Circus Midget Is Placed On Morgan's Lap During Hearing

Financier Takes Joke Good Naturally But Grows Stern When Pictures Are Taken

WASHINGTON, June 1.—(A.P.)—A potential profit of $122,508,000 for the J. P. Morgan and Company in 1929 if it had sold securities received by it in forming the United Corporation, utilities stockholders concern, was outlined by the Senate committee by George Whitney, partner in the firm.

Evidence was also presented that the company's utility stockholders under an accounting system used which some of its gains could be distributed as "taxable dividends" and not as "taxable dividends."

This phase of the inquiry was reached after it had been decided by an 11 to three vote in a closed session of the committee to make public the Morgan partnership agreement save for the names of the present partners and the percentages of their interests.

Morgan had the surprise of his life today when Miss Lynn Graf, circus midget, piloted by an entertaining prose agent, came in the room and shook hands with the financier.

Then suddenly the press agent placed the midget on Morgan's lap. He looked non-plussed but submitted gracefully at the start. Soon his face became stern as pictures were taken.

Notified of the incident the committee warned the photographers that if the photographs are used those taking them will be barred from future hearings.

After once being on Morgan's lap the midget slid slowly down and then crawled back. Spectators roared with laughter and before long Morgan was back in a good humor again and chatting with his partners.

It will be remembered that Senator Glass complaining against the hearing procedure, said it was like a circus. "All we need is some pink tulle and a few balloons in the Senate chamber," he said.

Development in the Senate committee investigation of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. yesterday included:

A third list of Morgan favored customers was made public. It showed prominent names that had been on other lists, among them those of William H. Wood, John J. Raabok and Norman H. Davis. Two new names were those of Oscar Richard, a friend of former President Hoover, and the firm of Senator Keen, Republican, New Jersey, a member of the committee.

The firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. sold approximately 200,000 shares of the more than 1,000,000 shares warrants it obtained from United Corporation at $1 a share at prices ranging from $40 to $41 in 1929.

George Whitney, Morgan partner, said the parceling out of bonds to select customers at bargain prices was in effect an underwriting transaction. He said he did not give that explanation during his testimony last week but (Continued On Page Three)

WOMEN TELL OF EXPERIENCES AS BULLET SHIELDS

Were Seized By Convicts In Effort To Outwit Pursuers

KANSAS CITY, June 1.—(A.P.)—The terror of three women kidnaped on a highway and used as "bullet shields" by convicts fleeing from the Kansas penitentiary was described yesterday by 17-year-old Louise Wood. "I'm still scared to death," she said, but recalled that her fright was mixed with embarrassment at having been abducted in her bare feet. Riding along in the family car had removed her shoes because of a blister. Yesterday she regretted the loss of a pair of silk stockings, still in the convict's possession.

"About two miles from Lansing a car drove alongside of our machine Tuesday morning," she said. "Five armed men jumped from the automobile and I knew we were in for trouble."

"Get out of that car," exclaimed the one who seemed to be the leader. Then one of them grabbed Daddy and dragged him to the ground.

Miss Wood, her mother, Mrs. M. J. Wood and her 17-year-old child, Miss Marie Wood, started to leave the car, but the convict leader thrust them back and the convicts entered the sedan. M. J. Wood, the father, was left behind.

"As we drove away a car filled with armed guards approached," said Miss Wood.

"We saw the guards, knew we were to be used to shield their (Continued on Page Two)

Agreement Made To Transfer Levy On Electricity Use

WASHINGTON, June 1.—(A.P.)—An agreement between House and Senate conferees to transfer the three percent electricity levy from the consumer to the producer yesterday brought the gasoline tax and postal reduction measure within sight of the White House.

Breaking a three weeks' deadlock, the Senate conferees receded from their demand for a two percent tax on products of domestic and commercial electrical energy and a one percent levy on industrial consumers.

Residence being designed to bring in $188,000,000 in revenue by extending the one cent a gallon gasoline tax a year from June 30, the bill grants authority to President Roosevelt to increase or decrease all postage rates within certain limits.

The measure continues in operation the gasoline tax which under the public works industry bill will be increased to one and three-quarter cents a gallon.

Under yesterday's agreement the electricity tax transfer will take effect Sept. 1, allowing power producers time in which to appeal to state utility commissions for increases in rates to meet the tax charges.

Many Strawberries Picked From Field

Two thousand five hundred quarts of strawberries called Missionary strawberries plants were picked from the quarter acre field cultivated by J. T. Jones, veteran Lake Monroe grower during the past season, it was reported today by Mr. Jones while visiting the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce office.

Mr. Jones stated that he has had many favorable comments on the size and quality of the berries that he has grown, and that he has a new and similar soil against him for approximately $400,000 was filed.

U. S. BUSINESS SHOWING GAINS ON ALL SIDES

Widespread Reports Of Improved Conditions Are Recited By Secretary Roper

WASHINGTON, June 1.—(A.P.)—Widespread reports of brighter business were announced yesterday by Secretary Roper as the Senate finance committee pushed consideration of the national recovery bill, designed to increase governmental contribution to the revival of industry.

Chairman Harrison of the committee said the administration's industrial regulation-public works bill carrying $3,000,000,000 for construction projects would be before the Senate for debate on Monday with the full weight of the White House influence behind immediate enactment.

Some amendments, both in the tax provisions and the sections relating to the regulation of industry through an administrative board, are expected in the Senate, necessitating further consideration by the House.

The Senate approved the Wagner-Peyser bill to establish a new federal employment service to cooperate with states in placing workers was given legislative preference in the house by its rules committee.

The bill, drawn to conform to the views of Secretary Frances Perkins, is expected by her to permit an easy spread of employment, particularly in the public works project.

Assurance that conditions in many industries have improved in recent weeks was recited by Secretary Roper in response to an invitation from him to 127 trade associations to submit "facts and comparative opinions."

Mostly the upward trends reported were slight, with increased employment accompanying the rise in commodity prices and greater sales of merchandise. Several industrial leaders expressed a hope that the "partnership" between the government and business under the industrial regulation bill would be hastened.

Industries in which a pickup was announced by the secretary of commerce included leather, wool, cotton-textile, electrical appliances, automobiles, office equipment, furniture, paint, steel, yard goods and metal packing.

The pending industrial regulation legislation brought plans for three meetings to be held here within the next five days.

Atlantic National To Observe Holiday

Saturday being a Southern holiday in that Jefferson Davis birthday will be observed, the Sanford-Atlantic National Bank will not be open for business.

Merchants, growers and manufacturers therefore are urged to visit the bank tomorrow if they need money for payrolls or change, while all other transactions that are scheduled for attention Saturday should be disposed of tomorrow as well.

Bank officers and clerks will take advantage of the holiday to remove records, currency, and all furniture and fixtures into the former First National Bank at First Street and Park Avenue.

Workmen today were erecting a new sign over the entrance to the new banking quarters, while other workmen were completing paint work. Representatives of the Mutual Safe Co. also were here today checking up on the mechanism of the lock on the huge money vault and the smaller lock on the safety deposit vault.

Accused Cuban Army Officer Will Leave

HAVANA, June 1.—(A.P.)—Major Arsenio Ortiz, Cuban army officer accused of killing three watchmen at a sugar mill in Jathibon Province two weeks ago, will leave for Germany June 11 according to authentic sources.

The officer remained under orders of the general staff because investigators report they fired the shynage on him although he had not been removed from the army or placed under arrest. The government plans to send him to Germany where he married a girl five years younger than he, it was learned. He was guarded at his home against a possible attack.

SUIT DISMISSED

BEKINGTON, Ky., June 1.—(A.P.)—A suit against Col. E. R. Bradley for more than $3,000,000 charged for delinquent taxes, was dismissed yesterday in Fayette county court, and soon thereafter a new and similar suit against him for approximately $400,000 was filed.

RATIFIES REPEAL

YONKON, June 1.—New Jersey ratified formally today the proposed constitutional amendment to repeal prohibition. The vote was 500 to 2.

Democratic Leaders Back President's Economics In Veterans' Compensations

WASHINGTON, June 1.—(A.P.)—Numerous protests at the bite taken out of veterans' benefits by the National economy act brought Democratic leaders to the defense of the President in the Senate yesterday with an appeal to opponents to aid him in correcting injustices in regulations.

Despite demands for repeal of the act or at least limitations on reductions, Democrats in charge of the $543,000,000 independent office bill, which is almost in half, current appropriations for veterans, predicted its passage today, with perhaps a few dissenting amendments.

One such amendment was approved yesterday—that of Senator Black (D., Ala.) boosting the hospital fund by $1,000,000 for treatment of disabled former servicemen who cannot trace their injuries in service.

Senator Byrnes (D., S. C.), in charge of the bill, reiterated yesterday that the President had ordered revisions upward in the combat-wounded compensations and was selecting a committee to visit hospitals and report any injustices.

He said there was a chance for adopting amendments by Senator Cutting (R., N. M.), limiting cuts for service-connected injuries to 25 percent and by Senator Dyer (D., Wash.) making the same limit on reductions in pensions of Spanish War veterans over 62, but said (Continued on Page Four)

CAPONE LOSES LEGAL BATTLE FOR FREEDOM

U. S. Circuit Court In Atlanta Confirms Lower Court Action

NEW ORLEANS, June 1.—(A.P.)—The legal battle of Al Capone, Chicago gangster, to obtain immediate freedom from the Atlanta penitentiary where he is serving ten years for evading income taxes, failed yesterday when the United States Circuit Court of Appeals here affirmed the Atlanta District Court in dismissing a petition for a writ of habeas corpus.

Since Capone's conviction in the Chicago District Court in 1931, his attorneys have fought to gain his freedom, and in the present court action it was indicated they will carry the litigation to the United States Supreme Court, should the Circuit Court deny these a rehearing.

In the petition for a writ of habeas corpus, Capone's attorneys contended the Chicago court which convicted him was without jurisdiction because a three years' statute of limitations had expired before he was indicted. That court held that the six years' statute of limitations governed the case because the indictment charged that the government had been defrauded.

"It is not shown by the record before us," the appellate opinion handed down yesterday said, "that the judgment assailed is void, or that the court was without jurisdiction. On habeas corpus we have no right or authority to examine or consider the evidence on which that judgment was based."

Capone recently completed the first year of his ten-year sentence. He was convicted at Chicago of violating the federal income tax laws in 1926, 1927 and 1928. His indictment was filed June 5, 1931.

The Chicago court conviction was affirmed by the United States Court of Appeals for that circuit, the United States Supreme Court subsequently denied a certiorari. After his incarceration, Capone late last year started his attempt to gain release from prison on a habeas corpus and his failure in the Atlanta court brought the case here on appeal.

counsel for Capone contended that in the Scharton case in Massachusetts, which they claimed was similar to the Capone case, the United States Supreme Court had affirmed the dismissal of the government's case but the Appellate court yesterday held that opinion does not apply in an action on a writ of habeas corpus.

RESOLUTION FOR PROBE OF RITTER GAINS APPROVAL

Investigation Of Federal Judge Is Being Sought By Wilcox

WASHINGTON, June 1.—(A.P.)—Congressional investigation of the official conduct of Federal Judge Halstead I. Ritter of the Southern Florida district will be made by a resolution approved yesterday by the House Judiciary committee.

The committee approved the resolution unanimously. Chairman Sumners, Democrat, Texas said it would be submitted soon to the House for action.

Introduced this week by Representative Wilcox, Democrat, Florida, who said his action was a result of numerous complaints against the judge, the resolution directs that the judiciary committee make the inquiry and report its findings in the House with such resolution of impeachment or other recommendation as it deems proper.

Wilcox is one of those who appeared before the committee in executive session yesterday, explained his only interest in the case was in having a full hearing on all the circumstances.

Those who appeared before the committee included Charlie A. Russell, former solicitor of the power commission, who recently was engaged as chief counsel for the city of Miami in an electric rate case before Judge Ritter's court; John Murray, Miami attorney, and Walter Lerner of Palm Beach, Judge Ritter lived at Palm Beach before moving to Miami.

Representatives Green, Democrat, Florida, also took part in the executive session.

The investigation resolution authorized the judiciary committee, as a whole or by sub-committee, to inquire into and investigate Judge Ritter's official conduct to determine whether in the opinion of said committee he has been guilty of any high crime or misdemeanor which in the contemplation of the constitution requires the interference of the constitutional powers of the House.

The committee is authorized to sit in the case, while the House is in session or during recess, in Washington or elsewhere. Expenses not exceeding $5000 would be authorized for the inquiry.

Although specific charges against Judge Ritter have not been made public, Wilcox said there had been "numerous rumors, complaints and charges against Judge Ritter, in which he has been accused of misconduct and conduct unbecoming to a judge and of violating his oath of office." Wilcox said these had been made by responsible members of the bar and citizens of the state.

Wealthy Doctor Shoots Banker In 8-Year-Old Feud

PASADENA, Calif., June 1.—(A.P.)—Dr. H. M. Griffith, specialist and formerly wealthy property owner, shot M. Vilas Hubbard, bank vice president, three times after having mailed him a death threat in an eight-year feud over a property deal.

Hubbard fired four shots in return.

The shooting on the front porch of the mansion of W. H. Hubbard, father of the victim, disclosed, police said, an apparent plan of Dr. Griffith to tie the younger Hubbard with wire and force him into a settlement with threats of a "phosphorus" bomb, which was found, unexploded, at the house.

Police said Dr. Griffith went to the Hubbard residence, tied up a negro maid, summoned S. E. Marshall, who holds a mortgage on the Hubbard house, and then forced him at a pistol point to summon the younger Hubbard by telephone.

Dr. Griffith met the younger Hubbard at the front door and opened fire. One of his bullets blew out the tire of a passing truck, the driver of which rushed to the porch and disarmed Dr. Griffith.

Dr. Griffith eye, ear, nose and throat specialist and member of the army medical corps in the World War, was booked on a charge of suspicion of attempted murder. He may be given a sanity examination, police said.

Fugitive Convicts Still Being Sought

MCALISTER, Okla., June 1.—(A.P.)—Fugitives from two state prisons were still being hunted today in southwestern states.

Violence flared at scattered points along the route of 11 convicts who fled in two groups from the Kansas state prison at Lansing Tuesday and the route of two killers who fled the Oklahoma prison yesterday holding a guard as hostage.

It is believed all the fugitive convicts are heading for the Ozark mountains where Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Missouri converge.

Officers believe the Kansas convict killed Night Policeman Otto Durkin at Chetopa, Kansas yesterday.

Canned Goods To Be On Exhibit At Fair

Among the many attractions in the Florida Hall of the Court of States at the Century of Progress Exposition in Chicago are Seminole County products in the form of marmalades, jellies, preserves, and canned grapefruit.

The marmalades were put up by S. P. Smith of Geneva, whose miniature factory is a business of activity. The grapefruit was canned in Sanford at the Eckman plant. Both displays were arranged by the local trade body.

DELEGATION TO LONDON MEET BEGINS VOYAGE

Members Determined To Reach International Agreement Quickly As Possible

ABOARD S. S. PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT WITH AMERICAN DELEGATION TO LONDON ECONOMIC CONFERENCE, June 1.—(A.P.)—A determination to reach an international agreement by early August was expressed yesterday by members of the American delegation to the world monetary and economic conference as they sailed for London.

"Our delegation naturally is keeping expressly in mind the purposes expressed by the President a number of times, to the effect that it is earnestly hoped the London economic conference will be able to conclude its work within eight weeks," said Secretary of State Hull, delegation chairman.

"Especially we hope this, as it relates to a program dealing with the fundamentals of the economic situation. The crisis in all countries is sufficiently great and urgent to make six or eight weeks of conference extremely imperative, rather than a long drawn out one."

Sailing on the President Roosevelt with Secretary Hull were three other delegates, Ralph W. Morrison of San Antonio, Texas; Senator Pittman of Nevada, and Representative McRaymond of Tennessee, together with 43 advisers and stenographers and 13 relatives.

The remaining two delegates—former Gov. James M. Cox, of Ohio, and Senator Couzens, of Michigan—will take later boats. (Continued On Page Five)

Police Plane Picks Up 2 Men Fleeing From Stolen Craft

NEW YORK, June 1.—(A.P.)—One airplane circled low over a dingy, a police amphibian alighted in Jamaica Bay yesterday and picked up two men fleeing from a stolen 43-foot yacht.

In the plane that hovered over the dingy was Russell Garretson, son of New Brunswick, N. J., owner of the yacht.

After his failure to locate the yacht by boat, Garretson charged a plane early yesterday, flew in the fog over New York harbor and neighboring water fronts and spotted his cruiser while swooping low over Jamaica Bay.

He called a police plane to the rescue. The two captured men told police they were George Morris, owner of Jersey City, and Phillip Calment, of Brooklyn. Morris, whose name he knew Garretson claimed he had received permission to use the yacht.

The two men were held pending further word from Garretson.

Camp Applications Are Being Accepted

Mrs. Gladys Morris today announced that she now will accept applications for admittance to Camp Weva, for girls, over which she will be director during the five-day period beginning July 3.

Girls between the ages of eight and 18 years are invited to attend this camp. All outdoor sports will be made available for the girls who will find their five-day vacation period crowded with activities from morning until night.

Transportation will be furnished both to and from the camp, she added, and the 1933 rate for each girl has been reduced to a low figure. Further details may be had from Mrs. Morris.

LOCAL BILL PASSED

The Florida Senate, meeting in a special local bills session last night, passed House Bill No. 1400, providing for the cancellation of tax certificates on the Seminole 'Odd Fellows' Home, and providing for the future exemption of the property from further taxation.

WASHINGTON POST SOLD

WASHINGTON, June 1.—(A.P.)—The Washington Post was sold to public auction today for $1,000,000 to George E. Hamilton, Washington attorney, who declined to make public whom he represented.

House And Senate Can't Agree Upon Legislative Action

Appropriations Bill, County Fee Measure Cause Deadlock Over Differences

TALLAHASSEE, June 1.—(A.P.)—The Senate today refused to concur in the House amendments to the general appropriations bill and to the county fee bill sending both measures back to the House with the request that the latter recede from the changes.

Should the House decline to recede, and it was expected it will do so, both bills will be sent to joint conference committee for an adjustment of differences.

The Senate passed an appropriations bill calling for expenditures of $9,096,053 annually for general operation of the state government.

The House struck out everything but the enacting clause and inserted its own provisions with a total appropriation of $6,163,994 annually. The differences between the measures are greater than the totals indicated.

The Senate passed the county fee bill reducing fees to be charged by county offices and officers in some instances as much as 60 percent exempting counties having a population of not more than 10,000. The House struck this exemption clause from the measure.

The Senate accepted the House amendments to the Futch bill allowing a moratorium on delinquent tax payments if current taxes are paid and efforts are made to adjust back payments.

After a long debate characterized by a "fight between the railroads and buses and trucks," the House passed $8 to $1 a bill to permit railroads to operate trucks and buses on 80-mile-hour parallel to their lines.

After the House refused to recede from its amendments to the appropriations bill, the measure was sent to a joint conference committee. There was a strong probability that the automobile bill and the county fee measure also will be sent to a conference committee.

WALKER'S FISCAL AGENT REPORTED BACK IN GOTHAM

NEW YORK, June 1.—(A.P.)—The New York American in a copyrighted story last night says Russell T. Sherwood, reputed fiscal agent for former Mayor James J. Walker, is back. He disappeared 21 months ago.

"The long missing accountant, whose disappearance was a sensation in the Seabury investigation," said the American, "has returned to settle his affairs with the federal government and the New York Supreme Court."

"His whereabouts have been ascertained by the New York American. He submitted Tuesday to a long interview by representatives of this newspaper in the presence of his attorney."

In his testimony during the Hofstadter investigation of New York City government, Walker denied Sherwood had acted as his fiscal agent for other than routine transactions.

The paper said the interview with Sherwood developed the following phases of the case:

Sherwood met Walker secretly after the Mayor resigned and just before Walker sailed on his present visit abroad.

His explanation to the government and to the State Supreme Court is expected to be that he never received one penny of any sums withdrawn from Walker.

He never was Walker's fiscal agent, never was paid any salary by Walker, but carried on for him activities previously handled by the mayor's brother, the late George Walker.

For several months Sherwood has been living with his wife in a neighboring state.

Walker did not order or request his disappearance. He went away voluntarily, out of loyalty to the mayor and because he believed the investigation would pry into Walker's private affairs, and he has returned voluntarily.

A bogus Russell T. Sherwood has been working a confidence game on attorneys of the Ho-Ho and West and has tried to extort large sums from Sherwood's sisters.

MINI'S VENUE FOR TODAY MAKE YOUR CHOICE Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal: But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal: For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.—Matthew 6: 19-21.

Even the most optimistic are gradually joining the consensus of public opinion that this is just another Legislature. Uncle Sam votes to allow foreign debtors to pay their obligations to this country in U. S. paper currency. Wonder if we are going to allow them to print it too.

It might be possible for Mr. Roosevelt to secure a secretary of the treasury who had never had any connection with J. P. Morgan & Co., but, looking over the list again, we doubt if he would be anybody we had ever heard of before.

President Roosevelt had an awful job finding a Republican he could appoint to the American delegation to the London conference. Since the change of Administration, very few Republicans could afford to go.

The state house and senate vote no aid in school funds in spite of Governor Sholtz's insistence that he will veto any bill which doesn't cut them at least $2,000,000. The Legislature has put it squarely up to the Governor. If there is to be any economy, he will have to be responsible for it.

Commander Rosendahl, who once commanded the Akron and was second in command on the Shenandoah when it cracked up, testified that if he had been commanding the Akron on its last voyage that he would have taken a different course from that ruinously pursued by Commander McCord. Of course he would, knowing what he knows now. But Commander McCord didn't have the advantage of afterthought.

The Tampa Tribune congratulates the Times-Union on its powerful and fearless editorial on the present session of the Legislature. "The Florida Legislature of 1933," proclaimed the T-U, "is unquestionably composed of representatives assembled from every part of the commonwealth." It is refreshing in these days of journalistic demagoguery and capitalistic propaganda to see such forthright expression of independent thought.

A clipping from Sunday Anderson, now in Aberdeen, shows how it is done by newspapermen. The story is told by the editor of the Athens (Tenn.) Post Athenian, as follows: "I attribute my ability to retire with a $100,000 bank balance, after 30 years in the newspaper field to close application to my acquiring a policy of strict economy, always practicing rigorous rules of economy, and to the recent death of my uncle, who left me $25,000."

If you want to know how effectively the income tax works in this country, study these figures. According to a report by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, only $100,000 individuals paid income tax returns in 1931. Of these, only 1,480,000 out of a total population of about 60,000,000 actually paid any tax. In the year 1932, only 1,480,000 paid any tax. They have been estimated to have been paid by persons with incomes of less than $5,000.

Practical Experience

With the idea that the place for students to learn farming is "down on the farm", the Teachers College of Columbia University has established a 1900-acre farm called New College Camp. It is situated in Waynesville, N. C. several hundred miles from the University's seat of learning in New York City.

Organized as part of an educational plan which seeks to provide undergraduates with first hand knowledge of community administration and farming, the farm will represent the self-supporting community and will be operated almost entirely by the students themselves.

Sixty students who have completed their first year's work have already left for the scene where they will take up the many-sided work in connection with the experiment which is under the direction of a corps of able professors.

The young men and women will be expected to carry on all the phases of farming, to feed and milk the cows, to look after the poultry, and to raise the food which is eaten. There will be plenty of work, both physical and mental and after four months of intensive effort the students, it is believed, will have a much better knowledge of farm life and management.

Another unique feature of the Teachers College curriculum is the provision for a year's foreign travel. This experience is calculated to be beneficial along the line that actual contact with other peoples, the observance of their habits and customs, their mode of life will be a broadening influence tending to increase one's usefulness.

This tendency at practical experience in educational matters is not, however, a substitution for books. The printed word is still an able teacher and will always remain so, but it is well not to allow books to dominate all learning completely, for one-sidedness is not calculated to give one the most out of life.

Don'ts In The Home

Time was when a Japanese woman, upon the death of her husband, performed the rites of har-kari, that is, she swallowed a long slender knife, and joined him in the happy hunting grounds, or wherever it is that Japs go after they die.

More recently, however, the women over there have apparently come under the spell of American influence. They are beginning to assert in no uncertain terms their rights in the home. They not only don't commit har-kari, they marry someone else. And judging from the following list of don'ts prepared for young Japanese husbands, and published recently in Fajokai, a woman's magazine, they are about ready to tell their husbands where to get off.

"Don't be a killjoy all your life. Crack a joke once in a while, even if it isn't very funny. Why confine your wisecracks to your friends?"

"Don't crack your chopsticks against the bowl while eating. You're apt to get on your wife's nerves.

"Don't ignore her wishes. If she suggests that you go together to a department store, go, even though you can think of nothing quite so boring. On the way back, stop for something to eat or drink. She'll like that.

"No matter how much you love your wife, give her a vacation from you now and then.

"If she happens to look pretty, don't forget to tell her so. If she isn't particularly pretty, tell her so, anyhow.

"Don't forget her birthday. Stage a little celebration of it each year.

"Don't reprimand her bitterly when she has simply forgotten to sew a missing button on your clothes. She'll snap back at you, and then something is bound to happen.

"Never lie to your wife.

"Remember that your wife has a right to an opinion, too."

SANFORD, TWENTY YEARS AGO

Among those winning prizes at the Sanford picnic at DeLeon Springs last week were: R. Holly, Harry Kanner, Fats Tillis, Israel Kanner, J. D. Woodruff, Collie Bieggers, Harry Washburn, Griffin Berring and Ray Maxwell.

The convention of the National Association of Postoffice Clerks held here Thursday and Friday of last week was most successful in every way and not only did the clerks have a good business meeting but the social features were all that could be desired.

Among the delegates from Sanford in attendance were: Miss Mary L. McJeller, Miss Eva Grim, R. A. Terhune, D. S. Babity, Mrs. and M. L. Wright.

Colonel Theodore Roosevelt won his libel suit against George A. Newell, who charged the Colonel with drunkenness, and having waived damages after defendants had attested a retraction the jury awarded the nominal charges of six cents provided in such cases by the laws of Michigan. Each party to the suit will have to pay his own expenses.

Dr. and Mrs. J. N. Robson have returned from South Carolina where they were called by the serious illness of relatives. Mrs. M. Martin left yesterday for Highlands, N. C. where she will open her summer hotel in the mountains. Comfort Cottage will open in the early fall as usual.

At a recent meeting of the city council the matter of floating additional bonds to take up some of the outstanding debts, build more streets, and make other improvements was taken up and the matter will be brought to the attention of the taxpayers at an early date. Sanford is growing so fast that these improvements must be made and to bond for improvement and cancel general debts, thereby saving interest, is nothing but the best of good judgment. There will be no opposition to the bonding plan if the matter is fully explained to the taxpayers in advance.

Two of them guarded us while the rest of them went to a farmhouse. They returned soon with another car. Then we were taken to the farmhouse. She described how Mrs. William New at the farm house was forced to cook a meal for the convicts and their hostages. "I was scared but I was hungry, too, and I ate a hearty meal of bacon and eggs, and all the rest of us."

The girl said Mrs. New apologized for the simple meal, but that she was told no apologies were necessary. "The convicts seemed to know the roads and tried to avoid towns. We passed through Bonner Springs and Padis, saw no officers, and rapidly outdistanced the guards who were close behind us near Lansing." The girl said they reached the "set on Cloris' lap instead."

FEDERAL LAND BANK REQUIREMENTS ARE UNALTERED

Big Number Of Applications Has Been Filed For Farmers

COLUMBIA, S. C., June 1.

The security requirements for a Federal Land Bank loan have not been changed by the passage of the Emergency Farm Mortgage Act of 1933, signed by the President of the Federal Land Bank, here today, in discussing the large volume of applications for loans received from national farm loan associations. This increased demand for loans has resulted from the fact that all loans made by the bank through such associations within two years after May 12 will be at the reduced rate of 4-1-2 percent interest for the five-year period commencing July 11, 1933.

During this same period rates on outstanding loans made through associations also will be reduced to 4-1-2 percent.

"Interest has been further stimulated by the fact that for the five years commencing May 12 both old and new borrowers may elect to pay only interest and not pay the usual installments on the principal, provided they are not delinquent in any of the other covenants of their mortgages, such as the payment of interest, taxes, insurance premiums or irrigation charges," continued Mr. Daniel.

"Payment of interest only on the part of borrowers who obtained their loans several years ago means a considerably smaller semi-annual payment to the bank. For example, a borrower who obtained a $3,000 loan in 1917 bearing 5 percent interest normally would pay the bank $90 each 6 months. Of the last installment paid, $57.75 went to pay interest on the unpaid principal and $32.25 was applied to the reduction of his debt. Thus, should he pay only the interest (computed at 4-1-2 percent, per annum) his next payment to the bank, if it comes due after July 11, 1933, will be only $51.25, instead of the usual $90. Which he resumes payment on the principal, he continues to amortize or pay off his loan at the same rate as when he ceased such payments. Installments coming due after July 11, 1933, must include interest at the regular mortgage rate and the payment on the principal.

"The bank is receiving some inquiries for loans in areas where there are no national farm loan associations making new loans at this time and it is giving careful consideration to such applications. Where loans are made directly by the bank the rate of interest is one-half of one percent more than if borrowers secure their loans through national farm loan associations. Borrowers obtaining loans directly from the bank must agree to purchase stock to the extent of 5 percent of the amount borrowed in the bank instead of the association.

"A farmer who borrows directly from the bank may agree in his mortgage that when there are ten or more borrowers who have obtained direct loans from the bank aggregating not less than $30,000 and who reside in any locality which may, in the opinion of the Farm Loan Commissioner, be conveniently covered by the charter of and served by a national farm loan association, he will unite with other such borrowers to form an association. After such an association is formed, the stock in the Federal neighborhood of Pleasanton shortly before 1 o'clock, the car was parked in a thicket beside a lane, about two miles from the town, where the group waited quietly for nightfall.

"Two of them guarded us while the rest of them went to a farmhouse. They returned soon with another car. Then we were taken to the farmhouse."

She described how Mrs. William New at the farm house was forced to cook a meal for the convicts and their hostages.

"I was scared but I was hungry, too, and I ate a hearty meal of bacon and eggs, and all the rest of us."

The girl said Mrs. New apologized for the simple meal, but that she was told no apologies were necessary.

"The convicts seemed to know the roads and tried to avoid towns. We passed through Bonner Springs and Padis, saw no officers, and rapidly outdistanced the guards who were close behind us near Lansing."

The girl said they reached the "set on Cloris' lap instead."

Shown pictures of the escaped convicts yesterday, the girls exclaimed "There's Billie; there's Kenneth, and there's Lewis, too."

The convicts were Lewis Bechtel, Alvis Payton, Kenneth Conn, Billie Woods and Clifford Denson.

"One of the men (Payton) asked Cloris to take off her white coat and hand it to him. He wore it to make it look like there were four women and four men in the car."

"The convicts seemed to know the roads and tried to avoid towns. We passed through Bonner Springs and Padis, saw no officers, and rapidly outdistanced the guards who were close behind us near Lansing."

The girl said they reached the "set on Cloris' lap instead."

Mississippi River Packet Begins Trip Blazing New Trail

NEW ORLEANS, June 1.—(AP)

The steamer Vicksburg kicked free of her wharf yesterday, furled her nose in the channel of the Mississippi and headed for Chicago with the first low ever pushed over the trail that La-Belle blazed.

It was the dedication of the Gulf-to-Lakes waterway—a new era in river traffic. A boom of a cannon, growl from the Vicksburg's whistle and the steamer was off on one of the most memorable runs made on the Mississippi since that hot July day many years ago when the City Natchez pulled away from New Orleans in her race with the Robert E. Lee.

The steamer must back a high water channel all the way up past the cotton plantations of the levee country, the bluffs where DeSoto stood, the tobacco lands of Kentucky and the corn fields of Illinois. It will stay on the Mississippi until it reaches the Illinois waterway where it will pick its way through locks to Chicago. The Vicksburg's pilot expects to land his tow in Chicago on June 22.

The barges, strung out in front of the steamer, are loaded with cargoes from the valley and from South and Central America.

Through traffic between the Lakes and Gulf—long the dream of steamboatmen—was made possible by building locks and dams and a canal on the Illinois waterway.

The loan limits are the same whether a farmer secures a loan through the national farm loan association or borrows directly from the bank," continued Mr. Daniel. "The maximum loan which may be made is 50 percent of the appraised normal value of the land for agricultural purposes plus 25 percent of the value of the permanent, insured improvement."

This is the GOLDEN AGE

OUR time is the greatest the world has ever seen. We have more to be happy with. We have better things, greater variety, longer, saner lives for our choosing, more conveniences to help us in our work, more things that elevate and entertain. This is the day of better homes, better clothing, better tables, better health, better everything. Compare any phase of our life with that of years ago and you will find that life is better. And what is the instrument that has made, and is making these better things possible? Advertising! Advertising is the news of all the homes, all the factories, all the laboratories, all the shops, all the stores that are working, planning and building for you. Because of advertising, luxuries and necessities that once would have been worth a king's ransom, are yours at half cost. Advertising is the merchant against merchant, against selfishness, against the manufacturer against manufacturer, for your benefit. This propaganda belongs on the back there in its everlasting for your personal benefit. You wouldn't know about many things of modern life except through advertising. That is why you cannot afford to ignore advertising at the better things today if you consistently overlook the advertisements.

Garden Club Group Is Entertained On Boat

Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Scott and Mrs. Ralph M. Warren entertained the members of the old and new board of the Garden Club of Sanford on the Scott boat, Miss Cole, yesterday morning and afternoon. The guests left late in the morning and cruised to the Wehwa River where they were told to leave the boat and search on the river bank for a picnic luncheon. After luncheon Mrs. W. E. Watson presided over an informal business meeting when plans for next year were outlined and arrangements made for the annual garden party which will take place on Friday, June 9 from 5:20 P. ### Connie Bennett Stars In Film At Milane

Our Betters! What do they think and feel?

Let Constancia Bennett tell you. For instance, in "Our Betters", W. Somerset Maugham's intense satire brought to the screen by RKO today and showing tonight and Friday at the Milane Theater, Constancia Bennett, as London's most popular hostess, says it is silly to marry for love.

"Think of the people you know who've married for love. After five years do they care for one another any more than the people who've married for money?"

"They have the recollection," says a deserted wife.

"Nonsense," snaps back La Bennett. "As if anyone remembered an emotion when he no longer felt it."

"That's true," chimes in a Duchess. "I've been in love a dozen times, desperately, and when I've got over it and look back, although I remember I was in love, I can't for the life of me remember how I felt!"

"Our Betters" is full of pert, smart, keen dialogue that seems just froth but carries a lot of weight. And it is excellently acted by an exceptional cast and lavishly produced.

Mildred McIntyre Is Honored With Party

A surprise party in honor of Miss Mildred McIntyre, who left today for her home in Miami after spending several months here, was given last night at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. N. Tolar, East Tenth Street, by Miss Anne Wright and Douglas Stenstrom, Grace and contests were enjoyed until a late hour when refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Tolar and Mrs. Uriel Blount.

Run-Way Is Built To Accommodate Boats

Local boat owners may be interested to learn that city crews have completed the erection of a run-way capable of supporting a 50-ton boat.

The run-way, constructed of heavy timbers built on strong foundation posts, is located between the P. D. S. boat dock and the wharf now used by the Winn-Lovett Grocery Co. at the foot of Myrtle Avenue.

It is now possible to roll a trailer into the lake and either place a boat into the water or remove a boat from the water. Within a few days a cable and drum arrangement will permit the removal of larger boats which will be placed on a cradle arrangement and hauled from the water.

The run-way is available to the public without charge at any time. It was constructed at the suggestion of David Cooper, young Sanford man, who is operating a boat building and boat exchange establishment in the P. D. S. building.

cause he had not realized the interpretation that would be put on the lists.

Committee investigators said the name of Justice Owen J. Roberts of the Supreme Court was on still another list of select Morgan customers to be made public today. His participation occurred before he was named to the highest court.

The dispute between Senator Glass and Ferdinand Pecora, committee counsel, which has threatened several times to disrupt the proceedings, was smoothed over in an executive committee meeting. The Virginia senator asked Whitely several questions about Morgan's influence with other members.

Morgan and Company bought a large block of stock in the Mohawk Hudson Power Company from the General Electric Company under an agreement in December, 1928, for $2,531,120. When the stock was paid for Jan. 10, 1929, its market value was approximately $35,533,260.

Questioned by Senator Reynolds, Democrat, North Carolina, Whitney said he was in error when he testified at the morning session that none of the men on the Morgan select lists were public officials at the time they were invited to subscribe for the stock. He named the late Dwight Morrow, ambassador to Mexico in 1929.

A new list of selected clients of J. P. Morgan and Company, placed before the Senate committee, included the names of Owen J. Roberts, now associate justice of the Supreme Court and W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

The transaction took place before Roberts was appointed to the court. The latest list, the fourth presented, was of persons sold $2,000,000 units in United Corporation in January, 1929 at $75 each, although the price almost at once on the public market was $99.

This list dealt with clients who purchased through Drexel and Company, a Morgan affiliate, and included Pennsylvania court justices, John W. Kerhart and William O. Shaffer.

Governor Pinchot has demanded their resignation for being on the previous list, Senator Pepper of Pennsylvania was also on the list.

Tiny Child Taken From Home Under Queer Conditions

CINCINNATI, June 1.—(AP)—In circumstances as mysterious and puzzling to the mother as to the police, a tiny baby was taken from a modest riverfront home yesterday, leaving authorities the riddle of a motive and little trace of the child.

A woman in uniform appeared at the home of Mrs. John Sneed, and examined five-week-old Pansy, Mrs. Sneed's daughter.

The woman announced she would take the baby to a hospital to correct an injury at birth. Believing the woman was a nurse at the hospital where the child was born, Mrs. Sneed consented.

Later in the day the mother received a special delivery letter saying that Pansy was being held at a nursery. She telephoned the nursery but was told her baby was not there.

Human society officials were notified, but they could learn only that witnesses saw the woman in uniform walk three blocks to a parked car and drive away. When police were called, they could not find a trace of the baby in any Cincinnati hospital, or in Hamilton near here, where it was reported a woman with a baby had sought work at a hospital.

FORMER PLAYERS FROM CITY HAVE VARIED RECORDS

Buddy Lake Has Hard Sledding in 2 Tilts For Harrisburgers

Former Central Florida League baseball players' records in strong minor leagues during the past week were extremely varied, according to reports reaching Sanford this week.

Buddy Lake, the league's youngest hurler who has been with the Harrisburg team of the New York-Pennsylvania League for the past three weeks, appeared in two games, losing one and coming near losing another.

On Tuesday May 23, Buddy hurled what press reports said was "a good job until he was removed in favor of a pinch batter in the eighth frame." Green, who pitched the last inning had the misfortune of receiving credit for the 3 to 2 loss when an error in the ninth gave Scranton the run it needed to break a tie that had existed since the eighth when Harrisburg scored two runs. Lake gave up nine hits in eight innings, struck out 2 men and walked 2. His wild throw to first base in the first inning gave Scranton one of its runs.

Last Saturday Buddy started the first game of a double-header against the third-place Wilkes-Barre team. His opponent was Bettlemire, former major leaguer. In the third, the Wilkesbarrians got going and Buddy was removed from the game after giving up six hits, walking one man and striking out one man. The Harrisburg team lost the game, 7 to 6, and Buddy got credit for the defeat.

Buddy now has lost three games, one during each week that he has been with Harrisburg. He lost his first game, an 11 inning affair; he got credit for another loss when he hurled six innings as a relief pitcher in his second appearance; he nearly lost the last game, and finally he lost Saturday's contest.

Up in the Piedmont League, Jack Sanford had a fair-to-middling week playing second and third base for Wilmington. In 20 times at bat in five games, he secured only four hits, but his fielding was a feature. Wilmington is a fifth place club.

Out in the Dixie League, L. B. Jones, young right-hander who joined the Peds during the second half of the 1933 season, continued to have difficulties as a hurler for the Jackson, Miss., team. Since the season first opened, Jones has appeared in many games as a hurler, but he seldom finishes. Last week he pitched but once, as a relief hurler for two innings. He did not get credit for the team's defeat, however, for the game already was lost. Jones played in center-field in the other games of the week, batting about .250. Jones had won three and lost three games, including games played May 24.

Nothing was reported on Red Martin, playing center field for the Beckley team of the Mid-Atlantic League, but Stuffy McCrone, first sacker for the league-leading Charleston team helped his team win a 6 to 4 victory over Springfield when he sparked out a lusty home run in the seventh inning.

Bill Strickland, former Sanford and Cocoa pitcher now with Rock Island of the Mississippi Valley League, saw service in only one game last week. He was removed for a pinch batter in the six inning of a game which his team won from Kokuk. Sullivan, a relief pitcher, got credit for the win. Strickland was knocked from the mound in his first start some days ago.

Latest pitching records from the National League show that Ben Cantwell now has won four games and lost two in 10 starts. In the win and loss department of play he ranks ninth among the regular National League pitchers.

Roosevelt Stand On Veteran Cuts Okey To Leaders

that under the procedure a two-thirds vote would be required. Rising to a vigorous defense of the President, Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, Democratic leader, assailed Senator Dickinson (R., I.), for calling Mr. Roosevelt responsible for the "injustices" complained of, and Senator Robinson (R., Ind.), for asserting the economy bill was sent to Congress by the President with a "false label—to maintain the credit of the government."

"Before changes have gone into effect," the Arkansas said, "senators find peculiar gratification in denouncing the President for a fearless discharge of his duty, or an attempt to perform the functions of his office consistently with the laws enacted by the Congress.

"The President is working now doing his best sincerely and conscientiously to give effect to the will of Congress, and instead of wasting time in denouncing him, we who did not have the courage to perform the legislative functions necessary to bring the expenses of the government within the revenues ought to stand by and give the President support, and assist him in working out the defects in the rules and regulations which have been adopted."

The majority leader asked that when the economy bill was sent up the credit of the government was "seriously threatened" and Congress was continuing to "pile up additional expenditures."

Robinson, of Indiana, replied that "Congress never began to think of piling up obligations for the government anywhere near the extent the President has piled them up during the past three months he has been in office and God knows how much he will pile up in another three years and nine months."

Senator Borah (R., Ida.), suggested Congress recall the authority granted the President to make the cuts, but Byrnes and Lewis, of Illinois, the Democratic whip, said this would not bring results and that most, if not all the injustices, could be remedied by administrative regulation.

MITCHELL'S TAX RETURNS PROBED BY REVENUE MEN

Examination Started Year After Banker Had Filed His Report

NEW YORK, June 1.—(AP)—Charles E. Mitchell's 1929 income tax return, in which the government claims it was defrauded of half million dollars, was examined by the internal revenue a year after it was filed, Max D. Steuer brought out at the trial yesterday, and no fault was found with it.

But the prosecution countered this with testimony that the agent who made the examination, Ambrose Hussey, was transferred from the down town district to the up town district in 1928 and that at the same time Mitchell started filing his return from his Fifth Avenue home, in the up town district, instead of from his Wall Street office as he formerly had done.

Another contention United States States Attorney Medalle made was that Mitchell did not report the receipt of $666,666.67 from the National City Company management fund payment in 1930. The defense claims the $666,666.67 was not income, but advance on expected profits to be repaid if they failed to materialize. The profits were not realized, but the government said Mitchell kept the money.

The testimony regarding Hussey's examination of Mitchell's return was given by Frank W. Black, former vice president of the Chase National Bank and tax expert who for years made out Mitchell's returns. He was on the stand last Friday when court recessed over Memorial Day and had not finished testifying yesterday when adjournment was taken until today.

In the course of Medalle's examination, Black charged the testimony of Friday regarding the sale of Mitchell claims to have made of 8500 shares of Anaconda Copper stock to W. D. Thornton, president of the Greene Cananea Copper Company, in December, 1930, recording an income loss for that year.

Black had said Friday that Mitchell had told him of borrowing 250 share of Anaconda, from the late John D. Ryan, president of Anaconda, for Thornton to use as collateral for a loan, with which he was to purchase Mitchell's 8500 shares.

Yesterday Black said he did not know Mitchell had borrowed the stock from Thornton. Medalle read his previous testimony and asked:

"Was that a correct statement?"

"No. It was not," said the witness.

"When did it occur to you that it was not?"

"Over the week-end."

Black explained he pondered his testimony over the holiday, concluded he had been mistaken, and told his attorney so this morning.

Regarding Hussey's examination of Mitchell's income tax return Black said the field agent visited him Feb. 8, 1931, to check Mitchell's return. Hussey examined copies of the letters by which Mitchell claims he sold 16,500 shares of National City Bank stock to his wife to establish a loss, and asked to see the originals.

"I referred him to Mr. Mitchell," Black said. "Eight days later he came back and finished his check of the 1929 returns. He took away my copies of the letters and they have never been returned. I think he said he saw the originals."

"Elizabeth R. Mitchell" was listed on Black's work sheets as the bankers wife.

"Did you think Mr. Hussey understood that she was Mr. Mitchell's wife?" Steuer asked.

"I thought so," Black answered.

"Did you treat in your work sheets the sale to Mrs. Mitchell any differently than any other transaction?"

"No sir."

a marriage of convenience and an opportunity to indulge in luxury, but no blame is attached to her for that because at her age such things are to be expected. He found that Mr. Jelke's charges of cruelty, in a cross-petition were upheld but that the charges of gross misbehavior were not sustained.

"We ought to get an agreement regardless of the time it takes," said Secretary Hull. Asked whether there was any prospect of lowering tariffs, he answered: "The fact that the entire world is in a state of bitter economic war and all the world is at present functioning on an artificial basis affords the strongest reason for an agreement among the countries to gradually lower trade barriers and stabilize the currency exchange, with a corresponding restoration of international finance and trade."

He pointed out that the program for the conference, if carried out, would give remedies equally beneficial to the people of all countries. "The result of this, he added, is that there will be no occasion for trading or bargaining, and therefore there should be an agreement as to the fundamentals of the situation in a few weeks that should equally apply to currency stabilization as well as to trade barriers."

The delegation's instructions from the White House emphasize the importance of avoiding attenuated discussions of minor matters. The Americans expect to move at the outset for a limitation on the length and number of formal addresses.

High on the list of matters to be decided the delegates put stabilization of the currencies of the important countries by a de facto arrangement striking a working ratio covering the value of the pound, dollar and franc. This would form a sound basis for the attack on other problems of the conference, including trade barriers, they feel.

On the practicability of reducing tariffs to any great extent, many of the members of the American party are frankly pessimistic, pointing to recent expressions in both France and Great Britain favoring making each of those countries, together with its possessions, even more of a self-contained economic unit than is now the case.

Charles Michelson, publicity director of the Democratic national committee, is the press liaison officer for the delegation and James C. Dunn is secretary.

Rexford Turwell, assistant secretary of agriculture, and Edmund E. Day, economist and member of the preparatory commission, will sail later it was announced.

Victor Seldon Clark, economist, will accompany former Governor Cox vice chairman, when he sails

'Road Hogs' Rated As Wrong Doers By Decree Of Church

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 1.—(AP)—"Road hogs" rate as wrong doers in the up-to-now category of sins which members of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A., may hear a lot about henceforth.

Those who worry or are a pestilence or who criticize or have an "inferiority complex," also rate as sinners. They're all in a compilation of more than 80 "sins" prepared by Dr. I. D. Young, pastor of the Abbey Presbyterian Church, Dallas, Tex., and presented to members of the general assembly which adjourned here this week.

Dr. Young and Dr. William F. Klein, of New York, secretary of the church's evangelism division, plan to use the list throughout the denomination as a means of promoting "self-examination." For handy reference, so none will be overlooked or forgotten, the list is printed on a card framed in the "sin chart." Admitted sins can be checked, then, according to the plan, overcome.

There are the sins of class distinction, formality, provincialism, disposition temper, superstition, dishonesty, cheating, littleness and selfishness.

Jelkes Are Denied Divorce By Ruling Of Superior Judge

NEWPORT, R. I., June 1.—(AP)—Both F. Frazier Jelke and his wife, Eugenia Woodward Jelke, were denied divorce in Superior court late yesterday afternoon by Judge Charles A. Walsh, after a trial which lasted more than two weeks.

In order for an action of this kind to prevail, Judge Walsh stated, it is necessary that the party asking for divorce should show that he or she has been guilty of no conduct in violation of the marriage covenant.

"In this case, as it appears that each of the parties heretofore has been guilty of extreme cruelty toward the other, we cannot grant either of them relief," Judge Walsh ruled.

The judge found that Jelke has not produced evidence to support charges that his wife had been unfaithful to him. There was no doubt the priest stated, that Jelke was infatuated with his young wife and "we are not convinced that the wife reciprocated this affection." The court stated he believed that the marriage as far as Mrs. Jelke was concerned was
