CONTRACTS LET FOR STREET PAVING

On Friday bonds were sold and contracts let for paving and sidewalks. The Southern Clay Company were awarded the contracts for all brick streets, including Inter Street, Packwood, Horatio and Magnolia Road; their contract amounted to $32,000. The contract for all sidewalks and for macadam streets totaling $50,000.00 was awarded to the Cox and Bryson Paving Company, of Orlando. These are the streets in Winter Park Circle, Orangedale Park and Greenwood Gardens.

In both cases the contracting companies have also bought the bonds covering their contract at ninety-five.

While the bonds will not be ready for delivery until about January 1st, arrangements are being made to begin work sometime in October so that the paving should be well under way before winter.

MAITLAND AUXILIARY GIVES TO STORM SUFFERERS

The Maitland Auxiliary has sent one hundred of the articles made by them this summer to the Red Cross for distribution among the storm sufferers and the members have collected over two hundred second hand garments to send down.

At the monthly meeting on Friday, sixteen members were present. It was voted to turn in the two used Singer sewing machines which the Auxiliary owns and purchase a portable electric machine. Thirty-six garments were finished at this meeting.

VISITORS FROM NEW JERSEY

A recent visitor to this town was Mr. Walter R. Darby, Commissioner of Municipal Accounts of the State of New Jersey and past president of the National Association of Comptrollers and Accountants. During his brief stay as the guest of A. B. Rowland, Mr. Darby appeared to be quite impressed with this section of Florida and expressed a desire to return in the near future.

TOWN CLERK OWEN REPORTS ON CONDITIONS IN FORT LAUDERDALE

E. T. Owen says that one cannot conceive of the damage done until you have been into the storm area and seen conditions there. When he reached Fort Lauderdale last Thursday the water had receded but the debris had not been cleared up. Trees were uprooted—three great trees were piled on one little cottage—and practically all the smaller homes were demolished. People were living in any hole that offered a shelter, whole families in one room. One large church which was standing, houses several families, while the Masonic Temple and a schoolhouse were being used as hospitals.

Mr. Owen was sent down by the Mayor to assist Mr. J. T. Stover to locate Mrs. Stover's family, who had not been heard from since the storm. They found them unhurt, although their home was badly damaged. Miss Georgia Belle Gatlin, sister of Mrs. Stover returned with them and is visiting her sister.

BROWN-WORLEY WEDDING

Announcements have been received of the marriage of J. A. Brown, former mayor of Maitland, and Miss Elizabeth Madoline, of Salem, West Virginia. The wedding took place at the Worley home, of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Jesse Wells Worley, on September 22. Mr. and Mrs. Brown spent a few days in New York and returned to Maitland on Wednesday. They are staying temporarily with Mrs. J. M. Brown until they can settle permanently in one of the apartments in the Brown Building.

The people of Maitland join the News in hearty congratulations and good wishes to the young couple, and in hopes that they will continue the interest in the town which Mr. Brown has shown during his residence here.

Mr. Harland Black, formerly of Springfield, Mass., has moved to Maitland and has taken a position with J. H. Bennett.

MRS. KINGSMILL MARRS

Friends of Mrs. Kingsmill Marrs will be grieved to hear of her death in Boston on September 23. Funeral services were held at her old home, 9 Commonwealth Avenue.

Mrs. Marrs was for many years a resident of Maitland. She was a charter member of the Audubon Society and held office in the society until her death. She was a director in the Needlework Guild and was much interested in the work of the Auxiliary to which she contributed generously. Mrs. Marrs spent last winter at the Seminole Hotel in Winter Park and frequently drove over to Maitland. One of the last acts of her life was to order three bird books to be sent to the Maitland Library.

MRS. BEECHER ACTING SECRETARY OF THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Mrs. C. N. Beecher is acting temporarily as secretary of the Maitland Chamber of Commerce, and it is hoped that she will be willing to continue the work for which she is well qualified, as the success of the picnic at Sanlando Springs which was under her direction abundantly proves. Mrs. Beecher has been active in the club work in the north and is bringing new ideas and enthusiasm to the organization.

NEW FAMILIES SETTLE IN MAITLAND

The Maitland Realty Company reports the renting of houses in Maitland to D. R. Wiggins, of Ashburn, Georgia and to L. W. Jennings. Mr. Wiggins, who has rented the "Small" house on Vanderpool Avenue, is connected with the packing house in Winter Park and will come here with his family early this month. Mr. Jennings has just come to Florida from Pennsylvania with the intention of making this his permanent home. He has taken the cottage belonging to Mr. H. C. Boss.

Mr. Haldeman is recovering from an operation on his nose.

The subject which looms largest in our minds and hearts today is the great disaster which has come upon our southern neighbors. Yet terrible as the loss of life and property has been it is well for us to look on the bright side, like the woman we met in the Jacksonville station who said, "It is not nearly as bad as they make out. We are coming out all right." We feel so strongly that the Orlando Sentinel has struck the right note in its editorial on Sunday that we are taking this opportunity to reprint the article for those of our readers who may not have seen it before.

BRIGHTNESS COMING OUT OF THE DARK HOURS

A spirit of determination and cheerfulness is being born out of the dark hours resulting from a hurricane which swept over the lower end of our peninsula. Smiling faces are once more noticeable as the wonderful response to the call for assistance is coming to the devastated district in the shape of gold from all over the United States.

Miami and other torn cities are forgetting the trials and tribulations of a few days ago, and are putting forth an energy which will rebuild from the wreckage of the storm, cities more wonderful, more substantial and more economical.

Mistakes in the past will be rectified. Where loose building inspection, because of the hurry and rush to provide homes on demand, was evident, there will be erected more substantial buildings. Where haphazard structures were permitted before, the zoning commission will function to correct and make perfect. Where trees have been torn down, new plantings will begin. In all, a more beautiful and substantial Florida is in the making in the storm swept areas.

While we are mourning for the dead, the living are striving to rebuild. Out of the ruins will come perfection.

The editor of the Industrial Index ably pictures a new Florida when he says: Florida will come out of this storm greater and stronger than ever. It is too great a state to be destroyed, or for the spirit of its people to be broken, by a hundred hurricanes out of the West Indian waters.

Just as Florida stood the financial storm early in the year, with the collapse of unwarranted real estate prices so it will emerge from this storm of the elements.

It is truly a great state—even more wonderful in its essentials than those

ECHOES FROM THE C. OF C. PICNIC

By an Interested Eye Witness and Participant

Don Spain was the winner of the cocoa-cola nursing contest. Don had his eye teeth cut. We don't intimate that he bit a larger hole in his nipple, but he's some baby!

Anybody who says the gentler sex can't knock ought to have seen Kitty Vanderpool drive five eight-penny nails in a two by four.

Surely the winners of the three-legged race, K. McPherson and Clarence Brown felt proud when they tried to light those rubber cigars they received as prizes. Bennett and Shiek didn't even get out of low gear until the race was over.

How the water in the pool did rise when some of our good cooks immersed themselves.

Harold Hill moved a vote of thanks to Mrs. Beecher for engineering such a nice outing. It was a short speech—for him—he was too full to say more.

It was surely fun to watch the little girls in the cracker eating contest. The winner's mouth was too full for utterance—but she did whistle.

His honor the Mayor might have won the prize in the bottle contest, only the rule was that the coca-cola must be inside of the contestant instead of outside.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH RESUMES SERVICES

The Rev. E. D. Visor has returned from Baltimore and conducted services at the church last Sunday. This Sunday will be Rally Day at the Sunday School and the children will present "Who is Thy Neighbor?" as a special program.

Don't forget the Church Supper at the home of Miss Stella Waterhouse, this evening from six to eight.

The Chamber of Commerce wishes to thank an unknown donor who contributed through their organization to the storm stricken people in Miami and to assure him that his contribution has been turned in to headquarters.

BRIGHTNESS COMING OUT OF THE DARK HOURS

fair-weather friends of the hour in their hearts thought it was when they were gambling in its real estate. But the true citizen of Florida and its real friends through the country had for the state a faith that never faltered, a faith that was strong in the hour of readjustment, for it was founded on fact, and on conviction based on fact.

Just as the earthquake did not stop San Francisco, nor fire stop Chicago or Baltimore or Atlanta, so a storm will not stop the Florida cities that were the chief victims of this awful manifestation of the brutal might of nature.

The American people don't stop—they are not built that way.

Five years from now the people of Florida will look back to this truly eventful year 1926 with mingled feelings; satisfaction that the real estate gamble passed; sorrow, in hearts still sore, at the tragic taking away of so many human lives in the storm; and the pride that any citizen of Florida would justly have in the state's record of rebuilding and rehabilitation.

In a spirit of superb courage, Florida will make a supreme demonstration of its faith and of its ability to stand without flinching the greatest of tests and trials.—Editorial Orlando Morning Sentinel

Winds Blow

And a falling limb may damage your house, or rain may damage your furniture when shingles or roofing blow off. Windows may be broken, awnings ripped, or porches wrecked.

For a few cents added to your fire insurance rates, you can get windstorm protection, and feel secure in any weather.

Ask us about the new combined fire and windstorm policy with the very low rates.

Do it now and then forget about the weather.
