

Roosevelt And Old Ally, Al Smith, Join In Concluding Drive

Teamates Will Head Mammoth Rally In New York's Garden For Final Appeals

NEW YORK, Nov. 5. — (A.P.)— Franklin Roosevelt reunited with his old political ally, Alfred Smith, carries the Democratic standard into Madison Square Garden tonight for the customary pre-election rallying of state forces and final national appeal for victory on Tuesday.

The political team of "Frank and Al," reformed at the state convention a month ago, closed to New York City last night for a final presentation of their arguments for the election of a Democratic president and cabinet.

The team began their Metropolitan attack upon the Republican candidates at the Booklyn Academy of Music last night. Both criticized President Hoover and the Republican party, concluding a campaign of four Roosevelt will go to his Mid Park home Sunday and will go there here. The day after tomorrow he will go to the election at the national Democratic headquarters.

More than 100,000 people gathered for the rally at the Garden. The night that marked the final parade together in the New York City area during the campaign was held at the Garden. The hall was packed, about 900 others were seated on the platform and distributed at other sections of the hall, and a large crowd gathered about the doors outside trying to pry a way through the mass of politeness who guarded the entrance.

The doors had been locked and the crowd waited for hours before the crowd broke through the doors. A way opened for the crowd to enter the Garden.

Both Major Parties Practicing Economy

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5. — (A.P.)— Federal income tax returns from collection agencies of both major parties indicate this will be the most economical presidential campaign in the history of the United States. The Democratic committee says its report for the same period is $1,150,000 and expenditures of $1,200,000.

DIXIE'S GRIDMEN FACING TESTS IN SATURDAY TILTS

Virginia Poly, Louisiana State Are Both Risking Clean Slate

ATLANTA, Nov. 4.—(AP)—North Carolina and Florida tapered off yesterday for their Friday engagement at Chapel Hill, while other Southern Conference schools moved toward the scenes of Saturday battles.

Virginia Poly and Louisiana State, both unbeaten and risking their title aspirations on foreign fields, were en route to Alabama, and South Carolina, Capt. Lawrence (Biff) Jones' L. S. U. Tigers stopped off here yesterday for a short work-out before resuming their trip to Columbia, S. C.

Florida and North Carolina fought in a scoreless tie a year ago and both are anxious to settle this postponed verdict. North Carolina has an edge on the basis of its play against teams also met by Florida. Carolina tied a Georgia eleven that whipped Florida 33 to 12, and beat North Carolina State which downed the Gators 17 to 6.

North Carolina doubtless will face a much stronger Florida team than was pitted against Georgia. Three linemen and two backfield stars who were not used in the Georgia game will be eligible to play against the Tar-heels.

As V. P. I. entrained from Blacksburg, word came from Tuscaloosa that Capt. John (Hurry) Cain, Alabama's star fullback and punter, might not be in shape to face the Gobblers in the contest that may decide V. P. I.'s title hopes.

Cain injured his left knee several weeks ago and it has not healed as quickly as was expected. He did not play against Kentucky last week and Coach Frank Thomas is undecided whether he will be used. His absence should greatly enhance the Gobblers' chances of pushing past the Crimson.

The Louisiana State forces were somewhat worried over the stiff defense South Carolina exhibited last week in the Tulane go-however, the Tigers have a powerful running offensive and believe it will carry enough punch to beat through the Gamecock line.

Although two players have been lost through ineffectual rulings, Georgia Tech hopes for its first victory over Tulane in three years here Saturday. At Tennessee, Coach Bob Neeland inserted Duke Braxton, quarterback, and Rexey Wynn, fullback, back into the first string lineup for the Mississippi State engagement. It was Wynn who kicked the late field goal to beat Duke a week ago.

One of the most interesting games of the week and anticipated at Durham when Kentucky and Duke clash. Although out of the title race both of these teams rank among the best in the South.

Vanderbilt withdrew off before leaving for Washington, D. C., where it meets Maryland. Virginia prepared to entertain Washington and Lee and Auburn got ready for Howard.

ROLLINS ELEVEN FACING HARDEST GAME OF SEASON

Fars Having Strenuous Work For Game Tomorrow Evening

WINTER PARK, Fla., Nov. 3.—Facing what Coach Jack McDowell believes will be the hardest game of the Rollins schedule, the varsity football team is putting in a strenuous week of preparation for next Saturday night's tilt with South Georgia State Teachers College, of Statesboro, at Tinker Field in Orlando.

Just before last Saturday's game with the Florida University "B" Team, Coach McDowell admitted that he expected the Fars to win. And they did to the tune of 20 to 6. This week, the Tar-heeler has adapted a mood of gloom, and declares, frankly, that he expects to lose.

As South Georgia State Teachers College is a newcomer on the Rollins schedule, the Fars themselves know little about the strength of next Saturday's opponents except what McDowell has told them. "They're tough," says McDowell, "and ordinarily they are about as strong as such teams as Citadel and Sewanee. We haven't a chance."

News items from the South Georgia camp indicate that this year's squad is green, but the fact remains that the Teachers have already beaten Gordon College, a strong small college team, and Norman Park College, Coach "Crock" Smith is bringing it on two complete teams and will have a big edge on the Fars in reserve power alone.

McDowell admits that Rollins is Zarlheide 177 144 143 464 Blind 163 163 163 489

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY: WAY TO LIFE:—He hath showed thee, O man, what is good: and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?—Micah 6:8.

INDIFFERENCE: "It isn't much of a world," said he, And just that very minute Came a flood of golden melody From a joy-enraptured linnet.

"It isn't much of a world," said he, And as he stood reviling The earth and all it seems to be, There passed us people smiling.

"It isn't much of a world," said he, And his feet were trampling over The falling leaves of a maple tree, And the miracle of clover.

And a common daisy seemed to say: "I've never ceased to wonder At the sky above me day by day And the warm, rich brown soil under."

And a garter snake went slithering by Half timidly, half gladly, As if it lived to give the lie To men who talked so sadly.

By Edgar A. Guest

Did you know that as late as 1920 the government of this country spent over $125,000,000 for civil war pensions, and is still paying pensions as a result of the War of 1812 with England, 120 years ago?

If the Socialist Party had enough funds so that their candidate, Norman Thomas, didn't have to hitch-hike on the campaign tour across the country, he'd give the major parties a real scare.

Owen H. Young says he is not afraid of the markets or of money, no matter who is elected president. He need be afraid of either, but there will be mobs and there will be falling markets, after a temporary spurt, whoever may be elected.

The Cocoa Tribune declares that "Shrimping activities have proven a great boon to Canaveral residents. Two carloads of the sweet fish have already gone to market, which means that many people at Canaveral were given employment in catching the shrimp and the operations necessary for getting them shipped."

An unemployed carpenter asks Mrs. Dwight Morrow, wife of former Senator Morrow, for relief funds. Refused, he sends threatening letters through the mails and becomes involved with the law. Mrs. Morrow obviously cannot help everyone who is unemployed. Such an undertaking requires billions of dollars. But the carpenter had nine children. And no job! What about them?

The Literary Digest gives Pennsylvania to Roosevelt in the final count of its straw vote. If Pennsylvania goes Democratic in this election, anything may happen. Mississippi may go Republican. Not in sixty-seven years, in fact, not since there was a Republican party, has Pennsylvania gone anything but Republican. In 1928 Pennsylvania gave one million more votes to Hoover than to Smith. In 1930 Pennsylvania also went Republican by a million votes. In 1932 Pennsylvania was Republican by 200,000. In the year of 1918 Pennsylvania was Republican by 200,000 with comparatively few votes lost. In 1912 it gave 300,000 votes to Wilson, 447,000 to Teddy Roosevelt and 372,000 to Taft, or nearly two to one in favor of the two Republican candidates. And so it goes. It will be a new era when Pennsylvania goes Democratic.

The Gubernatorial Election

During the four months which have elapsed since the Democratic primary in June, nothing has occurred to alter in any way our belief as expressed at that time that Dave Sholtz is the man to conduct the affairs of this state as governor. A vigorous campaign has been waged by his opponent and many derogatory "whisperings" have been circulated in an effort to tear down the Democratic nominee, but we still believe he is best qualified to serve Florida at this critical time.

We discount entirely the stories that he is controlled, or in any way under obligations to any corporate group in this state. We discount entirely the statement that he will take orders from a certain mysterious "group of five men". We discount entirely the rumor that he will legislate trucks off the highways, or contribute in any way to higher freight rates which the farmers have to pay.

In short, we believe that Mr. Sholtz's opponents, in their desperation to win an election which was never within their grasp, have resorted to methods and practices which in their anger and more dispassionate moments they would likely condemn. Further, we can see nothing in the platform or the declarations of Mr. Howey which offer any greater hope than the policies of Mr. Sholtz, and nowhere near the possibility of fulfillment.

It seems to us that in a state where public offices from comptroller to constable are filled with members of the Democratic Party, a Republican governor would fling himself always at a disadvantage in dealing with those upon whom any success his administration might achieve must depend. At any rate that is a very grave probability, and involves an experiment which we are confident should be postponed at least to such a time when conditions are not so critical.

Throughout this campaign Mr. Sholtz has conducted himself in a highly praiseworthy manner, carrying the issues directly to the people and avoiding any personal reflections against his opponent. He has not deviated in any particular since his nomination from the highly desirable policies enunciated by him during the primary campaign. He pledges his wholehearted support to a tax reduction program and we believe he will do his best to carry it out.

Seminole County will make no mistake in giving its support to Mr. Sholtz on next Tuesday.

Protect The Game

With the national election out of the way after November 8, many people hereabouts will probably turn their thoughts and energies to the opening of the hunting season on the twentieth of this month. Certainly the smell of gunpowder will be more pleasant than the odoriferous barrage of political smoke being spread over the country.

Already guns are being cleaned and oiled for the opening day when every nimrod hopes the sky will be black with ducks, that the woods will be filled with quail, deer, and turkey and that the weather will be cool enough to make their pursuit pleasant and profitable.

Everyone who owns a skiff, duck boat, or canoe is getting them ready as conveyances in the quest for mallards, teal, and bluebills which inhabit our lakes and marshes. Everyone who has a dog is toughening him up with practice trials through the woods in anticipation of the day when the trigger finger will be permitted by law to do its work.

The aroma of boiling coffee, frying bacon, ducks, and venison will soon be drifting through the air along many a river bank and in many a hunter's camp to stir the appetite and to make life seem much more worthwhile living. Nothing is more exhilarating as nothing helps a man to forget his troubles more than a hunting expedition into the woods.

This has been realized to such an extent that our state governments spend large sums of money every year to protect our game and to increase the supply in order that the privilege and pleasure of hunting may be preserved. Laws have been passed, the observance of which, is necessary for a continuance of this great sport.

Unfortunately there are some who think only of today and only of their own pleasure, enter the woods with disregard for the laws of the state and rules of sportsmanship, blaze away with automatic shotguns until they have killed twice their allowed quota and then go home to brag about it. There are some who think it is great sport to hunt in a bird sanctuary, some who will shoot a doe, some who will break any rule so long as their desire for a big bag of game is satisfied. These are the ones who promote the extinction of game and the existence of the sport of hunting. Every real sportsman should militantly discourage the activities of the ruthless hunter in order that the sport will not disappear entirely.

Tuesday, Nov. 8, 1932, and will to the highest bidder all our political machinery and our entire stock of supplies now on hand, to-wit:

One large ever-bearing Melonvine with several bunches badly frost bitten. Classified as frozen assets.

One billion-dollar crime wave, made to order. Old enough to wear. Sired by Volstead and damned by everybody.

Fourteen million moonshine stills, all in perfect working order and operating at full capacity on 24-hour schedule.

Seven hundred rum-running vessels that are just learning to swim but know all the dives.

Eleven million dinner pails, all empty, except for pictures of Republican prosperity pasted on the bottoms.

Ten billion bushels of $2 Farm Board wheat now selling at the price of ten pairs of shoe laces.

One double row cutter, cuts one row wet and the other dry. Sure to please everybody.

One army truck load of book promises and pledges to the American people. A new lot to be prepared and there will be no further use for this cargo.

Twenty million dollars in cash, all authorized us to say that there will be a pot with a check in it and a garage with two cars in it and a tree for all who apply. How easy, both the chicken and the egg will be four years of prosperity.

SANFORD FORUM

It has been called to my attention that a number of Hoover supporters may be unable to get to the polls next Tuesday, November 8th, because of lack of transportation facilities. There have been a number of cars offered by patriotic citizens to take care of such difficulty, so that anyone lacking means of reaching the voting place may secure transportation by leaving name and address at the Hoover headquarters on East First Street any time prior to Tuesday morning.

We may also need cars in addition to those already offered as those who are willing to provide their service and car during all or part of November 8th are asked to get in touch with the undersigned.

Appreciating the local co-operation that is being shown us in our efforts to increase the percentage of those voting.

Sincerely yours, Chairman Hoover Headquarters Committee.

Sholtz Receives Btg Welcome In Pinellas County

Declaring his administration would do everything in its power to strengthen local government and return the government and its affairs to the hands of the people where it rightfully belongs.

Discussing schools Mr. Sholtz declared that the school system of Florida would not be impaired by reduction of taxes. He said that through economic operation a standard nine months term could be established and that free books could be furnished all children.

Mr. Sholtz stated he wanted the school money to go into the pockets of the teacher, instead of being spent on frills, fancies and foolishness.

Reservations: One good set of fishing tackle used in promoting prosperity at the Rapidan camp. To be placed in the National Museum as the only vehicle invented by the G. O. P. to feed the multitudes during the panic of 1928-1932.

Terms of Sale: Positively no foreign bonds accepted, although they were originally Okeyed by the State Department. The boys just put that O. Everybody come! Don't forget the date!

Mr. Sholtz declared that he still stood for reduction in the gasoline tax, lowering of the price of automobile license tags, reforms in banking legislation and a woman's advisory board.

The gubernatorial nominee concluded his address with an appeal to Florida voters to do their part in placing Democratic nominees in power and returning the government to the people.

The next feature of the meeting was the talk given by Dr. R. S. Keeler, of Sanford, N. J., on the first month of gardening. He stated that slow and fast germinating seeds should be planted near each other and added that soaking seeds before planting, in warm water, or even ether, sometimes aids much in faster germination.

Among other interesting facts which Dr. Keeler stated were: seed beds should be deep and oak or sugar gum soil mixed in with the soil with a layer of sawdust from a press wood near the bottom of the box to help in retaining moisture; seed beds should be covered with blotting paper and watered through this and sponged so as not to disturb the tender seed; small plants should be transferred to clay pots first and kept in the ground.

Dr. Keeler also stated that potatoes should be planted in the fall as in hardy plants and helps them to withstand cold weather, ground tobacco should be planted and care should be taken in watering and weeding. He also stated that the preparation of one table spoon of potash to one gallon of water and spraying it on the plants will help to keep them from being attacked by insects and will help the plants to wither in the fall. He also stated that a few timely and practical talks about the proper method of preparing plants for winter with regard to the proper soil, fertilizer, and other things.

The club members stated that the plants which were distributed along the new highway being constructed along the Lakeland road, Mrs. H. H. Holt, played a part in the distribution of these plants. Dr. Keeler explained their characteristics.

Rioting Inmates Of Canadian Pen Quelled By Cops

The mounted police galloped through the gates that the men submitted.

Quickly they were headed back to their cells, all but a negro named Croyle, who appeared to have started the trouble. For a time they thought he had been taken to death in the tailor shop but he was found in an adjoining building and taken up. Another prisoner who took part in the uprising had a narrow escape. He was locked in a cell on one of the upper floors of the work shop. While the riot was in progress the guard below saw him through the bars of the cell throwing a body against the door in a futile effort to get out.

When the riot was ultimately quelled the guard went up and arrested him and immediately took him to the hospital. He was in a bad way and it is thought that he will not survive.
