Discipline Policy Studied

By Richard Whittaker
Herald Staff Writer

The Seminole County School Board yesterday moved a step closer to establishing a task force to monitor the difference in suspension and expulsion rates of its white and black students over the course of the 1987-88 school year.

The board unanimously approved a motion to form a 12 member task force with at least three of its members being school district principals. School board members wanted to ensure the inclusion of the principals because they are the ones who work the most with the issue of suspending and expelling students.

The names of the nine people nominated for the task force by board members could not be released yet, according to administrative assistant to the superintendent, Dr. Hortense Evans, because she had not yet contacted them to serve on the panel.

School Board Chairman Joe Williams first suggested the formation of the task force to keep track of the difference in the number of black and white students expelled or suspended this year during the Aug. 12, board meeting. Williams originally became concerned about the issue because of media attention it received in the 1986-87 school year.

The expulsion of a Seminole County student is the last disciplinary resort left to a school administrator as a means of punishing a student. Expulsion is usually used in cases of continued rule infraction or serious infraction. Cases involving the use of alcohol, drugs or smoking are listed in a different category from other infractions resulting in disciplinary action to a student.

Suspension of a student is used as punishment of a less serious infraction of school rules or policies. It normally lasts between three to 10 days.

According to school district records, there were

Jail Sergeant Reprimanded; Fired Guard Appeals Dismissal

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

A Seminole County jail sergeant has been reprimanded in the latest development over a juvenile offender's recent suicide at the jail which resulted in four guards being fired. And today at least one of those guards says the four who were fired did not get a fair shake, but he can't do much about it because as a probationary officer he's barred from appealing.

However, at least one of the other fired guards, a three-year sheriff's department employee, has appealed, the Sanford Herald has learned.

Richard Mount, the three-year employee, has appealed his Sept. 4, discharge in a letter to the sheriff's department filed by his lawyer.

Seminole County Sheriff John Polk disputes the guard's claim that the four were not treated fairly and said he fired them for neglect of duty and falsification of records following the jailhouse hanging of a juvenile murder suspect Aug. 27.

State To Become Shooting Gallery?

Pistol Packing Becomes Legal

By Deane Jordan
Herald Staff Writer

Pistol-packing mamas and gunslingers sashaying down the street with their trusty .38 strapped to their hip or tucked in their purse or under their jacket may become a common event as Florida's new gun law takes effect today.

Under the new law, an adult can openly tote a gun without a permit and with a permit can carry the gun concealed. With an estimated 400,000 people asking for such permits over the next three years, police expect Florida to become a shooting gallery.

"The law enforcement community as a whole, including myself, have serious reservations about the new law," said Sanford Police Chief Steve Harriett.

"We have had already received some calls from business people about what their rights are about people wearing weapons."

Harriett said businesses are private property and people carrying weapons can be ordered to leave or face a charge of armed trespass. He said if a business operator does not want a person carrying a weapon on the property they can ask them to leave and can also call the police.

Harriett said he is not optimistic about the public acceptance of the law.

"The more weapons, the more guns available, the more likelihood of violence to occur," he said.

"Frankly, we anticipate more calls and more shootings," said Harriett.

Protocol Manual May Prevent Tragedies In The Future

Hospitals, EMS Set Emergency Guidelines

Maryann L. Cross
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County Emergency Medical Services (EMS) personnel now carry a list of services available at area hospitals to avoid unnecessary delays in transporting patients to facilities not equipped to handle their emergency medical needs.

After a teenager shot in Midway in August was taken to the wrong hospital, Seminole County EMS Manager Frank Kirk said he met with hospital administrators from Central Florida Regional Hospital in Sanford, South Seminole Community Hospital in Longwood, Florida Hospital-Altamonte, and Winter Park Memorial Hospital to work out a policy to keep field paramedics informed about what kinds of services are available at these hospitals.

"I met with the administrators on an individual basis," Kirk said. "They agreed to keep us informed of their services by sending us a written notice of any changes. The protocol manual (which field paramedics carry with them when they are working) now contains a list of the hospitals and a detailed account of the services they can provide to handle emergencies. The manual will be updated as new information is received from the hospitals."

The hospitals have always been responsible for keeping EMS informed about what services they offer, Kirk said. However, the exchange of information was not always timely. Paramedics Assistant Chief William Kinley, who was on the scene the night the teenager was shot in Midway, said paramedics did not know CFRH's neurosurgeon, Dr. Norberto Priu, was no longer taking emergency cases. In addition, Dr. Benjamin Newman, director of Seminole County EMS, said he was not aware that Priu had given up privileges in emergency care three weeks before at a hospital credentials committee meeting because the work carries a high risk of lawsuit.

A spokesman for the Sanford hospital had said at the time that hospital personnel thought the EMS people had been notified that they no longer had a neurosurgeon for emergency cases. However, the word-of-mouth system between hospital personnel and EMS paramedics apparently was faulty.

The shooting involved Luray Demar Aikens, who was shot in the head in Midway near Sanford Aug. 11. The Seminole County fire-rescue workers on the scene called Newman and told him they were working a code—meaning all life functions of the patient had ceased and they were giving cardio-pulmonary resuscitation. (Newman is the physician called when field paramedics have a need for additional medical information and advice on how to treat the patient.)

Republican Announces For Tax Collector Post

By Brad Church
Herald Staff Writer

The 1988 Seminole County elections are still more than a year away, but Republicans are already assured of a primary contest for the office of county tax collector, the only county office currently held by a Democrat.

Don C. Myers, a 18-year resident of Altamonte Springs, says he is announcing his candidacy for the office this early so fellow Republican Ray Valdes, who previously announced his candidacy for tax collector, won't get too far ahead of him.

Myers says he expects more Republicans to enter the race for the tax collector's office in

United Way Divisions Cite Progress

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

United Way of Seminole County, now a part of the tri-county Heart of Florida United Way, has reached 6.5 percent of its county campaign goal of $667,000.

Campaign workers reported a total of $43,831 in pledges and contributions raised so far at the first report luncheon held Wednesday at Holiday Inn on Lake Monroe, Sanford.

Campaign Chairman Joe Vaccaro told the group of volunteers and agency representatives that there is a "tremendous tradition of pride in Seminole County from over the past 30 years of United Way here and just because we are now part of the Heart of Florida United Way doesn't mean we can stop now. We've got to show Ocala and Orange what we can do."

The Major Firm division, with a goal of $385,000, reported a total of $24,800 and United Way drives underway in several of the major companies. Chairman Carmen Fogerty reported Stromberg-Carlson is ahead of last year and United Telephone Co. has doubled its goal this year.

The Major Retail division, with a goal of $81,000 reported $2,700. Jon Martindale of the Special Gifts and Commercial division reported $645 toward the division's goal of $30,300. Tom McDowell, chairman of the Educational division, with a goal of $36,000 reported $4,430 in pledges from the School Board office employees.

Rick Wollner of the Professional division reported a $1,300 corporate gift from the All State Foundation toward the division goal of $28,000. Sanford City Manager Frank Faison, chairman of the Governmental division, reported $1,956 in pledges toward the division goal of $24,000. Crystal Johnson, representing the city of Sanford reported in the second week of the drive city employees have reached 35 percent of their goal and the fire department is already $719 above last year's giving.

IN BRIEF

SWAT Team Reportedly Turns Up Narcotic Assortment At Home

A Sanford couple was arrested at home after Sanford police and City County Investigative Bureau agents aided by the Seminole County SWAT team raided their home at about 3 a.m. Tuesday.

The agents, who had a warrant, reported finding cocaine, marijuana, morphine, Valium and drug paraphernalia in a search of the suspects' home at 2065 Marquette Ave.

James Neal Martin, 28, was arrested along with his wife Janet Caroline Martin, 22. Both have been charged with trafficking in cocaine, and possession of drug paraphernalia and over 30 grams of marijuana, cocaine, morphine and Valium. She has been released on $2,500 bond to appear in court Oct. 19. He was being held without bond.

Tire Iron Threat Scares Clerk

A man who allegedly brandished a tire iron and made threats to a clerk at the 7-Eleven on 25th Street at Airport Boulevard, Sanford, at about 11:30 p.m. Tuesday has been charged with aggravated assault.

The clerk told Sanford police he feared for his life. Larry W. Bradley, 30, of 2055 Airport Blvd., Sanford, was arrested at that store and was being held in lieu of $500 bond.

Credit Card Won't Pay Inn Bill

A man who allegedly presented a stolen credit card to pay his $82 bill at La Casa Motor Inn, Altamonte Springs, was arrested by Altamonte Springs police. He was charged with possession of a stolen credit card, defrauding an innkeeper, three counts of forgery, three counts of uttering a forged and theft.

The inn staff confirmed through credit card officials that the card the man presented had been reported stolen. Police were called to the scene and Thomas Joseph Frolo III, 27, of Brockton, Mass., was arrested at about 7 a.m. Tuesday after questioning at the police station. The owner of the card confirmed to police it was stolen Monday along with $80 and another credit card, which the suspect allegedly had.

Frolo was being held in lieu of $3,500 bond.

Police See Where Crack Stashed

Sanford police reported seeing a man take a plastic bag out from an electrical box outside a home at 414 E. Eighth St., Sanford, at about 10:40 a.m. Tuesday. The man was confronted and police reported the bag contained six pieces of packaged crack cocaine.

Charles L. Boykins, 44, of Route 2, 3395 O'Neal St., Sanford, has been charged with possession of cocaine. He was being held in lieu of $2,000 bond.

Woman Reports 3 Tried Rape

A 21-year-old Altamonte Springs woman reported to Seminole County sheriff's deputies that a witness rescued her from three men who had forced her into a car, fondled her and tried to rape her.

The woman said she was grabbed by one of the men as she walked out of the Texaco station at 2550 W. Semoran Blvd., Forest City, at about midnight Tuesday. She was forced into a car parked beside the building and attacked by three men.

The attack was stopped when a man approached and told the suspects to release the woman. The three suspects fled in the car in which they had tried to attack the woman.

Amputations Result From Grenade Blast

Gary Jones of Oviedo, one of the two Orange County sheriff's deputies injured Wednesday when a hand grenade exploded, is listed in good condition today in an Orlando hospital.

A hospital spokesman said Jones, 26, who suffered cuts and powder burns on his arms, legs and stomach, would probably be hospitalized for about a week.

The other deputy, Sgt. James Wilkerson of Orlando, who was struggling with the suspect when the grenade exploded, had one hand amputated, as well as two fingers off the other hand. He was listed in serious condition.

Ronald Skinner of Lake County was charged with two counts of attempted first-degree murder after the incident. He also had a hand amputated as a result of the grenade explosion and is listed in serious condition.

Skinner, who emerged from a car after being stopped by the deputies on Lee Road, first brandished a gun and then pulled out a hand grenade. Sgt. Wilkerson grabbed the grenade and struggled with Skinner, and the grenade exploded.

Deputies found an arsenal of 37 automatic and paramilitary weapons and ammunition in Skinner's car, the largest cache of weapons confiscated by law officers in Orange County. They said Skinner has had a history of dealing with guns and once owned a gun shop. He was convicted in 1982 of a federal charge of falsifying firearms records and was sentenced to six months on probation.

Skinner recently had been living in Titusville and working in a used car lot on Merritt Island.

Man Said To Have Hurt Wife, Taken Money, Run

A 21-year-old Casselberry woman reported to Casselberry police she followed her husband from their home where he had allegedly attacked her. She said when he left their home, he took with him jewelry and cash. She followed him to a nearby shopping center to get some of the money back, she said.

Behind Oxford Square, State Road 436, Casselberry, is where police found the suspect after the victim Wendy Suminaki called them from the clubhouse of Oxford Square.

She alleged to police that her husband had shoved and hit her while she was talking on the phone at their home. When she tried to call the 911 emergency number, she said, he ripped out the phone and threw it at her. He then left, taking jewelry and money from their home, a police report said.

County, School Board May Fight Over Land

By Richard Whittaker
Special Staff Writer

A legal battle may be brewing in Seminole County because the county commission said it will use condemnation procedures if it must in order to acquire 13.6 acres of land owned by the school board. The county wants to use the land for an extension to Lake Mary Boulevard.

The school board said yesterday during its regular meeting that it purchased the land at U.S. Highway 17-92 and County Road 427 as a school site in 1968. It said it would not give up the property unless it received either another acceptable site in south Seminole County or the money to purchase one. The board bought the land for $30,000.

Larry Sellers, director of public works for Seminole County, said he came to yesterday's meeting with the idea of asking the school board to donate the property to the county outright. He proposed that if the board didn't want to donate the land, the county would be willing to offer as much as $800,000 for it. He also suggested the board let the commission split the land and build the extension through the middle of it.

If the board approves the concept of splitting the property and allowing the extension through it, they would then be left with about five acres the county said could be sold for commercial use. Sellers used the sum of $1 million in telling the board what they could get for the land.

Board member Pat Telson said she was not pleased with the lack of options the board had in the situation. "How come they (County Commission) get first shot at it (the land)," Telson said.

Nancy Warren, another board member, asked why the commission was so much more a powerful governmental body than the board, so that they could just do what they wanted to with the property. "I'm offended by the attitude that they're (county commission) going to do it, and we're helpless," Warren said.

School Board Attorney Ned Julian Jr. said the commission and board at some point would have to enter into a process of negotiation on the property. He also indicated there is legal precedence in a governmental body condemning and taking property from another. "If we can't come to a meeting of the minds," Julian said, "then a jury decides."

A one-item agenda meeting has been scheduled for Oct. 12, at 3 p.m. to discuss the matter again, with Sellers being present to answer board questions. The meeting will take place in the board room at the School Board building at 1211 Mellonville Ave., in Sanford.

Rains Gone Away Sunshine Today

The wind from the southwest did the trick. A deluge in portions of Seminole County, nearly 2 inches in some places, and just about everybody got some. A little less than 1/2 inch in Sanford.

Then the wind shifted again, back to the northeast. 'Tis sunny...at least for a while. Prevailing wisdom indicates that the rains will return, certainly by the week-end. The temperatures have been great, especially for sound sleeping with the windows open. Range has been high 60s to very low 70s. Perfect. Remember 88 degrees is supposed to be the optimum for energy conservation.

If you like your waves high and choppy, try New Smyrna: They're up to 5 feet, but rough. Smaller at Daytona, but still choppy.

Our good news is, as Newton dictated in one of his laws, mirrored by an opposite reaction. In this case, unequal. It's snowing up north.

The Midwest saw its first snowfall of the season as a cold front that stretched along the Atlantic Coast today produced rainshowers in Maine and thunderstorms across central and southern Florida, the National Weather Service said.

South Bend, Ind., had the first snowfall of the season Wednesday for the Midwest, although it saw no accumulation.

"It's the first snow this season for the Midwest," said Dan McCarthy, a weather service forecaster. "It is kinda early. We just have some extraordinary cold air coming down from Canada and moving across those warm waters of Lake Michigan."

A thunderstorm in southern Florida produced wind gusts up to 58 mph at Miami Beach late Wednesday evening.

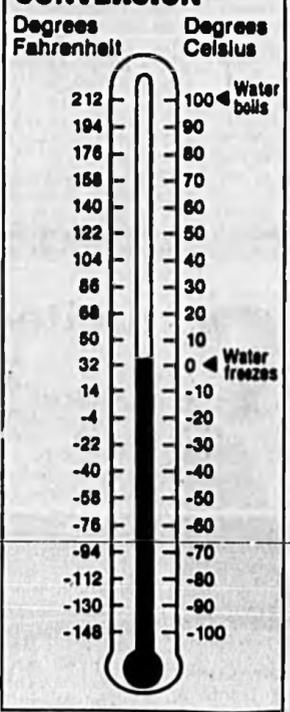

The cold front stretched from the eastern Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico and spread rainshowers today from New England and New York state through the Atlantic Coast states and Florida.

The showers in Maine and thunderstorms in Florida were all that lingered from a wide band of storms that had traveled since Monday from the Mississippi Valley to the Atlantic Coast.

Rainshowers also stretched from western New York state, western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio early today.

War Crimes Files Should Be Public

During the last four decades, the United Nations has restricted access to its files concerning Nazi war crimes to those member governments requesting specific materials. But there is a move afoot in the U.N. to open the files to historians and researchers so the world will have a better understanding of the unspeakable crimes committed against millions of innocent men, women and children by the Third Reich.

The decision whether to grant wider access to the files will be made during the next two days by representatives of the 17 nations that constituted the U.N. War Crimes Commission.

The commission, since disbanded, was established in London in 1943 and completed its information gathering five years later. All told, there are nearly 40,000 files, which include dossiers on war criminals, suspects and witnesses compiled by the commission. Although the Nuremberg War Crimes tribunal did not rely on this data, the materials would doubtless corroborate much of the information presented at the postwar trials.

Under rules established by the commission, the war-crimes files are kept under lock and key by the United Nations and "may be inspected and used only for official United Nations purposes." To date, the United Nations has made public only four files: Those on Adolf Eichmann and Kurt Waldheim to Israel, and those on Josef Mengele and Klaus Barbie to the United States.

The oft-stated rationale for keeping the files secret is that their release could compromise the integrity of future criminal investigations. A more plausible explanation is that the United Nations is wary of opening the files because it might embarrass those nations that have protected war criminals in the name of political expediency.

Indeed, allowing public access to the files could help in tracking down and prosecuting hundreds of notorious Nazis who have been in hiding since the war's end. At the very least, opening the files would enable scholars to further document the magnitude of the Holocaust that consumed more than 12 million persons.

The files released thus far contain copious details about Nazi war crimes committed in the occupied countries including evidence on grisly medical experiments in the death camps. Common decency demands the widest possible dissemination of such information to remind the world of a long dark night in history that must never be forgotten.

Except for Poland and France, the other 15 governments of the commission are said to favor broader access to the files. The U.S. representative should mobilize support among the remaining 14 delegates to demand that these sensitive materials be made public.

Three Senators Decide To Call It Quits

By Steve Gerstel

WASHINGTON (UPI) — With a little more than a year before the 1988 elections, three senators have called it quits — one expected, one a surprise and one a real shocker.

Having reached the splendid age of 75, Sen. Robert Stafford, R-Vt., said last spring in his quiet, drama-free fashion that it was time to retreat to private life. It was a sensible decision by an eminently sensible man.

Then last month, Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., surprised the political world by saying that he, too, would retire from the Senate, his career address since 1959.

Proxmire cited age as the reason for his retirement, although few carry their 71 years better and even fewer dutifully follow a regimen of physical activity as does Wisconsin's premier jogger.

Nor was there any political threat to Proxmire, a maverick who usually went to the polls with nominal opposition after spending a couple of hundred dollars on his campaign.

But Proxmire has seen too many of his Senate colleagues overstay their time, hanging on long after their faculties, if not their presence, had gone into retirement and decided he did not want to end as a caricature of himself.

Proxmire's has been a notable career — almost all banking legislation for nearly 30 years carries his mark — embellished by two records that may stand forever: the most consecutive roll call votes cast and the most consecutive five-minute speeches given at the start of a day's session.

Yet, if Proxmire's departure was a surprise, the decision by Sen. Paul Trible, R-Va., was truly off the wall and his reasoning somewhat less than convincing.

Trible, just 40 and in his first term, said he would leave because the life of a senator is not compatible with being a father. Trible said the governorship, which he just might go after in 1989, would be better for the kids because he could set his schedule.

The Senate's sany schedule probably is not conducive to raising children, given the unpredictability of the beginning and end of sessions, the constant need to hustle campaign money, the need to make obligatory appearances around the state and even the active social whirl.

But Trible knew that before he decided to run for the Senate. He served six years in the House, which holds to a more rigid and shorter schedule, yet Trible must have known well the folkways on the other side of the Capitol.

There is speculation that he was driven from the Senate by the threat of a race against the very popular former Gov. Charles Robb. But Trible says he does not believe that Robb will run, and Robb has been coy about his intentions and has given no indication he will run.

The decision not to run also came at a time when regard for Trible's abilities was at a high point, following years of lackluster non-achievement. During the Iran-Contra hearings, Trible established credentials, which he lacked before those deliberations began.

Trible, as the incumbent, would have had the nomination for the asking and, as the incumbent, certainly would have been the strongest candidate Republicans could have fielded in next year's election. The Virginia GOP will now have to start looking for a candidate.

The Drug Problem Worsens

WASHINGTON (NEA) — For the third time in four months, Attorney General Edwin Meese called a press conference recently to announce a major drug bust. However, critics dismissed it as a public relations gesture aimed at disguising the country's worsening drug problem and the government's ineffective response.

Rep. Charles Rangel, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Select Committee on Narcotics, declared: "One bust does not a national policy make. Meese said 'big names' are involved. There are always big names. Next month there will be other big names to replace the ones just busted."

At the heart of the debate is Meese's role in drug enforcement and the mechanism the Reagan administration has set up to control federal drug enforcement activities.

There are many federal agencies involved in the war against drugs. Often intramural battles develop. Some agencies seemed more interested in protecting their turf and increasing their budgets than in fighting drugs.

Some in Congress wanted a "super agency" to take over the fight completely. But the White House resisted and instead came up with the National Drug Policy Board, chaired by Meese.

The board is an attempt to bring together various agency heads to work out differences and set overall policies. The key to the board is that no one is really in charge and that decisions are reached by consensus.

Its most sweeping move has been to set up a "lead agency" system, dividing up individual aspects of drug enforcement by assigning one specific agency to take charge of a particular problem.

Critics like Rangel, Rep. Glenn English, D-Okla., who chairs a House subcommittee with oversight over many drug enforcement issues, and Sen. Joe Biden, D-Del., chairman of the judiciary committee, believe that our present anti-drug efforts are inadequate. They place much of the blame on the NDPB for being leaderless in its present form and having no one person accountable for failures.

They have supported legislation to create a cabinet-level "Office of the Director of National Drug Control Policy," whose chief would control and coordinate federal drug policies.

The administration opposes the legislation. It argues that such an agency would be a step backward and would foster the kind of inter-agency bickering that they claim has largely been ended by the Drug Policy Board.

One's Heart Skips A Beat At FDA's Laxity

By Jack Anderson
And Joseph Spear

WASHINGTON — Food and Drug Administration doctors determined last December that a particular kind of pacemaker wiring, implanted in more than 18,000 heart patients, might be fatally defective. They rated the risk of wire failure at nine on a scale of zero (no risk) to 12.

Yet in January the FDA approved a mildly worded letter that the wires' manufacturer, Medtronic Inc., sent to physicians across the country. The letter merely told doctors they should monitor pacemaker patients implanted with No. 4002 wires twice a month for three years and once a month thereafter — a routine monitoring schedule.

An FDA doctor speaking for the agency now concedes that the manufacturer's letter did not go far enough. Ironically, one reason he said the agency approved the letter was the FDA medical panel's concern over the danger: they didn't

JEFFREY HART

Liberal Insanity

The liberal ideology, whether we encounter it in Mario Cuomo, Joe Biden, Pat Schroeder, or whoever, is at war with actuality. It deeply wishes that things really were other than they are, and then it begins to think that things really are other than they are. This is a deep-running poison in the entire liberal system.

In a recent column, I dealt with such liberal programs as "integration," welfare, world government, disarmament, and so forth. Considered on the record of history, all of these projects have failed disastrously, because they were based on false premises. Is the following proposition true or false: "Mankind hates war." On the historical record, that is entirely false.

Is the following proposition true or false: "Mankind desires universal brotherhood and peace." On the evidence, that proposition is entirely false. Any public policy based on such an assumption is bound to fail, short of an entire transformation of human nature.

The current liberal utopian assumptions are visible in their most pure form on the university campus, from which they radiate out into the mass media and the political culture. This phenomenon begs for skeptical examination.

The best-selling book by Allan Bloom, "The Closing of the American Mind," contains much wit and wisdom, but in our context here, what it signally does is revive the classical concept of "nature." The great philosophers from Heraclitus through Aristotle and Cicero did not mean by the term "nature" what such 19th-century Romantics as Wordsworth meant. Nature, for those clear Aegean thinkers, was not rocks and trees and waterfalls. In both Greek and Latin the word for "nature" means basically "the way things are and have always been."

Liberalism has something entirely different in mind, utopian and destructive, hating the old and valid gods of place and time, the gods of the waterfall, the battlefield and the hearth, the gods of the classical "nature." This vicious project is visible in the new language they use, in its most concentrated form on the college campus.

Sexism. We are supposed to be living in a "sexual" society. The fact of the matter is that women have substantial equality, given a late entry into the job market. Women have preferential treatment in academic appointments, law and medical school admissions, corporate posts.

And yet, well and good, the male is — according to history — the achiever. "Nature." The male has genes and hormones, chief among them testosterone. He achieves, and he usually dies earlier than the female. The male is proud of his role and his fate. He enjoys male bonding in his teams and clubs. Junk thought like "sexism" and "chauvinism" — baloney like that is the common coin not only on the campus but in the culture these days — flies in the face of the structure of reality, what Allan Bloom's classical thinkers meant by "nature."

Another great campus and cultural word is "homophobia." This ideological word, literally translated, means that you fear homosexuals. But in its concrete context, it means to condemn people who dislike homosexuality. If we leave ideology, human history has not been friendly to homosexuality. It is against "nature" and against experience: AIDS.

You can go down the list: Ethnocentrism, or patriotism, the word Progress — which means evolution toward homo liberals, that unisex citizen of mythical world government — and we begin to know what we are dealing with. Serious insanity.

Bloody Noses Deadly

By Larry Doyle
UPI Science Writer

CHICAGO (UPI) — Some nose bleeds are serious, particularly in older people.

A bleed that does not stop, even after the application of pressure or 20 minutes time, should be brought to the attention of a physician. It often requires special care, sometimes a hospital stay, perhaps even surgery.

And in some documented cases, it has resulted in death.

"These are not the little nose bleeds that kids get," says Dr. Stephen Wetmore, of the University of Arkansas in Little Rock. "They can be quite serious, and they should be treated that way."

Wetmore and his colleagues discussed the problem of epistaxis — nose bleeds — at a recent meeting of otolaryngologists — ear, nose and throat specialists.

Epistaxis is a severe nasal hemorrhage that occurs mainly in middle-aged and elderly people, often in patients have an underlying heart or respiratory problem. Winter, with its dry, constricting cold, appears to play a role in cracking the nasal mucosa and prompting bleeds in major vessels.

Doctors usually treat the bleed by placing gauze up the nose to absorb blood as well as place pressure on the ruptured vessels. These so-called nasal packs are typically left in place for three to five days.

But recent research has convinced Wetmore that this treatment may be causing problems of its own.

"There have been some unexplained, sudden deaths reported in patients after the placement of nasal packs, and I and others suspected the packs were causing or aggravating a respiratory problem in these patients," he says. "So that's what we decided to look at."

Wetmore speculated the packs were promoting obstructive sleep apnea, temporary breathing stoppages that produce asphyxia and can induce heart failure. To test this hypothesis, the researcher and his colleagues at the university's Sleep Disorders Center monitored 12 epistaxis patients with nasal packs for two successive nights.

All of the patients exhibited obstructed breathing during the night, and 10 had five or more episodes an hour in which breathing stopped for 10 or more seconds. The average number of such episodes was 29. The patients also exhibited an increased amount of shallow breathing, as well as low levels of oxygen in the blood.

spokeswoman said the risk to patients is "minimal." Cracking in the 4002 wires' insulation will not result in total failure, but merely cause the pacemaker to skip a beat now and then, she said.

FDA and industry critic Charles Stein, a pacemaker patient himself, has a different outlook. "They are trying to minimize a very serious situation ... to the detriment of the patient," he told us. "Medtronic and the FDA are living the big lie."

Stein, who runs the Pacemaker Recall Databank in Orlando, Fla., and publishes a pacemaker newsletter, says the Medtronic letter is a classic example of the FDA's systematic failure to put accurate information in the hands of those who need it. He wants warnings delivered to pacemaker patients rather than their doctors, and he questions why the FDA relies on manufacturers to issue warnings about their own products.

Ecuadoran Airline Cargo Official Charged With Drug Trafficking

MIAMI (UPI) — Authorities have seized an Ecuadoran airliner and arrested an airline cargo official for allegedly importing cocaine into the United States aboard the plane, a U.S. Customs official said.

Officials seized the Ecuadoriana DC-10, flight No. 53 to Miami, at 9:45 p.m. Wednesday when the plane landed at Miami International Airport, said U.S. Customs officer Michael Sheehan.

Raul A. Garcia, assistant cargo manager for the Ecuadoriana Airlines in Miami, was arrested at 9:15 p.m. Tuesday at the airline's airport warehouse, Sheehan said.

The investigation that led up to the seizure and arrest began Aug. 13, when the same plane arrived in Miami carrying a suitcase that contained 71 pounds of cocaine.

DOT, Contracts To Be Probed

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A House-Senate committee will investigate the state Department of Transportation's use of padded road contracts to buy computer equipment vetoed by the Legislature.

DOT Secretary Kaye Henderson will be asked how, why and how long his department padded contracts to acquire $1.3 million of desk-top computers, testing equipment and office furnishings. The Tampa Tribune reported Wednesday.

The Joint Committee on Legislative Auditing also plans to ask Auditor General Charles Lester for a status report on his review of DOT purchasing practices.

GOP Straw Ballot May Birth Suit

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Backers of television evangelist Pat Robertson's presidential campaign are threatening to sue to scuttle the November's state Republican convention.

Dave Zachem, Robertson's Florida campaign chief, charges Bush is getting favored treatment from state GOP leaders in preparation for the convention and a presidential preference ballot.

Zachem told The Tampa Tribune, however, he will not seek an injunction to stop the non-binding straw ballot.

Sessions Hospitalized; Swearing-In Postponed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The FBI said today William Sessions became ill while traveling to Washington to be sworn in as FBI director and was hospitalized at the George Washington University hospital.

Acting FBI Director John Otto said in a statement that today's scheduled swearing-in has been postponed indefinitely. Otto said Sessions "was taken ill while traveling to Washington, D.C., yesterday and has been hospitalized and is undergoing testing."

Earlier, a Justice Department source said it was his understanding that Sessions' illness was not life-threatening.

Hospital spokesmen referred all calls regarding Sessions to the FBI.

President Reagan had been scheduled to attend today's swearing-in and to use the occasion as a forum to continue his lobbying for the confirmation of Judge Robert Bork to the Supreme Court.

The Senate Judiciary Committee quickly approved Session's nomination and sent it to the Senate to clear the way for the more controversial nomination of Bork.

Reagan tapped Sessions to head the FBI to replace William Webster, who left the top FBI post to become director of the CIA in May, succeeding the late William Casey.

Sessions said Wednesday he thought he had another week before he would have to move to Washington. He quickly scheduled a flight out of San Antonio Wednesday for Washington.

"It was a shock," said the conservative Texan in San Antonio Wednesday.

Sessions said he believed he would not be called to Washington for two weeks. But Attorney General Edwin Meese telephoned Sessions Tuesday to tell him the ceremony was scheduled today, Sessions said.

Justice Department officials awaited Session's arrival at the FBI helm as one who would bring a solid reputation for integrity on the federal bench to the bureau.

"There's a feeling here in the Justice Department that his style is much like Webster's," one official said. "He's known for being in command of the situation, solid under pressure, and for competence."

Webster was credited with restoring public confidence during his nine-year tenure at the FBI, an agency tarnished by scandals involving domestic surveillance of Americans and petty corruption by longtime Director J. Edgar Hoover and his closest aides.

As a respected veteran jurist who has not been deeply involved in partisan politics, Sessions was the kind of confirmable nominee the administration wanted in the face of the Iran-Contra affair and Reagan's July 1 nomination of conservative Judge Bork to the Supreme Court.

During Senate Judiciary Committee hearing on his nomination, Sessions was unanimously praised by senators on both sides of the aisle.

Acting FBI Director John Otto said in a statement that today's scheduled swearing-in has been postponed indefinitely. Otto said Sessions "was taken ill while traveling to Washington, D.C., yesterday and has been hospitalized and is undergoing testing."

Earlier, a Justice Department source said it was his understanding that Sessions' illness was not life-threatening.

Cosmonaut Shatters Record Of Endurance In Outer Space

MOSCOW (UPI) — Veteran cosmonaut Yuri Romanenko, having set a new space endurance record just four days before the 30th anniversary of Sputnik 1, is expected to stay aboard the orbiting Mir space station for up to 60 more days.

Mir's 43-year-old flight commander, a veteran of two previous landmark space flights in 1978 and 1980, eclipsed the previous Soviet mark of 237 days Wednesday night.

Romanenko was launched at 12:38 a.m. Moscow time on Feb. 6, and the U.S. Library of Congress and the Guinness book of space flight records said the old record was 236 days, 22 hours, 50 minutes.

In any case, the endurance feat adds to the Soviet Union's unquestioned record as the leader in long-term manned space flight, which is considered the key to achieving their goals of establishing a permanently manned space station and launching a manned expedition to Mars early in the next century.

Israel Dislikes U.S. Arms Sale

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — Israel has expressed concern to Secretary of State George Shultz about a proposed U.S. arms sale to Saudi Arabia, while Shultz defended the sale of arms to moderate Arab countries.

Israeli Foreign Minister Shimon Peres said Wednesday he told Shultz that Israel opposes the impending arms sale, expected to amount to $1.4 billion and include a dozen advanced F-15 jet fighters, 1,600 Maverick missiles and other hardware.

"I repeated the basic Israeli position, which is we're against the sales of arms to any country which is in a state of belligerence with us," Peres said.

In justifying the sale Tuesday, the State Department cited "crucial help" from the Saudis in the Persian Gulf.

Would-Be Killer Slain By Target

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — A gunman broke into the house of a Christian parliament member today in an assassination attempt but the intended victim grabbed a gun and shot his assailant to death, police say.

Police sources said Abboud Elias Abboud, 26, armed with a silencer-equipped pistol, broke into the house of Najah Wakim in Mieslem west Beirut and confronted Wakim's wife and daughter.

The woman started to scream and her husband grabbed a pistol and shot the assailant to death with a single shot, police said.

Retirees To Get Health Care Payments Stretched

City retirees over 65 are getting a three-month extension on health care payment supplements provided by the city.

City commissioners Monday night voted 4-0 to continue until Jan. 1 the city's policy of issuing checks to those retirees not covered by the city's employee insurance. City Commissioner John Mercer, who is on vacation, was not present.

The city began issuing health-care payment supplements of $73.91 in May to all retirees over age 65 who were not enrolled in the city's health plan. The amount of the supplements at that time was equal to the cost of the city's health premiums. The supplements were scheduled to stop on Oct. 1, when the city was to begin paying to Florida Retirement Systems 0.24 percent of each employee's salary.

The money paid to FRS will be sent to all of the city's retirees Jan. 1 for the purpose of defraying health insurance costs. At that time, FRS will send each retiree a monthly payment of $1 for each year of service.

The payment supplements approved by the commission Monday will be $78.12, which is how much it would cost for single coverage under one of the city's new insurance plans. Commissioner A.A. McClanahan expressed concern about what will happen to the retirees after Jan. 1.

"Is the money from FRS all they (the retirees) will get after Jan. 1?" McClanahan asked.

City Manager Frank Faison said he did not know what the FRS payments will be after Jan. 1. Faison said that if the city can get input from its retirees about their FRS supplements, an intelligent decision can be made when the issue is reviewed by the commission in January.

Other issues voted on by the city commission include:

• Dr. John Diets, an engineering professor at the University of Central Florida, will study ways to improve operations at the city's wastewater treatment plant. The commission voted 4-0 to approve hiring Diets to analyze and make recommendations on proper plant operations in conjunction with the city's expanded filter treatment process. The filters will be added within the next two years to allow for quality land-spraying.

• Three secretaries who work for the city and four watch commanders will get pay raises. City commissioners approved 4-0 three secretarial reclassifications and additional compensation for those police lieutenants who operate as watch commanders. The pay raises will take effect in October.

The total additional cost for the reclassifications for the fiscal 1987-88 budget year will be $3,382. Faison said the raises will change the budget slightly and vacancies on the city's payroll will be held open until the additional cost is made up. The additional compensation for the watch commanders will cost $17,277 and Police Chief Steve Harriett said the money will be taken from the Law Enforcement Trust Fund.

• Sanford will build a vacuum sewage station on Oak Avenue as part of the city's combined sewer separation project. The commission voted 4-0 to approve purchasing the property for $20,000. Bill Simmons, director of engineering and planning, said the property was selected because the location of the vacuum station needed to be close to the northern end of the vacuum sewer lines.

"We also wanted to keep the vacuum station out of a residential area because of motor noise," Simmons said. "Fortunately, this site met both requirements."

• People who live in Sanford will pay 5 percent more for utilities soon. City commissioners approved 4-0 the utility rate increases to pay for planned water and sewage improvements. Utility Director Paul Moore said the rate increase, which will probably take effect Nov. 1, would probably amount to no more than an additional one or two dollars per month for the average bill. In addition, the cost of reconnecting services when the utility bill has not been paid will be raised from $3 to $10 to cover the city's actual cost of service reconnections.

• City workers will get a new pay period that ends Friday instead of Tuesday. By a vote of 4-0, city commissioners approved backing up the pay period to end Friday midnight. The new payroll period takes effect with the first bi-weekly payroll after Oct. 1.

Under the old system, time sheets were turned in on Tuesday morning for the weekly period ending Tuesday night and for the bi-weekly period ending Wednesday night. The problem with the system is that division/departments supervisors had to guess if an employee who got paid bi-weekly would be at work all day Tuesday and Wednesday. Any change in the hours paid because an employee went home sick Tuesday or was absent Wednesday resulted in an adjustment in the following pay period or voiding the check and issuing another.

• The Westside Neighborhood Strategy Steering Committee will open its new office on 13th Street. City commissioners approved 4-0 opening the WINS project office in Cherry Plaza at 1220 W. 13th St. The office will be leased for three months beginning Oct. 1 and will serve as an information center where residents and property owners would have easy access to accurate information and proposed plans for review and comment. Richard Woods, Sanford community development officer, said the office was chosen because it is central to the redevelopment area of the WINS project.

Sanford Commissioners Approve Rezoning Requests

The Sanford City Commission, following the recommendations of the city's zoning and planning board, Monday approved three rezoning items by a vote of 4-0. Commissioner John Mercer, who is on vacation, was not present to vote.

In a public reading, the commission approved a request to rezone from Agricultural to General Commercial property at 4165 S. Orlando Ave. Owner Hassan Morhberi told the planning and zoning board Sept. 17 he plans to sell the property to the adjacent business, Avis Car Leasing, for the purpose of used vehicle sales and service. Avis representative Bo Morris said at that time the company would lease and repair used cars and trucks. The business would be open seven days a week from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m.

In a public reading, the commission approved the request by Robert Seigler, representing property owner Richard Sander, to rezone property located on the southwest side of Jewett Lane and Beaver Road from Agricultural to Restricted Residential. Seigler told the planning and zoning board Sept. 17 the owner has no actual plans for the property, but is hoping to sell the land in the future for development of light manufacturing and warehousing. Seigler said the request complies with the zoning plan the city has for that area.

The commission approved the first reading of an ordinance to rezone a portion of property lying between U.S. Hwy 17-92 and County Road 427 from Agricultural to General Commercial and property lying between County Home and Collins Drive from Single Family Residential to Agricultural. The property is owned by Arthur and Phyllis Grindle, who plan to use the property for retail commercial businesses and office space.

Life-Lengthening Drug Available To AIDS Patients

The Seminole County Health Department is ready to help AIDS patients obtain the life-prolonging drug AZT through a supplemental appropriation recently approved by Congress, according to Dr. Jorge Deju, director of the health department.

The $30-million appropriation permits states to purchase azidothymidine, popularly known as AZT, to assist needy AIDS patients. Florida's share of the federal grant is $1.7 million.

Deju said patients must apply at the county health department to receive the drug. They should call 332-2724, ext. 291, to make an appointment and find which documents they must bring with them to an interview, he said. Interviews usually take less than an hour.

Deju said there have been 28 cases of AIDS (Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome) in Seminole County since 1984, of which eight patients are still alive and living in the county. The other 20 persons have either died or moved away. He said two Seminole County AIDS patients have died within the past two weeks.

So far, only one patient has received AZT through the county health department, Deju said. He received it on Sept. 22.

AZT is the first drug to have shown definite promise in prolonging the lives of AIDS patients. Deju said that although the drug holds real promise for arresting further progress of the disease in some patients, it is not a cure for the disease.

"We must redouble our efforts to prevent the spread of this disease, which now claims over 2,500 Floridians," Deju said. "There are more than 1,000 living AIDS patients in Florida and we urge them to take advantage of this new program."

Aides Taint Dukakis Campaign By Working To Damage Biden

BOSTON (UPI) — Less than 24 hours after posting a fund-raising record, Gov. Michael Dukakis found his Democratic presidential campaign staff shattered by the involvement of two top aides in damaging the rival White House bid of Sen. Joseph Biden, D-Dei.

Campaign manager John Sasse and political director Paul Tully resigned within hours of a Dukakis news conference Wednesday at which he exposed Sasse as the source of an "attach video" that showed Biden plagiarizing a speech by British Labor Party leader Neil Kinnock.

Tully, who joined Dukakis from the collapsed campaign of former Sen. Gary Hart, D-Colo., quit because he knew Sasse's role when he denied a magazine report that the Dukakis staff had leaked the videotape to the news media.

11 Die In Day's Plane Crashes

Eleven people were killed in two plane crashes in North Carolina and Southern California Wednesday, including five men on a fishing trip and five businessmen and their pilot returning from a trip to a Mexican salt processing plant.

Six men on a business trip were killed when their small chartered plane crashed into a fog-shrouded hillside on approach to the Tijuana International Airport near the U.S.-Mexico border. It was the worst air crash in San Diego County since 1979, when 10 people were killed in the crash of a small plane near San Ysidro, said a spokesman for the National Transportation Safety Board.

At Cape Hatteras, N.C., five North Carolina men were killed when their twin-engine plane crashed and exploded in the Atlantic. Authorities said the men had been on a deep-sea fishing expedition.

Robertson Begins Stumping

NEW YORK (UPI) — Pat Robertson, who surrendered his multimillion-dollar evangelical broadcasting empire to run for president, chose the heart of one of the nation's largest black communities to open formally his campaign for the Republican nomination today.

Robertson arranged to return to a brownstone in Bedford-Stuyvesant section of Brooklyn that briefly was his home 27 years ago when he first joined the Southern Baptist ministry. Following the New York stop on the first official day of the campaign, Robertson was to move on to New Hampshire and Texas.

"(He wants) to show this campaign intends to reach out to the neighborhoods, to every single citizen, to the inner city, to the poor, to all those people who deserve to be included in the American dream," Robertson spokeswoman Connie Snapp said Wednesday.

Reps Allege Pentagon Cover-Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Leaders of the House Armed Services Committee accuse the Pentagon of intentionally hiding from Congress the most critical findings of a report on lapses in its top-security clearance procedures.

Reps. Les Aspin of Wisconsin, the Democratic committee chairman, and William Dickinson of Alabama, the panel's ranking Republican, issued a news release to lodge their allegations about the report by the Defense Investigative Service.

The review, ordered by Congress, found several holes in the handling of the Pentagon's "special access" security programs for top-secret information made available to representatives of private industry, such as defense contractors.

Commission May Promote Lake Mary Building Official

By Richard Whittaker
Herald Staff Writer

The Lake Mary City Commission is scheduled to take action on the appointment of the city's building official, Stan Welling, to the higher position of public works superintendent at its meeting Thursday night at 7:30 p.m.

Welling, who has been serving as the public works superintendent since Jim Ortoles left the position last July, Ortoles now works for Teer Laboratories in Lake Mary.

Originally from West Virginia, Welling has been the city's building official for almost four years. He has a wife and two children.

Welling said the public works superintendent is responsible for the upkeep and maintenance of just about anything the city owns. "That includes vehicles, water, sewers and water treatment plants," he said.

The superintendent's position will raise Welling's annual salary from the city to $24,700. He now earns $21,826 per year as a building official. The most money Welling will be able to earn on the pay scale to which he is being promoted is $33,493.

Lake Mary City Manager Bob Norris said Welling has made a "concerted effort" to revamp the public works department during the time he has served as its interim superintendent. "This effort has been an attempt to make the department more responsive to the desires of the commission and the needs of the public," Norris said.

He said his statement about revamping the department in no way indicates that Ortoles was doing anything wrong in running the department. "It's just that Stan is doing things differently," Norris said.

"With Stan's background and experience in Lake Mary, I think he will make an excellent superintendent of Public Works, if appointed," he said.

The commission also will be asked to hire a new patrol officer for its police department Thursday night. Lake Mary Police Chief Charles Lauderdale has nominated David D. Guildford for the remaining patrol position on the city's force.

Lauderdale reported that 21 applications were received for the two patrol vacancies in the department. The commission approved the hiring of Sharon Carver on September 1, but decided to reject the nomination of R. D. Gregory to the police department.

The commission voted 2-2 on hiring Gregory because his father, Sgt. Steve Gregory, is already a member of the department. Under Section 506 of the city's ordinance 288, no immediate family member of a city employee may be hired to work in the same department. Gregory's rejection was decided when Mayor Dick Fees broke the commission deadlock with a vote against his being hired.

If Guildford is hired by the city, he will begin work on Oct. 4. He will have a starting salary of $16,117 a year.

The city commission meets at the City Hall building located at 158 North Country Club Road.

This will be the last regular meeting of the current commission. Newly elected commissioners Randall Morris, George Duryea and Thomas Mahoney will be sworn into office during a ceremony at the Lake Mary City Hall on Oct. 5, at 4:30 p.m. The commissioners will represent seats 1, 3 and 5 respectively.

Commissioners Charlie Webster, Arthur "Buzz" Petros (suspended) and Kenneth King are the outgoing members of the governmental body.

The new commission will hold a workshop dealing with the proposed new city hall complex Oct. 8 at 7:30 p.m. The first regular meeting for the new commission will be Oct. 22 at 7:30 p.m.

Lake Monroe To Get New, Needed Post Office

By Brad Church
Herald Staff Writer

The U.S. Postal Service will build a new post office to replace the present 28-year-old Lake Monroe Post Office northwest of Sanford. The new post office building will be located about 400 feet south of the present post office.

Guy Bennett, postal facilities director for the Orlando area, said the area served by the Lake Monroe Post Office is growing rapidly because of its proximity to the Interstate 4/Highway 17-68 interchange.

"We are building a facility designed to last for 20 years and taking into consideration the expected growth in the area," Bennett said.

The post office only has two employees, Robert Mann, postmaster, and Gary Smith, clerk. No mail is delivered out of the post office — only retail sales are handled and boxes are serviced. Mail delivery to that area is through the Sanford Post Office, and that will not change with the opening of the new post office.

Smith said the post office now has 840 boxes, including three free-standing units which stand against the wall just inside the entrance.

Although Mann and Smith had received no word of the plans for a new building Wednesday, Smith said it would be welcome. "Business has probably doubled since I came here in the fall of 1981," he said. "We could use more boxes, but we don't have any more room to put them."

Besides residents in the area, the office serves a nearby campground which has expanded, new businesses which have developed in the area, and the Central Florida Zoo, which recently changed its mailing address to Lake Monroe from Sanford.

Smith said the present building also floods when it rains, and he and Mann have to make sure packages aren't left on the floor. "This building wasn't built for air conditioning either," he continued, noting that on hot days the temperature can top 80 degrees with the wall-mounted air conditioner going full blast.

Melendez, of the Postal Service, and Patrick Cox, engineer for the project, said the 3,000-square-foot building now is being designed and will be constructed as soon as possible. They appeared before the county's development review committee Wednesday to hear staff comments about the postal department's request to construct the building on land presently zoned for residential use.

From comments they heard about redesignation of land in that part of the county, they said planning for the building will be accelerated.

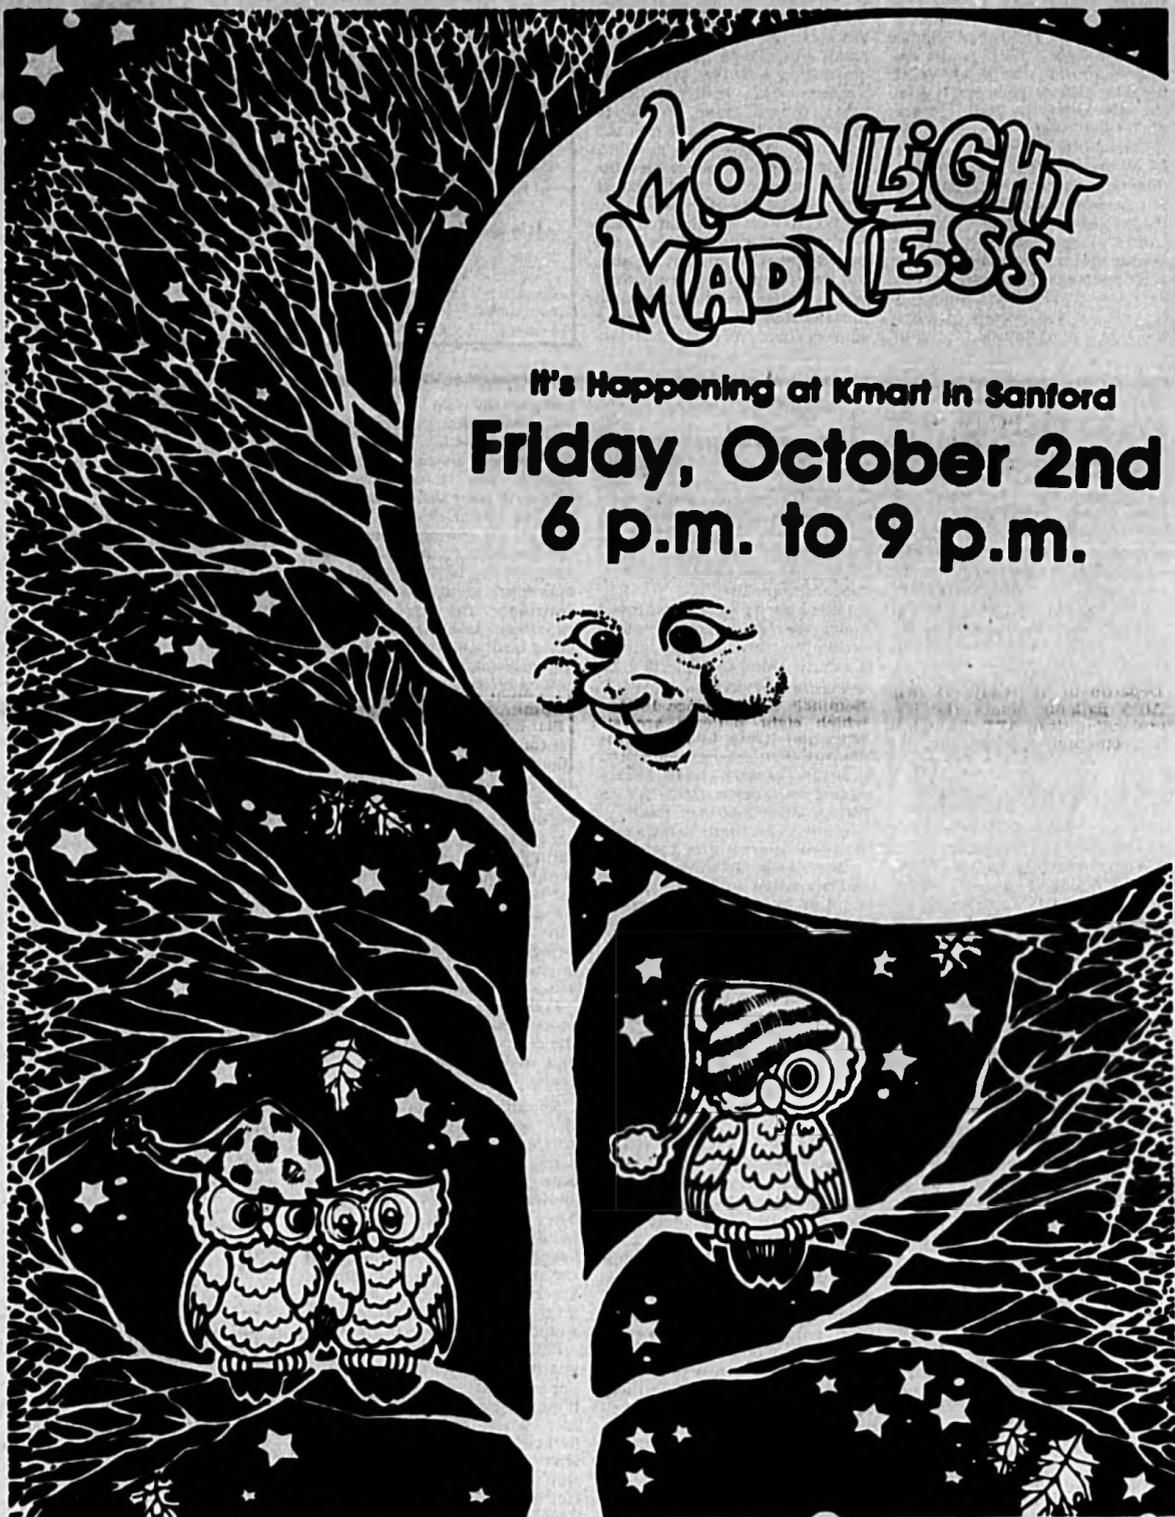

The county's revised comprehensive land-use plan designates a large area northeast of Lake Monroe for high-density planned use development. After Dec. 8, any development in that area will have to meet the Planned Unit Development designation and be zoned accordingly. Since rezoning usually takes three to four months from original request to approval, Cox said every effort will be made to get a site plan for the new post office approved by the county so that a building permit can be obtained before the Dec. 8 deadline.

The development review committee has no objections to the request for a special exception to build the post office on residentially zoned land. The request now will go to the county board of adjustment, which must recommend approval to the county commissioners.

Sid Vihlen Jr., who was also at the development review committee on behalf of another development, said he has purchased the present Lake Monroe Post Office building as an investment and plans to develop the site for commercial use.

The committee had no objections to the special exception, which will go to the board of adjustment for a recommendation for approval.

Lake Mary Considers Crystal Lake Study

By Richard Whittaker
Herald Staff Writer

The Lake Mary City Commission is scheduled to decide today whether the city should spend $10,300 to study human sewage contamination of Crystal Lake.

The commission will discuss the funding the fecal coliform study by the firm of Camp Dresser and McKee Inc., Mattland, during its meeting starting at 7:30 p.m.

The lake is located north of Lake Mary Boulevard and west of Country Club Road, according to Lake Mary City Planner Tim Weaver. It has a surface area of approximately 200 to 250 acres. Weaver said the actual amount of surface area depends on rainfall and the water table of the lake.

Bob Norris, Lake Mary city manager, said that other studies have shown a high count of fecal coliform in the lake's water in the past. "Apparently there's been a continuous problem with the fecal coliform count in Crystal Lake that has been occurring since before I got here," Norris said. He added that it was his understanding that one side of the lake had a higher count than the other, but he didn't know which one it was.

The high amount of waste found in the lake's water was directly responsible for the city not getting a beach permit for the lake last spring, according to Norris.

The State Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services turned down the city's request for the permit to allow the beach area for swimming in the lake. "They (HRS) said the fecal count was too high to open up a public beach, Norris said, but not high enough to be an immediate health hazard."

Norris said if a person were to go swimming in the lake there might be no problem at all caused by the fecal count.

"But if you went out there (Crystal Lake) and drank four gallons of water you'd probably get sick," he said. "The city commission has had a continuing concern that the lake be cleaned up, according to Norris. "We need to find the problem, he said, once we identify that problem we will make an effort to clean the lake up and hopefully reopen the beach."

Management for Camp Dresser and McKee Inc. would not make any statements about its work, history or plans to conduct the study if the city should approve it. Norris said he really didn't know exactly what the company would have to do in order to find the cause of the high fecal count, but that he had heard of one situation in the past where a leaky septic tank was found to be causing a similar problem in the lake. "It's really unknown what they'll have to do to determine the cause of the pollution," Norris said.

According to Weaver, even the water source of the lake is unknown by city officials.

"There was a rumor at one point and time the lake was fed directly from an aquifer, he said, but that theory is up in the air." Weaver said there are several ideas about the lake's water source.

Since when is it a crime to turn 18?

Of course turning 18 isn't a crime at all. However, turning 18 without registering with Selective Service is.

That's why we need your help. We need parents to tell their sons to register with Selective Service within a month of turning 18. And we need teachers, friends, employers and others who can influence these young men to reinforce the message.

Why? Because, for one reason, it's the law. But in addition to risking prosecution by not registering, your son or young friend is disqualifying himself from eligibility for federal student loans, federal employment and job training programs.

America's future security depends upon today's young men registering with Selective Service on time. Having a complete registration list saves our country six vital weeks in mobilizing its manpower should Congress ever declare a national emergency.

Unless he is on full-time active duty in the armed forces, attending a service academy, confined in an institution, or a non-immigrant alien, the law requires every young man to register within 30 days of his 18th birthday by completing a simple form at any post office.

All of today's 18-year-olds and all of tomorrow's 18-year-olds must be informed about the registration requirement.

You can help. Ask a young man you know if he is registered.

Selective Service Registration. It's Quick. It's Easy. And it's the Law.

...Guard

Polk said the four were not responsible for the suicide, but had failed to watch over juveniles as required and had falsely logged that the required checks were made. In the investigation of the suicide the four guards' supervisors were not questioned about procedure, and other guards on other shifts were not questioned to determine if the checks system used by the fired guards were common practice by all guards in the jail, which is what at least two of the fired guards claim. Polk says the guards, as trained corrections officers, should have known what procedures to follow with respect to checking on juvenile inmates, and that he knows of no other guards on any other shifts violating that procedure.

Only two of the fired guards had been employed at the jail for more than one year, making the other two who were on probation — probation periods are for one year — not qualified to appeal their firings.

Blount's appeal is scheduled to be heard by the Civil Service Board later this month. The opportunity for the other long-term guard who was fired to appeal ends Saturday, 30 days from the date of firing. Sheriff's Department officials said as of today they have received no notification of an appeal by that officer, Matthew McGill, who was a guard for eight years.

The Civil Service Board is comprised of Seminole Sheriff's Chief Deputy Duane Harrell, sheriff's Sgt. Ken Starr, and Sanford City Atty. Bill Colbert. If they cannot agree on a unanimous decision, the chairman of the Seminole County Commission will make the final decision in the case, according to Harrell.

On Wednesday, almost one month after the four guards were fired, Polk sent a letter of reprimand to the sergeant who was supervising those four guards on the night Edwin Bateman, 17, of Forest City hanged himself in the high-security juvenile section of the jail.

In the letter of reprimand Polk criticized Sgt. Jimmy Ferguson for failure to supervise the guards in carrying out their duty and responsibility. Ferguson was also criticized for failing to ensure that the guards were doing their jobs as mandated by Polk and state law.

The guards were required under the law to make visual checks on the juvenile inmate every 15 minutes. Sheriff's investigators probing the suicide concluded that the four fired guards did not perform those checks as required on the night Bateman died. So they were fired for neglect of duty and for falsely logging in records that the 15-minute checks had been made.

Guard Dean High, another of the fired guards who had only worked at the jail three months, said he carried out his duty as he had been instructed by superiors and by other guards. He said his actions and those of the other fired guards were no different from all other guards who are assigned that duty in the Seminole County jail. They do not enter the cell blocks to make these checks, and the interiors of the cells cannot be seen from the guard stations outside the cell blocks from where the checks are made, he claims. That means, according to High, Bateman would not have been seen inside his cell by any guard making the checks, even if those checks were made every 15 minutes.

High said that in the Seminole County jail there is a policy that a lone guard does not enter a cell block. Jail officials say no such rule exists. High, however, maintains it does and said that no guards ever at any time while he worked at the Seminole County jail entered the cell blocks to visually look into each cell to make the checks. Polk says, however, such visual checks are required by law and by himself.

High said that sometimes a single guard was assigned to watch over the high-security inmates, making it impossible for that lone guard to leave his station and enter a cell block to look into the cells.

High said that he knew he was violating state law by not going into the cell block to make the checks, but he said he was following jail rules by not going into the cell block alone. He said that on his first night on duty at the Seminole County jail he was assigned by himself to guard a maximum security area with no assistance. He has one year of experience as an Orange County jail guard and has retired from 24 years as a U.S. Navy law enforcement officer.

High said he was in a double bind and he had questioned Ferguson and other superiors about the checking procedure and was told that "this is how we do it." High said he did his job as he had been told and that his questioning of procedure was shrugged off and he ended up being fired. "For doing my job the way I had been ordered to," he said the same is true for the three other guards, including Douglas Paula, who is also not qualified to appeal because he was a probationary officer.

Polk said that certified and trained guards should know that the checks are mandated by law and they should not break the law.

Sheriff's investigators said that this was an isolated incident, where four individuals at the same time decided to shirk their duty and falsify the log falsely showing the checks were made. They just happened to be caught because of the suicide, investigators said. Apparently if the suicide did not occur, no one knows for sure how long the improper checking of inmates would have continued.

Polk's procedure for entry by guards into a cell block, sheriff's department supervisors say, requires that one guard enter the area where the prisoners are locked into individual cells, while another guard stays outside to watch for trouble and to call for help if needed. They deny that one guard must be accompanied by another when going into a cell block. But at least two of the fired guards dispute this, saying that's what they had been told.

Dunkel Index? Take Lyman With 23 Points

The Dunkel Power Ratings have gauged high school football pretty accurately at times (75 percent on selected games last year), but there are other times when you have to wonder who does these ratings and how they are done.

Take this week, for example. If Lake Howell and Orlando Evans were to meet this week, Dunkel would have you believe that Lake Howell, with an 0-2 record, is a five-point favorite over Evans, which is 3-0 and ranked sixth in the state in Class 5A.

Despite the slow start, Dunkel still rates the Silver Hawks, at 65.2, the second-best team in Seminole, Orange and Volusia Counties. There is no doubt that Lake Howell has the potential to be a strong team, but there are teams that have been more successful this season that deserve as much attention.

Lyman High, for instance, is 2-0 so far and has averaged 27 points per game. This week, Lake Howell is a 23-point favorite over Lyman, according to the Dunkel Index. There are a lot of people who, in a bet, would gladly take Lyman and 23 points in that game.

Another team that Dunkel has not paid much attention to over the years is Lake Mary. The Rams are rarely among Dunkel's top 10 in Central Florida despite a 26-7 overall record and two district championships in the past three seasons.

"Dunkel has never given us a good rating," Lake Mary coach Harry Nelson said. "Last year Apopka was rated fourth in state and we beat them in the opening game and only gained about four points in Dunkel's ratings. At one time this year, Dr. Phillips was higher than us, that's crazy."

This year, Lake Mary is 2-1 with its only loss against powerhouse Winter Park. Still, the Rams have been underdogs in their last two games. After beating Seminole last week, Lake Mary is a one-point underdog Friday against a Port Orange Spruce Creek team that is 3-0 this year but really hasn't played anybody yet and has had maybe one winning season in the history of the school.

This week, the Dunkel Index, which rates mostly on margin of victory and strength of schedule; and the Fearless Fister Forecast, which takes the more casual approach and just wings it, will go head-to-head.

A couple of worthless ties (LSU-Ohio St., Tennessee-Auburn) kept the Fearless Fister Forecast from having a decent week last week. As it turned out, the Forecast ended up with a barely-above-water 5-4-2 record to run the season mark to 18-11-2.

Seminole at Dr. Phillips
Dunkel has Seminole at 53.4 and a nine-point favorite over first-year Dr. Phillips (44.1).

As I see it, Dr. Phillips should not be able to contain Jeff Blake and the Seminole passing game while Steve Warren, Earnie "Sackman" Lewis and the Tribe defense will play its best game to date in shutting down the Panthers and ruining the christening of the new Dr. Phillips Stadium... Seminole by 17

Spruce Creek at Lake Mary
According to the Dunkel Index, Spruce Creek (55.3) is a slight favorite over the Rams (55.0).

The Creek has always played tough against Lake Mary but the

Upshaw: Stars' Return Would Bust The Union

WASHINGTON (UPI) — NFL Players Association leader Gene Upshaw, faced with growing restlessness among striking players, says those who return to their teams for non-union games are "helping management bust the union."

Several stars crossed picket lines to practice with non-union teams Wednesday, including Dallas quarterback Danny White, Pittsburgh eight-time Pro Bowl center Mike Webster, Steelers' rushing leader Earnest Jackson and St. Louis two-time Pro Bowl wide receiver Roy Green.

The defections came one day after players missed their first paychecks during the strike, which today enters its 10th day. "What you have to look at is the guys that are out," Upshaw said Wednesday after meeting with Steelers players in Pittsburgh. "I don't think three or four guys in the National Football League constitute the will of the players. We have more guys out than they have in. I think that will be the case when we finally have an agreement."

Friday is the last day veterans can return to teams to play in this weekend's non-union games.

"We look at it from the standpoint that any player that goes in is actually helping management bust the union — and that's the fact," said Upshaw, the executive director of the NFLPA, which represents some 1,600 striking players. "Players have a way of dealing with those types of situations. (But) I'm not threatening anyone and I don't intend to threaten anyone."

The team owners' chief negotiator Jack Donlan, executive director of the NFL Management Council, told United Press International from New York that Sunday's games provide a financial incentive to players.

"All I can say is that every week that goes by puts more pressure on the players who aren't drawing a paycheck," he said.

Referring to the 57-day strike in 1982 during which the owners did not stage non-union games, Donlan said, "Last time when we shut down, the Management Council got a number of calls and the clubs were inundated with calls from players who wanted to play and had no opportunity to play. ... This time, we're leaving the gates open for the players."

Webster and Jackson reported to the Steelers' training camp in Johnstown, Pa. Webster met earlier with Upshaw, but said, "I'm not ready to turn over control of my career to Upshaw or Donlan."

White cited financial reasons for returning to his team as he became the third Cowboys player to defy the strike. In St. Louis, Green and defensive lineman Curtis Greer crossed the picket line, joining defensive back Leonard Smith as Cardinals who have defected from the strike.

At the New Orleans Saints' camp, four roster players crossed the picket line — Bruce Clark, Tony Elliott, Eric Martin and Reggie Sutton — as well as Michael Adams, who is on injured reserve.

Tony Dorsett, the fourth leading rusher in NFL history, reportedly will return to the Cowboys because of a possible annuity loss in his contract.

Meanwhile, the Ford Motor Company, a major advertiser on network NFL broadcasts, officially announced Wednesday that it will pull its commercials from this weekend's slate of non-union games. Chrysler reportedly also canceled its advertising for this weekend's games.

Ford spokesman Rod Sieb said the auto giant will look for alternative programming for advertising. Sieb added that Ford traditionally uses the NFL season as a kickoff for advertising its new models.

Across the country, thousands of fans stood in lines to return tickets for the non-union games. No talks are scheduled between the sides, who have not met since breaking off negotiations Friday after reaching an impasse over the key issue of free agency. The players walked off the job Sept. 22 after five months of bargaining failed to yield a three-year agreement. The non-union games mark the first time owners have fielded teams during any of the five previous strikes over two decades.

Webster is one of three Steelers remaining from the club's four Super Bowl championship teams.

Jackson signed a four-year, $1.472 million contract before the season, making him the second highest-paid Steeler behind quarterback Mark Malone.

White says he cannot afford to miss another weekly paycheck, reportedly $45,000. White's manufacturing business is said to be $250,000 in debt and he is being investigated for possible mail fraud by the U.S. Postal Service.

Check Juice! Florida Teams Are 3, 4, 18th

United Press International
Considering how the state's three major-college football teams are playing these days, the NCAA might want to analyze Florida orange juice.

Something's giving the sunshine boys a lift. The unbeaten Miami Hurricanes are ranked No. 3 in the nation, the unbeaten Florida State Seminoles No. 4, and the Florida Gators — whose lone loss was at Miami — are No. 18.

The three Florida schools are involved in the South's top two games Saturday — Miami and Florida State grabbing the national limelight with their head-to-head clash at Tallahassee, and Florida taking on No. 8 Louisiana State at Baton Rouge in the Southeastern Conference headliner.

Orlando's WCPX-6 will televise the FSU-Miami game at 2:30 p.m. while ESPN will carry the Florida-LSU contest at 7:30 p.m.

Miami Coach Jimmy Johnson insists his team's great start (31-4 over Florida and 51-7 over then 10th-ranked Arkansas) has surprised him more than Florida State outscoring its first four opponents by an average of 27.5 points per game, including last week's 31-3 victory at Michigan State.

"I said before the season began that Florida State has as much talent and experience as any team in the country," said Johnson. "Even (No. 1) Oklahoma doesn't have Florida State's depth. Nothing that has happened has changed my mind."

Miami and Florida State have met 30 times before, but Saturday will be the first time both go into the game undefeated and so highly ranked.

The Florida Gators have won three straight, including a 23-14 decision over No. 19 Alabama in Birmingham, since being manhandled at Miami and would (at 3-0) have a big lead in the SEC race with an upset (3 point) win at LSU.

Football

"We're proud of our players for working themselves into position to play in such a truly important game," said Florida Coach Glen Hall. "When something is on the line against an outstanding opponent like LSU, it is very exciting. LSU (3-0-1) after tying No. 9 Ohio State, has one of the finest offensive teams in the nation."

The game shapes up as a passing duel between Florida senior Kerwin Bell and LSU sophomore Tommy Hodson. Bell needs 1,063 yards over his final seven games to break the SEC career record (7,549) set by John Reeves of Florida in 1971. Hodson, the SEC passing leader as a freshman with 2,261 yards, leads again this year with 874 yards in four games.

Florida also has one of the nation's most exciting freshman running backs, Emmitt Smith, a 185-pounder who became a starter two games ago, has rushed for 523 yards and seven TDs, gaining 224 yards against Alabama and 173 last week against Mississippi State.

In other Southeast action Saturday, No. 6 Auburn is at North Carolina, California at No. 10 Tennessee, No. 15 Georgia at Ole Miss, Southwestern Louisiana at Alabama, Ohio University at Kentucky, Memphis State at Mississippi State, Vanderbilt at Tulane, Southern Mississippi at Louisville, and South Carolina at No. 2 Nebraska.

ASU To Ask For QB Clarification

TEMPE, Ariz. (UPI) — Arizona State Friday will ask Pacific 10 Conference Commissioner David Price to clarify quarterback Daniel Ford's eligibility status.

Ford, listed as a Sun Devil junior, signed a national letter of intent with Minnesota and played four games for the Golden Gophers in 1984. After leaving Minnesota without earning academic credits, Ford transferred to Arizona State and sat out the 1985 season.

Though NCAA rules state players have five years to play four seasons, the national letter of intent stipulates that a player loses a year of eligibility when changing schools.

Therefore, Ford's four seasons would translate into one year at Minnesota, a penalty year for transferring and two years at Arizona State.

Football

"We're hoping for a favorable interpretation, but the way it looks right now, this may be Ford's last year," said Sun Devil Coach John Cooper.

Ford served as Jeff Van Raaphorst's backup last season, before earning the starting job this season.

Bill Bryant, assistant athletic director for student services at Arizona State, said Ford's status could be uncertain for some time.

Don't Pass On Commission's Free Hunter Education Class

Sportsmen who plan to hunt on federal land or on other property this year might be wise to sign up for the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission's free hunter education course.

In fact, the owners of some of Florida's top hunting spots require that some hunters pass the course (or an equivalent course) before hunting on their property.

Elgin Air Force Base and federal wildlife refuges such as St. Marks, St. Vincent and Merritt Island all have this requirement.

This course is not just for youngsters or beginners. If you are new to the state and are unfamiliar with Florida's wildlife or hunting rules, this course would prepare you to enjoy a safe and successful hunting season here.

Currently 39 states require hunter safety training for some or all hunters. Florida's basic hunter education course satisfies the requirements of all states and Canadian provinces that require hunter training.

The course consists of 12 hours of instruction in first aid, wilderness survival, wildlife identification, ethics, conservation laws and marksmanship. In addition, students gain experience in firing rifles, shotguns and bows.

The commission does not charge a fee for participating in the course. Hunter education courses throughout the country are financed through federal taxes on hunting equipment under the Pittman-Robertson Act of 1937. When President Franklin D. Roosevelt signed the act into law, it set up the tax base for preservation of hunting opportunities.

Florida's hunter education course is taught by over 2,300 volunteer sportsmen interested in promoting safe and responsible hunting. To find out more about the course, interested persons can contact the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

course offered by the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission would be an excellent opportunity for a father to share hunting with his children. Future hunters would gain new insights into the responsibilities and pleasures of hunting in the Florida outdoors.

WEEKEND CAST — Rich Ravilla at Highland Park Fish Camp reports that some larger bass to 8 pounds are being caught on wild shiners fishing near floating cover. Bass are still being pulled from the lily pads in Lake Woodruff on plastic worms.

Dell Abernathy of Osborn Bridge Fish Camp said that fishing is excellent for this time of year. Some high stringers of speckled perch have been caught. One pair of anglers caught 10 last weekend. The specks are being caught in the old river channel and around the new bridge. A lot of bass are being caught on Crankbaits and plastic worms. Bream and catfish continue to bite well day in and day out.

Shrimper bait still has more anglers than snook. Be prepared to fight the crowds as well as the snook if you plan to fish on the weekend. Most of the snook are averaging from 8-15 pounds. Jigs and Mavericks are accounting for most of the line-siders. Trout and redfish are also being caught on a regular basis along with the snook. Just about everyone who casts long enough will take home something to eat. (Remember that redfish season opened today, but you can keep only one a day between 18 and 27 inches.)

Captain Jack reports that offshore fishing was slow at Ft. Canaveral last weekend due to high seas. There are thousands of finger mullet inside the Port, and many species of fish such as mangrove snapper, jack crevalle, bluefish, trout, snook and redfish have moved inside to feed on these bite-sized morsels. Trout and redfish are improving in the Banana and Indian rivers. Fish the spoil mounds and the edges of flats for the best results.

If you want to do some laid-back fishing, try the New Smyrna jetties. You won't even need a boat to catch redfish, flounder, whiting and drum. You can't go wrong with live or dead shrimp fished on the bottom. If you're only interested in reds or flounder, try finger mullet.

Jays, Tigers Slide Toward Confrontation

United Press International After a scintillating weekend series, the Toronto Blue Jays and Detroit Tigers are sliding their way to a season-ending confrontation for the American League East title.

The Blue Jays dropped their fourth straight game Wednesday night with a 5-2 loss to the Milwaukee Brewers. The Tigers, trailing first-place Toronto by 1 1/2 games, dropped a 7-3 decision to Baltimore for their fifth loss in seven games.

Last weekend the Blue Jays rallied to win three of four games from Detroit. Each game was decided by one run, with Toronto winning two in the bottom of the ninth. Detroit won the series finale in 13 innings.

Detroit can gain an idle Toronto when it completes its series with Baltimore tonight. The division leaders finish the season with a three-game series in Detroit.

At Toronto, Juan Nieves pitched a five-hitter and Dale Sveum drilled a two-run homer to lead the Brewers.

"We're battling out there," said Blue Jays reliever Mark Eichhorn. "Maybe we just need to relax."

The four-game losing streak in Toronto's longest since an eight-game skid in late June and early July. The three-game sweep dropped the Blue Jays' season record against Milwaukee to 4-9.

"They swung at some bad pitches," said Nieves. "They shouldn't have to be pressing like that because they've got such a good winning team."

Nieves, 14-8, struck out 10 and walked three. Dave Stieb, 13-9, lost his fourth straight.

Sveum's two-run homer in the sixth stretched the Brewers' lead to 5-2. Pinch hitter Rob Deer set an American League record when he struck out for the 1864th time this season.

Bobby Bonds of the 1970 Giants holds the major-league record of 189 strikeouts in a season.

Wishful Thinking: All That's Left For Expos, Mets

United Press International Wishful thinking is all that remains for the Expos and the Mets in the National League East.

Both clubs stayed in the pennant race Wednesday, but just barely. Montreal defeated St. Louis 6-1 at Busch Stadium to prevent the Cardinals from clinching the NL East, while the Mets lost to Philadelphia 4-3 in 10 innings.

New York's loss assured the Cardinals of at least a tie for the division title. St. Louis needs one victory to clinch its second title in three years.

If St. Louis loses tonight to the Expos, the Mets must sweep their three-game weekend series at Busch Stadium to force a tie for first place. Montreal, which is four games behind St. Louis, closes the season at home with three games against Chicago.

"We're in a pretty unusual position, huh. We've got to root for the Mets to win three in St. Louis to get a three-way tie," Montreal Manager Buck Rodgers said.

"We're going to play tomorrow night's game like it's the last game of the season. (Jay) Tibbs will start but we might use everyone."

Pascual Perez and Hubie Brooks kept the NL East race alive. Perez, 7-0, held St. Louis to four hits over seven innings and Brooks had a three-run triple in the ninth and a key double in a two-run sixth.

Perez, 7-0, became the first Expos pitcher in history to win seven games in a month. Brooks, who had three hits, admitted it was tough getting up after a double-header loss in which Montreal was shut out twice.

"We were tired, both physically and emotionally. It was tough, but we did it," said Brooks. "If it takes rooting for the Mets over the weekend and if we can beat St. Louis tomorrow, fine. I'll live with it."

Santiago Lives Up To Billing, Slaps 32nd Consecutive Hit

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Benito Santiago of the Padres, who entered the season touted as one of the National League's best rookies, is living up to that billing after a first half that was sewn with growing pains.

Before Santiago started his rookie record hitting streak last month, the San Diego catcher struggled both in the batter's box and behind the plate.

A strong, free-awinger who is fond of the first pitch, Santiago hacked away at enough bad balls in the first half of the season that opponents were starting him off with pitches a foot outside and in the dirt.

"At the beginning I tried to go too hard, but after a couple of months I started to relax," said Santiago, 22, of Ponce, Puerto Rico.

In late August he began the hitting streak that should carry him to Rookie of the Year honors. Santiago stretched his hitting streak to 32 games Wednesday night, when he doubled to right-center field in the fourth inning. The streak is the longest ever for a catcher and the second longest in the majors this season to Paul Molitor's 39-game run.

Santiago broke the major-league rookie record when he hit in his 27th consecutive game. Pittsburgh's James Williams hit in 26 straight in 1899, a year after Spanish-American War.

"I'm enjoying this because it's my rookie year and I will be able to look back on it," said Santiago. "1899 — I think about that. That's almost 90 years."

IN BRIEF

Lendl: Falling Seeds Neither Warning Nor Easy Path To Title

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Ivan Lendl says the elimination of six of the top eight seeds in the $293,000 Transamerica Tennis tournament offers him neither a warning nor an easy path to the title.

No. 1 seed Lendl and seventh seed Kevin Curren are the only remaining players among the original eight seeds and they appear headed for a quarterfinal showdown. The bottom half of the quarterfinals will produce a finalist from non-seeds Elliot Teltacher, Todd Nelson, Sammy Giammaiva and Jim Pugh.

"The difference between seeded and unseeded players is very marginal," said Lendl, who was near flawless Wednesday night in dispatching Mel Purcell, 6-2, 6-3, in a first round match that took less than an hour.

Pugh, who earlier upset second-seeded Tim Mayotte in a 3-hour marathon, dispatched Woody Hunt, 6-2, 6-2 Wednesday in second-round action. Nelson, who only qualified in the 32-man field when Paul Anacone pulled out with a bad back, downed Matt Ponder, 6-1, 1-6, 6-3. Giammaiva dispatched eighth-ranked Jay Berger, 7-6 (8-6), 6-3, and Teltacher defeated Peru's Jaime Yzaga, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3.

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Top seed Chris Evert thrashed Anne Minter of Australia, 6-0, 6-1 Wednesday night to move into the second round of the Virginia Slims of New Orleans.

Also Wednesday, Anne Smith of Dallas defeated Mary Platak of Munster, Ind., 6-3, 7-5; No. 5 seed Kate Gompert rallied past Susan Mascarin, 4-6, 6-2, 6-4; and No. 6 Wendy Turnbull, 34, of Deer Creek, Fla., the oldest player in the field, defeated 24-year-old Kathrin Keil of Los Angeles, 7-5, 6-2 in a second-round match.

Optimists Honor Hooks, Warren

Wilton Hooks (offense) and Steve Warren (defense) were honored as the Sanford Optimist Club Seminole High Football Players of the Week Wednesday at Sanford's Western Sizzlin Steak House.

Hooks, an offensive guard, graded out at 86 percent during the 23-16 overtime loss to Lake Mary last Friday. Warren, a linebacker, had five tackles, four assists and a sack.

Seminole returns to the gridiron Friday at 8 p.m. against Dr. Phillips in Orlando.

Seminole Athletic Director Jerry Posey said fans should travel Interstate 4 west through Orlando to the 33rd Street exit. Once on 33rd, take a left on Vineland Road and follow it past the Cypress Creek Golf Course. Then, go left on Turkey Lake Road and high school is on right-hand side.

Guerrero: Race In A Year?

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — Indy-car driver Roberto Guerrero, critically injured in a practice crash three weeks ago, should be released from a hospital within a week and is expected to be able to race again in about a year, doctors said Wednesday.

"I feel safe in saying Roberto will have a complete neurological recovery and he will be able to race again," said Dr. Steve Olivey, assistant director of critical care at Methodist Hospital and medical director of the CART circuit.

Olivey said Guerrero could return to Indy-car competition "by the end of next season," adding, "It could be earlier than that, but it's not likely."

Disney To Tout Sunday Movie

LAKE BUENA VISTA (UPI) — The Walt Disney Co., trying to turn the NFL players' strike to commercial advantage, will run television ads touting the Disney Sunday Movie as a viewing alternative to football.

The ads, which began Wednesday night on ABC, feature New York Giants quarterback Phil Simms, who appeared in ads for Walt Disney World after leading the Giants past the Denver Broncos in the Super Bowl last January.

Stocks Open Higher

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prices opened narrowly higher today in active trading of New York Stock Exchange issues.

The Dow Jones industrial average, which rose 5.71 Wednesday, was up 4.40 to 2800.68 shortly after the market opened.

Advances led declines 888-474 among the 1,498 issues crossing the New York Stock Exchange tape.

Early turnover amounted to about 23,208,000 shares.

Stocks finished higher Wednesday as investors closed the quarter with a late buying spree.

Equities, influenced by investors' interest-rate concerns and by sporadic futures-linked trading, were mixed or narrowly lower for most of the session, rising only in the last minutes of trading when an unspectacular blue-chip rally led the broad market into the plus column.

"When the bond market firmed up, stocks came off the bottom," said Jack Baker, head of the equity block trading desk at Shearson Lehman Brothers.

"The market will be extremely volatile in the fourth quarter," Baker said. "I'm one of those who believe that the Dow will retest a low of 2,470 before it marches higher."

Dollar Goes Higher; Gold Falls Sharply

By United Press International

The dollar opened higher in moderate trading on major world money markets today. Gold fell sharply.

Traders in New York said the dollar was supported by comments made Wednesday by Treasury Secretary James Baker which the foreign currency market interpreted as bullish for the dollar.

Baker said in an address to the International Monetary Fund that the U.S. trade deficit was declining in volume terms and that Japan was implementing steps to stimulate demand in its economy.

In addition, Baker proposed that major currencies be pegged to a basket of commodities in an effort to stabilize exchange rates.

Traders said they interpreted those remarks to mean that the major industrial nations want to keep current ranges intact.

In earlier trading in the Far East, the dollar continued to rise against the Japanese yen on reports of heightening tensions in the Persian Gulf.

The dollar closed in Japan at 146.77 yen, up 0.43 from Wednesday's close of 146.35 yen in heavy trading.

In European trading, the dollar began the day in Frankfurt at 1.845 German marks, up from Wednesday's close of 1.8383.

The dollar opened in Zurich at 1.5355 Swiss francs, up from 1.53, and in Brussels at 38.46 Belgian francs, up from 38.34 on Wednesday.

The dollar gained in Milan, opening the day at 1,331.50 lire, up from 1,326, in Amsterdam at 2,073 Dutch guilders, up from 2,069, and in Paris at 6,1435 French francs, up from 6,118.

In London the pound opened weaker at $1.623, down slightly from Wednesday's close of $1.627.

In early New York trading, the dollar was slightly higher against key foreign currencies in light trading.

New Construction Leaps

WASHINGTON (UPI) — New residential building helped push construction spending up 1.6 percent in August, the Commerce Department said today.

The increase last month was the largest since new construction spending jumped 2 percent in April. Construction spending dipped a revised 0.1 percent in July and 0.7 percent in June, according to the department's Census Bureau.

Construction last month was estimated at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $399.6

billion compared with the revised July estimate of $393.4 billion. During the first eight months of 1987, construction was $255.7 billion, 2 percent above the $251 billion for the same period of 1986.

Spending on new single-family residences was at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $114.4 billion in August, 6 percent higher than in August 1986. Non-residential building construction was at a rate of $98.5 billion, 6 percent below August 1986.

42,988 students in the system at the end of the last school year. Of that number 36,134 students were white, 5,844 were black, 1,426 were Hispanic and 744 students were Asian-American.

Williams said he concluded that more blacks were suspended/expelled than whites on a percentage basis during the last school year. Williams made the conclusion after a study of the combined discipline records of all county schools. He added that the trend of punishing black students with greater frequency and severity than white ones does not apply to every school in the district.

A total of 4,082 suspensions were recorded by district schools last year at both the elementary and secondary school levels. 2,563 of the suspended students were white and 1,398 were black.

According to records there were 54 expulsions handed out in Seminole schools during the 1986-77 school year. Of the students expelled 37 were white and 18 were black.

Williams said during the August meeting he was very interested in having input from parents and other members of the community about the gap in discipline between white and black students. He said then that he believed the task force should study the situation during the 1987-88 school year and make a recommendation on how to improve it to Seminole Schools Superintendent Robert W. Hughes.

"The board is committed to decreasing the number of students expelled, Evans said. It would be better for those students to be in the classrooms rather than on the streets."

Williams said he was pleased with the idea of the task force. "If we approach this [studying the difference in white/black discipline rates] in this manner, Williams said, by the end of the year we can say we're doing something positive about excess expulsions and suspensions.

In other action during the meeting the board approved Lake Brantley's pilot program to fight the use of drugs and alcohol by its students.

The "Positive Plan for Action" program, presented to the board by LBRHS principal Darvin Boothe, will give a student caught with drugs or alcohol on school grounds the option of being suspended or voluntarily being screened for a chemical abuse or dependency problem.

Under the program guidelines the student must sign a contract to be screened by a licensed drug or alcohol program and enter into treatment if its deemed appropriate for the individual. According to Boothe, even if the student successfully completes the program they are still punished by a 5-10 day suspension. He said the program also incorporates education about the effects of drug and alcohol use into its curriculum.

Of the 15 students that went into residential treatment because of the program during the 1986-87 school year, Boothe said all of them are now back in school. "Some of them are still a little shabby though," he said.

Board member Pat Telson said she wholeheartedly supported the program, but wanted to know what other county high schools are doing about the problems of drugs and alcohol with their students. Lake Mary High School is now in its second year of a program that asks its students to sign contracts saying they won't use either of those substances. "What happens to the other four high schools, Telson said, they must have the same problem."

Hughes explained that all the schools are working with different ways of combating the problem. "The other schools are just not doing it on as high a profile as LBRHS and LBRHS.

Harriet said police officer also will be more cautious with everyone because of the possibility the person may be carry a weapon.

"Our society is not geared for the public to be armed. Time will tell," he said.

The new law was supported by all of the members of Seminole County's legislative delegation, according to legislative records.

Convenient stores, frequent site of robberies, probably will ask customers packing guns to leave.

A convenient store clerk in Sanford said today that the company has not sent out any policy regarding weapons but he did expect it to ban guns from their stores and require clerks to ask the people to leave.

"Keep your gun at home today, okay," the clerk said when the caller asked if he could wear a gun in the store.

The manager of a supermarket said if a customer enters the store wearing a gun they would call the police to remove the man.

To qualify to carry a concealed weapon, the state requires that you have no felony conviction or mental or physical illness that could prevent you from handling the gun properly. You also would have to complete a non-shooting weapon's safety class and pay a $148 fee.

Harriet also said he thinks the legislature should readdress the law and make some changes.

He said the training required for a person to get a permit to carry a gun is "grossly inadequate." He also said a person should demonstrate some legitimate need to carry a weapon and that a permit also should be required to carry a gun openly.

"We don't want any innocent people hurt or killed because of the new law; that includes law enforcement as well as the general public," Harriet said.

The law was passed to make gun control laws uniform throughout the state. The change, however, wiped out tougher gun control laws in some counties including Seminole.

In the decade prior to the passage of the law, only one person in Seminole County other than law enforcement personnel had permission from the county board of commissioners to carry a concealed gun.

Kinley said the fire-rescue workers also called Air Care, the Orlando Regional Medical Center helicopter, because that hospital is a designated trauma center with specialists on call to handle cases such as Aikens's. As the physician in charge, Newman decided not to risk the 30-minute helicopter ride to ORMC when it would be faster to take Aikens to CFRH, which was only 15 minutes away.

So Newman cancelled the helicopter and Aikens was taken to CFRH to be treated by Prieu. However, since Prieu was no longer taking emergency cases, another hospital had to be found. (Legally, Prieu said, he could have taken the case in spite of giving up his emergency care privileges, but he was not required to.)

Hospital medical personnel then began a five-hour search for a hospital and a doctor for the wounded teenager. It was not simply a matter of returning to ORMC. That hospital would no longer agree to take the patient.

"If one doctor refuses (as Prieu did), all his refuse," Newman said at the time. "If it's high liability risk for that doctor, it's risky for them all."

Aikens died a short time after his arrival at University Hospital, Jacksonville, in the early morning of Aug. 12.

The problem was lack of communication, Newman said if he had known CFRH had no neurosurgeon to treat the 17-year-old gunshot victim, he would not have allowed the boy to be transferred there. Instead, he would have allowed the Air Care helicopter to take him to ORMC.

The new system [of notifying EMS in writing when a hospital changes its services] should prevent this kind of tragedy from ever happening again, Kirk said.

CFRH administrator Jim Tesar was instrumental in bringing about the meeting between hospital officials and emergency personnel—to devise the specific notification plan that will keep EMS paramedics updated on hospital services available.

County, School Board May Fight Over Land

A legal battle may be brewing in Seminole County because the county commission said it will use condemnation procedures if it must in order to acquire 13.6 acres of land owned by the school board. The county wants to use the land for an extension to Lake Mary Boulevard.

The school board said Wednesday during its regular meeting that it purchased the land at U.S. Highway 17-92 and County Road 427 as a school site in 1968. It said it would not give up the property unless it received either another acceptable site in south Seminole County or the money to purchase one. The board bought the land for $30,000.

Iran Ships Attack Tanker; Iraq Hits 'Naval Target'

MANAMA, Bahrain (UPI) —

Suspected Iranian Revolutionary Guards attacked a Pakistani tanker today in the southern Persian Gulf, hours after Iraq claimed its jets hit a large naval target off the Iranian coast, shipping sources said.

The attackers, using two gunboats, raked the Pakistani-flagged Johar with heavy machine-gun fire at 8 a.m. (1 a.m. EDT) soon after it passed through the Strait of Hormuz, the sources said.

Lloyd's of London confirmed the attack on the 49,635-ton tanker, which was en route from Karachi to the main Saudi Arabian oil terminal at Ras Tanurah in the central gulf when the gunboats struck.

The attack came as newspapers in the region reported that the U.S. Navy had found a second suspected mine field in gulf shipping lanes and that Kuwaiti officials had expressed concern over delays in the escort operation of their re-flagged tankers.

It also followed rocket and machine-gun attacks on two Japanese-operated tankers Wednesday by suspected Iranian Revolutionary Guards in five speedboats in the Strait of Hormuz. Ministry of Transport officials in Tokyo said one of the two tankers, the Western City, was hit by at least three rockets.

No casualties were reported in any of the attacks, which gulf shipping sources blamed on the Revolutionary Guards. The attacks coincided with new threats from Iran to resume the so-called "war of the cities" with Iraq.

The English-language Gulf Daily News reported from Bahrain that a suspected mine field was discovered near the northern gulf's Farsi Channel, which is an route to Kuwait's main Al Ahmadi oil terminal.

Shipping executives confirmed that the U.S. Navy had detected possible mines in the area and had issued a warning to shipping to steer clear. British mine sweepers went into action in the southern gulf Monday sweeping another suspected mine field detected by the U.S. Navy during the weekend.

Some U.S. Navy officers have acknowledged privately that they have become "swamped" by Iran's mine-laying capacity in the gulf.

USA, Canada Still Have Highest Fire Death Rates In Free World

DEAR READERS: Next week is Fire Prevention Week, and despite declines, the United States and Canada still have the highest fire death rates of all the developed countries of the free world.

The most recent figures for 1988: in the United States, 5,850 civilians and 113 firefighters died in fires, and approximately 26,525 civilians and 100,900 firefighters were seriously injured. The total loss in property alone came to $6.7 billion. Each season has its own special fire hazards. Here are some tips for all seasons:

FALL: If you enjoy camping, select a tent made of flame-resistant fabric. Pack a reliable flashlight with plenty of extra batteries to light the inside of your tent — never use matches or candles. When building a campfire, place it downwind of your tent. And never try to hasten the burning by using gasoline or other flammable liquid starters.

If you use your fireplace, have your chimney professionally cleaned in the fall to make sure it's in good condition for the coming season.

WINTER: More fires occur during the winter than in any other season. The reasons: home heating and the holiday season.

If you use a portable heater, be sure it is placed away from combustibles — draperies, furniture, paper, etc. Remember, the surface heat of some portable heaters may reach 500 degrees, so keep a careful watch on your children and warn them to keep away from heaters. Hospitals are treating an increasing number of patients with burns resulting from contact with the outside surface of some portable heaters.

For a merry Christmas, choose a Christmas tree that does not have shedding needles, and keep it standing in water while it is in the house. If you choose an artificial tree, choose one that is flame-resistant.

After holiday parties, before retiring, check your ashtrays for smoldering cigarette butts, and carefully examine all upholstered chairs and sofas to make sure that no "live" cigarette butts have fallen between the cushions. Remember, most house fires occur between 8 p.m. and 8 a.m., when people are sleeping.

SPRING: Take spring cleaning seriously — clean out your attic, basement, garage and workshop. Throw out trash, especially combustibles such as rags, newspapers, magazines, boxes and scraps of wood. Never smoke while fueling gas-powered lawn mowers or chain saws. If you must store gasoline, store it in a ventilated area in a can designed especially for that purpose. And store oily rags and paint in a cool place in tightly sealed metal containers.

SUMMER: When cooking out, never use flammable liquids near live coals. An explosion or flash fire could result. When you're finished cooking, soak the coals with water and make absolutely sure they're out when you leave. Smoldering coals that appear to be "dead" can reignite as much as a day later. If you use a propane gas grill, always have the lighted match in position before turning on the gas.

"Play It Safe ... Plan Your Escape!" is this year's theme. Some tips for all seasons:

- Never smoke in bed.
- Never leave invalids or small children alone in the house, not even for "a few minutes."
- Never use flammable liquids for dry cleaning indoors.
- Have periodic fire drills in your home to be sure everyone knows what to do in case of fire.
- Keep easy-to-use fire extinguishers in your kitchen, cottage, back bedrooms and on your boat. Invest in smoke detectors, and be sure that they are kept dust-free and in working order.

— The telephone number of your fire department should be taped to every telephone in your house. If it isn't, should a fire occur, don't waste time trying to find it; get out, and call from a neighbor's house. And once you are out, stay out. No treasure is worth risking your life for.

ABBY

DEAR ABBY: Here's my problem: I have been living with "Fred" for 12 years without benefit of clergy. Until recently, he has resisted the idea of marriage, and I haven't pushed it.

Fred is Canadian, and a year ago when I took a job in Worcester, Mass., I sponsored him for a "green card" so he could work in the USA. (I'm a U.S. Citizen.) In the process of getting a green card, the courts affirmed our "marriage" on the basis of long cohabitation.

Now, Fred wants to get married, but honestly, Abby, I feel the time is past. I think it would be embarrassing to have a wedding now. On the other hand, I don't want to discourage him from his newfound urge to make a real commitment.

What do you advise?
WONDERING IN WORCESTER

DEAR WONDERING: Go for the ring on your finger. It's not necessary to have an extravaganza with a lot of hoopla — a quiet but meaningful marriage ceremony with a few close friends and family members will officially reaffirm your commitment. You'll be glad you did. I wish you joy.

Check Doctor's Titles, Some Are Confusing

Dr. Gott

DEAR DR. GOTT - When I try to find a doctor in the telephone directory, there are so many different ways the names are listed. I am totally confused. Some simply list their names, followed by "M.D." Some state they are certified, some are diplomates, some are fellows and some are "members of..." These designations must be important or the doctors wouldn't pay to have them there - but what do they mean? And why are some doctors incorporated?

44101-3389. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR READER - When doctors complete their training, they usually choose to be tested and certified in certain specialties. This is called "board certification" and is usually a good sign that the doctor is competent in his or her field. Not all good doctors are certified, but those who are have met a certain level of competence.

A doctor may also choose to become more active in the certification process. By meeting certain criteria, which vary from one specialty to another, he or she can become a "fellow" or a "diplomate" in the specialty. For instance, FACS means that the surgeon has not only passed his board exam but is a "Fellow of the American College of Surgeons."

To a large degree, these titles are honorary and simply mean that the doctor has advanced in his specialty. Such titles do not necessarily mean that your doctor is "better"; they indicate that the practitioner has mastered certain skills for which he or she has achieved recognition.

Doctors incorporate for financial reasons. The initials P.C. (professional corporation) after a doctor's name are no reflection of his or her ability or competence.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

Although three diamonds doubled would have gone down one, South was rightfully wary. Having overcalled on garbage, he wasn't risking the chance that North might be counting on him for a defensive trick, so he bid three hearts. Despite the warning that South didn't have much, North still carried on to game.

Declarer took the club ace, pitched a club on the diamond ace and played ace and a spade. East went in with the king, played king of clubs and then 10 of clubs. South ruffed with the heart 10 as West discarded the queen of spades. It was time for South to picture the distribution. East had started with six clubs. The spade queen discard by West surely meant that East originally held K-9-7-6 of spades. That would leave him with three red cards. If he held A-x of hearts and the single eight of diamonds, then West would have held a seven-card diamond suit headed by the K-Q and surely would have bid diamonds immediately over the one-heart overcall. All this enabled declarer to determine that East had the singleton heart ace. Leading a low spade would be a disaster since West would ruff in with the seven to force dummy's king.

Then East would win the ace on the subsequent heart lead and give West a spade ruff. But there was a counter to this. South played a low heart out of his hand and played low from dummy. East took the ace but was helpless to set the contract.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

By Bernice Bode Oool
OCTOBER 2, 1987

Advancement in your chosen field of endeavor is likely in the year ahead. Where your talents went unnoticed, they will now come to the attention of the proper authorities.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Assume the role of chancellor of the exchequer today and manage the family budget. Your mate's inclinations may not be as prudent as yours. Get a jump on life by understanding the influences which are governing you in the year ahead. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions today. Mail $1 to Astro-Graph, c/o of this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Try not to be locked in too rigidly to your own views today. Your companions might have some thoughts from which you could learn.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Instead of attempting to build up your resources today, you may do just the opposite. You'll be better off trying to add rather than subtract.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) It's OK to look out for No. 1 today, but don't do so at the expense of others, especially members of your own family. Be considerate.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Guard against tendencies today to boast about something that you have yet to accomplish. You'll be embarrassed later if you don't pull it off.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Recreational activities that carry an expensive price tag should be avoided today. There are other things you can do that won't abuse your purse.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) In earning arrangements today you'll receive the compensations to which you're entitled. However, don't look for extras, such as praise or pats on the back.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Your progress will be impeded today if you dwell too much on what you're going to do and how you're going to do it. Spend less time planning and more time producing.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Don't ruin something good that you have going for yourself by discussing it with too many people who are not involved.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) There's a chance you might be caught in the middle of a sticky development today. Don't try to satisfy all and end up pleasing no one.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) This can be a successful day for you if you don't get off on tangents. Select your most meaningful target and go after it.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) In situations today where you feel compelled to take a risk, it will prove wiser to let your more cautious evaluations prevail over your impulses.
