A new health department facility, estimated to cost $15 million for site acquisition and construction, will be built in Sanford, preferably near the planned new hospital on the lakefront, during fiscal 1981-82.

County commissioners Tuesday, in workshop session, unanimously declared the new facility its number one priority in the Department of Human Services budget in the new fiscal year beginning Oct. 1.

The 30,000 square foot facility, expected to be adequate for more than 10 activities but also health department administrative staff. Currently, health related activities are handled through the Sanford clinic on U.S. 17-92 while administrative staff is housed at the Sanford Airport.

County Commissioners Robert Feather and Bill Kirkhoff estimated a three acre site would be necessary. Commission Chairman Bob Sturm urged thought and study be given to using part of the money received by the county when Hospital Corporation of America (HCA) leased Seminole Memorial Hospital last year. HCA is in process of building a new hospital on the lakefront.

Sturm said proceeds from the lease with interest has earned currently totals $5.8 million. Part of the annual interest earned is being used to pay annual costs to the county of about $300,000 for medical care for indigents.

Sturm said the principle of the fund returns saved by the $15 million necessary for the new structure, more than sufficient income would still be generated to pay for the indigent care costs.

The commission also discussed the possibility of selling the mental health center, which the county built several years ago adjacent to Florida Hospital-Altamonte to raise some money for the new facility.

Dr. Jorge DeJua, director of the Department of Human Services, said solving the need for additional space for the health department operations is the most important one in the department at this time.

He said it is difficult to fulfill his dual functions as an administrator and a medical doctor while his office is separated from the health clinic. In addition, with an expanded facility, he said, the health unit could provide, through a screening process, some health services for the indigent which are now receiving at the SMH emergency room.

He said that the cost of indigents using the hospital emergency room is very high and in many cases these problems can be treated at a clinic.

He said that after a medically indigent person will go to the emergency room with a minor problem and the service is costly.

Dr. DeJua said the expanded facilities are needed in Sanford rather than in the south end of the county because the majority of medical indigents in Seminole use the Sanford health facility.

Dr. DeJua said the items he considers to have top priority are: space, organizational restructuring of the department and providing primary care for maternity patients. Currently in Seminole County a woman can receive prenatal care through the health department, but there is no provision for delivery of babies for the medically indigent.

The commission, in a complicated voting process, designated its top priorities after space in the health department as a new refrigerator for the Longwood Clinic and an office for separating biological specimens; hiring a second nurse practitioner in family planning; hiring a dental assistant; hiring a clinic aide for the Longwood health office and replacing a typewriter in the Sanford office.

County Administrator Roger Neiswender said construction of a new health facility in Sanford has been planned for several years, noting that money was set aside in the current year's county budget for planning the facility.

In the new fiscal year, he said, final architectural drawings could be prepared, a site acquired and the construction take place.

Neiswender, after the work session, said the number one priority given the new health facility is the first time the commissioners, who have been studying department recommendations for the new year during the past two weeks, have voted unanimously on any one item.

He said majority votes of the commission give a "pretty good idea" to county staff of what the commissioners will agree to fund in the budget.

This is an unusual budget year coming up, Neiswender said, pointing out that while commissioners, according to new state law, will be adopting a budget in mid-July, they will have notification of the amount of money they can expect from property taxation only 10 days prior to that time. Prior to adoption, commissioners will be required to approve tentative budgets as early as June.

Neiswender said County Property Appraiser Bill Suber has been very cooperative, however, and has promised to get to the commissioners estimates of income as close to mid-June as possible.

He said despite the growth the county has seen an inflation there is "no new revenues on the horizon."

"It's not going to be a fun budget. The commissioners are seeing the tough reality about how much things cost, whether they can continue to render the same level of services they have been and the consequences if they do not," Neiswender said.

Shuttle Countdown 'In Great Shape'

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — The weather forecast improved and the countdown was pronounced in "great shape" today for Friday morning's launch of the space shuttle Columbia on a critical 54½-hour test flight around the Earth.

The Columbia's pilots, John W. Young and Robert L. Crippen, rose early in their health isolation trailer in Houston and prepared to fly to the space port later today.

At mid-morning, technicians began pumping super-cold liquid hydrogen and oxygen into small double-walled spheres in the Columbia's midsection to fuel the ship's three fuel cell electric generators during the 36-orbit mission.

That was a critical operation and launch director George Page said if problems were to crop up today, they probably would involve the fuel cell loading operation.

But test conductor Bill Schick said the countdown was proceeding very well as the series of launch preparations approached the critical last 24 hours pre-flight operations.

"Great shape," he said when asked how things were going. "Clean for first go, very clean."

"The launch team is holding up with no problems," he said. "The morale at this time is riding very high because of the clean operation we've had with no problems."

There were some snags during the first two days of the four-day countdown, but launch control officials consider them inconsequential.

The weather forecast for 6:50 a.m. EST Friday launch time improved today with Air Force forecasters estimating that an approaching cold front will stay north of Florida, leaving generally good conditions at the launch site both Friday and Saturday.

"Yesterday, things were not looking so good," Schick said. "Today they are looking better. They are not ideal. We're keeping our fingers crossed."

Schick said the landing strip conditions for touchdown Sunday at Edwards Air Force Base, which has been under water recently, were acceptable and the base in the California's Mojave Desert was still considered the prime landing site.

The astronauts' stubby-winged, reusable spacecraft was rapidly being prepared for flight, after 2½ years of delays. Technicians even cleaned the ship's six airplane-like cockpit windows. At sunrise, technicians were looking up explosive devices that would be used to blow up the shuttle's external fuel tank and solid fuel booster rockets after the crew ejected should the ship veer toward a populated area after lift-off.

Air Force rescue teams practiced astronaut recovery operations in a lagoon west of the oceanic launch pad. They rehearsed picking up crewmen from a life raft, and from a mockup representing a ditched shuttle.

Page's statement that troubles were not unexpected with the fuel cell loading operation was based on the Apollo program a decade ago when fuel cell loading often took longer than expected during the Apollo program a decade ago. "It went remarkably well the last time we did it on this one (in February), but it may have been a fluke," Page said.

Because problems were possible, a second "hold" was inserted into the today's countdown. It was to have lasted eight hours, but was cut to four hours so engineers could make up time lost Tuesday.

They made even better than expected progress and the countdown clock resumed at 10 p.m. after a 12-hour hold. A hold is given when the countdown clock is stopped to give technicians a rest, time to catch up with lagging work or time to seek the cause of problems.

All Poland Welcomes Brezhnev's 'Reprieve'

WARSAW, Poland (UPI) — The Polish media, Solidarity and farmers seeking their own union joined today in welcoming Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev's apparent vote of confidence in Poland's ability to solve its own problems.

Newspapers praised Brezhnev's "far-sightedness" and called him a "consistent supporter of peace," and the unofficial independent farmers union Rural Solidarity said in a pledge of support to the Communist Party it would never strike.

Solidarity leader Lech Walesa, saying he wants to retire, called Tuesday for a moratorium on confrontation as the Soviet Union announced the end of the Warsaw Pact maneuvers that had raised fears of Soviet intervention to crush the free trade union movement.

Solidarity did not respond to Brezhnev's speech but a union source said initial reaction to his support of Poland's efforts to solve their own problems was favorable. "If he had said something really bad, we would have issued a statement."

The Roman Catholic affiliated newspaper Slowo Powszechnie published a Rural Solidarity declaration that said: "We harbor no political ambitions and recognize the party as the leading political force in Poland."

The declaration, which said "nobody in our union wishes to undermine the principles of Poland's system," was submitted to a parliamentary commission Tuesday.

The official news agency PAP said Rural Solidarity leaders told the commission they would never strike "because this would be a crime against nature."

However, about 50 farmers demanding, among other things, legalization of Rural Solidarity, continued the sit-in at the headquarters of the Peasants Party in Bydgoszcz begun March 16.

"Leonid Brezhnev has again shown his far-sightedness in the evaluation of the complex processes under way in Poland, the countries of the Socialist community and all over Europe," the Zycie Warszawy newspaper said.

Brezhnev seemed during his speech in Prague Tuesday to give the Polish communist leadership another chance to control the unruly labor movement that has wrested much of the power from the ruling party.

After Brezhnev's speech, Walesa immediately urged his union to use the

Zoning Controls May Be Tried Against Adult Entertainment

Seminole County Commissioners have set a public hearing for May 12 to consider a new method of controlling adult entertainment in the county.

Prior to the commission hearing, the proposed new way — by using zoning controls — will be considered and acted upon by the county's planning and zoning commission on May 6.

Under a plan, recommended by Commissioner Bill Kirkhoff, an ordinance is being prepared requiring eight hours, but was cut to four hours so engineers could make up time lost Tuesday.

They made even better than expected progress and the countdown clock resumed at 10 p.m. after a 12-hour hold. A hold is given when the countdown clock is stopped to give technicians a rest, time to catch up with lagging work or time to seek the cause of problems.

Clayton has been preparing the ordinance, processing of applications for special exceptions for alcoholic beverages establishments has been delayed.

The commissioners on May 12, immediately following the public hearing, may adopt the ordinance.

At this time there is only one establishment in the unincorporated area which has adult entertainment and it is located in the Fern Park area.

The commissioners agreed to try the new method of control after Sheriff John Polk informed them that intelligence reports say a rash of such establishments existing the Orange Blossom Trail plan to relocate in Seminole County.

We Are A Wave Of Assassins

NEW YORK (UPI) — A copycat gunman threatened to kill President Reagan, Secretary of State Alexander Haig, Sen. Jesse Helms and teen-age actress Jodie Foster because of "orphetic dream" he claimed was the 37-year-old Walesa.

Edward Richardson, 22, an unemployed landscaper from the middle-class Philadelphia suburb of Drexel Hill, Pa., was held in lieu of $500,000 bail today in the Metropolitan Correctional Center on charges of threatening to kill the president.

Secret Service agents said the threats were made in two letters — one found in a New Haven, Conn., hotel room, and the other sent to Miss Foster at Yale University. The 18-year-old actress also was the target of letters from Hincley, charged in last week's assassination attempt on Reagan.

"I will finish what Hincley started. RR must die. He (JWH) has told me so in a prophetic dream. Sadly though, your death is also required," official said Richardson wrote in a letter hand-delivered Monday to the Yale campus.

"You too will suffer the same fate as Reagan and others in his fascist regime. You cannot escape. We are a wave of assassins throughout the world."

The letter was dated April 3 and signed, "Int. People's Court."

Secret Service agents — alerted by a hotel maid who found one of Richardson's notes — arrested Richardson Tuesday in Manhattan's Port Authority bus terminal on his way from New Haven to his parents' home in Pennsylvania.

He was carrying a loaded .32-caliber pistol and admitted he intended to assassinate the president, a Secret Service spokesman said.

New Threat To Reagan's Life

Solidarity And Its Resolve

Once again, the leaders of Poland's Solidarity union have shown a remarkable talent for brinkmanship.

The government has agreed to an investigation and trial of those responsible for the beating of Solidarity unionists March 9 in the city of Bydgoszcz.

So the general strike that could have had disastrous results has been called off.

With their four-hour demonstration recently, the Solidarity unionists showed that they had the will and the unity to carry their cause to a showdown.

As they have done in the past, the Russians and their client government in Poland had to weigh the costs of attempting to suppress the Solidarity movement.

Moscow and the Polish Communist Party are accepting the existence of Solidarity as the lesser of two evils, at least for the time being.

How far can Solidarity go? The movement's leaders say that "common sense" dictated acceptance of a limited victory in this latest confrontation with the government.

Solidarity has shown it will go to the mat to defend what it has gained so far on behalf of Polish workers.

DICK WEST Learning To Speak Camouflage

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Life magazine reveals in its April issue that Jeane Kirkpatrick, America's permanent representative to the United Nations and President Reagan's top woman appointee, has a serious speech impediment.

She is unable to obfuscate. "I have already learned that sometimes my sentences are too short and my meanings too clear," the ambassador is quoted as lamenting.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick's inability to speak articulately filled me not only with pity for her plight but with concern for the efficiency of the mission she heads.

Through seminars on such topics as "Fingertapping for Promotion and Pleasure" and "The Contrathink Contributions of the Yeshubers of America," Boren has devoted a lifetime to the spread of what he calls "lateral communication."

Boren agreed the United Nations is no place for verbal simplicity. As he put it: "She will never reach the optimum of her new pursuits unless she learns to profoundly justify the justifications of her opinions."

I asked Boren whether obfuscation might be a God-given talent rather than an acquired skill. He replied in the negative.

Infants pick up a knack for obfuscation from hearing their parents mumbbling "koochykoochy-koo" and other unintelligible sounds, he explained.

I looked into Mrs. Kirkpatrick's background to see if I could find any clue to the cause of her handicap. The Life article was singularly opaque. It said:

"She grew up in Oklahoma, and her father, an oil wildcatter, was a New Deal Democrat. Her husband, a professor of government, was a close friend of Hubert Humphrey's, and she married, she says, 'into a Humphrey milieu.'"

Certainly there is nothing there, particularly in the "Humphrey milieu," to account for her predisposition for short sentences and clear meanings.

Nevertheless, Boren is confident Mrs. Kirkpatrick "can quickly learn to fuzzle the superpolite of the upper structure" at the United Nations once she puts her mind to it. "The environment is ready for it," he said.

ANTENNAE

OUR READERS WRITE 'Stand Up For America'

I notice "Stand Up for America!" was the theme of an area-wide rally in Orlando Saturday. The sponsors should be congratulated, and the event should have been endorsed and supported by Central Florida residents.

Two often such an announcement evokes grudging indulgence or a patronizing smirk. Patriotism! America! Why bother? Who cares anyway?

Some still suffer from guilt-complex hangovers from the Vietnam era and become apologetic whenever the flag is waved. Others think "Good news is No news," and prefer moralistic muckraking which ferrets out the dirty linen of those in high office while others delight in castigating the leasers, goals, and policies of the American government.

Unless we stand up for America, no one else will. If we join its detractors, we help undermine the foundation upon which America has been built. If our comments are all negative, or our voices are silent, we are kicking out the pillars upon which freedom stands.

When we lose the spirit and will to be proud of our heritage, our goals, our aspirations, our achievements as an American nation, we may as well dig the grave and push her ignominiously into oblivion.

For in spite of its weaknesses and mistakes, no other nation has offered as much in freedom and opportunity to so many people of all races, religions and ethnic backgrounds. No one else has given as much to help the needy and the underprivileged of many lands. No one else has stood so firmly in keeping the world from being engulfed by tyranny and oppression - both from the right and from the left.

It's time to refresh our minds on the positive achievements which have become a part of our heritage. It's time to restate the ideals which frame the foundation upon which we have built. It's time to reinforce our strength, our courage, our determination that America might stand tall and straight as a benevolent giant among the nations.

It's time to achieve a positive outlook in which loyalty and patriotism are something to be aspired after and admired, rather than scoffed at and derided.

It's time to "Stand up for America!"

JEFFREY HART On The Arts And The Feds

Los Angeles Times theater critic Dan Sullivan gives a lot of publicity recently by starting an argument over the phone with President Reagan. Sullivan, now very pleased with himself, was completely wrong.

The thing came about this way. Reagan phoned Sullivan from the White House to talk about a new show, but Sullivan interrupted the president to argue about cuts in federal subsidies for the arts.

"I'm ashamed of you," Sullivan quoted himself as telling Reagan. Now it is possible and even interesting to argue about whether the federal government ought to be in the business of subsidizing the arts and humanities at all.

But once an agency gets up into the $100 million category, every crook in town is after the loot. Congressmen and special interests are on the phone all the time trying to affect the operation.

What you get are things like the recent quarter-million dollar grant by the Humanities Endowment to "raise the consciousness of secretaries" - a payoff to the feminist lobby. Organized labor is after humanities and arts grants. If the federal government is going to be in the arts-humaniities business at all, it should be at much reduced levels.

Now, simultaneously with the Reagan-Dan Sullivan spat, a delicious and illuminating news item appeared in the press: March 18: The maestro lifted his baton. The orchestra struck the opening chords of Rimsky-Korsakov's Symphony No. Two.

See Doc Instead Green Stuff, Tea?

DEAR DR. LAMB—I am a 22-year-old female and I have a bad complexion. I have tried everything—gels, creams, antibiotics, vitamin E, cucumbers, even some green stuff. I hear now that tea bags with hot water helps.

I really don't have money to see a doctor so tell me what creams I can use that will help. I really don't have oily hair or skin. I do have a few blackheads. I don't eat sweets or sugar.

DEAR READER—You may be spending more money on beauty aids that you would have to spend for some useful medical attention.

Blackheads and acne are caused by an overproduction of sebum, the oily secretion from special glands in your skin. It affects both sexes and usually starts with puberty.

There are three main approaches to treating the problem: decrease oily sebum formation, open skin pores for proper drainage of sebum, and use of antibiotics to eliminate bacteria in the pores that break down the sebum to form irritative chemicals. These irritating chemicals cause the red pustules.

Warm soaks with a wash cloth several times a day help to soften sebum cores, open pores and washes away oily secretions. Do not use oily or greasy beauty aids or creams. They make matters worse.

Peeling agents that your doctor can prescribe for you such as a vitamin A acid gel can help your skin shed surface cells to eliminate blackheads and promote drainage.

The main method of treating such problems is discussed in greater detail in The Health Letter number 8-2, Acne Can Be Treated, which I am sending you. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1581, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10101.

YOUR BIRTHDAY April 9, 1981
You must be careful this coming year not to spend too much time worrying about things which will never happen. Your prospects are encouraging, so think positively.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
Don't make having your own way so important today that you alienate persons who are in a position to help you. Diplomacy, not demands, are required. Find out more of what lies ahead for you in the year following your birthday by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph, Mail #1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10101. TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
A negative attitude will make duties today doubly difficult, and could also upset those who labor at your side.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
Keep a very tight rein on your purse strings today. Think twice regarding to whom you make loans, and avoid something for nothing ventures.

CANCER (June 21-July 21)
There's a possibility you could experience frustrations today both domestically and where your career is concerned. Strive to be tolerant.

LEO (July 22-Aug. 22)
Be very careful how you handle your money and resources today. Be doubly wary if you're managing a financial matter for another. Both are critical areas.

WIN AT BRIDGE

about going to four spades. Those points look mighty good.

West opens the queen of hearts and three of North's points vanish in mid-air. South plays low from dummy and the suit is continued. South ruffs the third heart and stops to count winners. He sees that the winning play is to ruff two diamonds in dummy and if he can do that he can afford to lose a spade trick later.

Now if South is an optimist he will try to make an over-trick. He will play king, ace and a third diamond in order to ruff with dummy's eight spades. East will overruff with the jack and lead back a spade. Our optimist will have no way to ruff his last diamond and will be one in the soup.

South doesn't need to be a pessimist to make the contract. He just must play safe.

He starts by cashing the ace clubs and king-ace of diamonds. Then he ruffs a diamond with dummy's king of spades and a club with his ace of spades. Then his last diamond is ruffed by dummy's eight. The jack of trumps, taken, then or later, is the third and last trick for the defense.

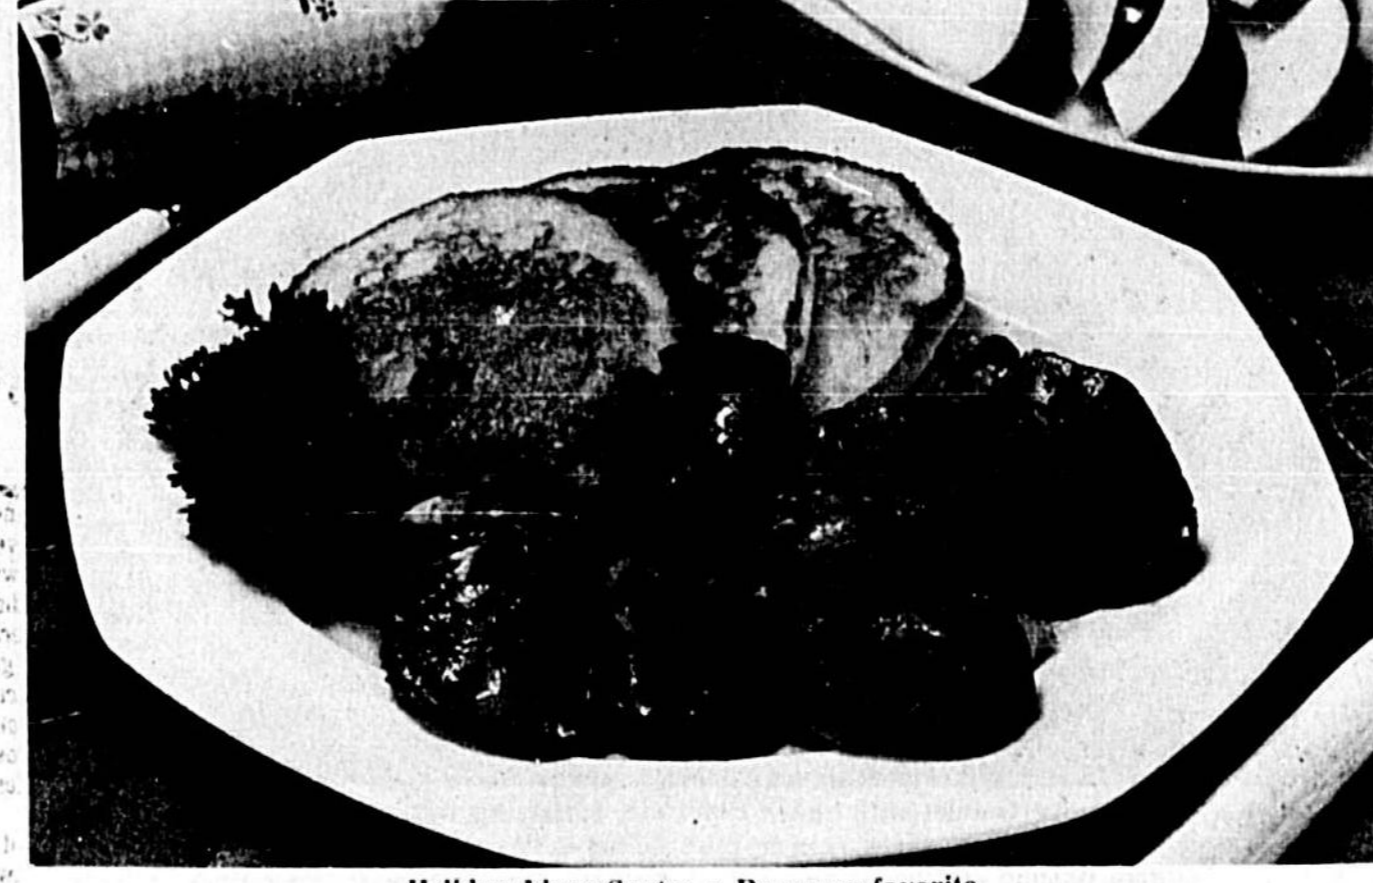

North has only 13 high-card points, but he has no quills.

Oriental Tradition With Ease

Planning meals for special guests can be a big problem if the right recipes aren't used. Here are two delicious recipes from the A.E. Staley Consumer Counsel that are quick and easy to prepare and maintain the Oriental tradition of exotic taste.

SWEET AND PUNGENT SPARERIBS

2 pounds spareribs, cut in 1 1/2 inch pieces
3 tablespoons soy sauce, divided
2 tablespoons sherry
4 teaspoons corn starch, divided
Vegetable oil for deep frying
2 tablespoons vegetable oil
1 large green pepper, cut in small pieces
1 large tomato, cut in small wedges
1 can (8 ounces) pineapple chunks, juice drained and reserved
3 tablespoons sugar
3 tablespoons vinegar
Hot cooked rice

Place spareribs in pan with enough water to cover. Cook spareribs 10 minutes. Salt to taste. Drain liquid from spareribs.

Combine 4 tablespoons soy sauce, 2 tablespoons sherry, 2 teaspoons Cream Corn Starch. Add soy sauce mixture to spareribs. Mix with ribs. Marinate ribs 1 hour. Turn from time to time.

Combine pineapple juice, sugar, vinegar, 1 tablespoon soy sauce and 2 teaspoons Cream Corn Starch in mixing bowl. Add pineapple chunks to juice. Heat oil for deep frying.

Stir fry ribs 20 to 30 minutes over medium heat until golden. Reserve. Pour drippings from fry pan. Add 2 tablespoons oil to fry pan. Stir fry pepper and tomatoes for 1 minute. Add ribs to fry pan. Add pineapple mixture to pan with ribs. Stir well. Cook until mixture thickens. Serve with rice.

FRIED CHICKEN AND WALNUTS

2 cups chicken cubes
1/2 egg white
2 teaspoons corn starch
2 tablespoons sherry
Vegetable oil for deep frying
2 tablespoons vegetable oil

1 teaspoon sugar
2 teaspoons vinegar
6 red maraschino cherries

Combine egg whites, corn starch and sherry in mixing bowl. Add chicken cubes to egg white mixture. Mix well to coat chicken. Set chicken aside for 15 minutes. Heat oil for deep frying.

Deep fry chicken until brown. Remove chicken and reserve. Remove oil. Heat 3 tablespoons oil. Stir fry cucumber and walnuts for 2 minutes. Add chicken and stir fry until ingredients are well cooked.

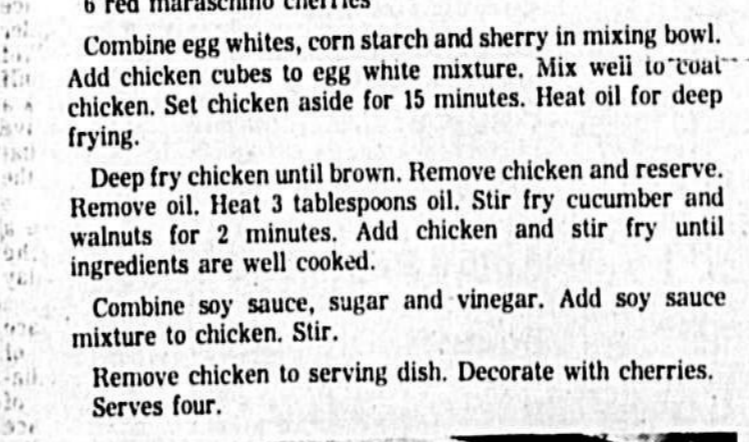

Combine soy sauce, sugar and vinegar. Add soy sauce mixture to chicken. Stir.

Remove chicken to serving dish. Decorate with cherries. Serves four.

MEAT IMPORTANT FOR DIETERS

The high ratio of nutrients to calories in meat is so important that often it is recommended that more meat be eaten while dieting.

For example, some nutritionists advise that the two 3-ounce servings of meat recommended for a normal daily diet be increased to two 4-ounce servings for a weight reduction diet. Dieters will also find it to their advantage to stick to a meat-centered diet for, in addition to generally providing important nutrients, it is satisfying, points out the National Live Stock and Meat Board. Many lean cuts of pork are appropriate for the low calorie diet and can add delicious variety of family meals.

Sweet and pungent flavoring adds an exotic taste to spareribs and chicken.

Passover Meals Simple, Special

If family and friends gather frequently at your house during the Passover holiday, you'll want a variety of interesting and delicious dishes to serve, including some that are budget minded.

An easy menu includes our Holiday Liver Sauté served with Skillet Cabbage as a side dish.

Chicken livers are full of iron, easy on the food budget and plenty versatile. We suggest a gentle sautéing with onions, parsley and tarragon. A flavor enhancer is added to bring out the mellow-rich flavor of the meat and to harmonize it with the seasonings.

Skillet Cabbage is so simple yet special enough to serve when friends are coming by during Passover week. Nutritious cabbage, one of the best vegetable buys, combined with lemon juice, provides a zesty contrast to the luxurious taste of the Holiday Liver Sauté.

Together, they make a low-cost marvelous menu served with potato pancakes, pancakes, slices of apple, matzo and a favorite wine.

HOLIDAY LIVERSAUTE
1 1/2 pounds chicken livers
1/4 cup pareve margarine

1/2 cup finely chopped onion
1 teaspoon flavor enhancer
1/2 cup chopped parsley
1 teaspoon dried leaf tarragon

Cut chicken livers in half. Melt margarine in large skillet. Add chicken livers and onion. Sprinkle with flavor enhancer, parsley and tarragon. Cook over medium heat, stirring frequently, until livers are done, 8 to 10 minutes.

Yield: About 4 servings.

SKILLET CABBAGE
2 quarts shredded red or green cabbage
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/2 cup water
1 teaspoon flavor enhancer, divided
3 tablespoons pareve margarine
1/2 teaspoon pepper

In large skillet, combine cabbage, lemon juice, water and 1/2 teaspoon flavor enhancer. Dot with margarine. Cover. Cook over medium heat 10 to 15 minutes, or until crisp-tender. Sprinkle with remaining 1/2 teaspoon flavor enhancer and pepper. Toss lightly.

Good Old Potatoes Basque' In Flavor

It's not widely known but a small yet fascinating ingredient of America's melting pot is Basque. Fascinating because of these people's individuality — the Basques proudly uphold their ancient customs and preserve their language which is unrelated to any other tongue. At the turn of the century, many of the Basques migrated to Idaho to work as shepherders, a traditional trade in their native land — the border areas between Spain and France where the Pyrenees rise formidably. The rugged, mountainous Idaho terrain was so much like their homeland, that the Basques were quite comfortable in the Gem State. Besides bringing their time-honored traditions to the American west, the Basques also brought their exciting cuisine — hearty, flavorful, colorful, satisfying yet delightfully unpretentious. The Basques quickly adapted the Idaho potato as part of their "new world" cuisine. The spud, internationally known for its flavor and meaty texture proved to be a perfect addition to their robust fare.

A potato dish Basque in flavor is the Omelet with Sauce Piperade, a variation of the "Piperade," a popular Basque dish that's basically a combination of eggs, onions, sweet peppers and tomatoes.

BASQUE OMELET WITH SAUCE PIPERADE
 3 tablespoons olive oil
 1 pound Idaho potatoes, pared and thinly sliced (about 3 cups)
 6 eggs
 1/4 cup milk
 4 anchovy filets, chopped
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 In 10-inch skillet heat oil; saute potatoes 10 to 12 minutes or until tender, stirring occasionally. In small bowl, beat eggs; add milk, chopped anchovy filets, salt and pepper. Pour over potatoes in skillet. Cook over medium heat. As eggs set, loosen edges with spatula and tilt skillet to let uncooked eggs run under set portion. When lightly browned on bottom, place skillet under broiler, about 6" from heat. Broil until top is lightly browned. To serve, loosen edges with a spatula. Place serving platter over skillet and invert omelet onto platter. Serve with Piperade Sauce. Garnish with parsley and anchovy filets, if desired. Yield: 6 servings.

SAUCE PIPERADE
 2 tablespoons olive oil
 1 green pepper, cut in julienne strips
 1 medium onion, chopped
 2 cloves garlic, finely minced
 1 can (8 ounces) stewed tomatoes
 1 tablespoon tomato paste
 2 tablespoons chopped fresh parsley
 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 In medium saucepan heat oil; saute green pepper, onion and garlic just until tender. Add stewed tomatoes, tomato paste, parsley and pepper. Simmer 15 to 20 minutes, stirring occasionally.

POTATO BASQUE SOUP
 1 pound Italian sausage, sliced
 1/2 cup chopped onion

- 2 cans (1 pound each) tomatoes
- 4 Idaho potatoes, pared and diced (6 cups)
- 1 cup chopped parsley
- 1 cup diagonally-sliced celery
- 2 tablespoons chopped celery leaves
- 1 1/2 cups water
- 2 beef bouillon cubes
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 bay leaf
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1/2 teaspoon dried leaf thyme
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper

In large saucepan or kettle, brown sausage over medium heat. Add onion and cook 5 minutes. Add remaining ingredients. Bring to a boil, reduce heat and simmer, uncovered, 40 minutes, or until potatoes are tender. Yield: 6 servings.

This Basque Omelet with Sauce Piperade, satisfying with the addition of nourishing potato slices, exemplifies hearty, flavorful and delightfully simple Basque cuisine.

Squares made from pie filling.

Use Cherry Pie Filling Many Ways

Creative cooks quickly discovered the versatility of canned cherry pie filling for many delicious non-pie purposes. It's become a favorite convenience ingredient that smart shoppers always keep on the cupboard shelf for all sorts of dessert possibilities.

Cherry Cherry Dessert Squares combine the convenience of cherry pie filling with cake mix for a marvelous sweet and tart treat. Colorful cherries are layered between a cookie-like crust and golden crumb topping.

This is a nice recipe for learning-to-cook cooks (either children or the man-of-the-house) to prepare.

CHERRY CHERRY DESSERT SQUARES
 1 pkg. (double layer size) yellow cake mix
 1 1/4 cups rolled oats, divided
 1/2 cup (1 stick) butter or margarine, divided
 1 egg
 1 can (36 oz.) cherry pie filling
 1/2 cup chopped walnuts
 1 Tbsp. brown sugar
 Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. In mixing bowl, combine cake mix, 4 Tbsp. butter (set aside 2 Tbsp.) and 1 cup rolled oats (set aside 1/2 cup). Mix until crumbly with mixer or pastry blender. Remove 1 cup crumbs for topping. Add egg to mixture still in bowl; mix well. Pat this mixture into well-oiled 13x23-inch pan. Spread cherry pie filling over crust.
 Make topping: To the reserved 1/2 cup crumbs, add the remaining 2 Tbsp. butter and 1/2 cup rolled oats, along with walnuts and brown sugar. Mix till crumbly; sprinkle over cherries.
 Bake at 350 degrees F for 35-45 minutes or until golden brown. Serve slightly warm or cooled. Cut in 12 generous squares for dessert; top with whipped cream. Or serve as snack-size bars.

Discover Microwave Stir-Frying

The art of oriental cooking has become increasingly popular today. Americans have discovered how delicious those quick, nutritious, stir-fry dishes can be. Your microwave oven turns this "special occasion art" into everyday ease. Mandarin Orange Pork and Kung Bow Chicken, recipes from a microwave oven cookbook add that "far eastern" touch to your dinner table.

KUNG BOW CHICKEN
 (Total cooking time: 8 minutes)
 1/2 cup dried mushrooms
 1 large whole chicken breast, skinned, split, and boned
 2 tablespoons cold water
 1 teaspoon cornstarch
 2 tablespoons soy sauce
 1 clove garlic, minced
 1 large green pepper, cut in 1/2-inch pieces
 1/2 cup bamboo shoots
 2 tablespoons chopped peanuts
 1/4 teaspoon crushed red pepper
 1 tablespoon cooking oil
 Soak mushrooms in enough warm water to cover for 30 minutes; squeeze to drain well. Chop mushrooms, discarding stems. Cut chicken into bite-size pieces. Blend cold water into cornstarch; stir in soy sauce. Set aside.
 In 8x8 1/2-inch baking dish, combine garlic, green pepper, bamboo shoots, peanuts, red pepper, and oil. Cook, covered, at HIGH for 4 to 5 minutes or till tender, stirring once. Remove vegetables from baking dish. Add chicken. Cook, covered, at MEDIUM HIGH for 2 to 3 minutes or till done, stirring once. Drain off liquid.

 Stir soy mixture; stir into chicken. Cook at HIGH for 1 to 2 minutes or till thickened and bubbly, stirring twice. Stir in vegetables and mushrooms. Cook, covered, at HIGH for 1 to 2 minutes or till mixture is heated through. Makes 2 servings.

MANDARIN ORANGE PORK
 (Total cooking time: 15 minutes)
 1 pound boneless pork
 1 tablespoon cooking oil
 2 teaspoons cornstarch
 2 tablespoons soy sauce
 1 teaspoon grated fresh gingerroot
 1/2 teaspoon orange peel
 1/2 cup orange juice
 1 6-ounce package frozen pea pods, thawed
 1 11-ounce can mandarin oranges, drained
 Cut pork into very thin strips. (For easier cutting, partially freeze meat. Allow to thaw completely before cooking.)
 Preheat Meal Browner browning dish at HIGH for 5 minutes. Add oil. Add pork strips. Cook, uncovered, at HIGH for 3 minutes, stirring twice. Drain off any liquid from pork. Remove pork and set aside.
 Meanwhile blend together cornstarch, soy sauce, gingerroot, orange peel, and juice; pour into browning dish. Cook at HIGH for 2 to 3 minutes till thickened and bubbly, stirring after each minute. Stir in pork and pea pods. Cook, covered, at HIGH for 4 minutes, stirring once. Gently stir in oranges. Heat, covered, at HIGH for 1 minute. Makes 4 servings.

MICHO TIP: You can hold a casserole or soup at serving temperature in your microwave. Use the LOW setting for a 1 1/2 to 4 quart casserole or tureen to keep food warm up to an hour.

Help Teen-Agers To Help Selves In The Kitchen

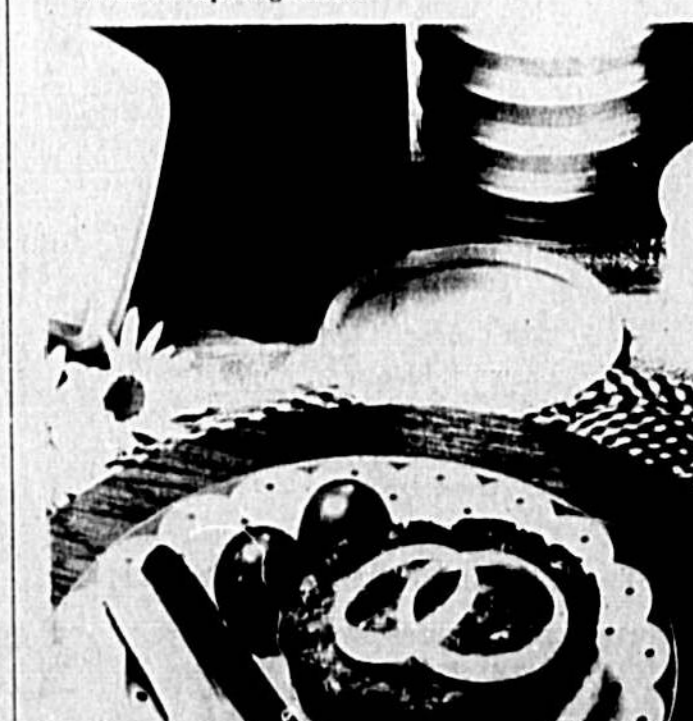

Even though a working mother is liberated once she has teenage children to prepare dinner one or two nights a week, it's sometimes not worth the mess or the inedible food. Some teens enjoy cooking. Others think cooking is a boring sandwich and potato chips, or spaghetti and canned sauce three times a week.

Nevertheless, there are times when these adolescents must shift for themselves. A wise mother not only instructs her son or daughter on what constitutes a nutritious meal, but helps the project along by pre-preparing and storing dinner components.

The common hamburger, for instance, can be mixed with grated onion and shredded cheese and quickly made into uniform patties with the aid of a hamburger press. For an interesting change press some tangy tunaburgers, which offer good protein with less fat, and can be served on a bun with onion and tomato slices and cheese. A la hamburger. For young people who find vegetables so boring they won't even open a can, prepare a surprise. Dilly Carrot and Zucchini sticks are marinated, tasty, crunchy vegetables that can be eaten (neatly, one hopes) with the fingers.

Another idea is to vary the spaghetti routine and add more nutrition with a zesty sauce. Chop and fry together green pepper, onion and a small, peeled, cubed eggplant. Brown a pound of ground meat. Store meat and vegetables in separate, sealed plastic containers just a bit bigger than the amount of food so that drying air is kept at a minimum. Ask your teenagers to mix both the meat and vegetables into a saucepan of jarred spaghetti sauce and heat it all thoroughly. Ask them to make a green salad to go with this.

- TUNABURGERS BERNICE
- 2 cans (5 1/2 or 7 ounces) tuna, drained
  - 1/2 cup shredded Cheddar cheese
  - 1/2 cup packaged, seasoned, dry bread crumbs
  - 1/4 cup chopped onion
  - 1/4 cup chopped green pepper
  - 1/4 cup mayonnaise
  - 2 eggs, lightly beaten
  - 1 1/2 teaspoons lemon juice
  - Dash hot pepper sauce
  - In medium mixing bowl, combine all ingredients. Divide mixture into 6 equal portions. Form patties. Store in refrigerator or freezer. To serve, arrange burgers on baking sheet; place under broiler about 5 inches from source of heat. Broil on one side 5 minutes or until lightly browned; turn and broil other side 5 minutes. If burgers are frozen, broil about 7 minutes before turning.
- FRESH VEGETABLE PICKLES
- 1/2 pound carrots
  - 1 pound fresh zucchini, unpared
  - 1 cup cider vinegar
  - 1 1/2 cup diced red onion
  - 1/4 cup lemon juice
  - 1/2 teaspoon dried dill weed
  - 1 or 2 cloves garlic, minced
  - Cut carrots and zucchini into 5-inch sticks. In large saucepan steam carrots just until crisp-tender about 5 minutes. Do not cook zucchini. Stand vegetables upright in a container. In small bowl combine broth, vinegar, onion, lemon juice, oil, dill weed, salt and garlic; mix well. Pour mixture over vegetables. Cover; turn container over several times to distribute ingredients. Store in refrigerator.
- YIELD: 5 cups vegetables.

Tunaburgers and vegetable pickles will tempt a hungry teenager to eat a proper dinner. Easily shaped with a burger press, tunaburgers can be frozen and are easy to broil — another teenage plus.

Class Has Mixed Ideas On Girl-Guys Slumber Party

DEAR ABBY: I teach sixth grade at Lockwood Elementary School in Bethel, Wash. The students are between 11 and 13 years old.

We had a very interesting discussion concerning a letter in your column signed VIRGINIA DAD.

Dad's 12-year-old son wanted to have a slumber party and invite six of his neighborhood friends. One of the friends just happened to be a girl, but since she was considered "one of the guys" the boy thought she should be invited without any concern for her sex.

Dad said that even though the party would be well-chaperoned by him and his wife, he didn't think the girl should be invited to spend the night with six guys.

Abby, your answer read:

"Dear Dad: Even though the gal is considered 'one of the guys,' underneath it all, she's still a gal. I would not invite her."

I asked the class what they thought of your answer. Enclosed are their letters. I hope you enjoy them. Sincerely,

DEAR ABBY: I think your opinion is OK. The girl shouldn't be there with six guys. But if it had been OK with the parents, it would have been OK with me, too.

DEAR ABBY: About your answer to the parents of the 12-year-old boy who wanted to have a girl at his slumber party: I think that the father is a paranoid person and is just expecting something to happen. I am 11, and I think it would be perfectly all right to invite the girl, no questions asked.

DEAR ABBY: I think you made a wrong decision about the slumber party. (No offense, Abby.) If the girl is considered "one of the gang," she should be invited. The parents would be there, and if anything did get out of hand, the girl would either be asked to leave or they would give her one more chance.

DEAR ABBY: About that 12-year-old girl having a slumber party and inviting a 12-year-old girl to sleep over with six boys:

Dear Abby

I think that's going a little bit too far. That is my opinion. P.S. I wouldn't go.

DEAR ABBY: I think you made the wrong decision. You made it sound like the parents don't trust their own son. What do you think is going to happen anyway? Do you think they are going to have sex or something with five other boys around? No way.

DEAR ABBY: I think if they all got into their own sleeping bags and stayed there, nothing could happen. I know how that father thinks. My mother thinks the same way. Not trusting. As for me, I don't think I would go, and I am a girl.

DEAR ABBY: I think your opinion is OK. The girl shouldn't be there with six guys. But if it had been OK with the parents, it would have been OK with me, too.

All 'Go' For Launch Tomorrow

TOMORROWLAND Looking like a scene in Walt Disney World's Tomorrowland, the space shuttle Columbia is poised on Kennedy Space Center's launch pad A awaiting Friday morning's maiden flight scheduled for 6:50 a.m. The stubby-winged shuttle is America's first reusable space vehicle.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — With the countdown still "in great shape", astronauts John W. Young and Robert L. Crippen inspected the space shuttle Columbia before dawn today and prepared for launch at 6:50 a.m. EST Friday.

The two pilots got in one final practice landing session and were airborne precisely 24 hours before blastoff, using a modified jet to rehearse shuttle approaches to the Kennedy Space Center runway they would return to in an emergency.

Space agency associate administrator John Yardley said the weather was "fantastic" today and was expected to be the same at launch time with clear skies and gentle winds.

Young, the veteran spaceflight commander, and Crippen, a test pilot making his first space flight, were awakened at 2 a.m. as they will be Friday. After breakfast, they got a briefing on the smooth countdown operations and then drove out to the ocean-side launch pad.

The shuttle, now standing alone on the firing pad, was bathed in bright light as it stood virtually ready to set out on its maiden test flight, a 36-orbit, 54½ hour mission. The countdown was in a long "hold" at the time, giving the launch crew time to go home and get some rest.

Yardley said some work was actually ahead of schedule. Other preparations for the crucial flight, more than 2½ years behind its original schedule, also appeared to be going well.

"We're in great shape," said test conductor Fritz Widick.

Two ships, the Liberty and Freedom, prepared to go to sea today to retrieve the Columbia's twin solid propellant booster rockets when they parachute into the Atlantic after being jettisoned 2 minutes after launch.

In the meantime, the ships will patrol an area nine to 12 miles offshore, warning shipping away from the area. The Federal Aviation Administration is closing air space to nonessential aircraft around the Kennedy Space Center for the launch.

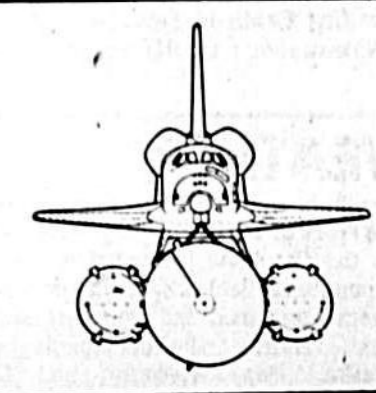

The Columbia, flagship of America's revolutionary fleet of new space transports, will blast off on the awesome power of three high-pressure hydrogen engines and the two largest solid fueled booster rockets ever to fly.

The whole assembly will weigh 2,227 tons at liftoff, but its combined rocket power will generate 3,212 tons of push.

"The liftoff on this thing is going to be fairly dramatic," said Crippen, who has waited more than 11 years for a chance to fly in space. "It's going to get up and leave the pad fairly quickly. The view is expected to be a spectacular one, and space-age "bird watchers" in campers, tents and vans already are lining the Indian River waterfront to watch the shot — America's first manned space launch since 1975.

Launch control officials reported Wednesday night the countdown was "uneventful" — good news for the launch team.

Young and Crippen flew to the spaceport Wednesday in separate blue and while jets, then flew some aerobics around the Kennedy Space Center. It is a pilot's way to relax.

"I brought enough stuff (clothes) with me to last a month to make sure we would launch on Friday," said Young, the veteran of four spaceflights. "It sure looks good for that right now."

Also in the area are the pilots' families, including Crippen's mother, Ruth, 66, of Porter, Texas, beer parlor proprietor who said, "I'd a whole lot rather see him land."

The astronauts are scheduled to glide to a landing at 11:15 a.m. Sunday on a dry lake bed at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif. The landing will mark the first in the 30 years men have been flying into space that any ship has come back like an airplane instead of drifting down under parachutes.

This means shuttles can be used over and over again — vastly reducing the cost and increasing the scope of space exploration, development and research in years to come.

Sunday, by coincidence, will mark the 20th anniversary of man's first space flight, the pioneering one-orbit flight of the late Soviet cosmonaut Yuri Gagarin.

'Bird Watchers' Flocking To America's Spaceport

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — Foreign tourists spotting the man in the white space suit and bubble helmet at the Kennedy Space Center visitors' complex often clap him on the shoulder, shake his hand and say, "Good luck on the launch."

"A lot of them really believe I'm an astronaut," guffawed Scott Tredler, 18, "They think I'm going into space Friday."

Actually, Tredler will have the day off because for the first time since 1975, tourists can see the real thing instead of posing for photographs with an affable youngster hired to amble around decked out in a spacesuit.

Harold Burdick, 82, a retired insurance salesman from Ferndale, Mich., came here alone in his camper to see the launch.

Burdick listened with rapt attention as Terry Spiers conducted his "Space Science Demonstration" at the Visitors' Center for tourists from all over the United States and countries throughout the world.

"I'll watch from wherever I can park my camper," said Burdick, a wiry man wearing shorts.

"I can remember when the Wright brothers went up," he said. "Boy, that was news. I was a kid on a farm. In those days you didn't find out about it until the paper came in from Detroit."

Thousands of tourists jamming the bars and motels have provided a festive air for the launch.

Their mood was in stark contrast to the grim determination of a couple of pickets sitting beside a fire in a rusty oil drum near Gate No. 2 at the south end of the Kennedy Space Center.

They were C.E. Witt and R.L. Miller, members of the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers, who have been on strike for seven weeks against Boeing Services International, the ground support contractor at the space center.

"We only asked for a commitment, not a delay or study," he said. "It seems to us a very simple thing to include a provision that water going into the Atlantic Ocean would be reduced and water coming this way would be increased." — DONNA ESTES

Water District Ignores Pleas For St. Johns

Despite resolutions from the Seminole County Commission and all seven of the county's cities, the St. Johns River Water Management District did not give a Management Committee to improve the water flow in the mid and upper section of the river to overcome stagnation and pollution.

At the request of the Friends of the St. Johns, a Sanford based organization, the county and cities had banded together seeking the commitment from the water management district.

The concerted request was that the district inject the commitment in its restoration plan for the river, which flows along Sanford's northern boundary.

The Rev. Hugh Paine, a member of the Board of Directors of the Friends of the St. Johns, has been asking the district for many months to make such a commitment.

E.D. Vergara, district executive director, said Wednesday including plans for the mid-river area would cause a delay of five-to-six years in implementing plans for improving the river at its headwaters. Vergara said restoration of the water flow in the upper river basin would carry its benefits

Weekend Release Almost Certain

Reagan Has Best Day Yet, Signs Positive

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan, enjoying his best day yet, is "pretty certain" to be released from the hospital this weekend to begin his White House convalescence, doctors said today.

Dr. Dennis O'Leary said Reagan, shot by a would-be assassin March 30, has not had a fever for the past 24 hours and the follow up X-rays and other signs "are all positive."

"I think it looks pretty certain he will be out this weekend," said O'Leary, the spokesman for George Washington University hospital.

Doctors said Reagan, wounded in the chest, should take it easy at first — no chopping wood or riding horses — but is already well enough to "run the country."

"This is the president's best day yet," Reagan's personal physician, Dr. Daniel Ruge, said.

O'Leary also gave the most optimistic report to date on White House press secretary James Brady, shot in the head during the attempt on Reagan's life.

"I think it's pretty clear that his mental capacities are certain to return to normal, barring complications," O'Leary said. But the doctor suggested it was still uncertain how much motor control was damaged.
