Where are you going? Where did you come from? These are some sample questions that will be asked of motorists on heavily-traveled highways in Seminole County beginning Thursday.

Casselberry's proposed occupational license ordinance covers everything from stargazing to scissor-sharpening. Two news hounds are residents of the third floor at Seminole Memorial Hospital.

AE2 Thomas Christensen, USN, of Port Edwards, Wis., who spent two weeks here visiting his fiancée, Susan Wilcox, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wilcox, of 610 Baywood Drive, Sunland, has departed for duty in South Viet Nam.

Casselberry's new administrative offices on U.S. 17-92 will be air-conditioned under a bid accepted by the Board of Aldermen Monday Night.

The Sanford Lions Fun Fair is planned for Fort Mellon Park July 5.

Search for a site for the Lake Mary Woman's Club has ended in a stalemate. The Seminole County Board of Commissioners considered giving a tract of county land but found it would not meet the requirements.

In spite of our efforts along the beautification lines some of the town's biggest eyesores remain intact. The old bandshell, for instance. The eagle on the flagpole at the bandshell now perches precariously over Seminole Blvd.

Two big events in Sanford conflict Monday night. Sanford Male Chorus presents its spring serenades at the Civic Center. The annual sports banquet will be held at the high school the same night.

Overhead while eavesdropping: We Americans are the nuttiest people in the world. We buy expensive beds, with 8-inch springs, 10-inch inner-spring mattresses; top them with foam rubber covers and pillows — then lie awake all night worrying.

Barry Riley, 24, an Orlando apprentice embalmer, was seriously injured about the head in an automobile accident on Interstate 4 near the SR 46 interchange Tuesday afternoon.

Riley was thrown from the convertible and was taken to Seminole Memorial Hospital in an unconscious condition. He later was transferred to Florida Sanatorium and Hospital in Orlando.

BEAUTIES TO VIE SARASOTA (UPI)—A record 40 beauty queens will compete for the 1965 Miss Florida title starting here June 13. The new Miss Florida will be crowned June 19 by the 1964 winner, Miss Priscilla Schmitt, of Pompano Beach.

Sanford Plaza Work Resumes Thursday

Herlong Urges Prepare For Medicare

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—U. S. Rep. A. S. Herlong Jr., of the Florida Fifth Congressional District, including Seminole County, today told a joint meeting of the Florida House and Senate public welfare committees they should prepare for the passage of a federal Medicare bill in this session of Congress. Herlong's talk was brief and factual. He said he had some "philosophical objections" to the bill now before the U. S. Senate but he added, "We are faced with a fact now."

Clearwater Firm Takes On Project

By Paul Brookshire Construction is expected to resume Thursday to complete the Sanford Plaza, The Herald learned today. A performance bond of $470,000 was scheduled to be posted before Circuit Judge Roger F. Dykes in Titusville this afternoon to complete work on the Plaza, on Hwy. 17-92 south. R & S Service, Inc., of Clearwater, was due to post the bond through the Hartford Insurance Company to guarantee that all work will be accomplished and that all suppliers and contractors paid. "This is a solid concern and we expect the posting of the bond to be a mere formality," Paul E. Raymond, attorney representing the Chase Manhattan Bank in the receivership, told The Herald this morning. Chase Manhattan Bank holds the mortgage on the Plaza and the Ormond Beach First National Bank is the disbursing agent. Kenneth A. Priest, of Ormond Beach, also an official of the bank, is the court appointed receiver of the Plaza. Priest is under $100,000 bond. Raymond said signing of the order by Judge Dykes should signal start of construction Thursday morning. "Phase I of the bond will cover all construction on space already leased in the Plaza," Raymond said. "Phase II will cover any additional construction on the Plaza," the attorney added. Already operating in the Sanford Plaza are Public Super Market, Eckerd Drugs, a gift shop, barber shop and an appliance shop. Waiting for completion of construction are J. C. Peasey's, McCrory's, a beauty shop, paint store and automatic laundry.

news... BRIEFS

Merger OK'd DELAND (UPI) — The school board approved the merger of Daytona Beach Junior College with Volusia County Community College. No Intentions TOKYO (UPI) — Communist China declared flatly today that it has no intention of negotiating on Viet Nam until the United States gives up and withdraws its troops. Search On MIAMI (UPI) — The Coast Guard continued an air search of the Gulf of Mexico today for a 32-foot ketch overdue from Columbia, South America, with three young men aboard. Still Stands LONDON (UPI) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk told the NATO council today that President Johnson's unconditional offer of Viet Nam peace talks still stands. But he said so far the Communist have not taken him up on it. Too Tough SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) — Sacramento State College is dropping a requirement that seniors must pass an eighth grade arithmetic test. It's too tough. Of 600 students who took the test, 76 flunked. Clerk Slain HIALEAH (UPI) — A 55-year-old shipping clerk was stabbed to death Tuesday night in his home following a domestic argument. The victim was identified as John B. Samuel. His wife, Alice G. Samuel, 36, was arrested in connection with the slaying. Bible Carriers HAVANA (UPI) — The arrest of 31 "counter-revolutionaries" alleged to be in the service of the U. S. Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) was announced today. The announcement coincided with the start of a trial of 53 Baptists, including two Americans, on charges by Premier Fidel Castro they were "Bible-carrying CIA men." Sales Increased JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Winn-Dixie stores announced today sales increased $35.80 million at its 600 southern supermarkets during the 44-week period ending May 1. The company said the sales for the more recent period totaled $774.25 million, compared with $738.09 million for the same period ending a year ago. This was an increase of 4.81 per cent. Rail Merger CHICAGO (UPI) — Stockholders of the Milwaukee Road and Union Pacific railroads voted to merge their lines respectively with the North Western and Rock Island railroads. Pay Hike Asked For Military WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson asked Congress to vote a pay increase for military personnel and civilian government employees. It would cost $833 million a year, beginning next Jan. 1. The President proposed these average increases: —3 per cent in federal civilian salaries. —4.8 per cent in compensation of all uniform personnel except enlisted personnel with less than two years of service. —2.7 per cent in base pay for enlisted men and women with less than two years' service. More GI Troops Land At Saigon SAIGON (UPI) — Nearly 1,400 U. S. Marines and 1,000 paratroopers landed in South Viet Nam today, raising U. S. military strength here to a record 45,000 men. There were indications, meanwhile, that the Viet Cong had suffered a costly defeat in the field. A Viet Cong force estimated in the thousands attacked and captured for seven hours the provincial town of Song Be, 75 miles northeast of Saigon Tuesday, in what was believed to be the prelude to a moon-son season Communist offensive.

Jax Woman Slain; Eskimo Is Sought

JACKSONVILLE (UPI)—A woman was beaten and then stabbed to death with an 11-inch butcher knife in the Florida room of her suburban home here late Tuesday night. The body of Mrs. Gladys Marie Hood, 43, was found lying in a pool of blood by her 16-year-old son, Ronald. The knife handle was protruding from her chest. Police and FBI agents immediately intensified their search for Albert Tahl, 26, accused rapist and murderer from California believed to be in North Florida. "We have nothing to connect this to him," said Detective Fred Petty. "But we're not ruling it out." Petty said that whoever committed the crime left a trail of blood out of the room, through a garage, over the lawn and through the gate of a chain link fence surrounding the house. A broken soft drink bottle and a cracked porcelain combination cigarette lighter ash tray were found beside the body. No motive could be established for the act immediately although nothing seemed to be missing from the house. Mrs. Hood's husband, Edsel Hood, is supervisor for a liquor concern and was reportedly out checking on a store at the time of the murder. The State Highway Patrol and the FBI were warned Tuesday to be on the lookout for Tahl, a round-faced part-Eskimo who is known to be armed. He is wanted in connection with the April 1 murder of a San Diego (Calif.) couple, the rape of a woman the same day in San Diego, and for questioning in the murder of a Dallas man April 26. D. K. Brown, chief of the Jacksonville FBI Bureau, described Tahl as "sadistic." He has crew cut hair and a tattoo of a flying dragon on his left arm. Tahl was last seen hitchhiking in Mobile, Ala., en route to Florida.

Free Car Check Offered By JCs

Free safety check for automobiles is being offered from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday by the Sanford-Seminole Jaycees, working in co-operation with the Sanford Police Department, the Seminole County Sheriff's Office and the Florida Highway Patrol. A checking station will be set up on the Jaycees grounds at Fourth Street and French Avenue. Drivers will be flagged in by law enforcement officers, although the check is not mandatory. Jaycees, under the direction of chairman Joseph Rogers, will examine cars for defective brakes, headlights, tail-lights, windshield wipers, high and low beams and other points.

County Asks Causeway Study

The State Road Department will be requested to do a feasibility report on realigning U.S. 17-92 across Lake Monroe. Seminole County Board of Commissioners voted unanimously to ask the state for the study which would route 17-92 from north of Orange City to the Enterprise Road through Deltona. At the lake, the highway would be routed over a four-lane causeway connecting with French Avenue in downtown Sanford. Cost of the four-lane and causeway is estimated in excess of $5 million with $3.5 million alone being expended on the Lake Monroe causeway. The commission took the action on the recommendation of John Krider, executive manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce. Krider said at the present time all traffic approaching Orange City on U.S. 17-92 is directed to I-4 because the present highway is substandard in this area. He also pointed out that $300 million bond issue includes four-lane U.S. 17 from Duval County to Satsuma in Putnam County. U.S. 17-92 already is four-lane from Orange City through Deland and U.S. 17 four-lane north through Lake Wales Springs. Krider said U.S. 17 now carries the Chesapeake Bay Causeway tunnels in Norfolk, Va. The route is a shortcut around Washington to Philadelphia and New York. Cost of four-lane U.S. 17-92 north of Orange City to the Enterprise Road and to the causeway would come from tolls and a pledge of secondary money. The new route also would be aligned to connect with a new access road to the proposed East Central Florida University near Oviedo. The County Commission has requested in its secondary road program a feasibility study of a causeway across Lake Jessup for a direct route to the school site.

Governor To Plead For Road Program

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Senate gave swift passage today to a $1.1 billion compromise general spending bill and sped it to the House, where similar approval is expected to complete legislative action on this major measure of the session. TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Haydon Burns will address a joint session of the Legislature Thursday to plead for passage of his $300 million highway construction bond program. The bill, which was approved by a Senate committee, has enough co-sponsors to pass both houses with no trouble. The measure also carries enough co-sponsors to allow it to be placed as an emergency measure for voter approval on the coming November general election ballot. A record $1.1 billion spending bill worked out in a joint conference committee comes up for Senate approval this afternoon and could possibly reach the House floor late today. The bill, product of a House-Senate conference committee which worked through last weekend, is the highest in Florida history and represents a $7.5 million increase over the Senate's original bill and an $11.5 million hike over the House version. The House, if the Senate takes fast action on the biennial spending bill, could begin deliberating on the measure at its afternoon meeting. While the House waited for the compromise spending bill, which included about everything both chambers wanted and more, the Dale County delegation was mustering support to kill a bill that would create three separate counties out of populous and rich Dale. The bill was introduced by Duval Reps. George Stallings and Lynwood Arnold and it triggered an explosive protest from the Dale delegation, which threatened to oppose the Governor's $300 million highway construction bond program if the Dale splitting bill was okayed. Miami Beach and Hialeah, whose mayors are outspoken opponents of Dale's metro government, would become "Miami Beach County" and "Kennedy County" if the bill is approved. The compromise spending bill contained several surprises. Among them was a provision that authorizes the general phasing out of Florida A & M's Law School.

City Firemen Make 3 Runs

Sanford Fire Department answered three calls Tuesday and early today. Minor damage was reported in the Seminole County Laundry Tuesday when lint ignited a broiler. Firemen were at the scene for about 40 minutes. The department also extinguished a grass fire at 16th and Elm at 2 p.m. Tuesday and were called to an automobile fire at 12:55 a.m. today at 25th and Park. The car's motor and wiring was damaged.

Voting Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Chairman Emanuel Celler (D-N. Y.), of the House judiciary committee hoped to complete work today on the House version of the voting rights bill.

Russ Probe Moon Landing

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union announced its unmanned 14-ton space probe would reach the moon's surface at 10:15 p.m. (3:15 p.m. EDT) today. A successful "soft" landing would give the Russians a four-month lead over the United States in the moon race. The probe, known as the Luna 5, has been streaking toward the moon for two days. The Russians said they would try soft landing techniques as opposed to previous probes when space vehicles crashed into the moon. The probe is to send back signals from the landing site "in the area of the Sea of Clouds." The Russian probe is to send back signals from the landing site "in the area of the Sea of Clouds." The Russian announcements were enough to confirm speculation that the mission of the Luna 5 was more ambitious than anything yet attempted by the United States in the race to put a man on the moon. CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—A successful soft landing on the moon by Russia's Luna 5 probe today would give the Soviet Union more than a four-month lead over the United States. America's first attempt to land a spacecraft gently on the lunar surface is now scheduled for early October. The initial U. S. lunar lander, the first of four Project Surveyor test models, will weigh about 2,250 pounds—a half ton less than Russia's Luna 5—and will carry no scientific instruments. But Surveyor-1 will be equipped with two television cameras—one to photograph the moon during the craft's approach and the other to scan the lunar landscape after landing. Three later Surveyors, set for launch in 1967, will carry a third camera and a full complement of scientific equipment to sample and analyze the moon's crust, detect moonquakes, count meteoroids and measure the hardness of the moon's surface. The United States moved ahead in moon exploration with three successful Ranger television probes that produced a total of 17,259 unique pictures of the lunar surface. The last in the series, Ranger-9, hit within 2.7 miles of its pinpoint target in the crater Alphonsus on March 24. Rangers' photographs, which were made available to Soviet scientists, showed that the moon is smooth enough for lunar landings. But it is up to Surveyor, and possibly Luna 5, to see if the lunar surface is hard enough.

Bigger, Better 'Fun Fair' Slated July 5 By Lions Club

Plans for a "bigger and better" Lions Club Fun Fair on July 5 at Fort Mallon Park were announced Tuesday by George Hughes, general chairman of the annual event.

Hughes explained that the fair will be held on July 5 because July 4 falls on Sunday this year. Monday will be the holiday.

Highlights of the Fun Fair will be the fireworks display and Hughes said he plans "lots more than we have had before." Other activities includes games, rides and concession stands.

One of the more serious events of the day will be the vision screening booth, where all may have their eyes tested free. This was held last year for the first time and proved very popular, though more than half failed the test.

Testing is accomplished with the use of a machine called the Titmus Vision Screener, which the Lions Club bought and presented to the Seminole County Health Department for use in testing eyes of school children. This year the club plans to buy a second machine so twice as many tests can be given.

Dr. Richard Dougherty, chairman of the eye-testing booth, said the test is invaluable in discovering eye defects, but emphasized that it does not test for glaucoma.

He said that this year his committee is making plans to use an air-conditioned van to overcome the heat problem that made testing work and waiting in line uncomfortable for workers and customers last year.

Nurses from the Seminole County Health Department again have volunteered their services to conduct the tests, Dr. Dougherty said.

DCT Pays Off For SHS Pupils, Lions Club Told

Fitting the right person in the right job largely accounts for the success of the Diversified Co-operative Training program conducted at Seminole High School for the past 10 years, Co-ordinator Louis Girard told members of the Lions Club Tuesday.

This is accomplished by extensive testing, research in the student worker's background and counseling to accumulate a "portfolio" which forms a "profile," Girard said. It is then the job of the co-ordinator to find the employment that fits the student's abilities and talents and provides him with progressive training.

"We will sacrifice a high paying position for one which offers a good training program," Girard noted.

He described various kinds of testing for aptitude and career preferences and potentials. Many of these tests are those which are used by the Florida State Employment Service.

"We have found this program of job training to be 93 per cent effective and the DCT program is spreading over the state. There now are nearly 4,000 DCT students in Florida, the co-ordinator declared.

Girard explained the difference in the terms DCT, DE and CBE, noting that Diversified Co-operative Training, (DCT) includes all phases of employment from secretaries to mechanics; Distributive Education (DE) involves only training in salesmanship, and Co-operative Business Education (CBE) involves only office occupations.

Installation Scheduled By Garden Circle

By Maryann Miles

Bear Lake Garden Circle will install newly elected officers at a 1 p.m. luncheon Saturday at the Quality Motor Inn located on SR 50 in Orlando.

Installed by the outgoing chairman, Mrs. C. L. Brunk, will be Mrs. Richard Ostrander, chairman; Mrs. Vernon Herrington, co-chairman; Mrs. Vernon Gleaves, first vice president; Mrs. Clyde Jones, second vice president; Mrs. Allen Ford, recording secretary, and Mrs. Albert Jacobs, treasurer.

The circle was represented at the recent Garden Club Convention held in Tampa by Mrs. Brunk and at Monday's President's Luncheon in Orlando by Mrs. Brunk and Mrs. Jacobs.

A membership drive will be conducted by the group at regular meeting scheduled for 8 p.m. next Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Jacobs, 1338 Lake Asher Circle, Bear Lake. Any woman in the area interested in garden club work is invited to attend this meeting. Further information about the circle may be secured by calling Mrs. Brunk or Mrs. Jacobs.

Dade Division Aim Of Measure

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A bill to divide rich and populous Dade County into three parts was scheduled for introduction in the Legislature today by two Jacksonville representatives.

Rep. George Stallings, of Duval, a powerful house member, said his bill would make separate counties out of Miami Beach and Hialeah and "leave an anemic metro to die of malnutrition."

The bill is cosponsored by Rep. Lynnwood Arnold, also of Duval County.

To Visit Ghana

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko will visit Ghana at the invitation of President Kwame Nkrumah.

Funeral Notices

EAST, MRS. ROBERTA A. — Funeral services for Mrs. Roberta A. East, 83, who died Monday, will be held Friday at 8 p.m. at the Hixson Funeral Home in Washington, D. C. Burial will be in Washington Memorial Park, Gramkow Funeral Home, Sanford, in charge of arrangements, forwarded the body today.

COLLINS, MRS. GWENDOLYN P. — Funeral services for Mrs. Gwendolyn P. Collins, who died Tuesday, will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday at Hixson Funeral Home with Rev. Grover C. Howell officiating. Graveside services and burial will take place at 2 p.m. Thursday at Oaklawn Cemetery, Jacksonville. Hixson Funeral Home in charge.

Former Resident Expires Tuesday

Mrs. Gwendolyn P. Collins, 59, of 9 South Ohio Street, Ocala, died Tuesday afternoon in an Orlando hospital.

A resident of Sanford for 20 years prior to moving to Ocala seven years ago, she was a member of First Presbyterian Church of Ocala.

Survivors are her husband, Alva L. Collins, of Ocala; one daughter, Mrs. I. E. Estridge III, of Sanford; one son, Alva L. Collins Jr., of Durham, N. C.; two brothers, E. B. and L. L. Peterson, both of Jacksonville, and one sister, Mrs. O. L. Brandenburger, of Mc Leon, Va.

Hixson Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Dress Revue Winners Named

Twenty-nine girls of Seminole County 4-H Clubs participated in the annual revue held by the pool at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lommer, Longwood.

The entries, modeling their own outfits, formed a moving line around the lighted pool's edge with each pausing before the table of judges, Mrs. John Martin, Mrs. Jo Anna Dubois and Mrs. Kathryn Malloy, all of Sanford. Garments shown included shorts, skirts, slacks, casual and party dresses, beach wear, aprons, and sleep wear.

Winners, announced by Mrs. H. L. Johnson, county 4-H chairman, were Cindy Toyles of Longwood, junior division. These girls received a cash award enabling them to attend 4-H summer camp in July.

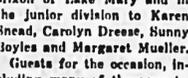

Second place winners, who each won a pair of dressmaker shears, were Frances Cammack of Geneva, senior division, and Marilyn Dreese of the Seminole Club, junior division.

Honorable mention in senior division went to Wanda Mixon of Lake Mary and in the junior division to Karen Snead, Carolyn Dreese, Sunny Boyles and Margaret Mueller.

Guests for the occasion, including many of the parents, were welcomed by Miss Myrtle Wilson, county home demonstration agent and 4-H leader.

Refreshments of cookies and cold drinks were served at close of the program.

Were a U.S. president to submit his resignation, he would have to notify the secretary of state.

Pair Sentenced In Citrus Case

C. R. Lowdermilk and Alva Tyndall Hall were sentenced Monday by Judge Volle A. Williams to end the lengthy case of citrus swindle.

Lowdermilk, an Altamonte Springs citrus dealer, was sentenced to 15 years on probation and ordered to pay Hi-Acres, Inc., $11,978.20. The money must be repaid within 90 days, including six per cent interest dating from May 28, 1962.

Hall, former Department of Agriculture citrus inspector, was sentenced to 25 years on probation, and ordered to repay Hi-Acres $9,000, paying 10 per cent of his pay until the debt is satisfied.

Hall, as inspector, upped the price on Lowdermilk's citrus by 30 cents per box, and the two split the hike. Hi-Acres estimated they lost $250,000 in the swindle.

Swimming Pools Open Saturday

Sanford's two municipal swimming pools will open Saturday on a weekend basis.

The City Recreation Department announced today that the pools will be open each weekend for public swimming until June 5 when they will open on a fulltime basis. The pools will stay open through Labor Day.

In addition to public swimming, the Recreation Department will offer beginning swim lessons June 7-25 for children six years old and up.

Night swimming hours will be in effect each Monday through Friday until 9 p.m. during the summer.

The weekend schedule will be Saturday from 9 a.m. until noon and from 1:30 to 5:30 p.m. and Sunday from 1:30 to 5:30 p.m.

There will be no change in ticket fees.

Roberta A. East Succumbs At 83

Mrs. Roberta A. East, 83, of 254 Rosalia Drive, died Monday night at a local nursing home.

She came here in August, 1964, from Washington, D. C. She was a Baptist.

Survivors are a sister, Mrs. Elsie M. Leonard, of Sanford, and two grandchildren.

Gramkow Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

County Commission To Meet Weekly

Seminole County Board of Commissioners Tuesday voted to meet every week instead of twice monthly.

Chairman John R. Alexander said the action was taken so the commissioners could handle the county's business more rapidly.

The commission will meet Tuesday, May 18, and every Tuesday thereafter at 9 a.m. at the courthouse.

In other action at Tuesday's meeting, the board again postponed action on a resolution supporting the Economic Opportunity Act.

The board is awaiting an investigation of other counties' participation and support before drawing up its resolution. County Attorney Harold Johnson is making the inquiry.

The commission took under advisement a request from the Seminole County Humane Society for funds and appointment of Paul Jenkins as county animal welfare officer. The Society asked the county to pay $3,200 for a shelter construction, for $3,600 annually and for a panel truck.

Commissioner John Fitzpatrick was reappointed to the Orange-Seminole Planning Commission's policy committee and J. C. Lavender, William Bush, Robert Brown, A. K. Shoemaker Jr. and Jack Goodin were named to the technical committee.

In other action the board: Approved a request from Southern Gulf Utilities Company to utilize rights-of-way along Rantoul Lane and Highland Court for a water line.

Voted emergency maintenance to Lamar Avenue in the Earl Lake Heights area.

Voted to take in for County Road maintenance Arden Street in the Sandlago area. A petition was presented the board requesting the action.

Continued until June 8 an appeal on a zoning board decision disapproving rezoning from R1 to R21 in the Palm Shadows subdivision.

Agreed to participate in construction of a sidewalk extension along SR 436 in Forest City. The sidewalk will be extended about 400 feet to the Florida Living Retirement Community.

Local Legion Unit Wins Honors

Honors won by American Legion Auxiliary, Unit 53, of Sanford, at the Constitutional Conference were reported at the unit's May meeting at the Legion Home with Mrs. Margie Tillis, first vice president, presiding.

Mrs. Minnie Pezold, local president, was awarded a trophy for "President of the Year." Mrs. D. Webster received a membership trophy and a four-star medal and Mrs. Olga Hunter was presented a picture of Costa Rica for her winning essay on Pan-American countries. Awards and citations also were received by the unit for their care, rehabilitation, achievement, national security, and community service. Devotional for the meeting was given by Mrs. T. N. Dillard and a memorial service was conducted by Mrs. Hazel Field, memorial chairman, for three departed members.

New members initiated during the evening were Mrs. Polly Kuykendall, Mrs. Dolores Smith, Mrs. Sophie Bryan, Mrs. Annie Mae Stokes and Mrs. H. L. Johnson. Welcomed into the junior auxiliary were the Misses N. and S. Morgan and Laura Jo Garrett.

It was announced that the auxiliary will sponsor P. Stenstrom, Stephany Westgate and K. Westbrook at Girls State this year. Mrs. Ruth Smith, poppy day chairman, reported that $306 was received during the recent two-day sale.

New officers of the auxiliary will be installed June 21 in combined ceremonies with the Post following a covered dish supper with the auxiliary to provide baked ham as the main course.

A letter was read from Mrs. Minnie Stiles, who is on a tour of Europe.

Hostesses for the evening, Mrs. Ina Galloway, Mrs. D. Newsome and Mrs. Johnson, served refreshments of ice cream punch, coffee, and cake.

INSTALLATION of officers for the Longwood Extension Homemakers Club was conducted at the May meeting. Participating were (seated from left) Mrs. Frank Steudle, president; Mrs. M. L. Tinsley, installing officer; Mrs. Felix Mege, past president; (standing) Mrs. Velvet Jacobs, first vice president; Mrs. R. D. Wesley, alternate delegate; Mrs. Charles Crowell, delegate; Mrs. Frances Setje, secretary, and Mrs. Robert Westmark, second vice president. Mrs. E. P. Richards is treasurer.

Weekend Food Supplies Said In Abundance

The following guide to the nation's food buys for the weekend was prepared by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and Interior for United Press International.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A colorful selection of fresh fruits and vegetables, along with abundant supplies of meat and poultry await weekend food shoppers.

Fresh vegetable bins are brimming with spring asparagus, green beans, carrots, celery, corn on the cob, cucumbers, lettuce, onions and spinach.

Among the fresh fruits are plenty of bananas, grapefruit, oranges, strawberries and late spring watermelons.

Meat specials will feature beef roasts and steaks for the outdoor grill, pork chops and roasts and broiler-fryer chickens. Also tops in protein buys are eggs, canned pink and chum salmon as well as frozen fish sticks and fish portions.

The doctrine of Dadaism is the suppression of all relation between thought and expression in art and literature. Creeping mystic, or ground ivy, once was believed to be a cure for snakebite, intestinal trouble and envy.

Rummage Sale

Women's Society of Christian Service of St. Paul's Church, Fern Park, will hold a rummage sale Wednesday through Saturday at Fern Park Plaza Shopping Center. Sale hours are from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Others present were Mrs. Crawford Shelton, Mrs. C. N. North, Mrs. M. P. Matheson, Mrs. J. A. Varn, and one guest, Mrs. Harold Cory, of Eustis.

Hints On Children-And-Money

A major problem for parents in raising children is teaching them how to handle money.

Some helpful advice for parents of children of all ages is contained in a comprehensive new booklet, "What You Should Tell Your Child About Money." The booklet is available to the public without charge at the First Federal Savings and Loan Association.

District WSCS Training Day Set Thursday

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of Trinity Methodist Church, Palatka, will host a Leadership Training Day Thursday for all officers of the WSCS in the 39 Methodist churches in the DeLand District.

Mrs. Don Coward, Crescent City, district president, urges all officers, especially those newly elected, to attend this training session in order to take advantage of instruction in the various lines of work in the society.

Registration will begin at 9:30 a. m. with the program of instruction to take place from 10 until 12:30.

Those attending should bring a sandwich lunch. A nursery will be provided.

Church Meeting

Hear Lake Methodist Church will have an official board meeting at 8 p.m. today at the church. The Commission on Education will meet immediately following the board meeting.

The primary purpose of an allowance is to teach a child to live within a fixed income, which most people have to do all of their lives.

A child should have latitude to make mistakes in things he buys. Each child is an individual with his own rate of development. Parents shouldn't expect more of a child than he is prepared to handle at his particular stage of development.

Stinginess with money is to be avoided just as is the other extreme, recklessness.

NORTH ORLANDO Ball Field will be the scene of three Little League games each Saturday morning until mid-June. Here at bat is North Orlando Farm Team first baseman Jimmy Walters, with Casselberry's Richard Randall catching and Warren Donat of Longwood calling balls and strikes. Leroy Robb Blanks Kingswood To Enter Tie For League Lead

Leroy Robb Construction moved into a first place tie with Kingswood last night by shutting out the Builders, 2-0, behind the three hit pitching of Otto Thomas and the glove work of the Robb's defense.

Robb scored twice in the first inning and that finished the scoring for both teams. Thomas, displaying complete control over Kingswood throughout the game, allowed only one runner past first base and pitched hitless ball for the last four and one-third innings.

Robb had eight safeties with Donnie Sapp getting two to lead all hitters. Don Griffin and Rick Sires had back-to-back triples in the first inning for the winners.

In other softball play, Panning Lumber outlasted USO, 12-1, in a game that produced 28 runs, 39 hits and 11 errors.

Soup Helms topped all batters with four singles in four appearances at the plate for Panning. Don Smith, Shorly Jehrens and Mossil Helms each had three hits to pace the hitting attack of the victors.

Frank Richards, Tom King, Terry Emerson and Tony Nevstich each collected three hits for USO.

The win put Panning in a two way tie with Kilowatts, one game out of first place.

The Knights of Columbus clinched the first half Church League championship and won their 8th & ninth games in a row last night by winning two games, beating Pinecrest Assembly 18-2 in the first outing and taking the Church of God 19-3 in the second contest.

Nick Constantine was credited with the pitching decisions in both games. Bill Coleman lead the Knights in the first game, against Pinecrest, hanging out four hits. Ray Pivec chipped in three hits. Ed Benson lead the losers with four-for-four.

In the second game, Ray Pivec, Larry Pivec and Dan Simon hit homers for the Church Champs - all homers coming in the third inning. Simon and Fred Galletta were top hitters with three hits apiece.

The first half in the Church League won't be completed until May 26th but the Knights have wrapped up the title. They are the only club playing .500 ball or better.

The Junior League teams were idle yesterday but will resume play with two games today.

The Little League Winners yesterday were First Federal in the National and Navy in the American.

Navy, last year's Little American League champion, got off to a shaky start this season, losing their first three games, but have now bounced back to win five of their last and are only one game out of first place. Navy is tied for second place with the team they defeated last night, Strickland Morrison 12-11.

Scott Harris, the winning pitcher, was top hitter with four hits in as many official times at bat. Andy Nichols contributed three doubles. The game was tied going into the last inning, 11-11. David Bash singled home Steve Russell with the winning run.

First Federal knocked off Quality Mobile Homes, 9-3. Nicky Brady received credit for the victory via his pitching performance. He struck out eight. John McClannahan homered for Federal. Howard Whelchel starred at the plate with two hits, including a triple, and Al Grooms came through with two singles to pace the winners.

First Federal, tied for second place with Locomotive Engineers, one-half game behind league leading Chase, will be looking on this afternoon as Chase and Locomotive meet headon at Bay Avenue Park in one of the top games of the day.

The Panning Lumber-Kingswood game tonight at 7:30 at Ft. Mellon Park is the top game under the lights today.

Meets Tonight

The DeBary Fishing Club will meet tonight at 7:30 at the Fire Recreation Hall on Coloma Road. Elmer Thompson will show a colored film, "Tampa Tarpon Tournament." The public is invited to attend.

Dedication To Game Kills Little League Father

ATLANTA (UPI) - Little League baseball probably has more active boosters than any other sport - and probably more criticism.

There are a lot of folks who can give you a whole half of reasons why little league is bad for the boys: too much emphasis on winning, parents expecting too much of their sons - that sort of thing.

But just about everywhere there is a little open ground, there is a little league field and at each you can find a couple hundred devout fans any evening you care to check.

There are currently, some three million youngsters between the ages of 8 and 12 playing little league ball and the total attendance across the nation for the season, while there's no official count, has to top attendance for any other sport you can name.

While there are those who insist that fathers play too active a role in little league, it's hard to see how the boys could get along without them - as coaches, umpires, groundkeepers and just about any other chore imaginable.

For every father who gets into the limelight as a coach, there are several who pitch in behind the scenes.

This was A. W. (Al) Holland, a stocky 39-year-old father with two sons playing little league baseball.

Holland wanted only one thing out of little league. He wanted his sons, and all the other boys, to have a chance to learn and play baseball.

If there was dirt to be shoveled or stands to be built, Holland was always there.

It was this willingness to help that found Holland at the North Dekalb Little League Park in Doraville, an Atlanta suburb, last Friday night while final touches were being made for the opening games the next day.

All was in readiness with one exception. The flagpole, packed away carefully during the winter months, had to be put up so that the league could have the traditional flag ceremony on opening day.

Holland had a tight grip on the tall metal pole when it accidentally brushed against a high voltage wire.

The North Dekalb Little League is opening this Saturday - a week late.

Instead of the usual festivities that accompany the opening of a little league season, there will be a sober memorial service during which the ball park will be named "A. W. Holland Field."

There was talk after Holland died of calling off the little league season.

"I spent two weeks vacation working on that field, but now I don't believe I could walk through that gate," one man said.

But a close friend insisted Holland would have been the last to want the season cancelled.

"I can almost hear him now," he said. "If Al Holland were allowed two words for us, they would be - 'Play ball.'"

'This Is Forever'; Yogi Retires Again

NEW YORK (UPI)—Yogi Berra, a born comedian, was not playing this one for laughs. "This is forever," he mumbled.

With those words, Berra formally announced his retirement as a player Tuesday night on the eve of his 40th birthday in the private office of Mets manager Casey Stengel.

Sitting there on a black leather couch, with his hair rumpled and only a towel around his midriff after the Mets dropped a 4-3 decision to the Cardinals, Yogi groped for words in trying to explain what made him quit.

"Laying off a whole year hurt," he said, referring to last season when he managed the Yankees and didn't play in a single game.

"I always felt when a guy can't hit the ball any more he might as well hang up his hat. I don't think my reflexes are good anymore. It's tough to play once a week. After I catch, I ache. My legs are still okay but it gets me here when I try to play."

Berra reached behind his back and pointed to the general region of his vertebrae.

Nervously he puffed on a cigarette as Casey broke in occasionally to point out Berra had given it the old college try since signing on with the Mets.

Yogi said he made up his mind to quit as a player and remain with the Mets as a coach last Saturday.

Tough Decision Seen To Choose Lyman Gridders

By Jim Bacchus
Herald Sports Writer

Coach Dick Copeland of Lyman has been working with about 30 boys during the past week in Greyhounds' annual spring football drills and it looks as though he is going to have a hard time deciding who will perform on his varsity grid squad this fall.

Only a few boys are assured of a position on Copeland's team for 1965 at this time although 15 lettermen are returning from last year's squad.

Copeland put it this way: "We're looking for the boys who want to play football. If a boy hits hard and shows a lot of desire, we feel like we can teach him the rest."

Copeland has been drilling his charges on defensive procedure and the basic fundamentals of the game during the last few days.

Assisting him are Tom Barnes, Jim Farley and Dick Silvers of Lyman, and Jim Clark of South Seminoles.

Dusty Boots Horse Program Slated Sunday

By Margaret Cosby

The Dusty Boots Riding Association announces that plans for the next gymkhana scheduled for 1 p. m. Sunday at the rodeo arena on Onora Road near Sanford are well underway.

"An exceptionally large turnout is expected at this show," states President Howard Lloyd, "since it will be the final show in the series of six in which riders have been vying for the two-foot tall Mitchell Trailers junior and senior six-month high point trophies. We hope the public will come to see this fine display of horsemanship."

Top contenders in the senior division are Jack Kelley, 91 points, and Don Knight, 88 points, both from Cocoa. Van Stuart from Sanford holds third place with 80 points.

In the junior division, Orlandoan Valorie Alfred has a tight rein on first place with 94 points followed by Christine Copeland, 74 points, also from Orlando. Following is Evert Shoemaker from Cocoa with 60 points.

Jimmy Miller's 1-Hitter Awards Casselberry Win Over Lake Mary

By Jim Bacchus
Herald Sports Writer

Jimmy Miller of the Casselberry Indians hurled a one-hitter last night defeating the Lake Mary Giants, 11-3, in South Seminoles Senior League play at Cooper Field in Casselberry.

The only hit he allowed in the contest was a second-inning single by Ricky Bucklew. The Giants scored their three runs on walks and errors.

Casselberry pounded Lake Mary pitching for 14 hits in the game. Miller, the pitcher, paced the Tribe assault with three singles. Chuck Dowell belted a pair of doubles. Wayne Stophel rapped a single and a double, and Donald Shay and Leonard Hollis each had a pair of singles for Casselberry. Ken Buth, Jim Lucas and Ronnie Skeen also hit safely for the Tribe.

Terry Baker pitched Casselberry to the victory in the Little League game, 6-1, allowing only one hit to Lake Mary.

Earlier in the season Baker pitched a no-hitter and he would have duplicated his effort last night had not Lake Mary's Mike Smith singled in the first inning. He struck out eight Giants during the six inning game.

The Indians scored a trio of runs in each of the first two innings, though they managed only two hits.

Larry Cote singled across two runs in the first frame and Doug Kauble added a single in the following round.

Broilers Take DeBary Kegling

The DeBary Spare-Ribbers Friday Bowling results at the DeLand Lanes were: Broiled and Loin Team shut out the Lean and Bar-B-Ques, 4-0. Tough, Fats, Scrap and Tender Teams took three out of four games from the Rib, Porkie, Baked and Braise Teams, Cracked and Never Better split their four games.

Ellsworth Ogden had High Three Games with 519; Harry Raup, 531, and Ed Walters, 511. Ed Walters had the High Single Game of 211, followed by Harry Raup with 202 and Archie Long with 199.

Friday was the last day of the season and Broiled Team won the league championship with Tough Team in second place and Fats in third, followed by Never Better in fourth, Cracked Team in fifth and Braise in sixth.

Rookie Proves Yankee Rescuer

By George C. Langford
UPI Sports Writer

In case you're wondering who Ray Barker is, the New York Yankees have the answer.

Barker is the 1965 version of the Yankee rescuer, a position filled by such as Johnny Mize, Enos Slaughter, Johnny Sain, Luis Arroyo and Pedro Ramos in years past.

He is a 10-year minor league veteran who figured he was destined to return to the minors two days ago before the Cleveland Indians traded him to the limping Yanks.

Tuesday night, Baker, a 29-year-old rookie first baseman who had not delivered a major league hit in 12 previous at-bats, started his first big league game. He doubled home one run, singled, scored a run and set up another as the Yankees defeated Boston 5-3.

In other American League games, Baltimore trimmed Cleveland 3-2 in 11 innings, Detroit edged Washington 7-6 and Minnesota nipped Los Angeles 3-2 in the only games scheduled.

In the National League, San Francisco blanked Chicago 3-0, Houston slipped by Los Angeles 2-1, Pittsburgh beat Milwaukee 4-3, Cincinnati beat Philadelphia 9-1 and St. Louis up-ended New York 4-3.

Barker is the boy at the dike for the Yankees at present, although he doesn't figure to play often when Roger Maris rejoins the team next week. He represents another in a long list of castoffs who suddenly have blossomed when dressed in a Yankee uniform.

"When Birdie Tebbetta (Cleveland's manager) called me into his office Monday, I thought they were sending me back to the minors," Barker said. "I'm just glad to be here."

Doc Edwards, another recent Yankee acquisition from Kansas City, and Mickey Mantle homered behind the pitching of Mel Stottlemyre, who scattered eight hits, including a home run by Carl Yastrzemski. Earl Wilson was the loser.

"All I said was: Show me a filter that delivers the taste and I'll eat my hat."

Who in the world seals the bottom? Volkswagen.

Here's a side of the VW that few people know about: the underside. It is completely enclosed, and sealed with rubber to make it practically airtight. So, there are reports it will float! But here's a more useful advantage: a VW sloshes through water that brings other traffic to a standstill.

On most cars, control wires and cables are left exposed. But notice how flat and smooth the VW bottom is. No hollow pockets and hanging parts to trap air and slow you down. Less drag. Better gas mileage. A VW depreciates less than any other car because less can happen to it.

The Volkswagen's heater and defroster are part of the chassis, built into it and therefore included in our price: $1,595*top to bottom.

Sanford Nixes Exemption Plan

A proposed constitutional amendment to exempt certain manufacturing plants in Seminole County from all taxation for a period of 10 years beginning Jan. 1, 1967 was disapproved by Sanford City Commissioners as being "too broad in its coverage."

The amendment proposed that industrial plants engaged in the manufacture of pharmaceutical, electronic, industries producing missile components, refrigeration, light aluminum products, electrical products, industrial research and food processing, including by-products or derivatives incident in the manufacturing of any of the above listed products, shall be exempt from all taxation until the year 1976.

The exemption is to extend to all taxation — municipal, county and state, including both tangible and intangible and real estate taxation. City Manager W. E. Knowles told The Herald that a copy of the proposal was handed to him by A. B. Peterson Jr. Peterson, who was reported to be confined to Seminole Memorial Hospital, was unavailable for comment today.

Straughn, director of the Florida Revenue Commission, said today.

Collections for this past April totaled $112,899.57 compared to $100,354.38 a year ago.

A total of 1,612,851 gallons of gasoline were sold in the county during last April. Sales tax collections were up only a fraction over 1964, according to the Revenue Commission. Sales tax take for this past April was $108,022.32 compared to $108,517.48 for a year ago.

April sales taxes were up considerably from March, however. The March collections were $98,825.82.

In distribution of the gasoline tax, $41,228.30 will be returned to Seminole County.

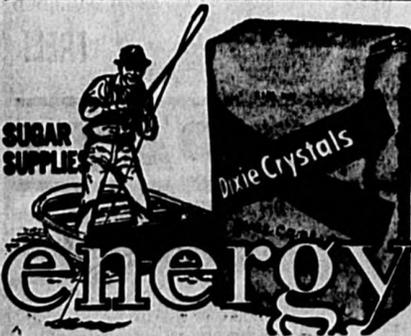

Marker Change Denied By City

Future of the granite monument at Second Street and Mellonville Avenue which marks the site of old Fort Mellen (sic) apparently was never in doubt as Sanford City Commissioners Monday night moved quickly to deny the request that it be removed as a "traffic hazard."

Dr. A. W. Epps Jr., who had requested that the historic monument be removed, did not appear at the commission meeting but a delegation from Sallie Harrison Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, who erected the marker, was present.

LAND BRIDGE LOCATION—Newly issued Department of Interior map shows location of Bering Land Bridge (shaded area), which both American and Soviet scientists believe connected Alaska and Siberia about 11 or 12 thousand years ago. It's believed that Stone Age ancestors of the American Indians pursued game into Alaska and became the first explorers of North America. Enormous quantities of water, that had been stored on land in the form of continental glaciers, finally swept over the land bridge to divide Alaska and Siberia. Map was released as result of recent explorations by separate teams of Russian and American scientists.

Story Of The U. S. Flirtation That Fizzled

By Ray Crowley
WASHINGTON (NEA) — This is the story of the U. S. flirtation with exiled President Juan Bosch, in whose name the Dominican revolt was started.

After dictator Rafael Trujillo was assassinated in 1961 the United States, with naval Juan Bosch ships patrolling off the island, prevented the Trujillo sons from returning to take power. Then Washington pushed for elections.

There were two principal candidates in the December 1962 elections, Vitorio Fiallo, a conservative business candidate, and the erratic writer-exile Bosch. In the middle of the campaign, Bosch wanted to withdraw from the race. U. S. officials talked to him, persuaded him to stay in. They thought an election with only one candidate would look rigged.

To everyone's surprise, Bosch won. An enthusiastic President Kennedy sent Vice President Lyndon Johnson to President Bosch's inauguration in February 1963 to show that the United States was solidly behind the Bosch government. The aircraft carrier Boxer was stationed off the coast of Santo Domingo as a further reminder of U. S. backing, to insure there would be no trouble during the inauguration and to block any attempt to stop Bosch from taking office.

Kennedy made it clear to Sanford Women Get Degree In Moose

Five co-workers of Sanford Chapter 1404, Women of the Moose, received degrees during the Academy of Friendship session held Sunday in Miami Beach as part of the two-day Ritual Training session.

In the group were Emma Bashara, Elsie Lacey, Edna Meshotto, Eloise Small, and Emma Willis. Attending with the Sanford group and also receiving her degree was Sadie Troehl, co-worker of the Ravens, Ohio, Chapter. Gold friendship rings will be presented in the impressive Ring Ceremony to be conducted for Sanford's June 14 chapter meeting by Orlando Chapter 1002.

Other local members attending the weekend meeting were Charlotte Carlson and Eva Moore.

Business Briefs

A method of incorporating high degrees of gloss and whiteness in an easy-to-apply latex base paint has been perfected by the company he represents, according to Sid Morrison, Mary Carter paint dealer whose store is located at 208 West First Street.

"The new product, called Rol-Glo, was field-tested over the past two years with highly satisfactory results," the local paint dealer said. "and home painters in this area are now showing great interest in our in-store demonstration of the unique paint."

Bosch that the United States intended to make the Dominican Republic under his administration the show place of the Caribbean.

Bosch asked that John Bartlow Martin be appointed ambassador to his government as a man who "understood" him. Kennedy agreed.

U. S. Ambassador Martin became perhaps Bosch's closest adviser. But no one could ever tell what the erratic Bosch would do next, officials here say. He was violently for something on Monday, against it on Tuesday. He would trust a man one day, distrust him completely the next. Some friends said he had a persecution complex.

Bosch had been a professor and a novelist. He'd been in exile for more than two decades. For years he was on the run from Trujillo assassins. Finally, men who know him say, he came to trust no one. He became convinced people were trying to do him in. He seemed, these men say, incapable of making any alliances or to work for very long with any group. He made no attempt to prevent Communist infiltration. He said the Reds would cause him no serious problems.

Bosch was overthrown eight months later after a fight with the military in which he, Bosch, said he would go to the Chamber of Deputies the next day and resign.

The military stole the initiative and carried through a coup they had been planning on-again, off-again for some time.

U. S. observers ranged the capital and other areas for signs of a popular feeling for Bosch's return. They talked to members of the Chamber of Deputies, to trade union, student, business and military leaders and to the key men of the 16 or so political parties in the republic.

The found a great deal of criticism for the coup but very little interest in wanting Bosch back. Bosch didn't seem very popular after eight months in office.

If these American officials had seen the sign of a popular movement for Bosch, if people had taken to the streets to protest for his return, some U. S. observers then working on the problem believe that the United States would have been prepared to send a naval ship or two to put Bosch back in the presidency.

But, these men say, there was no base on which the United States could act. Since there was no marching in the streets, Washington could not even justify sending ships to protect American citizens.

There were reports at the time in U. S. official circles immediately after the coup that the United States had a naval ship standing by ready to leave for the Dominican Republic.

Says one U. S. official concerned with the problem at the time: "President Kennedy was madder than . . . but there was nothing he could do."

Some days after he was ousted, Bosch did ask the United States to intervene in his behalf, but by then the United States had decided the situation was hopeless.

Skip a few years more of Bosch exile and come to the military revolt of April 1965 by men who say they were attempting to put Bosch back into power.

Some officials here say this revolt might have turned out differently if Bosch personally had moved in right away, instead of sitting in Puerto Rico keeping in touch with things by telephone.

These officials say that Washington, under those circumstances, u n d o u b t e d l y would have backed Bosch as the last legally elected president.

This backing, they believe, would have come despite Bosch's serious weaknesses.

would have served as an example to the rest of Latin American that military revolutions which oust duly elected presidents do not pay off. They can not last but inevitably begin to divide from within.

Graduates Honored At Luncheon

Mrs. Harold H. Sherwood was hostess Saturday, at a luncheon held at the Orchid House in DeLand honoring the Misses Pam Patterson and Kristi Schilke. Both girls are members of the 1965 graduating class at Seminole High School. The guests of honor received a gift of a pair of pajamas for use in college. The girls and their mothers also were presented with special blue and white carnation corsages.

All guests were seated at five tables decorated with black graduation hats and gold tassels with Pam and Kristi written on the tops in gold. Surrounding the hats were blue and white carnation corsages for each guest.

Nut cups, in the form of graduation hats, were filled with delicious home made mints. At all place settings were place cards of black alibonette caps and gowns and the names of the guests. Beside each place card was a lovely pearl brooch, in a leaf design. Each honor guest received a brooch in the shape of a full moon with solid pearls.

The three course luncheon was served surrounding the orchid gardens. It included salad, cream chicken in breads, parsley potatoes, creamed peas, hot rolls, drinks, and for dessert, creme de mint. Kristi wore a two-piece beige linen dress with matching accessories. Pam was dressed in a two-piece pink cotton sheath with matching pink straw hat.

SPACE REQUIREMENT
No matter who does the carving, he or she will need plenty of room! There's elbow room, room on the table as well as room on the platter which holds the roast. If there are any garnishes on the side of the carver where he works, it might be a good idea to remove these to a small plate before he starts.

Have the second helpings carved as they're needed. Sliced meat cools quickly, but the whole roast does not. What's more, he who carves will have an opportunity to eat after the first round of serving.

Guests at the luncheon in addition to the hostess and the guests of honor were Mrs. Carl Schilke and Mrs. L. T. Patterson, mothers of the girls, and the Misses Helen Mann, Karen Law, Diane Powell, Jolynda Sandon, Sherry Marazita, Linda Stapp, Carol Repp, Linda Mohr, Freddie Berryhill, Miriam Hearn, Muriel Hearn, Michelle Jones, Jeanette Davidson, Susanne Orseno, Linda Robson, and Peggy Creamer.

Ladies Society Plans Meeting Thursday

The May meeting of the Ladies Society of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen will be held this Thursday at the home of Mrs. Harold Keelins, in Flora Heights.

The meeting will start at 10:30 a.m. At the conclusion of the business session the group will go to the Tradewinds for lunch.

CELERY SNACK
Like to nibble on celery as a snack? It's even tastier when the celery's stuffed with one cup of ground leftover ham mixed with 1/2 cup grated carrot and 1/2 cup salad dressing.

North Orlando Garden Club Meets Thursday

An evening of pleasure is scheduled for the next meeting of the North Orlando Garden Club to be held this Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Billy Piloian, 11 North Bombay Avenue. Assisting her as hostess will be Mrs. Fred Wyman.

A slate was presented by the nominating committee at the April meeting and nominations will be received from the floor at this meeting with elections following.

Las Columbitas Plans Tea

The Las Columbitas will hold a tea instead of their regular monthly meeting on Wednesday, May 12, at 8 p.m. at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 2504 South Oak Avenue.

A special program has been planned and refreshments will be served. All wives of Knights who are not members of the Las Columbitas are cordially invited.

Party Fetes Miss Goembel

By Mrs. H. L. Johnson | Place on Highway 46 was the scene of a coke and chatter Don (Polly) Smith in Wilson party Saturday afternoon.

Miss Sandon Feted At Tea

A lovely graduation tea was held Wednesday afternoon in the Pinecrest home of Mrs. William Malickowski, honoring Miss Jo Lynda Sandon, a member of the 1965 graduating class of Seminole High School.

About 50 guests called during the appointed hours of 3:30 to 5 p.m. In the receiving line with the hostess was the honoree and her mother, Mrs. Kenneth M. Sandon.

Miss Sandon was attired in a lovely pale green sheath. Both mother and daughter were presented beautiful rose corsages. The honoree also received a silver graduation charm for her bracelet. The refreshment table, was overlaid with a white cutwork cloth and centered with a floral arrangement. Crystal candle holders with glowing blue tapers completed the decorations.

Personals

Miss Louise Higginbotham of Sanford, a student nurse at Orange Memorial Hospital in Orlando, left Sunday for Chathamcooke to study psychiatric nursing for three months at the state mental hospital. She is a graduate of the 1963 class at Seminole High School and will complete her training as a registered nurse in August, 1966. During her first year at nursing school, Miss Higginbotham was elected president of the freshman class.

Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Goets are leaving this week for their summer home in New Hartford, Conn. They plan to return in October.

Mrs. Ben Currie, of Ormond Beach, has been visiting with her sister, Mrs. Bill Stempert. The two women left Tuesday by plane for a few days in Miami.

Friends of Pauline (Mrs. Cotton) Brown, will be glad to know that she is recuperating at her home, 824 Catalina Drive, from major surgery. She is able to have visitors and hopes to be out again in a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Harrison and their three children, Jackie, David and Jessica, of Jacksonville, spent Mothers' Day with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Evans, in Loch Arbor.

Graduate Honored At Splash Party

Miss Marcia Kay Lippincott was guest of honor at a graduation splash party given by Mrs. J. M. Garrett and her daughter, Laura Jo, at the Garrett residence on Jewett's Lane.

Refreshments of cake, chips and dips, nuts and cold drinks were served by the hostesses and the girls enjoyed swimming in the pool. The honor guest was presented a gift of a beach towel and bag set.

Kay has a state teacher's scholarship and plans to attend Florida State this fall. Guests included Mrs. R. W. Lippincott, mother of the honoree; her grandmother, Mrs. C. F. Proctor Sr., Miss Gladys Tilley, of Terre Haute, Ind., and the Misses Peggy Bower, Cheryl Jones, Bettye Kellett and Cindy Lippincott.

Also Ducky Smith, Neil Richard, Joel Fehd, Glenn Ansley and Steve Stein.

Fashionettes

The newest in hair pieces requires no back combing or teasing to provide bulk to the head. The hair piece, called the "Hi Top," is the design of Signor Alfredo, hair stylist and wigmaker, who owns the Via Veneto salon in New York. All height is built into the crown of the mesh base which is either oval or cone shaped, depending on the contour of the individual head. Place the "Hi Top" at the back of the crown and it falls into a bouncy shoulder-length "do."

Birthday Observed At Splash Party

By Margaret Cooby
Franz Harich, son of Dr. and Mrs. Jakob Harich, 31 South Cortez Avenue, North Orlando, recently returned home after a morning's cycling excursion to spy through the Florida room drapes, the pool and patio area of his home decorated in colorful balloons, lanterns and crepe paper.

Immediately he knew it was a surprise party to celebrate his 16th birthday.

Shyly entering the area, Franz was bombarded with streamers and the party started off with a real splash when Beth Viner was dumped before donning her swim togs. Just about everything and everybody went "into the drink" before the party was well underway and the afternoon was joyfully spent retrieving people and pieces from the pool's depths.

The glamorized and toasted hot dogs with soft drinks and luscious chocolate birthday cake were welcomed by the exhausted celebrants. Guests, in addition to Franz' sisters, Mickey and Hermine, were Bob Anderson, Bill Cody, David Harkins, Mike

Rhodes, Beth Viner and Donald Wilcox.

An added pleasure to Franz' celebration was the news that he had been accepted for counselor training in early June at the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission's Youth Conservation Camp in Ocala National Forest where he enjoyed so much being a camper last summer.

Lyman Boy Wins Beta Club State Talent Show

By Jane Casselberry
Dorian Thermenos, Lyman High School Junior, won first place in the talent show held Friday night at the annual Beta Club State Convention at the Cherry Plaza in Orlando.
He played his original piano composition and received a $15 cash award for the Lyman Beta Club of which he is vice president.
Campaign speakers for state offices also were heard Friday with elections held in group meetings on Saturday.
The banquet Saturday night was followed by the Beta Ball with music by the Fabulous Five.
Representing Lyman at the convention, in addition to Dorian, were Carolyn Thomas, Marcia Esterling (president), Barry Eller, Linda Cole, Mary Peterson, Steve Brady, Terry Schembers, Jeanne and Carol Perrault, Elaine Haynie, Hannah Williams, Ruth Murray, Mary Lou Benson and Alan Harkins.
The group was accompanied by Mrs. Alda Milwee, faculty sponsor, and Mrs. Beth Thomas, parent chaperone.

Contest Rules Announced For Beautification

By Margaret Cooby
The North Orlando Garden Club today announced rules by which residents' homes will be judged in connection with the beautification program underway in the community this month.
Three out of town judges are being selected and, on June 1, homes will be reviewed to determine winners of the prizes.
Judges will give first consideration to overall appearance of lawns, both front and back. Next, overall care will be noted—trimming, edging of flower beds, drives, and walkways, and finally, proper placement of flowers, trees, and shrubs to enhance beauty of the dwelling will be considered.
Mrs. George Duquette, Mrs. W. W. Anderson, and Mrs. Carl Hyatt, chairman of the committee, have reported the following prize list: 1 — $50 cash donated by North Orlando Garden Club; 2 — $25 cash donated by Village of North Orlando; 3—One year's subscription to Sanford Herald; 4 — $5 cash donated by Mrs. Hyatt; 5 — One gallon of motor oil from Clanton's Esso Service Station; 6 — Crown-of-thorns plant donated by Wagon Wheel Nursery; 7 — Rake from Seminole Hardware; and 8 — Gift from Carol's Dress Shop.

Parking Lot Sale Ordered By City

City Commissioners called through their routine agenda in record time Monday night until they came up against the question of how to pay off the mortgage on the parking lot at First Street and Park Avenue.
Due Jan. 29 is a $22,000 payment on a $73,300 note held by the Sanford Atlantic National Bank. The annual payments were to be made from parking meter revenue, which is now non-existent.
Commissioners voted to put the lot up for sale. They also instructed City Manager W. E. Knowles to offer to negotiate a trade with J. Bralley Odham for the Sunland water system. Odham has approached the city several times with an offer to sell the private water system at the housing development.
In other action Commissioners appointed Robert T. Thomas acting fire chief and tabled two appointments to the Housing Authority Board.

Mathematical Genius Stumps His Teachers

GARCHING, Germany (UPI) — Local arithmetic teachers are happy that eight-year-old Elmar Eder now takes his math lessons at home.

Elmar is a mathematics genius, and none of his teachers could keep up with him. In kindergarten he played with his slide rule. In the first grade he amused himself with analytical geometry. At the age of seven he was mastering college-level mathematics. His father, a Max Planck Institute professor of mathematics, says being a dad to Elmar has its problems, too. "My wife and I try to answer Elmar's questions. He does not leave us alone until we have given him all the answers. When told to stop pestering, he throws himself on the floor and becomes angrier than when a toy is taken from him."

Elmar has hobbies to go with his mathematics wizardry. At 6, he learned shorthand in three weeks. He plays the flute and he mastered electronic brain programming during a weekend.

But in some things Elmar does have problems. He cannot learn to write well. "Illegible," says the professor of his son's handwriting. So Elmar taught himself to type.

The boy prefers tinkering with the principles of steam engines, combustion engines, dynamos and electric motors to other play.

And Elmar has one weakness of genius—he is absent-minded.

Professor Eder said once his son hunted vainly for a shoe—only to be told he had been wearing it all the time.

The stratosphere begins at an altitude of six miles in regions near the poles, nine or more miles near the equator.

Bright Future For Boom

How long can the boom go on? If consumer confidence in the economy is a factor—and it definitely is when that confidence is translated into capital expenditures—there will be no slackening through 1965.

For the past 14 years, the University of Michigan's Survey Research Center has surveyed consumer attitudes and inclinations to buy. This year, between January 15 and March 15, interviews with a cross section of 1,350 families revealed greater confidence in the short-term business outlook than ever before.

Contrary to some notions, people are not overstocked with "inventories" and intend to go on improving their standard of living, particularly through the purchase of new automobiles.

Some of the other findings of the survey:

- The proportion of American family units with more than $10,000 income now stands at 23 per cent. It was 14 per cent in 1959 and 19 per cent in 1963.
- At the other end, there has been no significant decline in the number in the poverty brackets (under $3,000).

— About half the people surveyed said they made more money in 1964 than in 1963. A sizable group reported "much more."

— More people believe unemployment will decline than that it will increase.

— More people are worried about international uncertainties than not. A year ago optimists outnumbered pessimists.

Thought For Today

I know your works, your love and faith and service and patient endurance, and that your latter works exceed the first.—1 John 2:19.

For anything worth having one must pay the price; and the price is always work, patience, love, self-sacrifice—no currency, no promises to pay, but the gold of real service.—John Burroughs, American naturalist.

Dr. Crone's

Worry Clinic

Polly wonders what to do when her baby is born out of wedlock. Should she try to keep it or let it be adopted by a devoted but childless couple who crave a youngster? How can you decide such a dilemma? Just use the "moral yardstick" outlined below. Memorize this yardstick for use in other situations, too.

CASE V-487: Polly G., aged 17, is the high schooler who will soon bear a baby out of wedlock.

"Dr. Crone," she began, "as I think about my baby, I can't bear the idea of giving it up."

"Wouldn't that be cruel and heartless?"

"Since I made one sad mistake in trusting my steady boy friend, wouldn't it be a second error to let my baby be adopted?"

The usual yardstick to employ in facing ethical problems like this:

"That which does the most good for the most people over the longest period of time, is right."

Be sure you analyze all three component parts of that definition!

The Russians made a big mistake when they decided if they looted the wealth of the Czar and the white collar class, and then drove the latter into exile, they would be doing the most good for the most people.

"For we could then pass around among the poor the wealth of the ruling class," they argued.

Alas, this fallacy is still advocated by many ignorant Americans, too, failing to realize that millions of the poor are too stupid to hold on to wealth, anyway.

Any confidence man, gambler or policy racketeer can wheedle them out of their money within a few days.

Thus, they'll be back on relief again within a week or so!

"The poor," said Jesus, "ye'll have with you always!"

Jesus recognized the sad fact that not only will we have idiots, imbeciles and morons by the millions in society, but many folks of high I. Q. worship at the shrine of "Lady Luck."

They think they can win success by a roulette wheel, policy game, or even playing the stock market.

Russia soon found out its sad mistake, for after the engineers, business executives and doctors were liquidated or exiled, it had no leadership for building bridges, erecting factories, or treating the ill.

So Russia frantically begged American engineers and other experts to migrate back to Russia.

In the late 1920s, therefore, Russia coaxed such Americans with promise of double pay.

The engineers got a full salary in Russia, for living expenses, but also had a similar sum banked in their names back here in America, so they would have it when they returned.

Applied to Polly's problem, it is not smart for an unwed mother to try to hold on to her baby, especially when millions of wonderful homes are eager for such a youngster.

A baby needs TWO devoted parents and the security of social approval, plus good food and other necessary items.

If Polly keeps her baby, it will be less happy and Polly will also cry many times at the disadvantages her child must face.

If she lets it be adopted, the baby will be happier, its two foster parents will be happier, and only Polly may be less happy.

So THREE people will be much happier via the adoption plan, where FOUR people will be unhappy otherwise, including Polly, the baby and the two foster parents who would then be deprived of the infant!

RUMBLING OR JUST STEAMING?

Helen Fuller Says

Jab Here . . Push There

WASHINGTON — When he finds a few minutes to spare from coping with Viet Nam or Santo Domingo, President Johnson is likely to be prodding government officials to get on with the task of finding more jobs for young people this summer.

As a "dropout" after high school, Lyndon Johnson learned how hard it was to get a job even in the prosperous mid-1920s. As the young Texas state director of the National Youth Administration, he discovered how much job training could mean to hopeless youngsters in the depression years of the 1930s.

No national problem grips the President's interest more passionately than the fact that approximately 1.2 million American boys and girls who want work can't find it today.

When this school year ends in June, census officials estimate that there will be 600,000 high school graduates with diplomas but without jobs.

A long list of programs to improve their prospects is underway. But the wheels of bureaucracy grind slowly. The President, therefore, makes it his personal business to jab here and push there to speed things along.

The newly-created Job Corps and Neighborhood Youth Corps are now in business. The Education and Aid to Appalachia Acts are expected to create other new jobs later on. But to hasten the process, the President has assigned Vice President Humphrey to head a cabinet committee aimed at creating more jobs for young people in the here and now.

The cabinet committee will make a special effort to persuade defense and other industries to hire more young workers for the summer. The same appeal is going out to service businesses, laundries, filling stations, to take on a few extra kids who thus may be able to earn enough to go back to school in the fall.

Many of the nation's mayors have met with Washington officials to explore other ways to make more jobs for the young who want to work.

Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz has a plan to recruit perhaps 25,000 high school students to work on farms this summer vacation—to fill the gap left by Latin American migrant workers whose numbers have been reduced by law.

One goal, among others, is to open up enough jobs for enough kids whose idleness may otherwise lead to frustration and violence in the streets this summer.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The vast, sprawling Central Intelligence Agency is in for a quiet internal revolution.

That's the meaning of President Johnson's appointment of tough Vice Adm. William F. Raborn Jr. (Ret.) as CIA director.

CIA has grown like Topay since it evolved from Wild Bill Donovan's World War II Office of Strategic Services. The OSS started out with radical methods of intelligence gathering, some brilliantly conceived, some amateurish. The CIA has carried on that tradition, though growing more conventional and expensive with the years.

CIA has never had a hard-headed manager at its helm. It will have one now.

Old Raborn says: "When I pass you in the hall, I want to feel a breeze."

Key White House, Defense and State Department officials have been dissatisfied with CIA's results. Some CIA coups have been undeniably strokes of genius. But the organization has been caught flat-footed too.

It has not sufficiently penetrated the doings in North Viet Nam, Red China and Soviet Russia. It has missed the boat on occasion in South Viet Nam.

Men who know Raborn predict he will start his new job by getting a task force of university, government and industrial experts to make a "three-month study" of where CIA is going and how it should be getting there.

If he runs true to form, Raborn will have weekly Monday morning meetings of division chiefs. Each will report on whether he's moved ahead according to the Raborn schedule. Those that haven't will say why — and how the slippage can be corrected.

The CIA is going through a tough transition period in attempting to shift from conventional to computerized intelligence. It has the job of making use of millions of photographs taken by satellites and millions of pages of foreign publications, in addition to agent and other reports. Infrared sensors will bring in millions of other items to be interpreted. Yet there are tens of thousands of missing pieces.

In the intelligence field, where science is providing new way-out techniques and equipment so rapidly the old may be out-of-date before being used, a CIA director must be able to switch methods in mid-stream, yet not be caught with over-gadgeteering or overcomputerization. In some uses computers can lead to serious intelligence misjudgments.

For three reasons, Raborn is ideal for this ticklish job:

— He is one of the few men who has ramrodded a full-stream-ahead defense program (Polaris), shifting in mid-stream from one concept to another (from Jupiter to Polaris), taking advantage of new concepts as fast as they developed, without losing stride.

— Under Raborn's leadership, one of the most sophisticated of today's production management tools was developed. (PERT, Production Evaluation Review Technique, uses computers to help get effective management of complicated long-term programs).

— Raborn is not overawed by computers. He's been known to say: "The trouble with the computer is that there is no (horse) feathers" objecter.

mistreated me. He always provided well for the children and me, and our only arguments were over his weakness for women. When he was 69 years old he got a young girl in trouble. There was a lot of expense connected with that but no publicity, thank heavens. My lawyer says I could get a divorce and a very substantial settlement, but do you think it's advisable to break up after all these years? We have nine grandchildren who think "Gumpa" is tops.

"GUMPA'S" MATE
DEAR MATE: "Gumpa" appears to be YOUR weakness. My guess is you'd be lost without him, so stick with him. If Father Time doesn't take care of his "weakness" — Mother Nature will.

DEAR ABBY: As a man who has to contend with the telephone in his office, I anticipate retreating to my nice quiet home at the end of the day. But, alas, this seems to be the prime time for the ladies to call each other to arrange their bridge parties, church socials, car pools, etc. What do these women do all day that they can't get these things arranged beforehand?

SICK OF PHONES
DEAR SICK: They're attending bridge parties, church socials and they're driving the kids around.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 17-year-old boy with a big problem—my parents. They are the most wonderful parents a boy could want, but between the two of them they smoke three cartons of cigarettes a week. My mother is very nervous and the doctor told her to cut down. She promised she would, but she hasn't. My father smokes unconsciously. He'll set a cigarette down in an ash tray, let it burn and light another one. Both Dad and Mom cough all the time. What can a 17-year-old boy do to get his parents to quit smoking? I know nobody can live forever, but why can't people take better care of their health?

CONCERNED SON
DEAR CONCERNED: Obviously your parents are not strong enough to set a good example for you. So YOU set one for them, and my hat's off to you!

DEAR ABBY: I am a 24-year-old divorcee and I've never had any trouble getting dates. My problem is that every man I date thinks that just because I've been married anything goes. It is very discouraging to have to fight off men all the time. The first thing they suggest is going up to their apartments, or to a motel or something like that. I love to dance and I enjoy good clean fun. What happened to all the decent men?

DEAR SUZANNE: They're still around. You seem to be attracting the wrong kind. Change bait.

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

Why aren't married women more hospitable to their widowed or divorced women friends? Why do they so rarely include them in any kind of party or get-together that isn't strictly a feminine affair?

One of my women readers believes she knows the reason for this. She says: "For some time I have been wondering why you have never written a column about widows and divorcees and their difficulties in adjusting themselves socially. Most of them complain about how few invitations they get to the homes of their still-married women friends. But isn't this often their own fault?"

Many times I have invited a widow or divorced friend to dinner and invariably she will act as if she and my husband are the only people at the table, addressing all of her remarks to him and almost completely ignoring me.

It's an exaggeration to claim that all widowed and divorced women behave like that. But it would be wise for any woman who no longer has a husband and feels that her married friends are neglecting her to look back and see if she has not brought it on herself by that kind of behavior.

A lone woman who wants to keep her married friends has to make an effort to be equally attentive to both husband and wife. If she does nothing but gossip with the wife—the husband will find her company dull. If she hangs on the husband's every word and exerts herself to be charming to him while ignoring his wife—the wife will quickly get fed up with that situation.

But if she can manage to be good company for both, to make both feel pleased with themselves and with each other—she will usually be welcome in their home.

Highlights

9-9:30 p. m. CBS. Dick Van Dyke Show "Br-room, Br-room" hilarious episode. When Rob comes home with a motorcycle, Buddy gives him a black leather jacket with "Robbie Baby" written on it. Thanks to this gesture, Rob gets taken for a hood by other hoods and by a cop. Rob keeps getting deeper in trouble and the show keeps getting funnier.

7:30-8 p. m. CBS. Mr. Ed. Ed gets the wrong idea from watching a rehearsal of "Robin Hood." Wilbur is made to look like a modern-day adaptation of Robin Hood, one who follows the credo of "steal from anybody to help me." Ed launches Wilbur's career by stealing the neighbor's furniture and, of course, Wilbur gets blamed.

bringing the murderers of an Indian girl to justice. The trouble is that one of the killers is the son of an old friend, played by Anthony Quinn, who also runs the town. He gets his men, all right, but getting them out of town is another question. The good supporting cast includes Carolyn Jones, Earl Holliman and Brian Hutton. A worthwhile western.

9:30-10:30 p. m. ABC. Burke's Law. "Who Killed the Home of Plenty?" (Rerun) No deviations from this series' highly successful formula. First there's a bizarre murder, then it's up to Burke to wade through a host of suspects, headed by several fascinating young women, Terry Moore, Vera Miles and Claire Kelly, and also including John Saxton, David Wayne and Ed Platt. An added element to this one places Burke's assistant Tim Tison (Gary Conway) on the tentative suspect list.

10-11 p. m. CBS. The Danny Kaye Show. (Rerun) Some dull spots here, but the opening sketch makes it all worthwhile. Danny plays the most bashful of wallflowers, attending a friendship club where Howard Morris plays the type of man Danny would like to be: dashing, debonair and full of confidence. A later sketch set in Spain with Danny as a matador and Morris as a bullfighter promoter has some funny moments. Dorothy Collins sings nicely, but unexpectedly, "Control Yourself" and "All Alone."

10:30-11 p. m. ABC. ABC Scope "KIKK: Society of Bigots." The net effect of this examination of the lan is an indictment of its activities, though the network goes through the motions of trying to be fair. It's a fascinating study of a longstanding form of American cancer.

Beauty after Forty

EDYTH THORNTON McLEOD
Do you ever take toll of yourself? Ask yourself the following questions, and maybe you will get a surprise at the answers—if you are honest in your self-questioning and answering.

Do I ever really try to please my husband, cook what he likes, do my hair just for him, buy a dress style which he especially likes?

Do I try to be part of the life of my teen-agers? Do I study their needs and wants? Do I really admit that things are different now than when I was of teen-age?

Am I sympathetic to the needs of my teen-age daughter? Do I try to understand her? Do I neglect myself and then feel envious of my neighbor, who comes out looking like a million, when I know that I am ten years younger?

Have I let myself get fat, wrinkled, tired and dull?

Do I honestly want to better my looks; do I want to work at improving myself?

Would I stick to a simple diet if I had one?

Do I always ride when I should walk?

- Mother's Day
- Rent Special
- FLORAL PARK, N. Y. (UPI) — An advertisement for a seven-room apartment here states "You must have lots of children." The "Mother's Day Special" ad continues: "If you have 12 children or more the rent is only $150 per month; 10-children-$160; 8-$170; 6-$180; less than 6 children, please do not apply."
- Municipality Has Leaky Rules
- NEWARK, N. J. (UPI) — Because of a worsening water shortage, the city of Newark has enacted a set of rules on the use of water. The city became the first violator of its own restrictions. A city hall worker was caught sprinkling shrubs less than 12 hours after the rules went into effect. Public Works Director Ralph G. Caprio ordered the sprinkling stopped.

Horoscope Forecast

Thursday, May 12, 1965

GENERAL TENDENCIES:

Now you have a day and evening when you are determined to produce results under your own steam and from your own ideas. It is an exceedingly good day to do just that, if you channel your energies and your activities in the directions that can bring you the greatest amount of progress.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Before you delve into romance and the like, be sure to get all obligations wisely behind you, and these could include collections as well. Get respect of higher-ups. Then be jolly.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Conferring seriously with allies is best way to spend part of this day. Co-operation can turn aside all wrath, animosity. Get groundwork done on any new and important projects.

GRMNI (May 21 to June 21) You can get all those duties performed more easily by first conferring with co-workers so that you have a perfect set-up. Improve your health via exercise, etc., early. Be more aware of importance of physical fitness.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 31) Aspects are excellent for new opportunities, so do not procrastinate in taking advantage of them. Get into specific hobbies you like later. This makes a good impression on the right people.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 31) There are several situations that require clarifying at home, so forget fun and attend to them. Having a stronger foothold on fundamental affairs is wise. Busy yourself making improvements.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) If you show respect for the viewpoints and ideas of allies, you get their immediate co-operation. Take time to dig up important information. Enjoying comrades excellent in P.M.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Seriously concentrating upon important monetary matters can make the future far brighter and lessen physical labors. Be sure surroundings are spic-and-span. Make the right impression on others.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) A direct approach with others in stating your aims brings the finest results. They then know just how to help you. Social gadding about puts you in contact with those you would not otherwise meet.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Get rid of any pesky problems you may have with alacrity. This should be done during the day hours. Forget that comfortable chair in P.M. and be out with congenials.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Spend your time with charming partners who comprehend your views and you accomplish a good deal. Go after personal desires later. Have a positive attitude and you win out.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Use care in carrying through with projects today or you lose good will and your good name may be in jeopardy. Be more popular. Show that you have a truly wonderful personality.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You have to change your attitude somewhat if you want to make best progress with new contacts. New faces, new places, etc. all very stimulating now. Be on the qui vive.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY, hemming him or her in will do no good, since this is a young personality that has to go places and do things, since the mind is very active, the ability most pronounced. Early give puzzles and the like to work out so that the quick mentality is well occupied. An excellent chart for the government attaches, one who can be trusted with secrets of importance.

"The Stars Impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Chinese Reds Drive For All Asia - LBJ

MRS. H. L. JOHNSON has been honored as the "Mother of the Year" by the congregation of Upsala Presbyterian Church. Mother of two sons and a daughter, Mrs. Johnson is vice president of the Seminole County Home Demonstration Council, a 4-H leader, chairman of the trustees, and elder and the organist of her church, and a news correspondent of The Sanford Herald. Mrs. Marie Harris, also of The Herald staff, was the church's "Mother of the Year" last year.

Warns: They Shall Never Succeed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson said today the Viet Nam conflict was part of a Chinese Communist drive to take over all of Asia and he pledged: "They shall never succeed." Johnson discussed the role of Chinese Reds in a White House talk to an audience of editorial cartoonists. His remarks were televised and broadcast to the nation. "Their target is not merely South Viet Nam—it is Asia," he said of the Chinese Communists. "Their objective is not the fulfillment of Vietnamese nationalism. It is to erode and discredit America's ability to help prevent Chinese domination over all of Asia. In this they shall never succeed." Johnson in his speech renewed his call for unconditional peace talks and emphasized his proposal of a massive Southeast Asian aid program in which he invited Russia to join.

BLAMES REDS

He blamed the Chinese Reds for blocking peace negotiations. Johnson said: "We are ready for unconditional discussions. And it would clearly be in the interest of North Viet Nam to come to the conference table. For then, continuation of war without talks means only damage without conquest. "Communist China apparently desires the war to continue whatever the cost to their allies." The President said there was greater need than ever for peace talks and the setting up of the aid program because no purely military solution was in sight for either side.

Johnson reiterated his readiness to talk peace, then devoted most of his 20-minute speech to the U. S. proposal for "a massive, co-operative development effort for Southeast Asia" which he first unveiled in a speech last month at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore.

He reported that his personal representative, Eugene Black, was making "rapid progress" on his proposed program and had found increasing enthusiasm at the United Nations for carrying forward the development plan.

Part of the plan is an Asian development bank which the United States has been studying as a possibility. Johnson said this country was prepared to participate in and support the Asian bank to help finance economic progress.

"And I reaffirm our desire to join with every other industrialized country, including the Soviet Union, in helping this great Asian project," he added.

Since 1954 when Viet Nam became independent, he noted, the United States has spent more than $2 billion on economic help for the 16 million people of South Viet Nam.

School Pay Hike Lost

Governor's Veto Vow Kills Bill

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The House took up, debated and passed the $1.1 billion general appropriations act today, sending the measure to the governor in a brief 30 minutes.

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — State school teachers held little hope today for a state-financed pay raise after a House committee killed a bill proposing a $51 million raise.

The public schools committee, heading the Governor's warning he would veto new taxes, killed by a vote of 7-13 the bill to up the state's share of school money from $550 to $1,000 per teacher unit.

The vote came after a two-hour public hearing in the House that drew a standing-room only audience, many of them school teachers. The Senate public schools committee also sat in on the hearing.

Committee Chairman Robert Mann, of Hillsborough, stepped down from the rostrum to join Rep. William O'Neill, of Ocala, in telling the audience the counties should put up the money and to remind them the Governor said he would veto new taxes.

"The Governor has not changed his stand," Mann said "and this bill requires new taxes. This bill is dead. The question is which committee will kill it."

WRAP UP The Legislature is expected to wrap up the big $1.1 billion general appropriations bill today and rush it to the governor.

The House considered the compromise measure the Senate adopted without debate Wednesday in five minutes. Speedy action — fastest in Florida history — means the Governor must approve or revise the general appropriations measure within five days and if he vetoes any item, the Legislature will have a chance to put it back.

The Governor is not expected to knock out any of the spending items, however, since there is plenty of money in sight to finance the record bill within present income and almost everyone, except the school teachers who didn't get a raise from it, are happy with the final version.

ROAD PROGRAM Gov. Burns' $300 million road bonding program slid through the House public roads committee 13-1 today and was sent to the constitutional amendments committee.

The Governor, meanwhile, was scheduled to address a joint legislative session at 12:30 p. m. to push for passage of the program.

The measure drew opposition only from Rep. Wilbur Boyd, of Manatee, who called the measure deficit financing. He said he was opposed to the pledge of 30 year's income for road construction during the coming five years.

Should the Legislature adopt the proposal, and there is little doubt that it will, it would be voted on at a Nov. 2 election.

The measure provides for $300 million in 30-year bonds, which would be sold on a competitive bid basis. No additional bonds could be sold without a two-thirds vote of the Legislature. Money from the bonds, which would be financed by part of primary road tax revenue, would go for four lanes, 1,200 miles of primary highway in Florida.

Winter Park, Geneva Phone Extension OKd

Geneva telephone subscribers soon will be able to dial Winter Park and Orlando numbers without toll charges, according to an order issued Wednesday by the Florida Public Utilities Commission.

The PUC granted the request of 61 per cent of the Geneva subscribers for the "extended scope service" on the joint application of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company and Winter Park Telephone Company.

The extension will increase subscriber rates from 30 to 50 cents on residence telephones and from $1 to $1.50 on business service per month.

The two companies were ordered to begin at once on work necessary to provide the extended service. Estimated cost to Southern Bell is approximately $200,000.

Johnston, who was elected to the position of president of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce manager.

"We hope that the PUC will look favorably on the granting of the same service to Sanford subscribers at the hearing we have requested, which will probably be set some time in June," Krider added.

Baker Honored By Dairymen

Joe B. Baker, of Sanford, owner and operator of Green Valley Dairy, was cited in Gainesville Wednesday for having "the most efficient dairy management operation in the state of Florida."

The local dairyman was presented with a trophy at ceremonies at the Florida Dairy Producers conference banquet.

Cleveland Bill Strikes Snag

Establishment of a Fourth District Court of Appeals, which would include Seminole County, has been delayed in the State Senate.

The Senate Wednesday approved an amendment that would postpone setting up the new court for at least two years.

Sen. Mack N. Cleveland Jr., of Sanford, co-sponsor of the legislation, charged that Sen. John McCarty, of Fort Pierce, was trying to "kill the bill."

McCarty said he did not need a Fourth District Court is needed at this time.

Creation of a fourth court was recommended by the Florida Bar board of governors.

Cleveland claims that the second and third district courts are so loaded with cases that another is needed.

As passed by the House, the measure provides for four or more district courts with no limit on the number of judges.

Counties in the new district, River, Martin, Brevard, Seminole, Volusia, Orange, Osceola and St. Lucie, Indian (Okeechobee).

Single Word Delays Sanford Plaza Job

Posting of almost a half-million dollar bond to resume construction work on Sanford Plaza was delayed Wednesday.

Circuit Judge Roger F. Dykes insisted on the insertion of one word in the bond for clarification purposes.

Attorney Paul E. Raymond, of Daytona Beach, said the delay was a "mere technicality" and it was expected the performance bond of $470,000 would be posted today or Friday.

Raymond said the judge insisted on the insertion of one word, "surety," in the bond.

R & S Service, Inc., of Clearwater, low bidder on the construction project, took the bond papers back to the Hartford Insurance Company to have them reworked to include this necessary word.

"The bond was approved except for this technicality," Raymond said.

Work was scheduled to resume on the long-delayed Plaza today but due to the new snag construction is not expected to start until Friday or early next week.

Snag Wins Purple Heart

By Dottie Austin "Snag," Sanford Naval Academy goat and battle-scarred veteran of two dog-fights, was honored with a "Purple Heart" in ceremonies at Wednesday afternoon's dress parade.

While midshipmen and academy officers stood at attention, the brigade commander, Lt. Cdr. (Midshipman) J. W. Sargent hung the award around the neck of the mascot. Then the band played "Anchors Aweigh."

The citation which was read in connection with the presentation of the award stated: "For his display of courage, tenacity and appreciation of help rendered, Sanford Naval Academy Goat (Snag) is awarded this insignia of merit. Be it known that:

"He did, on two occasions, courageously defeat and set in flight a dog pack which outnumbered him 10 to one. That in doing so he did suffer numerous and grievous wounds which would have killed a less hardy and determined creature. Further, he did appreciate and demonstrate affection for those who tended his wounds even though such aid was most painful.

"The Brigade, therefore, salutes, in all seriousness, this our mascot, who has demonstrated those attributes of mind and body for which we strive. To him this insignia is awarded and this parade dedicated."

In addition to his "Purple Heart" Snag wears a blue and gold blanket, similar to that worn by the Navy mascot at Annapolis.

Ever wonder what you would grab first if your house caught fire?

Well, Mrs. Mary Mobley of Longwood was faced with this dilemma the other night. She may go down in history as one of our most devoted readers. One of the first things she rescued was a stack of Sanford Herald.

Mrs. Mobley is historian for the Lyman High School PTA and finds The Herald indispensable in keeping the scrapbook filled with news clippings of school activities.

A Sanford man, Albert E. Kramer, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kramer, of 1903 Summerlin Avenue, is currently serving aboard the amphibious assault ship USS Boxer, engaged in joint U.S. Operation in the Dominican Republic.

Another Sanford Navy man, Don W. Roth of Elder Road, has received a letter of commendation from his commanding officer while serving with RVAH-7 at the Naval Air Station here.

Residents in the area of 25th Street where the road improvement program is going on anticipated inconveniences . . . but not so many. They expected their (side) streets to be blocked temporarily . . . but not to have their water supply cut off almost daily and telephone service disrupted for days on end. Water was shut off Tuesday for more than four hours. The careless workers have been hearing "plenty" about it, too, from City Manager "Pat" Knowles.

"The entire ceremony was so moving as to make it difficult for me to control my voice and respond properly," Captain Mayo says.

Steak 'N Shake will build a restaurant across from the Seminole Plaza. The Town of Casselberry has been asked to annex the property.

County Receives Race Tax Share Seminole County will receive a check for $32,000 for its share of the May race track tax fund distribution from the state.

Drought Hampering Everglades Wildlife

MIAMI (UPI) — Officials of Everglades National Park expressed deep concern today for the wild animal population in the "Glades" due to a severe drought affecting South Florida.

Many ponds and sloughs vital to wildlife and rare plants are turning to dust.

Water birds are leaving their natural habitats and alligators, raccoons and possum either have perished or found refuge near brackish coastal waters.

A few fish recently were rescued by park rangers from muddy suffocation in their fast-drying pools but it is almost impossible to transfer them on a large-scale basis.

And the problem of fire through the park's sea of sawgrass is becoming acute. One fire last week, even before the situation got as critical as it is now, consumed 1,600 acres before it could be cut off.

Although dryness is a sometimes problem in the "Glades," this is the most severe drought in years.

"At Royal Palm Hammock, for example," said Park Supt. Carroll Burroughs, "we average 10.25 inches of rain by this time.

"So far this year we've only had 3.7 inches there," he said. For the past month big pumps have been throwing 1,500 gallons of water a minute into Royal Palm's Alligator Slough, but the area is still dry.

"That amount only wet the surface," said Burroughs. At stake mainly is the region's sport fishing and even the West Coast shrimp industry. Both the shrimp and many game fish depend on the parks abundance of fresh water flowing into coastal spawning and feeding grounds.

Charles A. Cirack, 22, and Richard V. White, 21, both of Titusville, waived preliminary hearing on a first degree murder charge today before Justice of the Peace J. S. Peterson in Osteen.

The two are charged with the murder of Moses Jackson, Oviedo, in southeast Volusia County last Saturday night, and are being held without bond in the Volusia County Jail for Circuit Court action.

A hearing date has not been set for George H. Schible Jr., 28, charged with being an accessory after the fact in the slaying of Jackson and shooting of his friend, Andrew Cashe, also of Oviedo.

The slaying allegedly took place in a wooded area after Cirack and White reportedly picked up Jackson and Cashe while they were hitchhiking.

Teenager Held In Jax Slaying

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Assistant state attorney Nathan Shevitz planned to file a petition today asking for a waiver of jurisdiction in the case of a 15-year-old boy held in connection with the fatal beating and stabbing of a suburban housewife.

Shevitz said that if the boy were an adult there would be no doubt in his mind of charging him with the murder of Mrs. Gladys Marie Hood, 43, who was beaten and stabbed through the heart Tuesday night.

Lightning Hits Gladerville Fire Chief Tom Weiss reported a three-room frame house on the Old Orlando Road was destroyed by fire Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, when it was struck by lightning. No one was home at the time of the fire.
