TOTAL RECEIPTS
SHERIFF'S OFFICE
1924 OVER $14,000

Cash Fines and Costs Paid Total $5,517.57; Receipts from Prisoners in Camp, $8,112.85; Others $1,100.98

Total credit received during the first nine months of this year by the sheriff's office of Seminole county amounts to $14,587.65, of which $5,517.57 was for cash turned in, $8,112.85 for prisoners sent to the county convict camp and $67.23 for prisoners serving time in jail and at the state reform school, according to reports submitted to a representative of The Herald this morning.

The reports further show that a large number total of the 254 defendants tried were found guilty and were either fined or sentenced to serve jail or road terms.

For September of this year 32 cases are listed on the report of Sheriff C. M. Hand as submitted to the board of County Commissioners today, and from these cases total fines and costs were $1,270.45, of which amount cash fines collected and paid were $708.50, $1,052.46 for prisoners sent to the convict camp and $65.74 for prisoners serving time in jail.

The August report showed fines and costs for that month to total $2,198.85. This makes a decrease in September under August of $228.40 or approximately 10 per cent. In August cash fines and costs amounted to $908.85 in comparison with $708.50 for the past month and is a decrease of $200.35 or over 29 per cent. In August there were 27 cases while in September there were 32.

The September report is in line with the other eight reports for 1924 in that they are almost without variance, high and low months as far as fines and costs are concerned. For a period of several months there has been a decrease one month, an increase the following month, a decrease the following month, etc.

At the end of the month of September the sheriff's report shows that two 90-day bonds are held at his office covering the balance of $137.75 due the county. This sum added to $1,587.55 for which the sheriff's office has already received credit, makes the total for the nine months $14,731.40, total fines and costs.

Of the cases tried in September, the largest number for any one offense was seven for assault and battery and the next largest six for larceny, five petty larceny. The remainder of the cases were arraigned on the following charges:

Trespassing; 1, passing worthless checks; 4, reckless driving; 2, use of profane language; 1, butting board bill; 2, destroying property; 2, transporting intoxicating liquor; 2, possession of intoxicating liquor; 2.

Youth Is Arraigned Killing Garage Man

WOBURN, Mass., Oct. 6.—Halle Mawbray, 18-year-old boy who yesterday, according to the police, confessed to complicity in the murder of Frederick A. Clements, Burlington garage proprietor, on Sept. 27, was arraigned today and held without bail for grand jury investigation.

Another Body is Found. BEVERLY, Mass., Oct. 6.—The body of a man found in North Beverly mill pond Saturday, weighted down with heavy chains, was buried unidentified. Police were unable to trace any connection with that of Frederick Clements, garage proprietor, whose body was found similarly weighted down at Bedford Thursday.

PRICE FIXING IS CHARGE AGAINST MANUFACTURERS

Federal Trade Commission in Regular Report Charges Makers Household Goods Guilty of Questionable Acts

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Fresh charges of price fixing and questionable practices by manufacturers of household furnishings, are made in a concluding report on the industry by the federal trade commission acting in response to a senate resolution.

The report further reported by Mr. Wright that Stanley and Rogers of Chulota recently bought 62 lots south of Rose Court and a brick business block on Sanford Avenue. These two transfers with that of the Miller Building, it was learned, represent the changing hands of approximately $60,000 worth of property, purchased by out-of-town buyers.

Other transfers were a lot on Palmtoe Avenue between First and Second Streets sold to Forest Lake and A. R. Key, the lot on Park Avenue south of the old H. & O. Garage sold to Dr. C. J. Mar shall for more than $10,000. W. S. Hand has purchased the W. L. Morgan home on Park Avenue. H. Deane has purchased three lots in Sanford Heights and on them will build houses in an effort, Mr. Wright stated, to help relieve the existing shortage of houses in Sanford. T. M. Fox has purchased several acres of lakefront property east of Mayfair and will hold it.

Fall Term County Court Will Begin Tuesday Morning

According to an announcement this morning by County Prosecuting Attorney Schelle Maines, about 12 criminal cases will be placed on the docket for trial in the regular term of county court which starts Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

About three of the cases, he stated, will be for driving automobiles while drunk, several will be for assault and battery, some for larceny and perhaps several for various other offenses.

It was learned that the cases had not then been docketed and for that reason could not be secured for publication. These civil cases likewise had not been placed on the docket and no record of those could be had today.

Court officials at the last term of court declared that they had experienced a very successful session. Practically all of the defendants arraigned were found guilty and were either sentenced to serve jail or road sentences or pay fines and costs.

It is reported that the September term will also be successful from the viewpoint of the prosecuting attorney, according to almost every indication.

Flow of Oil Steady. BUCHAREST, Oct. 6.—The production of crude oil in Rumania during the month of July amounted to approximately 1,100,000 United States barrels. For the first seven months of 1924 crude oil production has amounted to about 7,000,000 barrels.

ATTEMPT MADE TO KEEP COHEN OUT OF OFFICE

Validity Fourteenth Amendment Questioned From New Angle in Case New Orleans Negro Chosen Comptroller

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 6.—A suit attacking the validity of the fourteenth amendment from a new angle will be filed in Federal District Court here today in the form of a petition seeking to enjoin Walter L. Cohen, negro, comptroller of customs of the port of New Orleans, from exercising the duties of that office, according to the Times-Picayune. The action, if successful, would have the effect of disenfranchising every negro in the United States.

The petition, as published by the newspaper, charges that Cohen "falsely alleged himself to be a citizen of the United States," when he took the oath of office. It asserts that the defendant is not a citizen of his country but is a "person of African blood and descent and is inherently incapable of being a citizen of the United States."

Never Subject of Decision. The suit is to be brought in the name of H. Edwin Bell, an attorney of Washington, D. C., who, according to the newspaper, declares that the grounds upon which it is based never have been the subject of decision by the courts. The petition sets forth that three-fourths of the states did not ratify the amendment nor was it adopted by the required two-thirds vote of both Houses of Congress.

Mr. Bell was quoted as saying that although he and his associates had examined all of the more than 200 decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States which had to do with the amendment, in not one of them were the points raised in his action raised upon nor were they made an issue. The petition charges conspiracy to the authors of the amendment in Congress and says the case seems to be cited in an effort to show they put the amendment into effect unlawfully.

As to Cohen, the petition charges that when he took the oath of office in Washington, April 16, 1924, he swore falsely by his alleged citizenship, claiming to be a citizen under "the provision of the alleged fourteenth amendment of the Constitution of the United States."

The petition alleges that article 11 never was legally proposed by two-thirds of both Houses of Congress, that it never was ratified by three-fourths of the states, that eleven states of the Union at the time of the adoption of the resolution, "eliminating in the alleged article 14," were unconstitutional as to the states, that six states were in coercion forced to ratify it and that Congress "did without power or authority, unlawfully declare said amendment to the Constitution adopted and a part of the Constitution."

Home of President of Cuba Heavily Guarded

HAVANA, Oct. 6.—The guard at President Zaya's palace was doubled today as a precaution following a pitched battle last night in the streets of Camaguey, between city police and followers of the former President Menocal in which several persons were reported killed and approximately 60 wounded.

Board County Commissioners Votes Salary for Chairman Welfare Body

At the regular meeting of the Board of County Commissioners today, a Welfare Committee representing the county was approved and the clerk instructed to draw a warrant in the sum of $135 each month to be paid to the chairman of the committee. This committee, it is understood, is to work together with a committee representing the city of Sanford in the public welfare work of Sanford and Seminole county.

A motion was passed instructing County Engineer Fred T. Williams to survey and plat, and get signatures on the plat, of two roads, one from the ice plant south to Upsala and, except for the already surfaced road from the station at Upsala north to First Street. The fire arm bonds of George Kingsley, E. L. Humphrey, and R. H. Humphrey were approved and notices were ordered issued. The county public bond of Joseph P. Hall was also approved.

FIFTH WEEK SEES UPSET OF DOPE IN HERALD CONTEST

Few Surprising Changes Noted in Standing of Leaders in Subscription Contest; 3rd Period Ends Saturday

The dope was all upset in The Herald's big subscription campaign last Saturday when Miss Nell Williams regained the lead pushing Miss Velma Shupp back to second place, after having held top position for several weeks. Others held such a heavy vote that this week starts with the contestants all in a heap and there is no telling just what the result will be when the votes are again published next Saturday.

Handicapped by the rains last week and especially last Saturday, the contestants had to work under great difficulties, but nevertheless many subscriptions were turned in at The Herald office.

Third Period Ends Saturday. Next Saturday night at 10 (Continued on page 6)

Sanford Baseball Fans Show Much Interest in Series

Evidencing keen interest in the World's Series between Washington and New York, local lovers of the national pastime have given generous support to the local legion post in securing the returns from the big games play by play.

On Saturday afternoon despite rainy weather the attendance at the armory where the returns were being received, was very good and Sunday afternoon the legion entertained a packed house of enthusiastic fans.

As the returns began to come in shortly after 2 o'clock on both afternoons interest became more intense when a particular flashy play was announced, the crowd would applaud generously. The Senators seem to be the favorite in Sanford although the Giants have some dym-died-in-the-wool supporters among the fans.

Many favorable expressions have been heard regarding the excellent service which the legion is furnishing. P. C. Gilbert, manager of the Western Union, is doing the announcing with George Schall handling the scoreboard. Leroy Chittenden is assisting in announcing the players and keeping score.

Each afternoon beginning promptly at 2 o'clock the baseball matches begin with the plays coming in almost continuously from then until the game is over. This afternoon the Senators and Giants clash in the third game of the series and the first to be played on the Polo Grounds in New York. Mcgridge is slated to pitch for Washington and McQuillan or Barnes for the National League pennant winners.

PAN-AMERICAN TRADE BODY IN U. S. IS PLANNED

Representatives to Convention in Atlanta in Meeting Sunday Favored Formation of Such Body in U. S. Soon

NEW ORLEANS Picked As Location of Body

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 6.—At a post-convention meeting Sunday afternoon, representatives of several of the Latin-American republics who have been attending the Pan-American Commercial Congress which adjourned Saturday, voted yesterday in favor of a suggestion by Senor Don Benjamin Cohen, of Chile, that a Pan-American chamber of commerce be established in the United States for the purpose of furthering the commercial relations of the Latin-Americans with the United States.

The post-convention committee unanimously favored New Orleans for the location of the proposed commercial body and voted that immediate action be taken to have the Central and South American nations investigate the proposal and designate representatives for that body. New Orleans, it was said, was selected because of its central position of accessibility to Latin America and of the ports of the South Atlantic.

It was also decided at the meeting last evening that W. O. Hart, of New Orleans, member of the American inter-high commission, be named chairman of the organization committee to prepare for the convention of the Pan-American Congress next year in New Orleans. It was decided that the 1925 Congress would be held the first week in October.

S. G. McLendon, secretary of state of Georgia, was named the chairman of the committee to organize the initial plans for the holding of a world's fair and maritime exposition in Savannah, Ga., in commemoration of the first ocean crossing by a steam propelled vessel. The proposed world's fair was approved in a resolution by the Congress.

Tom Benham, Cameron, president of the Bankhead Highway Association, was designated to head the committee to lay the plans for a long Congress to authorize the Bankhead highway from Washington to San Diego to be made a national highway, maintained by the United States government. The committee will also take up with the nations controlling the highway Interals in this plan, the plan of government led by the Latin-American countries through which the laterals run.

It was also announced that Matthew H. Hale, president of the South Atlantic maritime body, would head the committee to obtain and present to the United States Shipping Board and the department of commerce in protest against the discrimination in rates to South Atlantic ports, and would also urge further development of Southern ports and shipping.

Dr. C. J. Owens, president of the Southern Commercial Congress, who presided over the session of the Pan-American Congress, announced that among the committees authorized by the recent meet, two which would be decided on and would begin work very soon were one to make a survey of the present commercial treaties with the various countries of Latin America with the view to recommending new ones where needed and desired, and the other to investigate the feasibility of the plan being considered in Latin America of combining the countries of Costa Rica, Guatemala, Nicaragua, Honduras and Salvador into a United States of Central America with the Tegucigalpa, Honduras, as the capital city.

Fish and Game Body Meets Tuesday Night

A meeting of the Seminole County Game and Protective Association for the purpose of electing officers will be held Tuesday night at 8 o'clock, according to an announcement made today by W. A. Leffer, secretary of the organization. A full attendance of the membership is desired and those interested in the body are cordially invited to be present.

Third Game of Series Sees Senators Use Four Pitchers And New York use Three

New York Hurler Gets Circuit Clout

Crowd 55,000 Witness Game; Washington Nine Fights Gately

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—In the third game of the world's series and the first game played in New York, the Giants battled their way to a 6 to 4 victory over their American League adversaries here this afternoon at the Polo grounds.

It was not an easy victory for the National League pennant winners as the game indomitable spirit which has featured the Senators playing during the first two games was in evidence, even though they were away from home. The Washington club under the leadership of its scrappy manager, "Bucky" Harris, played a jam-up game, but McGraw had it on the Washington manager in the pitching line and for the second time the Cap City nine tumbled in defeat before a fierce onslaught of hits.

The score by innings:
New York 021 01x—6 110
Washington 000 200 011—4 02

Manager Harris used four pitchers in an effort to stem the tide of defeat but it was of no use. The Giants were out for victory, which they claimed.

The New York manager changed twirlers in the fourth inning when the Senators made their real bid for the game, and again in the ninth. The change proved costly, as Ryan forced in a run by walking a player when the bases were already filled.

It was a game riddled with baseball thrills. Fielding on both teams was excellent, hair-raising catches being made on both sides. It would have been an errorless game had not Martin allowed a weak grounder to roll between his legs in the fifth inning.

Marberry started the game for Washington but was relieved by Russell in the fifth after the Giants had scored four runs. Martin came to the mound in the seventh and Steve Ralston relieved him in the next inning. Ryan went in to pitch for McQuillan, who started the game for the Giants, in the fourth. Jomard relieved Ryan in the ninth.

The Giants started the ball rolling in their half of the second when they scored two runs. Terry, the first man up sent a lacing single to right field. Wilson fanned but Jackson, the next man up, hit a hot one to third and when Harris muffed the throw to second, both runners were safe. Gowdy singled scoring Terry. Jackson went to third but Gowdy was out trying to stretch into a double. Jackson scored a few seconds later on a wild pitch.

The New Yorkers, anxious to avenge Sunday's defeat, added another in the third when Kelly singled to left center field and went to third when Terry sent a single into right field. Kelly scored when Wilson hit into a double play.

The attendance at today's game was 55,000. The weather was clear and mild. Manager Harris sent Marberry, his star righthander, to the mound, contrary to the expectations of the dopsters, who figured that Mcgridge, southpaw, would be elected to do the hurling. Manager McGraw chose McQuillan to do the heaving for the Giants.

Not to be outdone by their adversaries, the Senators came back in the fourth inning and scored two runs. Rice walked and advanced to third on Judge's double and scored when Miller sacrificed to left field. Ruel walked and filled the bases. Hank McKinnon and sent in Ryan, who promptly walked. Tate, batting for Marberry, thus forcing in Judge.

Ryan joined the ranks of the home run hitters in the Giants' half of the fourth, when he sent a long fly into the upper tier of left field bleachers. It was the fifth circuit clout of the series and the third to be poked out by a New York player. The hit brought a thunderous yell from the stands and the hurler ran.

Only Five Cases Are Arraigned City Court

Time is Passing-- Only a Few Weeks Remain in which to Win a small Fortune

A Fight for Supremacy

As the third period gets well under way contestants are hard at work securing new subscriptions and votes in The Herald's big circulation campaign.

Realizing that the voting schedule will again be reduced after a week from Saturday, they are hot on the trail of every possible vote in the determination to get votes while the getting is easy.

It is a fight to the finish for supremacy. And every day the contest gets hotter with competition becoming more keen.

Contestants are receiving subscriptions through every channel. Some are coming by mail, some by telegraph and others are being brought to them.

Time means much these days to the various young ladies. Every subscription means a great deal. Every vote is needed by the contestant who wishes to win.

Rules of Campaign

Any young lady residing in Sanford or Seminole county, over 16 years of age, is eligible to enter this automobile and salesmanship campaign and compete for one of the valuable prizes offered.

The territory is wide open. Contestants can enter from any point in Seminole county and be on an equal basis and have the same opportunity to win.

Subscriptions to The Sanford Herald may be secured anywhere in the United States at the regular rates. All orders turned in at The Herald office must be accompanied by the cash in payment.

A contestant will not be permitted to pool her votes in favor of some other contestant. Votes can not be transferred from one contestant to another.

A nomination blank, when properly filled out with the name and address of the contestant nominated, will give that person so nominated ten thousand votes. Only one nomination will be credited to any one contestant.

Only one prize will be awarded any one contestant. The winner of the first will not be eligible for any other prize or commission.

Contestants who remain active in the campaign until the close and who fail to win one of the prizes will be paid a commission of ten per cent on the amount they have secured in subscriptions. The Herald wants no contestant to work without remuneration and will pay all those who fail to win one of the valuable prizes a commission of ten per cent provided the contestant remains active until the end of the campaign.

All votes to be counted to the credit of contestants in this campaign should be mailed to The Sanford Herald or delivered personally to the Campaign Manager at The Herald office.

The Salesmanship Campaign began Friday morning, August 29, and will end at ten o'clock p. m. Saturday, November 22, 1924.

This campaign is to be conducted on a fair, square and impartial basis and the prizes will be awarded to the contestants securing the largest number of votes. In order that there shall be no question in the minds of any person relative to the fairness of the campaign, The Herald will select three judges who will at the end of the campaign, count the votes that have been cast and will award the prizes to the winners.

Those contestants who fail to live up to the rules of the campaign will be subject to suspension, thereby forfeiting all rights they may have had. Said forfeited votes can not be applied to any other candidate.

The decision of the Campaign Manager will be final in all controversies arising between candidates.

With eight more weeks in which to secure votes there remains plenty of time for any ambitious young lady to enroll in the campaign. A few subscriptions will put any worker at the top.

HEARD AT THE CHURCHES

At the Presbyterian Church Sunday evening the subject was "The Three Parables of Jesus Recorded in Luke 15"—with particular emphasis on the parable of the prodigal son, the scribes and Pharisees.
Dr. Brownlee said in part: These three parables were spoken by Our Lord in answer to the criticisms of the Pharisees, that He was the friend of sinners.
Notice closely the words "Likewise I say unto you there is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth." I want you to especially give our attention to the expression "one sinner."

Here we have three parables and there are presented four types of sinners. And while these people lived hundreds of years ago still the story as we have it here records accurate pictures of types of sinners of today—men and women of our own time.
Notice, in the first place, "what man of you, having an hundred sheep, if he lose one, doth not leave the ninety and nine and go after that which is lost?"
The sheep is lost through ignorance and stupidity, not premeditation or evil purpose or a heart gone astray. Sheep wander from the shepherd. The sheep, with eyes not up, nibbles and nibbles and nibbles, until he is gone from the Good Shepherd.

This is a type of men of the present time, and of all ages gone. We know those whose minds are fixed on the definite purpose to the exclusion of all others. It may be food and clothing, it may be pleasure, fun, it may be the accumulation of wealth, the effort to gain money. We know them. And there are others having no settled aim, no definite convictions, but who are content merely to drift with the current, carried onward by the crowd. There are a great many people like the sheep, ignorant and aimless, drifting away from the Good Shepherd, and the protection of the fold.
What is the duty of the Church here? We know a multitude, nibbling their way like sheep, but you may have apparently forgotten your duty toward them, you are so intent on your work or on having a good time, with a thousand and one things constantly before your eyes to distract attention. Our faith, our work, must extend through the week. One by one, face to face with our fellow men.

The second type, illustrated in the story of the lost coin, is different. The coin was lost through carelessness. It was not lost through fault of others—and there are a great number of people in the world today of this type.
No man may stand before the Throne of God and say he does not know the way of Right, who has heard the voice of conscience, the voice of God.
We of this great country have begun our Constitution with the words "All men are created equal" and yet we know and must admit this is an impossible ideal, so far as equality of chance comes. You know you may have a thousand chances to be straight and Christ-like to those another may have.

During the past few years I have had some forcible examples of this phase of opportunity come before my attention, illustrating this matter of chance. I have known of little children, little girls who were accustomed to hear in their homes, from their own parents, the vilest of speech, profanity, obscenity, the sanctity of the Lord's name violated. Some had even been forced into sin by those very persons having legal care of them. Think of those little girls, not yet in their teens, with never a chance to live purely, to be Christlike. Yet through no fault of their own, have these little ones suffered but through the fault of others. I have no doubt that thousands and thousands of the children of America, not only in the slums of the great cities, but in the smaller towns and the rural communities, constantly are hearing their parents or others name God in blasphemy, or hear dirty or degrading stories. There has not been brought into their lives one ennobling influence. I know many of them exist. I have come in touch with some of them.
If we do not take the part of a friend to such, if they are permitted to grow to manhood or womanhood under such conditions, it must be to our shame.

The third type—the Prodigal Son. He was not like the ignorant sheep, and his difficulties did not come through the fault of others. He made his plans definitely. He had his eyes open. He knew what he was doing. He knew what it meant to be in his father's house. He used deliberate judgment. He wanted to see life, to be free to have a good time in some other way. So he asked for his part of the property and departed and wasted all he had. When he was in want he came to himself and returned home and found a welcome.

Now, when we wander from Christ, happy it is for us if judgment and conscience come and we come to ourselves and return to Him. I always think about that statement "He came to himself." Apparently the young man had temporarily lost his mind. Any man who can leave Jesus Christ out of his life is, after all, delirious, for no sane man can doubt the wisdom and judgment.
In all the three types mentioned there is a glorious hope, but the fourth is still in sin, and I tell you he is most hopeless of all types. May God pity this fourth type wherever found, and there is danger in every age of his being found in the Church. This is the Elder Son. He is the man who does not see any sin in himself but is quick to perceive it in others. More than that, he seems to have had no sense of social obligations. And the worst part of the picture is that instead of his glowing with pride and sympathy for his father's forgiveness of the prodigal he was filled with anger toward both.

Entering one's name on the church roll does not make a Christian, does not save. The only hope of salvation, for the sinner of any type, is in Jesus Christ.

Minister Delivers Stirring Sermons On Opening of Special Services

Despite threatening weather yesterday morning the first of a series of special meetings to be held at the First Baptist Church for the next two weeks, was largely attended and at the opening service the first floor of the sanctuary was packed and many people were in the balcony. Sunday School also showed a large attendance, 377 pupils and teachers being present.
The church choir rendered special programs at both morning and evening services. They were in charge of Mrs. A. N. Phillips, who is director of music. Announcement was made that other special musical features would be on the program at tonight's meeting. Services will be held in the mornings at 9:30 o'clock beginning tomorrow.
Rev. F. D. King, pastor of the church and who is in charge of the special meetings, delivered as his first offering, a sermon on the subject, "The High Cost of Winning."

At the evening hour he spoke upon "The High Cost of Refusing." Text for this address was taken from Psalm 119, verse 59.
"One way to get and stay ahead," said Rev. King, is to use a head. Careful thinking, one uses his head, he said. The value of careful thinking was emphasized by the minister, who declared that everyone should be ready to plead guilty to the accusation of thinking.
"Our people should lay more emphasis on the value and the importance of original thinking," he said. Along that line he pointed out that careful thinking saves one from many costly errors in business and would make many homes happier and save others from shipwreck. Given the ability to think, mankind sins against himself when he fails to use constantly and liberally that faculty, according to the minister.

Certificate Recital Is Given By Miss Smith On Past Saturday

A capacity audience assembled in the studio parlors of Mrs. Fannie Munson last Saturday afternoon to hear the certificate programs given by her talented pupil, Miss Charlotte Smith.
Mrs. Richard Maxwell, reader and Mrs. A. W. Phillips, soprano, were the able assistants on this recital.

Introductory ensemble numbers were given by Margaret Peters and Lucien Mahoney, Marguerite Garner and Carmen Guthrie.
The entire recital was delightfully rendered. So persistent were the encores following the Chopin Polonaise, the young pianist was obliged to respond.
Concluding the program, Mrs. Munson gave a short talk and said in part: "A certificate from any teacher, school or conservatory expresses a degree of accomplishment. This reads for the completion in a creditable manner a course in music—including required piano studies, prices, theory and harmony."
The programme numbers given were:
1. Prelude Op. 3 No. 2, (Rachminoff), Charlotte Smith.
2. Sunlight, (Harriet Ware), Mrs. A. M. Phillips, Madeline Mullen, Piano.
3. Love Dream No. 3 (Liszt), Charlotte Smith.
4. How They Brought the News to Ghent (Browning), Mrs. Richard Maxwell.
5. Polonaise A Flat Major Op. 53 (Chopin), Charlotte Smith.

Circle Five Meets On Saturday Afternoon

Circle No. 5 met Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Radford. On account of the weather the entire Circle was not present. Plans for work for the afternoon were discussed. $31 was turned in as the Circle's offering for the orphan's work day.

Ned Clendenen returned Saturday from Sarasota to spend the week end with relatives, leaving today to make Sarasota his winter home.

In studying the direction of the journey, there are several questions which a person should ask himself, Rev. King said. Among them are:
(a) If I continue my present course as a laboring man, what will be my condition a decade hence?
(b) If I continue my present course as a business or professional man or woman, what will be my condition a decade hence?
(c) If I continue my present course as a responsible human being, what will be the religiously a decade hence?

(1) A pressing, urgent question is: what is the direction of my present journey?
(a) If I am a Christian tonight, what contribution will I have made to others when I come to the end of my journey?
(b) If I am not a Christian, and I continue as I am going tonight, what will be my probable condition 2 years from this hour?
Changing the Journey.
Rev. King made the statement that if the gambler, the moderate drinker, the immoral men and women in business, the moral lepers, the materialists would consider with care the direction of their journey, there would be changes, immediate changes which would staid the communities and cities.
"For those who have thought and who are ready to change their courses there are futures which should challenge an heart," Rev. King closed his remarks with an appeal to his hearers to change their course, promising a reward greater than could be verbe realized.

BANG!—BANG!

and the big sale is on. The opening of this second sale of Pine Crest lots in Sanford promises to go over even bigger than the "OVER A HUNDRED LOTS IN FOUR DAYS," this past July. Sanford is bound to grow even faster the next two years than it has in the past, and the development is going south. Lots purchased in Pine Crest at the unusually low prices we are asking are bound to double in value, and will do that BEFORE you have finished paying for them.

PINE CREST LOTS

We have over a hundred of extra choice lots that we are putting into this sale and will sell them from $95.00 to $195.00—$5.00 or $10.00 down and the balance payable on our DOLLAR A WEEK CLUB PLAN. The deferred payments do not draw interest. We have some choice corner lots, facing on some of the new streets we have just opened. We have several lots facing on the new streets that connects Sanford Avenue with the Sanford-Orlando road. And remember, our highest priced lot in this sale is $195.00, and you get nearly three years to pay for it on our weekly plan.

HAVE THE CHILDREN JOIN

No matter how well off you may be financially, this offers a wonderful opportunity to create a saving account for your children. Select a lot for them, and let them pay it out. The payments are so small, they can do it. And a saving account in Sanford real estate is the best of investments—it should pay 100% on the amount invested. AT ONCE, as the number of lots are limited and are selling fast.

First Free Lot Oct. 15

We promised our club members a free lot once a month for five months. We will award the first lot on Wednesday, October 15th. Some member of our club, whose payments are up to date, will get one of these lots, and then on the 15th of each month thereafter, until five lots have been given away, we will award another. Join the club now so that you will come in on the first award.

IMPROVEMENTS

A large sum of money has been set aside for improvements in Pine-Crest. These improvements will be paid for by our company. There have been four new streets already cut through and graded. Other streets will follow. The underbrush and unnecessary timber is being taken off the place. You will find Pine-Crest a beautiful spot for a subdivision. It will pay you to take the time to run out and look it over. BUT DO IT NOW. Next week may be too late.

OPEN FOR BUSINESS

Our office has been closed during the summer months, but we are now doing business at the same old stand, Room 515-6, First National Bank building. We have listed some very choice buys in Sanford real estate and no matter what your demands may be, it will pay you to look our listings over. We are in position to fix you up in a City Home, Country Home, vacant lots, lake front property, acreage for subdivisions, farm land or orange groves. And inasmuch as we are looking for big results from the prospects secured this summer, if you have something you want sold, be sure it is listed with us AT ONCE. We have inquiries on our desk now for different kinds of Sanford and Seminole County real estate.

What have you to offer?

EXTRA SPECIAL BUSINESS PROPERTY

We have a nice piece of business property, well located, with a net income annually of better than a percent on $20,000.00 that can be bought right and on terms satisfactory over a period of ten years. If you are looking for a real investment look this over.

GOOD PAYING BUSINESS

We are offering for a quick sale a well established business in Sanford, located on First Street, at a price, with a guarantee that the business will pay for itself in less than two years. It is the best business of its kind on First Street, and the owner's reason for selling is because his health will not permit him handling the large volume. This is a good buy, see us about it.

VACANT LOTS

We have some good bargains in well located building lots, located on Oak, Park, Magnolia and Palmetto Aves. All on paved streets. We are in excellent position to locate you, where you want. Several of these lots are being offered at a bargain.

Park Ave. Home

One of the prettiest homes on Park Ave. has been listed within seven blocks of First Street. And the price is right.

Sanford Eleven Beats Palatka by Score 6-0; Rain Slows up Game

Joe Meisch Makes the Only Touchdown of Game During Last Few Minutes of Play

Both Teams Play Straight Football

Local's Goal Line Is Threatened But Once By The Opposition

By John T. Brady
The Celery Fed Seminoles of the Sanford high school pried the lid off the local football season Saturday by letting the Pals of Palatka down on the small end of a 6-0 score.

The game was played in pouring rain from start to finish which barred the local fans from opening up with their aerial attack and made them resort to straight football entirely.

The Pals were a lighter team than Sanford, but they certainly showed the effects of real coaching, to perfection, and they stubbornly contested every inch of ground, stiffening several times and taking the ball or forcing the Sanford ground-gainers to kick when they were virtually in the shadow of the goal post.

Without a doubt the line plunging of Joe Meisch was the outstanding feature of the contest. This made over tackle was seemingly tireless, taking the ball time after time over and through the line. He was the backbone of the drive that resulted in the lone touchdown that gave the Black and Gold the victory.

Leo Peck, captain and quarterback, also went strong, particularly in running back punts, and he showed sportsmanship of the highest order when he called Meisch to put the ball over for the first touchdown of the season.

Kennedy and Russell were the outstanding linemen. This pair of tackles breaking through repeatedly and throwing their man for a loss. Greer, the lanky right end, was always on the ball, covering several fumbles and can be cited, with his mate and Gunter for his interference. Christenberry did well but the day was too wet for this feet-footed back to properly strut his stuff. The center trio was well nigh impregnable as is shown by the negligible gains made over that sector by the enemy. It was composed of Pope, Whitfield and Wallace.

As a whole the team looked good to the few dried-in-the-wool fans who braved the weather and accompanied them to Palatka. With another week before the Bartow game to file off the rough edges, the coaches should round out a team that will give Summerlin a real battle.

The line-up:
Sanford Position Palatka
Greer R. T. Hudgins
Russell R. G. Sybill
Whitfield R. Miller
Pope C. G. Daugherty
Wallace L. T. Coswell
Kennedy L. E. Hall
Wilson L. B. Starling (c)

Owner Pirates Wants Reopen Investigation

Roger Peckinpaugh Proves Real Star When He Sends In Winning Run With a Hit In Ninth Inning After the Giants Tied Score in Their Half; Homers a Feature

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Battling with the indomitable courage that carried them to their first American League pennant, Washington's Senators Sunday turned the tables on the New York Giants, won the second game of the 1924 world's series and put themselves back in the thick of one of the most stirring struggles ever staged for baseball's greatest honors. In a flashing finish that was equally as spectacular as the climax to Saturday's opening issue and twice as thrilling to another capacity home crowd of 35,000, Roger Peckinpaugh, veteran shortstop, lifted himself to heroic heights by driving across the winning run in the ninth after the Giants had knocked Zachary, southpaw star, from the box and tied the score with two tallies in their part of the final inning.

The final score was 1 to 3, the same margin by which the first game was decided, and last night two of the "fightin'est" clubs that ever met for the championship snuffed their battleground to New York, where the third game will be played today. Washington, under the resumed leadership of its brilliant young pilot, "Bucky" Harris, seemed headed irresistibly toward victory Sunday until the ninth inning and its pulsating drama. Behind Zachary, who had outpitched his southpaw rival, Jack Bentley, after a shaky start, the Senators, on the stroke of a home run by Goslin in the first inning, with one out, and another circuit blow by Harris in the fifth, entered the final inning with a 3 to 1 lead.

Zachary Obviously Weakened.
But here, with triumph in his grasp, Zachary, whose slow curves had baffled the Giants and held them to one run and only four hits in eight innings, weakened and the National League champion sank to take advantage of their opportunity, launched a desperate attack, that as suddenly as it flared, was checked by Fred Marberry, relief twirler, who strode heroically to the occasion by striking out Jackson on three pitched balls with Wilson resting on second and McGraw into the lead.

Thus, Marberry, who gained credit for the victory, although he pitched only one batsman, and Peckinpaugh, whose smashing single drove over Judge with the winning rally in the ninth, when an other extra inning battle seemed imminent, shared in the glory with Harris and Goslin, whose mighty bats put the Senators into a commanding lead.

The American League champions who Saturday seemed more nervous by the fans and ceremony of the opening game than did the Giants as a result of the scandal involving them, played with sparkling dash and spirit under Harris, whose dynamic personality and all-around brilliance stood out as one of the highest spots of the entire game. It was a game that emphasized to even greater extent the evenness with which the rivals are matched, the keenness with which both are seeking the 1924 diamond title. Yesterday the experiences of the Giants, four time champions, and their superior steadiness under fire carried them through, but today they met their match in smartness, speed and attacking power. Washington lost no opportunities yesterday, there was no cracking in the pinch and in the end, the club's never-say-die spirit, inspired by Harris, pulled it through on top.

Nothing to Interfere.
The whole game yesterday afternoon was surrounded by an atmosphere diametrically opposite to that of the opening game. A crowd of equal proportions was on hand, but there were no ceremonies, no distracting influences or side issues. If they were present again, dignitaries who Saturday held the spotlight, became just fans today. Then, too, the strain of the previous bribery scandal that shrouded the Giants and charged the world's series atmosphere with suspicion and rumor, was absent. The game was the thing Sunday in the crowd realized it, the players knew it—and it seemed tonight that the rest of the series would be fought out with the playing issues dominating all else.

Sunday the "master mind" the tactics of McGraw, veteran Giant chief, failed in his attempt to make it two straight from the Senators. Having misled Washington's heavy artillery at last-

CALIFORNIA POLO TEAM IS ELIMINATED IN TOURNAMENT
WESTBURY, N. Y., Oct. 3.—The California polo team was eliminated from the tournament for the Monty Waterbury cup Thursday at Meadowbrook, failing to hit a handful of four goals which it received from the Orange County Horsemen, and losing in the semi final match, 12 to 8.

handed hitters in the first game with Art Neff, veteran southpaw, McGraw relied on his second portside star, Bentley, to keep the big guns silenced. But this strategy went awry and the proof of it came in the first inning when with 4wo out, San Rice singled and "Goose" Goslin, the team's "cleanup" slugger, came through with a crashing home run into the bleachers in right-center, giving the Senators a lead that the Giants never could overcome.
Bentley settled down after that and for the next seven innings he and Zachary waged a duel that was brilliantly close. Harris' home run, a shot that landed in the temporary left field bleachers, and a single by Rice in the fifth were the only hits in this seven-inning span off Bentley, while Zachary allowed but two safe blows and a run in the seventh that resulted from a pass to Kelly Meusel's single and a double play which seemingly was deliberately employed to stymie the bases at the expense of a run.

Granger Rough Cut

A Pointer on Tobacco—
The slower a tobacco burns, the cooler it smokes. Also the longer it lasts. This slow burning is due to the "cut". Granger is "rough cut" to smoke slow and cool—cut for pipes, not cigarettes. And Wellman's famous old secret method produces richer fragrance and taste.
