RUBE ALLYN IS HELD FOR MURDER OF HIGEL CASE STIRS SARASOTA

ALLYN TAKEN TO BRADENTOWN FOR SAFE KEEPING

AWFUL TRAGEDY

ALLYN WELL KNOWN NEWS-PAPER MAN AND EDITOR OF FLORIDA FISHERMAN

SARASOTA, Jan. 7.—Rube Allyn, one of the best known newspaper men in the state, former editor of the Sarasota Sun and present editor of the Manatee County Fisherman, is lodged in the Manatee county jail at Bradentown tonight, charged with one of the most brutal murders in the criminal annals of the county, the coroner's jury investigating the death of Harry L. Higel, three-time mayor of Sarasota and one of the city's most prominent business men, having returned a verdict at 8:45 o'clock tonight charging Allyn with the crime.

Higel was found this morning about 8:30 in the road on Siesta Island by Bert Luzier and son, Merrill, in an unconscious condition, lying in a pool of blood and his head badly cut and bruised. In fact the head was so badly mutilated that Mr. Luzier, who had known Higel for years, did not recognize him. Even after the injured man had been taken to Sarasota he was not recognized for some time after the doctor had begun to dress his wounds, and it was while a search was being made of his clothing to find clues to his identity that a seal ring was discovered with the initials "H. H." on it, which led to identification.

Dr. Joseph Hutton, who gave the injured man first aid, started him to Bradentown in an automobile, where it was intended to catch the Tampa Southern train for Tampa, but after reaching Bradentown it was seen that he could not stand the trip and he was taken to the Manatee county hospital, where he died in about fifteen minutes.

Deputy Sheriff L. D. Hodges, who is also marshal of Sarasota, notified the sheriff's office of the tragedy and chief Deputy D. R. Brown was soon on the scene, and he and Deputy Hodges began an investigation. It was at first thought that the tragedy was the result of an automobile accident, but the nature of the wounds made this clue untenable. It was then thought that possibly the crime had been committed by one of Mr. Higel's negro laborers, with whom he had had trouble the day before, and that the wounds had been inflicted with an iron shovel, as Mr. Higel has a force of workmen busy on his Siesta property digging shell to be used in a large building being erected in Sarasota.

Upon investigation, however, Deputies Hodges and Brown found tracks leading from the direction of Mr. Allyn's home toward the scene of the tragedy, and on the other side of the road tracks of the same size returning toward the Allyn home. They went to the Allyn home and called Mr. Allyn out to ask him about the tragedy. He stated that he had heard nothing of it. After still further examination and questions of campers whose tents are located near the scene of the tragedy the deputies returned to the Allyn home and placed Mr. Allyn under arrest.

At no time has Allyn seemed nervous, and he has made no statement in regard to the tragedy further than to remark to the deputy sheriffs who took him to Bradentown:

"This is a bad day for me."

Evidence before the coroner's jury brought out the fact that the campers on the key near the scene of the tragedy had seen a man in the woods early this morning who they took to be an Indian, from his long black hair and his tall, angular physique, and that this man seemed to have some object in his hand about two and two and one-half feet long. A piece of two-inch iron pipe about this long was found within about thirty feet of where the body was discovered, with blood on it. It was also brought out in the evidence before the jury that one of Allyn's shoes was bloodstained. It is also known that Allyn arrived in the city last night and was carried as far as the turn to the Siesta bridge in an automobile by parties going out the Osprey road, and that he com-

NEW ASSOCIATION TO BE FORMED BY LEAGUE NATIONS

LEAGUE COUNCIL MAY SEND ENVOYS TO CONFER WITH HARDING

PARIS, Jan. 8.—Individual members of the Council of the League of Nations have been talking informally among themselves on the advisability of sending a special intermediary or envoy to Mr. Harding immediately after his inauguration as president of the United States, to present the case of the league of nations and to urge upon him the difficulties which European countries would experience in abandoning the present league, and setting up a new form of association of nations.

The principal grounds for this contention are that the league covenant is a part of the peace treaty which gives the league administration over the Saar valley, the Danzig region, and a number of mandates and plebiscites. The view is held among members of the French ministry that the solidity of the treaty itself would be shaken if the league part of it were abandoned.

This has led to a growing conviction among the principal allied powers, that the league should be kept going in some form, but not necessarily as now constituted, the advisability of revision of the covenant being quite generally recognized. It is considered here that an understanding on the future from of the league could be more readily reached if a representative of the league council were able to discuss the subject directly with Mr. Harding when he becomes president.

Confidence is expressed here that if direct discussion eliminated from the covenant all that is objectionable to the United States, the president-elect would not insist on the abandonment of the organization already in work, which is held to be bound up with so many important European interests.

Production and marketing go hand in hand. It is only within recent years that the framers of this country have awakened to the fact that marketing is relatively as important as production. Hitherto yield per acre has been accepted as the criterion of success. Henceforth the quality and quantity, in combination with the sale of what is produced, at a reasonable profit, must be considered.

A meat packing house has been established at Live Oak. The charges vary from 3 cents for ordinary salt cure up to 8 cents for the whole sugar-curing process, per pound. This will enable the live stock growers of Suwanee county to have their meat cured, smoked and wrapped.

TWO FLIERS DIE AT CARLSTROM

LIEUT. BRANDI AND CADET POOLE ARE KILLED IN PLANE CRASH

ARCADIA, Jan. 7.—Lieut. Raymond Brandi, of Grand Rapids, and Cadet A. C. Poole, of Richmond Center, Wis., were instantly killed at Carlstrom field here Thursday morning when the machine, a De Havilland plane in which they were doing stunt flying, crashed to the ground and burned. Lieut. Brandi had been in service for considerable time. The cause of the accident is unknown.

Lieut. Brandi, together with Lieutenants McClellan and MacDonald participated in the dedication ceremonies last Sunday. Lieut. Brandi started officers and men at the post Thursday when, at an altitude of 2,000 feet he looped the loop several times, and find that the strain didn't affect the plane, he then proceeded to do a barrel roll, which was successfully executed. Two tail-spins were also tried by Lieut. Brandi, who had very little trouble in regaining control of the plane. He had the reputation of being a very daring flier.

TEST CASE BEING MADE TO READJUST INCOME TAX

PROTEST PAYMENT MOST IMPORTANT LEGAL CASE FROM GOVERNMENT VIEW IN YEARS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Arguments were begun today in the supreme court in the "Invested Capital Case," characterized by Solicitor General Frierson as "The most important legal suit from the standpoint of governmental finances in a decade."

Whether the government will be forced to return hundreds of millions of dollars paid as income taxes depends on the outcome. The immediate cause at issue before the court is the appeal of the Labelle Iron Works from a ruling of the bureau of internal revenue refusing to allow it to treat as invested capital the value of ore lands which it had purchased in 1904 for $190,000 and which by 1917 had increased to $10,000,000. The government agents maintained that the increase in reality was "profit" and should be taxed as such. The company added the increase to its capital invested and claimed the normal deduction of 7 per cent, paying under protest the additional tax of $1,081,000.

The question of whether a stock dividend is taxable arose in a new form in the present case, the increased value of the ore lands having been represented on the books of the corporation, according to the government's brief, since 1912 by "stock issued as a stock dividend." The wide interest displayed in the case in the business world was illustrated by the number of requests for permission to appear as "friends of the court." Those granted permission to file briefs included the Long-Bell Lumber Co., of Kansas City; the National Lumber Manufacturers Association, and the Kansas City Structural Steel Co. Increased value of the ore lands is comparable to increase which occurs in the value of a herd of cattle, which when purchased included a number of calves, the appellant argued.

"Profits was defined to the court as the actual net amount of gain made by a business between any two dates. "The appellant's theory is that the capital invested in its ore lands is not what it paid for them, but is to be measured by the present value of the lands," Mr. Frierson said, but the government contends on the other hand, that the act clearly defines the "invested capital" as the amount received in exchange for its shares of stock plus any 'paid in' or earned surplus used in the business."

BOARD OF TRADE BUILDING HOMES

TAVARES, Jan. 7.—The foundation for the first bungalow to be built through the building fund of the board of trade was laid this morning by Contractor Osborn and will be rushed to completion within a month. As soon as a scale is consummated other houses will be built, the idea being to perpetuate the original money in new homes. The first house will be sold for $2700, being the cost price plus 10 per cent and inasmuch as the superintendency and detail work and plans are in the hands of a committee of experts in their lines without cost, the price is far below that a layman could erect the house.

The United States imported from foreign countries during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1920, the following: Cotton, 345,314,126 pounds; corn, 10,229,244 bushels; wheat, 4,744,712 bushels; wool, 427,578,038 lbs.; beef and veal, 42,436,333 pounds; mutton and lamb, 10,358,299 pounds; cattle 575,328 head; sheep, 199,328 head; cowhides 439,461,092 pounds; calf hides, 83,359,825 pounds; sheep and other hides 290,748,350 pounds; and vegetable oils, including cottonseed, peanut, coconut, soybeans, etc., over 550,000,000 pounds. Vast quantities of other products were also imported.

FIRST 'PAPER PIPE'

Cigarette Can Be Traced to the Siege of Acre.

Turkish Artilleryman the First to Make Use of Tobacco in That Particular Form.

Although many efforts have been made to show that the use of tobacco was known to the ancient Greeks and Egyptians, they have never been successful. We can accept therefore that general belief that tobacco was first used by the aborigines and that Columbus was the first white man to chronicle its use. The Indians used the weed in a pipe and when the narcotic was introduced throughout Europe and Asia it was for centuries used either in pipes of fantastic design or in the rolls known as cigars. The Venetians are credited with getting the Turks to use tobacco, for the weed was cultivated in Italy. Bales of the seed of the nicotine plant found their way into Turkey and soon the Turkish tobacco industry was established.

This brings us to Mehemet Ali, underpaid worker in the tobacco fields of Kavalla, afterward a leader of the Turkish armies, who left the hoe for the sword and the scepter—and the cigarette. With the bold bashi-basouks Mehemet eventually became a pasha. His son Ibrahim was sent to the siege of Acre, the great Syrian stronghold. The chief of artillery, a Frenchman, at this siege early in the Nineteenth century, had invented a powder spill, a kind of paper lamp lighter filled with explosive grains, which was thrust into the touch holes of cannon, in place of the old-fashioned and wasteful powder train which was laid on the piece and led into the hole. These spills were made of light and tough India or rice paper. Ibrahim Pasha was so pleased by the way the siege was conducted that he sent to the artillerymen some very fine Kavalla tobacco. This they mixed with the Syrian plant and greatly enjoyed as they smoked the mixture from a narghile or water pipe supplied with a number of mouthpieces which sufficed for an entire squad when off duty.

One evening as a crew was about to go on duty a shot from a Turkish fort smashed the beloved narghile to smithereens. The artillerymen could not leave the battery and they knew not where to get another narghile. A resourceful corporal rolling powder spills was struck with an inspiration. He made a number of spills in which he substituted grains of tobacco for gunpowder and then in a bantering fashion presented these little cylinders to soldiers off duty. He then put one of the spills to his mouth, saying that as long as he could not smoke any more he was going to blow off his head. When the match was applied there came forth instead of a slight explosion a wreath of incense, and thus was born the cigarette.

Old Ibrahim was amused when he heard how much spill paper was being used, and said, as he pointed to a strategic place in the walls of Acre: "Make a breach there and you shall have all the paper and tobacco that you need." The deed was done in two days.

This new style of smoking tobacco in paper rolls gained in favor as Mehemet Ali asserted his sway over Egypt and from Cairo it spread to the European capitals through the diplomatic services of the various nations.

In Russia the cigarette grew in popular favor and in the early '40s cigarettes were sold in that nation which were partly Turkish and partly made of a light tobacco grown in the United States.

Farmers in Dade county are looking forward to the school to be held here by specialists from the Agricultural College late in December.

Never judge a man by the silk umbrella he carries—he may have left a cotton one somewhere in its place.

JOHNNY JONES

FOLKS HAD DANCE AT THE CITY HALL

The Johnny Jones Show folks gave a dance last night at the City Hall for the Midgets who are leaving today for France and also for the Twins who are general favorites among the show people. The Jones band furnished the music and anyone who has heard the band and orchestra knows that they play some jazzy stuff. All the folks were there after the show closed and they appeared in their best bib and tucker and it is safe to assert that there were as many dress suits and diamonds and glad rags as one could find anywhere. In fact it was just a big old time that the show folks pull every week or so for their own fun and amusement.

And when it came to dancing the Twins and the Midgets were there. The Midgets are Prince Denison, Princess Marguerita, Duchess Leona and Baroness Simona and they talked and danced and had the time of their young lives and all the show people made much over them. Sandy Baldwin, who is on the Twins' show, gave some of his inimitable recitations and there was some fancy dancing and the evening was spent most pleasantly with the whole bunch enjoying it to the fullest. Even the soda water man was there and furnished soft drinks for the crowd and Johnny Jones himself was present to enjoy the festivities. Every one of the big Jones' family from the smallest to the largest took in the big dance and the only regret was that a larger space for dancing could not be procured in order that Ed. R. Salter, the publicity man, could show them how to do the very latest dances.

They are a big happy family traveling all over the world and collected from every nook and corner of the world and like other people they have their big gatherings together, they have joys and sorrows, hard times and good times and they are a likeable lot who give and take and whose friendships last as long as life itself. They have enjoyed the week in Sanford and Sanford has enjoyed having them here and with the boys and girls of the Jones Shows we will bid the Midgets "bon voyage" and "au revoir."

Flying Squirrels.
Along in April, if you are walking through a heavy piece of woods and you tap tentatively upon the trunk of a hollow tree because you see a promising looking hole higher up, then, once out of about 802 lines you will see one or more curious little heads peering down at you. You will have found a family of flying squirrels, says a writer in the Christian Science Monitor.

You will be apt to notice that the little rascals above have unusually large eyes and you will perhaps be surprised at the number of inhabitants which will continue to emerge from that hole upon continued tapping (sometimes there will be eight or nine); but particularly you will be delighted by the wonderful lightness and gracefulness of the jumping flights they will make to the nearby tree trunks. Of course they land at a lower level than the spot from which they jump, yet by repeating the process they are in no time distributed to the four compass points and out of your range of observation. If, however, the young are very small they may be caught and you can examine their silky fur and the little sails which they spread with their feet when they volve.

NO MORE "PLEASURE DRIVING"

Detroit Man Has Eliminated Sunday Afternoon Outings With the Old Gasoline-Driven Boat.

What has become of that old-fashioned institution known as pleasure driving? Sunday, being a beautiful day, we decided upon a pleasure drive into the country. So did everybody else in the world. The out-going trip was not altogether unpleasant, but when the migratory birds began to wing homeward the road began to suffer hardening of the main arteries.

We elected to come in by way of Farmington in order to miss the traffic on Woodward avenue. We missed the Woodward avenue traffic all right, but what we ran into on Grand River avenue made us long for the old jam we were familiar with.

At Redford we ran into the deluge. From then on we were able by sharp driving and careful maneuvering to make at least 80 feet every two minutes. The old left arm was kept busy operating the stop signal. Every few minutes there came the sound of breaking glass and twisting fender. Somebody just ahead or behind had miscalculated the distance and had given up his headlights and his windshield in consequence.

Occasionally an impatient driver would break out of the line, to be followed by several others, and endeavor to gain time and distance by traveling the wrong side of the road. This resulted in a perfect a tump of travel as it is possible to obtain on one ordinary road. It stopped traffic in both directions.

Then came a slight break. We could see the cars ahead moving forward, but the man just in front of us had dozed off momentarily. When he discovered the line in action he slipped in his clutch and stalled his motor. Having to get out of a car and crank the old engine in the presence of 10,000 irate motorists is not a predicament to delight the soul. Nor does it particularly delight the folks behind who are obliged to wait for him to do the trick. Peace-loving as we are, we said a few harsh things to ourself about that gentleman. At the end of an hour we had almost made the city limits, and when finally we did get home it was a frayed and nerve-racked body that stowed away the bus in the garage. As we staggered into the house we made the public announcement that from the list of outdoor sports we had definitely eliminated pleasure driving.—Detroit Free Press.

Tribe Without Belief In Gods.

Although it has been frequently stated that all mankind has some sort of god to worship, and believes in some sort of after-life, a writer in the Forum, recently returned from long explorations in Africa, reports this to be a mistake. He met many tribes in Mid-Africa that not only had no comprehension of a soul apart from the body, but never dreamed of life after death, and had no god of any sort. The nearest thing to it was a belief in the bull, a human armed withmonds or medicine. He says:—"Among all the rites and ceremonies of these pagan tribes, as they are called, there is nothing that verges upon worship, homage or devotion in the religious sense of those terms; nor is there any implement, symbol or accessory that is alleged to be or supposed to be divine or holy. The crude, wooden effigies seen in any village, and often used in the ceremonies are not idols, as they are so often supposed to be, and there is no sentiment of reverence or sanctity whatever felt or manifested toward them. They are simply images of Bull used as repositories of the gods or 'medicine' used by him in certain ceremonies."

No Mother to Guide Her.

She was about eight years old. Some admiring woman had exclaimed: "What a beautiful voice she has for such a young girl!" and some other admiring woman had agreed. The child believed them, of course, and consequently was very anxious to sing on any and all occasions. She began to delight in using musical terms which she learned from her mother. She never shouted, because it would hurt her vocal cords. She was very careful to wrap herself up well, because she had a delicate throat which had to be carefully guarded from drafts. She displayed an amazing comprehension of the artistic temperament. Her mother usually played her accompaniments, but on this particular day she had to be absent, and she asked Miss Agnes to play for her daughter. Miss Agnes consented. The rehearsal began propitiously and continued encouragingly for almost a minute. Then the small and imperious singer stamped her foot and cried: "Stop, Miss Agnes! Didn't you see that 'hold'?" We'll do that over, so I can get a full, round tone!"—Indianapolis News.

Made the Impression.

When I was in high school two of my friends and I were visiting at the home of another girl for a few days. This girl's brother was a university student, and was spending his vacation at home. He was a big fellow, about six feet tall, good looking, and we wanted to make a good impression on him.

One afternoon we went into his room and I dressed up in his best clothes, not knowing he was anywhere around the house. I had just got all dolled up when in he walked, not knowing we were there. It amused the rest of the girls half to death, but as long as I live I'll never forget the mortification I felt at that moment.—Exchange.

World Using More Coconut Fat.

For many years past the world's production of animal fats has been steadily diminishing. Lack of such fats spelled famine in Europe during the war, when great quantities of them were withdrawn from human use to make glycerin for high explosives. Even now, and in this country, there is an insufficiency of animal fats (as indicated by the price of butter), and to make good the shortage coconut oil is being imported in enormous quantities. During the last year 845,737,018 pounds of this oil were brought into the United States.

The oil is largely used as a cooking fat, but also in the manufacture of nut butter, candles, soap and cosmetics. It is said to be an excellent substitute for cod liver oil, being highly digestible and with the advantage of an agreeable flavor. At ordinary temperatures coconut oil is a white, butter-like solid.

The raw "meats" are dried in the sun before shipment from the tropical countries where coconuts are grown. In this shape the material is called copra. The oil is extracted by powerful hydraulic presses, the yield being 65 to 70 per cent of the weight of the copra.

There's a good old farmer selling oranges here in Sanford who has been in this county for many years, having settled in 1874. He said that the oranges in his wagon were from the first seeds that he had planted, for he had kept every seed to use. His name is John M. Lord, one of the first settlers in this region.

Debts That Need No Payment.

English law does not recognize gambling or betting debts, as a general rule, although there have been exceptions. More peculiar is the fact that a barrister cannot sue for his fee. Most other countries have the same practice with regard to gambling debts as ourselves. Venezuela is one of the very few states in which such debts are collectable by law. In Holland you cannot sue for a bet made upon cards, but you can for one on a horse race or any similar outdoor sport. In Sweden a physician cannot sue for his fee, while in Belgium a solicitor is in a similar position. By Chinese law, not only the doctor, but also the priest, the fortune-teller and clairvoyant are without legal remedy. All these debts are, however, looked upon as "debts of honor," and payment is rarely evaded. The same sort of idea with regard to debts of honor holds good everywhere else, and absurd as it seems, a man who fails to pay a gambling bet of $50 is in a far worse position socially than another who goes through the bankruptcy court. France's way of treating bankruptcy differs from ours. There a bankrupt is deprived of all rights of citizenship, which are not restored to him until he has paid his debts in full.—Montreal Family Herald

SOCIAL CALENDAR FOR THE WEEK

Saturday
Cecilian Music Club at 9:00 o'clock in the Studio of Mrs. Fannie S. Munson.

Monday

Miss Agnes Edwards, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Whittier, left last evening for Washington. Miss Edwards, who was one of the most popular teachers Sanford has had, has been in the Red Cross service for the past two years and goes to Washington to take further training in that work.

TEA FOR FEDERATION OFFICERS

Monday, Mrs. E. M. Galloway is to have as her guests, Mrs. W. S. Jennings of Jacksonville, first vice-president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, and Mrs. M. J. Stanley of Daytona, who is the auditor of the State Federation.

At noon Mrs. Galloway will have a luncheon inviting Mrs. W. F. Blackman and Mrs. A. B. Whitman of Orlando, who with Mrs. Galloway will make five state officers. Mrs. W. L. Morgan, president of the local club, is also invited.

In the afternoon, from 3:00 to 4:00, at her home on Cameron avenue, Mrs. Galloway invites every member of the Women's Club of Sanford to tea, to meet her guests.

SPENDTHRIFT CLUB

The Spendthrift Bridge Club met with Mrs. A. B. Wallace Friday afternoon at her home on West Third street.

The rooms were attractively decorated in roses and poinsettias.

The prize for high score, playing cards, was won by Mrs. F. E. Roumillat.

There were two tables, members of the club and two substitutes, Mrs. O. P. Herndon and Mrs. David Caldwell. After the game a dainty salad course was served.

T. N. T.

The T. N. T. met with Mrs. F. S. Daeger Friday afternoon.

A most pleasant afternoon was spent in sewing. All the members but two were present and extra guests were: Mrs. J. L. Hart, Mrs. Emmet Hunt and Mrs. A. W. Lee.

SIMPSON-ALLEN

The marriage of Miss Helen Dorothy Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Allen, of this city, and Ernest Simpson, of North Carolina, was solemnized Sunday, January 2nd, 1921, at the home of the bride, 619 Laurel Ave.

Dr. George Hyman, pastor of the First Baptist church performed the nuptial ceremony which was witnessed only by relatives of the contracting parties.

The living room of the residence, where the ceremony took place was simply but artistically decorated with a profusion of greenery.

The bride, a petite brunette, was very lovely in a gown of satin, she is a charming young woman and has a host of friends, who will wish her every happiness in her married life.

Mr. Simpson is connected with the cash store here and also has a wide circle of friends who will extend congratulations.

The wedding was the culmination of a pretty romance which started several years ago when the bride was visiting her sister in Virginia where she met Mr. Simpson.

Mr. and Mrs. Simpson will be at home to their many friends on Sanford Heights.

TWO BIG ATTRACTIONS—BAPTIST TEMPLE SUNDAY

The 808 seats at the Baptist Temple will likely be occupied at both services on tomorrow. The auditorium will be open at 10:30 in the morning and 7:00 in the evening. They begin at 11:50 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Dr. J. Franklin Ray of Japan will speak at both hours.

Miss Sara Mardie, noted pianist of Atlanta, will play three selections at each service.

Baptism in the evening.

BASKETBALL

There is much good athletic work being done at the Parish House and some activity is on every day. The High School basketball team held practice there yesterday and the manager, C. Henderson, has made arrangements to have a game with the Umatilla High School on January 14, at 8 p. m. It will be a double-header, the girls playing the first game. The coaches, Prof. Ogilvie and Coach Bache, have tried hard to equip the teams for better work. John Musson, the captain, plays forward.

ANOTHER CORLOAD OF LEXINGTONS

The B. & O. Garage have an advertisement in this issue calling attention to the fact that they have just received another carload of Lexington cars and they are now showing them to the many delighted prospective car owners. The B. & O. Garage is waking them up and selling cars right and left. See their new line and ask for a demonstration.

MILLIGAN LIKES SANFORD

George H. Milligan, who has been coming to Sanford for many years, thinks there is no place quite as good in the world for growing of crops, for all the year round climate, for transportation and everything. Mr. Milligan represents Golden & Co., well-known commission merchants of Washington, and he has done much for the growers of Florida in assisting them to get better freight rates and better service.

CHARLEY GANO HERE

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Charley Gano will be glad to see them in the city again with Coburn's Minstrels. Charley Gano is the prime favorite with the fun lovers and those who like real old-time minstrelsy and Charley is the boy that puts over the laughs every time. It was rumored here that Charley was out of the business on account of high blood pressure but it was learned afterward that it was only a case of eating too much turnip greens and white pork bacon. However, Charley is here and the boys in the peanut gallery are all cocked and primed to give him a warm welcome as well as the grown folks who know that seeing Coburn's Minstrels means a good laugh every minute.

Our lady friend says she dislikes the dictionary because it spells words so different from what she does.

SUNDAY AT THE CHURCHES

REMAINS OF CARL MALM, SANFORD SOLDIER, ARRIVE AT HOBOKEN

Mrs. Hamel Tolar of this city has received a wire from the military authorities at Hoboken that the remains of her brother, Carl Malm, have arrived from France and are awaiting her decision as to whether to ship here or bury them in Arlington cemetery. Mr. Tolar would send the remains to Sanford for burial and as soon as it can be ascertained just when the remains can be shipped from Hoboken arrangements will be made here for the funeral.

Carl Malm was a Sanford boy and made his home here before enlisting in the defense of his country. He was in the Field Artillery and was sent to France, where he contracted the influenza and died in a hospital in France just one week after the armistice was signed.

A GOOD SUGGESTION

John Meisch, at the board of governor's meeting of the Chamber of Commerce the other evening made a valuable suggestion on the entertainment of the National Editorial Association that will be here in March. John suggested that a committee, preferably of the ladies, have a stand some where on the lake front or street and when the 500 editors come by in their automobiles that a sandwich and a stalk of celery be handed to them. This would be a great advertisement for the city and the country and would be something that the hungry visitors would appreciate.

CITY MANAGER OF TAMPA HIRED

A. W. D. Hall, of Jackson, Mich., city manager of that town for the past four years and assistant manager there from the inception of commission-manager form of government in the Michigan city until he took over the managership, has accepted the post of city manager of Tampa, and will take charge of that office early in February. His salary will be $8,000 a year.

Mr. Hall is the choice of the Tampa city commission after a search for an experienced man covering many states and cities. His record as city manager of Jackson has been such that it appealed to the commissioners, and they invited him here for a conference. He arrived Thursday night and spent yesterday going over the city with Commissioner-Mayor Charles H. Brown and other members of the city commission, and in meeting prominent citizens. He was much impressed with the city and its climate and decided to accept the post tendered him.—Tampa Tribune.

FOREIGN HENS "SCABBING" ON FOWLS IN U. S.

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—The first shipment of eggs received in Chicago from Australia, where the hens operate under opposite weather conditions than those obtaining now in Northern United States, was placed on sale here today.

Members of the local butter and egg firm said they found they could sell the eggs slightly cheaper than local receipts and a test had shown only six spoiled eggs in 150 dozens and not one was broken by the long journey. One of the firm, R. L. Elston, said he would endeavor to secure other shipments of the Australian eggs until the hens in this section got back on the job.

Florida farmers should send to the United States department of agriculture, Washington, D. C., for Farmers' Bulletin No. 1153, entitled "Cowpeas: Utilization." Few crops, it says, can be utilized in as great a variety of ways. It is an easily grown crop and suitable for human food, seed, stock feed, pasture, hay and soil building. It is peculiarly adapted to the South.

COPY OF A LETTER FROM SALES MANAGER W. A. RYAN

Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 29, 1920.

All Ford Dealers:

Several inquiries have recently come to us concerning the likelihood of another reduction in the price of our cars, and as these inquiries no doubt emanate from prospective purchasers, we want to state again with greater emphasis that Ford cars are already being sold at a figure actually below cost and for an indefinite period another reduction or change in design is entirely out of the question and not at all contemplated.

We believe the public will be fair enough to fully appreciate the frankness of the above when they consider the extent of our recent price cut which was in fact the equivalent of several reductions in one, in our desire to contribute toward satisfying their demands for lower living costs notwithstanding our sacrifice in marketing our cars at a loss until we are able to materially reduce present costs through lower material prices and greater manufacturing efficiency. While we have of course, made some progress in bringing down operating costs, we still have a long way to go before any thought can be given to further reductions in present car prices, so we have no hesitancy in making these open statements to acquaint you with the true situation.

You can therefore give assurance to prospective purchasers of Ford cars that now is their real opportunity to buy below cost and obtain delivery. Everyone is familiar with the heavy demand for Ford cars in the Spring and this year will be no exception, as in spite of conditions, business is already rapidly accumulating, so that many who desire Ford cars will be obliged to wait perhaps until mid-summer for delivery causing considerable inconvenience and possibly financial loss, particularly to commercial customers.

We expect you to protect the interests of prospective buyers in your community by placing these facts before them.

Yours truly,
FORD MOTOR COMPANY,
(Signed) W. A. RYAN,
Manager of Sales.

THAT HAPPY DAY COBURNS' MINSTRELS, THE ATTRACTION OF THE SEASON

First Lover's Kiss Lingers Always in the Memory.

"New Hopes May Bloom and Days May Come, But That Sweetness Never Fades."

It was before your voice and your nerve had developed sufficiently to permit you to ask Dorothy Doremus if you could take her to church prayer meeting nights, says a writer in the Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

It was after you had foresworn your small-boy scorn of all woman-kind under forty to the extent of permitting Dorothy to walk home with you when meeting was over.

And then one night the Lewis girls gave a party and you were invited. Dorothy was there, and she had on something pink. It was—well, it was like the gauze that lingered about the new-born Aphrodite, though, of course, considerably opaquer.

Right there, God or Satan, or maybe the old Adam that lies deep in each of us, whispered in your ear a most universe-awakening suggestion.

"Kiss her," something said. "Kiss her on the way home."

Right there, with your eyes on the slender figure in pink, you swore you would.

Your heart hammered in your throat when you asked if you could see her home, and she said you could, with a smile that made it skip four beats entirely.

You didn't talk much as you walked through the scented night together, clamorous with insects singing in the starlight. Your mouth was dry and once or twice you thought she was watching you out of the corners of her eyes and smiling.

Oh, Eve!

At last you stood at her gate. What made you stand there, too, waiting while you stammered inane things and shuffled your feet and wondered if she couldn't hear the pounding of your heart!

"Well," you said at last, sort of gruffly. "Guess I'll bid 'er goodnight." "Goodnight," she said, but she didn't move.

You took her hand. There never was a braver deed.

Then madness and a tidal wave of enormous force and power overwhelmed you. Your face was on fire and your hands were freezing, and some one had hit you in the back of the head with a baseball bat and the stars in their courses were singing together.

You had kissed her and the little boy who had been was gone forever.

Where is she now? you wonder sometimes. And does she know that so 'one has ever paid her a cleaner, fresher, purer tribute than did that little boy, long ago in the starlight? To this day you can smell the fragrance of her hair.

TWO WRONGS CANNOT MAKE A RIGHT

Add Pat Me Right if I am Wrong. Sanford's "street-paving and sidewalk" liens, including all attached costs and expenses, failing to make good within time limitations became unenforceable by law and therefore are a dead letter, any later so-called lien and now in so-called force is wholly inoperative and only usable as a scare head to shadow title.

As justice and fair play are here involved, why harass with expense and overtaxed people? Let the city attorney make a test case if he pleases and put this nagging dispute at rest.

C. H. LEFFLER.

J. A. Coburn's Minstrels who will be at the Princess tonight (Saturday) with Charley Gano and an excellent corps of funny fellows, singers, dancers, yodlers, and top notch minstrel vaudeville and headline acts. Everything is bright and new from the parade uniforms and concert band to the last act in the big show with special scenery and costuming for every number. No expense has been spared to make it all that's best in Minstrelsy. Carl Cameron's "Saxoland" an exceptionally clever quintette of musicians and dancers, Frank Clarke Banjoist and comedian, Turner Brothers, novelty acrobatic dancers and gymnasts, Eddie Horan America's premier dancer with clever legmanians behind him. Edward C. Clifford minstrelsy's foremost baritone with Cleon Coffin, Joe McAnson, Homer Featheringill phenomenal Basso and other singers in a splendid singing act, Chas. Holst the yodler, Denton Male soprano in entire change of act and elaborate wardrobe, are only a few of the offerings signed with this favorite organization. It is said to be the biggest and best company Manager Coburn has presented in twenty-two years of continuous success. Seats on sale at Bower & Roumillat's.

JOE COBURN QUILTS BLOWING

Joe Coburn, of Coburn Minstrels, was recognized for years as one of the best directors and cornetists in minstrelsy, likewise a good performer, and could still appear creditably with the big show daily. Friends and patrons have repeatedly expressed regret that he no longer does so. In answer he says: "I appreciate such friendly interest but it's a wise man who knows when to quit in many things. I have repeatedly listened to the efforts of better men and performers who continued to inflict themselves on the public because they could or because they thought they were good. I decided to quit while my friends said I was good, rather than that I used to be." For twenty-two years Coburn's Minstrels have been growing into public favor with clean, enjoyable performances, a new show every season and are welcome visitors. Gentlemanly artists, good music, fine singing, vaudeville novelties and dancing, and a rigid veto on objectionable features has made them worth while as representative American minstrels. They will appear at the Princess tonight.

The Greek currant crop for 1920 is 32 per cent less than normal, the estimate being 95,000 tons, compared with 140,000 tons in 1919. America buys more currants than any other country.

FORTY FUNNY FELLOWS

Who does not love a good, clean, enjoyable minstrel show? The big brass band with its sprightly snappy parade? The bright costumes, scenery and raggy, jazzy, dancing coons, splendid singing and good music? The jokes, novelties and character sketches of this old and strictly American line of entertainment. The oldtime darky and pickaninny fun, the modern spectacular ensembles and features. Old favorites had new voices, faces and personalities. Whether old or new it will never die and is always welcome. Among them all Joe Coburn's Minstrels has established themselves as clean, classy, clever entertainers irrespective of numbers who always keep faith with the public. This season's show is said to be the biggest and best and no expense has been spared to produce an all new company and top-notch attraction. They are here and will appear at the Princess tonight. Seats on sale at Bower & Roumillat's.

Back to Primitive Times. Shortage of paper, during the war and since, started the custom of chalking advertisements and announcements of events on walls and pavements, the Manchester (Eng.) Guardian asserts. The practice is increasing and promises to become permanent. Printers must be suffering in consequence—people will not go to the expense of ordering posters if they think a piece of chalk and a convenient wall or signpost will do as well.

During the recent municipal elections in this city some candidates appeared to be dispensing with posters. In one instance it was announced in big letters in blue pencil on the walls of a drinking place that a candidate would address a certain club there. Members were cordially invited to be present, and there followed the arresting announcement, also in blue pencil, "Drinks free!"

But of course it is by no means certain that this last information came from the writer of the earlier part of the announcement.

For Quillies People Only. Arthur B. Reeves in the World's Work: "Quite the climax of the many wildcat schemes of London speculators a generation ago was the organization of a company such as may never be heard of again in this comic folly. Bear in mind that the officers of this new corporation were stormed by would-be investors, that a miniature riot took place on the morning in question. Remember that for a subscription to a £100 share a deposit of £2 was required, and that the entire issue of stock was subscribed for. Then note the project as announced by the promoter, a calm and cool gentleman whose name and person alike escaped the authorities—A company for carrying on an undertaking of great advantage, but no one to know what it is."

Zinc in the Human Body. In his researches at the Pasteur Institute in Paris Prof. Delesense has discovered, according to the Scientific American Monthly, that zinc is an essential and permanent constituent of the human body. The metal exists in all organs, although in rather small percentage, about 0.0001 by weight. The weight is variable, the highest proportion being found in the nervous centers; for example, in the brain or the thymus. When it is remembered that the chemical operations of nutrition are also connected with the transformation of the nucleic acids, it seems probable that zinc is one of the most necessary agents in the growth of the body.

Possesses every essential feature of larger, heavier and more costly typewriters. Three unit machine: base, carriage and action. Many troublesome parts eliminated. The machine for both office and home. Does the work of any typewriter regardless of cost.

For foreign languages, especially equipped with from one to five dead keys—does not interfere with standard keyboard.

MOLLE

WHERE PRICE AND QUALITY MEET

And that must determine your choice of a typewriter. You have no place for the cheaply constructed machine nor will economy permit the outlay of an extravagant sum. Good business sense finds the solution in the MOLLE. The MOLLE incorporates every essential feature you find in any machine at any price. Yet it is unusually simple, both in construction and operation. Built in three units—base, carriage and action—many extra parts are eliminated. This means a saving in repairs and a bigger saving by keeping it on the job. The MOLLE lightest of touch, speediest of action, will do anything that a writing machine is called upon to do with the least amount of noise and effort.

Nice weather for crops.
Lettuce is picking up and will be all right yet.

The world seems to be going mad. Reports every day from neighboring cities about killings and crimes of all sorts.

Not even office safes seem to be safe and it is a safe bet that locks and bolts will soon be at a premium. It behooves every one to be more vigilant.

We regret to hear that Rube Allyn, our old friend, is in trouble at Sarasota charged with killing a man. But sometimes even newspaper men commit murder and most of them are tempted to commit it every day.

The Chamber of Commerce has taken a running start and every red blooded citizen should get behind it and make things hum here this spring and summer. There is much work to do and it will take the united efforts of the Chamber of Commerce with a membership of at least two hundred and fifty members to put it over.

The new people are coming to Florida these days and Sanford hotels and apartment houses and homes are filling up rapidly. Now is the time to make hay while the sun shines and we should all be up and doing in the grand little game of boosting our home town and making it attractive for the visitors.

We note that where the circus camped a few weeks ago on the lake-front the grass is growing green and pretty. This would give one the idea that a little fertilizer and a little grass seed would work wonders down there and if that land is ever grown up with grass it will be one of the prettiest sights in this or any other state.

Congressman Sears is explaining to his constituents that he really did something for them and the Congressional Record proves it. Men are known by their works, Joe, and need no explanations. Also he who explains is lost. Also why explain anything until it is time for another election. We are all tired out with political thunder.

The Chamber of Commerce will hold their regular monthly banquet soon and it should be the real getting together of the boosters who intend to make Sanford great. There will be one or two good speakers from other cities and something good to eat and it should be the outpouring of good fellowship and that get together spirit that Sanford needs so badly. These banquets may seem trivial but they mean more than the average person can compute. We do not get together enough to discuss our affairs and make plans for the future.

Spring is coming with all that this section holds dear for spring comes early in Florida. There will be several cold snaps before the winter is over but spring is on the way. It behooves our town to get ready for a big time for the tourists before they go back home and the Chautauqua should be the nucleus for a week's entertainment here of the kind that will make a lasting impression on the minds of the visitors. If we could have our Rod and Gun Club started, our big tourist hotel started, our new buildings and enterprises of all kinds started before our visitors go they would have a better impression and idea of the possibilities of Sanford. Let's go.

Governor Catts seems to be making a plaything of the State Road Department. In October he "suspended" three members of this body and appointed three others to take their places. Following this action, he suspended Mr. Scott, of Arcadia, who died a few days after the suspension, and Catts reinstated Scott after his death. Catts now removed the one remaining member of the original board—J. D. Smith, of Marianna, and has appointed H. V. Maund, of Tallahassee as his successor. Not satisfied with this, Catts has also suspended W. A. Holt, of White Springs, one of the new members he appointed only a few weeks ago. The doughty governor has appointed A. J. Johnson, of Perry to succeed Holt. The governor goes out of office on Monday, after which it is hoped we will have a "safe and sane" administration.—DeLand News.

NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY LAND IN FLORIDA

What pays better interest than an investment in Florida land? Bankers consider 8 per cent pretty good interest no money loaned out, but Florida land beats that. Census reports just made public show that the increase in land values in Florida in the last ten years has been more than 100 per cent. What makes this statement peculiarly interesting is the fact that land in Florida is still bringing less per acre than in any other part of the United States, in proportion to its real value, in other words, we have the cheapest land, and the largest amount of it of any state in the Union. Add to that the fact that we have the finest climate and the longest season, insuring to the cultivator the possibility of more working days in the year, and you can form some idea of the coming future of the state.

There are more than 64,000 farms in the state, but only sixteen and seven-tenths of the land area of the state is included in farms and of that, less than 40 per cent is called "improved." Florida is still in the pioneer stage. We have been so busy building cities and towns, and roads and bridges, that we have neglected the possibilities that lie in the cultivation of the soil. Some of us have unwisely accepted the dictum of our visitors from the rich, black soils of the western states, that Florida land is too poor to raise anything, notwithstanding the fact that has been repeatedly demonstrated that Florida sand produces more in bulk and money value than any of the rich lands of the prairie states. Our rtuck farmers would think their business a failure if it did not turn out several times as many carloads per acre, and many times as much in cash than the prize farms of the North and West. That fact is gradually creeping into the minds of our friends from the north in connection with the other self-evident fact that life in our balmy climate is infinitely pleasanter and happier than it can be in the hostile climate to the north. When this fact becomes fully known in the land and every winter visitor advertises it, the rush to Florida will make its past growth seem very small.

The value of all farm property is now $329,286,817, an increase of 136 per cent since 1910. The average value of the land alone, per acre, is $38.90, and that it must be remembered includes lands valued at $1,000 and more per acre, which shows there must be an immense acreage of cheap land yet to be had. We have always contended there was no really worthless land in Florida and that contention is being verified every year. We have not yet learned the uses to which our seemingly poor land can be put. But the continual sunshine and the copious rains will force the growth of vegetation on the poorest of it, when we have the sense to adapt the plants to the soil.

We predict that the growth of the next ten years will make that of the last decade seem small by comparison. The moral is, buy now while land is cheap, and must advance with the growth of population.—Tampa Times.

COST FIVE BILLION TO RUN UNCLE SAM DURING YEAR 1920

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The cost of running the United States government last year amounted to approximately $5,064,000,000, as against about $11,728,000,000 in 1919. The total expenditures outside of payments on the public debt were revealed today in accounts obtained from the daily treasury statements.

Treasury officials said tonight that while ordinary disbursements had not yet come down to the $4,000,000,000 mark set by Secretary Houston in his estimate of the revenue needed for future fiscal years expenditures would continue to fall. Gradual liquidation of war claims and expenses officials declared, explained the drop in the expenditures, which, they added, would have been greater but for the additional burdens such as loans and advances to the railroads imposed on the treasury.

Ordinary receipts for 1920 amounted to $6,431,000,000 in round numbers as against $6,772,000,000 for the previous year. Collections of income and profits taxes, totalled $3,570,000,000 in the past year compared with $4,337,000,000 in 1919.

Stocks of frozen pork in storage on December 1, 1920, was 61,730,481 lbs., or 17,00,000 pounds more than on the same date in 1919. Despite the fact that the United States is the greatest hog producing country in the world, imports of pork and pork products during the first ten months of 1920 amounted to 2,899,117 pounds, and those of the corresponding period of 1919 to 11,419,444 pounds.

WEATHER REPORT

For Florida—Generally fair tonight and Sunday, except probably rain in extreme north portion. Cooler north portion.

Now is the time to have you stationery printed before the spring rush of business. Get it at the Herald office. New stock of paper, new type, new ideas, best of everything in the printing line.

The Herald Printing Company is turning out one run of printing of 100,000 copies for a big firm that wants only the best of printing and wants it right now. This firm will not have any printing done unless it can be done with neatness and dispatch and in these features the Herald excels.

Dr. C. J. Marshall has just purchased a Mollie typewriter for his office work and states that this wonderful machine is just what is needed in the office work of all kind. The Mollie is not only a complete machine but it is so compact that it can be carried around with you anywhere. See them at the Herald office.

Clarence Mahoney is getting up a corking good almanac for the Herald office that will be given away to the subscribers and to people generally over the county. An almanac is something that is needed all the time in every home. Clarence is getting the advertisements for the Herald almanac and it will be printed and ready for the people in the next two weeks.

Leave your order for one at the Herald office for you will want this splendid almanac. The merchants find it the real advertising medium and are taking liberal space in the book that will be preserved for at least twelve months and maybe longer. It is the advertising everlasting and the joy forever.

Mrs. W. L. Dortic has arrived in the city from Augusta, Ga., and is the guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Allen at their home on Laurel avenue.

Mrs. J. T. Allen and sister, Mrs. W. T. Dortic, of Augusta, Ga., were the dinner guests on Thursday of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Harkey, at their home on Sanford Heights. Mrs. Dortic is the aunt of Mrs. Harkey.

The many Sanford friends of Dr. Glass will be glad to learn that he is spending the winter at Enterprise again as has been his custom for many years. Dr. Glass is one of the most noted physicians in New York State and has many friends in Florida and elsewhere.

Capt. and Mrs. K. R. Murrell are now operating the Montezuma Hotel, Mr. and Mrs. McLendon having gone back to their home in Winter Haven. The Montezuma is one of Sanford's finest hotels and bids fair to make a great reputation among the tourists and commercial men.

Tonight the Jones shows will have their last night, Coburn's Minstrels will hold forth at the Princess and the Star will shine with something good in the picture line, thus ending a big week of amusement. After this week the town can take a rest and take up the question of selling lettuce.

The Ball Hardware Company is sporting a new delivery truck, the body being made by the Sanford Auto Body Company, under the skillful hands of John Vanderhook. This firm is putting out some fine delivery truck bodies and bodies for all kinds of cars and deserve the patronage of the home people who are needing truck or auto bodies.

ANTI-RED ARMY TO FIGHT THE REDS

PARIS, Jan. 8.—Alexander Kerensky, former Russian premier, has summoned thirty revolutionary leaders to meet here tomorrow in an attempt to unite all anti-bolshevik factions.

M. Tchernoff, minister of agriculture under Kerensky's provisional government and former president of the revolutionary constituent, will preside over the meeting. Tchernoff escaped from Russia two months ago. It is believed he will tell the delegates what their chances of military success be if the followers of Kerensky and General Wrangel can be united.

Delegates to the conference include members of the social revolutionary party, the duma majority under the provisional government and the cadets.

Dispatches today, bearing on the Russian and Polish future tended to confirm a rumor heretofore denied, that President Pilsudski expects to form a military alliance with France.

The French invitation to Pilsudski was said to have declared the conference "may lead to the conclusion of a political and economic agreement between France and Poland" The Gazette Warsawski, declared "the visit is a prelude to complete military and economic agreement between the two countries" Polish officials have repeatedly declared they are expecting a Russian attack in the spring
