Gov. Cone Orders Halt In Payment Of Appropriations

Executive Wants To Know How Much Is To Be Spent And Sources Of Revenue

Nearly $2,000,000 Is Already Voted Stricter Regulations On State School Funds Are Urged

TALLAHASSEE, May 16. (AP)—Gov. Fred P. Cone today directed Comptroller Lee to stop paying special appropriations voted by the Florida Legislature until "we find out just what the Legislature is going to spend and just what money they will provide."

Lawmakers already have authorized more than $1,500,000 in special appropriations and have not completed action on many others or on the biennial general appropriations act for operation of the State government, its agencies, colleges and courts. They also have passed any revenue producing bills.

The Governor sent to the House a bill designed to tighten up the expenditure of funds the State gives to counties for payment of school teachers' salaries. He estimated it would save about $1,500,000 annually. It would require teachers to sign for their monthly pay, thus preventing use of money for other purposes and preventing the payment of more than $800 yearly out of State funds for each teacher.

The Senate engaged in a debate on the House-approved bill to borrow federal funds and repay them with collections from self-regulating projects. It now goes to the Senate.

The House also passed a proposed constitutional amendment that would establish terms of four years for county commissioners who now serve two years.

The Senate set for special consideration this afternoon a bill calling for a state townsmen plan.

The House overrode the Governor's veto on a bill to pay Mrs. Angelina Bamarks $3,500 for the death of her son who was burned to death in the Cedar Key fire in 1933.

The House Appropriations Committee yesterday approved an emergency appropriation of $5,000.

Legislators Look Toward 3 Sources For New Revenues

Assembly Eyes Tax On Sales, Fun Or Legal Gambling

TALLAHASSEE, May 16.—Facing the possible alternatives of legalizing gambling in all forms, tax on amusements or putting a sales tax on all commodities, Florida's 1939 legislature this week began its most crucial period in which it tackles problems of finance that thus far have baffled the best minds of both the House and Senate.

Bills covering all three types of taxation are before standing committees. One would levy a ten percent tax on all amusements, including theaters, night clubs, skating rinks—everything, in fact, except hotels or restaurants where meals are served with music but without floor shows or special entertainment. This measure would produce, according to Rep. Clay Lewis, of Gulf county, an estimated $20,000,000 that would be split fifty-fifty, half to the state and half to the counties. School funds to be used exclusively for teacher salaries.

Another bill to create a state amusements commission, which supervises the legalized operation of gambling, amusements, and other such activities, as well as collect taxes from books, wire services, and before the House public amusements committee. It would require a permit for operation, approximately $12,000, a year for each business, and $100 for each person over 16 years of age. The remaining $2,000,000 would be returned to the counties on the basis of about $48,000 a year per county.

But this bill, sponsored by Sen. Charley Johns, of St. Johns, would benefit old age pensions exclusively since the bill further provides for a pension of $300 a month for all persons above the age of 60 years. Both the Johns and Stokes bill would produce an estimated $18,000,000 a year each. The Stokes measure has.

Cross State Canal Project Endorsed By William Green

WASHINGTON, May 16.—(AP)—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor urged senators today to "give every support to the Florida canal plan."

He made the request in letters to all members of the Senate and the House. Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.) renewed his attack on the canal in a floor debate.

Vandenberg said the $200,000,000 project which would extend 105 miles across Florida has been presented with all the synthetic assurances of a champagne dream.

Writing in a letter hung on the Senate walls by canal proponents, the Michigan republican said that "if this issue is to be settled by pictures there should be some others here. I should like to see a picture of one of those 600 dredges stationed outside Secretary Morgenthau's office and trying to dig $200,000,000 for $300,000,000 out of an empty treasury."

In his letter, Green said all evidence led the AFL to believe the canal was "commercial and military necessity."

Body Of White Man Is Found In Lake Monroe

Fully Clothed Corpse Sighted By Negro; Officers Unable To Determine Identity

Coroner J. T. Roberts said this afternoon that no inquest would be held in connection with the dead man who was taken from Lake Monroe this morning. There was no evidence of foul play, the coroner said, adding that an inquest was not considered necessary. A can of tobacco, a pipe, a comb and 12 cents were found in the dead man's pockets, but a thing which would be of assistance in determining his identity, fingerprints will be made.

The body of an unidentified white man was taken from Lake Monroe just before noon today by Sheriff C. M. Hunt and his deputies after the floating corpse had been sighted in the channel and reported by a negro who was passing a flat tire on the lake front boulevard.

Fully clothed and apparently in the water for several days, the body was removed from the lake about a mile east of the bridge across the St. Johns River on the Sanford-DeLand highway. A hasty inspection revealed no evidence of foul play but a coroner's jury was summoned by Coroner J. T. Roberts to view the body early this afternoon and an inquest will probably be held tomorrow.

The body may have been carried for many miles from the upper St. Johns Valley by the strong current, but investigators believed this improbable because of the likelihood that the body would have been sighted by fishermen or residents along the river before today.

Dressed in brown wool pants with a sleeveless blue shirt and black shoes, the man was about 5 feet 10 inches in height and probably weighed 150-160 pounds. He had light brown hair and the figure of a girl was tattooed on his right arm above the elbow.

Expenditures In WPA Probed By Group In House

Administrative Costs Under Setup Authorized By Hopkins Hit

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Testimony that a system set up under authority from Harry W. Hopkins had enabled the WPA in Ohio to spend more for administrative expense than the law allows was received by a House investigating committee yesterday.

It came from George J. Shillito, a committee investigator, who said he had been furnished some time ago from the investigator's division of the WPA. He estimated that administrative costs of the work relief organization in Ohio amounted to 10 or 15 percent of total expenditures. Representative Wootton (D.-Va.) pointed out that federal.

Open House Held At Hospital Is Well Attended

Approximately 80 adults and an unlimited 50 school children attended the open house at the Fernald-Laughton Memorial Hospital on May 12, the date of the national celebration of the birth of Florence Nightingale.

The guests of the institution were taken for a short tour of the various spots of interest in the building, viewing X-ray plant, an exhibition, patient's rooms, the operating room and the kitchen.

The wives of the members of the board of directors of the institution served in the receiving line and also helped distribute the punch and cake afterward.

"It is not often that we can take the time from our work, to hold an open house, and we are glad that so many took advantage of this opportunity to come and get acquainted," Miss Lucile Clegg, superintendent, home care division, when discussing the event.

"We hope they will all be back next year for a friendly visit, and not on business," the supervisor said.

ROAD BILLS SUBMITTED

TALLAHASSEE, May 16.—Road designation bills, which are pouring into House and Senate today, are a result of the new county gas tax allocation bill that continues present distribution of the county of the State's revenue to a gallon levy for the next 10 years, do not necessitate the State Road Department taking care of the maintenance of the roads.

"All the bills would do," the official stated, "is to guarantee the continuation of present allocations to the several counties. The department is not bound to take care of all of the designated roads."

Bill For State Executioner Is Favored By Rep. Leonard

A bill proposed by Seminole County Representative John G. Leonard which provides for an executioner at the State prison farm in Sanford received the endorsement of the House yesterday by a 72 to 6 vote.

The bill provides for the employment of some person to pull the electric switch in inflicting death by electrocution.

Speaking for the bill, Rep. Leonard said the appointment of such an official would reduce costs in carrying out death sentences.

The State prison electrician, he suggested, could be the executioner, because he is familiar with the equipment.

Sherriff now serve as executioner.

Youthful Heir Of Palmer Fortune Dies After Brawl

SARASOTA, May 16.—(AP)—Petter O'Day Palmer, 34-year-old heir to the Chicago Palmer fortune, died yesterday from a cerebral hemorrhage which his physician said resulted from a "traumatic blow" on the head received at a picnic near Bradenton last Thursday night.

Death came a few hours after Sheriff C. J. Hutches at Bradenton announced that Kenneth Newworthy, 24-year-old cutter, had voluntarily admitted striking Palmer on the head with his fist as the aftermath of an altercation.

The sheriff quoted Newworthy as saying young Palmer had taunted him, finally attacking him. After Palmer fell, the young man cut down with him. Then, said Newworthy, Palmer attempted to wield a battle.

Newworthy's story of the encounter was heard by the sheriff and assistant State Attorney W. M. Smith, and said to be now in review, would be called into question to anticipate the night.

It could not be learned last night whether Palmer made any statement before his death. The two men were attending a barbecue picnic given by the Bradenton Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Negro Is Fined $100 For Selling Lottery Tickets

A straw hat may be a good place to carry Cuba tickets but not good enough to get by the Chief of Police Roy G. Williams, at least that was the deduction of Austin Tunali, negro, who was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 or serve 30 days in the City Jail when he entered a plea of guilty to selling lottery tickets in Municipal Court yesterday afternoon. Reported to Chief Williams as one of those who continued to sell the tickets despite repeated warnings and after being sighted by officers in Goldboro yesterday he was searched and no tickets were found on his person. To complete the search, Chief Williams pulled off the negro's hat and out fell the tickets.

The negro told officers he was not selling for himself but for a white man whose identity he did not disclose.

Home Is Slightly Damaged By Fire

The Fire Department into this morning answered a call to the Little Roberts house located on Fifth Street between Cypress and Sanford Avenues, where a young child, playing with matches, had ignited some inflammable material near his crib.

The firemen brought the flames under control without serious damage resulting. The loss was not covered by insurance, official stated.

France Seeks Anglo-Soviet Compromise

Diplomats Hope To Bridge Conflicting Views With Acceptable Alliance

Il Duce Visits Piedmont Front Symptoms Of Polish-German Friction Apparent In Press

By Associated Press
France tried today to find a compromise which would bring Soviet Russia into the French-British front while Chancellor Hitler and Premier Mussolini inspected the German and Italian fortifications along the French frontier.

French diplomats hoped to bridge the conflicting views of Britain and Russia by working out a plan for a strong alliance which would be acceptable to all three nations.

Russia's stand for reciprocal military pledges among the three powers was regarded as flexible enough to permit a compromise with the British, who feared a hard and fast alliance might force Japan and Spain into still closer ties with the Home-Berlin axis.

At the British foreign office it was said that the British answer to Soviet Russia's latest note on the projected alliance might be sent before the end of this week.

Mussolini toured his Piedmont frontier with France, coinciding with Chancellor Hitler's inspection of Germany's new western fortifications.

New symptoms of Polish-German friction appeared in the Polish press, which complained of the additional supplies of fuel from the German frontier zone.

Soviet Russia yesterday reiterated Great Britain's news at counter-proposals for Russian adherence to the European peace front but diplomats clung to hopes of an early compromise to overcome Moscow's objections.

Moscow was understood to have dispatched a note to London describing the British formula as inadequate, and insisting upon satisfaction of Russia's original request for a first-power military pact with Great Britain and France as well as extension of the Anglo-French guarantee against aggression to protect the small Baltic states.

Many diplomats regarding Russia with her enormous fighting forces as the key factor in success or failure of the peace front, believed a compromise might be reached about these lines.

British and France would extend their anti-aggression guarantee, now applying to Poland, Rumania and Greece, to include representing the Seminole County Medical Society, at the convention in St. Louis, of the American Medical Society, Dr. A. W. Knox of this city was attending the sessions yesterday when the association proposed to seat a woman physician in its governing council and to let down bars to AMA membership among the nations 5,000 negro doctors.

Both moves would break precedents. Both are in preparation for a battle over how to spend wisely the tax money for medical care of the poor which the AMA has endorsed in principle.

The doctors' ideas of alleged waste, extravagance and political dangers in present congressional plans for socialized medicine, as stated in the Wagner Bill now in the Senate, were detailed in two resolutions, from Iowa and Virginia.

Because it is a critical time in the history of American medicine, said the New Yorkers, it is important that all physicians should unite in safeguarding the interests of the profession.

There are 4,000 to 5,000 women doctors in the country, many of them members of the AMA, but too restricted to be able to elect delegates to the governing house of delegates.

May fever victims, of whom Sanford has its share, will be interested to learn that a tiny pinch of potassium chloride salt may relieve their sweating, their chills, even their watering eyes. It does the trick, it is worth a million dollars to the one it helps. But don't try it without a doctor's advice. You might make one mistake too many.

Yesterday afternoon is getting to be a most suspicious occasion for me. I'm sitting on the porch, watching the birds, when I see a car loaded with several sign-carrying men on one side of the road to the other and driving as if they were in a hurry. I see a man in a suit, who seems to be in charge, and I see a man in a suit, who seems to be in charge, and I see a man in a suit, who seems to be in charge.

John Anderson quotes the words of a girl of eight who says "When my child is 15 I'm going to organize an anti-airplane league among my friends. I'm going to let somebody else take the blame for the children who are killed in the morning."

Florida's Highways

Although the State of Florida has spent some $200,000,000 on its highway system, it has a present valuation of only $150,000,000, and needs an additional $140,000,000 spent on it in order to bring it up to date, to repair roads and build new highways and bridges.

These are but a small part of the vast array of statistics and interesting facts with which Karl Lehmann bulwarked his talk on "Florida Highways" given at the Rotary luncheon yesterday. Mr. Lehmann said that every county in the state has some highway which it wants the State Road Department to build and which it believes is absolutely essential to its future growth and prosperity.

Five or six years ago we were of the opinion that with very few exceptions Florida had enough highways. We did not think that Seminole County was the only county in the state which needed any additional road building. We thought some more work should be done here, and we thought there were a number of other places in the state where main line roads should be rebuilt. But by in large, we thought Florida had done about enough road building.

But what we believed to be true then is certainly not true today. For one reason the old roads are wearing out much faster than we thought they would. And they are wearing out faster for a very good reason. The traffic on them is heavier and it is increasing every year. Not only are there considerably more cars using our highways today than five or six years ago, but the weight of individual vehicles, such as trucks, is tremendously greater in many instances.

This increase in the number of automobiles, as well as the constantly increasing use of the highways by truck lines, is not only wearing out the old roads, but is also making for a congestion of present highways which is dangerous and inconvenient. One is often delayed for hours in the vicinity of the larger cities by traffic jams which could be easily avoided by the re-routing of roads, and the number of highway accidents which this congestion causes is simply appalling.

Time was when a nine-foot road to Orlando was a luxury which more than sufficed the limited needs of that day. One didn't meet another car more than three or four times on the entire trip, and then it was a simple matter to take to the woods, stop your car and wait for the other to pass. Nowadays this seems like a crude and antiquated practice.

In the years to come this condition will get steadily worse unless adequate provision is made for the maintenance and extension of Florida's highways. More and more of our home people who have never had cars before will be driving them. More and more tourists are coming into Florida by automobile each year. The highways are becoming more congested, and they are wearing out faster than ever.

It should be perfectly clear that something has got to be done about it.

Do You Know?

Although we have never met a person yet who would admit that he was superstitious, we have met a good many who apparently held superstitious beliefs. "No, I am not superstitious," says the man who then goes on to tell you about some strange happening which he saw with his own eyes.

In order to test your own reactions to superstitious beliefs, try yourself out on a few of the following questions. If you answer most of them wrong, you are pretty apt to be just a little bit superstitious anyway. These questions, together with their correct answers were prepared by Harold Hart for the New York Herald Tribune:

Do you believe that bats are blind? Bats are not blind. They have small but very keen eyes which serve them well, according to "Wonderland of Knowledge."

WHO CALLED TEXAS THE 'LONE STAR' STATE?

Legislators Look Toward 3 Sources For New Revenues

(Continued From Page One) ever, would not be used for pensions. All of the revenue would be applied to replace money now raised by state, county and municipal ad valorem property taxes.

The table in the audit showing revenue for the eight seasons of legal racing supports Governor Cone's assertion that the natural increase in revenue should be ample to take care of increased costs of operation. The first season, that of 1931-32, returned $737,300 in revenue. Each season since then has shown a substantial increase to an all-time high this year of revenue amounting to $2,000,738.

Do you believe that a cold key on the back of the neck will help to stop a nosebleed? According to Dr. Morris Fishbein, "it will not help particularly, except to distract attention."

Do you believe that an intestinal tapeworm causes excessive appetite? Dr. A. A. Thomen in "Don't Believe It," says this is merely a myth.

Do you believe it never rains in the Sahara Desert? Well, it does. The Encyclopaedia Britannica says so.

Do you believe that Nightingales sing only at night? "A Dictionary of Birds" says, "The Nightingale is justly celebrated beyond all others for the admirable vocal powers it exercises at all hours of the day and night."

Do you believe that it is not safe to leave canned foods in cans after opening? Another myth. "Food will spoil no faster or no slower in the open can than in any other open container," Mr. Hart quotes another authority.

And so it seems that many of the things which we are inclined to believe, may have believed all our lives, are not true. It is like certain words which we may have mis-spelled, or mispronounced, for years. The best way to be sure is to look them up.

Clyde Line Offers Big Inducement To See World's Fair

Simultaneously with the opening of the World's Fair, the Clyde Mallory Lines, through its district passenger agent, William B. Clements, has announced new fares between Florida ports and New York City during the summer months, based on approximately one and one-half of the one-way fare for the round trip, effective May 1 and until Dec. 15.

The fares will carry a limit of 60 days, with a lower limit of 8 months at slightly higher cost and will include stateroom accommodations and meals, and a further and substantial reduction for superior accommodations, including outside rooms; some with private toilet and shower; others with twin or double beds, tub bath and shower and private toilet. A wide variety of accommodations are available on all steamers.

Gov. Cone Orders Halt In Payment Of Appropriations

(Continued From Page One) 100,000 for nine-month terms in the public schools. That amount will be provided annually for the next two years, or a total of $4,200,000, if the Legislature votes it and Governor Cone approves it.

The committee vote was 12 to 5, although Chairman Lewis of Gulf said the State faces a deficit of nearly $4,000,000 a year on the basis of present revenues, known requirements and new appropriations already voted by the 1939 Legislature.

Public school leaders and representatives of labor organizations endorsed the extra amount, which is based upon $180 for each teacher unit. They did not answer questions from committee members about where the money should be obtained in tax levies, but they promised co-operation and support in any financial program the Legislature lays down.

Colin English, State superintendent of education, told the Appropriations Committee, "It is our duty to know what is necessary for the schools to operate, and it is your duty to decide when to do it."

Expenditures In WPA Probed By Group In House

(Continued From Page One) law limits such outlays to 5 percent. Shillito testified that, in addition to 1,119 persons carried on the rolls as administrative employees, there were 1,200 assigned to what was known as the "State supply fund project." The latter actually joined in administrative general operations of the WPA, he said, although they did not get annual leave nor sick leave, as did those on the administrative payroll.

The investigator produced a State WPA order of last December 10, 1938, dealing with the supply fund project, which referred to the board of education at Canton, Ohio, on July 11, 1938, and by David K. Niles, another Washington official of the WPA, on July 23, 1938. Hopkins, formerly WPA administrator, is now secretary of Commerce.

Sheriffs are paid $50 and mileage for traveling from their courthouses offices to the State prison at Raiford for executions.

Representative Strayhorn said Nathan Mayo, commissioner of agriculture and head of the State Prison System, told him payments to an official executioner would not exceed $25 for each execution. A bill requesting the designation of certain Seminole County roads as part of the State highway system was introduced in the House by Representative H. J. Lehman and Leonardy.

The bill, if passed, would entitle Seminole County to continued repayments from the gasoline tax revenues of the County's expenditure for these roads.
