MAITLAND.

ITS REASON FOR BEING

The Lake Maitland section enjoys the distinction of being the earliest of Orange county almost entirely located by orange growers and winter resident residents from the north.

Its ideal location easily tempted the new comer and the charm of that early day has not departed. From the short stop of the cars at the railway station the casual traveler through the state would not guess that but a short distance away in almost any direction there are as fine orange groves and comfortable homes as can be found anywhere in the state. But it is the natural scenery that captivates those who are fortunate enough to while away a little time in and about this truly beautiful spot.

Lake Maitland itself is a superb body of water and, for that matter, there are other lakes about that are really gems of the first water. Delightful drives connect the town with handsome estates and with Winter Park, Altamonte Springs, Sanford, Orlando and elsewhere.

The town is well shaded with magnificent oaks and as the entire section is on the margin of Lake Maitland most of the growth is of a semi-hammock nature, beautiful and rich in character. The Turners, the Heards, the Hills, the Simmons, the Darts, Waterhouse and others were

"HIAWATHA GROVE"

"HIAWATHA GROVE"

PROPERTY OF L. F. DOMERICH

One of the most entrancing spots in all the State of Florida is the beautiful "Hiawatha Grove," the magnificent estate of Mr. L. F. Domerich of New York City, covering hundreds of acres of park and grove, lake and woodland.

Here Nature has certainly done her best, as the splendid examples of rare-wood trees and shrubs demonstrate, and to all that Nature has supplied Mr. Domerich, with the appreciative eye of a connoisseur, has added on every hand artistic groupings of rare palms and plants with an endless variety of most beautiful flowers.

Crowning all there rises amid the towering pines the imposing structure which for a few months is occupied by Mr. Domerich as a winter home. Here he gathers about him on occasions his family and intimate friends and reaps a rich harvest of pleasure for the wealth of time, skill and money he lavishes upon this Eden on Earth.

To attempt an adequate description of this fascinating spot would require the eye of an artist and the tongue of an angel. The camera, truthful though it is, can scarce portray the real beauty of the surroundings. But, without doubt, there is here gathered almost every variety of tropical and sub-tropical tree, shrub and flower, as well as those of the temperate zone. Three immense greenhouses and plant houses

CHURCH OF THE GOOD SHEPHERD

This quaint little church is of historic value not only to Maitland but the entire state of Florida, because here the people for many years went to worship during the early days of this beautiful place, and here on occasions were his ministrations given. The residence occupied by him is just across the way.

GROUP OF PALMS, "HIAWATHA GROVE"

closely identified with the making of the place. Mr. Edward Turner started a general store on the ground floor of the "Hall" in 1879, before the railroad made its appearance. At that time the church services were held in the "Hall," the first churches built being the Methodist and Catholic. The "Hall" was the center for all the social gatherings, people coming as far as Apopka to occasional entertainments.

The railroad brought new conditions, but Maitland has retained all of her early attractiveness and the people there-about are among Orange county's best.

are required to preserve the more delicate specimens, and everywhere are seen those of a more mature or hardier growth.

The pictures herein attempt to show a portion of the mansion and groups of palms, with a beautiful mirror lake, in which grow the most rare and delicate pond lilies of several varieties and hue.

Mr. Domerich has been of great service in the promotion of an Audubon Society for the protection of birds in Florida, and is a patron of the town library and one of its officers.

THE MAITLAND LIBRARY.

This artistic structure stands as a monument to the literary and cultivated tastes of the community and is a central point where the citizens of this town for miles around may congregate.

The intellectual acumen of the residents of a town must be judged from its churches, libraries and schools and for a small community Maitland has its own testimonials to which it points with pride.

THE THREE GRACES

Lakes Faith, Hope and Charity are delightful sheets of water, whose undulating banks and many reflectively hued waters delight the senses, viewed from the property of Mrs. Massey on the hill-side just beyond, where the accompanying picture was taken.

SPOTS OF INTEREST.

"Lover's walk" through the light hammock gap leading out to "Hiawatha Grove" is a beauty spot, with the festooned moss hanging overhead and the ferns lining the margin of the stream and pathway underneath.

"The Oak Drive" at the entrance to the town from Orlando has always been an enjoyable place. No matter how warm the surrounding roads may be, here under the interlaced oaks it is cool and pleasant and a number of beautiful private parks line the way.

The church of the Good Shepherd with the Rectory and Bishop's house speak volumes of the past. The central lake where once the significant sign board warned passers by "Do not molest the alligators" is gradually drying up and sometime will have to be converted into a city park to preserve its beauty. "The Domerich Place" is the greatest and most attractive show place in all this section and many are the visitors who enjoy its beauties.

LAKES FAITH, HOPE AND CHARITY

THE PROMISED TRACTION LINE.

If there is one thing more than another calculated to bring the Maitland section into greater prominence and favor, as well as into closer connection with the outlying world it is the promised Traction Line soon to be built by the Florida Citrus Railway Company. Everything points to actual work soon to commence on this line and the right of way takes in all this section and, as in all localities where trolley or traction lines are inaugurated, this is bound to prove a great developer without in anyway detracting from the comparative seclusion of the winter homes situated back a little from the lines of travel. The people of all this region are looking forward with great hope to the completion of this road not only for the convenience of passenger traffic and the transportation of their fruit but as a real invigorator and developer of the country through which it proposes to pass.

GALLOWAY AND SON, MERCHANTS.

Maitland does not profess to be a great business center, but there are several merchandising establishments and among them that of Messrs. Galloway and Sons. It is the only store we were privileged to photograph, and occupies a prominent location on the main road fronting the Atlantic Coast Line railroad. The Galloways are comfortably situated and are an essential feature in the business life of Maitland.

MRS. E. MASSEY'S RESIDENCE.

INDUSTRIES.

Essentially a residence section and largely a winter resort, the industrial feature has perhaps taken second place in Maitland.

The residents have mostly been persons of means who do not depend upon anything grown or produced in the neighborhood.

Thus far, there has been no market gardening but the fruit industry ranks high. Oranges and fruit are staple crops, unfailing and high class. There are many fine groves within and about the town limits. The shores of Lake Maitland particularly contain several extensive groves while the other lakesides add largely to the output.

Grapes have been and are still grown extensively. Some of the finest table grapes in the state are raised hereabout and so adapted is this immediate section to grape growing that there is no doubt but if attention were turned to that industry good prices could be obtained in northern markets. As it is, the home markets consume the product at 10 cents per quart.

Experiments have been made with several nut growing trees and with olives, the former a success but not so with the latter.

"THE SANDSPUR GROVE"

OWNED BY WALTER DRENNEN

On the shores of Lakes Faith, Hope and Charity there is one of the largest orange groves in this section. Known far and wide as "The Sandspur Grove," and once the pride of the late Dr. Henkel, who sold it a year or more ago to Mr. Walter Drennen, it covers all together 205 acres, 145 acres of which are in large bearing trees.

It is simply bewildering to attempt to traverse this large area of trees, laden with the golden fruit. Here are 5,000 orange trees, 3,000 grapefruit and 500 tangerine trees. The ground being flat, there is no way to give an adequate photographic idea of the property. The long photograph above gives a bird's-eye view of about half of the length of the groves, viewed from a distance, embracing an angle of 140 degrees, whereas the average photograph takes in but 75 degrees.

The smaller photograph, herein, gives a very good idea of the beautiful entrance through the property between the rows of bearing trees.

This grove has seen some prosperous days in the past, but under the capable and intelligent management of Mr. Drennen, the present proprietor, it bids fair to surpass in the future the record of other years.

THE SHORE OF MAITLAND

What is the future? Maitland has had a past. General Grant, on his Florida trip, said that Maitland was the most beautiful spot he had seen. Its beauty has not vanished. It is still an ideal spot. It is not made enough of. Its citizens are quite content and happy.

But in truth, there is here one of the greatest opportunities for a fine down-to-date tourist hotel, with a manager who has some conception of the possibilities of the place, a spirit of modern advancement about him and the capacity for taking care of people.

Think of what such a place would be on some point on Lake Maitland, where the scenery is at its best and where the broad lake would stretch before one with plenty of opportunity for the pastime of boating, etc.

If some capitalist could be encouraged to go into this there would be a great stir in old Maitland and whereas a few hundred persons enjoy the beauty of the place during the winter, thousands of happy folks would throng her streets.

H. A. BRIENING'S HOME.

United States Mail Carriers are constantly on the go but they must have a home somewhere. Mr. H. A. Briening elected to make a home in this place and has a comfortable house in a cool location on the public road, well suited to his business.

C. B. THURSTON'S WINTER HOME.

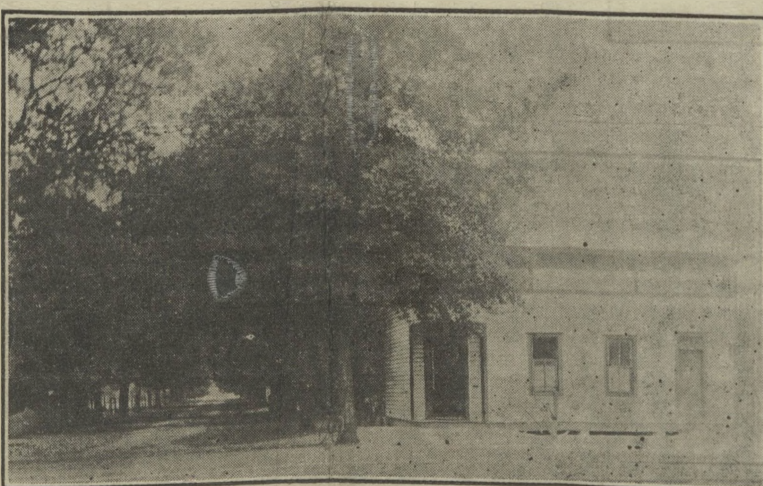

RESIDENCE OF MISSES DART.

Misses Emma and Mary Dart own a beautiful residence in Maitland, and for years the family has been closely identified with the social and intellectual interests of the place. The ladies have been among the state's ablest and most honored educators, having had charge of some of the most important schools in Orange and other counties. For several years they superintended the Apopka schools, and in relinquishing the work this year for a period of rest, the schools of the county are losers.

The Misses Dart are spending the summer in Canada and we understand their home in Maitland is for sale.

H. A. BRIENING'S HOME.

POSTOFFICE.

The Postmaster at Maitland has gone to considerable more trouble and expense than usual in a small community to provide a neat and convenient building for postoffice purposes. The office is located on the corner of the principal streets, well shaded by immense oaks, and presents an inviting appearance. Postmaster Harris Doyle is a stirring man for the place.

MRS. MASSEY'S RESIDENCE

Situated high up on a slightly knoll fronted by Lakes Faith, Hope and Charity, and a lake in the rear, is the large and beautiful residence of Mrs. E. M. Massey, who bought the place a few years ago and has greatly improved the house and surroundings.

Commanding a view in every direction, and on the main road between Orlando and Sanford, it is a noted land-mark to all who pass that way.

One is fortunate indeed if he may sit upon the broad verandas enjoying the magnificent view and the invigorating air that the elevation commands, and if he can get a glimpse of "The Three Graces" from the third floor window he will be doubly thankful for an opportunity to rise above the ordinary flats of Florida.

MRS. E. TURNER'S PROPERTY.

MAJ. J. S. SIMMONS' HOME.

For thirty-five years Major J. S. Simmons has called Maitland his home. Being himself now seventy-five years of age he has lived to see the place and surroundings grow from almost nothing to one of the most fruitful and beautiful localities in Florida. The Major has devoted all this time to orange growing and business and is about the best known man in all this section.

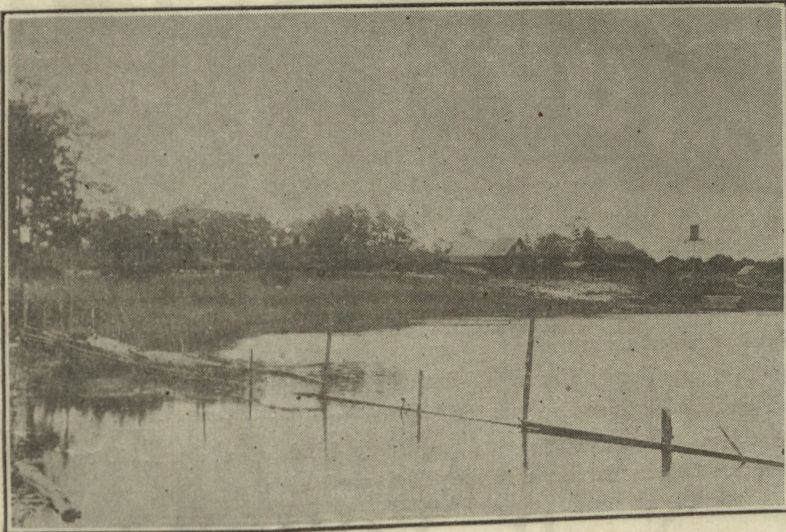

PINEYCROFT.

Mr. John McCollough recently built his fine modern residence, overlooking Lake Maitland, coming from Minneapolis. He has a large estate here covering about 185 acres, 25 acres of which are in orange groves. This is one of the most beautiful locations on the lake.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

A. A. STONE'S PLACE.

MRS. TURNER'S PROPERTY.

The name of Turner is a familiar one in the history of Maitland.

The late Mr. Turner came to the place thirty-odd years ago, and opened one of the first stores for the sale of general merchandise, which business he followed for years.

The Turner residence is very near the station on one of the most beautiful streets. The house stands in a five-acre lot, pleasantly back from the street, allowing ample space for the ornamental trees and shrubs which makes this place so attractive.

An orange grove of 300 trees surrounds the house on three sides, and a little woody land at the back is left to nature. Mrs. Turner owns various other properties in Maitland.

POINSETTA PLACE.

Mrs. L. P. Bronson comes from Marquette, Mich., every winter and remains until late summer at her attractive home, Poinsetta Place, being one of several fine winter homes fronting one of the handsomely shaded streets of the town.

This is one of Maitland's beauty spots; the shrub, flowers and rare trees surrounding the house lending great beauty and charm.

THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

The Presbyterian Church of Maitland was organized in 1883 and has been a factor of importance in this religious community.

The present elders are Major J. S. Simmons and G. E. Hudson and the deacons, Wm. Pringle and J. H. Bear.

G. E. HUDSON'S PLACE.

Mr. G. E. Hudson, who lives on Lake Eula, came from Mississippi to Maitland about thirty years ago. He has large orange growing interests on Lakes Eula and Faith, ten acres of bearing trees and a like number coming in. His groves are irrigated by improved methods. He is a chicken fancier, having several valuable strains.

Also he takes pride in raising a fine breed of hogs. Both are represented in the picture made in front of his house on the lake side.

A. A. STONE'S ORANGE GROVE.

A. A. Stone and son are the owners of a fine twenty-five-acre grove comprising almost every known variety of citrus fruit. They have made a specialty of King and Tangerine varieties in the thin skin oranges and Pineapple in the regular fruit. They are also specialists in fine grapefruit, nearly all the trees in their grove being budded to the very finest. They were among the first orange growers in the county to have a large show of bearing trees succeeding the great freeze.

Mr. Stone has been in Florida for the past twenty-eight years and is located near to Lakes Faith, Hope and Charity, a very choice location. There are two comfortable two-story houses on the place, a large barn, an irrigating plant, and almost every variety of fruit, besides grapes, pecans, etc.

The Messrs. Stone are well known men of character and stability.

"CHADBOURNE HALL."

Chadbourne Hall is a beautiful place located on a slightly knoll on Lake Catherine. E. P. Boynton and family have been coming to this pleasant wintering spot from their Boston home for the past twenty years and it holds out as many delightful charms now as ever.

A GREAT OPPORTUNITY.

The Turner property is for sale as Mrs. Turner does not wish to care for so much.

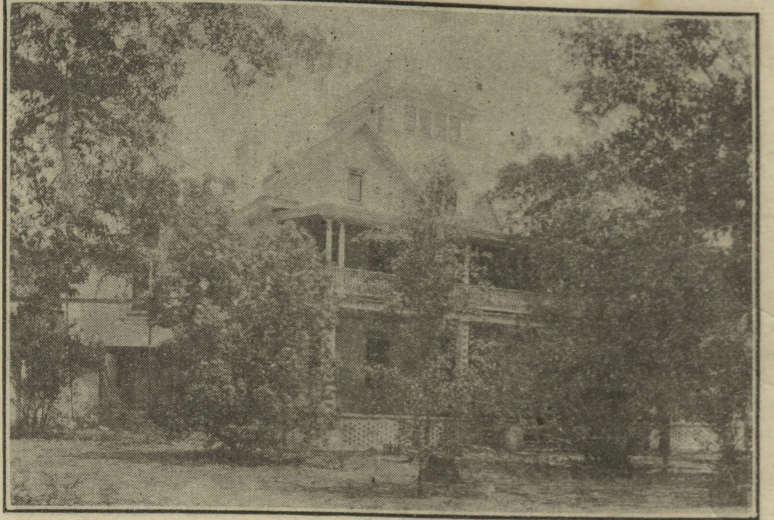

The home place contains five acres and includes the house as pictured in another column. Grove of 300 trees, barn, large two story store and a market-house. A small piece of wild land borders the grove.

Another five-acre lot set with 300 orange, grapefruit and tangerine trees and which contains a small cottage will be sold on easy terms.

Write to or call on Mrs. E. Turner, Maitland, Fla.

POINSETTA PLACE.

S. B. HILL'S HOME.

Mr. S. B. Hill graduated from the East Florida Seminary, attended Vanderbilt University and fitted himself for the law and was admitted to practice but preferred to follow orange growing and merchandising. He has something like 18 acres in orange groves and conducts a large general store.

His new residence is a handsome structure and a pleasant home for his wife and family of three daughters and one son.

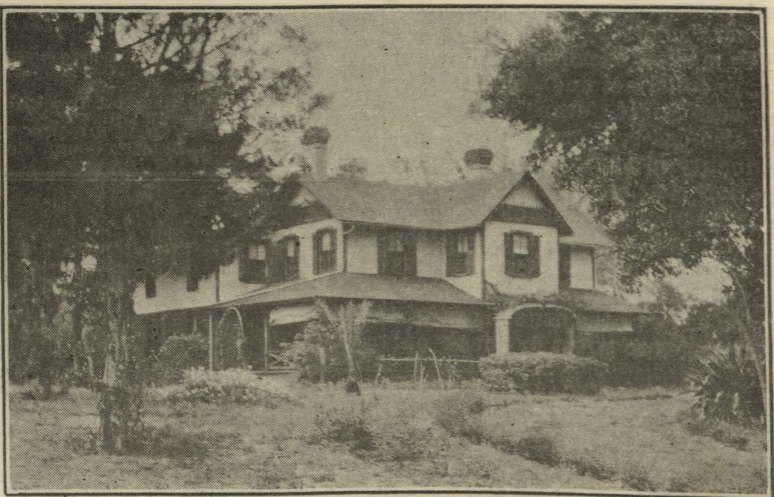

THE ELY WINTER HOME.

The Misses Mary and Clara M. Ely have a delightful grove and residence on the hillside at the entrance to the town. Mr. E. M. Ely was a constant winter resident until his death two years ago, since which time the ladies occupy the place each winter.

OUR SPECIAL ILLUSTRATED NUMBER FIVE.

So far as The Citizen is concerned, it has been a "good old summer time," sure enough. When an editor undertakes to get up a series of articles covering the county, and does his own photographing and everything pertaining to the job, he is plumb sure to have a good hot old time of it.

But every time we hand out one of our "extras" we feel the game is worth the candle and that notwithstanding the trouble and the cost, we have put on record a good work.

Thus far we have illustrated Winter Garden, Oakland, Apopka, Lake Sue, and now we take pleasure in producing Maitland.

Our next venture will be Zellwood and that great Lake Apopka region recently acquired by the Florida Orange and Truck Farms Company and now being opened for settlement.

Following that will be the most complete of the whole series, a magnificent picture gallery of beautiful Winter Park.

We have also under way several Orlando sections, which are so far along that it is only a matter of getting the work out, but we feel that there is plenty of time between now and winter to perspire over the job.

CONVICT LEASE.

Anybody who doubts the wisdom of abolishing State Convict Lease and turning the convicts into state road builders, should study the situation in Georgia, says the Tampa Tribune, quoting the Atlanta Constitution.

It is shown that there are now 111 counties working convicts on the public roads and that since the abolition of the lease system in 1909 the death rate among the convicts has decreased appreciably.

Claude L'Engles' Dixie is trying to break the heads of both the Times-Union and Metropolis in suggesting that Colliers show 'em up. Behold how delightfully these brethren love each other, but then; Claude would raise a row in the place that burns and would raise h—l in heaven.

LIVE AND LET LIVE.

Orlando has as much of the spirit of "Live and let live" as any other city of its size. Perhaps the new blood constantly being infused into it does not permit the old blood to become envious and hateful.

True, there may be a poor, narrow individual, here and there, who would rather kill the chance of his neighbor's securing a share of life than in any way add to it. But for the most part, Orlando is free from factions, whose business it might be to destroy the chance of another, add as a rule its business men are generous and fair-minded to each other.

We have always held to the idea that unless provoked by the evident hostility of another, it were better for one's business to attend strictly to paddling his own little canoe, rather than try to run across another's course.

The man who cannot strike cut on a line distinct and successfully, deserves defeat, even though he may also deserve one's pity. Individuality in any line and a determination to hand out the best goods, the best product of the hand or brain, is bound to tell, and the man or the firm who does this has no room in his life for petty jealousy or envy of the little his neighbor manages to wrest or sneak out of life.

A man may compete without the cultivation of a rancorous spirit toward his competitor, and there is such a thing as living at one's level best and yet letting the other fellow live.

As we have said, Orlando is mostly made up of this sort of people and we believe that this generous spirit has gone far to make for its success as a whole.

We would not have it said of us, as we have heard of others: "That town is all made up of factions and cliques, constantly at war with each other."

Good Lord, deliver us!

Orlando Citizen: A letter from Cromwell Gibbons, of Jacksonville, informs us of his candidacy for governor. The letter is on file and we are waiting until the lists are full. The Citizen will be for a strictly anti-convict lease man and will work to that end, as other papers in state will do.

Now YOU'RE TALKING.—Tampa Tribune.

That short sentence sounds good to us. Not that we are so much pleased with our talk, but that the Tribune sounds out loud enough to be heard. Gibbons may be all right, Trammell may be the man, Angle may do, some other may be better. We don't care where he hails from, so he is a good man and stands flat footed against convict lease. We're tired of platitudes from "Three Wise Monkeys."

C. R. Carter will get $1,800 reward if he can convict anyone of the three young men, Peel or the two Lloyds who have been arrested for the burning of C. F. Grannis barn and horses last Spring. L. B. Lloyd has made a confession acknowledging that he applied the match which did the work. I will be fortunate for the other young men if this lets them out. The guilty party will doubtless suffer severely, as he deserves to, since it was one of the most dastardly criminal acts anyone could be guilty of.

ORLANDO.

It has left an impression as of a remarkably vivid scenic moving picture creation; clean streets; gleaming buildings embowered in profusion of thick shade; gardens of palms and flowers; orange groves, amid the dark green foliage of which flamed here and there surviving bits of golden fruit; symmetrical lakes (fourteen within the limits of the town) of clear, placid water which added doubly to the surrounding beauty, as every object on the circling shore was mirrored in the tranquil sea; roads of clay and sand and macadam, bending to fit the curve of a shore or winding to thread the tangle of virgin woods festooned with moss; and autos, autos to suit the luring highways. For the size of the town (Orlando has a population of nearly eight thousand) it is said that there are more automobiles here than in any other place in Florida. The people were cordial, hospitable, well-to-do, and resourceful in the entertainment of their Conference guests.—Editor Epworth Era.

Cotton Growing.

A great deal of interest is awakened in the question as to whether cotton can be made a staple crop in Florida and by the efforts of the Board of Trade of Orlando a meeting was arranged for in Apopka for the 26th of this month. The day will be one of interest both as a visit to the town of Apopka and in viewing the large acreage of cotton growing there this year. Those who have seen it speak in glowing terms of the success so far and the possibilities of it for the farmer in connection with other things. The man who puts all his eggs in one basket makes a mistake. The farmer of today, and especially the Florida farmer, should raise a variety of crops, then if one fails, some of the others will furnish him his living.

Cotton raising is no new thing for Orange county nor for the Park. Along in 1880 to 1890 there were acres of it raised about here and a cotton gin was built between the Park and Orlando. It is said by those who saw the cotton growing, that the product of an acre was equal to that of Georgia and the quality as good if not better. Men who have made a careful estimate say that the net income from an acre of cotton will be between $40 and $60, the gross not being over from $50 to $75. This is probably a conservative estimate and there are possible conditions of soil and location which would increase this net income. It is easy to count chickens before they are hatched, but any man with ten acres of cotton, five acres of an orange and grapefruit grove and a good garden spot for his house supplies, can easily count on an income of from $1,000 to $1,500 per year net. This means that a man must hustle, watch every opportunity both in growing, harvesting and marketing his product. We are hoping that many of the farmers and citizens of the Park will attend the Apopka meeting, see the cotton growing, hear what is to be said and enjoy the barbecue provided.

Mr. M. M. Smith spent last Friday night in Oviedo, with Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Moore. Mr. Smith has large business interests in and about Oviedo and still larger interests in the eastern part of the county bordering on the Econlockhatchie and St. Johns rivers.

Few men in this world come to the time in life when they feel like laying down the more active duties with as fine a record as that of Dr. Thomas Rakestraw Baker, who has closed his work with Rollins and left the Park for Chicago. Twenty years of conscientious service at Rollins has given Dr. Baker a reputation second to none. Hundreds of students who have passed under his instruction and in touch with his noble character, have cause to be thankful for that opportunity. As a citizen in Winter Park Dr. Baker has fully supported all the best interests and leaves with every one a friend. We regret his leaving but memory will always hold him dear and a hearty welcome will be his whenever he returns. He will for the present make his home with his son, Norman Lockyer Baker, who is a civil engineer in Chicago and his address will be 212 West 51st Ave, Chicago, Ill.

Argument waxed warm in the Park one evening last week when the tariff and other questions were under discussion. The neighbors rolled over in bed to listen and some of them went to take part in the fray. One wanted tariff for revenue only but wanted Florida oranges and other fruit protected by a special tax against Cuban and Portorican fruit, another didn't want a tariff and if Florida fruit was knocked out would go to raising peanuts, and so it went on until it developed that all of them wanted a fair tariff and none of them would be without a tariff of some kind. Well it was grand to listen to the coming orators whose voices rose on the evening air. The best of it was that all was serene and pleasant all through, and at its close every one agreed excepting the other fellow and all went to bed happy, each one thinking they had scored a victory. Now we submit that this is a fair summary of tariff discussions all over the country. Meanwhile the tariff question is settling itself through the better judgment of both parties for there is a modicum of common sense left in the country to save the day.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hale are made happy by the advent of another voter on the Winter Park list. He is hale and hearty and congratulations are in order.

Mrs. C. D. Powell returned last Friday evening from her visit in Coleman and vicinity among old friends. Mr. Powell went over with her but returned home early in the week.

Mrs. Sarah A. Burke is spending a week at Coronada Beach, enjoying the ocean breezes and trying salt water bathing. There is nothing like it to put the roses on ones cheeks, without it is a good snow ball well rubbed in.

The large piece of ground on Livingston avenue has been mowed and raked and the pine straw used to repair the road on the avenue. This ground belongs to Metcalf Bros., of Chicago, and it is their intention to build upon it some day soon. It will make a good building spot as it looks out over Lake Virginia on the south.

Mr. L. H. Roberts left early Wednesday morning last, on the midnight train for Stony Brook, N. Y. His sons and Miss Margaret Dunham went with him. Miss Dunham going to her home in Basking Ridge, N. J. Mr. Roberts will spend a couple of months with his mother, who has a fine home on the Long Island shore, and return to the Park about the time of college opening.

It is not generally known that Hon. Henry S. Chubb was highly honored at the time of President and Mrs. William H. Taft's silver wedding by an invitation. This invitation Mr. Chubb is to have framed so that it can be handed down to his children's children. Leland Jr., is sure to get it in time to show to his little folks. This notice of one of our valued Park citizens is appreciated and we congratulate him upon the possession of such an invitation.

We notice an account of the passing of Mrs. J. C. Stineman, in last weeks issue, at South Fork, Pa., where they have a beautiful country home. Mr. and Mrs. Stineman were in the Park in May, the day they were to start for the north and friends here will be sorry to learn this sad news. The Stineman home at the "Ripples," on the east road to Orlando is one of the most delightful Villas in the Park. Our hearty sympathy goes out to Mr. Stineman and the remaining members of the family.

F. W. Shepherd has looped the loop and returned to the Park. Mrs. Shepherd is with her mother in Virginia and will stay several weeks longer. Mr. Shepherd attended several sessions of the National Convention of the Christian Endeavor Society at Atlantic City. The Convention was held in a large auditorium on the million dollar pier, a delightful place for such a gathering during the heated spell of that week. He estimates that there were about four thousand in attendance the evening he was there. Mr. Shepherd holds important positions in the city, being a member of the City Council and President of the Winter Park Fruit Co.

Among the many changes in the Park, in the way of improvement, during the past year, is the clearing of the property owned by Mr. C. H. Morse, on Lake Osceola, at the northern end of Puloiver Circle. It is a revelation to many who did not appreciate the beauty of the site. All the scrub, pine stumps and general debris, has been removed and it is today one of the most inviting spots on any of our lakes. This is another evidence of the interest which Mr. Morse is taking in our town improvement and adornment. The triangular piece directly across from this property between Pulsifer Circle and Webster avenue, Mr. Morse has given to the city for one of its parks. This triangle Mr. Morse is having fenced and when Webster avenue is clayed as it is expected will be done, it will all add to the attraction of this portion of Winter Park.

Winter Park Fruit Co.

Another orange packing season will soon be with us and we call especial attention to the arrangements made for it in the Park. They are about ideal and should be thoroughly appreciated by every grower in this vicinity. There will be no change in the methods of sorting, packing and shipping at the Winter Park Fruit Company Packing House, but every effort will be made to maintain the reputation gained during the past two years when the house and business was operated and conducted by the Wilcardo Fruit Co. The fruit from the Association connected with the Florida Citrus Exchange will be packed by the Winter Park Fruit Co., and fruit from independent groves will be received and packed with the same care.

We are informed that anyone who desires to have an independent pack can ship under their own brand if they desire to do so. The company have secured the services of Mr. Harold Bourne as Manager, and this will insure good work as Mr. Bourne has been associated with the packing house since it was built and is familiar with all the details of the business. He has shown himself a capable manager, always watchful of the individual growers interest as well as those of the company. With Commodore G. L. Dyer as president and Mr. Bourne as General Manager of the Winter Park Fruit Co., there will surely be every reason for confidence in the company.

The Winter Park Fruit Growers Association, Mr. F. W. Shepherd President, has decided to pool all their interests for the coming season is well received and will largely increase the membership. We printed a copy of the notice sent out by the Manager telling of the decision to pool and stating that there would be three pools, the first for early December fruit, December 10th, second from December 11th to February 10th, and third from February 11th to close of season. Anyone acquainted with the run of the markets the past seasons will see the fairness of this arrangement. It is a mutual insurance as to the price to be received and a guarantee of equal sharing in the prices obtained. We feel sure that if this is understood by the growers of Winter Park and vicinity, there will be no hesitation in joining the Association, and so becoming members of the Florida Citrus Exchange.

We would call especial attention to the article in last weeks issue, written by Commodore G. L. Dyer, headed "Winter Park Fruit Growers Association." Some things said should be repeated and studied carefully.

He says: "As soon as the California Citrus Exchange got on its feet, citrus property in that state began to take on standard values, and could be sold at a price based on its actual productivity. Here the value of citrus bearing property is capricious and will continue to be until the Exchange contracts a majority of the fruit in the state."

One of the valuable assets to Florida is its Citrus Fruit bearing groves. Anything which will give them stability and fix a firm basis of values is worth considering. This we believe the Florida Citrus Exchange can and will do. We note that Commodore Dyer added, "It is evident from the sales taking place all over the state, that this desired condition is arriving and it is due, so far, to the success of the Exchange. It will come more rapidly when pooling is general."

A letter from Mr. F. W. Howard, Belding Mich., reports that Miss Mabel and her mother, who have spent two winters in the Park, have been well since they went north, but the severe heat and sudden change has brought Miss Mabel "somewhat under the weather at the present time." They are kindly remembered by friends in the Park, who expect to see them again another winter.

An item of news which will be of interest to every citizen of the Park was received last Friday. Mr. C. H. Morse of Winter Park, and Mrs. Helen Piffard were married in New Haven, at the home of the brides sister, Mrs. W. W. Farnum, at noon that day. The marriage was a quiet one, only members of the two families being invited. Mr. and Mrs. Morse are now on the Ocean, on the Steamer Olympic, and will spend three months abroad. Many in the Park became acquainted with Mrs. Morse who was here for several months last winter as Mrs. Piffard and all wish them bon-voyage, a pleasant trip on the continent and safe return to home and country. Mrs. Morse is a cousin of Mrs. G. L. Dyer, which adds to the interest. Heartiest congratulations are extended to them both.

APOPKA

BY MISS MARGARET SHEPHERD.

J. Roy Geiger spent part of last week in Kissimmee.

J. LeRoy Geiger preached at the Baptist church last Sunday morning.

Shelton Hiers was in town last week visiting his mother, Mrs. M. E. Hiers.

William Beecher returned Sunday from a visit to his home in South Carolina.

Miss Bettie Kittel, of this place, and Mrs. H. Meislohn, of Clarcona, left Wednesday for St. Louis, Mo., to visit relatives.

And still they go. Miss Minnie Franklin and Mrs. Cunningham left last Wednesday for Marion, N. C. They will not be home before October.

Mrs. W. T. Wilson left Saturday for the mountains of North Carolina. She will join her daughter, Mrs. T. C. Remley, and rest and recuperate from a strenuous winter.

Dr. C. T. Douglass, pastor of the Apopka Baptist church, was married to Miss Elizabeth Rose, on last Sunday evening, July 16th, at Orlando, Fla., Dr. Chapman of the Methodist church, performing the ceremony.

Miss Ruth Merrill left recently for Boston, Mass., where she will visit her brother, Chester. After that she will visit at Lowell, Mass., and various points in New Hampshire. Miss Merrill was accompanied by her grandmother, Mrs. Roberts.

Mr. Albert Hopkins recently purchased from Mr. F. H. Davis the property adjoining Mr. Davis' home. Mr. Hopkins expects to make extensive improvements on the house and place; plastering the house and will build an addition and put in running water. This will greatly enhance the value and beauty of the place. It also assures Apopka that Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins will make this their permanent winter home of which we are very glad.

The Apopka Literary Club met at the Wayside Inn on last Friday evening. Mrs. Browning and James Whitcomb Riley were the authors of the readings, and the club made up the interesting program. After that a social time was enjoyed. A most enjoyable evening was had. The club thoroughly enjoyed the hospitality of the Wayside Inn. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. H. H. Witherington on Friday evening, July 28.

Mrs. Douglass has been for many years a teacher in the Apopka High School and is known and loved for her many lovely traits of character. Dr. Douglass came to us from Pasadena, Cal., where he was for a long time pastor of the First Baptist church, also for quite a while being Secretary of Missions of Southern California and part of Arizona. He came to Florida some three years ago in search of a milder climate. He was successful in finding health and a gracious helpmate as well. May they find the years full of happiness is the wish of their friends.

Miss Hope Starbuck has been visiting in DeLand.

Hon. J. H. Lee gave us one of his interesting visits Friday morning.

Miss Willie Smith, daughter of Alderman William returned last week from the Peabody Academy of Music, Baltimore.

Alderman M. O. Overstreet returned from a visit to New York and other northern cities Wednesday, glad to get back to the land of breezes.

W. D. Yowell, Arthur and Henry Yowell made up a fishing party to the Butler region and attempted to deplete the lakes of fish, but there were too many of the finny tribe.

Miss Kate Dawson, who has been spending the best part of two weeks in the city, returned to Tampa Saturday. Her many friends were delighted with her visit and regretted to have her leave.

A pleasant party composed of E. H. Gore and wife, J. R. Davis and wife, A. D. Cornell, wife and daughter, Mrs. A. E. Bennet and family, Mrs. B. Perry and daughter, Mrs. M. A. Davis and Miss Marie Seaggs picniced at Ivanhoe Park Wednesday and had an enjoyable time.

The Best Suburban Proposition

Entirely New and Attractive Plan

Finest Location. Best Land. On South City Line. Sight of Court House. Modern Water Works System. Public Ownership of Plant. Streets Now Opened Up. Five Acre Tracts for Sale. Ideal for Small Farms. Great for Fruit Growers. Elegant for Business Men. For Clerk, Carpenters, Painters, Workmen.

Orlando Irrigated Farms Company.

The above Company has secured 600 acres of the very finest farm and fruit lands adjacent to Orlando and has cleared out streets north and south, east and west and sub-divided this vast tract into five acre farms at prices ranging from $100 to $200 per acre, according to location.

A $12,000 water plant has been contracted for with a double set of engines and pumps and an ample capacity elevated tank, sufficient to supply a maximum of 600 gallons per minute. An inexhaustible supply of pure, soft water is at hand and will be piped from the pumping station to all the streets in the tract in eight inch pipes, when it may be extended any where on the tract. Thus, each purchaser of a five acre farm becomes a part owner in the water plant, which will be turned over to the people on the tract as soon as a sufficient number of places have been sold; meanwhile it will be operated by the company under a guarantee.

The chief advantages are: Plenty of room; Reasonable prices; Pure soft water; Irrigation; On public roads; On City line; But no City taxes; Best of soil; No waste land.

For business men, clerks and workmen this opens up a most attractive opportunity for a fine home place near to the city and with every possible convenience, where one can place improvements on his own home at odd times and gradually make of it what he wills. While this fine proposition is open to all people, at home or abroad, it is confidently expected that home people will be ready investors.

See This Splendid Tract. Note That It Has been Tried Out. The Finest Orange Grove is Upon It and For Thirty Years a Portion of it Has Been Successfully Farmed.

Ideal Fertilizers Best

To gain a place on our regular lists a formula must not only produce results, but results with a PROFIT. The user of fertilizer considers the effect on his pocketbook the REAL result.

IDEAL FERTILIZER produces the right effect, for it works with nature. The preference of each class of vegetables for its source of plant food is carefully studied as well as the proper proportions to give perfect balance—no lack, no waste.

With proper applications of proper food, vegetation outgrows diseases and insects to a great extent, and being strong and vigorous, produces fruit that is pleasing to the grower.

Do not lose the maximum profit due you by using poorly balanced plant food from improper sources.

IDEAL stands for profit.
