Women From All Over Country Are Attending Luncheon

AN ANNUAL AFFAIR

FIRST ANNIVERSARY OF ONE OF GREAT PRESIDENT TO FORM ANNUAL CELEBRATION

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—Women from all over the United States are here today to attend the luncheon commemorating the birthday of Woodrow Wilson. At the same time they were to celebrate the first anniversary of the plan to honor the former president through permanent foundation. Plans for raising one million as fund to endow periodic awards for "Meritorious service to Democracy, public welfare, liberal thought or peace through justice," announced to be making progress. Campaign for fund will begin January 16th, period between noon and one o'clock p. m. that day being designated as Wilson hour.

ALL DISCIPLINE AND NO FUN MAKES ILL A REBELLIOUS GIRL.

Has a pretty girl the right to wear pretty clothes and have a good time? Or should girls be kept strictly at home as their great grandmothers were, and dressed in plain clothes to prevent their becoming vain?

It is a pretty generally accepted psychological fact that suppressed desires are the most dangerous. For instance, the girl who never has any pretty clothes thinks twice as much about them as the girl who has them as a matter of course. The boy who is forbidden to play cards is just twice as eager to learn to play poker as the boy whose parents join him in a cheerful game in the family sitting room.

There are even folks who realize that a nation which is forbidden its beer, thinks and talks and yearns twice as much for its booze as it did in prohibition days.

The story of a girl who never had any fun or pretty clothes and who breaks away from stern discipline the very morning she attains her eighteenth birthday has been amusingly told in Bebe Daniels' latest picture, "One Wild Week," which is the main attraction at the Star Theatre today.

As the girl who tries to make up for lost time and have a little wholesome, natural fun, Miss Daniels has a delightful role, well suited to her temperament and style.

Also a good comedy.

Loans to Farmers May Be Provided Thru Land Banks

Senator Trammell Introduces Bill of Great Importance

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—Senator Park Trammell introduced in the senate two bills of great importance last week. One of his bills provides for a fund of fifty million dollars a year for loans to farmers through the federal land banks.

Senator Trammell says thousands of farmers at present are denied long time loans from the federal land banks because the funds are not available.

His other bill provides for the War Finance Corporation to have authority to make advances and loans to farmers and cattlemen through banks until July 1, 1923, instead of having this relief to agricultural interest terminated in 1922 as provided by the present law. Under the law which Senator Trammell seeks to have extended for one year longer the citrus fruit and cattle industry of Florida have had advances of large sums made to them through Florida banks by the War Finance Corporation. With the law extended for one year beyond its present life Florida will no doubt receive further substantial aid.

FRANCE WILL OPPOSE HINTS AT REDUCTION— OPPOSITION TO CONFERENCE

Seem to Think France Must Have More Navy Than Germany

PARIS, Dec. 28.—France's determination to have a powerful fleet and objections to the limitation efforts of the Washington conference were vigorously voiced in the Senate yesterday during a discussion of the marine section of the government's budget.

Senator Henri Berenger, who reported the marine budget, said France was at a decisive turning point. "Is France still independent in her navy as in her army?" he asked. "Has the old principle of sovereignty been sacrificed somewhat in those conferences wherein we have been promised a sort of international happiness?" Senator de Kerguezec defended the submarine as an essential weapon of defense, but wished it to be confined to military uses instead of being applied to torpedoing commerce. "At the Washington conference," he said "we were surprised to see the French delegation demand 350,000 tons of capital ships when France does not desire to carry war into foreign waters. France desires no imperialism, but if we found De Bon's proposal strange there are, nevertheless, limitations which we cannot accept."

Preceding the debate over the naval situation, the naval commission had published a resolution urging the minister of marine to increase the number of submarines so as to adequately defend the coast line, in view of the present weakness of the navy, which was stressed during the discussion in the senate.

The concluding paragraph of the naval commission's resolution was as follows: "One cannot conceive, therefore, that France's efforts in this direction should be obstructed or limited. It is a question of national independence and of the right of legitimate defense that is at stake."

RAILROADS WANTED CONTINUE TO HOLD OFF STATE LAW INTERSTATE COMMERCE CONTROL

LaFollette Charges Secret Meeting in Washington With Farmers

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—Charges without an explanation of its source were made by Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin in a formal statement issued yesterday, that representatives of the railroads and of the coal, steel, and lumber interests at a "secret" meeting held in Washington December 9th attempted to obtain from farm organization leaders and did obtain from some such leaders adherence to an agreement not to push legislation to repeal the commonly called guaranty section of the transportation act and restore state control of state rates.

The Wisconsin senator made his charges in elaborating on his assertion "that a plan is now afoot to perpetuate the fundamental provisions of the transportation act, embodied in section 15-A (The Guaranty section of which a portion expires next March 1) and to render permanent the intolerable conditions which have made the transportation system for the past two years an instrument for the exploitation of the American people."

In substantiation of his charges Mr. LaFollette made public what he described as "a brief report of the action of the conference" held here December 9, which he branded "as a conspiracy to betray not only the farmers but the consuming and the producing millions of the nation. This report was made public by the senator without an explanation of its source as follows:

"On December 9, a secret meeting was held in Washington at which high officials of the railroads, the coal and steel and lumber interests attempted to enlist the farmers in an agreement whereby all agitation by the farm interests for repeal of section 15-A for the restoration of state control over intrastate rates should cease.

"The great special interests represented at this conference were successful in obtaining the consent of certain of the farm representatives to such an agreement.

"This conference was participated in by the special committee representing the railway executives, of which Mr. Attorney of the Pennsylvania railroad was chairman. There had been a previous conference in New York September 21, of which J. R.

CHICAGO, Dec. 27.—"We have never entered into an agreement with the railroads to cease agitating anything," the American Farm Bureau Federation said in a statement yesterday, in reply to the statement issued by Senator LaFollette at Washington. Looks Like Staple Crops Will Bring Good Prices This Year

NO BOLL WEEVIL

TO GET IN WHERE THE SEED IS GOOD AND T. A. BRUMLEY WILL LOOK AFTER THE GINNING.

The Sanford section, and all over Seminole county, will plant some cotton this spring and already many acres are being broken up in and around Longwood, Markham and other parts of the county for this staple crop. Cotton was grown here several years ago but the boll weevil arrived and the price dropped and the farmers of Seminole quit raising it for awhile.

L. A. Brumley arranged a big gin and plant on his place on Celery avenue, and since that time there has been but little doing in the cotton line.

However, the boll weevil is not here now and since the farmers of this county do not need to depend upon the cotton crop they can safely plant a big acreage from time to time and then rest up on the cotton crop and plant other crops, making good both ways. The boll weevil will not be here this year and there will be several hundred acres planted and ginned at the Brumley gin. There are many idle acres and many idle men and there will be no trouble this spring to get all the labor needed.

C. W. Entzinger, W. C. Satcher and several others of Longwood will plant many acres of cotton. L. F. Hagan of Markham will plant at least one hundred acres. L. A. Brumley of Celery avenue will plant about one hundred acres and several other farmers have expressed a willingness to plant from fifty to one hundred acres.

L. A. Brumley can furnish the seed that is strictly from a section where there has never been any boll weevil and will give the farmers all the information they want in regard to the planting of cotton in this section. It looks as though it would be a good crop and with gins and a market established here it should be a good crop for men who are wanting to put in a staple crop of some sort.

It also looks as though cotton would bring a good price this year, as many planters in the big cotton sections of Georgia and Alabama will not plant a big acreage this year on account of the boll weevil and for other good and sufficient reasons and Seminole county can and will get in to the game with good chances of making money.

MAN SHOT TO DEATH BY MOB IN KEY WEST

KEY WEST, Dec. 27.—Manual Head, who, barricaded in the cupola of a house here Sunday stood off a mob of armed Key West citizens after he had shot and killed William H. Decker, was taken from the county jail by another crowd and riddled with bullets Tuesday.

Marines from the Key West navy yard guarded the county jail after Head's capture until the mob which formed after Decker's murder broke up. They gave way shortly after 2 a. m. to deputies who patrolled outside the jail. Word that the marines had been relieved was passed about and the crowd gathered again. Approaching the jail, one of the leaders called for Sheriff Curry and when he opened the door a dozen men forced their way in, overpowering him and the jailer, obtained the keys to Head's cell and made for their victim. Head was shot twice before being taken away. He was then placed in an automobile and taken far out on a country road near old Fort Martello and there strung to a telephone pole. Twenty-two bullet wounds were found in the body when it was cut down.

GAINESVILLE, Dec. 23.—The first quota of patients from the state hospital for the insane at Chattahoochee have arrived here and have been quartered at the Florida farm colony for the epileptic and feeble minded.

Florida is the forty-third state to make provision for its epileptics and feeble-minded citizens and establishment of the colony apparently resulted more from a popular demand than the work of any individuals or organizations.

The institution was opened November 1 and more than 100 patients already have been received.

The purposes of the colony as set forth in the legislative act providing for its establishment are the providing of an asylum for the care and protection of the epileptic and feeble-minded; a school for education and training; a colony for the segregation and employment of such persons.

Rather quiet after the storm.

This seems to be a dancing week. One every night.

"Cream Clears Up a Stuffed Head," says medicine ad in daily papers. Not some of the stuffed heads we saw yesterday.

Wall Street is not worrying about synthetic gold. Why should Wall Street worry about filthy lucre or new lucre or any kind of lucre.

Tampa Tribune says that some one at the police station refused to give Tampa police headquarters any information or satisfaction over the phone about a stolen automobile. This statement should be investigated.

Business starts right up after Christmas just as if nothing had happened. There is much building to do around the city and in the business portion. Sanford needs a dozen or more smaller store rooms for many purposes.

This is the time to stimulate business and keep the trade coming. The holiday season is over but there are several winter months before us, and it looks like they will be cold months. Good time to sell your winter stuff now. Use The Daily Herald—it gets the customers.

The Daily Herald will be taken over to Enterprise every afternoon commencing the first of January. We have a good correspondent over there and Enterprise people will get their daily paper every evening almost as soon as Sanford people. This through the courtesy of Capt. Atkinson, that bluff old son dog who is doing so much for Sanford with his fine new boat.

BUMPING THE TOURISTS.

So many tourist towns last winter grabbed everything the tourists had because they could get away with it and they are now feeling the effects of it, because the tourists are passing them by on the other side. You can grab off anything one time, but never again. You cannot help either yourself or your town by bumping the visitors. Some of them may be cranky and ask for more than their per diem entitles them, but usually human nature is the same the world over and no one likes to feel that he or she is being robbed whether it be by Jesse James or by Jesse in the latter day role of a hotel proprietor. Sanford, not being in the strictly tourist class made a reasonable rate for hotel accommodations last year and had a fair share of the tourist trade, and they were satisfied with the accommodations and the price. They are coming back this year and bringing their friends with them for they feel that while Sanford may not offer them the varied attractions of a real tourist town it offers all the hunting and fishing and good roads and good accommodations and will soon be able to offer them a fine country club and golf links. We have a good hunt for them and we have the same climate that some tourist towns have and a much better climate than many of them can offer. And when our new tourist hotel is built we will be able to offer them anything they want, but they have never been gouged and we might add that they will not be gouged in Sanford. The Lakeland Telegram is only one of the many Florida papers taking up this phase of the case in the following editorial on the subject:

"In a timely and cautiously worded editorial the Miami Herald discusses the slump in tourist traffic and warns the people that, if they wish the tide to return to its old time volume, the practice of profiteering in rents must cease.

Miami is not the only city in Florida which has thus cut down one of its most reliable sources of income. At least one west coast town, which we shall not name, but which is easily reached by boat from Tampa, is said to be suffering a good deal more than it is willing to admit from the same cause.

Landlords got the fever. All the traffic would bear was their motto. "Others are doing it, why shouldn't we?" was their excuse. And they calmly ignored the fact that the ubiquitous tourist, discussing his trip in a hundred different places, carried the news far and wide and created in an amazing brief space of time, the impression that such and such a place was a rich man's town, didn't want middle-class visitors, and was running a "regular skin game."

Lakeland has suffered less, perhaps, than any other large town in the state from that cause. Its reputation is still favorable. Nevertheless, it is bound to share with the real culprits a certain amount of the criticism.

There is just one sensible thing to do, and that is to show such a spirit of friendliness and fairness that, no matter what they think of other places, those who come to Lakeland will go away with kind feelings in their hearts and ready to defend the place against any and all aspersions."

ALL WATER SHIPPING.

West Florida should take nothing for granted in the matter of reduction in railroad rates, either passenger or freight. Reduction will only be made as the railroads are driven to it by law or by the laws of supply and demand. Railroad officials are now touring the country, not so much with a view of determining what is the matter with railroads as to ascertain just how determined the people are, and how far they will go in their demands for lower rates.

No one knows better than these railroad officials what and where the trouble is. Through public service commissions, state and nationally, they have been enabled to build up rates to an extent never before experienced. Through well directed propaganda they had hoped to get by with it. But with all their effort, the people were not so fooled, and railroad companies soon found their business slipping away from them. Now they are making some pretenses at remedial adjustment. Relief will only come when the shippers of the country find a way of getting along without the railroads.

All water shipment from Florida points seems feasible and when this is accomplished, railroads will find means of reducing their rates. Not before. The Miami Steamship company, in reducing rates fifty per cent between that city and Jacksonville, on fruits and vegetables, will enable the growers of that section to market their products at a profit. It may be he means, too, of the East Coast railroad reducing freight rates so that they will be fair to shippers. West Florida will need the competing rates of water shipping before it will get any permanent relief.

No one will want to beat the railroad companies down to ruin but to all interests. That would be detrimental to all interests. But railroad organization has been a matter of stock jobbing in the past, whereby roads are capitalized and bonded from three to five times their actual cost, and then in order to keep these stocks and bonds on the market at figures that made them attractive to investors, they had to show large earnings powers. This they did at the expense of the public. These stock jobbers have made immense fortunes without the investment of a dollar. The ability to manipulate was the investment they put in to the business. They knew how to organize capital and market securities. This was their part in railroad building. In operation they were equally skillful, for they managed by a system of interlocking directors to shift business and accounts to suit circumstances, and by overlapping of official titles, they managed to keep all companies loaded down with high salaried men who did not perform any real duty. It is a well known fact that "pay roll" men operated the railroads. The big chiefs find the men who can do the practical operating and these are hired. They are simply employees. The heads who wear the titles and draw the magnificent salaries know very little about the actual operations. Many of them are in Europe a large portion of the time. These extra high salaries with no services rendered is one of the loads that railroad stocks are carrying and for which the people are asked to put up the cash in high freight and passenger rates.

The water shipping idea should not be permitted to be silenced by any outside influence. Water shipping for this locality will be the saving clause to farming and fruit culture. Our people should stand solidly together on this subject.—Reporter-Star.

IS YOUR BUDGET READY?

It is time to make up the budget for 1922. That the budget for 1922 did not work at all is no reason for not making this one, but the more reason for it.

There is one precious truth to be remembered. If the income is not fixed, do not take as a basis the largest sum the family is likely to have. Take the lowest figure. Don't gamble in futures. Then if more money pours in than you have counted on, there will be "a grand glorious feeling."

If the income is nil right now, budget anyhow. Make an estimate pared to the core and then try it out when the money comes in again. And don't think you can't budget if you have debts. Allow a certain sum every month to be paid on back bills and don't run any new ones, and you'll come up to prosperity hand-over-hand.

A banking house suggests the following as fair percentages: Food, 25 per cent; shelter, 20 per cent; operating expenses, light, heat, etc., 15 per cent; clothing 20 per cent; advancement, 20 per cent. In the latter are included savings, insurance, physician, education, church and benevolence, and the like. If the schedule doesn't fit, it can be modified to suit your needs.—Tampa Tribune.

SANFORD POSTOFFICE HANDLED HEAVY TRAFFIC IN EFFICIENT MANNER

Carl P. M. Elder, our efficient postmaster and his able corps of assistants are to be congratulated upon their handling of a big Christmas business. The postmaster and his assistants worked day and night to relieve the congestion and everything worked as smooth as glass all the week, and while the crowds had to stand in line at times to get their mail, there was no delay and everyone was satisfied. The postoffice has already outgrown its quarters and Postmaster Elder knows how to get the proper results even in a crowded area and the way he handled the heavy holiday business is a matter for congratulation to him and his clerks. Sanford can well be proud of the efficient force at the postoffice.
