

Lemmond Defeats Florida Powermen By 8 To 5 Score

Osceola Wallops Kilgore Outfit By Score Of 12-8

Lemmond's fast moving softball team continued their winning war last night by trouncing the Florida Power and Light team 8 to 5 and Osceola continues their fine play by defeating Kilgore 12 to 8.

Carlisle Swafford pitched the Lemmond outfit to victory, permitting eight scattered hits. Lemmond collected 11 hits.

Lemmond scored once in the first, once in the fourth, once in the fifth, once in the sixth and in the seventh clinched the fray by pushing across four more runs. Florida Power also scored in the first with one run crossing the plate and in the second frame took the lead by pushing two markers across home plate. In the fourth they added their fourth run and in the seventh the best they could do was to chalk up one run.

Leading at the plate for Lemmond was Bill Stemper with a double and single out of two times up for a perfect night at bat.

Facing the Florida Power players was Stinson Kinlaw with two bingles out of three trips. Several fielding gems enlivened the evening's play but the best plays of the evening were two stops by Wilson Smith at short for Florida Power in running stabs of line grounders.

Kilgore wilted under the pressure of the rejuvenated Osceola club and after scoring four runs in the first inning failed to maintain the pace with the result that they could score but four more runs during the remainder of the contest which left them four short of the Osceola margin of victory.

Scoring four runs in the first, Kilgore added two in the third, one in the sixth and one in the seventh. Osceola began their offensive in the second by pushing across five runs, coasted an inning and added two in the fourth and tallied five more in the fifth for their final total.

W. L. Swafford, losing for Kilgore, gave up but five hits but was unusually wild as he issued 15 walks. Byluma, pitching for Osceola, permitted eight hits.

Touchton led Kilgore with two hits out of two times up while for Osceola Byluma had a perfect day at the plate with one hit out of one time at bat.

Students Choose Serious Topics For Conference

GAINESVILLE, Oct. 25.—The oft-accepted notion that the college student's mind seldom leaves fraternities, football and frolic is disproved in a recent survey taken at the University of Florida.

Of the 56 topics proposed for seminar discussion at the Religion and Life Conference to be held Oct. 28 to Nov. 3 on the campus, "Making Marriage Successful" was named by nearly fifty percent of the voting students as one of the topics in which they were most interested.

Others receiving widespread support were "After College—What?", "Are Science and Religion in Conflict?", "Is Romantic Marriage Socially Sound?"

Showing their concern in world affairs, students exhibited more major interest in "Christianity versus Communism, Fascism, and Nazism" and "What is Man's Life Worth?"

In the entire poll more general support was given to realistic topics than to those dealing with idealistic and theoretical ideas.

New Highway Will Link North, South Ends Of Florida

MIAMI, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Work has begun on a four-lane highway which ultimately may extend into Jacksonville.

Expected to be completed in about a year, the new highway will save 22 miles between Miami and Stuart and will enable motorists to avoid stops at 22 traffic lights between their city limits.

The existing highway meanders down the coastline, touching at a score of thriving small communities. Most of these will be skirted by the new route.

It begins in Miami's northwest section and is designed to relieve the traffic burden on U. S. Highway Number 7 and to provide a new outlet for farmers along the route.

The highway follows N. W. Seventh Avenue out of Miami, curving northwestward near West Palm Beach to the east bank of the range canal, then follows a beeline into Stuart where it joins the Federal Highway.

Brooks Bateman, Fourth Congressional District member of the State Road Department, believes the highway will be a distinct asset to farmers in giving them easy access to East Coast seaports and city markets.

Florida Review Brings Praise For Editors

GAINESVILLE, Oct. 25.—The autumn issue of the Florida Review, University of Florida literary magazine, made its appearance this week and brought forth praise for the work of Editor Malcolm McClason, East Orange, N. J., Business Manager James Quinn, Miami, and their staff.

Five fiction stories, three articles, eight features, and four poems by student authors are included in the attractive 30-page magazine, whose cover picture interestingly portrays a freshman's midnight dream over a chemistry book.

CHALKING 'EM UP

CHARLES CHALKER

As a rule if the public is interested in anything whether it be mah jong or flag pole dancing, there will be some one urging to become a judge. In fact, there are things which the public is interested in, but which are not so much so. If that sounds paradoxical, let's take the case of the flag pole. It really is. Broadly speaking, the public is interested in football. That is, the public of the United States as a whole. Here in Safford that part of the citizenry which is interested in the public of the United States doesn't know that it is a small part of a body which doesn't know what its own business is. It doesn't care. Football has grown so rapidly in this country in the past five years that many people say that before long it will be the national pastime. Personally, we could not say that we do believe it will rank among the top sports for an individual of individuals participating are interested. The game has been played here only a couple of years and is regarded as a novelty. It doesn't think twice before saying that again. Certainly there is plenty they can do. Tomorrow night they can go down to the lakefront diamond and see four good teams put on a good show—all for the price of an ice cream soda.

WOMEN: "Build-Up" To Relieve Pain
A weak, run-down, undernourished condition calls for attention!
Such a condition often causes functional dysmenstrual pain, its footboles. That's one thing which leads to much of our suffering from headaches, nervousness, these eruptions, etc. A good way to relieve these pains, caused by the lack of found, is by the proper use of CARDUI. It stimulates the ing appetite, assists digestion and assimilation, thus builds physical resistance to periodic pain. Taken just before and during the time, women also report that CARDUI lessens the pain and shortens the period.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

Blessed are the pure in heart for they shall see God.—Matt.
5:8.

NOT WHEN THE NIGHT COMES

(From Poetry World)
Now while the dandelions sun riot in the meadow, And blue-eyed myrtle stars the river's edge,
Go from me quickly; I shall watch you pass Through glistering shafts of light, The wooded ledge and the orchard grass
Will throw gray shadows for you on the golden air; Go from me softly like a cloud at dawn;
That shines among white pear boughs and is gone.

Not when the night comes, and —the willow cut
Their small, black leaves across the slender moon
And swamp frogs ring their strident bells upon the air, Throb in the heart and call the hour too soon
From fear, lest by the tall reeds and the dark stream there I cling to your shoulders, cry about your name,
As one in dream cries out the name he keeps
And in his dreaming knows not that he weeps.
—LOUISE BRADY

Most of those who will receive ceive any increase. But Mis-the law requires that they pay

Ten Years Ago

It was just ten years ago this week that a chain of events began, the conclusion of which is not yet in sight.
Commenting on the first day's crash of the stock market in 1929, the New York Herald Tribune expresses the hope that when the time does come to rebuild the world along safe and permanent lines, "the rebuilding will not be in the hands of the paranoiac leaders who were the depression's creatures."

"An even decade has now rolled by since the fateful 'Black Thursday,' Oct. 24, 1929, when the vast stock-market bubble burst and the 'new era' ended," the Herald Tribune recalls. "Ten years ago this morning the frantic selling orders were piling up in the brokers' hands; with the opening bell the great hurricane struck, and before the day was done more than 10,000,000 shares had been traded across the Stock and Carb Exchanges and it was all over.
It was to take some time—and another nerve-shattering day in the following week—to realize it; but the end had come—the end of the big bull market and the 'new plateau of prices'; the end of dazzling paper profits; the end of extravagance and complacency, and presently the slow, stealthy end of prosperity itself."

"And it was the end of many other things as well. For ten years now not only the United States but the larger part of the world has lived in the shadow of the great depression which was precipitated by the Wall Street crash.
In their frantic struggles to escape it the peoples of the world have remade their financial, political and social systems—sometimes in ways that were probably unavoidable, but often by reckless and desperate expedients—and still there are hardly more than a few rays of light to signal a return to a genuine prosperity and stability, while even they are accompanied by the dark clouds of a new great war. We are familiar with what those ten years have meant to the United States, and know something—though by no means everything as yet—of what they have done to or ideas and our institutions. We are less accustomed to consider the work they have wrought in the world at large or how much of its present troubles and confusions stem directly from the economic collapse which the laboring lickers announced ten years ago.

"That crash was the end, among other things, of the Locarno era in world politics. The international system which, with the Dawes plan and Locarno settlements, had at last been put together in 1924 and 1925 out of the wreckage of the war years had its chief props knocked out from under it. The crash ended the international gold standard; that ended the stream of foreign lending which was rebuilding the defeated powers, keeping the new small states alive and sustaining the reparations system, the keystone of the politico-economic arch of the Locarno years.
As reparations toppled, their beneficiaries tried to maintain them; in the struggle Austria and Germany were wrecked economically, and the Nazis came to power. They were not the creations of the war miseries or of the Versailles diktat; they were products of the depression.

Life Insurance

The stake which the American people as a whole have in the continuance and orderly operation of the system of capitalism is shown by a statement just issued by the Life Insurance Committee which reveals that more than 64, 000,000 Americans now own life insurance policies, and that the life insurance companies of America combined actually paid out to policyholders during the single year of 1938 alone $2,600,000,000, or more than $7,120,000 a day.

This is almost as much money as it cost to run the entire federal government for one year before the advent of the New Deal. It is equivalent to the annual appropriation for unemployment relief. And this huge sum goes not to a few individuals of large income but to millions of widows, otherwise dependent by the premature death of their husbands, to orphans, and to annuitants to the aged. More than 16,000 boys and girls are now attending college on the income from educational insurance policies.

More than 300,000 old folks are now living independently on the income from annuities purchased many years ago. More than 1,500,000 now own such policies. There are now some 7,500,000 employees in the United States who are protected by group insurance which originated only a little more than 25 years ago. In 1938 more than $81, 000,000 was paid out to persons totally disabled by accidents or disease, nearly one billion dollars to widows, children and other dependents.

Payments to policyholders on annuity insurance contracts in 1900 amounted to only $4,000,000; last year they reached the stupendous total of $112,000,000; and on the basis of present contracts in force it is estimated they will eventually reach $560,000,000 a year. Thus no one any longer has to die to win in the insurance game, but these people all realize on their insurance policies at a time when they personally need them most.

William Allen White, noted editor of Emporia, Kan., delivering the keynote address for the Annual Message of Life Insurance at a large meeting of underwriters and persons prominent in public and business life in New York City the other day, said, the most significant development in life insurance today is the rapid growth in planned security programs designed to create incomes rather than lump sum cash payments.

"Income plan insurance has now reached an all-time high, with several billions worth of life insurance protection of this kind estimated in force. As recently as ten years ago comparatively little ordinary insurance was arranged to pay income instead of a lump sum. Today, as a result of the splendid educational work which the life insurance agents have done in recent years, several million individual insurance programs have been arranged to provide family income, educational income or retirement income.

"With the trend toward planned security, the insurance agent has grown in stature from a salesman who sold merely a life policy to a professional man who advises and maps out a program for creating a personal estate using various types of policies to achieve specific objectives.
Today there is scarcely a single financial need of the family or of the person insured, which cannot be met by some special life insurance plan and it is to meet these needs that some 150 different kinds of policies have been created—one for every purse and purpose. The agent diagnoses the need and fits the proper policy."

ANY DA Y NOW

WEEKLY NEWS COLUMN

By JOE HENDRICKS

RELIEF—Some of my friends who are good newspaper men have again informed me that my column has reached the busy stage, that it was too stereotyped.
I knew of course that columns containing only matters of information seldom contain anything of real news value. However, there are certain times of the year when a Member of Congress is unusually busy and he needs a little relief. For that reason I had prepared these articles in advance, which I hoped would be of value to my consultants. We will now continue our column with "News of the Week."

FREEDOM OF SPEECH—The American people have always been very jealous of certain privileges contained in the Bill of Rights, one of which is freedom of speech. We have heard of abridgment of that freedom from time to time but the most dangerous indication that I have ever seen that such freedom may be suppressed is the exercise by the National Association of Broadcasters in which they themselves determine whether an issue is controversial or not and proceed to rule it off the air as a paid broadcast. In other words, if someone wants to discuss an issue before the American public and the Association decides that such an issue is controversial, the only way that he may discuss this interest is for the broadcasting company to grant free time. They will not sell time, even though the broadcaster is willing to purchase it. In my mind this simply means that if the Association, which is composed of a few men, decides that they do not like an issue, it is impossible for anyone to give the American people their views. Recently a Catholic priest, Father Coughlin, has been ruled off the air on this ground, Henry Ford has been ruled off the air because the Association felt that he was anti-Jewish, the Townsend Plan has been ruled off the air because it is controversial and the question just occurs to me as to where these men will stop. In my opinion there is no issue that is not controversial. If so, it is not an issue. I think that the feeling is general in Congress that there will be limitations put on the power of this association.

SERVICE ASSURED—"Dear Mr. Hendricks, Replying to your letter of August 15, which arrived during my absence from the office on a few days official leave, I wish to advise that arrangements are being made to provide the necessary facilities for conducting the Market News Service on salary at Sanford throughout the entire celery season. If the question is raised by any of the celery growers in the 10 counties, Assistant Police Chief Roger A.
West said the fine was for "repeated discourtesy to motorists."

Baked Meals Are Savers Of Money, Time, Expert Says

By MRS. ALEXANDER GROUCE
NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Those trailblazing armies floating from the kitchen tell us: a baked meal is under way. Oven meals, which seem to retain all of the natural food flavors, are money and time savers. Most of the meal can be prepared in one cooking and often the main course can be served in the baking dish.

Baked meat loaf is a good starting point. Use your own recipe, mould it and put it into a roaster. Cover, and bake the loaf 30 minutes. Then surround it with peeled white potatoes, carrots and turnips. Over the top spread a mixture of 1-2 of a cup of catsup, chili sauce and pickle relish and pour in half a cup of boiling water to speed cooking of the vegetables and help brown them. Bake 35 minutes more.

For a ham loaf, substitute for the catsup mixture a blend of crushed pineapple, cooked apples, a little lemon juice and brown sugar. For fish, use mustard pickles instead of the other toppings.

To round out a loaf meal, serve a casserole of creamed cabbage, some muffins—bran or whole wheat—and a dessert of baked pears. With a hot beverage and a light salad or a tray of relishes you have as good a dinner as anyone could ask for.

Here's a good meatless oven meal: Macaroni and cheese, squash, corn and apple pudding. Top that with a fruit salad and a beverage.

Or have a dinner of a cheese soufflé. Its baking partners can be sweet potatoes, glazed pineapple slices, biscuits and date pudding. Serve a cranberry salad and a hot beverage with that combination.

The ultimate in oven dinners is one based on a roast. Pick your roast and then cook there with lettuce, tomatoes, squash, biscuits or rolls and an upside down fruit dessert. A tray of relishes, a good gravy and plenty of hot coffee and you're right out in front.

In this, you cook the main part of the meal in one dish. Bake your largest casserole. Dip pork or veal chops in flour and sprinkle them with seasoning. Arrange them in the casserole and cover them with sliced raw potatoes, glazed with flour, seasoning and butter. Surround with peeled onions, scopped out and stuffed with corn or soft seasonal bread.

Add 1 1/2 inch of water. Cover the casserole and bake 1 hour in a moderate oven. Uncover during the last 15 minutes of cooking to brown the top. Sprinkle with this any fresh or canned fruit and cottage pudding. Serve the pudding with a fruit, custard or chocolate sauce.

CASEROLE NEW ORLEANS
1 can condensed 1-2 cup ham 1 thickened
gumbo soup 2 cups cooked
chicken 3-4 cup thickened
diced
Cut chicken and ham into quarter-inch dice. Combine cooked rice, diced chicken, diced ham and thickened pineapple. Add chicken gumbo soup. Mix and put into a buttered casserole—one large one or five individual casseroles.

PINEAPPLE RING TOP
5 slices pineapple 5 teaspoons
brown sugar 5 teaspoons
butter
Arrange pineapple rings on top of the rice mixture. On every ring an inch 1 teaspoon brown sugar, dot with 1 teaspoon butter, add three whole cloves. Place the casserole in a moderate (375 F.) oven for 15-25 minutes until thoroughly heated and pineapple rings are glazed.

German Prize Crew Released By Russians

The United States freighter "City of Flint" remained in the Russian port where the German prize crew took the vessel after capturing her at sea, while authorities of Russia, Germany and the United States weighed her fate.

A German spokesman in Berlin hinted that the freighter, with Russian permission, would be brought to Germany as a war prize.

Russia released the German prize crew which had been interned upon landing on Russian soil.

The American freighter is being held, Russia said, pending "positive verification" of her cargo which Germans consider contraband.

Assurances were given the United States that the 42 members of the crew were safe.

The State Department said 21 American ships have been detained by belligerents since the war started—12 by Britain.

Most of them were released after negotiation. The war on land has had a stimulant in the war at sea Germany accused Britain of not telling the whole story in tabulating her merchant shipping losses.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—(AP)—The State Department announced last night that the Soviet foreign office has assured Ambassador Giehlhardt that the 41 officers and crew members of the captured American freighter City of Flint are safe at Murmansk, near the Bay of Kola.

The City of Flint's crew is aboard the vessel, the American envoy was told by a foreign office spokesman.

The State Department said that no further word had been heard from Giehlhardt regarding the crew.

The information dispelled growing fears that all were not well with the mission. Failure to hear from them for 48 hours caused mounting anxiety in official circles here.

The department also disclosed that Giehlhardt had informed it of publication of a dispatch by the news agency official Soviet news service, stating the Flint had been released from the port of Murmansk and had been released from internment.

The Nazi crew, however, was not placed aboard the Flint after it was released, the envoy learned from a foreign office official.

Release of the prize crew came only a few hours after Secretary of State Hull promised the United States would take every possible step under domestic and inter-supporter who heads the Senate Labor Committee, observed: "This is the very worst time to be talking about politics, while the Senate is discussing a non-partisan neutrality measure. Therefore, I have nothing to say at the present time."

When word of the statement reached Capitol Hill, Representative Martin of Massachusetts, the Republican House leader, said he regarded it as public confirmation of forecasts that there would be a third term candidacy. Senator Vandenberg, Senator Burke, a critic of many Administration policies but a supporter of its pending proposal to repeal the ban against arms shipments to warring nations, and Representative Drewry, chairman of the Democratic Congressional Committee, were among those who took issue with the view expressed by Wallace.

Vandenberg commented: "I am unable to understand why a war against unprecedented dictatorial power abroad should be a reason why America must embrace unprecedented executive authority at home. Secretary Wallace has made another enthusiastic error."

Thrust Of Russia Into Europe Gets Experts' Attention

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—(AP)—The news spotlight may be on the western front, but the attention of knowing statesmen and historians is riveted on the astonishing thrust of Asiatic influence into Europe—the occupation of eastern Poland by the Red troops of R.P.M.

Uppermost in their minds is the frank admission by Herr Hitler that he himself made the agreement with the Asiatic-minded Stalin that enables Russians to drive their military machine up to the gates of Warsaw.

Hitherto, European rulers have compromised with Asiatics, dickered with them, signed treaties with them, but they have never ventured to incur the wrath of their own people by practically bowing the Asiatics into the European parlor.

Any statesman who does that violates a natural law that existed long before Kipling put it into words: "East is East, and West is West—and never the twain shall meet."

It is not yet certain just how far Hitler has invited the Russians into Europe. But it is certain that he admits his aims in the east are "limited." It is certain that the toe of the Russian boot has been planted firmly at the Rumanian gateway to the Balkans and Stalin is closer to Warsaw than any Russian before him ever got, save by military conquest.

Keep this point in mind: The old Russia of Catherine professed, at least, to be a Christian Russia. But not so Stalin; he professes atheism. And Christianity is still a living force in western Europe and has affected history time and again.

It was the Christian heritage that enabled the Austrians to unman the Ottoman hordes at the gates of Vienna in 1629.

It was the Christian heritage that more or less bound England, France, Austria and Spain together against the Russian advance on Poland in the days of Catherine II, even though Catholicism was powerful enough to dub Poland her doormat to Europe. Her legions did wipe their feet on the Polish doormat. But they never entered the door to the western world.

And it was the same Christian heritage that finally dismembered the great Ottoman empire that Solymann built. Eventually the western powers divided it among themselves as ruthlessly as the Turkish soldiery had split up and conquered the Balkans in the heyday of Ottoman power. To the Historian it seems incredible that Hitler has ignored these lessons from history.

MRS. HESTER G. HUNTINGTON, in auto at the New York federal building October 24, where she was called before the grand jury after posting $7,500 bond for the release of Earl Browder, right, General Secretary of the Communist Party, shown at the federal building reading Communist's "Daily Worker."

A HORNET'S NEST of German sea marauders is this wharf at Kiel. The flotilla of Nazi U-Boats is believed to include those which have sunk seven Allied ships in the last 48 hours. Germany is reported concentrating all efforts on sub construction.

The response from the pope was immediate. His newspaper L'Osservatore Romano declared the other day: "Russia is retracing its steps from Asia to Europe and is already in the heart of it. Nobody knows yet to whom allied and to whom an enemy."

That's a modern way of saying East is East and West is West. Whatever the final bargain Hitler may strike with Stalin, the historian and the statesman are chalking up his agreements with Russia as mistake No. 2. The first came when he violated the natural law of nationalism by carving up Czecho-slovakia. Tricks like that led to the downfall of the illustrious Charles V, the master of Europe less than 300 years ago, and the meteoric Napoleon a little more than 100 years ago. Now he seems to have ignored the strength of the Christian heritage.

Governors To Attend Planning Conference

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Governors of 12 states have accepted invitations to attend the 1939-40 planning conference at Hollywood, Fla., Dec. 4-6.

George G. Gross, executive secretary of the Florida planning board which will be host, said the conference is held for the discussion of "certain problems which can be solved only through cooperation of two to four states."

The national resources planning board will send experts to participate. Frederick Delano, chairman of the national board, will be a speaker.

Gross said the governors of Florida, Georgia, South Carolina, Tennessee, Mississippi and Alabama will be present.

During the conference Florida park and municipal planning officials will attempt to coordinate federal, state, county and city recreational activities into a correlated program. Henry T. McIntosh of Albany, Ga., chairman of regional three-state national planning board, will preside.

SEND BIBLE PLANES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—(AP)—The Federal Communications Commission said yesterday its investigation of the alleged broadcasting of secret German and British radio communications by radio station WJMA, New York City, had found "evidence" that the station's management attempted to operate in a manner consistent with the public interest.

SIMPLIFIED GAS RATE FOR SANFORD

Many of our customers will recall a survey made by our company sometime ago in which we asked for frank comments and suggestions regarding our operations. The object of this survey was to help us operate as far as possible in accordance with our customers' wishes.

The survey revealed that our customers were somewhat puzzled by the existence of more than one rate schedule for gas service. These various rates were necessary to meet the demand for service placed on us by our customers. Effective with your November gas bill, we are glad to announce the elimination of two rates, leaving only one gas rate schedule for Sanford. Incidentally, this means a savings to our customers of more than $5,000.00 annually.
