The first thousand miles

This year . . . your choice of motor oils is second only in importance to your choice of cars.

For engines of 1928 are faster . . . they "turn over" more times in a given second. They run hotter . . . more explosions . . . higher compressions. Only a motor oil with full viscous body can "stand up" under this high-speed heat; only a motor oil as fine as golden Texaco can give your new engine the thorough lubrication it must have at all times . . . under all circumstances.

More than ever this year, the first 1,000 miles . . . and the oil you use . . . will determine your engine's performance during each of the thousands of miles to come.

From the first mile on, use Texaco Motor Oil. Free of tars, of paraffin wax and cylinder stock, Texaco flows in coldest winter . . . lubricates thoroughly and dependably at all temperatures.

Wherever you see the Red Star and Green T, ask to see the Texaco Lubrication Chart. It will specify the grade of Texaco Golden Motor Oil authorized for your new engine.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 8.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

PRESERVATION and DESTRUCTION—The Lord preserveth all them that love him; but all the wicked will he destroy. Psalm 145: 20

PRAYER—Lord, our Father, on Thee and in Thy name we hope.

Dr. Kellogg says that the best medicine which we have about are sunshine and water. We have both in Sanford in abundance.

Business men returning from trips out of the state seem unanimous in the opinion that the coming winter will see the largest tourist season Florida has ever had.

We may be a little late with this suggestion but we think it entirely appropriate if Miss Pullman, the Chicago girl who recently announced the birth of a son under most advanced scientific processes, name the baby "Eugene."

Maybe they could get people to eat more spinach if they would serve the stuff as dessert. Sanford Herald. Well, the Sahara is mostly sand and sometimes the spinach is too. Clay County Times.

Doyle Carlton swallows deeply and promises to be true to the party. Our governor-elect has been a Democrat all his life, and naturally would find it hard to suddenly desert just because a candidate has been selected with whom he has very little in common.

Mr. Ruth Elder, the young man who doesn't like that appellation, has again broken into headlines, this time by suing his gay young wife for divorce. He charges cruelty. Spare the rod and spoil the child. If she were charging cruelty, we might have more sympathy for him.

Next week The Herald proposes to conduct a straw vote in order to get some idea of what may be expected to happen in Seminole County on November 6. Most of the straw ballots thus far in this state show Smith leading although we understand one in Orlando shows Hoover ahead.

You all know how difficult it is to get the average man to express himself fully and freely upon any subject. Yet, a newspaperman is expected to do so upon every subject which arises. We should like to have everyone agree with us on all occasions, but we do not hope for any such luck.

This man Carnes who eloped with about a million dollars of the Baptist Home Mission's funds is well known in Sanford by certain people. In fact he almost bought some property from us at one time on credit and it was only a few months ago, if memory serves, that he had a part in a funeral service here.

One week from tonight Senator Robinson, Democratic candidate for the vice presidency will speak in Jacksonville on the merits and demerits of the two major parties. As this may be the only speech which any of the candidates on either of the national tickets will make in this state, we hope some of our citizens will find it possible to be in Jacksonville for this meeting. Senator Robinson is a true southerner, an able man, and is fully worthy of the highest honors the party affords.

The Tampa Tribune suggests another reason for voting for Smith: I could not vote for or with a party which could so far forget its responsibility to the nation that it could use insidious, scandalous, every type of low and scurrilous attacks, to crush Woodrow Wilson at a time when he was working to overcome the hardships that he knew would be incident to reconstruction, both nationally and internationally, after the World War and to put this nation in line with the other civilized nations of the world in an organized movement to establish the peace of the world.

Al Or Nothing

Some five thousand persons, many of them from Sanford and other central Florida points, jammed the auditorium in Orlando last night to hear Dr. John Roach Straton direct a vigorous attack upon the public record of Al Smith and reiterate his charge that the Democratic nominee is the greatest foe to spiritual and moral progress in America. In the characteristic fashion of the great showman that he is, the New York minister declared Governor Smith unfit to be president and dramatically appealed for a Solid South—solid against Al Smith and Tammany Hall.

With all his sensationalism, spectacular methods of appeal, and eagerness for public adulation, traits for which we have a distinct aversion, we are constrained to agree with Dr. Straton in many of his indictments of the Democratic nominee. We feel as Dr. Straton that Governor Smith's record as an assemblyman convincingly demonstrates some of the reasons why he never should have been selected as the party's standard bearer. He championed the saloon interests at every opportunity and by his opposition to certain legislation encouraged prostitution. He supported measures that tended to desecrate the sabbath and as governor advocated and signed a bill which flouted the Volstead Act, but which fortunately was never put into effect because of a Supreme Court decision declaring it unconstitutional.

We join Dr. Straton in acknowledging that Al Smith represents principles that are entirely foreign to the aims and ideals of the party as we know it. His message to the convention following his nomination constitutes a repudiation of the platform and a challenge to the South to "like it or lump it." As we have said before the heart of Democracy, lying below the Mason-Dixon line, has been given no consideration and instead has had crammed down its throat Tammany Hall with all of its sinister influences.

But despite all the derogatory things that can be said about the nominee, there is nothing fundamentally wrong with the party. The principles of Jefferson and Jackson are still the principles of Southern Democrats. These principles can endure only through concerted action on the part of the "Solid South" which can save the party from destruction in no other way than by voting for Al Smith. If that is the only way the party can be saved, then we must adopt that method.

"The Get Ready Week"

Every day Sanford people who have been away for the summer or who have been north on business trips of one kind or another are returning to Sanford and bringing with them most optimistic reports. Not only do they predict improved business conditions throughout the country generally, but they also tell us that more winter visitors are planning to come to Florida next winter, or are already headed this way, than have ever come before.

In view of these facts, the return of the natives and the prospects for numerous visitors, we wish to suggest what the Plant City Courier has chosen to call "The Get Ready Week." It might well correspond to the old-fashioned Spring housecleaning and be in effect a "Clean Up Week." We could all pitch in and not only clean up our houses inside, but outside as well, and trim up our lawns and hedges and give our houses another coat of paint.

We have no idea how much stronger appeal a well cleaned, well painted town has for the stranger, until we ourselves take to the open road looking for a place to spend a week's or a month's vacation. Then we notice very carefully the difference between a beautiful, spic and span city and one that is not so well kept. We almost inevitably choose the town that is the prettiest and looks the cleanest.

With the prospects so good for a prosperous season, both from the point of view of agriculture and the tourist business, we can't but feel that a proper spirit of optimism would be better exemplified if garden weeds were carefully pulled, vacant lots cleaned up, and everything made ready for our visitors.

ROBINSON'S IMPERSONAL ACCEPTANCE VIRGINIAN-PILOT

(From Norfolk, Virginian-Pilot) Senator Joseph J. Robinson, formally accepting nomination as Governor Smith's running mate, spoke for half an hour, but not once did he use the pronoun I. He discussed the issues of the campaign in a forthright and intelligent fashion, albeit from the partisan standpoint, but not once did he make a promise or give his own personal view on any issue. His was an entirely impersonal address, devoted to expounding the policies of his party and pausing not at all to express opinions of his own, or to recite his own accomplishments during his long public career. For this modest Senator Robinson is to be commended. The Vice President of the United States is a figurehead whose opinions and whose policies count for little in the administration of the government or in the fashion of the laws. The President plays a determining part in when the Senate divides evenly on a legislative measure. Then and then only does the Vice President step out of the official obscurity into which the Constitution crowds him, and acquire a voice in the shaping of legislation. Aspiring to such an office, Senator Robinson showed commendable discrimination in refusing to intrude his own personal views into his acceptance address and in emphasizing the issues upon which his party and his party's candidate for the responsible office of President chose to base the campaign.

Among the issues he chooses to discuss Senator Robinson singles out the agricultural problem as a subject for particularly extended consideration. He reviews at great length the history of the Republican party's failure to solve this problem during the eight years of the Harding and Coolidge administrations. It must be admitted that the blame for this failure does not rest solely on the Republican party. The Democratic party has been as much at sea over the agricultural problem as the Republicans. The Democratic Army of the

Whether because of its inherent impracticability or for other reasons, Mr. Hoover has had little to say about this proposal of late. His acceptance speech avoids all mention of such a program. Senator Robinson follows a profitable lead in trying to smoke the Republican candidate out on this point. Senator Robinson also discusses corruption in office and prohibition. On the latter subject he is at particular pains to denounce the charge that the Smith proposals mean nullification. Insisting that nullification consists in refusal or willful failure to enforce, Senator Robinson points out that Governor Smith can not properly be charged with any such offense as long as he pledges himself to enforce the law. Governor Smith's personal opinion that the law or the Constitution should be changed to make certain better observance and enforcement does not in the opinion of this life-long ory, "affect his disposition or ability" to perform the duties attendant upon enforcement. It is plain from a reading of his speech on this subject and also on the subject of corruption in office that is Senator Robinson, Governor Smith has a running mate fully capable of meeting the spurs issues raised by the Cannonites and other Smith detractors whose war cries are nullification and Tammany. Senator Robinson may efface his own personality from his campaign speeches but he does not lose sight of fundamental principles nor does he omit to lay down the requirements of fair play.

A dispatch from New York says: Declaring that he "has long known Gov. Smith's strength with the negroes in New York state," and that he finds the negro voters in many states lining up for the Tammany candidate, Royal S. Copeland, Democratic nominee from New York has issued a statement in which he virtually acknowledged the Tammany-Democratic party to be the party of the negro.

Expressing himself as "pleased with early developments indicating great strength for Gov. Smith" among the negro voters, the New York senator continued: "I have long known his strength with them (negroes) in New York state, and find he is strong with them in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, where the colored people hold the balance in determining how these states will go this fall."

THE TIME IS SHORT

WIN THIS BEAUTIFUL PONY

First Period Ends Next Saturday. The First Period of The Sanford Herald's Shetland Pony and Bicycle Campaign will come to a close next Saturday night. Votes will not count as much in the second period which begins Monday Sept. 17 and ends Saturday night Sept. 22. Right now is the time to pile up votes while they count the most. Right now is the time to get in your best efforts.

Now Is The Time To Pile Up Votes

The boys and girls who are working to win the beautiful Shetland Pony offered by The Sanford Herald in this campaign should pile up as many votes as possible before next Saturday night. Votes count more in the first period than in the last two weeks of the campaign. A big lead now may easily be held until the close.

Only Three Short Weeks Left!

The lovely Shetland Pony offered as the major prize in this campaign and the sturdy Ray-O Bicycle, purchased from Geo. Deetch in the McLander Arcade, which is second prize, are two awards well worth the slight effort it takes to win. This campaign will end in just three short weeks! Some boy or girl is going to be the proud owner of these valuable awards on Saturday night Sept. 29th. If you have not yet entered this campaign do so at once—there is yet time to win the first period does not end for another week and a big lead in votes can be piled up in just a few days.

Calendar

MONDAY
The Bennett Circle of the Methodist Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Sneed on Catalina Street, at 8 o'clock.
The home-coming gathering given at the First Methodist Church Friday night in honor of Dr. and Mrs. W. P. Buhrman and family was a brilliant success in every detail. This reception was sponsored by the members of the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church and was decided by a credit to the organization.
The colors of the Jubilee League, green, gold, and white were effectively used in decorating and the church was a veritable garden of gold and white ginnias and potted palms and ferns. Garlands of festery asparagus fern were twined about the balconies and stairs, forming a lovely background for the silver baskets and cut glass vases holding the flowers. The same decorations were used in the annex and an added feature was the gold shaded lights which cast a mellow glow over the room.
The guests were met at the Park Avenue entrance by a committee composed of Mrs. I. D. Martin, local superintendent of the W. M. S., Mrs. Ratliff, Mrs. G. E. McKay, and Mrs. J. E. Courier, who conducted them to the parlors and presented to the receiving line. All members of the W. M. S. were readily distinguished by the gold and white satin arm bands which they wore.
In the receiving line were Dr. and Mrs. W. P. Buhrman; Miss Mattie G. Chapman; Rev. D. W. Cook of the Sanford Mission; Dr. Headlinger presiding elder of the DeLand district; Mrs. Headlinger; B. E. Squires, chairman of the Board of Stewards; R. W. Ware, superintendent of Sunday School; Mrs. C. H. Smith, president of the W. M. S.; Louis Rietze, president of the Epworth League; George Schiley, representative of the Methodist Men's Club. Misses Catherine and Betty Buhrman and Ed Buhrman were grouped with Mrs. L. P. Hagan.
At 8:30 the guests assembled in the auditorium for a splendid program which was in charge of Mrs. John Sneed. Miss Margaret Zachary at the pipe organ played the opening number, followed by a vocal number by Miss Catherine Buhrman. The quartet, composed of Mrs. C. P. Herndon, Mrs. Roy Laling, J. D. Parker, and Joe Howard, sang a beautiful selection, "Only Thine." A fairy legend, "The Most Beautiful Rose in the World" was read by Mrs. W. E. Stone, and Miss Elizabeth Clarke rendered the piano number, "Pallchenelle" by Rachmaninoff. This program was closed with a selection by the quartet, "Live for Others."
The guests were then invited into the church annex where the young people had charge of the program. Delicious refreshments of orange sherbet and home-made cakes were served by a group of the Marie Raffa Girls. Mrs. L. M. Telford was in charge of the refreshments and was assisted by a very able committee. During the refreshment hour a program was given by the Epworth League, including two numbers by the chorus, two piano numbers, "The North Wind" by Edward Mitchell, and Rachmaninoff's "Prelude", by Miss Elizabeth Clarke. Over two hundred guests were present at this very enjoyable affair.

Buhrmans Honored By Party On Friday

The home-coming gathering given at the First Methodist Church Friday night in honor of Dr. and Mrs. W. P. Buhrman and family was a brilliant success in every detail. This reception was sponsored by the members of the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church and was decided by a credit to the organization.
The colors of the Jubilee League, green, gold, and white were effectively used in decorating and the church was a veritable garden of gold and white ginnias and potted palms and ferns. Garlands of festery asparagus fern were twined about the balconies and stairs, forming a lovely background for the silver baskets and cut glass vases holding the flowers. The same decorations were used in the annex and an added feature was the gold shaded lights which cast a mellow glow over the room.
The guests were met at the Park Avenue entrance by a committee composed of Mrs. I. D. Martin, local superintendent of the W. M. S., Mrs. Ratliff, Mrs. G. E. McKay, and Mrs. J. E. Courier, who conducted them to the parlors and presented to the receiving line. All members of the W. M. S. were readily distinguished by the gold and white satin arm bands which they wore.
In the receiving line were Dr. and Mrs. W. P. Buhrman; Miss Mattie G. Chapman; Rev. D. W. Cook of the Sanford Mission; Dr. Headlinger presiding elder of the DeLand district; Mrs. Headlinger; B. E. Squires, chairman of the Board of Stewards; R. W. Ware, superintendent of Sunday School; Mrs. C. H. Smith, president of the W. M. S.; Louis Rietze, president of the Epworth League; George Schiley, representative of the Methodist Men's Club. Misses Catherine and Betty Buhrman and Ed Buhrman were grouped with Mrs. L. P. Hagan.
At 8:30 the guests assembled in the auditorium for a splendid program which was in charge of Mrs. John Sneed. Miss Margaret Zachary at the pipe organ played the opening number, followed by a vocal number by Miss Catherine Buhrman. The quartet, composed of Mrs. C. P. Herndon, Mrs. Roy Laling, J. D. Parker, and Joe Howard, sang a beautiful selection, "Only Thine." A fairy legend, "The Most Beautiful Rose in the World" was read by Mrs. W. E. Stone, and Miss Elizabeth Clarke rendered the piano number, "Pallchenelle" by Rachmaninoff. This program was closed with a selection by the quartet, "Live for Others."
The guests were then invited into the church annex where the young people had charge of the program. Delicious refreshments of orange sherbet and home-made cakes were served by a group of the Marie Raffa Girls. Mrs. L. M. Telford was in charge of the refreshments and was assisted by a very able committee. During the refreshment hour a program was given by the Epworth League, including two numbers by the chorus, two piano numbers, "The North Wind" by Edward Mitchell, and Rachmaninoff's "Prelude", by Miss Elizabeth Clarke. Over two hundred guests were present at this very enjoyable affair.

Is Honored By Of Mrs. Peters

Mrs. Peters entertained a luncheon party Friday at her home on West 19th Street. The guests included Mrs. T. E. New Haven, Conn., and Mrs. J. E. Courier, who conducted them to the parlors and presented to the receiving line. All members of the W. M. S. were readily distinguished by the gold and white satin arm bands which they wore.

Villain Enjoys 1st Film Reformation In Milane Picture

William Powell, whose villainous characterizations have made him one of the best known heavy actors of the screen, does something in his latest role for Paramount in "Forgotten Faces" that he has never done before. He reforms.
In some of his previous bad man characterizations has Powell turned to the straight and narrow path. He has gone his wicked way to the final fadout and has died two or three unrepentant screen deaths.
In "Forgotten Faces," a special production with an all-star cast, Powell has the role of "The Frog," a sinister appearing figure who, in reality, has many redeeming qualities.
Clive Brook, the talented English actor, Baclanova, Russian dramatic star, Mary Brian, Fred Kohler and Jack Lurden are other members of the all-star cast of this picture, which will come to the Milane Theatre today.

5,000 Give Cheers As Straton Attacks Smith In Orlando

 than the crisis of the civil war."
 "Mr. Resnob," he said, "late of Republican affiliation and with decidedly wet proclivities has asked southern ministers to refrain from speaking on the political question that those who do be deprived of their salaries."
 Dr. Straton reviewed the records of Cleveland and Wilson, the only democratic presidents since the civil war, and said that Tammany hall had opposed these two "courageous statesmen."
 "I am not making any personal assault upon Alfred E. Smith as a man, but I refer you to his record," the speaker said. He added that "a wet press had made his record."
 Dr. Straton referred several times to the New York governor as "candidate Smith." Smith's beginning "was unfortunate, and his bringing up was more unfortunate." Here he outlined the lives of the two major presidential candidates.
 The New York minister referred to Gov. Smith as "essentially lawless spirit, who is trying to put a plank into the democratic platform which would change the prohibition law."
 "God Almighty is not on the side of Tammany Hall," he shouted. "We must think now in terms of our country, and not of party affiliations."

 Dr. Straton said that if he is this he expects to go into every southern capital and tell the people "all about Al Smith."
 The speaker drew a word illustration of the democratic donkey with Tammany stripes, a wet head and a dry tail. He referred to Gov. Smith as "the wet head and the Senator Robinson as the dry tail of the donkey, and said that he hoped to go into the southwestern states and debate with "the dry tail of the Tammany donkey."
 "Behind Al Smith are all the forces of hell in America," Dr. Straton said in closing.
 He closed his address with an appeal to democratic voters to vote as "Hoover democrats," declaring that the party would be saved only by this means.
 Mrs. Straton preceded her husband with a brief address, in which she declared that the women voters of democracy had been "given by vote at this time for a purpose and God has given us this power."
 "If you put a rummy at the end of the ticket we will smash it," she said she had heard one man from the Houston convention say, and expressed this as her sentiment in the matter. "We won't vote with the 'Sidewalks of New York' and let Tammany carry its nefarious scheme to the White House," she said.
 PENSACOLA—Two new water supply.

Lundquist and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Gardar Lundquist and children, Mrs. Hilma Lundquist and Mrs. Munson and daughter.

Seed Recommended By Garden Club Is Stocked By Stokes

Because of an increasing demand for flower seeds for use in beautification work in Sanford and Seminole County, the Francis C. Stokes and Company, seedsmen, today announced a full line of Burpee's flower seeds in the local store in the Melander Arcade.
 W. Albee Burpee Company of Philadelphia, is known throughout the world for its work in improvement and dissemination of fine flower seeds, according to J. C. Stokes, manager of the store. This is the brand of seed recommended and sold by the Garden Club last September, he points out.
 Because the Stokes Company is now handling the Burpee line of seed, it was announced that the Garden Club will not hold a sale this year, but early in October will cooperate with the Stokes Company in a special two-day sale. At that time locally grown bulbs will also be offered for sale. Mr. Mason said.
 "In deciding upon flower varieties to carry," said Mr. Mason, "we followed the recommendations of the Garden Club members and others who have had experience in growing a wide range of flowers in this section of the country. Among the hundred varieties that we have stocked are those commonly grown such as sweet peas, nasturtiums, zinnias, candytuft, and calendula. However, we also have to offer some flowers that have not been successfully grown here but are not so well known in Florida such as perennial stocks, coreopsis and lathyrus or perennial sweet pea, and we also have such offerings as yellow verbena, nigella and leptosyne."
 "We believe that there are many heretofore untried varieties that may be grown here, but for this first season we have stocked only those that have been successfully grown in Sanford. Some of these may not be known to local gardeners, and we invite all who are interested to drop into our office and see the line of flower seeds that we have already secured. We shall also be glad to place special orders for any seed items not carried in stock."

Arrest Expected Of Brutal Wife Slayer

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—(INS)—Arrest is expected today of Alfred Wheeler, 48, of Brooklyn, who last night brutally murdered his wife, Lillian, with a hatchet and hammer and seriously wounded his 18 year old daughter, Hindel.
 Wheeler made his escape before police arrived. His daughter Hindel arrived home shortly before midnight and found Wheeler beating his mother. Before Miss Wheeler could escape he turned on her fracturing her skull with a hammer and glassing her face with a razor.
 A young son, John, 14, was asleep on the upper floor of the house when Wheeler attacked his wife. Hearing the screams of his mother, the boy ran out of the house to neighbors who arrived at the Wheeler home just as the daughter ran screaming and bleeding from the house. She was taken to the neighbors' home and a doctor was summoned.

SMITH PRIMED TO WIN VOTES OF WISCONSIN

 Senator Blaine has yet endorsed Hoover, the two Senators have confined themselves thus far to savage attacks on the Republican platform and have remained silent on candidacies. But, Blaine has openly stated that he is aware of the fact that "many of our friends are going to vote for Governor Smith."
 Governor Smith said today he had not decided upon what subject he will speak in Milwaukee. It is considered virtually certain however that he will choose the former president of America as the spirit to re-state and elaborate upon his ideas of prohibition reform.
 A week from tomorrow, Governor Smith starts on his Western swing. Meanwhile, the nominee is going to take it easy as he himself expressed it. The trip will be an arduous one, and the Governor wishes to preserve his strength and his voice as much as possible for the strenuous days ahead. He has requested that as few political enagements as possible be made during the next week in order to give him an opportunity to speak on state matters against his coming absence from the state. Knock off at noon. "I'm a member of the union" he said, and half holiday.

Movies Owe New-Found Voice to Father of All "Talkers" the Telephone

By ROBERT ANDISON
 (Special New York Correspondent)
 There's no doubt about it, "talking movies" have set the motion picture world by its ears. By this time, most of the leading producers have announced their intention of using sound in their future productions, either in the form of a musical accompaniment or heard sound pictures, and wherever you go, movie fans are talking about them.
 But while many theatre-goers have enjoyed this new form of screen entertainment, very few of them seem to have even the slightest idea as to how they are made. A bit of inquiry into the matter brings to light all sorts of interesting facts.
 In the first place, it is interesting to know that the "daddy" of these sound pictures is our ordinary, every-day telephone. Authorities tell us that it was while engineers of the Bell Telephone Laboratories in New York were making a careful study of the ways in which speech is produced—so that they might discover the best ways of transmitting and reproducing it—that they developed the successive steps which have led up to this newest thing in motion pictures. Those steps are: first, the discovery of the microphone, which is a device for picking up the vibrations of the human voice and converting them into electrical impulses; second, the development of the "disc" method, in which the sound is recorded on a wax disc resembling an ordinary phonograph record at the same time that the motion picture scene is being photographed. With the second method—known as the "film" method—the sound is photographed by means of light variations on the side of the film itself. Both these methods were developed by the Bell Telephone Laboratories of the Western Electric Company, who first licensed Warner Brothers to use the disc method in making their "Vitaphone" presentations, introduced to the motion picture world in the fall of 1925. A few months later the Fox Case Corporation was licensed to use the film method, and the result was the "Movietone." More recently, Paramount-Amusement-Lasky Corporation, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Corporation, United Artists Corporation, First National-Universal, Hal Roach and the Christie Film Corporation have arranged to use either one or both of these methods.
 In photographing and recording a scene by the disc method—that employed for Vitaphone productions—the first step is taken in a motion picture studio equipped with special facilities. These include one or more microphones placed about the studio, one of which is used to pick up the performers to pick up the desired sounds of orchestra, speaker or vocalist. Sound-proof booths house the microphones, so that no extraneous noises may interfere with the recording. As a scene is to be recorded, the camera photographs it while the microphone picks up the desired sounds.

 These sounds, striking the diaphragm of the microphone, cause it to vibrate, and these vibrations are translated into a fluctuating electric current. But how, through wires to a control room, enter the current passes through an amplifier system on to a recording device, where the fluctuations of the current are translated into mechanical vibrations which are recorded on a disc of soft wax. To insure that the picture and sound are perfectly synchronized, the motors which run the camera and the turntable carrying the disc are made to run at uniform speed and in synchronization. These motors are started and reach full speed together and continue to run together. Thus it is that one of the sound pictures made by the disc method is produced.
 A quite different process is used in making sound pictures by the film method—what employed for Movietone productions. In this method, both the motion picture and the sound are recorded on the same film. This process consists in photographing variations in light intensity on the film. The sounds to be recorded are picked up by microphones which have the property of changing sound vibrations into electrical vibrations. These electrical vibrations are amplified and in turn vary the intensity of a recording light. This recording light is focused on a glass tube that is inserted in the side of a motion picture camera, so that the variations in light intensity fall directly upon a narrow edge of the negative film on which the motion picture is being recorded simultaneously. Aside from the fact that the motion picture camera is motor-driven and is connected by wire with the telephonic apparatus,

BUTLER AVERS PUBLIC APATHY AIDS GANGMEN

 that the citizens won't fight the gang leaders to a finish until their pockets are universally affected. That's what almost happened during the Weaver administration.
 "The present system of raising revenue in the city is largely confined to bounding citizens into disfavor with the administration through manipulations of the board of property assessors. A widespread increased tax rate is purposely avoided for fear of arousing the masses to action.
 My belief is that the controlling Philadelphians wish to retain vice and yet eliminate crime at the same time. That is absolutely impossible.
 The oft-brought up and constantly heralded relief measure which advocates the divorcing of the public from underworld influence is only a silly political "flim-flam" for public consumption. It sounds nice but means nothing."

His silence spelled His Guilt, and yet...

HER face was deathly white. Her heart seemed to stop beating—as she stared in horrified disbelief at the letter clutched in her trembling hand.
 A letter to Dave, her husband—from a strange woman—asking for money! It was preposterous. Unthinkable. Oh, it couldn't—couldn't be true!
 And yet—who was this woman? Why had she written Dave this letter? Was there, after all, some romantic episode in her husband's life that he had kept hidden from her?
 And now, this—this letter—after ten years of perfect comradeship and devotion! Her happiness threatened. Her love life tottering on the brink of ruin. Dave, the man she had idolized, had trusted implicitly, the father of her children—Surely there had been some terrible mistake. Surely Dave could explain.
 But that night, when she quietly handed him the letter, Dave stood with bowed head, in stony silence—his face a mask, to hide—what?
 Torn between love and suspicion, between hope and despair, between faith and disillusionment, she searched her breaking heart in a pitiful attempt to learn what she had done to deserve this crucifixion.
 All she had loved and lived for seemed to lie in crumbling ruins at her feet. God knew she loved Dave—still loved him, no matter what he had done. And yet—

Won't rip! Won't tear! Won't sag! New, patented webbing belt in the Hanes $1 SAMSONBAK UNION SUIT

SEE that belt? See the specially knitted panel at the centre of the back? Good-bye ripping, tearing, sagging. That SAMSONBAK feature stops it.
 Go around to your dealer's. Have a tug-of-war with him on a HANES SAMSONBAK Summer Union Suit. Do a Zhyzsko. Rear back. Just try to tear that belt. Try to rip it away from the body of the union suit. Pull, yank, stretch it. You can't wreck it with your hands, so you won't be wearing or washing it. No rubber in it at all!
 No question about comfort, long service or happy fit. For that belt measures three-quarters of the way around your waist—everywhere there's any strain, any pull, any bending. The whole idea is patented—found only in the HANES SAMSONBAK. $1 never before bought so much wear and comfort!
 P. H. HANES KNITTING CO., WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.
 HANES College Combination Yarns men everywhere are enthusiastic about the new Hanes College Combination Full-over shirts. Soft, comfortable for perfect fit and wear. Made of breakfast, lunch, dinner, and tea. Come in popular colored stripes and black stripes. Priced from 50c to $1 per garment.

5,000 Give Cheers As Stratton Attacks Smith in Orlando

Mr. Stratton, who, with a host of other speakers, addressed the crowd in the city square, said that the political party which had elected Mr. Smith to the office of Governor of Florida was a party of reactionaries and that it was the duty of the people to elect a party of progress and reform. He said that the people of Florida were entitled to a government which would give them the same rights and privileges which were enjoyed by the people of the other states of the Union.
