By GEORGE ESPER, Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — The number of Americans killed in the Vietnam war dropped slightly last week, while the Saigon government's total of battlefield deaths increased by 139, and enemy casualties were 365 above those for the week before, the allied command announced today.

The U.S. Command's weekly casualty report said 63 Americans were killed in action last week and 657 were wounded. The week before 96 dead and 839 wounded were reported.

South Vietnamese headquarters said 361 government troops were killed and 1,122 were wounded last week, compared with 222 and 710 the previous week. The national command claimed 5,449 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong killed last week; the week before the total was 2,166.

With the report, total official casualties in the war rose to 40,645 Americans killed in combat, 297,851 Americans wounded, 15,686 government troops killed, 23,525 wounded, and 652,783 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong killed.

South Vietnamese forces reported hard fighting in the Meung Delta, south of Saigon, Wednesday and today, with 167 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong killed in half a dozen battles. Field reports said 15 government troops were killed and 43 were wounded.

In one battle 10 miles south of Saigon, the government said 10 militia killed 17 Viet Cong, 40 North Vietnamese and 40 Viet Cong were reported killed.

Last weekend government infantrymen operating farther north just below the demilitarized zone reported discovering two underground hospitals, a training camp and a prison compound containing three South Vietnamese. Each of these hospitals also had room for 800 men and apparently had been abandoned shortly before a Viet Cong prisoner led the government force to them.

Chinese Checkers?

By WILLIAM L. RYAN, AP Special Correspondent
The continuing North Vietnamese offensive in Laos raises important questions about Hanoi's aims, because the situation in the strange little "Land of a Million Elephants" is beginning to look as bad as at any time in the past nine years.

Few who are familiar with the situation say North Vietnam was being carried on by South Vietnam's consent because of the presence of the North Vietnamese troops on Laotian soil.

Southern Laos is precarious because of a possible partition of the country between the Soviet Union and the United States and probably needs some sort of tacit agreement between the two big powers to remain in place.

The Laos war is different from the one in South Vietnam. It's a war for real estate rather than for people, a war being fought with an eye to partitioning the day when Vietnam is settled one way or another.

Stock Mart Reacts To Cut In Interest

By WAYNE EISENMAN, AP Business Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Spokesmen for big banks generally doubt that the cut in the prime interest rate from 6 1/2 per cent to 5 1/2 per cent by Philadelphia's little Lincoln National Bank is likely to spread soon.

But stock market investors grabbed Wednesday at the news — half an hour before the close — as an indication that tight money policies might be ready for a change.

The Dow Jones industrial average rocketed to a 12.86 point gain, closing at 766.23.

Cashmere guests live principally in Tibet, India, and cities where they have clothing shops, but they are not quite what they seem to be.

These include services to educationally deprived children and assistance in federally impacted areas. "It's a pity too since we are just now beginning to see some good results from these programs," Angel said.

HEW has indicated a total $85,000 would be lost as soon as Robert Finch, HEW secretary, acts if an appeal of the decision of Executive Order 11,769 is not allowed.

Union Prexy Indicted In Yablonski Murders

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — U.S. District Court Judge James C. Cannon indicted Yablonski, 41, president of United Mine Workers pensioners local 2222 at Le Follette, Tenn., was indicted Wednesday by a federal grand jury charged with conspiring to kill UMW insurgent Joseph A. Yablonski.

Huddleston, 61, from Le Follette, Tenn., is the father and father-in-law of two of the other persons indicted by Cleveland federal grand jury last week. The slayings came a month after Yablonski lost a bitter election battle in an attempt to oust UMW President W. A. "Tony" Boyle.

The five indicted have been charged with conspiring to interfere with the rights of a union member and obstructing justice by killing Yablonski.

Altamonte Rescinds Fee For Community House

By MARION BETHEA
Eventually Altamonte Springs City Council is at odds with public opinion with regard to the controversial fee to be charged for use of the community house.

In other business, council adopted on second and final reading an ordinance amending Orange Avenue westbound to city; authorized Public Works Supt. Donald Bundy to pump water from streets in an area adjacent to Under Oaks subdivision.

The five indicted have been charged with conspiring to interfere with the rights of a union member and obstructing justice by killing Yablonski.

EXPANDING SAFEGUARD

MOVING TO EXPAND Safeguard, the controversial anti-missile defense system, the administration is asking congressional approval of a third construction site at Whiteman Air Force Base in Missouri, and funds for advance planning on Warren Air Force Base in Wyoming and four other as yet unspecified possible future sites.

Confirmation Is Expected Opposition To Carswell Growing

By JOHN CHADWICK, Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Jacob K. Javits and George S. McGovern said today they will vote against confirmation of William H. Rehnquist to the Supreme Court nomination because of dissatisfaction with his civil rights record.

Public opposition in the Senate to the nomination of William H. Rehnquist to the Supreme Court reached 18 with the Javits-McGovern announcement. More senators are expected to come out against Carswell but indications still point to his confirmation.

McGovern, a South Dakota Democrat, considered a possible presidential aspirant in 1972, said in a prepared speech "I am appalled that our President would regard this nominee as a worthy appointment to the nation's highest court."

Javits made the third Republican to announce against Rehnquist's nomination. He said he was disappointed that the President's second attempt to name a Southerner to the Supreme Court seat vacated last spring by Abe Fortas.

Pompidou Visits Space Facilities

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite a cool reception for President Georges Pompidou of France, President Nixon says he hopes talks with the French leader will bring "real progress on fundamental issues."

After discussions with Nixon today at the White House, Pompidou and his wife fly to Cape Kennedy for a tour of U.S. space facilities before heading for the French Embassy in Washington.

The French President said at the dinner he and Nixon "understood each other very well and we agree in what is fundamental and essential."

Sen. Jacob Javits, D-N.Y., a Jew, said he was unhappy with Pompidou's position. Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., said he boycotted the speech. Israel has maintained the only permanent settlement of border and security disputes in the Middle East since the 1948-49 war.

Integration, Spending Spell Double Trouble

By WILLIAM MEAD
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate had double trouble today — a second battle on school integration in as many weeks and a political scrap over spending that could speak as other veto by President Nixon.

Both issues were wrapped into a large appropriations bill for the Labor Department, Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW), Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) and a dozen smaller agencies, covering the fiscal year that started nearly eight months ago.

Today, Congress passed the bill with 817 yeas and 81 nays, but without any amendments. Nixon vetoed it as inflationary and demanded that $45 million be cut.

Last Thursday, the House passed a substitute bill, reduced $38 million but still $33 million over Nixon's request. The House also added amendments to legalize "freedom of choice" school assignment systems and to prohibit HEW from requiring "busing" as part of desegregation plans.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — The fight against inflation is going badly, as indicated by the news, but the stock market seems to have already discounted the pessimism engendered by the news, Spear & Staff says.

The market has been gradually edging higher on steadily increasing volume, the firm says, but the tangible monetary developments awaited by Wall Street now appear to be "somewhat further away than anticipated."

The market has been gathering technical strength over the past few weeks even though the averages have been able to score only limited gains.

The bond market can continue to improve gradually, as long as new issues are realistically priced to sell, Goodbody & Co. believes.

Geo. Wallace To Run For Governor

By BESSIE FORD MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Former Gov. George C. Wallace, seeking a power base for a possible second try for the presidency, today announced he would seek another term as governor of Alabama.

His decision to make the race pits him against his prize, Gov. Albert Brewer, who assumed the office two years ago on the death of Wallace's wife, Gov. Lurleen Wallace.

Wallace was surrounded by several hundred people wearing buttons which read "Wallace for Governor—Our Kid of Men."

By MIKE FEINSLBER
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Nixon administration has an unopposed position from the American Medical Association in its new plan to impose limits on the fees doctors and hospitals can collect from patients under Medicare.

The details of the plan were to be spelled out today by John G. Veneman, undersecretary of health, education and welfare. HEW, who announced it to the Senate Finance Committee Wednesday, then hurried off to another meeting.

Under it, fees doctors collect for treating Medicare patients could be no more than the fees charged by 75 per cent of doctors in 1969 in that area for the same services. The fees would rise only when wages and prices and the physician's cost of doing business" rises.

More Than A Birthday-A Welcome Event

It is seldom that a Fifth Birthday Party can be celebrated with such vigorous confidence as will surround this event when the United States Bank of Seminole cuts its cake tomorrow.

personnel located on and near the base which is now the Sanford Airport.

After winding up his formal learning, he went through the educational machinery and made good as a teacher, principal and superintendent until banked and decided that this was a field which he could enter and enjoy.

The bank's birthday is also quite significant as it shows that the re-birth of Seminole has come about as the flow of population and the variety of businesses and industries has brought customers who need expanded facilities.

Census Photos

You might as well start peering your thinking to the fact that the taking of the United States census which started in 1790 is going to be done in 1970.

April 1 is the date. But this is a serious and sober event and there will be no fooling!

President Nixon has issued a statement which appears in the booklet "Uncle Sam Counts" and affords an explanation in general terms, a few of which we now quote:

"Even as our population has grown in size over the decades, so the functions of the regular census also have expanded.

"Today, we are interested not only in an accurate counting of heads, but also in a better description of our social condition."

And "in a way, the census is a photograph of our country, taken at ten year intervals. And just as a good photograph requires the cooperation of the subject, so this group photograph cannot be fully accurate and fully useful without the cooperation of every citizen."

And "for generation after generation, the American people have regarded full cooperation with the census as one of the responsibilities of citizenship. I am confident that this will again be the case as America looks at itself in 1970."

So these are excerpts from the ground rules put down by the Chief Executive. As we said, you might as well get ready to smile and say "cheese" when the Census Photographer seeks to take your 1970 picture in this fateful year!

Russia vs. China

By PHIL NEWSOM, UPI Foreign News Analyst
In President Nixon's unprecedented "state of the world" message to Congress he had this to say about United States policy toward Communist China and toward the Soviet Union:

"It is certainly in our interest, and in the interest of peace and stability... that we take what steps we can toward improved practical relations with Peking."

So he checked the 'No' square and mailed in the entry. He's still waiting for the prize. A subcommittee of the Select Committee on Small Business of the U.S. House of Representatives recently investigated supposedly pre-selected winners. Some of these sweepstakes winners, among their findings were that:

One soap company offered $2.5 million in prizes but awarded only $86,700.
Another soap company offered $2.5 million but awarded only $344,000.
A women's hair products company offered 26 prizes—$200,000 cash and 25 automobiles—but awarded nothing.
Evidence from a thousand preselected winners' promotions indicates deceptive and mis-

Washington Window:

More Than Noisy News Heard

By MERRIMAN SMITH, UPI White House Reporter
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Chief Justice Warren E. Burger complained sharply about his treatment by a television crew attempting to cover a speech he delivered last weekend before the American Bar Association.

"Their conduct was disrespectful and outrageous," the chief justice said of this particular crew. "The media better find they have to have people who can take care of basic manners."

The anger of the chief justice reflected a situation which manifests itself repeatedly in Washington, and sometimes at the White House. Highly competitive journalism—written as well as broadcast—often is not a culture medium for etiquette. This is particularly true where photography, still or cinematic, and the recording of sound is involved. When a news story is breaking, TV technicians must record the event then and there or they lose it forever.

Journalistic tempers can become quite edgy even in President Nixon's office which so seldom is subjected to television silent footage, some newswire man use quiet noisy cameras which can draw out remarks of the President as he sits posing for pictures with conferees.

Such picture sessions at the White House admittedly are for pictorial purposes primarily, but often the President will want to say something to reporters to explain purposes of his meeting. Sometimes it is most difficult to hear him because of camera noise. This is not a matter of manners, but of the often irritating technology of modern news-gathering.

Burger's case differed somewhat from the often hectic bustle in and out of Nixon's office. He objected to attention by a CBS-TV crew to cover his speech at all, on grounds that his address was to a nonpublic function.

The chief justice told an interviewer for WSB-TV in Atlanta, the NBC outlet there, that if he ever "granted" a television interview, it would be "NBC first, then ABC, and CBS last."

Was the chief justice of the United States trying to say that acquisition of news is something to be suffered only by politicians seeking office? If this, indeed, was the gist of Burger's feelings, he might be shocked by the number of reporters who might agree with him to an extent. It is axiomatic in the public-journalist world that active candidates are much more cooperative with the press before an election than they tend to be once voters are counted and the winners assume new identities as safe-and-sound public officeholders.

The Lighter Side

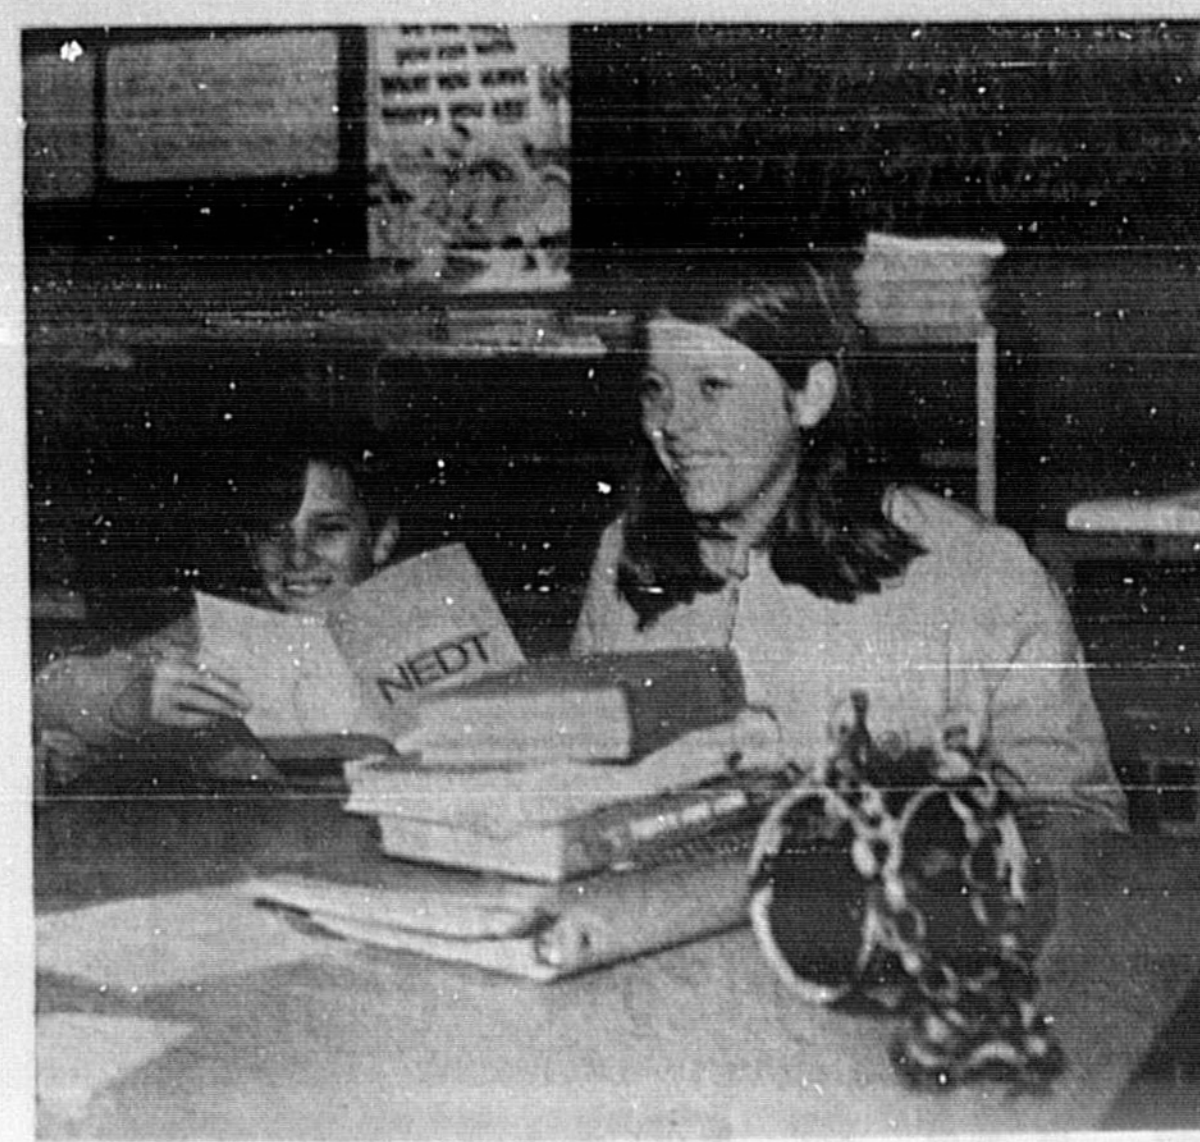

Deciphering Notes Not Easy

By DICK WEST, WASHINGTON (UPI)—To Attorney General John N. Mitchell:
"Dear Sir:
In recent days the Justice Department has been roundly criticized (and in some cases severely criticized) for having subpoenaed the notes taken by newsmen at the scene of a couple of disturbances.

The subcommittee is considering a trade regulation rule to put some curbs on such sweepstakes. In the meantime, it's caveat emptor—or don't spend your winnings until you get them. (Newsweek Enterprise Assn.)

'Not Meant To Embarrass Kirk'

Governor's Club Probe Continues

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Monday's legislative hearing on the Governor's Club is not meant to embarrass Gov. Claude Kirk, but to shed more light on its financial operations, a lawmaker says.
"I don't know how he could be any more politically embarrassed than by the names of the members already out. After all, nearly all had lucrative contracts with the state," said Rep. William C. Andrews.

The Gainesville Democrat, chairman of the House Elections Committee, said the committee expected seven subpoenas to be served today, returnable at the March 2 meeting.
Andrews declined to name those subpoenaed, but these people were named on subpoenas blocked two months ago by State Supreme Court.

"If they had several large contracts (with the state) and also contributed large sums of money (to the club), it is a legitimate question to ask whether this was given to obtain the business," he said.
Andrews noted Kirk said dozens said for his official duties not adequately financed by the Legislature, quasi-official duties and political expenses.

"I think we have a justifiable reason to examine how much is used for purely political purposes and whether or not we should have legislation prohibiting this or requiring it to be reported," he said.
The chairman also said he had subpoenaed all bank records relating to the Governor's Club from Fort Lauderdale and Tallahassee institutions in which accounts were kept. He said he was particularly interested in the Fort Lauderdale bank's loan to the club. Kirk listed $69,800 in loans outstanding, but Andrews said he understood the original loan was for $99,000.

Soviets In Trouble

By HOWARD BENEDICT, AP Aerospace Writer
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A U.S. expert on Soviet space activities believes the Russian program has been set back by technical problems, including trouble with large rockets that could ferry men to the moon.
Dr. Charles Sheldon II said that there have been indications of difficulty with the Proton class rocket which many observers feel was intended to boost men on a lunar orbit flight last year.
"The Cosmos 200 and 203 launches last year have all the earmarks of unmanned lunar orbit failures," Sheldon reported. "Both were boosted by the Proton rocket. One apparently stayed in earth orbit less than one revolution and the other left bits of debris in earth orbit."

He said there has been no hint the large booster has been tested first, indicating possible troubles. Several such tests would be required before the rocket could be entrusted to a manned lunar landing mission. Sheldon noted the Soviets boasted before the Apollo 8 moon orbit flight in 1968 that when Americans reached the moon, Russian cosmonauts would be there to greet them. "That talk stopped after Apollo 8," he said. "And Russian space officials said they had temporarily abandoned a moon-landing attempt to concentrate on developing an earth-orbiting space station."

Sheldon said the simultaneous Soyuz 6, 7 and 8 manned flights last October probably were a step in that direction but they may have failed in a link-up attempt. He also said cosmonaut Alexei Leonov, the first man to walk in space, told Japanese newsmen last spring that Japan's Expo '70 should be prepared to display moon rocks returned by both Russian and American spacemen. Expo '70 opens next month in Tokyo and Sheldon said there is no evidence the Soviets are

'The Pill' Favored By Doctor

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The head of Planned Parenthood, one of the nation's most influential birth control groups, said today pregnancy accounts for 15 times more deaths among young women than are suspected from oral contraceptives.

Besides reducing the risk of death, Dr. Alan F. Guttmacher told a Senate subcommittee in prepared testimony, birth control pills are the most effective safeguard against "one of the gravest socio-medical illnesses — unwanted pregnancy."

Dr. Guttmacher, whose organization counsels 350,000 women a year in this country, said he appeared in hopes of "stemming unwarranted and dangerous alarm" he said was caused by earlier testimony before the subcommittee by Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis.

Earlier sessions have spotlighted scores of suspected side effects which Guttmacher reviewed and largely rejected as unproved or not serious.

Dr. Guttmacher did say it had been indisputably proven that women on the pill are more prone to fatal blood clots.

But he said statistics show 22.8 of every 100,000 healthy married women age 20-34 would die as a result of pregnancy compared with 1.5 who would die from a fatal clot associated with the pill.

Among women 35-44, 97.8 would die per 100,000 from a fatal clot, he stated.

Calling unwanted pregnancy a "condition tragically common in the U.S.," Dr. Guttmacher issued a barrage of statistics showing that:

- Between 200,000 and one million illegal abortions are performed a year in the United States with a death rate estimated at 100 per 100,000.
- About 300,000 illegitimate children are born annually in the United States.
- At least one in six U.S. brides are pregnant when married with half of these pregnancies occurring while the couple are teenagers.
- About 700,000 children are born each year who are unwanted at the time of conception and destined to be "unloved, neglected and abandoned."

The pill, said Dr. Guttmacher, is also "by far the best contraceptive for sexually active adolescents."

He said if current national trends continue, some 70,000 girls under 18 will bear illegitimate children this year.

But, he added, "if the pill scare continues unabated, I fear that figure will become a gross underestimate."

back to clobber the Vikings in the second half. Second half effort was the name of the game last night, but the middle name was MUST.

But eight minutes into the game, and the score 20-10, the Raiders jumped off to a 21-10 lead, and it looked as if they might run St. John's off the court. Look for Atlanta and Chicago to meet each other for the National League pennant. Yes that's right, Atlanta and Chicago. In the American League I've still got some thinking to do. ## Deadline On March 1 On Vote Rights Action

By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Key Southern senators expect maneuvering to get the administration's nationwide voting rights bill before the Senate rather than a proposed extension of a 1965 act aimed solely at the South.

This strategy began emerging as the Senate Judiciary subcommittee on constitutional rights continued hearings today on voting rights in the face of a fast-approaching March 1 deadline for action.

Southern senators strongly oppose extension of the 1965 Voting Rights Act and prefer the administration measure. If Congress is going to pass any legislation at all in the field.

Last December, after the House adopted the administration's bill by a five-vote margin, the Senate sent the legislation to its Judiciary Committee with instructions that it report back by March 1.

Committee members supporting pleas of civil rights leaders for a measure extending the 1965 law for five years hoped to substitute it for the House-passed administration bill.

But Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., chairman of the constitutional rights subcommittee, said there will be no time for committee action before the deadline.

He said this would make the administration bill the pending business in the Senate.

At a hearing before Ervin's subcommittee Tuesday, Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., clashed verbally with Georgia Gov. Lester G. Maddox over extension of the act. Maddox said the present law treats Southern states like conquered provinces.

And Ervin said the deadline imposed on the committee is a check of discrimination against him as chairman.

The 1965 act suspended use of voter literacy tests and authorized federal examiners to register voters in six Southern states and parts of a seventh. It also required voting law changes in these states to be approved in advance by the U.S. Attorney General.

Arab Air Terrorism Baffles Authorities

By DON McLEOD
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials appear as baffled about how to handle Arab airline terrorism as about what to do to stop hijacking of American planes to Cuba.

The State Department indicates at this point it will deal with the continuing anti-Israel aspects of airline attack by a soft approach of international discussions through aviation associations.

The department said Tuesday the United States does not plan to stop commercial flights to Israel in the wake of two explosions last weekend on planes flying from Europe to Tel Aviv. One Swissair plane exploded shortly after take off from Zurich, killing 47 persons.

The question arose here after some European airlines stopped air shipments of cargo and mail to Israel.

The only positive action the State Department will add to its instruction to Charles Butler, U.S. representative to the International Civil Aviation Organization in Montreal to seek a meeting of the ICAO.

Press officer Carl Bartsch also said the Swiss government has called for a meeting of the International Air Transport Association.

The ICAO is a specialized agency of the United Nations, with 116 member nations, which regulates largely technical aspects of international aviation.

"We expect some results," Bartsch replied to a question on what a conference could do. "But we don't know just what they might be." He said it is hoped the ICAO council will "discuss what might be done and maybe we can get some ideas from their delegates."

Bartsch said he had no information on whether the govern-

SETTING THE STYLE. The younger generation has taken to the maxi coat now that they've influenced their mothers to raise hemlines above the knee. These photos made in New York show that the long-length coat has caught on with young women. Whether skirts and dresses will follow the trend remains to be seen.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have never seen a problem like mine in your column, but I hope you won't take this as a joke because this is a very serious problem to me.

I got to go steady with a girl who is studying to be a beautician. She told me that I would look a lot better with my hair dyed, and she offered to do it for me, so I said, "O. K. go ahead."

Well, she did, and I must admit that I look much better than I used to. Naturally, it was quite noticeable, so all my friends kidded me about it. My problem is that I would like to keep my hair this color, but I don't want to be kidded. Do you think it is so hard for a guy to dye his hair but he really thinks it looks better that way?

DYED GUY

DEAR GUY: Fly under any girl's radar. Don't let her be sure you keep the roots covered because if there's anything that looks worse than a girl who needs a dye job, it's a guy.

DEAR ABBY: My brother brought his family from California to Texas to see his wife's folks and some of his. I usually make friends with children easily. In fact I have had strange children come right up to me and make friends with me.

The 10 I tried my best, I couldn't seem to make friends with my little 6-year-old niece.

Jacoby On Bridge

Some hands are so simple when you look them over a second time you wonder how anyone can go wrong. Yet, somehow or other, they are botched up at the table.

South looked over dummy carefully and remarked, "If you don't lead, you're no trump. We'd have a sure game there."

South wasn't quite right about that. Give East five clubs to the king-queen-jack and the ace of diamonds and a club lead would beat their contract. But that trump would have made a mighty good contract.

Four spades was a late 100 three-trump made it a better contract in duplicate. None of this really concerned South. He won the heart in dummy and trumped out three rounds of trumps. Then he led a diamond. Dummy's king led to South's ace, and West had hung on to all four diamonds. South wound up losing three diamonds and a club.

The way to make four spades is to take full advantage of the trump suit and score six trump tricks. South simply win the first trick in his own hand and leads a diamond. East takes his ace and returns anything his heart desires. South wins that trick, cashes his queen of diamonds and loses another diamond to West. Now there is no way to keep South from a good one and the 100 honors made it superior in rubber bridge. The fact that four spades was 20 points more

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph. D., M. D.

CASE M-52: Peggy W., aged 24, is a dedicated teacher in Gary, Indiana.

"Dr. Crane," she told me over the phone, "I taught a group of pre-kindergarten youngsters in my Headstart Program.

"One little boy, named Edmund, was such a bundle of vitality that he booped up and down almost constantly.

"And he'd run out into the hall or race around the classroom, so I finally had to firm him with him.

"But he then seemed crestfallen, so I decided to try your 'Compliment Club' idea.

"We let the kiddies lie down to rest for a short period in the middle of the session.

Worry Clinic

Edmund lay very still for a few seconds, so I seized on this as a chance to offer him praise.

"He asked the class to notice Edmund for he was the best restler of all.

"And Edmund responded at once, so he lay perfectly still during most of our 'rest' period.

"Thereafter, he seemed unduly devoted to me and even practiced his next day because of my new dress.

"He also wanted to sit beside me when we all had our lunch together.

"But a few days later, we had class, so I lauded it to the class and urged them to eat much of it, saying it was very good.

"Edmund meanwhile never touched his spinach while I made my speech about it.

"Then he looked up at me with his soulful brown eyes and hesitantly inquired, 'Miss Peggy, would you still love me if I didn't eat my spinach?'

Peggy reassured him that she'd still love him, so he resumed his normal behavior.

But earlier in the year she told me of another example wherein psychology didn't pan out quite as well.

She had a kindergarten class. A new boy was enrolled, but he cried constantly.

Peggy tried to comfort him and reassured him, as well as coax him into group activity with the other kindergarten children. But he seemed immovable.

So she thought she might divert his attention by offering him a choice of 2 vacant seats.

But he refused both, saying he wanted to sit in a 3rd seat beside a little girl who lived in the same block with him.

Peggy told him he could do so, but only till the other little girl returned to school, who had been assigned that seat.

Even with his occupancy of the chosen seat beside the little girl from his neighborhood, he still kept crying.

Finally one of the children asked why he kept shedding his tears.

"Oh, he is new, you know," Miss Peggy replied to the class. "He doesn't know how to sit in school. For he has never gone to kindergarten before."

And that jolted him at once. "Yes, I have gone to school before," he protested.

Apparently, Miss Peggy stimulated his pride, for she thus directed his attention to his loneliness for friends to his desire to regain prestige with his own age group.

So he quit crying at once and became a very happy child.

Parents May Have To Pay More

Inflation Hits School Luncheon Programs

By MARION BETHIA

Inflation has hit the school lunch program, and as a result, parents may find themselves paying more for their children's lunches. The matter was discussed at a meeting of the school board in which the glaring deficit of many school lunch rooms was noted.

Superintendent John Angel, conceded that many lunch rooms are not operating on a profitable basis and that there was considerable variation in prices paid for commodities in the various schools, there being a 30-40 cent difference, in one instance, in meat and another in canned beans.

Mrs. Whitmore stated that she was attempting to get a third of cost of second stage from federal funds.

Mrs. Charlotte Whitmore, county food service supervisor, was requested to give an accounting of the divergency in certain schools which operate at a profit and those which are in the red.

Board member Mrs. Jean Bryant, asked about the difference in prices paid for commodities in the various schools, there being a 30-40 cent difference, in one instance, in meat and another in canned beans.

Mrs. Whitmore stated that she was attempting to get a third of cost of second stage from federal funds.

Ray Clayton favored a five-cent across the board raise in lunch prices to combat the problem, as stated by lunchroom managers of a rise in the cost of food and increased salaries. Pat Bue maintained that this was inequitable with the "rich getting richer and the poor getting poorer."

Mrs. Whitmore stated that it had also been suggested that the discount allowed in the purchase of advance lunch tickets be discontinued.

Eva recommended that Mrs. Whitmore prepare a comprehensive statement explaining the differences in prices paid by the various lunch rooms and that she be quoted to recommend a resolution to the problem, either by reduction of the advance ticket discount, increase in lunch price, or both.

Mrs. Whitmore will give her report at the meeting of the board on March 12.

Storage Ponds Needed At City Sewer Plant

By BILL SCOTT

The addition of storage ponds to the city's sewer plant is being planned by the city engineer, Dr. Jess Dietz of Clark, Dietz and Associates, engineering firm, contracted to do preliminary work before construction of secondary sewer treatment plant.

The engineer cautioned that city should hold all available ground near the treatment plant for possible use if regulations are changed.

In an action, the commission approved having combined fiscal agents to handle the city's bonding for sewer treatment plant funds and named Reynolds and Company, Inc. to the position.

John Krister, Greater Chamber of Commerce manager, was confirmed for position on Sanford Industrial Commission.

A special March 11 work session was set to review prices for city occupational licenses.

Dr. Dietz said he had contacted state officials and learned that city, while not needing polishing ponds for sewer treatment, will have to provide the storage lagoons for water storage until it can be pumped into the sewer plant for treatment.

He said a grit chamber was also needed to remove grit from the high flows.

"The present plant is designed for 40,000 population and according to figures from the Orange-Seminole-Osceola Planning Commission, the county population will increase to 200,000 by 1980," Dietz said.

He indicated that projected figures did not show much increase for City of Sanford, and he felt that some changes in federal requirements occur with the construction of the secondary treatment plant.

Britisher Paves Way To Would-Be Mothers

By LUCINDA FRANKS

LONDON (UPI)—For Sylvia Allen, 34, children after seven years of marriage, there is no moral issue involved in her attempt to give birth to a baby conceived in a test tube.

"All I want in the world is to be a mother," she said.

Mrs. Allen cannot conceive normally because the Fallopian tubes that carry sperm cells to her womb are blocked.

Despite her feelings, a controversy is growing over the experiment.

Two doctors plan to implant a fertilized egg in her womb sometime in the next two to six weeks. The egg was taken from Mrs. Allen's womb and was later fertilized in a laboratory by Mrs. Allen's husband, Kenneth, 30.

The egg is in a laboratory in the care of Dr. Robert Edwards and Dr. Patrick Steptoe of Cambridge University.

"I am as happy as any other expectant mother," Mrs. Allen said. "People say I am being used as a guinea pig, but if my experience helps other childless couples, then it will have been worthwhile."

"I have no doubts or fears about going ahead," she said. "This is our last chance of having a child of our own."

The Allen went into seclusion to avoid any more publicity. The highlight was forced on her when the experiment was first made public Monday on television.

Religious leaders, doctors and numerous public figures expressed reaction ranging from opposition to approbation.

"It is too early to comment on medical aspects, but it is plain that on ethical grounds, we Catholics must oppose it," said Dr. George Beck, Roman Catholic archbishop of Liverpool.

U. S. Bank Marks Its Fifth Anniversary

By CHARNER LEONE

It'll be a "fabulous fifth" indeed for the United State Bank of Seminole County Friday when a tiered cake is cut to mark the celebration of the bank's five years of serving Seminole Counties.

Mayor Lee Moore will receive the first piece of the mammoth birthday cake, which will be cut and served by two Sanfordites, Mrs. Linda Sellers and Mrs. Patty Hunt.

The bank's spanking new look will not be lost on the celebrants as they occupy the lobby where the cake will be served.

The patriotic red and blue color theme and cedar paneling which encompasses the attractive, comfortable room TV, to give the maximum in comfort and convenience.

And the new drive-in window in the rear of the bank building will further enhance the convenience of banking at the U.S. Bank.

The bank's new look has had many contributors, most of whom are Seminole Counties. LeRoy Robb was the general contractor for the enlargement. Bert Hall decorated the interior of the bank, and Mrs. Fred Gans is responsible for the landscaping.

The new additions include, in addition to the extra lobby space, a conference and board room, a new president's office, a new installment loan office, an employee's lounge, and additional space in the proof room which holds the machines that "prove" the addition done on deposit slips.

TOP OFFICERS of the enlarged United State Bank are John Y. Mercer, president, and Wayne Albert, (standing), vice president and cashier.

'Bank-Americard' Popular

PART III
 By CHARNER LEONE
 "It's going to take cash and checks out of existence probably within ten years," said banker Wayne Albert, vice president of the United State Bank. "People want to carry a credit card instead of cash or checks," he explained.
 He referred specifically to the Bank-Americard, which his bank handles. The Florida State Bank also administers the Bank-Americard. Master charge is available at the Sanford Atlantic Bank.
 In Seminole County, estimates Albert, there are about 10,000 people who hold one or both of the cards. And he knows of only one case in which the card was abused. "And that's remarkable in itself," he concluded happily.
 "You can get a card from any bank if you qualify," he said. "Your credit is with the bank, then, and not the merchant." The merchant handles

1st Florida Numbers 14 State Banks

The board of governors of the Federal Reserve System has announced its approval, pursuant to the Bank Holding Company Act of 1956, of the application of First Florida Bancorporation to acquire 51 per cent or more of the voting shares of the Orlando Bank & Trust Company, Orlando.

The acquisition, when approved by the stockholders, will bring to fourteen the number of banks which are members of First Florida, a registered bank holding company. Total assets of the holding company stood at $279,857,254 as of December 31, 1969, while total assets of The Orlando Bank & Trust Company as of that date were $38,783,768. Thus, the acquisition action will put First Florida's total assets at more than $318,000,000.

Applications of First Florida Bancorporation for permission to acquire three additional banks are currently before the Federal Reserve System. The banks are The State Bank of Jacksonville, The State Bank of Arlington and Liberty National Bank of St. Petersburg. These applications, too, must receive Federal Reserve approval, as well as approval by stockholders. The acquisitions would, however, make First Florida Bancorporation the only bank holding company with members in four major metropolitan areas: Tampa, Orlando, St. Petersburg and Jacksonville.

Current First Florida member banks are: Marine Bank & Trust Company, Tampa; National Bank of Melbourne and Trust Company, Florida State Bank of Sanford; Bank of Zephyrhills; DeSoto National Bank of Arredondo; State Bank of Haines City; Osceola County Bank, First State Bank of Fort Meade; Bank of Mulberry; Bank of Lake Alfred; Commercial Bank of Tampa; United State Bank of Seaboard; and National Bank of West Melbourne.

'Joachimsthaler' Now On Display

The "granddaddy" of the silver dollar, the 16th century Joachimsthaler, along with over a score of other dollar-size coins, is currently on exhibit at United States Bank President John Y. Mercer has announced.

On display until March 6, this historical parade of silver coins is on loan from the 76,000-item collection of coins, currency, and checks of the Chase Manhattan Bank Money Museum, New York.

The oldest coin in the show and the prototype of all dollar-size coins is the Joachimsthaler, minted in Bohemia between 1520 and 1525. The coin's conversion size and excellence of design set the pattern for many European coins.

Another dollar first struck in Austria in 1780 is still being used in Asia and Africa. The Empress Maria Theresa Thaler was minted in 1780 specifically for trade with the Levant. Because of its insuperable popularity with the Levantines, thalers bearing the same likeness of the Empress and the date 1780 continued to be struck by Austria for over 150 years. Today the same coin is being produced in several European countries.

The Spaniards also began minting dollar-size silver coins in the 18th Century. Spanish milled dollars — "the Pieces of Eight" of pirate lore — were minted in the various Spanish colonies and were widely circulated in North America both before and after the Revolutionary War.

Mercer stated that the coin anniversary celebration exhibit was a part of the fifth going on.

Monroe Flooding Controls Asked

Bids for a contract which will control seasonal flooding of Lake Monroe are being sought by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers for the Central and South Florida Flood Control District.

Bids are being asked by the Corps of Engineers for construction of a levee, canal and water control structure in the Upper St. Johns River Valley west of the river and proceeding 10 miles south from SR 500 (connecting highway between Melbourne and Kissimmee).

Estimated cost of the project will be $4.7 million.

CSFCD engineers explained to The Herald by telephone from their West Palm Beach headquarters this morning that the project will be along Jane Green creek and will form the Jane Green Reservoir, designed to contain water at the peak flow during the flooding seasons and to release water during drought. They added it will control the flow through Lake Monroe.

Several years ago the district engineers said that, prior to the construction of Sebastian Canal from the St. Johns River to Sebastian Inlet, the canal might be opened to pleasure craft, thus opening the entire river for traffic either way to the Atlantic Ocean. This morning the engineers said the canal has been completed as far as flood control is concerned but no locks have been installed for boat traffic, as yet.

Gun Theft Ring Broken

A Sanford motel operator and two companions were arrested and a quantity of stolen guns recovered this morning after a combined state-county raid on the Coachman Motel, Highway 17-92.

James Billy Cain, 40, of 220 Scott Avenue, Sanford; Angelo R. Trepani, 40, Miami, and Darrell Frank Ryan, 38, Pittsburgh, Pa. were arrested by agents of the Florida Bureau of Investigation and Seminole County sheriff's department after a two-month long investigation of stolen gun traffic in Florida.

Chief Deputy Duane Harrell said the three men were charged with receiving, concealing and attempting to sell stolen property. They were lodged in county jail awaiting the setting of a bond.

Harrell said 60 guns, mostly revolvers, were recovered in new condition in a cache at the motel, which is owned by Cain.

The deputy said all three were taken without resistance in a lightning attack this morning on the motel.

Cain at one time was also a part owner of the Crown Pawn Shop, Harrell informed.

The deputy advised that this is not the end of the investigation and indicated the Sanford operation was only a small part of a large scale state operation. "The investigation is continuing," Harrell said.

Stepdaughter Dies

Longwood Mechanic Arrested in Murder

A 33-year old Longwood automobile mechanic was arrested late Thursday by Seminole County authorities on second degree murder charges in the death of his 2 1/2-year-old stepdaughter.

Ronald Frank Powers, 207 Lake Gene Drive, was placed in Seminole County jail in lieu of $25,000 bond on a warrant signed by Wallace Hall, county judge, after an intensive investigation by George Abgy and Tony Calangelo, county detectives.

Powers is charged in the death of Lana Bennett, youngest of four children, two boys and two girls, born to George W. and Charlene Bennett, of Longwood.

The arrest of Powers followed receipt of an autopsy report from Dr. Thomas Heger, Orange County pathologist, who was asked to determine the cause of death of the little blonde girl after she was taken to Orange Memorial Hospital in Orlando on Feb. 4 by her mother for treatment of internal injuries, said at the time, to have occurred from a fall.

The child died two days later at Orange Memorial Hospital. Seminole authorities were called into the case by doctors who treated the child, J. Q. Galoway, chief county detective, said.

Raptured Spleen
Duane Harrell, chief deputy, reported an autopsy report was received by local authorities two days ago. As a result of the report, listing cause of death as a ruptured spleen, Detectives Abgy and Calangelo were assigned to investigate.

A break in the case occurred yesterday and, according to Sheriff John Polk, Powers was arrested on murder charges.

Galoway reported the child had been admitted to Orlando Naval Hospital several times previously for treatment of injuries alleged to have occurred by falls and county authorities were alerted by Navy authorities of possible child beating.

Educator Becomes Banker

It was an interesting route to the plush president's office at the United State Bank for John Mercer, the genial head of the fast-growing Seminole Bank.

Mercer came to Florida in 1940 as principal of Bartow Junior High School. He later became principal of Bartow Elementary which at that time was the largest elementary school in Polk County.

In 1958 he moved to the Fort Meade area as the supervising principal where he served for four years.

"In '62 I made the move to banking," said Mercer, relaxing behind an enormous wooden desk in his bright office, which reflects the red slung carpeting in contrast to the royal blue floor covering of the bank lobby.

He became the installment loan officer of First State Bank of Fort Meade. Later he went to the State Bank of Haines City as assistant vice president.

And to give another turn to his upward spiral in the banking world, Mercer came to Sanford in 1964 as the vice president of the new United State Bank. In 1968 he took as president of the bank.

Mercer, a non-smoker, played with the well-polished "coffin" on his desk. This gag gift from "Frank Mercer" as it is already presented a cigarette. Mercer's good humor as he jokingly offered a cigarette, is obviously a factor in the impressive growth in the bank.

His education, and interests in his community are other personal assets well placed in the banking world. Mercer, a Kentuckian, earned his bachelor's degree from Centre College in his home state. He obtained a master's degree from Western Kentucky University, and has also earned post-graduate credits at the School of Banking of the South at Louisiana State University.

Mercer is a active Rotarian. He has served that organization as president and was instrumental in the organization of the Rotary in Fort Meade.

"He is an active booster of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce," he said with pride. He is also on the board of directors for the Chamber.

He is a member of First Baptist Church, the Sanford Industrial Commission, holds a sustaining membership in the Jay-Cee, and in 1968 was honored as the "Boos of the Year" by that group.

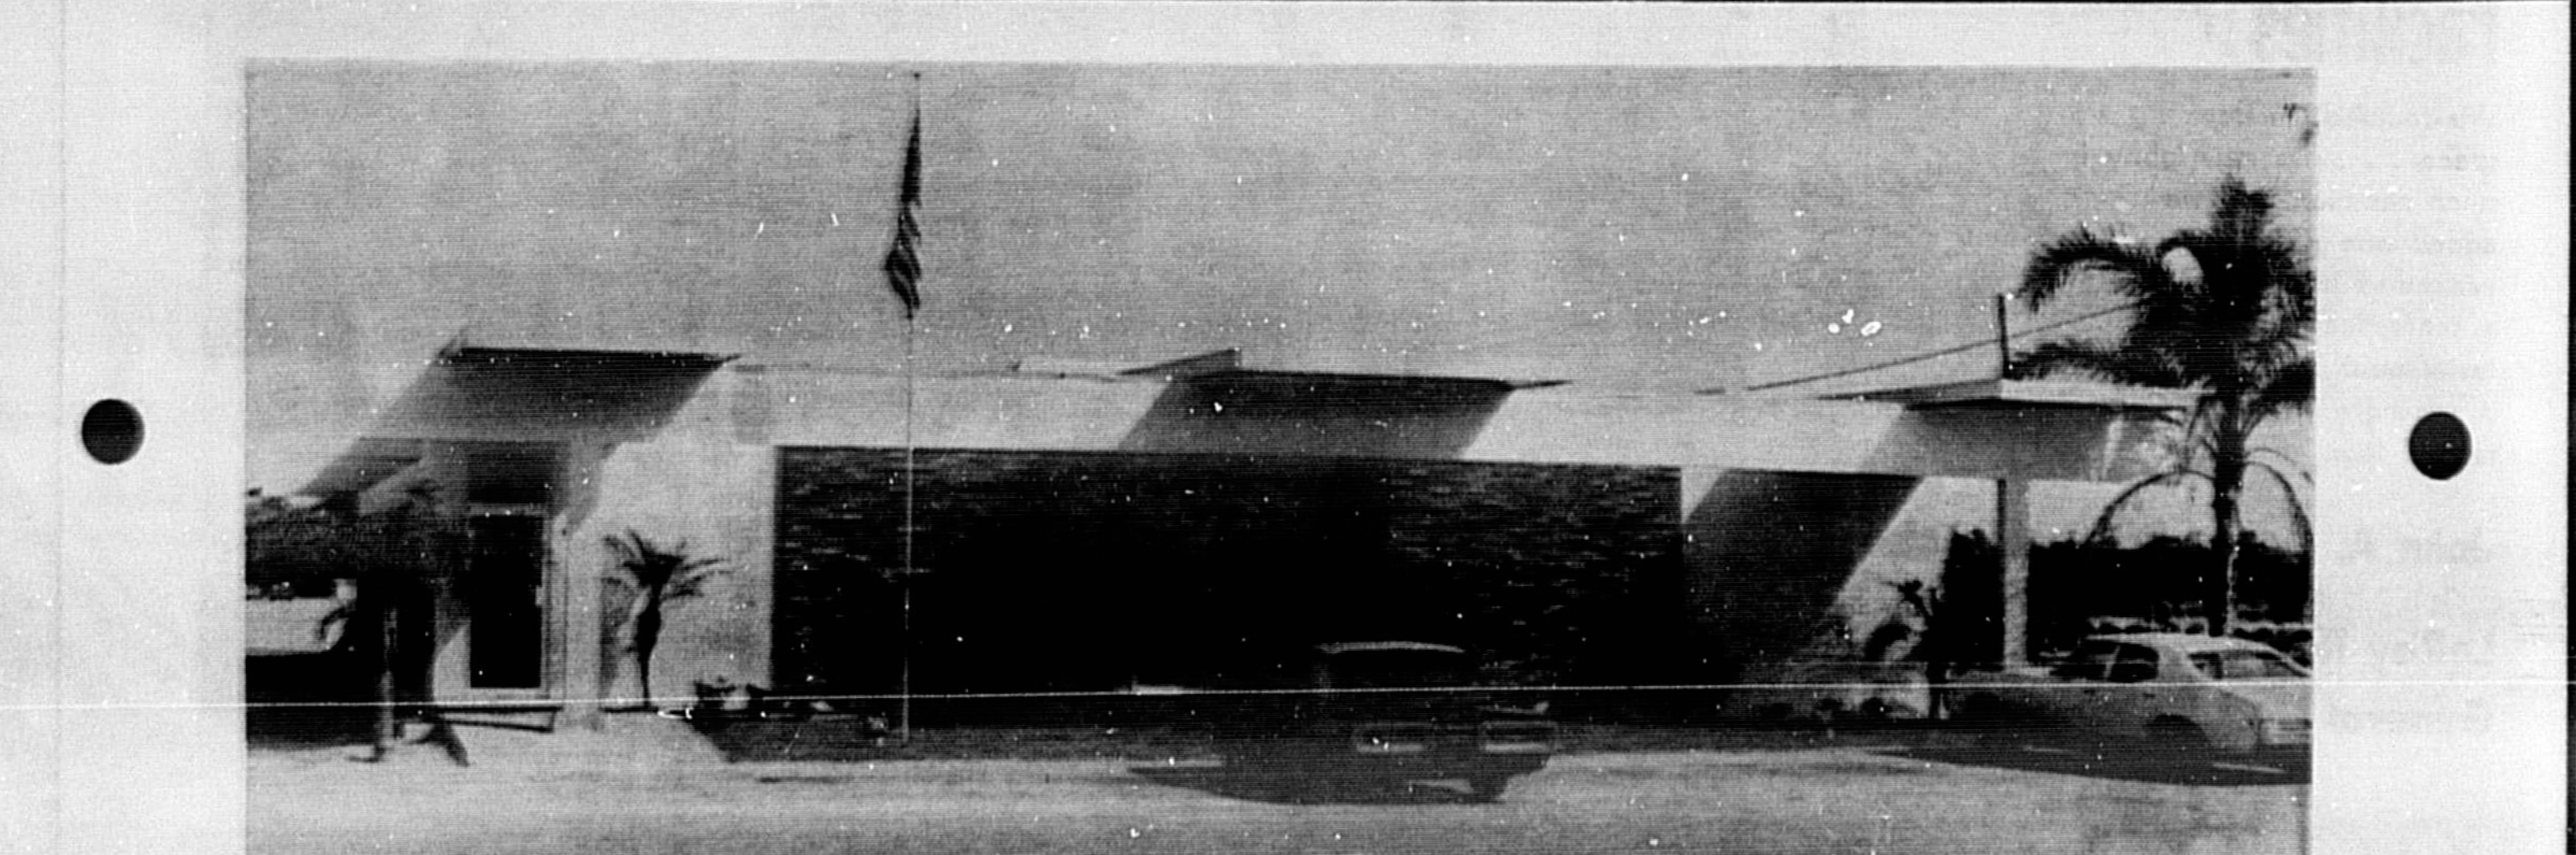

Mercer can also be addressed as "The Colonel". He was honored by the governor of Kentucky Ed Breathitt, and designated as a Kentucky Colonel. The award is given to Kentuckians who have distinguished themselves in any manner.

Mercer and his wife, Juanita ("Juanita") are the parents of three children: Mike, 16, Barnh, 12, and Maggie, 12. They live at 201 West 19th Street in Sanford.

He Waits For Second Eclipse

A total solar eclipse usually occurs only once in the lifetime of most persons but "I remember the total eclipse of the sun on May 28, 1906," says J. W. Harkey, of 2410 Southwest Road.

He was residing on a farm in Mackenbuck County, N. C., when the eclipse occurred and frightened the farm animals.

"It was about 10 o'clock in the morning," he recalls. "It became real dark for a few minutes. The cows came up the lane from the pasture to the barn. They were bawling . . . and they were very nervous. They knew something was wrong but didn't know what. The chickens came up to the chicken house, walked around and around several times, and went into the chicken house.

"Mother spread a white sheet on the ground and we watched the panorama of dark patchwork shadows play across the sheet.

"We had smoked pieces of glass to watch the eclipse with. Up in the sky you could see dark shimmering patchwork everywhere you looked. Nothing looked real, out across the fields was like nothing you had ever seen before. Everything seemed to be out of focus, nothing seemed real.

"It is not often," concluded Mr. Harkey, "that one person gets to see two total eclipses in a lifetime. The information I have on the next total eclipse of the sun will be in the year 2148. So don't wait for the next one."

Collection Of Garbage Change Is Proposed

City of Sanford refuse service customers may soon be required to place their trash in a disposable plastic bag to bring about a more agreeable garbage collection.

City manager W. E. Knowles requires city garbage service customers to take their trash receptacles to curb side, so as to eliminate the practice of having a "note man" carry a huge container into customers backyard to retrieve the family garbage.

The above information was contained in a study made by the city manager and released to the commission at Tuesday night's regular session.

Knowles, two weeks ago, told commissioners of the problem encountered keeping refuse workers to carry huge containers to resident's garbage cans for pickups.

At the time the city manager recommended city require customers to place their refuse containers on curbs thus eliminating the "toting" of garbage from homes to city trucks.

Led by Commissioner J. A. Crapps, the city fathers declined to act on Knowles' request and instead asked for additional information on ways to maintain the "note man" in present collection.

Commissioner Crapps even suggested a wage increase to induce the collectors to remain on the job.

Knowles' alternative would require citizens placing their garbage in plastic bags along curbs, so trucks could just drive along and have the collectors toss the bags into the truck.

The city manager said the bags could be furnished by the city to customers at cost or about 50 cents per month, per service stop.

There would be no extra charge if commission requires customers to place their containers at curb side each refuse pickup day.
