Indonesian War

Administration this year.
An Indonesian envoy, Dr. D. Soemlito, urged Undersecretary of State Lovett yesterday to give "serious consideration" to cutting off ECA dollars as a means of bringing pressure on the Dutch.
The Netherlands ambassador, Felix Van Kleffens, conferred with Lovett at the State Department today.

Van Kleffens told reporters there is "not an atom of truth" in a report put out by the Indonesian radio that the Republicans captured Jogjakarta.
American officials are concerned lest efforts to curb Communism in Southeast Asia have been dealt a body blow by the Dutch drive against the Republicans.

Lada Captured

harboring a fugitive.
The Army agents had kept watch on various places in Berlin where Lada had become known when he worked here after the war as a civilian employe of the Army exchange. The girl who gave him refuge was neither of the two who claimed he broke the Soviet blockade for their affections.

She is a friend of Ruth Rieck, mother of Lada's two-year-old daughter, Nancy, Col. Lancer said. The friends of both Ruth and Miss Ursula Schmidt, the second girl in Lada's tangled love life, were watched constantly since his escape.

The Army agents and military police returned Lada to the same stockade.

Military government summary judges expect to bring his illegal entry case to trial by next week. Whether the jailbreak charge will be incorporated, involving much stiffer punishment, has not been decided as yet.

Spy Probe

when he denied before a federal grand jury that he passed out government secrets to ex-Communist courier Whittaker Chambers.

Mundt said Duggan, who was an adviser to former Secretary of State Cordell Hull, was named by Isaac Don Levine, editor of the anti-Communist magazine Plain Talk in testimony on Dec. 8.

In a partial transcript of Levine's testimony, released by Mundt, the witness said Chambers had told former Assistant Secretary of State Adolf A. Berle, Jr., that Duggan was one of six persons in the State Department who allegedly had funneled out confidential information at various times.

Mundt, who revealed the transcript a few hours after Duggan's death, said "The testimony should speak for itself."

The Congressional committee had planned to question Duggan, Mundt said, but had refrained from calling him because it believed the federal grand jury in New York planned to call him in its twin investigation of espionage. Mundt did not mention the time of any possible grand jury appearance by Duggan.

Duggan apparently was alone in the office of the Institute of International Education at 2 West 45th Street when he plunged to the sidewalk just off 5th Avenue at 7:30 P. M., police said. No witness to his fall could be found. No note was left, and there was no sign of a struggle in the office, detectives reported.

Duggan's widow, Helen, was quoted by detective James Pritchard as saying her husband underwent an operation on his back last fall and apparently had recovered fully.

Duggan had on one galosh when his body was found. The other was in his office, along with his hat and coat.

Levine's secret testimony about Duggan, according to Mundt, was briefly this:

About 90 per cent of gonorrhoea cases can be cured with one injection of penicillin.

FOLKS CAN DO MUCH TO SHAPE THINGS AS THEY LIKE THEM DURING '49

While no one can foresee definitely what is going to happen in 1949, most of us will agree that we can do a great deal toward shaping things as we would like to have them if we begin the new year and carry on with hope and determination. Of course, there is the possibility that we may fail in some of our objectives, but certainly we will stand a better chance of success if we renew our hope and determine to correct our faults and improve our way of doing things.

Cryptographers Got Bad Jolt When They Learned Spies Stole Papers

By CLARKE BEACH

WASHINGTON—Government cryptographers got a bad jolt when they learned that decoded messages had been taken from the State Department files in 1937 and 1938 for delivery to Russian agents.

The microfilm documents which Whittaker Chambers hid in a pumpkin on his Maryland farm and then turned over to the House Un-American Activities Committee might have furnished priceless clues to foreign code experts.

Coded messages sent by radio or cable are usually intercepted by interested governments. If they can get possession of the same messages decoded, they can go a long way toward breaking an entire code system.

One or even several messages might not do it. A great many must usually be obtained and over a long period of time. For codes are frequently alternated—hourly, daily, monthly or yearly.

But any decoded message might fill in the final gap in a code-breaking job which might have been going on for years.

Breaking American codes would have been much easier before the war than now. Early in the war the State Department and armed services began to make a widespread use of code machines. With these a great many more code systems can be employed, and they can be changed more frequently.

Code making and code breaking is an aged old war between cryptographers and cryptanalysts. The former devise the codes, and the latter try to break them.

American cryptanalysts achieved a gigantic victory when they broke the Japanese and German codes before the last year. What they had done was revealed in the Congressional Pearl Harbor investigation in 1946.

After years of arduous effort they devised a machine which decoded messages that might have led the war for the Japanese. Next to the atomic bomb project it was perhaps the most secret operation of the war.

With the machine our government learned of Japanese preparations for the attack on Pearl Harbor and facts about Japanese activities which led to our victories in the Coral Sea and at Midway. It directed U.S. subs in attacks on Japanese convoys. It revealed the messages from the Japanese Ambassador in Berlin, sometimes telling what Hitler had said of his war plans.

The Japanese didn't change their code all during the war. It would have been difficult for them to do so because of the complexity of their language.

Whatever might have been learned of the American codes through the Chambers documents would have benefited a foreign power only for a limited time, since even then we changed our code systems at intervals.

Infinite precautions, moreover, are taken to keep coded messages secret. A first principle is never to let a copy of the code message be attached to or identified with the same message decoded. For highly secret messages, the code is as complex as possible, requiring the solution of a whole series of ciphers or codes before the message can be read in the clear.

Personnel in code rooms are the most carefully screened of any, and a great effort is made to keep the personnel turnover as low as possible. The staff is well paid and well cared for.

A large number of systems are employed. Some are simple, when the intention is only to temporarily prevent the general public from learning the content of a message. Some of the most important are one-time codes, understood by only a few persons and never used but once.

Practically any code can be broken, say the experts, if you have enough time and a large enough staff. But it isn't practicable when codes are being changed frequently. Also there are only a limited number of experts who can be put to work on any one problem.

Some cryptographic writings, like those of Roger Bacon, thirteenth century philosopher, have never been deciphered.

The experts distinguish between code and cipher writings. Code writing, strictly speaking, is based on handbooks containing words or letter groupings which have hidden meanings. Ciphers are devices by which hidden meanings are expressed in a plain text or a meaningless jumble of letters or figures.

The machines now in use of which scores have been patented are based on both systems. Like calculating machines, they do the

Boyle Says Snow Storm Was Low Low Grade 'Play'

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK, (AP)—Mother nature is slipping. She let the big city down this time.

Father Knickerbocker is again play by how many people crowded on the old boy wasn't knocked on his ear by the advent of winter this year, as he was 51 weeks ago.

Taken by Broadway standards, the great snow storm of last year, both was strictly a low-grade production. It should have been tried out first in New Haven, Boston or Philadelphia before being brought to the big time.

Granted it was the third deepest snow ever to fall here—19.5 inches. But you don't grade an actor's play by how many people crowded on to the stage. Nor do you judge a chicken by counting its feathers.

Compared to the high drama of the blizzards of 1947 and 1950, this year's snowfall was strictly vaudeville. Even at that it would never get top billing at the old Palace Theatre. It would be lucky to get a week at Loew's State.

Everybody in the Metropolitan area today feels cheated. Here they want the biggest and the best—nothing. And there is a widespread feeling that the storm failed dismally to live up to the Weather Bureau's advance publicity blarney. There were a lot of things wrong with it. For one thing it opened on a Sunday—a clean sign of mismanagement by someone. Who cares if it snows in New York on a Sunday? Everybody is already at home and up to his armpits in the Sunday newspapers.

And it was too well advertised. It lacked punch, drama, surprise. Even the dear old Long Island Rail Road, the commuter's delight, was ready and waiting. It only canceled 24 trains in the first 24 hours, and many a veteran rider will insist this makes it little different from a normal day.

The sanitation department, which a year ago was pretty much in the position of a beggar in the bottle of the little ice horn, this year got a head start. It had nearly 20,000 men out early, and almost as many snowflakes fell on them as on the streets. If we may stretch the point a bit:

Yes, sir, even a modest had to look hard to find a place to flounder.

Talk to a survivor of the famous job quicker and more accurately than people could do with pencil and paper.

The heavy makes wide use of code books—bound so tight that they can be thrown overhead in case a ship is captured or sunk. Armies in the field prefer ciphers, since the key is in the operator's mind and cannot fall into the enemy's hands. Higher headquarters, however, use code books or machines.

Code messages are also widely used in finance and trade, primarily because code words save space and money in wire and radio transmission. Most of them are based on code books in general circulation. Some companies, however, have cryptographers devise special codes for them. They pay as much as $100,000 for one code system.

storm of '88, and he says: "You call this paltry thing a snow? Why in '88 the snow piled up to second-story windows, and the east river froze clear across. You could walk on ice from the gas house district to Greenpoint in Brooklyn."

And as for a year ago, when the snow stacked up 25.8 inches before the weather bureau could say "thirty-thermometer" well! That was an eye adventure.

The long voyage home took some people more than 20 hours. Admiral Peary in his dash to the North Pole why he had it easy. In darkest Brooklyn they were trying to buy snowshoes. In the Bronx they were using skis. In the long history of man no race ever faced and won through such a weather ordeal as so the sons of the subway like to think.

That was a real four-star hit snow show. But today Spang Rockefeller has his ice pond already swept clear. Everybody has to come to work, because the damned transportation systems are working. The streets are just a lot of slush and non-sense. And so is the storm.

What caused it? Well, the taxi drivers, who know everything in New York, say: "It's the atom bomb. It changed the weather all around the world." In any case, American accept Graham's apology. We admit it was a lower storm. But watch us next year. We'll be back with a new one under better management. It'll be the biggest, deepest, longest, hardest, finest, wettest and best snowfall that ever fell on us.

Plans are already under way to use the Empire State building for a measuring stick. But as for the big snow of '48, let's forget it. Every producer comes up with a turkey sometime and this one is ours.

The next morning first in New York City winter weather is that there are in the night of that.

Hygiene experts warn with an ominous lull, that in the case of any and every outbreak of influenza as an external agent, it is the times and weather.

Whole blood for transfusion can be prepared for these uses in more.

Day and night, a train crosses in New York on the average of every 50 seconds.

Dick Bass Makes 2nd All-State Grid Combine

LEESBURG, Dec. 22. (AP)—Florida Sportswriters Association members, balloting for the annual Florida All-State high school football team, today gave J. L. (Poppa) Hall, brilliant Tallahassee back, and Kent Stevens, Orlando star, top rating on the mythical eleven.

Hall polled a few votes higher than Stevens but both far outclassed all other candidates. Bill Hinson, Miami's Jackson high school ace, and Hubert Brooks, star tackle of Hillsborough in Tampa, also polled a large number of votes.

The voting followed closely the recent selections for All-Southern with the exception that Ned Davis, West Palm Beach high back, did not poll sufficient votes to place him on the first All-State team. Buford Long, Lake Wales' top player last year, was the only repeater.

All State (first team): Ends: Fisher, Hillsborough; Tampa; Boshacky, Manland, Daytona Beach; Tackles: Brooks, Hillsborough; Tampa; Cain, Robert E. Lee, Jacksonville.

Guards: Connell, Lakeland; Millan, Plant of Tampa.

Center: McCombs, Andrew Jackson; Jacksonville.

Backs: Hall, Leon, Tallahassee; Long, Lake Wales; Stevens, Orlando; Hinson, Miami Jackson.

Second team: Ends: King, Vero Beach, Flowers, Orlando.

Tackles: Kesterson, Miami Senior High; Sauls, Miami Jackson.

Guards: Bass, Sanford; Marietta of Miami Senior High.

Center: Hardwick, Palm Beach.

Backs: Antone, St. Paul's, Jacksonville; Spicola, Hillsborough; Tampa; Jones, Lee, Jacksonville; Davis, West Palm Beach.

Auburn Defeated By Tide Five, 46-35

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 22. (AP)—Alabama's unbeaten Tide defeated Auburn Tigers, 46-35, last night when guard Pete Mangina scored a free throw in the last 30 seconds.

It was the second one-point loss for Auburn in conference competition. The Tigers lost to Mississippi State, 64-63, in their last start. Alabama downed Little Howard College, 38-37, last Saturday.

The action built up in last night's game after Auburn had taken an 18-13 lead in a slow first half. Alabama erased the lead after five minutes of the second half to go ahead by 19-13.

The lead was swapped back and

COMMENTS From The SIDELINES

By ARTHUR HECKWITH, JR., Herald Sports Editor
Clemson Tigers

The Gator Bowl football game appears on paper to be the top attraction of the many football bowl contests to be played on Jan. 1. But we believe the top attraction statement belongs only on paper, and will not figure in the final outcome of the New Year's Day contest in Jacksonville.

We believe Clemson, one of the major undefeated teams of the nation during the past football campaign, is one of the most highly over-rated teams the nation has ever had.

The Tigers have played a cream puff schedule, and are booming from training to Cliftonville as an outstanding club. It is true that it takes a pretty good team to go through any schedule without a blemish, but we believe that the teams played by Clemson were not of high enough caliber.

If Clemson goes through a schedule comparable to the one faced by Vanderbilt, Georgia Tech or Florida, then we would have been able to string along with the press releases written about the Tigers.

The South Carolinians played Presbyterian, N. C. State, Mississippi State, South Carolina, Boston College, Furman, Wake Forest, Duquesne, Auburn and the Citadel; while Vanderbilt played Georgia Tech, Alabama, University of Mississippi, Kentucky, Yale, LSU, Maryland, Tennessee and the University of Miami. Florida played a schedule including Mississippi, Auburn, Georgia Tech, Rollins, Furman, Georgia, Kentucky, Miami and Alabama, while Georgia Tech played Vandy, Tulane, Washington and Lee, Auburn, Florida, Duke, Tennessee, Alabama and Georgia.

Each of the four teams mentioned played Auburn, and each of them defeated the Plainsmen. Let's look at the scores of each game. Clemson just edged by the Alabama team by a 7 to 6 score. Florida defeated Auburn

South To Start 218 Pound Line In Star Contest

MIAMI, Dec. 22. (AP)—The South will start a line averaging 218 pounds per man against the North in Mahi Shrine's all-star football game in the Orange Bowl Christmas night.

Coach Andy Gustafson of Miami listed the South forward line today: Jimm Cain, 208, of Alabama, and Barney Poole, 224, of Mississippi, ends; Eric Settember, 236, of Miami, and Ray Richeson, 232, of Alabama, tackles; Philip Poole, 203, Mississippi, and Mario DeMarco, 204, of Miami, guards, and Gene Kinney, 206, of Maryland, center.

Gustafson said his squad was working well together but "we still need more running to make us ready as a team for the Hickman bunch."

Coach Herman Hickman's north squad had a hard day's work ahead of it. The genial Yale coach said he told his boys to get a good night's sleep "because from here on in the practice sessions are going to get rough."

"They're looking better every day," Hickman said. "I'm working them hard but they don't seem to mind it. Every player is taking personal pride in this game" but all want to look their best out there Christmas night.

AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor
NEW YORK—With the Olympics as a springboard the year saw minor sports events with a full schedule for the first time since prewar days.

Here's the alphabetical rundown in some minor sports, and a few that are big time in their own sphere:

AUTO RACING—Ralph Hepburn, 51, automobile racer, was killed when his car crashed into the wall during a test run for the 500-mile Indianapolis Memorial Day race. Mauri Rose won the race for the third time.

White Plains, N.Y., retained the three-cushion and 18.1 ballkline titles while Welker Cochran of San Francisco and Willie Mosconi of Philadelphia successfully defended their 18.2 ballkline and pocket billiards crowns, respectively.

BOATING—Danny Foster drove Allison Fallon's Miss Great Lakes to victory in the Gold Cup speedboat regatta on the Detroit River. Band Leader Guy Lombardo, driving his Tempo VI, broke his arm and wrecked his boat to avoid a collision. Ernest Wilbur of Canada of Ingersoll, Ont., piloted by his son Harold, won the Silver Cup speedboat test on the Detroit River.

Henry C. Taylor's Baruna scored for the third time in the Newport-Bermuda yacht race. The International Golden Cup for six-meter yachts was retained by the US with Briggs Cunningham skippering George Nichols' Goose to victory over the Swedish challenger Maybe VI, and Norway's Elisabeth K on Long Island Sound. The US also retained the Seawanhaka Cup when Llanoris, skippered by Herman Whitson, defeated Maybe VI. F. M. Temple of Toledo led his sloop Avilion to victory in the Snyder Trophy race around Lake Ontario.

BOB SLEDDING—Despite evidence of tampering with the United States sled, the team of Francis Tyler, Pat Martin, Ed Rinkus and Bill D'Amico won the Olympic winter games at St. Moritz.

BOWLING—Andy Varipapa of Hempstead, N.Y., was voted the "male bowler of the year." Mrs. Val Mikiel of Detroit won the women's award. In the ABC tournament at Detroit, Lincoln Prutch of Akron took the singles crown while Ned Day of West Allis, Wis., won the all-events title.

DOGS—Champion Rock Ridge Night Rocket was best in show at the Westminster Kennel Club 72nd annual fixture in Madison Square Garden.

HOCKEY—The Toronto Maple Leafs were the class. They won the National League crown and beat the Detroit Red Wings four straight in the Stanley Cup playoffs. League president Clarence Campbell, after investigating gambling charges, expelled Billy Taylor of the New York Rangers and suspended Don Gallinger of the Boston Bruins.

A dispute between the AAU and AHA hockey factions threatened

For a time to halt the Olympics. Before the year closed the two groups agreed to name a joint committee in an effort to work out amateur hockey problems for the future.

ICE SKATING—Dick Button, 18, of Englewood, N.J., became the first American-born athlete to win the men's figure skating crown at the Winter Olympics. Barbara Ann Scott, 20, of Ottawa, won the women's Olympic, European and world titles and turned professional.

POLO—Laddie Sanford's Hurricanes won the National open crown. No interruption of matches were held due to the expense involved in transporting foreign players and polo ponies.

ROWING—Washington's Huskies dominated the Poughkeepsie Regatta, winning the varsity, jayvee and freshman events. The California crew won at the Olympics. John B. Kelley, Jr., of Philadelphia won the national regatta and singles in the Olympic trials but bowed in the Olympics.

SHOOTING—Police Sgt. Harry Stevens of Detroit, retained the US title crown while Arthur Cook, 20, Maryland University junior from Washington, won the national rifle title. John Sehenk of Sharpsburg, Pa., won the Grand American handicap trapshoot and Ed Castanedo of Shreveport, La., was crowned champion of clumpions. The women's titles went to Mrs. Julius Pretty of Stuttgart, Ark., and Mosele Cameron of Denver.

SKIING—Mrs. Gretchen Fraser, 28, Vancouver, Wash., housewife, was the only US ski winner at the Winter Olympics.

SWIMMING—Eight of 31 records approved as American marks were recognized as world standards. They included two by Joe Verrier, breaststroker representing the Brighton-Drake S.C. of Atlantic City. Other marks were set by Alan Ford, Keith Carter and Allen Stack. Among other outstanding male swimmers were Jimmy McLane, Walter Ris and Bill Smith. Dr. Sammy Lee, Bruce Harlan and Miller Anderson were the class in diving.

Ann Curtis paced the women swimmers, retaining five AAU titles. The Los Angeles girl also won the 400-meter freestyle in London for a new Olympic record. Mrs. Victoria Manna Brava was the only double winner at the games, taking both the springboard and high platform diving titles.

Eastern Star Honors Worthy Grand Matron

A banquet honoring Mrs. Elizabeth Penn, worthy grand matron of the Grand Chapter of Florida, was held on Thursday by Seaside Chapter No. 1, O. E. S. at the Sanford Woman's Club. Dishes including Brazilian peppers and red candles were effectively used to form a festive atmosphere for the occasion. A program of Christmas carols was presented by the church choir during the dinner. The group was accompanied by Mrs. Evans McCoy.

Following the dinner a business meeting was held in the chapter room where a Christmas motif was also carried out in decorations. Mrs. Penn was introduced by Conductress Mrs. J. C. Bills and was welcomed by Worthy Matron Mrs. Wirt W. Warner. The honor guest was also the recipient of a bouquet of chrysanthemums and a gift from the chapter presented by the Assistant Matron Mrs. Edith Galt. A Queen Elizabeth Doll was presented to her by Assistant Conductress Mrs. S. L. Long.

Mrs. Stewart Dalton gave Mrs. Penn a small Christmas tree and each member of the chapter hung a small gift on the branches. Mrs. Dalton served as Santa Claus for the occasion. Mrs. Warner was presented with a bouquet of red gladioluses from the chapter by Mrs. R. W. Crenshaw.

During the evening the following program was presented: Mrs. Della Green, past grand matron and present grand supervisor of the Rainbow Girls in Florida; Mrs. Max Donovan, past grand matron and present grand secretary; Mrs. Ann Rice, grand clerk; Mrs. Eric Wright, grand secretary; Mrs. Annie Sanford, grand chaplain; Mrs. Lulu Neumann, grand instructor of District 24.

The degrees of the order were conferred on Mrs. Stewart Dalton and Mrs. Johanna D. Perry. Mrs. Penn spoke to the group on the Bible and sang "My Mother's Bible" accompanied by Mrs. Cochran. At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served to about 125 members and guests.
