C. of C. Officers Are Elected

Retiring President Makes Stirring Address

Charles D. Horner, president; L. L. Coudert, vice-president; Arthur B. Rowland, secretary-treasurer; H. E. Angell and C. N. Beecher, members of executive board, were unanimously elected for the coming year at the annual meeting of the Maitland Chamber of Commerce held Thursday evening at the White Way restaurant. The nominating committee further recommended that the present secretary, Mrs. C. N. Beecher, be made executive secretary.

L. L. Coudert, retiring president, in his farewell speech, stressed the fact that the coming year will be a vital one in the history of Florida and each community in the state, when it is essential to our present existence as well as our future development that we hold what we have got, do the things that we have promised, dig in and help the other fellow and our town, for the town must grow before the individual business enterprise can develop. This is no time to lie down on the job, but it is a man's opportunity to show what he can do. Any one could make money last year, no brains were needed. During the coming year Florida will be closely watched in the north where there are thousands who look with envy upon their neighbors who have come down here to make their homes and are deterred from following only because they have no certainty of getting work.

"All must get behind our new officers," was Mr. Coudert's parting word, "and those who worked to full extent of their ability last year must work doubly hard this."

Mr. Coudert's speech was received with great enthusiasm by the members and Mr. Bennett moved a rising vote of thanks to the retiring officers for their earnest and successful year's work.

It was decided to have a reception for the retiring and incoming officers and the suggestion was made that this be an outdoor affair.

Emphasis was laid by President Coudert and J. H. Hill on the obligation to support home industries, and the point was made that when funds are needed for local enterprises, it is not the Winter Park and Orlando merchants or the mail order houses who are expected to support town activities but the local merchants, while the residents of the town go shopping through the neighboring cities for articles which in many instances they could get just as well at home.

Reports were given by various committees and the secretary read the report of the year's work, which is printed in full elsewhere.

Mrs. William B. Rodenbaugh of Pelham, New York, arrived in Maitland Sunday night to make an extended visit to her daughter, Mrs. Arthur B. Rowland.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Haldeman and Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Haldeman and baby moved last week into their new home in Maitland Avenue in the south end of town.

Valentine Party at Sanlando

Nearly a hundred people enjoyed the Valentine party given by the Maitland Chamber of Commerce Tuesday evening at the Sanlando Club House. The attractive surroundings and spacious rooms makes this an ideal place for an entertainment and thanks to the courtesy of the management in letting the Maitland Chamber share these privileges it was possible to get up a more ambitious party than has ever been attempted before.

In addition to cards there was dancing for the young people with music furnished by a three piece orchestra of which Mrs. Paul Rogers of Maitland is a member. The ball room was cleared for dancing, but there was plenty of room for the card tables in the card room and on the porches, which, due to the mildness of the evening were very popular.

The rooms were prettily decorated with paper hearts, and the prizes were heart shaped boxes of nuts. The Misses Georgianna Hill and Alice and Helen Waterhouse were in charge of the decorations and entertainment.

Refreshments of ice cream, heart shaped cakes and coffee were served, and souvenir boxes of Foss' chocolates donated by the Winter Park Pharmacy were presented to every guest.

WINTER RESIDENT ENTHUSIASTIC OVER MAITLAND

"It is only a question of a little time before conditions will be back to normal and business will be going ahead as usual," is the opinion of Lewis T. Wilcox, who recently arrived in Maitland to spend the next two months in his cottage on Lily Lake.

Mr. Wilcox expressed himself as delighted with the improvements which had taken place during the past year and feels that the town and business enterprises, while cutting down all unnecessary expense should continue normal and necessary improvements so that they may be ready to benefit when business conditions improve. Mr. Wilcox declared that he was more delighted with this town and section than ever before and agreed that it will not be long before Orlando builds to the Seminole County line.

The greatest need in Maitland, in Mr. Wilcox's opinion are adequate recreational facilities, so that business men from the north who come down here for a few weeks enjoyment may have something to do other than to sit on the porch in the sunshine. A vigorous man in the prime of life wants a change in activities not passivity during his vacation.

Mr. Wilcox is a good judge of the needs of the business man, as he has had many years experience as the head of large manufacturing enterprises specializing in stoves and stove sundries. The factories controlled by Mr. Wilcox, which supply the different parts needed in his business extend from Connecticut to Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilcox were winter visitors in Maitland many years ago and two years ago they returned and bought property on Lily Lake, where they make their winter home.

C. of C. Wants Fruit and Flowers

A plea was made at the last meeting of the Chamber of Commerce for those who have flowers to get in touch with the secretary so that there may be a bunch of fresh flowers in the Maitland booth at the County Fair.

The secretary also would like to have those who have fruit which they are willing to donate for the Chamber of Commerce free fruit to notify them as to how much and what varieties they have and when it will be available. It is hard to keep a supply on hand all the time and the secretary does not want to annoy those whose fruit is all gone by calling them up. If a list of available fruit is on file it will be much easier to keep a fresh supply at the booth.

This giving away of fruit is causing much favorable publicity for Maitland, as it is something that tourists want and are unable to get anywhere else.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE NOTES

Secretary's Report for 1926

1926 marked the third year of the Maitland Chamber of Commerce and in many ways it was an auspicious one. Perhaps the most important thing accomplished was the new Chamber of Commerce building which was built by the members; all materials being furnished at cost by members, the total cost including furniture, etc., was $603.48. $53.00 of this was for carpenter labor. This building was erected for the purpose of giving fruit and road information to our visitors, and Maitland claims the distinction of being the first town in the state to extend this courtesy. A full time secretary was also engaged.

The folders which were gotten out are a very creditable asset to our organization and town. The committee which arranged these was composed of J. H. Hill, E. A. Upmeyer and K. N. McPherson. They are unique and beautiful, the air map giving people a clear idea of the topographical arrangement of this locality.

The membership drive was very successful, ninety-one members being secured. Since the first fall meeting the names of twenty-two people have been presented and elected to membership.

The Chamber of Commerce sponsored the float for the Floral Festival: Miss Caroline Kingsley, Miss Kitty Vanderpool and Mr. Forrest Stone were the committee.

Action taken through the Chamber of Commerce secured a decided improvement in telephone service.

Through the Orange County Chamber of Commerce an opportunity was given Maitland artists to broadcast over W. D. B. O., thus securing some advertising for the town. A Chamber of Commerce picnic was given in September at Sanlando Springs and it was decided to make this an annual affair.

A Halloween party was given as a means of entertainment and to raise funds for the organization.

Card parties and dances were inaugurated to promote sociability and as a means of raising money for the organization.

Big Crowd at Caucus Monday

Large Number of Candidates Chosen

Never has a larger crowd gathered at a public meeting in Maitland than came out last week Monday to choose candidates for the offices of mayor and councilmen to be voted on at the election on the fifth of March. The auditorium at the schoolhouse was filled with voters and spectators and the liveliest interest was manifest.

Only qualified voters were allowed to cast their ballots for candidates and one hundred and ten residents of Maitland voted, a larger number than has ever been known to vote in the history of the town.

Mayor Upmeyer presided over the meeting and E. T. Owen acted as clerk. Assisting them were Arthur B. Rowland, J. T. Stover, Forrest B. Stone, George Russell and C. M. Niven.

After calling the meeting to order Mr. Upmeyer read the list of registered voters and those present responded to the roll call. An opportunity was given for those who were eligible to register if they had not done so before.

Two ballots, an informal and a formal were taken for mayor and for five councilmen. Only those who received at least one vote in the informal ballot were candidates for the final formal ballots. All candidates receiving 15 per cent of all votes cast will have their names on the election ballot.

The candidates for mayor are Ellison Adams and Charles B. Waterhouse.

The candidates for councilmen are J. H. Bennett, J. A. Brown, W. T. Clare, J. G. Friedland, J. W. McNair, K. N. McPherson, W. F. Parker, E. A. Upmeyer, W. B. Willett and C. J. Woodward.

Mr. Upmeyer is the present mayor and Mr. Brown, Mr. Friedland and Mr. Woodward are now on the council.

C. OF C. GIVES RECEPTION.

Thursday evening, February 24th. is the date set for the reception to the incoming and retiring officers of the Maitland Chamber of Commerce. The reception will be held at the library at eight o'clock and everyone will be welcome.

Miss Stella Waterhouse spent last week in Tampa visiting Miss Nannie McCorkle.

Clean-Up week was sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and a plea was made to all residents not only to clean up but to plant flowers and shrubs.

A beautification committee was appointed: Mrs. C. N. Beecher, chairman; Miss Kitty Vanderpool, S. B. Hill, Jr., and K. N. McPherson. Considering the limited means considerable planting has been done. This was made possible through the town nursery and many donations.

A municipal tennis and basket ball court was sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and an oyster supper given to help raise funds to pay for the equipment.

KEEP UP YOUR INTEREST

That political interest is not dead in Maitland was fully demonstrated at the caucus last week when the biggest crowd ever seen at a political rally in the town, polled the greatest number of votes ever cast and nominated the most candidates ever placed on the municipal ticket.

All the representative citizens of the town were present, many coming out who had not for years attended a town gathering of any kind.

It is a matter for congratulation that such interest should be shown by the citizens in the political well-being of the town, and it is to be hoped that there will continue to be interest felt and shown and that all citizens will make it a point to acquire themselves thoroughly with the present policies of the town government and the aims and ideals of the various candidates, so that they may cast their votes intelligently and wisely at the coming election. Most of the candidates are well-known representative business men of the town and from the number it will be possible to choose one of the best councils the town has ever had.

"FLORIDA COMING BACK"
SAYS McVOY

Herbert C. McVoy, past president of the Westfield Board of Realtors returned from a three-week trip to Florida, Sunday night. Mr. McVoy was a delegate from the local board to the Mid-Winter convention of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, held in Miami, with headquarters in the Hotel Biltmore, Coral Gables.

Mr. McVoy has visited Florida on several previous occasions, but the trip just completed gave him impressions of that part of the country which had never occurred to him before.

He is but one of the enthusiastic Realtors who attended the convention and who believe in Florida, more firmly than before.

According to Mr. McVoy, Florida is staging a "come-back" and thus far has amazed the rest of the country by the way the people of that State are going about things.

The day of wild speculation is over, Mr. McVoy believes, and from now on, a steady and healthy growth will soon bring Florida into the fore as the playground during the winter months for a great many people from the Northern climates who yearn for a balmy even temperature.

The Realtors of Florida are realizing that an organization, such as New Jersey boasts of, is the only logical solution of many local problems and in view of that fact, Real Estate Boards are being instituted in many sections, thus placing the realtor on a professional basis.

Since his return to Westfield, Mr. McVoy walks with the springy step of youth and is bubbling over with enthusiasm. While in the sunny clime he sent some small celluloid alligators to some of his intimate friends here and it has been rumored that he is contemplating starting a live celluloid alligator farm, somewhere in the vicinity of Westfield.—Westfield Leader.

Vat's He Got?

EVANGELISTS BRING GOSPEL MESSAGE

One of the most substantial spiritual awakenings ever held in the Maitland Circuit of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, came to a close Sunday night at the Conway church with a stirring, soul-convicting gospel message by Rev. J. I. Whitworth, Florida Conference Evangelist.

The day was filled with religious services and a picnic dinner on the ground at noon hour. Sunday School at ten and a powerful heart searching message by Rev. Whitworth at the eleven o'clock hour. Many friendship groups were noticed after the mid-day meal, until 3.30 when "From Race-Track to the Gospel Highway" was given by C. A. Moberg and wife, who had charge of the music, young people's and children's work during the campaign.

This evangelistic party arrived at the Maitland church the first Sunday in January, continuing two and a half weeks when they moved to Conway for a like period. They have done a lasting work and endeared themselves to the membership of the churches and the communities in general. The churches have been resurrected and are on fire in the Kingdom of God.

Rev. J. I. Whitworth, the evangelist in charge of this campaign, is a Florida product, born in Callahan, Nassau county, where he was known as a successful farmer, until 17 years ago, when he was converted and answered the call of God to the ministry, serving many churches as a local preacher until four years ago, when he was appointed district evangelist, and worked under the direction of the Florida Conference Mission Board and two years later was appointed conference evangelist by the Annual Conference of this state. He is of a strong physique, a powerful man of God, whose winsome smile, stirring, appealing and convincing messages lead to a climax that is irresistible, and thousands of happy souls have been brought to the Light of the Gospel by his efforts. He has a family of wife and six children living at Pompano, Fla., to which place he has gone to pay them a "visit," he says.

C. A. Moberg, who is musical director and in charge of the young people's work during their campaigns about the state, was born in New York City and was converted three years ago in Bible Hall Mission, Washington, D. C., founded by Dr. H. E. Ressler, who later became his father-in-law. Mr. Moberg is a past master at the piano, which together with his earnestness, sincerity of purpose, closeness to his Master, and humorous nature, make him a power for good to all the church. He was, before his conversion, associated with race-track gambling and cabaret singing and his "From the Race-Track to the Gospel Highway," a life story of himself and wife, depicts sin at its worst and salvation at its best, and makes a lasting impression for good on all who hear him.

Mrs. C. A. Moberg, soloist and in charge of children's work, wins the hearts and souls of all and especially the children, with her solos and choruses and duets with her husband. She has a sweet mellow voice, which, coupled with a smile that is irresistible and a countenance beaming with glory in her Master's work, and songs whose words ring with a true gospel message, touch her hearers in a way that prepares their souls for the reception of the message of the evangelist. Before her conversion and marriage, most of her life was spent in esthetic dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. Moberg moved to Miami in the spring of 1925, where they attended one of Rev. Whitworth's meetings, and it was during this time that they felt the call of God to devote their entire lives to His work in singing, playing, and personal work, and have been associated with Rev. Whitworth ever since.

This evangelist party are leaving lasting monuments for righteousness wherever they are called, many dead churches have been resurrected and made pillars of fire in God's Kingdom. Any pastor needing help in this line will make no mistake in securing them. They left Conway this week for Fort Myers.—By W. R. G. Orwick.
