Local Officials Blamed For Information Delay

Decontamination Battle Continues Round-The-Clock

MOSCOW (UPI) — Specialists worked around-the-clock to control contamination at the crippled Chernobyl nuclear reactor, and engineers threw up embankments to prevent pollution of a nearby river, a Soviet newspaper said today.

The Komsomolskya Pravda newspaper warned the situation "remains complicated" 11 days after the explosion destroyed one of four atomic reactors at the Chernobyl complex, releasing a shower of radiation in the world's worst nuclear accident.

Special teams wearing anti-radiation gear removed cattle and horses from near the Chernobyl accident site, and the stricken reactor was still spitting out radiation, officials and the Soviet media said Tuesday.

Komsomolskaya Pravda, the youth newspaper, said today work had begun to put up embankments to prevent the contamination of the Pripjat River that flows near the reactor site.

A correspondent from the Soviet Novosti news agency said he visited the scene Tuesday. He described Pripjat, the community where reactor workers lived, as "badly contaminated." The town, 3 miles from the complex, has been evacuated of its 25,000 inhabitants.

The report said "the radiation level is lowering, yet the situation in the area of the nuclear power plant remains complicated."

"Workers and specialists are busy round the clock on a shift-rotation basis cooling the first, second, and third units" of the station and monitoring radiation levels," the newspaper said. Unit four was destroyed in the accident.

Judge Orders Phones Off At Casselberry Escort Service

An Orange Circuit judge has ordered the phone service of two Casselberry escort businesses turned off because law officials contend the phones are being used by the businesses to promote prostitution.

Circuit Judge Bernard Muszynski ordered the phones shut off Tuesday at Avante Garde and Enchante escort services. The request was made by the Metropolitan Bureau of Investigation.

Muszynski said he had the authority to order United Telephone Co. to turn off the service to the Seminole County businesses because the alleged violations occurred in Orange County.

MBI officials allege in arrest affidavits that at least 22 times between December and April undercover agents arranged by phone to pay for sex with women from the escort services.

About 20 women were arrested and charged with prostitution in March after a 10-week MBI investigation of the businesses.

Bank Robbery Suspect Jailed

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

At about 9 a.m. today a Winter Park man got a surprise when he arrived at the Seminole County Sheriff's Department to pick up his van, which police had recovered after it has been reported stolen.

He was arrested, charged with armed robbery, use of a firearm in a felony and grand theft in connection with the robbery of the First Bank at Butler Plaza, State Road 436.

Charges of resisting arrest with violence were also added against Jose Gabriel Perez, 37, of 636 N. Semoran Blvd. #1, after he allegedly attacked sheriff's investigator Dan Prast, who was making the robbery arrest today.

Perez had reported the van stolen following the bank robbery on April 25.

Sheriff's investigators impounded the van after two witnesses said they had followed the vehicle from the scene of the robbery to Stratford Square Apartments and parked it out there.

In reporting the incidents that led to Perez's arrest, Prast wrote:

"The robber entered the bank at about 12:50 p.m. April 25, and presented a handwritten note to a teller. The note said, 'This is a holdup! Remain calm or I will shoot! Give only $100, $20 bills — Wait until I'm gone to alarm anyone — Be quick with the money.'"

The teller said she saw a gun inside a bankbag the robber placed on a counter. The gun was pointed at her and she gave the bandit $320.

Witnesses saw the robber flee in a white van, possible a late 1980s Chevrolet. The man was alone.

Two bank maintenance men, Tom Edwards and Reginald Williams, pursued in their van the suspect's vehicle and followed it to Stratford Square Apartments on the south side of Lake Howell Branch Road.

Edwards and Williams went to a nearby service station and called the sheriff's department as they watched the van until deputies arrived.

Investigators checked the registration of the van pointed out to them by Edwards and Williams and learned the identity of the owner.

An envelope found in the suspect van was addressed to Karen Perez, 636 N. Semoran

Sanford Orders Fire Truck

Sanford will save $20,000 and shave eight months off delivery time of a new fire truck by purchasing a 1985 demonstrator model Pierce custom pumper. The $124,500 truck, to arrive later this month, is expected to serve the city for 20 to 25 years, Sanford Fire Chief Tom Hickson said today.

Funds for the pumper's $26,167 down payment are contained in this year's fire department budget and local financing will be sought for the balance, said City Manager Frank Faison.

The unit will assist the department's maintaining its Insurance Service Organization (ISO) rating, which equates to a savings for city homeowners and businesses in terms of the insurance premiums they pay.

According to Faison, the ISO rating is utilized by insurance companies as a determining factor in setting policy costs for homes and buildings. He said in addition to fire equipment, the ISO ranking is based upon municipal water supplies and the fire department's workforce and training programs.

Sanford and Altamonte Springs share the highest ISO ranking in Central Florida, a number five on a scale of one to 10, according to Sanford Assistant Fire Chief R.M. Neel.

The new pumper will join the department's seven other in-service units in providing "the most modern and up to date fire protection capabilities available," Hickson said.

During the last two weeks, Hickson and Fire Investigator Mike Hoening flew to Ohio and South Carolina, courtesy of fire truck dealers, to look at demonstrator units.

The truck they selected meets all the department's specifications, while at the same time saves the city $20,000 and delivery time due to its not having to be custom made, Hickson said.

Crystal Lake Water Being Tested

Tests of water samples from Lake Mary's Crystal Lake are continuing today to determine if swimming in the water would be safe.

Ellis Teer and his staff at Teer Laboratories, Lake Mary, are conducting the tests.

If the water is found to be safe for swimming, city officials hope to reopen the beaches by June.

Swimming was banned in the lake November 11 last year, after discovery of high coliform counts, indicating the possibility of human waste or disease producing bacteria in the water.

Three samples of water are taken from three locations, three times a day, for three weeks. Teer said of the collection process of samples to be tested.

"The coliform organism lives under about the same conditions as bacteria from human waste," Teer said.

Since the "no swimming" signs went up at the two Crystal Lake beaches, a search for the source of contamination to the water has been on. Some residents blamed the Muscovy ducks for depositing waste, causing the pollution. But Teer didn't buy that theory.

"I never suspected ducks or cattle," Teer said. "I flew over this lake, and we walked the entire perimeter searching for a source," he said. He said he suspected a leaking septic tank, or dumping of waste by a septic tank cleaning company.

Teer said the point of origin ended up being a 30-year-old septic tank pipe. "We found a broken pipe leading from the tank to the lake," Teer said, adding the residents who owned the leaking tank were not aware of the problem, which has been corrected to comply with today's tough standards.

While the results of tests were not yet available, Teer said, "The condition of the lake is getting better. The lake will clean itself, and improve. It's still pristine."

Longwood Stalls On Plan To Double Sewer Rates

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

An ordinance that would double the sewer rates for residents of the Skylark and Columbus Harbour subdivisions was tabled by the Longwood City Commission Monday night and another work session on the topic set for 7 p.m. Monday instead.

Outweighing residents concerns over the proposed rate increase Monday were questions on the size and location of a new 600,000 gallons-per-day plant in Skylark and whether it would work. Columbus Harbour residents were concerned about the condition of the package plant in their subdivision and plans to phase it out.

In a strange twist Monday night, developer Al Stolte offered to sell the city his 10.5-acre development, Oak Villa, for $750,000 as a site for the sewage treatment plant. Oak Villa, which Stolte has been trying to get approved by the city for 3½ years, is located across Grant Street from the proposed expansion.

Stolte and his representative Bo Simpson were at the meeting requesting acceptance of the final plat for Oak Villa. They said there are $5 million in improvements already in the ground.

The commission tabled action on the final plat until a special meeting 6:45 p.m. Monday.

P&Z To Consider Planned Flea World Expansion

By Sarah Plesher
Herald Staff Writer

The Seminole County Planning and Zoning Commission could pave the way for the expansion of Flea World if it okay's a rezoning request by flea market owner Syd Levy. The P&Z is scheduled to consider the request at 7 p.m. today.

Levy is seeking rezoning from agriculture to retail-commercial for 12 acres adjacent to the existing building, at the corner of U.S. Highway 17-92 and County Home Road.

The rezoning, if approved, will allow Levy to apply for a special exception in order to construct the expansion.

The expansion proposal includes the addition of about 70 acres to the project site, a 90,000-square-foot exhibit building, a 30,000-square-foot warehouse and an additional 1,100 parking spaces.

Levy has said the center would house weekend events, such as antique, art, computer and boat shows.

He said he hopes to start construction in August, once he receives the necessary approval from the county.

The project must receive approval as a development of regional impact (DRI). The development is considered a DRI because the total number of parking spaces exceeds 2,500. County Principal Planner Carl Gooline said.

Both county staff and the regional planning council have recommended approval of the DRI.

The P&Z, sitting as the local planning agency, will also decide whether or not the project requires an amendment to the county's comprehensive land use plan. If so, it must go before the state for a 90-day review under a new growth management law.

County staff, however, have determined that the project does not require a plan amendment because the construction is consistent with other development along 17-92, Gooline said.

Levy has proposed to undertake transportation improvements to accommodate increased traffic due to the expansion, county staff reported.

The work is planned to include the relocation of the northern access on 17-92 to improve ingress and egress and create an access on County Road 427 with right and left turn lanes, internal circulation improvements, signalization and access improvements.

CR 427 is slated to be resurfaced from 17-92 to CR 425 in 1987.

County planners said the expansion would not substantially affect weekday peak-hour travel on 17-92 because of the flea market's hours of operation.

County staff has also recommended the applicant commit $4,000 to the county fire commitment fund, $6,000 to the law enforcement fund and $50,000 to the Soldiers Creek Basin Water Management Improvement Fund.

IN BRIEF

Administration Says Network Gave 'Platform To Terrorist'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The administration, in an unusual rebuke to a news organization, has criticized NBC News for its interview with a fugitive Palestinian terrorist who vowed terror attacks in the United States.

State Department spokesman Charles Redman said Tuesday the network gave a "platform to terrorists" by interviewing Abu Abbas, alleged mastermind of the last October's hijacking of the Achille Lauro Italian passenger ship in which an American passenger, Leon Klinghoffer, was murdered.

Abbas denied to NBC that the killing occurred.

Robert Oakley, director of the department's Office of Counter-Terrorism and Emergency Planning, said the network's agreement not to disclose the whereabouts of Abbas amounted to a "pledge of silence and complicity."

Abbas, secretary general of the Palestine Liberation Front, vowed in the interview broadcast Monday night to launch terrorist attacks inside America in reprisal for the April 15 U.S. bombing raid on Libya. He called President Reagan "enemy No. 1."

Satisfied Reagan Heads Home

TOKYO (UPI) — President Reagan, ending the longest journey of his presidency, flew home to Washington today after winning "all we sought" at the summit of major industrialized democracies — especially a tough allied stand against terrorism.

Before departing, Reagan held a news conference televised in the United States and praised the "summit seven" leaders for issuing a six-point prescription for fighting international terrorism that singled out Libya — something Reagan was determined to win at the three-day gathering.

Senate Approves NASA Chief

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate has approved James Fletcher to again take up the reins of the nation's troubled space agency, overriding critics who charged he is a NASA "insider who was part of the problem."

The 89-9 vote Tuesday cleared the way for Fletcher, 66, to be administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, a post he held in the 1970s — when the space shuttle program got under way.

Senate Defeats Saudi Arms Sale

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate, squarely blaming Saudi Arabia for the stalemate in the Middle East peace process, dealt President Reagan a setback by rejecting the sale of $354 million worth of missiles to the kingdom.

The House is nearing today its equally certain vote of rejection of the missile package — nearly 300 members have signed the resolution opposing the sale. This would mark the first time Congress has passed a resolution to block an arms sale.

Fires In No. Carolina, Michigan

HOLLY RIDGE, N.C. (UPI) — A fire fanned by high winds and tinder-dry weather conditions raged across more than 10,000 acres in two eastern North Carolina counties, causing one death and forcing at least 12 families from their homes.

Meanwhile, about 200 firefighters battled blazes at six separate locations involving at least 7,000 acres of forest land in Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

More than 5,000 Michigan residents were evacuated, but officials said today the fires were contained.

Husband-Wife Salary Gap Narrows

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Wives are slowly narrowing the pay gap with their husbands and, the Census Bureau says, nearly 5 million wives surpassed their husbands in salary in 1983.

Another 2.2 million wives earned at least 80 percent of their husbands' salaries, the bureau said.

Still, the average working husband made more than twice as much as the average working wife, the bureau said in a report released Tuesday.

Reagan To Sign Eased Gun Law

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan is expected to sign a bill easing gun laws for the first time in 18 years by allowing the interstate sale of rifles and shotguns, but continuing such a ban on handguns.

The bill, approved on a voice vote, would allow the interstate sale of rifles and shotguns and ease record-keeping requirements for gun dealers.

It continues a ban on the interstate sale of handguns, but allows handguns as well as other guns to be transported across state lines.

Experiment Will Color Sky

NEW YORK (UPI) — Early risers Thursday and Friday may see bright clouds of purple, green and blue across the Eastern sky from a rare space experiment that will shower harmless chemicals in an arc along the coast, scientists say.

The NASA experiment will send exploding canisters of barium and strontium into space to test a theory about magnetic fields.

The show should be visible from Montreal to Jacksonville, Fla., and as far inland as Ohio at about 4:15 a.m. on both days, said Joyce Milliner, spokeswoman for NASA's Wallops Island, Va., Flight Center.

The clouds will be visible for about 15 minutes on both mornings, said Milliner.

Finance Committee Passes Massive Tax Overhaul Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Finance Committee, bolstered by new support from President Reagan, early today unanimously approved a massive tax reform bill that would drastically curtail popular tax breaks and cut rates to the lowest level in about 50 years.

The proposal, passed 20-0 shortly after midnight, would reduce the top individual tax rate by almost half — from 50 percent to 27 percent, remove about 6 million poor people from the tax rolls and provide Americans with an average 6.2 percent tax cut. There would be one other tax rate of 15 percent.

Overall, the bill would increase taxes on businesses by about $100 billion in the next five years, using that money to help pay for the individual cuts.

Also helping to pay for the lower rates would be the elimination or reduction of scores of popular tax breaks.

Some of the largest write-offs that would be limited involve tax shelters used primarily by the wealthy, although the committee also voted to drop a number of other tax breaks used by the middle class, including the deduction for Individual Retirement Accounts.

Sensitive deductions for state and local income and property taxes and home mortgage interest would be saved, and the standard deduction would be increased, as would the personal exemption, which would jump to $2,000 by 1988.

However, the favorable tax treatment of capital gains would be repealed.

The measure now goes to the full Senate, where the battle to salvage tax breaks is expected to be fierce. Debate is not expected to start for at least a month.

Several hours before the committee voted, Reagan, who was in Tokyo for the Economic Summit, gave the plan a conditional vote of confidence.

Speaking at a news conference, the president said he still had questions about portions of the bill, but believed it met his criteria for tax reform and was far better than the measure approved last year by the House.

"I think that very likely I can find myself supporting the Senate committee's version," Reagan said.

Deputy Treasury Secretary Richard Darman told the committee Reagan felt the bill was a "bold" step that "dramatically simplifies the tax rate structure and reduces personal income tax rates to the lowest level in over half a century." There currently are 15 tax rates.

The radical proposal was patched together in the last two weeks by Committee Chairman Bob Packwood just as it seemed that an overhaul of the tax code — which Reagan has made his top domestic priority — was about to die because lawmakers were reluctant to repeal tax breaks.

Stolen VCR Sales Lead To Arrest

Two Lake Howell High School students told Seminole County sheriff's investigator Jeff Hankins that they had bought stolen items. It led to the arrest of an 18-year-old Casselberry man.

The youths told Hankins they had each bought four video recorders from the suspect and one had also bought a camera and a stereo. The sales were made in March and April and the suspect allegedly told the buyers that the items were from TV & Stereo Town in Orlando, where he worked as a delivery person, Hankins reported.

The items, valued at about $4,000, had been reported to the Orange County Sheriff's Department as stolen from that business and the serial numbers of items the buyers had reportedly purchased matched those of stolen items, Hankins reported.

Roger Francis Kurd of 730 Laurel Way, was charged with four counts of dealing in stolen property after being questioned at the Seminole County Sheriff's Department Monday. He was jailed at 3:45 p.m. and was being held in lieu of $2,000 bond.

Don Albit Tanner, 19, of 1005 Pine Ave., Sanford, has been charged with burglary and was being held in lieu of $1,000 bond.

NO PRESCRIPTION

A woman arrested on a shoplifting charge at Jordan Marsh, Altamonte Mall, Altamonte Springs, had a charge of possession of a controlled substance added after police reported finding various types of prescription pills, about 100 tablets, in her possession.

The woman reportedly had no prescriptions for the controlled drugs.

Betty L. Sweeney, 51, of Leesburg was arrested at 4 p.m. Monday. She has been released on $1,000 bond to appear in court June 2.

WELDER DEAL

A man who allegedly agreed to sell a welder stolen April 17 from S & H Fabricating of Sanford to an undercover Sanford policeman has been charged with dealing in stolen property.

When he was arrested at 5:20 p.m. Monday the man reportedly alleged he had bought the welder from an unidentified man. When the undercover policeman asked the suspect if the welder was 'hot' (stolen) the suspect allegedly said, 'Not too hot,' a police report said.

When the undercover policeman called on other officers to assist in the arrest the suspect reportedly ran into an alley behind 1014 Maple Ave., in an effort to evade police, but he was caught.

Virgil Gilley, 30, no street address, Sanford, was being held in lieu of $1,000 bond.

TIRE IRON ATTACK

A 21-year-old Orlando man, who allegedly hit John Fella in the face with a tire iron, breaking his nose and left eyesocket, has been charged with aggravated battery.

Fella was treated at South Seminole Community Hospital, Longwood.

Craig A. Kritch, 21, of Orlando was charged with aggravated battery at 7:16 p.m. Monday. A Seminole County sheriff's report did not say where the arrest occurred, or where the alleged assault took place. The age and address of the victim was not reported and the reason for the alleged attack was not given.

Kritch was being held in lieu of $5,000 bond.

FRAUD & BURGLARY

A Lake Mary man who felt his home was entered a month ago but found nothing missing reported to Lake Mary police he started receiving products in the mail he had not ordered, billed to his VISA card.

He received a radio-controlled toy pick-up truck, two x-rated video tapes, and other products, and was billed more than $300 for the items, according to a police report.

He placed the products in his garage, where they were stolen, according to the report, which said a juvenile was suspected with taking the credit card, ordering the items, and then taking them from the garage.

David Kim Hackett, 31, 585 Morning Dove Rd., reported the events to police.

Court Sentencings

A former Sanford police officer and a female companion received 5 years probation each for possession with intent to distribute cocaine and marijuana.

William Patrick Foster, 42, and Barbara Jean Robare, 20, of 110 W. Airport Blvd., were sentenced by Circuit Judge Robert B. McGregor.

Each was also ordered to pay court costs of $200.

Foster, now a private investigator, and the woman were arrested in September by the Sanford police following a month-long investigation.

While serving a search warrant, officers found triangle-shaped packets containing cocaine and plastic bags containing marijuana. The home was raided Sept. 13. Foster was an officer on the Sanford police force in the mid 1970s.

In another court case, a Longwood man who stole a water pump from a Lake Mary construction site, and was reportedly trying to steal a second one, was sentenced to 6 months probation.

James Ernest Edward Jacobs Jr., 31, of 2910 W. Brantley Court was also ordered to pay court costs and $200 to the Public Defender's Office. A co-defendant is awaiting disposition of his case.

According to court records, police spotted an unlocked pickup truck with tools and lumber in the bed while parked at Crystal Lake Estates. The incident occurred around 10 p.m. Jan. 29.

Two men found in the area by police reportedly said they were using the bathroom in nearby woods. One of the men had wet clothing and appeared to have been sprayed with water, records show.

After questioning, police reported determining the pair was reportedly attempting to steal a water pump and motor and had already taken one from the site to the home of one of the suspects.

The pumps and motor sets are valued at $250 each.

In a third case, Thomas Capps, 31, of 721 Michigan St., Sanford, was found not guilty by reason of insanity of carrying a concealed weapon into the Seminole County Courthouse. Capps was arrested Oct. 7 after he entered the courthouse with a 14-inch bayonet strapped to his leg and carrying live ammunition. Capps, according to court records, has a history of psychological problems. He was ordered to continue treatment. Capps was the first person arrested at the courthouse after tighter security measures were instituted. Security was increased to prevent a repeat of a 1984 incident in Orange County where a man opened fire in a courthouse killing one bailiff and seriously injuring two men.

DUI ARRESTS

The following persons have been arrested in Seminole County on a charge of driving under the influence:

—Kenneth Wayne Coffman, 28, 1030 Cheetah Trail, Apopka, was arrested at 6:43 p.m. Monday on U.S. Highway 17-92, Longwood. He was also charged with following too closely and failure to maintain a single lane.

—William Joseph Anderson, 39, of 540 Lake Bingham Road, Lake Mary, at 11:45 p.m. Monday, after his car was in an accident on U.S. Highway 17-92, near Casselberry. He was also charged with careless driving.

BURGLARIES & THEFTS

Two rifles, a chainsaw and a cassette recorder were among $2,200 in items stolen from the home of Hal Colbert, 37, of 2845 Pine Way St., Sanford, on Monday, a sheriff's report said.

John B. Edwards, 40, of 130 Crooked Oak Road, Chuluota, reported to sheriff's deputies a $175 cassette deck and a $100 camera were stolen from his home Monday.

Disco Bombing Suspect Confesses To 2nd Blast

BERLIN (UPI) — A Jordanian suspected of involvement in the West Berlin discotheque bombing that killed an American soldier has confessed to playing a role in another Berlin bomb attack, police said.

Justice Department spokesman Volker Kaehne said Tuesday Ahmed Haal, 35, and two other Arabs admitted they took part in the bombing of a German-Arab Society office that injured seven Arabs a week before the bombing at the La Belle discotheque.

Haal was arrested April 18 on suspicion of being involved in the La Belle bombing April 5. In retaliation for the nightclub bombing, which the United States blamed on Libya, American warplanes struck the Libyan capital of Tripoli and the port of Benghazi.

Royal Faint Bumps Other News

VANCOUVER, British Columbia (UPI) — When the princess of Wales swooned near the feet of California Gov. James Deukmejian, one question rang out: Is Diana pregnant again?

Several British newspapers shoved the summit and the Soviet nuclear disaster off the front page to tell about the princess.

The 24-year-old princess had survived a park dedication, two trips on Vancouver's transit system and a tour of Expo 86 before fainting Tuesday in the California pavilion at Canada's $1.2 billion world's fair.

An ambulance was rushed to the scene, but Diana and Prince Charles were able to return to their hotel in a limousine and arrive four hours later at a formal dinner engagement.

"I'd just like to say that my wife is feeling much better now than she was this afternoon," Charles joked at the dinner. "(Her fainting) was entirely due to the extremely fertile conditions in British Columbia ... that ensures she will have sextuplets."

Charles stressed, however, that the princess was not pregnant as many royal watchers had speculated: "It's not true, of course," the prince said.

Iraqi Warplanes Bomb Tehran

By United Press International

Iraqi warplanes bombed Tehran in a mid-morning raid today, sending smoke billowing from an area where an oil refinery is located, the official Iranian news agency IRNA said.

Four people died and more than 17 were wounded in Iraqi bombing raids about the same time on Marivan and Bahen, border towns in northwestern Iran, IRNA said.

The Iraqi news agency IRNA said Iraqi jets "carried out a destructive attack on the refinery south of Tehran."

Bombs struck the Shahr Rey district where the refinery is located, Tehran residents reached by telephone said, but officials denied the planes hit the refinery.

Italian Farmer Sues Soviets

ISLAND OF ISCHIA, Italy (UPI) — A farmer who says radiation from the Chernobyl nuclear accident ruined her vegetable crop has sued the Soviet Union and asked that Soviet President Andrei Gromyko appear in court to pay $730 in damages.

Maria Di Meglio filed the civil suit after the Italian Health Ministry banned the sale of leaf vegetables because of the danger of radioactive contamination from the Chernobyl reactor disaster, her attorney said Tuesday.

Students Clash With Police

SEOUL, South Korea (UPI) — Hundreds of riot police and nearly 1,000 rock-throwing students clashed after memorial services for a protestor who set himself on fire at an anti-government rally.

Mysterious Mass Defies Description

NEW YORK (UPI) — An enormous mysterious mass has been discovered an estimated 5 billion light years from Earth, defying conventional explanations, an astronomer reported Tuesday.

Edwin L. Turner, professor of astrophysics at Princeton University, said in a telephone interview he discovered the mass in March while studying a quasar behind it.

"We thought for years we had two separate quasars," he said. "Then we compared thumbprints, so to speak, and realized it was one quasar with something in front of it splitting the light we perceived into two."

He estimated the mass is 1.5 million light years across and about 5 billion light years from Earth. A light year is the distance it takes light to travel in one year, about 5.9 trillion miles. The distance between Earth and the sun, for example, is about eight light minutes.

The new object has about 1,000 times the gravitational density of a normal galaxy, said Turner, leading some astronomers to speculate it is a cluster of galaxies, pressing together with tremendous gravitational force.

Other astronomers contend it is a black hole and still others believe it may be a cosmic string

— a phenomenon predicted by Einstein in which gravity from early fragments of the universe create optical effects.

But Turner said the newly discovered mass does not quite fit any of these conventional theories. It is larger, more powerful and all but invisible to the powerful observational equipment astronomers rely on.

"The cluster galaxy is the most conventional theory," he said. "But we have been able to observe cluster galaxies in the universe in ways we cannot observe this."

The scientists have not seen the object directly, but can estimate its size and gravitational pull, said Turner, whose account of the discovery will be published in next week's issue of the British science journal Nature. Evidence of the new object was gathered in early March at Kitt Peak National Observatory near Tucson, Ariz.

Cosmic strings produce double images when light hitting loops of gravity are distorted, as if passing through a giant lens in space. The phenomenon was predicted by Albert Einstein in the 1930s and first found in 1979, said Turner. Five cosmic strings have been identified, since, but none of these so-called gravitational lenses has been as powerful as this one.

Weak Insurers Not The Answer

Too often in times of crisis, we come up with a solution that often ends up creating new problems. In addressing the current insurance crisis, as with most things, maybe we ought to do a simple exercise in getting back to basics.

In the beginning, there was no such thing as insurance protection. There was just good luck and bad luck, and if your house burned or your father died or you were in an accident, that was just tough luck. After a while you could sue if there was wrongdoing in an accident, but usually that just meant that you wiped out the other guy. You didn't get rich at it and neither did your lawyer. If a business had bad luck in the form of an accident, courts and juries would use great restraint because to do otherwise would ruin the business, wipe out a service and cost jobs.

You couldn't sue the state, the federal government or any arm of government like the county, the park system, etc. It was illegal.

Along came liability insurance for any accidents with your car or on your property and in the operation of your business or profession. This was presumably an incredible boon to security for all.

Yet, at first, it wasn't. Nobody knew what would happen when he made his guesses about how much money it would take to cover unknown future events, and far too little reserves when a crisis came. Some went broke. Too often the average guy didn't have the protection he thought he had and for which he had paid.

Thus, government's first concern with insurance companies was making sure they could deliver, to assure they had enough cash reserves to cope with all sorts of future possibilities. You just couldn't operate on a skinny, hope-for-the-best basis. So, insurance companies had to maintain loss reserves to cover the claims, unearned premium reserves, and cash reserves to cover the "worst case," or not offer the protection involved at all.

Now, for a generation, insurance companies have maintained these large financial reserves, which swelled with the period of high interest rates, no doubt, and could shrink with lower ones. Insurance companies that meet the governmental demand of being prepared to meet all contingencies with adequate reserves of cash were bound to look "fat" to most of us compared with other businesses, and we got used to thinking of them as fat. We tend to have forgotten what it was like when they were "thin" and figured their reserves close to the wire.

We take it for granted they're loaded and ready to pay any demand that is made on them. And we've often become unreasonable in making demands.

Whether the companies are "too fat" is a very tough question, and only a Ralph Nader would jump in willy-nilly to read the figures that way.

If we start with the basics, there is one thing we do know: Too fat is better than not fat enough where insurance cash reserves are concerned.

As Florida legislators consider the present crisis, it is to be hoped they don't go overboard the other way in the panic and passions of the moment, pushing insurance companies to charge less and pay more — and insisting that skinnier reserves are adequate for anything that may happen.

We hope they remember the basics. Too much is better than too little where insurance financial integrity is concerned.

We've been there and we don't need to go back.

GOP Moderates Get Left In The Cold

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Moderate Republicans can be forgiven if they are beginning to feel like pariahs within their own party.

The Mainstream Republican Committee, a new organization of liberal and moderate Republicans with close ties to the group, said afterwards he was amused duPont chose to "be a Bush look-alike and a Jack Kemp stand-in." Privately, it's been reported, he was chagrined over duPont's speech.

The incident clearly demonstrates how convinced GOP presidential candidates are that the right wing of their party controls the GOP nominating process.

As more and more Southern states join the movement to hold their 1988 presidential primaries on the same "Super Tuesday," early in the primary season, political planners are putting greater stress on the need for early organizing and fund raising.

In the past, a candidate could get by raising just enough money for the early primaries and then hope money would pour in for later ones based on a good early showing. In 1988, however, with so many early primaries, a candidate needs a huge bankroll at the beginning or it might be over before it starts.

Recent campaign finance reports show that Vice President George Bush has a tremendous group for daring to use the word "mainstream" in its name.

Rep. James Leach, R-Iowa, chairman of the group, said afterwards he was amused duPont chose to "be a Bush look-alike and a Jack Kemp stand-in." Privately, it's been reported, he was chagrined over duPont's speech.

The incident clearly demonstrates how convinced GOP presidential candidates are that the right wing of their party controls the GOP nominating process.

In 1988, however, with so many early primaries, a candidate needs a huge bankroll at the beginning or it might be over before it starts.

Recent campaign finance reports show that Vice President George Bush has a tremendous lead over all his rivals in fund raising. At the end of March, Bush had 41 employees on the staff of his political action committee — which is substituting for a campaign organization at this point — and $2.5 million in the bank. Over the last year Bush's PAC has raised in excess of $5.5 million.

By contrast, Rep. Jack Kemp's PAC had a cash balance of $139,209 and debts of $180,000. Sen. Robert Dole's, a balance of $411,000 (mainly because he is spending little); and former Sen. Howard Baker, a balance of $575,000.

Kemp's problem is that he is being forced to run a more lavish congressional reelection campaign this year than he would have liked. The Democrats have put up a strong enough candidate to cause some worry.

It's not losing that Kemp is concerned about, but rather doing as well as people expect and maintaining his image as a national figure.

Kemp has already raised more than $1 million for his '86 congressional campaign and spent more than half of that. He could end up spending $1.5 million before it's over — money he will not have available for the '88 presidential primaries.

Americans Support Air Raid

A major political move almost always has multiple impact. And the spinoff from the Libya raid now stretches far beyond Tripoli and even the Middle East. A master politician plays his shots the way Willie Hoppe played billiards, the balls clicking around the green felt and producing all sorts of unexpected dividends. A few from the Libya raid:

1. The bombing demolished the anti-war consensus of the national Democratic Party. Khadafy was a shrewdly chosen target, so obvious and repulsive a villain that the strike against him had overwhelming popular support among Americans. Tip O'Neill and Teddy Kennedy, virtually pacifists where the use of American force is concerned, scurried to support the raid, and carried most of the Democratic Party with them.

Angry about the raid, but isolated at the far left end of the political spectrum, were a handful of political freaks like Jesse Jackson, Patsie Schroeder, and Ron Dellums, plus a couple of Republican oddballs, Lowell Weicker and Mark Hatfield.

The political result is that the Democrats will now find it difficult to oppose Reagan as "reckless" — and a "warmonger" from now on — and with congressional elections just around the corner. The Democratic front against "Reagan's foreign policy" collapsed over Libya, as the president dealt a telling blow to the Democrats' post-Vietnam passivity.

2. Libya, though not a Soviet satellite, is nevertheless armed and supported politically by the Soviets. It qualifies as a Soviet client state. The raid showed unmistakably that this confers no immunity. Soviet rocket emplacements were smashed; Soviet-built planes were pulverized on the runways. The raid struck at the margins of the Soviet empire, as the Reagan doctrine took a small step forward, and the Brezhnev doctrine took a small step backward.

Without a doubt, other Soviet client states around the edges of the empire suddenly began to calculate the costs and risks of their relationship with Moscow.

Mr. Gorbachev no doubt hoped that the United States would get involved closer to him, in Central America, thus allowing the Soviets a freer hand elsewhere. The Libya raid upset that expectation, and, in turn, made increased pressure on the Sandinistas easier.

Soviet Germ Warfare Research Unsafe

By Jack Anderson
And Dale Van Atta

WASHINGTON — The nuclear catastrophe in the Soviet Union dramatizes the risks involved when dangerous equipment is operated by a government that places little value on human safety. The world can only hope the Soviet bureaucracy will improve its nuclear safeguards as fast as possible.

One thing is crystal clear, however: The Kremlin isn't about to scale down its nuclear power industry, no matter how serious the accident turns out to have been. Nuclear power is too important to the Soviet economy.

A similar, potentially cataclysmic situation exists in another field of reckless Soviet technology: the biological warfare program. Accidental release of deadly anthrax bacilli following an explosion at a germ weapons plant in Sverdlovsk in 1979 killed hundreds of Soviet citizens — but it didn't stop the Kremlin from forging ahead with its biological warfare program in development of a 1972 international treaty outlawing the development of such weapons.

Presumably the Soviets learned something from that disaster. But as their scientists tinker with unimaginably awful germ weapons, there is always the possibility of an accident that could dwarf last month's nuclear meltdown. If Soviet scientists didn't know how to contain their burning graphite reactor, there's little reason to expect they'd know how to counteract the accidental release of some newly developed bacterial agent.

We've reported in the past on the Soviets' growing biological warfare capabilities, including a story last year that identified nine locations where the research is going on. Now we've seen the most recent CIA intelligence report on the subject, classified Secret. It concludes:

"We believe the Soviets are using recent advances in biotechnology, such as genetic engineering, to develop a new class of BW and toxin agents that can be rapidly produced for deployment." The time to deployment was estimated at five years.

New construction is pinpointed in the secret report. The Soviets in 1983 opened a weapons facility at Berdsk in a large chemical plant that produced bacteria for insecticide research. One section of the plant was off-limits to ordinary insecticide plant workers.

"This information combined with imagery intelligence (satellite photos) provides evidence that at least part of the Berdsk facility is involved with BW research and production," the CIA reported.

In addition, the agency learned in 1984 "that the Soviets had partially completed a large complex south of Moscow, which we believe is a major institute in their program to develop genetically engineered biological warfare agents." The report adds that "ongoing construction at the facility south of Moscow near Serpukhov and at the Novosibirsk Institute demonstrates a continuing Soviet commitment of resources to

JEFFREY HART

Americans Remember Air Route

CHICAGO, Ill. — In a perceptive talk here at a Heritage Foundation meeting in late April, Owen Harries, editor of The National Interest, noted that the line U.S. aircraft was forced to fly from Britain to Libya will be "etched" on the mind of the American people.

Surely, Mr. Harries, a former Australian ambassador, is right that the refusal of France to allow U.S. planes to use French airspace will lead to disenchantment with America's so-called "allies" on the continent.

One could say of France that the spirit of Vichy lives — the spirit of appeasement. As for the Germans, Italians, Dutch, Belgians and Greeks, it's clear they regard the NATO alliance as a one-way street, benefiting only Europe.

The British have proven to be America's only real ally in the North Atlantic alliance.

The Libyan crisis was the moment of truth for NATO. The Europeans undoubtedly don't realize that Americans won't forget the non-cooperation at such a critical moment.

America has been asking for this rejection. It has allowed the continentals to believe they are doing the U.S. a favor by allowing the stationing of 300,000 U.S. troops in Europe, and in devoting 58 percent of the U.S. defense budget to NATO.

The time has come to wake the continentals to the truth: the U.S. is doing an immense favor to Europe. America's security isn't advanced by having 300,000 troops in Europe. It is simply an extraordinarily generous deed which isn't appreciated. The U.S. has several thousand miles of ocean as a protective barrier.

What do we do now? One can expect that there will be a powerful public and congressional demand for bringing U.S. troops home from Europe. Ambassador Harries suggested a phased withdrawal to 30,000-man contingents.

If the continentals want U.S. troops in Europe, the terms will have to be very different. Let them pay the cost of the U.S. deployment. And let it be established that American military aircraft have the right to use all NATO airbases for whatever operations are necessary in the U.S. national interest.

If the Europeans don't like those terms, then let them raise their own armies, and expand their navies and airforces.

WASHINGTON WORLD

Against The Current

By Steve Gerstel

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republican liberals and moderates, who once dominated the GOP, are not just a shrinking minority within their own party, but apparently true pariahs fit only to be denounced or shunned.

Nowhere was the sad state of this once-proud wing of the Republican Party more poignantly exhibited than in a recent convergence of liberal-moderates at a meeting in Chicago.

Only one of the many Republicans mentioned as possible presidential candidates in 1988 would speak to them.

And that one, former Delaware Gov. Pierre du Pont IV of Delaware, used the invitation of these liberals and moderates to make it explicitly clear that he shared neither their aims nor their policies.

Du Pont wanted to make certain that the conservatives, closely monitoring the proceedings, knew that he was in lock step with them — and with all the other candidates.

It is, perhaps, unfortunate that the liberal-moderate wing calls itself the Mainstream Republican Committee — which is not only misleading but rolls the conservatives.

Despite the claims of the chairman, Rep. Jim Leach of Iowa, the liberals and the moderates are not the mainstream of the Republican Party. They have not been since Barry Goldwater and the conservatives seized control in 1964.

their BW program."

The CIA notes two encouraging developments since the Reagan administration publicly accused the Soviets of killing Afghans and Southeast Asians with poisonous mycotoxins. First, the Soviets have cut back on their use of lethal poison gas in the last two years; second, "official representatives of a number of nations have indicated privately that their own analysts support the U.S. conclusion" that the Soviets were using mycotoxins. But "for a variety of domestic reasons, most of these countries have refused to make public statements to that effect."

Although there has been no confirmed report of lethal germ weapons use by the Soviets since late 1983, the CIA has gathered evidence of chemical attacks in Afghanistan that produce "symptoms different from those previously associated with toxin use and which generally are not lethal." The chemicals remain unidentified.

The county commission is scheduled to hear the case May 20, after the P&Z casts its advisory vote.

In other business Wednesday, the P&Z will consider:

• A request by General Homes to amend the planned unit development master plan for Brentwood, located at the northwest corner of the Red Bug Lake Road/Dodd Road intersection.

The request is to allow fences constructed on corner lots to maintain a minimum five-foot setback on the side yard adjacent to the street.

Approval would also allow a temporary sewage treatment plant to be constructed in the southwest portion of the project.

• A request by Myra Stewart for rezoning of five acres at the northwest corner of Orange Boulevard and Kansas Avenue from agriculture to very light industrial. The proposal is to use an existing building as a sewing shop.

• A request by Richard Parker for rezoning from county estates to single family dwelling district, one acre at the northwest corner of the Tuskawilla Road/Gabriella Lane intersection. The rezoning would allow the construction of 1,800-square-foot homes on 13,500-square-foot lots.

• Kenneth M. Wing, rezoning from one and two family dwelling district to office district, five acres at the southeast corner of the Red Bug Lake Road and Dodd Road intersection. The proposed plan is for five, two and three-story buildings with 30,550 square feet.

Soviet officials investigating what has been called the worst nuclear accident ever said Tuesday that specialists were still working at the disabled reactor, and they indicated a second reactor was not out of danger.

Boris Shcherbina, head of the investigatory panel, told a news conference Tuesday that authorities waited 36 hours before evacuating residents near the Chernobyl disaster area.

"I recommend we wait until the work season and come back to these people with a clear cut plan and look into Mr. Stolte's proposal," said Commissioner June Lormann. City Administrator Ronald Waller was authorized to discuss the proposal with Stolte and the consulting engineer Rachel Christensen was asked to make a preliminary investigation into the feasibility of the property as a site for the treatment plant.

The condition of a retention pond in the Oak Villa subdivision has been blamed by Simpson on leeching of effluent from the Skylark sewage treatment plant percolation ponds under Grant Street and into the retention pond. He also said the red algae on an adjacent drainage ditch is also caused by seepage from the percolation ponds. "It's going to wash the road away," he added.

City staffers say it may be just a problem of clean up and better maintenance of the retention pond by the developer.

Monday night was the third meeting in a row that Skylark and Columbus Harbour residents have turned out to voice their opposition and concerns. The commission met with them for 4 1/2 hours in a work session

Shcherbina said the evacuation of 49,000 people began only after an explosion released clouds of radioactive debris, and he blamed local officials for the delay.

"The first information we obtained was not the same information we obtained in the area," Shcherbina said. "The local experts didn't have a true assessment of the accident."

The commission head said only essential plant workers were left after the evacuation Sunday afternoon, when radiation reached peak levels at the site 80 miles north of Kiev, and added they have since been removed.

Former Newspaper Owner Martin Andersen Dead At 88

ORLANDO (UPI) — Martin Andersen, who stepped off a train in Orlando nearly broke during the great depression and made a fortune as the fiery owner and editor of the city's newspapers, is dead. He was 88.

Andersen, who had been partially paralyzed since suffering a stroke in 1984, died Monday night after a long illness.

In 1931, Andersen arrived in the town he would come to influence so heavily with $35 and the job of running the newspapers for owner Charles E. Marsh, a Texas publisher. The newspapers' combined circulation was 10,000.

Andersen sold The Orlando Sentinel and the Orlando Evening Star in 1965 to the Tribune Co., owner of the Chicago Tribune. When he gave up their helm, the newspapers' circulation was 150,000.

"It was a small town, unaccustomed to strong and independent newspapers, and some of my policies were unpopular," Andersen said. "It was new journalism for the little town ... I made them get up at dawn, go out into their yards in their shirttails, walking barefoot in the dew, to get the paper." Naming him one of Florida's six most powerful men in 1958, Florida Trend magazine said of Andersen, "He is ... the first to be consulted by a public official on some project that is controversial, because the official knows that to propose something that does not meet with the approval of Andersen might well be to kiss the project goodbye."

Andersen was born Jan. 12, 1898, in Greenwood, Miss., and quit school at the age of 15 to help support his family. Marsh hired him away from The Associated Press in the 1920s to help manage the publisher's newspaper properties.

Marsh sold Andersen the Orlando newspapers in 1937 out of gratitude for making him so much money. Marsh required no down payment.

Andersen is survived by his wife Gracia Barr; daughters Marcia Andersen Murphy, Windermere, and Dorris Scheaffer, Lake Toxaway, N.C.; seven grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Services are to be at 10 a.m. Thursday in Knowles Memorial Chapel at Rollins College. Andersen's remains are to be cremated at Baldwin-Fairchild Funeral Home.

FBI agents interviewed Perez and he allegedly said his van was stolen near Aloma Avenue in Winter Park, by a Hispanic man who generally matched his own description.

'Green Solution' To Budget Crunch

By T.R. EASTHAM
 WASHINGTON (UPI) — Closing tax loopholes for polluters and penalizing practices that endanger natural resources offer a "green solution to red ink" by easing deficits without slashing environmental programs, activists said Tuesday.

Up to $80 billion in tax revenue can be gained by environmentally sensitive tax reforms, according to a 50-page study prepared by a coalition including the Sierra Club and National Wildlife Federation and called "The Environmental Solution to the Deficit Dilemma."

Failure to shift the tax burden to polluters will erode environmental safeguards, the study concludes, creating a threat to human health, natural resources and endangered species.

"The green solution to red ink is to close loopholes such as the investment tax credit, write-offs for second home mortgage interest and capital gains breaks," Sierra Club legislative director David Gardiner said in discussing the report.

"These loopholes promote and reward unneeded nuclear power plant construction, wetlands destruction and the overproduction of health-threatening toxic wastes," Gardiner said.

Eliminating tax incentives for the construction of nuclear and coal-fire power plants and for draining and filling wetlands, among others, would generate some $60 billion annually, the study says.

It also proposes two new corporate taxes, on sulfur dioxide emissions and non-renewable energy resources, to generate an additional $20 billion a year.

The Senate Finance Committee has been wrestling with tax changes that could wipe out some corporate tax breaks, but lawmakers are unlikely to impose substantially heavier taxes on business, President Reagan is strongly opposed to any new taxes.

The environmentalists warned that, should the spending cuts ordered under the Gramm-Rudman balanced budget law go into effect, they would endanger essential Interior Department and Environmental Protection Agency funds.

"In just a few years, it will cost us billions of dollars to clean up hazardous substances dumped carelessly into our air, earth and water if we don't spend a few million dollars wisely now to enforce existing laws that require the safe treatment and disposal of life-threatening toxics," said William Drayton, a former EPA assistant administrator.

Non-compliance with environmental safety laws is already as high as 80 percent in some areas, Drayton said.

William Painter, acting president of Defenders of Wildlife said "at least nine" endangered species, including the bald eagle and Florida panther, would go virtually unprotected under contemplated budget cuts because of insufficient funds to catch poachers.

The automatic cuts would go into effect in fiscal 1987 if Congress is unable to agree on a budget that meets Gramm-Rudman requirements for a federal deficit no higher than $144 billion for the coming year.

Regional-Ripe Shownda Hopes For Double Harvest At State

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

After her performance in the regional meet, coach Emory Blake is not asking Shownda Martin the same question that seems to be stuck on singer Janet Jackson's mind — "What have you done for me lately?"

It was vintage Shownda at the region meet and Blake hopes the sophomore standout will ripen to her peak Saturday in the Class 4A State Track and Field Championships at Showalter Field in Winter Park.

Martin qualified for state in a pair of individual events, the 440 and the 880, as well as the mile relay. She is the defending state champion and state record breaker in the 880 and also ran a leg on last year's record-setting mile relay team.

Although Martin has had her troubles running both the 440 and the 880 this season, Blake said she will compete in both Saturday and looks for her to at least place in both, if not win them.

"She is capable of winning both the quarter and 880," Blake said. "The main thing is how she feels when she's ready to compete. If she feels she can win them both, she has a shot."

Martin is coming off her best time every in the open quarter as she ran a 58.5 to win the region title. That time is the second best going into state as Fort Lauderdale Dillard's Vicky Brown has run a 55.7.

"I know if I push myself a little harder I can run a faster time," Martin said. "A got a little bit of a slow start (at region) but came back in the back stretch. If I can work harder to get off to a better start I'll run better at state."

Running a strong 440 and coming back in the 880 has drained Martin in past meets this season but Blake feels she still has the ability to run a strong 880.

"The 880 times in the state are basically the same," Blake said. "There weren't very many changes after the regional meets. Right now, it looks like 2:17 will win it and Shownda has run a 2:09."

Blake said if Martin goes right out and takes command in the 880, she can cruise the rest of the way and still take first in the state. Last season, Martin took the lead from the start in every race she ran and was never seriously pushed.

Martin's best time in the 880 this season is 2:19.6 which she ran in the early going. In the region meet, she ran a 2:21 and took fourth place and the final state qualifying spot.

"She just went on and placed in the 880 but felt she could have did better," Blake said. "The top time going in is not beyond her grasp by any means."

Martin ran an impressive anchor leg on the mile relay at the region meet as her 440 split of 54.4 gave the Lady Seminoles a time of 3:52.4 which leads the state going into Saturday's meet.

"She looked like Shownda at her best on that leg," Blake said. "We feel if Shownda gets the baton from five to 10 yards out of first place, we can win it with no problem."

Oak Ridge has the next fastest time in the mile relay at 3:55 and Dillard is at 3:56.

The Lady Seminole foursome of Dorchelle Webster, Adrian Hillsman, Scott and Martin is also going after the school and state record of 3:48 set last year by the team of Martin, Webster, Trina Walker and Glenda Bass.

Her sophomore season hasn't been as earthshattering as her freshman year, but the state meet is the one that counts above all the rest. And, if the regional meet is any indication, Shownda Martin is ready to once again move into the state spotlight.

Cinderella Not Overused Tag For Surging Satellite

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

The term "Cinderella" is somewhat overused when it comes to Final Fours. It seems every advocate of the underdog is ready to jump on the bandwagon of any team which seems the least likely to win the championship.

Every once in awhile a legitimate interloper approaches the ball, however. A team which has qualified but when the playoff system began several weeks ago didn't have a MVP written on its district tournament application form.

Coach Pete Campbell is the first to admit his Satellite High's Scorpions wouldn't intimidate anyone with their record. It stands at a modest 13-12. Why, just three weeks ago, the Scorpions were floundering at 8-12 and Campbell, a former UCLA football player and present English teacher, was thinking more about Thoreau (two syllables) than throw (one syllable).

Five consecutive wins later, Thoreau was thrown back on the shelf. District, regional and sectional championships qualified the Scorpions for Thursday's 5 p.m. encounter against Palatka in the semifinal round of the Class 3A State Baseball Tournament at the University of Central Florida's Field. Oviedo and Fort Lauderdale St. Thomas Aquinas meet in the second game at 8 p.m. The survivors vie for the title Friday night at 8. Tickets are $3.

"The record is nothing to rave about," Campbell said Monday. "But we really have been improving. And I don't think anybody knows anything about anybody else. I never look more than two innings ahead at the most."

Palatka, meanwhile, is 20-6-1 under coach Lee Parkinson. Whereas, Satellite finished with a rush to earn its berth at state, the Palatka reeled off nine wins to open the season, hit a midseason snag before hitting its stride again.

"We are a scrappy club," Parkinson, who has won three district titles in his five years, said. "We get some pitching and we can play defense. We haven't put it all together with the bats yet."

Campbell said its easy to figure his team. David Lowe, a 6-4 senior righthander, is the franchise. The Vanderbilt-bound linebacker has posted a 10-5 record with a 1.99 earned run average. He has fanned 163 batters in 101 2/3 innings.

"The question has always been: Can we hit the ball well enough to support David's pitching?" Campbell said. "When we do, we win."

Satellite's best hitter is center fielder Pat Rang. The senior has a .425 average with 23 runs batted in. Satellite doesn't have another hitter over .300 but has a cluster around .280-.290. Leadoff hitter Gordon Swordsma (.287), first baseman D.J. Ellis (.285), Lowe (.288) and second baseman Rob Intille (.285) complete the group. Left fielder Curt Fullerton is hitting .240 but has 15 ribbies. Intille has driven home 18 runs.

The Scorpions produced 19 runs in their three tournament title games while holding the opposition to nine.

Palatka has received excellent

Alan Greene follows the flight of an extra base hit. Oviedo's sophomore designated hitter has stroked five hits in 10 at-bats during the post-season playoffs. Greene and the Lions take on Fort Lauderdale St. Thomas Aquinas Thursday at 8 p.m. in the semifinal round of the Class 3A State Baseball Tournament at the University of Central Florida.

hurling in its three tournament championships. In victories over St. Augustine, Jacksonville Bishop Kenny and Tallahassee Leon, Palatka tossed two shutouts and gave up just one run against Leon.

Bill Jones, a senior righthander, will hurl Thursday. Jones posted a 10-3 record with a 1.42 ERA. He struck out 115 in 83 2/3 innings. "Jones is not overpowering but he has a pretty good curveball," Parkinson said. "His fastball moves pretty well. He broke the school strikeout record."

Backing Jones are junior Lew Garner (5-1, 1.53) and Jerry Scroggins (4-0).

Parkinson, who was a catcher at St. John's River Community College and Jacksonville University, has a lineup of line drive hitters which features decent speed at the top of the order.

Leadoff hitter Brent Everson, a senior shortstop, has a .295 average to go with 18 RBI and eight steals. Mike Cason, a senior second sacker, is hitting .294 with 20 ribbies and 11 thefts. Tom Boyette, a senior catcher, is hitting .315 with 12 runs batted in.

The cleanup man is senior center fielder Darrell Paige, a .320 hitter with one homer, 20 ribbies and six steals. Palatka has some pop at the bottom of the order, too, as Steve Nalley, a junior left fielder, is batting .350, but has hit less than 20 times.

"We're not flashy but we get the job done," Parkinson said. "We've been in our share of one-run games and won 10 of them."

Tate, Columbus: A Classic Duel Between Powers

Baseball

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

Geographically, even Rand McNally would have trouble pinpointing the distance between Miami Christopher Columbus and Gonzalez Tate. When it comes to measuring baseball programs, however, the difference "dwiddles" to almost nothing.

Both Columbus and Tate are established programs. And that's just one reason Thursday's 4 p.m. semifinal of the Class 4A State Baseball Tournament at Rollins College's Alford Stadium in Winter Park should be a classic showdown. The second round follows immediately — Lake Mary and Sarasota Riverview — at 7 p.m. The survivors battle at 7 p.m. Friday for the championship. Tickets are $3.

Two years ago, coach Randy Putman's Panhandle powerhouse rolled to a 38-1 record which included the state championship and the No. 1 ranking in USA Today's Eastern High School Baseball Poll. Four players were drafted from that club.

Last year, Tate was 27-3. This year's 24-8 mark gives Putman a sparkling 89-12 in three years on the job. "We'd like to think we've got a pretty darn good program," drawled Putman. "We don't have a great team this year, but we have a good team."

Columbus, skippered by Brother Herb Baker, also falls between good and great. The fourth-year coach has won two district titles and this year's 28-4 product, which won 18 consecutive to open the season, is a splendid mix of contact hitters, good pitching and defense.

"We have played some very good teams to get here (state)," Baker said. "If our pitching is on, we can be very tough."

Pitching figures to be at a premium Thursday. Putman has tabbed senior righthander Chris Casella to hurl the opener. Casella, who no-hit Panama City Mosley in the regional final, is 5-2 with a 2.10 earned run average. Baker will call upon junior Oscar Munoz. The hard-throwing righthander has a 9-11 record with a 1.20 ERA. He has 94 strikeouts in 71 innings.

Putman said he knows Munoz will be tough but if there is anything he knows about baseball — it is how to swing the bat. "I played AA ball with the Royals and Padres," Putman said. "I worked with Charley Lau some. Then, when I was at UAB, I coached with Harry Walker. When I played, I didn't swing it too bad myself."

Putman's pupils have learned their lessons well. No regular is hitting below .303. Leadoff hitter Brian Howell is batting .404 with 30 RBI. David partrick, a sophomore center fielder, has a .328

Celtics Embarrass Hawks

Boston Limits Atlanta To 6 Points In Third Quarter

United Press International

Humiliation replaced exhaustion for two of the three losing teams in Tuesday night's NBA playoff games.

"They embarrassed themselves," Denver coach Doug Moe said after Houston routed the Nuggets 131-103 to take a 3-2 lead in the Western Conference semifinals. "When you don't give it your best shot and play like garbage, it's depressing."

In Boston, where the Hawks were blown out 132-90, eliminated from the playoffs four games to one, and held to a playoff-record low 6 points in the third quarter, Moe's sentiments were shared.

"You just feel like you want to hide from it," scoring champion Dominique Wilkins said after being limited to 13 points. "It's just hard to take."

At Inglewood, Calif., the Dallas Mavericks, who lost to the defending champion LA Lakers 116-113, kept their self-respect by staying in the game.

bounds, and Ralph Sampson delivered 33 points and 17 rebounds to power the Rockets.

Celtics 103, Hawks 90
At Boston, Larry Bird paced Boston with 36 points, and Kevin McHale chipped in 25 as the Celtics advanced to meet the winner of the Philadelphia-Milwaukee series, which is tied 2-2 entering tonight's game at Milwaukee.

Leading 66-55 at halftime, the Celtics broke the game open by outscoring the Hawks 39-6 in the third quarter. Atlanta hit 3 of 19 shots in the period.

After Wilkins hit a layup with 5:31 remaining in the quarter to cut Boston's lead to 78-61, the Celtics ran off 24 straight points to take control. McHale led Boston's run with 10 points, scoring on two dunks, a short jumper and four free throws. Danny Ainge added 7 points, including a 3-pointer as Boston built a 108-61 advantage.

"That's the way basketball is supposed to be played," Boston backup center Bill Walton said.

Lakers 116, Mavericks 113
At Inglewood, Calif., The Lakers, coming off a pair of 2-point losses at Dallas that knotted the series, were led by Kareem Abdul-Jabbar's 34 points and Magic Johnson's 29.

Trailing 97-88 with seven minutes to go, Dallas scored 11 of the next 15 points to pull within 101-90. The Mavericks tied the score 107-107 with 2:38 to go on Derek Harper's layup, then had another chance to even it when Mark Aguirre went to the foul line with 1:58 remaining. Aguirre hit 1 of 2, and Abdul-Jabbar tipped in a missed shot 14 seconds later to give the Lakers a 111-108 advantage.

After a Perkins miss, Lee Ainslie went up 115-108 when Johnson scored with 73 seconds to go. Perkins canned 3 free throws with 51 seconds left to make it 113-110, but Abdul-Jabbar sealed the victory with a skyhook.

Aguirre scored 27 points and Orlando Stackman had 23 for Dallas.

Dominique Wilkins, left, had his troubles against Robert Parish, rear, and Dennis Johnson Tuesday night. Wilkins, the NBA's scoring leader, was limited to 13 points as the Hawks were eliminated.

Flames Tip Blues, 5-3

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — The Calgary Flames' success against the St. Louis Blues is directly related to the efficiency of their special teams, and Tuesday night their special teams were extremely successful.

The Flames scored two power-play goals and added a short-handed goal to thwart the St. Louis Blues 5-3 and take a 2-1 edge in the Campbell Conference championship series.

Calgary scored four power-play goals in nine chances on Sunday's 6-3 rout, shut out the Blues in nine power-play opportunities before St. Louis won 1-4 on the power play Tuesday. In the series opener, the Flames converted just 1-5 power-play chances, and lost.

"We took it to them pretty good last game," said Calgary's Lanny McDonald, who scored on a power play. "It's a big boost to get clicking with some power-play goals."

The Flames scored an empty net goal 20 seconds into the game Tuesday.

"It was important to get that first goal," said Calgary coach Bob Johnson.

Hough Makes It Rough On Tigers

United Press International
Facing Detroit batters Tuesday night was less hazardous than greeting friends had been in March for Texas starter Charlie Hough.

Hough, who had broken the little finger on his right hand during spring training while shaking a friend's hand, came off the disabled list Monday night and picked up a victory in his first appearance of the season one night later.

"This was a lot of a fun," Hough said after giving up two runs and six hits over 6 1/3 innings and leading Texas to a 4-2 victory over the Tigers. "I was a little lucky, but I didn't hurt anything, and feel pretty good about it."

Texas Manager Bobby Valentine was glad to have his 38-year-old mainstay back on the mound.

"Charlie did a great, great job, layoff or without a layoff," Valentine said. "He lost the feel for his knuckle ball in the sixth inning, but it's great to have him back."

Valentine called on reliever Mickey Mahler in the seventh with one out and a runner on first. Hough got Lou Whitaker to hit into a double play that ended the Tigers' final threat.

A's 17, Blue Jays 3
At Toronto, Dave Kingman powered a 17-hit attack with two home runs and five RBI to help Moose Haas become the major leagues' first six-game winner. Haas, 6-0, yielded three hits and struck out five in seven innings. Jimmy Key, 0-3, took the loss. The 17 runs were the most scored in the majors this year.

1-3 inning of relief work, improved to 3-0. Doug Corbett pitched two scoreless innings to get his first save. Starter Dennis "Oil Can" Boyd, 2-3, was the loser.

Brewers 10, Mariners 0
At Milwaukee, Juan Nieves pitched a six-hitter, and Ben Oglivie paced a 15-hit attack with three hits to spark Milwaukee. Nieves, 2-1, struck out three and walked five in going the distance for the first time this season. The shutout was the first of his career. Seattle starter Bill Swift, 0-2, took the loss.

Indians 6, Royals 1
At Cleveland, Andre Thornton drove in five runs with a pair of homers as the Indians extended their winning streak to nine games in a five-inning, rain-shortened victory. Tom Candiotti, 2-2, allowed six hits, struck out six and walked none in five innings. Bud Black, 1-3, was the loser.

Yankees 10, White Sox 7
At Chicago, Dave Winfield snapped a tie with a sacrifice fly in the eighth inning, and Rickey Henderson delivered a three-run homer in the ninth for New York. Brian Fisher, 1-1, was the winner, and Bill Dawley, 0-2, took the loss.

Orioles 5, Twins 3
At Minneapolis, Juan Bonilla, Eddie Murray and Lee Lacy homered, and Storm Davis, 2-1, scattered seven hits over 7 2/3 innings to lift Baltimore. Don Aase got the final four outs for his sixth save. The Orioles, who had hit just 15 homers entering the game, hit three off loser Frank Viola, 3-2.

GREYHOUNDS: No results from the Seminole Greyhound Park were available from Tuesday night.

Schottzie Can Rest Easy, Reds Finally End Drought

United Press International
Schottzie can rest easier. One scalawag of a Cincinnati fan boldly suggested with tongue-in-cheek Monday the best way to end the Reds' nine-game losing streak was to sacrifice Schottzie, the beloved St. Bernard of club owner Marge Schott.

No need for that today. The Reds are winners, albeit perhaps for only a day.

Led by Dave Parker's solo homer and the combined six-hit pitching of Bill Gullickson and John Franco, the Reds defeated the Atlanta Braves, 2-0. Tuesday night to end their losing streak.

The victory also snapped an 11-game home losing streak for the Reds, who had not won in Riverfront Stadium since Opening Day, April 7. The Reds had lost 13 of their last 14 games before Tuesday.

Gullickson, 1-3, gave up four hits, struck out two and walked three in seven innings to earn the victory. Franco pitched the final two innings to pick up his third save. Loser David Palmer, 2-2, surrendered five hits and struck out eight over 6 2/3 innings.

Mets 4, Astros 0
At New York, Dwight Gooden pitched a two-hitter, and George Foster cracked his first home run of the season to lead the Mets. Gooden, 5-0, also laced a two-run triple during a three-run seventh inning to help New York win for the 15th time in 16 games. Bob Knepper, 5-1, suffered the loss.

Cubs 7, Dodgers 6
At Chicago, Leon Durham cracked a

N.L. Baseball

leadoff homer off Tom Niedenfuer in the bottom of the ninth inning to lift the Cubs. Durham's homer, his fourth of the season, came on a 1-2 pitch from Niedenfuer, 0-2. Lee Smith, 2-2, earned the victory. There were six home runs, three by each team. The wind was blowing out at 21 mph.

Expos 5, Phillies 0
At Philadelphia, Vance Law and Andre Dawson blasted two-run homers to power the Expos to their fourth straight triumph. Andy McGaffigan, 2-0, posted the first shutout of his career, scattering eight hits and striking out seven. Steve Carlton fell to 1-5. Tim Lincecum tripled to run his hitting streak to 12 consecutive.

Giants 7, Pirates 2
At Pittsburgh, Candy Maldonado and Chris Brown hit home runs to back the seven-hit pitching of Mike Krukow, 4-2. Brown and Maldonado each connected for two-run homers and combined for four runs, five hits and five RBI overall. Rick Reuschel, 2-3, lasted just four innings while giving up all the Giants runs.

Padres 3, Cardinals 2
At St. Louis, Mo., pinch hitter Jerry Royster doubled in Leon Roberts from first base with two out in the ninth inning to lift the Padres. Gene Walter, 1-0, got one out to earn the victory and Rich Gossage pitched the ninth for his fifth save. Ken Dayley, 0-1, took the loss.

'Gades Grab Haight

NEW YORK (UPI) — The U.S. Football League completed its draft of players Tuesday and now must turn its attention to convincing the available pool of athletes that there will be a season this fall.

The Orlando Renegades started the first of 99 picks in the open draft by picking Iowa tackle Mike Haight. Two weeks ago, the eight USFL teams held their territorial draft and secured the rights to 25 players each.

The USFL's $1.3 billion antitrust suit against the NFL goes to court Monday in New York and the players will watch with interest. The USFL's future — its first fall season is to start Sept. 14 — likely hinges on the outcome of the case.

"That's got to be a factor in any negotiations," said Tim Mills, the Arizona Outlaws director of scouting. "I am firmly convinced we will line it up and play in 1986. The only thing that will prevent us from playing is the total collapse of our economy."

After the Renegades took Haight, Arizona selected Oklahoma nose tackle Tony Casillas second — the same spot he went to Atlanta in the NFL draft.

The Outlaws brought Casillas and his agent, John Maloney, to Arizona for the draft and submitted an offer Tuesday. No specific figure was given, but Outlaws president Bill Tatham Jr. said the contract was for "at least" $1 million guaranteed over two years.

Casella, who was named the Most Outstanding Player in the Colonial Classic, is hitting .494 with six taters and 38 runs batted in. Cleanup hitter Greg Blackmon is hitting .488 with seven dingers and 43 ribbies. He was MVP at the Colonial Classic.

Travis Fryman (.368, 2, 24), Mike Emmons (.407, 4, 28), Jeff Hatch (.344, 2, 31), David Grant (.303) and Todd Boyd (.318) complete the awesome attack. Third baseman Emmons, who is the No. 2 hurler, picked up the Classic's Golden Glove award.

Columbus, meanwhile, doesn't boast as many .400 hitters as Tate, but just about all of the Miamians are in the .300-plus range. Javier Rodriguez (.329), Alex Ojeda (.273), Herbie Rodriguez and Jorge Padregas (.404) complete the lineup. The last four are all in double figures for ribbies.

"It was a challenge for us to get out of here (South Florida). We had to play some very good baseball down here to win," Baker, who won two state crowns at Miami Pace before coming to Columbus, said. "Both teams are traveling, so that will even out any advantage. It should be a tremendous game."

RAM RAP — Lake Mary, ranked No. 4 in USA Today's Easton High School Baseball Poll, moved up a notch to No. 3 in the ranking released today. Simi Valley (Calif.), which won the Colonial Classic, is No. 1 with a 21-3 record. Houston (Tex.) Waltrip is No. 2 with a 26-0 mark. Lake Mary is 31-2.

Sunniland's 'Extras' Too Much For Rinker

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer
It was the battle of the extra base hits at Bay Avenue Field Tuesday as Sunniland used seven extra base hits to claim a 17-14 victory over Rinker Materials, which had four extra base raps, in Sanford Little National League action.

The win moved Sunniland into a first-place tie in the league with Poppa Jay's as both have 5-1 records. Rinker dropped to 2-5.

The fireworks started early Tuesday as Sunniland's Richard Patterson blasted a three-run homer in the top of the first. Rinker came back with five runs in the bottom half with Matt Parker's two-run triple leading the way.

Tyrone Chibberton's leadoff triple highlighted a three-run second for Sunniland but Rinker took a 10-6 lead with five more runs in the bottom half, two coming on another triple by Parker.

Quinn Byrd unloaded a two-run triple and Ned June smacked an RBI triple in the top of the third as Sunniland scored six times for a 12-10 lead. Rinker tied it at 12-12 in the bottom half on a two-run triple off the bat of Ronnie McNeil.

The pitchers weren't running for cover in the fourth inning though as there were no extra base hits and neither team scored.

Sunniland broke the 12-12 tie with five runs in the top of the fifth. KoJack Hunt's RBI double got the rally started while David Dunn followed with a two-run triple and Patterson added an RBI triple.

Baseball

Rinker still had something left in the bottom of the fifth as McNeil belted a two-run homer but it wasn't enough to overcome Sunniland.

JAY'S TRIMS FEDERAL
Poppa Jay's rallied for three runs in the top of the eighth inning Tuesday and held on for a 7-4 victor over First Federal in Little National League action at Westside Field.

The win improved Poppa Jay's to 5-1 while First Federal fell one half game back with a 5-2 record.

In the eighth for Poppa Jay's, Mike Thomas drew a one-out walk and George Martin was hit by a pitch. Both runners moved up on Maurice Fisher's grounder and Demetry Beamon then ripped a double to drive in both runs and break the 4-4 tie.

Thomas had three hits to lead the way for Poppa Jay's while Andrew Sipes and Mike Dillon both smashed homers for First Federal.

D.A.V. WINS FIRST
Matt Davis' three-run homer in the top of the first got D.A.V. off to a good start and it was just what the team needed as it claimed a 17-15 victory over the Railroaders in Little National League play at Fort Mellon Park. It was the first win of the season for D.A.V. after six losses while the Railroaders fell to 2-5.

D.A.V. scored 11 runs in the first two innings to take an 11-0 lead into the bottom of the second but the Railroaders rebounded with 11 runs to tie it. Jimmy Caraway's three-run homer and Terrance Jones' two-run double highlighted the inning for the Railroaders.

D.A.V. broke the tie with three runs in the top of the third and never trailed the rest of the way. Teo Livingston had a double in the inning and David Wood an RBI single.

Livingston came on in relief for D.A.V. in the second and went on to hold the Railroaders.

Racquets Up For Brantley

It's great to have a state champion right here in our own backyard. The Lake Brantley boys team walked off with the coveted crown this past season. This was a great high school team. They had lots of depth and two great players at the top in Mark Mance and Dirk Hortian. Congratulations to all the folks at Lake Brantley on a job well done.

Tim Anderson is leaving the Bayhead Racquet Club. The personable pro is going into the real estate business as an appraiser. Tim is an excellent teaching pro and his presence will be missed at the club.

Tim had lots of new and innovative ideas and many, many activities for club members. His reason for leaving? I asked him that very question and he just said he was tired, after 15 years as a teaching pro, of being out in the hot sun all day long. That sounds like a good enough reason to me.

Who will take over at Bayhead is still unknown. There should be an announcement on this in a few weeks.

Andy Castle, former Seminole Community College player from Taunton, England, has turned pro. Andy graduated from Wichita State last year and is now ranked No. 215 in the world. Andy is also a member of the English Davis Cup team. In a recent match in England he defeated John Lloyd — as in Chris Evert Lloyd's husband.

Another former SCC player, Greg Miller, will graduate this spring from the University of Nevada-Reno. Greg has had a great college career and is at the present time ranked 81st among Division I NCAA players. Greg plans to turn pro this summer and play the European circuit for three or four months.

Local Pro Jim Edmonds is really doing well at the Winter Park Racquet Club. Jim is Nate Smith's assistant and puts in many long hours on the court doing private lessons and clinics. By the way, Jim is still a very active player and is without a doubt one of the very best players in the area.

After Mike Pernfors moved all the way up to No. 23 in the world a few weeks ago, he has fallen on hard times. In his past three tournaments he has only gotten past the first round one time. Still, Mike has won over $40,000 in the first 25 percent of the season so he can't be too unhappy.

Hot weather is now with us — so be careful. Use lots of sunscreen (a No. 15 block). Sunscreen should be applied at least 20 minutes before you go on the courts. Wear a hat, and drink lots and lots of fluids. Above all, if you start getting weak, or chilling or dizzy — get off the court and into a cool place.

Slots Open For League

Registration for the Buddy Lake Summer Baseball League will take place each Saturday in May from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. at Sanford Memorial Stadium. Or, to register, you may call 323-1046. Cost for the league is $60 per player and there is no age limit.

Cook Of The Week

She's An Expert In German Style Cooking And Does Lots Of It

By Dorothy Greene
Herald Correspondent

A veritable bundle of energy, our Cook of the Week, Inge Denys, of Altamonte Springs, says, "I love life. I'm a happy-go-lucky person. They can't understand how I can cook for so many people, then after I get out of the kitchen I can dance all night."

As a member of the German-American Society of Central Florida, everyone knows Inge and the fantastically delicious and authentic German meals she turns out for sometimes several hundred people. "I just enjoy cooking," she says.

Arriving in the United States from West Germany in 1950, Mrs. Denys settled in Long Island, New York before moving to Florida. She remembers, "I left East Germany in 1947 and went over 'the border' to West Germany. I just made it before the war broke out. We had our name on the quota list and had to wait several years before we could come to America." Mrs. Denys had her own little restaurant in the heart of Manhattan for a while and served her classic German dishes to the patrons.

"We had a very, very good childhood in Germany," recalls Mrs. Denys. "We were raised middle-class. We had our own little house and my mother was very clean. We learned a lot from her. I always wanted to be a beautician, but my mother said, 'No, you have to learn how to cook.' She was an excellent cook, so my family are all good cooks. It's my trade, really. I learned that in school for 3 years in East Germany."

Many of Mrs. Denys' memories of her childhood in Germany were geared toward "preparing for life." She goes on to explain, "We all had to work. We'd get about 4 weeks vacation from school, but out of that, we had to work about 3 weeks. After graduating from grammar school, before you learned your trade, you had to work for one year on a farm or take care of children. So, for one year I worked on a farm and milked cows and did everything. It was a way of preparing us to meet life."

Mrs. Denys is an expert in the traditional German style of cooking, and her dishes include sauerbraten, rouladen, schnitzel, sauerkraut, potato pancakes, dumplings, and, oh, so many other delicious taste tempters. Inge's husband, Fernand "Ferry" Denys, came from a family of bakers and was a pastry chef before losing his right hand in Okinawa while serving with the Marine Corps during the war. Although she has been widowed for almost 2 years, Mrs. Denys fondly remembers how active her husband was in the German-American Society and cherishes their marriage of 27 years.

Proud of the fact that she was the first lady President of the German-American Society, Mrs. Denys says, "I've been working in the kitchen there for 8 years, volunteering all my time. Our members come from all over, and our purpose is to keep up the German culture." The Society's activities help to perpetuate the Old World traditions by having an annual Oktoberfest, a winefest, a Black Forest Festival. "We have our own Alpenrose Schuhplattler Gruppe, which is a dancing group, and we have our own singing group to keep the traditional German songs."

A very festive organization, the Society is dedicated to preserving its cultural background by performing in native costumes and sharing special functions with the public. Preparing 300 dinners for an occasion does not faze Mrs. Denys one bit, and she appears to thrive on doing something that is enjoyable and pleasing to others. "One lady, Nan, helps me regularly in the kitchen, but if we have a special occasion, some ladies come in to help peel potatoes and things like that," says Mrs. Denys.

Besides her busy schedule at the club, our remarkable Cook of the Week also cooks for the First Baptist Church of Sweetwater and can be found preparing a delicious buffet for a fellowship meeting of 200 or more. "When people tell me they like the food, I tell them it's because I cook with love. I do love to cook, and when I do, I don't cook a commercial meal. I cook a homemade meal. There's a big difference," says Mrs. Denys. "I only cook with salt, pepper, and paprika. I don't cook with flavor enhancers, like Accent. I don't need that. And I only use fresh vegetables like carrots, stringbeans, cabbage — everything fresh. And I will not use instant mashed potatoes — to me they taste like men's socks," she exclaims in her charming German accent. A recent illness prevented Inge from cooking at the church one evening and later she received a place mat which had been signed by dozens of members who missed her good cooking and wished her a speedy return.

While she never had any children of her own, Mrs. Denys says, "I have a very good relationship with my stepchildren, Cookie and Sonny, who live up North." Mrs. Denys speaks fondly of her "adopted" daughter, Emmy, her husband, John, and her "grandchildren," Tommy and Monty. "When I need somebody, she's always there," says Mrs. Denys, "and the children call me Grandma." Emmy owns and operates the Vienna beauty salon in Deltona.

In no way can you keep an active lady tied down, so Mrs. Denys devotes her 'spare' time to two bowling leagues. Bowling with the "Champs" and the "Keen-agers," a senior citizens team, she boasts a 251 score and is looking forward to receiving a special shirt denoting her accomplishments. "We have some members who are 85 and almost 90 years old," says Mrs. Denys, "God bless them."

Every year Mrs. Denys vacations in Germany to visit her two sisters and brother. "They all had family ties," says Mrs. Denys, "so they still live over there. I'm the only one in America. Once you live here, you can't live any place else."

Mrs. Denys is so adept at cooking and baking in the traditional German style for large groups of people, that she is hard pressed to come up with exact measurements for some of her best known recipes. "A lot of people ask me for recipes," she says, "but I can't give it to them. I just throw this in, and I throw that in, but I never measure it." The usual fare at one of Mrs. Denys' buffet dinners at church usually consists of sauerbraten, pot roast, meat loaf, Salisbury steak, chicken, fish, spaghetti, cole slaw, potato salad, and more — all at the same meal. "It takes me 8 hours to prepare," says Mrs. Denys. "I really enjoy cooking for the church," she says. "They are such nice people, good Christians, and they really appreciate my cooking."

Mrs. Denys has selected several of her most asked for recipes to share with us and they are listed below:

SAUERBRATEN
(A sweet and sour pot roast)
According to the size of your roast, prepare the following marinade, making enough to cover the entire piece of meat:
For a 4 pound roast:
3 parts water to 1 part vinegar
Sliced onions, 2 medium
Pickling spices, about 2 tablespoons
Salt to taste
Place meat in marinade to cover and store in refrigerator for at least 5 days. When ready to prepare, remove meat from marinade and place in roasting pan. Brown meat on all sides in oven at 350°. Remove meat from pan and place onions from stock in roasting pan and let brown. Add one or two beef bouillon cubes to pan and brown

Sixth Annual Florida Nurse Week Marked

"Nurses...the Heart of Health" is the theme for Florida Nurse Week, May 8-10. District 8 of the Florida Nurses Association (FNA), the largest nursing organization in the State, serving Orange, Osceola, and Seminole counties will join Florida's 110,000 professional registered nurses in marking this sixth annual event.

Proclaiming the occasion, Mayor Bettye Smith urged all the people of Sanford to join her "in observing Nurse Week to pay tribute to the thousands of dedicated registered nurses who provide quality and affordable health care to our citizens."

"Sanford is fortunate to have devoted nurses utilizing their vast knowledge and skill, energy and compassion to improve the quality of health care services," said Smith.

District 8 President Janice Peterson said, "Nurse Week is an opportunity for the public to become aware of the diverse roles of nursing practice and understand the wide range of services nurses provide."

"Health care consumers are becoming increasingly aware of the range of services nurses can and do provide. As such, Nurse Week will focus on the implications of the diversity for the future of health care in Florida," said Judith Coffman, chairperson of the district's Nurse Week Committee.

The district will launch Nurse Week with a breakfast at the Harley Hotel for all nurses in the area. Featured guests at the breakfast will be two sixth grade students from Orange County, Kristin Pinkard, Oriá Vista and Erica Canceety, Azalea Park, winners of an essay writing contest. They will follow nurses at Florida Hospital for a day as well.

The highlight of the week will be a booth at the "In Celebration of Women" event at the Altamonte Mall, May 9-10. Nursing programs from Valencia Community College, Seminole Community College, and the University of Central Florida will be represented.

Shake Off Winter Lethargy During National Fitness Month

Spring is finally here, and The President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports is encouraging everyone to shake off winter lethargy and get active! The council has declared May as National Fitness Month and people nationwide are jumping in to participate.

"National Fitness Month comes at a perfect time—when most people are gearing up for summer fashions and activities," says Judi Sheppard Missett, founder of Jazzercise. "It provides people with an opportunity to learn more about the benefits of exercise and the safeguards against injury."

If you are a new recruit to exercise, local Jazzercise instructor Claudia Almand offers these tips:

Start slowly. Most people are enthusiastic when they begin a fitness program and tend to do too much too soon. To prevent injury, start exercising every other day at a moderate pace. As your endurance improves you can increase the frequency, intensity and duration of each workout, but don't rush. It takes several months to build to a high level of fitness.

Get the right equipment. In most activities, proper shoes are a necessity. The right clothing also helps. It should offer freedom of movement and keep you comfortable, but not overheated.

Schedule time for exercise. If you want fitness to be a regular part of your life, exercise has to be as important as your other responsibilities. Plan ahead.

Experiment with different activities. You may find that you enjoy several and can trade off among them to avoid burnout. If weight loss is part of your goal, be sure to include at least 20 minutes of fat burning aerobic exercise 3 to 4 times each week.

Give yourself fuel for fitness. Eat a diet low in fat and high in complex carbohydrates. Plan your menu around lean meats, whole grains and cereals, low-fat and non-fat dairy products and fresh fruits and vegetables.

As a promotion in connection with National Fitness Month, Claudia Almand is offering a free class to new students, and a discount on class registration. "We want everyone to get involved in fitness, whether it be Jazzercise, running, walking, bicycling or swimming," Almand said. "The Jazzercise offer will provide people with a chance to get active and learn more about our program in general."

Classes are held at the Sanford National Guard Armory on First Street. For more information, call Claudia Almand at 305-352-6868, collect calls accepted.

Babysitting Seminar Set In Winter Springs

"Will you know what to do?" That is a vital question to ask a babysitter and the answers can be found in a "Super Sitter Seminar" being offered by Central Florida Regional Hospital and the Winter Springs Police Department from 9 a.m. to noon, May 17 at the Winter Springs Recreational Center, 400 N. Edgemon. The seminar is free of charge and the attendees must be eleven years of age and above.

Assuming the responsibility for the care and safety of a family when the parents are away requires a full range of skills and knowledge—home security, first aid techniques and emergency procedures. In addition, the sitter needs to know how to cope with the physical and emotional needs of many ages, ranging from infants to teens who may resent being left with a sitter.

Dr. Marista Pastis will cover the first aid, while Lt. Robert Dallas of the Winter Springs Fire Department will explain what to do in case of fire.

Personal safety and safety of the children will be explored by Brenda Sonaflet, Community Relations Officer for the Winter Springs Police Department.

A CFRH obstetrics nurse will demonstrate how to take care of babies with emphasis on safety. This session will be followed by hands-on experience and a questions and answer period.

To register call Central Florida Regional, 321-4500, ext. 647.

Lighter Meals For A Healthier Lifestyle

Eating habits are changing. Many people are opting to follow the nutritional directives which are reflected in today's healthier lifestyles. The trend is toward lighter more nutritious meals.

Nutrition experts recommend that we eat more fresh fruits, potatoes and whole-grain products such as cereal, pasta, rice and bread. It is also suggested that we eat less protein and limit our fat, salt and sugar intake.

Skim milk, yogurt and margarine are being used in place of whole milk, sour cream and butter. Wine, herbs and spices are used instead of heavier sauces. Poultry, fish and lean meats can replace the fatty counterparts.

Try some of these "lite" style recipes. Besides being good, they're good for you. This stir-fry is a favorite in the college microwave classes.

BEEF WITH PEA PODS

- 1 pound boneless beef top round steak
- 1 teaspoon meat browning and seasoning powders
- 2 tablespoons dry sherry
- 2 tablespoons soy sauce
- 1 teaspoon brown sugar
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1/2 teaspoon grated ginger root or 1/4 teaspoon ground ginger
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch
- 2 tablespoons water
- 1/2 pound fresh pea pods

long. Combine steak, seasoning powder, sherry, soy sauce, brown sugar, garlic and ginger root in 1 quart casserole. Cover with casserole lid. Microwave on 100% power 5-6 minutes or until meat is no longer pink; stirring twice. Combine cornstarch and water in 2 cup glass measure. Drain cooking juices into measure, mixing well. Set meat aside, covered. Microwave on 100% power 1 1/2-2 minutes or until mixture boils and thickens; stirring once or twice. Stir into meat, add pea pods, onions and water chestnuts to meat mixture. Microwave uncovered 2-3 minutes or until heated through, stirring once. If desired, serve with rice.

Hint: Partially freeze meat for 60 minutes for ease in slicing.

Pasta is "in" and pasta is "lite" if you control the serving.

PASTA PRIMAVERA

- 4 cups hot water
- 1 teaspoon cooking oil
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 2 cups sliced cauliflowerettes

2 cups broccoli pieces

1/4 cup sliced ripe olives
1 1/2 cups reduced-calorie Italian dressing

Add pasta, tomato, olives, salad dressing and salt to vegetable mixture. Mix well to coat with dressing. Cover and refrigerate until chilled. 8 servings 145 calories each.

No sugar or honey, just the natural fruit sugars.

banana, orange and dressing in serving bowl. Toss lightly to coat. Refrigerate until served. 4 servings, 135 calories each.

STRAWBERRY TRIFLE

1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 1/2 cups skim milk
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 package (10 ounces) frozen strawberries
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 tablespoon sugar
1 loaf angel food cake (8 ounces)
Combine 3 tablespoons sugar, cornstarch and milk in 1 quart glass sugar bowl. Mix until smooth. Beat in egg. Microwave on 100% power 4-5 minutes or until mixture boils and thickens; stirring 2-3 times during last half of cooking time. Mix in vanilla. Cool.

Microwave strawberries in package (remove metallic lid if necessary) 1 1/2-2 minutes or until thawed. Drain juice from berries into a 4 cup glass measure; set aside berries, add 1 tablespoon cornstarch and sugar to juice; mix until smooth. Microwave 2 1/2-3 minutes or until mixture boils out and thickens; stirring twice. Mix in berries; cool.

Cut cake into 1-inch pieces. Place half the cake in 1 1/2 quart glass serving bowl. Spoon half of pudding over cake and half of the strawberry mixture over the pudding. Repeat cake and pudding layers. Spoon dollops of remaining strawberry mixture around edge for garnish. Cover and refrigerate until served.

Dad's Tales Of Hard Times Are Hard For Teen To Take

DEAR ABBY: I am a 13-year-old girl. I don't want to be disrespectful to parents, but I am tired of hearing how easy the kids of today have it.

Every summer my father tells me how lucky I am to have air conditioning. He says when he was my age, he didn't even have a fan in the house. Every winter he reminds me that he walked 10 miles to school in below-zero weather in three feet of snow.

Abby, why can't parents accept the fact that life has become easier with every generation because of the progress we've made? New things are being invented all the time to improve the quality of life, so why should parents try to make us feel guilty because we have it better than they did?

Sometimes I think they don't want us to have it so good. If each generation didn't improve on the one before, we'd still be living in caves, running around in foincloths, and our vocabularies would consist of two words, "Ooga, ooga."

TIRED TEEN

DEAR TIRED: It may comfort you to know that every generation of teens has had to listen to their parents tell them how rough they had it.

And with the passing of time, the walk to school grew longer, the winters got colder and the snow got deeper.

DEAR ABBY: I've heard of this happening in other families, but I never thought it would happen to me. Maybe if you print this advice, it will help others: Don't tell anyone where you keep your jewelry — not even family members.

A piece of jewelry was stolen from me. The missing piece was of both sentimental and monetary value. Several suspicious acts led me to suspect a family member, so I hired a private investigator. Two sets of fingerprints were found on the container where my jewelry was kept — mine and someone else's. It was relatively easy to get the fingerprints of the suspect. My suspicions were confirmed when they matched the prints on the container.

Dear Abby

The record of the theft — and it was a theft — is complete with all the information: name, dates, fingerprints, etc. It is in safekeeping and only a designated person will have access to it.

I would never break up a family over a piece of jewelry, no matter how valuable. I have mixed feelings now that I have the evidence, but if you print this, perhaps the guilty party will return it to the container from which it was stolen. If mine is not returned, it may bring back other pieces of jewelry to their rightful owners.

If you print this and my jewelry is returned, you'll be the first to know. And that's a promise.

NO NAME, NO CITY, NO STATE

DEAR NO: I wish you luck. Now, let's see what happens.

DEAR ABBY: I just finished reading the letter from the woman who was helping her mother-in-law clean out her attic when they came across some souvenirs her father-in-law (now deceased) had brought home from World War II. One was a hand grenade — still intact.

We live on some land that was formerly a military training center during World War II. This area was used for target practice. Not long ago, three children were playing behind their home when they found an unexploded shell. Not recognizing its danger, they used the sharp point for digging. The shell exploded, killing two children and seriously wounding the third.

The military now inspects this area regularly, and they keep finding live ammunition. We have learned that due to erosion and soil movement, shells and grenades surface even after the most careful search. We've also learned that unexploded shells are not less dangerous as the years pass, but more dangerous because they can explode with changes in atmospheric pressure, temperature or subtle movement.

I pray that your reader follows your advice. Old munitions are not safe anywhere. Just because they haven't exploded yet doesn't mean they never will.

Exploring The Great Space Race

By Elliot Brenner

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Will the greenhouse effect that has swallowed Venus be Earth's fate? Will the sun expand and force man to migrate to distant planets? What are the profits and politics of space exploration?

"The Great Space Race," a four-part series that debuts Wednesday on the Public Broadcasting Service (9 p.m., WMFE-TV, Channel 24), offers a close-up view of the players, the stakes and the ultimate goals of international space activity.

In final production when the space shuttle Challenger was destroyed Jan. 28, the first of the four weekly hour-long segments takes note of the tragedy.

The disastrous explosion, producer Jo Franklin-Trout said in an interview, illustrates the other aspects of the drive for space because "within minutes, the Soviets, the Chinese sent condolences and offered to take up payloads for a small fee."

Written, produced, directed and narrated by Franklin-Trout, an award-winning PBS producer, "The Great Space Race" goes inside the secretive Chinese and Soviet space programs, as well as those of Europe, Japan and the United States, revealing both U.S. and Soviet plans now being formulated for mining operations on the moon, for Mars colonies by the year 2035 and for a new world of spaceplanes, spaceports, space hotels and other commercial operations.

And it examines the advances space technology is bringing to everyday life on Earth, as well as looking at the questions of life and death in the universe, the mysteries of our solar system, the origin of the universe, its fate and thus Earth's, and the possibility of life elsewhere.

The four segments of the project, underwritten by a grant from the Boeing Co., open with a look at what is happening now in space with "The Payload in the Sky," detailing how it may become a $100 billion-a-year industry by the turn of the century and examining the satellite business and revolutionary new goods that can be produced in the zero-gravity environment.

The zero gravity environment of the space shuttle also provides a look at the human side of space travel as astronaut Anna Fisher's earrings and heart-shaped locket on a necklace wander about seemingly on their own as she works in space.

"Unlocking the Universe" follows May 14, taking viewers on a journey through the cosmos and beyond, with some of the world's leading scientists offering a look at investigations that may uncover clues about the ultimate survival or extinction of our universe. "The Earth Below," scheduled for May 21, details the effect space technology has on Earth and how it may change life in years to come. Circling the globe with visits to Arctic villages, famine-stricken Ethiopia, the volcanoes of Hawaii and the planning rooms of the Soviet Union, the segment also shows how space technology was used in the operating room where President Reagan was treated after the 1981 assassination attempt.

And finally, "The Next Civilization," to be aired May 28, details how the Soviets and Americans agree that the era in which human life will remain confined to earth is coming to an end.

As former astronaut Neil Armstrong put it, "The first Martian settlers have already been born. ... In the 21st century many Americans will be able to live (on the moon permanently) and others will later go on to settle Mars. It is time we recognize that the solar system is the home of mankind."

Using state-of-the-art animation, the program illustrates lunar mining operations, space colony capsules and questions whether the bodies of moon and Mars dwellers will begin to evolve as experts have predicted.

Mensa Makes Scholarship Awards

Two Seminole County students were among seven central Florida high school seniors selected to receive scholarship awards from Central Florida Mensa, chapter president Jackie Denalli announced.

Kathleen Fowler, of Lake Howell High School, and Thomas Chernetzky of Lake Mary High School, will receive the scholarships Monday along with the other winners. Miss Fowler will receive $200 and Chernetzky $100. The open-to-the-public presentation will be at the Moorings, Lake Maitland Clubhouse, at 7:30 p.m.

Also receiving scholarships will be Tracy Lutz, of Winter Park High School, $500; Daniel Froats, of Maynard Evans High School, $500; Hillary Greene, of West Orange High School, $400; Anjela Johnson, of Maynard Evans High School, $100; and Shandell Gains, of Lakeland Senior High School, $100.

The applicants submitted essays outlining their future plans and goals, along with references and proof of eligibility of membership in Mensa.

Central Florida Mensa is the local chapter of American Mensa, Ltd., a not-for-profit organization for which the sole requirement for membership is an IQ score at or above the 98th percentile on any one of a number of standardized tests. There are 400 members in the central Florida area and 53,000 members nationwide.

Ms. Denalli said the organization had planned to give out $1,500 in scholarships but found the quality of essays so good the chapter increased the amount to $1,900 to make the additional awards.

Dad, Kids Can Prepare Easy Mother's Day Breakfast

By JOHN DEMERS
UPI Food Editor

Quickly and with surprising ease, children can prepare a Mother's Day breakfast based on the single food Mom has probably dispensed most — the ever-popular dry cereal.

Fathers will be amazed at what their children can concoct with only the slightest supervision.

Even children too young to handle a dish all the way through can participate in its preparation. For instance, toddlers given a safe butter knife will have a grand time mangling an onion.

With Dad looking over their shoulders and occasionally pitching in, older kids can work up recipes for baking in the oven and can even saute ingredients carefully atop the stove.

Finally, anything prepared for

Mom on her special day should be served to her in bed, since that's the one place she never gets to be when there is breakfast to be made.

Presentation counts for a lot on such occasions, so be sure to use the best silver and the most formal cloth napkins. A single rose, placed beside the serving plate or held aloft by a delicate vase, lifts the entire meal to a new height of festivity.

The three recipes given below have at least two things in common.

All draw their inspiration from America's current fascination with its own regional cuisine — one from Louisiana, one from the Midwest and one from the Northwest.

And each gets a nutritional boost from using bran cereal, something mothers try tirelessly to substitute for those sugary travesties spun off from the latest Saturday morning cartoon.

Creole Deviled Eggs are simple to make but spectacular to enjoy, with stuffed hard-cooked egg halves baked on a bed of bran flakes flavored with Creole Sauce.

Bubble Loaf is a long-time favorite bread in the Midwest, with coated biscuits placed in a loaf pan and baked. The result is a stunning bread that can be sliced into appetizing bubbles.

The Lumberjack Pancake is Paul Bunyan-size (baked in a 12-inch round) and can be cut in wedges to serve four. The special plus is the fruit that comes with the bran cereal.

CREOLE DEVILED EGGS
1 1/2 cups natural bran flakes
2 Tbsp butter or margarine
4 hard-cooked eggs, cut in half lengthwise

2 Tbsp mayonnaise
1 Tbsp finely chopped onion
1/4 tsp prepared mustard
Bottled Creole Sauce

Saute cereal in butter in saucepan. Remove from heat and set aside. Remove yolks from hard-cooked eggs and mash with a fork. Add mayonnaise, onion, mustard and pepper. Fill egg whites with mixture.

Pour half the Creole Sauce into a shallow baking dish. Spoon 1/4 cups of the cereal mixture over the sauce. Arrange eggs on the cereal. Spoon remaining sauce over the eggs and top with remaining cereal.

Bake at 350 degrees for about 10 minutes, or until heated throughout. Makes 4 servings.

Note: Any good-quality bottled Creole Sauce can be used with success, or a sauce can be prepared according to the following instructions:

Saute one-third cup diced green pepper, one-third cup diced celery and one-quarter cup chopped onion in 2 tablespoons oil in saucepan until tender. Add 1 8-ounce can tomato sauce, one-quarter cup water, 1 teaspoon sugar and 2 to 3 drops Louisiana hot pepper sauce.

Bring to a boil, then simmer 15 minutes stirring occasionally. Makes 1 1/2 cups of Creole Sauce.

MIDWEST BUBBLE LOAF
1 1/4 cups whole wheat and bran cereal
One-third cup firmly packed brown sugar
2-7/8 ounce packages refrigerated buttermilk biscuits
One-third cup melted butter or margarine

Crush cereal and mix with sugar. Cut each biscuit into quarters. Dip each into melted butter and then into cereal mixture, coating heavily. Place in well-greased 8-by-4 inch loaf pan. Sprinkle with remaining sugar and drizzle with remaining butter.

Bake at 350 degrees for 35 to 40 minutes, place on serving dish and serve warm.

LUMBERJACK PANCAKE
1 egg, slightly beaten
1/4 cup milk
1/4 cup oil
1 cup regular pancake mix and bran cereal with raisins, apples and almonds

Combine egg, milk, oil and pancake mix in a bowl, mixing until well blended. Stir in cereal. Pour into greased 12-inch round pizza pan. Bake at 425 degrees for 8 minutes, or until top springs back when lightly pressed. Cut into wedge and serve at once with syrup. Makes 4 servings.

GARDEN WEDDING PUNCH

2 bottles (48 ounces each) cranberry juice cocktail, chilled
6 cups ginger ale, chilled
2 pints lemon sherbet*
Sliced strawberries

In punch bowl, combine cranberry juice cocktail and ginger ale. Into each punch cup, place a tiny scoop of sherbet and 1 or 2 strawberry slices. Ladle punch into cups and serve at once. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 1/2 quarts or 24 punch glass servings.

*Note: For an even brighter punch, substitute rainbow sherbet for the lemon.

ITALIAN WEDDING TARTS

Pastry:
1/2 cup sweet unsalted butter
1 1/4 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
4 to 5 tablespoons cold water

Meat Filling:
2 ounces ground pork
1/4 pound ground round beef
4 ounces grated mozzarella cheese

1 cup grated zucchini
1 egg
1/2 teaspoon crushed basil
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cayenne pepper

Preheat oven to 425 degrees. In a medium-size bowl, blend together butter, flour and salt with a pastry blender until the mixture resembles the consistency of fine corn meal. Sprinkle 2 to 3 tablespoons of water over the mixture and stir together lightly with a fork. Stir in remaining water. Form into a ball.

Roll dough out on a lightly floured board 1/4-inch thick. Cut into eight 3 1/2-inch circles. Place dough into 3-inch pastry tart shells. Prick dough in the bottom of pans to prevent puffing. Line shell with cheese-cloth or waxed paper and fill with beans, rice or metal pellets and bake for 8 minutes.

After shells are baked, remove paper, etc. Lower oven temperature to 350 degrees. In a medium-size bowl, combine all ingredients for meat filling; mix until thoroughly blended. Spoon 2 tablespoons of mixture into each pastry shell. Bake 20 to 25 minutes. Serve hot. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 8.

SCOTTISH BRIDES

1 10-ounce package puff pastry, thawed

Filling:
1 pound sirloin beef, cut into 1/2-inch cubes

2 to 3 tablespoons flour
2 to 3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 cup diced carrot
1 cup diced celery
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon finely ground black pepper
1/2 cup whole berry cranberry sauce

2 tablespoons brandy or brandy-flavoring

Dredge the beef in flour and brown in butter or margarine in a 4-quart saucepan. Stir in carrot, celery, onion, salt and pepper and 3 cups water. Bring to a boil and then simmer 45 to 50 minutes or until beef is tender. Set aside.

Preheat oven to 400 degrees. On a lightly floured board, roll out puff pastry dough 1/4-inch thick, cut into 10 (4-inch) circles. Arrange on cookie sheet. Spoon 2 tablespoons of mixture onto each circle. Moisten the edges of the dough with water. Fold dough over and press to make turnovers. Bake 15 to 20 minutes or until golden brown. Make a small hole in the top of each bride. In a small bowl mix cranberry sauce with brandy. Spoon 1 to 2 teaspoons of cranberry sauce over the bride. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 10.

TURKISH WEDDING COOKIES

Filling:
1 cup water
1 package unflavored gelatin
1 cup jellied cranberry sauce
1/2 teaspoon ground ginger

Cookies:
1 cup sweet unsalted butter
1 cup sugar
2 cups sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon ground nutmeg
1/3 pound blanched whole almonds

1 tablespoon oil

Cranberry filling: Four cold water into a small saucepan, sprinkle gelatin over the water. Allow gelatin to soften a minute. Stir in cranberry sauce and ginger. Place saucepan over low heat. Stir mixture until gelatin is dissolved. Remove from heat. Cool in refrigerator until firm.

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. In a medium-size bowl, combine butter and sugar, blend until smooth. Blend in flour and nutmeg. Roll out dough on a lightly floured board 1/4-inch thick. Cut into 2 1/2-inch diamond shapes. Using a spatula, place on a lightly oiled cookie sheet, 1/2 inch to 1 inch apart. Place an almond in the center of half the cookies. Bake 8 to 10 minutes. Remove from oven, cool on a wire rack 10 to 15 minutes. Take filling from refrigerator and spread 1 tablespoon of mixture over the plain cookies. Place the almond cookies on top to make a sandwich cookie. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 2 dozen.

Separation Within Home Is Solution

Dr. Gott

DEAR DR. GOTT — In 1970 I quit smoking when I had a case of the flu that made me nauseated at the smell of cigarette smoke. Some members of my family smoke; when I'm around them I get sick, can't eat, break out in hives and have to lie down. I love my family and want to be with them, but I cannot go through this. What advice can you give?

DEAR READER — Indeed, they could. Check with your doctor.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I have little warts around the base of my fingernail, in the cuticle, and can't get rid of them. Any suggestions?

DEAR READER — Short of having them removed by a surgeon or a dermatologist, Vergo — an over-the-counter cream — may help; use it as directed.

Send your questions to Dr. Gott at P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, Ohio, 44101.

DEAR READER — Your problem is not unusual. Obviously, the most satisfactory and healthful solution would be for the family members to stop smoking altogether. If that is not a popular option, I suggest that the smokers reserve one or two rooms in the house where they can smoke. The garage and cellar ought to do fine. Then they will stop contaminating the whole house. At the very least, smoking should be banned in your bedroom and any other room you frequent.

My wife has insisted that I not smoke in the house, so I am confined to a little second-floor garret where I puff on my pipe as I write. It's an inconvenient arrangement, but prevents me from stinking up the house. The marital accord is worth it.

DEAR DR. GOTT — My 10-year-old stepson is extremely pigeon-toed and knock-kneed. When he was an infant, his parents were told that he would outgrow it. What can be done for him at this age?

DEAR READER — Some degree of pigeon-toeing and knock-kneeing is normal for youngsters and will be outgrown when they reach their growth spurt in adolescence. Have the doctor check your stepson to make sure that he is, in general, developing normally. If not, the doctor may suggest treatment while the boy's bones are still in the process of developing.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I have been taking perphenazine and Thioridazine for 10 years, since I had a nervous breakdown. I am getting a convulsive jerk in my jaw, where it opens and closes rapidly a fraction of an inch. Could the drugs be causing this?

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby
This year Scottish expert Hugh Kelsey has a new book, "Countdown to Better Bridge" (Devyn Press, 151 Thierman Lane, Louisville, KY 40207). Each deal in the book has the theme of counting distribution, either by declarer or by a defender, to determine the best play. In keeping with its title, the book starts with Chapter 10 and ends with Chapter 1, but along the way it provides an encyclopedia of logical methods for determining what cards your opponents have.

West led his singleton spade against four hearts. East played three high spades, on which West threw two little diamonds, and then East played back the diamond jack. Declarer won the king in dummy and drew four rounds of hearts, noting that East held four of them, and then played the ace of clubs. East played the queen. Had South been playing bridge in a vacuum, he would normally read that card as a lone honor. But here the declarer was in a position to derive complete information about East's distribution. Before playing the second club, he simply played his ace of diamonds. If East had another diamond, the queen of clubs had to be a singleton. But when East showed out on the second diamond, he was left with another club, obviously the jack.

The ability to count a hand cannot be acquired overnight. Although the arithmetic is simple, a conscious effort must be made. Here, had declarer relied on his instincts, he might have lost a trick to the jack of clubs. By cashing the ace of diamonds first, he obtained an absolute directive as to the winning play.

World Events Keeping Americans Close To Home

By Iris Krasnow
UPI Feature Writer

First it was terrorism. Now, Russia's nuclear cloud. Fear of foreign disasters has triggered an urge to see America, and tourism experts predict that 1986 could be the biggest year yet in domestic travel.

"Since the Libya situation, we're down between 50 to 60 percent on North Atlantic air trips to Europe," said Willard Brown, vice-president of travel agency services for the American Automobile Association. "To the Mediterranean basin, it's down a good 75 to 80 percent."

One major charter company also reported a "drastic" reduction in European bookings — this after a record summer when 6 million people flew to the Continent.

"Last year we took about 30,000 passengers (to Europe) — this year we expect maybe 8,000," said a spokesman for Charter Travel Corp. in Chicago.

Travel agents predict the Chernobyl nuclear plant explosion will decrease tourism to the Soviet Union, Scandinavian countries and Eastern Europe, despite Russia's effort to communicate "all's well."

"Last week we were saying, 'If you don't want to go to Europe, go to Russia.' Let me tell you, Hawaii is looking better all the time."

A letter sent to travel agents from the Intourist office in New York, the Soviet agency that controls all tours to Russia, stated there were no restrictions on travel to the Soviet Union in the aftermath of the explosion. It stressed that even Kiev would be "perfectly safe."

"Intourist is saying, 'It's business as usual,'" said a spokeswoman for American Express Travel Related Services. "It makes me so angry. Basically, we're at their mercy."

"We do feel tourism to Russia will be affected," she said. "We had a few cancellations on a tour going to Russia this week, and I would think over the next few days, we would get more."

"Last week we were saying, 'Hey, if you don't want to go to Europe, go to Russia,'" said Dan Bohan, vice president of Omega World Travel, a Virginia firm with 32 branches.

"We thought it would be a banner year for Russia, because tourists consider it safe from terrorism. Let me tell you, Hawaii is looking better all the time."

AAA executive Brown added that travel to Russia is "looking pretty flat." With new flights to the Soviet Union, Pan American World Airways claimed it has yet to feel the crunch. "We certainly haven't seen any adverse effect yet," said Merle Richman, a spokesman for the airline. "People who have reservations for this summer will wait and see what happens."

However, "I would certainly not be picnicking in a park in Kiev today," said Leigh Kimball, a vice president of Ask Mr. Foster, a company of 400 American offices.

Slashed domestic airfares, reduced gasoline prices, the soft American dollar in Europe and special celebrations have also boosted U.S. appeal.

"When you have a focal point event like the 100th anniversary of the Statue of Liberty, it doesn't just stimulate travel to that one place, it stimulates domestic travel to places like Mount Rushmore and Williamsburg," said Travel Weekly magazine editor Alan Fredericks.

Canadian officials are expecting 15 million tourists to visit the Expo '86 World's Fair in Vancouver during its six-month run.

Pam Am announced in late April it would shift 5 percent of its aircraft capacity from European destinations to the United States.

Several months ago, Trans World Airlines cut back on its summer European capacity by some 20 percent, said Sally McElwreath, a spokeswoman for the airline. New flights have been added to Honolulu and Anchorage.

"This is going to be a big year for Mickey Mouse, but unfortunately that doesn't help travel agencies a bundle — money is made on overseas travel," said Bohan. European bookings are down by about 30 percent at Omega, he reported.

"I know I'm taking in half of what I normally do at this time of year," said Herb Weiss, owner of Weiss Travel Bureau in Chicago.

The Greek National Tourist Organization is fighting back with a $2.5 million television campaign in which famous Americans of non-Greek ancestry announce they are "going home — to Greece," the birthplace of Western culture.

European Community officials estimate Greece lost $100 million in U.S. tourist trade after the June 1985 terrorist attack in Athens.

Many Americans still bent on venturing overseas are choosing Australia, New Zealand and Caribbean countries, where AAA's Brown said "business is up more than 100 percent."

When passengers make last-minute cancellations, most airlines have waived penalty charges given the volatile news.

Cruise lines are also experiencing a shift.

Ocean Cruise Lines and Sea Goddess Cruises have curtailed programs in the Eastern Mediterranean and Caribbean lines are getting a boost.

"Business is up significantly; it ranges anywhere from 30 percent to as high as 60 percent," said Rod McCloud, a vice-president of The Royal Caribbean Cruise Line.

"We expect a sold-out season to Alaska," said Mimi Weisband, a spokeswoman for Royal Cruise Line. The company is sending only two vessels into the Mediterranean, which Weisband said are currently "a little more than half full."

Transplant Patient Dies After Fall

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (UPI) — Mary Gohlke, who lived a record five years with the transplanted heart and lungs of a teenager killed in a traffic accident, died of internal bleeding that apparently started when she tripped on a cord and fell at her home, doctors said.

Gohlke, 50, died Tuesday, 12 days after she was admitted to Scottsdale Memorial Hospital with severe internal bleeding that started when she fell in her home and ruptured an artery in her abdomen, doctors said.

Although the former newspaper advertising manager was admitted to the hospital on April 9, her husband, Karl, later said she actually may have suffered the injury three days earlier and did not realize it.

Gohlke underwent surgery three times as doctors tried to stop the bleeding, and rallied last weekend. But her condition worsened Sunday when the internal bleeding resumed and by Tuesday morning she suffered heart failure. Surgeons installed a pacemaker, but she died a few hours later.

Dr. Carman Brooks, Gohlke's cardiologist, said she had been making a good recovery and that on Saturday he "felt very strongly we had a good chance."

"One wouldn't expect this much from a fall," Brooks said.

The doctor said after Gohlke was admitted to the hospital, she asked him, "How does this happen to me?"

Gohlke received the heart and lungs of a 15-year-old Chula Vista, Calif., traffic accident victim in an operation at Stanford University Medical Center March 9, 1981.

Gohlke was the fourth person to undergo the dual transplant surgery. Prior to Gohlke, the longest survival period after surgery was 23 days.

Doctors attributed the success of Gohlke's operation to the anti-rejection drug, cyclosporin A, which still was still classified as experimental at the time of her surgery.

But Brooks said the medication also made it more difficult to stop the internal bleeding.

Gohlke, an advertising manager at the Mesa Tribune before her transplant, had suffered from an incurable heart-lung disease known as pulmonary hypertension.

On the second anniversary of her operation Gohlke said she had no regrets.

"If I needed another one tomorrow and they were willing at Stanford, I'd do it again," she said.

"Sometimes you get a little depressed and you have your joys," she added. "But, mainly, you learn to be happy about every day that you live."

Gohlke was a native of Buffalo, N.Y. Survivors included her husband and two sons.

She wrote a book about her experiences, titled, "I'll Take Tomorrow," with Max Jennings, executive editor of the Mesa Tribune.

Heeere's Joanie!

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Comic Joan Rivers, who shot to fame on Johnny Carson's "Tonight Show" and was its only permanent guest host, will go head-to-head with the late-night superstar on a new program that media mogul Rupert Murdoch hopes will anchor a fourth network.

Murdoch's Fox Broadcasting Co., currently a group of independent stations reaching 23 percent of the nation's TV viewers in six of the country's biggest markets, announced Tuesday it will star Rivers in her own late-night slot opposite Carson.

Carson, who Rivers admits gave her the biggest break of her career when he named her the only permanent guest host of NBC's "The Tonight Show" in 1963, was reportedly shocked by the announcement.

"Johnny was astonished," a spokesman for Carson said, adding that the longtime king of late-night television had been negotiating with Rivers to renew her contract and "had no idea" she was negotiating with Fox.

Rivers, known for her risque one-liners and her trademark "Can we talk?" said she had twice telephoned Carson, but he declined to accept her calls.

with the onions. Add meat and marinade to roasting pan and let cook about 3-4 hours until meat is tender. When meat is done, remove from pan and prepare gravy. Add about 1/4 cup sugar, or to taste, to gravy. Thicken with a thin paste of flour and water. Run gravy through a strainer to remove onions and pickling spices. Slice the meat and place in pan with gravy. Let simmer in oven for about another 1/2 hour. Serve with red cabbage and potato pancakes. A 3-4 pound roast serves about 6 people.

RED CABBAGE

1 large head red cabbage
About 1/4 head white cabbage
Shred cabbage and place in pan with a little water and margarine. Cover and let steam for about 20 minutes until tender-crisp. Do not add salt until cabbage is cooked. When cooked, sprinkle a little flour over cabbage, some salt to taste and stir to mix. Add vinegar and sugar to taste and mix well. Let simmer a few minutes more.

POTATO PANCAKES

Grate about 4 or 5 peeled, raw potatoes

Put through a sieve. Using the sediment, add 1 grated onion, 3 tablespoons flour, a pinch of salt, and 3 eggs. Mix well. Make into small patties. Fry in hot oil until browned on both sides. Serve with apple sauce or sour cream.

GERMAN CRESCENT COOKIES

1/2 cup unsalted butter, softened
6 tablespoons sugar
1 1/4 cups all-purpose flour
1 cup finely chopped walnuts or pecans
Dash of salt
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
Confectioners' sugar

Cream butter and sugar in medium bowl. Add remaining ingredients and blend well, making a smooth dough. Break off pieces of dough, rolling into 3-inch strips about the thickness of a pencil. Form into crescent shape on cookie sheet and bake at 325° for about 10-12 minutes, just long enough to set them. Mrs. Denys says, "They do not like to be baked too much." When cool, dust with powdered sugar. Makes about 3 1/2 dozen.

GERMAN CHEESE CAKE

1 pound cottage cheese
2 packages cream cheese (8 ounces each)

1 pint sour cream
4 eggs
3 tablespoons flour
3 tablespoons corn starch
Juice of one lemon
1 teaspoon vanilla

Strain cottage cheese to remove lumps. Add cream cheese and sugar. Mix well. Add flour, corn starch, blending well. Add one egg at a time, mixing well at low speed. Fold in sour cream, lemon juice and vanilla. Grease a spring form pan. Pour in batter. Bake for 1 hour at 350°. Turn oven off, leaving cake in oven for 1 more hour. Let cool slightly in pan before removing.

Food for Thought

by Bill Painter

Classic raspberry sauce is a winner over cake, ice cream, custard, you-name-it. Puree thawed and drained raspberries, strain, and mix in 2 Tbs. Grand Marnier. Add 1/4-cup confectioners' sugar if you like it sweeter.

Plan your food processing so you don't have to keep washing the bowl. Mince parsley, garlic, etc., first, then onions and other foods that don't need a dry bowl.

Non-dairy creamers generally have as many calories as light cream (about 30 per Tbs.) and usually include highly saturated coconut oil.

Spices and herbs are a must for flavor, especially when you're cutting down on salt. Remember basil with tomatoes, mustard in sauces or on meat, sesame seeds with vegetables, nutmeg in cream sauces.

Who says vitamins can't be fun? Strawberries have great taste and super nourishment. Half a cup of the tasty morsels give you 100 percent of the vitamin C you need in a day, plus lots of fiber, in only 37 calories.

Moms' Likes And Dislikes For Mother's Day Gifts

CINCINNATI — Take Mom out to dinner. Draw a hand-made card for her. Buy her pretty earrings.

But don't wrap a toaster, garlic press, or box of candy. That's what a new survey, commissioned by Downy fabric softener, reports mothers really want — and don't want — from their husbands and children this Mother's Day, May 11.

This year, Americans will spend an estimated $7 billion on presents to honor moms, according to various trade associations. Downy decided to help gift-givers by researching moms' "soft spots" on the subject of Mother's Day.

"We've been studying the household habits of moms and their families for 25 years," said Brad Irwin, brand manager. "This survey is really about Mother's Day. It is designed to help family members focus on what mom may really want on her day. And that might help those who are struggling to find a way to show appreciation for the care mom shows her loved ones throughout the year."

In general, the survey found simple, thoughtful gifts are well-accepted by moms. But it also discovered some traditional gifts — candy, for example — are not as popular as you might think.

Asked how they wanted to spend Mother's Day, 37 percent of the moms surveyed said "being taken out to dinner." Some 14 percent answered "family get-together." Surprisingly, only two percent wanted the traditional "breakfast in bed."

What Moms want most this

Mother's Day. From their children, moms most of all want hand-made cards or gifts. Almost one-third expressed that preference, while 15 percent wanted flowers or plants. Twelve percent said anything would do.

Husbands who want to please their wives should consider buying jewelry and flowers, according to the study. One in four mothers said they wanted jewelry from their mates. Nearly another quarter (22 percent) wanted flowers and plants. Fifteen percent wanted clothing, and seven percent said they'd be happy with anything.

What they'd like least. Pinpointing the least-desired gifts from husbands, moms put household items and candy at the top of the list. Thirty-nine percent wanted to steer clear of useful, functional gifts like toaster, frying pans, or blenders. Nearly one in five singled out candy as their most-unwanted gift.

Household gifts and candy also were the most-cited items on the least-desired gift list from their children.

The scientific survey was conducted in April by the Roper Organization, Inc., of New York for Downy. It involved telephone interviews with a national sample of 1,020 women between ages 25 and 54 with one or more children under 18 living at home.

FEAR!

Are you running scared? Would you like to stop? Here's the answer. Fear is the opposite of Faith. "But without Faith it is impossible to please God." Hebrews 11:6.

"There is no Fear in love; but perfect love casts out Fear." 1st John 4:18.

"The Fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom." Proverbs 9:10.

Friend, I pray that you have enough wisdom to accept the FREE gift of salvation. Won't you say yes to all the Love Christ Jesus has for you. Let Jesus become Lord of your life today.
