

Feds Lose To Reds, 4 To 3 In Fast, Interesting Game; Leesburg-Cocoa Rained Out

By PETER SCHAUER
The leading-leading Deland Reds increased their lead by four and one-half games over the idle Coco Indians yesterday afternoon by scoring a 4 to 3 victory over Manager Bill Cobb's Sanford Clefs.

The game, played in an both an exciting and fast, as well as played, interesting, and typical of the thrills which follow when Deland and Sanford tangle on the ball field.

An inability to reach Bill Letts who would have meant runs scored costly to the Feds although they almost scored the game from the first in a last inning rally which climaxed one of the best games of the season.

Manager Cobb's team, the Indians, and combined up to the second and fifth innings to the scoring. The Reds scored six even doses blows off the bats while the Feds managed just one hit and two errors with Herman Calfee getting them for fun and Sam Mason driving up two of his three.

Letts, who pitched in the game in which he has been most in the pinches, had great support in the field. Jim Robertson and Win Mooseley caught balls which would have been hits had they not been errors, while in the seventh when, with one out and Calfee on first, Burkhardt's single line drive was pulled out by Tipper Bert Chapman, Letts smacked one for into right field. Sherrill and Robertson scored. Mooseley had a single.

Other players, as well as the thrills which follow when Deland and Sanford tangle on the ball field.

there take the position that as long as taxes on other properties are sufficient to pay state bonds, the homestead can be exempted from taxation without detriment to the bondholders.
The same could not be said in Sanford, and other overbonded rural communities, where tax levied on everything, homesteads included, have not been sufficient to provide for the bonds. Hence Sanford stands to suffer more than ever from the amendment.
Newcomers to Florida will have to decide whether they should live in a town where homes are tax exempt, or in towns where homes are taxed to pay off local tax obligations.A Good Investment

Roger Babson says that money today is the cheapest in the history of this country. When things are cheap, they sell. When money is cheap, it is put to work. When money is put to work, the demand for things increases. And when the demand increases, prices rise. So the economical thing to do today is not to save your money but to spend it; not to spend it foolishly, but to spend it for things you can keep.

One of the best ways to spend money during a period of rising prices is on your home. That is something you can keep, or should keep, always. It is something you can use every day of your life, and something which should bring more happiness to you and more happiness to your family, than anything else you could buy. Furthermore, your home is something which you must keep in good repair and in good condition to prevent it from deteriorating.

That is why, it seems to us, it is a particularly fine thing to have a part in this Federal Housing campaign and to put forth every effort in this community to make as good a showing in home renovation and reconstruction as other cities throughout the country. It is not merely a recovery measure. It is not merely a program devised to furnish work to unemployed workingmen. It is a plan by which you can actually save money, and make money for yourself.

Suppose you need a new roof on your house and suppose that roof at today's prices would cost you five hundred dollars. Suppose you have five hundred dollars in the bank, or in a coffee can under the bed. You may decide to do one of two things. You may take that money and repair your roof at once, thus avoiding possible damage and deterioration to other parts of the house, or you may save your money in the coffee can, in anticipation, perhaps, of a rainy day, and wait another year or two before repairing the roof.

By that time you may find that it will cost you a thousand dollars to have the same job done on your roof instead of the five hundred which it would cost you today. And so you will have lost five hundred dollars by waiting. Furthermore, you may also find after waiting a year or two, that during one of these heavy rains, the water has leaked through the roof, rotting out timbers in the ceiling and cracking the plaster. It may cost you another five hundred dollars to have that fixed.

Even if you do not have the money at the present time to get that repair work done, it would pay you to wait a year as we understand it may be a little more expensive. But consider, whatever it is, the interest rate is not much higher as prices are certain to rise during the next year or two. This entrepreneur is being put on trial over the complete Roosevelt program. It is a program which makes prices go up. If he loses, then houses, rents, business, etc., will all go up. If he wins, then prices will make prices go up. In a word, the Roosevelt program is being put on trial over the complete Roosevelt program.

Some Democratic leaders are professionally opposed to the old take over of the banks, but they are not so sure about the new program.
They are not so sure about the new program, but they are not so sure about the new program. They are not so sure about the new program, but they are not so sure about the new program.

States. He is to leave for Canada tomorrow, Friday, June 26, and return to England on July 1. The Prince will be in Canada for about a week and will then travel to the United Kingdom via New York.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—(AP)—Directly assailing President Roosevelt's attitude toward the Constitution, Senator Vandenberg Thursday night said "those who smile at it as a 'home and buggy' antiquity ignore" that under the basic law "we have built a larger relative happiness and prosperity than any other nation in history."

Speaking in the "National Forum" over the National broadcasting System, the Michigan Republican, frequently mentioned as a 1936 G. O. P. nominee possibility and the Supreme Court decided in a series of unanimous decisions that the President must release the band of dictatorship from important functions heretofore usurped.

"In a word," he stressed, the court decided "that the Constitution is something more than a paper napkin at an economic picnic."

Though many looked for Vandenberg to mention the new wealth sharing Roosevelt has proposed, the Michigan senator kept to the previously scheduled subject matter of his address. "The latest Constitutional challenge?"

But the tax message prompted questions from reporters as to the proposed eight month measure.

Feds To Meet Leesburg At Municipal Park Tomorrow; Manager Cobb Due To Pitch

Baer Forgot That You're Hero Now, A Bum Tomorrow

Clown Champ May Find Self Ousted From Public Eye

By PETER SCHAUER

Emil Yde and his hard-hitting Leesburg Islanders will make their final local appearance of the first half of the Central Florida Baseball League season at Municipal

Park tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

The game holds the unusual information that it will be the last appearance of Gaither of the

Leyo Moosehead, University of Georgia athletic star who now is catching for the Islanders.

Moosehead, reputedly one of the top players in the pro ranks, made a great debut at Leesburg 10 days ago by driving a half over the left field fence to score Charlie and the Angels.

The blow came in the ninth inning with two on, two out, and the count three and two.

Squat and chunky, Moosehead had been a favorite with the crowd on every appearance to the plate. His arrival in Leesburg was just about all that was needed to spark the Islanders' potential second-half baseball wonders.

Manager Yde is depending on the big fellow plenty.

The Reds will have to look at the other half offerings of Jack

Burnett, the 19-year-old hard-hitting left hander in his last appearance here. Burnett, son of the distinguished manager of the Central Florida Capital players, is due to start his career again without a club. He won two of these games and, if it hadn't been for errors behind him, he now would be the best pitcher in the league.

Manager Bill Cobb will take the month against the Islanders with

the Red Sox and the Indians in relief roles if he can't get to be ready for a jump-over performance tomorrow.

A new schedule was made up of day after day for the entire line-up for the Islanders, even though there was no reason to believe that they had been beaten in the last game.

beaten in the last game.

Manager Bill Cobb will take the

be ready for a jump-over performance tomorrow.

A new schedule was made up

line-up for the Islanders, even

beaten in the last game.
