THANKSGIVING DAY IN SANFORD MEANS PREMIER BRIAND LEAVES SO MUCH TO ALL PEOPLE—MAY THEY LIVE LONG AND PROSPER.

The Greatest Day in the History of Thanksgiving Since the Pilgrim Fathers Gave Us the Day for Special Thanks to Our Master

Thanksgiving Day in Sanford seems to mean more than a mere Thanksgiving in some other part of the world. We gather here today to give thanks for the many blessings that have been given us during the past twelve months and as we ruininate over the past and look ahead to the future there is so much for which we can be thankful that the full significance of the day bursts upon us in all its glory shorn of all panopoly and pageautry.

Thanksgiving in Sanford is Thanksgiving in the full sense of the word. Here in the greatest farming and winter vegetable section and fruit growing section of the world, with the finest climate and the best location in the state for a big city, with prosperity on every hand and a peaceful and contented people there is no discordant note to mar the real happiness of a real Thanksgiving Day.

As our people gathered at the churches this morning to render thanks for their manifold blessings it occurred to each and every one of them that their lot had been cast in pleasant places.

There is so much for which we can give praise and thanksgiving songs. Nature has been so lavish with her gifts and the hand of man has but supplemented her gifts and made them larger and ing. finer and there is so much that the future holds for our citizens for an hour of pleasant retrospection and reading of the future with such an abundance of all the good things of life that even the poorest among us can enjoy again a file that even here on the shores of Lake Monroe that we can all sit down today the poorest among us can enjoy some of the material blessings and all of the spiritual blessings. There is so much that is being done and that will be done here for the glorification of mankind and the making of a great city. There is so much in the thoughts of our spiritual leaders today as they call attention to the many gifts showered upon us and regardless of the dark days that creep NEXT WEEK MAY WITNESS COLinto the lives of all of us the bright ones certainly predominate.

Let us then, today, pause in our work and our play to render thanks for the many blessings that have been bestowed in the year gone by and look ahead to the future with that upstanding faith that has carried us through many privations and trials and tribulations in the past and with the unending faith in our city and our for the settlement of the Irlsh quesfellow man and the faith in the promises of Him who rules the uni- tion are feared to be nearing an unverse we can take up the burdens tomorrow with a much stronger favorable end, according to high aufaith and the feeling that we have been endowed with new strength thority today and there's apprehension for having turnd aside for one day to give Him the thanks due for that next wee kmay witness the colthese blessings. And keep the faith in our fellow men and our lapse unless more favorable circumcity and our county and our state and our big country that just stances, not now forescen develop. now is going through another struggle that will develop into that universal love of mankind necessary for world disarmament and the end of all wars.

It was expected that the new rate would be effective within ten days, as the railroads, it was said, had asked the Interstate Commerce Commission through their general counsel to authorize the change on one day's notice. The reduction will coat the railroads about $55,000,000, it was estimated.

"The railroads have already reduced freight rates substantially from the level established by the commission in August, 1920," Mr. Cuyler's statement said. "The reductions already made are estimated as accurately as can be, to involve a loss of revenue at the rate of from $175,000,000 to $200,000,-000 annually. These reductions on many reads represent a less much greater htan any corresponding saving realized from reductions in wages already effeted. The railreads are, furthermore, awaiting decisions of the labor board, which it is hoped, will relieve the companies of the expense of many onerous and uneconomical working conditions. The railroads are not in a financial condition to make this sacrifico.

Sanford Fire Dept. Has Good Record: Wants No Advice

At every fire of any consequence the firemen are called upon to undergo a fusilade of criticisms, curses general brow-beating. No attention is paid to this as it usually comes from irresponsibles who do not own a cent's worth of property nor fought a fire in their life. No other fire department has any better record than ours, compared to its strength and no set of men are more willing to risk injury and possibly their lives, to save the property and lives of the citizens. Thousands of dollars of expensive equipment are placed in the firemen's care and they their utmost ability in its care and use. It is not encouraging to these men to sacrifice their home life and nearly all social enjoyment and go out in the discharge of their duties to be subjected to abuse. The records of the fire department show that it saves annually many times its cost of mainalnence and is a valuable asset in the growth of the city in which all true citizens are interested.

RAISING FINE LIMES AT LAKE MARY.

Lake Mary is one of the finest parts of Seminole county, with orange groves and farms and peaceful and prosperous people, and Lake Mary is beginning to feel the impulse of development, thanks to the efforts of several live wire real estate men, who have moved in there lately, and also the efforts of the good people who have been living there and who recognize the time as being ripe for development. The Herald office is the recipient of a box of nice limes today, the gift of Mrs. H. C. SUNDAY SCHOOL CAMPAIGN WAS GREAT SUCCESS

THE VARIOUS CHURCHES HAD LARGE ENROLLMENTS YESTERDAY

(From Monday's Daily)

The "Go to Sunday school" campaign inaugurated by the Sanford churches that has been put on the past week culminated in a result yesterday of which all the churches feel proud. The people generally rallied to the banners of the different churches and were urged to go to Sunday school by advertisements, posters, by personal solicitations and were made aware of the efforts of the churches to make it a big occasion.

The result was as follows yesterday

| morning: | |
|------------------------|-----------|
| Methodist Church | 559 |
| Baptist Church | 427 |
| Congregational | 84 |
| Presbyterian | 290 |
| The Baptist church had | 92 men. t |

Methodist had 113 men, the Presbyterian church had 45 men. This was a wonderful showing for Sanford and is a great record and now that so many new ones have been added to the rolls an effort will be made to keep the various schools up to this high standard.

The four men directly responsible for the success of this Sunday School campaign are the following and they received the unqualified support of the pastors and officers and member of the churches:

W. E. Scoggans, director in chief; H. R. Stevens, in charge of auto campaign; J. J. Bolly, in charge of the 4-The Sanford band is showing more minute speakers; Zeb Ratliff, public-

HUNTING LICENSES FOR SEMINOLE COUNTY BREAK THE RECORD.

It would seem that either the hunters are taking notice and obtaining licenses this year for the county, or else there are many more hunters this year than last. At any rate, the number of licenses issued by the Judge's office for the opening season numbered as follows: For residents, 660.

For non-residents of county, 65. For non-residents, state, 1.

The good work of the Fish and Game Protective Association is seen in this number of licenses and it is said that the game has been better protected this season than in many years and with a vigilant game warden on the job it will be protected right on through the season. Seminole county offers as much or more to the real sportsmen as any county in the state and our game should be protected at all times.

GIBBS WINS TRAP CONTESTS FOR THE SEASON

(From Saturday's Dalty)

L. H. Gibbs carried off high honors Thursday at the trap of the Sanford Rod & Gun Club, when the season to the hunting ground farther south, was officially closed. With a season percentage of .754 he wound up the season 12 points ahead of his nearest Mr. and Mrs. Mills and family, of competitor for first place, Col. Geo.

The contest between these men for first place has been close and interesting. Col. Knight has held the lead for several weeks, managing to stay just a few points ahead of Mr. Gibbs, and held his place until the last half of Thursday's contest. In the last half Gibbs broke 22 of his 25 and Col. Knight but 17, changing the score by several points.

J. H. Cowan, comes third with .783 to his credit. While Mr. Cowan was not a regular visitor at the traps he showed remarkable ability as marksman and made good scores at each contest which he entered. Raymond Allen and Bel Coleman came in for fourth and fifth places while A. B. Mr. and Mrs. Glover Reaves and Wallace and F. L. Woodruff, jr., hold margin of seven points between the fourth and seventh places in the list.

New license tags will be required on all motor vehicles January first. Applications to register motor vehicles and secure tags are made to Ernest Amos, State Comptroller, Tallahassee.

The blanks on which to make application may be secured from any bank, Clerk Circuit Court, County Judge or Tax Collector.
Also blanks will be furnished to automobile clubs or to individuals on request by the State Comptroller. The blanks will be appliable as any time of the North Comptroller. available at any time after Nov-ember 15th, and the applications may be filed any time after that date. But 1922 tags will not in any tase be mailed out before December fifteenth as they will not be valid for use prior to January 1st, 1922. Owners of motor vehicles are urged to apply early for their tags. Do not wait until December 31st to apply. Several thousand others do that. "Apply early and avoid the rush."

Passenger Car Weighte.

Weight of vehicle is required in all applications. The Comptroller will have as complete information as he can obtain from factories. and if owner of a Passenger Car does not know weight the Comptroller can supply information if the car is fully described as to year of make, model etc. The owner, however, should endeavor to ascertain weight in advance so correct remittance may be sent. Information on weights will be available at same places where blanks are obtainable.

Weight of Trucks.

In the case of trucks information on chassis weight and standard body allowances will be available. If truck is equipped with special design body it should be weighed if possible; otherwise body weight in table of body allowances will be used. Truck owners should specify particularly as to body equipment and have trucks weighed if pos-

In figuring price of license, weights are ligured in even hundreds of pounds, fifty pounds of less not counting, over fifty pounds counting as one hundred.

Write all names and addresses plainly. Many people's signatures are hard to decipher. Take the time to write plainly and your tag will be sure to be put in the mails correctly addressed.

When Your Tag Arrives The envelope containing the tag will also have a small pocket en-velope on outside containing motor vehicle certificate. Open this pocket envelope and get your certificate before throwing away the tag envelope.

The size of the 1922 tag is fixed by law. The Comptroller did not fix the size. There will be but One Tag and it is to be attached to rear of vehicle. Each tag will have an aluminum Insert showing weight of vehicle. This should be securely fastened on as it is a nec-

REAL AMERICAN WOMEN OF THE OLDEN DAYS

That all America honors Martha Washington, is due not entirely to the fact that she was the dearly loved wife of our greatest hero but because she possessed those heroic qualities that make women great in whatever walk of life they are found. At the time of her marriage to George Washington, she owned one of the largest estates on the Paumonkey river, and it was standing at the door of her beautiful colonial home that the young hero fresh from his first military triumphs saw and loved Martha Curtiss. After their marriage she lived the life of the Virginia gentry and it was not until the Revolutionary war that she showed those traits that made her famous. During the darkest days of the Revolution she was constantly with Washington at army headquarters relieving suffering and ministering in every way to the soldiers; upon her Washington relied for help, comfort and inspiration. Martha Washington gave to the country its highest ideal of wifehood, loyalty and patriotism.

It is interesting to note that althoour statesmen felt able to write our constitution, they sought the aid of a woman in designing the flag, which is the outward symbol of our country. Betsy Ross was a Quakeress and when very young ran away and married John Ross, who soon died leaving her a very young widow and she kept open his tailor shop and soon we would now call the decorating profession. When the committee appointed by Congress, consisting of George Washington, Robert Morriss and Col. George Ross, to design a flag for the new born Republic, they went at once to her and she without further ado, while they were talking clipped out our five pointed star. The day after the flag was adopted by congress she married Joseph Ashburn, a sea captain, who died a prisoner, and her third husband John Claypole died of wounds received in battle. It is easy to believe that she was an extremely attractive woman and must have been patriotic as well to give three husbands for her country.

A West Virginia woman preformed one of the most outstanding acts of heroism during the colonial days. A little band of men and women were imprisoned in Fort Henry when it was besieged by the Indians. The defenders of the Fort were almost without powder and Elizabeth Zane begged permission to secure a keg in her brother's house outside of the stockade. Having been given permission, she was let out of the gate. She flow on fear winged feett and the Indiana laughted to see a squaw appear before them but as she darted out of the house with the powder slung over her shoulder they understood her mission and death laden arrows began to fly but God rendered the fusikade of shot powerless and the only injuries she received were a wound in the arm and the clipping off of a lock of hair, Probably Molly Stark does not deserve the prominent place we are giving her for her fame comes through her influence upon her husband. At the Battle of Bennington, Captain Stark shouted "Boys there are the Red Coats. Before night they are ours or Molly Stark sleeps a widow," The thing that strikes us most is the purity of her life and the devotion to her husband. She followed him into camp and before the Battle of Copp's Hill he gave her a horse and instructed her to mount when she saw the British to spread the alarm into the neighboring country. The married life of these two was one of singular beauty and devotion.

At the Battle of Monmouth we find a woman doing Red Cross service alone. It was Molly Ludwig Hays and because she gave the dying soldier water and ministered to the living that she gained the name Molly with the pitcher or Molly pitcher. During this awful battle while she tended the wounded under fire her husband fell mortally wounded and she stiffling all grief, gave her best service where it was most needed, to her country. She manned the gun all the rest of the battle. The next day Washington commended her and she served in the army eight years wearing a soldier's cocked hat and coat. She was the first sergeant in the U. S. army that was a woman.

In Catherine Schuyler we find a woman of the highest social rank, Raised in luxury during the revolution she preformed a great many deeds of valor as well as suffered for the army a great many hardships. When the British were at Saratoga she made a perilous journey to her country place for her treasures saying to those that would warn her. "What, a general's wife afraid." She set fire attained quite a reputation in what to an immense field of wheat rather than let it fall into the hands of the British. She gave thousands of dollars and supplies to the revolutionary

Susan Livinston was the daughter of a British subject who was ardently attached to his country, but upon the colonies declaring their independence he cast his lot with Washington and became a rebel governor of New Jersey. Susan Livingston was one of a number of beautiful sisters, who was famed for their beauty and were called "The Livingston Graces." dark night two regiments of redcoats went to the Livingston home, called Liberty Hall, to secure the governor and some important military papers. Susan led them from room to room apparently hunting the dispatches and finally led them to where the papers were secreted but pretending that they were love letters and begged the officers not to read them and stated that she would give them the dispatches, reaching upon the topmost shelf of the bookcase she handed them some legal looking documents and they departed happily not dreaming that they had been foiled by a girl's quick wit,

Florida has a heroine, while not of Revolutionary fame, dld her share toward discovering Florida and thereby adding later a state to the union; this in Donna Dolores the ward and love of Ponce de Leon. The story of his hunt for the fabled fountain is too old to be retold but his love for his beautiful and young ward was the incentive that led him to the Land of Flowers. In his death delirium he saw her drinking from the fabled fountain. Histories differ, some saying that he married her before his death and others saying that he did not.

To the ones that preserve the traditions of the Republic in loyalty and patriotism is due as much honor as those that aided to secure it and to Mary S. Lockwood, the Little Mother of the D. A. R. is due a medal of honor. She had the thought and inspiration that lead to the founding of the great society whose aim is to preseve these sacred traditions.

To the ones that give to an entire state this new vision is due not only that state's loyalty and devotion which she has in full measure but a place also in the history of that state for she is building a structure of patriotism for the future and to such a one Florida is proud to refer "The D. A. R. mother of Florida, Mrs. Joeling Christopher, of Jacksonville."

Mrs. Arthur B. Gilkes, of Jacksonville, is not only the war mother of D. A. R. in Florida but the mother of Sallie Harrison Chapter of Sanford. Let the seed of loyalty to our country that she has planted never die but grow and flourish until the debt thet Seminole county owes her acrued interest with each succeeding generation and our sisters will join us in calling her blessed for she builded better than she knew. Let us not forget that each of these brave women stood first in the place of their homes, their devotion to their families and husbands and that each hereine stood sponsor for a here, that their family life was a benediction to all about them and their devotion to country was not surpassed.

ST. ANDREW BROTHERHOOD ENTERTAINED BOY SCOUTS FROM OTHER STATES HERE

Tuesday evening the Brotherhood of Saint Andrew had the pleasure of entertaining three boy Scouts, Neal Robertson, of Battle Creek, Mich., William Wingate, of Cleveland, Ohio, and James Cassidy, of Springfield, day tour of the State at the expense of the papers of their home towns. Upon arriving in Sanford the boys registered at the Valdez hotel and after taking in the sights, they were taken to the Brotherhood of Saint Andrew rooms, where they were given the run of the place, After looking over the Parish house, the Brotherhood assembly room, shower bath and the other Brotherhood equipment, the boys played a game of billiards and howled for a time after which and other good things were served.

The boys declared they had a fine time and that though they had heard quite a bit about the Brotherhood, they had no idea that it was such a wonderful organization.

The farmers branch of the citizen exchange, so we hear, have bought ten acres of the Brady farm, located near the railroad tracks on Beardall avenue and are about to erect a precooling plant, packing house and storage warehouse.

The Sanford Truck Growers, Inc., loaded a car of lettuce this week, as also did the Fruit Growers, Inc. The continued warm weather is making the lettuce go to seed. Growers will be able to gather seed for next year's planting.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Miller had as nephew, E. B. Miller, of White Springs and T. R. Miller of Welborn. Jimmie Cowan is here on a fiftuin day furlough from Camp Gordon, in Atlanta, Ga., his first visit since going into the U.S., service two years ago. He is convalencent from an illness at the government hospital at Augusta, where he was ill some time.

Every one should be on the look out, for there seems to be a good many snakes about. Walter Raulerson had a dog bitten by a snake last week, and the fine big cat, Tom Tucker, owned by J. C. Ellsworth, was snake bitten last Thursday and weeks, but is said to be improving. Mrs. W. W. Drssor and children, are expected to urrive from Waterdinner at home.

On the East Coast the damage was reported exceedingly light, many sections reporting no storm at all. Estimates were Volusia 2 per cent, Brevard 4 per cent, St. Lucie 8 per cent; Palm Beach, 5 per cent and Dade, 1 per cent.

At the time of the storm less than 5 per cent of the crop had moved, the No. 14 Garner-Woodruff Buildin estimate continued, and of the fruit on trees, ten per cent was blown off, thorn stuck or otherwise damaged. It was estimated that about ten per cent of this was recovered and shipped. The loss will be still further reduced by the increase in the size of the fruit remaining on trees, the statistician continued and the average for the state probably will be 30 per cent.

SHIPPERS MILL'NS

TAMPA, Nov. 21,—one million dollars will besaved by Florida citrus fruit shippers this season, and almost as much will be saved by Florida vegetable shippers, says E. D. Dow, traffic manager of the Florida Citrus Exchange, as a result of the 10 pe reent reduction in freight rates on all farm products just announced by the Association of Railway Executives.

This reduction, becoming effective shortly, will amount to an average of about ten cents per box or $36 per car of citrus fruits, said Mr. Dow.

The Florida Citrus Exchange is the organization which led a nationwide fight against the excessive freight rates on perishables, and the opening gun in its campaign was an article, which appeared in the Tribune about eight or nine months ago, in which the exchange announced its intention of inviting all co-operative marketing agencies, farmers' avaicintions and the like into s campaign bringing pressure upon the Interstate Commerce Commission and the railways to secure rates that would allow the growers to market their products at a profit. From Maine to Callfornia and from Florida to Maine organizations joined in and the effort was carried on unceasingly is conferences with railroad men, the I. C. C. and in growers' meetings in this and other states. Figures showing the absolute necessity of lower rates to save thousands of carloads of fruits and vegetables rotting in orchards and fields of this state alone have done much to show the transportation companies the folly of their demand for more yet and more in rates.

It is not believed the growers' ronizations will be content with the 10 per cent cut, as rates on perishables were raised practically 100 per cent during the period from 1915 to

Washington, Nov. 21.—"The news received here of an early reduction of 10 per cent in freight rates on citrus fruits and all farm products is indeed gratifying to me," said Park Trammell, who has been unusually active for some time in tryaround six per cent of this season's ing to bring about a reduction of Senator Trammell said that while this reduction is not as much as it should be, it will assist toward releving the people of his state of the present exorbitant freight rates. This the government tax on freight and passenger charges, which repeal is in Severe storm losses occurred along line with the fight made by him, will the west coast, the final figures indi- mean a reduction of about 15 per duced in Florida.

Senator Trammell vigorously opposed and voted against the present rollroad law under which railroad have been making such high freight and passenger charges, and was among the first members of either branch of congress to begin an active effort for a reduction in freight rates and for the repeal of the government tax on ransportaion chargos. He has done all that he could to force the freight reduction and to have he tax discontinued.

Senator Fletcher said: "I am, of course, very much pleased to learn that the railroad officials propose voluntarily to reduce freight rates on all farm pproducts. It will be the first reduction affecting Florida since the increased rates went into effect some years ago, and will, I am cortain, be followed by further reductions as the finances of the roads permit. I am inclined to believe, however, that this reduction will be made in anticipation of a further reduction in operating expenses of the roads, which have been exceedingly high,

"Business all over the country is reviving, which means that there will be more freight shipped and that cally everyhing used and it is to be hoped that the proposed reduction will result in a proportionate lowering of prices to the consumer. The middleman is, however, the follow who hesitates to give up an advantage. It is my opinion that the railroads would profit by reducing the passenger rates, for our people would then travel more.

"No, there will me no government ownership of railroads and no more federal control, except in the event of a national tmergency, as during the world war. Had that step not been taken, it would not have been possible expeditiously to handle war materials and our men, and would have resulted in a prolongation of the
