CASH 3

Sanford, Fla. 32083

POLICE

IN BRIEF

Suspect arrested after clerk reports altered lottery ticket

OVIEDO — An 18-year-old Oviedo man who allegedly altered the face of a Florida Lottery ticket, making it a $50 winner, and signed a fake name when collecting the cash, became a big loser after being tracked down by Oviedo police.

Aaron Henry Will, of 359 Timberwood Trail, has been charged with forgery and two counts of counterfeiting after the store clerk suspected something was wrong with the ticket and called police.

Will was arrested at about 11 a.m. Tuesday after Oviedo police tracked him to a convenience store on State Road 46, Geneva. Police say Will had driven there with a companion after allegedly cashing the forged $50 lottery ticket at another convenience store on State Road 427.

Oviedo police said they arrived at the Ideal Food Store just after the suspect left. The clerk described his vehicle and authorities caught up with the suspect shortly afterwards.

Will has been released on $2,000 bond and is scheduled to appear in court June 6.

Estranged husband charged

CASSELBERRY — A man who allegedly defied an injunction for protection and threw a punch through a glass door to hit his estranged wife in the face at her home is scheduled to appear in court May 18 on a charge of battery.

Charles D. Rigsbee, 33, of 5151 Oak Hill Drive, Winter Park, was arrested outside the home of his estranged wife at 1033 Seventh St., Casselberry but was treated for a cut to his arm at a local hospital before being jailed.

Seminole County sheriff's deputies believe Rigsbee was injured when he punched his fist through a glass door to hit Jean Marie Rigsbee, 27, in the face after she refused to allow him to enter her residence. She suffered facial injuries, deputies said.

Mrs. Rigsbee said her husband, who is under court order to stay away from her, allegedly came to her home and demanded to see her because she had not called him earlier as she had promised.

Bargain prices bring arrest

LONGWOOD — A man who allegedly offered an undercover Seminole County sheriff's deputy diesel motors and related items at bargain prices faces charges of grand theft and dealing in stolen property.

Michael Lee Richmond, 28, of Orange City, is accused of stealing items from Coastal Power Products, where he was formerly employed, and attempting to sell them to the officer.

The offer was reportedly made at the westbound rest area off Interstate 4 near Longwood where Richmond was arrested at about 6 p.m. Monday.

He is being held in lieu of $4,500 bond.

Driving under the influence

SANFORD — The following persons face charges of driving under the influence in Seminole County:

Benjamin M. Bathke, 27, of Orlando, was arrested at 12:35 p.m. Tuesday after his car was in an accident on Bear Lake Road at Bear Lake Circle.

John Moore, 20, of 315 Seminole Blvd. #55-C, Casselberry, at 6:20 p.m. Monday after his car failed to maintain a single lane on S. Sanford Avenue, Sanford. He was also charged with battering a policeman after allegedly resisting a Sanford officer while being arrested.

Burglaries, thefts reported

SANFORD — Seminole County sheriff's deputies are continuing an investigation into the theft of a 1979 Ford Thunderbird belonging to LeRoy C. Royal. The vehicle, which was reported missing Monday, is valued at $1,500.

Sheriff's deputies have the name of a suspect who may have stolen the 1979 Ford of Jacqueline Sims, of 1803 McCarthy Ave., Sanford. The $1,500 car was stolen Monday, along with $20.

Pizza deliveryman shot at

SANFORD — A delivery driver for Domino's Pizza reported to police that he was shot at Tuesday night while delivering pizza.

Ali A. Rezuani was delivering a pizza to an address on E. 14th Street at approximately 11 p.m. when he was approached by two men. According to the police report, Rezuani sensed something was wrong and jumped back in his car and drove away. One of the suspects pulled a gun and fired in the direction of Rezuani as he was driving off, missing Rezuani and the vehicle, said police.

Police are still investigating.

In other action:

Wayne A. Guldenpenning, 708 Cherokee Circle, reported to police that his 1985 GMC truck was stolen from in front of the 7-11 convenience store at Five Points at approximately 6 p.m. Tuesday. Guldenpenning had gone inside the store and left the keys in the ignition, according to police.

A .38-caliber handgun, a .22-caliber handgun and a BB gun were reported stolen from Joe's Garage, 1301 W. 13th St., sometime between Monday and Tuesday, according to a police report. The weapons were valued at $120.

A refrigerator and stove were taken from 619 Palmetto Ave., owned by Mike Basila, sometime between April 28 and May 10. The appliances were valued at $600.

Police recovered a stolen green and white Oldsmobile Cutlass at the southeast corner of 29th Street and Sanford Avenue on Tuesday. The automobile had been reported stolen to the Casselberry Police Department. The car was impounded in Altamonte Springs at the request of Casselberry police.

Senate votes to repeal helmet law

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Senate voted 24-12 Tuesday to repeal Florida's mandatory helmet law for motorcyclists aged 21 or older, but Gov. Bob Martinez insisted he will veto the bill if it ever reaches his desk.

The House had already approved the legislation (HB 115), but now must consider Senate amendments requiring bikers who ride without "skid lids" to carry personal injury insurance, and allowing juries to consider that a rider was helmetless in criminal negligence cases stemming from accidents.

The insurance language was added after Martinez said he was considering vetoing the bill out of concern medical bills from helmetless cyclists would be passed along to the taxpayers or other insurance customers.

But Martinez shifted gears Tuesday, saying he now considers the safety issue paramount.

He noted recent legislation requiring motorists to buckle up and restrain children in moving vehicles.

"To try to say that if they carry insurance they shouldn't wear a helmet, it's like telling the people of Florida they shouldn't buckle up if they carry insurance," Martinez told reporters. "It just doesn't make any sense to me."

No Florida insurance carrier offers personal injury insurance for motorcyclists, but would make it available if the bill ever becomes law, said Sam Miller of the Florida Insurance News Service.

Such coverage would cost at least $900 per year, but could cost as much as $2,000 in Dade County, which has a higher accident rate than other Florida cities, Miller said.

Joe "Bone" Blechinger of ABATE — A Brotherhood Against Totalitarian Enactments — said the bikers who have been pressing for the repeal of the helmet law for years would pay, whatever the cost.

"What price do you put on freedom?" he said.

California unmoved despite Nostradamus prophecy

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Nostradamus notwithstanding, California still is.

According to some interpretations of the writings of Nostradamus, a 16th century French astrologer, Tuesday was supposed to be the day of the Big One, the giant earthquake that would send California drifting out to sea.

Thousands of people have called special Nostradamus hotlines in an attempt to have counselors quell their quake fears, and not a few Angelinos actually left town.

The source of much of the fuss over Nostradamus and earthquakes was a previously obscure 1981 movie called "Nostradamus: The Man Who Saw Tomorrow" that was narrated by the late Orson Welles, who intoned with great solemnity that Nostradamus predicted such cataclysmic events as the Russian Revolution, the European flu epidemic of 1918 and 1919 and World War II.

"The Man Who Saw Tomorrow," recently one of the hottest items at Los Angeles video rental stores, portrays Nostradamus as a gifted visionary who predicted a major earthquake in Los Angeles in May 1988. Little note seems to have been taken of the fact that Los Angeles was not founded until 200 years after Nostradamus' prediction.

According to the film, Nostradamus wrote: "The great earthquake shall be in the month of May; Saturn, Capricorn, Jupiter, Mercury in Taurus; Venus, also Cancer, Mars in zero."

Nostradamus believed the planetary alignment would cause an earthquake in "The New City," which some astrologers interpreted as either Los Angeles or San Francisco — mostly Los Angeles.

But astronomers point out that in May the planets will not be in the position the film contends will fulfill the prophecy. Even if they were, they would have no effect on earthquakes, scientists said.

Nostradamus rarely used dates, basing the time of most of his predictions on planetary alignments. The vagueness of Nostradamus' writings and the translations of the couplets in which he issued his predictions have led other astrologers and psychics to choose various days in May for the quake.

"At first I heard it was May 5, then May 8, then May 10," said Edward Velez, who works in downtown Los Angeles.

Like millions of Southern California residents, Velez was a bit edgy Tuesday, but went about his business as usual.

"I think it's something that's on everybody's mind," he said. "It's like the threat of nuclear war.... This morning I woke up wondering if a book case would fall on my head."

"To tell you the truth, I bought three gallons of water and a 12-pack of beer," said Jean Moore, who also works in downtown Los Angeles. "I've been a little wary."

Scientists agree that a major earthquake will rock the Golden State sometime in the next 50 years, but they scoff at the specific predictions and point out that earthquakes are a daily part of life in Southern California, with an average of 30 temblors a day, most of them unnoticed.

"I can't yell fire in a crowded theater so why should astrologers be able to yell earthquake in a crowded city?" said an annoyed Dr. Robert Butterworth, a clinical psychologist who specializes in treating earthquake phobias. He said his quake-fear hotline was flooded in recent days as paranoia over Nostradamus' "prediction" spread.

Astronomers at the Griffith Observatory say they have been getting hundreds of telephone calls a week from concerned residents.

"We're just starting to calm people down from the Oct. 1 earthquake," said Edwin Krupp, director of the observatory.

Seminolians bask in sun, breezes

By Fred H. Cooper
Herald Staff Writer

Last week you got an explanation of rain prognostication by the officials of the U.S. of A. sponsored National Weather Service, to wit, it only rains when forecast by federally endowed meteorologists. Since the possibility of rain is uppermost on the minds of many, and even as we survey this matter, being forecast by various "weatherpersons" within our area, the obvious act was to check with the real experts. Can you handle the report?

The likelihood of rain within the boundaries of Seminole County during the next 48 hours is slim; slightly more than remote. This is the officially stated position of the National Weather Service's proprietary office controlling Seminole County weather. The odds are set at 20 percent - 5-1 against rain today, 10-1 tonight, and 5-1 tomorrow. So note it be.

Therefore, the temperatures in the 80s during the day, and 60s at night will continue. Winds will fitter back and forth between the west and the southwest and humidity will bounce around the 70 and 80 percent marks. Sky will be clear and blue most of the time, but will cloud over on occasion.

Because of the time of the year, the bureaucrats up in Washington have taken the time to name the hurricanes which may or may not materialize during the coming storm season.

The first Atlantic tropical storm of the 1988 hurricane season that begins June 1 will be "Alberto."

After Alberto, storms in the Atlantic, Caribbean or Gulf of Mexico will be named Beryl, Chris, Debby, Ernesto, Florence, Gilbert, Helene, Isaac, Joan, Keith, Leslie, Michael, Nadine, Oscar, Patty, Rafael, Sandy, Tony, Valerie and William.

The names for this year's tropical storms and hurricanes were announced by the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration. That bunch is kinda like the National Weather Service, but more so.

After days of high winds and thunderstorms, most of the nation will enjoy sunny skies today and high temperatures in the 70s and 80s, according to the National Weather Service.

However, showers and thunderstorms are expected in New England as well as the Texas panhandle through west central Texas and into the Rio Grande valley, the weather service predicted.

Temperatures will dip into the 50s across the northern areas of the Great Lakes and the upper Ohio Valley while the mercury is expected to climb into the 90s in Southern California and parts of Texas and as high as 105 degrees in the desert Southwest.

Thunderstorms drenched the Southeast again, producing three tornadoes in North Carolina and one each in Georgia and Mississippi, the National Weather Service said. No injuries or deaths were reported.

A sheriff's deputy in Poplarville, Miss., said a tornado there "pulled up a 50-foot radio tower and dropped it" at a radio repair business. The deputy said no one was injured and the business was not seriously damaged.

(Reports by United Press International and data provided by the National Weather Service were used in compiling this report.)

Robber gets scolding, no cash

OSHKOSH, Wis. (UPI) — A pint-sized robber tried to hold up an Oriental grocery store with a toy gun, but a customer realized the weapon was a fake and scolded the 8-year-old boy for trying to get money the easy way, police said.

"I need money. You give me money. If you don't give me money, I kill you and your son," the unidentified boy allegedly told clerk Lee Yang after pulling a realistic plastic gun at the Oriental Grocery.

Police Sgt. Robert Burton said Monday that when the boy was taken into custody for the attempted holdup Friday, he did not even understand his rights when they were read to him.

"He didn't understand what a lawyer was," Burton said.

But he said the boy was serious about the holdup. "He said it was a robbery and he was intent on robbing them."

Pao Yang, the husband of the store clerk, said the boy entered the store about 5:45 p.m. and said he wanted to look at candy bars. But the clerk's wife asked if she could help him, he pulled the gun and demanded money.

Yang said his wife did not realize the gun was a toy. "She was very scared."

But a customer realized the weapon was a fake and told the boy to stay where he was while he called police.

Yang said the unidentified customer scolded the boy.

"You need money, you go to school and be good and earn money," Yang said the customer told the would-be robber.

Burton said the boy's parents picked him up at the police station shortly after he was arrested. They told authorities they were having trouble with the youngster, who also broke into an elementary school when he was 5 years old.

The case was referred to juvenile authorities because of the boy's age, Burton said.

Tampa man charged with killing turtle

TAMPA (UPI) — A Tampa man has been arrested on state charges of killing a loggerhead turtle, a threatened species, and faces federal charges according to Paul Raymond, a special agent with the National Marine Fisheries Service.

Max Lora, 39 was charged by the Florida Marine Patrol with possession of turtle parts, Florida Marine Patrol Capt. Ron Christie said Monday.

The state misdemeanor charge carries a maximum penalty of 60 days in jail and a $500 fine.

Lora was arrested Sunday night by Hillsborough County sheriff's deputies after officials received an anonymous tip. Cut-up remains of the turtle, believed to be between 5 and 10 years old and weighing 80 to 100 pounds, were found in Lora's back yard, deputies said.

Sheriff Lt. Jim Kelley said Lora said he was spearfishing Sunday morning about 12 miles off Clearwater Beach when he saw the turtle, became startled and shot it. He said Lora said he did not know his action was a crime.

The loggerhead turtle is classified as a threatened species, and Jamie Serino, spokesman for the Department of Natural Resources Bureau of Marine Research, said although it is not threatened enough to be classified as an endangered species, its survival is jeopardized.

State and federal officials said no accurate population estimates are available, but Serino said 35,522 nestings were sighted last year in Florida, about 98 percent of them on the east coast. He said fewer than 20 nestings were reported in the Tampa Bay area last year.

Walt Conley, a protective-species data coordinator with DNR, said each nesting involves between 100 and 110 eggs, with between 60 percent and 90 percent hatching.

Iceland ends ban on beer

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (UPI) — A narrow majority of Parliament Tuesday voted to end Iceland's 73-year ban on beer, making the malt brew legal by next March 1 for the Viking descendants on the North Atlantic island.

An emotional debate at the Althing's upper chamber kept interested Icelanders listening to the live broadcast until the wee hours before the 13-8 vote finally ended decades of struggle to repeal the 1915 prohibition on beer.

Through the night, the Parliament's switchboard was jammed by would-be beer drinkers who wanted to know the latest details of the long-winded debate.

FBI locates bank robbery suspect

COLUMBIA, South Carolina — The FBI announced the arrest of Chester Wirth Meredith, who had been sought for the robbery of the Golddome Savings Bank in North Fort Myers, Florida on April 18.

Special Agent Robert J. Ivey of the Federal Bureau of Investigation said Meredith was arrested about 6:30 p.m. Tuesday by agents in nearby Cayce, South Carolina, on federal fugitive warrants issued in Tampa, Florida.

Meredith is also expected to be charged with the robberies of First Federal Savings and Loan Bank of Charlotte County, North Port, Florida, on May 3rd of this year and the same Golddome Savings Bank in North Fort Myers on the same date.

Ivey said that Meredith also faces state charges stemming from four bank robberies in Sarasota County, Florida.

The FBI said an explosive device was detonated in the robbery of the Golddome bank on May 3rd.

Meredith is a longtime resident of Fort Myers, Florida. He was being held in the Richland County, S.C., Detention Center in Columbia and is scheduled to appear before a U.S. magistrate sometime today.

Ivey said Meredith's arrest was the culmination of an intensive investigation conducted jointly by various FBI offices in the eastern United States and local and state authorities in Florida.

ANTENNAS AND POWER LINES CAN BE A DEADLY MIX.

Ordinarily, power lines are quite harmless. But when you're putting up TV or CB antennas, keep them well away from power lines. Because if an antenna touches a power line, the combination could be deadly.

Always look up. Whether you're flying kites, picking fruit or pruning trees, or doing any activity that puts you in possible contact with overhead lines. Don't be a victim of your own carelessness.

Congress should define policy

Certain aspects of the U.S. Supreme Court's recent decision upholding a Veterans Administration policy defining alcoholism as "willful misconduct" have led to confusion in the public mind.

The court's business was to decide whether the VA had practiced discrimination, and not, as popularly imagined, to rule on whether alcoholism is considered to be misconduct or a disease.

Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 forbids discrimination on the basis of handicap but, in the opinion of the Supreme Court, it is not in "irreconcilable conflict" with the VA's definition of primary alcoholism as a "willfully incurred disability."

The VA therefore acted without discrimination, according to the Supreme Court, when it denied educational benefits to two veterans.

The veterans in question were recovered alcoholics who sought the benefits after their 10-year period of eligibility had expired. The GI Bill provides for such extensions when veterans are unable to take advantage of their benefits in the required time because of "physical or mental disability which was not the result of...their own willful misconduct."

Numerous mental-health groups had hoped the case would settle the definition of alcoholism and the debate over whether alcoholics are responsible for their condition. But the Supreme Court carefully sidestepped that issue and confined itself to the question of whether the two men had been treated unfairly, compared with other veterans. The justices found that VA policy did not violate Section 504 of the Act, and was therefore not discriminatory.

There are cogent arguments against regarding alcoholism as a disease, in the sense that disease implies an illness utterly beyond human control. But a significant body of social opinion, backed by medical research, holds that alcoholics should indeed be treated as having contracted a disease, rather than having developed deviant or criminal tendencies.

Perhaps, at this stage, it is impossible to resolve this question in a definitive manner. We still have much to learn about alcoholism and the forces that shape human behavior.

What can be said with reasonable certainty, however, is that few people become alcoholics willfully. If Section 504 encourages the Veterans Administration to believe they do, then it is the law itself that needs attention by Congress.

Fitting tribute

The Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce is establishing the Dr. Luis Perez Humanitarian Award to recognize area citizens deemed worthy by virtue of their unselfish, humanitarian service to the community. This, we feel, is a fitting tribute to a man whose life and work in Seminole County personified unselfish service to mankind.

We grieved when Dr. Perez died but rejoiced in recalling his good life. He was in the vanguard with those who recognized the dangers of drug abuse and he established a drug counseling program nearly 20 years ago. Thousands received medical attention from this great physician and none were turned away because they couldn't pay. He was a leader in the medical profession, and a leader among all people.

We applaud the action by the chamber in establishing this award and feel it is both fitting and proper that others be recognized in the name of Dr. Perez.

Trade bill may die, but politics lives

By Mary Beth Franklin
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Efforts to update the nation's trade laws may fall by the wayside this year, but a juicy political issue will linger — whether to give employees advanced notice of layoffs and plant closings.

Congressional Democrats have drawn the battle lines over the plant-closing notification provision, describing it as a struggle between "golden parachute" executives that support the GOP and the average working stiffs represented by the Democratic party.

"We want a (trade) bill, but if the Republicans choose to make this a political issue, that's up to them," Assistant House Democratic leader Tony Coelho of California said recently. "We won't shy away from the fight."

President Reagan has vowed to veto the sweeping trade reform bill because it contains the advance notification requirement.

Reagan and the business community adamantly oppose the plant-closing provision on the grounds it is an unnecessary government intrusion into private affairs and would subject firms that failed to give sufficient notice to lengthy court battles.

But organized labor and their Democratic supporters counter it is a matter of simple fairness to give workers and communities advance notice. They argue it is a logical complement to a trade bill that is designed to enhance American competitiveness abroad and keep jobs at home.

The administration has suggested stripping off the controversial amendment and sending the president a clean trade bill that he can sign. But the Democrats respond that they have compromised enough, watering down several trade reforms to placate the White House.

"This is not a dictatorship," Coelho said. "There has to be some give and take" — and the Democrats are not going to give any more, particularly on the plant-closing issue.

"The Republicans' base is the executives that get the golden parachute," Coelho said in references to lucrative salary and benefit packages that top corporate officers often receive when they lose their jobs.

"The only golden parachute the (working people) get from this administration is 24-to-48 hours notice, saying, 'Sorry baby,'" Coelho added.

He facetiously thanked the administration for drawing the political battle lines so distinctly — and to the Democrats' advantage.

"Instead of a labor issue, it is perceived as a fairness issue," he said. "We couldn't do it half as well as the Reagan White House has done."

Why the battle over the trade reform bill could be settled over the next few weeks — quite likely resulting in no new trade lard trade deficit — the plant-closing struggle will continue into the November election.

Democratic candidates Michael Dukakis and Jesse Jackson actively support the advance notification requirement, and Vice President George Bush, following the administration line, does not — at least as long as it is attached to the trade bill.

Stanford's thought police

Stanford University's Faculty Senate made headlines recently by abolishing a required course for freshmen called Western Culture and replacing it with one called Cultures, Ideas and Values. The old course involved reading selections from 15 "classic texts" of Western civilization (the Bible, Plato, etc.). The new course slashes these from 15 to six, to make room for works by "women, minorities and persons of color" — the point being that the original list's authors were overwhelmingly white and male, thus rendering it unacceptable.

It is difficult to argue in great detail with the Faculty Senate until we know what readings will replace the stricken classics, and the Senate was coy about this, leaving the selection to be made by individual professors when the new course begins in September 1989. But Secretary of Education William J. Bennett was undoubtedly right on the mark when he attributed the faculty's decision to "a campaign of pressure politics" by campus radicals. Stanford has long been in the grip of a coterie of left-liberal Thought Police whom the boys in the Kremlin might well envy.

One continuing drive by these intellectual storm troopers is an effort to bring the Hoover Institution "under normal academic governance" — which is to say, under their thumb.

The Hoover Institution is quite simply one of the world's greatest centers of interdisciplinary scholarship. Among the renowned scholars currently affiliated with it are half a dozen Nobel Prize winners. But structurally it has always been an "independent institution within the frame of Stanford University," and this is what the Thought Police find unbearable.

Another recent crusade by Stanford's busy Thought Police succeeded in keeping the Reagan Presidential Library from being located on campus, on the ground that this would threaten the university's reputation as "a non-partisan institution."

Turks may have killed Armenian terrorist

By Jack Anderson and Dale Van Atta

WASHINGTON — An official Turkish hit team assassinated at least one Armenian terrorist leader five years ago, despite pleas from the United States not to go ahead with the hit.

The story, which has remained a secret until now, lends credence to the possibility that another Turkish hit team killed the most wanted Armenian terrorist two weeks ago in Athens.

The kill-and-run tactic is common for Armenian terrorists, but Turkey's international reputation has not been besmirched recently by the label, "assassin." Hundreds of thousands of Armenians, a major ethnic group in Turkey, died at the hands of the Turks before and during World War I. Since 1975, a new surge of vengeance by Armenians has resulted in a bloody terrorist campaign, killing dozens of Turkish diplomats.

Apparently, the Turks have been striking back without attracting much attention.

Knowledgeable sources told Dale Van Atta that in the summer of 1982 the Central Intelligence Agency learned that a Turkish intelligence unit was planning to kill Armenian terrorist leaders operating in Western Europe.

ROBERT WALTERS

He's one for books

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Is former White House Chief of Staff Donald Regan an arrogant, autocratic executive seeking revenge for being dumped from his job by President Reagan and his wife Nancy? Probably.

Is former White House spokesman Larry Speakes a petty, mean-spirited person whose criticism of numerous Reagan administration officials in his new book is indiscreet if not insensitive? That sounds right.

Is David Stockman, the former director of the Office of Management and Budget, a smug, self-righteous man convinced that only he understands the intricacies of the federal budget? That makes sense.

But after it's stipulated that the authors of past (Stockman) present (Speakes) and future (Regan) books about the Reagan administration are egomaniacal self-promoters, how do we deal with the fact that they all portray the president as quite amiable but thoroughly inept.

Regan loyalists in and out of government have attempted to attack the authors of the critical books. (The loyalists are the source of most of the unkind descriptions offered above.)

But that strategy only inspires other embarrassing questions: Who hired all those dreadful people to work at the highest levels of the federal government? Why did the boss have such atrocious judgment in selecting his most senior aides?

More importantly, the ad hominem attacks hardly resolve the fundamental question repeatedly raised by people who have worked closely with Reagan: Does he know what he's doing?

The answers provided by the three erstwhile presidential aides are not reassuring. Indeed, they all suggest that Regan is not minimally qualified to hold the job to which he has twice been elected.

"Reagan's body of knowledge is primarily impressionistic. He registers anecdotes rather than concepts," says Stockman in his book, "The Triumph of Politics: Why the Reagan Revolution Failed," published two years ago.

"In the final analysis, only one conclusion is possible," he adds. "The American economy and government have been literally taken hostage by the awesome stubbornness of the nation's 40th president. That is how the history books will eventually explain the debt-spending spree of the 1980s."

Stockman poses a rhetorical question: "What do you do when your president ignores all the palpable, relevant facts and wanders in circles?"

In his just-published book, "Speaking Out," Speakes complains of Regan's "lack of attention to detail" and says preparing the president for a press conference was like "reinventing the wheel."

Which fetuses to pick?

By Rob Stein
UPI Science Writer

BOSTON (UPI) — A young couple who had been struggling for years to have children joyfully learns the fertility regimen they decided to try finally worked.

But the treatments worked too well: They are now expecting quintuplets, and multiple pregnancies carry risks, both to the mother and the children, their doctor says.

This scenario is becoming increasingly common as artificial insemination treatments and hormone treatments for infertility become more widespread.

To deal with such cases, some doctors are recommending their patients consider a procedure known as "selective reduction."

The procedure involves aborting some of the fetuses to reduce the risk of a difficult pregnancy and labor for the mother and to cut the chances all the fetuses will be lost in a miscarriage or suffer birth defects.

Although still uncommon, the procedure is controversial, drawing strong opposition from anti-abortionists and questions even from medical ethicists who support abortion.

Arthur Caplan, director of the Center for Biomedical Ethics at the University of Minnesota in Minneapolis, said, "What makes me react with grief and sadness at the whole thing is we're talking about medical interference to stop fetal development (for parents who want a baby)."

Doctors at the Mount Sinai School of Medicine in New York recently published what is believed to be the first study of the outcome of a relatively large number of cases.

They described 12 pregnancies in which the procedure was used and concluded the operation offered an option for some women, especially those expecting four or more babies.

"The ethical issues associated with selective reduction are considerable. Is it justifiable to lower the number of fetuses in the uterus in order to reduce an unspecified risk to all the fetuses?" wrote Dr. Richard L. Berkowitz and his colleagues in "The New England Journal of Medicine."

of Armenia, ASALA, the most brutal of the Armenian terrorist groups. In a surgical, highly professional hit on April 28, two gunmen fired four rounds from sawed-off shotguns at the 39-year-old Hagopian as he left his Athens home. No one else was hurt in the pre-dawn attack.

Hagopian's identity and whereabouts have long been a mystery. Hagop Hagopian was not his real name, but his nom de guerre. Few captured terrorists had ever seen him or knew his story. He founded ASALA in 1975 after breaking with the PLO, which had trained and supported him.

The biggest surprise following his assassination was the discovery that Hagopian was only half Armenian. He was also half Iraqi. New evidence indicates that he was part of the hit team responsible for the massacre of Israeli athletes at the 1972 Munich Olympics.

That means the Turks were not the only ones with a motive to kill Hagopian. Intelligence sources told us the Israelis knew all along that he was also an Arab terrorist, so it is possible that an Israeli hit team brought him down with the same efficiency that Israel demonstrated in the assassination of PLO leader Abu Jihad in front of his family last month.

A third possibility is that other

Armenian terrorists killed Hagopian. Splits among Armenian groups have led to bloodshed in the past. Hagopian himself was believed to have ordered the execution of more moderate Armenian leaders.

Ironically, the Greeks, who are investigating the murder on their turf, don't think that Turkey is responsible, even though there is no love lost between Turkey and Greece. If Greek authorities have figured out what Hagopian's real identity was, they are not telling.

To date, Armenian terrorists, primarily with ASALA, have murdered at least 30 people in their campaign to get revenge against the Turks. The most indiscriminate act was the detonation of a suitcase bomb in July 1983 at the Turkish airlines counter at Orly Airport in Paris. Eight people, including an American, were killed, and 51 were injured.

Four Turks have been murdered in the United States since ASALA was founded in 1975, which explains the high security at the Turkish Embassy in Washington, D.C. The ambassador keeps a machine gun in his desk. Other Turkish officials carry guns in case they have to defend themselves against terrorists while in the United States.

Dukakis, Bush take primaries in Nebraska and West Virginia

Democrat Michael Dukakis adds Nebraska and West Virginia to the string of states providing easy primary victories now in the drive toward his party's presidential nomination.

Dukakis, the Massachusetts governor, found the outcome against rival Jesse Jackson almost as one-sided as the experience of Vice President George Bush, who ran against no active Republican opposition in either state Tuesday.

With 99 percent of the Nebraska ballot counted, Dukakis had 63 percent of the vote to 26 percent for Jackson. With 80 percent of the West Virginia vote in, the front-runner had 79 percent to 14 percent for the civil rights leader.

AIK: News exit polls showed Jackson got nearly 25 percent of the white vote in Nebraska, one of his best showings ever in reaching beyond his black support base. Only 3 percent of the Nebraska and West Virginia populations are black, however, and the numbers were not enough.

Dukakis was expected to sweep the 62 delegates to the Democratic National Convention that were up for grabs in both states. United Press International's count found him with 1,423 of the 2,041 delegate votes needed for nomination, pulling away from Jackson at 878.

Yacht seized by Coast Guard returned after owner pays fine

MIAMI (UPI) — A $2.5-million luxury yacht seized when the Coast Guard, enforcing a tough drug policy, found a small amount of marijuana was released Tuesday after the owner paid a $1,600 fine. Customs Service officials said.

Customs spokesman Mike Sheehan said the owner, Michael J. Rogerson of Irvine, Calif., paid a $1,000 penalty and $600 in seizure expenses. No one was arrested, he said.

The Ark Royal, loaded with Jacuzzis, a grand piano and works of art, was seized Saturday in the Yucatan Channel after a routine boarding by U.S. Coast Guard officers yielded less than one-tenth of an ounce of marijuana residue.

Under a new "zero tolerance" policy announced last month, officials said they would seek the forfeiture of vessels and vehicles if they found even small, "personal-use" amounts of marijuana.

Governor signs 'container bill'

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — Gov. Bob Martinez has signed a bill into law making it illegal for motorists to drink alcoholic beverages while they drive.

He hailed the measure as "a quantum leap in making the highways safer" during a brief ceremony Tuesday attended by the measure's co-sponsors and lobbyists for Mothers Against Drunk Driving, who have been working for years to see the legislation enacted.

The law makes possession of an open alcohol container in a moving vehicle a moving violation, punishable by a $52 fine and loss of license points. Passengers would be fined $32 only if in actual possession of the container, otherwise, the driver would be charged.

The law takes effect Oct. 1.

Professor files $10 million sexual harassment suit

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (UPI) — A behavioral sciences professor at Broward County Community College filed a $10 million lawsuit Tuesday in federal court charging sexual harassment, "abuse and torture" by her boss.

Maureen Hart, a college professor for 22 years, is suing Neil Crispo, the department head since 1981, and the college president and provost, Gov. Bob Martinez and Secretary of Education Betty Castor are also listed as defendants.

"As soon as (Crispo) became department head, the sexual harassment, abuse and torture started," said Hart, who began at BCC in 1966. "Prior to that I had a great working relationship with the students and administrators. Since then, it's all been like a bad dream."

The harassment started as verbal comments concerning various sexual positions and sexual innuendos, and then got worse, she said during a news conference.

"He would call me into his office, on my day off, for no reason at all," Hart said. "But if I said no he would threaten insubordination. Insubordination can get you fired at BCC, and that was before we were unionized. I had no security. I had to go.

"He would try to unbutton my blouse and he was constantly grabbing my breasts," Hart said. "On several occasions he has me pinned up against the wall and put his hands around my neck, choking me. The man was a maniac."

"He was also very direct in what he wanted. He would shout and yell until I could fight no longer. If he wanted something, he wouldn't stop until someone gave in. Luckily, I'm not about to give in."

In 1981 Hart went to visit the president of the college Hugh Adams, who recommended she take it through the bureaucratic appeals process, she said. After seven years, she decided to take her case to court.

"I was begging for someone to help me," Hart said, her voice breaking with emotion. "I wrote letters, made telephone calls, I did everything. But nothing seemed to help."

Knight may consider New Mexico opening

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (UPI) — The University of New Mexico is conferring with Indiana basketball coach Bob Knight about its coaching vacancy, Indiana University officials confirmed late Tuesday.

"Whether he's talking about himself or someone else, I can't tell you," said Eric Ruden, assistant sports information director at Indiana. "A lot of times (Knight) is asked for advice or input on a job opening."

Gary Colson resigned as New Mexico's coach April 28 after eight years. Among those considered for the post are Oklahoma's Billy Tubbs, Alabama-Birmingham's Gene Bartow and Southern Methodist's Dave Bliss, a former Knight assistant.

"I talked with Bob this morning," said Ralph Floyd, the IU athletic director. "He just mentioned he would be going out there to discuss their situation with them."

Knight has been at Indiana since 1972 and has had numerous times he will not coach at another school. But Knight has a strained relationship with Thomas Ehrlich, the new Indiana president. Ehrlich reprimanded Knight for remarks the coach made last month on a television show concerning stress.

Knight and Ehrlich could not be reached immediately for comment.

Indiana AAU team tops Soviets, 104-102

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI) — Woody Austin, Indiana's outstanding high-school basketball player this year, hit a 16-footer with three seconds remaining Tuesday night to lift the Indiana AAU junior champion team to a 104-102 victory over a Soviet touring junior team.

The Soviets, 2-1 on their 10-game U.S. tour, are training for the European Junior Championships next month in Yugoslavia.

They tied the score 96-96 before the Indiana team ran off 6 straight points. The Soviets retaliated with a pair of 3-point shots to tie it 102-102 with 58 seconds left. Each team had a shot for the lead before Austin's decisive basket.

Shawn Kemp, who will play at the University of Kentucky, scored 26 points, grabbed 20 rebounds, made 5 steals and blocked 3 shots. Austin, headed for Purdue, scored 18. Sean Woods, also going to Kentucky, added 17 points. Andrey Lukyanets scored 27 points to lead the Soviets while Rauno Pekhka hit four 3-pointers on the way to 14 points.

The Soviets led 64-54 at halftime but the Indiana team scored the first 7 points of the second half and surged ahead 92-90 with seven minutes remaining on Austin's jumper.

Academic hall inducts 6 members

NEW YORK (UPI) — Congressmen Bill Bradley and Tom McMillen and Senate candidate Pete Dawkins were among six inducted Tuesday into the new Academic All-America Hall of Fame.

Also inducted were Dr. Donn Moomaw, Merlin Olsen and Pat Haden. The Hall of Fame was established to honor top student-athletes from the past 40 years.

Bradley, a two-time All-America basketball player at Princeton and member of the 1964 U.S. Olympic team and two New York Knicks NBA championship teams, was elected to the Senate as a Democrat from New Jersey in 1978. He is in his second term. McMillen, also a Democrat, was elected to the House of Representatives from Maryland in 1986. He played basketball for Maryland, was a member of the 1972 Olympic team and spent 11 years in the NBA.

Dawkins, the 1958 Heisman Trophy winner at Army, was an officer in the U.S. Army for 24 years and was promoted to brigadier general.

Heather Camino cruises along in first place in the mile in last week's region meet. Camino will look for her top times of the year in the mile and two mile at Saturday's Class 4A State Championships at Showalter Field in Winter Park.

Camino: Determined to succeed

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Editor

Heather Camino put in a multitude of miles of practice during the 1988 track season. Practice alone, though, doesn't make a champion. Somewhere amidst all the miles, Camino developed the determination that has made her one of the state's best in the mile and two mile.

Camino, a junior, will compete in both distance events this Saturday at the Class 4A State Championships at Winter Park's Showalter Field. "She (Camino) has really practiced hard and her determination has paid off," Lake Brantley coach Charlie Harris said. "I believe she has a shot at placing high in both the mile and two mile."

Many of the state's top distance runners have also had success in cross country. Camino did well during cross country as she had a best two mile time of 12:58, but it was not until track season where she really made her move. Camino has run an 11:44 for two miles this season, best in Seminole County, and a 5:22.9 in the mile (second to Seminole's Shownda Martin). She was conference champion in the two mile, district champion in both events and region champion in the mile.

Brantley's Frizzell hopes for top effort at state

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Editor

There are some runners who like to go out and take control and lead a race from start to finish. Lake Brantley's Lisa Frizzell, on the other hand, is at her best when she has someone to chase.

Frizzell, a senior, hopes her ability to come from behind will pay off in big dividends this Saturday as she competes in the Class 4A State Championships at Showalter Field in Winter Park.

Frizzell has qualified for state in the open 440 dash and she will also run a leg on the Brantley mile relay. The mile relay team, disqualified at region, has been reinstated by the FHSAA for the state meet.

In 1988, there have been no dominant runners in the open quarter so Frizzell has a shot at a good place, and even a victory if she runs her best. Frizzell's best time of the year is a 58.8 and she has run a 58.4 on the anchor leg of the mile relay.

"There are a few girls in the state who are in the 57s and that could be good for Lisa," Lake Brantley coach Charlie Harris said. "If they go out hard and take the lead, Lisa has the ability to run them down. She is a good chaser and if she stays close going into the home stretch she could very well win it."

Frizzell proved her ability as a chaser a week ago in the region meet. In the mile relay, Lake Brantley was in fifth position going into the anchor leg and needing at least a fourth-place finish to qualify for state. Frizzell took the baton and, at about the 220 mark, put Brantley in fourth place. She passed another runner and the Lady Patriots wound up third in the race.

"She's very good at running someone down who is in front of her," Harris said of Frizzell. "That's why she is so effective on the anchor of the mile relay."

Frizzell should also be a little more fresh for the 440 dash this week as she will not have to run preliminaries in the 220. Frizzell qualified for the region meet in the 220 and had to run prelims in that event last week along with prelims and finals in the quarter.

"The 220 took a little out of her last week," Harris said. "Without those prelims, she will be stronger for the 440."

Frizzell's goal will be first to make the finals, then to place in the top six. A year ago, Frizzell qualified for state and was 10 yards from the finish when she stumbled and ended up fifth in her heat, just missing a spot in the finals.

"I think if she runs under 59, she will get in the top six," Harris said. "The key for her will be running a strong last 100 yards. I think she has the ability to run in the 57s."

RELAY REINSTATED

The Lake Brantley team received some good news late last week when it was learned its mile relay team had been reinstated for the state meet. The team finished third in the region at 4:06.5. At first, the team was disqualified, then reinstated, then disqualified again.

"What happened was the people who protested it and the officials were looking at the wrong rule," Harris said. "So I got the rule book, showed our principal (Darvin Boothe) and he called Fred Rozelle (FHSAA executive secretary)."

"Then we met with Rozelle at the IA State meet on Friday," added Harris. "We told him what happened, showed him the page in the rule book and he decided to reinstate us."

That means five teams from the region will compete in state. Rozelle ruled that both Lake Brantley and John I. Leonard, the team that ended up fifth after the reinstatement, will run in lane 1 at Saturday's state meet.

"I don't see any problem with two teams running in lane 1," Harris said. "Because we plan on leaving them (Leonard) in the dust anyway."

Joyce Tullis, just a freshman, has qualified for the state championships in both the mile and two mile. She will look for top six finishes in both events in Saturday's meet at Winter Park's Showalter Field.

Tullis: Precocious freshman

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Editor

For the typical freshman, the first year of high school athletic competition is a learning experience in which you listen to the coach, work hard, and hope to reap the benefits the next three years.

Someone forgot to tell that to Joyce Tullis.

The precocious Lake Brantley distance runner has qualified for this Saturday's Class 4A State Meet in both the mile and the two mile, a feat not many freshmen in the state have ever accomplished.

"It is really quite an accomplishment for a freshman to qualify for state in the distance double," Lake Brantley coach Charlie Harris said. "Joyce has come a long way in a short time."

Tullis gave an indication of her potential during the cross country season, where she had a top time of 12:48 which ranked fourth in Seminole County. She was also the Seminole Athletic Conference Freshman-Sophomore meet champion.

After helping the Lake Brantley girls soccer team to conference and district crowns, Tullis hit the track and made an immediate impact. Her top time in the mile this season is a 5:30 which ranks third in the county behind Seminole's Shownda

Howell's Rigby, Horvath look to go out in style

CASSELBERRY — Lake Howell High School will pin its hopes on its two most consistent competitors to score in the Class 4A State Championships this Saturday at Showalter Field in Winter Park.

Leading the Silver Hawks are seniors Cornell Rigby (440 dash) and Brian Horvath (pole vault). Both have not placed below third at any time this season and have put in some quality efforts to reach the state finals.

"Both runners have led us all season and we would like to see them both close their careers with a good showing," Lake Howell coach Doug Blackwell said. "Both have been very consistent and both, if they have a good day, can do very well this Saturday."

Horvath won the pole vault in last week's regional meet with a 13-6 effort and has been looking good at that height in practice. Horvath has been one of Seminole county's in the vault for the past two years and is hoping for to place in the top six Saturday.

"Brian has been really jumping well," Blackwell said. "He seems to be on right now, and that's a big plus for a vaulter. He's also clearing 13-6 with more ease everyday. I'm not sure how the other vaulters in 4A are jumping but he should have a good shot at placing."

Horvath also won the vault in the Seminole Athletic Conference and the district meet to add on to his senior season. Horvath also won several invitationals and was the county leader for most of the season.

"He was always near the top," Blackwell said. "He was a very dependable jumper and always gave us points in the vault."

With Horvath on a roll and his ability to rise to the competition it is very possible that he could go up to 14-6 Saturday. A 14-6 lead would almost guarantee him a top three finish in the event.

"He's clearing 13-6 with more and more ease," Blackwell said. "If he puts together some good jumps he can clear 14-0 with little problem. If he can put everything together he could get 14-6, but right now we're just hoping he can perform well and want him to take it one step at a time."

Rigby, entered in the 440 yard dash, and Blackwell are hoping to put the correct workouts together this week for a peak performance Saturday. If all goes well Blackwell believes that Rigby is capable of a top four finish.

Tampa's Martinez wields hot bat in Division II

BASEBALL

TAMPA (UPI) — For three years, baseball scouts have descended on a Division II school to marvel at the sweet swing of Tino Martinez, a junior first baseman at the University of Tampa. They have seen a 6-foot-2, 190-pound package of power and grace that has broiled pitchers alive in the Sunshine State Conference.

"There's talk that he can be another Will Clark (San Francisco Giants)," says George Zarow, a veteran scout for the Cincinnati Reds. "Martinez has a tremendous bat and an even better makeup. They just don't make kids any better than this young man. He has tremendous potential."

Potential can be a chilling word. It has paralyzed the careers of hundreds of talented athletes. Yet Martinez, a 20-year-old native of Tampa, has spent much of this decade surpassing the expectations of even his most ardent supporters.

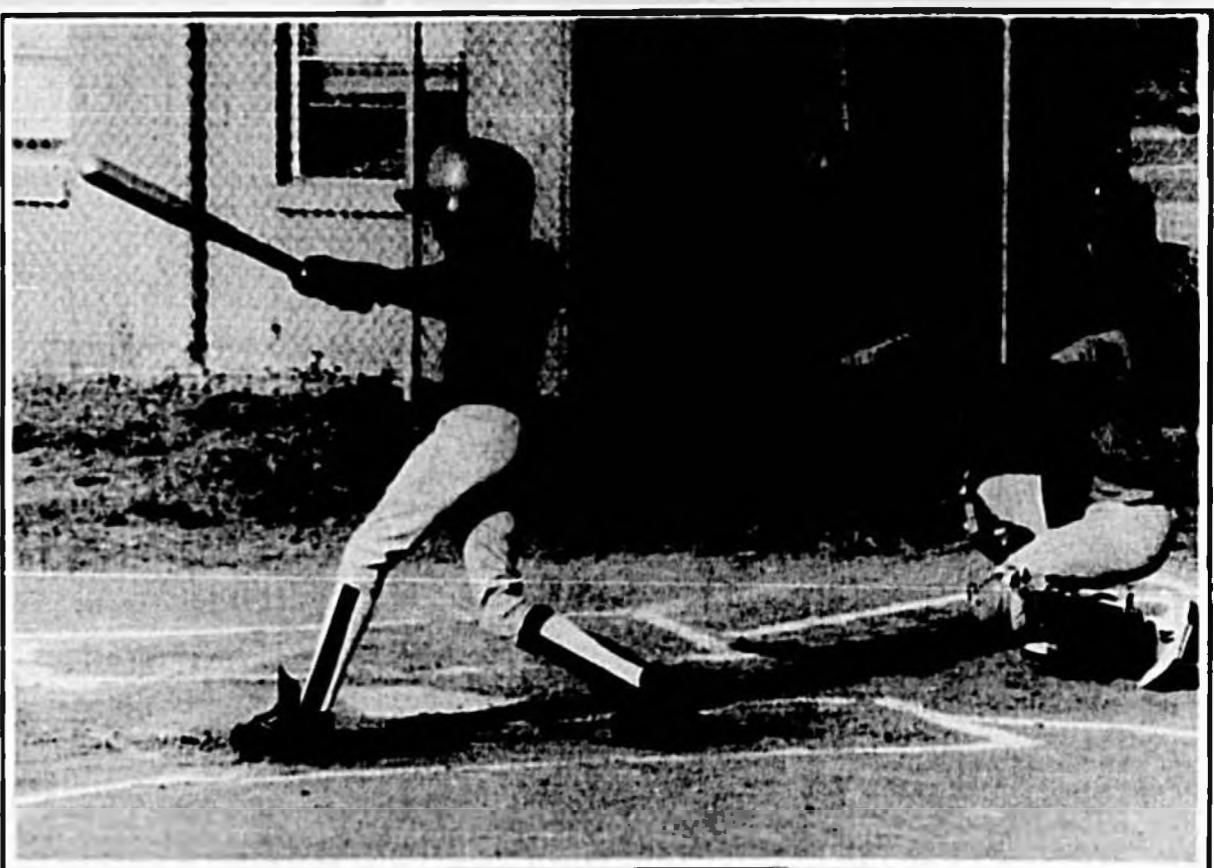

"This kid does everything well and some things great," says Coach Ken Dominguez, who guided the Spartans to a 29-15 mark during the regular season. "Scouts have been coming up to me all year asking me what kind of a kid Tino is. I tell them there might have been problems with jealousy on this team if Tino wasn't the kind of young man he is. He puts the team first and earns the respect he gets."

Opposing coaches have displayed their respect by pitching around Martinez. Despite seeing few strikes, the left-handed slugger led the charge, 22 home runs, 62 runs, 68 RBI and 78 hits in 44 games. Martinez seldom strikes out and has learned to take outside pitches to the opposite field. He's also a deft fielder with a strong, accurate arm.

In 1985, Boston drafted Martinez out of high school in the third round, but he bypassed the Red Sox to attend UT. Martinez hit .330 as a freshman and .422 last year before becoming the only Division II player to make the Pan American team. At Indianapolis, he hit .430 with a team-leading 20 RBI, prompting U.S. Coach Ron Fraser to ask Dominguez. "What

SPBA's Andre Rawlings raps out a double in Tuesday's game vs. Rinker while catcher Eric Ingram looks on. Rawlings later scored on a wild pitch as SPBA took a 5-0 lead in the first inning. Rinker, though, came back strong in the late innings and posted a 16-11 victory. For Tuesday's results, see Page 8A.

Hopson sets sights on state title

TRACK

By Mark Blythe
Herald Sports Writer
SANFORD — Seminole High senior Walter Hopson has his sights set on a state championship and will get the chance to obtain it in the high jump this Friday when he will compete in the 3A State Championships at Showalter Field in Winter Park.

Hopson leads the field going into the meet as he cleared 6-8 to win the regional meet held last Thursday in Gainesville. Hopson has also cleared 6-9 in practice and will hope his big meet consistency will continue.

"He (Hopson) has a real good shot to win it," Seminole coach Ken Brauman said. "There are three or four jumpers right below him at 6-8 and that's just a hair from 6-8. Darryl Miller of Glades Central is the only other competitor to clear 6-8. Walter has always done well in the big meets and has jumped well when he has needed to which is only a plus for him."

Hopson is in his third year of high jumping and since coming on the scene has steadily improved in the event. Hopson cleared 6-4 last season before moving up to the 6-8 mark this season.

Hopson's goal, though, is to win the event and then concern himself with his performance. Hopson will think about performance secondly with the thought that getting up above 6-8 will draw the attention of many colleges.

"I don't think performance is the top thing on our minds right now," Brauman said. "We're hoping he can go out and stay at the same level he has been. The Seminole's Walter Hopson flops over the bar in the high jump. Hopson hopes to clear a height that will give him the state championship this Friday at Showalter Field in Winter Park. His best in competition is 6-8 while he has cleared 6-9 in practice.

state meet is strange, though. I've seen jumpers improve quite a bit in one day so Walter will have to stay consistent."

Hopson has had the ability to clear most of his early heights on his first attempt, which has led the way to many victories this season. Hopson has also led Seminole county in the event over the past two seasons and blossomed into one of the state's best leapers this season.

"He's been with us for three years but he plays basketball also and we really only have half a season to work with him," Brauman said. "He's improved gradually ever since his first day of practice and has had an outstanding year."

Hopson is a natural jumper and is very capable of improving on his school record of 6-8. Hopson's jump at 6-9 at Showalter had his body clearing the bar with ease before his foot caught the bar.

"I think he's capable of clearing 6-10 right now," Brauman said. "And if he gets excited he could go 7 foot or better."

If Hopson does get up to 6-10 Brauman feels the college offers will start to come in and give Hopson the opportunity to continue his career.

"Clearing 6-10 or better kind of separates the field," Brauman said. "There are a lot of jumpers at 6-8, but when you clear 6-10 things seem to change and a lot more college coaches take an interest. He can always go to a junior college first and improve on his jumping before transferring to a big school."

If Hopson does not better his 6-8 lead at the state meet he will have a shot to do so in the Golden South meet to be held in the first week of June. With that in mind Hopson will concentrate only on winning Friday.

"We'll take a good performance, but we'll be real happy for him if he can go out and win," Brauman said. "If he does both, performs well and wins, it will just be to his credit and make it more enjoyable for him."

"He's been running well and consistent, but he's capable of going much faster," Blackwell said. "He should be ready to drop his time to the low 49s. If he gets down there he should finish in the top four with a shot at winning."

Both have given Seminole county plenty of entertainment and should end their careers on a positive note regardless of place. Blackwell just hopes for both to compete well and turn in good performances and worry not worry about placing.

"It would be great for both of them to score some points for us," Blackwell said. "But we'll be happy as long as both go out and compete strongly and don't place."

...Tullis

Martin and Brantley's Heather Camino. In the two mile, Tullis has a top time of 11:48.2 which is second in the county to Camino.

In the district championships, she was second to Camino in both the mile and two mile. In the region meet last week, Tullis finished second in the mile behind Camino and third in the two mile behind Spanish River's Jennifer Atchley and Camino.

"Just for a freshman to go to the state meet is a great feat," Harris said. "But I believe Joyce has a shot at placing in both events."

PAULEY IN MILE

Lake Brantley will have three competitors in the mile run in Saturday's state meet with Camino, Tullis and junior Kristen Pauley. Pauley qualified by finishing fourth in last week's region meet.

Pauley's qualifying for state is quite an accomplishment considering she only competed for half the season after she injured an ankle during swimming season.

Pauley's top time in the mile this season is a 5:38.6 which ranks fourth in Seminole County behind Martin, Camino and Tullis, all of whom are in the state meet (Martin in 3A) in the mile.

It will be the second state competition of the school year for Pauley who also qualified for the 4A State Swimming Championships and helped Brantley to a second place finish.

"She is an amazing athlete," Harris said of Pauley. "It's really something to go to state as an individual in two different sports."

...Camino

At last week's region meet at Showalter, Camino led three Brantley state qualifiers by finishing first in the mile. Teammate Joyce Tullis was second and Kristen Pauley fourth. In the two mile, Camino took second behind Spanish River's Jennifer Atchley and Tullis was third.

"This is really a big step for our distance runners," Harris said. "We had no state last year and now we have three. It says a lot about their dedication."

At Saturday's meet, Harris believes Camino can place high in both the mile and two mile and can contend for top honors with her best performances.

"She's going to have to deal with some people in the mile who have run under 5:20," Harris said. "It will be interesting to see how she reacts. If she can stay with the front-runners for 3 1/2 laps, she has a shot at winning it. She'll have to run her best time of the year."

"She's already ranked in the top six in the two mile and I believe she can score some big points there," Harris added. "If she runs her best, she has a chance to win."

Camino will have to contend with a strong distance contingent from the Tampa area.

Mattingly clubs 1st homer, Yanks roll

United Press International
 New York Yankee Manager Billy Martin's remedy to cure Don Mattingly's typical slow start worked for the second straight game.

Mattingly responded with his first home run of the season and four RBI Tuesday night to lead New York to a 17-3 rout of the Chicago White Sox. The Yankees first baseman has gone 0 for 9 with 5 RBI since being moved to the No. 2 spot in the batting order Sunday.

"When you have a team that has a chance to win (the pennant), players tend to rush out and do more than they're capable of," Martin said. "I don't believe it's the spot that makes the difference. I think it's the corrections he's making. Now he's getting back to being the hitter he was before."

Mattingly, who capped a seven-run outburst in the third inning with a three-run homer, disagrees with Martin's assessment, but enjoys batting second.

"I always try to do a lot, but I don't think I'm trying to do too much," Mattingly said. "I don't know what I'm doing early (in the season), it just doesn't work."

"I don't know why it is, but as the No. 2 hitter, I seem to become more of a spray hitter. ... Until I hit the ball hard four or five times a game, I'm not going to be there."

New York's John Candelaria, 4-2, hurled a five-hitter for his third complete game. He struck out six, walked one and did not allow an earned run.

"Candelaria had great stuff," Chicago Manager Jim Fregosi said. "He always has good stuff. He's a helluva of pitcher when he's healthy and an outstanding competitor."

Chicago starter Ricky Horton, 3-5, yielded six runs, walked four and hit a batter in 2-2-3 innings.

The Yankees' 20 hits tied a season-high, with every batter getting at least one. The 17 runs were the most the club has scored at Yankee Stadium since 1955.

The victory came after a weekend series in Texas during which the Yankees lost three straight and Martin claimed he was attacked at a topless bar.

Twins 9, Brewers 3

At Minneapolis, Kirby Puckett and Kent Hrbek ignited a six-run fourth inning with back-to-back homers to help snap Milwaukee's 10-game winning streak. ### Mets 5, Astros 2

At Houston, Gary Carter drove in two runs, including one during a three-run eighth inning, to lead the Mets. Dave Cone, 4-0, gave up one run on four hits in seven innings. Roger McDowell earned his third save. Ernie Camacho, 0-3, took the loss.

Rinker upends SPBA, 16-11

SANFORD — Down 9-6 going into the fifth inning, Rinker Materials rallied for seven runs and went on to beat SPBA, 16-11, in Sanford Little National League action Tuesday at Fort Melon Park.

SPBA rallied for five runs in the first frame to take the early lead. Phillip Reynolds led off with a walk. Darius Beamon walked and Eric Roberts singled to drive in the first run. Beamon then scored on a passed ball and Lee McIntyre followed with a walk. With two outs, Andre Rawlings ripped a double to drive in two runs and he also scored on a passed ball for a 5-0 lead.

Rinker got four runs in the third, three on a home run by Charlie Farmer. Eric Ingram then tripled and scored on Willie Williams' double.

SPBA scored two times in the bottom of the third and two in the fourth to take a 9-6 lead.

In the top of the fifth, Mike Williams led off with a double for Rinker. Tony Guanciale walked and Don Hunt walked. Calvin Jones then ripped a triple to score three runs and tie the score. Farmer's singled drove in Jones and Mike Horn blasted a two-run homer for a 12-9 Rinker lead. Ingram then tripled and scored on a passed ball to make it 13-9.

SPBA came back within 13-10 in the bottom of the fifth when Andrew Arnie singled and later scored on a passed ball.

But Rinker added three runs in the top of the sixth to sew up the win. Horn started the inning with a base hit, Ingram walked and Willie Williams singled in Horn. Mike Williams then doubled to score two more runs.

SPBA got one run in the bottom of the sixth when Eric Roberts singled and later scored. Winning pitcher Ingram then struck out the next two hitters and got a grounder to second baseman Hunt to end the game.

FEDERAL TRIUMPHS

First Federal erupted for 14 runs in the second inning en route to a 20-0 victory over the Railroaders in Little National League play. Tony Smith had a home run and two singles for First Federal and Deon Jackson had a homer and also pitched a two-inning no-hitter.

SUNNILAND ROLLS

Henry June slammed a home run and two triples and drove in four runs as Sunniland downed DAV, 17-8, in Little National League play at Westside Field.

Richard Pederson was the winning pitcher and he fought off 16 walks with a one-hitter. Pederson also added an RBI double and four runs to the offense. Isaiah Barns had the only hit for DAV, a single in the first inning.

Brooks boosts Expos

ATLANTA (UPI) — Hubie Brooks singled in two runs during a five-run second inning and homered Tuesday to lead the Montreal Expos to a 6-1 victory over the Atlanta Braves.

Bryn Smith, 2-2, allowed eight hits and struck out five over seven innings to improve to 11-2 lifetime against Atlanta. Both of Smith's victories this season have come against Atlanta. He also beat the Braves last Thursday.

Jeff Parrett pitched two innings. He got out of a base-loaded two-out situation in the ninth by getting Ted Simmons to ground out to second base. The Expos took a 5-0 lead in the second off starter Tom Glavine 1-5. Tim Wallach led off with a single. One out later, Mitch Webster and Nelson Santovenia singled to load the bases. Luis Rivera doubled to drive in Wallach and Webster.

Tim Raines was intentionally walked with two outs and Johnny Paredes singled to score Santovenia. Brooks delivered a two-run single to left.

Montreal increased its lead to 6-0 in the fifth off reliever Jose Alvarez when Brooks hit his fourth homer.

...Martinez

are you feeding this guy?" Martinez faces some major decisions in the next few months. After the June amateur baseball draft, where Martinez is expected to go within the first 15 picks, he could attempt to make the U.S. Olympic team for the Summer Games in Seoul, Korea. He is determined to return here to complete two semesters for his degree in business management.

"A lot will depend on when I'm picked in the draft and what plans the team has for me," says Martinez, who claims no preference for a particular major-league organization. "If I try out and make the Olympic team, I could lose a whole summer of playing in the Instructional League, but I'd get the experience of being in the Olympics. Playing in the Pan Am Games helped me a lot. I didn't know whether I'd fit in with guys from all over the country, but now I know I can play with 'em."

Martinez, who plans to marry Marie Prado in the fall of 1989, appears to go through life facing a perpetual 3-0 count. He's handsome, articulate, bright, funny and outgoing. So why don't his merely mortal teammates hope he stumbles once in a while?

"Tino's simply a great ballplayer and everyone here respects him," says mammoth Terry Rupp, who hits behind Martinez. "There are no jealousies out here. We're here to win and Tino just hits and hits and hits. He'll probably make it to the big leagues soon. I'll look back some day and say I played with this guy."

Schmidt out with injury

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Philadelphia Phillies third baseman Mike Schmidt missed Tuesday night's game because of a pulled muscle in his ribcage.

"It bothers him when he has movement outside of hitting, when he has to make a quick move to his left or cut back," Manager Lee Elia said. "He has some strain and we don't want to take a chance of him hurting it seriously."

The injury forced Schmidt from Sunday's game and he returned Monday night, going 0-for-2 with a walk.

Illusions, Re Runs victorious

SANFORD — The Illusions and the Re Runs were the big winners Tuesday in Sanford Women's Softball League action at Pinehurst Park.

The Illusions scored six runs in the second inning to break the game open and survived shaky defense in the early going to claim a 13-3 victory over Woodall Chiropractic.

Terri Richie's two-run double was the big hit in the third inning while Rose Frey contributed an RBI single and Teresa Walburger walked to force in the sixth run of the frame.

Defensively, the Illusions committed five errors over the first two innings, then settled down and played errorless ball the rest of the way.

The Illusions put the game away with five runs in the top of the sixth. Jan Sanislaw's three-run homer highlighted the inning.

In Tuesday's second game, Dena Flamm hit two homers and a double and drove in six runs to lead The Re Runs to a 13-0 rout of The Who.

Flamm blasted a three-run homer in the first inning, slammed a two-run shot in the second and added an RBI double in the fourth. Paula Ritchey added a two-run homer in the fourth while Cindy Bungo contributed three hits in the game and Cheryl Peters added a two-run double.

The Who got only four hits off winning pitcher Bev Hughes with Patsy Harding going 1 for 2.

Stocks open sharply lower

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prices opened sharply lower today in active trading of New York Stock Exchange issues.

The Dow Jones industrial average, which rose 6.30 Tuesday, was down 14.00 to 1989.56 shortly after the market opened.

Declines led advances 642-157 among the 1,109 issues crossing the New York Stock Exchange tape. Early turnover amounted to about 11,280,000 shares.

Stock prices closed slightly higher Tuesday in slow trading following a late rally that pulled the market out of a mid-afternoon slump and allowed the Dow to break a streak of four consecutive losses.

"What we have in this market is more idle drifting with no clear cut position," said William Trittill, vice president-research at Rodman & Renshaw Inc. in Chicago.

Dollar slightly lower; gold, silver higher

By United Press International

The dollar drifted slightly lower in light trading today on major foreign currency markets. Gold continued its rise.

In early New York trading, the dollar was slightly lower against key foreign currencies in what market watchers described as relatively calm trading.

Traders said the market is zeroing in on the quarterly U.S. Treasury refunding that began yesterday, and Friday's report of the Japanese trade figures for April.

The first leg of the U.S. treasury auction had little impact on currency levels, traders added.

The refunding continues later today with the sale of $8.75 billion of 10-year notes and concludes Thursday with the offer of $8.5 billion of 30-year bonds.

In earlier trading in the Far East, the dollar weakened against the Japanese yen, closing at 124.24 yen, off 0.39 from 124.63 yen on Tuesday.

In Europe, the dollar began the day in Frankfurt at 1.678 West German marks, down from 1.6799 on Tuesday.

In Zurich, the dollar opened at 1.392 Swiss francs, down from 1.3945. In Paris at 5.6825 French francs, down from 5.694 and in Brussels at 35.32 Belgian francs, down from 35.36.

The pound opened in London at $1.8835 compared with $1.882 on Tuesday.

The dollar started the day in Amsterdam at 1.879 Dutch guilders, down from 1.882 and in Milan at 1,246.45 lire, down from 1,249.45.

Seniors open credit union

DETROIT (UPI) — The American Association of Retired Persons has formed its own credit union, hoping its leverage will force traditional financial institutions to open their eyes to an enormous consumer group.

President John Denning became the first customer of the AARP Federal Credit Union on Tuesday's first day of the three-day biennial convention, expected to attract 30,000 senior citizens to speeches, workshops, exhibits and entertainment.

By the end of the year, "we expect to have thousands of members," said Cyril Brickfield, chairman of the nine-member credit union board.

The 30-year-old AARP has a general membership of 28 million.

"We hope to awaken the industry to the wisdom of offering credit to the elderly at lower terms," Brickfield said. "I think, little by little, you'll see competition."

Roth said she would meet with group members soon to see if they were willing to fund a court battle.

More than a dozen speakers opposed the request to add a back-up system to the plant, saying the additional well would draw saltwater into nearby wells and would serve as a stepping stone to increased housing densities in the area.

"I'm concerned about the reputation of Southern State," said Harry Smith of Chula Vista. "They don't have a good track record. A backup is not a backup but a move to expand the service area."

Roth said the wells are located near an area that has high chlorides in the ground water, evidence of saltwater intrusion. She said the additional well might draw saltwater closer to private wells in the Chuluota area.

Southern State attorney Forest Fields said the use of an additional 250,000 gallons per day (gpd) from the new well and the additional pumping and treatment facilities would not expand the current 500,000-gpd facility, but would serve as a backup to the existing system. He said the additional water is needed to upgrade the 30-year-old system, long the source of customer complaints about water quality.

Fields agreed with a county provision that even if both wells are operating at the same time, they cannot exceed the St. Johns River Water Management District (SJRWD) consumptive use permit pumping allocation of 668,000 gpd.

Fields also agreed with a county provision that should Southern State seek a consumptive-use increase, the county will be notified at least 30 days before the permit application is submitted. County Attorney Nikki Clayton said the county could not prohibit capacity increases, but could argue against them.

Southern State president Charles Sweat told Board of Adjustment members in March he had no current or future plans to expand the system to more than 1,000 customers, the amount the current capacity could supply.

Residents said Sweat had offered to supply water to a proposed 400-home subdivision east of the plant.

Peggy Beck, a resident of Lake Mills, located outside the Southern State service area, said she supported the improvements in hopes Southern State would expand its service into her area.

Despite the arguments, commissioners said their main concern was a land-use decision. County staff had recommended approval of the request as long as it did not represent an expansion of service area.

said his initial demand was for family photos and very personal things, not the complete load of goods.

Robert O'Neil, owner of the storage company will say nothing more than that he has a sale of "distressed furniture" scheduled at his Sanford warehouse Saturday. Legal notices name Dahl as the shipper of those goods.

Dahl has been in the county jail since Dec. 9, held in lieu of $8,000 bond on charges of using a firearm in a felony and armed trespass in connection with the December incident.

Dahl's attorney, public defender James Figgatt, said Dahl entered a plea of guilty to armed trespass on May 3. Figgatt said Dahl will probably be released next week on the condition that he seek mental health counseling in Volusia County while awaiting sentencing on the trespass charge. He could get up to a year in jail on that charge, Figgatt said. He has already spent five months in the Seminole County jail.

Another condition of his release pending sentencing, in lieu of bond, is that Dahl and his family have no further contact with the mover or storer of the goods involved in the dispute, Figgatt said.

Dahl said he is looking forward to freedom, but added his experience in jail has been "enlightening, bordering on enjoyable. I never knew this side of society existed," said the former mill owner and salesman. He said he has material for a second book and hopes his unpublished first novel which has been in storage will be among the items his wife recovers.

Dahl said when he took control of the warehouse last December, he tried to make a deal with police and warehouse officials, that he would kill himself in exchange for the goods. It was an offer authorities could not accept. He said he did it with the intention of halting the auctioning of the goods which was scheduled for December 5. His actions delayed the auction, but did not prevent it. The fees still have not been paid and storage costs have mounted. The items are valued at more than $65,000.

When Dahl could not pay the moving and storage costs in the spring of 1987, the goods were moved to Sanford and stored. The fees have still not been paid and Dahl's family has not posted bond for his release from jail.

Sanford Police Chief Steve Harriett, who supervised negotiations with Dahl after he forced storage company workers out and held police at bay for 24 hours, said police have been notified about the pending auction. Police will beef up patrols in the area near the time of the auction, but Harriett said he doesn't anticipate any problems. He said the notification of police about the auction was informal.

The storage company is advertising the auction in a legal notice in the Sanford Herald, as is required by law.

Under advice from Seminole County mental health workers, Harriett initially tried to deal with Dahl after his capture by seeking mental health care for him, rather than arresting him.

Dahl was taken into custody under the Baker Act, which allows authorities to hold persons who are an apparent safety threat for 72 hours.

From Dec. 4 through 9 Dahl was in a mental health ward at Halifax Hospital in Daytona Beach. Sanford police got word he was being released on the evening of December 9 because hospital officials said he had no serious mental problems. Police officers went to Daytona, picked him up and brought him back to Sanford. Charges were filed against him and he was booked into the Seminole County jail.

He valued at $10,000 each, deputies said.

Reek died in the Winter Park Memorial Hospital March 22. His death was from natural causes, officials said. A joint investigation by sheriff's deputies and Health and Rehabilitative Services workers, which began March 3, was still underway when Reek died. Investigators said Reek was confused and disoriented when they tried to talk to him in the hospital.

VanDyke's name was added to Reek's bank account on February 29 and she allegedly wrote a $38,000 check to herself on the account that day. The addition of VanDyke's name to the account, and the withdrawal of funds, was done without the knowledge or permission of other members of Reek's family, according to investigators.

Reek's granddaughter, Elizabeth Jeanniton, 34, of Daytona, reported the incident to sheriff's deputies as a theft on March 1. She told deputies she visited her grandfather February 29 and "he looked like he was almost dead."

She said VanDyke had been caring for her grandfather for about a year, since his release from a hospital. At that time, Jeanniton said, her grandfather had about $80,000.

Investigators said Reek reportedly told a bank official he was afraid his family would take his money from him. Jeanniton told sheriff's deputies that although she had been caretaker of his money during his earlier hospitalization, she returned all of his funds to him when he got out of the hospital and before VanDyke became his caretaker.

Named to serve with Schilke are John Carl, James Tesar, Vic Arnett, Wayne Albert and Mack Cleveland.

"We wanted to do something for Dr. Perez, in the form of recognition, before he passed away but unfortunately we didn't," Schilke said. "He was such a great humanitarian, people have no idea how much he gave of himself. He set up the first drug counseling program in the area about 20 years ago, long before most people recognized the problem.

"He gave hours of his time professionally at no charge for those who otherwise couldn't afford medical care," Schilke added.

The committee will begin its work in about two weeks, ac-ording to the chairman, and will report its recommendations to the chamber as quickly as feasible.

"The award will not be given at specified intervals, but only when someone deemed worthy is selected. It will be presented at a special event for that purpose, such as a luncheon," Schilke said.

Dr. Perez died Feb. 24, 1988 following a long illness.

In addition, the city commission recently learned that DeLattibeaudiere cannot serve on both the code enforcement board and the housing authority at the same time by Florida law, according to City Attorney Bill Colbert.

According to race organizer Juanita Blumberg, the actual race should be under six hours.

COOK OF THE WEEK

Dabbling turned out good food

There's Irish in his blood, but Italian in his cooking

By Jane Hale
Herald Correspondent

Our cook of the week is a hard-working, energetic man who still finds the time to do some of the cooking for the family.

Tom Carter was born in Elmhurst, N.Y., and grew up there and in Jamaica, N.Y. He went to the parochial schools there, where he was interested in all kinds of sports, especially basketball. After graduating from high school, he joined the U.S. Navy, which stationed him in such places as Puerto Rico over his four years in the service.

Carter met his wife, Christina, at a social party in Jamaica, N.Y. "It was love at first sight," Carter said. "I knew that she would sooner or later be my wife. We've been married for 27 wonderful years. It seems like only yesterday."

Carter admits to learning to cook after he was married. "I learned to cook just by getting in the kitchen and dabbling," he said. "I made up my own recipes as I went along. Some of the things really tasted strange, but most of them tasted good. My wife's Italian family taught me most of what I know about Italian cooking. It seems kind of strange to cook all these Italian dishes when I'm Irish."

Carter has a brother and five sisters who cook, but his two youngest sisters cook exceptionally well, he said. "My mother taught them how to cook, especially her famous Special Chili Recipe. This is something that she was famous for all over Jamaica, N.Y."

In Carter's spare time he enjoys working on hand-made crafts and wood-working. "It's something that you never get tired of doing. I also like to take my grandchildren to EPCOT Center because I can explain to them how their grandpa helped build it. It really makes them proud to think how I could do something so clever as that."

Carter said he has tried to pass down some of his cooking know-how to the next generation, without much success. "My children grew up on my special recipes, and they thought that they were really good. I've tried to teach them how to make some of them, but they just aren't interested in learning. Maybe when the grandchildren get a little older I'll teach them how to make some of the concoctions, since none of my kids is willing to learn."

Although he has lived in Florida for the past 10 years, Carter said he still misses the special desserts and breads of New York. "That is why I have one of my sisters send some down every once in a while. But I like living in Florida because of my special friends I have met here."

Listed below are several family recipes that are Carter's favorites:

BAKED MANICOTTI

S-S-Stuttering cause unknown; awareness promoted

By Brian Hedberg
PEOPLE Editor

SANFORD — When Porky Pig speaks—"Th-th-that's all folks"—people listen, and laugh.

Perhaps Porky is self-conscious about his pink pudginess. Maybe he's paranoid about becoming someone's breakfast sausage. Whatever the cause of his uncontrolled tongue, most people think his nerves do it to him.

During May 9-15, declared National Stuttering Awareness Week by Congress, the National Stuttering Project is taking the opportunity to educate the public about myths surrounding stuttering.

It is not a "nervous disorder," the California-based organization says, pointing out that no study has shown stutterers to be any different psychologically from anyone else.

An estimated 2.1 million Americans stutter, many forgetting therapy and probably cure because they are encouraged by friends and family to ignore the handicap, says Martin Schwartz, who has developed a treatment for the problem.

Schwartz, head of the National Center for Stuttering, said the treatment is named the Air Flow and Stress Reduction Technique and produces fluent speech in as little as 15 minutes because it works on the physical cause of stuttering.

Stuttering occurs when the natural flow of speech is interrupted, such as with the inability to produce certain sounds, or when an initial sound, word or phrase is repeated. But the real root of the problem is a mystery.

The more researchers probe the problem, the more evidence

Effect on history

Several famous individuals have experienced the problem of stuttering, including:
• Aristotle
• Moses
• Chris Reardon
• Winston Churchill
• Lewis Carroll
• Anthony Quinn
• Isaac Newton
• Charles Darwin
• King George VI

surfaces that would support a genetic and neurological basis for stuttering. A consistent 4 percent of children seem to have a predisposition to stutter. Stuttering runs in families, and the sex ratio for the problem is exactly the same as for learning disabilities such as dyslexia.

"There are singers like Mel Tormé who sing fine but stutter when they speak," noted John Feudo, manager of membership for Toastmasters International in Santa Ana, Calif. "That's because of the rhythm in singing. You lock into a rhythm and you tend to do much better."

Toastmasters approaches stuttering as any other speaking problem, Feudo said. "People have a fear of failure. When you get up to speak, whether a group of 10 or 1,000, you're up on a pedestal and all eyes are upon you," he said. "You have a fear of not satisfying the people who've come to listen to you. Nobody want to fail; that's why the fear of speaking is the No. 1 fear in America."

Toastmasters doesn't endorse any one view about why people stutter. If the problem is genetically inherited, it should be approached as a speech impediment, Feudo said. When one is aware of a speech impediment, he usually has an accompanying mental fear of speaking, that, Toastmasters can help with, he said.

"There's a nationwide conspiracy to deny that you are a stutterer," Schwartz said. "You see STUTTER, page 3B

Federation honors 353 volunteers

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — The Federation of Senior Volunteers of Seminole County honored its volunteers Friday with an appreciation banquet at St. Mary Magdalen Catholic Church in Altamonte Springs.

Recognized were 200 Meals on Wheels volunteers, both drivers and weekend meal baggers; 37 Respite and Friendly Visitor volunteers; six home repair volunteers; 80 congregate meal site volunteers; and 30 office volunteers.

Phyllis Conklin, Maude Frank and Mabel Pitthoud were recognized as being Meals on Wheels deliverers for more than 14 years. Sixteen Meals on Wheels drivers were honored for more than five years of service.

Special awards were given to Harold Dekle, a Meals on Wheels driver who delivers meals about three times weekly, and the Rev. Don Nolt, who designed and implemented a new program that utilizes volunteers to perform home repairs for homebound seniors.

Entertainment was provided by pianist Michael Kramer, and the duo of singer Jennifer Azzariti and keyboardist Ed Donnelly.

Meals on Wheels provides about 200 meals daily to the elderly, convalescent and disabled in Seminole County and serves about 240 meals at congregate meal sites daily.

Free, hot lunches are delivered to the organization's clientele one day a week, and non-perishable goods are given to them for the weekend.

The program is funded through federal, state and county government as well as by United Way and private contributions.

For more information about Meals on Wheels or other services of the Federation of Senior Volunteers, call the federation at 831-1631.

Search your families, minds for great dad

As quickly as Mother's Day came and went, its companion occasion is upon us. Father's Day is June 19.

We at the Sanford Herald are searching for our Outstanding Dad. But we need our readers—whatever their relation to the nominee—to help us by writing letters of nomination, to be reviewed by a panel of judges.

Write us a letter about your nominee, telling us why this dad is so special. We are asking for local, living men who are able to be interviewed. The judging will be based on the quality of letters, not the quantity of letters, so only one letter should be written per nominee.

Please follow these instructions carefully: Letters should be typed or printed clearly. Write the nominee's name, street address, city and day phone number at the top of the page. Then write his qualifications. At the end of the letter, write your name, address, telephone number and age (if under 18). Mail to the PEOPLE Editor, P.O. Box 1657, Sanford 32771, or deliver to 300 N. French Ave.

Deadline for entries is noon on Wednesday, June 1.

The top three winners will be featured in the Herald on Father's Day.

Forgiving, forgetting is better than old grudges

DEAR ABBY: This concerns the letter from the man who wrote to say that when he was 19, his parents disowned him and threw him out of the house when he told them that his 20-year-old girlfriend was pregnant. (He married her, and became very successful.)

After not speaking to him for six years, the father wrote his son saying his business had gone bankrupt and he asked if the son could let him have $500

a month "for a while." You were on the side of forgiveness and advised the son to meet with his father and work out some way to help him.

Your readers clobbered you. The score: Readers, 289; Abby, 1.

Well, when I was 28, unmarried and pregnant, my father gave me a blank check and told me to have an abortion. I refused.

Although my parents lived less than a mile from me, both chose to ignore me and my child for two years. Then out of the blue, they called to ask if I would meet them at a nearby park so they could see their grandchild.

My husband forbade me to go, but I went anyway. Now I am grateful that I learned early in life that it is far better to love and be loved than it is to be right.

Abby, change that score to: Readers, 289; Abby and Joy, 2.

DEAR JOY: Since I published the score showing how badly I was "clobbered," I received enormous support for "my" side. Add more than 5,000 for Abby—and still counting!

DEAR ABBY: This is in regard to the pregnant woman who complained because her right to privacy had been violated by an office nurse who crassly commented on her previous abortion: "Oh, I see you've decided to keep this one!"

It's not only in doctors' offices that the right to privacy is violated. The last several months, my husband and I spent several hundreds of dollars in pharmaceutical bills.

One day, to my horror, a friend called my husband to ask if he was "OK." When my husband expressed surprise at the question, the friend told him that the bookkeeper at our pharmacy had told him about recent prescriptions for penicillin my husband had had filled. When we expressed our outrage at this breach of confidence, the friend told us that this bookkeeper had revealed information about prescriptions of other customers whose privacy was being violated in the same manner.

Needless to say, we changed pharmacies immediately. We did not tell our first pharmacist about the "yenta" who had been blabbing about his customers' private business—but now we think we will!

Blueberries are neat treat in sweets

Last week a friend brought me a gift of blueberries from her own bushes. That convinced me... we must have some bushes in our yard. The variety she mentioned was Sharpe, which is a low bush. The berries are large and delicious.

Blueberries are in season in Central Florida now, so take advantage of the abundance and reasonable price. You may want to pick your own berries. There are several places in the area where you may do this. Watch the newspaper for U-pick information.

Blueberries can be stored in the refrigerator for several weeks. If you intend to keep them longer, it is best to freeze the berries.

This cheesecake is topped with a fresh blueberry glaze.

BLUEBERRY DELIGHT

Crust:
 1/4 cup margarine
 1 cup graham cracker crumbs
 2 tablespoons sugar
Filling:
 8 ounces cream cheese
 1/2 cup sugar
 1 cup sour cream
 1 egg
 1 teaspoon vanilla

Topping:
 2 cups fresh blueberries
 1/2 cup water
 1/4 cup sugar
 1 tablespoon cornstarch
 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel

M/W margarine in 8-inch round baking dish 45-60 seconds or until melted. Stir in crumbs and 2 tablespoons sugar; mix well. Press into bottom of dish.

M/W on 100 percent power 1-1 1/2 minutes or until heated. Set aside. Place cream cheese in small mixing bowl. M/W on 100 percent power 30-45 seconds or until softened. Add remaining filling ingredients and beat until smooth. Pour in crumb crust. M/W on 100 percent 4 1/2-5 1/2 minutes or until center is just about set. Cool. Combine 1 cup blueberries, the water, sugar, cornstarch and lemon peel in 4-cup glass/measure. M/W on 100 percent 2-3 minutes or until mixture boils and thickens, stirring once or twice. Cool, arrange remaining 1 cup blueberries over filling. Spoon topping over fruit, and cover completely. Refrigerate until served.

Served warm with a honey butter, this blueberry coffee cake will be welcomed at breakfast or lunch.

Inexpensive Cavity Prevention: Dental Sealants Protect Your Children's Teeth
 By sealing the chewing surfaces of their teeth, dental sealants help your children stay cavity-free!
 The chewing surfaces of molars are the most cavity-prone areas of your child's teeth. Unfortunately, they are also the most difficult areas to protect with fluoride! That's why the American Dental Association recommends that dental sealants be applied to permanent molars of all children as part of routine preventive dentistry. A "sealed" molar is actually ten times less likely to experience decay because bacteria and food debris cannot enter its tiny pits and grooves.
 Sealants, which are tooth-colored or transparent plastic resins, are painted on the teeth in liquid form and quickly harden into a thin, very strong coating. Their protection can last for up to five years, but they should be checked regularly.
 The combination of sealants for the chewing surfaces and fluoride for the smooth surfaces of tooth enamel is a cavity-fighting powerhouse. Dr. Richard J. Simonsen, Chairman of the Department of General Dentistry at the University of Tennessee and author of several scientific studies on sealants, explains:
 "With proper use of fluorides and proper use of sealants, children in families that are motivated to follow their dentist's advice on diet and oral hygiene will very likely stay cavity-free."
 Sealing teeth is a simple, painless and inexpensive procedure. Ask your dentist about its potential for your children, or call our office, no cost consultation.
Healthy, good-looking teeth
 Your dentist and hygienist are committed to keeping your smile healthy and good-looking. So visit the dental office regularly — and do your part by taking care of your teeth at home.

Here comes the bride: Here's her dessert

"Blossom by blossom the spring begins," and as always spring is closely followed by the time for traditional weddings. It's predicted that 2 1/2 million weddings will take place in 1988 and that most will be elaborate affairs. Pre-ceremony events will be as well planned and memorable.

This Bridal Bouquet Dessert is perfect to serve at a surprise bridal shower—or any special occasion. It's remarkably easy for the hostess to prepare well in advance of the party. Knox Unflavored Gelatine is the secret ingredient that makes it simple to prepare so it holds its shape and stays attractive. You can use a tube cake pan instead of a special fancy mold and fresh flowers in the decorative nosegay.

BRIDAL BOUQUET DESSERT

2 envelopes Knox Unflavored Gelatine
 3/4 cup sugar
 4 eggs, separated
 2 cups milk
 1/2 cup cream sherry
 1/2 teaspoon almond extract
 2 cups (1 pint) whipping or heavy cream, whipped
 1/4 cup sliced almonds
 Graham Cracker Almond Crust

In medium saucepan, mix unflavored gelatin with 1/2 cup sugar; blend in egg yolks beaten with milk. Let stand 1 minute. Stir over low heat until gelatine is completely dissolved, about 5 minutes; add sherry and almond extract. Pour into large bowl and chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from spoon.

In medium bowl, beat egg whites until soft peaks form; gradually add remaining sugar and beat until stiff. Fold egg whites, then whipped cream and almonds into gelatine mixture. Turn into prepared crust; chill overnight. To serve, unmold onto pedestal plate; tie ribbons onto plate and garnish center of ring with floral bouquet. Makes about 16 servings.

Graham Cracker Almond Crust: In small bowl, combine 1 cup graham cracker crumbs, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1/4 cup melted butter or margarine and 1/4 teaspoon almond extract. Press onto bottom and 1/2 up sides of 10-inch fluted tube pan; chill.

No one really knows why the stones form

DEAR DR. GOTT: What causes stones to form in the salivary glands?

DEAR READER: No one completely understands the reasons that stones form in any of the body's organs, including the salivary glands, kidneys and gall bladder. Stone formation appears to depend on factors such as pH (acidity/alkalinity) concentration of calcium (and other compounds) in tissue fluid and certain hereditary tendencies. For instance, a genetic predisposition to increased calcium secretion in saliva — coupled with alteration in the fluid's pH — can cause the formation of stones. As you can see, this overly simplified explanation does not get at the precise biochemical basis of stone-formation; as yet, that's not known with certainty.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My doctor tells me the bloody mucus in my stool is due to intestinal pneumatoisis. Is there any medicine I could take?

DEAR READER: Pneumatoisis is defined in the medical dictionary as "the presence of air or gas in an abnormal situation in the body." I am not convinced that your bowel problem has been diagnosed, because you certainly have more than gas. The presence of bloody mucus in your stool could indicate a serious condition, such as colitis. Naturally, treatment depends on the cause.

Return to your doctor, request a more detailed and accurate explanation of your problem, ask for treatment and — if necessary — insist on a referral to a gastroenterologist. In my opinion, before any treatment is given, you need a sigmoidoscopy (or colonoscopy), during which a specialist examines the bowel lining; you also need a stool culture, to be checked for parasites (such as amoebae) and a biopsy.

DEAR DR. GOTT: After my 80th birthday I started losing fingernails. They just fall off. New ones grow back, but they aren't as perfect as the old ones.

I'm male and in good health. DEAR READER: As we age, our fingernails become ridged and brittle; the nails may not grow normally. This is probably due to age-related slowing down of growth cells in the nailbed. However, many skin diseases, such as psoriasis, can affect nail growth. Therefore, you should check with your doctor to make sure that you don't have a treatable condition. (C)1988, NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby
North and South aggressively bid slam — a good one, as is usually the case when there is a trump fit and the void is facing small cards in partner's hand. But South had to be up on his intermediate bridge plays.

South ruffed the opening lead and finessed the queen of spades. East won and returned a spade. South won in dummy with the nine, ruffed a diamond, played a heart to the ace and ruffed another diamond. Now a club to the ace allowed declarer to play dummy's spade ace, on which he threw his losing small heart. He took the rest with the club suit and the heart king. Most of you know the name for this type of play — dummy reversal. East can make trouble for declarer if he casually allows the first round of trumps. If declarer then woodenly takes another spade finesse, East should win the king and return another spade. Now the dummy reversal play on this deal remains simply an entry in some bridge book, and the slam contract fails.

The question for South would be: Is it more likely that West originally held four spades to the king or that East might be ducking with K-4-3 of spades? If South answers the question correctly, he will rise with dummy's ace on the second lead of spades and now can still make the contract. That line of play loses only when West started with four spades — a little unlikely in view of West's jump overall in diamonds.

Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Someone with whom you are quite chummy might draw you into an involvement that has profitable potential, but perhaps not nearly as much as he or she surmises. Be careful.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) If you are too indifferent to do your own thinking today, someone with whom you're associated might make decisions that will not serve your best interests.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Those midweek "blues" can be piped into happier notes today if you stop dwelling on how tough life is and start thinking about what you can accomplish.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Sell creatively today if you're involved in a situation that has possibilities for profit — but, by the same token, don't depart from the facts.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You're a pretty good negotiator today, and you should be able to strike an advantageous bargain, provided you don't ignore the obvious.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Although you'll be properly motivated today, the results might not live up to your expectations. Don't focus on too many objectives.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) In managing non-material matters that call for logical assessments, you'll be on track today. Unfortunately, this attribute might not extend to financial areas.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Your initiative may desert you early in the day if you run into challenging developments. However, don't toss in the towel without making a second effort.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Something about which you're concerned at this time could be due to an overactive imagination. If you're going to be a daydreamer, dream positive thoughts.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Today, you could be equally adept at depleting your resources as you are at increasing them. This could put you in a position where losses offset gains.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Matters that affect your career must be carefully evaluated at present, or else you might waste valuable time on something that has more sizzle than substance. (C)1988, NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.
