Cordell Hull May Testify Before Group

Investigator Claims Navy Knew Of Jap Signal System Before Pearl Harbor

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19, (AP)—Many hitherto secret details of the events leading up to Pearl Harbor may be forthcoming soon from former Secretary of State Cordell Hull. The assistant counsel of the Pearl Harbor investigating committee, Jule Hanford, has disclosed that Hull has been asked to testify, and will do so if his health permits.

During today's committee questioning of Rear Admiral T. B. Inglis, Senator Homer Ferguson of Michigan made the assertion that the Navy had learned of a Japanese signal system in Hawaii on the day before Pearl Harbor. Ferguson said he would prove his statement later on. He declared that the Navy had translated the message of a Japanese spy giving the details of a system of signal lights to be displayed from east-coast of Oahu Island, giving information on the movements of fleet units. A message had been worked out for use through the medium of classified advertisements to be broadcast from Hawaii radio station. Admiral Inglis testified that the broadcast had been intercepted by the Navy, and that the best available information was that they never had been used for signaling.

The committee also reviewed with Inglis his summary of the Japanese version of the attack, as gathered by subordinates of General MacArthur in Japan. It was established that with one exception, the Japanese side of the story tallied pretty closely with the facts as set forth by the Navy. The exception had to do with a rumor that two Japanese planes were shot down before Pearl Harbor as heard before the main attack was launched. No proof has been found for this rumor, and the only microfilm in Japanese records and references to the two planes were stricken from the testimony.

Senator Ferguson challenged the Navy's statement that the Japanese fleet was given its final signal to attack Pearl Harbor by a coded message that read: "Climb Mount Nitaka." Admiral Inglis Saturday told the committee that the Japanese apparently pulled the trigger for the Pearl Harbor attack. But Senator Ferguson brought out in questioning that this message was not included in the Japanese fleet's operation orders.

Admiral Inglis said that information about the Mount Nitaka message was obtained from a Japanese pilot.

Captain Schirard Is Retired From Active Army Duty

Capt. Bernard Schirard, infantryman, has recently been discharged from the Army after receiving extensive instruction and after having instructed officer candidates for approximately five years in the latest Army tactics.

After entering the Army in November, 1940 with the National Guard, Capt. Schirard was assigned duty at Camp Blanding for one year. He was later assigned to Fort Benning, Ga. with the 134th Infantry for one year and a half where he worked with the demobilization troops which performed for and instructed students.

He was then transferred to the 90th Infantry at Fort Benning which was alerted to go overseas but instead was moved to Camp Robinson, Ark. which was a training center. While there he was Battalion Executive officer. The 90th was further transferred to Camp Hamlin, Texas, where he remained for two years as Battalion Executive officer for the 97th Division, Regimental Executive Officer.

Capt. Schirard was then hospitalized at Camp Hamlin, Texas, because of a foot operation and was given a medical retirement Oct. 1 to be effective at the expiration of one year which will be in January, 1946. He was graduated from the University of Florida in 1934 and formerly employed by the American Fruit Growers.

Celery Feds Tounce New Smyrna By Score Of 20-13

By Julian Stenstrom
Seminole High's fighting gridiron eleven, started by the second play of Brooklin, Cullum and Anderson, moved into a tie for the East Central Florida Conference lead last Friday night when they blasted out a 20 to 13 win over the strong New Smyrna Beach High School Baracudas before better than 4000 fans at the High School Athletic Field.

The Feds were forced to come from behind as the Baracudas opened scoring early in the first period when Shafer went around his left end and carried the ball to the Sanford 31 yard line. Wilcox carried the pigskin to the Fed 20. On the next play Shafer passed to Wilcox who was brought down on the Fed one yard line. Mier, the 245 pound Baracuda fullback, then plunged over for the first score of the game. Mier attempted to convert from placement but his kick was low.

Late in the initial period the Fed machine began to click. Brooklin, Cullum and Anderson alternated in carrying the ball repeatedly into the Baracuda secondary. The Feds reached the New Smyrna five yard line and Anderson plowed into the center of the line and was brought down on the one yard stripe as the quarter ended.

On the first play of the second stanza, Anderson plunged over for the first Fed touchdown and the score was tied. However, on the conversion, the mass from center was low and Clark, who had intended to kick, picked up the bad pass and skirted around his left end to score the extra point and send Sanford into the half.

Shortly after play was resumed Eugene B. Smith is Serving On Tulagi

Eugene B. Smith, S 2/c of Sanford, took part in Pacific operations of the escort carrier USS Tulagi, which now is engaged in the high priority post-war task of bringing high point veterans of the Army, Navy and Marine Corps home for discharge and return to civilian life.

The Tulagi is one of some 250 carriers and transport vessels that have been assigned to the Navy's "Magic Carpet" fleet, operating between the Orient and various United States ports, bringing prospective discharges over the long road home across the Pacific.

Gun Club And Guard To Compete In Shoot
Members of the Seminole Gun Club and of Company "C" of the Florida State Guard will compete in a turkey prize shoot at the target range east of the Hotel Kayfair next Wednesday from 2:00 to 5:00 P. M. It was announced by Byrd J. Goods, gun club president.

The shooting will be at target, not at turkeys, said Mr. Byrd with a grin.

A MAJOR VICTORY
JOHNSON CITY, Tenn. (AP)—A newly discharged veteran was having his picture taken when a visiting major suggested he might look better wearing a tie. "The boy replied, 'In the Army I obeyed orders. I'm a 'mister' now and can do as I want to. And I don't want to wear a tie.'"

Victory Bond Sanford Bids Sales Hiked Three Percent For Higgins Boat Industry

High School Sells $13,000 In Bonds During Grid Tilt With New Smyrna

Seminole County's largest "Victory" bond drive gained about three percent of its quota last week, ending approximately $13,000, announced today by Edward P. Lane, publicity director of the drive. The county quota is $774,000.

A bond premiere show at the Rita Theater, featuring a fashion show put on by the Yowell Company with the latest glamorous fashion creations worn by Sanford's most beautiful girls, plus vaudeville acts and music by the Sanford Naval Air Station Orchestra, will take place on the evening of Wednesday, Nov. 28th.

An auction bond sale of football trophies conducted during the half of the Sanford-New Smyrna football game Friday evening by Julian Stenstrom, announcer, and Herman E. Morris, principal of Seminole High School brought a total of $13,000 or enough to pay for four convalescent hospital units for veterans. In addition to this the High School had already raised $2,000 on the cost of one unit.

Arthur Yowell, local merchant, was the biggest bidder, and he bid $5,000 for a football donated by Lieut. Comdr. Lawrence Wanggard, member of the Navy's 1941 football team, with autographs of the players and of the late Col. Cecil Larson, famous Navy coach. In addition, Mr. Yowell bid $1,000 for a pair of Herman's "Footies" shoes in which he led the Celery Feds to victory many times last year, and another $1,000 for a painting by Frank Robinson. Fed next last year, now serving in the South Sea Islands.

Another high bidder was L. J. Owen of the Coca-Cola Company who bid $5,000 for a football autographed by the Celery Fed team. The team's 1941 record was 10-1-1. The Feds great 1944 back, Bill Fleming, brought a bid of $1,000 from John Levy.

Admittance to the bond premiere show will be by purchase of bonds only. Bonds may be purchased at the bank, post office, Rita Theater or bond booth at Yowell's.

Delegates To Meet As Car Strike Looms

Chicago Operators Walkout; Cox Hits Labor Legislation; Printers On Strike

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19, (AP)—The threat of a strike of unprecedented proportions looms in the motor city of Detroit today, the center of the nation's gravest labor dispute as 200 delegates from General Motors plants throughout the country gather for a momentous conference. The delegates have come to hear the United Auto Workers' six-member strategy board describe the progress of negotiations with General Motors over the 30 percent wage increase demand. At the same time, the conference will endorse a call for a mass walk-out in all General Motors plants.

Elsewhere in the nation the total number of workers idle because of strikes has risen to almost 300,000, with the biggest share of the increase caused by the telephone walk-out in the Chicago area where 87,000 operators left their work this morning. A union spokesman said that by midnight at least half of Chicago's telephone service will be paralyzed. The workers are demanding a $600 a week wage increase.

Shipping at Philadelphia has been tied up by a strike for the second time in two months when 700 tugboat workers, whose union is affiliated with the United Mine Workers, have left their jobs.

A new effort has been made in New York to avert a nationwide strike against Montgomery Ward. A spokesman for the CIO union retail, wholesale and department store employees says the union is offering to withdraw demands for a closed shop and dues check-off. The workers are willing to submit 21 other demands for arbitration.

Georgia's representative, E. E. Cox, has charged the House Rules Committee with being on what he calls a sit-down strike against labor legislation for the duration of the labor management conference. That conference, Cox declared, is nothing but a pretense. The legislator himself is a member of the rules committee and he wants it to take up a bill that would impose strong penalties on strikers violating no-strike contracts.

Three newspapers in Seattle, Washington, have been affected by a strike of F. L. Typographical workers. The strike was called after the printers turned down a wage compromise offered by the Post Intelligence the Times and the Star. The Post-Intelligence, the only morning paper of the three, got out one edition before the walkout began. The strikers are asking for an increase of $2.93 per day. The management offered $1.65.

Robert Newman Is Discharged From U. S. Navy Service
Robert Hill Newman, Signalman 1/c V-3 USNR, after completing ten rounds trips from the United States to points in England, France, Africa and Ireland conveying men and supplies, has received his discharge. His visual communication duty aboard ship entailed signaling by semaphore and flag and using the international Morse code as a guide.

After memorizing 13 code books in his training received at the Norfolk Naval Base and the University of Illinois, he was assigned to the following ships: USS YMS-85, USS FCGG (DE57) BOSTON, USS GANTNER, and the USS FRANKLIN.

Now that he is out of the service he would like to fish and hunt for days and days because when he was working and rolling in the North and South Atlantic, Mediterranean, and Caribbean seas he thought of the old sportsman days in Seminole County.

He entered the service on Feb. 20, 1942 and was separated Nov. 14, 1945 at the Charleston Naval Personnel Separation Center. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Newman of 500 Ross Court and wears the American and African Defense Ribbons and the Good Conduct Ribbon.

All growers and shippers were invited to meet this afternoon at 3:00 o'clock at the office of County Agent C. R. Dawson to talk over the acute labor situation. A meeting of the Seminole County Farm Bureau will follow.

Officers Having Necessary Points On Atomic Project

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON—Postwar notes from your peacetime Capital: Little sympathy has been given them, but there are a number of Army officers with more than enough points for discharge who are stuck in Maj. Gen. Groves' atomic bomb project.

the fields of engineering, science, management, law and journalism. The Army is holding on to them until the future of atomic energy is worked out by Congress and the picture of atomic energy and research production becomes clear. The U. S. Army Signal Corps is working on a "seeing eye" cane, using the principles of radar. Reports are that the new device will transmit impulses which will permit the blind to "see" all objects within a radius of 20 feet.

however, hasn't anything to do with pressure from the White House or administration leaders. It is simply that Congress is getting these recess "crazies." Its summer vacation was cut short by the end of the war, and Congress is beginning to realize that if it wants to get home for Christmas, it will have to do a little hussling on legislative matters now hanging fire.

In a little publicized speech before the American Society for Public Administration the other day, Secretary of Commerce Wallage outlined his program for a more frequent sampling to keep census statistics of population, business and employment right up to date. His initial proposal is a complete business census in 1949. It would include not only the number and kinds of businesses, employees, payrolls, credits, sales, expenses.

Army Recruiting Service Plans To Enlist Many Vets

Between now and Nov. 21 the Army Recruiting Service plans to re-enlist thousands of World War II service men who have been discharged from the Army between May 22 and Nov. 1 of this year since personnel re-enlisting on or before Wednesday will be able to retain the grade held upon release.

Government Pay Hikes

By J. Frank Traige

WASHINGTON—President Truman's suggested pay raise for federal workers would increase the government's peacetime payroll obligations an estimated $415,570,000 a year.

But the federal payroll for persons in the proposed pay raise category still would be a billion dollars a year less than it was on July 31, 1945, for there were more government employes then and overtime pay rates still were in effect.

The President's recommendation would affect government employes from office boys to the chief justice.

Mr. Truman would raise the salaries of most white collar workers by 20 per cent; but certain professional, scientific and administrative personnel might earn a maximum of $15,000 a year instead of $9,800.

Cabinet Included Salaries of cabinet members would be increased from $15,000 to $25,000 a year; undersecretaries, and the solicitor general's from $10,000 to $20,000. Assistant secretaries, assistant attorneys general and assistant postmasters general, who now receive from $9,000 to $12,000 annually, would receive $17,500.

Heads of independent agencies and members of independent boards, whose salaries range from $9,000 to $12,000, would receive $17,500 or $20,000, as determined by the President.

Congressmen—Double Salaries of members of the House and Senate would be doubled—from $10,000 to $20,000 a year; those of the vice president and the speaker of the House would be raised from $15,000 to $25,000.

The following increases would be effective for members of the federal judiciary:

Chief justice of the supreme court, from $20,500 to $30,500; associate justices of the supreme court, from $20,000 to $30,000; judges of the circuit courts of appeals, court of claims and court of customs and patent appeals, from $12,000 to $22,500.

Chief justice of the district court of the District of Columbia, from $10,500 to 20,500; judges of the district courts, judges in Puerto Rico, Hawaii and Alaska exercising federal jurisdiction, and judges of the customs court, from $10,000 to $20,000.

Payroll Slimmer In estimating the cost of the proposed raises, the Civil Service Commission assumed that the total federal civilian employment within the continental limits of the United States would be approximately 2,000,000 on June 30, 1946—a decrease of about 900,000 from V-J Day.

Of these 2,000,000 employes, about 860,000 would be affected by the increases. The other 1,140,000 would not be affected because they have their own wage setups. These excepted groups include missioner Arthur S. Flemming, is to compensate workers for increased living costs and "to make the United States government aggressive employers in the nation, and thus attract to its service and hold in its service persons of outstanding qualifications."

Spokesmen for federal worker groups told the committee the proposed 25 per cent increase for white collar workers was not enough. The American Federation of Government Employees (AFGE) suggested a 24 per cent hike; the United Federal Workers (UFW) recommended 30 per cent—as is being sought by many of the estimated 1,100,000 federal employes who would be under the government's pay plan.

The National Federation of Federal Employees (not affiliated with AFL or CIO) said 20 per cent was not enough but mentioned no alternate figure.

THROUGH THE EYES OF A FRIEND

It means the expenditure of millions of dollars in Florida.

Specifically, the program will provide telephones for all who have been waiting for them. This is one of our first jobs! A greatly expanded telephone program for our farmer friends is also in process. Expansion of long distance service is being scheduled too. It will include the installation of coaxial cables to handle more calls with speed and convenience for you, and provide more facilities for that exciting visual art—television. A mass of construction is to be done and a new service to motor vehicles is also in the offing.

Here's a program of achievement, to be worked out together by Florida and the Telephone Company as they have worked out their attainments of the past. By mutual understanding and cooperation, Florida and the Telephone Company will grow greater than ever.

It's a big program that shall become a reality as fast as materials become available—a reality to be translated into prosperity and progress for the people of Florida. For a business in like an individual, if he gives with his community grows with him. And that is the way it should be, among friends.

A. B. DOOLEY, Florida Manager

Customers are people. And the Telephone Company has always considered customers in that light—as individuals, like the men and women who make up our own company.

This friendly feeling, we are happy to say, is reflected in the progress that Florida and the Telephone Company have made together through the years. It is this same kind of partnership that makes the future sparkle with promise.

Like Florida, the Telephone Company is bucking down to its postwar tasks. For the 5,125 men and women of the Telephone Company in this state, it means the greatest expansion program in our history in Florida. It's a full and complete program, designed to meet the state's industrial and agricultural needs of the future.

principally certain civilian employes of the War and Navy Departments; of some power projects, such as TVA; of the FBI, whose employes are not subject to Civil Service; and virtually all those connected with the Postal Service. In general, workers employed outside the continental United States would not be affected. Total Given The total payroll, including the proposed raise, of the 860,000 persons would be approximately $2,414,900,000 as of June 30, 1945; the commission figures. This would compare with a total payroll for 1,221,000 persons in this category of $3,565,300,000 as of July 31, 1945—which included overtime payments. The estimated cost of the 20 per cent increase in the basic rates of these 860,000 workers would total about $405,000 a year. Reclassification Proposed Estimated annual cost of the other proposed raises: New classifications which would permit certain professional, scientific and administrative personnel to earn up to $5,000 a year $3,000,000. THE EDGE OF EARTH

(From The Christian Science

COME with all change

If it pays to publicize, it also pays to advertise.

The Communists in France seem to be about as hard to get along with as they were at San Francisco.

Swim suits for well dressed women are going to be something

California reveal, in fact, more revealing than ever.

Judging from the Pearl Harbor investigation we gather that everyone knew that war with Japan was imminent except the people at Pearl Harbor and Manila.

As the Fort Myers News Press puts it, the United States and Great Britain have agreed to give the other nations anything they want out about the atomic bomb.

Andrew Higgins is planning to bring his huge shipbuilding plants to Florida where he is assured by Attorney General against the closed shop.

With the hundreds of accumulated wants of a hundred and forty million people long unsatisfied, there is doubt already in some folks' minds whether we are heading for prosperity or depression.

Last year over 80 people in Florida were accidentally killed or injured by firearms, many of them because they did not know the guns were loaded. The Florida Safety Council reveals. Before you return from your hunting

The Commission on World Peace of the Methodist Church says war between the United States and Russia is "unthinkable" and Admiral King tells a House Committee that demobiliza-tion of the Navy has proceeded so rapidly that it is unable to fight a single major battle at the present time. We reckon the Methodists are right.

Governor Caldwell advises the University of Florida, which has won three games this year, just four to play football or quit.
There are, it seems, a number of good football players in this state who play football for colleges outside the state. The Governor wonders why they didn't go to Florida. It might be because the other schools offered them more money.

The Sanford Naval Air Station will be a thing of the past in the near future, at least in so far as a training field for naval aviators is concerned. If further utilization of it is to be made, it is high time plans were approaching their fruition. If nothing else can be done, why not organize a corporation of local stockholders, turn it into a factory and make BVDs and pajamas?

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson has warned that the cattle industry is already producing more fruit than can be consumed by the public under normal times. We seriously doubt this is so. If people will eat meat in war times, they will eat it in peace times. If they eat it in peace times, they will eat it in war times.

Brand New Business

There seems to be no limit to what human ingenuity can hit on for earning a living. A Cleveland woman, Ruth Schrader, has opened a shirt-trading center in an office-building. Conducting a general mending and repair business, she suddenly realized she was spending increasing time making over shirts for returned G.I.s. Some had lost weight, some gained it. Finding the supply of new shirts short in stores, they took their old ones in for remodeling.
It occurred to Miss Schrader that it would be simpler for everyone if these men exchanged their shirts, she to manage the buying and selling, retaining a small percentage for her trouble and storage.

Miss Schrader's life is an example of what the last few decades have done to small businesses. Coming to the big city from a small town after World War I, she became a successful office executive, only to lose her job and all chance at a similar one with the depression. With her savings she opened a hosiery shop and did so well she became nationally known. This folded up with the stocking shortage. Always clever with her needle, she changed the stocking store into a mending shop. The growing scarcity of clothing increased her clientele, who were eager to preserve what wearing apparel they had. Shirts have loomed impressively large of late. Hence the shirt swap idea, which is going well.

A person never knows what he can do until he tries.

Flying Into The Future

It has been more or less taken for granted that postwar aviation will reach immense proportions both for private travel and the transportation of commercial products.
But civilian uses will not be enough to keep the aviation business abreast of new developments, and government aid is to be sought. Airplane building is expensive in itself.
Improvements are so constant that it is necessary to expend large sums continually on research. In addition, army and navy air strength is tied up with advancement in the commercial field. Therefore aviation leaders are working for federal underwriting not only for civilian uses, but also, to assure that the United States keeps to the forefront in its military air facilities.

Here's another case where the war brought a progress that in turn is only a stepping stone to what peace-time attention can make of it. The place of the United States among nations requires that aviation be backed not only in a monetary way by the government, but by an over-all nationalized scientific support.

Woman's Suffrage

The death in California not long ago of the 92-year-old woman suffrage leader Harriet Taylor Upton is a reminder that the enfranchisement of women is only as old as one life time. It is an idea that at the present time is spreading and generally accepted throughout the world, with women even in Japan becoming voters. Harriet Upton campaigned with her friend Carrie Chapman Catt and, with the passage of the 19th constitutional amendment in 1921, won the vote for her American sisters.

It is without doubt the logical flowering of basic democratic principles, this giving the ballot to the other half of the human race. Whether universal suffrage will aid the sorry world remains to be seen. English and American women, though equipped with voting powers, could not stop World War II. But with all women voting in all nations, perhaps their voices can be heard in the growing plans for outlawing war. Only if woman suffrage can work for world peace—and the greatest need of the future is permanent peace—can a pioneering work like Mrs. Upton's be justified.

International Ethics

One of the most dreadful aspects of the Japanese war, as viewed now in retrospect, is the fact that apparently they have never seemed to grasp the enormity of their crimes. Their attitude seems still to be that war is a legiti-mate procedure when a nation thinks it has a grievance, or can advance itself in power and wealth by a bold stroke.
It is like the familiar German attitude, that a war is worth trying if you think you can benefit by it, and ethics and humanity have very little to do with the matter.

Such an attitude makes life little more than "a game played by an idiot, full of sound and fury, signifying nothing." But surely life as it may be lived, and as it is lived by the people of a nation like our own, is immensely more than that.

The doctor may have advised you to give your heart a rest, either through reducing weight, or through relieving the strain which comes from working and living a high tension.
If you fail to follow this advice, you invite permanent "stiffness". Hearts are strong and willing. They accept much abuse and often recover from such abuse if given an opportunity.
The opportunity must be given at the doctor's dictum. If he advises against strenuous exercise, against over indulgence in food and alcohol or nicotine, observe his advice to the last letter. A rebellious heart is not to be lightly ignored.
Medication must be observed too. Obtain all such from a competent druggist.

Films To Be Shown At Methodist Church

Two new feature motion pictures—one filmed in India, the other portraying scenes among the famed "fuzzy-wuzzies" of New Guinea—will be shown in the First Methodist Church of Sanford next Wednesday evening by the Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Ruff, of Atlanta, Georgia.

This showing of up-to-the-minute motion pictures, with sound effects, is being sponsored by the Board of Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist Church as part of a new and modern method of education in the religious and missionary field. Mr. and Mrs. Ruff, on a leave of absence from their Atlanta church, are spending three months travelling by auto and trailer in Florida, showing these pictures.

"We, Too, Receive" is the title of the picture laid in New Guinea. "Wheels Across Asia" was filmed in India by the famed Denis-Roosevelt Expedition. In addition to these features there will be a short scenic film taken in America's national parks and a kodachrome picture titled "Missions in Southeast Asia."

TERRACE TALK

In Atlanta, Ga., they're probably saying "the face is familiar, but I can't place the hair." Face ailing isn't it. Well, the hair is dyed. It seems that there are 150,000 many blondes in Atlanta nowadays as there were six months ago. According to the Associated Press and to beauticians for some unknown reason the use of hair dyes and dyes has increased almost 50 per cent. Blondes are setting the pace, with redheads a close second. Almost a photographic or shall we say photographic finish. Brunettes are falling way behind. Dark tresses just aren't being worn this season. Mrs. Jessie L. Henderson, who presides over one of Atlanta's largest beauty salons, says the hair dyes and dyes are a younger class than usual. Older women have dyed for years—colorfully speaking; and the bobby-cut kids have swelled the sales of peroxide. But this year it's the in-between ages who seem just to be tired of it all. They're tired of looking mousey, or just plain feel a blonde urge. What color will you have this fall? 17 Mexicans and Peruvians could see what a Los Angeles designer has done with their motifs, you'd have a lot of popeyed noses. For designer, Luella Ballerino, has done some very tricky things with Mexican peasant styles and suggestions from ancient Peru. She presents a forward looking parade of sports and play clothes. While you're looking the fire is catching you by the hair, trying to shove it with wonder upon the pretty picture of sun clothes and bathing suits, beach costumes, and bicycle tops—all of them done up by shocking colors.

The idea, it seems, is to wear next to nothing—but to make the "next" as colorful and exciting as you can. We still can't help wondering what would the Mexicans and the old Peruvians think!

Virginia I. Murphy To Be Guest Speaker

Mrs. Ralph Austin Smith, program chairman for the luncheon to be given Wednesday at 12:30 P. M. at the Womens Club by the Civic Department, announced today that the guest speaker, Mrs. Virginia Lee Murphy, has recently returned from New York City where she completed a three month study course at the New York School of Fine and Applied Arts.

Mrs. Murphy will discuss the latest methods and materials used for decorating. She has been prominently associated with interior decorating for Central Florida homes, stores, army and naval bases for approximately 15 years.

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Nance will complete the program with several piano selections. All members are urged to meet at the Club House at 11:30 A. M. to help place tuberculosis stamps in envelopes.

2 cups chestnuts
1 tablespoon salad oil
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup cream
Salt and pepper

Place chestnuts in large baking pan with salad oil and bake in 400 degree oven twenty minutes. Remove shells and skins with a sharp knife. Cook nuts in boiling salted water 20 minutes. Meanwhile, wash and drain sprouts, cook them in boiling salted water until done (15 to 20 minutes). Drain sprouts and chestnuts and place together in top of double boiler. Add butter or margarine and cream. Season to taste with salt and pepper and allow to remain over hot water until well heated.

At my grandmother's Thanksgiving table—and probably at yours—there were always at least three desserts, and everybody had a bit of each. Pumpkin pie, served at the table by the hostess, is the one most traditional Thanksgiving dessert, and if you wish to serve yours as an alternate, and in addition, you will probably find many takers.

Thanksgiving Pumpkin Pie
2 cups cooked, strained pumpkin
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 eggs
2 cups scalded milk
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon ginger
1/2 teaspoon allspice
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon cloves
1/2 teaspoon mace plain pastry plain pastry

Line a 9-inch pie plate with pastry and flute edge to make a standing rim. Combine egg yolks, egg whites, salt and spices. Stir in milk and pumpkin gradually. Beat remaining sugar into stiffly beaten egg whites. Fold beaten egg whites into pumpkin mixture. Turn into pastry-lined pie plate and bake at 350 degrees for 10 minutes. Reduce heat oven to 325 degrees (by holding oven door open) and bake 30-40 minutes longer, or until a dry knife inserted in the center of the pie comes out clean.

Make It A Real Thanksgiving By CHAROLLETTE ADAMS, Associated Press Food Editor

For the first time in years, we have the right and reason to be deeply thankful at the 1945 season of harvest. We can have really top-notch Thanksgiving dinners and a good time. Many of the "absent friends" we've toasted will be with us this year in person.

So put your very best on the table and give your Thanksgiving guests reason to be thankful! The silver, crystal and china must be their sparkling best. A beautiful white Irish linen damask cloth pressed without a wrinkle, is exactly the right background. The nicest decoration for the center of your table is a great bowl of fruit and nuts which the guests can eat at the end of the meal. They've said: Bury into which to tuck more food!

Turkeys are plentiful this year and if you can you'll surely have one. A course of turkey with trimmings is enough to fill most of us more-moderate-than-our-grandparents eaters to the brim. If you feel that it isn't a part without an open-air course, however, you'll probably please your family best if you make the first course a light one: A clear soup in food, or oysters on the half shell, if you have a fish-market which will arrange and deliver them at the right moment.

With the turkey you will, of course, have either rice or potatoes to "take up the gravy." Personally, I love the giblet gravy almost as much as the bird itself. Then, there should be onions in some form—either creamed or baked. A turkey crisp out for this accompaniment. Make the vegetable a special one. Our grandparents always had at least three or four. One's enough for us, particularly if it has an extra touch: Brussels Sprouts With Chestnuts like this: Brussels Sprouts With Chestnuts

TURKEY TIME

With a record-breaking crop of turkeys headed for the market and holiday celebrations, it is a good time for homemakers to brush up on roasting techniques, say home economists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. For roast turkey, choose a young, tender bird, with a generous coating of fat under the skin, a well-rounded body, a well-fleshed breast, few blemishes, and

PICKETS MASSED AT THE ENTRANCE of the Yale & Towne Mfg. Co. here and held plant in Standish, Conn., late Monday afternoon after they barred W. Gilbert Carey, president of the company, and William F. Root, Jr., vice president, from the premises. The picketing is the result of a new agreement demanding a maintenance of membership agreement. (Associated Press)

Stuff the loose skin at the base of the neck, fold it toward the back of the bird, and fasten with a few stitches. Run the bird all over with fat and a little salt and pepper.

A shallow, uncovered pan is best for cooking a young turkey. Place a rack under the bird to keep it from sticking and to allow hot air to circulate. The broiling tray and rack of some ranges can be used, though the size of the tray interferes with the circulation of air and is likely to slow down cooking time. When using a very shallow broiler tray pan drippings must be poured off from time to time. Start the turkey cooking breast down.

Don't put water in the bottom of the pan when cooking a young bird. Steaming breaks the skin and forces juice out of the meat. Cook at moderate temperature. Poultry is toughened and hardness is a good rule. A 10- to 12-pound turkey, the larger the turkey, the lower the temperature. A 13-pound bird will take about 3 1/2 to 4 1/2 hours at 300 degrees Fahrenheit, a larger bird, 14 to 17 pounds, requires 5 to 6 hours at 275 degrees. However, no hard and fast rules about cooking time can be given, as some birds cook faster than others.

Baste frequently with pan drippings or some other vegetable fat. Baste a small or medium-sized bird every 30 to 45 minutes, a large bird every hour. Turn the bird every time it is basted, lifting it at head and foot, with a clean, white cloth to protect the hands. This will keep parts standing high in the pan from cooking faster than the rest.

GOSH, ONLY A PENNY!

Once a penny was a fortune to a six-year-old. It could buy an all-day sucker, yards of licorice shoestrings, or a syrup-smothered scoop of shaved ice. A penny would pay for marbles, a tin whistle, or even a little lead soldier. It was the ceiling price for a new top-string.

Nowadays, a penny won't buy much for a little boy. But it purchases a lot of labor-saving electricity.

Sonny may sniff at a penny for running an errand — yet that same penny will (at average household rates) do any of these jobs —

- RUN A SEWING MACHINE ALL AFTERNOON
• KEEP A REFRIGERATOR COLD FOR 4 HOURS
• VACUUM CLEAN 10 LARGE RUGS
• LIGHT A 50-WATT BULB FOR 6 HOURS
• RUN THE WASHER FOR 5 TUBS OF CLOTHES
• GIVE YOU THE CORRECT TIME FOR 7 DAYS
• KEEP A RADIO PLAYING FOR 3 HOURS

Yes, a penny is still big money — electrically. Actually, the average family gets just about twice as much electricity for its money as it did 15 years ago. Keeping electric service friendly, dependable and cheap — even all through the war — is a tribute to the careful business management of your electric company, and to the hard work and experience of all the men and women in it.

McMahon's Atom Study Committee Ranks High
How Freshman Senator Outmaneuvers Veterans

WASHINGTON—Youthful Senator Ewen McMahon (D), of Connecticut, who came to head what may become the Senate's most important committee in its impact on the world by a sort of political accident, is working hard to lay the groundwork for a smooth-working study of atomic energy.

The one-time crack prosecutor for the Justice department knows he has a big hurdle to clear: he must show proper deference to such able and dominant old-timers as Senator Tom Connally (D) of Texas, Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg (R) of Michigan, and Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D) of Colorado, and still be the boss of the atomic energy committee.

He made a cautious beginning. Before the group's first meeting he tried to draw him out on his views on national and international policy. He said:

"Boys, I think I'm in a different role today from yesterday. I don't want to talk now except when I speak for the committee."

For general views he referred newsmen to earlier speeches—specifying that the stories make it clear that these were pre-committee chairmanship speeches.

Heading the vastly important committee, McMahon fell into a somewhat awkward position. The accident happened this way: Johnson wanted the atomic commission bill to go to the military affairs committee, of which he was acting chairman.

Vandenberg fought that. He wanted it to go to his proposed joint House and Senate committee—which the House never okayed. McMahon introduced the resolution for the special Senate committee. Vandenberg endorsed it as second best.

Because McMahon sponsored the legislation, he was entitled by custom to the chairmanship.

Johnson tried to invoke the seniority rule that applies to standing committees, but failed—reportedly because Majority Leader Albert Barkley (D) of Kentucky, stood pat on the customary procedure.

Back of it all remained the fact that a freshman stole the march on the veterans, who were late in appraising the importance of the committee and failed to pick their man to sponsor the compromise.

AMONG THE ITEMS the United States will seek when the palatial Japanese embassy is handed over in Washington is expected to be evidence indicating whether Ambassador Kichiasaburo Nomura knew that the Pearl Harbor attack was impending.

He was carrying on negotiations for "peace" at the time and, as a naval officer, was trusted by Tokyo more than most envoys.

The Navy was understood to have opposed hostilities. Nomura was a general host in the ornate edifice on Embassy Row, which shamed the entrance of the British embassy nearby.

Kichiasaburo Nomura entertained occasionally in a lavish manner. Shortly after his arrival in the United States he held his first and only news conference, spoke considerably of the folly of a Pacific war and endorsed peace.

After the conference, he escorted his visitors to a table loaded with scotch and soda and delicacies. He drank only soda water. An aide explained quietly that Nomura was not naturally abstemious.

Alcohol made his glass eye—the original blown out when a Korean patriot threw a bomb at him—water.

Home Gadgets Are Being Developed At Wright Field

(Third In A Series)
By PAUL B. MASON, AP News Editor

DAYTON, Ohio—Your home and mine may someday benefit from gadgets currently under development at Wright Field, the AAF's huge testing laboratory and procurement center here.

Two of the Air Technical Service Command's leading authorities on electricity, Lt. Col. Wilbur T. Harding and Lt. Col. G. C. Cron, put it this way:

"Plans for a push-button war can be applied, in part at least, to a push-button peace—warring not only electricity's usefulness, but easing Man's way of Life."

Harding and Cron are, respectively, chief and assistant chief of the electrical branch of the ATSC's equipment laboratory.

Complaining that "our industrial designers are too conventional," Cron recalled that two and a half years ago he couldn't see one of them interested in building an airplane.

They said it couldn't be done; that even if it could, what market would there be for them?

So Cron and his assistants set about the task—and produced one which, small enough to hold in the palm of the hand, could operate your garage doors.

Improvement of direct current equipment for airplane use has enabled the AAF to pack upwards of 1,200 per cent more power into each generator installed since 1941, Col Harding said.

And there may be civilian use, some day, for such an item as a complete recreational kit, including dumbbells, boxing gloves, a badminton set and a bar which was flown to Alaska a year or so ago, to help "ground-wacky" pilots overcome inactivity due to inclement weather.

Or an Army-developed electric refrigerating unit, which can make 40 pounds of ice cubes daily and stores food for 100 men for four days, may have an edge upon civilian competition, because it can be shipped "knocked down" —in pieces.

Or an Army-developed electric

Nimrods Out In Force Today As Hunting Season Opens With Bang

By Willard Connolly
Residents in some rural areas, excited by the crack of rifles and shotguns this morning, thought that war had been declared in Seminole County. They were promptly assured by those "in the know" that the general hunting season had opened. Hired deer, turkeys, quail, snipe and doves were making a noise like a World War II air force in the sky. The season on turkeys, quail and snipe had already opened on Nov. 2, and the season on marsh hens has been under way since Sept. 15.

Such of the activity this past week in the office of County Judge R. W. Ware has been centered on the purchase of hunting licenses. Approximately 975 state ($7.50) licenses, and 300 county, Marion, Orange, Ocala, Putnam, until Monday noon.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20, (AP)—The Pearl Harbor investigating committee has learned that the late Secretary of the Navy, Frank Knox, had a promissory note more than ten months before the surprise attack might be launched at Pearl Harbor.

An exchange of correspondence between Knox and former Secretary of War Stimson has been laid before the committee, disclosing that Knox had suggested the possibility of a Pearl Harbor attack some ten months before the disaster actually took place. On Jan. 24, 1941 the late Navy Secretary wrote, "If war events with Japan, it is believed easily possible that hostilities would be initiated by a surprise attack upon the fleet of the naval base at Pearl Harbor."

Knox's letter went even further in its prediction of what would happen. He suggested that the Japs might use air bombing, air torpedo attacks, sabotage, a submarine attack, mining, or bombardment by gunfire. But he went on to express the view that defenses against aerial attack were adequate at Pearl Harbor.

Earlier in the day, former Pacific Fleet Commander Admiral J. O. Richardson gave the committee further details of his Pearl Harbor conversations with President Roosevelt. He said that Mr. Roosevelt was rather loath to increase the manpower of the Pacific Fleet beyond the level of 1940. This was because, Richardson declared, Mr. Roosevelt felt that men skilled in mechanical trades could be quickly inducted and turned into adequate sailors if the need should arise.

Richardson then told the committee how he had conferred with Secretary of State Hull to learn more about the nation's foreign policy, and had, likewise, talked with the Secretary of the Navy about preparations.

Tension Mounts As Workers Send Ultimatum to GM

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20, (AP)—All other issues on the labor scene are overshadowed for the moment by the threat of a strike in General Motors plants, a strike which, if called, might cripple the entire auto industry. Almost all automobile manufacturers obtain some of their parts from General Motors, so the big firm practically stands at the heart of the automotive world.

Watson Lists Deals On Higgins Deals

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 20, (AP)—There seems to be a possibility that part of the vast Higgins industries will be moved to Florida, but Attorney General Tom Watson thinks this will depend on several things.

Truman Will Attend Army-Navy Contest

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20, (AP)—President Truman won't play favorites when he attends the Army-Navy football game in Philadelphia on Dec. 1. The President—as is the custom—will sit on the Army side of the field during the first half and on the Navy side during the second half.

Surprise Attack Was Foreseen—As The Opening Phase Of U.S.-Japanese War
