72 PER CENT OF CITRUS CROP IS TO BE SHIPPED

Bright Outlook Given By Experts Who See Great Progress In Campaign Upon Fly

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(INS)—President Hoover announced today he would ask Congress to appropriate several million dollars to reimburse Florida citrus growers for losses sustained in the Mediterranean fly campaign. The President explained that he would have planned to ask for a larger sum but for the fact that the growers' losses would be greatly reduced by Secretary Hays' recommendation for the movement of this year's crop.

ORLANDO, Fla., July 19.—(INS)—A spirit of optimism prevailed here today following announcement by officials of the state and federal quarantine board that the Mediterranean fly restrictions will enable over 72 per cent of the Florida fruit crop to be marketed this coming season.

According to marketing experts Florida will have a short crop in the fall and prices will be substantially higher than last year, bringing in the state more money than during the past season.

In a statement issued last night in Washington, Secretary of Agriculture Hays declared that there is a possibility that the citrus crop may be moved without exposing areas in addition to those now quarantined to the risk of infection.

He said that the research work which has been intensively prosecuted in Florida on methods of destruction of the pest in fruit has indicated that the citrus crop may be moved without exposing areas in addition to those now quarantined to the risk of infection.

There is reason to believe, the secretary announced, that the development of these methods as a supplement to the other suppression measures now in force will make possible the movement of the citrus crop of this year without (Continued On Page Three)

Publishers Sued For Commission On Recent Purchases

COLUMBIA, S. C., July 19.—(INS)—Herald Hall and William Laverne, plaintiffs in a suit over the ownership of a chain of South Carolina and Georgia newspapers, were today the joint defendants in a suit filed in superior court here by Palmer, DeWitt & Palmer for commissions amounting to $13,175 which the latter claim is due them for acting as agents in the purchase of three South Carolina papers.

Hall and Laverne recently came into national prominence when it was revealed by the Federal Trade Commission's utility investigation that they had received financial backing from the International Paper and Power Company. The newspaper brokers claim that $12,500 is due them for the purchase of the Spartanburg, S. C. Herald and the Spartanburg Journal, and that $675 is due on the purchase of the Columbia, S. C. Herald, the Augusta, Ga. Chronicle, the fourth member of the Hall-Laverne group, was not mentioned in the suit.

Following filing of the suit, attachment papers against Hall's possessions in the state were issued. Executives of the organization declared, however, that none of the stock in the papers named was held by Hall; that it was all owned by Laverne and other executives of the organization.

SOLON EXPLAINS BILL TO PAY FOR GROWER LOSSES

Fletcher To Ask For Early Action Upon $10,000,000 Measure

Here for a brief visit Thursday afternoon in the interest of a state which he is making to gain first-hand knowledge of conditions arising from the fruit fly campaign, Senator Duncan U. Fletcher explained provision of the Fletcher-Drane bill, which provides for an appropriation of $10,000,000 with which to reimburse Florida growers for losses sustained by virtue of infestation.

The Senator manifested great concern over the problem and reiterated the belief that the "principle of reimbursement is fundamental to a sound policy of eradication." His views were summed up in this statement:

DRY PLEA GETS PARTIAL OKEY OF GOVERNORS

Wickersham's Note Is Sidetracked For 'Compromise Report Of General Tenor

GROTON, Conn., July 19.—(INS)—Having admittedly sidetracked the Wickersham proposal for enforcing the prohibition law, the 24 governors who have been in attendance at the conference of governors were making preparations today to return to their respective states. "To feel out local sentiment" on this new national issue.

The governors had no idea when they came here that they would be called upon to consider a matter of such intense national interest as the suggestion made by George W. Wickersham, chairman of President Hoover's commission on crime and law enforcement, that the states take over part of the burden of enforcing the dry law.

The federal government, concerned on the job of preventing the manufacture, importation and interstate shipment of liquor.

During the heated debate of the day, a majority of the governors were opposed to the plan, although with the exception of Governor Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland, a vote, they were reluctant to unreservedly condemn the proposal.

The dry governors were against the proposal on the ground it held out the prospect of modification of the prohibition law and the states because they believed the states were being jockeyed into a position where they would be forced to take over a big share of the federal government's difficult task of enforcing the law.

The governors' story of the whole proposition could not see their way clear to admit the resolutions submitted by southern states which were interpreted by the north as "a step in the direction of co-operation with the federal government with regard to enforcing the Eighteenth Amendment."

Scientists Alarmed Over Deaths From Refrigerator Gas

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(INS)—Concerned over the deaths reported from the fumes of methyl chloride used in electric refrigerators, government experts are planning a conference with a view to finding a remedy for the trouble, it was learned here today.

While methyl chloride is not fatal except as a result of long exposure to its fumes, it is not easily noticeable by its odor, and it is possible for its anesthetic qualities to lull a person into a person before the victim realizes the danger of the fumes.

Experts from the chemical warfare service and the bureau of standards, mines and public health will attend the conference. Refrigerator gas will be discussed.

The plan adopted in Chicago, where more than a dozen deaths have been reported from refrigerator gas, of substituting sulphur dioxide for chloride was viewed with favor today by Bureau of Standards scientists.

Greenville Textile Strike Ended Today

GREENVILLE, S. C., July 19.—(INS)—The textile strike in the Greenville district was at last over today, following return to work of operatives of the mills idle since May 30.

The mill workers went on strike for the purpose of securing a wage increase, obtaining abolition of the so-called "stretch-out" system, and of forcing the mill operators not to discriminate against union members. In the agreement under which they returned to work, mill owners gave assurance that Union membership would not be discriminated against, but the other demands were not mentioned.

Rich Man Goes To Jail Rather Than Pay $5 Fine For Trivial Violation

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 19.—(INS)—Gustav A. Kassner, 45, who declares that he gave away $30,000 to charity last year, and pays an income tax of $2,000, was in the county work house today because he would not pay a $5 fine for failure to provide garbage cans for an apartment building he owns.

The fine was imposed by Judge George E. Tager. After being taken to the police station from whence he was later removed to the work house, Kassner telephoned his chauffeur ordering him to stand guard over his rights to remain in jail.

"I know more about health than the health department, or I would, not be 45 years old," Kassner said. "If necessary, I'll stay in jail until the cops carry me out."

Soon after the close of the day, Kassner offered the city of Milwaukee $1,000 on condition he Kinrick Avenue be changed to Kaiser Strasse of Kassner Place.

A native of Germany, he has lived in Milwaukee since he was 17. He is a member of the German American club, but did not learn to write his own name until he was 21. According to prominent Milwaukeeans, he is said to be worth more than $200,000.

Coolidge Says Organized Minority Factions Making Dictators Of Presidents

NEW YORK, July 19.—(INS)—Political minority organizations with powerful machinery for the intimidation of Congress, are gradually giving presidents of the United States to virtual dictators.

Powerful of the consequences of displacing the highly organized minority groups, Coolidge intimates in an article which will appear today in the American Magazine.

Coolidge points out that the president is not only head of the government, but head of the party, and that the Congress is forced by minorities to deviate from party platform issues, the political system of the country suffers. Decline of party power has been going on for 20 years, he contends, and in the meantime the power of the president has increased, since he must often stand alone behind his party banner.

Planning for a greater display of party loyalty, and the loss of confidence in Congress, he says, "such a manifestation in the Congress would do more than anything else to rehabilitate it in the esteem and confidence of the country."

The president's growing role of champion of the people is not dangerous, in Coolidge's estimation, but it is the result of his being held solely responsible for his own acts, while in Congress where responsibility is divided there is much greater danger of abuse of power. "It has therefore become increasingly important that the president should exercise his constitutional powers," he concludes.

Republican Senators Oust Democrats As Plans Are Made For Executive Sessions

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(INS)—The Hawley tariff bill will be re-written in secret by Republican members of the Senate Finance Committee and new rates will be decided by the public until the bill is completed under plans evolved today by Senator Reed Smoot (R) of Utah, chairman of the committee.

Four Men Held For Lake County Killing

TAVARES, Fla., July 19.—(INS)—Four men were held here today as authorities continued their investigation into the dual hammer murder of Mrs. Angie Gillis and Levi Allen, whose battered bodies were found July 4 in a small gasolene filling station they operated near Moshawk. Officers refused to divulge the identity of one of the suspects. The other three are William Prescott (O. W. Sloan, both of Orange County, and T. H. Davis, of Moshawk.

PROBE OF WRECK TO OPEN TODAY; DEATHS TOTAL 9

Other Bodies May Be Found In Pullman Submerged In Creek

DENVER, July 19.—(INS)—The death toll in the wreck of the Rock Island crack passenger train, the Colorado Express, bound from Chicago to Denver, stood at nine persons today with constant fear that the number may mount high.

Searchers are now able to enter the submerged sleeper.

Investigation into the cause of the wreck will begin this afternoon provided the submerged sleeper can be lifted out of the water and searched for additional bodies by that time, according to Governor Chas. F. Penny of Burlington, Colo.

Railroad officials blamed the wreck on a chain-abust which occurred south of the railroad on Sand Creek. Shortly after midnight yesterday, a wall of water, between 15 to 20 feet high, came down the creek bed, which for 14 months had been dry.

Water and mud about five feet deep in the pullman car no. 230, special St. Louis to Colorado Springs car. Efforts were being made to lift the car from the stream and apply pumps to the interior.

Railroad officials moved today that not more than 45 people, out of the some 200 passengers, were injured in one of the worst recent railroad accidents in the history of western railroading. None of the injured is in a serious condition.

According to officials of the Rock Island who investigated the wreck, the second engine of the double header ahead the rails of the track, causing more weight to be thrown on the weakened bridge. The front engine crossed safely, the second engine, however, was completely submerged.

One man, E. J. Perry, wealthy yachtman and inventor of New Bedford, Mass., was the only passenger of the submerged car. It was believed, who escaped with his life. He was awake when the crash came, and when he fell water rushing into the car, he broke the window, climbed out.

John Acosta, Yale Grid Star, Is Killed In Motor Accident

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., July 19.—(INS)—John S. Acosta, former Yale football star and a member of one of Walter Camp's all American eleven, was killed in an automobile accident near Waverly, Ga., north of here last night, according to word received here today.

Acosta was returning to Jacksonville from a vacation at Brunswick, Ga. To avoid hitting a car parked on the side of the road, he is said to have driven his machine off the highway. It went into a ditch and turned turtle.

The former Eli Star, following his graduation from Yale in 1922, coached the undefeated freshmen eleven at the University of Florida.

Four passengers in Acosta's machine were injured. Colonel E. C. Turk, head of the Florida Health Department and a former commanding officer of the Florida National Guard, was badly hurt, while Mrs. Turk, Mrs. E. G. Hunsford and W. G. Kennedy, suffered slight bruises and cuts.

Hoovers To Spend Week-End At Camp

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(INS)—President and Mrs. Hoover will leave this afternoon for their camp at the headquarters of the Rapidan River in the Shenandoah National Park, Va., with a few guests.

Last week the President had invited members of the Federal Farm Board to accompany him, but the trip was called off because of the bad condition of the mountain roads. The fishing season being over in Virginia, the Presidential party will devote the week-end to rest. They will return late Sunday night or early Monday morning.

TO CUT PRODUCTION

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., July 19.—(INS)—Reduction of production by 25 per cent was planned by turpentine producers of Alabama, Georgia and Florida today, following a meeting of representative turpentine men here. Closer organization of turpentine producers was also decided upon at the meeting. The reasons for the reduction in output were given as conservation and stabilization of the market.

ACTUAL WAR IS NOT EXPECTED IN SOVIET ROW

Russia Will Not Declare Hostilities Unless China Invades Soviets' Territory

By International News Service. Despite vigorous war preparations by both Soviet Russia and China, dispatches to International News Service from Moscow and Peking reported the belief today that actual hostilities would be averted.

Y. S. Rudzutak, Soviet commissar of transport and a member of the Soviet politbureau (political bureau), told the International News Service correspondents in Moscow that the Soviets would not declare war against China unless the Chinese attacked the Soviet union's frontiers and invaded Soviet soil.

The Soviet and Chinese diplomatic envoys to France held conferences in Paris with French Foreign Minister Briand, one of the most powerful figures in the League of Nations.

For the second time in less than 30 hours an unconfirmed report was received from China of a clash between Soviet Russia and Chinese troops on the Amur River, on the northern frontier of Manchuria. This latest incident, which was reported from Shanghai quoted "private advice" as saying the Russians tried to cross the river at Ilagovschensk, but retired when fired upon by Chinese, and forced to retreat.

Soviet Russia is reported to be making demonstrations with military airplanes along the Manchurian-Siberian border.

Massing at troops at strategic points by both Soviet Russia and China continue, according to International News Service reports, but no actual hostilities have been declared at Harbin, Manchuria.

Two important considerations are preventing the Soviet Union from declaring war against China. One is the government's communistic pledge to the world proletariat to defend oppressed nations and not to interfere for imperialistic reaction.

MASS MEETING ASKS CITY OPERATION OF NEW ORLEANS CARS

NEW ORLEANS, La., July 19.—(INS)—Municipal operation of the local traction system was suggested today in a resolution sent to the city council from a mass meeting of strike sympathizers here last night.

The gathering, which was held in a public park and attended by several thousand people, took action as to the closing of a sympathetic strike. A suggestion by Frances Williams, chairman of the Louisiana Public Service Commission, that the city take over and operate the street car system should be public service. The city council is expected to take action on the proposition of a general walk-out was overshadowed.

Resolutions calling upon the city council to compel the street car company to arbitrate, and to remove the restrictions against "timely" service were also acclaimed with cheers.

Two men were sentenced to 60 days today when tried in municipal court on charges of fighting the escort of two women who visited a carban to see relatives who had refused to walk out when the strike was called.

Southern California Grid Prospects Most Promising Of All Western Colleges

LOS ANGELES, July 14.—(INS)—And in this corner, ladies and gentlemen, we have the South California Trojans—directing the attention of football followers, especially Notre Dame, Carnegie Tech, Stanford, Washington and California—to one of the most promising broods of college football players 1938 has to offer.

With sixteen letter men back, and an army of husky and talented would-be heroes from last year's freshman squad and many coach-warmer, Coach Howard Jones should be able to put out a Trojan football team this fall with forward wall and backfield second to none.

As nearly as it is possible to judge now, the Southern California line will average about 400 pounds, or better, and the backfield about 185.

Captain Nate Harringer leads the show, playing running guard on offense and center on defense. The senior Nate has featured many a Trojan game in the past and despite the fact that he parted with his tonsils and one thing and another during the summer, his playing as captain, no doubt, will be even stronger.

In the backfield Coach Jones has backfield material par excellence. Russ Saunders will be his big gun, judging from early reports. Russ is starting as a rock, and you cannot frighten him. He can outstep almost any one on the team, and he has had experience in all the backfield positions. He is celebrated for his bullet-like passing. Marshall Duffield and Elmer Shaver, sophomore, are his chief competition for the post.

Manager April, Harry Edelman, and Jesse Auerbach, who also plays basketball and flings the javelin, will have to battle Artistic and Hammack of last year's team for the halfback berth. All of them have shown plenty of class.

The mighty Don Mossa who looked like a world leader in his sophomore year and then failed to make his grade last year, is expected back in a suit with every indication that he will play regular as fullback. Up from the trash has risen a 200-pound, fast, hard-hitting player to give competition, however, and more should be heard.

from Jim Mueck. A fast but comparatively light fullback is Jesse Hill, intercollegiate broad jump champion.

On The Line On the line, Jones will have the shoes of the All-American, Jesse Hibbs, to fill at tackle. He has Cecil Hoff, a two-year letter man but never a regular. John Ward, George Becker, and Bob Hainigant from Texas, to do it with. Hoff is far from being a Hibbs but he handles himself well. Bob Hall and his 225 pounds, however, will be big competition. Bob was all-state tackle in Texas where he went to prep school.

Franny Tappan if he is alive and well, will play right end, Ward Bond and Jim Turner alternated at right tackle in spring practice, but Frank Anthony probably will retain his job at the post.

As for guards, Coach Jones has Galloway, Gower, Steponovich, and Shaw from the letter men, with Porter, Tompkins, Winfield and Baker to fall back on. George Dye, former Alabama star, probably will play left guard on offense, with Captain Harringer relieving him in defense. Dye going to center.

Right guard likely will be held down by Clark Galloway, the husky Irishman.

Probable Lineup At left end during spring practice appeared Dutch Wilson, Tony Jurich and Howard Joslin, of the freshman. Tony Steponovich, however, may quite possibly be moved out to end from guard position. Tony who is as big as his last name, came to college to play end, anyway, but got shifted to guard last year.

Here is a guess for the Trojan first eleven next fall: RG, Tappan; RT, Anthony; RG, Galloway; C, Dye; LG, Harringer; (capt.) T, Hoff; LE, Steponovich; Q, Saunders; HB, Pinner; LB, Edelman; P, Mossa.

The men Jones lost by graduation include Jesse Hibbs, Louie McGee, left end; Lloyd Thomas, right halfback, and Don Williams, quarterback. McGee's fall faces one of the toughest grid schedules on record, being slated to take on Stanford and California on successive Saturdays followed two weeks later by Notre Dame at Chicago.

WALSH FIGURES LOUGHRAN WILL BEAT BRADDOCK

Champion Will Defend Crown For 7th Time In Eighteen Months

By DAVID J. WALSH International News Service Staff Editor

NEW YORK, July 14.—A champion of the world, a fighting champion and a goal one, will stand at the cross roads of his career tonight and the choice he makes, either will go forward and upward to greater things or backward and downward to the inevitable limbo of pugilism's forgotten. Tommy Loughran, they say, is at the crisis of his young life.

He will defend his light heavyweight title for the seventh time in a year and a half in a 15 round fight with Jimmy Braddock at the Yankee Stadium tonight and the choice he makes, either will go forward and upward to greater things or backward and downward to the inevitable limbo of pugilism's forgotten. Tommy Loughran, they say, is at the crisis of his young life.

The demand probably will be met but they say it will be a bitter pill to swallow. Loughran will do it. If you think with their notion the weighing on Loughran will be kept by a blond, better champion, weak to the point of imminent collapse, it may be significant that, faced with a chance for the heavyweight championship, he took the Braddock fight without demur. So many, however, are convinced that Loughran's weight-making is no dance of the spitter at dawn.

ARTIE MCGOVERN WORKS THE CORNER FOR TOMMY LOUGHRAN

He did around 187 pounds for Ernie Schmidt not so long ago and the 11 pounds he shed in the meantime undoubtedly represent self-imposed cruelty that only a religious fanatic or a champion fighter would undergo.

The ritual has hurt Loughran or they wouldn't be giving Braddock the chance that they do. He is about even money in the betting today, an unusual circumstance in connection with a championship fight and he may even go in there as the popular favorite. A great right hand puncher and a young man who may be about to come overnight, much as Tommy did, Braddock is a challenger of distinct possibilities.

But Loughran hasn't been worried yet about either an opponent or the matter of making weight. He has an even 1400 both ways and it may be significant that, faced with a chance for the heavyweight championship, he took the Braddock fight without demur. So many, however, are convinced that Loughran's weight-making is no dance of the spitter at dawn.

CUBS CUT DOWN CORSAIRS' LEAD TO 2 CONTESTS

Bucs Break Even In Boston While Bruins Easily Down Phils

NEW YORK, July 14.—(INS)—The Cubs were a bit brighter for the Chicago Cubs today as they came to Brooklyn on the last leg of their road trip, for by trouncing the Phillies yesterday while Pittsburgh was being held to an even break in a double bill with Boston, they gained ground on the league leaders for the first time since the western rivalry began their current eastern invasion.

The Pirates led the Cubs by only two games this morning. They made a clean sweep in Brooklyn and Philadelphia, but lost two of their games with the Braves. Some observers are predicting that the Cubs will jump in the series with New York, which starts today, although the Giants looked more formidable in losing three out of five games to Chicago and representing the performance against St. Louis.

The Cubs went on a batting rampage yesterday, collecting 18 hits and winning, 16 to 3. Every player on the club got at least one hit and one run. Charley Root checked the home run spree of Chuck Klein, although the Philly slugger did connect for a pair of singles.

Through Grimes, who had won 15 games and lost only one, was knocked out of the box as Sox's Redol of the Braves beat Pittsburgh, 7 to 4, but the Pirates romped away with the nightcap by a 13 to 5 count with Krenner on the mound.

Harold Haid of the Cardinals held the Giants to four hits and won it 4 to 1 with the aid of Taylor Douthett, who accounted for four runs with a double, triple and homer. Douthett took the rap for the Giants.

Isabe Herman, National League batting leader, walked three singles and batted his average to .404 as Brooklyn plastered

Cincinnati, 10 to 6. Connie Mack's Athletics suffered another setback in Philadelphia, when Bill Shores lost a 6 to 2 decision to Walter Miller, but the Yankees did not heed opportunity's knock and boot one away to Detroit. Four runs behind in the ninth, the Yanks tied the score with the aid of three errors and knocked Hoyt off the box, and then won out in the tenth, 9 to 8.

Arbe Ruth hit his 22nd homer, tying Gehrig for the league leadership, but while chasing a fly the slagger sprang a charity horse which may keep him idle for a few days.

Sam Gray of the St. Louis Browns hung up his twelfth victory in blanking the Red Sox, 4 to 0, and Bob Burke of the Senators outpointed Ted Lyons of the White Sox, 6 to 2.

Bus Accidents Increase Boosting Demand For U.S. To Draw Up Regulations

WASHINGTON, July 14.—(INS)—The alarming increase in the number of motor bus accidents has stressed the need for federal regulatory supervision over a transportation system that is growing by leaps and bounds.

Congressional leaders and members of the Interstate Commerce Commission indicated today that the time has arrived when legislation should be enacted to regulate the bus transportation industry, which has had a mushroom growth in recent years.

Apparently many of the present bus concerns operate over the public highways with defective vehicles, endangering not only the lives of passengers but other users of the highways.

"Wildcat" have also entered the business and have worked to lure to regular and responsible bus lines, by cutting prices and because they are financially irresponsible and use reprehensible practices.

Considering the rapidly increasing importance of motor transportation, the interstate commerce commission, on June 15, 1936, started an investigation concerning the general question of the operation of motor buses and trucks by, or in connection with, competition with the railroads subject to the interstate commerce act. The scope of the investigation included the legality and propriety of the arrangement under which motor buses and trucks are operated.

TRAIN PLUNGES OFF BRIDGE TO KILL 8 PERSONS

(Continued From Page 1) of the train passed safely over the bridge, a foot span across Spring Creek. The third car, in which actually all the passengers are believed to have been trapped and drowned, went into the water. The next three cars were piled upon the bank of the creek, one of them being partially under water.

Great confusion followed the wreck, which occurred just before sunrise in a sparsely settled section of the eastern Colorado prairie, not far from the Kansas line.

Burgomasters and train wrecking crews were immediately dispatched to the scene of the disaster from Denver, Limon, Burlington and Goodland, Kan. First measures to reach the scene were powerless to search for any possible living victims in the submerged car, which was hurled in the sand beneath roaring waters of the flooded creek.

Railroad officials here said that the train, consisting of eight passenger cars and several coaches in addition to the baggage and express cars, probably carried between 250 and 300 passengers.

Information received here by A. L. Nowy, general passenger agent of the Rock Island road, said that it would be four or five hours before the water in the creek would subside, permitting rescue workers to enter the submerged car.

A majority of the passengers were asleep when the terrific crash came and scenes of indescribable confusion followed attempts of the injured and uninjured passengers to escape from the wreckage. Screams of women and children could be heard above the roar of the creek water.

According to John McNary, a resident of Stratton, one of the first to reach the scene, only one person escaped alive from the car that was hurled in the creek. He managed to crawl through a window, McNary said, but was badly cut.

Scores of passengers lined the railroad track, many of them in their nightclothes. Scores of them in scanty attire, unhurt by the crash immediately set about the task to lending first aid to the injured.

John Mack Brown Has Leading Part In Milane Picture

What is declared by sound engineers to be a veritable triumph for Fox Movietone was achieved with the successful recording of the first sound and Jalg scenes were filmed on a railroad train. This will provide new and thrilling sound sensations for motion picture audiences throughout the world.

Johnny Mack Brown and Marguerite Churchill, playing the romantic leads in "The Valiant," were the principals in the epoch making event which was engineered by William M. Howard, prominent Fox Films director. "The Valiant" is to be the attraction at the Milane Theater tomorrow.

In the gripping story, which is from the stage play by Holworthy Hall, the two young people, who are affianced, spend a penitentiary on the eve of an execution that the girl may learn whether the condemned man is her long missing brother.

For the filming and recording of the scene in Movietone a railroad train was utilized in the Santa Fe yards near Norwalk and the results, according to Director Howard, were eminently satisfactory. On the sound of the engine whistle, it is stated, a "disolve" was obtained which carries the sound over into the succeeding sequence.

72 PER CENT OF CITRUS CROP IS TO BE SHIPPED

treating additional areas to risk of infestation.

Secretary Hyde emphasized that while this will involve a distinct modification of present restrictions on the movement of citrus fruit from all sources, and will avoid the general destruction of fruit in Zone I, it is believed that it will aid the eradication effort and the relief it will afford to the citrus industry is a situation, and by making it more possible for growers to continue full cooperation.

The action was recommended by the committee of experts and by Dr. C. L. Marlett, chief of the plant quarantine and control administration of the department of agriculture.

Dr. Wilson Nevell chief of the fruit fly eradication forces, who returned here yesterday after spending a 500-mile tour of inspection made by members of Dr. Hyde's commission of experts, is also optimistic over the outlook.

"Florida's position with reference to the forthcoming citrus crop even under the present regulations, without substantial additional areas being found infested, is this—better than 75 per cent of the state's citrus crop is free to reach the markets. With the named crop in Florida, the state is in a position to export a crop of apples in the quantity of over 75 per cent of the citrus crop should be to the state more net money did the citrus crop of last year."

Dr. J. E. Montgomery and H. Harold Hume, representing the State Plant Board, participated in a conference between the commission and the plant quarantine and control administration.

TARIFF BILL TO BE FRAMED BY G. O. P. MEMBERS

of Mississippi and Connally (D) of Texas, as the hearings ended.

The committee's policy was defended by Chairman Smoot, who asserted that when the Democrats revised the tariff in 1913 they didn't let the Republicans even stick their noses in the door at the hearings.

Senator Reed (R) of Pennsylvania plans to raise the question of abandoning the long-used practice of basing tariff duties on the foreign value of imports and substitute the United States selling price as the basis for assessing percentage, or ad valorem, rates.

Such a proposal would involve the complete revision of tariff rates in the pending bill, since the United States value is so much higher than the foreign value that rates on the same level would boost the tariff to undreamed of levels. The Pennsylvania Senator has been promised a statement by the tariff commission of comparable tariff rates based on United States value.

Dry Law Plea Partly Okeyed By Governors

Governor John G. Richards of South Carolina and the other jointly by Governor O. Max Gardner, of North Carolina and Governor Harry F. Byrd, of Virginia. Instead, the governors adopted a compromise report of the executive committee pledging "general approval" of President Hoover's efforts toward the suppression of crime.

Ritchie declared the Eighteenth Amendment imposes no obligation on the states to enforce it, and that it is neither their constitutional nor moral duty to do so. He also asserted the Wickersham proposal would not lead to remedy the crime situation.

He thought the way to cure the crime wave is "to strike at the root of the trouble and substitute something better for the present system of federal prohibition which the people as a whole will respect and obey and which can be enforced."

Be Feminine; Cut Out Aping Men, Fashionable Paris's New Slogan

PARIS, July 10.—"Be Feminine," if you are a woman, and cut out aping the masculine sex in dress and speech and manners. This is the new slogan of fashionable Paris, and it is attracting thousands of adherents and followers even among the most combative section of flaming French youth. It means that the inevitable reaction of the modern French woman against the garconerie type, so popular in the after-war period, has set in in earnest.

The revolution comes at the height of the most brilliant season that Paris has known since 1913. But still it does not signify by any means that there are going to be less flaunting keyrings on the boulevards or that we are to witness a return to antiquated modes for the woman who works. The short skirt cannot be dislodged. It has come to stay like airplanes and cocktails. And the modern Parisienne refuses to do without either.

The psychology of the new era is best summed up in the characteristic Parisian phrase that woman henceforth is going to be: "Tres simple, tres femme, tres habillee" (very simple, very much woman, and fully dressed). It is an assertion and accentuation of femininity, after years of effort to efface womanly characteristics that were heading us to the disastrous end of burying womanly charms under a layer of hard bodiliness.

NO MORE EQUALITY
Coupled with the transformation in dress come the harbingers of a new social change. We've had enough of this quasi-equality of the sexes. It was threatening to turn into disrespect, declare the turgidly hysterical hostesses of the French capital. Give us back the romance of the good old days of chivalry and politeness. Before woman to that position of almost otherworldly claims that she occupied in the days of gallantry.

Along with the leading arbiters of elegance and taste, such as Monsieur de la Fouchardiere and Paul Poiret, the smart hostesses agree that on woman herself rests the blame for the decadence in manners. Woman, they say, is in grave danger of losing her appeal. There are no subtle, intriguing qualities about her any longer. Following the mannish model, they have practically obliterated the distance that separated them from men. And it was just exactly in the maintenance of this distance that rested the respect of men for the feminine sex, and that fostered the spirit of adoration that prevailed in former days.

The extreme mode vogue prevailing on the stage of the popular revues and music halls since the war is further cited as a contributing cause in the relaxation of the austerity of manners and morals. For the stage is still an index of the way the wind of fashion is blowing. Whatever the follies of the Bergeres or the Moulin Rouge, dress is becoming and stylish for their audience and dancers, finds immediate following and imitation, although in a somewhat moderated sense, among the clientele of the thousand and one cabarets, night clubs, and dance halls of Paris. Crowds at the great popular dance halls on the Avenue Wagram and in the more exclusive "dancing" of the Bois de Boulogne last winter of and values, which would be very complicated and difficult of administration. On the tree basis it is easy to ascertain and can be determined definitely and without difficulty what each grower is entitled to.

For instance, in Zone 1 the following average in planted citrus fruit is now included under the quarantine against the Mediterranean fruit fly, to wit, 50,000 acres in bearing citrus trees—orange, grapefruit, tangerines, and other varieties, and 10,000 acres of non-citrus bearing trees of the same varieties. Estimating 62 bearing trees per acre would give 3,420,000 bearing trees now in Zone 1, the fruit on which the plant quarantine and control administration now expects to incur other fruit destroyed under the government regulations. Explaining that the measure also provides for reimbursement for these, other products, the legislator said:

"The resolution provides, first, as to the citrus fruits, and then with respect to other host fruits, compensation may be made on an analogous or similar basis to cover maintenance and upkeep costs. Third with respect to host vegetables, compensation shall be on a basis not in excess of the actual cost of production to the time of destruction."

"The Department of Agriculture feels that this would be fair and just and the more feasible plan for compensation. It does not provide any profit for the grower on future crops and therefore there would be no temptation to plant areas with the idea of selling to the government. It would put the grower just where he was before destruction of his crops occurred in the enforcement of the plans for eradication."

Senator Fletcher declared, in reference to the eradication work, that it is "no local or state problem but the task of the entire country."

"All our people, everywhere, are concerned, not merely incidentally, but vitally. This is the fight of the nation, doing battle against a most destructive enemy in the defense of the property, the health and happiness of all the people. This enemy has stolen upon us, in the night, but it is here. It will cost something to root it out, but that will be insignificant compared with the consequences of failure or surrender. Both are unthinkable."

Mrs. Horace Walker of Charlotte, N. C., formerly Miss Mildred Holly of this city, arrived Wednesday to spend some time here as the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Holly, 618 Park Avenue. Mr. Walker expects to join her in several weeks.

Tilden Easily Wins From Moldenhauer In Match At Berlin

BERLIN, July 10.—(INS)—"Big Bill" Tilden drew first blood for the United States in the Davis inter-zone finals with Germany by defeating Hans Moldenhauer in straight sets, 6-2, 6-4, 6-1.

Although a sultry humid heat beat down from a cloudy sky, the cards of the famous Red and White Tennis Club, where the match was played, were filled to the last seat with many persons standing at every available vantage point.

To Germans Tilden is still "the greatest tennis marvel of the age" and his play today failed to disillusion any of the spectators. Against Moldenhauer, one of Germany's two greatest players, Tilden played like the "Big Bill" of old. His famous "cannon ball" service was effective. His smashing drives were varied with dazzling backhand shots and his net play was superb.

In the second singles match, however, Francis T. Hunter, America's representative, made a poor start against Dr. Daniel Preann, who is regarded as Germany's premier player. Hunter rallied in the second set, however, and won 6-3 to bring the match up to even terms. His confidence restored, Hunter then went ahead to win the third set 6-4.

Why one car is frequently so much better than another of the same model

Twins in age and appearance, one shoots eagerly ahead while the other lags far behind. In traffic, on hills, there's often the same startling difference.

Almost invariably, such difference in performance is accurate measure of the difference in quality of gasolines used. No engine, not even the finest in the world, can feel fit and fighty on a diet of inferior fuel.

If you are a driver who likes to lead the procession—if you like plenty of getaway and go in your gasoline—be sure to try Texaco. This new and better high test gasoline is waiting for you at all pumps bearing the Texaco Red Star with the Green T.

Texaco vaporizes readily. The harder you step on the accelerator, the faster, pure "dry gas"—every atom power—flows into the cylinders. The result is pick-up and power, plus real economy. Try it today!
