FRENCH CABINET APPROVES TEXT OF NON-AGGRESSION PACT BEING CONSIDERED

With Reservation Must Not be Interpreted as Withdrawal France
FROM AN RIGHTS

BOLSHEVIKI ARE DISPLEASED
WITH PROJECT FOR RECONSTRUCTION

(By The Associated Press)
PARIS, May 4.—The French today approved the text proposed non-aggression pact under consideration at Genoa, with reservation that must not be interpreted as withdrawing from France any rights she has under the treaties.

GENOA, May 4.—Soviet representatives here announced today terms of the allied note to Russia telegraphed to Moscow says the Exchange Telegraph which adds "it is stated possibly Premier Lenin will accept demanding simultaneously full recognition."

GENOA, May 4.—The soviet plenipotentiaries are "not delighted" with the project of the powers for the reconstruction of Russia. Such is the brief summary emanating from soviet sources of the Bolshevik views on the memorandum on which Europe's statesmen have worked so laboriously.

The fact that the document does not mention recognition of the soviet government and ignores the suggestion of governmental loans is said to displease the communist leaders who are now conferring with Moscow. The memorandum was delivered to them at four o'clock yesterday morning, after a corps of secretaries had worked all night putting it into official shape. It was rushed to Santa Margherita and delivered to M. Rakovsky, who received it dressed in his japa-nas.

Belgium has not signed the memorandum, and word was received here last evening that France had determined to stand by Belgium, but as yet there is no official announcement in Genoa of France's action. It is believed the conversations between Premier Poincare and M. Barthou, however, will have an important general effect on the conference.

All the leaders expressed satisfaction at yesterday's plenary session, believing that it embodied the inauguration of far-reaching efforts to improve the finance of Europe. The financial code at Genoa has been written, declared Sir, Laming Worthington-Evans, chairman of the financial commission, and he believed it would prove as important as the historic Justinian civil code, the basis of world jurisprudence.

Prohi Agents Must Account to Courts For Liquor Seized

(By The Associated Press)
MIAMI, Fla., May 4.—The ruling was made here yesterday by Judge Rhydon M. Call of the federal court, that no intoxicating liquor seized by prohibition agents under search warrants can be destroyed by such agents and that all liquors seized must be accounted for in court.

The ruling was made during the course of the trial of an alleged bootlegger in United States court yesterday morning. Special Agent G. E. Hense, of the prohibition department sent here from Savannah, Ga., to work with the L. G. Nutt prohibition squad testified that 15 or 16 bottles had been seized on the defendant's premises on the train, as evidence.

However, only one of the eight bottles of intoxicants were introduced as evidence.

"Where are the other five bottles?" asked Judge Call.

"They were destroyed," replied Prohibition Agent Hensen.

"By what authority were they destroyed?" then asked the court.

"Why, we always do that," was Hense's answer. "We never keep all the whiskey we seize upon, keeping just enough for evidence and destroy the rest."

"Maybe you can do that up in Georgia," then declared Judge Call, "but you can't in the jurisdiction of this court. Hereafter, prohibition agents must account to the court for every drop of intoxicating liquor they seize in a raid."

Pride is One of Obstacles of Bonus Bill

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 4.—Pride of leadership and pride of authorship continued today to be the chief obstacles in the way of speedy senate action on a soldiers bonus bill.

The inability of certain Republican members of the senate finance committee to agree on the various bonus proposals before them were attributed to a mutual desire to shine in the leadership and authorship of whatever plan of ex-service men's compensation is finally put through congress.

It was still their intention when they met again behind closed doors of the committee room to call upon President Harding to decide between the McCumber and the Smoot bonus plans on which they are about evenly divided.

The Smoot plan provides for a straightout paid-up endowment insurance policy without any borrowing provision like those embodied in the McCumber plan, and the Smoot plan eliminates cash bonus. The McCumber plan retains the $50 cash provision fixed by the house bill.

Treasury experts figured that the total cost of the Smoot plan at the end of twenty years would be $4,550,130,000, but that its annual outlay, based on insurance statistics would only range from $39,161,741 to $47,453,519. It was estimated that the McCumber plan would involve a total expenditure of $3,845,659,481, but that it would impose a greater early burden on the treasury at the outset.

FROM SIAM TO MEXICO IS ONLY 25 FEET IN CECIL B. DEMILLE'S "FOOL'S PARADISE"

Twenty-five feet from Siam to Mexico—Such was the startling geographical jump accomplished by players in "Fool's Paradise" Cecil B. DeMille's newest Paramount picture, which comes to the Princess Theatre Friday and Saturday of this week.

For on the same stage at Paramount Studio one found the interior of a Siamese Temple with a yawning pit in which reptiles awaited the sacrifice—while but a few steps away there was a colorful cantina of an oil town on the border between Mexico and the United States.

The hero is a young ex-soldier who loses his all in the oil fields. Captivated by a famous French dancer, he is blinded at one of her performances by an explosive cigar, the gift of a cantina girl. Filled with remorse, the girl nurses—and comes to love the man—and he is happy believing her the dancer whom she mimics. Sight restored, he is angered at the trick and flees in search of his first love. Finding her in Siam, a series of dramatic incidents prove her shallow character and bring him back to the woman who loved him in his misfortune.

To interpret this story, written by Beulah Marie Dix and Sada Cowan, suggested by Leonard Merricks "The Laurels and the Lady," Mr. DeMille secured such excellent players as Dorothy Dalton, Mildred Harris, Conrad Nagel, Theodore Kosloff, John Davidson and Julia Faye. The production is in every respect magnificent.

Well-managed hens make money even when eggs are cheap. Poorly managed hens doubtlessly never make money. Get rid of your slackers.

WILLIAMS AND HARRISON ANNOUNCE FOR RE-ELECTION, COUNTY SCHOOL BOARD

The announcements of Chas. F. Harrison, of Geneva, and Fred T. Williams of this city, appearing in another column of today's Herald, that they will stand for re-election as members of the County School Board indicates that politics in our home county is warming up a bit.

Mr. Harrison hails from Geneva and has the distinction of having served as a member of the board since the first election held in Seminole County. Mr. Harrison is at present the chairman of the Board.

Mr. Williams is from Sanford, and is well known throughout Sanford and the county, and is a prominent member of the board, having been elected at the last general election. It is not known whether Mr. Williams will be a candidate or not but meantime a formidable candidate has come out in Longwood in the person of J. K. DON'T SEE THE JOKE YET

Some northern friends of Mrs. Victor Check to whom she sent the Sanford Herald of April first wrote her yesterday and asked her if President Harding really visited in Sanford on that date. Of course Mrs. Check merely asked them to read the fourth page of the Herald of April first and this will be sufficient to hold them for a while. It seems that people other than those residing in Sanford were taken in by the hoax. Some of them were sore, also, but we would say to them that all of us need a little fun as we go along and newspaper work is dry enough and filled with more kicks than compliments.

DRINK HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST

Says you really feel clean, sweet and fresh inside, and are seldom ill.

If you are accustomed to wake up with coated tongue, foul breath or a dull headache; or if your meals sour and ferment, you have a real surprise awaiting you.

Tomorrow morning, immediately upon arising, drink a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is intended to first neutralize and then wash out of your stomach, liver, kidneys and thirty feet of intestines all the indigestible waste, poisons, sour bile and toxins, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal.

Those subject to headaches, backaches, bilious attacks, constipation or stomach trouble, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone-phosphate from the drug store and begin enjoying the morning inside bath.

Just as hot water and soap cleanse, purify and freshen the skin, so hot water and a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Limestone phosphate is an inexpensive white powder and almost tasteless.—Adv.

GAY WITH COLORS

Picturesque Scene on Old East Indian Highway.

Customs and Costumes of the Past and Present Mingled in Kaleidoscopic Procession.

The great highway which runs from the Khyber pass in the far northwest of India to Calcutta in the Far East is a kaleidoscope of the colors and the customs of the past and present, writes Temple Manning in the Cleveland Plain Dealer. On this great road we go to be seen ox teams, caravans and camels from Afghanistan dodging huge, snorting motor trucks and light American and European cars. At a glance one might think it all a circus en route, because even the elephants are there.

Parallel to this road is a railway. One of the most interesting places along the line is Lahore, the capital of Punjab. It is called "The City of the Thirteen Gates." The railway station in Lahore resembles a fort, and so picturesque is it that one can almost imagine it being besieged by ancient, oriental warriors.

On leaving the station one is struck by the spirit of the place. It is still the East, even if there are sandwich men advertising American moving pictures.

The bazaars and towering mosques, is very beautiful. It is surrounded by lovely gardens, which form a green circle around the city, the only break being the dusty section near the Ravi river. In Lahore is the beautiful palace of mirrors, where thousands of tiny mirrors, set in plaster, form the decorations of the walls and ceiling. Here a single candle will illuminate the interior with myriads of glistering lights like a many-sided diamond turned inside out.

The streets are crowded with the gaily-dressed inhabitants. As in most countries, the color is given by the women's dress. The average woman of Lahore wears a white waist resembling a Russian blouse, spartan white trousers of the buggy Turkish variety, and last but not least, a waistcoat like a man's with checks—great big checks.

The belles of Lahore weight down their hands with rings, and also their noses. Sometimes the nose ring is worn jauntily in one nostril, in the same manner, that a hat is put on a rakish girl. Their arms are heavy with bracelets, and invariably nowadays each girl's arm is adorned with an American wrist watch. The wrist watches are an amusing touch, and dispel the oriental effect in the mind of the traveler who expects to see only what he has read of in old books.

Some of our girls who think they are very devilish and advanced because they roll down their stockings or even wear socks, are behind the times compared with their sisters of Lahore. For in Lahore the men wear stockings, and for centuries the girls have worn socks.

The Golden Goose.

An American says he is "skinned" and Americans understand him. The French have a corresponding word for robbing somebody outside the law, and this word is "estampage," and the French are becoming wise to the fact that France may be overdoing this taking of irregular toll from tourists and visitors. Except for one or two special resorts, touring in France has fallen off this year, and those who are thinking about this enormous source of income to the country are pointing out the evil of the incapacity of some and the rapacity of others. The word "estampage," by the way, is a dictionary word for punching holes in metal, and is commonly understood in France for overcharging.

Britain Wants Own Beet Sugar.

Before the great war Great Britain paid Germany, even upon a low computation, $35,000,000 a year for beet sugar. Great Britain now appears determined not to do it in the future, as there has been recently opened at Newark-on-Trent a beet-sugar factory which opens a new chapter in British farming annals.

The factory, covering some forty acres in all, is the result of co-operation between the government and the Sugar Beet Growers' society and Home-Grown Sugar, Limited, and is to be the first of five factories, which in turn may be precursors of the 400 that would be necessary to make England quite self-supporting.

The Necessary Husband.

"She wants her husband back again."
"But she sued him for divorce and got it."
"I know."
"And the court gave her the custody of the children."
"That's the trouble. She finds now that she really needs him. You see she has no one to stay at home with the children on the nights they club meets."—Detroit Free Press.

Relic of the Dark Ages.

"What is this torn and tattered flag, grandmother?"
"That's a suffrage banner, my child. During the great suffrage battles of 20 years ago I dared 12 bravary policemen to take that sacred standard away from me."
"And did they do it, grandmother, dear?"
"Yes, my child, but it was about 40 minutes later."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

HUDSON AND ESSEX CARS HAVE LOCAL AGENCY NOW WITH SERVICE STATION

G. L. Doss has arrived in the city and will be the Seminole county agent for the Hudson and Essex cars. He will have his headquarters at Urk's Garage on Sanford avenue where service on Hudson and Essex cars will also be given. Nixon Butt of Orlando has charge of this territory and he has placed Mr. Doss in this field because he recognizes the fact that Seminole county field is a good field and can only be covered by a local agent.

Production of Hudson and Essex cars for the first quarter of 1922 was 182 per cent greater than that for the same period last year, according to information just received from Detroit by Nixon Butt. Despite this huge business increase, the companies find it impossible to keep up with orders.

Shortage of Hudson and Essex cars exist in almost every part of the country. At the end of April, the companies had been unable to fill nearly a fifth of their April orders, Mr. Butt says. "Furthermore, they have been forced to curtail the demands of nearly every one of their 64 distributors for additional cars.

Both companies were at capacity production throughout April. Difficulty in obtaining car bodies and in-plant manufacturing of parts were the reasons the kept that month from setting up the greatest shipment figure in Hudson-Essex history.

The slogan that 1922 will be the record Hudson-Essex year is almost certain to be fulfilled. Before June 15 the total 1921 output will have been exceeded and orders already received mean that maximum production will be continued well through the year.

STRAWBERRY PLANTS NOT TO BE INSPECTED IF GROWN IN FLORIDA

GAINESVILLE, May 4.—The state Plant Board has repealed the rule which required inspection and certification of Florida grown strawberry plants before they could be shipped out of the state. Inspection of plants from other states, however, will be continued. The rule, which was in effect some years was designed to prevent the introduction of certain strawberry plant pests no longer exist in the state and as a result the rule has been suspended.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

TAKE A GLASS OF SALTS IF YOUR BACK HURTS OR HEAD-ACHE TROUBLES YOU

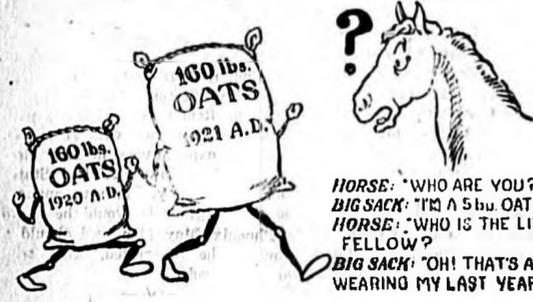

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.—Adv.

THE BIG NEW FEED STORE NOW IN OUR NEW BUILDING

HORSE: "WHO ARE YOU?"
BIG SACK: "I'M A 5 lb. OAT SACK"
HORSE: "WHO IS THE LITTLE FELLOW?"
BIG SACK: "OH! THAT'S A KID WEARING MY LAST YEAR'S SUIT."

You Can't Get Good Oats Now

The quality of this year's oat crop is away below a good grade. Reports from all sections show this year's oats average weight is 10 to 25 pounds to the bushel. There is too much "wood" and not enough "meat" in the light oats. A horse or mule cannot eat more than 20 or 25 pounds of grain a day. Of the 1921 oat crop, that would be a bushel or 28 pounds average "heel run" oats. Five bushels of oats are now big as a feather bed.

Horse feeders are consequently on the look out for better feed for their horses and mules. You can't get good heavy oats now.

But You Can Get O-Molene

The manufacturers of Purina O-Molene have scoured the country for good heavy oats and this is the kind that are going into O-Molene.

Just come in and examine the big, fat, meaty kernels. You can feed one-third less O-Molene by weight than oats. Your mules and horses will do more work and keep in the pink of condition. It costs no more to use than ordinary feed.

Ask us about it today.

FLORIDA IS GREAT STATE

SANFORD MAN WRITES HOME TO FOLKS IN SISTERSVILLE, W. VA.

The following letter written by Orien Farrell, of the Herald force to the Sistersville, W. Va., Daily Review is an excellent article on Florida:

This letter from Orien D. Farrell, who is now living in Sanford, Florida, should be of interest to local persons who own property in and around Clermont, which place is only 40 miles south of Sanford. The letter follows:

While it is generally known that Florida is rich in oranges and sunshine, many people do not know of the enormous production of fruit and vegetables in this state. No particular mention will be made of the raising of the smaller vegetables, such as onions, radishes, beans, peas or sweet-corn, although these are grown in practically all parts of the state, all of which are available at this time in the year, but it is a fact that more vegetables are raised in Florida each year than in any other part of the country with the possible exception of California.

At Miami vast quantities of tomatoes are harvested; at Plant City they specialize in strawberries, and hundreds of carloads of this delicious fruit are shipped to all parts of the country. Kissimmee, close to Orlando, is also contemplating the raising of strawberries and will put in 500 acres next year. Hastings is famous for its Irish potatoes, something like a thousand carloads having been shipped north this year and the biggest part of the crop is in the ground yet. At Winter Garden, just twelve miles north of Clermont, they raise lettuce in 25, 50 and 100 acre lots, several hundred cars being shipped away this last season. Burtow, Bradentown and many other cities in Florida are also known as large vegetable centers.

And here in Sanford, known as the "Garden City of the South," also called "The place where everything grows," they raise practically everything, and especially celery, lettuce and peppers. Watermelons are also raised extensively. Sweet corn here now is five feet high and will be ripe the first of May. It is said of Sanford that she raises more celery than any other one place in the world, and having seen the vast fields of it within a mile of the city itself, and well knowing that hundreds of acres of celery are in cultivation, I think it safe to say that the above statement is correct. Last year Sanford's net crop output was over two and a half million dollars, the exact figures being $2,052,000.00. That of celery alone was 3,000 cars and amounted to $1,750,000.00. It took 5,695 cars to carry Sanford's crop of vegetables last year. The crops this year were even better but I haven't the figures. Still there are some who claim that you can't raise anything in Florida. Where do they get that line of talk? I'm here and I know.

If you believe that Florida is a place where people do nothing but go fishing, swimming and take times easy in general, let your eyes linger for a moment on the following itemized account of the entire output of vegetables, oranges and grapefruit in Sanford last year. These figures are official and can be verified by the growers themselves. And remember please that this is the work of only one place in Florida, not the entire state, that would run into billions.

These follows down here are first-rate farmers. Especially so in this city whose production for the past year follows:

Itemized, it shows:
Celery, 3,000 cars.....	$1,750,000.00
Lettuce, 1,525 cars.....	180,000.00
Potatoes, 80 cars.....	60,000.00
Peppers, 620 cars.....	250,000.00
Tomatoes, 150 cars.....	200,000.00
Beets, 40 cars.....	20,000.00
Miscel. vegetables, 80 cars	32,000.00
Citrus Fruits, 200 cars.....	160,000.00
Total cars 5,695.....	$2,052,000.00

To move this amount of vegetables, it required 734 carloads of crate material.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL

(From Thursday's Daily)
In tearing down the old Star Theatre yesterday a negro helper was injured by some of the rafters falling on him.

Alfred Robson has accepted a position with a new oil and gasoline company at Orlando and will be stationed there for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Smith of Oviedo are in the city today coming over in their car on a combined business and shopping trip. Mr. Smith reports very little rain there last night.

The Herald has been asked several times about Mother's Day date this year. Mother's Day will be Sunday May 14 and we think this is correct as the day is supposed to be the second Sunday in May.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Keefe of Jacksonville are in the city today in their car and will be here for several days while Mr. O'Keefe is arranging the new quarters of the Southern Drug Company.

The Methodists Brotherhood Class are giving a big fish fry and picnic at Crystal Lake today and should be there but busy printers and newspaper men not only have no Thursday afternoons off but are busier that day than any other in the week. "Twins ever thus."

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Check left today for their home in Topeka, Kansas after spending the winter months here. They will return to Sanford in the early fall to build a fine home on their land on French avenue expecting to bulkhead the property, divide it up into city lots and make it one of the beautiful additions to Sanford.

Ben R. Leigh of the Southern Drug Company has arrived in the city and will make it his future home while he presides over the destinies of the Sanford branch. He is an old Orange county boy having resided in Orlando back in '98 and is glad to get in the old territory again. He was a member of the medical corps in the world war and saw much service in France having been stationed at Rouen for over a year. Mr. and Mrs. Leigh will move to Sanford as soon as they can obtain a house.

The many friends of Arthur Donegan of Kissimmee and Orlando were glad to have him here a few minutes yesterday en route to points on the east coast. Arthur is out of all his banking troubles now as the federal court at Tampa had no evidence against him in the bank case, which is dismissed and all his friends knew that Arthur Donegan was innocent of the charges brought against him.

R. C. Burns is back in the city again and will take up the work of compiling the data for the Nash-Link Abstract Company with offices in the J. L. Miller building.

Mrs. Homer Williams (nee Ruby Roy) arrived in the city Tuesday for a visit with her aunt, Miss Bazile. Mr. and Mrs. Williams have been making their home in Palatka for the past few months but will move soon to Daytona.

We would remind the police force to be on the lookout for Ed. Fitzgerald, editor of the Daytona Gazette and district assistant governor of the Kiwanis Club, who is expected to be in the city tonight. If he gets rough put him in jail and send for either the editor of the Herald or Judge Maines or George DeCottes. Any of these gentlemen will go on his bail.

Jeff Bailey a former newspaper man but now reformed and district secretary of Kiwanis International is in the city today to attend the installation ceremony tonight of Sanford Kiwanis Club. Jeff was a welcome caller at the Herald office where he has a chair all prepared for him any time he drops in—no electric wires on the chair. The other day while in Ft. Myers Editor Milford's father died while Mr. Milford was preparing the Kiwanis special edition and Jeff climbed right in, printed the special edition and put it out on the street in the regular time which shows that Kiwanians are resourceful people always.

PARIS, May 3.—Max Oser is surprised at the failure of Miss Mathilde McCormick, his fiancee, to answer his cable messages and he is also disappointed because she did not appear in Zurich last month when he expected her, according to a Zurich dispatch to the Herald. Oser declines, however, to discuss the reports of estrangement with her.

THE MANIFEST DESTINY OF FLORIDA

For many years the people of Florida have been endeavoring to impress upon the northern mind that the summer season in Florida is as delightful and comfortable in its way as the winter, but so far the effort has met with scant success. They simply refuse to believe. You may deluge them with facts and figures taken from the records of the United States weather bureau, comparing temperatures in Florida with those thousands of miles to the north, always to the advance of this state, and they greet you with an incredulous smile showing plainly their belief that the records have been "doctored" for a purpose.

Many good people come down here for the winter, and finding the climate so soft and balmy and sunny so vastly different from the winter of their northern homes, that they jump to the hasty conclusion that there must be an equal difference in the summer climate; that while they are sweltering in heat, with the mercury standing at 100 degrees or above the people of Florida must be sliding and broiling in unbearable heat. Tell them of the number of heat prostrations in the northern cities during the hot months, and point to the fact that such casualties never occur in Florida, and again you find an unbeliever. It is not possible, they say.

But public opinion in that respect is gradually undergoing a change. Constant iteration and reiteration of the facts regarding Florida's summer climate is beginning to have its effect. While it has not yet come to the point of absolute belief in our claims, it has succeeded in arousing curiosity which demands satisfaction. An ever-increasing number of people remain here through the summer to test the climate, and so if life is possible here in summer time. They visit our magnificent beaches and enjoy the bathing in the ocean waters; they sit on their porches in the cool evenings, and later retire to refreshing sleep, untroubled by torrid heat, and as they have been accustomed to in their northern homes. The "rainy season" is one long delight. The sandy earth drinks in the rain and there is neither mud nor dust. The frequent rains temper the heat, and are followed by a refreshing coolness.

The few venturesome ones who have experienced the delights of the Florida summers, become enthusiastic boosters, and spread the news among their friends, so that the number increases from year to year. The demand for summer rates has reached the ears of the railroad managers, and they have responded favorably, by granting such rates. This will greatly stimulate travel in this direction, and Florida will yet come into its own as an ideal winter and summer resort. It is manifest destiny, and as certain to come as the sun is to continue to shine.—Tampa Times.

YOU SAID IT, HENRY.

"I determined absolutely," writes Mr. Ford, "that never would I join a company in which finance came before work or in which bankers or financiers had a part. I have yet to have it demonstrated that is the way to success. For the only foundation of real business is service."

No one knows the troubles of the newspaper man. You can print a daily paper every day in the year and make no mistakes and never have a kind word of praise spoken to you about it but just make one little mistake in a name one time during the year and you are cursed from Dix to Beersheba and from Pensacola to Coca Cola. Every person in the county thinks their own little article is the greatest thing in the world never stopping to think that the newspaper has about fifty people just like you waiting to spring a "squawk" on the editor. However the law is out on editors and it is always apropos to air your kinks to the newspaper so send them along—we live on them.

SANFORD HIGH SCHOOL HAS THE BEST

Salmagundi is out. Salmagundi is the Sanford High School Annual and always good but this year for some reason or other and without disparagement to previous editions, the general opinion seems to be that 1922 has outshone all the rest. It is a wonderful piece of work not from the printers' point of view for the Herald did the printing, and we're too modest to pass judgment on this work, but from an artistic standpoint, from the viewpoint of literature, from the excellent drawings and cartoons of Byron Stephens which are better than anything ever before attempted in Florida and from the standpoint of magazine work it is at the top of the list. The covers are imitation leather in brown with a purple tint, printed in gold embossed and the second cover in the same material plain, the book being printed upon heavy enamel paper that shows off the many half tones in fine shape. Every branch of the Sanford High School is covered although athletics were not featured as it should have been but the school probably goes in for other things stronger than athletics and the poems, articles, little squibs, jokes, etc., are all filled with the spirit of the school and school days. The high school annual this year is one in which every high school pupil should take a great pride for it demonstrates that Sanford High has some of the brightest and brainiest pupils in the state—none others could compile so much good matter in 142 pages. Just think of it—142 pages of good reading matter wonderful sketches, half tones, history, etc. Every patron and every advocate of education in this county should have a copy of Salmagundi. It is an inspiration and a compendium of all that is good, all that is snappy and full of life, all of the quips and jests of the bright scholars who make up, high school and last but not least a mirror of those fine young men and women who for four years have been working to attain that goal—a high school education. Salmagundi of 1922 is perfect in every detail.

NO MORE COXEY ARMIES.

Way back yonder many years ago when this country was going through hard times and many men were out of employment a man named Coxe, from Ohio, conceived the idea of gathering up a nondescript army of all the hoboes in the country, gathering them at his home and marching on to Washington where he would appeal to the president for employment. The fact of the matter was that the majority of the men gathered in Coxe's yard were men who did not want work, had never worked and did not intend to work but the idea of free rations and a chance to go to Washington under a leader who had enough money to feed them enroute appealed to them and the "army" marched to Washington. Coxe probably had a hunch that the free advertisement would land him in the president's chair later on and he rode at the head of the army with his daughter on white horses, the press played up the march and made much of the idea and Coxe was the most talked of man in the newspapers for many days. His army reached the White House lawn one day where they were dispersed by the police and they faded away while Coxe went back home well satisfied with the publicity he had received.

The other day the families of the men who are in federal prison for political reasons were herded into a similar army and marched to Washington to demand the release of these prisoners who had in war times talked sedition, or refused to accept military service or violated civil laws. The children were well treated by President Harding but he made it plain to the leaders of the movement that it was for publicity purposes and he would not grant them an audience or have anything to do with them. President Harding is right. There is nothing at all in such a movement. These prisoners, like Debs, will receive their freedom when President Harding thinks they have served sufficient time to make them realize that while this is a benign government it will not stand for any foolishness in war times and those prisoners who thought they could cuss our government with impunity have found out their mistake and marching on to Washington will avail them nothing.

PAYING THE PREACHER

The current Ladies' Home Journal contains an article on the subject of the salaries of ministers, in which it is stated that the churches of America cost an average of nine cents a week per member, slightly under the price of two ice cream cones. This total cost is divided in a number of directions, one of the items being the salaries of the parsons.

The article goes on to indicate, by numerous statistics, that the clergymen are woefully underpaid. The members of the churches seem almost to have taken the preachers at their word when they have proclaimed that salvation is free.

The figures given by the writer are quite striking. Of the 170,000 clergymen in the United States fewer than two thousand have to pay any income tax, while there are more than 22,000 lawyers and more than 20,000 physicians who render this tribute to the government. The average salary of ministers in 1916 was $735 per annum, and in 1921 the salaries had reached the princely proportions of $808. In one of the larger denominations 13 per cent of the ministers received at last account salaries below $400 per annum.

During the period from 1914 to 1919 wages of railway men increased 100 per cent and the cost of living went up to 60 per cent. During the same period the compensation of ministers, on the average, increased less than 20 per cent.

The writer associates these facts with the further fact that until the present year here has been a shortage in the theological seminaries. He says that the young men themselves do not take the salary into account, but their families do and make every effort to turn them into some other line of work. He also intimates that the grade of preaching that is heard in many churches is not as high as it would be if the salaries were larger, which seems a reasonable deduction.

DON'T MIX POLITICS WITH BUSINESS

Now that a political campaign is on again and we are in the midst of a mildly heated argument over whether John Smith is a better man than Bill Brown let us all sit down and reason together as citizens with the common aim of building up our town. In the aggregate we all want to elect good men to office—in fact the best men we can get. It matters little to the average citizen who is elected and he hardly ever takes any interest in politics because it is so exhausting and takes his mind from business and pleasure alike. It is up to the voters to put the best men into office and we as citizens owe this much to our county and state. We should take an interest in the campaign and this interest should be confined solely to the going down on election day and casting our ballot for the men who in our estimation are the best men for the various offices. This is our prerogative and our right as citizens and it is also our right to take up all of our time with politics if we choose by talking politics never got anyone anywhere and it holds back business and town building. There is entirely too much stress laid on the fact that this fellow or that fellow voted against us one time and we intend to soak this candidate or that candidate because he injured us in one way or another at some time in the past. This is not the way to get the best men into office and should never be the manner in which candidates are to be picked. It is the duty of each voter to choose the best men for the place regardless of whether they are your friends or not and a campaign is the one place where enemies and friendships should be forgotten—if possible.

UNCLE HANK

And then—politics is not the ruling object of the universe. We must have good men in office but we should not spend all of our time trying to get them in office. We have other and much more important interests at stake and this little old town of Sanford needs so many improvements that we have but little time to sit around and talk about our neighbors and endeavor to show up their shortcomings. To our mind the building up of the city and the county and the Chamber of Commerce and the many other interests should take up our attention and in this Chamber of Commerce lies much of the future greatness of Sanford. We should each and every one get behind this Chamber of Commerce movement, pay up our dues, attend the governors meeting every Friday, take luncheon with the men who are doing things and accomplishments, put in a word of our own about what has been done or should be done and in this way assist the Chamber of Commerce instead of standing outside looking in and telling about the shortcomings of the members of the Chamber of Commerce who are endeavoring to accomplish something. Politics should have no part in any of the deliberations of the Chamber of Commerce or of any of the clubs in the city and if politics is kept out of all the public organizations and clubs they will grow bigger and better each year and accomplish twice as much.

If the people as a whole could rise above this petty political game and all work together for the Greater Sanford that we want and must have there would not be any trouble in raising any amount of money to put over all the big things contemplated. Big men are greatly needed in this country today. Big men of broad vision who can look over the heads of the little, narrow minded backbiters and peanut politicians who are forever and continually stirring up petty strife, personal differences and other petty fogging for their own personal ends. We need big men as we never needed them before and when they appear they should be put in the high places regardless of their previous habits, servitude or family connections—yes, verily.

FLORIDA INVITES ALL—WITH LIMITATIONS.

When, half-dozen years ago, an occasional winter tourist from the north or west would drive into any portion of Florida in his automobile, he was gladly allowed to park his car in almost any convenient spot he chose. He was allowed to secure water from the family well, and was loaned, or supplied at slow prices, such things as might be found necessary for the upkeep of his party. Florida people were glad to welcome such—for there was great likelihood that a large percentage of them might become future citizens.

But like the camel that commenced to edge its way into the tent the number of tourists grew into vast armies, and, emboldened at all lack of rebuff, actually made themselves at home—and to "crowd" upon the regular residents—those who paid for the good roads, who paid taxes to maintain government of the different towns and cities and counties. A large percentage of them would commence doing business; they found that rent cost them nothing, and that they could establish themselves as automobile repairers, or contractors in various lines, or even as grocers—and this large percentage brought the balanced into ill repute. The various communities were forced to begin to draw the line between actual tourists who came to enjoy the season and who could afford to do so and the mendicant who possessed anarchical tendencies and believed that all things came to him who'd grab.

A recent copy of the Saturday Evening Post has an article pertaining to the situation which is most timely in this regard, and the extract which follows will be verified by every reader:

Florida has made it plain that she wants no more of these seasonal laborers who can't make a satisfactory living in their own communities. Most of them are so hard-boiled that a diamond-pointed drill is needed to penetrate their shells; and most of them have as much regard for neatness, cleanliness and the rights of others as a Berkshire hog has for a potato peel. Tinian towns have begun to charge various prices for the privilege of staying in them—prices ranging from twenty-five cents a night to seventy-five cents a night or from four dollars to ten dollars a month. Even the free towns won't admit residents who wish to go to work each day. They've got to be tourists or devote themselves to taking the air. As a result the seasonal laborers who went to Florida for the 1921-22 season were taking themselves homeward early in 1922 and hurling many a deep, guttural, rough neck curse at the state of Florida as they went.

It is not that Florida loves the real tourist the less—but it lives fairplay the more.—Kissimmee Gazette.

BLACK TONGUE CURE.

Owners of bird dogs in this section should clip this article out and keep it. The story appeared in a recent issue of Field and Stream and the remedy for this dog disease is as follows: Give as soon as possible 1-2 oz. of castor oil internally and 10,000 units of Diphtheria Antitoxin sub-cutaneously. Two hours after castor oil, give 1 teaspoon of powdered sulphur beaten up in a raw egg. The sulphur and raw egg to be repeated once a day for the following two or three days. During illness, keep the dog by itself in comfortable quarters, provided with water. As for food only offer raw eggs and cream. Repeat the dose of antitoxin in 24 hours in stubborn cases. No work for the dog's. Don't wait for the symptom of the second and third stages. Don't thing any case is beyond treatment. Don't force feed. Don't kill your dog with too much attention. This is stated by the writer to be the only effective cure for black tongue.

For temper, which affliction many dogs are subject to at this time of year, there is a vaccine and serum treatment that may be obtained at the local drug store.

GROW VEGETABLES THE YEAR ROUND.

The Experimental Station at Gainesville has been making a campaign to grow vegetables in Florida the year round. We can certainly grow them in the Sanford section the year round and the only reason we do not grow them in Sanford is because after June there is no market for them in car load lots and our growers rest up a bit before planting seed beds for the next years crops. However, it would be profitable to grow some vegetables for the local markets and for the markets in Florida if for no markets farther north, and here is where the man with aspirations could make some money if the scheme was ever tried out. There is always a home market and that home market must be supplied from some place and why not from Sanford? The Tampa Tribune takes up the matter as follows:

"The Starke Telegraph commenting on the fact that the strawberry season is about over, and the potato movement will not last long, looks at the rapidly going out corn, tomato, cucumber and watermelon crops and says:

"About June 15th the truck shipments are over, and there will be no money coming to the truckers before October 1st, or thereabouts, when sweet potatoes enter the markets.

"But why should this intervening season of three and a half to four months be fruitless as far as concerns the production of money bringing truck crops? Will nothing grow and mature during this warm spell? Those who have tried to make every month of the year bring in money, do not think so."

The Telegraph concludes by asking why we stay in a rut, and consider that as soon as the old established crop are moved it is useless to attempt the growing of any others. It is an important question, and one which should be answered wisely. Florida with its fine summer climate of showers and sunshine alternating, can be made to, and actually does, where intelligently undertaken, grow the best of vegetables all the year round. There is no reason, save only habit holding us, why Florida in the mid summer season must depend on other states, for fresh vegetables, or revert to the tin can for all that is used.

Four months idleness for Florida productive lands and gardens is too much valuable time lost. Let's get out of the ruts and make Florida a real all-year state."

JUST FLORIDA

Very frequently a very few words tell a very great deal. This was illustrated one day last week during the all-Florida friendship tour. The party of Jacksonville business and professional men were in Tampa, where they were cordially welcomed, as in the other Florida places they had visited, and the speeches made there expressed hearty cooperation in the enterprise on which the visitors were embarked. That enterprise, the purpose and object of the tour, as described in very few words by Mr. H. P. Adair, president of the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce, who said:

"We come to you today, not to sell you anything, not to boost Jacksonville, or any other particular section of Florida, but to endeavor to impress upon you the tremendous results, which are possible in the development of Florida, provided we forget our sectional differences, and cooperate for the good of just Florida. We desire to achieve in Florida what California has accomplished, a Florida spirit for all Florida.

If you will read that brief paragraph again, let it "soak in," there is little need for extended comment. President Adair's words are perfectly plain, so plain although so comprehensive, that "he who runs may read." "For the good of just Florida." That was wholly and solely the purpose and object of the "friendship" tour that was handled to admirably and that was successful from start to finish. But the end is not yet. Not by any means. The seed has only been planted; the fruit will come with the months and years. It fell on fallow ground, as was evident from the receptions and everywhere were accorded the sowers. The minds and hearts of those visited had been prepared to receive that which they accepted in the spirit in which it was given. Nowhere was heard a dissenting voice. The crusade for friendship, firmly to be established by acts and deeds, was a triumph because it was in the words of the chamber of commerce president, "for the good of just Florida."

It is gratifying, indeed, to witness the unanimity of sentiment, of goodwill, that this tour aroused. It can not be otherwise than productive of good results for "Just Florida," granting that the friendship created is as sincere as were hearty the receptions accorded to those whose mission was to bind us into one all the people of Florida in order that the work of making better the state of enormous possibilities, may be done with forces combined and with but one object in view—"the good of just Florida."

No matter how much of good comes to Florida, because of the friendship tour, or by reason of any similarly commendable enterprise, that good will be shared by the world, of which Florida is a part, and in which it is designed to stand forth more and more gloriously as the years go by—friendship, united efforts aiding materially to attain the goal by all desired.—Times-Union.

WELFARE DEPARTMENT GIVES HIGH SCHOOL PRIZES

The Welfare Department of the Woman's Club presents High School students with prizes for Health Posters.

Some Sanford High School students have won more honors. Wednesday morning in chapel, Mrs. R. E. Tolar, representing the Welfare Department of the Woman's Club visited S. H. S., and after a short talk presented three prizes for the best Health Posters, made by the students of S. H. S.

The first prize, $2.50, was won by Byron Stephens, the second $1.50 by Rodman Lehman and the third $1 by Sarah Malpas. The posters were all so good that the judges had a hard time deciding which ones were the best. All of them were very effective as posters in the health campaign and have been of exhibit both at the club and in the High School.

Mrs. Tolar spoke interestingly of the relation of diet to efficiency and also of the place of art work in the school.

WEATHER AND CROP CONDITIONS IN FLORIDA FOR THE WEEK ENDING MAY 2ND, 1922

Temperature: The week averaged slightly cooler than the normal over most of the section; the nights were too cool during a portion of the time.

Precipitation: It was generally insufficient, but rain occurred very generally over northern and western divisions; drought continues, however over most of the central and southern counties where only local and widely scattered showers occurred.

Condition of Crops: The week marked the ending of a severe drought, especially in the northern and western counties, and locally over small areas in the central and southern counties; although insufficient everywhere and too late to save many crops of truck, the rain greatly benefited corn, cotton, peanuts, cane, velvet beans, tobacco, tomatoes, melons and citrus fruits. No rain of moment fell in the interior of the southern division and large areas in the central division received no rain—these districts are still in distress. Citrus fruits dropped badly, especially on high lands, and some young trees died; and corn on uplands suffered acutely—vegetables dried up. The oat crop is poor. Where rain occurred a marked change has taken place in the condition of crops. Moderate rains fell in the following counties: Madison, Dade, Broward, Pasco, Lake, Seminole, Putnam, Alachua, Clay, St. Johns, Duval, Columbia, Suwannee, Nassau, Hamilton, Gadsden, Leon, Franklin, Baker, Marion, Volusia, Hillsboro, Manatee, and Bradford. Showers were well distributed west of the Apalachicola river. The greatest rainfall reported from the various counties was: Duval and Dade, 1.00; Lee, 1.32; Alachua, 0.98; Marion, 0.67; Gadsden, 0.98; Jefferson, 1.30; Madison, 1.00; Columbia, 0.45; Taylor, 0.79 and Jackson, 0.64 inches.

WANT HARDING'S VIEWS ON NEWEST BONUS PROPOSAL

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON May 4.—The soldiers' bonus problem is to be put up to President Harding again. This was decided yesterday at a meeting of the Senate finance committee Republicans who agreed tentatively upon details of a measure embodying substantially the House bill plan of bank and Governmental loans on adjusted service certificates in lieu of the original cash bonus proposal.

Senators said they desired to get the President's views on the newest bonus proposal, "explaining that it would be a waste of time to go ahead with a measure which the President might disapprove. They added that the visit of the committee to the White House would be deferred until a complete bill could be drafted and given further consideration by them.

Full details of the new measure were withheld, but as now outlined it would contemplate no taxes and aside from adjusted service certificates it would provide for vocational training farm and home aid, and cash payments to veterans whose adjusted service pay would not exceed 50. The so-called reclamation section of the House bill has been eliminated.

President Harding will be urged to approve the measure in this form and will be told that it will improve the country's credit, the treasury during the next three years, while the present public debt refunding operations are in progress. It is the present thought of proponents that the ultimate necessary financing can be done by use of the foreign debt, thru debt, though there is a possibility that the treasury may have to issue some certificate of indebtedness to cover costs in the first year or two, unless funds from the foreign debt become available in the meantime.

SALMAGUNDI IS OUT!

High School Students Are Delighted With New Book

Sanford High School was the scene of much excitement yesterday morning when the first hundred copies of this year's Salmagundi were delivered to the pupils. Of course, this was only a beginning in filling the list of those ordered so the upper class students who had put in orders were given theirs first, and other pupils and townspeople who have paid for annuals will probably get their copies today.

The magazine is undoubtedly the best that Sanford High School has put out, and is a credit to both the senior class and the Herald printers. Inside its artistic cover which is done in the class colors of garnet and gold, are many live and interesting departments. In several instances the work is quite unique. The prize-winners' section, which is a new department, is to be particularly commended as should be the complete and careful work of the alumni editors.

Pages which will be of particular interest to all those acquainted with high school students are those giving the cartoons which show the result of the "Who's Who" voting contest. They answer such questions as "Who is the most popular boy at S. H. S.?" "Who is the prettiest girl?" etc.

The book contains more pages than last year's, several new departments, and about $100 more worth of pictures. In fact, there is an unusual number of splendid cuts and besides—the individual write-ups of each Senior and the more series articles of "Farewell," "Class Prophecy," "Class History," and so forth. There are plenty of good jokes and lots of humor throughout.

The seniors announce that their friends can get copies during the next day or two by ordering from Lillian Shinkholser or William Malcom, or at any of the various drug stores. The price is still one dollar, but the edition is limited and it will be advisable for the alumni and friends of the high school students who are interested to buy their copies at the earliest possible moment. Salmagundi will be on sale at the drug stores by this afternoon and during Friday and Saturday.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

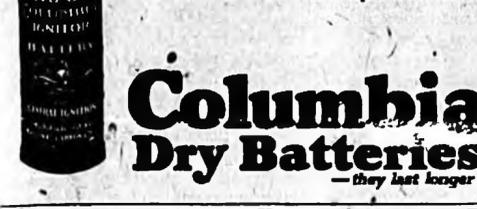

SAGE TEA AND SULPHUR TURNS GRAY, FADED HAIR DARK AND GLOSSY

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this thru your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.—Adv.

Cletrac Owners Make Money Farming

THAT'S what a farmer admitted to us last week while we were discussing the ways to reduce the cost of raising crops.
"I've known four Cletrac owners personally," he went on. "There's no doubt but what those fellows made more money even the first year they operated Cletracs than any year before. And they told me it was all due to Cletrac's sensible crawler-type construction—its ability to work on any ground no matter what its condition, and its success in handling all kinds of jobs around the farm faster, better and cheaper."

No farmer can control his selling price. But every Cletrac farmer can control his production cost.

Come in and let us tell you why Cletrac is a paying investment—why more farmers every year are swinging over to its use—taking advantage of its many time and money saving features. There's no obligation at all if you want us to demonstrate—just tell us when and where. It will pay you to investigate next time you're in town.

BRILLIANT SPEECHES
FEATURE SECOND DAY
U. D. C. CONVENTION

Yesterday was the second and perhaps the greatest day of the entire convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy which is being held in Orlando this week. The morning session was featured by a brilliant message and report from Mrs. Frank D. Tracy, state president. She told of the splendid growth of the organization during the past year, announcing the formation of three new chapters during the year in Florida, one of which is Apopka, just organized, and three chapters of the Children of the Confederacy.

Mrs. Tracy also delivered an impressive address on the work of the U. D. C. and particularly recommended the publication of a new history of the United States, "for" she said, "the present histories now used in the schools throughout the country are impregnated with incorrect propaganda." She asked for a unanimous support from the organization and its endorsement of the writing of a new history of the United States by Dr. Lyon G. Tyler, a noted educator in America. There were also numerous reports, short addresses and announcements. Reports were received from Miss Agnes Person, credentials committee, Miss Jessie Wayhope, recording secretary on rules and regulations, Mrs. Geo. R. Newell, auditing, Mrs. S. A. Morena, corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. C. Blocker, treasurer, Mrs. Julia I. Dickenson, registrar, Mrs. Emma Gayle McFadden, historian, Mrs. C. H. Davis, recorder of crosses, Mrs. B. J. Bond, registrar of C. of C. Mrs. Tracy executive committee, Mrs. F. M. Hudson, Mrs. J. D. Stringfellow, Mrs. R. S. Pierce, and Mrs. F. L. Ezell, vice-presidents.

At noon a luncheon was given at the Methodist church by the executive board, honorary and past presidents of Annie Coleman Chapter to executive board and past presidents of the state organization. The tables were beautifully appointed, baskets of lovely flowers and Confederate flags being used in decorating for this notable occasion of the convention. The place cards were hand painted with the Confederate emblem decorating each. Five courses were served. Mrs. John E. Fuller acted as banqueter and responses were made by Mrs. E. L. Bliss for the Annie Coleman Chapter, Mrs. Frank D. Tracy, representing state organization, Mrs. L. H. Lawrence, as a past president of Florida division, Mrs. J. W. Trench, representing general organization, also Mrs. McCrary of Gainesville, Mrs. Rous, division of Maryland, and Mrs. Waldron of Chicago.

In the afternoon an impressive memorial hour took place, which was presided over by Mrs. L. H. Lawrence. Rev. Dr. T. H. McConnell delivered an address appropriate for this occasion, Mrs. Martha B. Palmer sang "There is No Death," and this was followed by a reading with the same title given by Miss Mildred Baker. A huge white star was placed upon the stage in which were tenderly placed a white lily and a red flower for each of the Confederate veterans and Confederate women who have passed away during the past year. These were General N. A. Blitch, commander Florida division U. C. V., Mrs. E. L. Aveline, honorary president Florida U. D. C., and Mrs. W. N. Bowler, president N. de Howard Chapter. After the flowers had been placed in the star in memory of these departed, Mrs. F. M. Hudson sang beautifully, "No Night There." Rev. Kerr Boyce Tupper offered prayer.—Orlando Sentinel.

WHITE BRUTE GUILTY
SENTENCED TO DEATH
AT DELAND YESTERDAY

Judge Perkins sentenced Aubrey Lee Nichols to death by hanging and committed him to the county jail for safekeeping. The governor will set the date for the execution which will take place in the jail yard.

His trial yesterday at court was kept a secret until the very last minute and it was after three o'clock when he was brought by six heavily armed deputies of this county and Jacksonville from the jail to the court room. There was no semblance of violence, threats or anything of the kind to be heard. Nichols was heavily handcuffed but had a composed demeanor. He was rearraigned and changed his plea from not guilty to one of guilty and in doing so was warned by the court that his offense, that of rape, was punishable by death.

In the taking of evidence the court ruled that all minors and women leave the court room and Judge Perkins stated that he did not want anyone present who came with a morbid interest in the case. When the taking of evidence commenced the court room doors were closed and none could leave or enter. The details of the evidence were then gone into and Nichols was faced with his victim who positively identified him. His written confession was submitted also.

At the conclusion of the taking of evidence the court room doors were opened and Judge Perkins passed the following sentence on Nichols: "It is the sentence of the law and such is the judgment of the court that you, Aubrey Lee Nichols, be removed hence by the sheriff of Volusia county to the jail of said county and there to be safely kept until such time as the governor of the state of Florida may by his warrant appoint, at which time, within the enclosure of the jail of said county, you shall be hanged by the neck until you are dead, and may the Lord have mercy on your soul."—Deland News.
