

BOXING BODY AND GARDEN CHIEFS DISPUTE RIGHTS

Schmeling Fight Center Of Argument Between Two Parties

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Staff Writer

NEW YORK, July 22.—Political as represented by the State Athletic Commission, and Wall Street, with its investment in the multi-million dollar corporation at Madison Square Garden, were embroiled today in what promised to be the bitterest war the sport of boxing has known, a war, they say, that only can end with one or the other in absolute and lasting command.

The political cause is the Garden Corporation's annual that it will take the Sharkey-Schmeling fight to another city, Chicago, Detroit or elsewhere. In defiance of the commission's official plan, but actually it represents the first definite outbreak in a long-simmering feud between the powers of boxing, going back to the Rickard regime. Like the archduke and queen of Sarajevo, the two fighters now are mere pawns in the game.

James A. Farley, chairman of the commission, refused to comment on the Garden's official declaration for an out-of-town site for the fight but his promise of drastic action at next Tuesday's meeting was made in a way that indicated anything up to and including an earthquake. If Mr. Farley can be said to represent the sentiment of the commission, then the commission undoubtedly is likely to go to the limit.

On the other side, there are influence and even open challenge that the commission has exceeded its every authority because it is alleged to feel that there is one manager in town who never rests the break that is coming to him. The manager in question is Jimmy Johnston, who has the American rights on Phil Scott, named as the party of the second part in a fight which Schmeling won't fight on August 7.

Without Schmeling's consent, therefore, he will have no part of it all day long. The commission, meantime, had declared itself for Arthur Hulse as Schmeling's manager and could do no less than stand by its own decision and recognize the contract to which Hulse was a party.

The Garden, however, sees the business only as official endorsement and some of the more conservative souls in the organization are determined upon what they call "the war for the right," even if this means a turn-over of the commission's personnel either in part or in toto.

This naturally brings up the question of who they are and they are overhauling themselves. They have the money and the power that usually goes with it. But the commission has the vested authority of New York State behind it or, at least, that is the presumption. Perhaps the Garden isn't going into this thing blindfolded. Wall Street has a way of knowing things or at least of hearing what it wishes to know.

Having been fully informed with the suspension and even the resignation of its board, the Garden is likely to be a time when a certain amount of strictly reliable information will be at its disposal.

Anyhow, there can be no backtracking by the Garden now. It made its play yesterday when it publicly informed the commission that the Sharkey-Schmeling fight would be held elsewhere and that the board was at liberty to go back to running jump in the lake or even the nearest plate glass window. The Garden, having assumed this arbitrary position cannot withdraw from it.

Besides, William F. Carey, who issued the statement, is said to be a die-hard of the most pronounced type. "The man has been labeled as an outlier of the extreme, no less. Withdrawal? He's not so much to be that kind of a month again."

IRISH ARE BEST IN HARDEST GAME DECLARES COACH

Rockne Gives Merits Of His Charges On South Bend Eleven

NEW YORK, July 22.—(INS)—Any player good enough to make an American college football eleven, in a tough, has the heart of a lion and will battle for dear old Alma Mater like the knights in long ago days of King Arthur, but after the last and center punting made and the victims rushed from the field the Irishman stands supreme.

That is the opinion of Knute K. Rockne, a strong member of the University of Notre Dame and one of the country's outstanding football coaches. "Irish players are the best of any nationality in my opinion," Rockne declared to the writer in an interview here. I have seen them battered about, they play after play in a tough game and then stand up and yell for more. It is heart-breaking for an Irishman to be removed in favor of a substitute, and whereas some players might like the chance to warm the bench for awhile an Irish lad will want to argue about being taken out and if given half a chance will beg to continue.

Polish Are Tough
Polish players are good winners and play at top notch speed when times are tight, the Notre Dame coach said. The Poles are all tough and can take punishment like knights of the ring.

Players of German descent are steady, hard working good men, while Scandinavians take things coolly, even if it is punishment, an adverse decision or bad break. They are hard workers and are often made up largely of Scandinavians, such as Minnesota at Minneapolis has featured in some years, is generally a great scoring machine, Rockne stated.

French players perform like mules, for five minutes, Rockne declared, and then they want to sit down and talk it over. They are especially brilliant but unlike other nationalities maintain the swiftest pace for only a short period.

Italians are like the French, brilliant and likely to show up as stars only in spurts, although quite often Rockne said, tough, hard playing men, ready to fight it out every minute of the game and good among men of Italian lineage.

Close Student
Rockne is one coach in the country in a position to speak with authority on players of all nationalities not only has he long been a deep student of football but he has played in every section of the country, and his eleven, during his regime at the Indian University have met the outstanding teams from coast to coast.

Game is located, there have been to recent years, players of all nationalities. Some years ago most of the Notre Dame varsity were Irish and Notre Dame eleven are still referred to as "the Irish." But for some years French, Scandinavian, Poles, Germans have been tutored by Rockne.

Rockne also has conducted summer football coaching schools in various parts of the country, attended by men from every state in the Union and through these has become familiar with all types of players.

MAY RAISE SCALE

DETROIT, July 22.—(INS)—Henry Ford's reported announcement that he will raise the minimum wage of his employees, which is at present $6 per day, was not modified by Ford officials here today. Ford is quoted in the current issue of North American Review as saying he would raise the minimum wage "in the not too distant future." When the Ford plant announced a minimum wage of $6 a day, 16 years ago, many declared such a high scale was impossible but this minimum was later raised to six. There are about 200,000 Ford employees here and in other Ford plants.

REYNOLDS IS ARRANGED

LONDON, July 22.—(INS). R. J. Reynolds, 21 year old member of a wealthy American family, was arranged in Old Bailey court today charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Arthur Graham, who died of injuries received when he was run down by an automobile at Burnham on May 14. Reynolds, who owned the automobile, pleaded not guilty. Graham died in the Wind-up Hospital on May 17.

Umpires Are Target For Wrath Of Fans

NEW YORK, July 22.—(INS)—Baseball umpires are finding the going rough these days. Detroit fans became so incensed at the way Umpire Grady called strikes in the game with the Athletics yesterday that mounted police were called to escort him off the field when the crowd swarmed on the field after the game.

In an International League game at Rochester, N. Y., Umpire Parker was struck in the eye during a shower of pop bottles as police conveyed him off the field. Roy McMahon, the groundskeeper, suffered a gash in the head.

BOOK TOWER HURT

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., July 22.—(INS)—Telegrams received here from Lake Wales, Fla., state that lightning recently knocked off one of the big stone herons perched atop the Bok bell tower at Mountain Lake. No other damage was reported.

IN ANY CRISIS CREDIT IS A NECESSITY!

One cannot pierce the future and determine in advance just when an emergency will arise, so for a selfish reason, if for no other, it pays to keep your credit good.

It's a mighty good feeling to know that your word will secure for you and yours the things you must have in time of need. And its easy to build a reputation among your fellow men, so that your word will be as good as your bond.

You'll find your creditors ready and willing to cooperate if you first prove that your heart is right, even if your pocketbook will not permit the full payment of your debts. Prove to them that their faith in you was not misplaced when they gave you credit, pay something, if only a dollar, on that past due account!
