Sanford is Center For Distribution of Many Products

Latest is General Lead Battery Co., Through Hof-Mac of This City

Sanford continues to grow as a distributing point for the state. It is interesting to note that the General Lead Batteries Co., of Newark, N. J., have selected this point for their new jobbing connection. Heretofore their Titan Batteries have been handled in this territory by the Western Electric Co., but with the recent change the Hof-Mac Battery Co. take the distributorship for the entire state. There is no gainsaying the fact that the strategic position of Sanford as a shipping point is second to none. With her water shipping facilities for importing her goods for distribution especially from the Atlantic seaboard and her radiating railroad lines her future in this direction is assured. Continual testimony to this is constantly in evidence when we see the growing colony of wholesale firms here. Coming events cast their shadows and when one of the largest independent battery manufacturing concerns look to this point for their state-wide distribution it is safe to predict Sanford's future as a wholesale center. The Hof-Mac Battery Co. is to be congratulated on its new connection though successful moves on the part of this energetic new concern seem a matter of course. Organized just four months ago by James F. Magee who for some years represented a well known rubber company in Florida, and with W. D. Hoffman, with his wide fund of electrical experience handling the technical end their success is assured. Such firms as these are the builders of the future Sanford.

JACKSON DAY CELEBRATED AT DAYTON, OHIO

JAMES M. COX TOLD DEMOCRATS SOMETHING OF INTEREST LAST NIGHT

(By The Associated Press) DAYTON, Jan. 26.—James M. Cox, Democratic candidate for president in 1920, and former governor of Ohio, last night told Democrats gathered here at a Jackson Day banquet, that their party stands just where it did "when the votes were counted" and is "ready for the next fight." Public opinion, he declared, has steadily borne the destiny of America nearer each day to the seat of the League of Nations at Geneva.

In his first public address since the campaign of 1920, Mr. Cox assailed the policies of the present administration, condemning the work of the Washington armament conference, declaring that America had refused to accept world leadership and that financial depression was due to the "treachery of Lodgeism." Thousands of Republicans, he declared, "now realize that the leaders of their party in the making of policy . . . have profaned the soul of Abraham Lincoln for the spleen of Henry Cabot Lodge."

Pope Laid to Rest, Impressive Ceremonies at St. Peter's Today

(By The Associated Press) ROME, Jan. 26.—Pope Benedict was entombed with solemn but impressive ceremony this afternoon. Kiwanians, Builders, Have Bully Meeting

(From Thursday's Daily) Characteristic of the bunch, the regular luncheon meeting today at the Valdez, started off with a big punch. A sextet composed of late arrivals—Dr. Brownlee, Perry Jernigan, Frank Akers, Schelle Malnes, Prof. McKay, and Howard Smith set the ball in motion by singing the recent song hit—Liza Jane, with over fifty Kiwanians joining in the chorus. Mr. and Mrs. Cash, and Mr. and Mrs. Vincent, of the Earl Hawk players were guests, as was J. E. Ruby, a Kiwanian, of Madisonville, Ky. Mr. and Mrs. Vincent each rendered a vocal solo, with Mrs. Cash accompanying. Mr. Ruby addressed the club and brought greetings from his club in Madisonville.

The speaker of the day was J. C. Hutchison, who spoke for ten minutes, using as his theme the slogan of "Sanford—The City Substantial." Mr. Hutchison brought much information in regards to the marketing of our products and appealed that the confidence now established between buyer and seller be strengthened even more by standardizing our packages and brands.

Information was given out that the local club's charter would arrive very shortly and already great doings are being planned on Charter night, when the sun goes down and the moon comes up Sanford and Kiwanis will shine.

Eh, What's the Joke?

This little pig is laughing because he won't have to go to market for a while. When he does go he will be a big hog and 1800 others will go with him. They're tenants on the 2000-acre farm of S. F. Bign, famous English game fowls. The girl is a "head girl," many of these war veterans being employed on the farm.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS WILL CONVENE AT JACKSONVILLE TODAY FOR MANY BIG THINGS

Women's Activities Under the New Order of Things Taken Up

(By The Associated Press) JACKSONVILLE, Jan. 26.—The second annual convention of the Florida League of Women Voters opens here tonight and continues until noon Saturday with Mrs. J. B. O'Hara, of Lake Worth, president, presiding. The executive board held two sessions today, one in the forenoon and the other in the afternoon. Speakers at the initial open session tonight will be Perry Wall, Tampa; Frank E. Jennings, Jacksonville. Senator Park Trammell and William Jennings Bryan are scheduled to speak tomorrow night.

JACKSONVILLE, Jan. 26.—Women's activities under the new order of things will run the entire gamut of discussion at meetings here the latter part of this week of prominent women from all parts of the state.

The Florida League of Women Voters under the presidency of Mrs. J. W. O'Hara, of Lake Worth, will convene its annual meeting Thursday morning to continue through Saturday afternoon. Immediately after its adjournment the Legislative Council of Women's Organizations of Florida under the chairmanship of Mrs. W. S. Jenning of Jacksonville, will meet for the adoption of a constitution, bylaws, etc., and the consideration of plans of financing the organizations work.

Review of its accomplishments since its organization last year and plans for the future will be the principal business of the convention. Apparently unfounded rumors to the effect that some political booms might be started at the convention are wholly without a possibility, leaders of the organization have declared, emphasizing that the organization is strictly non-political insofar as candidates or parties are concerned. The organization's mission is to encourage interest among the women in the government and to educate them in their newly acquired rights but there the organization's work stops, the leaders say.

LUTHER ADVERTISES AND GETS RESULTS FOR HIS FIRM

J. P. Luther the advertising manager of the Churchwell Company is well pleased with the opening sales and the week's business of this new firm that has ten stores in Georgia and have recently opened one here. Mr. Luther has been with the Churchwell Company for the past 12 years and it can be said of him that he literally grew up with this business. He is a real advertising man and his advertisements in the Daily Herald prove it. He can tell many tales about all kinds of advertising but he believes that good newspaper advertising with the right goods and the right prices will bring home the bacon every time. The Churchwell Co., put on an advertising stunt last winter at Fitzgerald and Moultrie in which they gave away 100 turkeys and they are always looking for something out of the ordinary to attract the attention of the people but they know from past experience that the live daily that has the circulation is the medium through which they get the best results. The Churchwell buyers will go to New York soon where they maintain an office all the time with buyers on the job to keep up with all the latest styles and goods and they will give the Sanford people the benefit of the experienced business at the center of the wholesale business of America.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—(By The Associated Press.)—The air of President Harding has been enlisted by the arms delegates to bring Japan and China into agreement on Shantung.

Taking a direct hand in the Washington negotiations for the first time, the president today urged the Chinese to accept the latest compromise offer and thus remove from the field of controversy a subject which has become a serious barrier to the progress of the whole conference.

Whether the move is to succeed appears to rest largely with Peking. The Japanese already have indicated informally their willingness to make the principal concessions proposed, and the president approached the Chinese only after the Japanese ambassador had informed the state department that his government was ready to accept a tender of good offices.

The statement plan sponsored by Mr. Harding deals only with the return of the Tsingtao-Tsinanin railroad substantially all other questions having been agreed upon in the separate exchanges between the Japanese and Chinese. Under the proposal Japan would abandon her proposition for a loan to China, and the latter would purchase the road with treasury notes payable at option five to fifteen years hence, China would receive possession within five years, but would withdraw her opposition to retention of a Japanese traffic manager and chief accountant during the period of payment.

GREAT HARPISIT COMING WILL BE AT ORLANDO FRIDAY JANUARY 27TH

It has been a long while since an announcement of an event has caused so much lively interest as the recent announcement that Alberto Salvi, the phenomenal harp virtuoso, is to appear in Orlando on January 27th.

Of the playing of this young genius critics have been almost lavish in their praise, speaking of him as a revelation because he overcomes what have been considered practically impossible obstacles in technique. His playing has been characterized as nothing short of amazing.

In addition to this almost "super-human technique," he has discovered new effects and undreamed of beauties in the harp. Furthermore, he possesses, in the words of critics, "the power to make his audience forget harp and music and to think of great orchestras, multitudes of voice and great tragedies, so broad and sweeping are his masterful interpretations." In short, he is a "Weaver of Dreams."

THE GREATEST PICTURE OF THE AGES COMING

TO THE STAR THEATRE TOMORROW AND SATURDAY "THE BIRTH OF A NATION"

"The Birth of a Nation," D. W. Griffith's message spectacle is coming to the Star Theatre Friday and Saturday of this week and is the largest and most important production of the decade, yet not a word is spoken throughout the performance of nearly three hours. Music supplies the absence of speech, mechanical effects and realism, whilst the wizard of the screen, David W. Griffith, unfolds in 12,000 feet of film the thrilling romance of the War between the states and the reconstruction of the Southland. Some idea of its magnitude may be had from the fact that 18,000 actors and 3,000 horses took part and that the staging of this great "outdoor" drama cost half a million dollars.

Several of the actors are of Southern lineage. Henry Walthall, who plays the heroic role of the little Confederate Colonel, is a member of the well-known Walthall family of Alabama. Miriam Cooper, who appears as Margaret Cameron, is a direct descendant of Charles Carroll, the Maryland signer of the Declaration of Independence. Mr. Griffith is the son of a Brigadier General of the Confederate army.

For every character, however small, Mr. Griffith has found just the personality needed. After that his masterly direction made each one give a perfect characterization of the widely varying roles. The result was not acting but life itself. Such realism is never seen on the old-fashioned stage. The limitations of the theatre was swept away for nature was Mr. Griffith's stage.

Seats are now selling at Bower & Roumillat's drug store. Make your reservation early.

Beauty and the Ballot

Someone who is running for office in Missouri has announced that he's going after the feminine vote by handing out jars of cold cream.

That's what we call flirting with disaster. No man who undertakes to win an election on a platform of wrinkle eradication—and fails to make good—need ever show himself in public again.

And it's in Missouri, too, where they have to be shown! That boy's due for some other kind of jars—besides cold cream ones.

He'd better be pretty sure of the stuff before he starts passing it around. We hope he has a wife or something he can try it out on.

A campaign cigar never won an election and it never lost one. The worst it can do is to cause a decent citizen a half hour's annoyance. But when a woman gets cold cream she expects results.

A man who promises to beautify a city can forget all about it after he gets in office, but a man who promises to beautify a citizenette has got to watch his step.

Standing on a platform of "no wrinkles; no double-chins, and no obesity," he's got to make good; otherwise the dear girls will put a crimp in him, the double-chins will decide they have been double-crossed, and the fat—figuratively speaking—will be in the fire.

Let's not start this business of mixing beauty and politics.

Otherwise we may wind up with a president of the United States who delivers messages instead of messages.

AGRICULTURAL SITUATION CONFRONTING COUNTRY TAKEN UP AT MEETING

Will Organize Formal Committees and Proceed SPECIAL SUBJECTS

HAVE BEEN ASSIGNED THEM AND UNDERSTOOD THAT IMMEDIATE STEPS BE TAKEN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Further discussion, through formal addresses of agricultural situation confronting the country was undertaken today by the National Agricultural Conference when it resumed its session. At the conclusion of the open session it was planned to organize formally committees and have them proceed to consideration of special subjects assigned to them.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Immediate relief must be given the farmers in the present agricultural crisis, delegates to the national agricultural conference which convened here yesterday were told by speakers representing every phase of the industry. President Harding, who opened the conference with an address, Secretary Wallace, farmers and representatives of industries dependent on agriculture emphasized the seriousness of the situation and suggested remedies.

The remedial measures outlined by President Harding and subsequently endorsed by many of the speakers included more adequate financial facilities, especially working capital, for the farmer on long time loans to provide for his turnover, extension of the co-operative marketing, buying and loan associations of farmers; development of waterway transportation and power possibilities; more efficient machinery for collecting and distributing market information including the demand and consumption outlook, development of the St. Lawrence-Great Lakes waterway project, and assurance to agriculture of equality of opportunity with all other industries.

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 24.—Col. T. J. Appleyard, state printer, has purchased what is known as the "armory lot" opposite the capital at the corner of Monroe and Pensacola streets and has announced that he will erect on the property a large building to house a modern printing establishment. An architect already is at work on the plans, Col. Appleyard stated, and it is expected that work on the structure will begin about March 1. It is hoped to have it completed before the end of the summer.

REPUBLICANS IN CAUCUS ON BONUS BILL

REPORTED THAT SOME MEMBERS INSISTING ON PASSAGE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Call for a caucus Thursday night of republican members of the house on the soldier bonus question was issued today. Immediate action on an adjusted compensation bill has been demanded by a group of members who were in the military service during the war.

At the Thursday night conference they plan to offer a resolution instructing the ways and means committee to proceed at once to draft a bonus measure. The resolution also will provide that when reported to the house the measure is to be the continuing business until passed.

House leaders said no effort would be made at the caucus to instruct the ways and means committee as to how it should provide for the raising of necessary revenue. That question will be determined, it was said, by the committee with the probability that the republican membership later at a caucus will take a stand on the plan proposed.

Data upon possible new methods of taxation with which to raise funds for a bonus, has been prepared by the treasury department, it was said today, for the information of congress.

Officials of the treasury said, however, that the department would await requests for such information before transmitting it to congress. At the same time it was said that the treasury's position with regard to the advisability of a bonus for veterans of the world war was unchanged, the enactment of compensation legislation under existing conditions being viewed with disfavor.

In the event a bonus bill is enacted, treasury officials said some tax would have to be provided to take care of it.

Use of the allied debt as a basis for bonus financing was said to be regarded as impracticable.

In the opinion of the treasury, high officials, said, it would cost more to raise the money for a soldier bonus from the sale of bonds based on the debt of the allied nations than it would to float the country's own obligations.

Data compiled by the treasury for the information of congress was understood to cover various fields of possible taxation without however, considering a sales tax as a practical solution of the problem of getting money to pay a bonus.

Has New Ideas About Marriage That May Revolutionize the World

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—(By The Associated Press).—Elsie Hill, one of the leaders of the National Woman's Party confirmed today reports of her marriage to Albert Levitt, professor in the University of North Dakota and in doing so announced she would not change her name. "There is no law to insist on it and it is only custom that leading people do it at all at this time. I think it would be inconvenient to change my name. Of course if people call me Mrs. Levitt I will not make an issue of it but I intend to keep my name for all legal matters, visiting cards and so forth."

ALLIED DEBT REFUNDING BEING DEBATED IN SENATE McCUMBER URGES LENIENCY

Says That the United States Should Not Assume Role of Shylock

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The fight over the allied debt refunding bill broke yesterday in the senate, with Senator McCumber, Republican, North Dakota, in charge of the measure, pleading that the United States "not play the role of Shylock in dealing with its allies" and the Democrats opposing the proposed grant of authority to the debt commission to fix the time when interest payments shall begin. The first day's consideration of the measure saw only the completion of the opening statement by Senator McCumber, as chairman of the finance committee, who was subjected to a rapid cross fire from the minority side. Today Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, ranking Democrat on the finance committee, will open the minority attack and general debate will follow. Republican leaders hope to press the bill to a vote by the end of the week.

"The Man Who Sells Dirt Cheap" Watch the South East Corner of Page Two

STILL HUNTING FOR EASIER JOBS.

Within two weeks a resident of this city overtook a young man on the road some three miles to the southward and offered to pick him up and bring him as far as Kissimmee. The offer was gladly taken. The young fellow, evidently under twenty-five, had neither grip nor pack, was ill-clothed, and sadly needed dry-cleaning and pressing. He stated that his home was in Massachusetts where he was employed in a shoe-factory, but because of "some labor conditions" he had quit and made the trip to Florida. He was then walking back.

Such is the fate of many who come to Florida to find an easy snap. All this young fellow knew to an exactness was the making of shoes—yet he gave up a job because of a slight lessening of pay and made a trip to a location thousands of miles from a shoe plant because of a mistaken idea that everything would fall to him and he would have an easy time. The man recognized his mistake—yet he will leave the state with a bitterness in his heart regarding the residents here. No doubt he will always condemn Florida—merely because he failed to tumble into some lucrative position.

He was old enough to have understood that good positions in Florida—as well as in all other states—come only to those who have demonstrated their ability to fill such situations. He was old enough, also, to have saved some of the high wages he had been receiving during the "get-rich-quick" years to tide him through the era of reconstruction and into the years of normal conditions. And, again, he was old enough to have learned that "half a loaf is better than no bread"—that a man can so arrange his affairs to ensmall his outgo when his income is lessened.

There are men in Florida today who have made wages in the past few years of from fifty to eighty dollars a week. Today they are willing to accept in this state a situation which will pay their board and leave them a little for extras. They are of many trades—and no doubt are good workmen; but, led astray by the phantom of a maximum of pay for a minimum of labor they thrust behind them the probabilities of luxuries and followed off after the possibilities of necessities.

And that is what is making hardships in all walks of life at the present moment!—Kissimmee Gazette.

THE JUNE PRIMARIES

While this is an off year in elections more than the usual interest centers in the June primaries especially in the selection of county representatives in the next legislature, where changes are to be made. Issues that are certain to come at the next session of the legislature are vital to Florida, a growing and prospering state. Among these will be tick eradication, no-fence law, highway development, changes in methods of taxation, capital removal and reappointment.

But even more interest, perhaps, centers in the nomination of the United States senator, Senator Trammell's term expiring next year. So far no names other than those of Mr. Trammell, to succeed himself, and William Jennings Bryan. The Pensacola News, in a recent issue, makes the prediction that Mr. Bryan will be a candidate, and suggests that if he does Florida will see one of the liveliest campaigns in its history.

The News says it has learned, in devious ways, that Mr. Bryan has declared that he will make the race if there is sufficient demand for it.

The Jacksonville Observer also has declared that Mr. Ryan would no doubt prove a highly acceptable candidate to a large number of Florida citizens and disposes of any question of his eligibility to office by citing the case of Frank Clark who was, to all intents and purposes, a citizen of Oklahoma when he was elected to congress from Florida.

If Mr. Bryan does decide to aspire to represent the state in the Senate it will be puzzling to many to know on just what kind of a platform he will stand—what issue will be made that would give him preference over Senator Trammell. Both Mr. Trammell and Mr. Fletcher voted for the prohibition issue, which is settled, and so far as we have been able to conjecture there are no big issues on which Florida's senators have offended the electorate of the state. And the native son, surely, may well count that he starts the race with light weight and the best of the start.—Palatka News.

HOW ABOUT THIS?

There is really no set rule for conducting a newspaper—Except to print all the news which, in the editor's opinion, is fit to print—

And to tell the truth. There's considerable difference between brands of editors, And that is why one man may cut down on space Regarding some special article, Where another man "pads" it And gives it a "big head."

There is no editor, however, Who does not sometimes err; And no editor, however old, Or how long in business, Will ever make the claim That he knows it all. Yet the contents of a paper Rests entirely with one head. A newspaper is like a menu—It covers much ground—Yet all its contents Are not strongly admired By every individual patron. Mr. A will suggest That all politics be taboo; Yet Mr. B will advise Writing more political dope And slashing down All the society stuff.

Mrs. C says she always "Dotes" on the social page But hates tales of accidents, And wishes those annihilated. Mr. D would eliminate All the religious notices And have that same space Given over to sporting events— While Mrs. E declares That sporting news is lowering And she would much prefer That entire sermons be printed. Mr. F vows that all tales Of crimes and casualties Carry a lowering influence And should be censored; While Mr. G strongly maintains That the way to stop wrong is to plainly show it up. And so goes the gay life— That of a newspaper editor. Call in a score of people To censor from their views The contents of any paper As it was going to press— With the columns all filled— And allow each visitor to Blue-pencil what he'd delete Or suppress or censor, And two-thirds of the columns Would be entirely blank And the remaining articles Would be about as insipid As a glass of home-brew Left uncovered over night. People, as a whole people, Must take the entire menu And pick out what they wish; And editors will continue To give interesting news— Unbiased, unafraid, undictated. Statements written truthfully Never harmed a righteous cause, But have very frequently Caused betterments of conditions. Men have suffered financially Because they told the truth; But they suffered far more From a moral point of view Whenever they endeavored To "Pass the buck," And essayed to carry water Upon both shoulders. The proper and sensible way In which to run a paper Is the same as the way To conduct any business— Give the public the best In every possible line; Be frank, free, fearless; Keep every agreement And respect every patron; Licksittle to no one— And always give the best That it is possible to get. Yassum.

I thank you. —Thorn in Kiss-Gaz.

DOES PROHIBITION PROHIBIT?

Has prohibition proved a success? The answer depends largely upon the point of view of the person to whom the question is addressed. You will find individuals who will insist that it has been an unqualified success. They point to the abolition of the open saloon in confirmation to their position, and it seems a good point. They acknowledge, much bootlegging, but they point out that it is all under the ban of the law, that the drinker and the manufacturer, are both law breakers and subject to penalties when caught, and they insist that many are being caught by the vigilance of the prohibition army, which cannot be denied.

On the other hand there are those who insist that prohibition has been an absolute failure; that there is more drinking than ever before; that so far as enforcement of the law is concerned, there is no such thing, for any man wants liquor can get it anywhere in the country if he "knows the ropes." They claim it has diminished the respect for law, and made a nation of law breakers; they claim it has made it more difficult to get good liquor, and forced the drinkers to turn to the moonshine stuff, which is always poisonous. The government has been deprived of needed revenue, respect for law has sadly decreased, and crime, inspired by the deadly concoctions to which the people have performed resorted has largely increased.

In view of this widely varying opinions, it becomes an interesting question as to where the truth is to be found. Manifestly it will not do to accept in toto the testimony that is offered by these interested witnesses. Each looks at the evidence from a biased standpoint.

The New York Herald has been making a nation-wide investigation of the question with a view to get at the actual facts, without prejudice to either party, and for lack of better evidence we give its conclusions below, leaving our readers to draw their own conclusions. The Herald article:

In one respect practically all of the reports received by the Herald in its investigation into the results of two years of prohibition agree. In nearly every part of the country there has been a marked decrease in crime in the last two years. A decrease in the number of insanity cases in some sections and, judging by court records, an improvement in domestic relations also is noted. Whether there has been an improvement in the general public health which can be traced to prohibition the record is not clear.

In considering crime statistics, however, confusing results from the general inclination to include invariably the statistics covering the "crimes" for which the prohibition law itself is wholly responsible; that is, the violations of the Volstead act and the state enforcement statutes, and at present the violations in some sections of the country are exceedingly numerous. Any table of statistics which included these violations would be somewhat misleading if taken as a guide to whether prohibition had reduced or increased crime. The Herald correspondent at Indianapolis puts the matter thus:

"It narrows down to the point of view on 'crime.' So far as arrests are concerned records shows that these have been approximately the same in Indiana under Volstead act as before it was put in effect, but the nature of the 'crimes' has differed. Bank robberies have increased and murders have decreased. Bootlegging arrests and convictions have increased several hundred per cent. Indiana dry before the Volstead act passed, but convictions for drunkenness have decreased several hundred per cent. In Indianapolis there is an average of six arrests daily for violation of the liquor laws."

It would be possible to give similar facts and figures for nearly every state in the country for, which very few exceptions, the reports received show the same general conditions. There are variations in degree, just as there are variations in the comparative "dampness" of the states, but the condition regarding major crimes and prison and almshouse populations appear to have improved substantially in the last two years.

Mr. Sanford Celery-fed Man, Daily Herald:

Impressed with your spicy feature in the issue of the 19th inst., especially your story of "Beauty and the Ballet," I will say the man in Missouri is not apt to get far with his scheme to give each of the fair voters a box of cold cream. In the first place it is not pleasing to the girls for any mere man to intimate that they need any cosmetic or beautifier whatever.

A much more effective plan was one I saw used a few years ago out in San Diego, Calif. As a guest of the Cabrillo club of that city and being present when several men were discussing the coming county election I was impressed with the assurance one of the candidates felt in his election.

When the party separated I got in touch with this man and asked him to tell me why he felt so dead sure of his election. Dropping his voice he said,

"If you will keep mum, I'll tell you my secret. I am an expert dancer. Oh I know exactly how to make a girl have a good time out on the floor. I attend every hop or ball in the county and where I am weakest, I have my friends to get up a big dance.

"When I get there and the music begins, I pick out the 'wall flowers' and you bet I see that they have the time of their sweet lives. When I take one to her seat, before starting out of the next, I slip one of my cards into the hands of my partner and the smile I get is all the assurance I want that I will not only get her vote, but she will go to the limit for me with every friend she has, male and female.

"I know all about it, for I have been doing this at every election since the ladies got the ballot and I get all the votes I need and some to spare."

The conference opened with approximately three hundred delegates representing agriculture in all its phases and industries relating to farming.

MOVIES AND THE SCHOOLS

Three thousand Chicago school children told about their movie attendance and tastes in response to a questionnaire sent out by Mrs. Estella L. Moulton, former chairman of the better films committee of the Illinois council of Parent-Teacher associations. Of these, 87 per cent attended from one to seven or more shows every week.

"I go to the movies nine times a week, every night and also in the afternoon on Saturday and Sunday," was the answer of one youngster to the query, "How many times a week do you go to the movies?"

"With several hundred of the children who responded to the questionnaire, attendance at the movies is a fixed habit," declared Mrs. Moulton. "Answers such as, 'I always go two times a week except in Lent; I never go in Lent,' and 'I always go every Friday night as there is no school the next day,' indicated the regularity of their movie-going. Indeed, Friday, Saturday and Sunday now mean attendance at the movies as definitely as Sunday used to mean attendance at Sunday school."

The question, "What kind of pictures do you prefer?" brought out a wealth of matter which reformers and statisticians may well ponder.

"The pictures I like best are those which scare you," "Good, sensible pictures where people are very poor and grow rich," "Guns and police wagons, because people are all sad and excited," "Travels with Buxton Holmes," "Mystery, but not too deep," "Lots of fighting when men are brave and fight for a girl," "Good books like Pollyanna," "How things are made, pictures of fisheries," and good western scenery," "Educational pictures like the Lincoln Highwayman," are types of the answers received.

The boy who said he went to the movies nine times a week doubtless saw every picture that came to his neighborhood, regardless of his preferences.

In order to determine the actual effect of the movies upon the school work of the pupils, teachers in six schools were asked to indicate the pupils who stood highest or lowest in scholarship and deportment in each room. The data compiled in these representative districts of the city showed that the 275 best pupils used 393 tickets in one week, whereas the 275 poorest pupils used 503 tickets weekly. Another item of interest brought to light by the questionnaire is that the children in the poor tenement districts attend the movies as frequently as the children in the best residential sections.

According to the data received, boys and girls in the six schools covered by the questionnaire spent $920 a week on the movies, making the total for the year reach the astonishing figure of $46,000.

After serving two years on the better films committee and giving close study to the motion picture situation as it affects school children, Mrs. Moulton says:

"The publicity given to surveys and discussions on this subject are arousing both parents and teachers to the vital need of improvement in the films on which boys and girls spend their leisure time. The educational shows for children which are now being given in many cities on Saturday mornings can be traced directly to the untiring efforts of the parent-teacher associations."—Tampa Times.

KEEP ON BUILDING

A warm friend of the Telegram takes exception to a recent editorial statement that Lakeland needs an indefinite increase in its housing facilities. In support of his view, he cites an instance of a man who has built a beautiful little bungalow but has not yet been able to find a cash buyer.

That looks like a practical demonstration, but it is not. It does not prove that the people do not need the new houses, but those who need them have not the ready cash to pay for them. If they had the money, they would build for themselves.

The need for more houses is evident from the present high rate of rents and from the number seeking and unable to find satisfactory quarters. At the same time there is need of better facilities for financing home owners. The new building association is popular and, we understand, it has applications for more than it will be prepared to loan for some time. But one association can not cover the whole field. Lakeland's financial affairs should be so organized that any reputable person, who is the owner of a clear lot, could borrow the money with which to build a house on it.

Experience shows that most of the cities of the United States have been built on that basis. The fault is not with Lakeland alone, but with the monetary affairs of the nation. At the same time, the need for housing is so imperative that Lakeland should do all it can to promote building, of course with full recognition of the only conditions under which the average citizen of small means can own his home.—Lakeland Telegram.

HELPING THE KNOCKERS.

Some Florida newspapers feel called upon to devote their columns at frequent periods to answering the tirades of the "knocking clan" which is ever busy berating Florida.

Nothing successful ever existed, whether it was a state or a city, or merely a man, which did not draw criticisms of itself and attract the venom of the confirmed "knocker."

Florida is a success—if it were not, the "knockers" would let it alone. There's no fun in "knocking" something which is already recognized as a failure. It's the thing which has succeeded against which these writers direct their shaft of sarcastic junk.

The Times ordinarily eschews resolutions and promises about the future. A newspaper lives in the active now and cannot venture backward into the past or tread lightly on the thin air of the future. Promises and resolutions are dangerous, for the future, with its shifting action, may bring the newspaper into a position of being forced to remain silent or stultify itself by breaking its promise and forgetting its resolution.

However, in this case, The Times believes that it might lead the way for some Florida newspapers by asking that they tentatively join in giving these "knockers" a dose of the silent treatment. The "knocker" dearly loves to be "knocked." He likes to see other folks in his business. He's about the only man of that disposition. But he does, nevertheless. If he finds his "knocking" propaganda is winning publicity for him, he cares little what the press may say. He gets before the public eye and he's better known the next time he appears in his favorite role.

Brother Florida editors, let's forget the "knocker" and let's refuse to pay attention to him in our columns. Better had we throw up a smoke screen of truth and a barrage of thousands of boosting facts that can be found within our state, until these "knockers" will be lost in the haze and forced to seek other targets for their attacks.—Tampa Times.

Our congressmen are getting active at Washington. We have received our regular package of garden seed and are especially grateful for the lettuce seed. Lettuce has been very scarce and very high here this season and we shall proceed to eat the lettuce seed at once. Thanks, awfully. If you have any new recipes for home brew send them along. The hogs are looking thin.

Bostain's of Tampa, serves grapefruit free with meals. A big advertisement for Florida. What must a visitor from out of the state think when he comes into the locality where grapefruit abounds and is forced to pay as much for it there as he does a thousand miles away. Every Florida locality should through some source in at least one hotel or restaurant, serve grapefruit free. It is not only healthful but it would be a big advertisement for the state.—Lakeland Star.

By the same token the Sanford restaurants could make some similar arrangements about serving celery hearts either free of charge or at so small a charge that the visitors would know they were in the greatest celery section of the world.

The farmers of this country are waking up. They are just beginning to realize that they hold the balance of power.

IN MEMORIAM.

Whereas, Our Heavenly Father in his great wisdom has called unto Himself our dear Sister, Mrs. Tressa Chapman,

Therefore Be It Resolved, that we the members of the Order of the Eastern Star of Seminole Chapter No. 2, do extend our loving sympathy to her dear family, and we do wish to express to them our fraternal love and how we shall miss her. She was a true and loving member with us and her life was a great inspiration to all that was noble and true.

There is no death
 Our friend but passed
 To brighter, happier spheres
 We miss her for she has worked with us
 In earlier, pleasant years.
 But Faith low whispers, we shall stand
 And meet her so loved again
 Upon the heavenly hills.
 Be It Further Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be recorded on a special page in the Secretary's book of our Chapter, a copy be sent to the Sanford Herald, and a copy be sent to her family.

PUBLIC FORUM

HOW TO BUILD UP SANFORD.

Dear Mr. Editor:

What that fellow wrote the other day about loyalty to Sanford and confidence, and all of that is all right. A lot of us fellows are boosters and we want to do all we can to make Sanford a great city, and yet we are human and like the other fellow we do not want to pay $1.50 for an article that we think and believe we get by ordering it out of town at $1.25. Of course, it is possible, and probable that if we went to the home merchant always with the cash in hand and sent the charge orders out of town, that we could buy as cheap at home as we could out of town. And this is something to take into account, for really I do not think it fair to buy on account at home and send our money away to strangers.

Anyway, Mr. Editor, I have decided to start the New Year off right. I am going to be a real booster for Sanford. Keep my money at home and pay cash as I go, or I won't go. And then, too, I have been thinking it over in a general way and I do not believe I ever heard of Sears, Roebuck & Co., Montgomery, Ward & Co., or any of those fellows ever contributing a cent to the upkeep of any of our home institutions, or even paying taxes or licenses to take our money away. A wonderful privilege, gratis, that I, you and our home merchants and business men must pay for. It isn't fair to home industry and home institutions, and I for one am against it, and I am going to do all I can to stop this thing. If money was wanted for our roads, our schools, our hospitals, the Woman's Club, the Children's Home or the church, we send to Sears Roebuck & Co., Montgomery Ward & Co., and other out-of-town institutions and people, who profit on our prosperity. Oh, no we don't. The subscription petition is first taken down one side and up the other of First street in Sanford, and usually the desired amount obtained.

You understand what I am talking about, Mr. Editor, I believe in helping the fellow who helps me, the fellow who is helping to build my town. It is a fact that should not be overlooked, that the home store is one, if not the prime institution necessary to the well-being and comfort of the community, and that efficiency is increased by the support and co-operation of the community. Give the home merchant your business, and you help him to give better service. You help him to keep what you call for and at lower prices. Another thing, if Sanford people could ever wake up and get wise to all of these get-rich-quick schemes, buying oil well stock, auto stock, crankless engine and hotel stock, wonderful money maker for the fellow who sells the stock, but at the expense of the fellow who buys and Sanford. There are genuine, profitable opportunities in Sanford for the citizen or man who has surplus cash. He can make his money work for Sanford, help build his town, put his money in the home institutions and home industry. There is no spot on Florida where the returns can be surer, safer or better than in Sanford homes, Sanford hotels, or rooming houses, or in the Sanford Building & Loan Association, an institution that has made a most enviable record, not only in the matter of returns to its stockholders, but in the amazing building accomplished for Sanford.

Mr. Citizen, put your money in Sanford industry and Sanford institutions and see your home town grow. Am I right? Think it over!
 YOUR COUNTRY FRIEND.

The League of Nations is assuming shape.

Ford has signed the Muscle Shoals contract. Congress had better do likewise.

Tampa Times says the lunch men have been warned to clean up. Good idea. So many of them look like they needed a bath.

Young couple at Palm Beach met in the morning and were married that night. They will probably be divorced the next day after their parents find it out.

St. Pete's bachelor mayor likes one-piece bathing suits, says the Orlando Sentinel. He must be a regular guy and for a bachelor he is certainly going some.

That alleged discovery of synthetic German gold has been found to be a fake. Something like the reparations we suppose and the idea that Europe would ever pay the United States in anything but synthetic gold. We paid our "sympthetic gold" and receive "synthetic gold."

The people or individual that started that run on a Georgia bank ought to be sent to jail for a long term where they could have time to learn that such reports maliciously circulated can cause trouble to any bank at any time. Such reports are always given credence by the public and like lighting a woods fire cannot be extinguished until the damage is done.

Burbank has just given the world seven new wonders in plant life. If he will discover a celery plant that will never have black heart, a lettuce plant that will not go to seed but will head up in warm weather and discover a plant that will pack itself and always go to the markets in good shape without any icing we will say "bravo" "uzza" and then some.

There are many big deals pending in Sanford just now—deals that cannot be made public for many reasons—but deals that will make Sanford a big city. Outside capital is coming in Sanford. It is up to the people of figure good returns on the investment in Sanford. It is up to the people of Sanford to look ahead far enough to realize that an optimistic spirit at all times will bring home the bacon while the narrow pessimistic spirit will keep the town back for the next hundred years.

Our idea of the Sanford restaurants serving celery during the celery season has met with instant response from the city at large. It would be a fine thing for Sanford to take up this matter and show the visitors that one city in Florida believed in advertising the Florida products. If Sanford is the largest winter vegetable section in the world and this has already been conceded, the visitor wants to see these vegetables on the tables at a reasonable figure or free if possible—this, of course, would have to be arranged between the Chamber of Commerce, the farmers and the restaurants. No business can be asked to give something away without the co-operation of all concerned. Newspapers are the only ones giving anything away and we would not ask other lines to do this.

All the hotels in Sanford were filled up last night and the S. R. O. sign was up early in the evening. This has occurred several times this season and only brings to mind again the fact that Sanford needs a big tourist hotel or additions on the hotels that we now have. It is true that many times the hotels are not filled but the tourist hotel idea is to fill them in the winter and take care of the people that mean so much to Sanford in many ways. We need a tourist hotel here and it would be a paying proposition from the start. This is the next big thing to start in Sanford. The golf links and country club are an assured fact and will be built by Sanford people.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP

Under This Head, Articles Pro and Con Regarding Municipal Ownership Will Be Published in the Herald.

The Reporter Star of Orlando is writing to other cities that have municipal owned plants to find out the rates, etc., and give the difference to the readers. The following from Macon will be interesting on the water question.

Dear Sir:—Yours of the 18th has my attention and in reply beg to state that the city of Macon purchased from private ownership on Oct. 1st, 1911 the water works plant only.

They do not own the gas and light plant, therefore the figures that I give you, of course, will mean only for the water plant.

At this point permit to say, in our humble judgment the city of Macon would be willing to float any amount of bonds that would be needed to buy the gas and light plant, which we believe would be a great saving as the records of the water works show.

The writer earnestly desires to see your water, gas and light plants municipally owned, as I am sure this is the best and quickest way for you to be able to sell to your citizens at a nominal cost and reasonable profit.

We do not request that our name be withheld from the public if it will mean anything to you, should the purchase be made we feel that we have done our city a great favor.

For instance on Oct. 1st, 1911 the city of Macon purchased by condemnation proceedings and arbitration the water plant paying $699,000.00 and issuing $900,000.00 worth of bonds as they desired a surplus of this amount $201,000 to make extensions and improvements to the plant.

Please note the purchase price and the price of the plant today and the amount of bonds retired. We retire them as follows. The plant Oct. 1st, 1911, our fiscal year ends at that time, was worth $1,463,026.37.

We retired $30,000.00 worth of bonds bearing interest at 4 per cent.

We have retired through Jan. 1st, 1922, $170,000.00 all of which is paid out of the earnings of the Water Works.

Our Water Board was created by an Act of Legislature—same is a commission composed of three commissioners elected by the people.

The price of water is somewhat less than it was when it was operated by private ownership.

We have established a rate both for meter and flat rate, which we feel is fair and equitable and we boast of this because we are furnishing water to our citizens at a lower rate than any city of our size in the state of Georgia, or perhaps in the immediate south.

We are now contemplating very seriously requesting a law to give our city the right to purchase the gas and light plant. We do not feel this matter will be resisted because it can be plainly shown that the benefits of the city can be enhanced by municipal ownership.

We are paid by the city for all usage of water, for flush tanks sewers, sprinkling carts, various public comfort stations, etc. The price paid is fixed by law around $33,000.00 per year.

The excavations in our street for the purpose making repairs, etc., made by the Water Board after getting a permit from the Engineering Department. When these repairs are made the city replaces the paving and the bill is made against the Water Board just as would be a private individual and we pay them by voucher.

The expense of laterals from our water mains are borne by the property owners. The meters are also bought by the consumer.

We have increased as you might see in the amount of dollars and cents—so we could more than double our pumping facilities, build reservoirs and new buildings, etc., than what we had when the purchase was made.

As to our financial condition as a commission I am proud to state we have made extension and improvements in large amounts and large contracts with a very nominal indebtedness. In financing our affairs the commission is able to do it at as low a rate as our banks receive—therefore you can see we are in a splendid financial condition.

If we can furnish you any records or information you will not find in the Auditor's report we are sending to you, we will be glad to do so.

Please be good enough to return this copy as soon as you have looked it over, or have finished with it. No hurry.

Wishing you every success in your new undertaking and believing you will be fully repaid for any step taken on buy the water, gas and light plants for your city, I beg to remain,
B. L. HENDRICKS.

GOLF LINKS ARE NEEDED FOR TOURISTS

PROMINENT VISITOR TO CITY SAID SANFORD SHOULD HAVE COUNTRY CLUB

If there is anyone in Sanford who does not believe in a new tourist hotel, in golf links and country club, in a boat basin and lake front improvements, in all kinds of amusement places for tourists let them talk to some of the really big men of the country who have been here this winter.

For instance, Mr. Ringling, who was here yesterday for the first time was carried away with Sanford and its wonderful possibilities. Asked what he thought of Sanford his instant reply was that it had everything that nature could give it but if Sanford wanted tourists it would have to build a boat basin, a pier and have a golf links and country club. It is what they all say and have been saying for years. It is what other Florida cities have discovered long ago and should cities that have gone ahead and made these improvements have benefitted by entertaining thousands of new people every year. Sanford has relied too much on the farming industry in the years past. The farming industry is all right and is the backbone of the country but the farming industry will take care of itself and needs neither advertising or support in a financial way except from the banks. What Sanford should become and what Sanford will become if the Sanford people can be interested sufficiently is a tourist resort.
