

Smallpox Epidemic Danger Emphasized Here

False Security Sense Rapped

A "false sense of security is leading us down a potentially dangerous path toward a small pox epidemic," County Health Director Frank Leone warned today.

Dr. Leone also emphasized the dangers of diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus.

"The fact that we have had no small pox cases in many years," the health director warns, "has led many citizens to forego vaccinations. This is a very risky situation."

He continued: "Florida is perhaps one of the most susceptible states because of the numerous avenues by which small pox can enter the state. One infected person can spread the disease to hundreds before doctors even suspect they might have small pox. This very thing happened in another state when a wounded soldier was flown back from Korea.

"The tremendous air travel into Miami, one of the nation's largest airports, poses a constant threat. No matter how vigilant port authorities are, a person with small pox can escape detection until too late.

"A person can have small pox and not realize it before eight to 16 days. There have been a number of small pox cases recently in various parts of the world and a few months ago New York had a scare. The disease is highly contagious. It can be spread by dust particles, a cough or sneeze, most certainly by personal contact.

"Almost every victim is scarred for life. One victim in five dies. All this can be prevented by being vaccinated and repeated every five years. Maintenance of protection against this serious epidemic disease requires revaccination at least every five years. It is one of the most easily preventable diseases.

"Importance of proper immunization in prevention of diphtheria is emphasized by epidemiologic data for 1959 and 1960. The 26 year decline in incidence since World War II has halted and in the southern states the attack rate is increasing. Both the number of cases and the number of deaths are highest among children under ten years of age. Proportionate to the population, incidence is nearly five times higher among non-white than white children. Most of the patients have not been immunized. Immunized persons exposed to the disease are more likely to become carriers rather than to become ill. In 1960, only one death occurred among immunized persons in contrast to 57 deaths among those without immunization.

"Less than half of the nation's pre-school children are protected against polio and still less against diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus. Only 41.8 per cent of children aged one to five have received the recommended four doses of Salk vaccine, and only 5.7 per cent have had three doses of Sabin oral vaccine. Only about five million of the 16.5 million children in the pre-school group have received protection against diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus. Polio can still attack you and your children, unless all members of the family receive a full course of vaccine. You're gambling with your family's health. Now it's up to you to make sure you and your children are completely protected."

Academy Assn. To Tour NAS

Nearly 90 members of the Central Florida U. S. Naval Academy Alumni Association will tour the Sanford Naval Air Station Saturday as guests of the Commanding Officer of NAS Sanford and the Commander of Heavy Attack Wing One.

The tour will follow a luncheon in the Mayfair Inn at noon. All Sanford area Naval Academy alumni are invited to attend.

While visiting the Air Station, the group will observe simulated carrier landing practice from the vantage point of the Landing Signal Officer's (LSO) platform. The LSO is the controlling authority for all carrier landings.

Dr. Speronis To Give Talk At Forest Lake

By Shirley Westworth
Dr. Stephen Louis Speronis, director of the University of Tampa, will give an address entitled "The Bear and the Eagle" at 11:30 a. m. Monday in the Forest Lake Academy gymnasium.

Invitation has been extended to Beta Clubs and other interested groups from neighboring high schools by the academy's student association officers who arranged the appearance of Dr. Speronis whose major field of study is Russian History and Soviet politics.

Forest Lake Academy is located just west of the Forest City Shopping Center on Sit 436.

New Altamonte Church Plans Organization For March 24

The Temple Baptist Church of Altamonte Springs has announced plans for an all day sing and dinner on the grounds for Sunday, March 24, at which time the church will officially be organized. The organizational meeting is scheduled for 3 p. m.

The new church, an independent missionary church, began meeting several weeks ago in the Community House on Mailand Ave. Rev. Jewell Smith, pastor, advises that since that time attendance has exceeded expectations and already six persons have united through profession of faith.

The Altamonte Springs church is an associate of the Temple Baptist Church of Azalea Park in Orlando and will work with the Baptist Bible Fellowship, a missionary organization which supports world missions with 11 missionaries on 26 fields.

Rev. and Mrs. Bob Catledge, missionaries of the BBF and from the Temple Baptist Church, will leave shortly for Puerto Rico.

The church will organize

Traffic Boost Seen At ACL

Construction of a spur by Florida East Coast Railway to Cape Canaveral would mean increased rail freight traffic over Atlantic Coast Line through the Sanford area.

FEC announced today plans to build a spur from its mainline either from Titusville or Cocoa to provide rail service for the space and missile base at Cape Canaveral.

"This undoubtedly would bring additional business to us here in the Sanford area," ACL officials stated when apprised of the FEC move.

It was pointed out ACL has line operating from Benson Junction, on the north side of Lake Monroe, connecting with FEC at New Smyrna Beach.

"It is safe to assume," it was said "that any rail freight traffic moving into Florida other than through Jacksonville and bound for Cape Canaveral would move through here."

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — The board chairman of the strikebound Florida East Coast Railway said this weekend the carrier is not about to stop operating, and in fact plans to build a line into Cape Canaveral.

In an exclusive interview with UPI, FEC Board Chairman Ed Ball said the 34-day-old strike by 11 non-op-rating unions was being run by national railroad unions.

And Ball said the FEC will not meet the demands of the unions so long as the strike is being directed by outsiders.

"It's totally unreasonable to expect us to negotiate with anyone but our own employees. We don't propose to be bound by some organization to which we don't belong," he said.

Ball said many of the 1,200 employees who walked off their jobs over a wage dispute didn't want to go on strike. Ball said the national unions forced the strike.

"The unions weren't as much interested in the 10-20 cents per hour wage increase they demanded as they are in making this company conform with the national pattern," said Ball.

Ball, a well known financier, said the FEC's decision not to bargain with the national unions was back by Labor Secretary Willard Wirtz.

FEC Rail Strike Spreads To General Motors

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — The 34-day-old strike against the Florida East Coast Rail was spread today to the Electric Division of General Motors which handles maintenance of FEC diesel locomotives.

Striking employees of the FEC appeared outside the General Motors plant early today and set up a picket line which the GM workers — members of the United Auto Workers Union — refused to cross.

Beauty Contest Gets 2nd Entry

Miss Joan Elizabeth Jones, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Jones of 2518 Palmetto Ave., Sanford, is the second contestant to enter the race for the crown of Miss Seminole County and the prizes that go with it.

Blue-eyed, brown-haired Joan is a tall, slim five-foot five, 31-23-35 and 117-pound Seminole High major-league captain.

She was a recent finalist in the Gasparilla Majorette Queen Contest held at Tampa, and is a talented twirler, dancer, singer and acrobat.

She has attended Sanford schools all her life, but has traveled much with her family along the Eastern seaboard, listing as her favorite vacation spot an island off the coast of N. C.

Her ideal man should be tall and fair and enjoy doing things on the spur of the moment. He should like swimming, banana cake and meat loaf, too, if he expects to win Joan. She plans to attend college and study advertising, she says.

Six Convicts Flee Deland Prison Camp

DELAND (UPI) Six convicts, one with three prior escapes, fled the State Road prison camp building here Sunday night.

A statewide alert was put out. Authorities said it was not known whether the men obtained a car or arms after their escape.

The men were identified as Darrell Barnett, 24, who had escaped three times previously and was serving 38 years; Glen Kelly Schlehauf, 25, serving a 25-year sentence from Santa Rosa County; James C. Ogle, 23, serving five years from Polk County; Francis W. Mailoux, 20, serving five years from Jackson County; Charles E. Reader, 21, serving three years from Pinellas County; and George L. Roth, 17, serving two years from Duval County.

Back Adenauer Embassy Urges

RONN, Germany (UPI) — The American embassy urged West German Parliament members today to support Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's ban on the sale of steel piping to the Soviet Union, authoritative sources said.

Adenauer himself was returning from an Italian vacation for the special debate on the controversial ban on shipping 103,000 tons of pipe to Russia.

Critical Space Probe Delayed

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — The first U. S. attempt to link up two objects in orbit—a critical step toward development of manned space stations—probably will be delayed until 1965, it was indicated today.

This is a key goal that the Soviet Union came with in four miles of achieving last August.

Jerome B. Hammack and Walter J. Kapryan of the federal space agency said today that attempts to "rendevous" a manned space capsule and an unmanned target object in orbit "should begin with about the fifth flight" in Project Gemini, American's newest manned-space program.

Hammack and Kapryan presented their paper today before the opening session of a three-day space flight testing conference sponsored by the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics.

The Gemini capsules will carry two-man teams of U.S. astronauts into orbit. The first manned flights in the new program are not expected until the middle of 1964, and the fifth flight could not come before 1965.

As planned now, the "rendezvous" attempt will involve launching an unmanned Agena-D upper stage into orbit aboard an Atlas rocket, and then sending the two-man Gemini team into space about 24 hours later to try to link up with it.

$4,000 In Jewels Stolen From Mayfair

Police today were continuing their investigation into the theft of $4,000 in jewels and cash from the room of a guest at the Mayfair Inn.

The burglary occurred between 9 a. m. and 3 p. m. last Friday in the room occupied by Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Goldberg, of Framingham, Mass.

Richard Reagan, assistant hotel manager, reported to police Mrs. Goldberg informed him of the theft at 3 p. m.

Police Chief Roy G. Williams said this morning that entrance to the room apparently had been gained with a passkey. He assigned Investigator Carl Dodson to the case and added today there is no definite clue as to the identity of the thief or thieves, as yet.

Mrs. Goldberg listed the missing jewelry, along with four $100 bills, as a solitaire ring valued at $1,500; string of pearls, $300; matching pearl earrings, $150; platinum wrist watch, $450; gold pin, $300; cluster of garnets, $100; matching bracelet, $100, and a man's diamond-studded wedding band, $700.

VAH-9 Leaves Today For Seven Month Cruise In Mediterranean

Aircraft and flight crews of Heavy Attack Squadron Nine (VAH-9) were scheduled today to board the attack carrier Saratoga today to begin a seven-month at-sea period with the Second and Sixth Fleets.

Saturday the squadron's 30 support personnel left by bus for NAS Mayport to board the ship. Squadron maintenance and administrative materials were trucked to Mayport Friday.

Four of the squadron's 12 A3B Skywarrior attack bombers were scheduled to leave Sanford today at noon. The remaining eight were to fly over Sanford in formation at 3 p. m. en route to the Saratoga.

VAH-9 will relieve Heavy Attack Squadron 11, also of Sanford, in the Mediterranean early next month.

The squadron leaves with several new feathers in its cap. Friday Cdr. George W. Kimmons, VAH-9 commanding officer, was presented a "Well Done" commendation from the Commander of Heavy Attack Wing One.

Capt. Joseph M. Tully Jr., for "professional ability and outstanding efficiency toward your primary mission."

The specific act cited was VAH-9's development of a training target at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, which was suitable for Heavy Attack use. None had existed previously which met the needs of deployed squadrons operating in that area.

Tully also presented a Pilot of the Month award to Lt.

John F. Dunn and one for Bombardier of the Month to George W. Beers, Aviation Fire Control Technician First Class. The awards, which included cigar lighters donated by the Norden Division of the United Aircraft Corporation, were for excellence in practice bombing during the month of February. A similar award was given to Lt. Mike Puopolo for being Pilot of the Month for January.

In addition, 21 others were presented "Bullseye Club" patches for scoring direct hits on area training targets in practice bombing during

Cracker Days... A Huge Success

Plans were underway today for the third annual "Cracker Days" next March, it was reported by Glenn McCall, president of the Downtown Merchants Association.

McCall's announcement followed his report that last Friday's and Saturday's second annual "Cracker Days" was a "huge success."

It was estimated several thousand additional weekend shoppers were attracted to Sanford by the sales bargains offered by downtown merchants.

More than 30 door prizes were awarded to lucky ticket holders who had visited the various stores.

Academy Alumni Visit NAS

Alumni of the U. S. Naval Academy and their wives Saturday were treated to the latest in Naval aviation following a luncheon meeting in the Mayfair Inn.

The group were guests of the commanding officer of the Sanford Naval Air Station and the commander of Heavy Attack Wing One for a tour of the base and a close look at simulated carrier operations.

Cdr. Charles W. Meshier, chief staff officer of the Wing, also provided a briefing on the mission and capabilities of Heavy Attack during the business meeting.

Proceeding to the Naval Air Station, the contingent of some 80 alumni and wives toured the Naval Air Maintenance Training Group facilities, got close-up looks at the A5A Vigilante and A3B Skywarrior attack bombers, then saw the two aircraft in action for a regularly-scheduled mirror landing practice in preparation for carrier qualification aboard the USS Forrestal next week.

$100,000 Building Permit Set

Building permit has been issued for a 300,000 square foot industrial building at Sanford Industrial Park, it was reported today by Robert Brown, zoning director.

Estimate in the permit is for a $100,000 structure but J. L. Williams, head of the Dallas firm bearing his name which is erecting it, said overall cost will be $200,000.

Workers have been preparing the site for the last 10 days. Williams said he is erecting the building for speculative purposes.

$225 Million Spent On Roads, Bridges

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Florida spent more than $225 million in construction and engineering of highways and bridges during 1961 and 1962. That expenditure represented 59 percent of the Road Department's spending for the period, which started Jan. 1, 1961 and ended Dec. 31, 1962. Right-of-way costs accounted for 16 percent of the budget, administration 2 percent, bond repayments 11 percent, maintenance 9 percent and 3 percent went to the comptroller's office and other agencies. All in all, the department's biennial report said, a total of $383,058,831 was spent by the department during the period. Right-of-way cost $60 million, administration $9 million, and maintenance $35 million.

During the two years covered by the report, four-lane highway mileage in Florida increased from 1,095 miles to 1,411 miles. Primary mileage increased from 10,484 to 10,670 miles and secondary mileage was upped from 4,654 to 5,315.

Far also paid for an additional 127 miles of controlled access interstate highway. At the end of the two year period, a motorist could drive over 167 miles of interstate route, four between Pinellas County and Daytona Beach. There were, however, two gaps in the project which were under construction. Interstate 10, crossing the top of the state from east to west, was open from Jacksonville 35 miles eastward. And a tiny 8.2 mile isolated link was open north of Pensacola. None of Interstate 75, dropping into the state from Central Georgia, was open to traffic during the period but about 78 miles were under construction. The highway will connect with the Sunshine State Parkway extension near Wildwood. The portions of Interstate Route 95, along the east coast, that were open to traffic included only those portions of the Sunshine State Parkway and the Jacksonville Expressway which have been designated IR 95 and two large interchanges in South Florida. Florida's highway income for the period totaled $410,301,701. The report said $221 million came from the state gasoline tax, $112 million from the federal government, $13 million from toll collections, $16 million from sale of bonds and $15 million from outdoor advertising and overweight trucks.

Kennedy Going Latin

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — President Kennedy flew southward today into the heart of Latin America where communism poses a threat to the Alliance for Progress. The Chief Executive, accompanied by Secretary of State Dean Rusk and ranking members of Congress from both parties, took off from the International Airport here. In an estimated flight time of nearly four hours, he will arrive at San Jose, Costa Rica, and there begin three days of talks with the president of five Central American countries and Panama. Kennedy spent the weekend on the Florida Gold Coast. Rusk flew in from Washington late Sunday and went over what the White House described as "last-minute details." Security experts around the President were convinced, after thorough checking, that reports of Communist efforts to hunt or embarrass the President in Central America were exaggerated. Costa Rican and other Central American officials some days ago reported back to the U. S. government that possibly disruptive elements had been discouraged in any plans for anti-U. S. demonstrations. Sunday, the President wearing a green tie in honor of the day, observed the feast of St. Patrick at St. Edward's Roman Catholic Church where he was greeted by a large throng of tourists.

New State Taxes Favored

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Atchua Rep. Ralph Turlington said this weekend he favors new taxes for the upcoming biennium rather than financing state operations through Gov. Farris Bryant's proposed pay-as-you-use program.

Turlington told the Florida Society of Editors that the 1963 session will be a failure unless it comes up with a "substantial tax increase." Increases, he said, were essential because of the needs of institutions of higher learning, aid to cities, health and welfare and retirement costs.

"LET'S TALK DRY CLEANING"

By WOODROW CASH

March 21st is the traditional first day of Spring. The weather doesn't always agree... but the arrival of this new season is a signal of warmer days to come. It's a time when housewives start to think of spring cleaning.

Here's a suggestion for those of you who already have the urge to put your house in order at the end of winter. Many of the things you use during the cold weather are put aside come Spring. Your heavy wool blankets will soon be changed for lighter weight bedspreads. You'll probably switch to a summer weight bedspread, too. Before putting these heavier things away, bring them to us for a thorough cleaning and mothproofing. You'll be sure they'll be ready to use again in the Fall.

And while you're doing your spring cleaning, don't forget those curtains and draperies. Our expert cleaning can freshen them up for spring's new look of color and brightness.

For everything that needs to be cleaned, you'll find our service prompt and reliable. Call us now for quick pickup and delivery.

Our Crop Prospects

Citrus men are being asked every day now, "What are the crop prospects for the next season?" It is an anxious question, because the health of Sanford's economy depends to a large extent upon what percentage of an orange, grapefruit and tangerine crop is harvested during the 1963-64 season.

The answer, according to a Florida Citrus Mutual filed report, isn't encouraging, but it doesn't spell disaster either.

Here is Mutual's sizing up of the situation in all of Seminole County except the extreme southern tip (where there seems to be less damage):

"There are exceptions, of course, but the overall bearing surface loss is heavy. It appears now that many old trees will have to be pruned severely and a lot of them will have to come back from the roots or be removed. The old trees that were completely defoliated and had come back with new growth and bloom are now, in most cases, showing rather heavy twig dieback. The bloom on these trees has been weak and in most cases did not stick. Growers are hoping these trees will bloom later."

"There is vast acreage of young trees in this area that have been killed back to the banks and in some cases back into the banks. It must be noted, however, that there are also many young trees showing good signs of recovery. Many of the six to twelve-year old bearing trees that were not banked are also showing severe damage while many others in this age group are showing good signs of recovery. At it appears now, a reasonable potential crop for next season will depend on a later bloom."

Well, that's Mutual's opinion of our prospects. Are we going to get that needed late bloom? That must await the spring weather — mainly whether a good rain hits the trees at exactly the right time to bring on a "shock" bloom. Otherwise, it appears that we'll be lucky indeed to produce 30 per cent of a crop. Maybe less than that.

But citrus growers in the past have survived freezes, hurricanes, droughts, insect plagues, and disastrous markets. They'll simply have to pull in their belts and make-do, until the trees bring them into black ink again.

What About The Truth

Sympathize with the citizen earnestly seeking the truth about the affairs, world and national, his government is involved in.

He has good reason to believe, at any given time, that the incumbent national administration has unparalleled sources of good information. It knows better than anyone what it is doing—and what is happening, especially in places where facts are hard to get.

What the citizen cannot know much if the time is how much of the true story an administration is leaving out or distorting—either for justifiable security reasons or its own protection.

Generally speaking, the citizen also is aware that outsiders, whether in Congress, in alert civic groups, in so-called "intellectual community," cannot hope to match an administration's information sources except in rare instances. Often, indeed, outsiders are grossly handicapped by major factual gaps.

Mostly, however, they do not permit this to deter them from passing sure-handed judgment on what an administration does and says.

Where stands the citizen in his quest? It would be nice if he had some reliable, impartial clearing-house for truth.

But where would this agency get its solid information? You can hurriedly find truth by compromising the outsiders' misinformation rooted in ignorance, and misinformation deliberately spread from the inside.

Phil Newsom Says . . .

West Battled By Red Feud

UPI Foreign News Analyst How the Soviet-Red China dispute finally resolves itself is important to the whole world and not alone to Communists.

But as it runs its course it continues to baffle Western observers. In recent weeks alone expert speculation has run the gamut from forecasts of a total break between the two to predictions that the quarrel soon would be patched up.

For each there has seemed to be tangible evidence.

After the withdrawal of Soviet missiles from Cuba, words exchanged between the two were those usually reserved for enemies.

Then, Nikita Khrushchev's friendly approach to the Chinese ambassador at a reception in Moscow led to a new round of speculation that they were approaching a solution to their troubles, if only to take advantage of the obvious split in the Atlantic alliance.

Mixed in with Western speculation also have been questions which fall in the category of "which came first, the chicken or the egg?"

There have been such questions as whether the dispute actually was economic or ideological or whether it is less a matter of ideology than an outright fight for Communist leadership.

Henry Shapiro, a UPI correspondent in Moscow for more than 25 years, makes it simpler. He says there never has been a unity of viewpoint between the two and that the late Josef Stalin favored an alliance between the Communists and Chiang Kai-Shek in China simply because he knew he could not control the Chinese Communists if they came to power.

On Feb. 28, the Peking People's Daily lumped all the lines of speculation and dumped them into one basket. Each school of thought gained a certain amount of support.

Attacked the Khrushchev policy of co-existence and Moscow's new friendship for President Tito of Yugoslavia —political.

Attacked Moscow's failure to support China in its border war with India—challenge for leadership.

Attacked the Soviets for "perfidiously" tearing up hundreds of contracts with the Peking regime—economic.

In the grim Chinese determination to go it alone if necessary, the economic factor still exists. Without the Soviets there would be no oil for the war lamps of China.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

"Tina must be crazy," many wives will protest. Tina is simply a victim of womankind's universal terror of the menopause. Her mania to have a baby is an attempt to camouflage her age and compensate for an organic inferiority complex. Send for the booklet below.

CASE O-48: Tina G., aged 44, is an attractive brunette. "Dr. Crane," she began nervously, "I have never married. But I want you to try to introduce me to a congenial man."

"For I am determined to have a baby. And I don't have much more time left."

"But if you can't find a suitable man for me, I will offer myself to any congenial man who will give me a baby, even outside of wedlock."

"All I would ask is that be pay for the hospital bill during the delivery of my baby and then help support the child."

"Dr. Crane, do you think that is too abnormal a plan in this modern world?"

Many women, when they approach the menopause, also develop a similar mania to have a baby.

Yet this is largely a selfish wish on the part of such a woman. For she wants the child chiefly as a tonic to her own deflated feminine ego.

Instead of wishing for a baby because she really has the desire to nurture another self-reliant child into a good American citizen, such a woman is thinking mostly of self.

menopause," she worries, "I'll be nothing but a nothing and not a thing at all."

"So I want a baby to prove that I am still a normal, fertile woman."

Many Americans suffer from inferiority complexes. Some of these are called "organic" and refer to physical defects, such as amputated feet or breasts or crossed eyes, etc.

But others are largely psychological and often unfounded.

For example, in past years literally millions of women grew unduly neurotic at the menopause.

In fact, this was then called a woman's "change of life," yet there should really be no significant "change" at all.

But such wives, as well as spinners like Tina, concocted a horrendous picture of themselves.

They felt they were "not normal!" after the age of 45. Tina aptly phrases it when she said she worries that she will be "nothing but a nothing."

Some of these victims of that false idea of past generations not only felt they were no longer normal, but they soon translated this

"not normal" classification into a belief they were "abnormal."

Then they tried to sprout, albeit subconsciously, various symptoms which they associated with a deranged or abnormal person.

So face the facts: First, the womb (uterus) is not primarily a sex organ at all. It is relatively surplus baggage, and thus compares with the vermiform appendix, which is also surplus baggage on the large intestine.

Second, a wife can be thrilling and thrillable all her life if she dislodges this false notion about the menopause from her mind.

Remember, a woman's physical charm to her mate is NOT based on the womb.

Therefore, if she has her womb removed via a hysterectomy in early life or if it ceases its monthly function at the age of 45, she should still be attractive and sexually appealing.

So don't develop a "last baby" mania, like Tina, but smile, pay your escort big doses of honest compliments and accentuate your charms.

Send for my booklet "How to Combat Menopausal Complexes," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20c.

Peter Edson Political Notebook

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Alliance for Progress has been getting a bad press.

Chagrin over developments in Cuba is partly responsible. Also, the unpopularity of foreign aid as a whole rubs off on the special programs to aid Latin America.

There is disappointment that the Alliance in its less than two years of existence has not performed miracles, like saving Cuba.

The fact that the plan was oversold at the beginning is responsible for building too high hopes.

Organization of American States has just released a first report on its planning operations for the Alliance in 1962, and it does not reveal great progress.

A score or more of Latin-American, international alphabetical agencies have held conference after conference. Only six countries have completed their development plans, though more are due shortly.

Former Presidents Juscelino Kubitschek of Brazil and Alberto Lleras Camarago of Colombia now are trying to simplify the Alliance bureaucracy. But they haven't come up with a plan yet.

OAS has spent $4 million and allocated the other $2 million of a special U. S. appropriation for planning.

OAS wants more. But this will require a new appropriation by the U. S. Congress, and there may be some opposition to that.

Actually, Teodoro Moscoso of Puerto Rico, who is U. S. co-ordinator for the Alliance in the State Department, says that the whole program will require little if any more money to run next year than it is costing this year. This is about $600 million for loans and $100 million for grants.

The Alliance is not all just a foreign aid giveaway. Total U. S. assistance for Latin America in the year and a half ending last Dec. 31 was $1.5 billion, of which $1.2 billion was loans and $300 million grants.

Agency for International Development — AID—provided $645 million. Export-Import Bank $278 million. Inter-American Bank $321 million. Food for Peace $328 million. Peace Corps $12 million.

Moscoso believes that the 10-year Alliance program can be carried out on the original plan. This was for $20 billion in U. S. government and priate financing, with four times that much, or $80 billion, coming from the Latin Americans.

The Private Business Coordinating Committee headed by J. Peter Grace of New York recently criticized the Alliance for moving too slowly.

Grace said $2.5 billion a year should be going to Latin America from government and private sources, instead of the $1 billion supplied last year.

Moscoso's position is that Latin America cannot absorb outside capital that rapidly now. He believes it will take several years of training technicians before Latin America is ready for wide-scale industrial investment.

Latin America now has 50,000 technicians to serve 207 million people, as compared to 1.1 million engineers in the U. S.—still not enough for its 180 million people.

When Latin America has raised its technical proficiency, then there may be need for a more rapid investment rate.

Educationally, says Moscoso, Latin America is moving. Nearly 17,000 schoolrooms are being built this year. Fifty U. S. universities are working with as many Latin-American universities on student and faculty exchange programs.

One of the principal criticisms of the Alliance is that Latin-America countries aren't doing their part in reforms which were to be a condition to receiving aid.

More than 853,087 U. S. passports were issued or renewed in 1960, with residents of California, Illinois, New Jersey and New York obtaining 439,210 of these, or 51 per cent of the total.

Tax reform and land reform, urban and rural slum elimination are admittedly moving slowly, as in every country.

For purposes of comparison, it is pointed out that it took 30 years to clean out the worst slums in Washington, southeast of the Capitol. The job isn't done yet. And there is no great rush to reform taxes in the U. S. Congress, either, to set a good example for Latin Americans.

Flameless

is the BIG DIFFERENCE in ELECTRIC COOKING

"FLAMELESS" means CLEANER, COOLER, FASTER, SAFER. Good reasons why more than a million Florida families have "switched" to electric cooking. It's the only really modern way! No flame, no fumes, no constant-burning pilot light. No sooty, grimy by-products of combustion...no pots and pans keep shiny-bright...the whole kitchen stays cooler and "white-glove" clean. New super-speed surfaces and oven units shorten cooking time. Automatic controls let you cook meals to perfection without pot-watching.

In ELECTRIC cooking, top-of-range utensils are in direct contact with heating element. The heat quickly goes into the food — not the kitchen.

In FLAMELESS cooking, the wasted heat that spills up around the burner overheats the kitchen — and you.

Insist on modern flameless cooking for precious peace of mind

There's no metal for flameless electric living

On 'Rigging' Rap

'Bama Backs Up Bryant

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)—University of Alabama President Frank Rose said Sunday Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant was innocent of charges that he conspired to rig the outcome of a football game.

Coach Bryant in any way with rigging, or fixing, or betting on football games," Rose said. Bryant and former University of Georgia Athletic Director Wally Butts have been charged in a Saturday Evening Post article with conspiring to rig the outcome of the Alabama-Georgia football game last Sept. 22.

charges "the most fantastic and ridiculous thing that I can imagine," and instructed his lawyers to file a $10 million libel suit. The charges have touched off a sweeping investigation involving university officials at both schools, Southeastern Conference officials, the Georgia attorney general's office, the FBI and the U.S. Senate.

Washington said investigators were making "inquiries" and Jerome Adlerman, chief counsel for the Senate permanent investigations subcommittee said: "Of course, we'll look into it." Bryant currently has a $500,000 libel suit pending against the Saturday Evening Post for an article it published last October alleging that Bryant condoned brutality by his players.

Weekend Sports

United Press International Saturday COLLEGE PARK, Md. — Duke defeated St. Joseph's, 73-64, to win the Eastern regional of the NCAA basketball tournament. EAST LANSING, Mich. — Loyola of Chicago beat Illinois, 79-64, to win the Midwest regional of the NCAA basketball tournament. LAWRENCE, Kan. — Cincinnati, the nation's top-ranked team won the Midwest regional of the NCAA basketball tournament by downing Colorado, 67-60. PROVO, Utah — Oregon State whipped Arizona State 83-65, to win the Far West regional of the NCAA basketball tournament. NEW YORK — Villanova upset Wichita, 54-52, and Canisius beat Memphis State, 76-67, in quarter-finals games of the National Invitation Basketball tournament. St. Louis nipped LaSalle, 62-61, and Miami of Florida edged St. Francis of New York, 71-70, in first round games. KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Pan American topped Western Carolina, 73-62 to win the NIAA basketball tournament. STOCKHOLM — West Germany beat East Germany, 43, in the world ice hockey championships. LOS ANGELES — A triple-leader championship boxing program, headed by the Emilio Griffith-Luis Rodriguez welterweight bout, was postponed because of rain until Thursday.

Orioles Grab No. 8 Tourney Results

By United Press International In the spring hardly a major league manager pays much attention to exhibition game scores. Instead, the concern is over an individual player, the newcomers and certain veterans. This spring, though, it's hard to pass up the play of the Baltimore Orioles without at least one serious glance. Sunday, the hustling and revamped Birds came from behind to beat the Los Angeles Dodgers, 4-3, and gain their eighth straight exhibition victory. Jackie Brandt was the hero, banging a 400-foot plus home run with Luis Aparicio aboard in the bottom of the ninth to pull it out. Aparicio, off to the best spring of his career, started the inning with a double off the wall in left field. Brandt bluffed a punt as reliever Ed Roebuck, Los Angeles' third pitcher, tried to jam him on the first pitch. Brandt then slipped his hands all the way down on the handle and ripped Roebuck's second pitch clean out of the park. The Dodgers had scored a run in the seventh to break a 2-2 tie on a double by Willie Davis, who stole third, and a sacrifice fly by Daryl Spencer. Dean Stone, Baltimore's fourth pitcher, got credit for the victory. Don Drysdale worked the first six innings, and was touched for seven hits and Baltimore's first two runs. Tom Brown ramed a two-run homer in the first inning and the Washington Senators look over from there to beat the Minnesota Twins, 8-3. The St. Louis Cardinals staged the strongest comeback of all Sunday, rallying from a 10-0 deficit in the fourth inning to beat the Kansas City A's, 12-11. The Cincinnati Reds whipped the world champion New York Yankees, 6-3, on homers by Wally Post and Gordy Coleman. Homers also helped the Detroit Tigers beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 9-3, and the Boston Red Sox down the San Francisco Giants, 9-6. Norm Cash and Chico Fernandez hit the Detroit homers and rookie Pete Jernigan's two-run swat during a five-run outburst in the fifth sparked the Red Sox to their win over the NL champion Giants. Jerry Walker gave up only four hits in five innings and rookie Vic Davalillo hit a triple, double and single to lead the Cleveland Indians to a 6-3 win over the Chicago Cubs. Bob Friend and Tom Sturdivant, pitching at mid-season form, gave up just four hits between them to help the Pittsburgh Pirates down the Milwaukee Braves, 7-1. Warren Spahn took the brunt of the Pittsburgh attack, being raked for eight hits and three runs in four innings. The lowly New York Mets, who usually lose ball games on errors, capitalized on a miscue by first baseman Grover Jones to score two runs and beat the White Sox, 2-1. Galen Cisco, Ken Mackenzie and Ray Davaull spaced seven hits with Mackenzie picking up the victory. Zous.

Pretty's Best Aims For No. 7 At SOKC

Pretty's Best, owned by Darold Robertson, rates as the morning line favorite tonight when she shoots for her seventh victory of the season in the featured ninth race at the Sanford Orlando Kennel Club. This talented 56-pounder has a record that is really outstanding. She is the youngest entry in this main event and will not be two-years-old until May. However, she had learned the racing game before coming here and started right out in top bracket competition. All of her wins have been registered in Grade A contests, five of them in features. One of her victories was in the first semi-final of the racing Queen Stake. In registering her last win she was clocked at 30.96 seconds, a speed bettered by only one other greyhound this season. She has had three starts since posting that victory but has failed to get closer than third. Opposing Pretty's Best tonight will be such ace speedsters as Ruby Keeler, Wade Tray and Miss Perry. Grade A speedsters make up the field for the first half of tonight's daily double. Grade B greyhounds go in the second half.

Button Shoots High Series

Dot Button of Mayfair Inn put together 175-181-245 for a 601 series, the new high in the Hi-nooners League. The Mayfair Inn won three points from the C.P.O. Wives; Mar-Lou Restaurant made a clean sweep against National Insurance. Grapeville Nursery retain third position as they won three points from Shoemaker Construction. The M.&L. Bar won 2 1/2 points from first place Stenstrom Realty. Pennie Schaffer converted the 5-8-10 and the 5-10; the 3-10 fell for Dot Button, Celia De Palma, Kitty Purdy, and Jean Ogden. Olga Mirale, Panny Schaffer and Letha Ward picked off the 27, and Celia De Palma the 5-7.

From City Loop To Seminole Nine Planning For Future

Local baseball buffs began buzzing when the Seminole High School nine made twin killings in the two opening games of their season. Attention was whetted when the City Recreation schedule started to shape-up and this combination focused attention on how the two activities can team up for added strength for increased Warrior strength. For two years the Civitan team in the City circuit has taken the championship. Since the player draft at the beginning of the season is the same for that club as it is for all the others, fans have been looking for the reason. Generally, diamond-dusters will begin with a long look at the coach-manager of "kid" teams. And in this case, they won't be wrong. F. R. Thomas, an ex-Navy man that now with a change of uniforms is delivering mail for the same Uncle Sam for whom he "sweated out" 20 years. But from the time he was a player himself, he has always been interested in helping other youngsters who liked baseball. As in the case with all true competitors, Thomas likes to win. But his plan with the lads under his wing is that they shall learn baseball — and one good way to accomplish that is through playing the game. Hence, the lad on the bench gets a chance to play before each game ends. This brings them out to the diamond for the practice sessions as well as to the games. Jim McCoy, the Seminole mentor, never signed a note payable to Roy Thomas, but will quickly admit that he is indebted to him. As he looks over his squad he finds that many of his hustlers are "graduates" of Thomas' school of sandlot baseball. Hutch Kiser and Ed Fitzgerald, who have been carrying the hurling load for the Seminole, are fine examples. And for a quick run-down on others there are Mike Woodruff, Billy Brown, Billy Kuykendall, Marvin Sheffield and Jerry Whitmore. While Thomas isn't the assistant baseball coach at Seminole High School, he has given no end of help to the squad through the baseball know-how, the co-ordination and the "hustle" that undoubtedly will push the Seminole nine into the win column many times during the year. As the City League opens their season there will be many a boy who will be looking at these athletes who have "graduated" to the high school diamond. Roy Thomas and other dedicated managers like him will be on the City League practice fields help-

Golden Wedding Observed At Open House Reception

The home of Mrs. Bea Herman, 403 West 18th Street, was the scene of a happy gathering one recent afternoon when Mrs. Herman and her daughter, Anna Lea, entertained in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pitts.

The honored couple was celebrating their golden wedding anniversary. Spring flowers were used throughout the house and refreshments of wedding cake and coffee were served to the friends and neighbors from Sanford and Geneva who came to extend congratulations and best wishes to the happy couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Pitts were married in Geneva on March 12, 1913. They resided in that area until recently when they moved to East Second Street in Sanford.

Mrs. Pitts was the former Miss Nevada Grant and her parents were pioneer citizens of the Geneva community. Mr. Pitts was born and reared in Marietta, Ga., and came to Geneva in 1912.

CPO Wives Hold Shipwreck Party

Mrs. Clinton Westbrook and Chief D. F. Siglin won first place prizes at the Shipwreck Party sponsored by the CPO Wives Club, Saturday evening in the NAS Ballroom.

Mrs. Westbrook's costume was made of an old sheet with many tears and patches and tied at the waist line with anchor rope. Chief Siglin in his battered shirt and pants won over the other poorly attired chiefs.

An island complete with palm trees, Spanish moss, fish net, driftwood, and a treasure chest filled with jewelry was created in one area of the ballroom.

Thirty members and their guests dined by candlelight at tables decorated with pine and island flowers. The buffet table covered with sacks held dozens of favorite dishes featuring meats, vegetables, salads, relishes and desserts. After a hearty meal, members played games and danced to the music of the Starlighters in the CPO Club. The limbo attracted the biggest audience and Chief Siglin won the prize for the best limbo artist of the evening. The decorating committee for the event was Mrs. L. H. Driscoll, Mrs. George Miralis, Mrs. Henry Quinn and Mrs. D. F. Siglin.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: The woman who signed herself "OUTRAGED" was right, and you, Dear Abby, were wrong. She was "outraged" because three women she knew were knocking themselves out working in a church basement, trying to appear benevolent, while their own mothers were living out their years in a nursing home. Why defend people who leave their aging parents in care of strangers? Nursing homes are full of lonely old parents whose selfish children want only to forget them.

DEAR ABBY: That letter from "Outraged" enraged me. Has "Outraged" ever had to cope with a senile parent? Has she ever tried to care for someone who had lost control of his bodily functions? Has she ever lived in constant fear that the aged guest in her home would light a cigarette, forget it, and set fire to himself and to the house? Placing one in a nursing home is expensive. It would be a blessing to the senile one as well as to the family. We can't afford it. And if we could, the LAST thing I'd worry about is what people would say.

DEAR ABBY: I believe it was divine providence that the evening I returned home from having placed my dear mother in a nursing home I read that item in your column in which you said, "I cannot know all the reasons daughters place their mothers in nursing homes, and neither can you, Judge not lest ye be judged." Abby, that meant so much to me. My chief concern was what others might think of me. I could never give my mother the medical care in my own home that she required. It was a kindness to put her in a home. Bless you for lifting the burden of guilt from my shoulders.

DEAR ABBY: I would like to ask "Outraged" who she thinks looks after the expense of caring for aged parents in nursing homes? If the professional care they get is not "nursing" for parents, what is? My husband has had his mother in a home for 18 years. She is far happier and better cared for there than she could be in the homes of any of her children.

DEAR ABBY: Children are obligated to care for their parents when they are too old to care for themselves, just as parents are obligated to care for their children when they are too young to care for themselves.

Stop worrying. Write to Abby. For a personal reply enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

A Missouri reader wants to know if I ever have to defend against an unbeatable contract. The answer to his question is that I sure do and the contract makes, but sometimes good defense will keep declarer from an overruff. In rubber bridge that represents a mere 30 points, but in duplicate it is likely to mean the difference between a good score and a bad one.

My son, Jim, opened the ten of hearts. Declarer called for the ace from dummy and I was able to drop the deuce.

The four of spades was led from dummy and Jim let South's king hold the trick. He wanted to give me a

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

"Men want to be babied, petted, and consoled. The ordinary man returns from the office tired and in need of rest. He wants consideration and encouragement." So says the retiring chairman of Chicago Bar Association's committee on marriage law.

It's a kind of stupid, isn't it, for a wife to find the time and energy for every demand her children make, for every kind of social obligation, for every community call, for satisfying her own ambitions—and then not to have enough interest, concern and consideration left over to baby her husband? And it's foolish not to keep him contented, and make the home he works to support a place where he feels his happiness is of supreme importance.

Great-grandma didn't make that mistake. When the man of her family came home tired and in need of rest and consolation, she set about giving him her full attention.

The children were told in no uncertain terms to be quiet and let papa rest. The easy chair was his. The dinner was what he liked to eat, and there wasn't any arguing allowed at the leisurely evening meal.

Today's wives all too often greet a weary husband with a casual "Hi, there" and a demand that the family be taken out for hamburgers because one of her meetings ran overtime, or junior had basketball practice.

Or, she serves a quick meal in the kitchen with the kids jumping up and down to talk on the telephone or rushing through the meal to catch a favorite television show.

"How to Have a Happy Husband," has more thoughtful expression on the subject by Ruth Millett. Send 25 cents to Ruth Millett Reader Service, c/o The Sanford Herald, P. O. Box 489, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 19, N. Y.

7:30-9:30 p.m. NBC. Monday Night at the Movies. "Boy On A Dolphin," starring Sophia Loren, Alan Ladd and Clifton Webb. (Color). This is a beautifully photographed film using ancient Greek mythology, including Delphi, Corinth, Delos and the Acropolis. The "boy" in the title is a statue found in a sunken galleon and declared priceless. Sophia Loren plays the sponge diver who found the art treasure, with Ladd as an honest archaeologist who wants her to make it public property. Webb is excellently cast as the greedy collector trying to get it for himself.

Release Seen For 33 Yanks

HOMESTEAD AFB (UPI) — James B. Donovan, the New York attorney who brought two American prisoners back from Cuba Sunday, said he hopes to gain release of the estimated 33 other Americans held in Cuban jails.

Donovan and the two women whose release he obtained arrived here from Havana on a special plane.

"I am confident that within the next few weeks

I can prove that the nine American skindivers arrested by Cuban Premier Fidel Castro several weeks ago were not saboteurs but were shipwrecked and should be released," Donovan said.

He said "about 35" Americans, including the two women released Sunday and the skindivers, were Castro's prisoners.

The women are Martha O'Neal of Atlanta, Ga., and Orlando, Fla., and Geraldine Shamma, a native of Boston, Mass., and a former New York City resident.

"These are the only two American ladies who were held prisoner," Donovan said.

He said he visited 17 American prisoners on the Isle of Pines, a Cuban offshore island, Saturday afternoon, and talked to others in Havana Sunday. He said he spent three hours talking with the skindivers who were seized last month.

Mrs. O'Neal, who told newsmen she was man-handed at the time of her arrest, said she was taken into custody because Cuban authorities "claimed I had some kind of contacts in Miami."

She said she was given only token legal representation at her trial but was treated "nicely" in prison.

"I'm going to be the best American citizen ever," Mrs. O'Neal said. "I can thank God for this and I can thank Mr. Kennedy, Mr. Donovan and Castro, who let me go."

50, said she owned a home in Cuba before her arrest but has no plans to get it back "because I wouldn't go back for a million dollars."

She said she was arrested in March of 1960 and charged with counter-revolutionary activities.

SENIOR GIRL WING SCOUT TROOP 211 made flying trips last Sunday afternoon as a requirement on the Wing Scouting Analyst Badge and as an Outdoor Activity in observation of National Girl Scout Week. From left, those making the

Wipe-Out Nears For Measles

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government will open the door Tuesday to licensing of two types of measles vaccines aimed at wiping out a disease almost as common to childhood as skinned knees.

Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Anthony J. Celebrezze announced today he would take the final step toward licensing the vaccines by ordering additional standards governing their manufacture to be published Tuesday in the Federal Register.

Although there usually is a 30-day wait after publication of the standards, Celebrezze said this had been waived and the new standards would be effective immediately.

This means that several companies which have been waiting for the final word from the government will be able to begin producing and marketing the vaccines almost immediately.

However, a Public Health Service official said he expected no rush like the one that followed licensing of polio vaccines.

He noted that although they can occur at any time, measles epidemics are most common in the late winter and early spring. This means the most critical period for this year is already past.

Another factor ruling against any stampede for the vaccines is that there is a tendency to consider measles uncomfortable but rarely serious.

This is not an altogether valid belief, however. In 1960, there were 410 deaths from measles while only 260 deaths from polio were reported.

No other disease occurs as frequently among children. Almost every child experiences it as part of his early period of growing up.

The disease frequently is accompanied by complications and they can be serious. The most serious complication is encephalitis, which can leave a child handicapped for life. Pneumonia also often is associated with measles.

Both vaccines stem from the work of Dr. John Enders, a Nobel Prize winner from Harvard University, and an associate, Dr. Thomas Peebles, who isolated a strain of measles virus in 1954.

Rift Splits Council Over Incorporation

Proposed incorporation of Fern Park brought a 4-1 rift in the Town Council of Casselberry Monday evening.

Lund's opposition was based on the argument "I do not want to antagonize the people of Fern Park. We have areas in Casselberry still not included in the town."

Monday evening's meeting was an extension of a session opened March 13 and will be concluded in another special session scheduled for 7 p.m. Thursday evening.

Thursday evening's agenda will be confined to further discussion on a proposed ordinance increasing Casselberry's water rate from $3 to $5.51 for the first 9,000 gallons, with other changes, and on the proposed annexation of the Eastern Shopping Center.

of Altamonte Springs, said this afternoon the Town is not officially on record as opposing the incorporation of Fern Park but "we may do it." He indicated he will "speak my piece at the (Altamonte Springs) Council meeting Wednesday evening."

Proposed incorporation of Fern Park brought a 4-1 rift in the Town Council of Casselberry Monday evening. Leggo raised the question when he pointed out Casselberry is "encompassed by Altamonte Springs, Langwood expand only to the south."

In quick order, Leggo was supported in a motion by Councilmen Louis Woodham, George Howard and C. L. Overman. Town Attorney Kenneth McIntosh requested the Council to make it a unanimous vote of 50. Normally the chairman, Edmund Lund, does not vote ... only to break a tie.
