20 Florida Sheriffs Are Ordered To Dis- regard Carlton's Order To Sheriffs

MIAMI, Fla., Apr. 25—(AP)—Federal Judge Halstead L. Ritter today made permanent the temporary injunction he issued Mar. 23 forbidding 20 Florida sheriffs from carrying out an order of Governor Doyle Carlton to arrest Alphonse Capone on sight and escort him to the state line.

Capone and his attorney, J. F. Gordon, were the only witnesses at a hearing in federal court this morning. At the conclusion of testimony, Judge Ritter read a written opinion stressing freedom of citizens of the United States and of Florida unless restrained by due process of law.

After ordering the injunction made permanent, Judge Ritter urged Capone to the beach and urged him to take advantage of the political climate in a region of the United States in lawful exercise of his family.

The court-room was crowded. None of the 20 sheriffs named in the order appeared during the hearing.

Capone, on advice of his attorney, declined to ask to be released from the federal building, but met them at Governor's office later.

"I have a great deal of admiration for Judge Ritter's decision," he said, as his only comment on today's hearing.

"What do you think about the attempt to publish your home in Florida?"

"I don't know what it all means," he said, "I have nothing to say," he concluded.

Capone said he will appear at tomorrow's hearing on the petition of State Attorney S. V. A. Hawthorne to publish his home in Florida. He declined to say how long he intends to remain at his home here, but said it probably will be two or three weeks before he returns to Chicago.

DUAL TRAGEDY SEEN CAUSED BY JEALOUSY

Bodies Of Two Women Are Found In Hotel Room With Pistol Resting Under One

LAGUNA BEACH, Cal., Apr. 25—(AP)—Jealousy over social position was blamed by the authorities here today for the murder of Mrs. Doris Murray Palmer, an artist formerly of Chicago, and the suicide of Mrs. City Bates Post, erstwhile musical comedy star and divorced wife of the noted actor.

The bodies of the two women were reported to have been very close friends, as a found in Mrs. Palmer's bungalow here yesterday.

Mrs. Palmer, known as an artist and designer of scenery for the Laguna Beach playhouse, had been seen in the back Mrs. Post's home with a bullet through the mouth and brain, in which two or three shells were discovered.

Mrs. Post, known on the stage as Adele Rittor, was seen moving about the Palmer house an hour before the bodies were found. Mrs. Palmer was believed to have been slain early in the afternoon, within 15 minutes of the time Mrs. Palmer's body was discovered. Mrs. Post had delivered an invitation to a luncheon that included Mrs. Post.

Sheriff Sam Jennings said he believed the incident fanned the animosity between the two women over a money that caused Mrs. Post to shoot Mrs. Palmer and then fire the pistol on herself.

Mrs. Post last year was director of the annual live scout benefit play at the playhouse here, which is operated by Harold H. Corneil, an Indianapolis son of the late newspaper magnate of Chicago, George H. Corneil. This year Mrs. Post's husband she designed the set, was given the honor.

The change in proprietorship, they believed, caused them to quarrel. Authorities said that when Mrs. Post was shot, she was in the act of shooting Mrs. Palmer.

Philadelphia 'Phillies' And Brooklyn 'Robins' Seen To Have Best Array Of Hitters

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR., Associated Press Sports Writer

Between them, the Brooklyn Robins and Philadelphia Phillies have about the greatest array of batters in the two major leagues. In the two major leagues, the Phillies and Robins are the only teams that have produced, but they haven't displayed it to a very good advantage through the first games. Their blows were rather weak and ineffective until they got together yesterday and then they were much better than plenty.

All started when Fred Thompson, Phillies leadoff man, stepped up to the plate in the first inning and drove the ball into the stands for a home run. It didn't end until the ninth inning when Spotts, the third Phillie pitcher, appeared, took advantage of an error by Flowers to romp home from third with the run that gave Philadelphia a 16 to 15 victory. In how on there came 34 hits, 21 of them going to the Phillies. A parade of pitchers and pinch hit a good one big inning early in the game. Standing with Jim Cook #17 and ending with Bill Clark #18, the Phillies used six hurlers, while the Robins called on four. In all 85 players took part in the game. Northern and Thevenon of Philadelphia and Frederick and Flowers of Brooklyn took the leading slugging roles, yielding only 1.00 runs a game.

Conditions Improving

Indications in Florida are everywhere evident that business and financial conditions are steadily improving. Reports from various parts of the state are just as encouraging as are the estimates placed on local business conditions. Just as our celery farmers have been getting a good price for their celery, so have the farmers in other sections been well paid for their products. The Times-Union sums up the situation as follows:

"Among the indications to be noted, of present improvement in financial and other conditions, are recent and very substantial gains in bank deposits, larger percentages of taxes paid in various places in the state, and increased movement in real estate, all very gratifying, and indicating that the people have the money with which to do these things as well as others that also indicate improved conditions. Income tax payments made last month, for the first quarter of the current year, also indicate improvement in financial conditions in Florida, such payments being considerably in excess of those made in the same period a year ago.

"Outstanding, perhaps, among present indications of returning stability in financial affairs in this state, and as indicating also that the people in general are in better circumstances, financially, than heretofore, is the fact that life insurance companies report increased business, showing that people not only have the money with which to pay premiums, but that more and more people are investing their own personal funds in life insurance, which, in a large way, may be regarded as thrift for the present and as protection for the future.

Thus, the Gulf Life Insurance company, a Florida institution, with headquarters in Jacksonville and operating throughout the state, is able to report, from its certified records, that insurance written in the first three months of this year shows an increase of 3.72 per cent over the aggregate amount written in the same period of a year ago. Also, that in the year 1929 this company wrote a total volume of insurance of the amount of $33,673,411, "which is more business than any other single company wrote in the state during the same period," as says the assistant insurance commissioner of Florida in an official communication recently made.

"When it is known that there are in this state 90 similar insurance companies, all doing reasonable amounts of business, then will be realized the full significance of the report that indicates, also, that the company is ably officered and that it is operating in accordance with the best of business methods.

"Truly, financial and business conditions in Florida are getting better and better, as it is not difficult to learn, if only the trouble will be taken to get at the facts by which to substantiate this statement, instead of relying on rumor, idle gossip, and false assertions, as too frequently is done, thereby causing great damage to the state and actually retarding the progress and prosperity of the people."

In Florida

Recently the Tampa Times published a list of "Florida Beatitudes", of which Mrs. Jack H. Pryor, of Haines City, a member of the beautification committee of the state chamber of commerce, is the author. We think every citizen of Florida should read them, and digest them, and it wouldn't hurt them, we feel sure, to memorize them. The Florida Beatitudes are as follows:

- "1. Blessed are they who plant the long-lived tree and shrub, for generations shall rise up and call them blessed.
- "2. Blessed are they who are owners of flower gardens, for in the heart of a flower may be seen its Creator.
- "3. Blessed are they who appreciate nature's gifts, for they shall be known as lovers of beauty.
- "4. Blessed are they who clean up the highways, by ways and home grounds, for cleanliness is next to godliness.
- "5. Blessed are they who brighten and freshen their buildings and fences with paint, for improvement and the praise of many people shall be their reward.
- "6. Blessed are they who war on signs and banish the billboards along the rural highway, for they shall be called protectors of roadside beauty and landscape scenery.
- "7. Blessed are they who stand against friend and relative in the protection of nature's gifts to our nation, for they shall be recognized as true patriots of America.
- "8. Blessed are the towns with planning boards, for great beauty, prosperity and peace shall descend upon them.
- "9. Great shall be the reward of those who protect our forests from fire, for the bird shall continue to serve him and the fish and wild animal to furnish him food.
- "10. Whosoever conserveth our natural resources serveth himself, and the generations following."

UNCOMMON SENSE

BY JOHN BLAKE

WE ARE still a little primitive. In America many men who know the entire history of Jack Dempsey would be at a loss to name a great scientist. Were an assemblage of scientists whose work is of vast importance to the future of the human race to charge admission there would be no "gate" to speak of. A prize fight in which two leading fighters are participants packs the largest arena and people pay as high as $100 a ticket to attend it. The novelist and the story writer know that they must make their hero powerful in order to make him interesting. Men and women alike would rather read of a young hero who beneath his evening coat has bulging muscles than to follow the fortunes of a hero who is weak physically but strong mentally.

This admission will go to set athletes content and will refuse to read in the newspapers about the life of the scientist or the speech of the statesman. We shall learn in time, but it will be a long time. Muscle was once the most important thing in the world. Today it is still given an importance far beyond its value. But the alligator, which is all bone and muscle, is passing, as passed the dinosaur, the pterodactyl and other muscular creatures that lived before him. In the long run, brains will count. But just at present muscle is more spectacular and therefore more readily observed. And we, just entering the stage of civilization, when the mind is coming into its own, still save up our money and pay prodigious prices to see prize fights.

The time will come in this country when intellect will be appreciated for what it is worth. But it is going to have a long struggle for supremacy. And small wonder. Muscle has been deified since the liad, while brains for many years attracted little attention. Homer could have walked the streets of his native town without attracting much attention. Any one of the heroes whose prowess he sang, had they been living men, would have been followed from one end of the street to the other. Anybody in his senses will agree that a scientist or a real statesman is worth more to a country than all the prize fighters and football players that ever dwelt in it. Yet the same man who makes

The Faithful Few

By R. J. HOLLY

Several months ago the "faithful few" of Sanford for many years have been engaged in "putting Sanford over" became imbued with the idea that Sanford needed to inject salt in the veins of the people here and sell Sanford to Sanford people.

All of us knew that Sanford was not "coming back" because Sanford had not been away very far. We had suffered about all the nervous financial shocks that any community could suffer and while we might have been down we were not out.

With this idea of rejuvenating Sanford and getting people in the right frame of mind the faithful few decided to bring about a rehabilitation of this city. The reorganization of the Chamber of Commerce was the first step. In the face of the regular opposition that has always held sway in Sanford this great feat was accomplished. The Chamber of Commerce cannot do all of the big things in the next twelve months but it will do just a little bit more than any other Chamber of Commerce in Florida could do in like circumstances.

Keeping the Country Club and the golf links alive was the next step and this will be done. Eighty per cent of the men working on new memberships do not play golf. They gave their time to put this over and sell the idea to the people who should be sold without any solicitation. The faithful few again.

Wednesday evening some hundred of the best citizens of Sanford gathered at the Elks Home at the call of the Exalted Ruler to come back home and make the Sanford Elks what it should be in the true sense of the word. They gathered and they came back. The Sanford Elks will be heard from in the next six months. A new home and a new era of progress will mark their future efforts. This brings to mind a recent article in the Tarleton, Pa. News that strikes us just where we live. It follows:

"Eighty per cent of the men and women in any given American community merely live in it. It is a great center of population with its teeming millions, a thriving city or a mere wide place in the road, this rule, and to say, applies.

"It has never dawned upon four-fifths of the people that they are a definite part of the community, that their town belongs to them, that they are obligated by the tenets of good citizenship to contribute their part toward the development and expansion of that place which they call their home.

"In every city or town, regardless of size, a glance about will convince even the stranger that all tasks of a public nature are performed by a mere one-fifth of the people, a faithful few who, exhibiting a fine spirit of sacrifice and willingness, make a sincere effort to carry the burden while the others, with arms akimbo set, look on, rarely to praise, frequently to criticize.

"These vexing problems which are ever to be found in every community could easily be solved if the thoughtless army of the four-fifths would join that loyal, courageous little band of the one-fifth. Here, indeed, is a problem for the educators and the thinkers of the land. How are we to train our children in order that they may grasp a consciousness of the fact that obligations go hand in hand with the privileges of citizenship and residence in any community? How are we to instruct them so that they will gladly put their shoulders to the wheel and push with all their might and main when they become men and women—and citizens of New York or Main Street?

"The solution of these problems will automatically solve a hundred others put as perplexing. The answer is the key which will open the door to that era of community progress which is the dream heaven of every forward looking man and woman.

"But meanwhile, while we cast about for the answer to society's great problem, let us appreciate and give full credit—not criticism—to those earnest men and women who roll up their sleeves when a community task is to be done—and do it. For, truly, they are the salt of the earth—the real patriots of these piping times of peace."

Advertising for a slogan, a company which manufactures soaps and perfumes got this: "If you don't use our soaps, for heaven's sake use our perfumes." Tampa Times.

The only thing to be said about the discovery by radio experts of an outer "Heviside layer," which prevents our broadcasts from reaching Mars, is that Martians don't know what they are missing. Punch.

Golf Club Drive Ends Today With Required Funds

(Continued from page 1) outcome of the drive which was waged during the past three days, the Sanford municipal golf course will now, definitely, remain open to the public for the next year. The $2700 raised by the Chamber of Commerce and the additional $2800 appropriated by the City Commissioners, have already been declared by leaders in the golf movement to be sufficient fund with which to continue operation of the links during the coming year.

At the close of the campaign, at noon today, the tradesmen and the committeemen assembled in the Grill room of the Valdes Hotel for the weekly luncheon of the chamber. During the noon session a vote of thanks was expressed by the commerce body to the Sanford Herald for publicity, to the City Commissioners for making the campaign possible by first appropriating half of the required amount, and to the various members who assisted the local trade body in carrying out the program successfully.

Fred Hender, secretary of the commerce body, this afternoon said that every tradesman is well pleased with the campaign. "We are all happy," Mr. Hender explained, "and we wish to express our appreciation to the people of Sanford and State for their assistance in taking out membership."

The secretary further pointed out that since there are only 20 individual memberships sold, the Sanford golf course program should be used by every golf player who is enjoying the benefits of the links, which are now

The play was to have opened last night, but the double tragedy caused the theater to close. Mrs. Palmer was shot through the chest, and it was not known whether she was taken unharmed. The bodies were found by Vernon Smith and Mrs. Kenneth Higgins, who had come to the Palmer home to return Mrs. Palmer's pet dog. She had been missing for several days.

Mr. Post was 35 years old. He married the actor in 1918 after he had lost a leg on the stage. Four months ago she obtained a divorce in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Palmer, the former Dora Murray of Washington, D. C., was 34 and formerly was the wife of the Clinton Foster of the "Chicago" Hotel. She was very prominent in the fashionable set and had more than 2000 dollars and Mrs. Post came to Laguna Beach with her mother in a luxurious motor car on March 11.

Hit-and-run Driver Dashes Girl To Her Death In Charlotte

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Apr. 25.—(AP)—A hit-and-run driver who reached the sidewalk, seized a 14-year-old girl by the arm and dashed her to death against the pavement, was sought today by Charlotte police.

The girl, Lillian Deline Condon, was fatally injured last night as she was walking home with a friend, Gregory Walker, in a Charlotte suburb. The two were walking along the sidewalk, carrying hands, Walker said.

Suddenly a speeding brown roadster swung up to the curb and a woman reached out and caught Mrs. Condon by the arm. The girl was dragged several yards and thrown against the pavement. Her skull was fractured and she died a few minutes later.

Walker said he could not see the driver of the car, but the man hit and ran. Police started a search for the investigation.

Miss Condon was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Condon. Her mother recently left the city to accept a position in the Columbia Manufacturing, Morris town, N. C. Mr. Condon and Lillian planned to leave Saturday to join her.
