The U. S. delegation spokesman said Jessup planned to report to the State Department and to the British and French U. N. representatives immediately after seeing Malik.

Any announcement to the press, he said, would have to come after these consultations.

Plans for the U. S.-Soviet meeting were announced by the U. S. while Malik was attending a meeting of the steering committee of the United Nations assembly at Flushing Meadow Park.

The spokesman issued a formal denial of a Lake Success dispatch in the New York Times today reporting the United States and Britain would propose to the projected council of foreign ministers that Western Germany merge with Eastern Germany to form a single federal state.

The statement, read out at a special news conference called by the United States delegation's chief press officer, said:

"It is not correct, as reported in the New York Times this morning, that there is an Anglo-American proposal relating to plans to be advanced in a meeting of the Council of Foreign Ministers if one is to be held.

"The United States has not at this stage begun discussions regarding any proposals which might be advanced at a meeting of the Council of Foreign Ministers if one is to be held.

"These are all matters which are currently under active consideration in the Department of State.

"The further statement in the press report concerning French disagreement with this proposal is therefore also without foundation since no such proposal exists."

Lions Meet

Co-operation in both programs was promised in behalf of the Lions by King Lion H. Bibebe.

Pointing out the results of surgery, Mr. Ratigan in his talk stressed the rising costs entailed by hospitals, and declared that, according to the New York Times, non-profit hospitals in the New York area faced a net deficit approaching $5,000,000 for 1947 and quoted the Times statement, "If the volunteer hospitals are to survive their present crisis, they must become the community responsibility."

He reported that a Tampa Tribune survey showed that operating costs of the Tampa Hospital increased $500,000 in the last four years with annual deficits for 1946 of $300,000, Lakeland's Memorial Hospital increased from $100,000 in 1945 to $120,000 and $120,000 and $120,000 in 1947.

Between 1941 and 1948 the cost to a patient for bed, meals and nursing care at the hospital was increased from $100 a day, or 33 percent, to $125 or 164 percent. Cost of nursing increased 524 percent; of medicines 338 percent; of laundry, 59 percent; and of linen, 654 percent.

"Support your hospital today, you may need it tomorrow," he declared.

Commission Meet

Any legislation for financing the terminal is permissive and does not bind the City but gives it authority to do what it desires in the financing, he pointed out.

The Commission authorized that the act as drawn up by City Attorney Shiholzer be submitted as a first step in the program to New York bond attorneys for approval as required by the RFC. The act as drawn up is based on an act drawn up in Ft. Pierce and held valid by the State Supreme Court 10 years ago.

J. D. Quattlebaum, a member of the police department for the past 16 years, and for the past year on duty at the Municipal Airport, was granted a City pension of $87 a month.

Citrus Bill

Rep. Andrews of Orange said he wanted to vote on the bill as quickly as possible because "to delay it much further will get it into a legislative jam at the end of the session." He tried to have a vote on the bill today. No date has been set for the Senate Citrus Committee vote on the bill.

The Administration bill is aimed at raising maturity standards by stiffer regulations at the beginning of the season, putting canners and concentrate producers under control of the Citrus Commission and requiring compulsory grade labeling.

Proponents of the bill have agreed to concessions which would leave the present citrus commission intact with the addition of man-union the members' terms have expired.

The bill's supporters also said they were voting to permit the Citrus Commission to advance the dates when solids requirements (sugar) in oranges would be relaxed.

Under the bill, oranges would have to pass a nine percent solids test up to Nov. 1. After then solids requirements would be dropped to 8.7 percent.

Dodge Taylor, chairman of the Governor's Citrus Advisory Committee, said he would agree to have the commission after a hearing—drop maturity tests to 8.7 solids on Oct. 15. This would ease shipments when the season is early.

Vets Are Refunded Overpayments On G. I. Insurance

WASHINGTON, Apr. 28.—(AP)—Thousands of World War II veterans have been receiving government checks in recent weeks for overpaying on their GI life insurance.

The surprise "bonuses" totaling many thousands of dollars, are an unexpected by-product of the Veterans Administration's efforts to start insurance dividend checks rolling by the end of 1949.

"An matter of fact, many recipients of the overpayments have confused them with dividend payments," a VA spokesman told a reporter.

"Some have complained that they expected a larger dividend. We have had to reassure them that this is erroneous, that they are being reimbursed for having paid out too much on past premiums, and that they will get their dividends later."

"Furthermore, the checks now going out will have no bearing on the rate of the dividend the recipients eventually will receive."

The overpayments have shown up by the thousands in connection with the audit of accounts that has been under way for many months in preparation for the declaration of dividend.

Adjustments are made as soon as excess payments are discovered, and checks are sent out immediately.

Underpayments are being discovered also. No attempt is being made to collect these amounts due, but they later will be assessed against the dividends.

Statistics on the amount and number of the over payments are not available. In most cases the overpayments resulted from readjustment of premiums.

An estimated 16,000,000 veterans may share in the dividend, to be declared from an insurance fund surplus estimated at more than $2,000,000,000.

8.7 solids on Oct. 15. This would ease shipments when the season is early.

COMPLAINT PROBED

MADRID, Apr. 28.—(AP)—Spain promised today to investigate a British complaint that six British-sponsored protestant chapels have been closed by the Spanish government.

The foreign ministry said that if the chapels have been seized, full payment will be made for any damage.

Congress Roundup

But Stennis reported, nothing was said either about his votes in the Senate although Mr. Truman has made support of the Democratic platform a "party loyalty test" on patronage.

"I came to talk to the President about what I knew personally about Judge Coleman," Stennis told reporters. "The President took the matter under advisement. I hope and expect him to appoint this gentleman."

The Senate turned its attention on a $35,000,000-a-year school health program. It has strong bipartisan backing, and Chairman Elbert D. Thomas (D-Utah) of the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee said it would pass.

The major purpose of the bill is to aid the states providing regular medical and dental examinations for children 5 through 17 years of age in public, private and parochial schools.

Yesterday the Senate upset Administration leaders by sending back to the appropriations committee a $2,400,000,000 money bill to finance the Labor Department and Federal Security Agencies for the next year. The committee was instructed to prune down the total.

The upset vote was hailed as a victory for Republican Senators who hope to reduce the President's multi-billion dollar spending program all along the line.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), spearheading the economy campaign, said later that "apparently the Senate is getting serious about cutting expenses." Mr. Truman, urging his full program be adopted, recommends an increase in taxes to pay for it.

The money question also came up in connection with hearings on the North Atlantic Defense Treaty.

Secretary of Defense Johnson told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that the cost of arming Allied nations would be about $1,200,000,000.

Senator Watkins (R-Utah) accused the Administration of "trying to fool the people" and said the actual cost would be several times that sum.

The foreign ministry said that if the chapels have been seized, full payment will be made for any damage.

Court Upholds Conviction Of 2 Grid Bribers

Hearing On Rights Of States To Ban Wage Dispute Slowdowns Are Rejected

WASHINGTON, May 2.—(AP)—The Supreme Court today upheld by a 4-4 vote the conviction of two men charged with offering bribes to New York Giants pro football players.

The pair, Harvey Stemmer and David Krakower, contended New York state illegally used evidence against them obtained by wire-tapping.

Justice Jackson took no part in the case. By long precedent an equally divided decision upholds the lower court.

Stemmer and Krakower were accused of offering Frankie Filchuck and Merle Hapes $2,500 each, plus the return on a $1,000 bet, if they would throw a game to the Chicago Bears. The game was an important one in the 1949 National Football League race.

Stemmer and Krakower were sentenced to 3 to 10 years in prison each. Filchuck and Hapes were fined $10,000 each. Stemmer and Krakower appealed to the high tribunal after the New York Court of Appeals upheld their convictions.

New York police said they discovered the attempted bribery at the time of the tapping. The law enforcement officers in tap wires under certain circumstances. The police said they acted under authority of three court orders. Lawyers for Stemmer and Krakower argued that several of the tapped calls were made across the state line to Elizabeth, N. J., and that therefore the use of evidence gathered by these calls was in violation of federal law.

The Federal Communications Act forbids wire tapping without the consent of one of the parties to the conversation.

In other actions today the court refused to reconsider its two month old decision that states may ban union slowdowns in wage disputes. The court also refused to require the National Labor Relations Board to require the NLRB did not call for a hearing when it first came to the court from Wisconsin.

2. Refused to consider a new test case involving properties bought by negroes in white real estate developments covered by restrictive covenants. The court last year held lower courts cannot enforce such covenants.

3. Agreed to consider the case of a 33 year old German bride who claims she has been improperly naturalized.

Discuss Atlantic Defense Treaty

SECRETARY OF DEFENSE Louis Johnson (left) is shown with two members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in Washington, just after he testified before that group on the North Atlantic Defense Treaty. Johnson said that the pact can improve U. S. security but must be made effective by a flow of American arms to Europe. Pictured (l. to r.) are Johnson, Sen. Millard Tydings (D-Md.), chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, and Sen. Brian McMahon (D-Conn.), head of the Senate Atomic Energy Committee (International).

The big question in the bogged battle is whether all nations must be treated alike. The pact was signed last year by the United States and France and 10 Western European nations. It must be ratified by a two-thirds vote of the senate to become effective.

I. J. Eastwood, secretary of the Atlantic Council, said the pact should not be considered a 100 per cent guarantee for peace and people should not consider it as such.

John Sprague, Louisiana, Democratic Party politician who was accused by Alford, remained at the conference the night of May 1.

January, February State Farm Income Shows Large Gain

JACKSONVILLE, May 2.—(Special)—According to figures from the United States Department of Commerce, returns to Florida farmers during January and February exceeded last year's returns for the same period by over $2,000,000. The entire South showed an increase and while prices have not generally advanced to the height of some other years, production has been splendid. Reports from various areas show that both large and small farmers have benefited profitably from their efforts. Robert Lovett Gives Senate Outline Of Pact Alliance Would Not Plunge U. S. Into War, Former U. S. Official Asserts

WASHINGTON, May 2.—(AP)—Robert Lovett, former Undersecretary of state, today denied that the United States would be plunged into war if a North Atlantic Pact nation were attacked. Lovett told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that the "time" method and extent of American action in such a case would remain in control of Congress.

A Undersecretary, Lovett helped in the early pact negotiations last year. The treaty was signed here April 4 by the United States and France and 10 Western European nations. It must be ratified by a two-thirds vote of the senate to become effective.

I. J. Eastwood, secretary of the Atlantic Council, said the pact should not be considered a 100 per cent guarantee for peace and people should not consider it as such.

Sweeping Concessions Made To GOP-South Group On Labor Bill

Speaker Of House Announces Support Of Amendment To Measure

WASHINGTON, May 2.—(AP)—Speaker Rayburn announced today his support of a amendment to the Administration Labor bill and said he believed they will cover passage of the measure.

Rayburn said he was offering the amendment as being offered by a group of House members, including southern Democrats. They will be offered tomorrow when the House returns debate on labor legislation.

Usually, he said, he would prefer to give the President authority to issue orders by injunction to plant owners in a threatened strike involving the public welfare. "Make it a 'posteriori' law," he said, "rather than a 'prohibitory' law."

Rayburn said that the amendment would be made by leaders of both sides and management. He said that the amendment would be a compromise between the two sides of a controversy, and that it would be a "posteriori" law, rather than a "prohibitory" law.

BIBLE VERSE TODAY

If we really have divine life now we need have no fear of the future. Ye search the Scriptures, because ye think that in them ye have eternal life...

Reports are afloat that Governor Dewey is planning to run for the U. S. Senate. That would be a good place for him. He would not have to pick up any votes outside New York state.

When we were a boy we used to read a lot about the "Yellow Peril" and the danger of strange Oriental people over-running Western civilization. Such things were regarded then as mere "thrillers", much like the fantastic "Invasion From Mars".
But on Dec. 7, 1941 we got a sample of the real thing. We may get another sample when China with its 400,000,000 people are taken over by the Red armies, armed equipped and trained by Russian generals. The affair with Japan would be child's play by comparison.

What had long been perfectly obvious to everyone who knows anything at all about politics was proved again last Friday when Senator Alford of Jackson county accused a member of the State Democratic Executive Committee of paying him a $2,000 bribe to vote against the bookie bill, and had two State Highway patrolmen to prove it. Dr. Bailey Osham made the same charge two years ago, and everyone knew it was true, but he didn't have the witnesses to prove it. Maybe this most recent exposure will convince some who wonder why good bills are defeated, bad ones passed, how it is done.

A new kind of a tax has been proposed in the Legislature. Like Fuller Warren's gross receipts tax on retail sales, it is not a sales tax.
It is a "privilege and excise tax" on all business transactions. Even lawyers and doctors would have to pay it on their fees, and it would raise, so its sponsor says, $60,000,000 a year. Of course the doctors and lawyers could increase their fees by more than enough to pay the tax, and the merchants could pass theirs along to the ultimate consumer who always pays the bill for every kind of a tax. But the ultimate consumer doesn't mind. He likes to pay taxes. He voted for them, didn't he?

What happens when the people turn their government over to a Tammany Hall or Pendergast political machine is illustrated by President Truman's ultimatum last week that senators and congressmen opposing Administration bills would be deprived of patronage, another way of saying that political pap is offered to those who will vote for his bills regardless of their flaws.
So when you wonder where your tax money goes, the money which your employer is required to "withhold" from your pay envelop each week for the government tax collector, remember that the Administration needs money to push through Congress certain bills which could not get through on their own merits.

The Legislature is considering a bill to increase old age benefits from $30 to $60 a month, and to dependent children from $24 to $30 a month. The larger figures are little enough to expect any old person or any child wholly dependent on State Welfare to live on in this day and time of high prices. Before the increase is made, however, it might be well to find out just who is receiving this State "Welfare" and why. The people who pay the taxes have a right to know whom they are supporting. They have a right to know how many are dependent throughout the life of their own, and how many are dependent because they have been on one way or another of the money.

Saloon To King's Court

John Masefield, whose serious illness was reported recently, has been a picturesque holder of a picturesque institution, the title of poet laureate of England. Masefield has knocked around the world and seen many strange things on land and sea. At one time he was an odd-job man in a New York saloon. Undoubtedly none of the customers who saw him wiping up the bar realized that here was the future author of fine adventure stories like "Captain Margaret," "Sard Harker" and "The Bird of Dawning", and even finer poetry, such as his "Reynard the Fox", "Right Loyal", and "I Must Go Down to the Seas Again".

This poetry won him the position of poet laureate, an office which goes back in essence to the Middle Ages, when a king generally had his court poet who wrote songs about his patron's great deeds. The first formal poet laureate in England was Shakespeare's rival dramatist, Ben Jonson, appointed by King Charles I in 1617. Then followed a dreary succession of nonentities, with only an occasional exception.
Small wonder if the laureate had to earn his salary by writing master-pieces about a baby prince's new tooth. In the nineteenth century the office took a turn for the better.
Wordsworth and Tennyson gracing the post. Then came the unpoetic Alfred Austin and the lofty but uninspiring Robert Bridges.

Masefield has held the post since 1930, making it a condition that he should no longer have to write verses on trivial occasions. He also surrendered the salary, which in the seventeenth century came to 300 pounds annually plus a barrel of wine. Those days are over.

Government Publicity

At the recent annual meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors it was pointed out that there is a growing tendency among governmental bodies to try to restrict the press in gathering and publishing news about what government is doing. This is true not only of the federal government, but of many state and local governments as well. It is also a problem in press dealings with the United Nations where there is considerable variety of opinion as to what constitutes the proper functions of the press.

Newspapers and their editors were urged to remain alert to resist this tendency. As a matter of fact little urging is needed. But the protection of the traditional freedom of the American press is not something which newspapers can do alone. Unless the people remain aware of the personal importance to them of their free press, and unless they remain determined that their press shall remain free, the press itself would be left to fight a losing battle.

The successful operation of the American form of government, or for that matter of any genuine democracy, depends on the intelligent and informed participation of all the people. The people can neither be informed about their governments, local, state and national, nor very intelligent about them, unless they can learn with reasonable accuracy what the government is doing from day to day, and what the plans and purposes of the officials are. This information can only be provided through the work of a press which is free to find, examine and publish all news, of government and otherwise, according to its own high standards of truth and responsibility.

Dangerous Sports

The Russians have discovered another internal agency.
This is of all persons, the sports writer. He has been preaching individualism, it seems, and praising bourgeois sports, some of which are practised successfully abroad. There are hints that a purge would be in order.

What a country Russia is! It is rapidly approaching the point where no one can do anything without risking a concentration camp. But Communist and capitalist societies have something in common—that complete inactivity is the worst crime of all.

Sanford Forum

Mr. Holland L. Dean, Editor
The Sanford Herald,
Sanford, Florida.

Copy of Letter from
Dr. Herman Gunter,
Director of Florida Geological Survey
Tallahassee, Florida
January 27, 1949.

Dear Mr. Dean:

It seems a pity that when we have something particularly unique that we do not make the most of it and at least call it by its proper name. The last ten years has been increasing the name of our Central Florida citizens who so often indulge in sea-bathing at our East Coast beaches come home talking about "periwinkle shells," meaning the Conquina or Donax.
It doesn't seem to do any good to give such people the real name or names of these little bivalves but if the information could come from you they would be more likely to accept it probably.

Some years ago I wrote the Florida State Fish Commissioner to thoroughly establish this conquina matter but mislaid it and recently wrote again, this time also to the Beal-Matthe Museum at Winter Park.

At Tallahassee my letter was turned over to Dr. Herman Gunter, State Geologist, and I enclose a copy of his letter which briefly covers the question. (I would send you the original but that I gave to a doubting Thomas who badly needed something obliterate his own self-assurance).
(The Beal-Matthe letter is too long to be as practical as the only primary difference is that it gives the scientific name "Donax vulgaris" and adds that "The information we have on the subject indicates that species of the genus Donax are found on the Gulf coast of Florida and the Pacific coast but, to my knowledge, do not make conquina rock. The information we have indicates that Conquina rock is found from northern Florida on the Atlantic side, down the central part of the state and newshere else.")
In Webster's Unabridged Dictionary a picture may be found of the Periwinkle, a "univalve" which shows it is a conical shell, quite different from the conquina—a bivalve.

I admit that this is a private get some of mine but we are concerned in making a handwriting to educate the public concerning the matter. Many thanks for at least reaching this point.
Very truly yours,
H. L. Dean, Editor
The Sanford Herald

Dear Mrs. Henry:
In reply to your letter, probably the confusion in the use of Coquina and Periwinkle arises from the fact that the citizens of Interior Florida are referring to a fresh water or marine snail (Periwinkle) whereas Conquina is a term applied to marine clams, largely of the genus Donax. These shells are bivalves whereas the Periwinkles are single, tightly coiled valves.

Very truly yours,
Signed Herman Gunter.

Dear Sir:

A Bill has been presented to the Florida Legislature for Reading and perhaps eventual passage that would make it unlawful to hitch-hike. This Bill, if it becomes law, will have far reaching effects on many students from our county and our state.

Many students who could not get home to see their parents and friends every now and then if they always had to pay for a passage on a public carrier would certainly be inconvenienced by the passage of this Bill.

We students are not so narrow-minded that we are unable to see the few good points of this Bill.
The Bill is good in principle in that it would tend to prevent a certain number of unfortunate incidents on the part of both the hitch-hiker and the driver.
We believe that the few good points of this Bill will be greatly overshadowed by the hardship that it will place upon many of us.
We feel that we are speaking for the majority of students in our state when we say—this Bill should be soundly defeated!
Very truly yours,

THE WORLD TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

India is happy over the historic agreement which permits her to become a republic and still remain a member of the British Commonwealth of nations— without acknowledging the sovereignty of the King-emperor.

That is, the articulate portions of India's 300,000,000 as a whole are pleased. However, there are a few elements which are bound to be regretful. Outstanding among them are the hundreds of princes who have lost their thrones since India was granted independence nearly two years ago, and now see the severing of the last tie with the imperial "glories" of the past.

Since India gained her freedom the native principalities and their rulers have come under control of the New Delhi government. Even the Nizam of Hyderabad, reputed to be the world's richest man and sovereign of the greatest state in India, has had to bow to the new era. The fate of the big state of Kashmir alone remains unsettled pending a plebiscite among the people to see whether they prefer to join Hindu India or the neighboring Muslim dominion of Pakistan.

It is well that these princes should go for they are anachron-isms which have no place in this atomic age of ours. Still one can understand the feelings of painful regret of some of those who belonged to the old order. The jeweled dynasties reaching back many hundreds of years.

The story of the princes forms one of the striking pages of history. The pomp and splendor surrounding them had to be seen to be believed. I saw much of it at one time or another, for I was a guest in the palaces of some of the great maharajahs and attended one viceregal function in New Delhi which fairly blazed with millions of dollars worth of gems worn by forty of India's princes.

Many of the rulers had the power of life and death over their subjects. They paid homage to only one person—the King-emperor.

Back in 1916 I was a fortnight the guest of the late Maharajah of Gwalior, one of the most powerful of the princes. We were chatting one day about the relationship between the prince and the British government, and he emphasized the importance of the position of the King-emperor in the minds of the rulers. They looked more the sovereign than to his government.

"Let me put it this way," said his highness. "The prince are five shillings in the pound for the government and fifteen shillings in the pound for his majesty." (You see the point when you figure that there are twenty shillings in a English pound sterling.)

And don't let anybody tell you that the British government didn't cultivate this reverence for the Crown among the princes. This respect for royalty helped the government mightily in handling the frequently temperamental rulers. There was a striking illustration of this during the imperial coronation durbar in New Delhi in 1911 for George V and Queen Mary.

This coronation went the limit for pomp and splendor. The King-emperor and his queen occupied thrones on a lofty dais and there received the humble obeisances of the princes. The maharajahs had to mount a long flight of steps and, having dutifully bent the knee, bow away from the imperial presence, backing from royalty gracefully and in correct form is no such, as you who have tried it will agree. I've had the experience, and felt like an old side-wheel steamer trying to slide into its berth.

Well, one of the great princes came a cropper. That was the late Gaskwar of Baroda. His highness not only was carrying a small cane (thereby violating the sacred code) but having made his obeisance he didn't withdraw correctly. He turned his back on their majesties too soon.

The Gaskwar later said he was overcome by nervousness.
However, the government put him in the dog-house, so to speak, for several years as a punishment. He was denied cherished prerogatives by the viceroys.

So you see the new agreement under which India doesn't recognize the sovereignty of the King-emperor, is a tough reminder of bygone days for the maharajahs, some of whom haven't an elephant left to ride upon.

MORE AIRLIFT TROUBLE

Nation's Business

Installation buying, more liberal stock margins may have braked the decline, but certainly didn't start a revival. So, as May starts, the government is trying a couple more—letting the banks have more money to lend, and freeing many goods now in surplus from export controls.

Here are the things that are better today than a month ago:

1. Construction: April engineering construction awards topped March, seasonally, but were well below 1948. Home building ran well ahead of the 62,000 units started in March, but didn't equal last April's 90,500 homes. Higher priced homes lost some of their book value during April.

2. Inventories: In most cases lower than a month ago, although still about double prewar volume.
Most non-durable retail inventories were slightly lower, although durable inventories increased. But manufacturing inventories turned down for the first time since the war, mostly reflecting cut-backs in production, rather than increase in sales.

3. Bank clearings: Increased slightly during April, but were below a year ago.

4. Automobile production: Went steadily up, both above the March figures and those of April, 1948.

5. Freight car loadings: Much higher than March, when the rail work stoppage ground many trains to a halt. Loadings were under last April, however. (In spite of truck inroads on the railroads, freight car loadings still show fairly well just how much is being produced by other industries as a whole.)

6. Retail trade: Both good and bad. Federal reserve board figures are expected to show April business a little above last year, since Easter gave the month a boost this time. But it didn't last. Near the end of April trade was running 10 per cent below the end of April, 1948.

Other indicators, many with strong psychological effect: Earnings statements: annual re-ernment's right to use in an antitrust suit documents barred from a lower court trial on the grounds that they were the fruit of an illegal search and seizure. The charge of illegality was based on the lower court's contention that the grand jury which ordered the documents produced was improperly set up because women were excluded.

5. Agreed to review a California court decision that negroes may be barred from picking a store in an effort to induce it to hire more negro workers.

6. Refused for a second time to grant an Illinois request to order the release of Tony Martin, who has served 23 years of a life term for his part in the killing of an aged janitor. The high court last year held that Martin's constitutional rights had been denied him when he was convicted at the age of 18.
The tribunal at that time sent the case back to an Illinois judge who has refused to release the prisoner.

TAMPA, May 2. (Special)— W. A. Speer, Chairman of the Seminole County Savings Bonds Committee, announced today that he has received the quota assignment for the Opportunity Bond Drive from V. H. Northcutt, Chairman of the State Advisory Committee at Tampa.

Seminole County's share of E Bond sales for the drive has been set at $91,000. The state total is $12,100,000.

While the promotion period for the Opportunity Drive opens on May 10 and runs through June 30, all sales of Series of E Bonds between April 1st and July 30th are credited against the quota figure. This makes the drive period roughly parallel last year's Security Loan dates.

Seminole To Need $79,280 Additional '50 School Funds

TALLAHASSEE, May 2.—(Special)—Seminole County has a heavy stake in present legislative efforts to provide sufficient revenue to carry the State Minimum Foundation Program forward, State School Superintendent Thomas D. Bailey said yesterday.

Bailey estimated Seminole County would need $79,280 more to run the schools during 1950-51 than the county now gets from the State. That's allowing for increases in enrollment at the present State-wide rate of approximately 5 percent a year and for contemplated improvements in teaching staffs and school facilities.

During 1948-49 the county received $116,218.00 under the State school program.

Bailey has estimated State school need for 1950-51 at a minimum of $50,000,000—a minimum of $96,000,000 for the coming two years. The appropriation of the full amount by the Legislature would provide for an appropriation of State funds on such a basis that Seminole County would get a sum approximately equal to the estimated needs of the county.

If either the appropriation falls or the revenue is not provided Bailey said the county would be faced with the task of raising the $79,280 from local funds or letting the schools deteriorate.

The $79,280 that the county will probably need for the second year of the coming biennium is equal, Bailey said, to a levy of 2.53 mills for public day-schools and 18 mills for the constitutional limit is 20 mills.

"This problem is one that the people of Seminole County and the other 66 counties must help solve," Bailey said.

"If the people want better schools they must insist that the Foundation Program appropriation be adopted in full and this is of equal importance that sufficient revenue be provided to meet the need."

China War

without hearing gunfire. Nationalist troops are reported taking advantage of the lull to bulldoze Shanghai defenses.

And in Singapore a high British naval authority said here he convinced the Chinese Communist at the British Sloop Amethyst Apr. 22 was not deliberate.

The informant told a news conference he believes the attack was caused by lack of discipline among Chinese Communist forces. Being the bank of the Yangtze River, or by excitement among the troops.

Communist charges that the British sloop fired first were deliberately false, this source said, adding that British warships in the river had been neutral and peaceful. The attack on the Amethyst and subsequent engagements with three other British warships involved in the incident cost 42 British lives.

A Shanghai garrison commander said Nationalist forces still were holding Kunshan, 32 miles west of Shanghai, despite heavy Red artillery bombardments at the outskirts of the town.

The communists claimed Nationalist success in fighting in the Kunshan area.

It said units from the 23rd Communist Army attacked Chungyang kang, a prewar locale of the famed Hsien Regatta, about a mile from Kunshan, but were driven westward after "a heavy engagement during which the Communists suffered heavy casualties."

A small Red force which reached the vicinity of Taichang, a mile or so northeast of Kunshan, was eliminated by Nationalist troops, the garrison announced.

These Reds might have been flank defenders of the Communist force which attacked Kunshan. The garrison said their strength was only 200 and was "totally wiped out."

The garrison's description of this and the Kunshan attack suggested the fighting in that region was not on a major scale.

There was no news here of the fighting south of Lake Tai 60 miles or so southwest of Shanghai where the Reds seemed to be throwing more important strength toward Hangchow.

A traveler from Hangchow said today that city had been occupied by Nationalist militia. He said Communist troops were not in evidence but he had no idea where they had gone.

liberty. The formal court charge has been placed against him. He denies the accusation.

A bill to require all life, group life and annuity insurance contracts to be delivered by a licensed Florida agent was passed by the House.

Its introduction, Rep. Hough of Lee, said he did not know whether it would outlast the sale of insurance policies by mail. He reported the measure approved by the insurance industry and is designed to protect the agency system.

The House also passed bills appropriating $40,000 a year for scientific salt water fishing research of the State Board of Conservation.

Authorizing county commissions to take out liability insurance. The measure would ratify the action of county commissions which already have done so.

Repealing county judges to make monthly reports to supervisors of voting registration on persons declared insane. The measure would get mentally ill persons off the voting list. Incompetents are not eligible to vote.

A bill which would authorize the State to issue liability insurance was introduced in the House by Rep. NeSmith of Wakulla.

It would create a Workmen's Compensation Insurance Division within the State Industrial Commission. NeSmith said the bill would allow issuance of insurance for workers in very hazardous occupations who now have difficulty in getting coverage.

position is expected to take away support of some Southern Democrats from another bill sponsored by Rep. Wood (D-Ga.). The Wood Bill, also being backed by Republicans, would repeal Taft-Hartley in name but retain most of its provisions.

The Lesinski Bill, backed by the Administration, would repeal Taft-Hartley and reinstate the old Wagner Labor Act with changes suggested by Mr. Truman.

Rayburn emphasized that he has held no conferences with labor leaders. He said the amendments outlined are being worked out only by members of the House.

The speaker made clear to reporters that he was speaking for himself in announcing his plans and that he was not speaking for the President concerning the Labor Bill.

Meanwhile Senate Democrats forced a new test on the economy vote that sent a $2,000,000,000 appropriations bill back to committee last week with instructions to cut it.

Senator Green (D-Rt.), who did not vote then, made a formal motion to reconsider that action. A vote on Green's motion will come later, probably after considerable debate.

Last week a solid line of 36 Republicans, aided by eight Democrats, piled up a 41 to 37 vote for the economy package.

Senator McKellar (D-Tenn.), chairman of the Appropriations Committee, decided to seek a second test because 15 Senators did not vote, including nine Democrats.

Other congressional developments:

Atlantic Pact former Under-Secretary of State Robert Lovett told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that the 12-nation North Atlantic Treaty group out of Russia's "savage reaction" to the Marshall Plan for European Recovery.

Lovett said it seemed "hardly logical" to pour American billions into European recovery "and to ignore the possibility that if this great enterprise was not given the protection it needed, its whole aim could be defeated."

beans, squash, potatoes, tomatoes, cucumbers, celery, watermelons and all kinds of peas and sweet corn during the current week, over 55,000 units, passed through the market during the past week consisting mostly of beans at $1.75 to $3.25; corn at $2.25 per crate; celery at $1.95 to $2.10; cucumbers at $1.15 to $1.30; and a variety of other produce remaining steady. So far this season the market has exceeded last season's total by $958,427.51.

In the Florida City Market area for instance, the farmers were idle during the Fall season due to high water, but following the wane of the receding flood waters farmers plowed and planted until possibly the largest acreage ever, was harvested at maturity.

Manager Warren of the Pompano Market reports the movement of produce from that area is practically over with the exception of pepper, eggplant and okra which will continue for the next four weeks with good weather prevailing. Only 81 cars of produce moved out during the past week with 28,535 bushels of pepper averaging $1.75 leading; 13,111 bushels of eggplant at $1.62 and 11,147 bushels of okra at $3.15.

Market Corner of Wauchula Market reports the cucumber volume increased slightly during the past week due to more favorable weather conditions with the tomato volume steady, though the volume on both is expected to be less during the current week. Over 12,000 bushels of cukes averaged $3.70; 1,286 bushels of pepper at $3.12; 18,238 bushels of tomatoes at $2.27 and small volume of squash, eggplant, okra and pepper moved through the market.

THURSDAY DINNER

Pan-fried Minute Steaks, Stuffed Mushroom Potatoes, Stewed Tomatoes, Creamy Cole Slaw, Gingerbread with Fanny Sauce, Bread and Butter, Beverage.

(Recipe for Stuffed Dish Follows)

STUFFED MUSHROOM POTATOES

Ingredients: 4 large baking potatoes, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 3/4 pound small fresh mushrooms, 3/4 teaspoon salt, 3/4 cup hot milk, 6 tablespoons grated soft yellow cheese.

Method: Scrub potatoes with a vegetable brush under cold running water; dry and rub with a little fat so skins will be soft after they have baked. Bake in a moderately hot (400°) oven until tender, about 1 1/4 hours. In the meantime scrub mushrooms with a vegetable brush under cold running water; dry well and chop, leaving 1 caps whole for garnishing. Melt butter or margarine in skillet, add mushrooms (chopped and caps) and cook over low heat for about 10 minutes, stirring frequently. Cut baked potatoes in half lengthwise, scoop out potato and put through ricer or mash; add salt and hot milk and beat well. Add chopped mushrooms (reserve caps) and mix well. Pipe mixture lightly back into 4 of the potato shells. Place stuffed shells on coaly sheet or small baking pan and sprinkle tops with cheese. Return to oven for 5 minutes to melt cheese. Garnish with mushroom caps. 4 servings.

CHINESE Communists having captured Soochow, this map shows the three Red spearheads which appear to be developing in the region. About 40,000 troops are reported approaching Shanghai, the world's fourth largest city. The Communist army heading from Soochow towards Hangchow is reported smaller than the northern group. A third force is moving south, around Lake Tai, also towards Hangchow. The cutting of rail line at Keshing would almost complete encirclement of Shanghai. (Central Press) in Europe.

Senator Byrd (D-Va.) asked whether there were any "implied" promises during treaty negotiations that this government would furnish arms to its treaty partners.

Lovett said "the matter of military supplies was not discussed" in his talks with representatives of foreign governments.

Senator McMahon (D-Conn.) remarked that the American people should not be given the idea the North Atlantic Treaty is a "100 per cent guarantee of peace."

Lovett agreed. "I am confident Lovett said, 'this treaty is not the end of trying to find a solution to our difficulties. It doesn't mean we do not have to do anything else.'"

Lovett went on to say this country should not be "lulled to sleep" by any temporary set of circumstances.

The inference was that he referred to the current efforts to reach an agreement with the Soviets to lift the Berlin blockade.

The National Wildlife Federation estimates that there are nearly six million big-game animals in the United States.

a south Jersey auto engine repair shop. All went on strike last month.

The 7,000 striking singer workers made 2,500 other plant workers idle.

In South Bend, no settlement was in sight in the two weeks old strike of 7,500 Bendix aviation workers. The CIO United Auto Workers called the strike in a dispute over dismissal of 47 workers and over counter-charges of a speed-up and slow-down. The strike has made 27,000 other auto workers idle and has forced Nash, Kaiser-Frazer and Packard to shut down.

not permit such a decision without including Britain and France, Schuman said. Britain and France, he declared, naturally would object to any major decisions in their absence.

Schuman explained that exploratory talks like those in America between Soviet Delegates Andrei Gromyko and Jacob and Dr. Philip Jessup, U. S. ambassador at large, are easier when limited to only two parties.

Gen. Bradley Says Heart Of Europe Is U.S. Defense Front

Bridge To Continent Must Be Held In Case Of 3rd War, Army Head Asserts

WASHINGTON, May 3.—(AP)—The new Democratic labor bill passed its final test today when the House refused to knock out a provision for 35-day injunctions against "national emergency" strikes. Rep. Perkins (D-Ky.) sought to strike out this provision which is taken by labor unions. The vote, however, without a roll call was 238 in 132.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—(AP)—General Omar N. Bradley told senators today that America's defense frontiers lie in the heart of Europe.

The Army Chief of Staff was before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to urge approval of the 12-nation North Atlantic Security Alliance.

"Geographically," he said, "many of these member nations are already in positions where any aggression into Western Europe would be a conquest of their homeland."

"I assure you that our frontiers of collective defense lie in common with theirs in the heart of Europe."

Bradley said the joint chiefs of staff are "in unanimous agreement" that in case of attack America's strategy will be to "carry on."

U.S. Uncovers Plot To Block Shanghai Port

Naval Craft Of 3 Nations Pull Out Of City As Reds Wage Big Attack

WASHINGTON, May 3.—(AP)—General Claire Chennault said today the security of the United States is at stake in China and pleaded for "positive action" to aid anti-Communist forces there.

The wartime leader of the "Flying Tigers" told the Senate Armed Services Committee that the best part of China already has been lost to the Communists "by our passivity."

He said that the Communists are "stockpiling" arms in the Philippines and other Pacific areas that could be used. Gravelly, he warned that Russia is standing "on the brink of unlimited successes in the Far East."

SHANGHAI, May 3.—(AP)—United States, British and French naval craft left the Shanghai waterfront because of a reported Communist plot to block their passage to the sea, a U. S. navy spokesman said today.

The spokesman, from the staff of U. S. Vice Admiral Oscar C. Badger, said "reliable sources" told the United States Navy that Communist forces planned to attack a ship near Wusong, the Chinese "iron fist" garrison that would have blocked the larger ships from the sea.

The spokesman eventually disclosed this "plot" to offset charges that the U. S. Navy had "run out" on Communist threats in Shanghai.

Details of the "plot" came from the same source which had previously tipped the Navy that Communist forces had a similar plan to battle up naval vessels in Hsienan earlier this year, the spokesman said.

The Navy evacuated numerous persons from Tientsin shortly before the city fell and the route to the sea was cut.

The navy spokesman said the "plot" was "hatched" in the city. He declined to give details, saying it was a Chinese matter.

He said after the plot was "hatched" the American President Lincoln was in the Shanghai waterfront past the Wusong garrison. The "Wilson" ship was at a blind pier and was cut off from the sea after an overnight stay.

It was learned that Nationalist forces were closing all ships in the Wusong area to prevent any sort of attempt.

The spokesman said the Navy had not left the Shanghai area. He said at present three destroyers and an LCI (Landing Craft Infantry) were anchored near Wusong, 12 miles from here. An LST (Landing Ship Tanks) was due tomorrow. He said the LCI was making a daily shuttle run between Shanghai and the sea.

Banana River To Be Guided Missile Site, Paper Says

MIAMI, May 3.—(AP)—The Miami Daily News says that the nation's new proving grounds for guided missiles will be located at the old Banana River Naval Air Station, 160 miles north of here.

The newspaper said Air Force and Navy officials have been seeking a new missile base for the past year because the 125-mile range in New Mexico and California "are becoming too short for improved missiles."

"It was learned from A. Fortenberry, chairman of the Brevard County Commission, that 8,000 military and civilian personnel will be employed at the new base," the News said.

The newspaper said that "Air Force officers have been shuttling back and forth between Banana River and Washington for the past two months. Although the base was deactivated two years ago, a number of servicemen have been sent there."

Michael McDermott, State Department press officer, said earlier that the U. S. and Great Britain have been negotiating to set up a range in Florida and a checking station in the British-owned Bahamas Islands.

Auto Union Orders Ford Plant Strike

DETROIT, May 3.—(AP)—CIO United Auto Workers Local 600 today ordered a strike Wednesday at Ford Motor Co.'s huge Rouge plant without awaiting approval of the international.

The action threw a bombshell into plans for the opening of the P.A.W. spring bargaining drive. It came on the heels of an announcement by a P.A.W. investigating committee that the Rouge plant dispute was near settlement.

Thomas Thompson, president of Local 600, said in a telegram to UAW President Walter P. Reuther that the local's executive board had voted unanimously in favor of the walkout.

Thompson charged that "the Ford Motor Co. violated its oral agreement to maintain the line speed during negotiations and speeded up the building assembly line."

The company and union have been checking for several weeks, over union charges of a speedup.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 3.—(AP)—Governor James E. Folsom recommended today an $80,000,000 highway bond issue as part of a "bold" program to give Alabama a "higher standard of living than ever before."

He proposed to finance it with a one-cent increase in the 6-cent a gallon state gasoline tax, and suggested at least half the money be raised by selling bonds to citizens in the street like the federal government's "war bonds."

In his message to the legislature at the opening of its 1950 session, the governor also asked for funds to pay the old folk a $50 a month pension, to build a hospital, to give school teachers an $1,800 a year minimum salary.

He also called for: 1. Repeal of the poll tax. 2. Revision of the election laws. 3. "Provision for the opportunity to qualify themselves as electors" with no idea of "disfranchising any of our population."

(This was an obvious reference to the Negro vote.)
