

Early merit system examinations, to be held by the Florida Merit System Council for 10 classes of social work positions, offer local residents an exceptional opportunity to qualify for employment by the State Welfare Board and the 12 district welfare boards, according to Mary Holler, member of the District No. 12 Welfare Board.

"Those who pass the merit system tests, Mrs. Holler said, constitute an eligible register from which social work positions with the state welfare agency will be filled as vacancies exist or occur. Since social workers are employed in every county of the state, those who successfully pass the examinations have an oportunity of being employed at home or near home, as it is the policy of the district welfare boards to give preference to local residents who qualify. In any event, they have the assurance that employment opportunities would be in Florida."

Mrs. Holler attented the fact that job opportunities would extend through the life of the registers to be established. Those who are not ready for immediate employment, Mrs. Holler said, should qualify for positions later on. The demand for district welfare visitors, the basic social work position, has been continuous over a period of years and vacancies exist in some districts now, she said.

Those who wish to take the tests must file applications with the Merit System Office, P. O. Box 1136, Tallahassee, Fla., not later than Sept. 5, Mrs. Holler declared. Application blanks and information may be obtained from the Merit System Office upon request.

Legion Post Backs National Guard Unit

A resolution to support the reactivation of the National Guard and to render every possible aid to Capt. Roy Green in forming a new company here was adopted at the Monday evening meeting of Campbell-Lossing Post 53 of the American Legion.

A motion was passed directing Adjutant Joel Field to contact Mrs. Edward Kircher to determine what she would like the Legion post to do in promoting blood bank donations for use of Seminole County patients in the State Tuberculosis Sanitarium in Orlando.

Plans for improving the Legion grounds were discussed and Sidney RiChard volunteered to see to it that the grass is cut and the grounds made presentable in time for the Labor Day celebration. This was done this morning.

It was decided to dispense with the regular meeting on Sept. 1 on account of the Labor Day celebration and the fact that members of the Post will participate in the day and evening events.

Company Yields Court Privilege In CIO Agreement

Slowdown, Sitdown Strikes Outlawed At Murray Plant

DETROIT, Aug. 20 (AP)—A contract by-passing the right to court action for 7,000 CIO United Auto Workers of the Murray Corporation of America awaited today an official stamp of approval.

Company and union hailed the agreement, ending a strike that has reached 30 days, as "fair to both parties" and "completely satisfactory."

The company, in agreeing to give up its prerogative of court action for breach of contract, obtained from the union a clause placing restrictions on its members rights to strike. Slowdown and sitdown strikes were outlawed.

Corporation officials said regular production schedules would be resumed Thursday. Maintenance workers were asked to report this afternoon. The strike, which began July 21, sharply curtailed production in Ford Motor Company plants and idled 10,000 workers in Studebaker Corp. plants dependent on Murray for body components.

The union called a membership meeting for Wednesday to speed

Lloyds Recieve Call From Son In Hawaii

Yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock the telephone rang in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lloyd on the Upsala Road. Mrs. Lloyd answered:

"Just a minute," said the operator, "Honolulu is calling."

"Hello, Ma," were the next words clearly heard over the receiver. It was her son, Kenneth, talking from Honolulu. She had not seen him in two years since he went to Guam. He is now a first class electrician in the Navy. He informed his mother that he expected to be home within 60 days.

His father, whom the son formerly assisted in his occupation of house painting, was called also to the telephone. Mr. Lloyd as a result, is very enthusiastic over the marvel of modern telephone communication.

"Why, it was just as plain as if he was telephoning us from right here in Sanford," he exclaimed today.

MOAT CLEANED

Park superintendent Sidney RiChard and his crew started draining and cleaning the moat at Monkey Island at 8:00 o'clock this morning. They collected the gold fish and put them into two water filled boats. About six bass six inches long were removed and were put into the City fountain. These had been living on goldfish, and had been placed by someone in the moat when they were fingerlings.

Oil Company Moves Plant To Clermont

A huge derrick was today removing two of the American Oil Company's 17,500 gallon gasoline tanks for trucking to Clermont where a new bulk plant is being erected, it was announced this morning by John Krider, manager of the local plant.

The company is no longer bringing oil and gasoline on barges from Jacksonville for distribution here but is finding it more economical to truck it from Tampa to here, to where it is brought in oil vessels from Texas City, said Mr. Krider. Had the cross state canal been built, bringing oil here by barge would have doubtless continued, he said.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

"I WILL GIVE THANKS UNTO THE LORD ACCORDING UNTO HIS RIGHTEOUSNESS: I WILL SING PRAISE TO THE NAME OF THE LORD MOST HIGH. I WILL BE GLADLY ABOUT IN THE SPIRIT OF MY MIND, AND WITH THE SPIRIT ALSO. I WILL SING PRAISE UNTO THE LORD WITH MY WHOLE HEART, I WILL SHEW FORTH ALL THY MARVELOUS WORKS. I WILL BE GLAD AND REJOICE IN THEE: I WILL SING PRAISE TO THY NAME, O THOU MOST HIGH. WHEN MY ENEMIES ARE TURNED BACK, THEY SHALL FALL AND PERISH AT THY PRESENCE. FOR THOU HAST MAINTAINED MY RIGHT AND MY CAUSE; THOU SATEST IN THE THRONE JUDGING RIGHTEOUSLY. THE LORD ALSO WILL BE A REFUGE FOR THE OPPRESSED, A REFUGE IN TIMES OF TROUBLE. AND THEY THAT KNOW THY NAME WILL PUT THEIR TRUST IN THEE: FOR THOU, LORD, HAST NOT FORSAKEN THEM THAT SEEK THEE. SING PRAISE TO THE LORD, WHICH DWELLETH IN ZION: DECLARE THE DOINGS THEREOF. WHEN HE MAKETH INQUISITION FOR BLOOD, HE REMEMBERETH THEM: HE FORGETTETH NOT THE CRY OF THE HUMBLE. MERCIFUL AND GRACIOUS IS THE LORD, SLOW TO ANGER, AND OF GREAT MERCY. THE LORD IS GOOD TO ALL: AND HIS TENDER MERCIES ARE OVER ALL HIS WORKS. PRAISE YE THE LORD." PSALM 9:1-2, 7-8, 11-12, 14, 17-18, 20.

Britain and the United States have agreed to "settle all problems linked to the Ruhr" and so the rest of Germany may as well go about its work for a generation or so, if it can get any coal to work with.

It pays to look at maps carefully. The Russians have lately printed new maps of Outer Mongolia. When compared with the old ones, they located the Altai mountains, which atlases the world over had put in Sinkiang, a Chinese province, in Outer Mongolia, a Soviet satellite state. They may get away with this or they may not.

The struggle against Germany and the centering of American activity on the Pacific were predicted nearly 50 years ago by the historian Brooks Adams of the family which produced two Presidents and other public servants of high value. Both prophecies occur in his "America's Economic Supremacy," published in 1900. Is there anyone writing today who can foretell with equal accuracy the situation of the United States in 2,000? And if there were, would it do us any good? Consider Winston Churchill, Herbert Hoover and other voices crying in the wilderness. Who heeds them?

A ghost town in Idaho, Dixie by name, has been bought by an army veteran with the aid of a GI loan. The town was born in the gold rush of Civil War times, died 40 years ago, and today is surrounded by a primitive wild country, 84 miles from the nearest neighbor village. The purchase included a school, a hotel, a post office, a saloon, general store, a cemetery, and a lot of empty log cabins. The town covers more than 160 acres, has 17 inhabitants. The veteran's man has taken over the hotel. They hope to make a resort center of it for hunters who will find the vast surrounding forest a sportsman's paradise. In the winter the snows of the region will make for skiing, and later an airport is to be built as a play place for air-minded tourists.

The finding of Arab coins in a Norwegian medieval hoard does not mean that the Arabs were over in Norway. They are thought to have been sent to far from their homes by roving Vikings who were hired by Arab rulers in Spain and Africa as bodyguards. Other Vikings perform a service for the Byzantine emperors at Constantinople at another corner of Europe. Still others became rulers of the young Russian state; the first known rulers have Norse names, and still others carved out dominions in Normandy (named from the Northmen, as many called Sicily and Calabria, Dora Lapland, Norway and Sweden were ruled by one man, the famous King Canute). What combinations of different racial and world history are latent in the making should be received by the Scandinavian fighters and traders, some of whose ancestors have just been found in Norway.

England Far From Home

There are those who say Prime Minister Attlee's troubles are due to a number of causes, but largely to the fact that socialism just doesn't go over for the average Englishman. The rationale of necessaries is based, they maintain, not so much shortages, as on the present government's idea of equal sharing. The result is that no one is satisfied. Those who were the have-nots feel they are not getting enough out of the step-up. The former monied and aristocratic land owners are also disgruntled.

This may help to explain the growing exodus from the British Isles to places like Canada, Australia and South Africa. The accent is on South Africa, say many returned American business men who are visiting that faraway place in increasing numbers. American factories are going up there. Lines are being laid for the expected boom, and there they find the old-school British, the lords and the ladies, creating a new England away from home, with landed estates, and the gracious way of life of the old days. Not for nothing did the royal family make that African tour.

Old England may be having its troubles. But a new England is being born in the Dominions. Apparently there'll always be an England.

Table Talk

In one of James Hilton's earlier books, Ill Wind, written before his later fame and now revived, he says: "To eat and to talk—who first thought of elaborating the simultaneous technique?" When you think about it, food is only one part of a good dinner. The company makes the event, is the important part. A repast among friends can bring satisfactions that a banquet attended by an ill-assorted company never can touch.

Dinner table conversation need not be brilliant, either. It needs to be kindly, with an idea here and there, good humor and some common interests up and down the board. Talk at table is the final symbol of civilization. Who can visualize primitive man stopping at meal time to talk? The moment—for him was one only for wolfing sustenance, the most in the quickest possible time.

Like seasoning, there must not be too much talk from any one source, but just the right amount from several diners. Hilton has an idea there. Everybody's meals could be improved by the conversation accompanying them.

CIO Contract

formal ratification of the contract. A Murray executive estimated the pay raises will cost the company $2,500,000. The contract will run until Jan. 31, 1949, with the wage increases retroactive to May 1.

During early negotiations, the UAW-CIO called the corporation a "leachhead" in its national campaign to win immunity from provisions of the Taft-Hartley act.

Under contract terms the UAW agreed not to authorize a strike until approval is obtained from the international union and not until 45 days have elapsed since the filing of a grievance.

Should an unauthorized strike occur, the union agrees to notify members immediately ordering its members to return to work. The company will have the right to discharge participants, except where the union objects.

In the event of an objection, the discharges would be treated as grievances.

On the other hand, the company promised in return:

"That neither the union, its officers, agents or members shall be liable for damages for unauthorized stoppages, strikes, intentional slow-downs or suspension of work."

President Clarence Avery of the company said he believes the agreement "fair to both parties and in accordance with the provisions of the Taft-Hartley law."

"The principle of union responsibility is recognized," he said, adding that he was "fully satisfied" the agreement would serve as a "strong deterrent" to wildcat strikes.

Regional UAW-CIO Director Emil Mazey said:

"It gives both the union and the company the protection we think is needed to maintain peaceful and constructive relations."

Meanwhile, Ford Motor Co. and the UAW resumed negotiations on a contract, with an agreement believed imminent. The UAW-Ford national council which approved any settlement, has been called to meet here Thursday.

Rio Conference

alitarian systems of government, Marshall told the conference that the American nations "all agree that the state exists for man, not man for the state—and that we abhor any limitations upon the freedom of expression of men throughout the world."

"For only when we have access to the thoughts of men, to the forces of public opinion free of coercion or constraint, only then can we develop a wholesome common interest while at the same time respecting separate national traditions," he continued.

The secretary said:

"We are devoted to the principle that states and nations should be bound by the same standards of moral conduct we set for the individual: good faith and fair dealing, honesty and friendly cooperation, mutual respect and freedom of interpretation—these we expect of each other as individuals; these we should demand of each other as states.

"This is the basis of our fundamental belief in the equality of individuals, or the equality of states. We must reject encroachment upon the fundamental rights of the individual with the same determination that we reject any encroachment upon the fundamental rights of the state."

The American nations, Marshall said, "stand as all the world as an example of nations striving to live in harmony, determined to abide by the same principles of moral behavior we demand of the individual citizen."

Budget Report

throughout the fiscal year," in other words, the administration sees no serious business recession which might reduce tax collections before next June.

Nevertheless, the President disclosed that he has issued orders to all government agencies to squeeze their dollars.

In preparing the next budget, he said, administrators already have been instructed to hold their 1949 budget requests below the 1948 total. Actual dollar totals have been hopeful in some cases, he added.

Among the developments which have increased the spending outlook or may increase it, Mr. Truman listed:

The $100,000,000 Greek-Turkish aid program, of which $390,000,000 will be a fiscal 1948 expenditure.

A $250,000,000 flood control program, not yet acted upon.

Stockpiling of strategic defense materials, $91,000,000.

Increased costs of veterans' benefits, $94,000,000.

Funds to prevent spread of the Mexican foot-and-mouth epidemic, $50,000,000.

Completion of the veterans' emergency housing program, $83,000,000. Besides supplemental appropriations to cover deficiencies in items on which Congress already has acted, Mr. Truman said, he will submit to the next session three supplemental requests for new programs not yet considered on Capitol Hill. One of these, he revealed, will be for $60,000,000 to start a $12,000,000 public works program for the Army and Navy.

The President gave this digest of the shift in spending prospects:

National defense: Expenditures will be down $653,000,000 to $10,461,000,000. About two-thirds of this is the result of Congressional action, the remainder to "changes in timing and a slower rate of operations" such as "difficulties in recruiting."

Veterans: Outlays will be $128,000,000 higher to a total of $7,469,000,000.

International: Even without the Marshall plan or any other new foreign aid program, spending will be $791,000,000 higher in a new total of $4,301,000,000. The gain is the result primarily of unexpectedly heavy withdrawals from the $3,750,000,000 loan fund and the Greek-Turkish aid program.

Social program: Expenditures for welfare, health and security now estimated $299,000,000 higher, for a total of $1,252,000,000.

Housing: Down $376,000,000 to $164,000,000, mainly because Congress deferred Dan the Reconstruction Finance Corporation's power may make real estate loans or buy veterans' housing mortgages.

Agriculture: Reduced $422,000,000 to $939,000,000.

Natural resources: Up $59,000,000 to $1,160,000,000, chiefly because of the speed-up in flood control work.

Finance and commerce: Cut $129,000,000 to $,970,000,000.

Transportation and communication: Reduced $95,000,000 to $1,638,000,000, largely because high construction costs have discouraged highway building.

Interest: Federal interest payments will rise $125,000,000 higher to $5,125,000,000, because of increased short-term rates and the payment of interest on terminal leave bonds cashed by veterans.

Labor: Down $18,000,000 to $102,000,000.

jakarta regime for a record of "murder, arson and torture," from Aug. 9, 1945, when he said Japanese Field Marshal Terauchi from Saigon instructed Dr. Soekarno and Mohammed Hatta, currently president of the Republican government, to establish an "independent" Indonesia.

Van Mook said the Republic's central authority originally was only "footprints on golden voice," but that it spread because Lord Mountbatten, the British supreme allied commander in Southeast Asia, "necessarily was impressed" by his assignment to occupy the Netherlands East Indies on the day Japan surrendered.

He said the limited occupation force barely saved 100,000 interned persons from murder by Indonesians whom the Japanese had trained and armed.

After Sultan Sjahrir, a non-collaborator, became Indonesian premier, Van Mook said "the consistent policy of the Netherlands government was to support constructive elements in the Republic in hopes that "with other Indonesian areas, they could form a sovereign federated united states of Indonesia, allied with the Netherlands in a real union."

Van Mook said constructive idealism gave Indonesians failed in their efforts to overcome Japanese influence.

At conclusion of the Hague round, Van Mook declared a federal interim government would be formed as soon as possible and that orders from the Indonesian government were no longer valid. He forbade Indonesians to obey such orders.)

Record Number Of Students To Enter Colleges This Fall

By JERRY CORN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 (AP)—More than 2,400,000 students, about 63 percent of them veterans, will start classes at American colleges and universities in the next few weeks. This is a new record.

They will spend more for an education than ever before, and they will get less for their money than students did before the war.

They will be more serious students, too, the majority of them the last-trained graduates the colleges have ever turned out. This is because they are, on the average, better students than the colleges have ever had.

We are in the midst of one of the greatest periods of change in the history of American education.

That atmosphere of change goes all the way down to the first grade which will have 30 percent more pupils this year than in 1946—and a severe shortage of teachers.

But the biggest changes are taking place in the colleges. New ideas, new methods, are being tried out. Other changes spring directly out of the war, which:

1. Has given federal assistance to students than they had ever had before—often more than they could take.

2. Has made it harder to provide as good an education for these students as was being offered before 1941.

Take the first of those two changes. The G. I. Bill made it possible for more students than ever before, the colleges have picked their students carefully. They have had to make harder to get passing grades. That is eliminated the poorer students.

But the same things which resulted in more and better students make it harder for the colleges to provide as good an education as they offered before the war.

A shortage of money has hampered the colleges. Although colleges charge between 20 and 50 percent more than before the war, private gifts have fallen off and government funds have not kept up with rising costs.

That has kept teachers' salaries low and unattractive. So the colleges have had too many students and not enough teachers, with these results:

1. Classes average almost twice as large as before the war.

2. Colleges have been forced to hire less capable instructors.

3. Laboratories, libraries, dormitories and other buildings are badly crowded.

The colleges are trying to improve all these conditions, but it probably will be at least three to five years before the situation is much better.

Cards Prove They Still Have Fighting Chance In National

The ability of the St. Louis Cardinals to come off the floor has highlighted their play in the past and apparently the 1947 season will be no exception.

Sent reeling six-and-one-half games back of the Brooklyn Dodgers Monday by two defeats at the hands of the league leaders, the Red Birds served notice yesterday that they are still not out by coming back and winning from the Brooklyn Dodgers.

With the Cardinals isolated on the Cards-Dodgers, the Boston Braves continued to close quietly in on the duo. They moved to within seven games off the pace by coming from behind to nip the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-5.

The Giants bowed 3-1 to the Cincinnati Reds for their eighth straight loss.

The Chicago Cubs dropped both ends of a twin bill to the Philadelphia Phillies, 8-1 and 9-5.

The American League's front-running New York Yankees opened their final tour of the west by dropping a 2-1 decision to Detroit.

The loss cut the Yankees' margin over the second place Boston Red Sox, who crushed the Browns 9-5, to 11 and one-half games.

Rapping out 31 hits, the Cleveland Indians trounced the Washington Senators, 13-2 and 9-1 while at Chicago, Joe Haynes belted a game Philadelphia single against the White Sox, blanking the Athletics 4-0 on nine hits.

Jax Terminal Nine Wins In 1st Round Of Semi-Pro Tourney

WICHITA, Kas., Aug. 20. (AP)—The 1946 National Semi-pro Baseball Congress championship were scheduled to make their first appearance in this year's tournament today and they were hopeful for kinder treatment than the 1946 runner-up received yesterday.

The St. Joseph, Mich., Auserc, defending champions, were slated to meet the Lima, Ohio, vets at 6 P. M. (CST) in a first round game.

Second place winners last year, the Carmichael, Calif., firemen, were manhandled 14-2 by the Jacksonville, Fla., terminal men in their first 1947 tournament appearance yesterday. The Terminals blasted out five runs in the first inning and pushed across six more in the sixth. Cleary Cone, Bellingham, Wash., Bells pitcher, won his own game as he singled to drive in a run in the fourth and defeat Pikesville, Ky., Braves, 3-2.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Electric won from Jamestown, N. Y., 8-3, in the night's final game. In the afternoon game Coeur D'Alene Lake

COMMENTS from the SIDELINES

By ARTHUR BECKWITH, JR.

PETTY BICKERING

There has been a lot of petty bickering in the Florida State League this year about the possibilities of making the circuit a Class C league in that [illegible] has also been a lot of talk and rumblings about player classifications and the transfer of players from active to disabled or suspended lists.

We read that John Ganzel, "Threatened in effect, if not literally, to build a Class A team another year if the league doesn't clamp down on infraction of Class B rules with transfered rules that put a stop to the mockery we now have in the league."

It seems to us that we heard John Ganzel advocate league rules requiring teams in the Florida State League to have six or eight raw rookies on their rosters.

We also read in the official minutes of the regular meeting of the directors of the Florida State League that was held in Dalaka on July 16 that "Director Lignell asked for a clarification of the league rule relating to veteran players. Following a discussion it was moved by Director Herlong and seconded by Director Carmichael, that no club may have more than three veteran players on the active playing roster at any time, but in the event that any club has more than three veteran under contract at any time, any veteran on the disabled, suspended or temporarily inactive list must remain on said list for twenty days. The motion died when Orlando voted against it because under league rules, all by law amendments not between annual meetings require the unanimous vote of all clubs.

We do not see what our friends to the south are crying about. They kill one of the best rules that has been brought up in the past few years, and then they cry because other teams are playing a large number of veteran players.

According to the way the league regulations are set up any club in the circuit can have as many as eight veteran players on their roster and continue to juggle them so that they have only three on the active roster. There is hardly any regulation on the veterans.

Any club could have, let's say for example, eight veteran pitchers. They can pitch one tonight then disable him for three or four days, then bring him back and toss another game. The same procedure could be worked on all eight of the men. We agree that this is mighty poor system, but the ones who are crying the loudest are the ones who did nothing about stopping the procedure.

Some of the FSL teams have been practicing this procedure all the year.

Sanford is one of the few teams in the league that has not had over three vets on its roster at any one time during the year. For quite a while the Feds have played with only two old timers. Buddy Lake and Don Murray were the only two vets on the team for quite some time, until the arrival of Walt Harrington. At the first of the year we had three. They included Lake, Hal Spencer, and Mayo Lawson. Spencer has now been retained as a limited service man; and Mayo Langston is now out of baseball.

Sanford has five rookies under control. They include Bill Stanton, Johnny Tomat, Johnny McManus, Tim Tyler and Jack McCammon. We would venture to say that there is not another club in the circuit with more than five rookies on its roster.

Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 20 (AP)—Olivia DeHaviland of late decided some advice on how to be happy though an actress: 1. get married; 2. marry a writer.

Although she is now enacting a funny in "The Snake Pit," Olivia never sounded happier. It's her first acting job since marrying Marcus Goodrich (Goodrich and like all newlyweds, she is recommending the institution of marriage to everyone.

"I look at the writers who have married actresses," she observed. "Dunnally Johnson, Niven Busch, Charles MacArthur. By name a few. It's a perfect combination."

Olivia pointed out that writers can perform their work at home while the wife is away at the studio and thus their work's ing hours do not overlap. And a writer can understand the emotional as well as the physical strain of an actress' duties.

"Marcus can understand when she entirely exhausts her strength during a picture," meaning that she might have gone night-clubbing in her backless dress.

"Yes," she admitted, "but not during 'Gone With The Wind,' 'Strawberry Blonde,' 'Hold Back The Dawn,' 'To Each His Own' or 'The Dark Mirror.' As for the others, particularly the Errol Flynn pictures—I hate another matter."

Record notes . . . Since Phil Harris recorded rec Williams' hit, "Smoke, Smoke, Smoke," he is going to wax some Harris numbers. They are vocal twins . . . Current and listenable: Peggy Lee, "Old Love Of Mine." Count Basie, "South." Beryl Davis "Mother, Mother, Mother." Delta Rhythm Boys, "Come In Out Of The Rain." Tommy Dorsey, "I'll Be There."

Hints To Housewives

By ISABELLE S. THURSBY

Our Florida guava is now rated as one of the richest sources of Vitamin C and is, in addition, a fair source of Vitamin A. It also contains a fair amount of calcium and phosphorus.

The guava is particularly appealing used fresh, as a dessert fruit, served with a sprinkle of sugar and with cream, with or without the seeds removed—but do seed them. They may be used as apples in pies, dumplings, Brown Betty, shortcakes, soufflés, whips, sherbets, ice cream, frostings, and many other desserts.

Guava or, preferably, nectar is an excellent substitute for orange or tomato juice and serves as a delectable and desirable addition to punch. Guavas freeze exceptionally well, retaining their fresh flavor to such an extent as to make the frozen product practically indistinguishable from the fresh fruit. Then, too, they are free of the troublesome tendency of browning or discoloring that besets the canner and the freezer of peaches.

Freezing Guavas

To have a quality product, fine flavored, firm-ripe, thick, meaty fruit must be used and, furthermore, speed is essential to good freezing. The method of preparation is simple and easy.

Wash guava in cold water, peel, cut in halves and remove seed center with silver spoon. Add pulp to shells, or pack shells and pulp separately. Cover with cold syrup to within half an inch of top of container and pack mixture immediately in liquid tight or in moisture vapor-proof freezing containers.

Glass jars or tin are fine if you have a sealer. Use a sugar syrup for the guava shells. Make by using 3 cups of sugar to 4 cups of water. Heat together until sugar is dissolved and hold in refrigerator until needed for use. As fast as containers are filled, place them in the refrigerator to store until they can be taken to the commercial locker or store in your home freezer. Here again, speed in getting them into the freezer is important. Store, after freezing, at zero Fahrenheit or lower.

The pulp left from seeding may be pureed, the product sweetened and, with lime or lemon juice added, may also be frozen to serve as a delicious frozen dessert without defreezing.

A familiar method for treating a cut, stain is to sprinkle the stain with salt, squeeze lemon juice over it, and spread it in the sun to dry. Add more lemon juice if traces of the rust still show.

Miss Summersill Is Bride Of Mr. Wesson

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Summersill of Geneva today announced the marriage of their daughter, Betty Louise, to Rowland Wesson, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Wesson also of Geneva.

The marriage was performed by Rev. Kaiser, the Baptist minister of Titusville, at his home on Aug. 2 at 3:00 o'clock in the presence of the groom's parents.

Mrs. Wesson graduated from Seminole High School and Mr. Wesson served with the Armed Forces during the war. He is employed by the Sanford Atlantic National Bank. They are at present making their home in Geneva.

Debut Scheduled For Princess Margaret

BALMORAL, Scotland, Aug. 20 (AP)—Princess Margaret "comes out" tomorrow on her 17th birthday. The debut of the younger daughter of King George VI and Queen Elizabeth will take place at a family party in Balmoral Castle, where the Royal Family is on vacation.

"Coming out" means for girls like Princess Margaret that she will go to more parties and fulfill more public engagements under organized by other members of the Royal Family.

It also means that Margaret can begin picking a husband if she wants to from the handsome and titled young men who cluster around the Court of St. James's. She hasn't shown any public preference yet.

WENDY BARRIE ARRIVING

Lilli Weber announced today that in a telephone conversation with Wendy Barrie in New York on Monday she said that she and her husband, David S. Meyer, will again be guests in Sanford. They will arrive in October to spend the winter season at the May'air Inn. She stated that they are looking forward to a lot of swimming and golf during their stay here.

When substituting corn syrup for sugar in making cakes and cookies, use only two-thirds of the liquid called for in the recipe.

of the loan agreement through act of Congress.

"Congressional approval would be needed if any major change were made, such as an extension of the loan or a request for easier repayment terms. Repayment is scheduled to start in 1951 and continue for 50 years.

Two technical groups, representing both countries, have been holding conferences here since Monday's opening session. Sunday said the staffs are handling trade matters, including the British proposal for permission to impose by imports from the dominions at the expense of purchases from America, in order to conserve dollars.

The other is concerned with financial matters, including the question of whether England may be excused temporarily from the requirement that pounds be exchanged freely for dollars at the request of countries having favorable trade balances in London.

Since the committees have not finished their work, general meetings between the full delegations were dispensed with yesterday and today, Snyder said. He added:

"They are arriving at areas of decisions, and they report they are making good progress."

He pointed out that at least 250,000 boys and girls in this nation say goodnight every night to no attendant in some institution. At least 110,000 are in homes for the dependent, 40,000 are in correctional homes and 68,000 are in homes for the handicapped, he said. Another group of 125,000 we in foster homes.

This is an army of children growing by leaps and bounds, he declared and pointed out that the present rate of divorce of one out of three marriages continues, by 1966 50 percent of marriages will end in divorce. This will result in increasing the number of children in institutions. He traced the religious background of care for children in homes.

The Florida Methodist Home has been in operation for 40 years, has a 50-acre campus, 14 buildings and a normal enrollment of 140 boys and girls, he revealed. Not only are children given material care, but vocational training also, he said.

Guests introduced by Joel Field were Postmaster Charles L. Begley of Tallahassee, Ga., Frank L. Weed of the Gulf Refining Company, and Frank Sandler of Florida Fashions, Inc.

Feds Drop Tilt To Hats 4-1; Play In DeLand Tonite

Hal Stewart Turns In Victory For Hats; Palatka Azaleas Here Tomorrow

By ARTHUR BECKWITH, JR.
Herald Sports Editor

Sanford's inability to lay down bunts when the signals called for sacrifices cost the Celery Feds a 4 to 1 contest at the hands of the DeLand Red Hats and as the result dropped another game behind the Orlando Senators when they defeated the Daytona Beach Islets, 4 to 0.

The Red Hats play hosts to the Celerymen in a twin affair with the first contest starting at 3:00 o'clock this afternoon and the nightcap beginning at 8:00 o'clock in Conrad Park.

DeLand tallied its first marker in the second when Mario Perez double to right centerfield and was followed by a two ply poke into left center by Ted Madjeski, scoring Perez.

The Feds knotted the count and tallied their only run in the sixth inning. Don Murray opened the frame with his second knock of the tilt and made a clean theft of the keystone sack, followed by a single by Dave Bride, scoring Murray.

Brilliant plays afield kept the scoring at a minimum, Tim Tyler, playing third base for the Feds last night, grabbed a hot line drive from the bat of Mel Sloan, then turned a flip on the ground before coming to a halt. Three fast twin killings by the Hat inner defenses kept the Feds from chalking up more runs.

Manager Bill Steinecke was sent to take an early shower in the bottom of the sixth canto by Umpire Ross Belbeck. Steinecke did not think that Murray was safe on a play at first base, and as the result of the stormy protest was ejected from the contest.

The gates came tumbling down in the top of the tenth when Gene Ciolek blooped a two base hit down the left field line. Madjeski singled, scoring Ciolek and Hal Stewart was safe on a Fed boot. Sloan advanced the two runners and a long single to left field by Knepper sent Madjeski and Stewart across with the final markers.

Manager John Krider stated this morning that he would pitch Van Kinnamon against the Red Hats this afternoon, but was undecided as to whom the hurler will be for the night game.

The Palatka Azaleas invade the Municipal Park here tomorrow night for a single tilt.

Georgian Tops Field Of Leftie Golfers

CHICAGO, Aug. 20, (AP)—A Georgian was tied with two other par equalling linksmen at the head of the field as match play began today in the eighth Annual National Left-handed Golfers' Tournament.

Al Everett of Rome, Ga., a former titlist, turned in a pair of 36's in yesterday's 18-hole qualifying round to enter a three-way tie with Loddie Kempa, Oklahoma A & M football star, who shot a 33-39, and Ted Olsee of Grand Rapids, Mich., who fired a 35-37.

Par for the Cog Hill is 35-37—72.

Another Georgian, Red Sans of Macon, with 37-40—77, was also among the 32 who qualified in yesterday's field of 90. The only other southerner on hand was Jim Dezern of Durham, N. C., who carded a pair of 38's.

Kempa won the medal in a sudden death playoff which went only two holes. Olsee was eliminated on the first and Everett on the second.

Kempa, who plays quarterback for the Oklahoma Aggies and is the Missouri Valley Conference collegiate golf champion, equalled par on each hole.

Truce Between Pro Leagues And Colleges Is Likely This Week

CHICAGO, Aug. 20, (AP)—Representatives of the National Collegiate Athletic Association this week will meet separately with Commissioners Bert Bell of the National Football League and Jonas Ingram of the All-America Conference to "clear the fog" on professional football's approach to collegiate players.

Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, secretary-treasurer of the NCAA and Big Nine commissioner, said NCAA officials would confer with Bell on Thursday and Ingram on Friday.

Last week Bell said he would propose a three-point program to the NCAA to effect "perfect harmony between colleges and pro football."

Bell's main suggestion will be that no player with college eligibility can be signed in his league without consent of affected college officials.

That will be the crux, undoubtedly, of conversations not only between the NCAA folk and the National League, but also with the All-America which caused some eye-brow lifting when the New York Yankees signed Buddy Young, Illinois Negro Halfback, who had collegiate competition remaining with the Rose Bowl Champion Illini.

Wilson said both leagues have constitutional restrictions against signing college players until their classes graduate, but that there seemed to be considerable "elasticity" in interpretation of that rule.

"I suppose there isn't much we can do, except holler, if things don't improve," Wilson said, "but I think the professional group realizes that, as in no other sport, their future stars must come from college ranks and it would do well to keep our good will."

Bell's two other recommendations are that colleges permit their employes and game officials to officiate in the Ntalonal League and that colleges remove "restrictions or discriminations" against a professional football player becoming a college coaching staff member.

Rio Delegates Call Special Meet In 1948

Cuba Demands Joint Hemisphere Action To Protect Economic Independence

QUINTANDINHA, Brazil, Aug. 21, (AP)—Tentative agreement was reached today among a majority of the delegations to the 20-nation Hemisphere Defense Conference to call a special Hemisphere Economic Conference in the second quarter of 1948, delegates disclosed.

QUITANDINHA, Brazil, Aug. 21 (AP)—Cuba formally presented to the Inter-American Defense Conference today a demand for joint hemisphere action to protect what it called "the economic independence" of American states.

Guillermo Belt, Cuban ambassador to Washington and aspirant to his country's presidency, told the committee on aggression that "it is impossible to conceive of political independence unless a state also has economic independence."

Belt asked an immediate vote "to accelerate our labors," but the committee ignored the request and adopted a Chilean motion to adjourn until 9 A. M. EST tomorrow.

The presentation of the Cuban demand came after the apparent failure of a series of "coffee table conferences" arranged by Conference President Raul Fernandes, the Brazilian foreign minister, in an effort to avert an almost certain controversy between the United States and Cuba.

The island republic's stand was against what it called "economic aggression" or "unilateral econ-

Truman May Keep War, Navy Heads In Key Positions

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21, (AP)—President Truman, it was reported today, has decided to keep present War and Navy Department leaders at key posts under the new national defense set up.

High White House officials, asking not to be quoted by name, said that was the President's decision.

Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross would not confirm the reports but did say the President will have an announcement on the new defense organization at a 3:00 P. M. (EST). news conference.

Mr. Truman already has announced that James V Forrestal will take over as secretary of national defense under new legislation putting the War and Navy Departments under a single cabinet officer.

As disclosed by White House officials, this will be the line-up in key posts under Forrestal:

John L. Sullivan, now undersecretary of the Navy, will replace Forrestal as secretary when the latter takes his oath as secretary of defense about Sept. 1.

W. Stuart Symington, now assistant secretary of war for air, will become the country's first secretary of the air force with independent status.

Kenneth Royall will continue as secretary of war, although losing his cabinet status.

All will be given recess appointments, subject to confirmation when the Senate meets again.

Jaycees Report On Booth Funds Drive

Jaycees are still far from the $5,000 goal which they have set for their tourist program and operation of the new Tourist Information Booth, it was today reported to members of the Sanford Junior Chamber of Commerce at their luncheon at the Mayfair Inn. The report was made by Karlyle Housholder.

Two of the members of the club were given prizes for their efforts in recently raising $81 toward the drive. They were Walter Morgan at James Fields.

President J. Bradley Odham urged the members to exert more effort to put the drive across, and stated that the Tourist Program being undertaken by the club was very definitely to the interest of Sanford.

Guests were Ralph Lossing, Robert Luke and James Bowen.

LEGION IS HOPEFUL

Dutch To Resume Indonesia Action If UN Group Fails

Renewed Attack May Lead To Split In Coalition Cabinet

THE HAGUE, Aug. 21 (AP)—A high source said today "there can be no doubt" that Dutch action in Indonesia will be resumed on a large scale "if the Security Council, in its meeting tomorrow, should refrain from ordering the Indonesian Republic to cease their present hostilities by which they violate the council's cease-fire order."

The source did not indicate what the direct objectives of new military action would be, but a drive to Jogjakarta, the Republican capital, has been discussed in both the Netherlands and Indonesia.

Some political leaders expressed belief that resumption of military action might lead to a split in the Catholic-Labor coalition cabinet, possibly followed by formation of a national emergency cabinet. The powerful Catholic Partly openly favors Dutch action on a large scale. The majority of the second

Truman Visits Hull And King In Hospital

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21, (AP)—President Truman went to the Navy Medical Center at Bethesda, Md., today and visited Cordell Hull and Fleet Admiral Ernest J. King who are patients there.

The President took flowers from the White House gardens to the former secretary of state and the wartime chief of naval operations.

He also sent flowers to Mrs. Claude Swanson, widow of a former secretary of the navy and inquired about her health, although it wasn't convenient for him to visit with her at the time.

Hull has been a patient in the Navy hospital for several months. It was announced that he went there for rest.

King entered the hospital last week after suffering a mild stroke. A forenoon hospital report said he rested fairly well last night and that his general condition remains unchanged.

French Agree On Indo-China Policy

PARIS, Aug. 21, (AP) — The French cabinet was reported to have reached complete agreement today on policy toward rebellious Indo-China.

Official comment was scarce, but the ministers were said to have agreed on negotiations High Commissioner Emile Bollaert is to conduct with unspecified Viet-Namese leaders. A previous cabinet meeting rejected Bollaert's proposal to renew talks with President Ho Chi Minh, it was learned.

It was recalled that a spokesman for former Emperor Bao Dai of Annam said in Hong Kong yesterday that negotiations would be started between France and the Bao Dai-controlled "United Front" and not with Ho Chi Minh, who the spokesman said was trying to establish a Soviet administration in Indo-China, a French possession in southeast Asia.

Britain's Credit Dwindles As Loan Debate Continues

Balance After August Withdrawals Will Be $400,000,000

BAGHDAD, Iraq, Aug. 21, (AP)—The Iraq government suspended dollar exchange until further notice at noon today. The measure was believed connected with American-British talks in Washington regarding sterling convertibility.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (AP)—Withdrawals by Great Britain will reduce to $400,000,000 by Aug. 29 the amount of credit remaining from her original $3,750,000,000 loan, U. S. Treasury officials said today.

The loan balance already had been reduced to $850,000,000 when Anglo-American talks began here Monday to consider emergency steps aimed at relieving Britain's current economic crisis.

Only yesterday the British agreed, with United States approval, to suspend temporarily the free exchange of dollars for pounds in trade with other countries. It was learned that this step was necessitated by dollar demands which had risen recently to a rate of $237,000,000 a week from the $3,750,000,000 American credit.

A Treasury official told a reporter that permission for Britain to make withdrawals below the remaining $850,000,000 stemmed from a need for $450,000,000

Initial Test Made By Mikey Browning

Miss Mikey Browning of Sanford, who is the youngest girl pilot in the United States to hold both a glider and power plane pilot's license, has just completed her initial test for a "Silver C" rating by making an altitude of 10,000 feet above sea level at 29 Palms, Calif. She is the daughter of Roy H. Browning, director of the Sanford School of Aviation.

The altitude was obtained in a Pratt Reed sailplane and Miss Browning stayed aloft 2½ hours. She now needs her cross-country and endurance flight to complete her "Silver C." When she obtains this rating she will be one of only two women in the United States with this rating, the other being Mrs. Virginia Bennis of Sanford.

Miss Browning is spending the summer in California with her grandmother, but is expected to return to Sanford in September. She states that she expects her new Scheitzer sailplane, purchased at the National Soaring meet at Wichita Falls, Texas, will be delivered by that time and is very anxious to fly the ship which is supposed to be one of the best of its type.

Soviets Use Veto Power Twice At UN

Proposal For Italian And Austrian Membership Applications Rejected

LAKE SUCCESS, Aug. 21 (AP)—Russia today used the veto twice in rapid succession to block action on the applications of Italy and Austria for membership in the United Nations.

These were the sixth and seventh vetoes cast this week and they ran the Russian string to a total of 18 against majority decisions in the Security Council.

On both Italy and Austria, the vote was not on "immediate" admission, but on Australian proposals to leave the decision up to the General Assembly which meets in New York Sept. 16.

The vote on Austria was 8 to 1, with France and Poland abstaining.

The vote on Italy was 9 to 1, with Poland abstaining.

The session also saw the applications of three other ex-enemy states, Hungary, Bulgaria, and Romania, rejected through failure to receive the required majority of seven affirmative votes, including those of the Big Five.

The United States, in a surprise move, then introduced a resolution to shift the whole question of applications over to the General Assembly.

The U. S. proposal requested the assembly to consider all the rejected applicants and recommended that the 55-member body admit all which it considered qualified.

Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko immediately attacked the U. S. proposal as "senseless."

The council rejected Romania's application 1 to 0, with an abstaining. Only Syria voted for admission.

Bulgaria's application was turn-

Red Cross Sets Up 17 Disaster Units

With the hurricane season at hand, disaster institutes have been set up in 17 Florida Red Cross chapters during August and early September. The Dade County chapter at Miami headed the disaster institute schedule with a two-day meeting July 24-25 and late July institutes were held in St. Petersburg and Tampa. A chapter workers institute is scheduled to take place Sept. 15-19 in Orlando.

U. S. To Negotiate Treaty With Italy

ROME, Aug. 21, (AP)—The United States embassy said today that negotiations would begin early next month for a treaty of "friendship, commerce and navigation" with Italy.

A spokesman said it would be not a commercial accord but a "statement of principles" between the two nations. (The United States announced last week the cancellation of $1,000,000,000 Italian debts).

The spokesman said that as suggested by the United States, the treaty would include the "most favored nation" clause for treatment of nationals and business.

China and Australia already have negotiated similar treaties with the United States, the embassy said, but the prospective pact with Italy was believed to be the first of its kind in Europe since the war.

Ultimatum Given Jewish Refugees Off French Coast

Disembarkation Or German DP Camp Ordered By Britain

LONDON, Aug. 21 (AP)—Britain delivered an ultimatum today to the 4,400 Jewish refugees off France: disembark by tomorrow afternoon or be transported to Germany.

The Jews are aboard three British ships which have been off Marseille for three weeks. They tried to land in Palestine a month ago from the immigrant ship "Exodus 1947."

The Jews will be taken to the Bergen-Belsen displaced persons camp if the ultimatum is ignored, a spokesman for the International Refugee Organization said at Hamburg, in the British zone of Germany.

A Jewish Agency spokesman in Jerusalem called the news shocking. He said disembarking of these refugees at Hamburg would be "a crime against humanity."

The Jews said last night they would go on a hunger strike if they were not permitted to enter the Holy Land. They were placed aboard the three ships off Haifa after a battle with British boarding parties, and returned July 20 to France, where they began their voyage. They have

Drivers Licenses To Go on Sale Sept. 2

Drivers licenses, which must be renewed on or before Oct. 1, will go on sale, Tuesday, Sept. 2 at the office of County Judge R. W. Ware in the Court House.

The holder of a 1947 license will only need to present the old license, either in person or by another for renewal, said Judge Ware.

The holders of a valid out-of-State license must present the valid license they hold, and make application for a Florida license, stating that their license has not been revoked or suspended. They must also affirm that they are still in good physical condition.

If a license is not renewed by Oct. 1, Judge Ware declared, the holder of a valid 1947 license can obtain a 1948 license by paying $1.00 extra, or they can do as has been the rule during the past years, take an examination before the road patrolman, and in that event the extra $1.00 is not charged.

Senator Bilbo Dies In Hospital

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 21 (AP)—Senator Theodore G. Bilbo of Mississippi, master of filibuster and sharp-tongued champion of white supremacy, died here today without ever taking his disputed seat in the 80th Congress.

Death of the 69-year-old Democrat left forever unanswered the question of whether he was entitled to his third term in the Senate, from which he was barred on bipartisan charges of unfitness when Congress convened last January.

The Senator, who underwent one mouth operation for cancer here in August of 1946, returned for another last January and a third in June. He spent two weeks in July receiving treatment in a Vicksburg, Miss., hospital, and on Aug. 7 entered Foundation Hospital here for a complete physical checkup.

He developed a nerve inflammation which partially paralyzed him. Doctors said the inflammation, rather than the cancer, was the principal immediate cause of death.

In a statement, President Herlong declared "The testimony was to the effect that Umpire Lavely's cap was pulled on his head by player Throop of Orlando. Umpire Lavely's testimony was to the effect that if this happened he was not aware of it.

"At any rate it was not in his report. There was no doubt in our mind that this incident did happen, and therefore should have been reported."

There was no testimony as to anyone slugging Umpire Lavely, and Umpire Lavely denied that anyone did slug him. Umpire Cooper, who, working with Lavely, said that if anyone pulled Lavely's cap, he did not see it, but that it could have happened."

MANCHESTER, N. H., Aug. 21, (AP)—U. S. Rep. Chester Merrow (R-NH) today urged President Truman to call a special session of Congress to deal with the tension in Europe and "the Soviet Union's aggressive foreign policy of expansion and ultimate world domination."

A note delivered to Moscow Aug. 14 said that this government "will of necessity hold the Soviet government responsible" for treatment accorded American interests in the port city while it is under Red army rule.

Under a 1945 treaty, Dairen was to be returned to Chinese administration and opened to world trade. Russia, however, has banned from the port all foreign ships, including American naval vessels taking mail and supplies to the U. S. consul general there.

100 Entries Will Compete In Pony Races Labor Day

More than 100 entries from all over Seminole County are expected to compete for prizes totalling more than $500 in value at the Pony Tournament and races which will be held on Labor Day at the east end of Mellonville Park which is being put in good condition for the events, it was announced today by Deputy Sheriff Charles Beck, who is chairman of the program, and by Sheriff Percy Mero.

The deep sand at the east end of the field has been covered with clay and rolled with a tractor furnished by Roy and James Reiter of Longwood. This will provide for racing by eight horses abreast. Along the north side of the field, the narrow path for Tournament riders has also been clayed so that riders can spear the rings with more accuracy. A rope for a barrier to hold back the spectators has been provided by Steve Bennis of the Sanford School of Aviation.

Many exciting races are promised, and there will be a barrel race in which the riders must dismount, crawl through barrels, then remount and ride to the finish. Deputy Beck raised $200 of the prize money from donors, Frank Pavlick, $100, and the County Commission, $100, it was reported.

Russell Reports On Plant Lice Control

Jack Russell, who is engaged in research work for the agricultural chemicals division of the Pennsylvania Salt Manufacturing Company has recently returned from South Georgia and North Florida where he has been working in a project of combatting aphid on tobacco.

These aphids or plant lice cannot be killed with nicotine, he revealed. He has also made several trips during the past month to Greenville, Miss. where attempts are being made to combat aphid and boll-weevils that attack cotton plants.

One chemical that shows promise in the fight against the aphid is Gamma x or benzine hexichloride which was used successfully by celery growers last year he said. This leaves no objectionable residue on top crops but cannot be used on root crops because of its flavor.
