ANNUAL DINNER TO BE HELD SOON BY TRADE BOARD

Service Concerns To Be Honored For Interest In This County

The Sanford Chamber of Commerce today began to form its plans for its annual banquet, which will be held the night of Feb. 21 at the Hotel Forrest Lake. The date was designated by the officers at a brief meeting last night.

This year's affair will be in honor of the service corporations which do business in Seminole County. The affair will be a recognition of their extensive investments and general interest in Seminole County, according to L. J. Trotter, secretary, who said that all officials of such corporations are expected to be present as the guests of honor. B. J. Holly will serve as toastmaster.

Last year's banquet, the biggest event of its kind ever staged in Sanford, drew an attendance of more than 400. In order to avoid confusion and in an effort to delay the start of the dinner, the date will be limited to 250. Mr. Trotter said. Members of the chamber of commerce and their families are especially invited to be present.

Tourist Motorcade From DeLand Pays Visit To This City

A DeLand motorcade, made up principally of winter visitors to the neighboring city, paid a short visit Thursday afternoon to Sanford. Arriving here shortly after 4 o'clock, the party of 110 was met by Clyde A. Byrd and E. J. Trotter, representing the Chamber of Commerce, and R. J. Holly Sr. and George H. Cairns, representing the business men and city government, respectively.

The visitors were taken on a tour of the East Sanford celebrity delta and then through a short drive over the lake front boulevard. The party was served refreshments through the courtesy of the hotel.

REED ATTACKS KELLOGG PACT AS CONFUSING

Missouri Senator Delivers Swan Song To Close Fight Against Entangling Alliances

Stormy Petrel Is Cautious In Attack

Says Every War In History Could Be Waged Under Pact's Terms

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—(INS)—Senator Reed (D) of Missouri yesterday afternoon warned the Senate that American institutions would be jeopardized and the safety of the nation imperilled by unconditional ratification of the Kellogg-Briand pact.

With his 20 years service in the senate near a close, Reed batted the swan song of his long battle against entangling alliances. He attacked the Kellogg pact as a means of confusing interpretations, declaring the treaty had a number of different interpretations. His appeal to the Senate to give its own interpretation to the treaty and added he would then join in ratifying it.

Every war in history, every life in a defenseless country, he said, could have been waged under the terms of the Kellogg-Briand pact. He attacked Secretary Kellogg, saying he signed the treaty without conferring with the Senate, then invited all the nations of the world to sign it and finally came back to the Senate for approval of his actions.

"What the utterance on Mount Sinai did not accomplish in 4,000 years, failed to bring about in 20 centuries," he said. "We are now about to accomplish with a single stroke of Mr. Kellogg's pen, an idea of imbecility approaching sublimity."

Father And His Son Placed In Jail For Part In Death Fire

ANNISTON, Ala., Jan. 11.—(INS)—Mark and Emanuel Jones, father and son, were in the Calhoun County Jail here today following their arrest in connection with the burning of the home of Albert Gallman near Lincoln street. Eight people lost their lives in the fire. The arrests came as the culmination of an investigation by the state fire marshal's office into the origin of the conflagration.

Density Marshall George King has been here for more than a week awaiting evidence to show that he had any part in the Calhoun County case as a witness against the Joneses for having had them arrested on charges of disturbing public morals.

Legion Head States Army, Navy Justify Existences As Educational Benefits

Paul McNutt Makes Speech At War College Declaring For Cruiser Bill Which Will Improve U. S. Navy

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 (INS)

Paul V. McNutt, national commander of the American Legion, in a speech today at the War College, justified the cruiser bill now pending in the Senate as a necessary peace time adjunct to education. Both the Army and the Navy, he declared, justify their existence as educational institutions for the nation's youth.

WILL OF RICKARD NAMES WIDOW AS HIS LEADING HEIR

Wife Of Deceased Promoter Receives Bulk Of $1,000,000 Estate

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—(INS)—Mrs. Maxine Elliott Rickard, the widow of the late Tex Rickard, inherited the bulk of the millionaire sports promoter's estate by terms of his will made public today. According to Bank Depository records, the estate will amount to $1,000,000. Following is Rickard's will in part:

"In the event my wife, Maxine Elliott Rickard, shall be alive at the time of my death, I give and bequeath to her the sum of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000); my real property located in the state of Florida, and all my personal effects, automobiles, household silverware and chattels of the general character. The provision for the benefit of my wife, Maxine Elliott Rickard, in this paragraph second of my last will and testament, shall be in lieu of dower.

Five Army Fliers Die As Big Plane Crashes

MIDDLETON, Pa., Jan. 11.—(INS)—Five army fliers were killed and three others were seriously injured this afternoon when a trimotor army plane crashed in a field at Middleton, Pa. about a mile east of here shortly after taking off from the Middleton air field.

Two of the injured men were taken to a hospital at Harrisburg while the third flyer was brought here with his legs crushed. According to reports reaching here the accident occurred when the pilot attempted to land in the field after the engines went dead. As the plane struck the earth one engine was damaged and a fire starting the crash so that the flight was ended in tragedy when it crashed.

STEWART WILL FIGHT OUSTER OF JOHN D. JR.

"Fighting Colonel" Is Planning To Contest Drive To Make Him Quit Chairmanship

Wall Street Sees Battle Of Century

Powerful Forces Are Aligning To Settle Important Question

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—(INS)—Col. Robert W. Stewart, called "The Fighting Colonel" is going to live up to his subtitle. Undaunted by the Rockefeller millions and the powerful Rockefeller influence, Col. Stewart plans to fight back with intense vigor the efforts of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., to remove the former from chairmanship of the board of directors of the great Standard Oil Company. Wall Street banks for its own financial battle of the century when forces now being arrayed come to grips.

DIVERSE MOTIVES GIVEN IN WIFE'S PLOT ON HUSBAND

Mrs. Wood Held Belief Her Spouse Intended To Wed Former Love

DETROIT, Jan. 11.—(INS)—Mrs. Grace M. Wood's belief that Ralph A. Wood, 33, wealthy real estate operator, intended to re-marry his first wife will be one of several motives advanced by the state in its prosecution of the middle-aged woman who stands charged with a conspiracy to murder him, it was reported today.

One of the alleged conspirators, Ambrose Haggerty, 35-year-old gunman, was shot to death by Wood and detectives who had been told of a plot by Carl Holt, 28, an accountant, that said Mrs. Wood had hired men to dispose of Ralph, 15 years her junior. A score of officers suspected a gunman when they tried to murder Wood in his little real estate office at Wyandotte.

McCrory Store Will Honor Son Of Owner

Honoring the memory of Van McCrory, son of J. G. McCrory, five and ten cent store magnate, who was accidentally killed several days ago while leading in the parade near Oklawaha, the Standard McCrory store will close tomorrow afternoon between 1:30 and 2:30 o'clock while funeral services are being held at Oklawaha, Fla.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—(INS)—America has 4,888 licensed airplane pilots, the Commerce Department announced today. Thirty-two of them are women. George has 25 licensed pilots.

Los Angeles Again Delays Miami Trip

KEY WEST, Fla., Jan. 11.—(INS)—The dirigible Los Angeles, which took off late yesterday from Port St. Joseph Bay, Fla., to continue its journey from Lakeland, N. J., to Miami, returned to that port at 4:25 o'clock this morning after cruising over several West Florida cities and towns. This was announced today at the headquarters of the seventh naval district here, which is in touch with the Los Angeles. Developments in the weather ship and continued fog and rain on the West Florida Coast caused Commander Rosendahl of the sky Lark to consider it advisable to postpone his visit to Miami and other east coast cities, and to return to Port St. Joseph where the Los Angeles was moored to the U. S. S. "Tatoka."

QUESTION OF RUM FOR MEDICAL USE WILL VEX HOOVER

Administration Must Decide Whether Or Not To Refill Stock

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—(INS)—One vexatious problem of unusually troublesome nature to be inherited by the administration of President-elect Hoover will be the decision as to the resumption of the manufacture of medicinal liquor, it developed at the Treasury today.

According to a report made to Congress by prohibition commissioner J. M. Duran "the question of manufacturing new medicinal whiskey will become a live one within six months or a year."

Demands Spread In Senate For Action To Halt Forgeries

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—(INS)—A growing demand swept the Senate today for some action by the American State Department to stamp out the widespread activities of "forgery factories," which turn out forged documents, attacking nations and prominent citizens.

When the report of its special committee, which investigated sets of forged Mexican and Russian documents, is considered next Monday, the Senate probably will be asked to direct punitive action by the State Department. It was said this government could cooperate with the Russian and French governments in arresting and punishing one group of forgers in Paris, while the Mexican government could be asked to cooperate in jailing another group in Mexico City.

Senator William E. Borah (R) of Idaho, named by several sets of forged documents, recently has initiated a positive action of his own. He announced he had letters steps to have the Russian government intervene and if possible capture the Parisian forgers, who attempted to sell some documents purporting to show he had received $100,000 from the Soviets.

HOOVER VIEWS BIG PARADE OF JOB SEEKERS

President-Elect Hoover He Didn't Know So Many Worthy Men Were Not Employed

Long Line Files Thru His Office

Herb Is Surprised At Acuteness Of Unemployment Situation

By George E. Roberts, International News Service Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Enough recommendations and endorsements to fill a dozen cabinets are piling up on Herbert Hoover's flat topped desk in the Mayflower Hotel, behind which he sits for eight hours daily watching the big parade of visitors file by. The music to which they march might be called the "job hunting bug."

This is a new experience for the President-elect, and an illustration, he is said to have dryly observed to a friend that he had not realized before that "the unemployment situation had become so acute" since he had last been in Washington, nor that there were so many men of outstanding ability available for government service.

This 10-day period, which usually for the week immediately following his inauguration, Mr. Hoover is putting in here in formal collection period, that is, he is saying little and collecting all the information and data available. The real sifting process, weighing and the eliminating will come later, when he leaves the turbulent political atmosphere of the capital behind him and goes to the weak island of the sea, preceding his inauguration, Mr. Hoover's intention was that he will announce some points before leaving for Florida.

Mr. Hoover's departure is expected before Wednesday, Thursday of next week. For the past few weeks he has been here through next Tuesday, and unless Spartan methods are adopted to shut off the tide of incoming visitors it appears not improbable that he will find it impossible to get away before the last of next week.

Try as he will to avoid it, the President-elect is finding himself subjected to the embarrassing presence of a number of state representatives. One of these, and an aggravating one, is in New York where the party leaders paid during the pre-convention fight and continued at length through the campaign. The secretary of the New York state party, who is in the city, is in the city, and the chief of the party, who is in the city, is in the city.

A similar case has cropped up in Tennessee by the name of the secretary of the Tennessee state party, who is in the city, is in the city, and the chief of the party, who is in the city, is in the city.

PROGRAM IS PLANNED The weekly radio and photo-graph sessions will be given during the week of the inauguration, and will be held at the White House.

HOOVER HEARS ENDLESS HINTS AS TO CABINET

five in its new found Republicanism is conducting an energetic drive for cabinet representation. Kentucky Republicans are working in daily relays, presenting the name of Mrs. Alvin T. Hert, vice chairman of the National Committee, who had titular charge of the feminine end of the Hoover campaign. Virginia Republicans have the name of C. Bacon, former minister secretary to President Coolidge, and credited with being the "master mind" of the Hoover campaign in the South.

There are few in Washington who seriously believe that Mrs. Hert stands any chance of a cabinet appointment. Despite the great drive in her behalf, it is felt, there will be any woman in the cabinet. Mrs. Hert may be given an appointment in the Hoover administration, if she wants it, but the betting is that it will not be of cabinet rank.

Hemp would like to be in his cabinet. His resignation as secretary to President Coolidge after the 1924 campaign was attributed to his unwillingness to continue in the administration without promotion in recognition of his services in 1924.

North Carolina, which also went Republican, has a candidate for whom really sincere and high hopes are held. He is Stuart W. Cramer, a cotton manufacturer of Crumpton, N. C., independently wealthy, possessed of a distinguished business and administrative record, and an important cog in the machinery of the Hoover victory in the old north state.

Cramer is a graduate of the Naval Academy, class of '88, and one can hear in Hoover circles that he already has been tentatively selected as secretary of the navy. Cramer is 51 years old. He is a big mill owner, a former president of the American Cotton Manufacturers' Association, was a member of the Council of National Defense during the war, and came into the intimate contact with Mr. Hoover as secretary of commerce on various trade problems affecting the cotton manufacturing industry.

 Design people of Florida to preside over the affairs of the state for the next four years, and in tendering my resignation, I wish to express to you my sincere wish that your administration may be crowned with the greatest success in all respects. Accordingly permit me, as a private citizen, to assure you of my whole-hearted co-operation at all times.
 The governor replied: "I have yours of the eighth in which you very courteously tender your resignation as a member of the State Road Department, taking the high ground that the incoming administration has the right to organize the road department in keeping with its policies. "While I concur in your views as being entirely sound, I must express my deep personal appreciation on the part of all the citizens manifest."

"I am also mindful of your good wishes for the success of the incoming administration. It is through such good will and co-operation on the part of all the citizens that will make Florida a greater state."

"And now, as you return to the pursuits of private life after so many years of public service, I sincerely trust that happiness and prosperity will attend your way."

Mattie Martin, of Crestview, former chamber of commerce secretary, overseas a veteran of the World war, and West Florida campaign manager for Governor Carlton, was installed today as the new chief executive's secretary.

Mr. Martin was one of the most active workers in the campaign for Governor Carlton. He formerly served as secretary for the West Florida Association of Commerce and also in the same capacity for the Crestview Chamber of Commerce.

During the war Mr. Martin organized a company of soldiers and saw service overseas.

The new secretary succeeds Mrs. Beale Gibbs Porter who was secretary to former Gov. John W. Martin. Mrs. Porter retired after having served in the governor's office under four administrations.

Erne, for the past two years, has been fighting around Chattanooga and Nashville, where he met several of the topnotchers in his division. When we were at war the papers shouted for peace and now that we have it, our congress fights like the devil over ways to preserve it. And, as Peter Schaul would claim, "what a life."

Our "Sugar Bowl"

With large headlines proclaiming a new industrial era with the opening of a huge sugar mill at Clewiston, the Florida Times-Union carried a news story Sunday depicting the activities of the Southern Sugar Company in the mucklands of the Everglades. The last time that the name Everglades was impressed upon our minds was in connection with the devastating hurricane which claimed so many lives in that low-lying region. We read accounts then of death and misery which forced us, even though reluctantly, to doubt the practicability of ever cultivating the rich soil which has fired the imagination and lured so many into that wilderness of swamp and glade.

But apparently there are some who will not be stopped by occasional winds that rage, for accounts of the progress made to make Florida the "sugar bowl" of America indicate that unbelievable strides have been taken and that plans for further development are being pushed with unrelenting vigor. Already there is in operation a mill with a grinding capacity of 600 tons of sugar cane per day. Nearing completion is another mill with a 1,500 ton capacity and not far away ground will be broken shortly for a third and larger mill to have a capacity for 2,500 tons per day. All of this is part of an expansion program which contemplates a chain of sugar mills totalling in grinding capacity, 30,000 tons daily.

While this is being written plans are going forward to bring delegations from all Florida and from many northern cities of the country to be on hand next Monday for the first day's operation of the huge new plant. Special trains and automobiles will carry thousands to the little town of Clewiston, rapidly growing to a city of sizable proportions due to the influx of new business interests which naturally follow such an industry as the sugar company is instituting there.

The result of this arrangement to place before the eyes of our visitors, the progress being made in the Everglades will be that those who come and see will carry back to their friends in the North stories of large steel sugar mills, with concrete floors and most modern machinery. And they will tell of the endless expanses of rich muck land and the towering cane growing in it. Thus will the fame of Florida as the "sugar bowl" be spread abroad.

Schwab's Rules For Prosperity

Charles M. Schwab, steel magnate, has given the press ten fundamental principles to create and maintain "lasting prosperity". Mr. Schwab's position as head of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, one of the greatest industrial concerns in the world, and his close study of business conditions throughout the nation add weight to the expression of his opinions as to how prosperity may be achieved. We pass these rules on to our readers for their consideration:

- 1. Pay labor the highest possible wages. Prosperity is intimately related to a liberal wage scale.
2. Treat labor as a business partner. Successful industry depends more on human relations than upon the organization of money and machines.
3. Conduct business in the full light of day. Public confidences and public suspicion may be separated only by a door.
4. Remember that the law of supply and demand is inexorable. And it should also be well to remember that there is no necessity for producing an excess.
5. Live and help live. Even prosperous industries cannot afford to help the backward industries too far behind the procession—prosperity to be permanent must be equally distributed.
6. Welcome new ideas. To establish permanent institutions we must always be prepared for change.
7. Never be satisfied that what has been achieved is sufficient. Smugness and complacency do not promote progress.
8. Operate business on the most economical basis. Priced cutting, overexpansion, uneconomical methods of distribution are just as harmful to business and to the public as price-fixing, monopolies and rebates.
9. Look ahead and think ahead. It is easier to avoid depressions than it is to cure them.
10. Smile, be cheerful and work upon the basis that the fundamental purpose of business is to promote the happiness of human beings.

THE STREET'S BIGGEST YEAR

Amid a shower of confetti and ticker tape, and with cheers and songs drowning out the orchestra imported for the occasion, the floor traders on the stock exchange celebrated the final business hour of 1928. They had good reason to celebrate. They were witnessing the passing of the greatest year in the history of Wall street speculation. The year was closing, too, with the stock market averages standing at the highest point for all time. The sharp slump in prices which had occurred on December 1 had been cancelled by the subsequent gain up to and including December 31. And with the turn of the year bondholders and shareholders would receive a billion and a half more in interests and dividends, much of which would presently be seeking reinvestment. What matter, then, 19 per cent pay that price when their pet stocks are bounding upward. What matter the country's loss of half a billion of its gold? It had more gold than was good for it anyway. What matter the billion and a half increase in brokers' loans? Nothing matters so long as stocks keep going up. So why bother trying to read the handwriting on the wall, why grate of yields on investments and economic law? The market is now its own law. The forces behind its advances are irresistible. The rise will go on indefinitely unless, of course, a pin pricks the bubble.

THE NEW FARM AID BILL

The pending farm aid bill, which the present Congress had to reauthorize the approval of the President, is a revised version of the original bill introduced by Mr. Clegg in the House in 1927. It is a bill which will be passed by the President. The bill provides for a fund of $100,000,000 to be administered by a board of directors. The board is to be composed of representatives of the various agricultural interests. The bill also provides for the establishment of a fund of $100,000,000 to be administered by a board of directors. This Afternoon by JOHN TEMPLE GRAVES II

"Some are born great; some achieve greatness; and some have greatness thrust upon them." The thrust is an interesting comment on those who do the thrusting. A man's idea of greatness is in some respects a measure of the man himself. Particularly if he has claims to a greatness of his own.

Who is the greatest living Floridian? Whoever he is he will have to die before the decision is made final in his favor. Meanwhile some distinguished Floridians discuss him.

President John J. Tigert of the University of Florida thinks the greatest living Floridian is Senator Duncan U. Fletcher. But Senator Fletcher disagrees. He nominates Judge J. B. Whitfield.

Mayor John Alsup of Jacksonville thinks the greatest Floridian is Marcus Fagn. Dr. W. A. MacKenzie, light of Leesburg, thinks so too, although he adds that "intellectually" Peter O. Knight is the greatest and "educationally" Hamilton Holt of Rollins College is.

Dr. Holt, however, does not see eye to eye with Dr. MacKenzie on this. Without any qualifications at all he names Ruth Bryan Owen. Mrs. Owen herself gracefully reserves opinion. "I would honestly be afraid to try to name the greatest living Floridian," she says. "I distrust my judgment and my information. Somehow one knows as much about certain individuals and so little about many others."

Gilchrist Stockton of Jacksonville nominates Major General Charles P. Sumner, chief of staff of the United States army. Peter O. Knight changes the subject. Ex-governor Martin says he is very busy. So is Fona Hathaway. Mayor D. B. McKay of Tampa says ex-Congressman Stephen M. Sparshorn is the greatest.

"The Flamingo," says William J. Howey, long candidate for governor. "But if you mean who is the greatest living man in Florida, then I will say the mayor of any city and if that is but half the truth then the secretary of most any chamber of commerce." We were too far away to notice whether Mr. Howey had his tongue in his cheek.

"For contemporaneous greatness," says Opie Read cryptically, "we consult our own predilections." If we get Opie right we hope he means Opie Read.

If it is true that in matters of greatness the public proposes but the newspaperman disposes, then Major General Sumner will win for both Editor Roland Dean of the Sanford Herald and Editor Gilbert Leach of the Leesburg Commercial name him (fantastically) as did Gilchrist Stockton. Editor E. D. Lambright of the Tampa Tribune, however, dissent. The greatest living Floridian he swears, is Mrs. E. D. Lambright. Noting which, other distinguished gentlemen who have answered our question in no such spirit of domestic appreciation (or servitude) will doubtless wish to withdraw their nominations or banish this column from their homes and firesides.

Editor Leach, while naming General Sumner as the greatest known Floridian, adds an aside to which we patriotically subscribe. "The greatest living Floridian," he says, "is like the unknown soldier. Of conspicuous men there are plenty but as I know nearly all of them and know which foot is right, I can name none of them as the greatest living Floridian. Somewhere, possibly in obscurity there lives a man of destiny and in good time we may discover who he is."

This gives everybody a chance. We don't know who the greatest living Floridian is but we think the greatest living Floridian is probably Gilbert Leach. Others, however, are still to be heard.

contributions, its efficacy depending on the intelligence and frankness of the man with which the fund would be administered. It is, at least, a definite step toward heading the widespread rumor by the farmers in the recent presidential campaign. If this or a similar measure is not enacted by the present Congress, President-elect Hoover's campaign to call a

"MY BONNIE LIES OVER THE OCEAN"

BAGASSE STATE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE The sugar mill of the Southern Sugar Company at Clewiston, one of the industries established in Florida during 1927 by capitalists who see in the state a golden opportunity for investment. An area which produces sugar cane 12 inches in diameter and in quantities of 30 tons per acre simply was too good to be overlooked. The sugar mill is that erected at Clewiston several years ago by the Pennsylvania Sugar Company, but never operated. The Southern Sugar Company, headed by Bryon G. Dahlberg, and a group of associates interested in the Clewiston Company, of Chicago, purchased the mill and moved it to Clewiston. The plant is capable of handling 1,000 tons of sugar cane daily, and with a capacity for the daily production of 150 tons of raw sugar. The concern owns a smaller mill near Canal Point, which has been in operation several years and to provide railroad connection between the two plants, and their surrounding plantations, the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad and the Florida East Coast Railway are bridging the gap between Clewiston and Canal Point. The former has built eastward from Clewiston to the Miami Canal, while the latter is extending its line from Clewiston southward to the canal to meet the Coast Line and form a connection. Contrary to the general practice sugar, with this concern, will be a by-product. The Clewiston Company is the only concern in the world manufacturing wall board from bagasse, or crushed sugar cane stalks, until the perfection of the Clewiston process a waste product. The announced plans of Mr. Dahlberg and his associates provide for the erection of a clewiston plant at Clewiston. The sugar mill instead of being solely for the purpose of producing sugar, therefore has in reality been established to provide a supply of raw material for Clewiston and the sugar will be a by-product. Bagasse can be preserved indefinitely and since a clewiston plant would operate continuously while the sugar mill would be in operation only a few months each year, it will be necessary to provide an enormous quantity of bagasse before the erection and operation of a clewiston plant can be undertaken. All that saves Paraguay and Bolivia from revolution is that they are too inland for the Marines. — St. Paul Dispatch. A college girl must suffer when one's so unpoplar she must spend part of her vacation at home.—Rochester Times-Union. Also it is the view of modern life, that parents should be seen and not heard.—D-Land News.

Flu Epidemic Is Creating Record Demand For Vicks

275,000 Jars Every 24 Hours Needed to Keep the Nation Supplied with Vapor-Salve

Flu is Milder But Widespread That the public has not forgotten the lesson of 1918 is indicated by the prompt response to the warning of health authorities to combat the flu by keeping free from colds.

The demand for Vicks Vapor-Rub, the vaporizing salve which proved so valuable during the 1918 epidemic, has already shifted to a wide margin all previous records.

Although the capacity of the Vicks laboratories has been tripled since 1918, they are once more operating night shifts to meet the national emergency.

The present output of more than 275,000 jars a day almost averages the imagination. It means that every 60 seconds, day and night, over 2,600 jars of nation's colds and help ward off Vicks are going out to check the flu.

Mid-though it is in comparison with 1918, this year's epidemic has already affected more than a million persons, and it is apparently still increasing. (adv.)
