Willkie To Fight
Any Anti-Labor
Stand By Party

Says National Ticket
Sure Of Defeat In
'44 If That Is Done

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 17. Wendell L. Willkie has pledged himself to block any attempts to turn the Republican party into an "anti-labor party," warning that the Republican national ticket would go down to certain and deserved defeat in 1944 if the party followed such a course.

Mr. Willkie, addressing 400 Wisconsin and Kentucky leaders last Saturday at a meeting sponsored by the Milwaukee County Republican Committee, charged that such an attempt to make the Republican party merely the voice of business and special interests was already being fostered by the same few politicians and "economic over-loads" whom he accused of trying to gain control of next year's Republican convention by promoting favorite son Presidential candidates.

"No more foolish course could be taken by the Republican party, and I will fight it every step of the way," he said. "The Republican party is not going to become an anti-labor party. I'll see to it that it doesn't."

Mr. Willkie ridiculed the idea that the results of the recent state elections in New York, New Jersey and Kentucky were proof that a Republican victory is inevitable in 1944, declaring that this notion was being spread only by politicians "who base their political philosophy solely on charts."

"I hope it is true that the Republican party will win next year," he said. "It can be true, but it is not inevitable. If the party were to adopt an anti-labor attitude it would take the road leading to certain defeat and deserved defeat."

"The government expects the total synthetic rubber production in the United States in 1944 to reach 800,000 long tons. Pre-war rubber consumption was around 600,000 long tons.

Tests Will Be Given
For Social Workers

Pointing out that the demand for trained social workers is greater than the supply, due primarily to the rapid expansion of the public welfare program within the last few years, Mrs. Mary Holler, member of the District 12 Welfare Board from Seminole County, today called renewed attention to the Merit System examinations recently announced.

"While examinations will be held for 17 classes of positions," she said, "only two of these relate to social work—district welfare visitor and district welfare senior visitor. These two, however, offer basic experience for those who wish to adopt social work as a career, giving them opportunity to learn on the job."

Those who desire to take the merit system examinations, Mrs. Holler said, must file application with the Merit System Office, P.O. Box 113, Gainesville, not later than midnight of Nov. 26. Applications must be on official blanks supplied by the Merit System Office upon request.

Jones Urges Support For Farm Prices

War Food Administrator Says Commodity Credit Funds Ought To Be Put To Work

CHICAGO, Nov. 19. (AP) While Congress debated the subsidy payment issue, War Food Administrator Marvin Jones today urged the continued use of Commodity Credit Corporation funds for this purpose in 1944, rather than "abandoning something we have for something that may look better."

Support prices are needed by the farmer to meet production goals, Jones told the Illinois Agriculture Association in a prepared speech. Jones also said the WFA is insisting on all possible allocation of steel for farm machinery for the remainder of this year and for 1944.

Farm machinery production of the year beginning last July 1 will be 20 percent higher than the production of 1940 despite heavy demands on steel output.

Meanwhile, the government launched a new subsidy program to hold bread prices down to present levels while permitting millers to pay higher prices for wheat.

Stabilization Director Fred M. Vinson announced the program last night, to cost "no more than $1,000,000 a month" while at the capital of a coalition of Democrats and Republicans in the House pushed ahead with a campaign to kill all subsidies after January 1.

Under the Vinson-approved plan, wheat flour millers would pay as high as parity prices for wheat, should the market reach that level, and at the same time continue to sell flour for no more than the ceiling prices now in effect.

The date on which payments will become effective will be announced later, Vinson said.

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation has been asked to provide funds for the subsidy and to administer the program.

Mrs. W.L. Cooper Urges Food Goals To Shorten War

"In spite of a new food production record set by American farmers in 1943 for the seventh consecutive year, there is not enough food in total to satisfy all the demands, and there are definite shortages of a number of our favorite foods. It was pointed out today by Mrs. Walter L. Cooper, who recently was appointed by the Seminole County Defense Council as chairman of the Coordinated Food Committee of the county, sponsored by the O.P.A. and the Defense Council.

"The reason for the food shortage," Mrs. Cooper explained, "is that demand for food, both for civilian and for military purposes, has grown even faster than the supply.

"Our food can shorten the war, save American lives, help win the peace if we use it not only to feed our civilians and our armed forces, but to meet the needs of our fighting allies, and to help feed the people of Europe as they are liberated from the Axis yoke," she added.

"In order that vital food reserves be built up to meet war needs, American citizens should produce more food of the right kinds," she pointed out; "conserve food and avoid waste; preserve fresh and perishable foods; add to working power by eating right foods for health; forego scarce foods in favor of those more plentiful; play fair with rationing requirements; pay no more than top legal prices; participate in community food projects; place 'war needs first.'"

Properly informed, every citizen will learn to think of food not just as a means of selfish satisfaction, but as special, vital war material," Mrs. Cooper said.

Wendell Willkie Stops In Atlanta On Trip To Texas

ATLANTA, Nov. 19. (AP) Wendell Willkie, stopping briefly here today en route to Texas, announced the hope that Republicans carry in the South would not allow the region to become the instrument of prejudice, racial or otherwise. He described himself as "representing the viewpoint of the liberal leaders."

Members in Marietta, Pa. (Clarance Huntington Kelland, author and Republican National Committee member from Arizona, proposed that Republicans and Democrats adopt identical plank on foreign relations in their 1944 presidential campaign platform.

In a speech prepared for delivery at a meeting of the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women, Kelland said that "with a victorious war approaching the final stages, it is not well that this country should be at odds upon the subject of its foreign policy."

"Let us eliminate the period inherent in such a difference," he said. "Democrats, New Dealers and Republicans are in substantial agreement. Let us then—our party which has formulated the policy, and the Deal Party which has adopted it—agree to eliminate the subject as a political issue."

The way is simple. It presents no difficulties. Let the officials of the two parties meet and agree that in the platform to be adopted in 1944 there shall be identical foreign relations planks. Not similar planks. Not planks which shall faintly resemble each other, but planks identical as to every paragraph, sentence, word and punctuation mark. To the end that the rest of the world shall be apprised, that no matter what the outcome of the election shall be, upon the question of postwar cooperation and foreign policy, America is not divided, but is one and indivisible.

Boy-Scout Council Will Meet Tonight

An executive board meeting of the Central Florida Council of Boy Scouts of America will be held at the Mayfair this evening, starting with a dinner at 6:30 o'clock. It was announced today by Ralph A. Smith, district chairman. Representatives of scout groups in the seven counties of the district are expected to attend the meeting.

Dr. W. J. Allen, president of Stetson University, has requested that the Finance Committee meet at 8:00 P.M. at the hotel prior to the supper in order to adopt a budget for the coming year.

The Seminole County District Scout meeting was held at the Parish House of the Episcopal Church last evening. Mr. Smith called on Dr. J. B. of the South Sea Primary School will be the big event of the year for scouts of the county—the get-together and conference. The speaker, Francis McEvoy, has been appointed to the entertainment committee of the event which will be held at the school building.

Earl Jeter Excels At Miami University

Mr. and Mrs. Earl W. Jeter of 808 W. 17th St. have been informed by M. L. Stone, commanding officer of the Navy V-12 Unit at the University of Miami that Earl W. Jeter has been outstandingly successful both in his academic and military training.

"His success is far in a credit to him and should be proud of," said Mr. Jeter, the commanding officer of the unit. A recent letter to the parents had pronounced Earl W. Jeter as a "superior" student.

Two fellows have a lot in common. And most of it has to do with "ill-treatment" in a country called Italy. The photo was taken by Berlin, when Mussolini (left) welcomed Marshal Rommel, commander in chief in North Italy, to his "Headquarters" (International)

Only War's Curbs Can Keep Landry From Skate Title

By FRANK STOUT
AP Features
FITCHBURG, Mass.—It will take war-time transportation difficulties to beat 24-year-old Carmelia Landry, national senior women's speed skating champion, she's that good.

If the national speed skating championships are held this winter, it's pretty certain that midwesterners and easterners alike will look to the male side of the competition for a new champion. They'll just accept Carmelia Landry's victory as a foregone conclusion.

The Fitchburg, Mass., girl looks too slight to hold her own in a stiff breeze, but on skates she's a tornado. In the 1941-1942 season alone she amassed a total of 720 points while winning seven titles.

Half Blind
A gasoline tank explosion caused loss of sight in her right eye when she was eight had much to do with fact that Carmelia is a champion.

Excellent surgery left her relatively unmarked but with the sight of her eye gone. Then followed a seizure of loneliness. She left school and turned to sports for a new outlook on life.

Success Predicted
After Carmelia won the North American and New England titles in 1939, Maddy Horn, former Olympic title and national champion, predicted her success.

Carmelia won all the titles in the country in 1941-1942 except the Middle Atlantic and she missed that because the meet was held on the same day as New England's.

Last January, returning to Lacrosse in the role of defender, the new champion almost lost her title before stepping onto the ice. Charges of professionalism were leveled against her, but they were dismissed when she produced affidavits proving her amateur status.

Rawlee Prices Now Set

He hailed the new ceilings as another step in the program to push back the cost of living to the level of September, 1942.

Grower prices, he said, include a 50-cent "bum" as an allowance for grade and size. He added that dealers may if they wish, sell by the dozen handling price charged do not violate per pound prices for a particular size.

In approving the order, OPA specified that further action be taken if it develops that the existing distributive system is being circumvented by direct buying or by other devices. It also said the WFA, which collaborated in preparing the order, should be prepared to issue mandatory orders on developing a licensing plan for shippers to prevent any evasion or disruption of the present system.

LONDON, Nov. 19. (AP)—The Red Army split the German Northern Ukraine yesterday by capturing the important rail junction of Korosten, and also narrowed the enemy's escape route from imperilled Gomel to less than 25 miles by toppling the protective stronghold of Rechitsa after a furious three-day battle.

Two orders of the day by Marshal Premier Joseph Stalin announced the twin victories below and above the Pripiet marches. They were broadcast by Moscow and recorded by the forces in White Russia and the Soviet frontier.

Last Rail Line Cut

The last north-south railway available to the Germans, the Leningrad-Moscow railway, 500 miles short of the pre-war Polish border was cut at Korosten late yesterday after a two-day struggle.

Gen. Nikolai Vatutin's forces which already had effectively split the enemy's forces in the Southern and Northern Ukraine by taking Zhitomir, 15 miles below Korosten.

Recovering from Wednesday's slight retreat in the Zhitomir sector, the Russians also beat down heavy German counter attacks here.

Mrs. Roosevelt Speaks At Harlem Reception

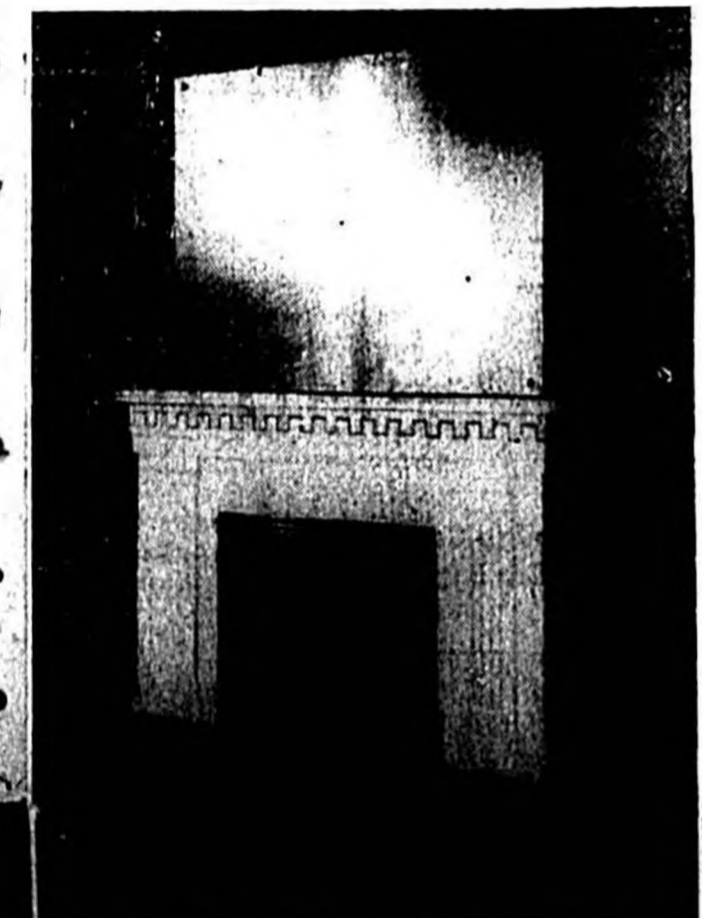

NEW YORK, Nov. 19. (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, speaking at a reception in her honor at the home of Hubert T. Delany, Negro Justice of the Domestic Relations Court, 187 West 14th Street, declared that living conditions in Harlem are largely responsible for the difficult situation of children in that section.

Mrs. Roosevelt, helping to open a $100,000 drive for the benefit of the Negro Orphan Asylum in Riverdale, said that the situation of children throughout the city has been bad for a long time, but that it was perhaps worse in Harlem where trying conditions have accentuated the problem.

Expressing hope that Americans would put aside race prejudice, she declared: "Quintessentially we learn to live in harmony with people of different races, different religions, or different color, we will never have the kind of peace we hope for."

Theater Janitors Find Rationing Is Big Help To Them

By BILLYOTT CHAZE

AP Features

NEW ORLEANS—Ernest Ford leaned on his slick mouse-colored mop handle and said he reckoned moviehouse janitors ought to "pitch in and buy a pretty for the gum" which invented rationing.

For rationing has just about banished his "chokit candy trouble" and it's definitely clearing up the "chewing gum misery" which dogged him for more than two decades of scraping and pinching at the sticky wads.

Ford is one of an army of theater janitors who clean up after America's movie-going millions.

He got into the business as a 12-year-old slacker who hated going to bed early. He's been at it so long he says he can tell how good a jungle serial is by examining the all-day sucker sticks the kull-leave under their seats.

"You take the press notices," Ford says sagely. "Me, I bank on real chewed-up sucker sticks. If they chewed right down to a mess of splinters it's a show."

About the chewing gum, Ford says, folks leave less of it behind for two reasons: the government gets most of it for its fighting men and folks have just about quit sticking it under their chairs, because they take it home now and stick it on their beds and use it again next day. Ford has observed you can "stiffen it up in a glass of ice water and it's just like new."

The chocolate candy trouble was caused by the fact "youngsters just naturally got hot flats and they got to wipe them off somewhere, mainly on the chair arms."

Now the government uses much of the nation's chocolate and the shavers favor hard candy, mouth astring and if they leave it on the floor the janitors can roll it neatly into the aisle.

The appearance of many curious food items has been noticed in the movie-houses here since rationing began.

Ford himself found the remains of a red-bean sandwich (front row, balcony), and some of his buddies have discovered chicken being, and pieces of... (text is partially obscured and difficult to read)

Jones Urges Support For Farm Prices

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (AP)—Senator Charles McNary, Oregon, urged today that the government support farm prices to prevent a sharp decline in the value of farm products.

McNary said that the government should take action to prevent a sharp decline in the value of farm products, which would result in a loss of income for the farmer.

Twenty Years Ago

With this issue The Sanford Herald commemorates an important milestone in its career for it was exactly twenty years ago today that its present owners acquired possession of the paper from R. J. Holly who founded it in 1908...

Since that eventful day in 1923 a good deal of water has gone under the bridge and a good many ups and downs have been encountered. For a while we made money so fast our chief problem was trying to find places to put it...

The ownership is substantially the same now as it was then. There have been vast changes in personnel and some changes in management but the editor has been the same...

We have been independently democratic. We have supported every democratic nominee for political office in the last 20 years but we have never failed to criticize the record of any of them when they failed to make good...

The history of The Herald during the past two decades is not unlike that of the history of Sanford. Many faces have changed here too. Many stores that were open have closed...

As we said in our editorial twenty years ago today: "A newspaper must live its life as much as a human being lives. It must have character and individuality..."

We hope that The Herald has always lived up to the idealism as expressed by that boy just out of college. We hope it always will...

But when he has a particularly knotty problem, he puts on his old clothes and retreats to a basement workshop where he can putter as he pleases with wood and metal-working tools...

Luxury Spending

A shabbily dressed woman with a shawl over her head went into a fashionable jewelry store the other day...

This, says the store manager, is nothing new. Whereas before the war 90 percent of the business was what he calls "the carriage trade," now only 10 percent falls in that class...

Many people will be dismayed at such extravagance, and think it dangerous to the community. But is it? Of course she would do far better to get her money into War Bonds...

"NUTCRACKER SUITE"

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

By RUSSELL KAY

An amazing document came out of Collier County not long ago in the form of a report and declaration of policy by the board of County Commissioners.

Following a detailed accounting of their stewardship, which reflected uncommon ability and management, with finances and operations in a healthy condition, these Commissioners proposed to their people that from here on out Collier County should "resist temptation" and, standing on its own feet, assume control of its own destiny...

Pointing with alarm to the growing tendency on the part of our local governmental subdivisions to relinquish more and more of their rights and privileges and sacrifice the free and sovereign control of their own affairs on the altar of greed and selfishness, they propose the return to a sound policy of reason and common sense.

It is our thought that the people might well bring their power to bear on such blameworthy policy by the end that they make the keynote of their postwar planning policy: "Every State, Every County, Every Municipality must care for its own."

Such a policy will help materially to stave off bankruptcy, constant with social revolution, confiscation and inflation. "We are proud of what we have been able to accomplish within the county by reducing the heavy load of taxation you bear, but we fully realize that after all our work has been a 'Primary School' merely, and that it will be necessary care for its own."

With your help, Collier County can for Her Own will remain unshaken at our wretched. That every County in the nation may adopt a similar watershed in its own opinion the chief hope of our people for the postwar period.

A Congressional Medal of Honor might well be placed on the breast of each of the five patriots who signed the above document, for they too, lead the fight against the evil forces of madness and destruction.

In 1917-18 few women were employed in shipyards; now 75 per cent of the shipyard workers are women.

Press Leaders Criticize Curbs On War News

Indorse Broad Principles Of Censorship In Missouri Meeting

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Prominent figures in American journalism in a symposium conducted by the University of Missouri School of Journalism, today faulted with many government restrictions on war-time news, but generally indorsed the broad principles of censorship.

The views of leaders in the newspaper and publishing business were outlined in the "Journalism on War-Time Censorship" symposium, prepared in volume form in lieu of the university's annual.

Journalism Week, which was not held this year because of travel restrictions and the fact that most reporters and editors are hard at the task of covering the war.

Palmer Hoyt, publisher of "The Portland Oregonian" and director of the domestic branch of the Office of War Information, said "some of the practices indicated under the excuse of military or naval security smack on the thought processes of the Middle Ages."

"If Bryon Price (Director of Censorship) or his assistant, N. R. Howard, could decide every question of what is proper and improper to print, Mr. Hoyt said in his article on "The Use and Abuse of Restraints," "American newspapers would be as happy as month-old lambs on a green lawn in the warmth of May sunshine but this, of course, is impossible."

"The present system of the application of censorship fits down through military, naval and civilian 'authorities,' many of whom are unfamiliar with the war-time censorship code; in fact there are cases where military censors have never heard of it."

Mr. Price in his article compared the operation of voluntary censorship in this war with that of other wars. He praised the cooperation of American outlets of information in withholding information from the enemy. He warned, however, that borderline cases, "where innocently introduced but thoughtless publication actually and vitally cost American lives," must be used to convince the public that voluntary censorship is not "self-censorship."

Mr. C. Wilson, manager of the Washington bureau of the United Press, in his report on "Covering the Capital," said "the wind" to indicate that O. W. I. will increasingly urge that all news contact with government be through it rather than the source of the news."

Fred D. Canham, managing editor of "The Christian Science Monitor," in our war information policy," the treatment of outgoing dispatches of Allied correspondents in this country. Mr. Canham and Raymond Clapnet, syndicated columnist, challenged the wisdom of President Roosevelt's new policy of exclusion of important conferences.

Kent Cooper, executive director of The Associated Press, advocated participation of the American press in the next peace conferences and the inclusion of free press provisions in future peace treaties.

Cause Of Increase In Arrests Is Cited

EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 19.—Liquor and lax parental control were blamed today for sharp increases in arrests of girls under 21.

Citing official figures of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union revealed that total arrests of teen-age girls during the first six months of 1944 exceeded the same period in 1942 by 64.7 per cent.

Leading the increase were offenses against decency—drunkenness, vagrancy, disorderly conduct and prostitution. The rise in arrests for these crimes was 89.5 per cent.

Crimes against property increased 80.8 per cent during the Secretary Mayo Is Speaker At Meet. Of Senate Group

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (Special) Responding to an invitation from Senator E. D. Smith, chairman of the Senate Agricultural Committee, Nathan Mayo, Florida's Commissioner of Agriculture, appeared Wednesday before the committee and vociferously stated Florida agriculture's position on current and important matters now apparently headed for Congressional correctional action.

Mayo strongly advocated the preservation of States' Rights as exemplified in a bill to require Federal Agencies to comply with State Inspection laws and which was lost at the last session of Congress through the President's pocket veto. This bill has been re-introduced in the House by Congressman J. Hardin Peterson, and in the Senate by Senator Charles O. Andrews.

He secured deep interest from the committee table when he told of Federal Agencies destroying Florida's Sea Island cotton industry and the present attempt to destroy Florida's cane syrup industry by enforcing a ceiling price on syrup below cost of production.

Every phase of agriculture was discussed and strongly presented at the hearing by selected speakers from each industry. Each speaker urged Congress to immediately rescind all agricultural subsidies as unwarranted, and unnecessary, declaring that reasonable prices could be obtained in the open market if they were left untroubled.

Mr. Mayo introduced to the committee William L. Wilson, Director of State Markets, who presented the case of Florida vegetable growers and joined with other market leaders in declaring subsidies unwarranted, unnecessary and un-American.

Mayo also supported representations previously made before the committee by representatives of citrus, livestock, dairying and poultry industries from several states.

Total arrest of girls under 21 from January through June, 1943, were 9,915. The figure for the same period of 1942 was 6,020, and for the full 12 months of 1941, 9,075.

Non-Basic English With Russian Lilt Is Used By Ratoff

By CLAYTON IRWIN
New York Features Writer

NEW YORK—Gregory Ratoff, the film director, really talks the way Samuel Goldwyn is supposed to—in non-basic English with heavy Russian dressing.

"Come closer, my friend," he says. "I'll tell you a scoop. De Rowahins, de English and de Americana have a screapt—like a motion picture screapt. A very wahnes in a while de screapt says for de Rowahins to scrip 'Saccod frawnt; Saccod frawnt.' It makes de Germans theenk Rowahins is wahried, but that is not so. Rowahins is actink out de screapt. I know. I am Rowahin."

He can say that again—and again. Between his old allegiance to the Czar, in whose army he fought, and his latest picture, a love story of modern Russia, Ratoff has become a voluntary, unofficial one-man ambassador of good will for Moscow and way points.

Don't let the Ratoff accent fool you. Beneath his shock of grey hair he has heavy-duty thinking machinery, and Hollywood has built a lot of good, legal tender for the Ratoff ability in the past few years. When he starts to talk, you take a good grip and hang on, for he drives like a fullback and hops around like a tap dancer. His voice is a rumble which, when throttled down to a confidential level, can be heard only a half block away. His conversation goes something like this, without accent:

"Tell me one issue on which Russia and America cannot agree. Do you know one of the first books Russian boys and girls read is Uncle Tom's Cabin? . . . Even before I came to America, 25 years ago I knew all about New York, where the Statue of Liberty would be sighted from the boat and that the Woolworth building was the tallest . . . Bob Taylor finished this new picture for me at 1:30 in the afternoon and at 1:45 he was in the barber shop, getting his G.I. haircut to go in the Navy. . . . Is that Goldwyn lueky? He brings out a new picture on Russia and bomb! they sign the Moscow agreement."

Ratoff, at 50, is big of the most fabulous characters in a fabulous industry. He started to be a lawyer in St. Petersburg, turned actor, toured the world and married Eugenie Leontovich. As a dialect comedian in Hollywood, he made as much as $2,500 a week, and spurned it to become a director.

He has been in bankruptcy and out again; he is eccentric, colorful, and a terrific showman. He says he never has made a picture "I am not excited about." He begged the producers for the assignment to direct "Song of Russia" because "I am born in Russia, and I know a picture on Russia should be honest—not too pretty, and not too villainous."

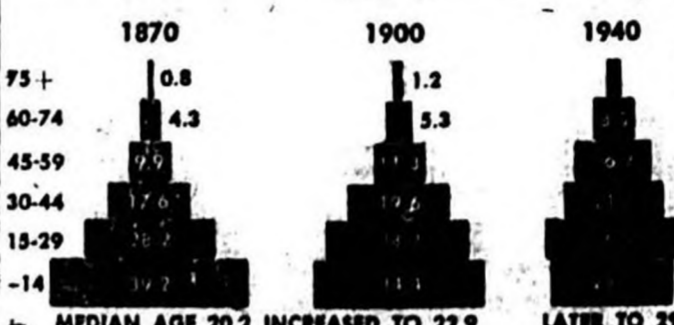

Women constitute about 49 per cent of the textile workers this year; about 77 per cent of the clothing workers.

Before the war, industries manufacturing electrical products employed the largest proportion of women.

OUR AGING POPULATION

BETTER medical care throughout life and a falling birth rate have combined to change the population picture in the United States in the years since 1870. The chart above shows just how the age groups within the population structure have shifted. We have a great many more middle-aged and old people today and fewer young people. In proportion, then we had 70 years ago when the average life expectancy was a great deal shorter. Experts point out that if the trend continues the younger generations will have an increased tax load to bear, with fewer persons to bear it, and a greatly increased number of old and unproductive persons to be fed and cared for. (International)

Egbert knew all the answers

What better way to spend your money than on a safe investment? You can't lose a job, a car, or a house, but you can lose your money. That's why you should invest in a safe, secure investment. The only way to protect your money is to invest in a safe, secure investment. The only way to protect your money is to invest in a safe, secure investment. The only way to protect your money is to invest in a safe, secure investment.

NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNERS! IMPORTANT!

The Supreme Court of Florida, construing the Tax Laws enacted at the 1941 and 1943 Sessions of the Legislature, has just ruled that THE TITLE TO ALL LANDS ON WHICH THERE IS A TAX CERTIFICATE IN THE HANDS OF THE CLERK OF THE CIRCUIT COURT MORE THAN TWO YEARS OLD IS VESTED IN THE COUNTY and the Board of County Commissioners SHALL file a Bill of Complaint in the Circuit Court QUIETING THE TITLE IN THE SAID COUNTY. This means that if there is a piece of property on which there is an unredeemed Tax Certificate on file in the Clerk's Office covering taxes for any of the following years:

- 1934 - 1935
- 1936 - 1937 - 1938
- 1939 - 1940

even though the taxes for all the remaining years have been paid that the TITLE TO THE SAID PROPERTY IS NOW IN THE COUNTY and that after the Return Day of the Writ, which CANNOT BE MORE THAN THIRTY DAYS AFTER THE FILING OF THE BILL OF COMPLAINT, that ALL CLAIMS OR INTEREST ARE FOREVER QUIETED, CONFIRMED AND SET AT REST. It is however provided, that up to and including the said Return Day, the lands may be redeemed by any party at interest or the Tax Certificates purchased. If the Tax Certificates are purchased on property within the limits of any Municipality all Municipal Taxes must be paid before purchase. On property that is not redeemed or the Certificates purchased within this time, it then becomes the duty of the County Commissioners and the Governing Body of the Municipality, jointly, if the said property is within the City limits to FIX A VALUE OF THE SAID LANDS FOR THE PURPOSE OF SALE. This said appraisal CANNOT BE LESS THAN 50% OF ITS ASSESSED VALUATION, BUT MAY BE SET AT ITS FULL VALUE.

The Bill of Complaint will be filed and Suit started in a few days, therefore WE URGE THAT YOU CHECK YOUR TAX RECEIPTS—GET IN TOUCH WITH THE CLERK'S OFFICE—DON'T DELAY—DON'T LOSE YOUR PROPERTY.

Rehabilitation Project Is Begun For Soldiers Who Commit Crimes

CAMP UPTON, L. I., Nov. 19 (Special)—A mass sociological project designed to rehabilitate Army prisoners—soldiers who have committed crimes ranging from desertion to bigamy—and restore them to active duty is being conducted successfully here by the Army Service Forces.

Since the center was opened last Dec. 1, a total of 1,141 men who violated the law have passed into the wind-swept, barb wire stockade at the southwest end of the camp and 353, or more than 30 per cent, have been permitted to return to regular Army units.

The stockade, known officially as the 1253d Rehabilitation Center, 2d Service Command, is one of nine in the United States, one for each service command. Into the center here have come some soldiers once under sentence of

DOOMED: Allied Bombers Race With Time To Crush German War Plants Before Invasion Deadline

VICTORY THROUGH AIR POWER theorists face an acid test. The greatest air-bill ever conceived is now on the Allied blueprint and these are the places marked for destruction. It may begin at any moment. A definite deadline has been set for its accomplishment. The tensely dramatic question is raised: Can Germany be pushed to the point of surrender by air force alone? Britain's Air Marshal Harris and America's Gen. Arnold are ready for this race against time. It's these targets against innumerable Allied lives! When the deadline limit is reached, the plans agreed upon at the Moscow Conference call for the beginning of ground invasion when "the hour strikes." Much depends on the ability of American air forces to carry out daylight precision bombing attacks. Centers of fighter plane production are highlighted in the raid plans and it is estimated that success would reduce German fighter strength to less than a thousand planes. (International) death, whose sentences were commuted to long prison terms and who have made good.

Under the guidance of Lieutenant Colonel Frank T. Madigan, commanding officer of the center, newspaper men were permitted today to see how the Army is getting front soldiers back into the proper frame of mind.

Treated "like Human Beings" The project, admittedly full of dangers, might be the event any impractical, should be released and get their hands on guns as well as their freedom, has not happened. It was said.

"We treat them like human beings and keep their minds occupied," said Colonel Madigan, a regular Army officer since 1917. Within the stockade 400 yards long and 300 yards wide, the 435 current inmates were seen at work at drill in the mess hall and at play. A fiercely competitive spirit appeared to exist, and when the men lined up after the final parade of a hard day, the honor company presented the pennant of the outfit bearing the slogan: "Facta Non Verba" ("Acts, Not Words"), a standard they suggested themselves.

The men are divided into two groups, general prisoners who constitute the bulk of the center's population, and garrison prisoners. General prisoners are those found guilty of serious offenses, who were tried by a general court martial and whose sentences included dishonorable discharges. These prisoners are divided into three classes, A, B and C.

Classified by Offense An A prisoner is a man convicted of such military offenses as desertion and prolonged absence without leave. The prisoners in Class B have been found guilty of escape from confinement, resisting arrest or refusal to obey orders. Those in Class C have been convicted of essentially civilian offenses such as assault, forgery, bigamy, larceny and embezzlement.

Garrison prisoners have been found guilty of military offenses by a special court martial and sentenced to confinement for six months or less but have not received dishonorable discharges. They are returned to their regular units when restored to active duty.

General prisoners lose all privileges. They are not permitted to wear regular uniforms, using instead a uniform dyed a dark

Man Who Held First Number In Draft Killed

Lieut. Lakow Enlisted In Air Forces And Won Flying Cross

NEW YORK CITY, Nov. 19 (AP)—Lieut. Herbert R. Lakow, whose selective service registration number was 158, the first drawn in the first lottery in 1940, has been killed in action, according to word received early this week from the War Department by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sol Lakow, of Brooklyn.

Lieut. Lakow did not wait to be called up but enlisted in the Army Air Forces and served in a Flying Fortress, winning the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with Oak Leaf Clusters. He was reported missing in action on Sept. 8.

In the last letter received from Lieut. Lakow he said: "The Jerries are really getting it bad. They have no recipe whatsoever. It must discourage them when despite every modern means of defense we come over every day, pick out a predetermined target and blast the stuff out of it." He added that, "all in all, earning medals is our only means of amusement, so I am taking the same right to heart. Tomorrow is raid day, so a bit of sleep is in order. I'll try to label one for you tomorrow."

Can You Picture FLORIDA without Highways?

A strange place it would be—this State of ours—if our splendid 29,745 mile network of improved highways suddenly ceased to exist.

A great many communities would be isolated. Others would find it infinitely more difficult to carry on even the most ordinary daily activities—with no trucks on the move, no cars or buses taking workers to war plants and farms, soldiers to camp and home on furlough, business travelers to nearby communities, children to school.

That isn't the whole story, however. Transforming these lifeless ribbons of concrete and macadam into live, active arteries of public transportation has been the accomplishment of the Florida Railroad Commission. They've labored hard and long to give our State a transportation system that compares favorably with any other in the country.

All of us who live and work and pay taxes in Florida can take pride in our share in this highway system.

As fellow citizens, the Florida Motor Lines have made a very large contribution in the form of license, fuel and operating taxes—but we feel that our greatest service is in putting the highways to work for the benefit of all who must travel, making neighbors and good neighbors of communities we serve throughout the State.

We Floridians are apt to take for granted the convenience of our excellent roads—but these highways didn't just grow. Building and maintaining them is a tremendous job and the achieving this responsibility we can thank our good government and particularly the Florida State Road Department.
