Rosenzweig Deals Listed By Reporters Group

Complicated land and stock deals involving former Arizona Republican chairman Harry Rosenzweig are detailed in published accounts of the latest articles by a group of investigative reporters.

The latest story did not include any allegations of illegality in the intricate deals, but stressed the presence — sometimes on the periphery — of convicted extortionist and land promoter Ned Warren Sr.

The series already has drawn criticism from U.S. Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., and his brother Robert, mentioned in earlier installments.

Full Indian Rights Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — American Indians living on reservations should be given the power of self-determination, including the authority to levy taxes and to try non-Indians in their tribal courts, a report for Congress says.

These are among more than 100 recommendations contained in a report by the American Indian Policy Review Commission, a member of the panel said Tuesday night.

Basically, the commission has recommended that tribes be considered as sovereign nations, said Rep. Lloyd Meeds, D-Wash.

Carter Sends Zaire Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Carter administration is speeding $1 million worth of military and medical equipment to Zaire as the central African country tries to repel what it calls an invasion by "foreign mercenaries" from Angola.

It marked the first time the Carter administration has found itself involved in foreign warfare and Carter's spokesman said the President personally made Tuesday's decision to send aid to Zaire.

U.S. officials, announcing the airlift, say they have no confirmed evidence that Cuban forces are engaged in the fighting in the southern province of Shaba, formerly known as Katanga.

Stimulus Program Progresses

WASHINGTON (AP) — The tax cut and spending program launched by President Carter to jog the lagging economy is snowballing through Congress and seems certain to emerge bigger than it started.

How much bigger it will be than $31.6 billion — the administration's latest two-year estimate — is still a question.

The answer may play a key role in determining whether Carter will be able to fulfill his promise to balance the budget by 1981.

The House on Tuesday voted a $23.3 billion appropriation to fund major elements of Carter's program and substantial additions by Congress.

$100 Million Rhodesia Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance will ask Congress to approve a $100 million special allocation to be used in part to support a peaceful transfer of power from Rhodesia's white minority to its black majority.

The request, scheduled to be made today, is part of a threefront effort by the Carter administration to bring financial, diplomatic and legal pressures to bear to avert a black-white war in southern Africa.

Slow PERColation

Sanford City Manager W.E. Knowles received "no indication whatsoever" Monday from the state's Public Employee Relations Commission on whether that body would approve the creation of a local PERC.

"It took us nine months to get the hearing, and after a considerable waiting period (in Tallahassee), they only asked two or three questions. I was done in seven minutes," Knowles said of his meeting at the state capital.

The state PERC is a board of arbitration for public employee unions. Though Sanford has no such unions, "we want to prepare for the future," Knowles said.

State law permits the establishment of local PERCs, with approval of the state PERC.

The Sanford City Commission last June adopted a local ordinance requesting the establishment of a local PERC, a necessary first step in the process.

Knowles does not expect a quick answer from the state PERC, which "does not care to have local PERCs because it takes (power) away from them. They want to keep it on the state level," Knowles said.

The state PERC has a new chairman, Leonard Carson. Knowles said reports on Carson indicated "He'll be objective. He's the third chairman in two years."

The previous two chairmen, Knowles said, were "anti-management, anti-local PERC." — MARK WEINBERG.

2 Men, 2 Women Jailed 65 Pounds Of Pot Seized In Drug Raid

By BOB LLOYD
Herald Staff Writer

Four persons were jailed on drug charges early today after Seminole sheriff's agents raided a rental residence at Oviedo and seized 65 pounds of marijuana and a small amount of cocaine.

LaPonda Jean Morrill, 23, identified by agents as a self-employed artist who rented the house on Carolyn Drive, off SR-419, was held in county jail in lieu of $5,000 bond on felony charges of possession of marijuana and cocaine.

Also held on marijuana and cocaine possession charges was Debbie Marie Ackerman, 23, of Cape Shore Drive, Cape Canaveral.

Agents reportedly found cocaine in two women's purses in the house during the a.m. raid.

Robert Edward Crawford, 28, who listed the raided house as his home address, and Paul Wayne Ellis, 31, of 112 NE 8th Street, Gainesville, were held in lieu of $5,000 bond each on felony marijuana possession charges.

Agents said a large bale of marijuana was found inside the house as well as a large number of smaller bags.

Altamonte Springs police and sheriff's deputies apprehended two suspects following a high speed chase after an accident Tuesday night.

James Edward Harting, 22, of Orlando, was jailed on charges of reckless driving, leaving the scene of an accident with property damage and conspiracy to commit a felony.

Bond was set at $5,000, according to county jail records.

William A. Baker, 51, also of Orlando, was held on $8,000 bond on a charge of throwing a deadly missile. Officers said a soda pop bottle was thrown from an auto through a window of an occupied dwelling.

Paula Diane Label, 26, of 190 Overstreet, Longwood, was jailed in lieu of $5,000 bond on a circuit court warrant charging felony possession of controlled substance.

William Henry Forrest III, 19, of 2100 Howell Branch Rd., south Seminole, was jailed on traffic charges and resisting arrest with violence in connection with an incident in which deputy Peggy McLellan stopped an auto without headlights about 10 p.m. Tuesday.

Deputies reported a struggle ensued while deputy McLellan was handcuffing Forrest. Letters of formal approval must be received by the city from the water system expansion and improvements to the Murray firm, the low bidder at $377,236.78.

Porter, in recommending the firm, said it has a very high reputation financially and for quality workmanship and that federal officials identified the company as one of the best in the business.

Council Okays Sewerage District Proposal Lake Mary Awards Utility Improvements Contract

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

The Lake Mary City Council Tuesday night voted unanimously to award a contract to E.N. Murray Co., Inc. for federally-funded water system improvements and approved on a 3-1 vote proposed legislation to create a North Seminole Sewerage District.

On the recommendation of consulting engineer Paul Porter, Clark, Diets and Associates, the council awarded the contract for the water system expansion and improvements to the Murray firm, the low bidder at $377,236.78.

Porter, in recommending the firm, said it has a very high reputation financially and for quality workmanship and that federal officials identified the company as one of the best in the business.

He said both the U.S. Farmer's Home Administration, which has approved a loan of $354,000 for the project, and the U.S. Economic Development Administration (EDA), which has granted $308,000 for the improvements, informally concurred in the award.

Mayor Walter Sorenson immediately filled out appropriate forms to both agencies officially notifying of the contract award. Letters of formal approval must be received by the city from the agencies before interim financing can be obtained from ComBank Longwood.

Porter said the two federal agencies urged that changers for the project not be issued simultaneously with the contract, but rather be approved at a later date.

The city council last week agreed it will be approving changers to increase the size of the meter from the Sanford water plant, which will supply water to Lake Mary under the proposed improvement project to add a few short lines and to use the more expensive 12 inch ductile iron pipe from the Sanford plant on Country Club Road, and on Rantoul Lane and Lake Mary Boulevard.

Future changers are expected to include lines from Broadmoor to the south end of the city, to Rhinehart Road and 4,000 feet down that road.

The anticipated changers and the base contract is ultimately expected to total $523,283.

Other expenses of the project include engineering fees, legal work and repaying to the city's general fund some $60,000 advanced to the water system.

The water improvement project must be under construction by April 4, within 90 days of the grant award, to comply with EDA requirements.

After 90 minutes of discussion in which the 35-page proposed legislation to the Lake Mary, Sanford and the unincorporated areas north of Longwood and west of Lake Jessup into a sewerage authority district was reviewed in detail, the council approved it with only Councilman Lillian Griffin voting against the proposal.

Mrs. Griffin objected to the inclusion in the legislation of authorization for the five-member sewerage authority to levy a one mill tax ($1 per $1,000 property valuation) to help finance a bond issue for a maximum of five years.

Before the tax could be levied, it would have to receive approval from the people in special referendum.

"The tax will never pass," Mrs. Griffin said. "The people won't vote another tax on themselves. They are being taxed to death all ready. I know I would not vote for it."

"I promised the people I would not vote to increase their taxes and I won't," she said.

Sorenson, who did not have a vote in the matter, agreed that the special tax will not pass voter approval. "But, there is nothing wrong with letting them (the people) vote on it," he said.

The proposed legislation was approved by the majority of the city council with minor corrections of typographical errors.

Councilman Harry Terry, a member of the committee, composed of representatives of the two cities and the county commission, that worked out the legislation, said the authority to be created will administer the treatment of sewerage, transmission from the cities and county territory and the spreading of effluent.

"It will not be going into the collection basins," he said, adding it will be the responsibility of each of the governmental entities to provide collection lines.

Terry also explained that the right to levy a one mill tax was included in the legislation to make bonds more attractive on the bond market and to reduce the interest rate for bonds by as much as one point.

In other action, the council unanimously adopted a resolution setting today as a "day of mourning in Lake Mary" for the late Lou Blankenship. Blankenship had served a term on the city council.

Trask Switches ERA Vote; Fears Homosexual Abuse

LAKELAND (AP) — State Sen. Alan Trask, a longtime supporter of the Equal Rights Amendment, says he will switch his vote to oppose the measure.

Trask announced the switch in a guest column in today's edition of the Lakeland Ledger. He said he's afraid the ERA will allow homosexual marriages, unisex restrooms and women in combat duty.

"The sin of homosexuality is one of the most vile sins in the eyes of God and there is simply no way that I can be a party to voting for legislation which is contrary to the will of God and the teaching of the Bible," Trask wrote.

Trask's switch brought to 14 the number of senators who have come out against the proposed constitutional amendment.

Court Lets Defendant Talk

FORT MYERS (AP) — A circuit court judge says Arthur Goode can question witnesses and address his jury today when the prosecution presents its charges that Goode killed a 9-year-old boy last year.

Goode, 23, has pleaded innocent to the murder of Jason Verdow of nearby Cape Coral last year. But he has sent letters to the media and the court saying he wants to testify and confess the killing.

Family Favorite Tuna Goes Italian

Canned tuna is an acceptable and relatively inexpensive alternative to meat, especially when combined with cheese. Tuna combined with cheese adds protein and satiety value. Having a pronounced flavor, tuna combines well with a variety of medium aged and mellow cheeses, such as Brick, Muenster, Cheddar, Mozzarella and Parmesan.

Tuna canned in the United States is produced from at least five species of tuna fish: Albacore, a lighter meat than the others, is the only tuna that can be labeled "white-meat" tuna. This kind usually costs more than other varieties. The other species which include yellow fin, blackfin, bluefin and skipjack, are labeled "light-meat" tuna. The style of the pack affects the price of canned tuna, too. Fancy or solid-packed tuna usually contains three or four large pieces packed in oil or water. These types are generally more expensive. Chunk, flaked and grated-style packs contain mechanically sized pieces packed in oil or water. Water-packed tuna usually contains fewer calories. Cans that show signs of leakage, swelling or bulging are never good buys. Buy only undamaged cans. Gather up your originality and serve a spicy Tuna Lasagna with cottage cheese, Mozzarella and Parmesan making the difference. Use your imagination and whatever ingredients you have on hand. As long as you combine tuna with cheese,

Cheese Does Duty For Dessert

EASY CHEESECAKE

Preheated 350 degree oven
 Yield: 8-10 servings
 2 cups graham cracker crumbs (about 24 crackers)
 1 tablespoon sugar
 1/2 cup melted butter
 4 egg yolks
 1/2 cup sugar
 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
 2 cartons (1 pound each) creamed cottage cheese, sieved
 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
 1 tablespoon lemon juice
 2 teaspoons vanilla
 1/2 cup heavy cream
 4 egg whites
 1/2 cup sugar

Combine cracker crumbs and 1 tablespoon sugar in small bowl; stir in melted butter. Press crumb mixture evenly on the bottom and sides of a buttered 8-inch springform pan; chill.

In a large bowl, beat egg yolks with 1/2 cup sugar, continue beating until thick and light. Blend in flour, cottage cheese, lemon rind, lemon juice and vanilla; blend in cream. Beat egg whites in medium-sized bowl until frothy. Beat in 1/2 cup sugar, a tablespoon at a time; continue beating until meringue forms stiff, glossy peaks. Carefully fold into cheese mixture; pour into crumb-lined pan.

Bake for 1 hour and 15 minutes, or until browned on top. Turn off oven heat; open door, let cake cool in oven 1 hour. Cake will shrink slightly as it cools. Remove from oven; cool thoroughly on wire cake rack before removing from pan.

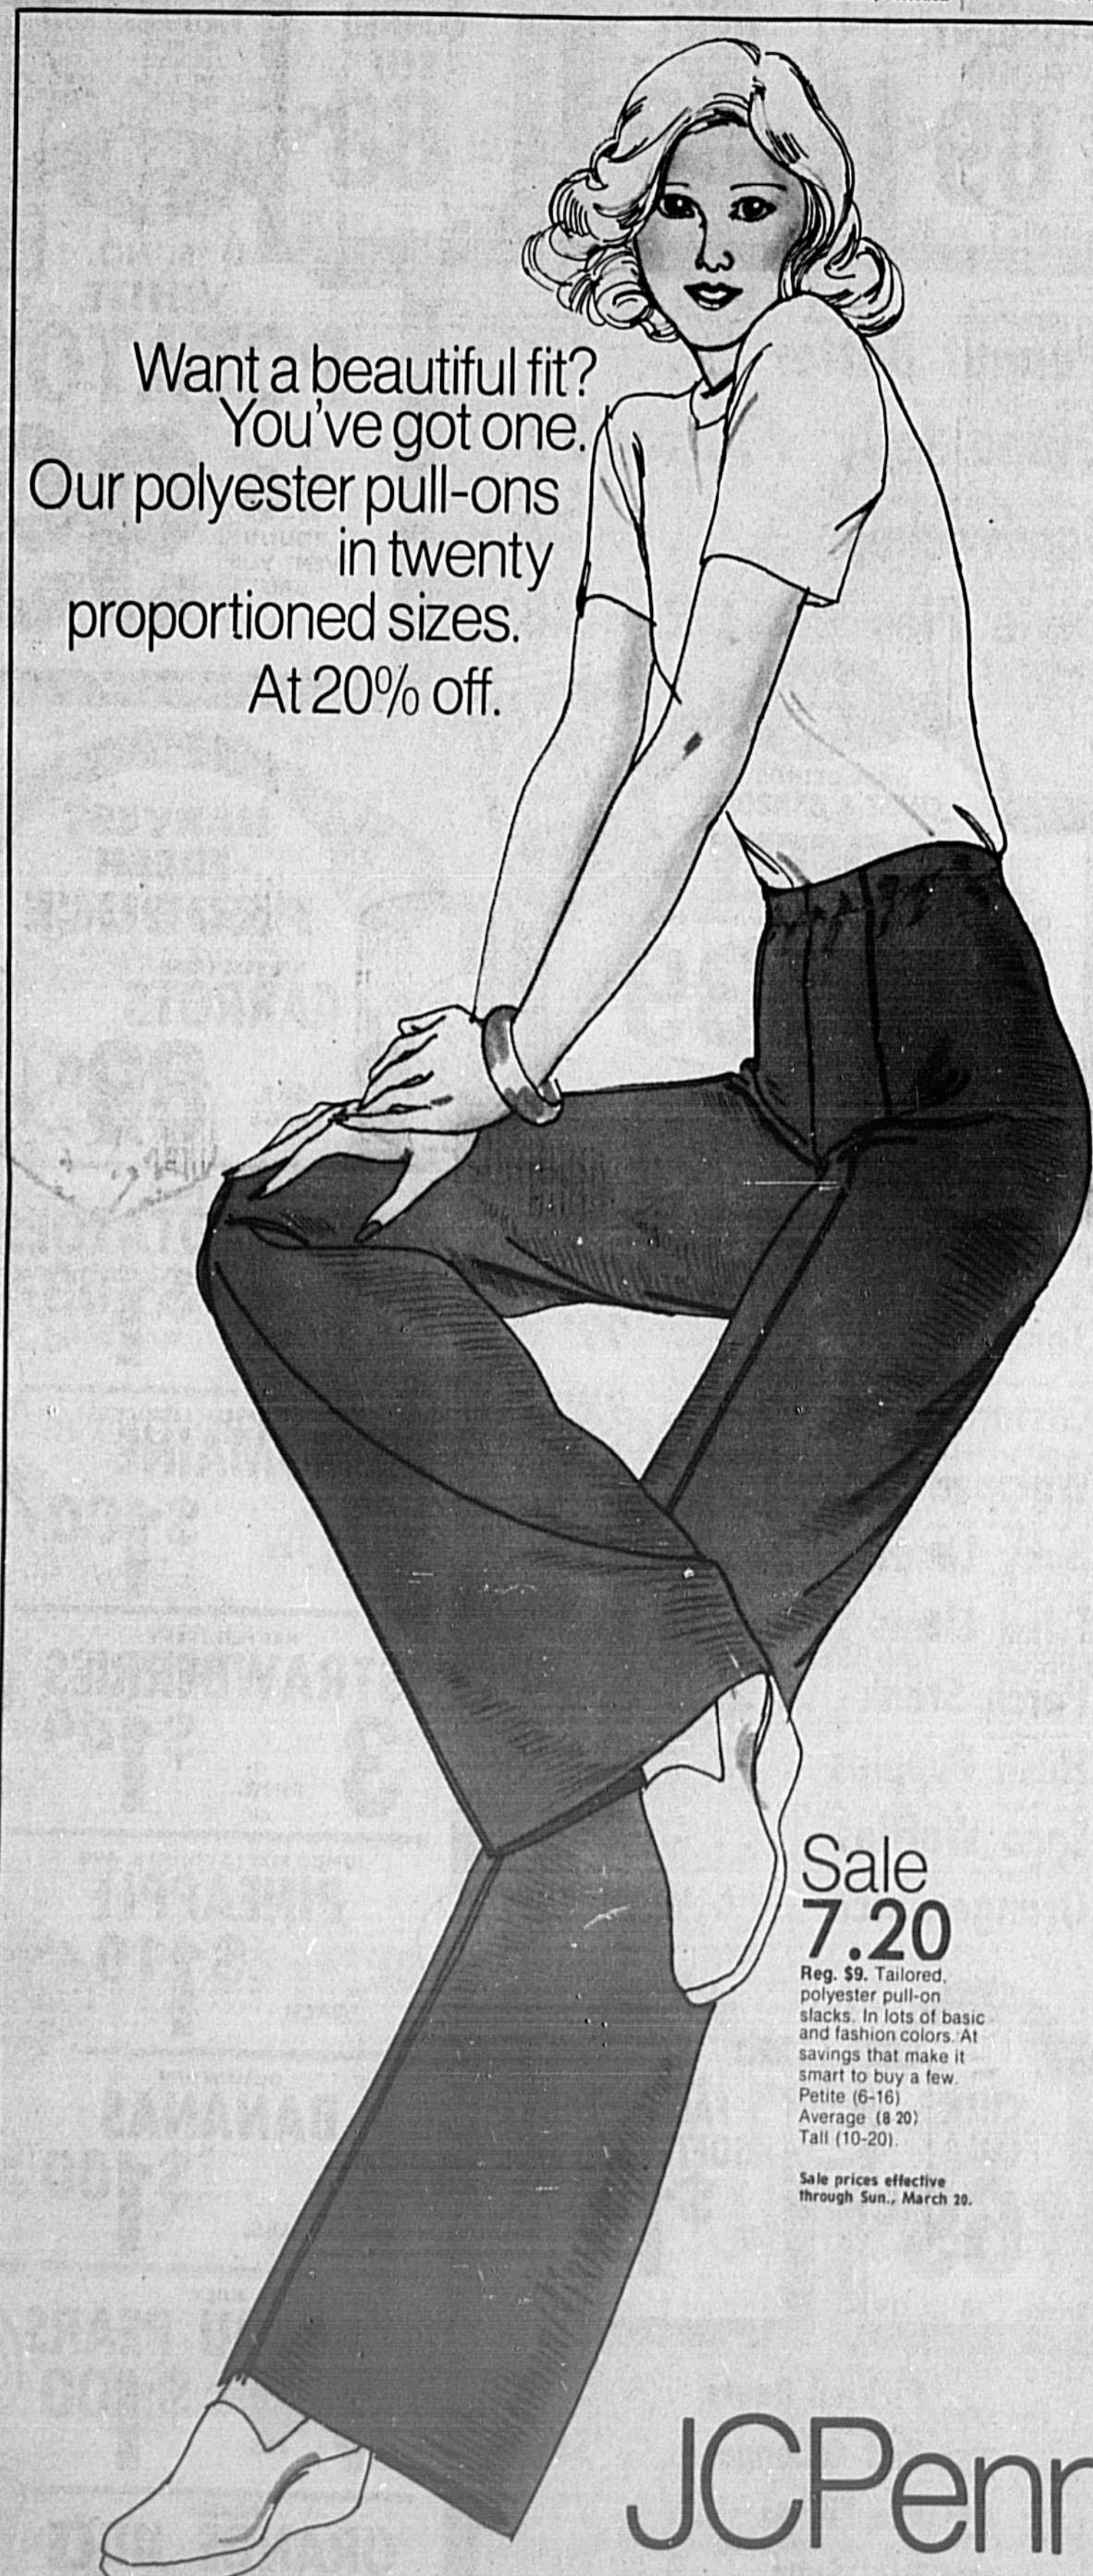

APPLE-CHEESE COFFEE CAKE

3 baking sheets
 Preheated 375 degrees oven
 Yield: 3 cakes
 2 packages active dry yeast
 1/2 cup warm water
 1 1/4 cups buttermilk
 2 eggs
 5-1/4 cups regular all-purpose flour
 1/2 cup butter
 1/2 cup sugar
 2 tsp baking powder
 2 tsp salt
 2 cans apple pie filling (ready-to-use)
 2 cups (8-oz.) cheddar cheese, grated

In large mixer bowl, dissolve yeast in warm water. Add buttermilk, eggs, 2-1/2 cups flour, butter, sugar, baking powder and salt. Blend 1/2 minute on low speed, scraping bowl constantly. Beat 2 minutes on medium speed, scraping bowl occasionally.

Stir in enough remaining flour to make dough easy to handle. (Dough should remain soft and slightly sticky). Turn onto well-floured board; knead 5 minutes. Let rest 5 minutes.

Divide dough into 3 equal parts. Roll one part into a 10x15" rectangle. Spread 2-3/4 of a can of pie filling down the center of the rectangle (long length) in a strip about 3 inches wide. Sprinkle 1-3/4 of the grated cheese on top of apple filling. With scissors make 2 inch slashes about 1 inch apart down both sides of rectangle. Fold ends of rectangle up over ends of strip of apple filling slightly. Pull up and overlap cut strips over apple filling from each side to create a braided appearance. Do the same with the other 2 parts of dough. Let rise in warm place until double, about 1 hour. Bake about 25 minutes or until golden brown. WISCONSIN CHEESE FESTIVAL IS HERE

Now! Featured in food stores all over town, the many wonderful brands and varieties of Wisconsin cheese—the same famous cheeses that have gained world-wide fame for fine flavor and quality. Take advantage of promotional efforts currently underway to better acquaint you with them. Look for special displays! Try an old favorite and discover a new one at the food store where you shop.

COLBY AND MONTEREY JACK

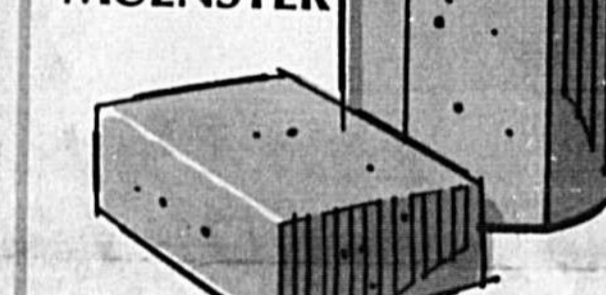

If a subtle mild flavor is desired, either variety will prove an excellent choice. Children love them! Try both for an appetizer or snack, in a sandwich, to make a cheeseburger.

EDAM AND GOUDA

Mellow and colorful additions to any cheese tray. Perfect in salads and casseroles. Wonderful with crisp vegetables as an appetizer or with fresh oranges and apples for dessert.

BRICK AND MÜNSTER

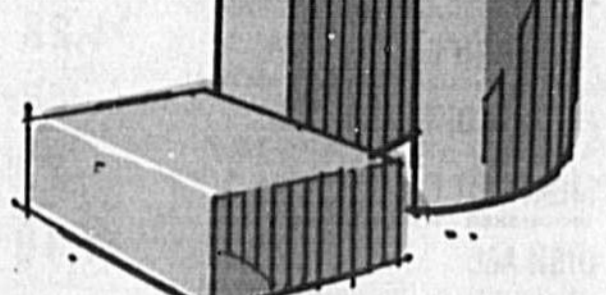

Great "nibbling" cheeses. Favorites for the appetizer tray. Fine for snacks or sandwiches (especially with dark breads). Great dessert cheese, too, especially with melon or Tokay grapes.

BLUE, STILTON AND GORGONZOLA

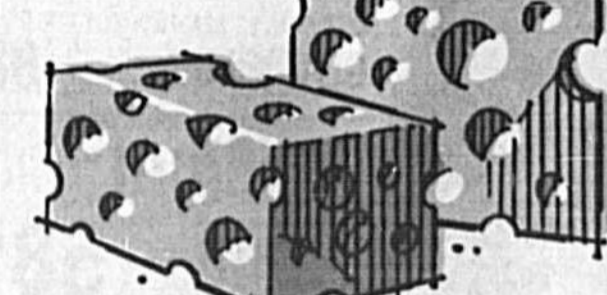

These cheeses with their tangy salty flavors are known for the gourmet touch they add to salads. Try on hamburger or steak; serve with fresh fruit (Bosc or Anjou pears) for a satisfying dessert.

CHEDDAR

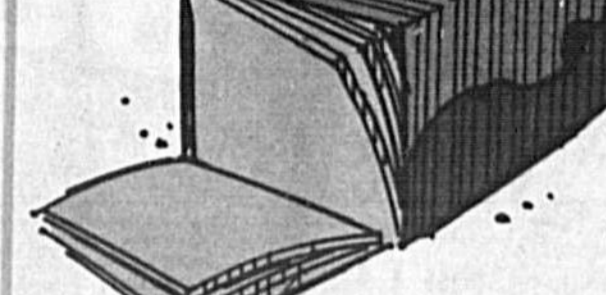

There's cheddar with a flavor to please every family member. Use as an appetizer, in salads and sandwiches, in cooked foods, in sauces — or as a dessert with fruit. Try apple pie ala cheddar too!

SWISS

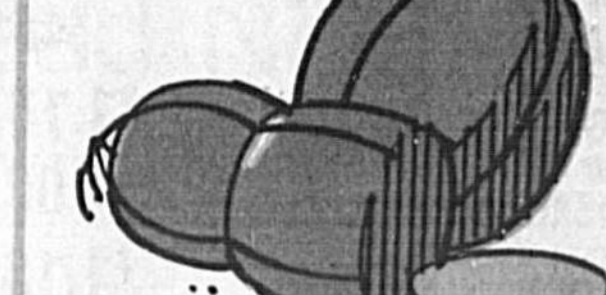

Well-known and appreciated, the nut-like flavor of this variety makes it familiar on a cheese tray, as a sandwich, in fondues, in casseroles. Try as a dessert with green grapes, melons, oranges.

PROCESS

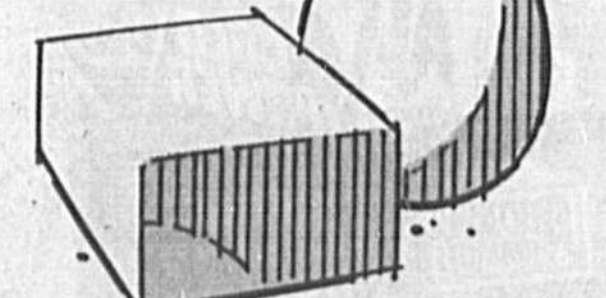

The uniform flavor and ease of melting which make this type especially versatile result from the blending and heating during its making. Perfect for cooked dishes, sauces and grilled sandwiches.

PROVOLONE

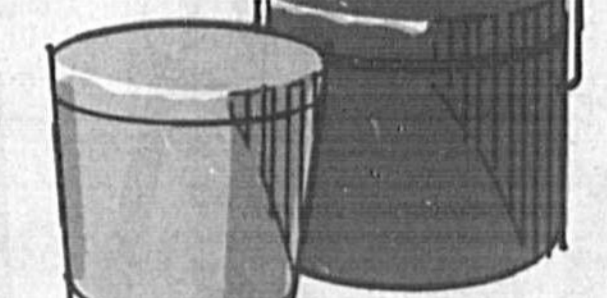

The smoky tang of this variety makes it a "must" in foods such as lasagna and ravioli. Great on sandwiches. Wonderful, too, as an appetizer, snack, or dessert with fruit such as Bartlett pears.

MOZZARELLA AND SCAMORZE

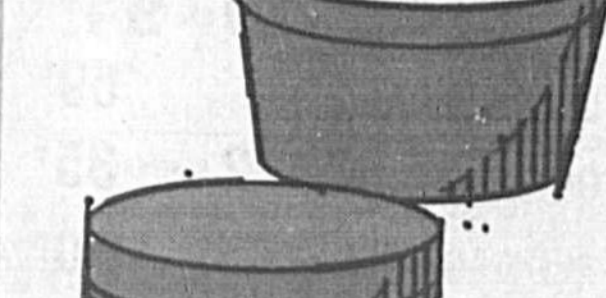

A delicate, mild, subdued flavor distinguishes this variety and makes it a standard ingredient in pizza and lasagna. A growing favorite, too, as a protein-rich snack for children.

COLD PACK

Ease of spreading makes this a must for the appetizer tray. A fine complement to fresh fruits and vegetables. Available with many different flavorings and in varied package styles and sizes.

RICOTTA

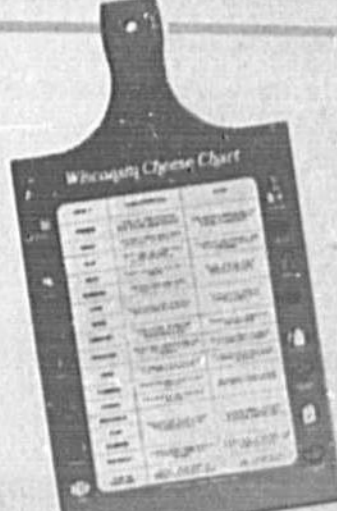

Unique, bland, semi-sweet. Use in salads and dips and cooked dishes. Famous as a preferred ingredient in such cooked foods as lasagna, manicotti and ravioli; in desserts such as cannoli and cheese cake.

PARMESAN AND ROMANO

Known for what they add to the flavor of other foods, these are generally used in grated form. Add zest to hot vegetables, casseroles, hot breads, soups, salads. A "must" in Italian-style cooked dishes.

JOSEPH POLTORAK ON TRICYCLE

His 'Cycle' Runs On Wooden Wheels

By MARYLIN TIPTON
 Herald Writer

"I call this my energy saver," says Joseph A. Poltorak of his wooden tricycle.

Poltorak, 75, and his wife, Jiri, vacationing from Michigan in Florida since November, had some time on their hands. He filled his with building the tricycle "in between fishing, raining and my wife's shopping."

The retired inventor estimates that it took him "about 250 hours" to build the trike, but he adds that it is only an educated guess.

Despite his efforts to make the tricycle without any metal at all Poltorak had to concede on one item — the valve stems on the tires are metal, but they are hidden within the scrub oak wheels.

"I just couldn't find tires without stems," he says with a grin and a hang-dog shrug of his shoulders.

"He just couldn't find wooden valve stems," says a neighbor. Poltorak seems to be surrounded by his neighbors from 12 Oaks Campground every time he goes riding on the trike — which is several times a day unless the fish are biting.

"I catch fish every time I go fishing," says Poltorak. "That's because I only go when the fish are biting. I've studied it all my life. I watch the barometer," he adds, but he hesitates, obviously not willing to give away too many secrets.

With a twist of subject matter as deft as his turnings on wood, Poltorak leaves fishing and returns to conversation about the trike.

"I have eight grandchildren," he says, "so I'm not building trikes for them. I also have one great-grandchild," he adds proudly.

The success of his tricycle has pleased Poltorak, but he says he has another project going — one he isn't ready to talk about yet.

The trike, says Poltorak, is field together with wooden pegs, and runs on people power and Vaseline, which is inserted in greasy areas which are then closed with little wooden plugs — plugs which are even held in with wooden "cotter pins."

Being old enough to retire doesn't bother Poltorak at all. "I remember Haley's Comet," he says, "when I was five years old. My father held me up and showed it to me. He said, 'Joe, when you get to be 80 you'll get to see it again.'"

"I remember it like it was yesterday. I sure am looking forward to seeing it again."

A circuit court jury has acquitted a Sanford teenager accused of manslaughter in the Dec. 11 stabbing death of another teenager. Kirk Douglas Jackson, 16, of 1503 W. 11th St., held in custody since the death of David Conrad Wright, 16, was freed Wednesday night when the four-woman, two-man jury returned the verdict of innocent after deliberating a half-hour.

Jackson told the jury that he had $4.50 in his pocket Dec. 11 when he spotted a "guy tucking up behind me" near a garbage dumpster as he walked in the darkened 1000 block of Oleander Avenue on Sanford's west side.

"He had both arms extended," Jackson testified, "and he had a straw hat pulled down and a red bandanna over his face."

Jackson said the sludgy figure said, "Give me all your money" and he replied, "Go home man, quit playing."

He said the man then stuck a gun in his neck "and said it was a 45."

The juvenile, on trial as an adult, said he feared for his life and struggled with the other youth and managed to pull a red handled pocket knife he'd bought the day before at a grocery store from his back pocket and opened it.

Jackson said he was holding the knife to the man's stomach from behind when they stumbled against the curbing and the man was stabbed.

He said the wounded man said, "You cut me man, you cut me," and ran after Jackson, who had wrestled away the gun. He said the man was pulling at his clothing when he collapsed near a sidewalk bench.

Police and area residents found the body of David Conrad Wright, 16, of 1604 W. Eighth St., on the blood-stained grass by the sidewalk about 9 p.m.

Wright died of a stab wound through the heart despite open heart surgery by doctors in an hour-long attempt at Seminole Memorial Hospital to save his life.

Jackson said he ran around the block and back to the house where he lives with an aunt, Mrs. Bessie Mae Smith, and told her he'd just stabbed a man.

Mrs. Smith went to the stabbing scene and told police who came to the house and arrested Jackson, who gave them the pocket knife and the gun.

The "gun" was taken to the jury room by jurors when they deliberated Wednesday. It was an inoperable air pistol that looked like a .45-caliber automatic pistol.

Police didn't find a straw hat or a red bandanna in a search of the stabbing scene. Roger Semmons, who testified about seeing two figures and hearing them arguing and struggling in the street in front of his residence, said he didn't see a hat.

"If one of them had been wearing a hat, I believe I'd have seen it," he said. Semmons said it was too dark for him to have seen a bandanna over anyone's face.

Other teenagers testified that Jackson had been "flashing" the knife earlier that day at a basketball court. He said he'd shown it around but denied he'd threatened anyone with the knife.

Jackson testified he knew Wright but didn't know Wright was the person he'd stabbed until police told him six hours after Wright died.

Keith Whitney identified the air pistol as his and said Wright had borrowed the broken gun less than an hour before his death.

"He said he just wanted to hold it until tomorrow morning," Whitney told the jury.

After the verdict the court asked Jackson, a tall, slim-built youth, if he wanted his pocketknife back. He said no, and the court ordered the knife and a pair of homemade metal "knuckles" found by police in the dead youth's pants pocket destroyed. The broken B-B pistol was ordered returned to young Whitney.

...the wounded man said 'You cut me, man, you cut me.'

The Fireman Union: A Dead Non-Issue

By ED PRICKETT
 Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County firefighters, by a whopping 48-3 vote, have shown county government they don't want a firemen's union. The final tally was released this morning by County Administrator Roger Neiswender. It includes votes by the third shift, which was absent when Wednesday's 38-3 vote was taken.

"We have concluded there is no union organization going on, and we will continue to deal directly with all fire personnel," Neiswender concluded.

Dealing directly means firemen can be put back in for a 3 per cent raise. County commissioners Tuesday deleted a proposed firemen's raise because legal counsel advised it might be construed as an unfair labor practice.

"I'm very pleased with the guys," Fire Chief Gary Kaiser said. Both Kaiser and Neiswender said firemen had no intention of organizing a firemen's union.

But the county administrator said county officials had to "believe it" because of rumors and two newspaper articles.

Neiswender stressed the point that firemen didn't back down.

"They just indicated there isn't a desire to join the International Association of Firefighters," Neiswender added.

At a Wednesday meeting called by county officials, firemen indicated they had no intention of joining a firemen's union.

At first, firemen just sat silent while labor attorney David Kornreich outlined the options.

But then firemen began asking how they could convince the county there is no solid movement to join a firefighters' union in Seminole County.

Though reports said up to 29 firefighters signed unionization cards, no evidence was produced showing that much support for unionization.

Longwood Resident Recalls Town Visited By Carter

By DONNA ESTES
 Herald Staff Writer

Clinton, Mass., has occupied center news stage during the past few days as the site of President Carter's first "meet-the-people" venture, and as the "average American town."

But at least one dissenting voice to that characterization is Mrs. Barbara Soltro of Markham Woods Road, Longwood. Mrs. Soltro, who was born, grew up and went to school in Clinton, insists the town, about the size of Sanford, is not average at all.

"It's mostly a factory town and most of the people are employed in the factories," she says, adding that the downtown area of Clinton is much like Sanford's downtown. Little shopping centers are located around the community.

"At the time I grew up there, nobody locked his doors. Our newspaper — the Clinton Daily Item — had three pages."

Mrs. Soltro first left Clinton in 1959, returning after her marriage for one year in 1967 with her children while her husband was in the military service. She spent several days there last October. Her parents moved from the community two years ago, but she still has aunts, uncles, and cousins there.

Newsworthy events in Clinton within the past few months before the Carters visit, were the sighting of a UFO and the fire that destroyed one of the major factories.

"The center of the community is very pretty. The town hall (where Carter Wednesday night spoke to a large group of citizens that were chosen by lot to attend), library and old school are in a circular area around a park where a big fountain is located," she says.

"The town hall is a big meeting place that looks almost like a movie theater with a circular balcony," she says and most of the major events in the community are held there — from town meetings, to school graduations to dances to recitals.

Mrs. Soltro knows the Ed Thompson family with whom President Carter spent the night Wednesday. And to her the Thompsons aren't average Clinton.

She remembers that they are upper-middle class and live in an old two-story home, reminiscent of the old Broadway-McIntyre house in Longwood.

They are a typical Irish, Catholic, Democrat family, she said. And Clinton, as she recalls this St. Patrick's Day, is about 80 per cent Catholic, 60 per cent Irish and 90 per cent Democrat.

Clinton is heavily Democrat, she says, and most think the Kennedy family can do anything. "It was not a Kennedy person and not a Democrat and fell" out like a traitor there," Mrs. Soltro adds.

Clinton has two main roads, High Street which is the center of town where the stores are located and Main Street, one block off which leads outside town, she says.

There are many bars in the town, many Catholic churches of different ethnic persuasions, a few small Protestant churches, and a synagogue.

About half the school children in Clinton attend Catholic schools, she says, noting that the public school system is not a good one. And there is no busing.

The town also has two hotels and one motel on the outskirts.

The citizens of Clinton participate in their government and, perhaps because of this participation, she speculates the government "can't seem to make up its mind on issues."

"When the high school burned down, it took five years for it to be rebuilt. Then the location they picked was so bad, a new school is being considered already. "My brother and sister went to high school in stores and graduated without an actual school building."

"There is nothing for children in Clinton — no youth or teen centers. There are sports for boys, basketball and football, but nothing for girls."
