

Labor Crisis Eases As Strike Total Drops To 350,000

Detroit troubles eased as two strike-bound auto and car parts producers resumed operations leaving the motor city without a major strike for the first time in over six weeks. The strike at the Briggs-Hayne Wheel Co. was declared ended and the Ford Motor Co. supplied by Robert Hayes called thousands of employees back to work. The Hudson motor car strike of 300,000 men ended after five weeks and 100,000 workers are back at work.

In Washington, Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach signed the second meeting of John L. Lewis and the soft coal operators. The operators told Lewis they won't talk with him until the miners return to work. The second big coal work stoppage is the two weeks old strike of 61,000 M.P. lumber workers on the Pacific northwest, but 10,000 C.I.O. workers remained at their jobs pending a meeting of operators and federal conciliators Thursday to discuss the lumber wage dispute.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8. (AP)—Federal labor machinery bogged down last night under a mounting load of wage-price disputes, the spreading soft coal strike and other controversies which present a threat to speedy reconstruction.

The War Labor Board authorized to decide disputed wage increase demands, was refusing to take any cases unless the parties involved agreed to abide by its decision.

The National Labor Relations board, constituted with seven and short of funds, faced the prospect of having to postpone all its work under the Wagner act and concentrate entirely on conducting more than 100 strike votes in the next 30 days.

Only the National Mediation board, which handles disputes under the railway labor act, was out of the spotlight. At times, it was a danger of work stoppages even within the country.

As a result, Secretary of Labor Lewis E. Schwellenbach has been forced to assume the role of a virtual one-man federal mediation service. Last week he directed his principal efforts to ending the rubber strike.

He meets again tomorrow morning with soft coal producers and President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers to further exploration of the issue which has cost 100,000 miners and forced steel plants to curtail shipments to steel handshaps.

The operators, like the oil companies, last week, have urged Schwellenbach to follow W.L.R.B. policy by insisting that strikers return to their jobs before discussing the merits of a dispute.

The labor secretary ignored the oil companies' request. He said he would not take a position on the coal producers' appeal until after he hears both parties' theories.

Lewis was believed to be relying on a recommendation made by former Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins to win his fight with the coal operators. During 1945 wage negotiations, he accepted her compromise proposal that the issue of bargaining rights for mine supervisory employees be determined by NLRB. When the operators refused, Lewis dropped his demands. But four days after the contract was signed, he notified them the NLRB determination of the issue.

HERE IS ONE THRILLING PHOTO in the story of the run. (2) Cramer is fast heading home and (3) Mayo has made a home run. A television camera shows the doublet Mark Green being as he heads for second base after he closed out a home run.

USUALLY EVERYBODY IN LORAIN, OHIO, lined the city's streets to greet and cheer their home-town hero, Fleet Admiral Ernest J. King, Chief of Naval Operations. Here the crowd is shown surrounding the admiral's car as it led the parade. In the rear of the car are (L to R): Fleet Admiral King, Governor of Ohio Frank Lausche, and the mayor of Lorain, Harry G. Von Wagner. The Admiral told a reporter that he expects to return from the Navy "as soon as things settle down—about January first."

Aircraft Carriers In Second Place In Navy's Plan

Battle-ship-minded top officials have forbidden public discussion of these plans by the so-called "air admirals," but some proponents of a larger role for naval aviation are hopeful that Congress will insist on having from the men who directed the carriers against Japan, such as Vice Admiral Marc Mitscher of Task Force 58 fame.

In the Atlantic, baby flatties, known as CVE's and built on cargo ship hulls, were credited with beating the Nazi U-boat threat.

Spearheads in the Pacific, the carriers became capital ships and all operations were built around them. They spearheaded every major move in the drive toward Japan.

When the war started there were but seven large carriers and 6,000 Navy pilots. The Japanese cut the number of carriers to three. By the end of the war there were 10 carriers—three large carriers, eight light or cruiser class carriers and 70 escort carriers, with 55,000 Navy and marine pilots.

Compared with seven carriers for 8,000 pilots, the present peacetime outline calls for around 18,000 naval aviators with but 10 carriers. Training time at sea presumably would be reduced sharply from the pre-war standard.

University Plans Thrilling Program For Homecoming

GAINESVILLE, Oct. 8. (Special)—The University of Florida's plans for a packed one-day Homecoming celebration Oct. 13, centered around the first night Homecoming football game in its history and the first meeting of the Executive Council of the Alumni Association since the appointment of six new members.

New council members who will attend the meeting at 10 o'clock Saturday morning in Florida Union building are: Roy L. Purvis, Gainesville; Robert Bishop, Orlando; Jack Stevens, Marianna; Richard Simpson, Monticello; John H. Wahl, Miami, and Alfred Rogers, Clearwater.

Governor Millard Caldwell, along with J. Ed Larson, State Treasurer, Julius Parker, president of the State Bar Association and State Supreme Court Justice Chapman and Terrell will attend a Homecoming breakfast sponsored by the Florida chapter of Phi Alpha Delta, honorary legal fraternity, in Florida Union Annex at 8:30 with H. D. Constantine, head professor of speech, acting as toastmaster.

Dr. John J. Tigert, president of the University, telling of the plans of the first peacetime Homecoming in four years, said it will be as extensive as the times permit with "so many of the alumni still in the service of the country." Plans for the day are under the supervision of a joint alumni-university committee headed by J. Ed Price, assistant dean of students.

Spotlighting the football game between the University of Florida Gators and Vanderbilt's Commodores will be a between-the-halves tribute to the alumni who have served in World War I. Prior to the game, plans are being made for a dinner in honor of Vanderbilt alumni in the vicinity of Gainesville. Dr. Tigert, who served as captain of the Vanderbilt football team in his under-graduate days, will see his alma mater play the University of Florida for the first time in the 17 years he has been Florida's president.

Other features of the one-day celebration include a barbecue honoring state legislators, out-of-campus University open-house and various luncheons and dances at the 19 social fraternity lounge.

Dean Hudson, nationally prominent orchestra leader and an alumnus of the University of Florida, will play for a campus-wide dance in the basketball court Friday night under the sponsorship of the Inter-Fraternity Conference, W. C. Nesbitt, Conference president, has announced. Hudson organized his band while a student here in 1936.

The social fraternities have been given the go-ahead signal for the week-end and plans have been made for decoration of the various houses for the first time in four years.

Barnett is Named Director For Blind

TAMPA, Oct. 10, (FNS)—M. Robert Barnett, blinded by an accident 12 years ago, was named executive director of the Florida Council for the Blind this week. Barnett was selected to fill the vacancy created by the death of Henry P. Johnson, Tampa attorney.

As head of the statewide agency, which helps to rehabilitate sightless persons and teaches them to become active, useful members of society, Barnett will have ample chance to use his own experiences.

He was a senior at Robert E. Lee High School in Jacksonville when he lost his sight. He entered the Florida School for the Blind at St. Augustine and from there went to Stetson University in Deland, where he received his Bachelor of Art Degree. For three years he directed publicity for the University and in 1944 became manager of the Deland Bureau of the Daytona Beach News-Journal.

If you are in need of Cheap household help,

"THIS IS WHERE I COME IN!"

Reddy in an instant, too!

And I like tough jobs with long hours. I'm on a 24-hour, 7-day shift. I'm so good at my job—so fast—so efficient—so thorough, I can do things for pennies. Yep, for a single penny, (at average household rates) I'll do any of these jobs—

- VACUUM CLEAN A SIX ROOM HOUSE
- RUN A SEWING MACHINE ALL AFTERNOON
- KEEP A REFRIGERATOR COLD FOR 4 HOURS
- LIGHT A 60 WATT BULB FOR 3 1/2 HOURS
- RUN THE WASHER FOR 6 TUBS OF CLOTHES
- GIVE YOU THE CORRECT TIME FOR 4 DAYS
- KEEP A RADIO PLAYING FOR 2 HOURS

Actually, the average family gets just about TWICE as much electricity for its money as it did 15 years ago.

And you'll get a thrill when you find out what I'll be doing for you in the wonderful Electronic Age just dawning.

So-o-o remember, you can't go wrong when you call in.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY WE NEED NOT WORRY IF WE KNOW THAT WE ARE IN GOD'S PLAN.

SONG OF THE FUTURE
(From The Lyric)
Now when the night is dark—Too dark for sleeping—
And time moves on too quick For rest or weeping.

Imagine Russia giving us the secret of the atomic bomb if they knew it and we didn't!
As far as we can tell, the communists in Europe have much trouble getting along with the socialists as they do with the conservatives.

The crowd turned out to hoot and holler for Admiral Nimitz in Washington and New York the other day, in spite of the fact that he is probably the bravest man in the Navy.

It's a funny thing, with labor striking for higher wages all over the country, stock market averages are at their highest level in years. It must be the inflationary implications.

Rumors have been rampant of a polio epidemic in this county.
As far as we have been able to find out there is no more danger of polio at this time than there ever is at this time of year, and that is practically negligible.

Some folks are not having very good luck with DDT as an insecticide. They are eliminating flies, mosquitoes and other pests because they do not use a strong enough solution. Those who have made a study of it say that a solution of at least 5 percent DDT must be used to be effective.

The latest information from Melbourne is that the Naval Air Station there is going to remain open until about next March anyway, in spite of four hundred men recently transferred to Sanford. An entire new complement of about 1,000 aircrewmen are reported being transferred to Melbourne.

If you have been planning to buy a new car, you will probably have to wait until the automobile workers get good and ready to make it. The new car probably will not be a reality as soon as you have hoped, says the Tampa Tribune. The threatened automobile strikes, if they occur — and it appears that they will — will knock out the schedule of production. Oh well, maybe the old jalopy will run for another year or two yet, while the boys have their fun.

A recent letter from Frank Covey, formerly city editor of The Sanford Herald and friend of the University of Florida when he came here, reveals that he is now working for the Tampa Tribune after nearly four years in the Army. Covey, who did not see a fine job writing stories for the Herald's special edition in the fall of 1941, has been employed most of the time in Sanford where he has been conducting public relations for the Army.

President Truman asks Congress for $500,000,000 for European relief. This is a gesture of good will, or gesture to the various governments of Europe — $75 billion in England, $100 billion in France, $100 million in Greece and so forth.
We are to give $500 million to Europe. It is a fine gesture, but we must remember that if the United States is to get up all the money to give, we must have a way to get it.

Labor Laws

It becomes plain even to those who favored it most in the beginning, that the present labor legislation fails of its purpose. It protects labor unions, but does not protect their individual members. It does not protect management, which is made to carry the whole burden of responsibility, while labor is not required to carry any. Worst of all, it falls utterly to protect the general public.

Trial and error are the means by which the American people have hung on to their rights through all these years of the republic. So they try anything once. If a new piece of legislation succeeds, that's good. If it fails, after being given every chance, it is repealed or modified to make it work. It isn't any particular law which is sacred, but the rule of law in general. If one form does not do what it should, another should be tried until something does succeed.

However, carefully planned the Wagner Act may have been, it is failing in its main purpose of protecting workers without injuring anyone else. It is ending by doing injury to the whole body politic including the workers themselves.
Surely, after this trial of years, some modification or new writing of a labor law can be brought out which will keep the strength of the present legislation, while eliminating its weaknesses.

Right labor legislation should protect labor's rights but also maintain labor's responsibilities, as well as those of management, and should protect the public as a whole.

bridge of vital words between the men fighting on shore and the fighting men aboard ships in the English Channel.

"The Nazi fire was deadly. In waist deep water Pinder's buddies crumpled, their bodies broken by shrapnel, cut by well aimed bullets. Somehow Pinder shoved forward, his mission strong in his mind, his spirit willing him shoreward.

"A lieutenant who saw him plunge ahead knew that he was wounded. He told later of how Pinder absorbed the first burst of shrapnel with no murmur of pain.
He was hit more than once. His face was battered. Clutching his wounds with one hand Pinder held the precious transmitter with the other and made the shoreward call.

"To those who knew him in civilian life, such heroism could be understood. He had been a professional baseball player. He was no youngster, but even at 32 he showed he was as fast as the youngest in his company. With the First Infantry Division, he had participated in the Algerian, French, Moroccan, Tunisian and Sicilian Campaigns. Battle was no new experience for him.

"Perhaps that was why, though badly wounded he turned back to the craft he had left. On shore was the transmitter. In the landing craft was the receiver. Strenuous about in the surf were pieces of equipment dropped by the wounded and the dead. To get these—all of these—he headed back into the maelstrom of death for it was his race against Nazi bullets and he meant to win.

Three times he repeated his mission and three times he succeeded in the main and torture of his wounds. But he was undaunted.
Iron will had overcome the ordinary weaknesses of a human body.

"As he was completing his task, another burst of German fire hit him. A few minutes later he opened communications with headquarters. Midst the roar of bombs and the clatter of guns and cries of men, Pinder died quietly—a great American. In addition to the Purple Heart, he was posthumously awarded the Medal of Honor by the War Department for gallantry in action.

"He had raced against death and though he lost his life, he won his objective. His efforts eventually made it possible for fire fighting fighter bombers to wipe out the very guns that had cut him down.

for which is now on and is being held at the time Florida celebrates her Centennial Year. This in itself should be an inspiration to everyone to see that Florida's fine record is not only sustained, but advanced so as to attract the attention of the entire world.
War is over, that is true, but the most dangerous period lies ahead.
What is done now determines the future of our country and the world. Peace must be maintained. By giving of our money, to combat starvation and pestilence, is certainly one of the most effectual ways of keeping the peace. I am proud of Florida's record and knowing as I do the warm hearts of our people, I know that they will respond cheerfully and magnani-mously in so worthy a cause as the National War Fund."

From Tallahassee, Governor Millard F. Caldwell, state chairman of the Florida Division urged concerted action during October in making the drive a success and said:

"The end of the war has not brought an end to the need of service personnel for the morale-building entertainment and other necessary services given to them by the agencies participating in the National War Fund campaign. In fact it may be more trying, even though it is less dangerous, to remain away from families and friends for long periods now that the fighting is stopped. The job is not finished and will not be finished until the aggressors have been rendered impotent to wage another war. Our job is not finished either as long as our service forces remain in uniform and on duty."

"This is our opportunity to

Educational Values

A girl improves her chances of making a good match by educational attainments, according to a study made by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. It is revealed also that, for the most part, both men and women tend to choose mates with schooling similar to their own.

"Among husbands who stopped their schooling after 7 or 8 years of grade school, 52 per cent had wives of like educational status, but barely 4 per cent had wives with a college background," the company said. "On the other hand, among husbands with some college training, 47 per cent had wives but only 6 per cent had wives who stopped their education after 7 or 8 years of grade school. The single exception to the tendency for men to choose wives with a schooling equivalent to their own is found among men who stopped at the fifth or sixth year of grade school.

"The situation among wives is very similar to that described for husbands. Thus, among those wives who did not continue beyond 7 or 8 years of grade school, 58 per cent had husbands with the same limited schooling, while less than 3 per cent were married to men who had been to college. More than half of the wives with one or more years at college had college men as husbands; only one-ninth had husbands whose schooling stopped after 7 or 8 years of grade school. In other words, a girl improves her chances to marry well by advancing her own educational attainments."

"While women are even more likely than men to take a spouse of equal education, they are less likely to marry someone with a better education. In the group which completed only seven or eight years of grade school, the Metropolitan shows that less than 24 per cent of the wives had husbands with more schooling than their own, while 39 per cent of the husbands with this limited schooling married girls who had gone to high school or beyond. However, of the girls who did not go beyond graduation from high school, 19 per cent married college men, while only 13 per cent of the men with four years of high school married college women.

The Answer

The Palmetto News gently chides us on what it terms "making a mountain out of a molehill" in our fight on the sweat-boxes or other cruel instruments of punishment, go about making convicts obey orders if they refused to do so."

We don't have to take the trouble of writing a reply.
It is written for us in the Sanford Herald, which says:

An interesting story in Sunday's Tribune told how George McKory, former Seminole county legislator, now superintendent of the Florida Industrial School for Boys controls the sometimes difficult youths without resort to sweat-boxes or other "cruel and unusual punishment" sometimes found in Florida's penal institutions. He has a system of ranks and privileges which he gives to the boys who behave and those who don't. Naturally those who obey the rules are ranked higher, get more privileges, than those who don't. It works wonderfully, McKory says.

George McKory has found a way to get excellent results at the institution he ably directs without resorting to sweat-boxes or other cruel instrument of punishment.
Some of the boys who go to McKory's school are as tough and hard to control as the convicts who are committed to the tender mercies of convict camp bosses and guards. He uses simply an honor and demerit system and it works perfectly.—Tampa Tribune.

42 Veterans Placed
In Jobs In Month

The United States Employment Service brings more than ten years of experience into its new assignment of finding jobs for physically handicapped veterans of World War II. Mrs. Betty Moseley, junior interviewer in charge of the USES office in Sanford stated today in announcing a total of 42 placements of veterans through her service during the past month.

Pointing out that the number of civilian workers who become handicapped for jobs annually exceeded even the wartime military casualties resulting in occupational disability, Mrs. Moseley said the USES has developed special selection and placement techniques for matching workers with the jobs they are able to perform and in which their physical impairment is not an impediment on the job.

"The employment service aims to select occupations to match the physical abilities of the applicants and to find jobs which the handicapped person can perform despite the physical limitation," Mrs. Moseley said. "With the USES given responsibility in all communities for assisting veterans to find suitable employment, the only limit to our capacity for placing them will be the limitations placed by those who have jobs to offer."

She invited all employers in Sanford to file specifications of their job opportunities with the USES office at 112 N. Park Avenue and to indicate a willingness to employ physically handicapped workers when such workers are qualified for the job.

Public Is Warned To Be Careful In Buying Oysters

JACKSONVILLE Oct. 10, (Special)—With oyster season in full swing, bivalve buyers were urged this week by the State Board of Health to be their own inspectors when purchasing the shellfish so prolific in Florida waters. Although sanitarians make routine inspections of local markets, the public's cooperation as precautionary measure in disease control is sought.

The warning to buy only a certified product from a bona fide dealer was issued, because 22 oyster producing areas around the peninsula have been condemned due to raw or inadequately treated sewage from cities and towns emptying into the regions, according to the Bureau of Sanitary Engineering. Plans and specifications for needed sewage treatment works for abating pollution in some of the condemned areas, but this week has been held back by the war and other circumstances.

The condemned areas are all Fernandina, Jacksonville, St. Augustine, Daytona Beach, New Smyrna, Vero Beach, Ft. Pierce, Lake Worth, Bradenton, Tampa, St. Petersburg, Tarpon Springs, Panama City, Pensacola, Escambia Bay, Blackwater Bay, Caloosa, Hachee River, Carasota Bay, Clearwater Harbor, Homosassa, Spring Creek and Apalachicola Bay.

Usually, these condemned areas produce a very fat and succulent oyster, which consequently are harvested whenever possible by "stealer" gatherers. The oysters are usually shucked by the "boot-leggers" on the spot and sold at the backdoors of markets and eating houses who also defy the law by handling a contraband, health menaced product.

It was emphasized that oysters from polluted waters may be means of transmitting typhoid, paratyphoid, bacillary dysentery and other intestinal infections. It may also contain, therefore, what can happen in the human wastes from persons suffering from, or who is a carrier of any one of these diseases should drain into one of the 22 condemned oyster landing regions—should bivalves from such regions be eaten.

Shellfish from clean approved growing areas and processed in approved establishments will not jeopardize the public health, it was stressed. All legitimate shellfish dealers are controlled by regulatory authority with assigned certified shellfish products.

Purchases made from peddlers and unauthorized sources are dangerous. Also, persons on picnics, fishing trips and outings should be sure they do not gather oysters within the condemned areas. Information can be obtained from local health departments about these condemned waters.

DANGER ON THE PRODUCTION FRONT

*How Much Will You Have to Pay for Your New Car?
 How Long Will You Have to Wait to Get It?*

RECONVERSION BOGGING DOWN

Strikes are threatening the entire automobile industry. General Motors is being specifically singled out for attack to enforce unreasonable demands. Some of our plants have already been closed and shipment of materials from the plants of many of our suppliers has already been stopped by strikes.

The interests of all Americans should be considered. This is not only a General Motors problem. It is a national one as well. If our plants are closed by strikes the strikes will be against the interests of all the people of our country as much as they will be against General Motors.

AFTERMATH OF WAR

While the war is over, the aftermath of war presents big problems. War is terribly wasteful in blood and treasure. This one was especially so. It was not prosperity even though to some it may have seemed to be. And the immediate aftermath of such a war cannot be prosperity either. The clean-up, the mopping-up, the reconversion still require hard work, patience, understanding, and some sacrifice on the part of all of us.

INDUSTRY ON THE JOB

Our fighting men crushed our enemies with the huge quantity of weapons produced by American industry. But that is behind us. We would like to have been better prepared for peace, but the terrific demands of the war for men and materials did not make this possible. Now we have planned a second all-out effort and stand ready and anxious to do an equally impressive job.

PROBLEMS OF RECONVERSION

American industry has proved its ability to perform. It has the know-how, the resources, the courage to push ahead. But even with these fine assets it cannot do the job alone. It must have the goodwill and backing of the people of our country.

Our second all-out effort to meet a critical situation will bog down unless the real facts are recognized and sound measures promptly taken to solve the problems. Temporarily, while we are liquidating the war, there should be a sound national wage-price policy to stabilize and expand the economy.

DANGER OF INFLATION

The most serious threat we face is that of runaway inflation. The danger comes from three sources: first, the wartime and current tremendous deficit spending of our government; second, the pent-up demands for goods and services to the point where some are willing to pay excess prices even in black markets to satisfy their impatient and selfish desires; third, the desires of equally selfish unions to take advantage of the situation and force unreasonable wage increases.

Inflation is the worst of all economic diseases. It reduces the value of money in terms of what money will buy. It reduces the value of the savings of the people. It undermines security. It underwrites depression. It destroys confidence. It creates unemployment. Inflation must be avoided.

REAL PRICES

In a free market and in the absence of subsidies and speculation, the cost of human effort, be it in the form of wages, salaries or other forms of compensation, quickly determines the price we pay for goods.

Higher wages without a corresponding increase in productivity are inflationary. Nothing is gained unless higher wages mean more goods and services, more customers and more good jobs. This requires individual application to the job in hand and technological progress all along the line—better ways of doing all the things that must be done to produce and deliver products to customers at reasonable prices. This takes time.

A minority, by monopoly or by pressure group action, may temporarily profit at the expense of others. But the idea of wage increases all along the line without a corresponding increase in productivity is a delusion. All the people cannot lift themselves by their bootstraps.

UNION DEMANDS

Today, unions in our plants are demanding 52 hours' pay for 40 hours' work. Their demands if granted would result in over 67 hours' pay at present base rates for 48 hours of work where plants are working on such a schedule.

Equivalent or greater demands have been made on our suppliers—the parts manufacturers—the electrical industry—the steel industry—the rubber industry—the oil and gasoline industry—the railroads—in fact, on practically every industry involved in the production of automobiles.

WAGES AND PRICES

General Motors wages are now at an all-time high and are importantly higher than the average wages paid throughout the country for similar work. The present government stabilization policy permits wage increases without government approval only if such increases will not result in a request to increase prices. The formula the OPA has proposed for pricing our new products does not recognize or allow all the actual increases in our costs that have been incurred since 1942.

Neither is there any provision in the present OPA formula for increasing prices to compensate for the additional costs that would be incurred if wages and salaries were increased at this time.

A sound and equitable solution must be found in the interests of not only our 400,000 employees, but our 426,000 stockholders, our 15,214 automobile dealers, who have had no new cars for over three years, our 10,000 subcontractors and suppliers and their employees, and the more than 10,000,000 potential customers who are anxiously waiting for new cars and our other products they need so badly.

WARTIME PROFITS

General Motors did not make big profits during the war. Although sales and employment doubled, the average yearly net profit in dollars earned during the war was less than the average prewar net profit. Dividends paid to stockholders averaged less than those paid before the war.

The war profit limitation policy voluntarily adopted by General Motors immediately after Pearl Harbor was so reasonable that the resulting profits were accepted in renegotiation without change by our government for the years 1942, 1943 and 1944.

During the war, Victory Was Our Business.

EXCESS WAGES REFUSED

Demands are being made for higher wages without any corresponding increase in production, on the assumption that the additional costs can be absorbed from profits previously earned or from uncertain future profits.

General Motors cannot use money saved up for many years for the purpose of modernizing and expanding its plants and providing more good jobs, to pay excess wages for work not performed. The money cannot be spent twice.

Neither can excess wages be currently paid from presumed future excess profits when a realistic forecast of costs shows there will be no such excess profits.

Nor can we pay from current income the increased wages demanded when the present OPA policy holds prices to substantially 1942 levels—especially in view of the fact that there have been important increases in wages and operating costs since 1942.

Runaway inflation must be avoided. If an adjustment in price levels must be made at this time, the interests of all the people must be fairly considered.

If wage and salary increases are made, it must be recognized that they increase costs and such costs must be adequately reflected in the prices of products produced.

Internal strife and unemployment must be avoided. Only productive work and more good jobs will increase our standard of living and satisfy the desires of the American people.
