City, County Leaders Pay Tribute To Capt. Tully

Gov. Farris Bryant has appointed W. D. Frederick, Orlando attorney, as the new public defender for the eighth county Ninth Judicial District, including Seminole County. He will defend indigent persons charged with felonies and his salary of $8,000 will be paid by the state. However, any assistant defender named for this county at a later date will receive his salary from the county.

The Welaka building on First Street at Railroad Avenue, is about to get a new "face". Manager A. R. Key says painters will commence operations in a week or 10 days.

Manager Joe Foy reports 1963 high school graduates from Seminole County's Seminole, Oviedo, Lyman, Crooms and Forest Lake Academy now are registered with Florida State Employment Service. Among them, says Foy, are good stenographers, clerical workers, receptionists, auto mechanic and carpenter trainees, as well as laborers. Some are seeking only summertime jobs before entering college this fall.

Fern Park barracks, World War I Veterans, and the auxiliary are having a covered dish supper and Chinese auction at Altamonte Springs park this afternoon. Affairs will be moved to the Community House on Milland Avenue in event of inclement weather.

At one time I was a very slow hunt-and-peck typist but now I'm a speed type on the typewriter.

A call to North Orlando Company offices early Wednesday found manager Frank Fasula bustling around in the rain to build an emergency shelter for his mare's new born colt. Why wasn't the shelter in readiness and waiting? ... it's like this: The Fasulas, who bought the horse for their daughters at Christmas didn't realize until just recently that she was even expecting and had no way of determining just when to look for the new arrival. The family, we understand, even postponed long-made vacation plans to await the blessed event. After all this, we wonder ... is Frank passing out cigars?

Casselberry Fire Chief Paul Bates returned home Wednesday from Winter Park Memorial Hospital, where he underwent surgery.

Two "famous" persons, both celebrating birthdays today were honored at Coffee Club this morning. Neither C. of C. Manager John Kridner nor Herald Reporter Dottie Austin would reveal how much water has gone under the bridge. Can these be "Moon Children"?

Civilians will install new officers tonight at the Lake Monroe Inn, handing the reins to Incoming Charlie Kampf, Chelsea manager.

June may be the month of Brides, also of Roses, Rain and other long-held traditions. But it is also the Month of Installations with just about every Club and organization getting "off with the old and on with the new."

Our informants down Orlando-way report the gasoline war there is over. Local service station operators are happy about that, and also happy the price war didn't spread to Sanford.

Joe Ryan Dies
NEW YORK (UPI)—Joseph P. Ryan, 79, president of the International Longshoremen's Association from 1927 to 1953, died Wednesday after a long illness.

CAPT. JOSEPH M. TULLY JR.

Two years ago today Captain Joseph Meritt Tully Jr., USN, assumed command of Heavy Attack Wing One at Sanford Naval Air Station.

This afternoon he was honored by Sanford and Seminole County leaders for his efforts in these last two years in promoting "an unequalled bond of friendship and cooperation between officers and enlisted men of Sanford Naval Air Station and the citizens of Seminole County."

The tribute was paid at a luncheon at Mayfair Inn. Invocation was pronounced by Chaplain Angelo Libera, NAS, and State Senator Mack N. Cleveland Jr., as master of ceremonies, introduced the guests.

At the head table were City Commissioners, County Commissioners, mayors of cities, towns and villages in the county, Thomas H. Fuller, president of the Central Florida Council, Navy League; Col. H. J. Pugh, superintendent of the Sanford Naval Academy; Captain Robert M. Ware, NAS commanding officer, and Mrs. Ware; Captain James O. Mayo, who will succeed Captain Tully as having the commanding officer, and Mrs. Mayo, and Captain and Mrs. Tully.

Resolutions of tribute to Captain Tully were read and presented by Gen. J. C. Hutchison for the County Commission, Mayor Thomas S. McDonald for the Sanford City Commission and Andrew Carraway for the Armed Forces committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

F. E. Roumillat Jr., president of the Chamber of Commerce, presented Captain Tully with a plaque. Fuller presented a gift from the Navy League and Carraway presented a gift from the Armed Forces committee.

The luncheon closed with a response by Captain Tully, who will leave July 12 for further assignment to the Naval Air Station at Jacksonville, Fla. This assignment marks him for future promotion in the Navy.

The presentations will be made by Captain Joseph M. Tully Jr., Wing Commander, following his annual personnel inspection of the squadron.

The trophies were originally slated to be given out at the Wing's 1962 Bombing Derby. However, the Cuban Crisis forced cancellation of the Derby and the presentations were rescheduled for VAB-11's administrative personnel inspection.

Both recipients have relatively long histories of operations with the A3B Skywarrior, which they flew to their championships.

Shattuck was an early A3B pilot, flying the twinjet aircraft overseas from 1957 to 1959 with Electronic Reconnaissance Squadron Two (VR-2), and finally, from 1959-62 with Sanford's VAB-11 and VAB-11. He is now a jetline pilot for United Air Lines.

Blunden has similar experience. He flew as a navigator with VQ1 in the Far East from 1956 to 1960, then came to Sanford. He was commissioned an ensign in 1960 through the Navy's Limited Duty Officer program, became a bombardier-navigator the same year and in his first full fiscal year in heavy attack, won the bombing championship.

Cost Of Living Holds Steady
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The cost of living has held steady for two months, and a Labor Department expert says Americans should consider themselves lucky it has remained relatively stable.

Statistician Robert J. Myers announced Wednesday the 1962 consumer price index for May—unchanged from the previous 60 days. But he predicted the index for June would be one-tenth of one percent higher.

P. S. POLGAR, Lt. Cdr., USN, will assume command Friday of the Naval Air Maintenance Training Group Detachment at Sanford Naval Air Station, relieving Lt. Cdr. Clyde G. Hunt, a 21-year veteran who is retiring.

LOGGING OPERATIONS were so deep inside Wokiva Swamp that it was necessary Wednesday afternoon to remove the body of an accident victim, Samuel Thomas Harris, 31, two miles by tractor to a roadway. (Herald Photo)

Last Rites To Be At Deland

Funeral arrangements were being completed at Deland today for Samuel Thomas Harris, 31, of Deland, a timberman killed at about 1 p. m. Wednesday afternoon in a logging accident in Wokiva Swamp.

Sheriff's Deputy J. Q. Galloway reported that Harris was guiding the loading of a 30-foot hardwood log onto a boat when the cabin of a hoist slipped. The log knocked Harris from the truck and then fell on his neck and shoulders, crushing him.

Coroner Hugh Duncan, who investigated with Galloway, said death was accidental and instantaneous.

The accident occurred two miles inside the swamp south of Markham, off the Longwood-Markham Road. It was necessary to use a tractor to remove Harris' body from the swamp due to lack of roads.

A native of Seville, Fla., Harris is survived by his wife, Patricia Harris; two children, Richard and Lina; a brother and three sisters, all of Deland. Allen-Sumner-Hill Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

He Should Have Stood In Bed
ST. PETERSBURG (UPI)—Seventy-six-year-old Dale Armstrong went downtown yesterday to pay a traffic fine.

On the way, police said, he barely missed a collision with a police cruiser, ran a stop sign and drove on the wrong side of the road.

Police charged him with two more traffic violations, released him under $50 bond and said they would ask for a re-examination for his driver's license.

Temptation Of 'Free Life' Too Much For Her
NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—An unfortunate thing happened to prison "coed" Sarah Jeannette Johns on her way to the University of Tennessee.

She succumbed to the "sudden temptations of a free, modern society" and kept late hours shortly after she was paroled to attend the university, state Corrections Director Harry Avery said Wednesday.

"I was scared of life," Miss Johns told the Pardons and Paroles Board, which revoked her parole at a hearing Wednesday. She said she went to a movie Monday night, "and scared," and spent the rest of the night and early morning drinking in local taverns. Officers were waiting for her when she returned home at 2 a. m., four hours beyond her parole curfew.

"Her conduct clearly indicates she should not be further paroled at present," said Avery.

Bryant Hails Kennedy For Canal Support

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Gov. Farris Bryant said today President Kennedy had been asked to speak to the National Governors' Conference at Miami Beach in July.

Bryant told his weekly news conference that Kennedy had not accepted the invitation but "he is very well disposed to speak."

The governor said the President was "very responsive" in asking Congress to put up enough money to get the cross-Florida barge canal started. Bryant and other state officials went to Washington last week to push for $1 million to start construction of the proposed canal across the north central part of the state.

From Bonn, Germany, the President sent to Congress a supplementary budget which included $1 million, which Bryant said would start construction on locks at the east end of the canal.

Cuba 'Invasion' Talk Subsides
MIAMI (UPI)—Talk of a new refugee "invasion" of Cuba has died down here as rapidly as it flared up about a week ago.

It is now clear that a report that refugee "commandos" from Central America were smuggling arms to anti-Castro guerrillas in Cuba smothered out of all proportion in the telling.

About 20 men appear actually to have landed in Cuba, but exaggerated reports reaching here magnified that number as much as 150-fold.

When "invasion" rumors first began circulating, refugee leader Manuel A. deVarona told UPI that it was true that three small-boat parties had landed in Cuba.

Prison 'Coed' Loses Parole Rights
NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—An unfortunate thing happened to prison "coed" Sarah Jeannette Johns on her way to the University of Tennessee.

She succumbed to the "sudden temptations of a free, modern society" and kept late hours shortly after she was paroled to attend the university, state Corrections Director Harry Avery said Wednesday.

Vatican Council To Resume Work Sept. 29

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope Paul VI, continuing the work of the late Pope John XXIII, today set the second session of the Vatican Council for Sept. 29.

He ordered the council's preparatory body to resume work next week.

The new date for the beginning of the second session was announced by Papal Secretary of State Amleto Giovanni Cardinal Cicognani. Originally it had been scheduled for Sept. 8 but was delayed because of the illness and death of the late Pope.

The announcement was a type of document known as a "rescript ex auctoritate," meaning a formal notice of orders imparted on Cicognani by the Pope during a private audience.

In a separate communique, the council press office said the council's coordination commission was meeting Wednesday "to complete its work according to the instructions issued Dec. 6, 1962 by the Holy Father John XXIII of venerated memory."

Pope John's instructions to the commission was to cut, rewrite and combine items placed before the council, reducing their number from 70 to 20.

Grand Jury Probes Gaming
ORLANDO (UPI)—A Federal grand jury, reported to be investigating syndicated illegal gambling activities, was scheduled to resume hearings here today.

The current hearing, which is secret, began Monday and recessed Wednesday. Two special attorneys for the organized crime and racketeering section of the Department of Justice were on hand to make presentations to the grand jury.

About a dozen witnesses were questioned Tuesday. Among them were Philip Beale, Pensacola, a former legislator; State Sen. Mack Cleveland Jr., of Sanford; Abe Brown and Joseph Gurwitz of Miami; Capt. Tom Sawyer, of the Orlando Police Department; B. O. White, an Orlando boat firm operator, and Beverly Roberts, of Seminole County.

Before his brief appearance, Cleveland told newsmen in Sanford he did not know why he was summoned but believed it might concern the fact that, as an attorney, he once represented two persons who had been arrested.

Licenses Due
TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Game and Fish Director A. D. Aldrich announced Wednesday that Florida fishermen must have their 1962-63 licenses by midnight June 29 or face a fine of from $10 to $200 or a jail term up to 90 days.

JFK Journey To Ireland Sentimental
DUBLIN (UPI)—The Irish made John F. Kennedy their own today.

The President left behind the affairs of state in Dublin and hedgedhopped by helicopter and car on a sentimental journey across southeastern Ireland, home of his ancestors.

He went to New Ross, from where his great grandfather sailed for America 113 years ago; sipped tea with his cousins and other relations at the old family homestead in Dunganstown; laid a wreath in Westford on a statue of Commodore John Barry, father of the American Navy; and then hopped back to Dublin.

The President was in a relaxed and happy mood following a grim Berlin visit. He won hysterical applause everywhere he went in this misty green island.

At New Ross he told a wildly cheering crowd that if his great grandfather had not gone to America, "I'd be working over at the Albatross Co. here, I guess." The company is a fertilizer factory on the river.

From New Ross he motored five miles along hedged-in lanes to Dunganstown to take a look at the potato shed which was the original Kennedy home.

Breaking through all protocol barriers at Dunganstown, the President pushed into the crowd to shake hands and expressed his pleasure at seeing the people of the area of his forebears.

He was nearly mobbed by the huge quayside crowd at New Ross after his folksy speech in which he introduced some of his traveling companions and then said that "when my great grandfather left here 113 years ago he carried with him only two things—faith and a strong desire to live in liberty."

Pickings Slim For Thieves
Thieves worked hard for only $3.50 early this morning.

Police reported a burglary gained entrance through a restroom window at the Dancing School of Arts, 100 West 27th Street, but got nothing.

Then he followed by tampering with a vending machine at the Lauderama, 117 West 27th Street, and still gained nothing.

Sheriff J. L. Hobby reported a thief threw a building block through a window of the Judah Service Station at Casselberry and took less than 50 pennies from a cash drawer and about $3 from a vending machine.

5 Sunbeams Win Merit Badges

CHRISTINE CLARK (left) won the highest award in the Salvation Army Sunbeam program at Camp Keystone last week when she was presented the Commissioner's Sunbeam Award. She also received badges for her work in singing, artist work and star study. Karen Williams, admiring Christine's coveted award, tied for the most number of badges in the camp during the week with eight, artist, bird study, first aid, safety first, patriotism, singing, star study and tree study. Others in the photo (from left) are Mrs. James Carlton, in charge of the Sanford girls; Naomi Mullins, who won badges in artist, bird study, singing, tree study and safety first; Marilyn Mullins, artist, bird study, tree study, singing and safety first; and Darlene Bumgardner, bird study, star study, singing, artist and safety first.

FIVE YOUNG ladies from Sanford, ages 6-11 years, spent last week at the Salvation Army Camp Keystone and part of their activities included crafts of many kinds. These girls, members of the Salvation Army Sunbeams, are shown above in the craft pavilion working on projects which are part of their camp life.

By Fred P. Green
(Special to The Herald)
(Ed. Note: The Palatka Daily News reporter captioned above, who wrote the following article for The Sanford Herald, attached a note: "Just as I arrived at the camp so did a cloud-burst and even though these pictures were taken at 2 p. m. it appears to be night outside. . . it was that dark and the rain fell by the tubfuls. I got stuck leaving the camp on a new clay road and had to wait three hours to get pulled out. It was quite an experience.")

PALATKA—Snuggled away in the clay hills of Clay County, on the shores of Lake Bedford, three miles northwest of Keystone Heights, lies a tract of land, 88 acres large, which is known statewide as Camp Keystone, the Florida division of the Salvation Army camp.

The camp includes 14 cabins and has a capacity of 200 campers. It is operated all summer and has many different programs for all age groups, under the direction of Capt. and Mrs. Jack Brewer, state youth directors for the Salvation Army, who list Jacksonville as their home.

The camp is under the divisional commanders Lt. and Mrs. Harold Stout, who also have their headquarters in Jacksonville.

Last week five Sanford girls, six to 11 years of age, attended this camp under the Salvation Army Sunbeam program, which is comparable to the Brownie program in the Girl Scouts.

During their week at camp these young girls work on their proficiency awards and these Sanford youngsters made excellent strides in their study, winning 26 of these badges with one of them, Karen Williams, tying for the most badges won by one girl—eight. This was from a group of 170 girls from all over Florida.

Another Sanford lass, Christine Clark, won the highest honor in the Sunbeam program, receiving the Commissioner's Sunbeam Award. This coveted medal is the highest award in the program.

The girls were under the direction of Mrs. James Carlton, a layworker for the Sanford Salvation Army program, which is operated under the direction of Sanford's Harry Foden and Mrs. Foden. Mrs. Carlton is the leader of the Sanford Girls Corps, and this fall she and her husband expect to enter the Salvation Army Officers Training School in Atlanta, Ga., to become commissioned Salvation Army workers.

The five young misses from Sanford, Christine Clark, Karen Williams, Naomi Mullins, Marilyn Mullins and Darlene Bumgardner, were extremely proud of the fact that they won the camp award for keeping the neatest and best cabin during their week in the camp.

In addition to their craft work and study on their proficiency awards, the camp offers many recreation facilities such as swimming, shuffleboard, tennis, badminton, volleyball, softball and many other sports and game activities.

There is a large pavilion for religious services. However, the programs are inter-denominational. It was pointed out, Salvation Army is a member agency of the United Appeal of Seminole County.

This week a group of 12-16 year old Sanford girls are at Camp Keystone and before the summer is gone a group of Sanford youths will attend a music camp.

In August this camp is host to large group of underprivileged children who attend "fresh air camping periods" at Camp Keystone. Keystone Heights is 28 miles west of Palatka and 14 miles east of Starke on State Road 100.

Several On UF Staff To Retire

GAINESVILLE (UPI) — Several members of the University of Florida faculty and staff will retire at the end of the month.

One group, including Dr. Norman R. Mehrhoff, Dr. John V. Watkins, Dr. R. B. Becker and Mrs. Ida K. Cressap, spent more than 30 years in educating Florida students. All joined the staff in the 1920's.

Mehrhoft is professor of Poultry Science and head of the department. He joined the staff in 1924.

Watkins, Professor of Ornamental Horticulture, joined the staff in 1928. Becker, Professor of Dairy Science and a dairy husbandman joined the staff in 1929 and Mrs. Cressap has served as a librarian for the Agricultural Experiment Station since 1923.

Also retiring are Dr. George Fox, Professor of English, 1939; Dr. John Grother, Professor of Humanities, 1953; Dr. R. Bangs, Professor of Management of Business Law, 1957; Clifford Holley, Assistant Professor of Physical Sciences, 1958; and Dr. A. E. Brandt, Professor of Statistics, 1958.

St. Pete's Old Studio Burns

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI) — The old building which in the early 1920's housed a movie studio was destroyed by fire Tuesday.

Sun Haven Studios turned out three pictures in the studio with such old-time luminaries as Buster Keaton, Greta Nisson and Olive Borden. The building has been used recently for storage by the Florida Power Company.

Fiesta To Feature Contest

By Donna Kates

The Longwood Volunteer Fire Dept.'s Fourth of July Fiesta, this year for the second time to be a three-day event, will be highlighted by a beauty contest set for next Thursday to name "Miss Flame of Seminole County."

To date a total of some 25 girls, representing 10 fire departments, have entered the competition from which the winner will go on to represent Seminole County in the state contest to be held next March.

The Fiesta, which will be located on Reiter's Pasture west of Longwood on Sandstone Springs Rd. (SR 434), will open to the public at 6 p. m. on Tuesday and Wednesday at which times all concession stands and food and drink booths will be in operation.

The all-day celebration planned for Thursday will kick off with a parade from the Longwood Elementary School at 10 a. m. immediately following arrival at the fair grounds, prizes in many categories will be awarded parade entries.

Donation prizes will be awarded throughout the day with first prize a 1951 station wagon donated by Scott's garage, second prize a stainless steel double sink donated by Reek and Sons Plumbing and third prize a juice blender donated by Ted's TV Shop. Winners of all prizes except the car must be present.

The bathing beauty portion of the Miss Flame contest will be judged at 12:30 p. m. Judges will be officers of the State Firemen's Assn. who also will officiate at the evening gown finals to be held at 5 p. m.

Afternoon entertainment will feature the Falling Angels of DeLand, a parachuting group who plan their first jumps at 3 p. m. The Angels who will jump from approximately 7,500 feet, recently took first place in spot jumping at an air meet held in Kissimmee.

Climaxing the day's activities will be the fireworks display which the firemen claim will be the biggest ever to be seen in the county. This display is timed to last more than an hour with three men setting off the fireworks as fast as possible.

Proceeds from these annual celebrations are used by the Longwood Volunteers to buy new and replace old equipment for the department and the men. The past three years have seen additions of radio and monitoring equipment, new sirens, warning lights and two high pressure hoses and boots, raincoats, and helmets for the men.

In addition the department sponsors a Halloween Party

WASHINGTON (UPI) — As the Senate opened debate on President Kennedy's debate program of aid to depressed areas one Republican charged it was designed "to create votes."

Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, Utah, ranking Republican on the Senate Banking Committee, said it should be called "The Administration Re-election Agency."

"The Area Redevelopment Agency bill is designed principally to keep Democratic politicians from the unemployed lists," Bennett told the Senate.

The measure, defeated two weeks ago by the House, would add $455 million in authorized funds for the agency, more than doubling its present spending ceiling.

Mayor Flays Aversion To Politics

The apathy and aversion of businessmen to "getting involved in politics" was flayed by Mayor Tom McDonald before members of the Kiwanis Club Wednesday.

"Labor groups take part in the process of electing people that run our government, small pressure groups take part, but too many businessmen take the attitude that they have something to lose by taking an active part in politics," the Mayor pointed out, and added:

"We may lose our freedom if we do not take an active part."

He noted that it took only 50 people to sign the Declaration of Independence, and related the story that Benjamin Franklin was asked by a constituent, "What have you given us?" to which Franklin replied, "We have given you freedom, if you have the wit to keep it."

In outlining what the individual can do to assure good government, Mayor McDonald listed, "encouraging good men to run, encourage them to stay in office, work for them, and give a campaign donation."

Characteristics of a "good man for public office" were defined as, "sincere interest in his city, state and nation, honesty, ability, church membership and family ties."

Sincerity can be tested by noting whether the candidate has taken an active part in community life; honesty by asking the people who know him best and ability by his background, whether he has been successful in his own business and has the qualities of leadership.

In reference to church membership, McDonald said, "Despite the Supreme Court opinion, religion has played the most important part in making this country great, and, if we are to stay great, it will continue to play that same important part."

"The average age of the world's greatest civilizations has been 200 years," the Mayor remarked, "and these nations progressed through this sequence:

"From bondage to spiritual faith, from spiritual faith to great courage, from courage to liberty, from liberty to abundance, from abundance to selfishness, from selfishness to complacency, from complacency to apathy, from apathy to dependence and from dependence back again into bondage."

"In 13 years," the Mayor warned, "the U. S. will be 200 years old. This cycle is not inevitable. Tomorrow America depends on you."

SEVEN NURSES have completed an instructor's training course in mother and baby care, conducted by Miss Edith Olson, nursing representative from the American National Red Cross in Atlanta, Ga. Certificates are being presented by executive secretary Mrs. Mathilde Friesel to (front row) Mrs. Hulda Kibbe, Mrs. Frances Harper, Mrs. Mary Ellen Brown, Mrs. Mustine Jordan; (back row) Mrs. Grace Fisher, nursing director, Mrs. Floyre Gilbert and Miss Evelyn Morris. Miss Olson, instructor is at far right. (Herald Photo)

Baby Care Is Family Affair

Baby care is a family affair, says the Red Cross, and seven Seminole County registered nurses are now prepared to teach the facts of happy mother and baby care to prospective parents here.

The nurses received their certificates for an 18-hour course taught by Miss Edith Olson, Red Cross nursing representative, of Atlanta. Six of the seven nurses are Public Health nurses and work out of the Public Health Department.

Information given in the course which will be passed on to local prospective parents includes what the mother should wear, eat and do during pregnancy to insure her own and the baby's health and safety; how to get a firm grip on the situations of bathing, feeding and carrying the baby; how to become a "quick-change" artist; how to guard against infection and communicable disease, and how to give the baby a feeling of belonging.

The lessons will be taught in six two-hour classes and also will explain the baby's progress from conception through birth, the need for periodic medical examinations, the questions of budgeting time and money and how community health affects family health.

Happiness Cake...

In the old days, one of the traditional gifts for the bride from family friends and relatives was a decorated cake. That may be a little out-of-date in this day of frozen dinners and warm-up cereals.

But here's one sentimental recipe for happiness that bears passing along, with thanks to Libby, McNeill and Libby:

Combine:

- 1 heaping portion of true love
- 1 heaping cup of perfect trust and confidence
- 1 heaping cup of tenderness (the most tender available)
- 1 heaping cup of good humor (a little extra won't hurt)

1 tablespoon of good spirits (the more spirited the better)

Mix with:

- 1 heaping cup of unselfishness
- A dash of interest in all HE does

Add:

- 1 good helping of work—to avoid this would spoil the flavor

Mix all these ingredients with a pint of sympathy and understanding combined. Flavor with loving companionship. Bake well all your life. Frost with kisses, fond hopes and tender words. This cake keeps well and should be served often.

'D Move To An Island'

Breathes there a harried soul so barren of imagination that he hasn't at one time or another, vowed to retire to an island of his own as at least a temporary retreat from turmoil and troubles?

It may come as a surprise that many people are doing just that—moving to an island during vacation days or retirement years. Not any old island. Their very own island!

With roads snaking their way into hitherto inaccessible portions of the United States and Canada, and with the up-and-down versatility of the taxi-helicopter becoming ever more available, tens of thousands of water-surrounded retreats are becoming more accessible in, on and nearby United States and Canadian waters.

Internationally, for those with a little more scratch in the pocketbook, at least one agency will help you search for your own private bit of paradise anywhere on earth.

Going rate for islands is anywhere from about $800 upward. How to get them is something else again. Since each state has its own land-buying requirements, residence standards, etc., and since Canadian laws differ from the United States on the subject, finding your island takes some doing.

First step is to buy a good atlas. Study areas which intrigue you. Next write the specific area's tourist development agency for sources of detailed area maps. After you've studied those, make your own personal inspection. Such is the advice of Jack Stewart, writing in Dodge News Magazine.

Once you've located your likely dream property, go to the nearest local civic authorities, who can clue you on the long trail to finding out about your island.

Each door you open in your search opens another door. New vistas unfold constantly. You'll gain more knowledge as you go, more know-how more brushes with adventure.

And, who knows? You might, some day, find your dream island.

Dick West Says

Snowshoe Snafu

WASHINGTON (UPI) — This old knacker had an uncanny knack of estimating the size of a herd, and when someone asked him how he did it, he said:

"There's nothing to it. I just count the legs and divide by four."

That's a joke, son, but I'm thinking that the Army might have done well to have used a similar system a few years ago when it was ordering snowshoes for the troops.

Somewhat or other, it wound up with 4,000 more snowshoes than it needed, a situation that might have been avoided by counting heads and multiplying by two.

At any rate, on a spring day in 1958 the Quartermaster depot at Jeffersonville, Ind., advertised the 2,045 pairs of surplus snowshoes for sale.

The documents I have available do not make clear just why the Army decided that the month of May was a propitious time for selling snowshoes.

There is no gain saying, however, that few things are more surplus than snowshoes in May.

Anyone who has ever spent time in the Army can visualize for himself how the sale came about. In the mental picture I get, a supply sergeant discovers the extra snowshoes under a pile of mosquito netting.

Anyone who has spent time in the Army also can readily understand how the sale of the snowshoes could wind up in a big snafu.

What happened was that Outlet Stores, Inc., of Denver, Colo., put in a bid to buy the snowshoes at $6.11 per pair. Its offer was the highest submitted for 1,444 pairs.

But when the bids were opened, the Army sold 1,845 pairs to the Outlet Stores Co. of St. Paul, Minn., for $5.68 per pair.

When Outlet of Colorado inquires as to why the Army had accepted the smaller bid of Outlet of Minnesota, it was found that an "administrative error" had been made.

The Army attempted to retrieve the snowshoes, but by that time most of them had already been resold to someone else.

Leonard Joseph, president of the company, said he had made arrangements to sell the snowshoes he bid on for $11.75 a pair. He claimed that the Army had done him out of $12,644.41.

But when the matter was hucked to the U. S. comptroller general, it was ruled that the government was not responsible for Joseph's theoretical loss.

Congress now has before it a bill to pay Joseph $1,000 for his time and trouble as regards the snowshoe snafu. Regardless of how it comes out, I will credit him with commendable determination.

Someone less resolute would simply have gone out and buried himself in a snowdrift.

CALL TO ARMS

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

CASE P-470: George W. Bailey is a superb mentalist and magician who lives in Freeport, Pa.

Twice in recent years I have crisscrossed with him at national conventions.

Once was at the bankers association. Then last fall at Cleveland he appeared as the banquet entertainer for the Ohio College of Chiroprody's annual conference.

I was scheduled for speech on the next day, but arrived on Sunday night in time to enter the banquet hall just as George Bailey was performing.

"Hi, there, Dr. George

Washington Crane," he called out from the platform.

"Did you teach your Bible class this morning at the Chicago Temple?"

Then he asked several additional personal questions, based on our chance meeting of 10 years earlier at that banker's banquet.

Meanwhile, he royally entertained those doctors and their wives for a couple of hours.

He had mingled with them briefly prior to the banquet, asking their names.

Hours later he named the various members of the convention. In fact, I saw him identify 118 correctly out of 120.

That is a phenomenal feat! And it isn't based on any occult or "hidden secrets," for Mr. Bailey simply uses standard laws of memory improvement to do so.

"How can you recall so many names?" one of the banqueters asked, in surprise.

"Well," George Bailey grinned, "if you offered to pay $5 for every such name you forgot, you'd be started at the fast improvement in your own memory!"

Bailey had to pay off two of the 120 with $5 bills. But even in those two cases, his failures were partially justified.

"Oh, ho," he commented when he forgot the names.

"You moved from downstairs, where I met you, up to the balcony, didn't you?"

And that was correct, for when he had first asked the names of those two, they were seated downstairs. But in the check-up later on, they had drifted upstairs and were seated in the balcony.

Part of the art of memory is this special "pegging" of information. This is part of what we call the Gestalt doctrine in psychology.

On previous occasions I have also been at banquets when other memory experts performed.

They also drifted around, learning the names of diners prior to the supper hour. But during their own dinner time at the table, they did not eat. Instead, they sipped coffee and kept drilling themselves on all those names which they were later to associate with the proper persons.

So it is not only important to pay "attention" to material that you wish to remember. But you must also have a vigorous "intention" to remember!

Many of you can't name the streets between your own suburban home and downtown, yet you have seen them thousands of times.

If you really had a firm "intention" to do so, and had to pay $5 for each one you failed to recall in order, you'd soon be able to repeat all of them.

Send for my booklet "How to Improve Memory and Study More Efficiently," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

RFK Testifies On Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy urged Congress today to enact civil rights laws that would deal with racial problems in the courts and "not in the streets, amid potential violence."

The President's brother opened the battle on Capitol Hill for the administration's seven-point program that is almost certain to face a filibuster from Southern members of his own Democratic party.

Kennedy, leadoff witness at a broad congressional hearing on the President's strong civil rights bill, said laws alone would not end racial discrimination overnight.

But they are a vital part of a broad national attack on a problem that the administration cannot solve through voluntary action, he told the House Judiciary Committee.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NRA) — No high official in Washington is kidding himself that the forthcoming American-British-Russian talks on a nuclear test ban will result in agreement and a treaty. Some administration sources put Undersecretary of State Averell Harriman's chances of success in Moscow at no better than 1 in 20.

This is perhaps the best answer to congressional and other critics who think that the conference announced in President Kennedy's June 10 speech on a new strategy for peace is an ambush and a waste of time. The rationalization for it is that any president would want to be sure that he had done everything he could to avoid a worldwide nuclear disaster. If the talks prove fruitless as expected, Russia gets the blame.

What could follow would be of considerable advantage to the United States in one way, of considerable damage to both the Communist and the free worlds in another.

Another demonstration by the Russians that they do not want a test ban should make all the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance countries realize exactly what they are up against. It should unite them as they have not been united before.

Russian rejection of a test ban should also make it easier to bring into being the NATO Multilateral Force — MLF — of submarines and surface ships armed with Polaris missiles.

The bad part of such a development is that it might bring on an all-out arms race between East and West. The MLF alone would cost the U. S. an estimated $15 billion. It would mean $100 billion U. S. defense budgets within a few years. The question is whether or not a test ban would be preferable.

If a test ban agreement should come through as a long shot, there is no intention that the United States would relax on what is now believed to be its vast nuclear superiority. Plans for future testing would go right ahead. Development of antimissile missiles and anti-antimissile missiles would go ahead.

Then if the Russians broke the test ban treaty, the United States would be prepared to resume testing immediately. It would not be forced to lose six months as it did before when Khrushchev broke the Eisenhower moratorium on bomb testing.

In spite of U. S. nuclear weapons superiority — which is not to be confused with a missile gap in delivery systems — there is no assurance that American scientists would be first to develop new superweapons that come after the H-bomb.

In the potential for proliferation of nuclear weapons development in the next 10 to 20 years by Red China, France, Germany, Italy, Sweden, India, Japan or others that have the know-how, some obscure scientist may make the breakthrough.

This is a development the United States must be prepared to match.

The key issue on test ban negotiations now is inspection of unidentified explosions. Chairman Khrushchev doesn't want any foreign inspectors in Russia, maintaining that they would all be spies.

He doesn't need any inspectors in the United States, for in the wide-open United States society the Russians need only about five percent espionage to learn what they want to know.

While the United States has a world-wide nuclear test detection system, which the Russians do not have, the U. S. needs inspection of unidentified explosions. Khrushchev apparently has been led to believe that the United States will ultimately sign a test ban treaty without inspection. But the often repeated report from the Russians that the former American disarmament negotiator, Ambassador Arthur Dean, had ever said that inspections are not important is officially denied.

Anyway, the difference between three inspections a year, which Russia might settle for, and the seven which the United States insists on as a minimum considered important. What's wanted is a reserve of two or three inspections for safety.

150 Tee Off In Cleveland Open Today

CLEVELAND (UPI)—The golfers who hit 'em straight rather than long were favored in the crack field of 150 who started out today after the $22,000 first place money in the $110,000 Cleveland Open tournament.

"There's no premium on hitting them long here, but there is in hitting them straight," said Mike Souchak, hoping to get back on the winning track because "I always play well in the Cleveland area."

Souchak explained that to stick on the hard, fast greens of the 6,618-yard Beechmont Country Club with its par 36-36-71, "you have to play your approach shots off fairway lines, otherwise you are in trouble."

Although big Mike is in the long, rather than straight, hitter class, he received a lot of support because he always has done well in this section. The last time here, in 1959, he finished one stroke behind Dow Finsterwald in the 1959 Curling Open.

Nancy Schwinn's SKI SCHOOL

Written for NEA

A few tips should be passed along before we go on to trick skiing, which is the greatest thrill in the sport. Don't ski in shallow water. A fall there could be dangerous. Never wrap the tow rope around any part of the body. Don't pull "the line" until you are sure the ski tips are up and the rope is taut. The start can be awfully jerky if you break either of these admonitions.

It is not wise to ski double with different length ropes. There is danger of a skier crossing over in back, hitting the other a good smack with his tow line.

Wide turns are safer than tight ones. When a skier is making a sharp turn, the line can stretch so much he or she can sink from lack of speed. If the line suddenly becomes taut as the turn is completed, the sudden jerk may pull the tow handle from the skier's hands, in landing run parallel to the shore and time the release of the line so you come in slowly.

Better to sink in shallow water making a stop than to run into dock or beach with too much speed.

Jim Gilliam Clutch Man In Hot Race

By United Press International

Jim Gilliam recently being called "Junior" and as his Los Angeles Dodger teammates refer to him simply as "the cool man."

No nickname could be more appropriate for a fellow who takes the world in stride. He's played in at least 164 games in every year he's been with the Dodgers since 1953, and yet every spring it seems he has to win his job all over again from some highly-touted newcomer.

Come middle of a hot pennant race, however, and Gilliam is not only in the lineup day in and day out but also delivers the clutch hits that win important games.

The National League pennant race is about as hot as it can get and so it's no surprise that Gilliam is red-hot. The Dodgers have won four straight games and Gilliam has delivered the game-winning blow in three of 'em, including Wednesday night when his two-run eighth-inning double sparked Los Angeles to a 5-2 victory over Cincinnati Reds. The victory completed a Dodger sweep of a three-game series—the first time they won three in a row in Cincinnati since 1953.

Left-handed relief ace Ron Ferranowski shut out the Reds for the last 2 2/3 innings to win his eighth game against two losses, Jim Maloney, seeking his 12th win, struck out 11 batters and went into the eighth inning with a 2-2 tie but a walk to Ferranowski and Gordie Coleman's wild throw on a sacrifice attempt set the stage for Gilliam's big blow.

The victory enabled the Dodgers to remain a half-game behind the first-place St. Louis Cardinals, who topped the San Francisco Giants, 6-5.

Hatwing 1 Cops Bowling Honors

Heavy Attack Wing One—winner of its second straight championship—was honored in award presentations to the NAB Sanford Navy Intramural Bowling League Tuesday evening at Jet Lanes.

The Wing's regulars, winner of both halves in the 1952-53 competition, each received individual trophies for their prowess. The awards were presented by Capt. Robert M. Ware, commanding officer of NAB Sanford.

Representing the Wing was Cdr. George W. Kimmons, chief staff officer, who accepted both the league's rotating trophy and permanent Command trophy for the winning Wing team.

John Kneeland, of the Naval Air Maintenance Training Group received a trophy for posting the league's highest individual average—191.

He was followed closely by the Wing's John Uhr at 189. Teaming with Uhr were Howie Harrison, Clement Reeves, Billy Ryan, Herb Banta, Cliff Lord and team captain John Stankiewicz.

En route to their second straight championship season, the Wing bowlers set a Navy team record with their 1038 scratch game.

This very nearly topped the Jet Lanes team record of 1052, set by the Lake Monroe Inn team.

Angels' Albie Is Little Man With Big Bat

By United Press International

Little man, what now? It's a good question American Leaguers ask about Albie Pearson, the pint-sized outfielder who performs herculean feats for the Los Angeles Angels.

Five-foot, 5-inch, 141-pound Albie is a cinch to be one of the American League's starting outfielders in this year's All-Star Game because if his rivals can overlook his tiny physique they can't overlook his .315 average.

Like Wednesday night when the Angels whipped the Baltimore Orioles, 3-1 and 3-2, in a two-night doubleheader and vaulted past Cleveland and Baltimore into fifth place, 6 1/2 games off the lead.

Pearson singled and scored the Angels' first run of the opener and then tripled home the tying run and scored the winning run in the eighth inning of the nightcap.

Paul Foytack, making his first start since acquired from Detroit, went 8 1/3 innings to win the opener and then Ken McBride pitched a three-hitter and struck out seven to score his ninth victory in the second game.

The New York Yankees took a one-game grip on first place as they beat the Chicago White Sox, 3-2, the Minnesota Twins downed the Detroit Tigers, 6-1, and the Boston Red Sox nipped the Cleveland Indians, 6-5, in other American League action, Washington at Kansas City was rained out.

There's some real good luck. It seems that the bass, brown and catfish are having a ball when those gully washers hit the area.

I called Herb Sulten out at Wehiva River Haven and things seem to be going pretty good. Bream and catfish are biting on worms and the bass are picking up on the black and red plastic worms.

Herb tells me that the Black Water area is open and the fishing is pretty good up there for about a half mile and then the logs are there and so are the big bass.

I see Mr. Ellis from Wehiva Haven went fishing for "Flippy" the gar but caught a 12 1/2 pound gar on a cane pole baited with a small shiner.

The water has also risen eight inches in the Wehiva River. So that should help the fishermen from hitting all those protruding logs.

From Mullet Lake Park on up to Lake Harney the fishing is pretty slow and the water is considerably muddy.

NOTE: The 1953 fishing licenses are now on sale in the county court house and at all fish camps. The license is $1 this year, one dollar of this going to fishing improvement and management.

Don't forget if you get a good catch of fish let me know. I need your fish stories for "Knee Deep in Out Doors" just dial FA 2-2611.

Well, that's all the fish stories that I can get up for now.

Lauderdale, Lakeland In Tie For Lead

Lakeland knocked off Tampa 13-6 and Fort Lauderdale blanked Miami 11-0.

Shortstop John Matchick went five for six, driving in three of Lakeland's runs. Wayne Comer, Terry Bartholomew and Al Golden each had three hits for the winners.

Gabby Hayes whiffed five Miami batters and doled out four scattered hits while his teammates poured on the coal and rapped out 16 hits for 11 runs in the Lauderdale-Miami game.

Young righthander Stan Blunt allowed only two hits as first-half winners, Sarasota, applied the whitewash to St. Petersburg.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: This morning while in the grocery store my four-year-old son took one grape from a display. I saw him take it, but thought that one grape was nothing to make a fuss about. A woman saw it and said to me, "My, they learn young. When he is 16 he'll be stealing cars!" Abby, what I want to know is this: Was I wrong in not making a scene over one grape? Or do you think a four-year-old child should get a sermon in a grocery store starting with, "Thou shalt not steal!"

YOUNG MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: A child should not be permitted to help himself to ANYTHING that does not belong to him. The size of the theft is unimportant. (A 10-carat diamond is no larger than a grape, you know.)

DEAR ABBY: You are not so "dear" to me after your advice to the camping mother. "Check into a motel," you tell her. If she's anything like the camping wives I've seen, she'll ask for a room for ONE. Just a bed. Don't need a kitchen. The kids will sleep in the car—or the tent. The next morning it takes the maid four hours to get the chocolate milk out of the bedspread, dig the hamburger onions out from under the bed, and get the dog hair out of the rug. It would be easier to burn down the motel and start over than to clean up the mess.

BEAT MOTEL OPERATOR

DEAR ABBY: "Aggie" — who served her guests cat food canapes to prove to her husband that people will eat anything at a cocktail party — has a warped sense of humor. Besides, she didn't prove what she set out to prove. She only proved that many people will trust a person who shouldn't be trusted.

LOIS

DEAR ABBY: Was that woman's name really "AGGIE" who served her guests cat food canapes just to prove to her husband that people will eat anything? Last month we went to a party and I remarked to my husband, "This smells exactly like the stuff I give Cleopatra," (our cat), and he said, "Don't be silly. I ate it, and was sicker than a cat. What is 'AGGIE'S' real name?"

MUST KNOW

DEAR MUST: The real names of my correspondents are confidential. This is done to protect the guilty. I can tell you this much, however. The queen of the cat food canapes was NOT named "Aggie."

There is one major difference between the experts use of Blackwood and the average player's. The average player feels that he must use Blackwood to bid a slam. The expert only uses the convention as a final check after he has decided to bid a slam and wants to make sure he has enough aces.

Thus an expert never uses Blackwood when he is void in a suit and never when he has a worthless doubleton in an unbid suit or in a suit bid by his opponents.

Thus a great many players would use Blackwood with the North hand after their partner's one spade response to the opening club bid. No expert would. The expert would reason that if partner partner showed no aces six might be cold.

Instead, the expert would probably make the bid shown in the box and jump right to six spades. He would reason that if his partner held two aces and the king of spades he would bid seven and he would reason further that irrespective of what his partner held there would be a good play to make six.

This time South makes six against an ace of diamonds opening and seven against any other lead. But even if South did not hold the king of hearts, West might open a heart or even a club or a spade whereupon South would romp home with a grand of diamonds, he might make slam.

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

I'm sure many of you wives saw the news story recently about the midwestern husband who is suing his wife for divorce because she complains to him about her household problems.

It's bad enough to face up to problems all day at the office, he contends, without having to listen to new ones when he gets home in the evening.

Why, he asks, can't wives handle daily headaches concerning the children, budgets, shopping, etc., without asking him to listen to them?

It was bound to happen. Women have been told too often that they should meet their husbands with a beaming smile and stifle the urge to unload the day's troubles on big, broad shoulders. They should be willing to listen sympathetically while their husbands tell what went wrong at the office.

So the men are sure to expect that kind of treatment is their due.

But they'd be wise not to make a divorce issue out of the unloading of troubles. Because they're too often gully on that score themselves.

Papa may be the soul of diplomacy at the office.

But he reserves the right to let off steam when he gets home, and he expects his wife to take it unflinchingly—and, moreover, to soothe his ruffled disposition.

Being a man, he may not be as understanding when his wife starts in to tell him her troubles. Few wives actually expect a man to be.

But even if he doesn't exert himself to cheer her up, he ought to be resigned to some complaining. After all, the woman who runs a house and looks after children meets with as many frustrations and annoyances as any man.

So, while he may not welcome her complaints, he certainly shouldn't regard them as grounds for divorce. Home is sometimes a battleground. It can't always be a haven.

The man who gets a wife who never complains and never burdens him with her troubles is just plain lucky. But it's just luck—not his natural due. And let's not start giving divorces on the assumption that it is.

ONE OF SANFORD'S friendliest personalities belongs to part and petite Patty Gatchel, who seems such an integral part of the Florida State Bank's staff, it's hard to think of her leaving.

PATTY GATCHEL

The first part of August, and we surely can't quarrel with the good reason for this move. Husband David Gatchel, a former city commissioner, county commissioner and clerk of the Circuit Court has accepted a position as city manager of the town of Fernandina Beach (that's near Jacksonville for those not familiar with the state).

Both the Gatchels are natives of the community and well-known here, and friends hate to see them go, though they wish them well. Patty has been with the bank for 12 years, serving as secretary to Gene Tucker and to former president, E. G. Kilpatrick. She rates the title of assistant cashier.

SPEAKING OF FAREWELLS (and who wants to?) two other popular and well-known couples who will be leaving soon, too, are Annis and John Dominey and Buck and Elsa Ferguson. They were feted at a swim and supper party recently by a club to which the ladies belong, known simply as "the card club." (They like to get together to play cards, see?)

Whimsical new note for your casual separates. And so good-looking, too! In an easy-care all-cotton print. Gay carnival colors. 28 to 38.

MIKE DURAK

ANOTHER "Local Boy Makes Good" story is L. M. "Mike" Durak, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Durak of Sanford who received his BS degree in Geography from the University of Florida, and also made Phi Beta Kappa. (As you know, this is the national honor society for outstanding liberal arts scholars.)

Young Mr. Durak and his wife Carolyn visited here with his parents before going on to West Palm Beach where he will serve as geographer-economist with the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District, and Mrs. Durak will teach at the Forest Hill School.

FRIENDS REPORT that Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tookes, who are cruising around in the South Pacific, are now in Australia, with the kangaroos and kolas bears, and will soon be setting sail for New Zealand.

From there, the cruise will continue on to the Far East lands of Singapore, Hong Kong and Japan, and back by way of Hawaii.

WE KNOW of a number of local folks who are traveling in various parts of the globe this summer, but who forbid us to mention it. It's a shame not to tell about it, but they fear (and rightfully so) that if vandals know they are gone, there could be trouble.

Five Sanford students and several from other parts of the county made the Dean's List at FSU for the third trimester, according to news from the university's news bureau.

Johnny Berley, Ruth Carlton, Ken Gustavson, George Harriett and Carole Sue Higginbotham all made the list. Others are Julie Gore from Oviedo; Lucy Moon from Longwood; Paula Andrews and Richard Miller from Altamonte Springs.

Howell - Brooks Vows Are Said

The marriage of Miss Penny Brooks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Brooks and Robert Howell, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Jones, New Smyrna, took place June 8th at the home of the bride's parents on Rosalia Drive.

The Rev. Fred B. Chance officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a chiffon and lace street length dress. She wore a short veil of illusion held by a tiara of seed pearls and carried a white Bible topped with an arrangement of carnations. Her attendant was Miss Sandy Getman.

The couple will make their home in Colorado Springs, Colo. where the groom is stationed with the Army.

Mrs. Henderson New Member Of Anna Miller Circle

The Anna Miller Circle has been a busy group since the new term started in April. At a recent meeting, Mrs. Jimmy Henderson was initiated into the circle during an impressive candlelight ceremony presided over by Mrs. Harry Adair, president. Mrs. Henderson is the fifth new member to be taken into the circle since April.

Members voted to replace worn cubicles at the Harry Anna Crippled Children's Home and the estimated cost of this project is $345. The members also voted to contribute $20 to the Little Red School House.

Since April, the circle has sent a crippled child to Camp Challenge for one week and also was responsible for a young lady going to Girls State. It was suggested by Mrs. Russ Spencer that the recent Spaghetti dinner that was such a success at the Elks Club be made into a monthly event beginning in the Fall.

During the summer months the circle will meet only once a month and the next meeting is scheduled to be held at the Elks Club, 8 p.m. on July 9th.

The art of good conversation is two-pronged. People will think you a master if you give them equal talking time.

Door prizes were awarded to Mrs. C. J. Portewig and Mrs. C. P. Williams. Mrs. Portewig won the flower arrangement and Mrs. Williams won a white leather memo pad and pen.

June A Busy Social Month For Officers Wives Club

Two events highlighted what was a busy social calendar for the Officers Wives Club of VAB-11 and Detachment 8 for the month of June.

One was the monthly outing at the lovely lakefront home of Mrs. E. S. Davidson in Lake Mary. Co-hostess for the affair was Mrs. A. D. Burbett. As the guests enjoyed the lake view they munched on a delicious assortment of pastries and drank both hot and cold beverages.

A less happy feature of the morning was the presentation of farewell gifts to a number of members by Mrs. J. F. Barlow, club president. Those due to leave the club in the next month are Mrs. Burkett, plus Meses. K. L. Coskey, J. B. Knutson, J. C. Patterson, St. Clair Smith, D. M. Varner, E. O. Williams and William Winberg III.

It is interesting to note that of these, four will be going to Monterey, Calif., where their husbands will attend post-graduate school. The families moving to that west coast city are the Coskeys, Knutsons, Pattersons and Smiths. Also joining the trek westward will be Mrs. H. M. deLorenzi, whose husband turned over his duties as officer-in-charge of Detachment 8 to Cdr. Fredrick Carment on June 24.

The Burketts will be moving to Washington, D. C., where Cdr. Burkett will attend the Naval War College; the Varners will go to Memphis, Tenn., where Lt. (jg)

Vanner will attend an advanced electronics school and the Weinbergs to the Air Force Staff College in Montgomery, Ala. The Williams have been transferred to VAHQ, where Lt. Williams will qualify in the ASA Vigilante.

During the business meeting, Mrs. E. W. Bartholomew was named as the cheerleader representative to the Officers Wives Club board.

Also present at the coffee were Meses. E. P. Carr, J. P. Colonna, E. D. Field, D. E. Fitzgerald, David Galego Jr., H. B. Helme Jr., H. L. Hines Jr., Kermit Jamison, R. W. Repp, J. M. Runnels, T. S. Treanor, and W. A. Yelnek.

Luncheon Held
Mrs. J. O. Yanaroe and Mrs. E. D. Field were hostesses for a luncheon at the Capri recently.

A Flag Day theme was used for the table with a centerpiece of red, white and blue flowers surrounded by tri-color streamers. A unique and timely door prize, a handsome flag, was won by Mrs. J. M. Runnels. The guests enjoyed a cold chicken plate luncheon.

Guests included, Meses. J. F. Barlow, B. W. Bartholomew, W. E. Bassett, J. P. Colonna, R. S. Davidson, D. E. Fitzgerald, H. L. Hines Jr., J. B. Knutson, J. C. Patterson, M. C. Premo, D. C. Purdy, R. W. Repp, St. Clair Smith, T. S. Treanor, J. M. Weissman and W. A. Yelnek.

Casselberry Personals

Flag Pole Damaged

By Jane Casselberry
The 25-foot long flag pole, installed by American Legion Memorial Post 256 of Casselberry in the Memorial Park, fell victim to a sudden windstorm last week and became so badly bent that it has had to be removed.

The storm came up suddenly before the large flag could be taken down and its added weight in the wind and rain proved too much for the pole.

Legionnaire Miller Evans, custodian of the Park, said today that part of the pole can be salvaged with the top part to be replaced with larger size pipe which will be riveted together in three sections.

The original pole was donated by Hibbard Casselberry while rigging for the flag was donated by Certified Slings, Inc.

Evans also said that work will begin soon on the three four-foot sidewalks leading to the circular base of the flag pole. The park is triangular in shape and future plans by the Legion Post call for further beautification and the addition of benches.

Skate City Enters Girl In Contest

Miss Marie Allen of Orlando will represent the Skate City Rollers Dance and Figure Club of Fern Park in the beauty contest to be held at the Southern Regional Roller Skating Championships scheduled for Monday through Friday of next week at the Desauville Hotel on Miami Beach.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Allen, Marie last year was runner-up at the Southern Regionals held in Nashville, Tenn. In this competition, with representatives of eight southern states, she also won the "Miss Florida" title then went on to represent the state at the American Championships held in Lincoln, Neb. last July.

While at Miami Beach she will compete in Ladies Figure Skating and will team up with Gene Braddock to enter the Novice Dance Division.

Girls wishing to take part are asked to assemble at 9 a. m. on the morning of July 4 at the Longwood Elementary School where the parade is scheduled to begin at 10 a. m. From the school, the line of march will be through downtown Longwood out to the Fair Grounds set up on SR 431.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Successful Cooperation

The Greater Chuluota Community Club once again is sponsoring a program of recreation and playground activities for all youngsters in the community between the ages of five and 12 years.

Other clubs and organizations supporting the program through the donation of money and supplies include the Chuluota Community Church Sunday School, the Women's Christian Fellowship groups and the Chuluota Challenger.

Serving as directors are Mrs. Harold Martin and Mrs. Ken Rice. Assisting them are many mothers of the community who are donating their time and services to be on the premises with the youngsters and to work and play with them. Teenagers helping are Lily and Alice Fox, Diane Murphy, Debbie Pentz, Darlene Eulselser and James Wagner.

The program began on June 11 and will be open from Tuesday through Friday of each week from 9 a. m. until noon during the summer months.

Activities planned include sewing, art, square dancing and a course in first aid. Outdoor recreational equipment has been put in good repair and children are supervised in such sports as softball, horseshoes, croquet and basketball.

Chuluota is to be commended for organizing and conducting its own supervised program of summer recreation for the youngsters. We think it a fine example of successful cooperation and particularly wish to compliment the leaders for types of instructional subjects chosen. Recreation can be educational as well as entertaining.

Seminole 4-H'ers To Camp Next Week

Leaders attending will be Mrs. George Bradshaw, Mrs. Paul Lukas Sr., Mrs. William Bryant, Mrs. John Lawhorn and Elmer Bellhorn.

Boys going are Robert and George Bradshaw, Rudolph Mueller, Skipper Jordan, Stephen, Phillip and Jonathan Lukas, Joe Dinda, Teddy Knowles, Bill Hein, David Jakubcin and Charles and Albert Pula.

Democratic Women Vote Same Slate

Democratic Women of Seminole County, seeking to comply with new by-law regulations drawn up by the state organization, setting a new fiscal year from Jan. 1 to Dec. 31, voted Wednesday to retain the present slate of officers, with one exception, until the new election day in January.

Mrs. Kathleen Reynolds will continue as president of the local organization for the present, with Mrs. Garner Gier as vice president, and Mrs. Roy Tillis as treasurer. Mrs. Florence Gilmartin was elected to fill a vacancy in the office of secretary.

Mrs. Reynolds announced that the club would recess for the summer, except for the meeting of the executive board, and reconvene with a general meeting in September.

Mrs. Annette Baker, of Clearwater, state president, notified the club that the quarterly executive meeting will be held in West Palm Beach, in conjunction with a cruise to the Bahamas in the latter part of July.

Old Folk Rhyme Comes To Rescue

"Red on Yellow, Kills a Feller..." This old Umer's rhyme, stuck in the mind of young Douglas Jura of Osteen, proved once again to be of value when the youngster came across a snake while playing at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Clarence Snyder, last weekend.

Thanks to the jingle, Douglas quickly and correctly identified the 2 1/2 inch snake as the deadly coral and ran to Mrs. Snyder for help.

In his brief absence the snake slithered away but Mrs. Snyder, searching the immediate area for possible hiding places, poked a bamboo pole under an old oil drum and sure enough, discovered the menacing intruder which she quickly killed.

109 Register For Recreation In Casselberry

The summer recreation program in Casselberry got off to a good start and has just completed the second week. Coach Dave Miller reports that 50 boys and girls have registered in the grades 7-12 group and Coach Jim Clark and Mrs. Mary Trawick report that 59 are registered in the grades 1-6 group.

Teams from both groups are playing softball with teams from other playgrounds in the county at Longwood, Sanford, Oviedo and Lake Mary.

The location for swimming, which takes place each Thursday, has been changed from Sanlando Springs to the Land 'O Lakes Country Club pool at Casselberry. Charges remain at 35 cents per pupil.

The youngsters also enjoy skating at Skate City on Monday mornings.

Arts and Crafts are taught to the younger group on Wednesdays and Fridays by Bob Isell, arts and crafts instructor supplied by the county.

There will be a watermelon cutting at the Ball Park playground on Friday and those at the Overbrook Drive playground will enjoy a similar treat next Tuesday.

A different special event is planned for the younger boys and girls every Tuesday for the duration of the program.

The regular monthly meeting of the association will be held at 7:30 p. m. next Monday.

Both meetings will be held in the Community Building at the North Orlando Recreation Area.

Club To Give Archery Lessons

By Jane Casselberry
The Chuluota Archery Club, which has been organized and operates under the sponsorship of the Chuluota Sportsmen's Club, is planning to conduct archery classes each Sunday afternoon beginning at 1:30 p. m. on the grounds of the Sportsmen's Club Building.

Instructions will be given by Lou Morski Jr. to those from 10 years of age on up. Any person 21 years of age or older, however, will be required to join the Sportsmen's Club in order to become eligible to attend the classes.

Those taking part will be required to have their own equipment.

Street Paving In Goldsboro Area Okayed

Agreement for the paving of streets adjacent to Goldsboro School was reached Thursday afternoon at a conference between members of the School Board and City Commission.

School Board requested the paving of 16th Street for about two blocks at the front of the school and of Mangosline Avenue between 13th and 16th Streets.

City Commissioners indicated they will grant the request, at its next regular session, accomplishing the work with city employees and materials.

School Board also began consideration of its budget for the 1963-64 school year and will accept or change it at the July 11 meeting, according to Supt. R. T. Milwee.

The new budget will not exceed this year's budget of $5,456,731, Milwee stated, because of a lesser amount of new construction planned.

Contract for placement of a new roof on the South Seminole Elementary School building was granted E. C. Goldman, Inc., of Winter Park, on its low bid of $8,458.

Purchase was completed for two houses and lots adjacent to Oviedo High School to be used as temporary classrooms.

From the bench to the range is the transition for ex-JP Elmer Ashley. He and his partner now are open for business with "The Kentuckians," a new restaurant on Highway 17-92 one mile south of General J. C. Hutchison Parkway.

That pipeline celebration luncheon Monday will be launched with the turning of the first valves to pump jet fuel from the lake front to the Naval Air Station. "Top brass" will participate.

There's "magic in numbers." At least for Sunland's Little League Team which came out the county champions with a 16-5 won-lost record in spite of Lake Mary's 17-4 record. For explanation see today's sports page.

Sanford's Girl Staters, Barbara Boiger and Carole Oxford, were among those named to various offices in the capital at Tallahassee this week. Barbara was elected to the senate and Carole was appointed a page in the House of Representatives. Both will arrive home late today.

The class of 1941 of Seminole High School is working on getting up a class reunion. Any members of the class interested in working on the plans for the get-together are invited to meet at the home of Donald R. Jones, 919 S. Sanford, at 8 p. m. Saturday for discussion.

SHEBA, Inc., will install new officers Monday at noon at the Capri. This fine new humanitarian organization has made tremendous progress during their first year of existence in the area, and donations are coming in with gratifying regularity.

Civilians retiring president, Joe Dennison, reported at the club banquet that the bathing beauty contest which the club sponsored in connection with the Centennial was "one of the most enjoyable projects we have ever undertaken" and urged future club officers to consider making it an annual event.

Oviedo Council met in call session Thursday to pass an ordinance in order that the town may get its full benefits from the new state cigarette tax.

Agricultural legislation, along with the proposed constitutional amendments and other new laws pertaining to farmers were outlined in detail Thursday evening at Oviedo High School for some 50-60 Seminole County Farm Bureau members by Sen. Mack N. Cleveland Jr. and Reps. S. J. Davis Jr. and Jan Fortune.

Castro Begins 'Final Sweep' Against Rebels

HAVANA (UPI) — Premier Fidel Castro declared Thursday night that his army is launching a "final sweep" against rebels in Cuba who he said have been "abandoned" by the United States.

"They who believed that imperialism, the United States, would arrive to impose its rule have been abandoned to their fate..." Castro said in an hour-and-46-minute speech broadcast by radio Havana.

"The enemy has been reduced by 50 per cent..." The imperialist attempt... to infiltrate counter-revolutionaries and arms and to assassinate teachers, peasants and workers is approaching its last days...

"Not a single hand, not a single hand will remain." He did not mention last week's report of recent landings in Cuba by refugee "commandos" from Central America bringing in arms for anti-Castro guerrillas.

Castro dwelt for the most part on Cuba's sugar production problems. He said big sugar harvests are more important than ever now that Cuba's economy is tied to the communist world.

He called for a "big push" in 1964 to exceed this year's lagging crop, which he said was the poorest since he came to power in 1959.

Kennedy Hails Irish Independent Policy

DUBLIN (UPI) — President Kennedy, fresh from a tumultuous welcome in Cork where he was pushed down by a cheering, over-enthusiastic crowd, said today that Ireland "wisely rejects the role of go-between" in the cold war of communism and the free West.

The President, in the first address by a foreign dignitary to a joint session of both houses of the Irish Parliament, said that "Ireland pursues an independent course in its foreign policy—but it is not neutral between liberty and tyranny, and I know it never will be."

Kennedy, after paying tribute to Ireland's struggle for its own independence, said that at this time in the world "the central issue of freedom, however, is between those who believe in self-determination and those in the east who would impose on others a harsh and repressive Communist system. And here your nation wisely rejects the role of go-between."

The President addressed Parliament just a few hours after a quick helicopter trip to the fabled city of Cork, where he was made a freeman and mobbed by enthusiastic crowds.

As he was getting into his car to fly back to Dublin the crowd closed in on him.

Under pressure of a sudden surge of humanity, the President tumbled backward in the vehicle, landing in the back seat.

The measure, introduced in the last days of the 1963 session, was designed to take some of the sting out of a U. S. Supreme Court ruling outlawing mandatory Bible reading in the schools.

The measure would leave the state's requirement for Bible reading in force, but would add to it authority on a local option basis for school boards to install a secular program of education including but not limited to an objective study of the Bible and religion.

In other action, Bryant signed into law a bill creating a new board of highway secondary trust funds.

Red Bloc Leaders In Berlin With Nikita

BERLIN (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev flew to Berlin today in an attempt to match the personal success of President Kennedy's visit to the divided city. He complained that Kennedy's trip was "directed against the interests of the German people."

The Soviet leader came to attend celebrations Sunday of the 70th birthday of East German Communist boss Walter Ulbricht and perhaps to hold a Red bloc summit meeting.

In a welcoming speech, Ulbricht charged that Kennedy's visit to West Berlin was "directed against the interests of the German people."

With him Khrushchev brought his wife Nina. But Russia's communist twins—Lt. Col. Valery F. Bykovsky and Valentina V. Tereshkova—were not along. Earlier, it had been rumored that Khrushchev would bring them with him as part of the propaganda buildup to lure large East Berlin crowds.

Polis Communist party chief Wladyslaw Gomulka and Czech party leader Antonin Novotny have announced that they, too, will be going to Berlin.

Usually reliable sources in Moscow said that Romanian Communist leader Gheroghe Gheorghiu-Dej had left Bucharest for an undisclosed destination, believed to be Berlin.

The convergence of these satellite Communist party chiefs in Berlin led to the speculation of a possible Red bloc summit while Kennedy is here.

Canal Authority Records Cited

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A state audit said today improvement was needed in the Florida Canal Authority's records of payment for entertainment expenses to members and employees.

The audit, for the past fiscal year, said changes needed to be made in the claim forms submitted to the authority.

The close connection between the expenditures and the public purpose desired to be accomplished should be indicated on the form, the auditor said.

He said claims for entertainment expense repayments should not be mixed with travel reimbursements.

The Canal Authority was created in 1933 and empowered to own and operate a canal across the state of Florida. In recent days the proposed canal has come closer to reality. President Kennedy has asked Congress to appropriate $1 million to start construction on the east end of the canal across the north central portion of the state.

The auditor issued a generally good report for the cross Florida Canal Navigation District, which was created to buy right-of-way in Citrus, Clay, Duval, Levy, Marion and Putnam Counties for the canal.

Bills Signed By Governor

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Farris Bryant signed a batch of tax bills into law today, virtually cleaning up the loose ends of the 1963 extended legislative session to raise new taxes.

Bryant placed his signature on bills increasing the state tax on whisky and other alcoholic beverages, broadening the three per cent sales tax to nearly all commodities except food and medicines, increasing motor vehicle license tag fees from $2.50 to $10 depending on vehicle weight, and placing a five per cent tax on sports equipment at the wholesale level.

Another measure signed by Bryant would set up a 75-75 plan for state-county support of the public schools. Under the proposal, which sparked hours of debate during the 1963 session, the state would pay 75 per cent of school costs and the counties would put up the remaining 25 per cent.

Meanwhile, State Revenue Commission Director J. Ed Straughn outlined tax changes made by the Legislature, which will go into effect July 1.

The changes, including an increased and broadened sales and use tax, were put into effect to raise an additional $184.3 million over the biennium to meet a record $997 million in spending.

Some of the main sources outlined by Straughn are: A sales tax on admissions to include watching all types of amusements, sports or recreation, show, game or exhibition, including golfing green fees and dues paid to private clubs. This will not go into effect on high school, junior college or university events until Dec. 26, 1963.

A sales tax on admissions on racing events at horse and dog tracks and to jal al fronts.

A two per cent tax on sale of motor vehicles and three per cent on rental of motor vehicles.

A two per cent tax on self-propelled or power-driven farm equipment, with a three per cent tax on other machinery, equipment or tools.

A hike from 1,000 to 3,000 on the taxable limitation on industrial machines, equipment, parts and accessories on each single transaction.

A three per cent sales tax placed on gasoline and other fuels sold in the state for use by airplanes and railroads.

A sales tax on books used in junior colleges and universities.

A five per cent tax on sports equipment at the wholesale level. These funds are earmarked for use in the governor's giant land acquisition program for public recreation.

The old sections of the law dealing with taxes on apartments, hotels and like rental was changed to include duplex apartments, and the period of the tax coverage was extended from six months to one year.

Col. G. A. Finley, district engineer, said the four-lane causeway, with a 16-foot wide grass median, will tie in with a two-lane causeway now under construction, from Ocala to Cape Canaveral.

Included in the contract are bascule bridges across the Indian River Intracoastal Waterway, and 162-foot interchange bridges connecting with highway A1A at Ocala.
