Youngster Pleads To A Judge...

By John A. Spolki

VISALIA, Calif. (AP)—A 10-year-old girl has pleaded in a letter to a judge that her parents be refused a divorce.

The child, who was not identified, wrote: "Honorable Sir, My mom and dad is getting a divorce. please don't let them get a divorce. My momma loves my dad. if you could put him in the hospital he could quit drinking..."

"Sir, you are a judge and this is your job, to divorce people.

"Only where do ones go that still love the husbands? And how do you divorce a 10-year-old? Can you cut out my heart and stop it from hurting."

The girl pleaded, "Please, please, please help a 10-year-old keep a mom and dad. I know if mom tried you probably wouldn't listen..."

"God bless you and let God be on this day the judge decide you."

Superior Court Judge Jay Ballantyne said Wednesday he sent copies of the letter to the attorneys representing the girl's parents and replied to her. "I am well aware of the tragedy which is involved every time parents separate where small children are involved... I can assure you that if either of your parents petition the court for an attempted reconciliation I will do all I can to help resolve their differences."

Look for a large delegation to be on hand for next Tuesday's County Commission "work shop" session. During that time, the revised boating law will be discussed... and the folks are curious what, if any, changes have been proposed.

"Definitely want something included on the control of air boats and related noise pollution.

In case you're interested... an acupuncture clinic that opened one week ago in New York has closed down in the face of a state ruling that nonphysicians who administered the needle therapy were practicing medicine illegally.

Another injunction filed this morning... to eliminate any combustibles from being dumped into Albert's Bay... has been told that there are two witnesses who observed additional dumping of materials near to existing flames... and that one of the area residents is joining in the injunction due to her daughter suffering from the pollutants in the air.

Ah, enough of that "bad news"... let me lay this one on you just for the laughs... guess who has been named "Macaroni Woman of the Year"...

Sophia Loren, that's who... and according to the guy putting on the promotion he says the Italian actress is a dazzling representative of women who eat macaroni.

(And now watch all of the gals go rushing out to their nearest food store... not to mention a couple of husbands doing the same thing, too...)

In response to our comment relating to political signs erected on road right-of-way... candidate Jerry Brass called and said, "I did not put them up myself... these are contrary to my instructions. They shall be removed today."

Can't ask for better service than that, now can you?

O'Brien Will Head McGovern Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. George McGovern today appointed former Democratic National Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien to head his presidential campaign.

The nominee said O'Brien will be given a role concerned with unifying the support of Democrats and other "concerned Americans."

McGovern said O'Brien will be his "national campaign chairman" and in that role "will be a foremost consultant on the overriding goal which will be to unify the support of key Democrats across the country."

The senator said O'Brien will be his liaison with the Senate, to cast a pro-labor vote in the Congress.

Democratic governors, mayors, and state legislative leaders... He said O'Brien will also be his chief contact with officials of the Democratic Party and organized labor.

"Larry O'Brien will be personally and directly involved in all major campaign decisions between now and Nov. 7," McGovern said.

"He will be a principal spokesman for this campaign and I am urging him to travel to every section of the country to speak in support of my candidacy."

McGovern made the O'Brien announcement after his arrival here from South Dakota where he has been vacationing, to cast a pro-labor vote in the Senate following his rejection by top AFL-CIO leaders.

Florida Power & Light Gets OK To Use One Nuclear Generator

MIAMI (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission has given Florida Power and Light Co., the go-ahead for full power operation of the first of its two nuclear generators at Turkey Point.

Licensing of the generator, originally scheduled to be in operation more than two years ago, was announced Wednesday.

Environmentalists had fought a five-year battle to stop the nuclear generators at Turkey Point going into production. They claimed there was a danger of thermal pollution and damage to the environment.

"We're delighted," said FP&L Vice President Gene Autrey. "We will do everything possible to see that the unit is put into production at the earliest possible moment."

He said it would still be several months before the generator would begin operating.

"We are ready to move into the testing, but it will take several months and this time lag precludes any substantial relief for the present power pinch," Autrey added.

"There is, although, the possibility of some generation this summer during the testing period," he said.

FP&L's second nuclear generator is not expected to be completed until late November.

Earlier this week the AEC cleared the way for licensing when it approved the $35 million network of canals that FP&L is building to cool the millions of gallons of hot water the plant was expected to discharge into Biscayne Bay.

The commission said Florida's need for electrical power outweighed any environmental risks.

CLOSE??? A 'SILLY MILLIMETER LONGER' AND IT WOULD HAVE BEEN... Only the sea wall at Lake Monroe kept Howard Lee Addington, 45, of 1808 S. Chase Avenue, Sanford, from taking a dip in the lake. According to patrolman Hirschel Gilbert of the Sanford Police Department, Addington lost control of his 1968 International truck when a part of the steering mechanism failed. The truck hit a tree and headed toward the water but was stopped by the concrete wall. Damage to the truck was estimated at $600. The accident occurred at 2:15 yesterday afternoon at the end of French Avenue.

Polk To Fight For Budget

An astounding budget request of $1,200,000 presented by the Seminole County Commissioners has been up for discussion repeatedly during this month of budget hearings.

Again on Wednesday, the Sheriff came prepared with some specifics, some of which were requested by the Board and some of which he hoped to use to show what his department is doing in the county towards combating crime, with 228 arrests made.

Two statistical charts the Sheriff brought with him showed that of 1,942 felonies committed in 1971, 648 were cleared off the books, a total of 33.3 per cent.

In 1972, 574 felonies were committed and 510 were cleared off the books, with a total of 73.3 per cent.

Madameonars records in 1971 show that 1,372 were reported and 1,356 were cleared off the books, a total of 98.2 per cent.

In 1972, 1,344 were reported and 1,300 were cleared, a total of 96.9 per cent.

June has been the worst month so far for madameonars this year with 150 reported. May of 1971 was worst for that year, with 160 reported.

Polk told of clearing one case involving a group with eight or nine persons involved working out of Longwood, which resulted in clearing 300 cases off the books.

These figures supported the need for more deputies and detectives which the Sheriff is requesting. So far, his request for 11 additional deputies has been cut to four. He was given three of the six detectives he requested.

County Jail Report Shows Needed Improvements

By BILL SCOTT

The Seminole County jail is overcrowded with prisoners required to sleep on the floor. Improvements are needed in the food and medical services; inside needs repainting and air conditioning is recommended.

The report added that the Division of Corrections report after an inspection of the county facility July 7 by E. B. Smith, prison inspector.

According to the report, which was received July 14 by the county clerk's office, the inspector said the "county jail is overcrowded, poorly lighted and ventilated and in need of much repair. The county jail does not have a food service supervisor nor a nurse on the staff," the report added.

Under special items requiring attention, the inspector listed, inside of jail needs repainting, lighting and ventilation needs improvement, air conditioning is recommended, additional staff is needed to properly operate the jail, additional jail space is needed, excessive heat, poor lighting and medical treatment. The inmates were advised that the inspector and his staff were aware of these problems and that Sheriff John Polk was attempting to secure funds to overcome them.

In other comments and observations in Smith's report was the following: "This jail is extremely overcrowded. Some inmates are required to sleep on the floor due to the lack of bed space for adult male offenders."

"Temporary relief could be provided by not housing female and juvenile prisoners in this facility, who are required by law to be segregated from the male population."

Tired Blood

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—An elderly couple who claimed a transfusion of the wrong type of blood ruined their life has been awarded $27,500 in damages.

A Circuit Court jury deliberated four hours Tuesday before returning the judgment in favor of Paul and Lena Piccirillo of Dania.

The Piccirillos' suit against Memorial Hospital in Hollywood claimed that Piccirillo was given the wrong type of blood in June 1969, sending him into shock and requiring a month of hospitalization.

Mrs. Piccirillo, 62, testified that she and her 64-year-old husband had sexual relations four or five times a week prior to his operation. Since the husband goes to bed early and they have relations only once every five or six weeks.

The couple has been married for 35 years.

Officials Report Loose Controls

By CARL C. CRAFT Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional auditors have suggested that Congress find new ways to bankroll the multi-billion dollar Vietnam pacification program in order to exercise stricter controls over the funds. The recommendation by the General Accounting Office, an arm of Congress, came after the agency reported finding loose controls and unreliable accounting in the controversial $2.2 billion program.

The Dirt, The Dust, Everywhere

By GERALD STORCH Associated Press Writer
WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — The dirt, the dirt, the dirt are still everywhere. Walk in any low-lying area of this hilly city of 60,000, and you get a choice — depending on whether it's dry or overcast — between breathing "hugified" with that mix with sweat and dusts, or being stopped with mud. A full month after one-third of this eastern Pennsylvania city was inundated by floodwaters from tropical storm Agnes, the community retains the appearance of a disaster area. Lawns, sidewalks, shrubs, walls and just about anything else left standing are blanketed with a coat of tan mud. The residue of 2-foot flooding by the Susquehanna River. In the city's well-to-do residential section along Riverside Drive, homes lie scattered. One house sits in the middle of a street, swept there by the waters. Others tilt precariously. Their foundations and plumbing, in many cases, exposed. The hub of downtown, a grassy diagonal known as Public Square, is filled with information trailers and Salvation Army food trucks. Of some 50 retail establishments that surround the square, just two — a newsstand and a drug store — have reopened. "Huge, mounds of rubble and some debris are curbside," says a city official. "No doubt about it. Wilkes-Barre looks awful. And yet, amidst all this, a bustling spirit of renewal is undeniably evident."

Minimum Facing Showdown

By JOE HALL Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate expects today to conduct a showdown vote on a bill to raise the minimum wage, pitting the prestige of Democratic presidential nominee George McGovern against the opposition of the 77-year-old Meany and the AFL-CIO executive council to a 27-3 vote Wednesday against endorsing either Democratic nominee George McGovern or President Nixon. "I will not vote for either one of them," Meany told a news conference. "Meany was calm, cool, responsible, effective and well-prepared," said another labor leader, Arthur J. Altmeyer, who had urged endorsement of McGovern as the AFL-CIO's presidential nominee. Meany has sharply attacked McGovern on economic policies, while reportedly disagreeing with McGovern's views on the Vietnam war. Meany, who said McGovern was not "good material" for a president, shrewdly avoided a direct vote on whether to endorse McGovern and made it clear the AFL-CIO's 17 million members and their 15.6 million members were free to do as they wished. This blunted opposition from several McGovern supporters on the labor council. Typical was President Floyd Smith of the 800,000-member Machinists union, who endorsed McGovern but voted with Meany's position of neutrality for the AFL-CIO. "Let them do as they like," Meany told a news conference. AFL-CIO sources said that had the vote been directly on whether to endorse McGovern, the vote would have been virtually split down the middle. Despite his victory in bending the labor council to his wishes, the issue produced more division in labor's ranks than any in recent memory and raised the possibility of a later, stronger challenge to Meany's position of neutrality. The other two were presidents Paul Jennings of the International Union of Electrical Workers and Al Grossman of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers. But many more union presidents have endorsed or are leaning toward McGovern. Meany and other labor leaders have never claimed to be able to deliver labor union votes in a bloc, but their influence is believed to be considerable. More importantly, the position of neutrality deprives McGovern of the support of the AFL-CIO council and McGovern supporters who are the three votes against the position of neutrality. The other two were presidents Paul Jennings of the International Union of Electrical Workers and Al Grossman of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers.

Meany And Union No Support Offered

By NEIL GILBRIDE Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — George Meany, steering the AFL-CIO to a fence-sitting position of neutrality in the presidential campaign, showed he is still firmly in command of the labor's House of Labor and a power to be reckoned with in national politics. "He's invincible," grumbled one union opponent after the 77-year-old Meany led the 35-man AFL-CIO executive council to a 27-3 vote Wednesday against endorsing either Democratic nominee George McGovern or President Nixon. "I will not vote for either one of them," Meany told a news conference. "Meany was calm, cool, responsible, effective and well-prepared," said another labor leader, Arthur J. Complaints Aired 'Sit-In' Protesters Fed

By BILL SCOTT
Approximately 15 persons, members of the local chapter of the National Welfare Rights Organization (NWRO), received an attentive ear Tuesday at the Sanford office of Florida Division of Family Services, who heard a series of complaints and even provided a luncheon of sandwiches and milk to some who said they had not eaten in two days. The welfare rights group staged what was described by Marie Ory, an organizer from Washington, D.C., as a protest "sit-in" at the First Street office to call attention to a number of complaints over the handling of welfare recipients' problems. Mrs. Ory stated the main complaints dealt with need for more food stamp centers and lack of sufficient medical attention. Athering to the request, Mrs. Joyce Kelley, payments supervisor for the welfare office, stated a food stamp worker was brought into the Sanford office to sign-up recipients. According to Virginia Hurt, family and children supervisor, the food stamp worker was unable to complete her work yesterday, after working past 5 p.m. but was on hand today to complete the four or five remaining claimants.

Hard News With A Russian Accent

Have you thought of learning Russian? This is not a frivolous question on this day in July, 1972. Surely it would have been on this same date in 1971.

But the tempo of change has been so heightened and the direction which this change is taking is so unpredictable that it is purely logical to assume that the study of the Russian language will come out from behind the "Iron Curtain" which Churchill lowered and Nixon has nudged up a little.

We are moved towards this assumption by two headline making stories which hit the press this week. One has to do with the surprising ousting of the Russian military advisers and experts from Egypt.

The other tells of a five-year agreement between an American industrialist and the Soviet government for technical aid in the exploitation of Soviet oil and natural gas that could easily become a landmark in East-West trade.

The former is an historic event which is almost too easily interpreted as indicating an end to the Russian backing of the Egyptian and Arab countries in the perilous confrontation between the Egyptian-Arab forces and the formidable strength of the Israeli army.

It is still so recent a development that any such black-and-white assumption is futile until the gray areas are filled in. That they will be certain.

Has President Anwar Sadat pointed himself in the corner of a room, again? Is the interpretation which has considerable substance to support it, that the Russians have concluded that the Egyptian-Arab manpower is just unable to master the technology of modern warfare accurate?

If so, the facts to support it can be found in the new naval harbors, the airports where the latest electronic and sophisticated devices are ready to be operated as well as the network of ground-to-air missile sites.

With about 20,000 Russian military and technical experts in Egypt to train and help man these facilities, there has arisen a further factor which may be of greater importance even than the purely military.

This is the attitude which many Russians are quite understandably assuming which does not make friends but probably has irritated both the intelligent and professional Russians and the less well educated and prepared Egyptians who are slow learners.

Sadats' decision must, at this time, be recognized as lowering—not heightening—any chance of American-Russian confrontation in the Middle East.

that Mid-East hot spot. Should this be classified as a welcome spin-off from the visit and talks which took place when President Nixon made his historic visit to Moscow when the "Iron Curtain" lowered by Churchill was given a vigorous nudging upwards? We think so.

In an entirely different framework of cause-and-effect, it is easy to place the agreement between the Occidental Petroleum Company and the Soviet government in the same category. For this is already accepted as at least a $3 billion pact — largest ever signed between an American corporation and the Soviet government — and a landmark.

Here, again, there are two probable results. One is that the Russian economy will be greatly boosted with this exploitation of that nation's massive oil and natural gas reserves.

In turn, its business climate should become brighter. And the Russian citizen might find a better choice of goods when they go shopping. Incredible? Somewhat. Improbable? Not now, not in July '72.

Power in Peking May Be Shifting

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — There are shadowy signs of a struggle between Mao Tse-tung and Chou En-lai, China's two top men.

Perhaps. If actual and real, the power shift could have strong effects on Peking's relationship with the United States and Russia.

The "struggle" shows up in curious ways—the word order in speeches, the disappearance of certain Mao slogans and the nonappearance of Mao at crucial times.

This is the message from Hong Kong contacts who spend their time analyzing Chinese political statements.

If, then, seems an unsubstantiated base on which to make judgment, it is. But this is the technique on which Western analysts must depend heavily in assessing what is happening in high Russian and Chinese officials.

Even in dramatic shifts, Peking seldom comes out directly on what is happening. Liu Shao-chi was purged as president and Lin Biao as Mao's first deputy minister in 1971. There has never been an official announcement and he has never been seen in the press since.

The constitution, it is thought here, may still provide for Lin to take over when Mao dies, although he most certainly will not. Years ago, Mao himself was demoted until a determined comeback restored him to power.

The West learned of this long afterward and indirectly. This year, for the first time since 1950, Mao did not appear at the May Day celebrations. Lacking were slogans prominently displayed in Peking on National Day: "The Great Red Banner," "Mao Tse-tung Thought" and "Unfold the Mass Movement of Living Study and Application of Mao Tse-tung Thought."

"More important," as the Great Red Banner Mao Tse-tung has of late, in talking adroitly and subtly, seemingly giving himself precedence over Mao.

It may seem a little thing to Americans—choosing himself ahead of Mao in speeches—but in Communist lands no man would dare unless he had the power.

The technique Chou uses, which fools no ranking Chinese or serious student, therefore, it is quite clear to Communists and analysts that "Party Center" actually means Chou.

Until March this year, it was always "Chairman Mao and the Party Center" or "the Party Center headed by Chairman Mao," giving Mao precedence.

But beginning with a speech on March 28 this year, the order was changed. "Party Center" was put ahead of Mao.

This did happen once before in China. In 1966 at 22 months of age, Mao came on with a report on a public appearance of Mao. "Crowds of young people, singing and dancing, expressed their best love for the Party Center and Chairman Mao," giving the "Party Center" precedence. Filmmakers, after this paper reached newstands, it was withdrawn.

Soaring hospital costs are a matter of concern to every one today. Statistics from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare show that hospital costs have risen more than five times as fast as the general Consumer Price Index.

According to the Hospital Financial Association, the national average cost of one day in a hospital is now $60 excluding physicians' and surgeons' fees—up 300 per cent in the last 10 years. The average length of stay is seven days.

Even if a person is fortunate enough not to be among the one out of eight Americans who will be admitted to a hospital this year, the growing cost of sickness is sooner or later reflected in the monthly hospitalization insurance premiums he pays.

Yet a startling fact is that fully one-third of all hospital costs have nothing whatever to do with health care of the patient. The medical treatment of patients, Spokeman, of the industry charge that hospital managers have failed to check the staggering costs of running the administrative areas of hospitals, which account for over 30 per cent of all costs.

The average 300-bed hospital handles over 45,000 transactions, 6,000 patient and insurance bills, 10,000 follow-up statements and an $800,000 cashflow every month.

But in an age where every major institution utilizes the computer for all administrative work, a recent study by the Hospital Financial Association revealed that 55 per cent of all hospital financial and accounting transactions are still performed by hand.

Even though hospital boards are composed of leading businessmen, many of whom are in charge of completely computerized companies, they continue to allow hospitals to be run like an old-fashioned grocery store.

William Bush, Chairman of the Seminole County Safety Advisory Committee, reported to the Commissioners that no quorum was present at the meeting of the committee on July 13. He said that activity of the group is being held in abeyance.

Scheduled for discussion at this July meeting was the wording for a proposal for a full time Safety Director for Seminole County. This proposal was to have been presented to the Board of County Commissioners for their consideration during this budget session.

"Because of attendance problems during the summer months, no more meetings are scheduled until the fall," Bush stated. Commission Chairman Greg Drummond said that an appropriate letter will be sent from the Board to the members of the committee.

"From the discussion, it was decided that each representative would provide the office of civil defense with names and telephone numbers for 24 hour contact and the local C. D. office would compile the entire emergency contact system into a bulletin for restricted distribution among those with the "need to know."

Telephone and power companies already have including disaster plans and the result of this conference will result in coordination between their emergency plans with those of the civil defense.

County Board Actions

A full EEA (Emergency Employment Act) package must be submitted to Atlanta by August 1 in order for Seminole County to qualify for those funds for the fiscal year, 1973, according to Administrative Assistant, Rodney Laver.

Lela Hare, Commission employee who is in charge of the EEA program, recently attended an EEA conference in Jacksonville, pertaining to making application for the funds for 1973 and closing out the Grant for 1972.

All funds not used in 1972 grant will be added to the allocated for 1973, according to Laver. In the report to be submitted with the application grant there must be an estimate as close to the dollar as possible due to the fact that any monies not carried over and are not expended, will revert back to the State.

The Seminole 1972 Grant expires August 25, therefore the Grant package must be submitted and approved received by that date. Laver said that last year's Grant was referred to as a "What" grant—"what can we do with the money?"

Laver estimated that as of July 17, 1972, there was $633,10 remaining in the grant for 1972, based on the assumption that all 22 positions now occupied remain at full work force and that little time is lost from work. The maximum individual salary allowable under EEA is $12,000 annually. Any amount over that figure must come from the County Budget, Laver said.

In further reports, Laver advised the Board of County Commissioners that he had received a request from the U.S. Army Reserve in Orlando, to use the Geneva Air Strip for driver training purposes.

The reason for this request is that the Army Reserve Unit has no other place available to them for training of their drivers. The facilities would be used to set up a driver's proficiency course to test drivers in the operation of tractor and trailer equipment. All equipment is portable and would be removed after use. Personnel would always be under the supervision of a commissioned officer, Laver said. The facility would be used on the second weekend of each month.

County Playgrounds

Hugh Carlton, representing the Board of Public Instruction, advised the Board of County Commissioners that in compliance with recommendations of the Board of Commissioners, the school board had formulated regulations for county playgrounds located on school grounds.

The regulations specify that all motorized vehicles shall be confined to parking lots; beverage containers are not permitted on the school campus; buildings, locker areas, storage and walkways shall not be considered part of the playground opened to the public; all trash must be placed in receptacles; All playgrounds shall remain on a first come, first serve basis; Vandalism to buildings, grounds or equipment will result in that facility being closed to the public; and finally, those committing the acts which are in violation of the law will be prosecuted.

Judge Makes Recommendations

George Roger Dykes, Chief Justice for the 18th Circuit Court, has advised the Board of County Commissioners of some changes he recommends to be made to the third floor of the new courthouse, which he believes will provide better utilization by the circuit court under the revised Article V, which will become effective on January 1, 1973.

Dykes recommended that temporary divider in rooms 327 and 328 be removed to make this one large chamber for the circuit court area.

He would like a doorway to be opened in the wall between rooms 326 and 327, on the east side of the wall. This will afford joint use of the hearing room by the Judges located in rooms 324, 327 and 328.

The Judge said that the doorway into room 327 can be removed if the cost of removal and the status of finishing the area will not prohibit removal and closing of the doorway.

The light weight or temporary divider in room 329 which separates the secretary from the waiting room should be removed. This room would then accommodate a secretary for each of two Judges. The waiting chairs would be utilized in the area rather than in a lounge.

It is desirable, the Judge advised, to have restroom facilities for the Judges' chamber in Rooms 327 and 328. This modification may be prohibited at this time.

Judge Dykes recommended one change on the second floor south. This concerns the ceiling of courtroom 200 in room 200. It would have a "dropped" ceiling over the audience area and at the present time, this same ceiling height appears to be designed for the area over the jury. Judge Dykes feels this should be limited to the audience area with the ceiling height over the jury box the same as over the Judge, prosecutor and defense.

No Quorum Present

Deltona Lobbyist Gov. Aide Gets Offer

By JOHN VAN GIESON Associated Press Writer

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Deltona Corp., which has been involved in a disputed Marco Island dredge and fill settlement with the Cabinet, has offered a 32-year-old aide to Gov. Reubin Askew as a lobbyist.

Jim Smith, Askew's executive assistant, said Wednesday he probably will accept the offer when he leaves his $2,100-a-year job in the governor's office on Sept. 1.

"We haven't really consummated our deal yet," Smith said. "I told them as soon as I left we'd sit down and talk."

George Matthews, who has opposed the role of state officials in Marco Island development in four federal court law suits and numerous appearances before state boards, said the possibility that an Askew aide would go to work for Deltona "takes the cake."

"That makes the whole business more than ever," said the Naples conservationist. Matthews contends that Askew, his aides, Cabinet members and their aides and Joel Kuperberg, director of the trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund all were guilty of "concealing information from the public."

He charged that the state officials approved the Marco Island settlement last Oct. 12 even though they knew company surveys were giving Deltona 2,600 acres of land over what the firm was entitled to.

The Cabinet agreed to issue dredge-and-fill permits for work already completed on Marco Island homesites in return for 3,850 acres of largely unspoiled mangrove islands near the southeast Florida development.

Smith said any insinuation that there was a connection between the settlement and his offer from Deltona was untrue. "I haven't been involved in that settlement," he said. "I never talked to the governor about that settlement."

"In fact," Smith said, "I was over at the Department of Commerce when that settlement was made."

He served as deputy director of the Department of Commerce before becoming one of the governor's top lieutenants.

Matthews said he had not dealt directly with Smith as he plans to leave in August, but contended he had pointed out the "false surveys" to Smith, Lt. Gov. Tom Adams and aide Jay Landers in 1970.

Adams was secretary of state at the time, and Smith and Landers, also an aide to Askew now, were Adams' assistants.

"None of them did anything about it," Matthews said. An attorney, Smith said he plans to become a partner of Tallahassee lawyer Gene Brown when he leaves the governor's office. Many lobbyists are Tallahassee lawyers.

Lake Kathryn Builder Seeks Specifics From The County

By ANN SIECZKOWSKI

Lake and drainage control at Lake Kathryn has reared its ugly head again and County Commissioners appeared ready to lock horns with the developer of Lake Kathryn Estates, which does not seem to be improving even after these several months of trial and error methods and discussions. County Engineer William Bush reported to the Board that he has been advised by Jack Cooper, attorney for Lake Kathryn Estates, as to the position taken by his clients on this matter. "At all times, we are going to cooperate with the County in all matters relating to this problem, but first we must have a most peculiar relation, in a most peculiar position," Cooper stated. He said that as he understood the situation, the County had never given him a written directive to a dam at the efficient position of Lake Kathryn. This dam is to be established so that Lake Kathryn will be maintained at an elevation of 52.00 feet, Cooper complained that the County had never given him a written directive to this effect. He was concerned that all responsibility for any ill effects of such a dam should fall upon the shoulders of the County.

Tenants To Deduct Under New Laws

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Tenants would be able to deduct minor repairs from their rent or see landlords who are operating under antiquated laws and concepts that date all the way back to feudal times. Myers said the bill has these major provisions: —Allows a tenant to make minor repairs to the premises owned by the landlord, provided the repairs do not constitute a substantial improvement to the property. —Permits tenants, when sued for eviction or non-payment of rent, to counterclaim against the landlord for non-compliance with building, housing or health standards.

Dear Abby

Cozy threesomes

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have been married one year, but like everyone else who writes to you, I have a problem. This is my first marriage, and Edwin's second. He was a swinging bachelor for five years before he married me. Edwin keeps inviting his former girl friends over to our home for dinner. They are all friendly and attractive, but I feel so awkward when I'm sitting at the table with them. I don't know how to act around them. I don't know how to act around them. I don't know how to act around them.

Bluing Helps to Remove Streaks from Dugarees

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY: My answer is in regard to Darlene's problem with her husband's black dugarees having a white cast or streak over them after they are washed. Turn wrong side out when washing them and DO NOT wash with any light-colored things. A large amount of bluing added to the last rinse will help solve this problem. Lin is easily removed from black garments by adding vinegar to the last rinse water. I use a rather large amount and have no vinegar odor left in garments—MMS-C.S.

Denise Jarrell Guest Of Honor At Shower

The Paloma Avenue home of Mrs. L. H. Tripp was the setting for a bridal shower honoring Miss Denise Jarrell whose wedding to Ronald Clark, of Jacksonville, will be an event of Aug. 5.

Cohostesses with Mrs. Tripp was Mrs. Cindy Gracey. The bride's chosen colors of yellow and white were used in decorations. A single yellow rose bud and fern in a crystal bud vase graced a table in the living room.

The gift table, overlaid with a beautiful lace cloth was placed in front of the buffet adorned with a miniature bride and groom, surrounded with greenery interspersed with yellow mums.

Centerpiece on the refreshment table was composed of yellow and white mums, large daisy mums and greenery, flanked by two yellow candles in crystal holders.

Guests were served open face sandwiches, petit fours, cookies, fruit punch, nuts and rainbow mints in individual miniature white plastic flower carts with matching umbrellas. The hostess gift was two pieces of china in the bride's chosen pattern.

Invited guests included Mrs. Uray Clark, mother of the future bridegroom; Mrs. Joe Jarrell, mother of the bride-elect; Mrs. David Lee, Dennis B. Crawford, Randy Nobles, William Bracken, David Noell, J. H. Lee Jr., Robert C. Martin, Albert M. Jarrell, Albert Jarrell, Colleen Ruth, Randy Burness, and Frances Mahurin.

Also the Misses Susie Clark, Laurin Johnson, Emily Daugherty, Kathy Debruyne, Julie Williams, Elizabeth Snowey, Jane Mero, Julie Persons, Terri Siskind, Tracey Knowles, Karen Weber, Sandy Bartholomew, Myrtam Chadwick, Ellen Sloan and Margaret and Carla Jarrell.

Mary A. Clayton, Gordon Bradley Jr. Exchange Vows In Double Ring Rites

Miss Mary Alice Clayton became the bride of Gordon Lambert Bradley Jr., on Saturday, July 1, at 7 p. m. in the First United Methodist Church at Opp, Ala. Dr. Edward L. Hardin officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Xury Bennette Clayton of Opp and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Lambert Bradley of Sanford. The double ring ceremony was performed before an altar flanked by tiered candelabras holding lighted tapers and jade vases. In the center was a pedestal arrangement of white gladiolus, shasta daisies and pink sweetbriar roses. The family pews were marked with a single burning taper and satin ribbons.

As the guests assembled, a program of nuptial music was presented by Jimmy Pierce presiding at the organ. The vocalist was Mrs. Wheeler Gunnels who sang "Treat Me Not" and "The Lord's Prayer." The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a beauteous gown of candlelight satin peau with Alcon lace appliques. The fitted bodice was designed with a scooped neckline outlined with pearl-embroidered lace and long cuffed sleeves. The hem of the skirt which extended into a chapel train was edged with lace. Her floor-length veil of candlelight illusion was attached to the lace cap. She carried a cascade of staphanotis, daisies and sweetbriar roses.

Mrs. John Nixon was matron of honor and bridal attendants included Mrs. Carrell Wyatt, Mrs. Mike Morgan, Miss Libby Cowen, all of Opp, and Mrs. Ken Farmer of Birmingham, Ala. They wore floor-length gowns of candlelight chiffon over peau de soie, trimmed with Venice lace embroidered in pink and carried nosegays of pink sweetbriar roses. The bride's groomsmen included Mr. Arthur Stiggs of Birmingham, Buddy Myers of Fulton, Ky., and Skipper Woodham of Opp.

MRS. GORDON LAMBERT BRADLEY JR. Huntville, Ala., as best man. Groomsmen were Ricky Smith of Sanford, Arthur Stiggs of Birmingham, Buddy Myers of Fulton, Ky., and Skipper Woodham of Opp.

Charles Nelson and Tay Benton, both of Opp, were the officiating ministers. The groom chose a dress of blue lace and chiffon, with white accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid. The bridegroom's mother wore pastel pink antique satin costume suit with matching accessories and a white orchid corsage.

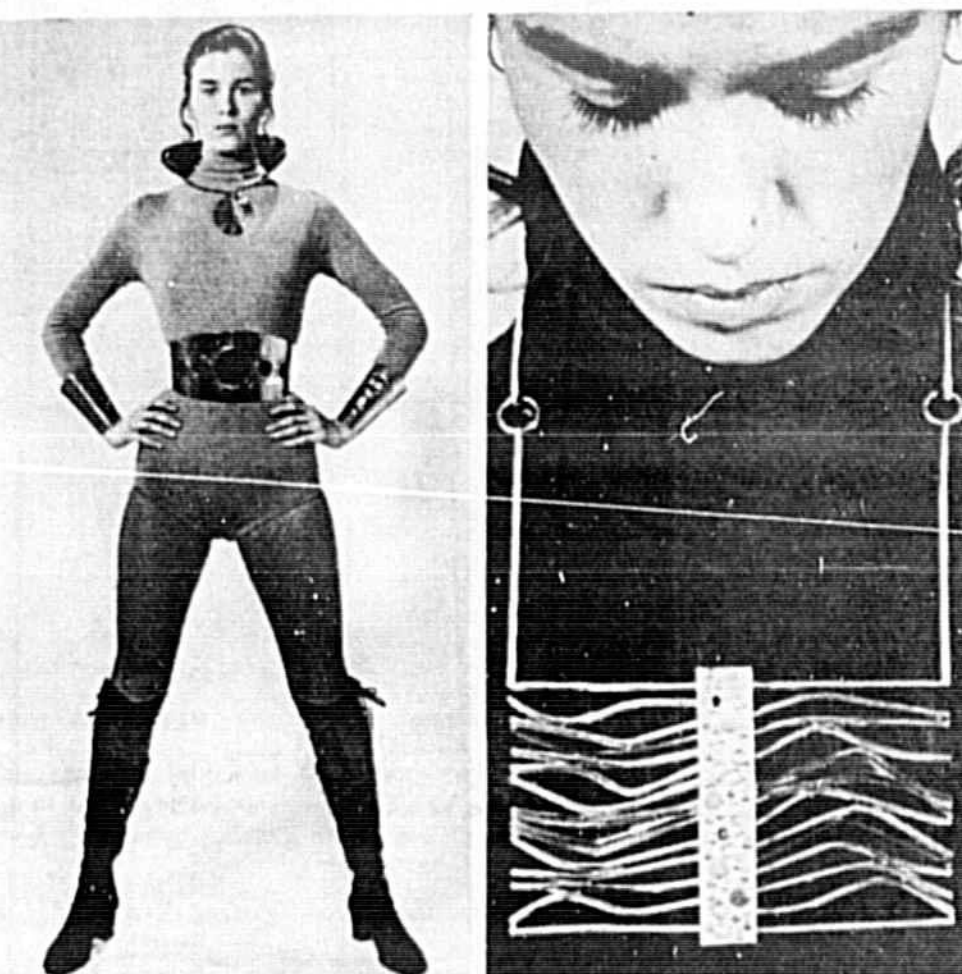

The bride's parents entertained at a reception in the church parlor after the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with green bridal satin caught up at intervals with carnations and roses. Centering the table was the four-tiered wedding cake embossed in spun sugar roses. White porcelain candelabra holding white tapers and tied with holly-of-the-ivory were placed on either side of the cake. Mrs. James Dent and Mrs. Lee Duffey, cousins of the bride, served the bridal cake.

The refreshment table was also covered in green satin. A silver epergne holding pink roses and burning white tapers decorated the table. Punch was served by Miss Cris Wilson. Mrs. Walter Teague, aunt of the groom, poured coffee.

The groom's sister, Mrs. Frank Bowden, and aunt, Miss Ethel Riser, presided at the groom's table, which was also covered in green. The three-tiered chocolate groom's cake embossed with spun sugar fruit, was baked with green grapes and ivory. Green tapers burned in brass candelabra.

Following the reception, the bride changed into a coral denim coat dress, with lemon yellow accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid. After a wedding trip to Gattlinburg, the couple will live in Auburn where he will continue his studies in the School of Engineering at Auburn University and she will teach in the Auburn city schools.

Body Jewelry Can Be Helpful To Your Health

All that glitters in the "2,001" costume modeled by Kent State graduate student Christine Johnson, left, is not only decorative but functional. Stainless steel belts contains crystals to detect air pollution. Brooches employ time-telling crystals presently used in industry.

KENT, Ohio—(NEA)—Paris' Paco Rabanne was the first designer to use metal instead of fabric in his dresses, pants and accessories. Later came metal body jewelry (such as Bill Smith's award-winning pieces). But with the possible exception of those copper bracelets believed in some distinctly nonmedical headquarters to relieve arthritis—metal jewelry and accessories merely adorned the wearer and did nothing else.

"The idea," Mary Ann said, "came from two pictures. One was of a march in New York City where people wore gas masks to demonstrate that the air is rotten and that someone must do something about it."

"The second is of a futuristic suit that I designed for a Kent State girl, who was Miss Ohio. The suit featured metallized polyester film and jewelry of the future. Sensors are ready now to detect heart irregularities and there are others, or soon will be, for the pulse, to monitor impurities in the air and so on," she said.

Dr. Ferguson said that if these sensors were going to be used, they might as well be used as adornment rather than hidden away. Why not miniaturize them and put them into jewelry?

"If this is now, then let it be now in beauty, so I made them beautiful. Mary Ann's sensor objects are based on present scientific evidence and on probable findings in science. They include a wide stainless steel belt with liquid crystals which can measure impurities in the air. James Ferguson, president of the Atomic Energy Commission's Lawrence Radiation Laboratory in Berkeley, Calif., Robert L. Chapman, an engineering physicist, and Richard D. Lawhorn, an electrical engineer, she has designed a pendant which could be worn by a man or a woman to incorporate the "hammer" liquid crystals and others that measure air temperature, sulfur dioxide, radiation and oxides of nitrogen.

At Kent State, both the chemistry department and the Liquid Crystals Institute are working on various aspects of the development of the development.

Other decorative sensors include a large pendant with flashing lights to monitor the air with a gas mask and oxygen inside to help a person in need of clean air immediately.

Mary Ann has been working with Abraham Zewy, an entrepreneur, who has a patent on a trigger-relay light system which could signal the wearer. Zewy feels that once the devices are perfected the electrical system for the lights and other electrical objects can be formally completed easily.

They are based around body sensors—many now available, others on the way—which will be able to help those with heart, lung and other medical problems to tell them to get to a doctor.

Every Housewife A Programmer?

By the year 2000, small computers will be as commonplace in the American home as the vacuum cleaner is today. By the turn of the century, according to industry expectations, American housewives will be totally liberated from the chores of domesticity and will be running their homes like small successful businesses.

"Kitchen cabinet computers will keep them apprised of what household bills are due, dates of children's school holidays and a continuing stream of information on which foods are available and at the best prices," predicts Frank Masi, the vice-president of

Short Look May Return This Fall

By BETH MOHR

That fickle feature of fickle fashion—the hemline—is at it again. Just when we've made up our minds that the long dress is pretty, feminine and fun for every event after the short cocktail and dinner dress begins to show signs of a strong return.

The few short styles introduced for spring were hardly noticed in the plethora of long dresses designed for formal and informal parties. In early introductions of fall and winter collections by American and French designers, the numbers gap is beginning to close.

New short cocktail dresses go along with the fitted and chemise looks that are expected to share the silhouette trend at the end of the year. Waistlines are accented by snug belts or princess shaping above short, full skirts or are skipped over in flowing tents or silk chemises.

Fabrics and designs set short cocktail dresses as much apart from long dresses as the hemlines. Opting for more formality, the short styles are in silks, chiffons and laces cut in soft feminine lines. Long dresses include both elegance and more casual feelings of tailored knits and crisp cottons.

Mrs. Scherr designed bracelets which could monitor the pulse and necklaces which monitor the heart.

Around a package "heart hummer" which was developed by Dr. John W. Gorman of the Atomic Energy Commission's Lawrence Radiation Laboratory in Berkeley, Calif., Robert L. Chapman, an engineering physicist, and Richard D. Lawhorn, an electrical engineer, she has designed a pendant which could be worn by a man or a woman to incorporate the "hammer" liquid crystals and others that measure air temperature, sulfur dioxide, radiation and oxides of nitrogen.

At Kent State, both the chemistry department and the Liquid Crystals Institute are working on various aspects of the development of the development.

Linda McArdle, Bridal Attendants Honored

BRIDAL SHOWER

Miss Linda McArdle, bride-elect of David White, has been honored at a series of pre-nuptial parties prior to the wedding July 15.

Mrs. Louie Bridges and her daughter, Mrs. Lonnie Taylor, were hostesses at a miscellaneous bridal shower at the Bridges home on Willow Avenue. The hostesses presented carnation corsages to the lovely bride-elect, her mother, Mrs. A. T. McArdle, and the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. John White.

Guests participated in a series of bridal games and shared the honoree's enthusiasm as she opened the beautifully packaged gifts containing an assortment of useful household needs and personal items. Refreshments were served from a beautifully appointed table overlaid with an heirloom hand-crocheted cloth. The table decor included an arrangement of carnations and daisies, yellow candles in crystal holders, a cut glass punch bowl containing lime sherbet punch and compotes of toasted nuts and butter mints.

The very special cake depicted a church aisle, complete with flowers and figurines of a bride and groom and the entire wedding party.

the Imperial House, Winter Park.

The honoree, her mother, Mrs. A. T. McArdle, and the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. John White, received corsages from the hostesses to complement their fashionable ensembles.

Mrs. Harlin Nelson and her daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Letterman, entertained Miss Linda McArdle and her bridal attendants at the traditional bridesmaids luncheon.

The bride's chosen colors of blue and white were captured in the floral arrangement centering the dining table.

After cocktails and visiting, a delicious luncheon was enjoyed by the above-mentioned and Miss Linda McManus, Miss Candy Ashton, Miss Charlie Ware, Miss Joyce McLean, Mrs. Esta Orseno, Mrs. Shirley White and petite Chrissy White.

TRACK TALK

with George Crossley

You win the Grand National points championship by consistently finishing in the top 10 as well as occasionally winning a race. Bobby Allison won the Northern 300 at Trenton, New Jersey and continued to show great endurance over the last half of the Grand National season. Allison has been finishing and finishing well. He is in my opinion the man who will capture the grand national points championship when the season ends.

USAC Action Needed

We are all saddened by the injuries sustained by young Merle Bettenhausen while participating in his first USAC event, the Michigan 200 at Cambridge Junction, Michigan. Auto racing will always have its dangers. I must say that USAC will be forced to take more positive action in the near future considering the extreme speeds being reached by the championship cars this year. I think they may be even faster next year but, they also have to be a lot safer for the driver.

The winner of the Formula B race at Road Atlanta on July 8 was Gordon Smiley. Smiley has been competing in Formula cars for several years. Gordon would like to move up to USAC Championship cars next year because of the large purses. Good Luck Gordon!

New Zealand's Graham McRae is making a real stambole of the Formula 500 series this year. His win at Road America puts him almost out of reach in points for this years series.

Dixie 500

July 23rd we have the Dixie 500 from Atlanta International Speedway. That's the race where we should see Allison, Petty and Pearson get back together for another great race. The winner of the Atlanta 500 earlier this year was Bobby Allison who was the major struggle between the last few laps of the race on just fumes. Allison ran out of gas shortly after crossing the finish line and had to be pushed into the winners circle.

The tempo started to pick up Wednesday morning at Atlanta International Raceway as the touring professionals of NASCAR started arriving and getting ready for Sunday's Dixie 500.

The cars will each be checked by the NASCAR technical inspectors to assure compliance with mandatory safety requirements and technical correctness. The Raceway opens for the initial practice sessions this afternoon at 1:00 p.m. for all cars receiving the okay from the inspectors.

When practice closed at 4:30 Wednesday afternoon, the drivers wishing to make a qualifying run Thursday afternoon had to draw for the order of their qualifying attempt with the first car slated to begin its two-lap run at 2 p.m. Thursday.

The fastest 15 cars will earn positions in the 40 car field Sunday afternoon. If more cars qualify will be taken Friday afternoon and the final 10 will qualify Saturday.

Watkins Glen

This coming weekend from Watkins Glen, New York we have the 4-hour endurance race and the Can-Am series will continue with another exciting race. The 6-hour race will take place on Saturday and the Can-Am on Sunday. The endurance contest should see quite a battle between the Ferrari Team and the Lemans winning Matras from France. The Can-Am should continue to be a titanic struggle between the McLaren Team and the Porsche of Roger Penske to be driven by George Follmer. Also Will Kautzen will be racing at the Glen in another Turb-Charged Porsche brought over from competition in the European Inter Series which is presently being dominated by Porsche drivers Kautzen and Leo Kinnamin and McLaren Driver Howden Ganley.

New Smyrna Speedway

As a result of pending litigation between New Smyrna Raceways, Inc., Hart Land and Cattle Co., Inc., and Clyde E. Hart and other matters the race scheduled for Friday, July 14, 1972 was postponed until further notice. We regret the necessity of this action and promise our many fans that this matter will be settled with the utmost haste and that once again racing will resume at the New Smyrna Speedway. New Smyrna Raceways, Inc. recognizing that the fan is our first consideration, will compensate each of you who have been inconvenienced by this action and promises that your faith in New Smyrna Raceways, Inc. will not go unrewarded.

Talladega 500

Buddy Baker of the STP Dodge team is already predicting the August 6th Talladega 500 should be one of the most competitive events of the 1972 NASCAR Winston Cup season.

Baker, who recently completed three days of tire testing over the high-banked Talladega layout, feels those cars which qualify six miles an hour slower than the pole position will lead at almost any time because of the drafting techniques that NASCAR's Grand National drivers use on the big tracks.

"We could really have something at Talladega," says Baker. "It wouldn't surprise me to see a different leader every lap."

The Talladega 500 event will be carrying a purse of nearly $20,000 more than it was worth last year. Total prize money offered this year will reach $184,000.

The Talladega is the richest stock car race left in the 1972 Winston Cup Series. It will attract drivers from NASCAR, USAC, SCCA and the FIA member clubs in Europe.

One of the added money features for this year's 500 is a bonus of $100 for the leader on each even-numbered lap during the 188-lap scramble over the big tri-oval.

Everything from the tiny Formula Vees to powerful Formula 1 five liter cars to the big seven-liter Corvettes will see action soon at the Daytona International Speedway.

The occasion will be the 12th annual running of the Sports Car Club of America's Paul Whiteman Trophy Races. The two-day meet is set for Saturday and Sunday, August 19 and 20.

Groveland's McCoy Fires No-Hitter

Sanford Continentals Out Of Tournery

By GARY TAYLOR
Herald Sports Editor

The Sanford Continental League all-stars rallied late, too late. The local diamond nine lost a 3-2 decision to St. Cloud in last night's action in the Florida Little Major League District IV baseball tournament. In other action last night, Groveland blasted Ocala Highland 13-2, Ocala Americans stopped the Hill Americans 4-2 and Ocala Highland National kept its hopes alive with a 15-9 win over the Ormond Beach Nationals.

Only eight teams remain in the 22-team Single elimination tournament as it enters the quarter-finals tonight. Four games are on tap tonight. St. Cloud meets the Holly Hill Nationals at 6 p. m. at Westside Field and the Sanford Americans take on the Ocala Americans at 8 p. m. at Westside. Groveland and Clermont square off at 6 p. m. at Ft. Mellon Park and the Ormond Beach Americans play the Ocala Highland Nationals at 8 p. m. at Ft. Mellon.

Two games are on tap tomorrow night, both at Ft. Mellon. The two winners from tonight's games at Westside play tomorrow night at 6 p. m. and the winners from tonight's games at Ft. Mellon tangle in the 6 p. m. game. Tomorrow night's two winners play for the championship at 8 p. m. Saturday night at Ft. Mellon.

The winner of Saturday night's game will advance to the State Tournament beginning July 31 in Panama City.

The first half of the Sanford Continental-St. Cloud game will be played at the State Tournament beginning July 31 at the one out single by Donnie Reed and a pair of errors put St. Cloud in front 1-0.

Wayne Herwig walked to lead-off the sixth for St. Cloud and then Reed smashed a home run to put his team ahead 3-0. Sanford fought back for two runs in the bottom of the same frame when Anthony McIntyre doubled and Sam Watts reached on an error. Both runners have moved around on errors.

Reed had two of his team's three hits. Dale Allen had the other. Mike Link and McIntyre each had a hit for Sanford. John McDuffin was the winning pitcher, striking out 11. Paul Payne was the losing pitcher.

Groveland hurler James McCoy struck out 13 and pitched a no-hitter in his team's win over Ocala Highland American. He was bothered by ball control due to a wet ball and a wet playing field, though, as he walked a dozen batters.

The big inning for the Groveland "nine" was the top of the fifth when they sent 13 men to the plate, scoring eight runs on six hits.

Mike Webb led his team at the plate with three hits in four trips to the plate. He had two runs batted in. James McCoy went 2-0-for-three, both doubles, and drove in three runs. Clarence Williams also had a pair of hits for the winners.

Richard Serna pitched his Ocala Highland National team to a win in their first game of the tournament and last night he hit them to one. He slammed a pair of home runs, including a grand slam and drove in six runs in his team's 15-9 win over the Ormond Beach Nationals.

Serna also reached on an error and was intentionally walked and he scored four times. Marshall Welles also scored four runs, going two for two with a pair of walks and one RBI. Todd Curman and Todd Elliott each had one hit with a pair of runs batted in.

For the losers, Mike Medie had a home run and Richard Norwalk and Tom Hilton each doubled.

The winning pitcher, Marshall Welles, fanned 10. Mark Livingston was the losing pitcher.

The Ocala Americans came from behind for their win over the Holly Hill Americans. Holly Hill scored one in the top of the first, but the Ocala squad went ahead 2-1 with a pair in the bottom of the third. The Ocala Americans scored a pair of insurance runs in the bottom of the fifth, before Holly Hill scored their final run in the top of the sixth.

Robby Bryant fanned eight and pitched a two-hitter for the winners. Gregg Moore and Ronnie Powell got the only Holly Hill hits. The Ocala Americans were paced at the plate by Gene Britt, who went three for four. Jim Britt and Mike Boyles each had a pair of hits and Jerry McDonald, Brian Gordon and Lance Spiers had one each.

The victory was Boston's fourth straight. Tommy Harper and Doug Griffin each hit two-run homers to join Fisk in helping Lynn McLobben, 3-2, get his complete game triumph.

Cleveland's Gaylord Perry won his 16th game to tie the Tigers' Mickey Lolich for high in the major leagues. Perry gave up seven singles. Frank Duffy drove in two Indians' runs with three hits while Perry, with two hits had two RBIs.

Ron Blomberg and Hoy White each hit two-run homers as the Yankees pounded Minnesota for 12 hits. New York erupted for seven runs in the fourth, including two driven in by Cleo Rios and double Five Twin pitchers were used. Mike Kekich, 9-4, was the Yankees' starter. Milwaukee rallied for three runs in the ninth, including two on Mike Ferrero's homer.

Dick Billings' single with two outs in the eighth provided the Rangers with the tying and winning runs against Baltimore Oriole starter Mike Cuellar, 4-8, gave up two walks and committed a throwing error to lead the bases for Billings' safety. Ted Ford's eighth homer gave Texas its first run.

Reggie Jackson stroked a bases-loaded, three-run double in Oakland's six-run seventh inning. He finished the game with four hits as Blue Moon Odom, 3-2, was the winner of his sixth straight. Milwaukee rallied for three runs in the ninth, including two on Mike Ferrero's homer.

"We got it all," said Rose, with obvious visions of penance dancing in his head. "The East's version of the 'Machine'—the Pirates—meanwhile, continued to hit on."

Suppose I had better talk to a lawyer," said Jack Swarbut, University of Montana athletic director, after learning he had been indicted by a federal grand jury for allegedly diverting the athletic department federal student-aid money.

The 32-count indictment, issued Wednesday in Billings, charged Swarbut, administrative vice president George Mitchell and three other persons conspired to illegally use such money.

Await More Troops S. Viets Close On Quang

By GEORGE ESPER Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese forces battled a North Vietnamese battalion of 200 to 300 troops today that outflanked the forces closing in on Quang Tri City.

The fighting was just south of the My Chanh defense line, about 10 miles south of Quang Tri and 20 miles above Hue. The attack threatened Highway 1, less than a mile to the west. The South Vietnamese turned their tank guns on the North Vietnamese force, and U.S. F-4 Phantoms swooped down with bombs. The North Vietnamese slammed mortars into the South Vietnamese infantrymen. The fighting was continuing at midday, and no firm casualty figures were available. Col. Le Ba Khien, a South Vietnamese regimental commander, said he believed an entire North Vietnamese regiment numbering up to 1,000 troops had moved south below My Chanh in an attempt to cut the north-south Highway behind the task force at Quang Tri. In Quang Tri, meanwhile, South Vietnamese paratroopers advanced to within 50 yards of the Citadel despite a counter-attack by North Vietnamese infantry and tanks. But informants said there would be no attempt to storm the walled fortress until more government troops reach forward positions and more North Vietnamese tanks are knocked out.

Kissinger Feels Encouraged

By FRANK CORMIER Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger, back from his 14th private session in Paris with Hanoi negotiators, apparently feels encouraged to hold more talks. Kissinger, who met with the North Vietnamese in the French capital for six and one-half hours, returned Wednesday night to Andrews Air Force Base, and drove straight to the White House to report to President Nixon.

That Kissinger found some grounds for at least modest optimism was suggested by White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler. "Further meetings will be announced as they are held," said Ziegler, indicating Kissinger envisioned further Paris sessions. Kissinger's meeting with the North Vietnamese was his first since the United States broke off formal talks in early May. Within days, the United States mined the harbors of North Vietnam.

Gov. Askew Rests Amidst Clean-up

DOG ISLAND, Fla. (AP) — Near the $40,000 summer cottage where Gov. Reubin Askew is spending a week's vacation, construction crews are still busy cleaning up the remnants of Hurricane Agnes. The crews have been clearing away debris, particularly on the heavily damaged eastern end of the 6 1/2-mile-long island, and placing on pilings some houses that were built at ground level. Homes built on the ground suffered the most damage when Agnes swept through North Florida last month, while those on pilings and on the protected mainland side escaped virtually unharmed.

Wiretaps Disclose Racketeer's Losses

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI wiretaps allegedly recorded New England racketeer Raymond Patriarca as saying he lost $214,000 in a Massachusetts race track, although he denied it before the House Select Crime Committee.

Congress Approves, Removes

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House Education subcommittee has approved President Nixon's antismoking bill after knocking out the $2.5 billion he asked to improve the quality of ghetto schools. As originally sent to Congress, the bill would have authorized the funds for compensatory education, most of which would have been spent in inner-city schools as an alternative to desegregating them.

But the subcommittee on Wednesday stripped the money from the measure by approving a substitute measure by Rep. Albert H. Rees, R-Minn., which had no provision for the funds. Then, the panel sent the stripped-down measure to the full Education and Labor Committee by a vote vote. The committee is expected to take it up next Tuesday.

The bill's main purpose now is to limit the renumbering of courts can apply to overcome segregation. Business could be used only above the elementary-school level, and then only after other remedies have been tried.

The bill would allow school districts now under court busing orders to bring them into line with the proposed remedies.

They include assigning pupils to schools closest to their homes, permitting them to transfer to schools where their race is in the minority, revising attendance zones, building new schools and establishing schools that attract pupils from all over a district.

ComBanks Corporation has completed arrangements for a $4 million long term loan from Manufacturers Hanover Trust Company in New York, ComBanks President E. G. Banks announced. The terms of the agreement provide immediate funds for expansion purposes.

Harvest Runs Late

ORLANDO — (Sp) — Harvest of Florida's 1971-72 season round orange crop will be one of the latest in modern history running well into August if harvest conditions permit, United Growers said today.

Sterchi Sales Up

Sterchi Bros. Stores, Inc., sales for June were $2,398,924, reflecting a slight increase over sales for the same period last year. June marked the 18th consecutive month that sales increases have been recorded. Furniture sales continued strong while sales in air conditioning and other seasonal items were off considerably due to unseasonably cool weather, according to C. A. Terrell, president.

Elected To Board

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Alvin Fleischman, president of Calvert Distillers Company, a division of Joseph E. Seagram & Sons, Inc., of New York City, has been elected to the board of directors of the Washington-based Auto-Train Corporation, Eugene Kerik Garfield, Auto-Train president, announced.

Deltona Builds Condominium

MARCO ISLAND — The Deltona Corporation announced construction will begin in July on the 17-story beachfront Admiralty House condominium. A total of 200 units, most of them with two bedrooms and overlooking the Gulf of Mexico are now on sale through Deltona dealerships and branch offices or through the Marco Island Sales Department.

Investors Go Conservative Mutual Funds, Bond Sales Slow

By JOHN CUNIFF AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — During the great economic expansion of the 1960s, millions of Americans for the first time bought stocks and mutual funds, and a good many thereby established themselves as capitalists. Now in the '70s, many of these same people are reluctant to risk their fortunes. Rather than checking the prices of stocks each day they take out their bankbooks and smile at the big savings figures.

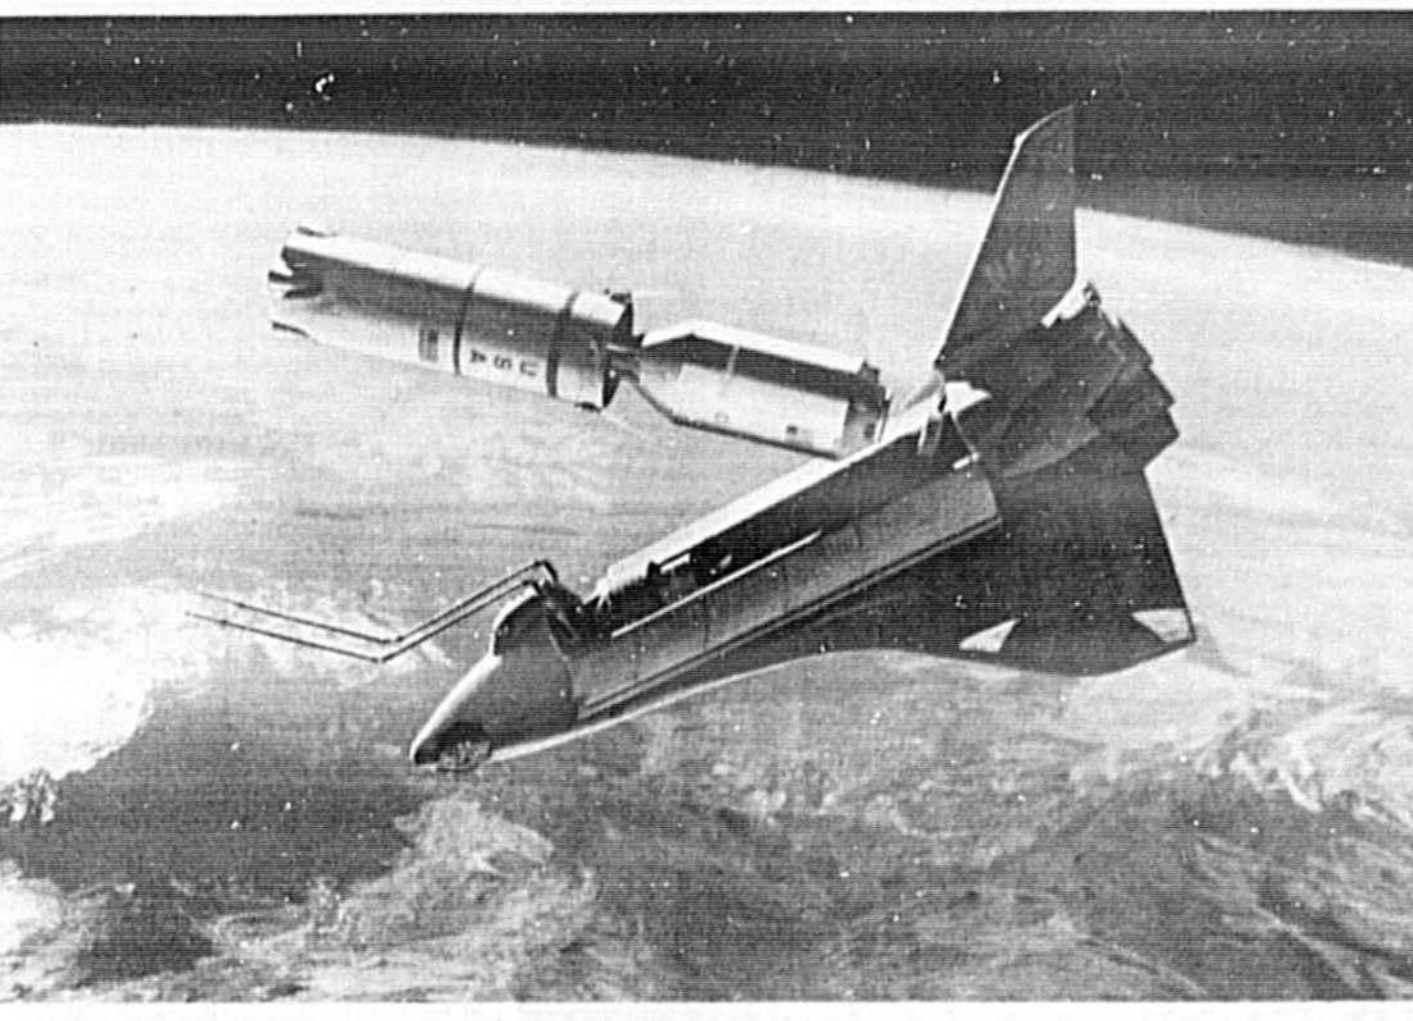

The main ingredient of this disposition appears to have been the high level of inflation, which now seems to be abating. From a 12 1/2 per cent rate in 1970 and 1971 to a more acceptable 3 1/2 to 4 per cent. Curiously, while many investors originally entered the market because they believe stocks were a hedge against inflation. Stocks, they were told, floated on the wave of inflation while savings were swamped and diluted.

Earnings Increase

Earnings per share of ComBanks Corporation for the six-month period ending June 30 amounted to $1.09, up from $0.90 for a similar period last year, or a 21 per cent increase, President E. G. Banks announced. Banks stated that ComBanks and its five affiliated banks continue to share fully in the dramatic growth and business expansion of the Central Florida area. Operating income totaled $2,570,251, an increase of 14 per cent over a similar 1971 period. Consolidated net income prior to income taxes and security gains and losses was $639,334.

Electric blankets are still controversial, but by knowing how to determine good quality you can eliminate most of the problems encountered with them.

The "Shuttle," he said, "can carry up to 45,000 pounds of cargo in earth orbit, and one Shuttle Orbiter can make up to five hundred round trips. Such reusability reduces the cost of space flight by a factor of 10."

Charters Sought For Area Banks

Two banking corporations that are seeking charters for banks in this area, have released financial figures for the first six months of 1972. The Southeast Banking Corporation, with headquarters in Miami and the First Florida Bancorporation, with its main office in Tampa, are both seeking to open banks in the area.

Subsequently, Congress has approved development of the Shuttle program in passage of the Fiscal Year 1973 NASA authorization bill.

Summer Workshop Is Set

FTU — Public education and private enterprise have joined forces at Florida Tech University in a unique summer workshop for teachers in medical lab technician courses at state junior colleges and vocational schools.

The program is coordinated by the Florida Department of Education and supported by a team of experts from the continuing education department of Technicon Corporation, of Terrytown, N.Y.

It marks the first time the New York firm, which manufactures highly sophisticated lab testing equipment, has sent a team into the field to teach new techniques which in turn will be passed along to their own students by the workshop class.

Before the program was approved for Florida, Technicon conducted all such courses at Terrytown, Dr. Sarah Harris, DOE coordinator for the FTU workshop, noted the savings realized by the move, adding that the opportunity "to learn together" is also a big plus for the centralized program.

FTU Campus Busy As Usual

FTU — Summer on a university campus means work as usual for all of the staff, many faculty members, and thousands of students who are either continuing in pursuit of a degree, or are enrolled in special workshops, seminars and courses designed exclusively for non-degree seeking students.

At Florida Tech University, both the regular student population and the numbers of special groups show a considerable rise over last summer. Figures show that 3261 students are registered in undergraduate and graduate courses at FTU for the quarter that ends August 16.

ABC Fall Listings Renting A Camper Grade A

HOLLYWOOD — ABC-TV will flesh out its 1972-73 programming with a number of productions that come under the category of blockbusters. Consider these in contrast to the usual fare of cops and robbers, comedy and westerns: "Eleanor and Franklin," the Joseph P. Last, best-seller, is being made into a six-part series for the new season.

Today besides that musty sleeping bag or box trailer, vacationers can choose from fiber glass and aluminum trailers that low behind the family buggy with ease, or sleek slide-out camper units that fit into the bed of a pickup truck. For the ultimate in vacation travel there is the motorhome, a kind of motel on wheels featuring such amenities as hot and cold running water, shower stalls, air conditioning and four channel stereo.

To purchase any of these units — they are called RVs (Recreational Vehicles) by the industry — requires quite an investment, ranging anywhere from about $1,000 (tent trailer) up to $20,000 (deluxe motorhome). But with the surge in popularity of such units has grown a blossoming rental business. For those not ready to take the financial plunge into RV ownership, a rental is by far the best way to go.

Ward and many other RV dealers strongly recommend to customers who are undecided about a motorhome or camper that they rent one for a week or so. "We're betting that once they try it, they'll like it," says Ward. "On the other hand they're a lot better off finding out they DON'T like it if they're only renting."

All things considered, RV rentals are not too expensive. Although rates vary slightly in some locations, a tent trailer will cost you about $75 a week. It will sleep six to eight persons, have a propane stove, icebox and other standard gear. And it is light enough to be towed by most compact cars or pickup trucks.

A pickup truck-camper combination will run about $100 per week and 6 cents per mile. You must supply your own gas and insurance, available from your RV dealer. "And there is a checklist and a manual that goes with each camper that the customer can turn to if trouble arises. But it is still up to him to keep the unit in good operating order."

"If you have a question about your car, motorcycle or recreational vehicle, write to Motorways, Copley News Service, in care of this newspaper."

MAN AND MEDICINE

Hiatal hernias affect the chest cavity area

By IRWIN J. POLK, M.D. Copley News Service
What's the medical name for the situation when an organ of the body pokes into someplace it doesn't belong? The hernia best known to the general public is the inguinal one, the case in which some of the organs which belong in the abdomen fall down into the groin and stick out there.

But there is a more interesting hernia in medical news these days, the "hiatal" hernia. This is a condition which is in the lower chest and upper abdomen, hidden from view within the body, but causing symptoms which can imitate everything from a heart attack to an ulcer.

The hiatal hernia is in the diaphragm. The diaphragm is a thin, flat muscle which is in the body and separates the organs in the chest from those in the abdomen. The diaphragm spreads like a pot-cover across the body, attaching in front to the lowest ribs, but somewhat lower in back.

The esophagus, a muscular tube which connects the mouth and the stomach, passes through a hole in the diaphragm. It is at this hole or hiatus, that the hiatal hernia occurs. When that hiatus or hole in the diaphragm enlarges, it is possible for the stomach to slide up into the chest. That's what happens in a hiatal hernia.

As people age, the strength of their muscles weakens. So in older people the strength of the muscles of the diaphragm weakens, allowing the hole through which the esophagus passes to get larger. When the hole enlarges, it is possible for the pressure on the abdomen to force some of the stomach up through the hiatus into the chest.

This problem may occur in as many as 40 per cent of older patients and occasionally in younger ones. Fortunately, in most people who have hiatal hernia, no symptoms occur. Many of these hernias are just found in the course of a x-ray examination of the stomach, while some other illness is being considered.

Sometimes symptoms occur from hiatal hernia. The most common complaint is of a burning in the lower chest or upper abdomen, especially after a full meal. The problem is worse when the patient lies down since the force of gravity and the pressure of a full stomach may tend to push the stomach into the chest.

Therefore the discomfort is relieved by sitting or standing, so the stomach can fall back into the abdomen where it belongs. The patients tend to burp, chest and upper abdominal pain, and occasionally patients vomit with hiatal hernia.

Big Band Sound Alive in Europe

By DAVID LANCASHIRE Associated Press Writer
LONDON (AP) — Against a tide of rock 'n' roll and pop music, a gang of expatriate Americans is fighting to keep the big band sound alive in Europe. They've created a new breed of traveling jazz musician in the process — living in scattered places like Copenhagen, Paris or Vienna and commuting to work by plane.

And when they get together in the Kenny Clarke-Francy Holland Band, they swing harder than almost anyone. "Oh, this band is one of the miracles of jazz," chuckles co-leader Kenny Clarke, the power behind the hard swinging band.

Clarke dismisses the theory that American jazzmen who live in Europe go stale because they have to play in lackluster company. "We did a tour with the Thad Jones-Mel Lewis band from the states and we were nowhere behind them, in fact. In fact we were well in front of them."

Clarke, the first drummer with America's famed Modern Jazz Quartet, holds radical views on European jazz. "The caliber of musicians here is much better than in the United States," he argues. "I've played with most, and they give us better. They can read and interpret things that would give Americans a lot of trouble and music teaching is better here than in the states."

A small, compact and friendly man with a voice soft and furry like good suede, Clarke is now 57 years old and seems to abandon a dazzling reputation in the United States and stay in Europe. "I left some very lucrative positions and jobs in the states. But Clarke, a Negro, maintains a life in France, he says. New York was so hectic I never had time to think I feel happier in Paris, more at home I have peace of mind."

Pop and rock have taken over in Europe and the market is small. The band, with its awkward name, far flung sidemen and colossal sound — a mixture of brass, woodwinds, and strings — has given the whole jazz scene a welcome vitality.

Here's the Answer

By ANDY LANG AP Newsfeatures
Q — In stories about basement flooding, I often see the term "water table." I can find it in my dictionary. Exactly what does it mean?
A — It's the highest point at which there is water in the ground. If you had to dig 20 feet into the soil to reach water, that would be the water table. It is not constant, since it depends on the kind of soil, the season of the year and the amount of recent rainfall.

Old people feel they're a 'burden' on society

By REV. W. LEE TRIMAN Copy News Service
A lady came into my office, sat down, and burst into tears. After she had herself under control she asked, "Why do older people so difficult to get along with?" Her mother, whom she devotedly loved, had just hurt her with some very hurt words.

LET'S TALK

When you find yourself in conflict with some older person's attitude or actions, ask yourself this question: "What do older people want to get out of life?"
The key word there would be to plan with, not for, our older folk. Try to see it from their point of view.

Family pooch digs junk mail

By ANN HUDY Copy News Service
I've solved the junk-mail problem at my house by removing the dog. One Big, Black Newfoundland, formerly known as "Noche" after the night of the same color, is now "Occupant."
I stumbled upon the idea quite by accident one day while leaning through a pile of junk mail that I couldn't bear to throw away.

Family pooch digs junk mail

Certainly not, I as I look to testing it until I noticed one day that "Noche" fell upon it eagerly and chewed it happily to bits.
I had the delicious aroma of mailman on it. So I took the mailman aside and said, "Look, you've been putting a lot of stuff addressed to the dog in my mailbox. Occupant over there doesn't like that. The mailman looked at the dog who was snarling at me and I promised it wouldn't happen again.
"Well, I hope not," I said, "Just toss him his mail after this and 'Occupant' will let you alone."
Now everybody's happy. The mailman is cleaner and I am free to read the really important stuff. Like bills, tax notices and letters from my mother-in-law.
Now if I can just keep "Occupant" from sending away for all those books, I'll have it made.

Radloff Throws Hat In Commission Ring

Altamonte Springs City Councilman Tom Radloff has announced he will seek election on the Republican ticket to the District 3 Seminole County Commission post.

TOM RADLOFF

Radloff, 33, said he will campaign for the post he held by Democrat Al Davis on a platform calling for better cooperation between county and city governments and overall planning development within Seminole County.

Completing his second year as a city councilman in fast-growing Altamonte, Radloff said he believes experience gained during this period of unprecedented growth "gives me a thorough understanding of development problems both within city and Seminole County." Campaigning as a Republican, the candidate said he believes "all residents of Seminole County deserve the best government they can get," adding, "party political lines should be crossed if it would be for the good of our residents."

Chester Boyd Will Seek Sheriff's Post

Chester Boyd, 42-year-old constable from Oviedo has announced as a candidate for sheriff of Seminole County.

CHESTER BOYD

He states, "I have been constable of District 3, Seminole County, for five years and gave all the people equal law enforcement. I pledge, if elected sheriff, to give all the citizens of the county fair and impartial law enforcement. I will be available 24 hours a day to all Seminole County citizens who have a problem my deputies cannot solve.

"I will work closely with the schools and protect all school children on bus routes. I will give all other law enforcement agencies cooperation and assistance when needed. I will use the sheriff's budget to benefit all the people of Seminole County. I will put a sub-station in the south end of the county. This is not a political promise to get elected. If the people want good, clean law enforcement and would like to have their say then I solicit their support."

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q: Is it true that many retirees do not have to pay tax on the gain from the sale of their homes?

A: Yes. If you sold or exchanged your principal residence during the year, you may generally elect to exclude from your gross income part or all of the gain on that sale or exchange if: 1) you were 65 or older before the date of the sale or exchange; and 2) you owned and used the property sold or exchanged as your principal residence for a period of at least five years within the eight-year period ending on the date of the sale or exchange.

Taxpayers who meet these requirements can elect to exclude their entire gain if the adjusted sales price is $20,000 or less. If the adjusted sales price is over $20,000, an election may be made to exclude part of the gain.

Q: I found a copy of an old tax return of mine and noticed a deduction I neglected to take. Is it too late to correct the mistake?

A: You can correct an error by filing an amended return, Form 1040X. It must be filed within three years from the date your original return was filed, or within two years from the time the tax was paid, whichever is later. If you filed your original return before the due date, the three-year rule applies.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The ultraviolet rays in sunlight have a healthy effect on the human body because the rays help kill bacteria and aid the synthesis of vitamin D. The World Almanac notes, however, that excessive sunlight can cause serious sunburn or sunstroke, and is believed to cause skin cancer because of its prevalence in persons who are exposed to long periods of sunshine.

Here's Tip Guide

By PEGGY WALKER
Copley News Service

Tippling isn't the nickel-dime kind of thing it used to be. As an average, tips should run about 15 per cent of a bill, but you can run as high as 20 per cent, depending on who you are and where you are, according to Patricia J. Scott, who teaches typing practices in a personal development course.

If you are a teen-ager out for a soda or Coke, or a businessman or woman on a coffee break, you don't have to leave any tip at all, said Mrs. Scott.

On the other hand, if you're dining at a fine restaurant or exclusive club, a tip of 20 per cent is expected, she said.

Tip 1: In general, women are thought to be better tipplers than men. But if you are a woman who has been in business long enough to know the same, you should tip as much as a man.

Women who frequent beauty salons are probably well aware of this. The only exception would be the housewife who is working to supplement family income and is on a budget.

"I feel when we are on a budget that we can't tip less. I would say go to 10 per cent but rarely less than that."

College students and teenagers can tip a little less, too, since, in most cases, they obviously are on a budget.

Tip 2: In general, women are thought to be better tipplers than men. But if you are a woman who has been in business long enough to know the same, you should tip as much as a man.

Women who frequent beauty salons are probably well aware of this. The only exception would be the housewife who is working to supplement family income and is on a budget.

"I feel when we are on a budget that we can't tip less. I would say go to 10 per cent but rarely less than that."

BARBS

By PHIL PASTORET

For many a fellow, May is the month when he waits for June to arrive.

If you're so smart, how come the boss knows the answers to the questions before you ask 'em—and tells you so?

Now that April showers have brought on May's flow, who do we blame for the weeds?

The heavy thing a person can carry is a grudge.

If there's anything we won't stand for, it's a pol who delays coming home from shopping until the rack-pour buses are jammed.

AROUND THE CLOCK

By John A. Spolski

I watched as 13 were brought in to the Seminole County Jail last night following a drug bust. . . and one of the group was a girl 18. Pretty good odds, eh? That is, for any self-respecting young lady to be found in, isn't it?

After an hour's interrogation by the deputies, I accidentally caught a whiff emanating from the small room . . . and it made me nauseous.

I mean, neighbors, it actually stank! Passing by Farmer Jones' pig farm had a cleaner smell.

RIDER INJURED; CYCLE TOTALED

Carl Julius Johnson, 17, of 1809 Escambia Drive, Sanford, was admitted to Seminole Memorial Hospital with a broken leg and is in "good" condition after this accident at Third Street and French Avenue Thursday afternoon. George Jennings Bales, of 112 Avocado Avenue, Sanford, was charged with violation of right of way by Sanford Police officer Doug Bishop. Bales' 1966 Buick sustained about $400 damage. Johnson was riding a 1971 Honda 175.

Not a one showed a sign of remorse. And then I thought about their parents. How would they take the news?

Which in turn is why I am devoting today's column to an address offered by Miami Judge Alfonso Segre after he sentenced a 17 year old to one year in the County Stockade and four years probation.

Incidentally, you may have previously read this in one of "Dear Abby's" columns. I do thank Dottie Hunt and Bill Gielow for calling it to my attention.

I'm certain that you too just might want to share it with some of your friends, as well.

Judge Segre spoke directly to the youth and said, "Do you know who is going to serve that year? Not you; your mother and father will serve that year.

"That is what's wrong. They get sentenced. They get sentenced for a lifetime. Why? Because you are a selfish, spoiled boy, that's why.

"There is no punishment in the world that I could inflict upon you that could in any way compensate for what you are doing to your mother and father. I have not spent five cents raising you. I didn't know you from Adam. But your mother and father have put their lives, their hearts, their sweat, their money and everything else they have into bringing you up. And now they have to sit in this courtroom and listen to a total stranger who had nothing to do with your upbringing scold you and put you in jail.

"If you are sick, a doctor will treat you and he won't be on drugs. The lawyer who represents you won't be high on drugs, and the people in whose custody you'll be won't be on drugs.

"Your astronauts are not on drugs, and your President is not on drugs.

"And your engineers who build the bridges that you drive across and the tunnels that you drive through are not on drugs, and those who build the planes that you fly in and the cars that you drive are not on drugs.

"Neither are those who build the bathrooms that you stink up (and I don't like it).

Should Lose Equipment Herring: Fine Not Enough

TITUSVILLE — State Attorney Abbott Herring will ask the Seminole County legislative delegation to profile a bill calling for stricter penalties for dredge and fill operations being conducted without proper permits.

Herring said Thursday he felt tougher penalties are needed because "at the present time the maximum fine is $500. Normally these dredging operators and developers are working on projects worth thousands of dollars so a $500 fine isn't much of a deterrent.

"I believe the law should provide for confiscation of the heavy equipment used to destroy the ecology of our lakes and navigable streams," Herring said. "A dredge may cost over $50,000 and its confiscation would make an operator think twice before he broke the law."

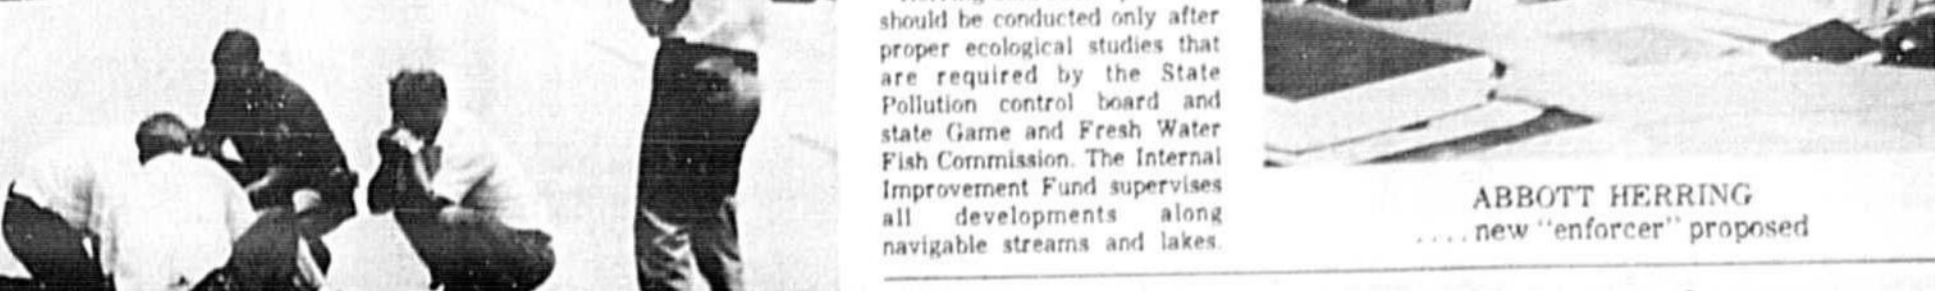

Last weekend, illegal dredge operations were halted on Lake Orlena in Altamonte Springs by the state attorney's office when officials moved in and arrested three dredge operators and a bulldozer operator on charges of conducting illegal dredge and fill operations.

"We arrested them pursuant to Florida Statute 253.123 restricting on filling land and dredging," Herring said. The four men — Walter White, 65, Melbourne; Donald Earl Gibson, 35, Orlando; John Henry Wilson, 51, Sanford; and Nelson O'Brien Underwood, 35, Coral Gables were released at 5 p.m. Friday from Seminole County jail after posting $1,000 bonds.

They were employed by Rowe Heavy Equipment and Paving Co., Orlando. Rowe said he was hired by C. Finley Knight, who he said he did not know how he was in violation.

Property owners across the lake involved in the dredging operations registered complaints with county and city officials triggering the state attorney's office into action.

Herring said such operations should be conducted only after proper ecological studies that are required by the State Pollution Control Board and State Game and Fresh Water Commission. The Internal Improvement Fund supervises all developments along navigable streams and lakes.

Quality Inns Plan Longwood Facility

LONGWOOD — Latest in the growing number of Quality Inns springing up in the Disney World area around Central Florida will be the Quality Inn North, a local, two-story, 200-unit hotel, scheduled to start construction December 1 and to be completed within 120 days.

The new Quality Inn at the intersection of 14 and S-44 in Longwood will have 200 rooms, a meeting room, a restaurant, a bar and a cocktail lounge with a capacity of 70.

The faster than normal construction will be made possible, according to James B. Mercer, president of Longwood Inn, Inc., by a new manufacturing construction system, in which prestressed concrete wall panels are manufactured and then erected as the component parts of a motel. An interior panel can be erected in five minutes, Mercer says.

Mercer presently operates two other inns in Selma, Ala., and Hardeeville, S.C., has three more under construction, another three on the drawing boards and more than two dozen sites under consideration for future inns.

A relative newcomer to the hospitality industry, Mercer has been in the business since 1971, when he entered the construction field from a background in iron and steel and before that the manufacture of automated motor equipment. General contractor is Hospitality Builders, architect is International Design, Memphis, Tenn., and permanent and construction financing is being arranged through Barnett Winston Trust, Jacksonville, Fla.

Among principals in the Mercer organization are Garry S. Williams, president, Jamestown Corp., with a manufacturing background in Birmingham; Earnest Kiker, chairman of the board, president-engineering, with an engineering background in Birmingham; O. J. Mills, Jamestown vice president-production, whose production background is also in Birmingham; Gerald A. Drennon, president, Hospitality Builders, whose building experience is in the Birmingham area, and John R. Connelly, president of Colony Inns, formerly United States regional director.

Dr. Harold Miller Leaves Hospital Trustee Board

BY BILL SCOTT

South Seminole dentist Dr. Harold Miller, chairman of the Seminole Memorial Hospital's Board of Trustees, has resigned his position from the five-member board effective July 19.

In a letter to Gov. Reubin Askew, the dentist advised he could no longer take the necessary time from his profession and personal obligations to be an effective member of the hospital's governing body.

A Republican, Dr. Miller was named to the trustees by then Gov. Claude Kirk beginning January, 1970 and has served approximately 22 months of a four-year term. His term would have ended in December, 1973.

In talking about his decision with The Herald, Dr. Miller stated he felt he had left the hospital in the hands of qualified people. He said he was speculating on whom the governor will name as his

'Dare To Be Great' Makes 4 Settlements

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. (AP) — Dare To Be Great, Inc., a Florida-based motivational firm, agreed Thursday to $2,000 consent judgments in favor of each of four plaintiffs in two suits against the firm.

The settlement came after two of the plaintiffs had testified that they failed to realize any profit after signing up for the firm's courses.

The four had filed the suits in Warren Circuit Court, alleging Dare To Be Great had induced them to pay $2,000 each through "misrepresentation and propagandistic and otherwise advantageous methods" for the courses.

An attorney for the firm, Henry Neal of Henderson, said after the consent judgment was had agreed because "the four of them might have grievances, and it is not our purpose to bring people."

One of the plaintiffs, James Glyn Stanley of Franklin, testified that he was promised by another member that he would make $50,000 per year in a part-time capacity if he joined Dare To Be Great.

Stanley said he had been told he would become a salesman for 36 different firms selling such things as furs, clothing, motel franchises and women's sell the motivational courses.

After being a member for a month, he found that the only thing he would be allowed to do would be to get other people to join, he testified.

Stanley said he came to the conclusion it was "a get-rich-quick scheme."

Mrs. Carol McDougal of Murtry testified she was promised a position selling cosmetics, cars and other items. But after signing up with Dare To Be Great she learned the only thing she would be allowed to do was to "get other people to come to opportunity meetings," she said.

The plaintiffs in the second suit, Philip Driver of Bowling Green and David Payne of Bowling Green, did not testify before the agreement to the consent judgment was reached.
