Remodeling To Create 'Brand New' Oviedo High

By Richard Truett
Herald Staff Writer

Oviedo High School's $10.5 million facelift expansion is one step closer following Seminole County School Board approval of plans submitted by Watson and Co. architects of Orlando.

Benny Arnold, assistant superintendent for facilities and transportation, said the next step is to send the plans to Tallahassee for approval.

Oviedo High School, built in 1968, was designed for 1,300 students. There are 1,800 students enrolled this year, according to Arnold.

When the construction is completed, Oviedo will be able to handle 2,154 students, he said.

If the plans are approved in Tallahassee, then construction could start by early July, Arnold explained. He said the plans are looked over by state officials and if any changes are recommended, then the plans must be re-approved.

"In essence, we'll have a brand new high school," Arnold said. Oviedo High School will undergo a complete restructuring. The blueprints call for the administration building to be located between two wings of classrooms connected by a skywalk, Arnold said.

The school will have 110,000 new feet built onto it and have 120,000 existing feet remodeled. Everything from the parking lots to the cafeteria will be remodeled.

"We hope to have the academic part ready by September 1986," Arnold said. The stadium, auditorium, and parking lot will take longer, he said.

Some of the construction will be going on during the school year, but Arnold said that the school, the construction company and teachers all work hand in hand to forestall problems. T.W. Lawton Elementary school in Oviedo recently had a 30,000 square foot addition and there were no problems, Arnold said.

Skeleton Crew

Let's see now, the jaw bone's connected to the skull bone... Hamilton Elementary School Principal Carem Gager, right, helps science teacher Diana Hippler assemble a skeleton donated to the school by Dr. Julius Sachs, left. The skeleton of a young male imported from Calcutta, India, is one of several donated to area schools by Sachs, 72, of 2519 Sheffield Drive, Deltona. An economist, his avocation for the past 17 years has been assembling skeletons for schools, universities and hospitals. He has had as many as 16 or 18 skeletons in his closets at one time, but this was the last in his collection. The skeletons were sold through the publishing company where he worked in Chicago before his retirement seven years ago.

GOP Leaders Fight Roads 'Super Agency'

Compromise Proposes Multi-County Authority

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

There will be no "super agency" levying taxes and deciding critical road needs in Seminole and Orange counties if the Republican members of the legislative delegations of both counties have their way.

Led by Sen. Richard Langley, R-Clermont, who is a member of the Seminole County Legislative Delegation, the GOP members from both the House of Representatives and the Senate are working on a compromise to get the job done of building adequate roads, while safeguarding the rights of each county's residents and political leaders.

A commission appointed by Governor Bob Graham said several months ago the best solution for Central Florida's transportation crisis would be a single agency with broad taxing powers in Seminole, Orange and Osceola counties. What became known as a "super agency" would plan, finance and build roads and expressways and provide mass transit on the basis of need rather than political expediency.

At this point, the Langley and GOP compromise calls for two pieces of legislation — one calling for a combined expressway authority and the other permitting the creation of a "multi-county transportation authority" to oversee construction of state and county roads.

The compromise has been worked on by the Republican members over the past couple weeks, the senator said.

Langley said the hardest part in the compromise effort has been getting agreement from Orlando Mayor Bill Frederick. He said Frederick agreed to one proposal only to "renege" on it the next day.

But Seminole County commissioners contacted are not very enthusiastic about the compromise. Neither were they in favor of the prospect of a super agency for transportation, supported by Frederick and Gov. Bob Graham.

Langley said Frederick approves both proposals and now the move is on to persuade Democrats of the two delegations — Sen. George Stuart Jr. and Reps. Fran Carlton and Alonzo Reddick, all of Orange County.

He said Sen. John Vogt, D-Cocoa Beach, member of both delegations, is prepared to support a compromise if agreed upon by his colleagues in both delegations.

Langley said originally it was proposed that the transportation authority would have two members from Seminole and two from Orange. As a concession to Frederick, the mayor of Orlando is also supposed to be a member.

To trigger the creation of the authority, each county would have to impose a 4-cents-per-gallon gasoline tax, under authority granted by the Legislature, to raise funds for road construction and each would have to adopt interlocal

Officer's Badge May Be On Line Today

By Deane Jordan
Herald Staff Writer

A state commission is scheduled to decide today whether to drop a complaint against a Sanford officer who was accused of fondling a woman.

The Criminal Justice Standards and Training Commission is scheduled to hear the case of Sgt. Joe Dillard, 42, of the Sanford Police Department.

The 17-member commission certifies officers.

A Florida Department of Law Enforcement staff has recommended the complaint against Dillard be dropped, according to Fred Scheneyer, public information officer for FDLE.

The staff recommended in March to halt a review of Dillard's certification because state investigators could not locate the woman who accused Dillard, according to Thomas Greene, Dillard's attorney.

Dillard has been embroiled in an 8-month battle to clear his name and keep his certification after the 18-year-old woman accused him in September of fondling her in summer, 1983.

She refused to press criminal charges.

Dillard was suspended with pay from the force in September and fired in December by Police Chief Ben Butler following the state board's decision to review his certification. Prior to his firing, however, a local hearing by a three-member panel of law officers voted 2-1 against any disciplinary action.

Following the firing, a Sanford Civil Service Board reinstated Dillard, but after a promotion he was eligible for was filled by another sergeant on the force.

Since returning to work in January, Dillard has indicated through his attorney that he wants to be considered for the promotion he missed while fighting the woman's accusation.

If the state board agrees with its staff recommendation to drop the case, no further action will be taken.

If the board disagrees with the staff decision, the matter will be rescheduled for further consideration. If that happens and Dillard contests the decision the case will go before a state hearing officer, according to Scheneyer. The hearing is like a mini-trial, Scheneyer said. The hearing officer then makes a recommendation to the commission which again has the final say.

If the board wants to further consider the case and Dillard does not contest the decision, he would be scheduled to go before the state board and plead his case, Scheneyer said.

Man Guilty Of Attempted Sexual Battery

A little girl with syphilis and failure of a lie detector test helped convict a Sanford man of attempted sexual battery and lewd and lascivious assault.

Under sentencing guidelines, Reginald Grant, 20, of 2029 Airport Blvd., faces about 3 1/2 to 4 1/2 years in prison. It is expected, however, that Assistant State Attorney Steven Brady will ask Circuit Judge S. Joseph Davis to "aggravate" Grant's sentence beyond the recommended prison time because Grant apparently gave the 6-year-old syphilis. Under state statutes, Grant could receive up to 45 years when sentenced June 27.

Grant was convicted after about four hours of deliberation by a 5-man, 1-woman jury Wednesday. He had been charged with sexual battery to a child under 11, a life felony, and the lewd assault. But the jury opted for the lesser charge apparently influenced by testimony stating that sexual contact without penetration is not sexual battery.

The girl accused Grant of molesting her after she was diagnosed as having syphilis.

The girl said Grant, who she knew, tried to have sex with her one day after picking her up at a day school, according to court records. The incident occurred after Easter, 1984, she said.

Reagan Enlists The Masses In Budget Fight

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate leaders were banking today on an outpouring from citizens heeding President Reagan's plea to make their voices heard to push a balky Senate into a quick and positive vote on the Republican budget.

Urging Americans to flood Congress with telephone calls and telegrams, Reagan sought support in a nationally televised address Wednesday night for a GOP plan that would cut the deficit by $52 billion in 1986.

Unswayed, Senate Democrats still are vowing a tough fight over a plan they say could drive America into the "international poorhouse."

Senate Republican leaders who struck the budget deal with the White House concede that even though they narrowly control the Senate, the battle beginning on the floor today will not be an easy one.

Before the speech, Senate Republican leader Robert Dole said he did not yet have enough support to approve the package in the Senate where the GOP holds a 53-47 edge.

In his 22-minute address to the nation from the Oval Office, Reagan said the budget is "a fair program, a balanced program. It will protect the neediest among us. It will stop the worst abuses of overspending and it not only deserves your support, it must have your support to pass."

With a plea to Americans to "seize this historic moment," he defended his attempt to abolish 17 federal programs ranging from Amtrak subsidies, general revenue sharing and the Job Corps, freeze 20 more and slash dozens of others.

Saying he had the votes in Congress to uphold a veto, Reagan reiterated his opposition to a tax hike "no matter how cleverly it's disguised."

In his response, Senate Democratic leader Robert Byrd blasted the Reagan package as unfair and short-sighted. He said, "Democrats will actually oppose a personal income tax increase."

But rich individuals and corporations should not get a "free ride," he said, a reference to a minimum tax proposed by many on Capitol Hill.

"In Milwaukee, Wisconsin, there is a woman, the mother of three children, who in 1983 earned $12,000," Byrd said. "On that income she paid more in taxes than Boeing, General Electric, Dupont and Texaco combined."

Reagan argued the package would "compel the federal government to end the dangerous addiction to deficit spending and finally live within its means" and move the nation "within reach" of a balanced budget by 1990.

Contractor Dennis Brubach, left, and city attorney Gerald Korman, smile as Mayor Harvey Smerilson signs contract for courts.

Longwood Park Facilities On Way

Another roadblock in the completion of recreational facilities at Reiter Park before the state's July 6 deadline has been removed. City Attorney Gerald Korman's discussion Tuesday morning with Dennis Brubach and the city's Parks and Recreation Director Bill Goebel over the contract between the city and Varsity Courts, Inc., of Longwood may have been "heated," but by the time the City Commission also held its special 9 p.m. meeting Tuesday night everything had been ironed out to both sides' satisfaction, he said.

The city commission approve an amended contract with Dennis Brubach, owner of Varsity Courts, Inc., Longwood, for the construction of tennis and handball courts at Reiter Park.

Commissioners threatened at Monday night's regular meeting to look elsewhere for a contractor when they learned Brubach was refusing to guarantee in writing to complete the $27,850 project by the July 6 deadline and refusing to accept responsibility for the courts if the soil base was not properly prepared.

If the courts are not constructed by then the city stands to lose a $18,000 state grant for the park.

Agreed to changes will cost the city $1,495 more than originally planned. The city will supply the fill dirt while Varsity Courts agreed to prepare the soil and compact it. A soil testing company will make soil borings to make sure everything is proper before the asphalt is poured. The contractor will proceed with the work and waive any claims against the city. The layout of the courts was changed to save some trees and it was necessary to add another 60 feet of chainlink fence.

A penalty will not be levied against the contractor if any delay is caused by the city or the weather.

Final Summit

KATMANDU, Nepal (UPI) — Texas millionaire Dick Bass on Saturday will try to become the oldest man to climb Mount Everest, the world's tallest peak, and in doing so complete his "seven summits odyssey," climbing the highest peak on each continent.

Bass, 55, and a companion, assisted by professional climbers, have made it up six of the peaks, but Everest has eluded them.

The Dallas native, who has made three unsuccessful bids to scale the Himalayan giant, will climb with two mountaineers from a Norwegian expedition, the Ministry of Tourism said today.

If he conquers the 29,028-foot mountain, Bass will beat a record set by Czechoslovakian Jozef Poptka, 50, who scaled Everest last autumn but died of exhaustion immediately after the climb.

Bass's team will move up to a fourth assault camp at 26,181 feet Friday before making the drive to the summit Saturday.

Reagan Says He'll Try Again To Get Aid For The Contras

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress has denied President Reagan the most visible means of pressuring the Nicaraguan government to reform — money to the rebels fighting to overthrow the Sandinista regime.

After two weeks of intensive lobbying, debate and last-hour offers of compromise, a fractious House Wednesday killed any alternative to Reagan's request, defeated Tuesday, of $14 million in aid to the Contra rebels.

Nicaraguan Foreign Minister Miguel d'Escoto late Wednesday hailed the final defeat in Congress of Reagan's request for aid to the Contras, calling the vote "a no to banditry" by the administration.

Reagan said he was "deeply disappointed" by the House defeat.

But emphasized that the House votes are not final and added he intends "to return to Congress again and again" in pursuit of administration goals in Nicaragua.

Bond Denied In 'False' Rape Case

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Illinois Court of Appeals dealt a setback to convicted rapist Gary Dotson by refusing to allow him to go free on bond while the courts consider his accuser's assertion that the rape never occurred.

The appeals court Wednesday denied bond without explanation to the Country Club Hills, Ill., man, who has served six years in prison.

Dotson, 28, was freed briefly on bond several weeks ago, but then was ordered back to prison April 11 by a Cook County judge who said he did not believe Cathleen Crowell Webb's recantation.

Dotson's attorneys appealed, but the appeals court voted 3-1 to deny bond pending the appeal.

Dissenting Judge Dom Rizzo criticized his colleagues for denying bond, saying the "public's acceptance of its criminal justice system is at stake."

Webb, a Jaffrey, N.H., mother of two, has said her new-found faith led her to reverse the "lie" she told in 1977 when she accused Dotson of raping her.

Dotson was convicted of rape and aggravated kidnapping in 1979 and sentenced to 25- to 50-years in prison.

von Bulow Suffers Setback

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UPI) — A federal judge ruled that an insulin-coated needle, the most damaging piece of evidence against Claus von Bulow at his trial in 1982, can be presented during his retrial on charges he tried to kill his wealthy wife.

Assistant Attorney General Marc DeSisto was to lay out his case today against the Danish-born jet-setter. DeSisto was expected to claim von Bulow, 58, tried to kill Martha "Sunny" von Bulow with insulin shots to inherit part of her $70 million utilities fortune and marry his mistress.

The first state witness was to be the family maid, Maria Schrahlhammer, who provided some of the strongest testimony against von Bulow in his first trial in 1982. The defense will give its opening statement after all state witnesses have been called, defense attorney Thomas Puccio said.

The defense charged private tests conducted on the needle in 1981 were invalid and unreliable.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Pope's Choice Of Cardinals Strengthens Conservative Bloc

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope John Paul II's choice of 28 new cardinals strengthened the conservative bloc within the College of Cardinals and increased Third World power within the Roman Catholic Church.

The appointments Wednesday to the body that elects popes included American archbishops John O'Connor of New York and Bernard Law of Boston. A special consistory will be held May 25 to install the new cardinals.

All of the new cardinals are described by Vatican sources as loyalists and doctrinal conservatives — hardly surprising, given the pope's decidedly conservative views on controversial church teachings regarding birth control, homosexuality, priestly celibacy and the ordination of women.

"Looking at the list you can see he is rewarding those faithful to the Roman line," said one Vatican source. "You won't find any liberals among them."

The appointments of both Law and O'Connor had been expected as their archdioceses are among the largest and most prestigious in the United States and are traditionally headed by cardinals.

Maoists Linked To Shooting

LIMA, Peru (UPI) — Five suspected Maoist guerrillas Wednesday fired machine guns and hurled a batchel of dynamite at a car carrying the chief of Peru's elections board, seriously wounding him, his chauffeur and bodyguard, police said.

Domingo Garcia Rada, 72, president of the National Elections Board, was taken to a hospital emergency room where surgeons operated for four hours to extract at least two bullets from his head. Shards of bone had also penetrated his brain, doctors said.

A medical bulletin said Garcia Rada survived the operation but suffered extensive brain damage. It said he also been shot in the arm.

Authorities believe Garcia Rada was attacked by the rebels of the Maoist Shining Path group, which has waged a 5-year-old war against the government that has claimed some 5,100 lives. The rebels had called for a boycott of the elections which they said were a farce designed to keep the rich in power.

Jurors Set Aside Personal Beliefs In Bombing Verdict

PENSACOLA (UPI) — Jurors who convicted two young couples in the Christmas bombing of three Pensacola abortion clinics say they set aside their personal beliefs about religion and abortion to reach their verdict.

Following the emotional nine-day trial, jury foreman Frank Bocchino read a statement Wednesday composed by the six-man, six-woman federal court jury.

"We feel our decision was based on the evidence and the law as presented to us," Bocchino read. "Our personal beliefs concerning religion and the abortion issue did not in any way influence us."

After a little more than four hours of deliberation that began Tuesday night, the jury convicted all four defendants of conspiracy. The two men, Matthew Goldsby and James Simmons also were convicted of manufacturing the 41-pound pipe bombs and exploding them early Christmas morning.

Goldsby cast his eyes downward when the verdicts were read and the two women cried.

No one was injured in the blasts, but one clinic was destroyed and two others heavily damaged.

Sentencing is scheduled for May 30. Goldsby and Simmons, both 21, face a maximum of 65 years in prison and fines up to $70,000 each.

The two women, Goldsby's fiancée, Kaye Wiggins, 18, and Simmons' wife, Kathy, 19, were found guilty only of conspiracy, which carries a possible sentence of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

U.S. District Judge Roger Vinson released the two men from prison where they had been held since their arrests a few days after the bombings and returned the two women to the custody of their mothers.

Leaders of pro-abortion factions hailed the verdict.

"It is our hope that the results of this trial will serve as a deterrent to others who are contemplating violence as a means of imposing their religious beliefs on others," said Faye Wattleton, spokeswoman for Planned Parenthood.

Goldsby and Simmons told federal agents shortly after their arrest they had bombed the clinics because they had received a "call from God" and were trying to stop killings of the unborn.

The lead defense lawyer, T. Patrick Monaghan of Bardstown, Ky., who represented Goldsby, appeared most upset by the verdicts.

"There's been a 13th juror (God)," Monaghan said. "I don't understand exactly what He's doing or why He's doing it."

Woman Run Over While Sitting In Interstate 4

A 28-year-old Orlando woman was killed Wednesday after she sat in the westbound lane of Interstate 4 and was run over by at least two vehicles.

Florida Highway Patrol officials said they do not know why the woman sat in the roadway west of Sanford or how she got there.

Dead is Rhonda Nolte.

According to an FHP report, Miss Nolte ran onto I-4 at about 8:15 p.m. and sat down. While on the roadway, she was run over by what may have been a red BMW. She was then struck by a second vehicle, a silver-window Dodge van. Neither vehicle stopped and both should have extensive front end damage, according to the FHP report.

There was no indication Miss Nolte had been drinking, the report said.

Ms. Nolte is the ninth traffic death in Seminole County this year.

Man Badly Burned By Exploding Propane Tank

A 33-year-old Longwood man was in serious condition today with second- and third-degree burns over 30 percent of his body following a propane gas explosion at Tri City Electric, Altamonte Springs, at about 4:30 p.m. Wednesday.

John Bonner, of 1401 Prince Philip Drive, a superintendent for the electrical company at 430 West St., was filling a company truck with propane fuel when the tank apparently over-filled and exploded, Seminole County Fire Inspector Jon Christian said.

Christian said investigators have not talked with Bonner, who is in the burn unit of Orlando Regional Medical Center. But it appears, he said, that the tank over-filled, kicked off a relief valve and set off an explosion that sent a 40-foot fire ball into the air.

Bonner was set afire and two co-workers came to his aid. Gregor D. Beasley, 18, of Lake Mary, put out the fire, while Roy Beane, 31, of Orlando, shut off the gas, a Seminole County sheriff's report said.

Tri City Electric uses propane instead of gasoline as fuel for some of its vehicles, Christian said. Because of the chance of explosion if a propane tank is over-filled, Christian said, users are required by law to have someone watching propane tanks as they are filled, and that is apparently what Bonner was doing. Christian said investigators haven't determined what went wrong, but static electricity may have sparked the explosion.

Bonner was treated at the scene by Seminole County firefighters and transported to

TV TRACE

A 19-year-old Sanford man was being held in the Seminole County jail in lieu of $5,000 bond charged with burglary and theft after his fingerprints were reportedly found on a stolen television found discarded on a roadside.

Emery Griffis, of Route 1, Box 138-D, Sanford, told sheriff's deputies that he was awakened by a prowler in his home at about 3 a.m. on April 18. Griffis found a door open, but went back to bed. When he awoke again at 6 a.m. he discovered his $500 television was missing.

Griffis went to the home of his neighbor, Edward Dennis, and asked him to take him to a phone so he could report the burglary, a sheriff's report said.

As they drove on Wayside Drive they spotted the man who was eventually charged and another unidentified man at a car stuck in the sand on Katie Street east of Sanford. After a dump truck pulled the vehicle out of the sand, Griffis and Dennis followed the suspects to a service station where one of them reportedly gave Griffis a pack of cigarettes he believed were stolen from his home, the report said.

Griffis and Dennis went back to the Katie Street site and found the television discarded about 100 feet from where the car had been stuck, the report said. They reported the incident to the Seminole County Sheriff's Department and deputies matched the fingerprints found on the TV on Tuesday.

Billy Joe Dornon, of 1401 W. 1st St., has been charged in the case. He was arrested at 11:30 a.m. Wednesday after being stopped as he drove along State Road 46 in Sanford.

EX-HUSBAND BATTERED

A 35-year-old Apopka woman has been charged with battery spouse abuse after allegedly attacking her ex-husband, punching and scratching his face, after he refused to talk with her at his job.

Rick McLeod, 31, of Apopka, told police who responded to a disturbance call at the ABC liquor store on east Altamonte Drive, Altamonte Springs, that the suspect had entered that business at about 3:30 p.m. and attacked him when he was escorting her out after refusing to talk with her.

Police noted McLeod had cuts on his face and the suspect, who was at the store McLeod manages when they arrived, continued to shout as they investigated the case.

Barbara Jeanne Rhea of 230-B, S. Highland Ave., was released on $500 bond.

BURGLARIES & THEFTS

A 500-pound sow, four three-day-old pigs and a pair of goats with a combined value of $460 were stolen from a pen in the backyard of James Hampton, 58, of 2940 Walker Road, Jamestown, near Oviedo, between April 14 and Tuesday.

The used car sales manager of Bob Dance Dodge, U.S. Highway 17-92, Longwood, reported to deputies that four tires and their rims were stolen from an office trailer at the dealership on Monday or Tuesday. The items have a total value of $400.

A thief took $305 from a cabinet in the office of Dr. David Ohlweiler, 63, of 9001 E. Aloma Ave., Goldenrod, between April 15 and 19, a sheriff's report said.

A set of tools worth about $500 was stolen from the back of a pickup truck parked at 2015 S. Adams Ave., Sanford, on Saturday. The truck and tools belong to Ralph Phillips, 31, of 530 Cambridge Circle, South Daytona.

Someone broke a window at 1316 Southwest Road, Sanford, on Tuesday, entered the home and stole a television and stereo together valued at $310, Sanford police reported.

A thief broke a window at a home belonging to Brian Burgess, 26, of 877 E. 20th St., Sanford, and stole $260 from his bedroom. The theft occurred Saturday night or early Sunday, Sanford police reported.

DUI ARREST

The following person has been arrested in Seminole County on a charge of driving under the influence.

—Sharon Lynn Miller, 31, of 314 W. 6th St., Sanford, was arrested at 9:25 p.m. Tuesday after a Sanford police officer received a report of a drunk driver and spotted her driving on 21st Street, Sanford, with a flat tire on the right front of her car.

IN BRIEF

House: Let State Decide Where Group Homes Located

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — After a bitter floor fight, the House has voted to override local governments' authority to select sites for group homes for the elderly, the mentally and physically handicapped and runaway children.

The vote on HB 1174 came five years after the Legislature voted to close down many of the large institutions used to house persons incapable of fending completely for themselves, and shift those persons into neighborhood group homes.

Yet sponsors of the group home bill — which should come up for a final vote next week — said five of 460 local governments had arranged to include group home sites in residential neighborhoods, and that others had reserved space for the homes in unsuitable areas.

Sponsors argued that the state should take matters into its own hands and let the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services decide where the homes should go.

Opponents complained the bill might allow placement of convicted felons, including sex offenders, in neighborhoods — and that the Legislature has no right to impose on local authority in zoning matters.

Growth Plan Review Begins

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The House Appropriations Committee today begins two days of hearings on Gov. Bob Graham's 10-year blueprint for balancing Florida's environmental needs and rapid population growth.

The full House is scheduled to debate the comprehensive state plan next Tuesday. A special Senate committee is already working on aspects of the Graham plan, and debate in that chamber is expected in mid-May.

Graham's chief of staff, Charles Reed, two weeks ago put the projected cost of the state plan at $32 billion — including city, county and business-borne expenses — over the next 10 years.

By the year 2000, the state's 11 million population is expected to swell to 15 million — roughly the equivalent of the entire state of Georgia moving southward. To cope with that kind of growth, the Legislature this year is working on a package of construction regulations to protect waterways and coastlines, and Graham has put forth model goals for the state to achieve in education, environmental protection, law enforcement and other areas of state needs through the year 1995.

'Capo' Arrested For Jumping Bail

FORT LAUDERDALE (UPI) — A reputed "capo" of the Gambino organized crime family of New York has been arrested at a hotel on Fort Lauderdale's Galt Ocean Mile, an FBI spokesman said.

John Gottl, 40, who allegedly is a high-ranking member of the Gambino organization, was arrested by FBI agents and members of the Broward County Sheriff's Office Organized Crime Bureau Wednesday on charges of violating the new Bail Reform Act of 1984 by leaving New York state where he was arrested, said Miami FBI spokesman Joe Dell'Amico.

Gottl, a resident of Howard Beach, N.Y., posted $1 million bond March 28. He had been charged involving two groups in the Gambino family who allegedly committed a series of crimes including hijacking, gambling and loan sharking.

A trial date had not been set for Gottl.

Kennedy Death: 1 Year After

By United Press International
Exactly one year ago today David Kennedy's body was found sprawled face down between two beds in a $250-a-night room at the Brazilian Court Hotel in Palm Beach.

An autopsy showed the 28-year-old son of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy died of an overdose involving a combination of cocaine and the prescription drugs Demerol and Mellaril.

Documents gathered in the investigation of his death show Kennedy was "full of pain" from the assassination of his father and depressed about grandmother Rose Kennedy's failing health.

Two hotel bellhops are awaiting trial on charges of selling Kennedy the cocaine found in his body and more than a gram of the white powder found in his wallet.

WEATHER

NATIONAL REPORT: Fierce winds stripped sheet metal from a skyscraper and knocked out power to thousands of homes and businesses in Southern California today, while a heat wave that set or tied 100 records in the East this week came to an end. Gusts of more than 40 mph in the Los Angeles area blacked out more than 10,000 customers today, officials said. Police closed a section of Wilshire Boulevard because of sheet metal blown off a high-rise under construction. About 100 guests in a Santa Monica, Calif., motel were forced from their rooms because a 250-foot crane being used down the street was swinging in the wind, police said. "Apparently, (the crane) is designed to swing, but it appears to be bending," Lt. Mike Murphy said.

AREA FORECAST: Today partly cloudy and warm with widely scattered showers and thunderstorms. High in mid to upper 80s. Wind south 5 to 10 mph. Rain chance 20 percent. Tonight partly cloudy with some locally dense late-night fog likely. Low mid 60s. Variable light wind. Friday partly sunny and warm with a slight chance of afternoon showers or thunderstorms. High in low to mid 80s. Wind south 5 to 10 mph. Rain chance 20 percent.

BOATING FORECAST: St. Augustine to Jupiter Inlet out 50 miles — Wind variable mostly south 5 to 10 knots today becoming southwest by tonight then light and variable Friday. Sea less than 3 feet. Partly cloudy with a few showers mainly north half today. Otherwise fair.

EXTENDED FORECAST: Saturday through Monday mostly fair. Only a slight chance of afternoon thunderstorms. Lows from low 60s north to low 70s extreme south. Highs mid to upper 80s.

Judges Opt To Specialize

More Cases, Fewer Being Resolved

By Deane Jordan
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole circuit judges are finding themselves in a legal bind — the number of criminal and civil cases they have to deal with is climbing steadily and the number of cases they actually deal with is decreasing.

In fact, at the end of 1984, there were almost 2,000 cases pending in circuit court. Last year was the court's most efficient with 1,616 cases disposed of. That means there is well over a year's worth of work languishing on the court docket.

Net result: the slowly-grinding wheels of justice are slowing down still more.

Possible solutions: install another judge, which has been recommended by the Florida Supreme Court but not approved by the Legislature, or become more efficient. The judges have opted for efficiency.

Starting July 1, the five circuit judges in Seminole County will specialize with two of them hearing only criminal cases, two hearing civil cases and one judge handling juvenile court and other family matters. The arrangement will last for a year. Criminal cases in juvenile court, incidentally, is the only type of case load that has declined during the past four years.

Circuit Judge C. Vernon Mize Jr. said that if the judges specialize, they can handle more cases than if they hear a variety of cases.

During the past four years, according to statistics supplied by judicial administrative assistant Lois Walker, the number of cases, both civil and criminal, disposed of has steadily dropped as the number of cases filed is increasing at an equally rapid rate.

In 1981, about 91 percent of criminal and civil cases brought were resolved within a year. In 1984, only 85 percent of cases were resolved within 12 months of being filed. Why? A total of 2,692 cases entered the judicial process in '81. In '84, the number was up to 3,488.

Also during the past four years, the number of trials in criminal and civil cases have steadily dropped. There were 33 civil trials in 1981, only 25 in 1984. There were 148 criminal trials in 1981 and 140 in 1984.

Most criminal and civil cases are settled before they get to the courtroom, and the number has increased slightly between 1981-84. But the figures indicate that the growth in the case load has outstripped the number of out-of-court settlements.

Although juvenile crime cases have dropped, other types of cases heard by the judge in that division have increased. On the increase have been cases of mental competency determinations and probate.

In 1981, there were 1,850 cases filed in juvenile court. By 1984, the number had dropped to 1,112.

Under the new specialization arrangement, circuit judges Kenneth M. Leffer and Robert B. McGregor will handle criminal cases. Judges S. Joseph Davis Jr. and C. Vernon Mize Jr. will handle civil suits, and Dominick J. Saffi will hear cases in juvenile court which also includes probate, guardianships, uncontested divorces and mental health cases.

agreements, Langley said. If either county failed to adopt an inter-local agreement or to impose the 4-cents-per-gallon gasoline tax, the authority would not be created. The authority would also control the Tri-County Transit Authority bus system but would be forbidden from spending gas tax money on it.

On the merger of the expressway authorities of each county, Langley's first idea was to have a board composed of five Seminole County members and five Orange County members.

The county commissioners of both counties would recommend names of persons to the governor for appointment and the governor would appoint members from those thus nominated.

To provide revenues, in addition to tolls, for combined expressway authority, the Legislature would permit the authority to levy a 1-cent per $1 sales tax for a three-year period, subject to ratification of the voters in each county. Langley said if the voters of either county rejected the proposal, the merger would not become effective.

He said a 1-cent sales tax would raise $75 million a year in combined revenue from the two counties. In Seminole County a 1-cent sales tax will bring in about $13.2 million.

Langley said Frederick first agreed with the proposal and then came back demanding that the authority be constituted of five members from Orange and two from Seminole.

Agreement was finally reached with Frederick by compromising at five members for Orange and four from Seminole. Langley said Frederick's argument was that the majority of the funding would come from Orange County.

Langley, who is also Senate minority leader, said Frederick had a point there since the Orange County Expressway Authority has bonding capability of $100 million.

"We may run into trouble with the Democratic leadership, but we are trying to negotiate," Langley said.

Seminole County Commissioner Fred Streetman said the entire negotiation seems an effort to come up with something the mayor of Orlando will sign off on. "I don't know how he became a pivotal figure in a problem that transcends two counties."

As far as the bus transit system is concerned, Streetman said he sees no reason for it being eliminated. "The transit authority is doing a good job and the fees per subsidy ratio is better than the national average. I see no reason to disrupt something that is working."

Meanwhile, state Rep. Carl Selph, R-Casselberry, said the compromise appears good and the legislation on the merged expressway authorities could mean that the expanded expressway into Seminole could be completed with cash.

He added that Langley expects to meet with the U.S. Department of Transportation next month to talk about federal matching funds and to talk with the state DOT about state matching funds on state roads the authority would undertake to build.

Selph also said Frederick should "quit being parochial and let us all work together."

Streetman said he just doesn't see the need for the formation of any new agency. "We could solve road problems locally if we just had the money to do it with agencies that exist already."

Seminole County Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff declined comment saying he will be interested in reading the legislation when the negotiating and compromising is completed.

Seminole County Commissioner Sandra Glenn said she wouldn't have any problem with a merged expressway authority, but fails to see the need for a combined transportation authority.

Blood Clot Killed Heart Recipient

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Jack Burcham, the world's oldest permanent artificial heart patient, died when a jelly-like blood clot compressed a remnant of his natural heart and backed up blood into his lungs, doctors said today.

Burcham, 62, died at 9:48 p.m. Wednesday at Humana Hospital Audubon, 10 days after he became the fifth Jarvik-7 heart patient.

Dr. William C. DeVries, who implanted four of the world's five artificial hearts, appeared subdued at a medical briefing and said it was impossible to tell if the artificial heart had affected Burcham's lifespan.

"It's a possibility it could have shortened his life," DeVries said. "It also may have lengthened his life."

The artificial heart, which consists of the two lower main pumping chambers, was not affected by the pressure from the clot because it has a rigid structure, said Dr. Allan M. Lansing, chairman of the Humana Heart Institute.

"In this case, the mechanical heart was all right but blood could not get back to the (artificial) pumping chamber because of the compression of the (natural) upper chamber."

occurred.

Wayne Porter, a polygraph examiner for the State Attorney's office, testified that in his opinion Grant lied to him on three key questions regarding whether he assaulted the girl.

Porter explained that a score of plus 6 or higher indicates a person is telling the truth. A score from plus 6 to negative 6 shows neither truthfulness nor lying. A score of negative 7 or greater indicates the person is lying.

Porter said Grant scored a negative 12. — Deane Jordan

Blackmail Won't Succeed

In 1980, a Vietnamese refugee who had worked as a mortician in Hanoi told a congressional subcommittee that the North Vietnamese were still holding the bodies of 400 American servicemen at a former prisoner-of-war camp as late as 1977. The refugee passed a Pentagon polygraph test and a Defense Department official said his account had been "cross-checked and independently verified."

Since then the operative assumption in Washington has been that the Vietnamese communists were, in fact, holding the remains of hundreds of Americans as grisly bargaining chips in Hanoi's efforts to pry political and economic concessions from Washington. The periodic release by the Vietnamese of a few sets of remains, such as those identified recently by the Army's Central Identification Laboratory in Hawaii, tends to confirm the grim assumption.

Two of the six servicemen identified had been listed by the Pentagon as prisoners of war and were known to have died in captivity. The other four, Air Force officers whose planes were shot down over North Vietnam, had been classified as missing in action.

Perhaps, but only perhaps, the remains of the Air Force officers were just recently located by the Vietnamese. But the odds are at least as good that these remains were among those inspected and processed by the refugee mortician almost a decade ago at 17 Ly Nam De St. in Hanoi. And, of course, the odds are much better than even that the bodies of the two Americans held as prisoners, albeit in jungle POW camps in South Vietnam, were available to the North Vietnamese years ago.

An incontrovertible example of Hanoi's duplicity came to light in 1981 when the Vietnamese returned the remains of three American pilots known to have been POWs in North Vietnam. Throughout the war, the Vietnamese never acknowledged holding these men. And when their remains were turned over to U.S. officials in July 1981 the Vietnamese offered not a word of explanation.

The families of these men grieved, anguished and wondered about the fate of their loved ones year after year. Hanoi almost certainly could have eased that suffering by doing what any civilized nation does once hostilities end: Return all prisoners of war, release remains and all information on those deceased, and cooperate fully in resolving the status of those still missing. Officials in Hanoi claim repeatedly to have fulfilled these requirements.

These claims are patent, cruel lies. A dozen years after the Paris Peace Accords and the departure of the last American soldiers from Vietnam and a decade after the fall of Saigon, the communists in Hanoi are still trying to exploit the suffering of American POW-MIA families for political and economic advantage. Few governments in recent memory have acted more despicably or pursued a more cruelly cynical policy.

The Defense Department now lists 2,477 Americans as still unaccounted for in Southeast Asia. At the agonizingly slow rate that Vietnam is returning remains and providing information, the matter of American POW-MIAs will remain an active issue past the end of this century. The only hope, short of unacceptable surrender to extortion, of achieving a proper resolution long before then is to persuade Hanoi that blackmail can never succeed.

Silent Majority Is Often Too Silent

WASHINGTON — That eerie silence you "hear" from Washington in the middle of the most critical budget debate in U.S. history is the lost voice of what used to be called "the Silent Majority."

Its membership was comprised of that great mass of middle-class workers and taxpayers who suddenly became politically active in the late 1960s and early '70s and made their voices collectively heard.

These same people, their numbers significantly increased, made their voices heard in the last presidential election with an awesome roar of approval for President Reagan's policies — handing the president 525 electoral votes, more than anyone has ever received, and 59 percent of the popular vote.

Now, with every special minority interest group in the land blanketing Capitol Hill and buttonholing lawmakers, the Silent Majority seems to have become silent once again.

Instead, the voices that appear most dominant are those who don't want one nickel of their programs, benefits and subsidies touched, no matter how big the deficit. They run the gamut from major corporations that don't want their heavily subsidized Export-Import loans eliminated to Social Security recipients who want their full cost-of-living increase.

As anyone who has ever studied congressional warfare knows, the voices heard in the greatest numbers are almost always the ones that win.

The question that cries out to be asked this week is: Where are those who are not direct recipients of cut-rate loans, subsidies, entitlements and other giveaways, but who will pay most of the bills? Why aren't their voices being raised? Why aren't their organizations — trade groups, civic associations, grass-roots caucuses — making their positions known in an effective manner? Why is the great preponderance of voices coming only from those who are the beneficiaries and their lobbyists? Where has the Silent Majority gone?

It would indeed be a monumental tragedy if the delicately balanced budget package put together by the House and Senate Republicans gets torn to shreds because the voices of the minority are louder than the majority. That would be a one-way ticket to a major tax increase, which is precisely what the opponents of spending cuts want.

No one can predict how the budget battle will turn out, except to say that it will be a tougher fight than it needed to be.

Precious time and political capital were wasted in the fight over aid to the Nicaraguan rebels, a request that should have been postponed until support for a compromise could have been nailed down. The lengthy and needless controversy over Reagan's trip to the German cemetery at Bitburg further eroded White House attention from the critical budget battle.

All of this has left the field largely to the opponents of budget cutting, which means that for both the White House and its congressional allies, there is a lot of lost ground to recover.

Action On Trade Front

The extraordinary series of votes in the U.S. Senate and House of Representatives, in which there was virtually unanimous support for retaliation against Japan if it continues to open its doors to American goods was a surprising development.

Until these votes took place, it seemed that only a limited number of congressmen in both parties were concerned about Japan's resort to covert protectionism while it preached free trade to the United States. Clearly, there has been a great awakening in Congress. At long last, the members are showing sensitivity to the plight of a wide range of U.S. industries affected by Japan's practice of defensive and offensive targeting.

Leading American industrialists, including the chairmen of DuPont, Motorola, and Champion Spark Plug Co., have been articulating the plight of U.S. companies faced with competition from guided and subsidized industries abroad. They have warned of severe losses in employment, the danger of the large scale shutdowns of plants in the U.S., and the shift to manufacturing "offshore" in Mexico, Indonesia, Brazil and elsewhere.

The business press is coming around on the trade issue. Business Week recently warned that the U.S. trade deficit with Japan could hit $50 billion this year, up from $37 billion in 1984. Time published a very hard-hitting article on Japanese-style covert protectionism. Unfortunately, while the Congress now sees the light, there are plenty of free trade dogmatists around who, like the Bourbons of old, won't learn or forget anything.

One of the holdouts is the Wall Street Journal, which greeted the almost unanimous Senate and House votes with a sneering charge of a "sudden outbreak of protectionist bombast" and referred to "the King Kong roars from the House and Senate chambers this week." The Wall Street Journal is determined to see no evil, hear no evil with respect to Japan and other foreign countries which employ targeting.

Nevertheless, what really counts isn't preemptive censorship on the part of a major business publication but what's happening in Congress. And the news from Capitol Hill is that the political will exists for action on the trade front. Japan would do well to open its markets and end its unfair trading practices. Time has run out for these practices.

HHS Probes Rehab Facility's Charges

WASHINGTON — Defense contractors aren't the only ones who charge the government for personal expenses like kennel costs and cocktail parties.

Investigators for the Health and Human Services Department turned up more than $1 million in questionable Medicare charges from a single rehabilitation center in 1982-83. They included legal fees for the company president's divorce, his country-club tab and health-insurance premiums for his mother.

According to a memorandum written by the Health and Human Services Inspector-general to another department official, this information will be presented soon to the U.S. attorney in Scranton, Pa. The company under investigation

VIEWPOINT

Peace Initiative

By Alfonso Robelo

On March 2, 1985, a bright clear morning in San Jose, Costa Rica, some fifty Nicaraguans from all walks of life gathered to hear a statement signed the day before by representatives of the principal groups opposing Marxist Sandinista rule of their country.

The San Jose declaration called on the Sandinistas to join in a "national dialogue" to resolve differences civilly. It asked the Nicaraguan Conference of Bishops to mediate, and outlined an agenda of issues for discussion. It set March 20 as the date to begin the dialogue leading to "national reconciliation."

This "peace initiative" was hammered out over many weeks by persons advocating diverse approaches to resolve the civil war between Nicaragua's Marxist regime and the democratic freedom fighters who represent contrasting philosophies and experiences. They agreed, however, on two fundamental points: 1) opposition to Sandinista rule; and 2) the desire for a peaceful, civilized resolution of the problem and an end to the bloodshed and sacrifice afflicting both sides in the civil war.

More significant is that these Nicaraguan exiles had been allies of the Sandinistas in the struggle against a former Nicaraguan dictator, Anastasio Somoza. And some became members of the new government after the triumph in July 1979.

Just as we united against Somoza's dictatorship, we are today united against the rule of the Cuban-Soviet style politburo which has been imposed on Nicaragua. We are a broadly representative group. But for the fact that Marxist movements elsewhere have appropriated the term, we might well call ourselves a new "liberation front." For our objective is to liberate our fatherland from the Marxist-Leninism of the Sandinistas.

In 1978-79, the armed force which fought Somoza numbered only six or seven thousand. But it was backed by a national coalition of other forces, including the Catholic Church, labor unions, political parties, businessmen, students, peasants, farmers, and others.

Today the coalition opposing the Sandinistas is equally broad. It includes former Sandinistas and former members of the revolutionary government who could not tolerate the direction in which the Sandinistas were taking the country.

Today Nicaragua is a renegade nation. Among Latin American heads of state only Fidel Castro attended the January 10 inauguration of the new president, Daniel Ortega. The FSLN regime has produced nearly a half million refugees and exiles, and Nicaragua has become a haven for international terrorists and drug traffickers.

Despite propaganda which portrays us differently, we are a new national liberation front. Our program is founded on the legitimate aspirations of the Nicaraguan people. We speak for nearly a half million refugees and exiles, for the Indians and Creoles of the Atlantic Coast, for the thousands who have taken up arms, and for the hundreds of thousands of citizens who are not free to speak for themselves. The San Jose declaration is a genuine peace initiative which remains the last and only hope for bringing peace and reconciliation to Nicaragua.

Second Term Buzz Saw

By Helen Thomas
UPI White House Reporter
WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan had a longer honeymoon in office than most presidents. And a 49-state mandate to begin his second term is nothing to sniff at.

But as in all things, he is losing some of his magic touch and his first-term ability to cut his losses.

As a true believer, he appears less willing to compromise this time around and has set some goals for himself that are not easily achieved. One of the goals obviously is to knock off the leftist Sandinista government in Nicaragua.

That has been a driving aim since he took office. He wants to make sure that there is no communist takeover on his watch.

But the exercise of military strength whether through surrogates or on its own must have public backing, and so far in the case of Central America, the president has not been able to achieve a consensus.

In rhetorical terms, he has pulled out all the stops accusing his opponents of "shameful surrender." He made the same charge of "surrender" against Speaker Thomas O'Neill when O'Neill urged a pullout from Lebanon after some 300 Marines were killed, and a few days later Reagan withdrew the troops. It was the better part of valor for which he was praised rather than criticized.

He had, in short, declared a victory and pulled out.

But Nicaragua and other issues appear to be more visceral to the president.

Although the president is trying to "hang tough" in refusing to change his itinerary, which includes a visit to a German military cemetery where some Nazi SS storm troopers are buried, many White House aides believe it was a major blunder and could have been prevented under more sensitive watchfulness.

Reagan's intentions were in the traditions of post-war healing and reconciliation with a former adversary who is now an important ally. But he forgot that for many, memories are not that short for those who bear the scars of World War II.

The months ahead have many more hurdles. The president is not one, according to his aides, who will let lame duckism set in.

But the events of the last two weeks are proving that it will be not be easy to always prevail.

Baseball's Final Four Averages 24 Wins Per Team

DELAND — Move over Georgetown, Villanova, Memphis State and St. John's, the real Final Four is tonight at Conrad Park. Baseball is the game and the quality of the four participants — Lake Mary, Lyman, Apopka and DeLand — is just about the same.

Like Lake Mary coach Allen Tuttle says, "If this isn't the toughest district in the state, I'd like to see a tougher one." He's probably right. Baseball in Central Florida is at its zenith. Two weeks ago, Lake Mary (No. 6), Apopka (No. 8) and Lyman (No. 9) were all ranked.

This came two weeks after Frank Franzl, a sports writer for the Jacksonville Times Union who puts together the prep poll, told me, "There no way I can rank three teams from the same conference. They probably are deserving but nobody would buy it."

This week Apopka, 22-8-1, dropped back to the honorable mention and was joined by DeLand, 22-9. Lake Mary, 24-6, still holds the No. 6 slot and Lyman, 24-5, has settled in at No. 8. That's 96 wins for the four finalists or an average of 24 wins per team. Let's see any district in the state (or the nation) match that.

excitement. For the first time in a long time, there were no upsets in the first round. Two blockbuster matchups are slated for tonight with the winners going to the final Friday at 7:30 p.m.

● 5 p.m. — Lake Mary vs. Apopka. Like the four meetings before, this should be another classic. These teams don't hate each other, they respect each other too much for that. But the intensity level goes into the red zone every time they take the field. They have split four games this year.

The first encounter was at Lake Mary. Mike Schmit and Scott Underwood hit homers as the Rams won, 6-4. Schmit scattered 11 hits and drove in three runs. Apopka coach Sonny Wise pronounced the two homers as less than prodigious. "I'm tired of getting beat in bandboxes," he said after the game in reference to Lake Mary's cozy dimensions.

The second one was at Apopka. Skip Cousins, a wisp of a left-hander, tied the Rams in knots with an assortment of slow stuff as the Darters prevailed, 5-1. Tim Oxley slugged three-run homer off Eric "The Whip" Hagen in the first to spark the win. Schmit, suffering from mononucleosis, didn't dress out. There was some talk that most of Lake Mary's team had spent the previous day at the beach and weren't ready to play. Don't look for that to happen again.

The third one and most dramatic came in the Colonial Classic. Ryan Lisle hit a clutch two-run homer with two out in the bottom of the seventh to send the game into an extra inning and Kevin Hill won it with a double in the eighth, 5-4. Neal Harris turned in a stellar mound effort before Anthony Laszic came on to get the win.

The fourth one came 30 minutes later for the championship. It was the Keith Ussrey Show. The big lefty (he bats right-handed) slugged two, three-run homers, the last coming in the bottom of the sixth to erase a 4-3 Lake Mary lead and give Apopka its second straight championship, 6-4.

Today's battle should be just as good. Wise said he would go with Cousins while Tuttle will counter with Schmit. Cousins has the Rams number so far. In 11 innings, the senior southpaw has given up just seven hits and one unearned run to a team which is averaging close to nine runs and 10 hits per outing.

"I gotta go with him, don't I?" said Wise after Tuesday's 4-1 win over Lake Brantley. "Cousins has really been tough on them. We'll have Oxley ready if he gets in trouble, though."

There are a lot of variables involved today. Wise is basing much of his team's success on the fact that it's been there before. The Blue Darters have won back-to-back tournament titles. All of the starters were on those two teams except second baseman John Jackson and Cousins.

"I know what Sydney Lowman and Mike Hinde are going to do. I know what Tony Johnson and Ussrey will do," said Wise. "They've been there before. They can handle the pressure."

"Do these other schools know how their players are going to handle it?"

An interesting question. Although Lake Mary was knocked out in the first round last year, its players are no strangers to big games. Schmit,

Apopka 'Ringers' Down Seminoles

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

APOPKA — According to coach Beth Corso, Seminole High's 4A-9 District Tournament game against Apopka's Lady Blue Darters Wednesday was like being in the middle of a three-ring circus.

Direct your attention to the center ring where Apopka's team showed up with all new uniform numbers from the last time the two teams played. Then, there was Apopka doing its trapeze act, switching players in the lineup in mid-inning.

Now, cast your eyes upon ring number two where the Apopka track team is warming up and throwing the discus onto the softball field with Seminole in the field and the ball in play.

You'll be amazed when you take a look at the third ring where the Apopka baseball team has implanted itself near the third base line, throwing jelly beans at Seminole's third baseman, shortstop and left fielder.

The Lady Seminoles did an exceptional job shaking off these distractions and concentrating on the game but, when the show was over, it was too many stranded baserunners that cost the Tribe a 3-0 setback to the Lady Darters at Apopka High.

"We left seven people on base, we just couldn't get them around," coach Corso said. "But I want to commend my girls for the way they were concentrating on the game and kept playing ball despite what was going on around them."

The confusion started before the game did Wednesday as Corso said Apopka showed up with all different uniform numbers. "That caused so much confusion," Corso said. "For the first three innings I didn't know who was coming to bat for them. The numbers didn't match up with the names. I could never get it straightened out with Virgil (Apopka coach Riddle). And because the numbers were changed I couldn't use the paper I had that told me where the girls hit from the last time we played them."

While Corso was still trying to straighten things out, Apopka jumped out to a 2-0 lead in the bottom of the second. Consecutive singles by Stacy Pruitt, Wanda Taylor and Debbie Church loaded the bases. With one out, Maria DeJesus hit a ball to short field and was thrown out at first but both Pruitt and Taylor wound up scoring on the play.

The Lady Darters added another run in the third to make it 3-0. With two outs, Michelle McKinney singled and Sherry Tobias followed with a base hit. McKinney scored when Tobias' hit was bobbled in right field.

After Apopka had taken the 3-0 lead in the next two distractions occurred. In the fourth inning, an Apopka track performer who was practicing behind the softball field threw the discus onto the field while the ball was in play. "We were lucky that no one was hit and that there was no play in the outfield at the time," Corso said. "But it still shouldn't have happened."

Not long after that, the Apopka baseball team had just finished practice and skipped over to the softball field.

"The baseball team came over and sat down behind a sign, which was illegal itself, and proceeded to throw jelly beans at my left fielder, third baseman and shortstop," Corso said.

"And they also started saying crude things to them. That was really uncalled for. Finally one of the girls said something to the umpire and it all stopped."

While Corso was contending with the distractions, the Seminoles were trying their best to push across a run. The Lady Tribe's best chances came in the first and second innings.

In the first, Sheri Peterson, who had singled, got to third with two outs before Jackie Farr dribbled one to the pitcher who threw her out to end the inning.

In the top of the second, Janet Hauck led off with a single and, one out later, Showanda Walker singled and both runners advanced on a bad throw on the play. The inning ended there though when Laura Burke flew out to shallow right and Jackie Suggs popped out to second.

"The umpires and Apopka's athletic director did a good job straightening things out, but they shouldn't have happened in the first place. They stopped the baseball team and the track team but Virgil's (Riddle's) mouth never shuts."

Oviedo's Debbie Cole watches a low pitch hit the plate.

Oviedo Rolls Jones

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

KISSIMMEE — Oviedo coach Jackie Miller was holding her breath there for a couple innings Wednesday, but she was she was resuscitated when her Lady Lions scored three times in the third and added four runs in the fifth to secure an 8-3 victory over Orlando Jones' Lady Tigers in 3A-8 District Tournament action at Kissimmee's Thacker Field.

The victory advanced Oviedo to today's 4 p.m. district final against Osceola Kissimmee's Kowgirls. The Kowgirls didn't even have to play to advance as they won by forfeit over Leesburg which didn't show up for the game.

Jones jumped on the Lions for two runs in the top of the first inning Wednesday as the lead off hitter singled and Sheila Perry followed with a two-run homer for a quick 2-0 lead.

"I was worried in the first inning," Miller said. "It's kind of depressing when they get up like that and a get a homer right off the bat. But Jones started making a lot of mistakes and that kind of got them down and us up. Then we had some good hits in the fifth that sewed it up."

Oviedo picked up one run in the bottom of the first when Jessica Bradley scored on Mikki Eby's sacrifice fly.

The Lady Lions came back with three runs in the bottom of the third for a 4-2 lead. With one out, Fran Foster reached on a two-base error and Caroline Chavis followed with a grounder to short. The shortstop threw the ball away and, a few overthrows later, both Foster and Chavis scored. Eby then singled and moved around on a couple errors before scoring on Dee Dee Beasley's single.

Jones pulled within 4-3 in the top of the fourth but Oviedo put it out of reach with four runs in the bottom of the fifth.

Chavis led off the inning with a walk and Eby singled. Eby was forced at second on Jodie Switzer's grounder with Chavis going to third. Beasley followed with a base hit to chase home Chavis. In the last four games, Beasley has 11 RBIs.

Barbara Malone then stepped up and drilled a single to drive in Switzer and Beasley scored on Darla Hall's single. Beasley scored the fifth run of the frame when Bradley walked with the bases loaded.

Oviedo will now set its sights on Osceola. The two teams have split their games this season with the Kowgirls winning the first time, 3-0, and the Lions roaring the second time, 20-7.

Osceola may be required to play Leesburg this morning if Leesburg has a legitimate reason for missing the first round game.

"They waited at least half an hour for Leesburg but the never called or anything," Miller said. "Unless something drastic happened on the way, it will be a forfeit. I've never seen anything like it in a district tournament."

Erroritis Dooms Lady Greyhounds

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

DAYTONA BEACH — When you get a case of erroritis, it spreads quickly and is very hard to shake off.

Lyman's Lady Greyhounds found that out Wednesday afternoon as they gave up four unearned runs in the last three innings and dropped a 7-4 decision to Mainland's Lady Bucs in 4A-9 District Tournament first round action at Mainland High.

While the Lady Greyhounds blanked Mainland over the first three innings, they took a 1-0 lead in the bottom of the second when Stevens drilled a solo homer to center field.

The Lady Bucs scored a pair of earned runs in the top of the fourth to take the lead for the first time. Lyman came back with two runs in its half of the fifth to regain the lead, 3-2. Valerie Price started off the inning with a single and Stevens, who had five round trippers during the regular season, followed with a homer to right center.

Mainland scored a pair of unearned runs in the top of the fifth when Lyman's right center and right fielders collided on a fly ball. Two runs scored on the Lyman error.

Lyman came back to tie the score at 4-4 with one run in the bottom of the fifth. Lori Helms singled and eventually scored on Kristie Kaiser's sacrifice fly.

The erroritis got worse for Lyman in the top of the seventh when Mainland pushed across three more runs for a 7-4 lead.

DELAND OUSTS BRANTLEY
DELAND — A strong defensive team with good sticks and the home field advantage usually doesn't need any help to win ballgames. And DeLand's Lady Bulldogs received enough charity Wednesday to start a telethon.

The generous ones were Lake Brantley's Lady Patriots who made six errors that contributed heavily to an 8-2 loss to the Lady Bulldogs in 4A-9 District Tournament first round action at the DeLand Airport.

The second-seeded Lady Bulldogs, 16-2 for the season, host Lake Mary's Lady Rams today at 4 p.m. at the airport field. Brantley bowed out with an 8-15 record.

The way DeLand played defense, Lake Brantley was out of the game after one-half inning Wednesday. DeLand scored three times in the first with two Brantley errors paving the way.

The Lady Patriots scored once in the top of the second to pull within 3-1, but that was the closest they could come. Heather Meyer, who had three of Brantley's six hits in the game, led off with a single. Missy Tompkins followed with a base rap and Kim Robinson walked to load the bases. Meyer was forced at home on Holly Hugeman's grounder but Tompkins scored when DeLand tried for a double play on Denise Burke's grounder but couldn't complete it.

Lake Brantley didn't get a runner past first base in the fifth, sixth or seventh innings.

Lady Rams Slip Past Lake Howell, Into Semifinals

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

Trying to solve the mystery of a maze for Lake Howell's Lady Silver Hawks and Lake Mary's Lady Rams Wednesday afternoon.

Just when it seemed one of the teams was going to find the way out, a new obstacle sprang up. As the game grew older, the maze got harder. But, neither team stopped searching. On the other side was a berth into the semifinals as the only Seminole County survivor in the 4A-9 District Softball Tournament.

With the help of the Lake Howell defense, Lake Mary's Karen DeShetler was the first to exit the labyrinth and the result was a 1-0, eight-inning victory for the Lady Rams over the third-seeded and host Lady Hawks.

By virtue of its victory, Lake Mary takes on DeLand's Lady Bulldogs today at 4 p.m. at the DeLand Airport. In the other semifinal, Apopka hosts Mainland. The final will be Friday afternoon at 4 at Lake Mary High. Along with Lake Howell, Wednesday's Seminole County casualties included Seminole (3-0 loss to Apopka), Lyman (7-4 setback at Mainland) and Lake Brantley (8-2 loss to DeLand).

Lake Mary, which improved to 15-11, also evened its season series with the Lady Hawks at 2-2 with 3 of the 4 being one-run games. Lake Howell finished at 20-7.

"We always seem to play really good against them (Lake Howell)," DeShetler said. "They're our biggest rival."

Lake Mary outhit the Lady Hawks, 9-5, and had many more scoring opportunities before finally cashing in in the top of the eighth. Both teams played excellent defense the first seven innings but a breakdown by the

Softball

Lady Hawks on one play in the eighth paved the way for Lake Mary's victory.

"The team was really up," Lake Mary coach Cindy Henry said. "I thought Lake Howell had it in the fifth inning, but we made some clutch plays when we needed them."

Lake Mary's first threat of the afternoon came in the top of the second. Lisa Simkins led off with a single and, one out later, Reedy Metz reached on an error on shortstop Grace Ley. With two outs, a second error by Ley enabled Lisa Santulli to reach, loading the bases. Amy Adams followed with a shot up the middle but Jaudon "Pee Wee" Jonas, who was playing short field for Lake Howell, came up with the ball and quickly fired to second for the force on Santulli and the third out.

The Lady Rams' best opportunity in the first seven innings came in the fifth. With two outs, DeShetler, who was 3 for 4 in the game, reached on an infield single and Watkins, who was also 3 for 4, followed with a base hit to center. Averill drilled a single to left and DeShetler was waved around third. A perfect throw was needed to get the speedy junior and Lake Howell got just that as Eileen Thiebauth rifled a one-hopper to catcher Kelly Latham who slapped the tag on DeShetler to end the inning.

Lake Howell, which didn't get a baserunner past second the first four innings, had its best chance to break the scoreless tie in the bottom of the fifth. Saunders led off by launching a long fly over DeShetler's head in left center for a stand up triple.

All the Lady Hawks needed was a fly ball of medium depth or a base hit for a 1-0 lead. The next hitter, Alicia Dinkelacker, grounded to Averill at short and Saunders tried to score. Averill threw her out with plenty to spare for the first out of the frame.

Both teams went down in order in the sixth and the Lady Rams didn't threaten in the top of the seventh.

Thiebauth singled to lead off the bottom of the seventh but was forced at second on Ava Gardner's grounder. Kelly Dean then went in to pinch run for Gardner and Erin Hankins followed with an infield single to put runners on first and second.

Saunders flew out to center for the second out but Dinkelacker coaxed a walk out of Watkins to load the bases. Latham then lifted a fly ball to shallow right center and Simkins, the Rams' second baseman, made a fine running catch to send the game into extra frames.

DeShetler led off the top of the eighth with a line shot to center. Jonas made a diving catch but the ball got loose when she hit the ground and DeShetler had a single. Watkins then looped a single down the right field line and DeShetler motored around to third. Dinkelacker threw the ball all the way through and it got by the catcher. DeShetler saw the play in front of her and raced home for a 1-0 Lake Mary lead.

"I don't think coach Henry told me to go but I knew I could make it," DeShetler said. "And I wasn't going to get thrown out a second time."

The 1-0 lead was all the Lady Rams needed though as they retired the Hawks in order in the bottom of the eighth. Averill handled the first and third outs while DeShetler made the second.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

Ball Motor Line Stays On Top; Elks Fights Off Kiwanis, 3-2

While Kiwanis, Elks and Moose continue to slug it out for second place, Ball Motor Line is cruising along atop the Sanford Junior League. Ball Motor topped its record to 6-1 Wednesday with a 18-8 trouncing of Knights of Columbus at Chase Park.

Ronald Cox had three hits including a two-run homer that was the first ball hit out of Chase Park this season. Jimbo Lucas was 4 for 4 and Burnett Washington stroked a two-run single to pave the way for Ball.

In Wednesday night's second game at Chase Park, Willie "Sugar Tex" McCloud fired a one-hitter and slugged a pair of triples to lead Elks to a 3-2 victory over Kiwanis.

Kiwanis took an early 1-0 lead in the top of the first when Anthony Harris walked, stole second, went to third on an error and scored on an errant pick off attempt.

Elks came back with a pair of runs off Harris in the bottom of the second. McCloud led off with a triple and scored on Karl Carter's base hit. Carter stole second and scored on a pair of errors.

Jeffrey Ingram and Derriek Taylor rapped three hits each and a pair of pitchers held Medco Pharmacy to six hits as SunBank improved to 6-0 with a 13-4 romp over Medco in Sanford Little American League action Wednesday at Fort Mellon Park.

In Little American League action at Bay Avenue Field, Adcock Roofing managed just two hits but took advantage of nine walks and a multitude of passed balls to claim a 1-1 victory over Seminole Ford.

Hornets Are Next For Oviedo

Oviedo's Lions built a 7-0 lead in the first two innings and then coasted to a 9-2 win over hapless Jones in the first round of the District 3A-6 Baseball Tournament at Oviedo High School.

Coach Howard Mable's Lions, 10-19, take on No. 1 seed Bishop Moore tonight at 6 at Leesburg. Osceola and Leesburg meet at 8 p.m. The winners collide for the championship Friday at 8 p.m. at Leesburg.

Bill McCurdy's two-run single highlighted a five-run first inning while Bobby Bradley and Craig Duncan also added RBI base hits as the Lions added two more in the second for a 7-0 bulge.

McCurdy started for the Lions but was relieved by Mark Hofmann in the third inning.

Berra's Job In Jeopardy, Bosox Beat Yanks Again

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Yogi Berra countdown has begun.

The New York Yankees suffered their fifth straight loss to the Boston Red Sox Wednesday night, placing Berra's managerial job in jeopardy.

Jim Rice's home run in the seventh inning gave the Red Sox a 7-6 victory.

If the Yankees lose to the Red Sox tonight, Berra could be gone as manager, according to a highly placed baseball source.

The Yankees played atrociously Wednesday night, committing two errors in the first inning when the Red Sox scored four runs.

Berra has already survived one Boston massacre this season. The Yankees were swept in their season-opening three-game series at Fenway Park, but probably saved Berra's job by rebounding in Cleveland.

Berra was testy after the latest loss. The New York manager pointed to the obvious — the Yankees looked sloppy in the field.

Blue Jays 10, Royals 2

At Toronto, Jeff Burroughs drove in five runs with a homer and a triple to spark the Blue Jays to victory. Luis Leal, 1-1, benefitted from Burroughs' hitting to notch the victory. He faced the minimum 24 batters over eight innings but yielded solo homers to Greg Pryor and Onix Concepcion in the ninth inning.

A.L. Baseball

Twins 10, Mariners 0

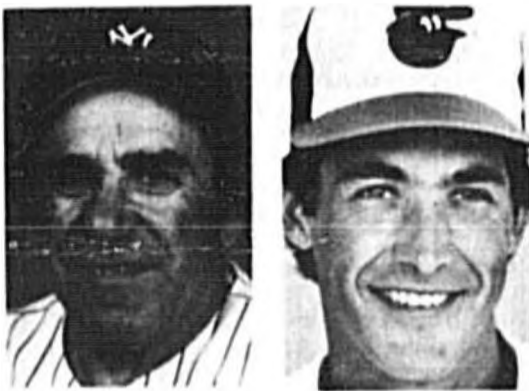

At Bloomington, Minn., Mike Smithson tossed a four-hitter, Kent Hrbek belted a three-run homer and Kirby Puckett Twins to their four straight victory. Smithson, 2-2, struck out four, walked three and hit two batters as he notched the Twins' third complete game in the last four days.

Indians 7, Tigers 6

At Cleveland, George Vukovich's one-out ninth-inning single drove in Joe Carter with the winning run, giving the Indians their victory. With one out, Carter drew a walk off loser Aurelio Lopez, 0-1.

A's 6, Angels 4

At Anaheim, Calif., Mike Davis singled in his 19th run of the season to cap a three-run first inning and Dwayne Murphy homered in the third, lifting the A's to victory.

Yogi Berra

Mike Boddicker

Brewers 3, White Sox 2

At Chicago, Charlie Moore had three RBI, including one that snapped a 2-2 tie in the sixth inning, to give Pete Vuckovich of Milwaukee his first victory since September 1982. Moore had a two-run double in the third and an apparent RBI double in the sixth, which became a single when Moore was ruled out for missing second base.

Orioles 2, Rangers 1

At Arlington, Texas, Mike Young hit his second homer in as many games, leading the Orioles. Mike Boddicker, 2-1, allowed six hits over eight innings in defeating the Rangers for the second time this year and the sixth time in his career without a loss. He was replaced by in the ninth by Tippy Martinez, who got the last two outs for his second save.

Raines Lifts Expos Over Phillies

MONTREAL (UPI) — Montreal Expos manager Buck Rodgers predicts a lot of runs this season as long as Tim Raines produces.

Raines Wednesday afternoon went 2-for-4 at the plate, scored two runs and drove in two as the Expos held on for a 7-6 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

"It's always good when a leadoff hitter like Timmy gets on base," Rodgers said. "A guy like Raines is worth two extra runs in a baseball game."

Another Expos speedster, utility player Miguel Dilone, also drove in two runs.

N.L. Baseball

"Miguel did well also. He and Timmy compliment each other, and Dilone is no easy out. We all remember the year he hit .330 with the Indians."

Montreal starter Iryn Smith, 3-0, went six innings and left the game with a 7-2 lead.

Astros 8, Reds 3

At Houston, Eric Davis scored on a sacrifice fly and Dave Concepcion hit a solo homer to spark a five-run ninth inning that carried the Reds. Duane Walker added a two-run homer to back Mario Soto, 4-1, who went eight innings, allowing six hits, striking out three and walking four. Rose went 1-for-5 and needs 82 hits to break Ty Cobb's all-time record of 4,191.

Dodgers 4, Giants 2

At San Francisco, Tom Brennan earned his first victory since Aug. 7, 1983, and Ken Howell notched his third save of the season by striking out eight in 3 2/3 innings to lead the Dodgers. Dave Anderson, Al

Oliver, Bill Russell and Ken Landreaux drove in runs as Los Angeles handed the Giants their eighth defeat in nine games.

Cubs 5, Pirates 2

At Pittsburgh, Leon Durham smashed a two-run homer and Shawn Dunston went 3-for-3 and scored two runs to lead the Cubs to victory.

Padres 2, Astros 1

At San Diego, Carmelo Martinez and Graig Nettles hit home runs and LaMarr Hoyt and Rich Gossage combined on a five-hitter to lead the Padres to victory.

Gina Dangler, D.L. Powell Wed In Candlelight Ceremony

Lynette Dangler and David Lawrence Powell were married March 19 in the Northside Baptist Church, Chuluota. The Rev. Fritz Burnsed was the officiating clergyman for the traditional candlelight ceremony. The bride is the daughter of

Mr. and Mrs. David Lawrence Powell

Mrs. Tom Heath, Orlando, and David Paul Dangler, Tampa. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim L. Powell and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. C.L. Powell, all of Sanford.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her wedding a formal Chantilly lace gown fashioned along the Victorian silhouette with a high neckline of lace and French illusion netting. The V-neckline was embellished with a pearl and sequin round medallion and the same trim was repeated on the organza and lace sleeves. The Chantilly lace skirt cascaded into a graceful sweeping chapel train. Her two-tiered veil of imported illusion was held by a circle wreath of white flowers and she carried a bouquet of white bridal roses.

Pamela Rawlings of Orlando, attended the bride as matron of honor. She wore a peach taffeta gown and carried a single Sonja rose interspersed with baby's breath and wedding fern.

The bridesmaid, Nita Sycuro of Orlando, was gowned identically to the honor attendant.

Best man was Richard Rawlings of Orlando, and the groomsmen were Johnnie Baylor of Chuluota. Ushers were David McGregor of Tampa, and Clarence Potts of Chuluota.

The flower girl was Laine Rawlings of Orlando, and Drew Rawlings, Orlando, was the ring bearer.

Following the reception held in the church social hall, the newlyweds departed on a wedding trip to Sanibel Island. They are making their home in Forest City.

80th Birthday Celebration

Homer Little, left, with his son Bob Little of Nashville, Tenn., celebrated his 80th birthday April 11 in the festively decorated dining room of Howell Place, Sanford, where he is a resident. Over 100 guests attended the open house reception given by his son, owner and developer of Howell Place in Tavares and Sanford. Little also received birthday congratulations from the President and Mrs. Reagan. A 55 year resident of Sanford, Little opened Homer's Grill, on Sanford Avenue and First Street in 1936 and operated the facility for 16 years. He later owned and operated a used car lot and was agent for the Greyhound Bus service in Sanford. Little also served as a Seminole County Commissioner from 1957-1960.

DAR Honors 83 Life Members

Members of the Sallie Harrison Chapter National Society Daughters of the American Revolution met at the home of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Nance with Mrs. Frances Leahy as co-hostess for the April meeting.

Regent Mrs. Paul Kelly welcomed members and guests and introduced prospective member Mrs. Susan Davis.

Regent Mrs. Kelly and Mrs. W.W. Kelly will attend the Continental Congress of DAR, April 15-19 in Washington D.C. Their report will highlight the May 10th luncheon meeting of Sallie Harrison Chapter. The President General's Message was read by Mrs. Lourine Messenger. Eighty-three DAR life members will be given recognition at the upcoming Congress in which patriotism, education and history are stressed.

National Defense Chairman Mrs. Paul Mikler introduced the speaker, retired Navy Lt. Cmdr Arthur G. Doege. A cum laude graduate from the University of Rochester in mechanical engineering, Cmdr. Doege was an experimental test pilot for the USN and is presently a consultant for Aircraft Systems. He spoke of the ARAPHO system and methods of defending selves.

As most of the nation's strategic materials are imported across waters it is important that the United States maintain commerce across oceans and protect sea lanes at all times, Doege said. He emphasized the importance of building up the country's capabilities.

The answer seems to be Reserve Forces which include Mobilization Reserve and Regular Active Reserves, the speaker noted. Many of the ideas expressed are an overview of what is being projected by the USN, Doege added.

He concluded by saying that the power of a Godly nation is the greatest thing "we can project and that we must hold fast to this combination of a Godly people and the power of prayer."

The hostesses served refreshments during the social hour.

Wives' Sneaky Gift-Getting Gimmicks Are Eye-Openers

DEAR ABBY: Here's how I cured my husband of forgetting special occasions such as my birthday, our anniversary, etc. We had been married only three years when I had a feeling "George" was going to forget again, so I phoned the florist and had him send me a dozen roses with a card that read: "From someone who loves you very much."

Dear Abby

When George came home, I met him at the door with a big kiss and thanked him for the flowers. He didn't say anything, but he looked surprised. About half an hour later he picked up the card and read it, then he admitted that he had not sent the roses — but he demanded to know who did. (Yes, he was really jealous.) I burst out laughing and told him I had sent them to myself. He looked relieved. That was the last time George forgot my birthday.

SNEAKY IN SAN DIEGO
DEAR SNEAKY: Lovely. Read on for another "sneaky" gift-getting gimmick.

DEAR ABBY: We'd been married two years when my husband forgot both my birthday and our anniversary, which are only a week apart. I was hurt, and also angry, so the next day I went to the most exclusive ladies' store in town and bought myself an outfit that cost about three times as much as I usually paid.

That night, I modeled my new outfit for my husband and he said he liked it very much. I told him I was glad because since he'd forgotten my birthday and our anniversary, I would consider it his gift to me — then I gave him a big hug and dropped the bill in his lap!

Twelve years have passed, and my darling has never again forgotten.

HAPPY IN WISCONSIN

DEAR ABBY: I'm 83 years old and have two lovely daughters who love me dearly and would do anything for me. I have never had a problem concerning them, but I have one now.

My days are numbered, I'm sure, and before I go, I'd like you to tell me what to do.

You see, I have a ring that I'm sure both girls would like to have to remember me by. I don't want any hard feelings between them, so I am torn. The oldest lives out of town, so she isn't able to spend as much time with me as her sister, who lives close by. The younger one takes me shopping, to my doctor's and does my errands. I'm sure her sister would do the same if she could. She calls and writes and sends me gifts.

I ask you, Abby, who should have the ring?

NO NAME, PLEASE
DEAR NO NAME: Tell your daughters that you want both of them to have the ring, so each may keep it for six months, then give it to the other for six months. And if that's not agreeable, they can draw straws.

DEAR ABBY: This is in response to "Worried Sick," the bride whose parents are divorced, and whose mother threatens to stay away from the wedding if the father gives the bride away.

I faced the same situation. I felt that if I couldn't give my daughter away and escort her down the aisle, I would be publicly renouncing my parentage. But I didn't want to force my daughter to choose between her mother and me, so the problem was resolved this way: I asked the minister if it would be possible for the bride to meet her future husband at the back of the church so that he could escort her down the aisle. I reasoned that since they would be spending the rest of their lives together (hopefully), why not let them begin by walking down the aisle together?

The minister thought it was an excellent solution.

FATHER OF THE BRIDE

DEAR FATHER: Congratulations for handling an awkward situation with sensitivity, generosity and originality.

Would-Be Mother Wise To Have Regular Exam

Dr. Gott
"up-front" with him, find another practitioner. Remember, it is not your job to please the doctor; it is his responsibility to serve you. You are, after all, paying him for his privilege of helping you.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I am a 29-year-old female, married 1½ years, and am now considering motherhood. I have never been pregnant before, due to careful use of contraceptives, but I am wondering now if I will have any difficulty becoming pregnant. I am in good overall health, but would you recommend a gynecological examination to set my mind at ease?

You can comfortably trust your life and health? Do not use a doctor who is not a member of his county or state medical society. Avoid physicians who are "too busy" to answer your questions or who are too arrogant to explain things in understandable language.

DEAR READER — The only really reliable way to discover if you can get pregnant is ... to get pregnant. This method is cheaper and much more enjoyable than going through a series of tests.

You should not have to be "discreet" in questioning a doctor's diagnosis or treatment. If he won't allow you to be

Although you do not necessarily require a gynecological exam to establish your fertility, you would be well advised to have regular exams and Pap tests by a gynecologist or other doctor trained in these techniques. The exams are simple, safe and can be performed by most private doctors as well as at any free-standing clinics, such as those run by Planned Parenthood.

DEAR DR. GOTT — One of the most important things in life is finding a doctor whom one can unquestionably trust and with whom one can speak frankly and honestly. How do you find such a physician when you move to a new community or state? Also, how can a patient "discreetly" dispute a doctor's diagnosis, prognosis or recommendation?

DEAR READER — I don't know of any consistently reliable way of finding a good doctor in a new community, except by experience.

I usually recommend that patients who are moving away check with the hospital in their new community and ask around. New friends often will be delighted to suggest a physician.

Once you have a name or two, call the doctor for a get-acquainted appointment. Size him or her up. Is he honest? Does he talk to you? Is his office attractive and well-organized? Is his staff courteous? What are his billing procedures? How does he feel about heroic life support, housecalls, second opinions? Is he the kind of person with whom

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

When you're in a slam, you never mind going down two instead of one, if raking a second undertrick gives you a chance to make your contract.

Just a word about the bidding. At the point where North raised five hearts to six, he should have cue-bid five spades. That can't hurt, and there may be a hand held by South that would now allow him to bid seven and make it.

In six hearts, declarer won dummy's spade king and led the heart queen for a finesse. When it held, he led the heart jack. East covered, and it was now apparent that East would get two heart tricks if South led a third round. To avoid that result, declarer had to find a way to reduce his trump holding to the same length as East's and to be able to lead from dummy at trick 11. So to work!

He cashed the club ace and played a low diamond. When West followed low, declarer inserted dummy's 10. Now declarer shed a diamond on the club king and ruffed a club.

Next he led a spade to the ace and ruffed a spade. Now he cashed the diamond ace and led the diamond queen to dummy's king. This was the eleventh trick, and the lead was now in dummy.

East now had to ruff in front of declarer's trump nine, and the slam was made. Wouldn't it have been too bad if East had been dealt the diamond jack? Then declarer would have gone down two.

So what?

SCC Will Say 'Thanks' With Awards For Benefactor, Community Service

Two new awards recognizing persons who have made outstanding contributions to Seminole Community College will be presented for the first time tonight during graduation ceremonies at 8 in the Health Center on campus.

Jerry Collins, chairman of the board and general manager of the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club, Longwood, and owner of the Sarasota Kennel Club, will be honored with a Community Benefactor award. William and Dede Schaffner will receive the SCC Service award.

Collins has raised many thousands of dollars for the college scholarship fund during the 17 years the school has benefited from the dog track's charity nights. Known as the "father of modern greyhound racing," he was instrumental in getting his colleagues in the pari-mutuel gaming business — horse and dog racing as well as hat alai frontons — to voluntarily hold charity days at their facilities.

A firm believer in education, Collins' charitable efforts have also aided other colleges and universities in the state. As a state legislator in the 40s and 50s he designed the security system and financial structures that gave credibility and protection not only to the racing industry, but to its customers.

The Schaffners have devoted much of their time, efforts, and resources to the betterment of the college and the county school system. He was a member of the SCC District Board of Trustees from 1970 to 1974 and served as a chairman for two years.

She serves as consultant/coordinator of D I V I D E N S, the county school system's community volunteer program. Together they have co-chaired the SCC Foundation Development Council whose main project is fund raising for the college scholarship program. The council's latest effort was the highly successful Dream Auction '85 which earned more than $100,000 for the scholarship endowment fund.

President of Herndon, Fla., and Scott, a local insurance and bonding company, Schaffner is vice president of the Florida

Association of Insurance Agents and past president of the University of Florida Alumni Association. He is a Rotarian and active in Seminole County politics.

County Set To Negotiate For Library Sites

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

Sites for two new branch libraries in the Tuskawilla-Oviedo area and Forest City have been selected, and Seminole County commissioners have authorized negotiations on price for both parcels to get underway.

These are the final two sites needed for the library expansion program approved by the voters in November 1982 to begin. The voters approved a $7 million bond referendum for five libraries in the county. Operating now are a library in Sanford in the 1917 vintage former post office building on First Street and the main library in rented facilities in the Seminole Plaza, Casselberry.

County commissioners voted unanimously

Tuesday to negotiate the purchase of a six-acre parcel in Oviedo, next to the city post office, and a 2.5-acre parcel, formerly known as the Coulter property, off state Road 436 in Forest City.

The other three sites are a tract off the Oxford Road extension in Casselberry for the main library has already been bought for $340,000; a parcel directly behind the old library in downtown Sanford for the Sanford branch, bought for $130,000, and a site near the Crossings in Lake Mary for the Lake Mary branch was donated by the Crossings developer. When the Sanford branch is built, the current library will be used for library administration offices.

Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff persuaded his colleagues to choose the parcel offered by Ben Ward in Oviedo for $125,000. Kirchhoff said the property has almost six acres, five of which are usable land, and the county may one day need the land not used by the library facility for branch courthouse activities. He said the tract is next to the post office and the bank and within short walking distance of the downtown. The other library sites are 2.5-3 acres.

Kirchhoff added that when branch libraries are built in Oviedo and Forest City, the commissioners will have to look at whether bookmobile service will still be needed.

Commissioner Bob Sturm noted that it won't be long before the Tuskawilla area needs a branch library of its own.

Pricetag on the Forest City site, now owned by former state Rep. Robert Hattaway, is $217,705.

Three County Parks To Get New Boat Ramps

Boat ramps, considered hazardous by Seminole County's recreation department, are to be replaced with new ones at three county parks — Cameron Wight, C.S. Lee and Lake Jesup.

County commissioners voted unanimously Monday to allocate $187,000, received from state boating improvement trust funds, for the project. Some $147,000 received from the state fund, created from boaters' license fees, had been set aside by the county to purchase the Tavares Branch of the Seaboard Coastline Railroad for park lands.

Leonard Carswell, a manager of the county's parks and recreation program, said the ramps have received extensive damage because of low water levels of the St. Johns River and Lake Jesup and a hazardous situation exists for the public.

He said while the low water levels initiated the failure of the ramps, the major factor in the failure is their outdated design and construction.

Carswell said two of the ramps are of poured concrete construction and the other is hand-laid blocks of stone aggregate and none have either reinforcement wire or vertical footers on the waterward end to protect against undermining from the propeller wash of boats launching or loading from drive-on trailers.

He added that none have a wheel-stop at the end of the ramp.

The cost of the work will be $160,000 plus design and engineering fees, Carswell said.

Carswell said the work should be completed in about three months.

He also said that the city of Casselberry would like the county to repair a boat ramp at the city's Secret Lake Park. He said repairs are also needed at the dock there used by fishermen.

Commissioners said first attention should be given to the fishing dock and the project will be included if there is sufficient money left after the county ramps are replaced or repaired.

Carswell said the Casselberry work would cost between $6,000 and $7,000.
