

Grand Son Will Run For Third Win in Race Tonight

Two Dogs Will Have Chance At Upsetting Fast Runner

Grand Son, undefeated and unbeaten, will go after his third straight victory tonight in the feature race at the Sanford-Ocala Kennel Club. It will be the first time since Grand Son's first start since New Year's Day.

So far, no dog at the track has been able to creep into the lead with Grand Son, but tonight's race will be a severe test and the favorite is likely to lose it on the chin.

The ninth race is scheduled for 7:15 p.m. The same distance over which Grand Son won his (unofficial) handicap. The feature race is a little different.

The opening night track was closed from rain and Grand Son showed an advantage that he never lost when he caught fast-moving Smokey Rammer, far out in front of the pack.

Having against him tonight are Smokey Boy, Rambling Nora, Smokey Rammer, Seal Fire, Dolly Grace, Grand Son and Rita's Girl. Smokey Boy and Rambling Nora will be afforded the real chances to win the championship.

Tree Dedicated As Memorial To Mrs. S. O. Chase

As a living memorial to the late Mrs. S. O. Chase, a great tree of flowers during her lifetime, the Central Garden Club of Sanford has dedicated a tree to her memory in the Ninth Street Park.

The tree was planted by Mrs. Chase's eldest grandchild, Sidney Chase, III, Mrs. Alexander Vaughan, chairman of the dedication committee, had charge of the program.

U.S., Britain Will Draw Up Air Base Lease

Italian Forces Fall Back In Albania; 100,000 Fascists Are Out Of War

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—(AP)—The State Department announced today that a delegation of American officials would leave for London Jan. 17 to work out the formal lease for the American air and naval bases acquired from Great Britain.

The Italian forces were said today to be falling back hastily before the Greeks in Albania. South-Central Albania, Greek shock troops were reported to have captured.

In Cairo, the British disclosed the full magnitude of the Bardia conquest—4,868 Italians, captured or dead, and large quantities of armament seized or destroyed.

The British count thus placed the number of Italians rendered ineffective since the desert blitzkrieg at about 100,000.

The announcement that "Kilaura has fallen" was taken to mean that the last Italian positions in the area had been wiped out. With Kilaura in Greek hands, the Hellenic forces now are expected to force the fall of many of the Italian positions.

University Class Visits Farm Here In Study Of Crops

Studying the production of celery and lettuce in this section a group of students and their professor, Dr. R. E. Moody, of the University of Florida visited farms around Sanford and Ovidio yesterday under the guidance of C. R. Dawson, county agent.

The group composed of a class in agricultural economics and their inspection of the production process included the setting of celery, harvesting, washing, cooling and loading in cars.

As a class in economics of agriculture, their principal interest was the cost of production, returns on crops and methods of farming, according to Mr. Dawson. The students showed an interest in farm machinery and were particularly surprised to note the amount of machine or tractor farming done in this local area.

"One student remarked that he didn't know there was that many kinds of tractors," said Mr. Dawson.

The comparatively new lettuce crop in this section interested the students and they studied the methods of farming of this particular crop. Mr. Dawson said.

Dr. R. E. Moody, associate professor of agricultural economics at the university, visited here. He is teaching his first year at the university, just having come from the University of Wisconsin.

ANCIENT INDIAN MOUND NEAR SANFORD

Used as a burial ground by the Timucuan Indians centuries before Florida's famous Seminole migrated from the Creek lands in Georgia, this Indian Mound located on the St. Johns River near the Osteen Bridge now proves its antiquity by the massive towering oak which grow out of its top.

Indian Mound To Be Improved As Attraction For Tourists

Shafts of sunlight, worshipped by the Timucuan, sifted through the giant moss hung oaks on the banks of the St. Johns River and fell upon the glistening copper colored bodies of a hundred Indian braves as they formed a silent respectful circle around the grave of one of their tribes.

His favorite spear had been laid beside his body. His long bow and a quiver full of arrows which to battle evil spirits on his way to the "happy hunting ground" were by his right hand. Three or four pottery vessels in each of which had been brewed a hole so that they would also be "dead" had been placed at his head.

Slowly the Indians began to chant a solemn melancholy chant. At the hot Florida sun reached its highest point, four of the tallest members of the tribe stepped forward and heaped coal dust earth from the river bank upon the grave. The Indians began to dance and their chant soon reached a feverish pitch of excitement. Still chanting as if to drive away the evil spirits, the Indians slowly faded away in the heavy mist and dawn fell again around the ancient burial mound. Today, more than five hundred years after this incident took place, with giant oaks of gnarled antiquity growing out of the grave where this Indian and others like him were buried, the sanctity of Indian Mound is still being observed. Soon the brush which has grown up around it will be cleared away, the road which leads to it improved, and an appropriate marker will denote its historic character.

City Commissioner H. James Gut, an archaeologist by avocation, and Edward Higgins, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, appeared at a meeting of the County Commission yesterday and asked that the County improve the Indian Mound, located about four miles from Sanford near the Osteen Bridge, and make it a park. The Commissioners agreed to clear the land, and to improve the road to the mound on both sides. An appropriate marker denoting the history of the ancient burial place will also be provided by the Chamber of Commerce.

This mound, discovered in 1893, by Clarence B. Moore and his findings were published in the Journal of the Academy of Natural Sciences of Philadelphia. Mr. Moore and his party first explored the mound on Jan. 28, 29, and 30, 1892, and again on Jan. 22-27 the following year.

Once before the burial mound had been investigated, though only superficially, by Jeffries Wyman, who included his findings in a pamphlet published in 1875 by the Peabody Academy of Science in Salem, Mass.

When Mr. Moore first dug into the Indian Mound, the property was owned by Dr. A. C. Caldwell, and by the time the scientist had returned in 1893 it had come into the hands of J. N. Whitner.

According to the report of Mr. Moore's investigation, the mound had been "superficially dug into by tourists and excavated parties from Sanford." It was then described as oval in shape, about 300 feet in circumference, and about 10 feet high. On top is a plateau about 140 feet across. The mound is built of sand upon a shell heap.

In making his excavation, Mr. Moore and his eight workers dug a trench on the northern side of the mound, and in 1893

Germans Aid Italy In Attempt To Offset Reverses In Africa And End Blockade

Ships Attacked By Axis Planes

Portsmouth Reported Buried In Bombs After Air Attack

Reichsmarshal Goering asserted today that not one German factory had been "cut out of commission" by the British, contrasting with what was termed the destruction of many plants in Britain. A reported threat of the Thailand (Siam) government to bomb three French Indo-China cities in the current border warfare elicited a warning from French officials that if the cities are attacked, French planes will bomb Bangkok. That capital.

Germany actively entered the war against Britain in the Mediterranean basin today, aiding Italy in an apparent attempt to offset her North African reverses and loosen the sea blockade.

The Italian High Command reported a British Naval formation was attacked Friday in the "Suez Canal" by cooperating formations of Fascist and Nazi dive bombers and torpedo planes, which damaged two aircraft carriers, a cruiser, and a destroyer.

The German High Command reported that a British English naval base was "annihilated" with firebombs and explosives in a "large scale" assault. Casualties were believed heavy.

Fleets of German air raiders carried out a concentrated attack during the night on a south coast district, pounding it for some time with incendiary and high explosive bombs.

An observer said the bombers roared over in dives while defense batteries kept up a fierce barrage throughout the raid. The assault, carried out in the now-familiar blitz manner, taxed the district severely.

London was entirely quiet up to the early morning hours. Raiders were reported over scattered sections of Britain such as Liverpool, South Wales, the south coast and west England. The Air Ministry reported that two German bombers were shot down by anti-aircraft guns in a Thursday night raid on a town in northwest England.

The Thursday night raids were among the most widespread of the war. Some aviation sources speculated on the possibility that the Germans were testing for their defenses in preparation for possible attacks on industrial centers.

Students Knit For British War Relief

The 99 girls in S. H. S. became zealous classes are learning to knit under the supervision of Mrs. Stone. These girls plan to knit beanies, scarves and mittens, and send them to the Red Cross. The girls are also making layettes for their home economic project.

The main purpose of this plan is to let the students hear the best of programs that point out high qualities of education, and to learn the present happenings of the world day by day.

Seminole Students Hear Inauguration Speech By Holland

The radio system of the Seminole High School is so constructed that important speeches and events may be heard by the teachers and students in their classrooms.

For the first of these programs the members of the U. S. listened to the inaugural address of Seward L. Holland, the new Governor of Florida.

This first program set an inspiration for more of the same type. Mr. McKay contacted the faculty about the plan.

The faculty agreed that this equipment would be vital to the school. The question of the money proposition was put to the student body. If each student donated toward the fund, the results would be enough to purchase a turntable and some of the other necessities.

The main purpose of this plan is to let the students hear the best of programs that point out high qualities of education, and to learn the present happenings of the world day by day.

New Faces Appear In U. S. Senate Following Elections During 1940

The 1940 elections brought into the United States Senate several new personalities, most of whom scored major upsets in their respective states.

Let us look over these new members and tell of their upsets.

MONRAD C. WALLGREN, Democrat of Washington-Wallgren, a member of the United States House of Representatives, scored a surprising upset as a Republican. Arthur B. Langlie, won the gubernatorial race, and it is rather odd when a Democrat senator and a Republican governor are elected on the same ticket.

ERNEST W. McFARLAND, Democrat of Arizona—One of the biggest upsets of the year; not because McFarland lost a Republican, but because he ousted veteran Senator Gregory Fountain Ashurst in the Democratic primary. Ex-Senator Ashurst had been a member of the Senate since 1912 when Arizona became a state.

WILLIAM LANGER, Republican of North Dakota—Langer, a former governor, did not score any unusual upset. He barely won over popular ex-Representative William Lusk, an Independent.

HUGH A. BUTLER, Republican of Nebraska—Butler lost retiring Governor E. Leroy Cochran in a hot fight. Defeat of Cochran was a surprising upset as a Republican Senator. George W. Norris, a leader in Nebraska politics, had endorsed ex-Gov. Cochran.

C. WAYLAND BROOKS, Republican of Illinois—Another surprising defeat for the Democrats. Brooks, a World War hero, knocked staunch New Dealer James M. Slattery, a Kelly-Nash man, out of the Senate.

RAYMOND E. WILLES, Republican of Indiana—Hershey, Dealer Sherman Minton lost his seat in Congress to Willis, who barely lost to Senator Frederick Van Nuys in the 1938 off-year election.

HAROLD H. BURTON, Republican of Ohio—No surprise is seen concerning Burton's election. Burton, mayor of Cleveland, won from ex-Republican W. McFraw. He is a Republican self-styled Senator A. V. Donahy, a Democrat, the election results would have focused an upset. This is because Donahy had lost to Burton in the 1938 election.

HARLEY M. KILGORE, Democrat of West Virginia—No startling excitement seen in Kilgore's election. He won over retiring Senator Bush Dew Holt, a fellow Democrat in the primary. Then Kilgore easily lost a Republican opponent.

JAMES M. TUNNELL, Democrat of Delaware—Another major upset was Tunnell's defeat of ex-Republican Walter W. Bacon. Tunnell was elected governor, while Tamm, a Democrat, was elected senator.

RALPH O. BREWSTER, Republican of Maine—Brewster's election was expected to be easily accomplished, but he found still opposition in ex-governor Lewis Evans, a Democrat. Brewster was a member of the House of Representatives prior to his election.

GEORGE D. AIKEN, Republican of Vermont—Aiken was elected governor with an impressive record. Aiken easily won as his state is staunchly Republican. Sen. Aiken won the right to fill the vacancy left by the late Senator Ernest W. Gibson, also a Republican.

ABB MURDOCK, Democrat of Utah—Murdock, a member of the House of Representatives, also scored a major upset in the state Democratic primaries, when he beat Senator William H. King, number 2 of the Senate for 34 years. Murdock lost the Republican nomination.

These men were elected to represent their fellow citizens in the new 77th Congress which convened on Jan. 3. They will be elected by all of their friends and neighbors in the 1940 election which may determine if they will be elected in 1941.

Plantings scheduled for 1940 would bring the cumulative total to 67,000,000 trees and shrubs and 1,577,500 acres of land in the year, SCS officials said.

A little less than 10 percent of the total 1940 plantings of 67,000,000 trees and shrubs will be planted in 1940. The balance will be planted during the year, SCS officials said.

S H S Ramblings

If you did not see WIGGLES and EMBA during the holidays you really missed something. They went around with a bright light on their faces and they were really in a daze because R. G. and HUGH were home. BILL VERNON and HAROLD CLAUSE are now quite often in Orlando acquiring some of the City News-Herald girls around. MURIEL KNOX is always waiting for P.M. or FRANK to come home. REBECCA LEE and JOYCE ADAMS head the list for those waiting for certain people to come home from camp. BOB HICKSON had a wonderful time in his Christmas vacation only he was a little disappointed when he found that peans grew on the fair city of Sanford and have a little adventure with the Navy.

RAYMOND KADER is making money by having MARY LODGE's company at the Junior-Senior Banquet because he's already asked her to go with him. BUDDY PROCTOR was mad as hell because he couldn't get the New Year's Eve to go to Longwood to see LILIAN WALSH.

ALMA HAMILTON's dressman is DAVID GATCHEL, imagining that MILDRED ALANMAN, TIM STEVENS' old flame, has deserted him for RALPH WOLFER who took ALMA to JAYTONA last Sunday night. TIMMY RIDGE has a new hat from Junior High now when he is BETTY CORBODI and little pal SAM THURMOND can't get ahead of him so he gets him a girl in Junior High, in the person of LUCIA WARD, although he had to leave her for his affections for NANCY COLLIN. MACK CLEVELAND's New Year's resolution is to go with all the girls and not just one.

It has gotten around now that two of the boys can't play basketball. Could it be because of size, speed or what? Could anyone tell us why DUANNE TILES and BILLY ROBERTS are in NILES' class so had become GEORGE WARD, although he had to leave her for his affections for NANCY COLLIN. SCHOOL BRIEFS

The students of Seminole High School will regret to know that we have lost two of our fellow classmates Pete Mera, who has gone to a military school, and Bill Kirtley, who has joined the Navy.

Erna Doudney spent a part of the Christmas holidays visiting friends in Macen.

Stuart Quarterman spent most of his holidays in Kingsland.

Mary Martha Zwickel and Lucille Hall, two of our journalism members, have been out of school part of the week because of illness.

Miss Lillian L. Dunlap, civics and Spanish teacher, enjoyed her Christmas holidays in New Hampshire. Miss Dunlap stated she enjoyed herself immensely, especially while learning ski.

Miss Catherine Takah, girls' instructor, will be in the city on Jan. 8 for the purpose of organizing a girls' tennis club. Plans and schedules will be published in this paper later.

The Seminole County Teachers' Club meeting will be held in Geneva on Jan. 13.

During Miss Ruth Hand's absence on Wednesday and Miss Catherine Takah's absence on Thursday because of illness, Mrs. Jack Burney, an excellent teacher to S. H. S., took their places. Mrs. Burney has had training in teaching music, and literature in West Virginia.

Komments From Commercial School

This gray week has surely been a poor way to start the new year, but just because the weather has been poor is no indication that the spirits of the Vocational School students are not. It's no indication that they aren't, because after all, who is glad to settle down to work after over two weeks of fun?

Monday afternoon Mrs. Maxwell borrowed a radio and we all listened to the President's address to Congress. Lillian Adams, Mary Bealin and Selma Levy tried to take the speech down in shorthand, but Mr. Roosevelt talked just a little too fast. The girls couldn't read back all of their notes. Better luck next time, we hope.

Flash! William Hodges has finally finished the second chapter in bookkeeping! We are also glad to announce that Mary Bealin has finally finished—half of Mr. Good. For the benefit of the uninitiated Mr. Good is the book and practice set in first year book-keeping.

The re-opening of school tonight with its new pupils, Mrs. J. A. Martin, Perry Lee Bell, and Mrs. Mamie Hodgkin.

Mary Young has a temporary position at Lesh's during the absence of Mr. Lesh's secretary.

The spelling lesson went along smoothly Tuesday it was almost unreal. Wonder why? Could be that Dick Myers wasn't here. Ummm. Could be!

A literature teacher asked tonight what her examples of book stories, or legends dealing with the following parts of the body: nose, hand, hair, heel.

For these, Johnny named "Pinocchio," "The Boy Who Cried Wolf," "Hansel and Delilah" and (here Johnny paused). "Oh yes, I know — 'Moh' Kampf' is a book about a heel."

Greek Forces Said Closing In On Valona

Major Drive Against Italy In Ethiopia By British Reported Possible Soon

Ethiopian Tribesmen Aid Guerilla War Against Fascists

ATHENS, Jan. 13 (AP)—Greek warriors closing in on Valona, the Italians' only remaining port of entry in southern Albania, were reported sweeping forward today without a serious check in Greece's "greatest offensive" of the war.

In London, the belief grew among observers that British soon may attempt a major drive against Italy in Ethiopia with the aid of native rebellions in that Fascist-conquered East African empire.

Interests in such a campaign increased after Prime Minister General Smuts of the Union of South Africa declared that South Africa's 1941 role would be to assist the British government and the United States in its drive against Hitler.

In Moscow it was said that if German troops are entering Bulgaria, they are doing so without Russian knowledge and consent. The Soviet government said that in the Balkans, the Balkan peoples are preparing to rise against the German and Italian forces.

Italy's activities in Sicily have been reported measurable in the thousands. The British and American forces are reported to have checked for miles in the area of the Sicilian mountains. In the Sicilian mountains, the British and American forces are reported to have checked for miles in the area of the Sicilian mountains.

Way Cleared To Begin Hearings On British Aid

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—The Administration today won the first congressional skirmish over the lend-lease bill for aid to Britain when the House voted the procedure for rushing consideration of the measure.

By a voice vote, Speaker Rayburn's assignment of the bill to the Foreign Affairs Committee was accepted and an effort by the military committee to bring the measure under its control was defeated, clearing the way to begin hearings tomorrow.

County Demonstration Clubs Meet Tuesday; Geneva Club Met Friday

Friday the members voted to buy 25 chairs for the Community Hall in Geneva to reduce benches that are now in use. Mrs. Ray Anderson, county home demonstration agent, said today. The meeting came as Friday because the county-wide meeting to be held in Sanford Tuesday conflict with the regular date. Plans are being made by the club to attend the county meeting in Sanford, said Mrs. Anderson. The club has plans to come to Sanford for a day of instruction in household work under the guidance of Mrs. David's department of the Junior High School.

Census Report Discloses 46 Percent Increase In State In 1939 Over 1935

Sales in Sanford during 1939 gained 18 percent over the volume in 1935, a report of retail trade in Florida disclosed today, though the increase failed by 1 percent to equal the turnover in 1929. Fascist Casualties In Albania Reported To Be Terrific

BRITISH air sources said today the Royal Air Force is winning a "slight edge" in the aerial conflict despite engagements on three fronts—in Greece, North Africa, and at home. The supremacy was held, it was said, because of the continuous systematic bombing of German industries and communications and because of the increased planes from British and American factories.

The Associated Press said German troops in the trenches along the Nazi-occupied French-Italian coast—presumably awaiting Hitler's signal to invade England—were reported machine-gunned today by British warplanes, while other R. A. F. raiders bombed Nazi U-boat bases and pounded Venice, Turin and Catania in Italy.

And reported new reverses in the war with Greece, Mussolini shook up his army command for the third time in two weeks, sending his chief of staff, General Leo M. Cavallone, to take charge of Italy's hard-pressed armies in Albania.

The Italians were reported still retreating northward since the fall of Kilaia and the Greeks were said to be in Tripoli.

The British Legion forces were holding gun- from Bardonia to the sea, and Tebruk, the important Fascist outpost at the Sicilian coast, 100 miles south of Bardonia, was reported cut off by the British.

John A. Partridge, author of "From a Parson's Diary," is to be a guest of honor at the Christian Association, which is having a banquet at the Methodist Church annex tomorrow night at 7:00 o'clock.

J. A. Partridge, Author, Is To Be Guest Of Honor

A review of Mr. Partridge's book, written by W. P. King, former editor of the Christian Association, praises it highly as having been "written in a popular, sprightly style which will be read not only by preachers and other of preachers, but by laymen as well."

The book contains 22 chapters on such themes as "Weddings Break Up," "A Parson's Drill Program," "Sleepers in the Church," "How Appointments are Made," and "Mount Zion Burns Wrong Course." Mr. King said in his review of the book. The introduction of the book was also written by Mr. King.

"It is doubtless true that the representatives of no other vocation have such mingled experience of the ludicrous along with the pathetic as does the preacher. It goes without saying that the preacher who takes himself too seriously misses much of the wholesome and refreshing humor of life. Rev. J. A. Partridge, author of 'From a Parson's Diary,' has succeeded in reproducing with vivacious and reality the interesting incidents in a parson's career. It will serve to awaken in others the slumbering memories of racy incidents which the lapse of years has dimmed," Mr. King said in the introduction of the book.

At the meeting tomorrow night Mrs. W. G. Fleming will give a reading of part of a chapter of the book.
