Only Court Will Make Stand At Strategic Pass

Thursday's Session Is Enlivened By Tilt Between 2 Attorneys

The Seminole County Bar Association, after amplying its own views in support of the County Court, and having a request by county representatives for more information on the subject, yesterday formed a committee to come up with a comprehensive report on the trial's outcome, together with a comparison of the court's view of a county judge's court for presentation to the legislature.

Named on the committee were L. F. Boyle, G. W. Spencer Jr., and R. W. Ware. The group will also submit a copy of its report to the County Commissioners preliminary to a conference between that board and representatives of the bar who hope to persuade the commissioners to rescind their endorsement in recommending abolition of the County Court.

Yesterday's meeting, addressed by several attorneys and Representatives L. P. Hogan and C. W. Feltz, was enlivened by a verbal tilt between George E. Herring, long member of the bar opposing the court, and Judge J. G. Sharon, who spoke in defense of the tribunal. Mr. Herring interposed Judge Sharon as the last to make the statement that 90 percent of the cases tried before him were given out-of-court settlements.

"I was probably enough to let you talk and I expect you to be polite enough to let me talk," emphasized Judge Sharon.

"You couldn't expect anyone else to be as good as you," countered Mr. Herring.

G. W. Spencer Jr., referring to Mr. Herring's opposition, said the "tough, no-nonsense stance" was reflected in the latter's stand, declaring that although Mr. Herring had sought both the judgment and the prosecutor's job, Mr. Herring replied that he had not sought either since the tribunal had been established.

Among those who spoke in behalf of the court were: R. W. Ware, G. W. Spencer Jr., John G. Leonard, Judge James G. Sharon, S. White and Fred R. Wilson. Mr. Herring alone spoke in favor of the proposal to abolish the tribunal, and there was paid in full which sum there was paid in full and costs last year the sum of $7,519.50.

BAR TO COMPILE COURT'S FIGURES FOR TWO SOLONS

Douglas Points' Legged In Recent State

Supporters of the County Court today struck back at what they describe as erroneous figures given out by those who seek abolition of the tribunal. Judge James G. Sharon issued a statement denying he received $4,078 last year and putting the figure at $2,600, while Vance E. Douglass submitted figures, which he said showed discrepancies in all of the figures given out several days ago in support of the abolition proposal.

Judge Sharon said he received a salary of $400 plus $1,225 for district fees on criminal cases, all of this coming out of the Fine and Forfeiture Fund of the County. In addition he received a $3 check for an 18-cent civil case, making a total of $2,625, thus casting doubt on the soundness of his figures.

The clerk's figures, which he said were taken from his records, gave the number of cases tried last year as 705 as against 872 as had been claimed by opponents of the court. Of this number 439 were criminal and 275 civil. Average costs per case were given as $19.65 for county court and $18.15 for county judges and justices of peace courts as against $21.00 and $19.96 respectively, as given by the opponents of the court.

Following is Judge Sharon's statement supplemented by figures furnished by Mr. Douglass:

"I was prompted enough to let you talk and I expect you to be polite enough to let me talk," emphasized Judge Sharon.

"You couldn't expect anyone else to be as good as you," countered Mr. Herring.

G. W. Spencer Jr., referring to Mr. Herring's opposition, said the "tough, no-nonsense stance" was reflected in the latter's stand, declaring that although Mr. Herring had sought both the judgment and the prosecutor's job, Mr. Herring replied that he had not sought either since the tribunal had been established.

Financial Support From Du Ponts Appears Likely For Dempsey Undertaking

Backing Of Delaware Capitalists Would Be Severe Blow To Future Success Of Garden Corporation

By Davis J. Walsh

NEW YORK, Mar. 28—(INS)— Details of a financial arrangement between the Dempsey-Fugazy combine and the Du Pont millions were supposed to be going forward to a conclusion today, it is true, assuring Tex Rickard's legacy at Madison Square Garden "very nice, reliable war, indeed. Meanwhile, the word from Florida is that the garden's five-year arrangement for the conduct of midwinter fights at Miami is under fire, sentiment in the American Legion being alleged to be somewhat pro-Dempsey and considerably anti-garden. The latter, through its president, William F. Carey, has a contract with Miami but nothing is possible in Florida boxing without the American Legion. Carey is understood to have liked the latter by criticizing the work of legionnaires at the Sharkey Stabbing fight.

Just how intimate, if at all, may be the hook-up between the Dempsey-Fugazy enterprise and the du Pont interests the writer doesn't profess to know. The mysterious Mr. Cole, who wrote the checks that convinced Dempsey that other people's money is always good at the bank, has hinted darkly about his "backing" and some know the name du Pont has been allowed to escape during the general chit-chat. The impression thus created was that the du Ponts were privately interested but publicly not.

Be that as it might, Dempsey had a reservation on an early train out of New York this morning and his organization made no secret of its understanding that his destination was Wilmington, Del., and a conference with du Pont officials. According to one version, no financial support already has been given and Dempsey's visit therefore, was to come in the nature of a formal greeting and get together.

He will be back in town by nightfall and tomorrow will be seen working out at Artie McGovern's gymnasium while the cameras click and the cranks whirl. A well developed sense of the dramatic keeps this gentleman doing the right thing at the proper time. Nobody knows whether he is going to fight or not and he figures to keep sober knowing his destiny. Meanwhile, he will keep speculation climbing high in the fabulist scale by trading just enough so that no one will be able to call the turn on him until he is ready to call it for himself.

That time will come when it is obvious that he must declare himself either as a promoter or a fighter for the New York combination probably will decline to do so. Part of the arrangement whereby a man can be both. As long as the doubt exists, however, the Fugazy-Dempsey heavyweight show will get a distinct break in the fact that it will be tactfully understood that Dempsey is waiting to claim the final survivor for his own.

MALONEY SHOWS IMPROVED FORM IN LATEST BOUTS

Is Now Considered One Of Leading Contenders In Heavy Class

BOSTON, Mar. 28—(INS)— James "Shamus" Maloney, "Dynamite Jim," who a year and a half ago was regarded as a "has-been" fighter, is now heralded as a contender for the heavyweight crown. The same crowd that called him a "second rater" when he was taking the seats of men before George Godfrey and Tom Heaney in their first bouts is cheering him and calling him to the hex, hex, hex. His chin has injected into his style, a fighting spirit he never before displayed in the ring. In his last meeting with Jack Sharkey in Madison Square Garden, Maloney lacked a fighting heart and that is why some say the bout ended so sharply in the fourth round.

Good Front Fighter

Maloney always was a good front fighter. It was when he was not doing his best that he fought his best. In his first three bouts he was knocked down three times in the first three rounds and yet came back to win each. He was not decisively beaten but was more than six times beaten. Dr. Mayo taught

THE DAILY PRINCETONIAN

"The Daily Princetonian" was asked by the P. Lorillard Company, makers of OLD GOLD cigarettes, to conduct a test at Princeton to determine which of the four widest-selling cigarettes had the greatest taste appeal.

For the purposes of the test the four leading cigarettes were "masked" to conceal the brand names. Undergraduates were asked to smoke the four brands without knowing their identity. The cigarettes were numbered, and the men merely chose, by number, the one that appealed to them most.

The test was made at eleven Princeton upper-class clubs and at the Freshman Commons on January 11th to 16th. In all, 303 students smoked and compared the four cigarettes. The test was conducted in a perfectly fair and impartial manner.

The results show that "Cigarette W" won 75 first choices; "Cigarette X" won 74; "Cigarette Y" won 36; and "Cigarette Z" (which was OLD GOLD) won 118. The preference for OLD GOLD was 57% greater than that for the next highest brand.

Daughter Of Auto Magnate Involved In Fatal Accident

MIAMI, Fla., Mar. 29—(INS)—Mrs. J. H. Dodge, of Detroit daughter-in-law of the automobile manufacturer, today was summoned to appear at the inquest over the death of D. B. Hennessy, 71, president of a Providence, R. I. oil company, who was killed when he was struck by Mrs. Dodge's automobile yesterday.

The inquest will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Mrs. Dodge was arrested early today in Charlotte N. C., in company with Alice Labats, 12-year-old missing West Philadelphia girl, according to word received at police headquarters here. He was seized in a telephone office where he had been arrived by a lake telegram.

DeVonshire waived extradition and two Philadelphia detectives are enroute south to bring him back to this city. No charges have been placed against Devonshire pending the arrival of Pennsylvania authorities, who ordered that he not be harmed the girl.

Police revealed they had learned yesterday that Devonshire had very little money when he left here so believing he might wire here for funds the local telegraph officers were asked to watch for messages from him.

Late last night a wire was received from Charlotte by Devonshire's brother-in-law asking for

Kidnaper Of Young Girl Apprehended In Carolina Town

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 29—(INS)—Curtis S. Devonshire, 27-year-old Philadelphia salesman, was arrested early today in Charlotte N. C., in company with Alice Labats, 12-year-old missing West Philadelphia girl, according to word received at police headquarters here. He was seized in a telephone office where he had been arrested by a lake telegram.

"I must have been drunk to have taken this child," he told police. "I never would have done it while I was sober." This was the only statement police could get out of Devonshire.

"I don't know why I did it," Devonshire told police. "I had been drinking. The events are hazy to my mind. No, I didn't harm the child." No charges have been placed against Devonshire pending the arrival of Pennsylvania authorities, who ordered that he not be harmed the girl.

Pandemonium broke loose in the courtroom after the verdict was rendered and Shippey was carried from the courtroom on the shoulders of countless friends who went into a frenzy over the jury's decision. Before being borne from the room by his friends, the shipping clerk made a short talk from a bench, expressing his appreciation for the kindness of many friends.

Important Step In Reparations Issue Taken At Meeting

PARIS, Mar. 29.—(INS)—A definite step toward fixing the annual sum of reparations that Germany must pay the allied powers was taken at today's plenary session of the reparation committee. Each delegation attending the reparation conference named the amount it thought Germany should pay yearly.

Owen D. Young, chairman of the committee, then spoke at length suggesting a compromise regarding the best method to arrive at a definite sum. The various amounts suggested will be taken into consideration. The meeting today, which lasted an hour, was described as "the most important single session since the conference began. The delegations adjourned until Apr. 4, to give the experts time to study the compromise. J. R. Morgan, one of the American observers, departed for Venice.

Summers that bloomed a dozen

Blossom again in blue and yellow flame.
And in this firelight circumscribed and thine,
Once-splendid suns renew their paraded glow.
The newspaper," Mr. Tripp said, "is so personal a thing to a community that this country cannot live without it. Every business depends upon the avenues of trade opened up by newspaper advertising. The greatest advertisement Money has not ever had the play ads in the national magazines, is the great play of business that appears in the columns of its newspapers."

Bolstering Business

In a recent address before the Miami Advertising Club, F. E. Tripp, vice president of the Gannett chain of newspapers which includes the Brooklyn Daily Eagle, said that during a printers' strike in Rochester when the newspapers were forced to shut down for three days, retail business among the local merchants decreased forty percent. So aroused were the merchants over business conditions that they joined with the newspapermen in bringing an end to the strike.

"The newspaper is undoubtedly the world's greatest medium of advertising," Mr. Tripp said. "It is related to the life of a community in such a way that when advertisers are going to pay so little money for modest space in a newspaper. Then more attention will be paid to the careful preparation of copy."

"There is no waste like that created by the lack of thought on the part of the advertiser in preparing his copy. What you put into your space, how well you tell your message and how simply you tell your story are elements that have largely to do with the success of your advertising. Advertising is printed salesmanship."

"The present generation of advertisers is learning to see that they must create and cultivate their customers. If I were an advertiser, I would devote 25 percent of my advertising to creating good will and selling my policy to the public."

"There shouldn't be such a theory as a closed advertising. More boats are bought in the north when you could get a boat in the water than down the beach—so on. More automobiles are sold during the off-season than during the warmer part of the year; 50 percent more coats and hats are sold out of season than during the hot though the trading period."

"The newspaper," Mr. Tripp continued, "is so personal a thing to a community that this country cannot live without it. Every business depends upon the avenues of trade opened up by newspaper advertising. The greatest advertisement Money has not ever had the play ads in the national magazines, is the great play of business that appears in the columns of its newspapers."

Forest Fires in The South

The Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company has issued a pamphlet dealing with forest fires in the South. It seems that nearly eight percent of all forest fires in the United States occur in the South, while approximately twenty million acres are burned annually. An article prepared by the United States Forest Service is quoted in the pamphlet, and we reproduce it here believing it will be of interest to our reader:

"The South needs protective forest and range lands to maintain its prosperity, but it can not have them while woods-burning continues. Like the bell we sing, the refrain goes, or the cattle tick, the woods-burner drags down business and undermines the general welfare. Because of him only a small percentage of re-plantable second growth timber, which could have replaced the virgin stand, is now available on cut-over lands. Because of him land values have suffered, industries and population have moved out, and idle acres have multiplied. Because of him, every year millions of young forest seedlings, which in a short time would have constituted a valuable asset to landowners, have been licked up by the flames."

"Woods fires can be stopped in the South because man is almost the sole cause. The woods-burner may be misinformed or he may be acting merely in accordance with custom. In either of these cases all that is necessary is to reach him with the right information. If he is actuated by malicious motives severe measures may be necessary. But what ever his motive he creates a danger when he acts fire in the woods."

"An individual has the right to burn his own land provided he confines the fire to his own property and otherwise confirms with the law; but he is grievously at fault, unfair to his neighbors, and unmindful of the welfare of his community when he permits the fire set on his land to spread to the land of another. Timber growing can not be safely practiced in the South until the man who burns the woods is held to strict accountability for his acts."

"The irresponsible burner must be banished from the woods, and the well-intentioned burner must squarely face the responsibility incurred when he starts fire on his own land. The South can not afford to permit the woods-burner to block economic progress."

ADVERTISING IS COSTLY. There are a number of firms in this country that spend several million dollars annually for their individual advertising programs. A great many manufacturers spend several hundred thousand dollars year after year to keep their products before the public. E. L. Markell, writing for The Sanford Herald, says there may be 10,000 cars of Florida celery next season, but to be conservative, figure 8,000 cars of 350 crates, each or a total of 2,800,000 crates. A five-cent advertising fund on each crate would yield a total of $140,000. Contributions from the marketing agencies and the large celery handlers on the market might increase this amount to $175,000, which would constitute a splendid advertising fund, and would make Florida celery known all over the land. Mr. Markell thinks the time has come when the farmer must advertise the name as the big manufacturer if he wants to get his products before the people.—Florida Times-Union.

A-FLORIDA-NEED

JACKSONVILLE JOURNAL

On the Workmen's Compensation law map of the United States and Canada are five black spots which mean there are five states which do not have a standard workmen's law.

Florida is one of the five.

In order to have the state which is making a bid for industries ready to do business with them will probably be held to a standstill this time unless the legislature passes a bill.

Florida's neighbor to the west, Texas, has a law making it easier for workers to receive compensation, but it contains a clause that as yet does not give the right to vote for the purpose of passing a bill.

Florida's neighbor to the east, Georgia, has a law making it easier for workers to receive compensation, but it contains a clause that as yet does not give the right to vote for the purpose of passing a bill.

Florida's neighbor to the south, South Carolina, has a law making it easier for workers to receive compensation, but it contains a clause that as yet does not give the right to vote for the purpose of passing a bill.

The state with the industrial growth will face a serious accident problem. Other states have faced it and they have solved it by passing compensation laws. The federal government has passed laws dealing with the same subject.

The law protects the worker and enables the employer to receive compensation for more than 100 different types of injuries.

LOUGHREN BEATS MICKEY WALKER IN TITLE MATCH

Philadelphia Fighter Retains Crown From Ambitious Aspirant

CHICAGO, Mar. 29—(INS)—Caesar was ambitious and Brutus "cut them down." Napoleon was going great until his ambition for higher titles led him into a match with Wellington.

Just how these eminent gentlemen fete may be learned first today from Mickey Walker, well-named "Pug" bulldog, and his field marshal, Jack Kearns, although it is a well known fact that neither Caesar nor Bonaparte received $50,000 in any kind of money to appear them for muffing their greatest "shot."

Walker, present middleweight champion and former welter-weight title holder, aspiring to the light heavyweight crown of Tommy Loughran, was "put back in his place" last night by the Philadelphia champion in a way that indicated Walker will be a serious threat to the light heavy division as long as it dominated by a man as clever as Loughran.

Tommy retained his title by decision at the end of 10 rounds. He was favored by both judges, which made referee Davey Miller's vote unnecessary for a verdict. Despite the dissenting opinions of several ringside experts, the verdict was a popular one.

The bout was the main event on the opening card of Paddy Harrigan's mammoth West Side stadium. The structure, when finished, will seat 25,000, and will have cost approximately $7,000,000. An audience of 20,000 fans turned out for last night's opening.

Both the new stadium and the huge crowd were well initiated when fire broke out in scaffolding close to the roof. Firemen quickly conquered the blaze and the first inkling the large crowd had of the incident was when water began streaming down on main floor customers. There was a flurry of excitement as they vacated seats, but nothing approaching a panic, such as occurred in the old coliseum Monday night.

The main event between Loughran and the ambitious middleweight who would take his crown, was disappointing to many who expected a knock-down and drag-out affair. It was anything but that—not because Walker didn't try hard enough—but because Loughran, with a valuable title at stake, was naturally on the defensive and satisfied to pile up points while skillfully varying off the wild rushes of the slugger.

Tommy was at no time in real distress. The same may be said of Walker, but Loughran kept jabbing that left in Mickey's face and time after time. He crossed over, a hard right to the head. Tommy is no man killer, but as a master boxer and ring strategist he has few if any equals. Mickey made himself ridiculous the few times he tried to hit with the champion.

Walker landed a few solid blows, but for everyone that broke through Tommy's guard, a dozen others went lacerating wild. It must be said for Walker that he kept everlastingly at it. But to deprive a man of a valuable title simply because he exhausted himself only enough to prevent it while his opponent rushed around furiously and a bit comically, would be a great injustice.

Horton Smith Wins North, South Open Title In Pinehurst

PINEHURST, N. C., Mar. 28—(UPI)—Horton Smith, 20 year old amateur professional, who won his first tournament of the present season when he unseated South open title here yesterday, today, looked forward to returning to Boston with a smile on his face. He locked away his trophies and headed for the mountains and the pine woods of the Carolinas, where he has the best of the country to himself.

Smith, 20, of Boston, Mass., has been winning tournaments all along the coast and in the New England states, but he has never won the

Cubs Have Shown Well During Spring Training Season Contests

By Davis J. W. I. h.

NEW YORK, Mar. 29.—If you really can settle for five cents on the dollar on training camp form, then it appears today that the Chicago Cubs are due to have all the early speed of their field when the National League entries break from the post in Mid-April.

The Cubs apparently are as ready as a cocked gun, while all seems not too well with the Giants, Pirates and Cardinals, the admitted contention. McGraw is up a tall tree with his second baseman and a couple of outfielders. The Pirates are beset by problems afield and afoot, including the fact that they have been managing to get along just splendidly without Paul Waner. The Cards are far from set in their initial.

The Cubs, meantime, seem to have been going mildly loco. Hornsby, Wilson and Cuyley distinguished advocates of self-expressionism, were expected to get along something after the manner in which sandpaper gets along with the skin. Instead, all has been sweet tranquility, if the recent series with the Detroit Tigers means a thing. The Cubs hit .316 as a team in that series, promoting Stanley, Havia, too, very very heavily, too. He hit the sky-light.

Cuyley, Hornsby and Wilson were the thumping trinity of that disaster, with Cuyley leading everything except with his right English hit only .236. But McMillan pulled the average up with a mark of .318, while Hornsby hit .344, Wilson .364 and Stephenson .318. Brother Hornsby smote home the most runs, 19, Wilson and Cuyley accounting for each. The latter, however, opened with 10 doubles, three and a triple.

BIG PROFIT

Classified Ads are popular for a number of reasons, they get RESULTS quickly, they are easy to use and they cost ONLY A FEW CENTS a day.

This small cost offers big profit to advertisers. Let us say you have a house that is empty; you have been renting it for $35 a month. If it stays idle for a month you have lost $35.

The average classified ad run for a month costs less than $5.00. Granting that you spent that much to get your house rented, you still have a good profit left . . . a sum you would not have had otherwise.

Does Classified Advertising Pay? Give it a test yourself, a thorough test, and judge for yourself.
