10,000 Telephone Men Are Ordered To Walk Off Jobs

National Strike Is Called By Union; 43 States Will Be Affected By Order

WASHINGTON, Apr. 21.—(AP)—The government today called a two-week nationwide strike of telephone men on several major railroads.

NEW YORK, Apr. 21.—(AP)—Telephone equipment workers walked off their jobs across the nation today.

The public will not be affected immediately unless breakdowns should occur in the nation's telephone system.

Headquarters of division 6 of the CIO Communications Workers of America ordered their 10,000 workers in 43 states and the District of Columbia off the job at 6 A. M. (EST).

As the time zone moved west and was spread to other parts of the country, no picket lines were reported, however, so the 230,000 other Bell System employees went to work assuming continued telephone service.

The strike was against the Western Electric Co., manufacturing and equipment subsidiary of the Bell System's parent corporation, the American Telephone and Telegraph Co.

Threat of a complete national telephone stop was postponed, though not eliminated, when the union said it would not picket because of the government's wage freeze.

The union is striking over a matter it claims is not covered by the wage freeze.

Many reports gave the scatter-shot nature of the strike.

New Theory Of Evolution Told By Virginia University Scientist

WASHINGTON, Apr. 21.—(AP)—A new theory on the evolution of the human brain was advanced today by a University of Virginia scientist.

It is the contention of Dr. S. W. Grinnell that man owes his superior brain to a mysterious light gravity.

By forcing himself to stand erect, man brought about certain changes in his blood and nervous system, and thereby stimulated the development of a superior brain.

In a report to the National Academy of Sciences, Dr. Grinnell said that he believes that the brain of a primitive man was made up of a mass of soft, spongy matter.

It was a mass of soft, spongy matter, he said, that was gradually compressed into a more solid, more organized structure.

Hospital Program Passes House Vote

WASHINGTON, Apr. 24.—(AP)—The House today voted a $275,000 expansion of the Veterans' hospital program.

The bill passed by a vote of 377-10, and is expected to be passed by the Senate in the next few days. It directs the Veterans' Administration to increase the construction of 24 hospitals and expansion of 14 others.

In effect, this restores a 16,000-bed cut in the hospital program made by President Truman during his term in 1944.

There was only an hour of debate during which Rep. David (R. Wis.) called the bill a "political measure" and predicted that Mr. Truman would veto it.

Chairman Rankin (D-Miss.) of the veterans' affairs committee, however, said the bill denied that it was a "political measure" and said it was intended to help needy veterans.

The bill does not appropriate money for the work. It merely provides VA to go ahead on the program. Separate legislation providing the money will be requested later.

Nobody asked for a roll-call vote which the members would have been required to go on record.

Before passing the bill, the House amended it to require VA to make a survey of abandoned Army and Navy hospitals to see if they could be used for veterans.

And in North Fork, Calif., a dance hall argument over the Army and Marine Corps was blamed for the ambush killing of a 16-year-old boy and the serious wounding of his brother.

Deputy Sheriff James B. Haney said Rayna Carmen, 30-year-old power worker, admitted killing Murphy McSwain and shooting his brother, Alvin, 19, because he was "just mad."

The dispute started, Haney said, when Carmen, dancing with Mrs. Ella Davis, boasted loudly of the Army's prowess.

Mrs. Davis, aunt of the McSwain's, praised the Marines. Witnesses said Carmen became abusive and slapped Mrs. Davis. He was ejected by the McSwain boys and others.

Haney quoted Carmen as saying he got a .32-caliber rifle and shot the McSwain boys when they arrived home after 2 A. M.

He said a murder charge would be filed today against Carmen, who said he was a World War II infantryman.

Dallas County Sheriff Evan Burger said Harry Lux, 22, also set fire to his parents' farm home west of here on highway 4.

Burger said he had broadcast a pickup order for Lux on charges of attempted arson and assault with intent to commit great bodily injury. He said he believes Lux is armed with a shotgun.

Lux apparently became angry Saturday when the cow refused to enter a barn on his parents' farm, the sheriff said.

The youth got into a pickup truck, ran over his mother and then tried to drive onto a porch where his invalid father was sitting in a wheel chair. The elder Lux's wheel chair rolled off the porch, Burger said.

Neither of the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lux was badly hurt.

The youth ran into the house, set an overstuffed chair afire in the basement and left after picking up a shotgun. The flames burned a hole in the first floor of the home before firemen from Adel, Ia., could extinguish it.

the father told police, and the shooting occurred shortly after he had entered the office.

The elder Schuh said he did not know the nature of the "personal matter" Gifford had discussed with his son. The father collapsed shortly after being questioned by police.

Governor Warren said today he is "too shocked" at the shooting of State Rep. Charles Schuh of St. Petersburg to prepare any immediate comment.

He indicated a formal statement might be issued later.

L. S. Deal, an associate of Schuh's, told reporters that he heard a shot from the legislator's inner office and grabbed Gifford as he emerged into the ante room.

John T. Fisher, a former justice of the Peace whose real estate offices are around the corner from the building housing the Schuh law office, said that shortly before the shooting he saw Gifford meet the legislator on the street corner. The two shook hands in a friendly manner and then separated, he said.

Gifford was held in the office of a private detective agency until city and state officers arrived. He

This Was Supposed To Be A DEMOCRATIC Primary!

Let's get this thing straight. Officially, May 2nd is the day Florida's Democrats are supposed to choose their own party's candidate for U.S. Senator. This is supposed to be a Democratic primary.

THEN WHY IS IT — that Republicans all over the state are registering as Democrat, and voting in a Democratic primary???

WHY IS IT — so many biased "stories" and "editorials" are being published by newspapers and magazine owners who not only don't live in Florida, but are registered Republicans???

AND WHY IS IT —

that Claude Pepper's opponent is claiming to be a liberal Democrat when the record shows he has consistently opposed most liberal Democratic measures, has voted, "Me too" — along with an average of 94% of the Republicans in Congress — on these key issues:

JUST LOOK AT THIS RECORD

	REPUBLICAN VOTE House of Reps.	SMITHERS VOTE House of Reps.	Sen. PEPPER'S VOTE U. S. SENATE
1. Vote on PUBLIC HOUSING provisions - National Housing Act	FOR	AGAINST	FOR
2. The President's veto of Bill Denying SOCIAL SECURITY Coverage to Seafarers, Piece Workers, and others	FOR	AGAINST	FOR
3. Trusted Vote of TAFT-HARTLEY ACT	FOR	AGAINST	FOR
4. Extension of 7% MINIMUM WAGE to Retail and Service Employees	FOR	AGAINST	FOR
5. Vote to Maintain 95% PARITY on basic FARM PRODUCTS	FOR	AGAINST	FOR
6. Rejection of the President's VETO of BILL TO PERMIT GOVERNMENT RATE-MAKING for RAILROADS	FOR	AGAINST	FOR

The Clerk is simply this — on one side, Claude Pepper, the liberal Democrat, with a 94% voting record of party unity on the other side, a Congressman who claims to be a liberal Democrat, but who has consistently opposed most liberal Democratic measures, has voted, "Me too" — along with an average of 94% of the Republicans in Congress — on these key issues:

U S Supreme Court Comes To Defense Of Negro Slayer

WASHINGTON, Apr. 24.—(AP)—The Supreme Court today threw out the murder conviction and death sentence of a Texas Negro who complained that only white men were on the grand jury which indicted him.

convicted of crushing the skull of a sleeping watchman with a piece of pipe in order to rob a store in Dallas. The Supreme Court by a 7-1 vote found there had been discrimination against Negroes in the selection of grand jurors and thus held the indictment against Cassell could not stand. The court did not bar a new indictment so Texas can present the case to a new grand jury if it wishes. Justice Reed announced the court's majority judgment and wrote an opinion in which Chief Justice Vinson and Justices Black and Clark concurred. Justice Frankfurter wrote a concurring opinion, joined by Justices Burton and Minton. Justice Clark also wrote a concurring opinion. Justice Jackson wrote a dissenting opinion. Justice Douglas took no part. Reed summed up the majority's decision with these words: "An accused is entitled to have charges against him considered by a jury in his selection of which there has been neither inclusion nor exclusion because of race."

10,000 Telephone

But in Baltimore a company spokesman said most of 138 workers reported, at in Syracuse, N. Y., 40 were reported on the job. Although the root of the dispute in wages, the immediate cause of the walkout was a minor grievance that flared into a major issue over the weekend.

This grew out of a boggy pasture near South Bend, Ind., where six television workers were building a television tower. They refused to walk through a field they claimed was deep with mud and water. And to support them, 104 local members struck.

The company claimed it had mud was combining for a grievance committee to handle and not a proper strike issue, and ordered the men back to work on pain of dismissal for contempt violation.

However, the union division's national headquarters demanded the company reverse its back-to-work order or face a national strike today. Throughout the week, federal mediators put the South Bend mud fight above the national wage crisis, but were unable to hammer out a settlement.

Further, peace talks scheduled for today, however, the union has asked a straight 10-cent an hour wage boost, shorter hours, bullet-advance rates, and pension benefits which the company said adds up to a total of 37 cents an hour increase.

Meanwhile, four of the nation's major railroad systems braced themselves for the threatened strike Wednesday of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen who are demanding assignment of a third man to crew multiple-unit diesel locomotives.

The Santa Fe railroad already has placed an embargo shipment of livestock and perishable freight and announced it would operate some of its lines on a limited basis. The 2,000-mile Southern Railway said it will shut down entirely if the strike is not called off. Other systems to be struck are the New York Central, West of Buffalo, York City, the Michigan Central West of the Detroit River, the Big Four and the Ohio Central Lines, and the Pennsylvania Railroad West of Harrisburg, Pa.

A "new approach" was suggested as the basis of further talks today in the 91-day-old strike of United Fruit workers. The Pennsylvania Railroad declined in advance of a threatened strike of locomotive crews today and announced it would operate passenger trains and all freight service on a limited basis.

Walter S. Franklin, president of the nation's largest railroad, said the move was being taken to "insure that no passengers are stranded at short of the final terminals of their trains."

"Long distance passenger trains will cease operations on an orderly schedule," Franklin said. Under his plan, PRR will halt nearly all its long distance trains tonight. Some will make their last runs early tomorrow morning.

The strike, called against seven rail lines, became effective at 6 A.M., Eastern Standard Time, Wednesday.

All of the PRR's vast network of freight operations will be halted at 12:01 A.M. EST tomorrow. Franklin announced also that "express baggage and freight service will be discontinued, west and north of Harrisburg, Pa."

"All freight is being embargoed in the affected areas beginning at 12:01 A.M., Tuesday, Apr. 25. "We are applying to the Interstate Commerce Commission for authority to make rerouting arrangements over any available open route to expedite movement of freight from our eastern terminals, where service will be maintained, to the areas served by our lines to be shut down, and to the rest of the country."

The Pennsylvania lines along the eastern seaboard all are electrified and thus are not affected by the threatened walkout.

PRR said it will maintain passenger service on its New York-Philadelphia-Baltimore-Washington lines and on its commuter lines serving New York and Philadelphia.

The only exception to these eastern operations will be on trains operated jointly by the PRR and southern railway which, Franklin said, "is also one of the railroads selected by the firemen for this demonstration."

Those New York-to-the-south trains will be halted.

M. B. Smith, incumbent in Group 1 in the race for the Legislature said he had first gone to the Legislature eight years ago, that Seminole County schools are coming along, and that the county will get more roads.

Vernon A. Speer, Smith's opponent, told of being twice mayor of Sanford, a member of the City Commission, and that he is now a retired merchant. He declared himself to be a champion of good government.

H. S. (Lew) Arnold, Longwood mayor, running in Group 2 for the Legislature, pointed out the value of having one representative from the county and one from Sanford. He cited his various experiences as a business man, citrus owner and grower, and knowledge of the needs of the farmer.

Vallo A. Williams Jr., Sanford attorney and former assistant attorney general told how he has for years prepared himself for the Legislature through the attorney general's office, with bills for introduction in the Legislature and working on a study of tax structure of Florida.

Military Chiefs

(Continued from Page One) which he and many members of Congress would like to see, Symington said next year's aircraft production would provide even one third of the planes needed for that many groups.

Symington quits as Air Secretary today to take over as chairman of the National Security Resources Board, the nation's top defense planning agency. His successor in the Air Force post is Thomas K. F. Feltner, who first proposed the 70-group strength as chairman of the President's air policy commission in 1948.

In a report for the Navy, Secretary Mattews said the sea arm could use more carriers "to advance" but is otherwise in fair "shape."

Former Secretary of the Army Gray said that by June 30 the ground forces will be within the budget limit of $80,000—having dropped 36,000 in the last six months of 1949, with prospects of another 12,000-man cut in the next two months.

Symington added that the Air Force recognizes the country could be defeated by economic disaster as well as military disaster. He said he therefore supports President Truman's 48-group program without any reservation whatever.

In response to a question, he said he has no opinion as to how large an Air Force the country can afford economically.

He added: "I don't see how you are going to balance the budget if you face up to the international situation."

Symington said he thinks a balanced budget may become possible if differences between the U. S. and Russia are ironed out, but that he does not see how it can be done under present conditions.

In response to another question, he said that the allocation of manpower is perhaps the most important problem faced by the National Security Resources Board.

Symington said he thinks the board has stepped by mobilization legislation in "pretty good shape."

Asked about greasing such legislation to Congress, he said: "I think the sooner that's done the better."

Feather-bedding scheme of Firemen's Union to put an additional fireman on diesel locomotives has been CONSIDERED TWICE!

Fact Finding Boards appointed by Presidents Roosevelt and Truman have said these demands were "devoid of merit" and they were REJECTED TWICE!

Now the Firemen's leaders seek to paralyze railroad transportation to compel the railroads to employ a wholly unnecessary additional fireman to ride on diesel locomotives. This scheme is plain

FEATHER-BEDDING!

LEADERS of the Firemen's union have called a nationwide strike starting with four great railroads on April 28. These railroads are the New York Central, Pennsylvania, Santa Fe, and Southern.

The union claim that a second fireman is needed on grounds of safety is sheer hypocrisy. Safety has been dragged into this dispute only in an unsuccessful effort to give a cloak of respectability to vicious feather-bedding demands.

After a careful study of the first demands of this union, a Presidential Fact Finding Board on May 21, 1948, reported to President Roosevelt that there was no need for an extra fireman on diesel locomotives.

Again, on September 19, 1949, after a second hearing on the union leaders' demands, a second Board reported to President Truman that: there presently exists no need for an additional fireman... upon either the ground of safety or that of efficiency and economy of operation."

what the Board had to say on that point:

"The safety and on-time performance of diesel electric locomotives operated under current rules have been notably good..."

"Upon careful analysis of the data submitted on safety, we have concluded that no valid reasons have been shown as a support for the Brotherhood proposal under which a fireman would be required to be at all times continuously in the cab of road diesels. The proposal must be rejected."

The real reason behind these demands is that the union leaders are trying to make jobs where there is no work. In other words, a plain case of "feather-bedding."

"The railroads have no intimation of yielding to these wasteful make-work demands.

"The Safety Record of Diesels is Outstandingly Good..."

MEMORIAL FACT FINDING BOARD REPORT

Read these excerpts from official reports of Presidential Fact Finding Board:

"The safety record of Diesels is outstandingly good, and it follows that the safety rules now applicable have produced good results."

"The safety and on-time performance of Diesel-electric locomotives operated under current rules indicates that Diesel-electric operation has been safer than steam locomotive operation..."

Remember! These are not statements of the railroads. They are just a few of the many similar conclusions reached by President Truman's Fact Finding Board which spent months investigating the claims of the union leaders.

Clubhouse

By FRANK ECK AP Features Sports Writer NEW YORK — The four umpires' life of the boys in blue will not be worth much this season unless the fans agree with the umpire's judgment.

Under the old rule the runner was given one base for interference.

"We will do this on judgment alone," explains senior National League Umpire Bill Stewart, who is also a member of the rules committee.

This is Stewart's 18th season as a major league umpire and National League President Ford C. Frick couldn't have picked a better man to explain the rule changes to all the players in his league.

Stewart made the west coast Florida cruise in less than a week early in March, flew out to Catalina Island after a stop at Los Angeles, then went to Phoenix and returned to Florida. He has answered more questions than the top in the Times Square information booth.

To Watch Double Plays The double play, one of the prettiest plays to watch, will come under closer scrutiny this season.

"The runner must make a legitimate effort to reach the base," says Stewart. "If he deliberately goes out of the baseline it's a double penalty if we think the runner is under normal conditions.

"From here it looks like a lot of catchers will be sitting down looking up."

A Few More New Rules "The runner stepping on or behind a base need not be called out if he has not touched the base."

"The runner can run around the catcher and out of the baseline to reach home plate when the catcher blocks the plate and does not have the ball."

Cucumbers Bring Record Price At Wauchula Market

JACKSONVILLE, Apr. 24 — (Special) — A record price of $17.45 per field crate was paid growers for cucumbers on the Wauchula State Farmers' Market during the past week. This is Florida's foremost cucumber market and prices for 2844 crates averaged $11.50 per crate. Volume is steadily increasing and growers are hoping for a good season in spite of adverse growing conditions, according to reports coming into the office of William L. Wilson, director of State Markets. "Tomato volume on this market is also increasing and the quality is reported as excellent probably the best in several years in that vicinity. Other commodities such as peppers, eggplant, white and yellow beans, blackeye peas and potatoes are showing some increase since the warmer weather has prevailed."

"The Plant City Market is showing a steady increase of all commodities with pepper and squash leading in quantity and price range. Pole beans and butterbeans also brought high prices. Fancy cucumbers brought $9.85 to $12.50 per bushel tub, averaging $9.85; okra $10.75 to $12.50, averaging $11.50 per bushel hamper. Pole beans $9.25 to $9.15 averaging $9.85 and butterbeans brought $4.50 per bushel hamper. A total of 32,008 packages brought growers a gross revenue of $110,727.76. Other commodities making up the total were three varieties of beans, green corn, eggplant, blackeye and crawler peas, potatoes, tomatoes. Adverse weather conditions have slowed up the harvesting, though volume is steadily increasing and this week is expected to see sufficient volume to create a fair market on all items."

"Palmetto State Market reports excellent quality produce with volume gradually increasing. Daily supply of tomatoes is expected to reach 2,000 bushels this week. Prices during the past week on most commodities have been fair, with No. 1 tomatoes averaging $4.43, high $4.70; No. 1 pole beans averaged $5.00 per bushel. Other commodities making up the total of 2817 packages for a gross of $10,619.95 were squash, pepper, eggplant, cucumbers and blackeye peas."

"The Fort Pierce Market is following on the heels of the Florida City Market with a rapidly increasing volume of tomatoes. Over 100,000 field boxes moved during the past week at prices ranging from $1.70 to $2.50 with an average of $4.60 per field crate. The demand for cucumbers continues high with approximately 12,000 bushels of fair to ordinary quality bringing $6.00 to $9.00 per bushel basket, packing house pack. A light supply is expected to continue this week. Pepper volume is increasing with approximately 8 cars of exceptionally fine quality California Wonders moving the past week at prices from $3.00 to $3.50 per bushel basket, packed."

"The Sanford Market reports a demand for twenty-two varieties of produce and fruit that moved through that market during the past week was good and prices fairly satisfactory on all vegetables except cabbage. A total of 107,138 units sold at $123,158.67 during the past week and a good supply of all items will be available during the coming week. An effort is being made to institute auction selling, though the local volume is not yet sufficient to give this method of selling fresh farm supplies a full trial."

"It's Not Cricket," Says Tenant Who Has Scores Of Them In House

By ALBERT B. PULLING
(For Hal Boyle)
RAHWAY, N. J. — (AP) — Anybody want any crickets? I've got a lot of them to give away. They're lively and in good voice. They hop, skip and jump happily. You'll have to come and get them, though.

Normally, I'm not in the cricket business, but now I'm in it wholeheartedly. It started four months ago when I bought a new house. We wanted one semi-rural life. We got it. A few weeks after we moved in, I heard the chirp of a cricket. I was intrigued. Sure enough, I discovered one in the kitchen. "Hey, look," I shouted to the better half, "we've got a cricket!" The distaff side peered happily at the insect on the newly waxed floor.

"That's wonderful," she chortled. "A cricket in the house is good luck." I was somewhat doubtful about this, but have learned over a period of years not to question little folkies. Later I saw the cricket, but it looked smaller. I spent some time observing the situation and found there were two crickets. This I duly reported to the better half. "It's bad luck to kill a cricket in the house," she intoned solemnly. Well, life is tough enough as it is, so am I to look for bad luck, I reasoned. Time went on. The lone cricket chirped swelled to a crescendo. About a week ago, Mary said in a small voice, "Those crickets are getting me nervous. Couldn't you do something about them?" "But it's bad luck," I began. "Get rid of them," she answered.

In the next week or ten days, "The Florida City market is showing a steady decline in tomato volume though prices for the 20,000 bushel field crates the past week averaged $3.31 with a high of $5.00. A very light volume is forecast for the current week." "Tahokee Market has added tomatoes to its offerings of corn, celery, potatoes and beans for the trade during the current week." "Tampabay Market continues with a good supply of peppers, lima beans, eggplant, cucumbers, squash, okra, field peas, sweet corn and tomatoes."

7 U. S. Ships Seized By Mexican Gunboat

WASHINGTON, Apr. 24. — (AP) — Four Mexican gunboat seized seven American shrimp fishing boats in the Gulf of Mexico over the weekend, the State Department was advised today. Two of the flotilla later escaped, owners said in reports relayed by the Coast Guard. Department officials said there were "rumors" that the gunboat fired on the fishing vessels, but there was no confirmation of this. The incident took place about 10 miles off the Mexican coast, some 125 miles south of the Texas border, these officials said. Mexico claims its territorial waters extend nine miles at sea and the gunboat presumably acted on the assumption that the fishing craft were poaching. The boats were operating out of Brownsville and Port Isabel, Texas, where shrimp fishing activity has boomed in recent months because of the discovery of a new band of shrimp resources off the Texas and Mexican coasts.

Hints To Housewives

By Anna Mae Sikes
The word "energy" in connection with food often is misunderstood because it has many meanings. To the nutritionist as to the engineer, energy means power from fuel or heat, and often is measured in calories or heat units. But more popular meanings of the word are vim, vigor, vitality, or even spirit. Thus a homemaker may conclude that the more "energy foods" her children eat, the more energetic they will be. And she may suppose that a food described as a "quiet source of energy" is needed especially by anyone who is fatigued or listless. Just the contrary may be true, nutritionists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture explain. The so-called "high energy foods" are the starches, sugars, and fats, because they are the chief sources of fuel or calories for the activity of the body. But, if used in excess, these foods are stored as fat, thus may make a person feel less energetic. Too many of these foods in the diet may cut down on other nutrients, such as vitamins or protein, which the body needs for nutritional well-being and normal vim and vigor. The term "fuel food" may be preferable to the more widely used "energy food" to prevent this common misunderstanding. How much fuel food the body needs depends on its size and activities. A man doing heavy physical work or active in sports needs more than a man of the same size and build who sits at a desk all day and spends his evenings reading. If body weight stays about right for height and build, this is a sign that the body is getting enough fuel food for its needs. Overweight indicates a surplus of such foods. An active fast-growing teen-ager may need more fuel foods than his less active father, but care should be taken as to his choice of calories. Too many sweets, for example, or sweets between or before meals, may interfere with his appetite for substantial meals which provide varied nutrients for growth, health and vitality.

Senate Committee Bars McCarthy And Owen J. Lattimore

Navy Tells Of Plans To Build Radical New Submarines; Cruisers Changed

WASHINGTON, Apr. 25 (AP)—In a shift of plans, Senate investigators today barred Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) and Owen J. Lattimore from hearing secret testimony of Louis F. Budenz, former Communist.

McCarthy and Lattimore had been invited to sit in while a Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee questioned Budenz behind closed doors.

In public testimony last week, Budenz had declared that Communist party leaders told him Lattimore was a member of a "Communist cell." Lattimore had denied it.

All three men went into the closed session but McCarthy and Lattimore soon came out.

The Senator was fuming. He told reporters he was preparing a formal protest and said: "I was not allowed to be present when my witness was testifying."

Lattimore has been scheduled to testify in a public session tomorrow in reply to Budenz's charges against him. However, Lattimore told reporters he has asked the committee for more time.

He said he wants first a chance to study the transcript of Budenz's witness at a public hearing the committee has scheduled for tonight.

McCarthy said the committee had promised to give Lattimore a copy of Budenz's secret testimony.

Budenz promised to give the committee at today's session the names of about 20 Communist writers who, he said, Lattimore had helped get connections with the Institute of Pacific Relations.

Meanwhile, in Washington the Navy today disclosed plans to build radical new type submarines that are to be more powerful and to convert a cruiser into a guided missile combat vessel.

These construction plans were made known in a report to build 112 (Continued on Page 11)

Attorney General Nathaniel I. Goldstein said he acted on the complaint yesterday by the Tribune's management. He added that spreading a campaign in violation of the state's business law.

The maximum penalty is a year in jail and a $5,000 fine. "Pressure by false rumor can become a serious threat not only to the New York Herald Tribune but to any member of the free press," Goldstein said.
