BUDGET OF OPINION "JUST BETWEEN YOU AND ME."

EVEN THE GATE POST NOT IN IT

A CHIEF IS AMONG YE TAKING NOTES AND FAITH. "HE'LL PRENT 'EM"—SO SAYS SAUNTERER.

When to Forget
If you see a tall fellow ahead of a crowd,
A leader of men marching fearlessly
And you know a tale whose mere telling aloud
Would mean that his head in anguish
must be bowed
It's a pretty good plan to forget it.

"If you know of a skeleton hidden away
In a closet and guarded and kept
from the day,
In the dark, and whose showing,
whose sudden display,
Would cause grief and sorrow and
lifelong dismay,
It's a pretty good plan to forget it.

"If you know of a thing that will darken the joy
Of a man or a woman, a girl or a boy,
That will wipe out a smile, or at least way annoy
A fellow, or cause any gladness to flee,
It's a pretty good plan to forget it.
—Exchange.

Henry J. Allen of the Wichita Beacon describes the ruin of Kansas by the prohibition of liquor and he describes it in his own inimitable way as follows:

The Distillers' association is sending out a new argument against prohibition. It says that prohibition
"ruined the grape industry in Kansas." It claims that in the eighties this industry was over $200,000 per year, and it is estimated at less than $25,000 now.

The grape industry wasn't the only industry ruined by prohibition.
There was the mint industry.
Prohibition killed the mint julep
hence there was no more demand for mint except in a few homes where they made mint sauce for spring
lamb dressing.

Then there was the blow to the eggs for eggnog, since the eggnog departed. When prohibition came the hens had been doing their best
in their free way to keep the egg industry alive, and you could get eggs for 8 cents a dozen. Since prohibition hit the egg industry you have to pay 2 cents a piece for eggs.
Prohibition took the life out of the hens. They do not seem to have anything to cackle about since the saloon left us.

A man over in the eastern part of the state used to make roulette wheels. He was a fine cabinet maker and the wheels he turned out for roulette and other games of chance were mounted with ivory and mother of pearl. Prohibition killed that industry also.

In fact prohibition has killed about every industry in Kansas excepting the raising of wheat and corn and alfalfa and fruit and live stock; potatoes and peas and cabbages and
"garden eggs," chickens and ducks
and geese and horses and mules.

It busted up many of our most prominent gamblers; paralyzed the beer gardens and absolutely killed
the bartenders' union.

Prohibition has left very little of Kansas except the growing crops in the fields, the stock in her stock
pens, the dreary round of work,
work in her factories and stores and other industries. It has left us little to do in hours of leisure except just to fall in love, to get married, send our children to school,
go abroad occasionally, join the church when we feel like it, run into each other with expensive automobiles and store our money away in dusty bank vaults, instead of giving
it to cheerful gentlemen with white aprons who used to stand in front
of cut glass bars and say frequently,
"this one is on the house."

Where once the thriving business of the saloon sent the clamorous odor of its prosperity out upon the sidewalks and clear across the street,
we find nothing but shoe stores,
clothing stores, dry goods stores,
meat markets, grocery stores and other sordid activities of an unhappy people.

Where once you saw fog lines of men on Saturday night going joyfully into rooms where the doors always swung in, never out, where there was sawdust on the floor and a merry crowd standing around the mahogany bar; where they were travelling all around and a man could get his salary check cashed and spend it right there on his boon companions, and then go enthusiastically home and break up the furniture and give his wife a black eye
instead of all these manifestations of a care free people which characterized the saloon day, we now have nothing but gloom. We see men going quietly into the butcher shop

or grocery store or department store
to get their weekly salary checks cashed and then go moodily home
with shoes for the children and beef-steak for supper and the fixings for a heavy Sunday dinner the next day,
and you know instinctively there will be no hilarity in that home
that night and nothing to cheer
the lives of these people except such sober activities as mother may introduce into the family circle.

There is nothing in that family
to look forward to except a comfortable Sunday dinner and maybe church in the morning and Sunday school, possibly a decorous ride
around town in the family automobile in the afternoon.

Then Monday they begin the same round all over again and spend the next week doing nothing but working and playing and riding and eating and sleeping and buying new clothes and taking music lessons,
and going to parties and theaters and overfeeding each other at dinners,
and during the livelong week later
never comes home and breaks
the door with a war-whoop and goes to smashing up the furniture, and carressing mother with his doubled-up fist and kicking little Tommy just to see what little Tommy would do, and doing other things to show
the pride of strong manhood that used to be in him in the days before prohibition came and killed
everything in Kansas.

And yet there are some who are asking, other states to ruin themselves in this absurd, dreary way.

¶ Heard a fellow spouting in a loud tone of voice on the corner the other day and stopped to listen and found out that he was knocking the brick roads to a finish. Said they were not being laid right and the material was not right and nothing was right and that he knew what he was talking about all right. I asked him where he lived and how much property he owned and discovered that he was comparatively a stranger
here and owned not a cent's worth of property. Now what was the use of arguing the question with him about any part or parcel of Seminole county. I did not.

¶ I am glad to see a start made on the Y. M. C. A. building and to see it agitated in The Herald of last week. Since that time I have heard several gentlemen speaking about it and they too see they have been lax in their duty toward the boys of Sanford. We seem to be more concerned about making money than making souls and some day it will be brought home to us. There is no city in the south where a Y. M.
C. A. building would pay greater returns than in Sanford, made up as it is from a cosmopolitan population and filled with the railroad boys who have spare time on their hands and no place to pass away the time. I tell you we are certainly losing the best opportunity of our lives in not taking up this matter at once and the men here who have plenty of money should take a look at the idea of a Y. M. C. A. building now.
It will come home to them later on
and in a way that they least expect.
It is the duty of every one of us, be he parent or not.

¶ Being over in the store of W. W.
Abernathy lately he showed me the new Hoodier Kitchen Cabinets and if I was a housewife I would certainly take hubby by the hand and gently lead him to it, for if there was ever one thing constructed for the benefit of the lady of the kitchen this Hoodier thing is the best.
It is well constructed right from the ground up and the man who made it must have been a perfect lady for it is built to save steps in the kitchen and there seems to be a place for everything. Such a piece of furniture in the kitchen will save the housekeeper many steps besides keeping all the utensils and the makings neat and clean. All the housekeeper needs is to sit down in front of the kitchen cabinet and everything opens out before her all ready for use. It does everything in the household except pay the bills, and I really believe it will be a great help in this direction. The sooner we get things better in the kitchen
the sooner we are getting nearer to the right principle, for the fine furniture in the parlor does not help us to get something to eat in the best and most sanitary fashion.

The new Hoodier thing does just that and I take great pleasure in calling attention to it.

¶ Ah I said before, the sidewalks
are being constructed to Sanford Heights and ere long there will be many beautiful homes built out there. It is certainly the most beautiful part of Sanford.

¶ I believe the weather has much to do with the human passions and in looking over the papers this week
I discover that there have been numerous killings here and there and everywhere and it would seem that it is more difficult to curb our passion and prejudice in the hot weather than it is in the winter time. If this is true the people should curb this spirit that would take offense at every trivial or fancied insult and overlook what might be taken as a slight but is not so intended. Few of us care to turn the other cheek for a blow given but at the same time many of us could use more diplomacy in the words spoken. Remember that it is summer time and the blood is hot.

¶ There is absolutely nothing doing here on the Fourth of July and as every one seems to be going away somewhere I believe it will be the proper thing for the men of the family to go to Woodland Park
where a nice quiet day can be spent in the shade and the cooling waters of the springs. Let the young seek the pleasures of the far shores and the older ones will stay at home and rest.

Tobacco Monopoly.

The president of Uruguay has submitted to the general assembly for approval a contract signed by the minister of finance, for the purpose
of establishing a tobacco monopoly.
This contract provides for the concession to a private company, for a term of 25 years, of the sole right to import,
purchase, manufacture and sell tobacco in all its forms. The present manufacturers and dealers may become stockholders in the new company for the value of their plants and stocks on hand plus a bonus, or they may dispose of their establishments, machinery and stocks to the company at actual value plus a bonus. The company is to pay the state $1,300,000
annually during the first five years, $1, 757,800 from the sixth to the thirteenth year, and from the thirteenth
to the end of the twenty-fifth year $2, 068,000. After 25 years the monopoly
shall revert to the state.

Parenthood.

The blame, then, for the boy who goes wrong does not rest with the boy himself, or yet with his remote ancestors. It rests squarely with the parents who, through ignorance or neglect, have failed to mold him
right in the plastic days of childhood.
What is needed, especially in this complex civilization of ours, with its myriad incitements and temptations, is a livelier appreciation of the responsibilities as well as the privileges of parenthood. Most of all, perhaps, from the point of view of coping with the problem of vice and crime, do parents need to appreciate that it is in the very first years of their children's lives that the work of character building should be begun.—From "The Boy
Who Goes Wrong," by H. Addington
Bruce, in The Century.

Gambling Due to Ennui.

Wherever ennui is to be fought,
there is gambling. In the Journal of Religious Psychology Mr. Albert N.
Gilbertson notes that winter gambling is one of the favorite amusements of the Eskimo, and he quotes the following statement on the "passionate gamblers" among the Alaskan natives of the Ungava district, described by Holmberg:

"Gambling is carried on to such a degree among both sexes that even their own lives are staked upon the issue of a game. The winner often obtains the wife of his opponent, and holds her until some tempting offer is made for her return. The only article
they possess is frequently wagered,
and when they lose they are greeted with derision."

By poisoning, swelling of the face, bites and
stings of insects, skin
diseases and lame back should be treated with

in the whole list of curative

rheumatic pains, neuralgia or

CAPE COD NOW AN ISLAND

By Opening of Sluiceway Waters of the Two Bays Mingle in the Canal.

Buzzards Bay—By the opening of a sluiceway in Foley's dike, the chief obstacle that remains in the Cape Cod canal, the waters of Cape Cod bay and Buzzards bay mingled for the first time recently and the cape itself became an island.

August Belmont, president of the canal construction company, poured together bottles of water, one taken from Cape Cod bay and the other from Buzzards bay, as the sluiceway was opened, and said:

"May the mingling of these waters
bring happiness and prosperity to our country and save some of the misery
which the waters of the cape have caused in the past."

The canal is not expected to be ready for traffic for several months,
for there is still considerable dredging to be done. The dike will be removed, probably on June 21, with the 5th anniversary of the beginning of the work on the canal. By July 4 small vessels will be able to go through the new waterway.

The opening of the sluiceway was
for the purpose of permitting herring to pass through the canal. They abound in Monument river, over the course of which the canal runs for some distance. Shadrach Smith promised Mr. Belmont to catch for him
the first herring that passed through the sluiceway.

FIGHT A BLOODLESS DUEL

M. Caillaux and M. d'Aillieres Meet on Field of Honor—One Shoots Into Sky, One Into Ground.

Paris.—A bloodless duel was fought
at the Parc des Princes, between Joseph Caillaux, former French minister of finance, and his political rival, M. d'Aillieres. Following the decision of their seconds that they must meet on the field of honor the men faced each other with pistols at 25 paces. Cail-laux, who fired first, pointed the muzzle

of his pistol to the sky; d'Aillieres fired into the ground. Then General Delstein, formerly military governor of Paris, who acted as master of ceremonies, declared honor satisfied.

KNOWN BY WATCH CHARM

Four Boer War Survivors Meet Accidentally at Dinner in Birmingham, England.

London.—A remarkable coincidence
that would be hard to beat is reported by the Manchester Guardian.

Just before the opening of the battle of Diamond Hill, in the Boer war,
four soldiers, complete strangers, met around an overturned keg for a hearty meal. After the meal one produced a bad fortune, which was neatly cut into quarters, and a compact was made that each man should wear the memorato on his watch chain should he survive. The four, who belonged to different regiments, then went into action and from that moment neither heard anything of the other until recently, when a farewell dinner was being given to a popular man in Birmingham, who was going abroad. The four then with amusement recognized each other by the pieces of metal attached to their watch guards.

All knew the guest of the evening intimately, and one of them had sent an invitation to the others.

object to their reading the Bible or good magazines.

To Get Rid of Red Ants.
Red ants can make a house almost uninhabitable. One can get rid of them, however, if one knows how. The first thing to do is to find the place
they come from—i. e., where the nest is. If it is in an accessible spot, a little kerosene will quickly stop the trouble. On the other hand, if the nest is in the wall or under the floor,
find the nearest accessible point, and kill the insects off as they appear.

For Cleaning Tinware.
First wash the tin in hot soap and wipe thoroughly dry. Then pour with dry flour, applied with an old newspaper.

SANFORD LANDS BRING THE PRICE SALES ARE BEING MADE DAILY

A GOOD SEASON INSPIRES CONFIDENCE IN THE CELERY DELTA

LARGER ACREAGE WILL BE PLANTED

THE SEASON OF 1914-1915 PROMISES TO BE MOST PROSPEROUS ONE IN SANFORD

The prospects for a good crop of vegetables and new citizens were never brighter than just now almost on the eve of another planting of the seed beds from which the big crops will be raised in the celery delta.

On account of the good season last year there are many returning to the farms that a few years ago looked anything but inviting. Many new people are writing about the prices of Sanford land and many of the old growers are adding to their possessions and expect to farm more acres next season.

All of which means that real estate has started to move and that the scenes of activity will again be noticeable in the Sanford section. The many improvements being made in the city with the chances good for the starting of the new tourist hotel are also calling attention to our city, and between city and country there will not be many dull moments during the winter season.

At least six improved farms have been sold here this week but on account of a delay in the abstracts and deeds that had to be sent out of the state the deals are not to be made public at this time, but the property has been sold.

There are also several deals to be made in a few days in city property as many people come to Florida at the season of the year to procure their winter homes before the rush begins later in the season.

Many of the farmers are busy hauling muck and making other improvements and ere long the summer visitors will return from the mountains and seaside resorts and the real work of making money from Sanford soil begin in earnest.

Lake Gaining Ground Hon. Forrest Lake, member of the Florida legislature from Seminole county, and candidate for speaker of the house during the next term, is making good headway in his canvass to secure this important position.

He has been in various sections of the state recently and gotten in first-hand touch with the members and upon his return home today he found a great mass of mail awaiting him relating to the same topic, so it is believed that Mr. Lake will have little or no trouble in landing the place as he has a universal favorite with members in the last house from all parts of the state and as Mr. Lake is what is known as a progressive Democrat of the latest approved type, it seems that he will have fair weather and easy sailing to the coveted goal.

As the speaker for the 1915 house came from West Florida and the speaker for the 1913 house came from north Florida and it is generally conceded that this time the speakership should be given to Peninsular Florida as a matter of equity and justice.

Forrest Lake has been a resident of Florida for the past twenty years and has been prominently identified with the vast development that has taken place in the state within that period. For a number of years he was owner of the ice plant and waterworks of this city, all of which he sold last fall to a corporation operating in various cities in Florida. In 1911 he was elected as a member of the house, was re-elected in 1913 and has just been returned as a member of the house by his constituency without opposition.

This makes Mr. Lake one of the oldest members in the coming legislature and the fact that he has served on many important committees during his incumbency gives him an insight into preliminary affairs that will be of great value to the house. During the past session through the courtesy of Speaker Payne he was called upon at various times, all of which he did with credit to his co-workers. Times-Union.

READY FOR BIG RACE

Five Contestants for Honors at Daytona Beach

The entry list for the cars that will compete in the auto races at Daytona Beach on July 4th has closed and six cars have entered. Each car will contest in the three feature races, of one mile, five miles and twenty miles.

The entry list for the stock touring car races will not close until the day of the races, giving all drivers an opportunity to enter.

Orlando furnishes three of the six entries for the big races, and Sanford, Euatis and Bradentown each furnished one. Five makes of cars will be contestants and every car entered is capable of making at least seventy five miles an hour and some good records are expected Saturday.

The complete list of entries is as follows:

O. P. Harndon, Sanford, Overland car.

W. M. Warren, Bradentown, National car.

Henry Self, Euatis, Premier.

Cook Auto Co., Orlando, Buick.

Gray-Rush, Orlando, Ford.

S. B. Hutton, Orlando, National.

A number of the cars entered have already been taken to the beach and tried out, and the drivers are each confident that records will be broken for amateur race meets.

The handsome silver cups for which the racers will contest will probably be on display today at T. H. Evans' jewelry store on Orange avenue. They were expected yesterday but failed to arrive.

Two of the judges for the races have been selected from Orlando. They are Hon. Seth Woodruff and City Commissioner S. A. Johnson.

The third judge will be selected from some other point, probably Daytona. Orlando Sentinel.

Hudson a Candidate

Tallahassee, July 3.—All doubt as to his probable candidacy for governor in 1916 was removed today when the resignation of Senator F. M. Hudson as counsel for the railroad commission was made public, he declaring his purpose to be a candidate as his main reason for resigning.

When interviewed as to his action Senator Hudson had the following to say:

"My resignation has been contemplated for some time. The commissioners had notice some months ago of my intention to resign, to take effect July 1, but circumstances arose which made it advisable to postpone such action for the time being. My resignation will take effect at the pleasure of the commissioners, but not later than April 1, 1916. I have fixed that final limit for several reasons. In the first place during April and May of next year my time must be given to my duties as a member of the senate. In the next place my private affairs need more attention than I can give them in my present position. Finally it is my intention to be a candidate for governor in the primary election of 1916, and I desire to be free to devote to the campaign as much time as may be necessary.

Union Sunday Evening Services

Beginning next Sunday evening, July 5, for the months of July and August, the members of the Methodist, Presbyterian and Congregational churches will unite to hold their evening services, at 7:30, in the Star. It is wise and good, in more ways than one, that this Christian fellowship should thus be manifested; it is in harmony with the present day spirit of denominational fraternity which is seen all over our land; indeed, no ecclesiastical organization does so doing.

The ministers of these churches will unite in conducting the services, each one taking turns while here in preaching. The following program for the preaching of the sermon will be followed for July:

July 5—Rev. F. P. Strong.

July 12—Rev. F. E. Steinhilber.

July 19—Rev. Smith Hardin, Presiding Elder of M. E.

July 26—Rev. E. D. Brownlee.

It is further desired that the choir of these churches shall help in leading the singing, which will be looked after by Mr. Woodruff. All are urged to help make this a splendid union effort.

MEXICO AND THE U. S. MAKE A TREATY; VIRTUALLY SETTLED

THE MEXICAN AMBASSADOR HAS GIVEN OUT THE INFORMATION

SAYS STATEMENT MADE THIS WEEK

PEACE FACT HAS NOT YET BEEN MADE, BUT THERE IS ONE READY.

Niagara Falls, Ont., July 3.—Ambassador DaGama, of Brazil, today formally announced the virtual settlement of the conflict between the United States and Mexico. The ambassador explained that while mediation would take an immediate recess awaiting the outcome of efforts by representatives of the two Mexican factions to solve the internal problems of Mexico the task of mediation was not yet concluded, though an essential part of its work had been accomplished.

The ambassador spoke at a luncheon given by the three mediators to newspaper correspondents. The entire Mexican and Huerta delegations to the mediation conference were present and the remarks of Mr. DaGama, after careful revision, were made public later, constituting a formal statement of the mediation work thus far.

"It is a source of satisfaction for me," said the ambassador, "to be able to say that one of the essential points of our program, that dealing with the international side of the conflict is virtually settled. This does not imply that we go home with our task concluded, but we feel that so far we have averted war.

"We have established also through agreement between the parties most directly interested—and in complete harmony with the sentiments of the government of the United States that it is a principle of American policy to have our national problems always given a fair examination and settled without foreign interference. We understand that if a result has been attained we shall have created a more favorable atmosphere in international politics in America."

Mr. DaGama called attention to the fact that President Wilson personally had informed the mediators before they left Washington that the only way to solve Mexico's problem was to aid "the contending parties in Mexico to reach an agreement among themselves, thus obtaining a Mexican solution of the Mexican question."

In this manner, the ambassador revealed that the course mediation has taken was in President Wilson's mind from the beginning.

The speech served also as a definition for the world generally of the hitherto unsettled status of mediation. Ambassador DaGama and Minister Neaon had planned to leave tonight, but found many details to arrange and postponed their departure until tomorrow. The Washington government would have preferred that the mediation board remain here while the constitutionalists were urged to act quickly on the invitation already extended.

The mediators tonight formally acknowledged the latest note from Gen. Carranza. The answer expresses appreciation for Carranza's friendly sentiments toward peace and is courteously phrased. It will be made public tomorrow.

The American delegate today received word from Washington to leave here when they thought advisable, but they will be the last to go. The Huerta delegates received formal instructions from their government giving them plenary powers to discuss internal questions with constitutionalists.

Card of Thanks

The committee in charge of the Smugglerman express their cordial thanks to all who contributed in any degree to the success of the operetta. To the merchants who gave their aid; to the Herald for its generous advertising; to the owners of the machines in the parade and to the children who gave their time and talents. Thanks are also due Messrs. Thresher, Williams and Smith for their courtesy.

Committee: Mrs. Henry Wright, Mrs. H. C. Gurrer, Mrs. Fox, Mrs. W. W. Abernathy, Miss Whitner.

TEACHERS MUST WAIT

Orlando Public School Muddle Not Yet Straightened

Attorneys Giles & Davis, who represented the school teachers in their recent mandamus suit to compel Dr. J. F. McKinnon, county superintendent, to sign their salary warrants for the last two months of the school term, have appealed from Judge Perkins' decision to the supreme court.

In his decision Judge Perkins did not go into the merits of the contention further than to judicially assert the standing of the county superintendent as secretary of the school board. He held that the county superintendent serving in such capacity had the right to exercise discretion in the performance of his duties. In this view the superintendent had a right to refuse to sign the warrants if he thought proper to do so.

Mr. LeRoy Giles who made the argument in the case, and who was formerly chairman of the local board of school trustees was not satisfied with this construction of the law and wished to obtain the opinion of the supreme court on it. He holds to the view that the duties of the superintendent as secretary of the board are wholly ministerial, which is to say, that the secretary must carry out the dictates of the board irrespective of his own opinions.

The supreme court usually takes recess about this time of year until October, and if the court is about to recess for the summer, it is probable that decision will be delayed for several months.

In the meantime the teachers are waiting for their money with no immediate prospect of getting it. Reporter-Star.

Tax Sale Next Monday

The first sale of lands in Seminole county for delinquent taxes will take place at the court house next Monday afternoon, at which time Tax Collector Jinkins will sell all lands on which the state and county taxes have not been paid, and although taxes have been paid up remarkably well there is considerable property on which the taxes still remain unpaid.

The law requires the Tax Collector to advertise delinquent taxes for five weeks, which has been done in the Sanford Herald, in each Tuesday's issue for the past five weeks, if at the end of that time the taxes and costs of advertising have not been paid the sale is made at the next legal sale day, which is the first Monday in the succeeding month, beginning at 12:00 o'clock noon. The property is offered for sale for the taxes and costs of advertising and sale. If no one bids on it it is bid in by the Tax Collector for the State of Florida. If two persons are bidding against each other, the bid the same amount of money, as shown by the tax advertisement, but bid to pay said amount for a smaller piece of land to be taken out of the southeast corner; the balance of the property remains unincumbered. Should the owner wish to redeem the land after it is sold he can do so by going to the clerk of the circuit court, and paying all costs, and tax, and interest at the rate of 25 per cent for the first year or fraction thereof, and 8 per cent after the first year. In case the property was sold to an individual the amount he paid out is returned to him with the interest at the above rate; if the state bid it in then the interest goes to the state. At the expiration of two years a tax deed may be secured from the clerk, if the land has not been redeemed by the original owner.

ONLY THREE CHURCHES

Of Sanford Will Have Union Services in the Star Theater

Only three Sanford churches will have union services in the Star Theater as announced in the paper of Tuesday. The mistake was made in the announcement that the Holy Cross Parish would join in the union services but they will continue to hold services in their church at the corner of Park avenue and Fourth Street.

The Methodist, Presbyterian and Congregational churches only will hold union services beginning next Sunday night, July 6th.

A MILLION MORE THAN ESTIMATED

OTHER NEWS OF THE WORLD AT LARGE COMPILED FOR BUSY HERALD READERS

Washington, July 3.—There is much joy today among Democrats because the Wilson administration closed the fiscal year with an income exceeding the ordinary expenses by nearly $34,000,000.

The treasury department announced total receipts for the year of more than $784,000,000.

This is a million and a half more than Secretary McAdoo estimated.

Freemont, N. Y., July 3.—The murder of Mrs. Louise Bailey is still unsolved and no arrests have been made. The police think that either a lunatic or a woman fired the shot through the window. Dr. Carman's wife told the police that she had a concealed telephone in her husband's office where the shooting occurred and was comforted by what she heard.

Washington, July 3.—J. P. Morgan was expected to call on President Wilson today to discuss business conditions. It is the first informal conference the President plans to hold with a number of industrial and financial leaders.

Old "Bob" Is Dead

He was only a horse but he was a good one, and having lived to a ripe old age had been pensioned by his kindhearted master and during his declining years had nothing to do but eat grass and recline in the shade of the orange trees on the Miller grove southwest of the city. Bob was the old gray horse that had worked for the firm of T. J. Miller & Son for the past twenty-four years. He had worked for other people thirteen years before that and last year the Millers decided that Bob was due for the pension department and he was given the freedom of their farm and orange groves with nothing to do but wait for his entrance into the horse heaven.

He was just 37 years of age and easy living seemed to be too much for him and he departed this life last Monday afternoon. He was given decent burial just outside of the cemetery to which spot he had hauled many a deceased resident during his younger days. It is a pity that more people were not as kind to the animals that have served them faithfully and when their days of work are over place the dumb creatures on the pension list and make their last days peaceful and full of feed.

More Dangerous Crossings

Editor Herald:

The Herald in mentioning railroad crossings in the city limits the other day overlooked one of the most dangerous of all, the one at the big ice plant on First street and one that is more extensively traveled than any other street of the city, both by the farmers and people travelling across the state. Every day some one has a narrow escape on this crossing as all the through trains and the switch trains use this track and the danger is there always. There is no provision made at any time for the protection of the people who are obliged to cross here in going and coming to town and back and some time there will be some very serious accidents at this crossing. With the increased number of automobiles the danger is increasing and the railroad should do something at these crossings to protect the people. I do not wish to place any hardship on the railroad and have nothing to suggest in the way of gates or a watchman but would say that if the flagmen or some of the employees of the company would be allowed by their superiors to pay some slight attention to vehicles at the crossings it would lessen the danger.

SMUGGLEMAN GREAT PLAY

Amateur Performance by Youngsters was Greatly Enjoyed

The performance of the Smugglerman by the children of the Junior Civic League at the Imperial last Tuesday night was enjoyed by the many who came out to see the children take part. The children had been hard at work for the past week under the direction of Miss Aspinwall, to whose wonderful development of the latent possibilities in the children is due the success of the playlet. It was a mixture of songs, chorus and solo work and various other stunts that displayed the talents of the children from mere infants to those fifteen years of age, and from the smallest to the largest they carried out their individual parts in great style.

The scene opened with the Mothers' Garden and the girls dressed as Mothers in ancient costume sang a chorus. Then came the children, Toots the bad boy, Reginald Holly and Billy the good boy, Alfred Robinson, Toot's mother, Lillian Herring and Billy's mother, Clarence Hand. The chorus of mothers and grandmothers and the song, "Whose Little Boy" followed.

The Mother Goose characters then made their entry and this brought forth generous applause, the little tots being so sweet. Little Camilla Puleston as Jill; Willio Garing as Jack had her hand. Theodora Miller as Bo Peep, Thomas Wright as Humpty Dumpty, Iva Wauthen as Mother Goose, Sara Wright Old Lady in Shoes, Paul Strong and Waverly Abernathy as Ding Dong Bell Boys, Olive Newman as Mistress Mary. The character song were splendid and consisted of "The Big College" by Newton Lovell, "Down on the Ohio" by Miss Elinor Herring and Reginald Holly and "I've Got the Mumps" by Miss Weima Graves and Mollie Abernathy.

The Smugglerman cleverly taken by Clarence Mahoney then proceeded to steal the little boys, all of which required much singing and many speaking parts, the different characters being faithfully portrayed by the boys and girls. Clarence Mahoney in the song, "I'll Steal Out at Night" with the gnomes and also the song, "The Twilight Boat" was in good voice. The soprano solo, "The Man in the Moon is Wise" by Miss Virginia Brady and "The Moonshine Man" by Mrs. Vance Douglas were well rendered and well received.

After the Smugglerman had been caught with the goods by the Fairy Queen and restored the kidnapped boys to their mothers the entire company rendered the "Galloping Song," "My Country's Flag" and "Dixie" as a Grand Finale to a very pretty playlet and one that reflects great credit upon the boys and girls who took part and their instructor, Miss Aspinwall.

The Junior Civic League netted a nice sum of money for their work in beautifying the city and the children have not only gained valuable instruction but they are enabled to assist in making Sanford more beautiful in many ways.

Accident to Her Eye

Mrs. Endor Curlett and her sister, Miss Icehour of Geneva were in the city Tuesday to consult Dr. Neal. Miss Icehour, while opening a box of pineapples at her home had a nail or particle of the box to strike her glasses, breaking them and sending a small particle into the eye, making a serious wound and one that caused her intense pain and suffering. It is to be hoped that Miss Icehour will not suffer any serious injury to the eye, although it may be necessary for her to consult a specialist at Baltimore if the injury develops into something more serious.

Mr. Hayman is undecided where he will locate, but in investigating several places in the state. His many friends here will hate to lose him from their midst for Zaak Hayman is always a good fellow, no matter where he may be.

Here Is Good News For Stomach Victims

Some very remarkable results are being obtained by treating stomach, liver and intestinal troubles with pure vegetable oils, when exerting a cleansing, soothing and purifying action upon the lower bowels, removing the obstructions of poisonous fecal matter and gases and preventing their absorption by the blood. This done the food is allowed free passage from the stomach, fermentation ceases and stomach troubles quickly disappear.

George H. Mayr, for twenty years a leading Chicago druggist, cured himself and many of his friends of stomach, liver and intestinal troubles of years' standing by this treatment, and so successful was the remedy he devised that it has since been placed in the hands of druggists all over the country, who have sold thousands of bottles.

Though absolutely harmless, the effect of the medicine is sufficient to convince any one of its remarkable effectiveness, and within 24 hours the sufferer feels like a new person. Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy is now sold here by L. R. Philips & Co. (Adv.)

WEST VIRGINIA JOINS DRY COLUMN

ANOTHER STATE GOES PROHIBITION BY THE LARGEST MAJORITY KNOWN

Charleston, W. Va., July 3.—State-wide prohibition of the liquor business in West Virginia becomes effective midnight tonight. It brings the total number of states in the prohibition column up to nine.

With West Virginia added, the list will be: Georgia, Kansas, Maine, Mississippi, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Tennessee, West Virginia. These nine states of total prohibition territory, plus the local no-license area, make up 2,132,726 square miles in which 46,029,750 persons or nearly 50 per cent of the country's population live according to the latest figures of the prohibition leaders.

The 82,000 majority with which the people of West Virginia accepted the "dry" proposition was relatively the largest ever given by any state. It was approximately two to one for statewide suppression of the liquor business. It was a surprise even to the prohibition forces, who were indebted largely to the determined stand which many of the large employes took in favor of their cause. The state has a population of 1,221,119 by the census of 1910.

The mandate of the legislature, embodied in the Yost bill, for the enforcement of the new law, beginning July 1, departs in many respects from the methods hitherto tried along this line. The chief features center about the creation of a commission of prohibition, whose particular business it will be to see that by next Tuesday midnight some 1,200 liquor-selling places shall be punished by law if they keep liquor for sale.

The new office of commissioner of prohibition automatically falls to State Tax Commissioner Fred O. Blue of this city, who has been spending several months in preparation for strict enforcement of the new law.

To save the state the time and expense of taking violations before state courts, he has been urging municipal ordinances governing the violations, thus permitting the cases to be brought before the local courts.

In an effort to instruct the people as to the provisions of the new law, Commissioner Blue has also been lecturing throughout the state.

"In other states," says Mr. Blue, "where prohibition has been adopted, one of the forces that has had to be contended with has been the drug store. The Yost bill will regulate this feature. Druggists may sell alcohol only to persons not addicted to its use upon prescription of a reputable physician, who has examined the person and in detail set forth in the prescription the persons for the use of alcohol. The governing bodies of druggists have approved of this plan. For scientific or mechanical purposes, alcohol will be sold only after affidavit as to its intended uses, and uniform records of all such sales will be kept to be inspected periodically by those in charge of the enforcement of the law. No druggist, however, can sell in any form whisky, brandy, ale or any beverage of an intoxicating nature.

"The Yost bill also undertakes to do away with the drinking clubs, which have been the sources of so much trouble in other states," he said. "It provides that any person directly or indirectly associated in keeping such a club house or other place where liquor is kept for gift, barter or sale, shall be punishable upon conviction by a fine of from $100 to $500 and by imprisonment

from one to six months. "The enactment of the Webb-Kenyon law by congress will be of considerable assistance in enforcing the prohibition law in this state," he continued.

"One of the benefits of the federal act is that records of interstate shipments of liquors may be required, and therefore every railroad, express company and any kind of transportation company including steamboats and vessels carrying freight or express either from another state into ours, or from one part of our state to another part must obey the laws of this state respecting liquors. Every one of the transportation companies will be required to keep special records at the point of delivery showing the receipt of liquors, the kind and quantity, to whom consigned, when delivered, and the consignee must sign in person for the shipment. The Webb-Kenyon act vests the right to enforce these provisions of the law and regulation thereunder against interstate carriers. None of these carriers will be permitted to receive consignments of liquor to any point where there is not a regularly employed agent to keep such records, and have them open for inspection at all times.

"The man who is engaged in the steamboat business upon our waters, interstate or intrastate, must keep these records and will not be permitted to deliver any liquors or make sale of any liquors upon board this vessel while in our waters.

"This brings us to the question of how far one may get liquors for another. In the first place if one acts as the agent if the seller, he is guilty of selling. If one acts as agent of the purchaser he is guilty of making it, not where he purchased it but where he delivered it in the state. Again the representatives of those who sell liquor cannot come into the state to solicit verbally, by letter, circular or otherwise. There is only one or two ways that a citizen of this state may bring liquors into it; he may upon his own initiative order it, and have it sent to himself by common carrier, or his personal use, and not for any illegal purpose, or he may go and get it. But in either event he cannot bring it here for unlawful purposes. If he orders it shipped by common carrier a record is made, open to inspection; if he goes after it and brings it with him, intending to use for unlawful purposes, he may be arrested and the liquor seized, so soon as he comes into the state."

Read about these conveniences that made the HOOSIER necessary to over 700,000 women.

- (1) Mrs. Christine Frederick's famous "Housekeepers' Food Guide"—on the upper left door—answers the eternal problem: "What shall we have for dinner?"
- (2) The Cook-book Holder on the middle upper door holds your cook book securely when not in use. When you are cooking, simply open up the book to the proper page behind the holder. It is on a level with your eye, always clean, never in the way.
- (3) The Hoosier Metal Flour Bin holds fifty pounds. It is low and easy to fill. The sliding glass front enables you to clean the entire bin easily. The inside is entirely of metal, with no corners to hold flour. First flour in is always out first.
- (4) The New Shaker Flour Sifter is the most wonderful of all the new Hoosier inventions. It is the only flour sifter ever made on a kitchen cabinet that shakes flour through instead of grinding it through. It cannot wear out and cannot grind through any grit or foreign substance that might be in the flour.

OUR WINDOW DISPLAY is the talk of the town—come and see it.

(5) A new feature in the Base Cup-board is a narrow shelf conveniently located for the storage of canned articles. Most women will find this a great convenience as an "emergency shelf." It will save many trips to the cellar or pantry.

TOMORROW YOU may examine all the new features. You incur no obligation. But you should come early. You may be too late to get one on the HOOSIER PLAN if you delay. Come and SEE this remarkable NEW Hoosier tomorrow.

Office in Herald Building Telephone No. 148

The Sanford Herald always endeavors to be correct. Editor Holly stated the loss at the fire in Salem last week was $20,000,009. If there had been thirty cents more The Herald would have said so.—Palm Beach Post.

Every paper in DeSoto county and in the entire state in fact should agitate for a publicity tax of at least 1 mill. Such a tax would not only be a boom for the publishers who are using hundreds of dollars worth of space annually in boosting their sections and receiving no compensation therefor, but would be the means of attracting new settlers. There is no other medium that appeals to those interested in Florida as much as does a newspaper in the section they have in view.—Zolfo Truth.

TOO FUNNY FOR COMMENT

The Tampa Tribune says A. J. Angle had some fun by putting into his expense account $7.50 for licking J. Fred DeBerry. Angle has violated the Trammell Corrupt Practice Act, because the law does not allow him nor any other man to use money in any such way. Of course, it's Angle; he has money and the state machine behind him and he is above the law. Nothing will be done about it, and yet we have heard so much said about the virtue of the corrupt practice act. Hosh!—DeBerry's Arrow.

DONEGAN FOR PRESIDENT

While all the state papers are guessing about the best man for the presidency of the senate in 1915 they seem to have lost sight of Senator Arthur E. Donegan of the big Nineteenth District comprising the counties of Osceola, Orange and Seminole. Senator Donegan has served one session in the senate in a most satisfactory manner and is recognized as one of the big men of the state not only in financial affairs but in politics and numbers his friends by the score. He has not dignified his intention of becoming a candidate for this position but should he shy his castor into the ring he will be a power to be reckoned with and The Herald takes pleasure in the thought that Senator Donegan (Our Senator would make a good president of the senate, even though he should decline to become a candidate. Senator Donegan has also been mentioned as a possible candidate for Governor in two years hence.

DANGEROUS CROSSINGS

In the article in Tuesday's Herald about the dangerous railroad crossings in the city limits of Sanford we missed the crossing on First street near Rand's Siding, but this matter was called to our attention by a communication of a West Side farmer who writes a letter to the paper calling attention to this place that should be investigated by the city council. That we have a number of dangerous crossings and that we have had them for some time is a fact well known to the people who are obliged to cross them every day. There have been but few accidents and that someone has not been killed is accounted for by the fact that the general public has been very careful and no thanks are due the Atlantic Coast Line, for the officials have never given the matter a moment's notice. A flagman was posted for a few months last year, at the First street crossing at Myrtle avenue but since the removal of the passenger station this has been stopped and the public has no protection from the passing trains and switch engines. Other cities are taking up this matter and the A. C. L. will be forced to put in gates and flagmen in these cities. Accidents have awakened the officials of these cities to their duty to the public and it is time Sanford also investigated these conditions. This matter has been called to the attention of The Herald several times lately and we have refrained from taking it up because it was learned that some of the A. C. L. officials were here investigating these crossings. Since then they have had plenty of time to act and as usual they have done nothing. They were forced to protect crossings ones and can be forced to protect them again if the people of Sanford will demand

LOOK OUT YOU SPEEDERS

The officials of Volusia county will be on the look out for the speed bugs going through to the beach and the following warning appears in the DeLand News:

On July 3, 4 and 5, between 200 and 400 autos from Seminole, Orange, Osceola, Lake and other South Florida counties will pass through your county, over your roads, to and from your beaches. It is within your power to make this passing a pleasure, sane drivers—or to permit the trip to become a nightmare. The people of your county have taxed themselves several hundred thousand dollars to build shell roads for the use of sane people, and these people are entitled to sane conduct over these roads.

It is your duty to see that people in your county get what they are entitled to.

The people of your county have never taxed themselves for the construction of automobile speedways. The Board of County Commissioners have set aside a certain portion of the beach to be used as a speedway on July 4, alone.

You, Mr. Solicitor, and you, Mr. Sheriff, have it within your power to guarantee to the sane people passing over our roads, safe conduct.

If you should find it necessary to fill the Volusia county jail with speed-maniacs, you will have the most hearty approval of the vast people of your county.

If you permit your best citizens, your law-abiding, reasonable citizens and visitors to be run off the roads, to be thrown into ditches, to have their property ruined and their lives endangered, you will be severely censured.

Twenty miles an hour is a maximum safety speed on a shell road—safe for the driver, for the man in front of him and for the man behind him.

Fill your jails, Mr. Officers, if you find it necessary—but insist on the rights of the law abiding citizens.

THE IMPENDING FOURTH

A spasm of horror swept over the country a few years ago when 174 school children were caught in a fire trap at Collingwood, Ohio, and killed.

Yet now we are getting ready to destroy or irreparably wound and injure thousands of children exactly as we have done once a year for several decades. The instruments of death are deliberately being purchased and placed on sale, for July 4.

Last year there were reported in the large cities alone, over 300 deaths from lockjaw, following injury to hands; 340 persons lost one eye, and 92 children were reported as having both eyes blown out by explosives on this one day.

Hardly a village can be found in America where there are not harmless or sightless beings who are living out lingering deaths, victims of this violent way of expressing "patriotism."

In every city and village care is now being taken to see that Collingwood's disaster shall not occur again. So great is the feeling of shame, remorse and revulsion at Collingwood that many families have moved away from that suburb, and there is an effort being made to change the name of the place.

We would forget the slaughter of the innocents.

At Collingwood the great silence came to the stricken children almost instantly. Suffocation means quick insensibility and the passing is painless.

There were no maimed and suffering at Collingwood—death was merciful.

But in this matter of destruction of life and property on July 4 we are making active preparation to repeat it with all its lingering variations.

The tragedies are so scattered, and, although we know that deaths will surely follow, we are inwardly praying that it shall not be our loved ones that shall perish.

Aside from the lives lost and the human bodies mutilated, there is an annual loss from accident fires in America of about $5,000,000 traceable to fireworks. The money spent in these diabolical inventions is also over $5,000,000. We pass laws to keep our children, but we let in the worst thing they manufacture.

What have we to show for this? I'll tell you. We have hoarse, distracted nerves, smoke, fire, sightless eyes, maimed hands, powder-blown faces and corpses of little boys and girls. And a debt entry in money of $10,000,000.

Is the life of our innocent, little prattling toddler worth the fun? Whose toddler? Why, yours!

Yes, we shut out the Chinese by law, but we welcome their diabolical noise and smoke and pay them good money—and we also pay the Laramie and Penates a license in blood. The Chinese make these things only to sell—mostly to Christians. They say: "We supply a demand, and if you don't want them we would not waste them."

An educated Chinese writes me that there are many towns in China where it is a crime to fire off a fire-

PIRATE OF THE AIR

"BLUE DARTER" A TERROR TO CHICKS AND PROTECTORS. Many Wrongs May Be Laid at the Door of This Innocent Appearing Bird—Has Given Race of Hawks Bad Reputation.

When the "blue darter" darts several things happen. Most likely pandemonium will break loose right away, and the farm will become the stage for one of this most famous character's most melodramatic scenes. In all the country there is no other creature capable of starting so much commotion as this innocent-looking bird, sometimes called the "blue darter," because, as the farm wife explains, he darts down from nowhere and takes the prettiest little white chick of all the hen's brood. In books this pirate of the air has the name of Cooper's hawk, scientifically speaking, Accipiter Cooper.

The truth of that old farm story about the woman who turned over the churn on the cat, which jumped and scratched the dog, which frightened the calf and made it run into the hive of bees, which all but stung her husband to death is that the whole thing was started by this same innocent looking bird. He had darted. The chickens did a perfectly natural thing in setting up a disturbance trying to escape the dart. And next to the baby's cry, the sound that travels quickest to the good housewife's ear is her poultry's S. O. S.

Several other wrongs are laid at the feet of Accipiter Cooper besides the dead chicken and all the attendant evils. He has been the cause of all the other hawks getting a bad name. Many a big, peaceful, red-tailed hawk has been shot because of his smaller relative's reputation for chicken stealing. Now, this big hawk is not such a moral fellow that he will not steal a chicken once in a while, but he is honest-hearted, preferring gobblers, mice, sparrows and insects. So great is his appetite for different farm pests that a chicken now and then is only small wages for his good services.

But there is another hawk which shares with the "blue darter," not only his evil reputation, but also goes so far as to deserve it being a confirmed chicken and bird killer. This is the sharp-shinned Accipiter Vulpes, which is about half the size of the other Accipiter.

The case of the hawks is just another one which goes to show that it would do no good all people of the same mind in the same class. One Mr. Hawk may be a chicken thief and another Mr. Hawk may be a strenuous worker for the public welfare, and that's just the fact about this bird family. In fairness to the hawks it should be remembered that most of them are our efficient friends. The two Accipiters mentioned are the only outlaws of the family commonly known over the United States.

Save your ammunition for the "blue darter" and his smaller big-man. That's the advice of those who know the hawks. Observation and examination have shown that all the members of these two tribes are hopelessly guilty of the murder of domestic fowls, game birds, songsters and other feathered friends.

True it is that both the Accipiters do kill a sparrow now and then. In this way they seem to think they can make up for the harm they do. Perhaps they could if they killed sparrows enough. But they don't. The slight of either of them should be the signal for every farmer to snatch his gun and shoot to kill. But he should be sure it isn't one of his friends.

Affection Among Birds.

Of all the birds he had studied, said Mr. W. Farren, in a recent lecture at the Royal Photographic society's exhibition, none showed conjugal affection in quite the same way as the birds of Andalusia in Spain. Whenever the two parents met each other at the nest they invariably crossed their necks in a momentary embrace, after which the newcomer took up the duties of sitting and the other flew away. The brown-backed herons never omitted this affectionate salutation. Speaking of the famous egret "heronry" in the same district, Mr. Farren said that the egret wore its coveted plumes with far more grace than he had ever seen any lady wear them. The slaughter of these birds in the nesting season was pitiable. Frequently the parent birds were robbed of their plumes and left to die, while the young ones starved in the nest. The Americans, he was glad to say, were doing their best to stop the traffic in osprey plumes.

Doubtful of God's Power.

"Out of the mouth of babes" frequently comes reproaching, regenerating bits of high spiritual value. A little girl whose father was very ill was asked if she had prayed for his recovery. "No," she replied, her innocent eyes wide and solemn. "I did think of it, but then I wondered if it would be any use. I know God's bigger 'n' wiser than people, but I didn't know if he could kill germs."

Others Victims of Hard Luck.

Most of us get what we deserve, only the successful will admit it.

Square Foot and Foot Square.

There is no difference in area between one square foot and one foot square, though there may be a difference in the shape and dimensions of the surfaces. For instance, one square foot may be inclosed by a circular line, a hexagon, a triangle or a rectangle. One foot square is an area of fixed form, the four sides being equal and the four angles all right angles.

Ash Heap for Grandma.

A certain little fellow loves his grandmother dearly. The other day, hearing her talk, perhaps a bit mournfully, of growing old, the child was much troubled. "Grandma," he asked, his baby arms about the beloved neck, "when you do get old will mamma throw you out on the ash heap, like she does all our old things?"

Bernard Shaw Witticism.

Dr. Stanton Colt of London, who has been visiting friends in New York tells this story on himself: "At a reception in London a young woman was persisting that I should dance with her. I explained that I hadn't danced for years. 'But,' said she, 'I do so want to say I've danced with the head of the Ethical society in London.' So I consented on condition that we dance in a room off to the side, where my awkwardness would not be so conspicuous. As I was hopping about perspiringly I became conscious that I was under observation. I looked up. In the doorway stood Bernard Shaw, with a smile of devilish delight.

CAN A YOUNG MAN LOVE TWO GIRLS SIMULTANEOUSLY?

The brilliant black eye
May in triumph let fly
All its darts without caring who feels
"em;
But the soft eye of blue
Though it scatter wounds, too,
Is much better pleased when it heals 'em.

So much is said about a man's best girl that we cannot help wondering how many girls he is supposed to have. Does each awaken similar sentiments in his breast or in his liking carefully graded? It must be conceded that he pays each one a certain amount of attention or one flame or the other would die out for lack of sparking. If he is an athletic young fellow, fond of - of - door sports, he has one girl for the golf links or one who doesn't balk at a five-mile walk on a blustery afternoon. He has his automobile girl, who doesn't quiver an eyelash no matter how near he reaches the danger mark in dashing along. She's the girl, too, he takes to the races. But she isn't the girl he takes to the theater, or to the restaurant afterward, ordering wine for her, exultant over the sensation she creates when she dances the tango with him the length of the spacious dining room. Then there's the pretty stenographer in his uncle's office. She is the girl he presents with books because she refuses bonbons. He waits for her on stormy evenings to take her to a car, and it is she of whom he asks advice on matters relating to her sex—whether a fellow was justified in refusing an invitation to some affair which he did not care to attend, although he half suspected it was arranged for his benefit. He considers the advisability of breaking with two or three of his pleasant companions ere they become streetwalkers.

But it is so difficult that he fears he is equally in love with each and every one of them. When his dear old mother asks him to bring his best girl around for some little home gathering, he does a lot of thinking. The dear old soul would not understand the girl who doted on golf, but detested breadmaking and home duties. Nor would the girl mad over tango and cocktails appeal to her.

He concludes his automobile girl would not be looked upon with favor by his mother, who might think the hands wouldn't bother her head to check him if he went too fast down pleasure's road. As for the stenographer, true, she hadn't fancy clothes, but she had a very sensible head on her trim little body. She wasn't what might be called a beauty, but she had a smile and a winning way that was wondrously taking. Her dignity would please. There was no frivolity about her. Her life was serious. Being the only support of a widowed invalid mother, not only the bread earning, but the bread making, devolved upon her. Last, but by no means least, many a time he worried of the other girls in turn, mentally vowing each call on this or that one should be his last.

He never worried talking to the stenographer. Each time he talked with her he liked her the better. There was something about her which made her seem different from all the rest—a subtle charm which made her heart glow when he thought of her. He knew by "these signs and tokens" that she was the girl and the only one "in the bunch" whom he would care to take to his mother as his best girl.

IF A WIFE REFUSES HER SMILES.

How do they trust their tongues about, But speak a language of their own; Can read a nod, a frown, a look, A far better than a printed book; Convey a libel in a frown And wink a reputation down.

The success of marriage depends largely upon the view each takes of being companionable after the newness of the honeymoon has worn off. The bride with a will of her own remembers the well-meant advice of some of the old aunts of the neighborhood: "You must begin as you mean to end, my dear! One or the other will be boss in the home. Some young husbands will be only too glad to give the reins into the wife's hands. There are others not so docile."

Foolish is the bride who acts on the advice of others. No two husbands are alike. The bride who expects her young husband to hand over every cent of his wages from the start may run against the first rock of disaster to her matrimonial bark. The man who is not used to having a woman run his pocketbook may demur. He is loath to do what is right by her.

After much discussion he signifies his willingness to give her the greater part of his salary, but insists firmly upon withholding a small part at the end of each week—assuring her that he is making good use of the money in his own way, but putting her off angrily when she insists upon knowing just what it is being used for. She accuses him of drinking or smoking or the sly, accusations which he indignantly denies.

The first cloud appears on the horizon of their married life when he discovers his bride has a temper.

He comes home after a hard day's work, to meet a wife who has no smile for him. Instead, she frowns and answers him in monosyllables. So it continues. The home he imagined was to be an earthly paradise turns out to be so dreary an abode that he had rather turn his face anywhere than there. It's a man's nature to look for sympathy wherever he can find it. He generally turns to some woman who has a cheery disposition, a pleasant greeting for him, and a kindly word, which is a sort of solace to him. He wishes he could be met with a smile such as this woman has in his home. The young wife is high spirited and will not give in. When the husband has a like disposition, matters grow from bad to worse.

He is afraid that his wife harbors a mistrust of him regarding the small amount he holds back. From the time the wife takes the stand that she will be cold to him and he will be glad to yield to her will the outside influence strengthens; proves a powerful magnetic foe to the wife's happiness. Husbands and wives should make up their minds to have no secrets from each other. A wife should consider her husband's privilege by not insisting on having every cent in his pay envelope as long as he confides to her what good use he puts it to. He may have an aged, needy relative to whom he gives the money. It would be much cheaper for him to bring his old relative to his home and care for her there. But he considers it might not meet with her approval. He does not wish to put care on her young shoulders. Unless a wife is sure her husband is spending his money foolishly, she should not begrudge him the few dollars he earns himself. A wife's smile is the sunshine of life, her frown its cloud.

UNRAVELING THE OLD LOVE TIE.

A heart filled with coldness,
Killed by dissembling,
Crushed by ingratitude,
And—this is—Love.

When love words have been spoken and plighted vows exchanged, the belief is that the silken tie thus woven is to last; that time will never change it. These are loves and loves. Some are of the quality which endures; others are of so loose a warp that it soon frays out of its own volition.

In other words, the love which is born of a fleeting fancy soon filters out of the heart, as though it were an hour-glass. There are men who cannot bind their affections unto any one woman for a length of time without the tie becoming irksome to them. These are the men who deliberately plan to break away. With some sweethearts this is not so easily done. There are women whom love has so blinded that they fail to realize their lover is losing affection for them.

If he disappoints her by not coming to take her out, she makes all sorts of excuses in her heart for him. The reason he offers is a lame one, but it passes with her. He makes up his mind to break with her, surely, but slowly. He cannot make her jealous; his coldness and lack of attention to her have no effect. Even the little quarrels which he gets up she bridges over without ado.

He finds it the most difficult task of his life to unravel the old love tie; it will stretch, but never break. He wonders, as all men do, why a woman will persist in clinging to a love that has no warmth for her. Such men should have a heart-to-heart talk with a sweetheart as soon as they discover their change of attitude toward her.

It is cruel to allow her to feed her heart on hopes of marriage which he knows will never be realized. He must know the fault of the situation is entirely his own. He made love to the woman on the impulse of the moment, and proposed marriage before he was sure of himself. Unraveling a love knot is tedious work. Men who are changeable of heart usually marry at last; but the girl they wed will not stand for a long, drawn-out courtship.

They must speak quickly if they hope to win her hand. They know there's no loitering in love's path: The love in this instance is unraveled material. It centers in the marriage ring. A girl should beware of the lover who makes no effort to keep his hold on her affections.

Expedition to Define Boundary.

The Turco-Persian boundary has heretofore been one of the problematical features on the map of Asia. As far back as 1843, a mixed commission attempted to define this frontier with only partial success, and since that time repeated efforts have been made by the great powers, as well as the two countries immediately concerned, to complete the task, but the boundary has remained rather a zone of debatable territory than a definite line. Finally, in November of last year, a complete understanding on the subject was reached and a protocol was signed in Constantinople in accordance with which a commission consisting of British, Russian, Turkish and Persian delegates will undertake a survey of the boundary. This is expected to require at least eighteen months, and will doubtless be productive of interesting geographical results.—Scientific American.

Spends $6,500 a Year by Taxation—Spent by Two People

Mayor J. G. Bradshaw of St. Petersburg, who is on a visit to his brother, Col. J. N. Bradshaw of Orlando, will meet the city commissioners this afternoon and will tell them of the plan in operation in St. Petersburg which has given that city more paved streets than any other town of the same size anywhere can boast.

Mayor Bradshaw is the first mayor of St. Petersburg under the commission form of government which has been in operation just a year. St. Petersburg and Pensacola were the first cities in Florida to have commission government; both secured their charters at the last session of the legislature which became operative soon after the adjournment of the body. Orlando also secured her commission charter at the last legislature, but it did not become effective until the first of the year.

St. Petersburg has a record for civic progress which other cities are investigating. One provision is for an advertising fund derived from the levy of one mill for that purpose. This gives a fund of $6,500 a year which is spent by an advertising committee appointed by the city commission. The committee is composed of two men and one woman, and the advertising methods chosen by them are submitted to the city commission and approved before the funds are expended. St. Petersburg probably the best advertised city in Florida. No extravagant claims are made in the advertising and all the claims that are made are backed up by facts and performance.

Probably no one thing that St. Petersburg has done more to give it valuable publicity than its extensive system of paved streets. It has been the wonder of all visitors to that city. It is wonderful that a city of such size, a normal population of about 12,000, can afford to pay for so much paving. St. Petersburg has some twenty-four miles of paved streets completed and contract let for enough to make the total forty miles when completed. But the property owners pay the entire cost, and the city has only to guarantee the payment of the street paving certificates, which are issued for periods of five years bearing interest at eight per cent. There is said to be great demand among investors for these certificates and there is always a demand among property owners to secure paving. This is the plan which will be explained by Mayor Bradshaw to the city commissioners of Orlando, with the likelihood that a similar plan will be adopted in this city.—Orlando Star.

Earth's Temperature.

It has long been known that the temperature below the earth's surface increases at the rate of about one degree per hundred feet, or 50 degrees per mile. If the rate of increase were constant, the temperature at the relatively small depth of 100 miles would be above the melting point of all substances under ordinary surface conditions.

Sluggish Livers Started Pleasantly

No Need to Risk Disagreeable Dangerous Calomel Now That Dodson's Liver Tonic Takes Its Place

Plenty of people—thousands of them—have found that it is no longer necessary to risk being all knocked out by taking calomel when constipated or suffering from sluggish liver.

Nowadays Dodson's Liver Tonic takes the place of calomel.

What calomel does unpleasantly and often with danger, Dodson's Liver Tonic does for you safely and pleasantly, with no pain and no gripe. It does not interfere in any way with your regular business, habits or diet.

Calomel is a poison, a form of mercury, a mineral. Dodson's Liver Tonic is an all-vegetable liquid.

Of course, this reliable remedy has its imitators. But Dodson's Liver Tonic has been made to take the place of calomel right from the start. The label on the bottle always has said so, beginning with the first bottle sold. And it is widely known today how good Dodson's Liver Tonic is as a remedy and that Dodson never makes extravagant statements. He says that it livens the liver, overcomes constipation agreeably and makes you feel good, and if you are not satisfied completely with it L. R. Philips & Co. will hand back the purchase price (50c.) to you with a smile.

Such statements could not be made without true merit to back them up and it is true for you to prove them for yourself at no cost if not satisfied and convinced.

TRICE'S TRUMPETER

TENNESSEE'S EXPERIENCE

Pure Food and Drug Department Makes Public Alarming Facts Who creates a mountain of vice to obscure a molehill of the same size is in no wise a benefactor to society. That is exactly what prohibitory law is doing for Tennessee, as shown by the pure food and drug inspector. When prohibition first obtained foothold in the south only a half dozen or so institutions were seeking out a precarious existence by the "cure" of drug fests. Now almost every city of any importance has from one to a half dozen of such institutions well patronized. Here is what the head of the Tennessee department says of the new evil in his state, where an attempt is being made to force prohibition.

"It is terrible to contemplate the fact that my department is developing in Tennessee," says the inspector. "The anti narcotic laws, which went into effect recently are serving to cover a terrible state of affairs. Already we have issued 1,360 permits in the state, a large proportion of these to Nashville people, allowing druggists to sell them narcotics for habitual use."

"And while one-fourth of a grain twice a day is sufficient for the non-use of morphine, it requires eight grains daily for the person with the habit. Those who are on our books as having permits use an average of 351 grains a month. There are 1,107 of them already registered, and in the aggregate they use 278,618 grains a month. This costs them approximately $2,544 a month."

Dr. Brown expresses the opinion that he did not believe the permits already issued covered one-tenth of the narcotic users in the state. He estimates that the narcotics bill in Tennessee is more than $46,000 monthly. This certainly is a shocking state of affairs. Coming from a prohibition state. Wonder some of the anti-saloon newspapers allow such a state of affairs to go on without even making a mention of it. (adv.)

Mark of the Great Artist.
A really great artist can always transform the limitations of his art into valuable qualities.—Oscar Wilde.

AVOID JURY SERVICE

PUBLIC DUTY THAT IS DISLIKED BY BRITISH CITIZENS

Numerous Excuses Sometimes Advanced by Those Who Are Summoned—Woman's Plea for Expenses Allowed by Judge.

Few British citizens, indeed, have ever any burning desire to spend three or four days successively in the jury box at the high courts or at the local assizes or sessions, a writer in London Answers says.

The average jury receives such treatment and is so much annoyed by delays, criticisms, intricacies, etc., that nobody wants to serve on it.

Add to these the serious loss of time to most tradesmen, loss of actual money owing to business postponements, loss of out-of-pocket expenses in meals, fares, etc., and no one can wonder that the British citizen will make any excuse in the world to be quit of serving as a juror, if he thinks it can be managed.

In my capacity as a clerk in one of the chief London courts I come across strange excuses of this kind.

Not long ago one of the men summoned for jury in a breach of promise case appeared and claimed exemption because his wife had presented him with twins that morning, and this unexpected event had upset his mind to the trial as much as was necessary to do it justice. The court laughed heartily and the man appeared surprised at his callousness.

But he didn't get off.

"I'm stone deaf, my lord," said one eager juror, before he was sworn, evidently expecting he would be let off forthwith. So I was instructed to make him stand down for a while till we had got his panel arranged, which he did with a smile as of a conqueror.

But that smile was his undoing, for the judge had observed it, though he gave not the least indication of this.

However, when all was ready for the case to start, and whilst the man was standing expectantly near the box, his lordship, looking at me, said blandly and unconcernedly:

"Oh, just write down for that man that he may go, Mr. —, will you?"

I turned to the juror, but it was clear he had heard the judge's words, for he was hurriedly preparing to depart. And before I could explain to him the judge added quietly:

"By the by, he may as well stop. His hearing seems to be improving, and he can wait for the next case, by which time it will doubtless be all right again."

I got a bit of a shock one morning when, on calling out the name of "Francis Johnson" among the jurors, a lady in court arose and came forward. Judge, counsel and spectators stared in wonder.

"But you're a woman!" I gasped.

"Of course!" replied she tartly. "What did you imagine I was—a monkey?"

I had to explain that women were ineligible for sitting on a jury.

"Then why did you bring me up from Sidcup?" she inquired. "I have lost my time and money in coming, and all because you folks are so silly that you can't tell a woman from a man."

She had the pull of us, and the spectators grinned shockingly.

"Pay the lady's fare and excuse her," said Mr. Justice —, suavely.

This was the neatest and safest method, as his lordship knew when he caught the glint in that lady's eye.

So I paid her expenses and she left, smiling and thanking the judge profusely.

A judge is usually a capital hand at summing up human nature, especially of the feminine variety. All said and done, that is his business.

Cause and Effect.

Appropos of Easter-tide, the following little story, which has reached me, may be worth a smile. It was Easter Sunday, and the wife already had arrayed herself in her spring finery. She made a pretty picture as she stood before the mirror in her "peg top" skirt and her chic little hat of a French model. Outside the procession had begun. The air was vibrant, with church bells. There was a riot of gay costumes.

For some reason or other, Friend Husband was slow. Finally the wife became impatient. "Henry," she expostulated, tapping her feet, "can't you hurry? What's the use of my having a 100 hat unless somebody can see it?"

"Just a moment, dear," temporized the patient Henry; "just a moment, while I trim my caps."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Amazing Telephone Totals.

It is difficult to imagine our modern complicated life being carried on without telephones. There are today more than twelve million five hundred thousand telephones in actual use throughout the world and more than thirty million miles of telephone wire are used. In other words, if these wires were wound around the globe they would form a band of more than one thousand threads.

In the course of a year some twenty-three million people shout "hello" through the telephone. This is about five times the number of people traveling annually on all the railroads in the world. The longest commercial service at present in that between New York and Denver, a distance of 3,166 miles.

Go to Church and Get Acquainted With Your Clergyman; He's Not a Bad Sort

"I CAN'T be a hypocrite," was the ready excuse of one man when asked why he didn't attend church. "I know that I am not righteous and that I cannot practice what the church preaches."

There is hope for this man. He is the kind the church wants. If he is not righteous he is not happy. Let him acquire the habit of GOING TO CHURCH and he will get a broader, better and happier view of life.

We cannot all be saints. But surely a man can forget the temptations of the world for one hour or one day each week. At least for the hour or so that he is in church he can really think over the big things in life. Let him listen to the word of God and do his best. Of course there are some persons in every community who will criticize as freely the man who GOES TO CHURCH as the man who stays away.

NO MAN WHO GOES TO CHURCH CAN BE A HYPOCRITE LONG. DEEP DOWN IN HIS HEART HE KNOWS THAT HE CANNOT BELL GOD A GOLD BRICK. IF ORIGINALLY HE GOES TO CHURCH SOLELY TO MAKE A GOOD IMPRESSION WITH HIS NEIGHBORS—AND THIS IS TO BE ENCOURAGED—EVENTUALLY HE WILL FIND THAT HE IS GRADUALLY BEING LED TO THE RIGHT SORT OF LIFE. IT IS EASY TO ACQUIRE THE GO TO CHURCH HABIT. TRY IT ONE SUNDAY. WHEN ANOTHER BATH TUB ROLLS AROUND YOU'LL FEEL A PANG OF REMORSE IF YOU DON'T GO AGAIN. GET ACQUAINTED WITH YOUR CLERGYMAN. YOU'LL FIND THAT HE IS NOT A BAD SORT. TALK TO HIM, IF YOU HAVE ANY CRITICISM OF THE CHURCH OR ITS METHODS, DON'T TALK ABOUT IT ON THE OUTSIDE, BUT TELL HIM. HE'LL MEET YOU HALFWAY. NONE REALIZES MORE THAN HE HOW HARD IT IS TO WORK UP AN INTEREST IN RELIGIOUS AFFAIRS AMONG SOME PEOPLE.

But give him and his church a chance. GO TO CHURCH once! Then go again!

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Patron, Ky.—Is an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good. I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without tiring me, and am doing all my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 20 years of continuous success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

The Averages Prove the Case of The Florida Citrus Exchange

When the Florida Citrus Exchange was organized, it adopted the policy of giving each member a complete accounting for his fruit, and of publishing broadcast the averages of the prices secured by it.

Each year there have been local and general conditions which materially affected the prices. During the past season, for instance, the competition of California was keener than ever before and its advertising more extensive.

No matter what the conditions in any year and regardless of the prices that have obtained, the Exchange has told the truth about the averages secured by it. The regeneration of the citrus industry of Florida is reflected in these:

Year	Average	Year	Average
Oranges in Straight Cars	1909-10 $1.15 1910-11 1.31 1911-12 1.03 1912-13 1.90 1913-14 1.60	Grapefruit in Straight Cars	1909-10 $2.25 1910-11 1.95 1911-12 3.88 1912-13 2.61 1913-14 2.18
Tangerines in Straight Cars	1909-10 $1.31 1910-11 2.60 1911-12 1.93 1912-13 1.92 1913-14 2.51	Mixed Cars	1909-10 $1.37 1910-11 1.61 1911-12 2.22 1912-13 1.58 1913-14 1.94
TOTAL	1909-10 1.35 1910-11 2.21 1911-12 1.95 1912-13 1.84

Compare these prices with the figures at which Florida oranges and grapefruit were sold during the five years preceding the formation of the Exchange. Consider the state of the citrus industry in Florida before the Exchange came into existence, bearing in mind that the better conditions which have since obtained through its work benefit all other growers as well; conclude as you must that the Florida Citrus Exchange has made good for its neighbors and the state at large,—does it not seem to you, if you are not already affiliated with it, that the time has come when you should join?

ABOUT PEOPLE AND EVENTS

BEING A RESUME OF SANFORD HAPPENINGS
UP-TO-DATE

Thimble Party

A delightfully informal event of the week was the thimble party, Tuesday afternoon, at which Mrs. Anna Walker was hostess to her old friends and neighbors of the West Side, at her new home on Magnolia avenue. An interesting guessing game, the Bell contest was enjoyed by the guests, Mrs. Harvey Renfro and Mrs. Deane Turner tying for the prize. In the cut Mrs. Renfro won, the prize being a dainty linen handkerchief.

Miss Eva Walker was assisted by Miss Beattie Williamson in serving the delicious refreshments, ice tea, cake and sandwiches. An amusing coincidence of the afternoon was the fact that it was the third time Mrs. Deane Turner had tied for the prize in this house and always lost in the cut.

Mrs. Walker's guests were Mesdames Harvey Renfro, Deane Turner, C. R. Walker, Savage, A. D. Smith, W. H. Peters, Ensminger, Terheun and Pattie Renfro.

Supper Party

An old fashioned birthday party was given by Mrs. W. H. H. Allen on Wednesday evening, complimentary to Mr. Allen.

The supper table was dainty and attractive with its display of snowy linen, silver and glassware and bountiful spread of good things to eat, served in the good old fashioned way. The supper was savory and appetizing and consisted of fried chicken, creamed potatoes, potato salad, sliced tomatoes, hot buns, assorted pickles and preserves, ice cream and cake, to which the guests did full justice.

Those invited were Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hawkins, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Duncan and children, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Powell, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Balk and little daughter, Mrs. May Dickins, Mr. Oscar Vernon and Mr. L. P. McCuller.

Auction Bridge

The Wednesday auction bridge club was entertained by Mrs. R. E. Tolar, Wednesday afternoon. There was one table of players, Mrs. John Bennett making top score and winning the club prize, a fine deck of cards.

Vanilla-ice cream in cantaloupes was served at the close of the game.

Those present were Mrs. John Bennett, Mrs. Deane Turner, Mrs. G. Speer and Mrs. Tolar.

Fourth of July Party

Mrs. Deane Turner was the gracious hostess at a patriotic party Thursday afternoon, complimentary to her mother, Mrs. M. C. Savage.

The rooms were lovely in their decorations of flags and cut flowers artistically arranged together. Jardiniere's of red Altheas with flags waving above them were placed about the rooms; upon the piano a graceful bit of color, was a fern dish of red geraniums, flags and ferns; upon the music cabinet and other available places vases of red flowers, ferns and flags carried out the pretty conceit. Large and small flags were upon the walls and in the graceful folds of the window draperies.

A patriotic guessing game occasioned much laughter and fun. The prize, a dainty cup and saucer fell to Mrs. W. H. Peters, who guessed correctly seven out of eight answers. A pleasing feature of the afternoon was the playing of patriotic airs on the Victrola, followed by selections of Nordica, Caruso and other famous artists.

Sherbet and cake were served. Upon the plates were pretty little favours of red cherries and ferns as a memento of this happy occasion.

The hostess was assisted by Mrs. W. H. Peters, Mrs. A. D. Smith and Miss Martha Fox.

Other guests were Mrs. J. K. Mettinger, Mrs. J. C. Ensminger, Mrs. C. R. Walker, Mrs. C. E. Walker, Mrs. Anna Walker, Mrs. H. H. Hill, Mrs. W. H. Hill, Mrs. T. S. Davis, Mrs. Harvey Renfro; Mrs. Charlotte Smith, Mrs. M. C. Tolar, Mrs. R. E. Tolar, Mrs. J. D. Parker, and Mrs. Terheun.

Happy Little Orphans

A delightful feature of the "Smugglerman" matinee Wednesday afternoon was the presence of fourteen children from the Methodist Orphanage at Enterprise, as guests of the Junior Civic League, through Mrs. Gertor who extended the invitation in behalf of the League. After the matinee they were taken to the Seminole Pharmacy as guests of the Welfare Department and treated to ice cream, and then an automobile ride through the city was given them by Mayor Thrasher, Messrs. A. D. Smith and Volle Williams, who generously loaned their cars for this purpose. It was a happy set of youngsters that boarded the boat for the return trip to Enterprise, cordially expressing their appreciation of the courtesies received. Capt. Allen gave the children free transportation. They were accompanied by Mr. Lash. The committee regrets so few of the orphans responded to their invitation as they had included the sixty inmates of the home.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Pattishall and family of Geneva were the guests of Mrs. B. E. Tolar on Tuesday. They came over to see Dr. H. B. Pattishall off for Atlantic Beach, where he goes to attend a meeting of the Dental Association.

Mrs. Ed. Randall will leave for Orlando Sunday to spend three weeks, visiting among friends. Mr. Randall will visit his mother, and father in her absence. Upon Mrs. Randall's return they will move into their pretty new bungalow on First street.

Mrs. Susan Yowell and Mrs. J. D. Barnes of Orlando spent a day in the city last week, the guests of Mrs. J. K. Mettinger.

Miss Beattie Williamson is spending the week end with the Misses Lettie and Annie Lee Caldwell.

Mrs. John Merriman, who has a winter home in Eustis was the guest of Mrs. C. E. Walker several days this week, while enroute to her summer home in Meridan, Conn.

Among the many parties planning to spend the Fourth at Daytona Beach will be Mrs. D. A. Caldwell, Misses Beattie Williamson, Lettie and Annie Lee Caldwell and Mr. David Caldwell. They will motor over this afternoon and remain at the beach over Sunday.

Tall Wagging Muscles.
The wearing of tails is no longer considered fashionable, but that we did once have tails, and are prepared to grow them again should the fashion change, is shown by remains in our pelvis of tall-wagging muscles, now rudimentary and degenerative from lack of use. Wiedersheim calls attention to the remains of arteries and veins which formerly nourished the tail. Gould and Pyle's "Anomalies and Curiosities of Medicine" gives a picture of a child born with a tail. These modern tails, however, are too short for any use, unless it is to make the father stop drinking.—New York Medical Record.

A Calendar for Guest Room.
A special calendar is a splendid thing for the guest room of the country house. A small daily calendar is mounted on a heavy cardboard or leather-covered board, and below it is printed in good-sized but perfectly legible type, or gilt lettering, "Breakfast," "Luncheon," "Tea," "Dinner," "Last Mail Leaves," and any special information the hostess desires her guests to know. The hours for meals and departure of mails are plainly marked, thus saving many questions and often embarrassment on the part of the guests.

Medieval Theaters.
National theaters—of an open-air kind—at one time existed in England, at Parran Round, in Cornwall, testifies. Here we have a vast amphitheater, turfed to seat over 3,000 persons. The beginnings of British dramatic art sprang from these open-air theaters, where the medieval plays were produced—and forgotten. The sands of the Cornish coast may have covered more than one specimen of these pioneer temples of the dramatic art.

Court Sustained!
A Washington chauffeur has been sent to jail for three years for taking a joy ride in his employer's automobile without permission. Courts and public are realizing that drastic measures are necessary to break up the joy-riding practice and the stealing of motor cars for this purpose. The jail sentence is a good experiment along this line. It might be extended to take in all speeders on the public highways.

Tilted Hat for Those Who Can Wear It

THE hat worn at the much-tilted pose shown in the picture is not for every one. It takes a woman whose style is so balanced and pronounced that she can carry off this smart and rakish angle without looking in the least bold. But when the wearer is equal to the emergency there is no getting away from the fact that she has demonstrated that style is a very subtle thing. A means of expression, it is to her, by which she conveys something of herself to those who behold her, even though they may never speak to her.

Many hats of all sorts of materials have been turned out in this shape, or shapes similar to it. They cover nearly all of one side of the face and form a background against which the other side is sharply silhouetted.

The hat pictured this left side is trimmed with a very full ruffling of material, fitted in tiny side plaits and supported by an upstanding fan of-plaited maline. There is a facing of black velvet all about the underbrim. It forms a piping which outlines the brim edge of straw. The combination of natural leghorn color with the deep black of velvet is very fine. The very low crown in this hat is set into the brim with a second piping of velvet.

The trimming consists of a flat cluster of lovely pink roses shading to a deep rose color at the heart of the flowers. A half dozen half-blown roses are circled round the base of a jet spike, which complete the garnishing of a simple but striking effect of the millinery artist.

The prettiest, or rather the most satisfactory hats in this shape, are those made of black high luster straws or fabrics, trimmed with black maline and a few compact high-colored flowers, or else finished in all black, substituting fruit or ornaments for the flowers. There is something in the brilliant black of Jacquered or high-luster silk surfaces that goes with the pose for which this hat is made. And as a background for a well-modeled profile there is nothing like black velvet. The side face is set in relief like a tinted cameo.

But it is wise to consider whether the style is suited to one, before indulging in it. So there is no harm in reiterating that this hat is not for every one, but for her who can carry it off.

JULIA BOTTOMLEY.

THE NEED OF BRIDGES OVER THE ST. JOHNS

AUTOMOBILE RACES AT THE BEACH CHOKED TRAFFIC BADLY

INADEQUATE FERRIES DEMAND THE BRIDGES

PEOPLE OF TWO COUNTIES SHOULD GET TOGETHER ON PROPOSITION

The rush of automobiles at the two ferries across the St. Johns river, one at Monroe and one at the Osteen ferry last Friday and Saturday demonstrated more than words the need of one bridge and perhaps two bridges at these points.

This great rush of cars may never take place again or it may again occur during the summer, it all depending on whether the beach offers attractions to the automobilist or not.

Aside from the special occasions the regular travelers to the beach in the summer and the tourist travel in the winter is certainly entitled to something better than the ancient ferries that now attempt to carry the cars and wagons across the river.

It is estimated that at least four hundred automobiles were ferried across the river Friday and Saturday and part of the day and night they stood in long lines waiting for the ferryman to take them across. It is said for the men in charge of the ferries they certainly worked the Trojans and the automobilists have no kick coming on the service, except that it was too primitive for the present time.

With all the crowds only one accident is reported, that of the Marston car of Orlando, that was ditched on First street near the bridge in attempting to pass some other cars. It was hauled out of the ditch and proceeded on the way.

The county commissioners of Seminole county and Volusia should get together on the bridge question and erect a bridge at the Monroe ferry or at the Osteen ferry or at both.

They could make them toll bridges until they were paid for and then make them free. The great amount of travel on these roads and the coming of the brick roads should call for the erection of these bridges this fall, for only by these improvements can our section hope to become a part of the National highway.

The ancient ferries should go.

R. Y. B. U. Encampment July 12-17
The Florida B. Y. P. U. Encampment of this year will meet on the grounds of Columbia College July 12-17. An excellent program has been prepared and half a thousand delegates are expected to attend. Mr. George Hyman of our city is the manager of this Encampment. The following will attend from Sanford: George Hyman, Mrs. Hyman, John and Virgie Horne Hyman, Miss Clara Millen, Edwin Millen, Miss Ruth Stewart, Miss Minnie Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. L. Park, and possibly others.

OUR BUSINESS COLLEGE

Will Remain Open During the Summer Months With Many Scholars
Prof. G. E. Bynum of the Sanford Business College has determined to keep the college open all during the summer and has just started another large class in bookkeeping and stenography. The college has been a success from the start and having been in operation for the past two years has now demonstrated that it will prove a good investment for the promoters. There have been many successful business men and women graduated from the institution and they are now holding good positions in Sanford and other cities.

There was a rumor that the college would close during the summer months as Prof. Bynum was desirous of visiting Texas with his wife, but the large number of new scholars coming in last month made it necessary to keep the college running full time and Prof. Bynum informed The Herald today that the college would remain open all the year round and that he was well satisfied with the good showing being made. This Sanford Business College gives our boys and girls a grand opportunity of attending day or night school right at home and acquiring a good business education, something that is needed by the young men of today regardless of the nature of their business or profession. The rates of the Sanford school are very reasonable considering the excellent course of training.

Postmasters Raised

Washington, D. C., July 7.—A number of Florida postmasters received boosts in the annual readjustment which has become effective, including the following:
Tampa, from $3,500 to $3,600; Bradenton, from $2,100 to $2,300; St. Petersburg from $2,800 to $3,000; Ft. Myers, from $2,300 to $2,400; Wauchula, from $2,000 to $2,400; Daytona, from $2,500 to $2,600; Tallahassee, from $2,600 to $2,700; Plant City from $2,200 to $2,300. St. Augustine is reduced from $3,100 to $3,000. The Jacksonville postmaster's salary remains stationary at $5,000.

Readjustments are made on the postoffice receipts. Where gains are shown the salary is increased. Lessening of receipts means decrease in the salary paid.

BRICK ROAD WORK IS HELD UP THE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS DO NOT LIKE THE QUALITY OF BRICK BEING USED

At the meeting of the Board of County Commissioners yesterday it was decided that the work of laying the brick roads would be held up for a period pending the litigation on the width of some of the roads and also on account of the quality of the brick now being shipped. It was the consensus of opinion of the board yesterday that under present conditions the people would be better served if the shipment of brick could be held up until a better grade of brick can be procured and the manufacturers will be required to give a maintenance bond good for a period of five years that will bind them to replace the bad bricks that have been laid and all of these will be thrown out as they are found and good ones put in their place. The manufacturers have signified their willingness to do everything in their power to give good brick and the fact that so many poor bricks have been discovered is as disconcerting to them as the county commissioners. The defective bricks are laid to the door of the foremen in charge of the brick kilns and as they have been shipped here in large quantities and hauled to different sections of the districts the manufacturers will be at some loss, but they have agreed to meet the commissioners half way and make the brick good.

The litigation on the different widths will also be settled next month and by that time the work of making all the roads should start and it is hoped that all difficulties can be settled and our roads be built as the majority of the taxpayers want them built. The commissioners are to be commended upon their action of yesterday as the roads are built for permanency and only the best grade of brick should be used.

BIG CROWD AT BEACH WITNESSED AUTO RACES

JULY FOURTH FITTINGLY OBSERVED AT DAY- TONA BEACH

AUTOMOBILE RACES WERE FEATURED

ESTIMATED THAT A THOUS- AND CARS WERE IN ATTENDANCE

Daytona, July 6.—A record breaking summer crowd celebrated the Fourth of July at Daytona, Daytona Beach and Seabreeze beaches Saturday and far into the evening. It is estimated there were a thousand visiting cars and nearly three thousand people took part in the sports of the day.

The program was opened with beach races, held under the auspices of the Orlando Automobile Association, of which Leon B. Fort is secretary and chief promoter. On account of the condition of the beach and also the crowds which would congregate opposite the towns, the races were made from the automobile clubhouse south. It was a pretty and unusual sight to see 80 cars drawn up in symmetrical line along the shore just north of the clubhouse and the cheerful holiday crowd which waved and cheered and enjoyed the passing show whether they heard the announcements or not.

The first race, one mile, a flying start, was won by William Warren of Bradenton in a National car.

The second race, a five mile standing start, was won by Steve Hutto of Orlando, in a National car; O. P. Herndon of Sanford was second in this race in an Overland car.

The third race, twenty miles, standing start, two ten-mile laps, was also won by Steve Hutto in a National car. Mr. Herndon came in second in this in an Overland. The prizes were two small silver cups for the first and second race and a large cup for the twenty mile race. The judges were S. A. Johnson and Seth Woodruff of Orlando and Harry Thompson of Daytona.

According to the program those who wished at the close of the races went to Daytona to a grand picnic dinner on the city island with free barbecued meat, pickles, watermelons, with a ball game between the home team and Orlando to be pulled off at 8:30 o'clock. Daytona did herself proud in the way the committee handled the crowds and there was plenty of well barbecued meat and condiments for all. Just as the dinner was concluded a big rain cloud, which had been skulking around the horizon for an hour or less, precipitated in a light shower, sufficiently dampening to drive everybody from the picnic grounds.

This was rather a partial and peculiar shower. It developed into a heavy but short downpour at Seabreeze and Daytona Beach, but the north end of it stopped at the river line, and the rain at Daytona extended to Hankins' drug store, "where Volusia meets Beach." From that point north and west it was still as dry as a powder house, while the street car which came up from Orange avenue had shed its beautiful Fourth of July paper decorations, which oozed down in gory red on the sides of the car and the street. The rain was just what was needed, however, to cool the atmosphere and lay the dust.

By 8 o'clock the ball grounds were sufficiently dry for the players to match their skill in the presence of plenty of rosters for both sides. Orlando won, 10 to 6, in the game, and seeing that Orlando had been so generous in contributing to the success of the Fourth the home people were rather glad than otherwise of this.

The big features of the day came off at the Nautilus casino in a grand opening and fireworks display from 8:30 to 1 o'clock in the evening. This was a local affair in which several communities took part as well as the crowd of visitors and was the grand climax. The new dance hall was dedicated, the refreshments and fireworks were greatly enjoyed.

The day throughout, marred by one unfortunate occurrence, was most creditable to the three towns, their public spirited citizens and the excellent beach hotels, which so ably took care of such unusual crowds.

AT ENTERPRISE

The Encampment of Campfire Girls A Great Event

Rev. J. H. Cellar of Sanford spent a few days at Enterprise last week. When asked about the Campfire girls encampment he said in part:

"The idea of having the encampment was suggested by Miss Emma Tucker, an enthusiastic Christian worker of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. The encampment includes the Campfire Girls, Y. W. C. A. girls and Sunday school girls who could not afford an expensive vacation elsewhere. The inexpressiveness of the vacation, together with the Christian influence and associations are some of the best features of the encampment.

During the morning there were held, under competent leaders, Bible and Mission Study classes, both junior and senior. The afternoon and evening were given over to rest, recreation, entertainments and lectures.

I believe the idea of combining the Campfire Girls and the Bible and Mission Study classes into one conference or encampment is the best that could have been suggested to meet the needs of the girls in our churches. Both organizations are good, but each needs the other. The Campfire Girls provides for outside sports and physical development and the Bible and Mission Study classes provide for the spiritual development, but it takes the combination of the two to make a fully developed Christian girl.

The Sanford girls do not realize what they miss by not being a part of this encampment. Girls who leave the Christian religion out of their lives are missing the best things of life.

The Encampment is a great success in many ways and the management expects to make it still greater next year."

Mr. Cellar is making a special study of young people's work in all its departments in the church and takes every available opportunity to study it "as it is."

Watch the Fords Go By

Detroit, Mich., July 6.—Sales Manager N. A. Hawkins of the Ford Motor Company has some interesting figures in regard to Ford mileage. He says:

"There are now 500,000 Fords in use. Each one certainly averages no less than 20 miles daily for twelve months in the year. These 500,000 Fords therefore are travelling and showing themselves over a stretch of 10,000,000 miles each day, or 300,000,000 miles each month—or thirty-six hundred million miles each year.

This is a distance equal to 144,000 times around the world.

If these 500,000 Model T's started on a tour around the world and kept within a half mile of each other they would encircle the globe ten times.

Every city street, boulevard, parkway; every village street, every country road is lined with Fords.

So persistent is this constant and ever increasing parade that men, women and children who never knew anything about motor cars, can pick them out.

The Ford is the easiest car to think about, because it is seen most frequently."

Sell Drainage Bonds

Tallahassee, July 6.—Advertisement for the sale of a million dollar issue of Florida State bonds were prepared for publication today by the State Drainage Board.

This step was taken by authority of an act of the legislature providing for the issuance of six million dollars in bonds to complete the drainage of the Everglades.

Fans Installed

Two large fans of the best make have been installed in the Baptist church. This church has as its slogan this summer "Come to the Baptist church and keep cool." A large cooler of ice water is in easy access upon entering or leaving.

KILLED ON BEACH BY AN AUTOMOBILE

S. B. MELVIN RIDING A BICYCLE COLLIDES WITH AUTO

MCCORMICK DRIVING CRAZED WITH GRIEF

OTHER NEWS OF STATE AT LARGE COMPILED FOR OUR BUSY READERS

Daytona Beach, July 6.—S. B. Melvin of Holly Hill, about 55 years of age, was run down and killed about 8:30 Saturday night on the beach, a short distance above the automobile club house, by an Overland car, driven by R. S. McCormick of Leesburg. Mr. Melvin was riding a bicycle.

At the time of the collision the bicycle and automobile were both being driven in the same direction on the beach and completely toward them was a car carrying a brilliant electric light. Mr. Melvin was probably confused by the approaching car, and it is possible he did not hear the car coming behind him in the noise of the other car and the roar of the surf, however he turned directly across the path of the automobile, to the right, when it is usual to turn to the left, which was seen too late by the automobile driver to avoid the crash. On it came with a terrible impact, completely demolishing the back wheel of the bicycle and lifting both man and wheel on the fender. Mr. Melvin's head struck the wind shield, which cut a deep gash through his skull at the back and broke his neck. Death was instantaneous. The friend, who was with Mr. McCormick, ran for assistance, thinking to get a physician as soon as possible. Dr. B. B. Hannon was first to reach the scene and pronounced the man dead. The body was taken to the undertakers at Daytona and a search was made for his daughters to notify them. Marshal Fuquay and deputies were soon on the ground and questioned those who witnessed the accident, deciding that no inquest was necessary as the accident was declared by all to have been unavoidable.

Mr. McCormick is nearly beside himself with grief over the sad accident and has the sympathy of the community, as also have the two daughters of the deceased.

Banquet to Clergy

Bishop M. J. Curley was host Tuesday afternoon at a banquet to the visiting prelates and clergy attending the consecration. The affair was splendidly planned and proved most delightful and enjoyable. It was served at the Ocean View Hotel.

The table banquet was arranged in the customary manner. Bishop Curley being seated in the center of the table at the end of the dining hall with the prelates upon his right and left. The clergy were seated at the two long tables extending down the hall from each end of this table. Green and purple constituted the chief decorations, ferns, bougainvillea, palms and other flowers and green contributing to a most beautiful effect. A splendid menu was served and fine speeches made.—St. Augustine Record.

Father P. J. Bresnahan of this city was present at the consecration and banquet.

W. T. CURRY SURRENDERS HIMSELF LEARNING OF THE WARRANT CHARGING MURDER HE CAME BACK FROM GEORGIA

W. T. Curry voluntarily came back to Sanford last night and again surrendered himself to Sheriff Hand and is now in jail pending the preliminary hearing, this time on a charge of murder.

The case now assumes a different aspect. Last week Curry killed W. F. Bryan at the Curry turpentine still near Chuluota and claimed self defense. At the inquest the jury rendered a verdict of manslaughter and Curry was released on a bond of $18,000 furnished by Z. Spinks of Oviedo.

Meantime the relatives of the deceased had an autopsy held and discovered that the shooting must have been done from behind, as the skull showed that the bullet had entered from the back of the head and also showed that Bryan had been struck a blow on the head. A brother of the deceased immediately swore out a warrant for murder and the sheriff was instructed to serve it. Curry had gone to the home of his sister in Waycross, Ga., and the rumor spread that he had fled the country.

Hearing that the sheriff wanted him Curry came back at once and arrived here at midnight Sunday. He went to the home of Sheriff Hand and surrendered himself and is now in the county jail awaiting the preliminary trial that will decide whether he is to be allowed his liberty on bail or that he will be remanded to jail to await the term of Circuit Court that meets here in the fall.
