TAX BILL MADE LAW AS HOOVER SIGNS

Measure Passes Senate Which Then Begins Work On Task To Effect Economy

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(A.P.)—The biggest collection of taxes ever enacted by the United States in peace time became law with a flourish of President Hoover's pen at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon while the Senate plunged ahead with the bill. The Executive signed the bill at 7:30 o'clock, after it had passed its final legislative test with Senate approval of the conference report recalling differences in the measure as passed by the House and Senate.

Members of the bill will be called up at the beginning of the 1932 fiscal year July 1, while the income tax will begin to bring in its revenue June 31, 15 days after signing.

By a vote of 86 to 10, the Senate approved the bill in its final form after a sharp debate in which an "unprecedented" effort was made to have it sent back to conference for revision of a section imposing a three percent tax on electrical energy to be paid by the consumer.

House Republicans voted with 23 Democrats including Fletcher and Crammett and the former farmer-labor member "against" adopting the conference report.

The bill in its final form was the center of a stormy debate in which charges were made that members of Congress were influenced by the desires of the power companies.

Senator Nye, Republican, Pennsylvania, replied that the alleged provision called for a tax of five percent rather than three percent.

The Senate conferees declined to give the Senate a reason for the change made in the electrical energy section but Senator Johnson, Republican, California, quoted Representative Clegg, Democrat, Georgia, as explaining it was thought a tax on gross receipts of the power companies would get some of them out of business with resultant unemployment.

The report also was criticized by Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, because of elimination of a section authorizing farm cooperatives from the corporation tax.

Before voting against the conference report, Senator Glass of Virginia, a former Democratic secretary of the treasury, predicted (Continued On Page Four)

Final Preparations Made For Furnishing Election Returns At Herald Office

Once again The Sanford Herald invites the residents of this city and county to be guests at its election night party to begin at about 8:00 and continue until the early hours of the morning.

Every detail to make the affair a success had been ironed out late this afternoon, and with several expert workers volunteering their services in many connections, persons interested in the election returns tonight can expect real service.

Through the courtesy of Chief of Police Roy G. Williams and James Moughton, of the City, Magnolia Avenue between First and Second Streets will be roped off to traffic at about 7:00 o'clock tonight. City benches will then be placed in rows in the street and along the parkway.

The election returns, some of which should start coming in at about 8:00 o'clock, together with early Associated Press reports from all over Florida, will be flashed from a stereoscopic machine located on the porch of The Herald Office building to a screen across the street.

The machine has been loaned The Herald through the courtesy of the Sanford Odd Fellows, and it will be operated by D. C. How-

STATE GOES TO POLLS WITH 7 ISSUES IN FORE

Prohibition And Governmental Economy Stand Out As Citizens Trek To Polls

JACKSONVILLE, June 7.—(A.P.)—With prohibition an issue in the congressional races and tax reduction and governmental economy to the fore in the gubernatorial campaign, the qualified electors of Florida today cast their votes in the Democratic primary election.

There were approximately 322,000 qualified voters new record. They will vote for 23 candidates for five statewide offices and numerous others for district and county offices. In addition they will indicate their presidential preference as between L. J. Chase, Milwaukee, Governor William Murray, Oklahoma, and Governor Franklin Roosevelt, New York.

Forty-eight candidates will seek membership on the state's delegation of 18 to the Democratic national convention. Roosevelt is the preference of overwhelming a majority of these.

Deputies and election inspectors are on guard to prevent possible fraud in balloting. Candidates for governor, four congressional seats, commissioner of agriculture, comptroller, and one member of the State Railroad Commission will be nominated besides 20 state senators and with entire membership of the House of Representatives.

The second primary for runoffs in the races where nomination is not gained today will be held June 28.

BONUS ARMY HAS LANDS DELIVERS DISAFFECTION AS COLLEGE ADDRESS TO LEADERSHIP AT GAINESVILLE

Great Plans Are Made For Big Parade To Be Staged Tonight

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(A.P.)—The bonus army, a group of veterans who are demanding a second payment of the bonus they were promised when they were discharged from the service in 1919, today delivered a message of disaffection to the leadership of the group at Gainesville.

Lands delivered the commencement address here at the final exercises of the state university's 1932 graduation program.

He compared the American idea of democracy in government, education and every-day life with the caste system of other lands and other ages and he urged the graduates to "never forget that all honest effort to obtain a livelihood is honorable and many times a king wears blue overalls or a queen a calico dress."

Service to follow men. He attorney general said, "He told the graduates they would find life, people and conditions to be just as they expect them and urged that they expect the best everywhere and at all times."

The largest single gift in the history of the University of Florida—$150,000 from the General Education Board—was announced yesterday by President Tigert, at the commencement exercises. The gift, matched by state appropriation (Continued on Page Three)

Hoover Furlough Plan Is Rejected By Vote Of Senate

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(A.P.)—The Senate today rejected the Hoover furlough plan proposed as substitute for the 10 percent government pay cut. Rejection came after Senator Brantton, Democrat, of New Mexico, charged the President's cabinet had not cooperated in cutting government expenses.

The Senate Banking Committee approved $200,000,000 dollar section of the Democratic relief bill for loan to states to prevent destitution. The administration proposed a loan bank system with government approval and gives legislative authority by the House Rules Committee.

All Dog Owners Warned To Have Them Vaccinated

Chief of Police Roy G. Williams today served warning on all owners of dogs that any stray dog caught in the city limits of Sanford will be killed unless it bears a tag indicating that it has been vaccinated against rabies.

The City of Sanford has provided for the services of a veterinarian, Dr. C. W. Baker, who will be at the City Hall from 10:00 o'clock until noon daily for the next few days. He will vaccinate and tag all dogs brought to him.

With rabies, a common occurrence throughout Florida, and numerous reports as having been bitten by dogs, Chief Williams is confident that residents of this city will cooperate in ridding the streets of a large number of the animals.

"We want to prevent such unfortunate incidents as recently befell the president of Southern College at Lakeland, whose small son died after having been bitten by a dog suffering from rabies," Chief Williams said, "and that end we must have the cooperation of all the residents."

Heavy Voting Is Recorded During Day In City And County Precincts

From all indications, Seminole County and Sanford will cast a record vote today, for at 2:45 o'clock this afternoon 1814 of the 2379 qualified voters in precincts one and three had cast their ballots, and every county precinct reported a large early vote. The 1814 total included the absentee voters.

Rain falling intermittently during the noon hours failed to halt a steady stream of voters who were lined up into the street at both precinct one and precinct three polling places. More than 100 persons were in line at both polling places when the polls were opened at 8:00 o'clock this morning and except for a slight lull at noon, these long lines continued throughout the morning and early afternoon.

In 1928 at 8:00 o'clock in the afternoon of the primary includ-

GAYEST PARTY OF THE CAMPAIGN

Believe it or not this photograph was taken at 1:30 o'clock this morning, shortly after the now famous Midnight Coffee Club, powerful local organization of farmers and growers who have been making every candidate walk a chalk line since the campaign began, had tendered a chicken pilau supper to the candidates.

In the photograph you'll see practically all of the candidates, and all the officers and members of the club itself, including Peter Thurston, vice-president; Fred Dörner, treasurer; Fred Dörner, Herman Brown, Clifford Bell, Gus Schmah, John Zerrner, Paul Shonker, F. F. Dörner, Peter Thurston and W. H. Shepherd as members and guests of the Club.

organized several weeks ago for the purpose of "putting candidates—on-the-spot." Every night during the campaign it has been customary that one of the candidates should pay for a midnight supper for the club members.

Last night, with the campaign practically closed, the Club decided that it would invite the candidates to a party sponsored by the Club, and held at Dossey's Quick Lunch, where all the meetings are held.

It was a real party, with all candidates required to make last minute "thirty-second" talks. Without exception every talk referred to the lack of mud-slinging that has characterized the present campaign, and the candidates gave a rising vote of thanks to the

Brutality In Prison Camp To Be Probed

JACKSONVILLE, June 7.—(A.P.)—Authorities today said 10 convicts will be summoned to testify into alleged brutality at a prison camp near here when an inquiry will be held Thursday into the death of Arthur Maffelstet, 10-year-old prisoner. Officials said Maffelstet, serving a nine-year sentence from Volusia county for robbery, died in a sweat box Friday with an iron chain locked about his neck and tied to a rafter with a stack holding his feet to the floor. G. W. Couson, prison captain, and S. M. Higginbotham, guards, were arrested and held in default of $5000 bond.

Defacers Of City Property Caught And Handed Fines

Proof that the City of Sanford intends to carry out its warning that all persons caught destroying or defacing city property will be prosecuted is indicated in the arrest of six colored boys who were fined for destroying portions of the fence at Municipal Park Thursday.

Chief Williams issued a warning last week, and until about 5:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon it appeared to have been heeded by the usual crowd of mischievous youngsters. At that hour, police at the ball park saw the six boys tear boards from the fence, and break down a gate, to gain admittance to the park. They were at once arrested and fined in police court Monday by Judge R. W. Ware.

Four other colored boys were arrested by Chief Williams during the past few days, boys upon whom some of the petty crimes that have been committed here lately have been fixed.

The case of Daisy Siplin, charged with disorderly conduct, was postponed until next Monday, as were the cases of disorderly conduct against Richard Fields, Charlotte Stewart, T. M. Scott and Anna Thomas.

Herbert Williams, charged with disorderly conduct, pleaded guilty and was fined $5.

Don Fielder and David Lee Jackson, charged with disorderly conduct, were fined $10 each. Frank Monroe, charged with disorderly conduct was fined $2.50. Tom Payne, charged with being drunk, was fined $5 bond. Ullis Brown, charged with stealing a bicycle, was transferred to the county court for action. Pat Gray, white youth charged with disorderly conduct, was fined $1.50. W. J. Graves, white man who is charged with possessing spirituous liquor, keeping a disorderly house, and vagrancy, will be tried tomorrow.

JOHN D. JR. IS NOW OPPOSED TO DRY LAWS

Staunch Advocate Of Temperance Says He Has Changed His Mind About Dry Law

NEW YORK, June 7.—(A.P.)—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., lifelong and staunch advocate of temperance, last night branded the Eighteenth Amendment a failure and urged that it be repealed.

He expressed an earnest hope that a repeal plank, providing ratification by its conventions, would be incorporated in both the Republican and Democratic platforms, "thus taking the question out of the field of partisan politics."

"When the Eighteenth Amendment was passed," he said, "I earnestly hoped, with a host of advocates of temperance, that it would be generally supported by public opinion and thus the day be hastened when the value to society of men with minds and bodies free from the undermining effects of alcohol would be generally realized.

"That this has not been the result, I have slowly and reluctantly come to believe."

In a dramatically worded letter to Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, Rockefeller told the president of Columbia University that "my position may surprise you, as it will many of my friends."

"I was born a teetotaler; all my life I have been a teetotaler on principle," he added.

He said neither he, nor his father, nor grandfather, had ever tasted a drop of intoxicating liquor.

Rockefeller then related how his mother and grandmother were "smuggled" into the saloons of their day, who, hating the horrors of drunkenness, were often found with bands of women of like mind, praying on their knees in the saloons in their ardent desire to save men from the evils that so commonly spring from those sources of iniquity."

He told how he and his father had supported the Anti-Saloon league, contributing since 1900 a total of $350,000 to its work.

He said he had hoped the Eighteenth Amendment would be generally supported and bring temperance.

Instead, he said, "drinking generally has increased," and that "the speakeasy has replaced the saloon, not only unit for unit, but probably two-fold if not three-fold."

Rockefeller pictured a "vast army of lawbreakers" who, he named on a colossal scale.

He wrote that "many of our said, had been 'recruited and fitted citizens, plucked at what they regarded as an infringement of their private rights, have openly and unabashedly disregarded the Eighteenth Amendment."

As "an inevitable result" of these effects, he said, "respect for all law has been greatly lessened."

He expressed a belief the benefits of the Eighteenth Amendment (Continued on Page Three)

Six Are Killed When Ambulance Hits Car

COLLINGSWOOD N. J., June 7.—(A.P.)—Six persons were killed and another was critically injured today when an ambulance collided with an automobile. The car caught fire and burned. The dead are Richard Bloemker, John Knorr, J. A. Rodacker, James Bloemker, and two women beyond recognition. Frank Tucker was critically injured. The accident occurred while Bloemker and his wife were rushing to a hospital in an ambulance with their daughter who had fallen out of bed and cut her head severely.

Brookhart Trailing In Iowa's Election

DES MOINES, June 7.—(A.P.)—The political career of Senator Brookhart, foe of "business" appeared to be tormented today by a tide of votes cast for Henry Ford in the Republican primary election. Such are the odds, however, more than half the vote of the primary gave Brookhart 73,182.

Dairy Industry Is Topic Of Speaker At Rotary Meeting

The dairy industry in Florida is both the pride and the problem during the past few years. It has been the subject of a long discussion at the Rotary Club meeting at the Club today. The speaker was Secretary George G. Harden, local dairy owner.

President E. J. Gray appointed two committees during the meeting, one composed of E. C. Hoo-

LAKE'S HURLING AIDS IN LOCALS' 6 TO 1 VICTORY

Parkery Fail To Halt Slugging Feds Who Jump To 2nd Place

By PETER SCHAAL
Manager Joe Barnes' Celeryfeds proved that they have plenty of base knocks in their bats by yesterday afternoon motoring over to Winter Park and knocking out 13 hits off the offerings of Spot Lockett and Lloyd Mock, to help Buddy Lake win a 6 to 1 victory, and advance to second place in league standings.

Lake pitched a most creditable game and held the Parkers, who were tied with the Feds for second place in batting honors, to eight hits. Of this number only three were real hits, the rest being scratch hits of the rankest kind. Three of these scratch hits came in a row in the ninth inning, filling the bases, and being the means of one run coming in. Other than that last inning, Lake was never in trouble, and pitched a steady, heady game that should restore his confidence after a couple of shaky starts.

The Feds jumped on their old team-mate, Spot Lockett, for 10 hits and five runs before Lockett was sent to the showers in the fifth. While it is granted that four of the Fed hits were nearly put-outs, being infield rollers that were beat out by inches, Lockett was hit early and often. With better support he might have done better, although the Parkers made no errors back of him, that is, errors of commission. Mock, who succeeded him, held the Feds in check, allowing three hits in the four and a third innings he worked.

For the first time this year, the lower end of the batting order went out and won a game for the Feds, while the usually dangerous batters had to go into semi-cloppers. Harrison, Chapman, and Lake were the big guns of the attack, scoring two hits each, and each getting a double, and driving in three of the six runs.

Other features of the game as far as the Feds are concerned were: the sensational steps and throws made by Eddie Moore, the Fed's great shortstop; some fine work at second base by Bach, the most improved player on the club; the usual sensational batting, fielding, and base-running that marks Red Martin's appearance in a game. Red got a pair of singles in five tries, made two fine put-outs, and stole three bases, giving him 10 stolen bases in five games, and making him the loop leader in the department.

The Parkers fielded beautifully, handling 27 put-outs and 21 assists, without an error. Their infield worked to perfection, although Malby's throws to first on four balls later scored as hits might have been there seconds sooner and he would have been given four more assists. Ted Drassen, with three hits, two of them scratches, in four tries, was the Parkers' batting hero.

Sanford Youth Is Winner Of Prize In Augustine School

Fifteen-year-old Donald Shearer, blind son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Sheaffer, 118 Elm Ave., brought credit to his home city, by being one of the major prize winners at the Florida State School for the Blind and Deaf at St. Augustine. The youngster, who has been attending the school since he was seven years of age, was announced as the winner of three important prizes and honors. He won the D. A. R. medal, donated by the St. Augustine chapter, for making the highest average of any pupil in the school during one year of American History; he won the valuable first prize for the best and most enthusiastic work in physical education during the year, and he won the school's first prize for showing the greatest progress in Junior High school literature in the blind department.

Young Shearer will be in the ninth and tenth grades in school next year, and according to his friends here, he is eagerly anticipating another year in which he may, though handicapped, indicate that it is possible to progress if the will is directed toward the problem in question.

MORE POWER TO PRESIDENT MAY BE CURE OF ILLS

Owen Young Suggests Plan As Way Out Of Present Difficulty

SOUTH BEND, Ind., June 6.—(A.P.)—Owen D. Young told the Notre Dame university graduating class yesterday that "some method of putting extraordinary powers into the hands of the president" may be necessary to provide a central authority to cure our economic ills. The banking system, its problems bound up with those of commerce in general, he explained, is "threatened, not by conditions which could not be corrected, but by the fact that there is no centralized authority anywhere with power to act."

"It is all natural enough," he continued. "Our Democratic government, for its own protection, has from the beginning insisted on sharply delegated powers, with adequate checks and balances, lest the sovereign yoke we throw off in the revolution reappear and destroy our political liberty."

"It is quite explainable, therefore, that a government of powers widely distributed into carefully segregated and insulated compartments should function under normal conditions and should fail us altogether when the avalanche comes on." "It may be that we shall have to consider some method of putting extra-ordinary powers in the hands of the President in times like these."

"The insistent call for leadership and for central planning which is arising on all sides is the instinctive call of the masses for integrated responsibility and power in this highly specialized world of ours."

Young, who is chairman of the board of the General Electric Company, and who recently refused to seek the Democratic presidential nomination, likened the current slump in values to an avalanche, which, once begun, can not be stopped in sections or at once. "No upward trend can take place unless all go up," he said. "No permanency of any trend can be guaranteed unless we have sound and fair balance between all the units in our economic body."

"In my opinion, it is our unbalanced condition which caused our trouble. The living standards of our industrial population were lifted to a high level back of an impenetrable tariff wall. Those of our agricultural population, which was subjected to a world competition, could not normally be maintained at an equal level. "The farmer naturally wanted to keep up with Lizzie by having the same things which his industrial neighbor had. So we alleviated the disparity and disguised our true situation temporarily by furnishing the farmer credit artificially through semi-governmental agencies. It was thought necessary to do this to keep him quiet politically."

War Tank Takes to Air

Here's the newest menace from the air, a flying tank. Top picture is the artist's conception of this latest weapon, while at right is a front view of the tank, designed to be carried beneath a powerful bombing plane. Flying over enemy territory, the plane swoops to the ground, releases the tank and speeds away. The tank, now moving under its own power, rushes forward at a sixty to seventy-mile speed. A fleet of these flying tanks would rout an army.

James Stoinoff To Receive Degree From University

Sanford friends of James M. Stoinoff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Stoinoff, if this city, will be interested to learn that he will receive his B. S. degree in commerce from the University of Georgia tonight. Stoinoff was one of the most valuable men on the Georgia football squad, continuing a brilliant record as a high school star at Seminole High. Coach Harry Mehre, of the University, declared Stoinoff one of the most reliable and the best defensive fullback on the 1930 Bulldog team. Jimmie, as he is known on the campus, also made an exceptional record in track, and placed in many of the dual meets that the Georgia cinder team has competed in during the past season.

He is a member Phi Kappa Phi, national fraternity; the Gridiron, ranking honor club on the campus; and Phi Kappa, literary society. In athletics he was a member of the Georgia varsity football, 1930 and 1931, and a member of the varsity track team, 1929, 1930, and 1931.
