

AROUND THE CLOCK

By LARRY VERSHEL

A funny thing happened on the way to the Holy Land . . . I stumbled on a sign that read "Site of Circuoland."

Last week the city's Industrial Board submitted a preliminary budget of $25,722 . . . Chop, Chop went Pete Knowles' ax . . . And it came out $14,968. . . I won't go into all the gory details. . . Travel expense was cut in half.

Sanford Junior High renovation has been called off. Supt. of Schools R. T. Milwee said they will go into an extended day program in the fall.

Speaking of Milwee . . . He won't wait until Lettler comes to trial. Civil case pending.

Rep. John Ducker of the Seminole-Orange delegation has been offered the post of Comptroller General in the state office. If he accepts, does that mean we'll have another election?

You can forget the "Holy Land" tourist attraction . . . The C of C pigeon-holed it. . . And unless an "angel" (nothing to do with Holy Land) with an unfettered bankroll and looking for a BIG tax write-off appears on the scene, the financing would get off the ground with all the flight characteristics of a lead balloon.

It was a hawk—not a sparrow—on my beat that told me that any appeal of a recent police officer dismissal would be "ill advised." The subsequent hearing would bring to public attention some not-so-complimentary facts that now are "raining quietly." Action taken by officials can be readily substantiated, the hawk told me, and the glare of the spotlight of publicity would do NO one any good, especially the one calling for the hearing.

Took a brief tour through the municipal cemetery . . . Pretty well kept up.

It should be, the head man gets $8,500 and some nine men take care of it as well as city parks.

Sanford Police Lt. Earl Hourquarries in critical condition at Orange Memorial Hospital.

More woes out at Academy Manor . . . Broken sewer lines. It will take $1,500 to repair.

County authorities have pointed out on many occasions the fact that real estate developers were NOT providing roads and utilities for buyers. The relatively lower costs of the property took this "omission" into consideration. . . Some day SOMEBODY would want the roads, etc. . . Who would provide them? NOT the other taxpayers of the county through county constructed facilities — but the property owners.

Apparently some buyers didn't get the message, for recently there was a group before the County Commissioners asking that the county build roads in the Rolling Hills section of the county.

Now that the County blew over $5,000 on job classifications I wonder what they are planning next?

Well, Tom Pratt wraps up his term as South Seminole Jaycee President tonight. It's been quite a year for our Tom . . . and quite a year for our taxpayers.

Incumbent Democrat office holders are not one bit assertive about their opinions on their party committee and its "work." . . . They are emphatic that "there'll be some changes made."

With voter registrations on the Demo side outnumbering the GOP listing by six to one, they don't intend to see committee lassitude, indifference and laziness wreck their chances of being re-elected. That's what they said.

And election is two years away? . . . Gonna be a LONG campaign, isn't it?

'Record' Taxes Collected

Taxes collected in Seminole County soared over the $4.5 million mark today as a record collection was reported by Troy Ray, tax collector.

The best percentage of collections in the history of the county at 96.7 per cent, saw $4,500,000 come into the county's coffers of the $4,761,565.53 to be collected.

Delinquent taxes to be advertised hit a low mark of less than five per cent.

Taxes are still being accepted at both the courthouse and branch offices of the tax collector.

Meanwhile the City of Sanford has collected more than 93 per cent of its taxroll, both personal property and ad valorem taxes, to date.

A total of $609,097 of the $649,119 has been collected in the city.

A one per cent penalty per month will be charged by the city on delinquent taxes while the county will charge three percent plus cost of advertising on real property tax and one per cent plus advertising on tangible and intangible taxes which are delinquent.

College Plan Is State Bound

A revised master plan for Seminole Junior College has been completed and will be sent to Tallahassee today, School Administrative Assistant Walter Teague reported.

Architect John Burton is expected to present the plan to State Education officials for their okay with preliminary working plans to be ready by June 30.

It is expected that first phase construction of the college will start during the early part of 1968.

The first phase will accommodate some 2,850 students and cost $4,500,000. As growth increases another $8,000,000 phase will be added.

The first phase will be handled only by state and federal funds. First phase construction will include vocational facilities, the administration, science, learning resources center and utilities building.

The main facility in the first phase will be the Learning Resource Building.

Early Trial In C Of C Suit

Denial of the unconstitutionality of county appropriations made to the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce was made by Chamber attorneys in answers filed in the office of the County Clerk.

Attorneys Kenneth McIntosh and C. Vernon Mize in answer to a lawsuit brought by Dr. Leonard Munson charging unconstitutionality of the appropriations, in effect brought the matter to issue.

Mize told The Herald today he and McIntosh will ask for an early trial in the suit.

Assigned to hear the suit is Circuit Judge Tom Waddell. However, it is expected the hearing will go on to other judges to all with him as a judge in the case.

Named as defendants in the lawsuit are the County Commission and the Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Munson according to the complaint brought the suit to test the constitutionality of annual appropriations by the county for private organizations serving public needs.

Representing Dr. Munson is Albert N. Pitts.

Regarding the other suits currently in the courts against the county, hearing will probably be scheduled next week on the county's motion to dismiss the complaint of south side residents of Sand Lake Road.

The residents filed an injunction suit following the county's decision to realign the road in the center of its recorded right-of-way. The county claims the road has deviated over the County Seeks 'Stricter' Littering Enforcement

Sheriff J. L. Hobby will be urged to enforce more strictly the law concerning littering and dumping of trash upon the county rights-of-way at the meeting of the County Commission scheduled for 9 a.m. Tuesday.

The problem of the littering has been brought to the county's attention numerous times with estimates of over $10,000 annually heard as the cost of cleaning up the litter.

In other business, the board will consider a request that an advance sign be erected by county property for Seminole Junior College.

Public hearings are scheduled for 11 a.m. on rezoning from R-1 to agriculture in Lake Brantley Isles; and vacating and abandoning portions of Powell, Bank, Pearl and Irving Streets and portions of Adair, Pressway and Bode Avenues for Florida Development Company.

No Hope Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chances for a settlement that would head off a strike pitting the Teamsters Union against the nation's trucking industry were less than promising today.

THE DRIVERS of these two cars were injured in a crash Friday night at French Ave. and Santa Barbara Drive. A car operated by Oliver McDonald of NAS collided with a vehicle driven by Lewis C. Alexander of 305 Magnolia. McDonald was charged with failure to have vehicle under control. Both cars were a total wreck. Both drivers were treated for cuts and bruises at Seminole Memorial Hospital. Medical Center Use OK Denied

J. R. Grant, member of the Board of Trustees of the Longwood Medical Center, today denied reports approval has been given to the city for use of part of the building for a police office.

Mayor A. R. Lormann in an interview with The Herald Friday reported the city is considering using a portion of the building for a police station.

The building was constructed on city property on Wilma Street in the late 1950's and financed through voluntary donations and the sale of thousands of pies and cakes, dinners and rummage auctions.

Grant said, "It was built for the purpose of a medical building at no cost to the city."

Grant reported that while he personally has been contacted by city officials for his consent for use of the building by the city, no decision has been made. "I'm not sure whether the Board of Trustees will or will not approve the city's use of the building. We won't know until the trustees meet," Grant declared.

H. S. (Lew) Arnold, chairman of the board, stated, "A meeting of the board will be called as soon as all members are available."

Trustees other than Grant and Arnold include L. L. Cox, Ralph Hammond and Maurice Rudolph.

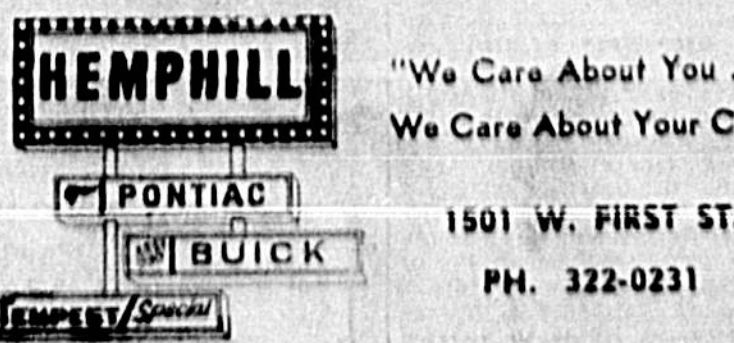

However, it is expected the board will not approve the use by the city. It also is expected the city will make use of the building with or without the trustee's approval since it is built on city property.

The building currently is being used by the Seminole County Health Department for medical care for indigents. No rent is charged but the county does keep the building in repair and insures it.

GOP 'Muscle' Felt In Legislature

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Florida legislators, many of whom have moved to the GOP, continued today on the eve of a historic 1967 re-election session that will see the two-party system at work as never before in this state.

Even as lawmakers opened their offices and finished last minute details, their leaders worked on committee assignments and Gov. Claude Kirk pondered his first annual state-of-the-state message.

"The six weeks of politicking are over. It's good to get on with the business of the state of Florida," said Rep. Murray Dubbin, veteran Miami Democrat, one of the early arrivals.

Scores of major issues affecting Floridians for years to come will be before the legislators, including education, taxation, constitutional revision, a proposal to move the capital, local government and many others.

Republicans will have more muscle in the traditionally Democratic-dominated Legislature than they've had since Reconstruction days. Veteran observers say that last week's special election was unprecedented in that it was the first free election firmly establishing Florida as a two-party state.

The GOP sends 20 members into the 40-member Senate and 30 representatives into the 119-member House.

Meanwhile, Republican Gov. Kirk is preparing for his speech, which he delivers at 7 p.m. EST Tuesday and a GOP source told the Associated Press the executive will make a "very strong pitch" for the Legislature to take up constitutional revision first. Both House and Senate leaders have rejected the idea.

The 1967 Legislature, reappointed by federal court under a "one-man, one vote" edict, is unbalanced with 27 vestiges of the old rural crop-gang around when the chambers opened Tuesday.

The lawmakers have just completed a six-week campaign which took them through one special primary—in some cases, two—and last Tuesday's special election.

A breakdown of the membership shows there are 11 freshman senators, 12 in House, there are 22 persons regarded as "freshmen-freshmen," with no legislative experience in Tallahassee. There are 86 "senior freshmen"—those who attended the special organization of the session last year and January's party session.

Some one veterans return to the House.

Dubbin, in an interview, said he feels that the "inexperience" tag put on the Legislature is not justified. He said most of the lawmakers are well prepared.

"Those elected in November are the best educated, best prepared group of freshmen the state of Florida has ever seen," Dubbin said.

He said that the special court ordered elections, however, which saw some of his veteran colleagues, many of whom were veterans, "prevented the fulfillment of plans to have the best prepared Legislature that Florida has ever seen."

Dubbin said that committee work came to a "screeching halt" and bills that should be ready for introduction are not.

Dubbin is chairman of the commerce committee.

There was some legislative activity over the weekend. The committee on governmental reorganization and efficiency approved a two-day meeting Sunday in the capital, making a final review of proposed legislation. House Speaker Ralph Turinton made several committee assignments Sunday night, filling gaps left when some of his veterans suffered election setbacks.

He moved Rep. Lynnwood Arnold of Jacksonville from chairmanship of the appointment committee on public roads, which had been directed by Rep. James H. Pruitt of Eau Gallie.

Coppolino's Second Trial Opens Today

NAPLES, Fla. (AP) — Whether a drug could be detected a year after a death may be the crux of Dr. Carl Coppolino's murder trial starting today.

Choice of a jury — expected to be exhaustive — was the first order of business. The anesthesiologist is charged with first degree murder in the death of his first wife.

Defense attorney F. Lee Bailey and prosecutor Frank Schaub have 60 prospective jurors to choose from in selecting a panel of 12 plus two alternates.

The case was shifted from Sarasota, where Carmela Coppolino, 32, died in her bed Aug. 20, 1965, after the defense and prosecution agreed that news coverage of the case made it unlikely that an unbiased jury could be seated there.

The trial will be the second in four months for Coppolino, 34, on a first-degree murder charge.

He was acquitted in Freehold, N. J., last December in the 1962 slaying of William Farmer, a former neighbor.

Bailey also was the defense attorney there.

Indictments in the two states followed a statement by Sarasota authorities by Farmer's widow, Marjorie, 52, that she was suspicious of the causes of both deaths.

The bodies were exhumed for autopsy.

A grand jury charged that Coppolino murdered his wife with an injection of a drug, thalidomide, which paralyzed her.

Mrs. Farmer, who moved to Sarasota near the Coppolinos after her husband's death, testified in New Jersey that she and Coppolino had been lovers.

She went to authorities soon after Coppolino took his new wife to two months of Carmela's death.

Defense and prosecution will seek medical testimony of experts at the presence of the drug in Carmela's body and whether it could be detected after death.

Schaub intends to call as witnesses Mrs. Farmer and Dr. Milton Heber, chief medical examiner for New York City who examined both parts of the victim.

Bailey, 53, is expected to call experts to testify as to the use of a radioactive method of tracing the drug by counting carbon 14 in the victim's system.

LBJ Woos Latin Diplomats

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's weekend wooing of Latin diplomats in his native Texas seems to have achieved the hemisphere summit or its limited goal—generating increased goodwill for the United States.

Comments from the President's guests—28 Latin-American envoys and their leaders—were enthusiastic.

"A thrill to come here," said Dr. Rodrigo Jacome, ambassador from Ecuador to the Organization of American States. He termed it a "well-organized weekend" and voiced only one regret: that he did not have more time for sightseeing and other tourist-type activities.

Mrs. Cole Pastore, wife of the ambassador from Peru and sister of that country's president, said she had a "most unblemished weekend I've ever had."

The ambassadors said in a statement that Johnson's initiative in inviting them to the ranch was of "special significance," coming near the April 22-24 meeting of American chiefs of state Punta del Este, Uruguay.

They predicted the forthcoming conference would contribute to the deepening and speeding of continental solidarity.

The ambassadors said that from the moment of their arrival to the moment of departure each had a complete sensation that their visit was like being in their own homes.

Some of the diplomats were:

Stetson Eases Tuition For Seminole Students

A new tuition scholarship at Stetson University has been announced for students of Volusia, Lake, Seminole and Orange Counties, according to President J. Olin Edmunds.

The scholarship will provide students who are returning to Stetson as undergraduates or entering as freshmen in junior college transfers on a full-time basis a reduction of up to 20 per cent on tuition costs.

The new plan will take effect in the fall of 1967.

According to Dr. Edmunds, Volusia county students who do not reside on campus will be awarded a $30 tuition grant. Students from Lake, Seminole and Orange counties will be entitled to $200 in tuition grants. Any student from these four counties who chooses to reside on campus will be awarded a $10 tuition grant. Residence will be based on the student's permanent residence at the time of admission.

To be eligible for the new scholarship, a student must apply through their high school or junior college guidance counselor. Application forms and more will be available in the respective guidance offices or at the Stetson admissions office for returning students.

"We are extremely pleased to announce this new scholarship for our friends in the nearby counties," Dr. Edmunds said. "It will make the educational opportunities of Stetson available to more of the students who live near our DeLand campus and who have the ability to meet our admission requirements."

"Stetson has long been considering a means of concentrating more students who live near our campus and would like to attend Stetson while living at home," Gary Meadows, director of admissions, said. "The availability of this scholarship is a step in that direction."

Sen. Pope Girds To Fight Kirk

DAYTONA BEACH (AP) — State Senate President Verle Pope, against whom Gov. Claude Kirk campaigned in challenging the governor on the battle ground of taxation.

Kirk is on record as pledging relief for property taxpayers. He sought the governorship on a platform that included no new taxes. Now Pope proposes removal of "sacred cow" exemptions in the three per cent state sales tax.

Pope said over the weekend that extending the sales tax to all purchases except medicine is necessary to provide property tax relief and meet the state's needs.

He told the Associated Press Association of Florida he favors removal of the exemptions if the money is used to give relief for ad valorem taxes and to raise the present $5,000 homestead exemption to $10,000 for home owners over 65.

"Ad valorem taxes can no longer support all the needs of local government," Pope said.

The veteran St. Johns County legislator said "there are many things in the state's tax structure which have been almost too friendly" to some interests. He said the present law limits to $5,000 the sales tax that can be levied on sale of heavy equipment, even though the purchase might involve millions of dollars.

Pope, a Democrat, deviated to the newspaper executives Republican Gov. Kirk's effort before the special state election to bring about his defeat for reelection by GOP nominee Ralph Elliott.

DAYTONA BEACH (AP) — The interchange here at Interstate roads 4 and 95 now is an official part of the highway system serving Florida and other states.

Dedication of the interchange Friday was the first official act of Florida's first lady, Mrs. Claude Kirk. She snipped a ribbon across the span as the governor seated it for her.

Kirk said $2.1 billion has been earmarked for completion of 195 missing links through Volusia, Brevard and Indian River Counties.

Sebastian Canal Bids Called

Army Engineers in Jacksonville today called for bids to be opened May 4 for excavation of the Sebastian Canal and for two water control structures.

The Upper St. Johns River flood control project is a series of levees, floodways, spillways and canals extending a distance of 90 miles from below Lake Weir to Lake Harney in the vicinity of the U. S. 1 bridge between the bridge and the Sebastian River between those two points, Colonel Tabb said.

The bottom width of Canal 34 on this section of work will be the same as the previous contract—300 feet and a depth of about 14 feet. Excavated material in the vicinity of the U. S. 1 bridge will be placed at the southeast corner of the bridge adjacent to the highway. Three spoil areas are to be used for the westerly portion of the work.

Successful bidder on the contract will be required to finish the job within 315 calendar days, according to Army Engineers.

Army Engineers will open bids in Jacksonville on April 25 for lease of dredging equipment to remove shoals from the eastern end of the Okeechobee Waterway.

Tabb said the contract calls for removal of one or more shoals between St. Lucie Lock and Street at Seawall Point. Present water depth in the vicinity of Seawall Point is only six feet in line of the project. Dredging to a depth of eight feet, Colonel Tabb said additional surveys of the waterway would be required under way in order to pinpoint other shoals in the same area which would be dredged at the same time.

Army Engineers will direct the removal of the shoals on a 24-hour-a-day basis until the work is completed.

Baker Defies The Southern Senator Tradition

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The stereotype of a southern senator still is of a blustering orator who stands for good Bourbon and southern sovereignty and has a name which sounds something like Winigate P. Phog-horn.

Fred Allen, remember, used to trip down Allen's Alley for chats with a Senator Claghorn. Red Skelton has the caricature of a San Bernardino, the gray-coated politician who begins speeches, "Mah friends, and yo' arh mah friends, 'cause nobody's gonna tell me who mah friends arh."

The image made Howard Baker laugh. He is the new senator from Tennessee, a moderate Republican no less. He chuckles at occasional Yankee who ask his stand on civil rights in one breath and make

SEN. HOWARD BAKER, shown here with personal secretary Peter Barkling, is one of the young men on the move in Washington. Although very much his own man, Baker has the added asset of being Sen. Everett Dirksen's son-in-law.

Photography Display Shown At Mansion

The collection of photography by Constantine and Ralph Wark of St. Augustine, a sister and brother team of amateur photographers who have spent a large portion of their lives in Europe, will be on display through April in the south gallery of the Delaney Mansion House.

The collection consists of a selection of black and white, and color prints, taken in Italy, England, France and Hungary, which are said to have the quality of fine engravings. Also included are many color prints, approximately seven by 10 inches, taken throughout Spain, and large color photos taken in St. Augustine. Among those from St. Augustine is one showing the raising of the steel cross at the Mission de Nombre de Dios.

Wark is honorary curator of ceremonies of the Cummer Gallery, Goldenrod Wing in Jacksonville. Both brother and sister are patrons of the fine arts and recently presented a $1 million collection of Masterpieces to the Cummer Gallery.

Honored guest at the meeting were K. L. Clark, of Harracks 1196, Ames, Iowa, and Quartermaster Lynn S. Nalan, Harracks 1247, Winter Garden.

It was reported that membership of the local group now stands at 80. April 6 will be the 50th anniversary of the starting of World War I and all members are urged to display their flags on that date.

All flags of the barracks were reported mounted, with appreciation expressed to Ben Evans who prepared the poles.

In meeting of the Auxiliary Unit, Molly Nalin, seventh district president, made the annual inspection and reported the unit to be in excellent condition with members cooperative and attentive.

Guest was Mrs. Mary Buck of Winter Park.

It was announced a "day of service" will be held April 20 at the home of Florentine Stover. Contributions of articles made will be donated to veterans hospitals and other charitable institutions.

A social hour was held after the meeting with the auxiliary serving coffee and doughnuts.

Fun games, under the direction of Grace Lash, were announced for the April meeting.

Geneva Campaigns To Aid Stricken Girl

By MRS. JOS. E. MATHIEUX

Several weeks ago it was my privilege to witness the colossal task undertaken by the youth of my church and I was amazed to see how well each one involved performed the task meted out to him to make Youth Week a most memorable occasion.

Now, I am awed to learn that one of the young women of this group and a lifelong member of the small village of Geneva, Lucille Baxter, is a patient at Winter Park Memorial Hospital and has been confined to her bed for four weeks. Yes, confined!

You see, Lucille has fallen victim to a "virus of the spine" and has become paralyzed. Her vision is impaired and she is in pain almost constantly. Therapy treatments, hospital bills, medications and the small extras that make her existence in Winter Park Memorial bearable are costly!

Since Lucille's confinement, in the hospital she has been unable to help herself financially and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Baxter, of Geneva, are unable to render any assistance at this time other than a home. The Baxters are on old age assistance and because of their own falling health, have been unable to work even though Lucille is just 20 years old.

She attended schools in Geneva and Sanford and is well known to the youth of the county. Up until the time of her recent illness, Lucille was an employe of Baggs Curb Market in Sanford.

A committee composed of volunteers in Geneva has been formed in Geneva to help gather assistance for the benefit and comfort of this young girl. Any one wishing to contribute, regardless how small, may do so by contacting Rev. R. G. Key, pastor of First Baptist Church of Geneva, at Box 344, (840-8297); Cader Hart, (840-5150); Mrs. Ray Stevens, (840-8242); Mrs. Gordon Gibson, (840-8308), or Mrs. Joseph E. Mathieux, (840-8203).

This young woman has no insurance and no one to turn to except the generous people of Seminole County. Please contribute a "prayer dollar" to the Geneva Youth is indeed a wonderful time of one's life! Please remember how satisfying it was and is to be able to do for one's self and turn to, lend a hand to a neighbor who holds out her hand to you to help her to be able to stand and walk once again!

Cancer Education Cited

By FRANK CAREY

PALM BEACH (AP)—Women in the lower socio-economic groups are the most likely to develop cancer of the cervix—with sex habits a prime determinant—a New York doctor said today.

And, paradoxically, women in such groups are the most difficult to reach with potentially life-saving, early-detection tests.

The "Pap-test" involves collecting a "smear" of cells from the lining of the cervix and examining them under a microscope for possible evidence of pre-cancerous or cancerous growth.

Richard said a number of different scientific groups studying environmental factors associated with cervix cancer have shown that:

"The most important determinant of this disease is the age at which sexual intercourse is initiated, and there is evidence to suggest that the number of sexual partners is also important."

He added:

"Paradoxically, women in the lower socio-economic strata are among the least likely persons to develop the disease."

Richard said that 17 per cent of the female cancer deaths in the United States are due to cancer of the genital organs, and more than 40 per cent of these are due to cancer of the cervix, the entrance to the womb.

Asserting that most, if not all, such cervical cancer deaths are preventable through surgery based on early detection by the famed "Papancolour smear test," he told an American Cancer Society seminar for scientists gathered for the NEPCO.

"Although this Paptest examination is widely available through private physicians and public health facilities, its utilization is greatest among the women in the middle and upper socio-economic strata."

"These women, who are the highest risk group for cervical cancer, are the most difficult to reach in cancer-screening campaigns and contribute to the cervical cancer deaths at a rate disproportionately high to their number in the population."

The women who tend to be this sexual activity at an early age and to have multiple sexual partners are, as a group, derived from the lower socio-economic strata whose educational level and responsiveness to public health campaigns is low.

Candlelight Ceremony Unites Miss Lois Messer And J.G. Butcher

Miss Lois Ann Messer, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. James Harrison Messer, Winter Garden, and Jack Gordon Butcher, son of Mrs. Dola I. Butcher and the late William Emmett Butcher, of Sanford, were married March 26 at 8 p.m. at the First Baptist Church, Sanford.

The bride's father, Rev. J. H. Messer, officiated at the candlelight ceremony.

Church decorations included a white prie-dieu, surrounded by standing basket arrangements of white gladioli, Easter lilies and baby's breath, two candelabra and one spiral with Cathedral candles and palms. Family pews were marked with white satin ribbon and Easter lilies.

Miss Joan Wilke, organist, presented a program of wedding music including "Ariele O. Darest Jesus," "Ariele," "Luzette from Santa IV" and "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" and the traditional wedding marches.

She also accompanied Gerald Covington who sang, "God Gave You to Me" and "The Wedding Prayer." The congregation sang "Blest Be the That Bind." The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Henry Harrison Messer, wore a formal gown of white silk faced satin styled with fitted waist line and long tapered sleeves. Imported Chantilly lace enhanced the neckline and sleeve points. The full skirt featured tiers of Chantilly lace ruffles trimmed with a chapel train. Her ruffles were accented with pearls and iridescents. Her elbow length veil of silk illusion featured a scalloped edge with vintage point pearls. It was held by a forward cluster of pearls and iridescents. The bride's sisters, Miss Phyllis Marie Messer, Orlando, and Mrs. Philip Tingler, Roanoke, Va., were maid and matron of honor. They wore floor length gowns of bridal blue chiffon she wore matching shoes and hat, white gloves and a white orchid corsage.

The groom's mother wore a bridal blue ensemble with matching accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Social Hall of the church.

A profusion of potted palms and arrangements of Easter lilies, white snap dragons and baby's breath adorned the reception area.

The beautifully appointed cake table featured the tiered wedding cake surrounded by snap dragons, daisies and greenery, flanked by two three-branched silver candelabra with silver bases arranged with white flowers.

Two crystal punch bowls accented with a white floral arrangement in a silver-based crystal compote completed the punch table.

Miss Rose Kratzert kept the bride's book at the bride's table which held the traditional white rose in a silver vase.

Mrs. Leonard Kendrick, Winter Garden, and Miss Sherrie Rogers, Sanford, cut and served the cake.

Presiding at the punch bowl and assisting with the serving were Rose Marie Paris, Sanford; Mrs. Polly T. Fridley, Roanoke, Va., and Mrs. Julian Lockhart and Mrs. Herbert L. Nash, both of Orlando.

Hostesses were Mrs. W. A. Kratzert, Sanford; Mrs. Henry Hays, Jackie Nash, Wanda Smith, Darlene Grogan, Teresa Eugene Allen Tingler, Roanoke, Va., a nephew of the bride.

Another welcome innovation is a plan by one appliance company to make the servicing of small appliance painless. The appliances—toasters, irons, coffee pots, etc.—are built on a modular construction with removable parts for cleaning and repairing and individual parts may be assembled and disassembled within a matter of seconds.

The hotel and gardens have ten restaurants, one of which is a revolving restaurant similar to the space needle in Seattle, Wash., and commanded a beautiful view of Tokyo at night.

"Dick and I took several trips out from Tokyo to Japan's majestic Mt. Fuji, to see silk factories and the Nikko and Lake Chuzenji area.

"This area is noted for beautiful mountain scenery, waterfalls and a road which has 40 hairpin curves that the bus drivers take at a speed sometimes faster than the passengers would wish. Those daring enough could ride cable cars on to the very peaks and of course, we went to the top.

"We also traveled on a five-day trip from Tokyo which included a cruise in a luxury liner on Japan's beautiful blue island sea. While in the city of Takamatsu on the island of Shikoku, we met a number of people in the hotel from St. Petersburg.

"Takamatsu and St. Pete are 'sister' cities and St. Pete mayor and other dignitaries were there for a visit. It's a small world.

"Also on this trip we visited the city of Hiroshima, now a modern city of 450,000 people. The city contains a peace memorial park which has as one of the central attractions a peace flame that is to burn unbroken in all time in the world.

"A trip to the sacred island of Miyajima was made in a colorful dragon boat. Of course, no visit to Japan is complete without a visit to a Japanese inn. The Japanese bathhouse entering the pool-like bathhouse with "heaters" built in the bottom.

"They claim they feel great when they get out, that is, it's quite relaxing to bat your skin in the hot bath and be served your Japanese style meal on a low table on the floor.

"A fast trip on Japan's express train, the Tokaido Express traveling up to 120 miles an hour, brought us back to Tokyo. Dick returned to Vietnam to complete his tour of duty and I returned to the States.

"Among the many mementos I brought back was a cigarette lighter engraved in gold with Lyndon B. Johnson and the Presidential seal. This was given to Captain Van Allen from President Johnson when Dick served as Johnson's rescue alert pilot in Bankok during the presidential visit there last fall.

"Candid Chatter"

Bryant-Kirincic Engagement Told

CLAUDINE TURNER tells me that TOPS, a national profit organization, meaning "Taking Off Pounds Sensibly," has been formed in Sanford.

Through group therapy, pleasing pump gals can become slender sirens with the help of each other. TOPS has helped literally thousands throughout the U. S. and foreign countries to eliminate that "excess baggage."

The night before the opening of Sanford, M. L. (daughter) and I sashayed into the Civic Center on an assignment to find the building wide open, ablaze with light, but nobody on the scene except three handsome ASTRONAUTS.

We greeted the gentlemen courteously and would you believe the snobs didn't even speak to us.

It was later that we were exploring a portion of Apollo, not yet completely assembled, and discovered another astronaut

MISS BRYANT
Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. Bryant, 101 Hayes Dr., Sanford, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Jo Ann Bryant, to John Kirincic Jr., of Sanford, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kirincic Sr., of Chicago, Ill.

The bride-elect was a 1966 graduate of Seminole High School, where she was a member of Future Homemakers Club, Spanish Club and was a majorette with the Marching Seminoles. She is presently attending Seminole County Business School.

Mr. Kirincic was born in Chicago, Ill., and is a 1966 graduate of St. Mary of Perpetual Help High School there. He is currently employed as an electronics clerk with Dynatronics, Inc.

The wedding will be an event of May 13 at the Sanford Church of God. All friends and relatives of the couple are cordially invited to the wedding and reception immediately following.

The Pantsuit: Non-Divisible Fashion

Take the word "pants," add "suit" to it, and you come up with the most popular name in fashion's sportswear vocabulary for '67. It's the "pant-suit" — a non-divisible term when it comes to stylishness.

Pants matched to jackets have traveled out of the home and into the world with great fashion success.

New spring styles from the inspiration from daring sources. There's the snappy air of the military—strictly tailored in fabric—strapped at the waist or garbarded. There's the jaunty air of the safari pantsuit—interpreted in natural cotton canvases with bush jacket, leather buttons, and even bullet-holding pockets. And there's the sophisticated elegance of tapestry-printed cotton canvases trimmed to into a double-breasted pantsuit for the dandy look.

Even garter's stripes are brought into the spring picture — focusing on a slim pant-suit of brushed cotton denim that's shirred in real riverboat fashion with white collar and cuffs. The ever-popular nautical flavor is interpreted in a pantsuit stolon straight from sea-going stewards. Man-tailored in crisp cotton denim, it features pleated pockets, double-breasted brass buttons, and a shirty jacket.

According to the experts, fashion's passion for pantsuits won't stop with spring. Coming up for summer are short versions, with jackets tacked to culottes or Bermuda shorts.

The coffee tree is not a native of Brazil but most likely originated in Ethiopia.

Are you holding up the U.S. Mail?

It happens every day!

People hold up mail service for themselves and for everyone else by not using Zip Codes on their mail.

Their mail has to be sorted and re-sorted several times along its route. A single unsorted letter can slow up the mail at 6 post offices!

But when your letter has Zip Code, postal workers can sort it faster and send it more directly to its destination. They will use modern electronic machines that "read" Zip numbers and sort mail fifteen times faster than was possible before.

So remember:

1. Always add Zip Code to every address you write to. If you don't know the number, call your post office or look it up in their Zip Code Directory. Local Zips can be found on the Zip Map in the business pages of your phone book.
2. Add Zip Code to your return address, too. That makes it easy for others to Zip their mail to you.

The post office must handle over 200 million new pieces of mail a day. Don't hold it up. Use Zip Code!

HOW ZIP CODE WORKS
Suppose the Zip Code is 60035. The "0" means it goes to the Midwest. The "3" narrows it down to Chicago. The "03" designates a specific post office. The "5" pinpoints the local post office. This eliminates many handling problems. The letter is sorted faster, and sent more directly to its destination.

Mail moves the country—ZIP CODE moves the mail!

BROADWAY is coming to Sanford! The BROADWAY local little theater group, rehearsing for their final production of the current season, "Under the Yum-Yum Tree".

The play will be presented in April with exact time and place announced in the near future.

For the first time since the group's organization, the public will have the opportunity of attending the production. In the past, only members had the privilege of enjoying all the successful plays, re-runs from Broadway.

So the legitimate theater is at long last here for those who prefer live action. Plan to attend!

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: This is to thank you for telling that woman who insisted that a Ham Operator in her neighborhood was interfering with her TV reception to get her checked—that she needed a FILTER COIL.

Whenever it becomes known that there is a Ham Operator within ten miles, every time there is trouble with her hi-fi, stereo radio or television set, the Ham gets blamed. After an investigation, the trouble is usually traced to a faulty electric blanket, refrigerator, incandescent light (about to burn out), thermostat on a tropical fish tank, even a hearing aid in the home of the complainer!

I stood right in the living room of a lady who insisted that my Ham Radio was ruining her reception. So she KNEW I couldn't very well be operating my set, but she said, "I don't care what you say, I can see your radio tower from here, and I KNOW that's what's causing my trouble." So, go to the fight city hall.

J. J. S., KIPZU

DEAR ABBY: This is for "RECEPTION RUINED," who insisted that a Ham Radio Operator in her neighborhood was ruining her TV reception. I hope you have your TV set checked as Abby suggested, because if it picks up my signal, the trouble is in your set, which, if properly constructed, should be able to reject unwanted signals.

You called all Ham Operators "useless nuts." Perhaps you didn't know that Ham Radio is more than a "hobby." It is frequently the only means of communication to a disaster area in cases of floods, tornadoes, hurricanes, earthquakes, sinking ships, and in locating people in far-away places where there is no electricity or telephone.

In order to become a licensed Ham, one has to study hard to pass the examination, and then abide by the rules of the Federal Communications Commission. It is also inspected and monitored by the FCC to be sure it is kept "clean." There are over 280,000 licensed Hams in the states today. We buy our own equipment and use it constantly as a public service without cost to anyone. Thank you, Abby, for letting me get this off my chest.

A HAM SINCE 1926

DEAR ABBY: Please advise RECEPTION RUINED that among some of those "useless nuts" who fool around with Ham Radio are Gen. Curtis LeMay, Herbert Hoover Jr., Arthur Godfrey and Barry Goldwater.

Very truly yours,

ANOTHER USELESS NUT

DEAR ABBY: I would like you to tell Reception Ruined that during January, 1967, the "useless nuts" who operate Ham radios handled 5,708 phone patches and 3,388 personal messages for the help in Vietnam, a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Furthermore, I just turned off my rig after listening to two of those "useless nuts" who were bitten by a mad dog. Of course all a person would have to do is pick up his telephone and call a doctor, except this occurred in an out-of-the-way village in ECUADOR.

Yesterday I helped locate some "eggs" which were dented by the LIONS EYE BANK and saw to it that they were sent immediately to an eye surgeon who needed them to restore sight to a blind child.

"Useless nuts," indeed!

"C" FOR CHARLIE

DEAR ABBY: Someone ought to tell RECEPTION RUINED that if the Ham's equipment is really ruining her television reception, it would ruin all the other television reception in the neighborhood, including my own. I keep my TV right on top of my rig and my reception is A-O-K!

DEAR ABBY: Anyone who has an "interference" problem with Ham Radio is a Ham Radio Operator of being the cause should write to: THE AMERICAN RADIO RELAY LEAGUE, 225 N. St. N.E., Newton, Conn. 06451. We handle it efficiently.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Although there is a harsh condition where you are concerned and you need to refrain from forcing issues in most any way, you also can gain much headway by an attitude of charm and consideration for others which breaks down barriers of resentment and brings you much of value and relief from anxieties.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19): There are pals who would be only too glad to assist you in new projects or duties, so why try to do everything yourself and become unnecessarily exhausted? Take more time for recreational activities, also. Spend sensibly.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20): If you listen to an expert, you find you get a new and improved approach at gaining your financial goals. You are highly magnetic but your judgment may be a little erratic. Make the most of this quality.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Although a series of annoying little matters crops up, take them in your stride and you find that these lead to tomorrow's improved conditions by tomorrow. Handle that big problem wisely. You be the master of the situation.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 22): Don't depend on much on good pals who are pretty much distraught, but be of assistance to them instead. Rely on your intuition which is very fine, although your reasoning may be a little faulty. Be dynamic.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 21): Spending more time getting the approval of associates is wise instead of going after trashy higher-ups. Hide your time. Don't be forceful but take advantage of opportunities that present themselves.

GETTING AT YOUR DUTIES will take your mind off personal matters, problems that are vexing, petty individuals. Be more cooperative with a co-worker. This will make a new project very successful.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Forget worries about duties on the third club; East a club on the third square.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Show you are neutral, where some alteration arises between a partner and an associate unexpectedly. Get into the spirit of things. Take your mate along with you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Getting busy at reports is fine, but don't expect a co-worker to do more than his or her rightful job, or take on your responsibilities. Contact a clever individual. Get ideas that propel you forward.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Study ways and means by which you can gain income and be able to give you a clever expert to give you suggestions you need. Show charm. Forget that you get out for fun, since it could prove to be foolhardy right now.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 18): Advancement comes in business matters now, so be sure to take advantage of opportunities. DEAR POLLY — I have an easy but effective solution for Flower Lover's problem of clay pots that are stuck together. Fill a plastic bag with ice-cold water and put this inside the inner pot. Set the two pots in a sink or container filled with hot water. The cold pot contracts and the hot one expands, so they are easy to separate without breaking. — DOLLY

PISCES (Feb. 19 to March 20): Don't permit others to impose upon you and get out into the active world and accomplish a good deal. Cart must be exercised in both buying and selling. Then you get desired results.

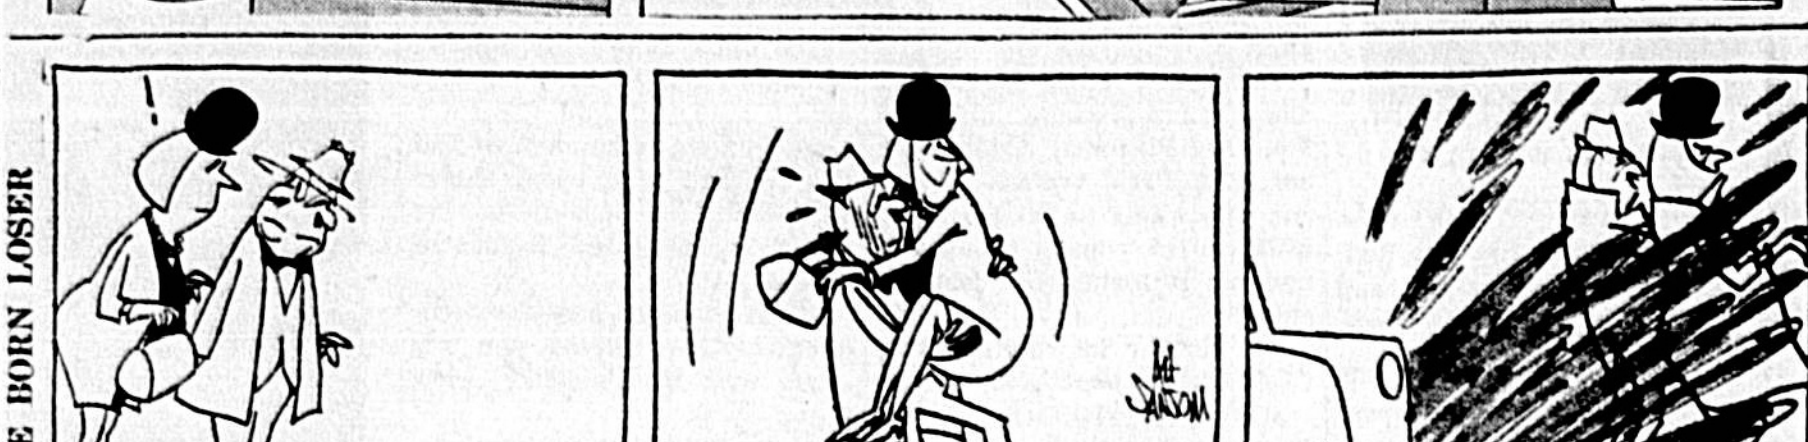

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY: ...he, or she, will be socially minded and the nature is apt to be slightly discontented most of the time, since this child's ideas are but his money, and he will not flow in as fast as desired. Nevertheless, the magnetism here is great and your progeny usually gets what is wanted in due course of time. Teach to smile more at right persons for best results. Help to work through college.

Jim: "Good idea. I happen to have some hands that Eddie Kantar uses in his teaching in Los Angeles."

Jim: "This is one he uses in his advanced classes. South is declarer at a normal six no-trump contract. How would you go about playing it?"

Oswald: "What happens when I play three rounds of hearts?"

Jim: "West drops his last spade on the third heart."

Oswald: "I'm going to pass this course. West has shown up with exactly five spades, two hearts and two clubs. He must hold four diamonds. I play my ace queen and if the jack doesn't drop I finesse against it with certainty of success."

DEAR POLLY: My Pointer is for dog owners who have trouble getting their dogs to take medicine. I keep a jar of baby oil on hand, preferably menthol. When I have to give my dog a pill, I just bury it in a teaspoon of the good baby oil and mix it up. Without knowing he is taking medicine. Often when one tries to stick a pill down a dog's throat, he will spit it out.

French Couple In Dramatic Rescue From Watery Grave

DARWIN, Australia (AP)—A French couple was rescued from a watery grave on a tropical island and three days at sea on a submerged water-logged raft, Henri Bourdier told his wife he was sorry but he was going to die.

"I asked him: 'Please wait for me, we must go together,' and he said he would try to live one more day," Mrs. Bourdier, 41, said today.

The raft's deck was under three feet of water and two people looking more like straggle wild animals were sticking out of the water," a eyewitness on the shores of Bathurst Island in late December.

Mrs. Bourdier said that on Saturday her husband's face looked like that of a dying man—"white despite his sunburn"—but he was just dozing with his chin on the water when she saw that mirage—but it was not a mirage, it was a boat.

The raft's deck was under three feet of water and two win, Bourdier called the three-month ordeal "a foretaste of hell."

His wife said they built the raft when they were certain they were dying of starvation.

"We lived on sea snails for most of the two months after the raft was found," she said. "I was just dozing with my chin on the water when she saw that mirage—but it was not a mirage, it was a boat."

The raft's deck was under three feet of water and two wrapped together like huge worms."

She saw her husband sink to his shoulders in mud and thought he was lost in quick sand.

One night they scooped out a turtle nest and slept in it for warmth.

After they built the raft, Mrs. Bourdier wrote a long letter to their two children in France.

"I wanted them to know what had happened to us and I cried all the time," she wrote.

"Then those wonderful men of the Betty Jane came to us and we were aboard."

The couple were trying to sail to France on a 45-foot yacht Bourdier had bought in Singapore, hampered by water in their fuel, they tried to steer for the island of Timor but ended up 300 miles to the south, shipwrecked in an uninhabited area of Bathurst Island. They didn't know that a Roman Catholic mission was 40 miles away on the other side of the island.

Declare War On Litterbugs

War on litterbugs was declared today by the County Commission, County Prosecutor and the Sheriff's Department to stop "moonlight garbage runs" and the resulting littering of the county's rights-of-way.

The crackdown on litterbugs and their vigorous prosecution was pledged by Prosecutor Kenneth McIntosh at the meeting of the Board of County Commissioners this morning.

Commission Chairman John Alexander reported efforts to curtail dumping of trash and garbage upon rights-of-way by the commission through erection of prohibitive signs has had little results.

"We have four county dumps in various parts of the county, but we still have the problem of highway littering," Alexander said. He further pointed out conviction of littering the highway is punishable by imprisonment.

McIntosh recommended, "Citizens expressing violation of the littering laws should step forward. We cannot be everywhere."

McIntosh also pointed out vandalism to county property by sign "collectors" and "high school or perhaps kindergarten graduates" who spray paint graduation year on county signs.

In other business, the possibility of a fish camp which is being operated by Frank Chasark at Pleasant Point adjacent to Mullet Lake Park being located on county property was brought to the board's attention.

James Florence also appeared on behalf of the South Seminole Committee for Progress, seeking county assistance to develop an apparently county-owned park of one acre in Windwood Park near Altamonte Springs.

Florence requested the county aid his organization with the project by clearing and grading the area and financially assisting the group with construction of a community building at a later date.

The organization plans to construct a play area, a shaded picnic area, flower garden, three courts and the building. Estimates of cost given by Superintendent J. C. Lavender of grading and clearing the property was $1,000.

Alexander declared, "No funds will be available from the county for this project." This matter also was turned over to the county attorney for review.

Planners Overruled On Zoning

The County Commission today overruled the Zoning and Planning board and denied a request to rezone a section of Branley Isles from Residential to agricultural.

A delegation of property owners in the area protested the change saying it would "downgrade the property." A request was made on March 4 for rezoning for the grazing of horses.

In other business, the board okayed emergency maintenance for various streets in the Bolling Hills area and stop signs.

Among streets listed were: Nebraska, Homer and Stanley Streets and Adams Ave.

Tabled action on joint participation project for Azalea Ave., pending right-of-way information.

Exemptions Total 14,595

Homestead exemption applications for 1967 numbered 14,595, County Tax Assessor Mrs. Mary Earle Walker reported today.

Of this total, 12,836 were renewals while 1,759 were new applications.

Mrs. Walker noted this year's applications totaled 416 more than those filed for 1966.

A. B. PETERSON JR.

The strong advice is given in an open letter to the editor of The Herald:

"As a conservative Democrat for all of my voting life, I now find myself in a situation similar to that of Dr. Mudd—"guilty by association." The national party is extremely unpopular locally and has not been particularly endeared itself by an attempted take-over of the State party. Here lies the dilemma. By party association we are directly tied to the administration in Washington. By historic belief we are conservative. The result that has occurred so far is within the party that with which we are faced in the immediate future is a mass exodus from the party.

"Thus, we stand unable to live with our consciences for deserting our party, or unable to live with our consciences within our party. There seem to be two courses of action open:

"1. Desert the party;

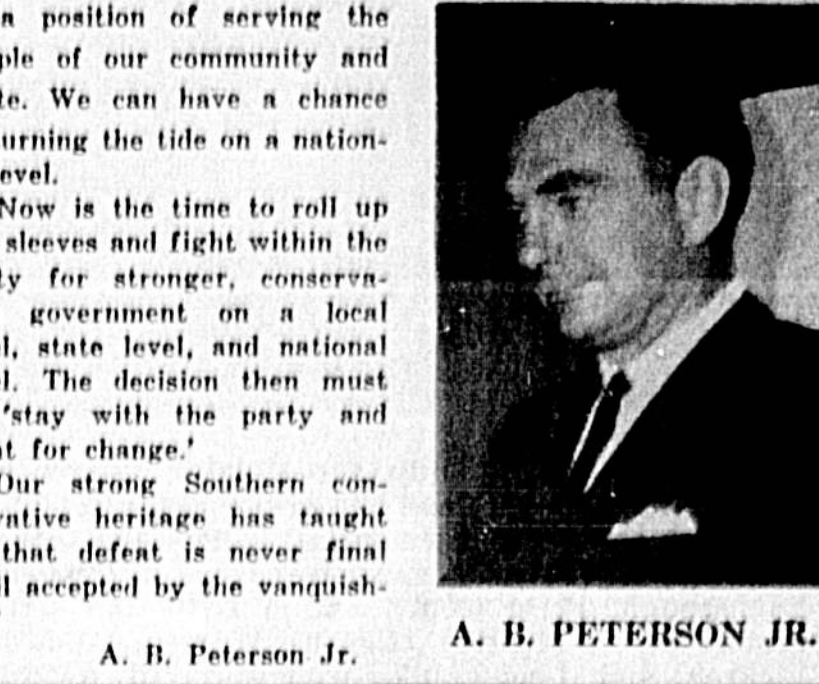

"2. Fight within the party for a popular conservative trend.

"Let's examine the consequences of the alternatives. If the decision is to desert, then we are accepting, locally, an unknown quantity, untested, and with existing leadership well entrenched. In accepting this local leadership, we must live with it for at least two years before we can attempt a change. I am not convinced that strongly that all Republicans are good. Republicans on the other hand, if we attempt to moderate the existing local Democratic Party, we are dealing with people we know—not necessarily agree with, but do know. We can, for the sake of ourselves and our party, fight to keep our party, fight to keep it in a position of serving the people of our community and State. We can have a chance of turning the tide on a national level.

"Now is the time to roll up our sleeves and fight within the party for stronger, conservative government on a local, state level, and national level. The decision then must be 'stay with the party and fight for change.'

"Our strong Southern conservative heritage has taught us that defeat is never final until accepted by the vanquished."

2 Sentenced In Badcock Store Heist

Two ex-gis were sentenced to long jail terms in Circuit Court yesterday in connection with an armed robbery of Badcock's Furniture store in Sanford last fall.

Fred Wright of Orlando drew a 10 year term while Spencer Needham of Phoenix, Ariz., was sentenced to 20 years for their parts in the hold-up.

Deputies and policemen apprehended the two at after they allegedly held up the store, located on Magnolia Ave., on Oct. 30. The men collected some $200 but were nabbed 30 minutes later as they got off a bus in Deland.

The two were wanted in other parts of the nation for passing worthless checks and robbery.

Insurance Pact Of N. Orlando Gets State OK

Acting upon a complaint by a group of residents in the Village of North Orlando, an investigation was conducted by the Village Park field office of State Treasurer and Insurance Commissioner Broward Williams. It was found that the recent award of the village insurance business to a councilman was not in conflict with any state insurance law. Furthermore, the investigation revealed no basis, in fact, for the rumor that different specifications had been given to various agents to bid on.

The question also was raised if voluntary firemen for the village had been covered by workman's compensation insurance over their services received no salary. It was found the coverage had been procured for the protection of both the firemen and the village at a minimal cost. Also, that the village was legally authorized to purchase and pay for such insurance.

Representatives of the insurance commissioner met with the complaining citizens Tuesday afternoon and explained in detail the variances which brought about a $720,000 difference between the two bids received by the Village of North Orlando. The village business was awarded to Nationwide agent Charles McInosh, who is also a councilman. McInosh's bid was for $298,42, whereas the other bid received by the village was for $1,678,50.

Oviedo Acts On Water

The Oviedo Town Council proceeded on the legal procedure of getting bonds to total $385,000 validated for the new waterworks with the adoption last night on two consecutive readings of the 36 page validation ordinance.

The lengthy ordinance was explained as its reading progressed by David K. Gunby III and D. Kirk Gunby, fiscal agents of DeLand.

Both cigarette tax and revenue from the new system were pledged to pay for the bonds.

Bond attorneys for the project are Bryant, Freeman, Richardson and Watson of Jacksonville.

Following adoption of the ordinance, the fiscal agents urged council to proceed with the collection of $10 deposits from prospective water customers as the next step in the project.

Council Chairman W. H. Martin reported deposits would have to be received from at least 250 customers before the federal government will release grant funds for the system of $240,000.

Council agreed persons paying the deposits before construction of the waterworks begins will not be required to pay further look-up charges.

Waterlines will be installed on city property to customer's property lines. Customers requesting service after beginning of construction will be required to pay a $100 connection charge.
