A story in yesterday's Sanford Herald incorrectly stated the value of a proposed yacht plant planned for the Port of Sanford. Rex Meyer Yachts Inc. has planned to locate a $5 million plant at the port with a projected economic impact of $133 million, according to Dennis Dogner, Seminole County Port Authority executive director. The plant is expected to create 300 jobs over a five-year period, he said.

The first phase of the project will entail leasing an existing 23,000-square-foot facility at the port. The second phase will involve construction of a 39,090-square foot plant.

Drug dog 'does her business'

RINCON, Ga. - A drug-sniffing dog answering nature's call helped Effingham County police make their biggest crack cocaine bust ever. The dog, a golden retriever named E.C., was let out of the police station to relieve herself, but instead headed straight for a car belonging to a drunken driving suspect, police said.

Police searched the vehicle and found 66 1/2 grams of crack cocaine in the tail-light assembly, worth about $13,500 on the street.

Police charged Larry Donald Marshall, 30, and Tony Maurice Morris, 22, of Pompano Beach. with cocaine trafficking. Marshall also faces drunk driving and speeding charges.

A police officer stopped the two men in Rincon early Friday. Rincon Police Chief Wade McGaha says the suspects apparently came through the town to avoid Interstate 95.

GENEVA - Once the pathway of lumbermen and Florida's earliest settlers. Old State Road 13 along the eastern edge of Seminole County is now blocked in many places by rusting cars and fences.

Seminole County commissioners said Monday the 12-mile path should be kept as open as possible for hikers and horse riders. They agreed motor vehicle access should be limited. Where north-south travel is blocked, commissioners said fences should be replaced with posts whereever possible to block cars and trucks but still allow foot traffic.

Old State Road 13, which runs from the Osceola Fish Camp site on the St. Johns River, through Seminole Woods and south through Chulmota to the Orange County line. is part of the famous railroad built by Henry Flagler in the 1800s. The enterpreneur's project opened the mosquito-infested swamps of Florida and cleared the way for it to become one of the most populated states in the nation.

At the turn of the century, it was used as a logging tram road to bring timber from the eastern portions of the county over the Econlockhatchee River on a trestle bridge to the sawmill town of Osccola, located where the Osceola Fish Camp was recently located. During the 1940s. the rails were taken up for the war effort, but the path remained.

McMurdo Station, Antarctica, approximately 9,000 miles away. He can't get to Dallas where the family is gathering, which makes the usual wedding plans rather tricky.

Back to school

Already it's time to return for officials; pupils soon

By VICKI DeSORMIER Herald staff writer

SANFORD - With the first day of rehool looming ominously over the horizon some 23 days hence, the 10- and 11-month administrators at the Seminole County district schools will be heading back to their offices tomorrow morning.

Teachers will be coming back to their classrooms for the first time since June in two weeks.

"It's an exciting time of year," said Wayne Epps. principal of Seminole High School, 2701 Georgia Ave., Sanford.

Summer at most schools is quiet.

The halls are desolate. Dust gathers on textbooks. Many offices remain locked. Until early this week, most administrators who did not have to be in school were incommunicado.

Many of them took last-minute vacations. Some are doing those "little lobs around the house" that there won't be time for once school opens. The return of administrators such as assistant principals marks the second step in the preparation for the return of students.

This week began with principals meeting at the district level with their area coordinators to make sure that plans are in place for the school year.

According to some administrators, it will take the full three weeks to pull everything together. because most of the administrators and teachers will be be pulling themselves into gear after a summer away from the school.

'The hardest part is going to be putting on a tie." said Jim Shupe, an assistant principal at Greenwood Lakes Middle School, 601 Lake Park Drive, Lake Mary. Shupe has spent the last two months fishing and working on histan.

"Putting on socks is going to be hard too," he added.

Shupe noted that the enthusiasm of beginning a new year was enough to get everyone over the See School, Page 5A

Nuitrition labeling favored for food

United Press International

WASHINGTON - The House passed legislation that would help consumers get a better idea of what they're cating by requiring food labels to list the amount of fat, fiber, sodium, cholesterol and calories in the product.

The House approved the bill Monday on a voice vote and sent it to the Senate.

"This legislation is a tremendously signficant consumer advance," said sponsor Rep. Henry Waxman, D Calif. People who have been trying to "watch our diet" and follow good-health tips, he said, "have been frustrated by the fact that we haven't had the information on food products that can advise us to follow those recommendations.

Administration officials, while not expressly opposing the bill, said they would prefer going ahead with proposed Food and Drug Administration regulations on matrition labels.

Campbeli Gardett, spokesman for Health Secretary Louis Sullivan, said using FDA regulations would allow changes to be made more quickly than if Congress tries to "nailthings down in a statute."

Coe found guilty in McGee death

By VICTOR GALYAN
United Press International

FORT MYERS — A Polk County man was convicted Monday of first-degree murder for brutally plunging his two-year-old stepson headfirst into a toilet to punish the toddler for soiling his pants.

A jury of six men and six women found

Thomas Coe. 23, guilty of first-degree-murder and aggravated child abuse after deliberating for less than two hours.

Coe could be sentenced to die in Florida's electric chair on the first-degree murder conviction. The jury will begin deliberating Coe's fate Wednesday.

Coe, seated between his two public defenders, remained stoic as the court clerk read the guilty verdicts. His mother, Mary Coe Anders, cried softly and tightly grasped the hand of her ex-husband, Don Coe. The defendant's father said little after the verdict. Looking straight ahead into the courtroom, Don Coe told reporters, "We had hopes, naturally."

Thomas Coe had admitted to authorities that he dunked Bradley McGee headfirst into a porcelain toilet bowl on July 27. 1989, as a means of punishment, but he maintained that he never intended to harm the toddler.

Bradley's death the following day led to unprecedented charges against four state Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services workers, and sparked reform of Florida's child welfare system.

Coe's wife, Sheryl McGee Coe, 21, pleaded no contest to a reduced charged of second-degree murder and was sentenced to 30 years in prison. She agreed to cooperate with prosecutors by testifying against her

Jim Kirkland, a foster parent who cared for Bradley before he was returned to the custody of his mother and stepfather shortly before his death, welcomed the verdict.

Contractors rally for special session

United Press International

TALLAHASSEE - About 200 small contractors rallied outside the Capital Monday, calling for a special legislative session to repeal recent changes in the Florida's workers' compensation law.

Organizers had obliginally announced they expected about 1,000 paople to show up for the march and raffy, which stook place during the lunch hour and tied up traffic around the Capital for about half an hour. for about half an hour. The demonstration was aimed at Gov. Bob Martinez, who has not rejected the idea of a special session but says he would prefer to find an administrative resolution to the problem.

Martinez was not at the Capital - he is attending the National Governors Conference in Mobile, Ala. — but the demonstrators appeared pleased when Democratic gubernatorial hopeful Lawton Chiles appeared and spoke to them for several minutes.

The outery over changes in the workers' compensation law began July 1, when the changes is effect. Smaller contractors were upset to learn that they now have to pay for workers comp coverage, while labor organizations were angered at changes in the appeal system.

State officials have tried to ease implementation of the rules.

Contra pilot testifies for Hasenfus

MIAMI - A Texas pilot who flew 12 covert missions to supply Contra rebels in Central America testified Monday the supply planes were easy targets that lacked the equipment they needed to safely deliver arms to jungle locations.

Pilot Elmo Baker, 58, of Weatherford, Texas, said he flew 12 supply missions in 1986 in C-125 and C-130 propellor-driven planes, which were inappropriate for such a mission over war-torn Nicaragua. Speaking of the C-123, he said.

"You can knock it down with a DESCR.

Baker testified on behalf of Eugene Hasenfus, who was shot down over Nicaragua in 1986 during a Contra supply flight in a C-130 plane.

Hasenfus has filed a civil suit against Southern Air Transport, the Miami cargo airline with CIA connections that supplied the plane for the mission, and retired Air Force Maj. Gen. Richard Second, who pleaded guilty to a felony charge of lying to Congress about the Iran-Contra affair.

Hasenius contends Secord was in charge of the missions he

The suit said Southern Air and Second failed to provide necessry equipment for the Contra missions and that they reneged on promises to pay all legal expenses involved with the missions.

Food vouchers in high demand; money depleted

By MICK PPEIFAUF Herald staff writer

SANFORD - Low-income familles reacted quicker than had been expected last week, caus-ing a Community Development Block Grant of federal money for food vouchers to be used up faster than anyone had expected.

The City of Sanford Community Development office had received $4,000 in federal money through the Florida Department of Community Affairs to be used in allocating food vouchers for low-income families. The vouchers were advertised last Monday and Wednesday, with the applications to be accepted beginning July 26 and conclud-ing Aug. 8. Within just the first two days, last Thursday and Friday, over 200 applications had already been filed, way beyond what the grant was designed to handle.

Charles Rowe, head of the Community Development office said, "We expected to be able to take care of food vouchers for 40 to possibly 60 families with this money, depending on the number of people in each family. but when we realized we had over 200 applicants by late Friday, we were forced to post fliers saying that the offer had to be cut short.

Those families who are accepted will be given vouchers with which to purchase food through the Sanford Christian Sharing Center. .

Rowe said he didn't know for certain when any further block grants might be forthcoming. but he expected there might be another one possibly a year from

Replacing Brennan

If confirmed as successor to retiring Supreme Court Justice William Brennan, U.S. Appeals Court Judge David Souter, 50, is likely to help chart the direction of the high court well into the next century. But the comminating process may already be in copardy of being hijacked by the myopic, ingle-issue politics of 1990.

In the looming political battle over Souter's iomination, advocates on both sides of the motion-laden abortion debate are excluding irtually all other considerations. To impose uch a singular litmus test ignores the nultitude of other vital issues the new justice rould rule on during his lifetime tenure and. vorse, attempts to predetermine the court's tance on a fundamental constitutional ques-

To his credit, President Bush disavowed the se of a litmus test regarding abortion or any ther issue in selecting Judge Souter. In fact, he White House did not probe Souter's letailed views on any particular matter likely o come before the court. The Senate udiciary Committee, which will pass judgnent first on the President's nominee, ought o adhere to the same broad standard as it arefully scrutinizes Souter's judicial record.

In deciding whether Souter is fit to serve on he court, the Senate should weigh his views n the context of his judicial philosophy taken is a whole. His opinion on any individual question should not, by itself, disqualify him.

To be more specific, attempting to extract luring the confirmation process an advance commitment from Judge Souter to oppose or upport Roe vs. Wade, the 1973 decision that legalized abortion, would compromise the ssential independence provided to the third branch of government by the Constitution.

Yet this is precisely the danger that will irise if the confirmation hearing dissolves into the kind of partisan bloodbath that lerailed Ronald Reagan's nomination of Judge Robert Bork.

Institutionally, the Senate is more vulnerable to single-issue pressure — such as in the bortion debate — than is the White House. With the Supreme Court's liberal wing liwindling due to the advanced age of its nembers, the stakes are high and therefore o are the risks of politicizing the confirmaion process. But this political reality does not liminish the President's prerogative to name nominee of conservative views who eachews udicial activism.

Mr. Bush has moved swiftly to name Brennan's replacement. Barring unexpected omplications, the Senate should honor the President's request for a confirmation vote before the Supreme Court convenes for its new term on the first Monday of October.

The departure of Justice Brennan, the ourt's liberal titan for more than three decades, marks the close of an era. In considering Judge Souter, who is the same age Brennan was when appointed by Presient Eisenhower, the Senate should look well beyond the political passions of today and into the next century.

Have compassion for homeless

Early this summer I was making one of my usual runs to the 7-Eleven not expecting anything unusual to happen, just driving up there thinking of my problems and how I could get through another day. I pulled up and noticed this very thin old man dressed in rags sitting by the front door holding his side in pain as he coughed. I tried not o look directly at him for fear of embarrassing him. I went in, did some shopping and got in my ar and left. As I drove off I couldn't stop seeing his pitiful shell of a man holding his side in pain as everyone turned their heads away. I drove around he block and right back to that man, grabbed $10.00 and took it over and opened his hands, then losed them over the money. I said, "You look like you could use this." His reply was, "God will bless you for this." I had seen him before living in a acant lot under a tree and recognized his face when I was talking to him.

Later that day I told a few people of what had rappened. Each one said — "He will just buy booze with it." I said, "I don't care or don't want to know, Just know he is needy." Even later that day I drove by the vacant lot where I had seen him and o my great joy and satisfaction, there he sat under his tree with three bags of food, nothing fancy, just not dogs and apple juice and some other nexpensive items, but NO BOOZE. Well, I cried all the way home, and to this day. Fery thinking about him. My heart wouldn't have gone out to him so if he could have been young and able to work, but this man is old and sick. I saw him for awhile and jwould help him as much as I could, but now I don't see him anymore. God be with him and other nomeless victims whereever they are.

We shouldn't be so quick to judge these people and we should all try to help as much as we can. Please print this, just don't use my last name.

Previously, Japan and the European nations needed U.S. military power, which allowed the United States to dominate the economic agends. With the changes in the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe, those days seem over. From now on economic power will likely be a function of economic strength, and, from the look of things. the United States may become the No. 3 power after Japan and the united Europe.

Each of the big three came to Houston with different goals. Japan wanted to gain approval of n new round of loans and aid to China — an economically healthy China represents a huge potential market for Japanese goods. Japan also wanted to keep the subject of its subsidies to its politically potent rice farmers off the table. A newly assertive Kaifu accomplished both goals early on: then he sat back to enjoy the continued squabbling between the United States and Europe.

In the end, George Bush got about half a loaf. He derailed immediate environmental action. while still managing to insist that he was all for a clean environment. On the complex agricultural question he was able to get the Europeans to acknowledge that their agricultural export subsidies would have to be lowered.

GEORGE F. WILL

Souter must prove his worth

WASHINGTON - The President who has now nominated the unknown Judge David H. Souter to the nation's highest court is the man who cavalierly put Dan Quayle a heartbeat from the nation's highest political office. So it is only prudent to insist that Souter bear the burden of proving that he is not a Quayle not a cipher recklessly miscast for Bush's political convenience.

The convenience is as obvious as Souter's qualifications are, as yet, obscure.

Before the 1980 primaries, Bush said of the 1973 abortion ruling (Roe v. Wade): "I happen to think it was right." His political situation. and hence his convictions, soon changed: He said the 1973 ruling was so wrong that the Constitution should be amended to change it. Republicans used the abortion issue to energize a particular constituency.

But public opinion has changed, so Republican convictions are changing. And at this awkward moment. Bush has had to nominate a justice.

Bush says he has not asked Souter what he thinks about Roc v. Wade, which means about the precedents that produced today's "privacy right" that produced Roe v. Wade. Bush either is not telling the truth or is telling a terrible truth about himself — that he is willing to buy. and asking the Senate to buy, a pig in a poke.

Many senators will be under excruciating pressure to oppose Judge Souter if he does not say he finds a right to abortion in the Constitution's "privacy right" (a right that is not mentioned in the Constitution). Some senators, and the White House, want to avoid the subject. The White House waffle is: Abortion is just one subject, not a litmus test. The real test is Souter's commitment not to legislate social preferences under the guise of construing the Constitution. But the most efficient way of ascertaining Souter's conception of, or attitude for, the job is by asking what he thinks of the reasoning in Roe v. Wade.

Many senators were hoping for a nominee whose views on contentious issues are not, as Bork's were, well-known. But senators should not permit any nominee's reticence to survive the confirmation process. It would be improper to ask Souter, "What are your views about abortion?" But it would be irresponsible not to ask. "What do you think of the constititional reasoning that resulted in creation of a privacy right that includes a right to abortion?" It is as proper to ask a nominee's opinion of the reasoning behind Roe v. Wade as it would be to ask about the reasoning behind Brown vs. Board of

No nominee should be asked about pending cases. However, any nominee should be required to reveal the caliber of his or her mind by discussing the reasoning in important past cases, including those concerning capital punishment. That subject illustrates the anti-constitutional jurisprudence of Justice

Brennan Because Brennan opposed capital punishment, he declared it unconstitutional. The Constitution in several provisions accepts such punishment. so Brennan said that such punishment has lately become "cruel and unusual" because of America's evolving standards of decency. But Brennan's supposedly empirical claim foundered on a fact: The public's notion of decency. expressed in polls and reflected in the lawsstate legislatures pass. favors capital punishment. So Brennan argued that the Constitution defends human dignity, and justices can say what that requires, regardless of the original intention of constitutional language or today's democratic choices. Souter should be required to say what he thinks about Brennan's reasoning.

Souter should also be forced to be forthcoming on the subject of previous cases involving race-conscious government policies. Brennan wrote one of the crucial opinions affirming the constitutionality of today's racial spoils system. He helped transform the 1964 Civil Rights Act into a law creating special entitlements for government-approved minorities.

The Act declares it unlawful for an employer to hire or fire on the basis of race. Brennan said Congress wanted to remove employment barriers to blacks, and race-based hiring is one way to do that, so Congress could not have meant quite what it said. Souter should say what he thinks of Brennan's reasoning.

Bush and his equally nervous and calculating minions argue, ludicrously, that it is fair to inquire about Souter's "intellect" and "judicial temperament" but, golly gracious, it would be "inappropriate" to seek Souter's opinion about the only matters that can definitively reveal his intellect and temperament. These matters include the Court's arguments in the broad range of landmark cases that have reduced constitutional law to its current sorry condi-

Congress campaigns at taxpayer expense

WASHINGTON - Lee and Rose Epstein of New York City liked the politics of Sen. Bob Packwood, R-Ore., enough to send him a campaign donation. He wasn't their man in Washington. In fact, his district was about as far from the Epsteins as one could get and still be in the continental United States. Now the Epsteins are beginning to wonder if getting on Packwood's mailing list was such a good idea.

Since the Epsteins made their donation, Packwood has inundated them with junk mail sent at taxpayers' expense. And he has hit them up for another campaign contribution.

Lawmakers, including Packwood, will adamantly deny that they use their free congressional mailing or "franking" privileges to campaign. But the attention Packwood has focused on a couple who can't vote for him, but can give him money. shows that politicians are skating close to the edge. The franking perk allows members of Congress to send reams of mail with a signature instead of a stamp, and the taxpayers pick up the tab. The excuse is that constituents in the hinterlands wouldn't know the straight scoop out of Washington if they didn't get it from their senator or representative. But the Epsteins aren't Packwood's constituents. And Packwood isn't the only member of Congress to deluge them with franked mail. The Epsteins have contributed money to several members of Congress whose politics they support. They are particularly generous to those who push for strong U.S.-Israeli ties. The thanks they get come in countless form letters and news reports from lawmakers bragging about their support for larael, their efforts on behalf of Soviet Jews and their fight against anti-Semitiam.

The Epstein's pen pals include Sen. Dennis DeConcini, D-Ariz., (1,800 miles away), Rep. Steny Hoyer, D-Md. (just 250 miles down the road) and Sen. Frank Lautenberg, D-N.J. (practically a neighbor).

Lee Epatein likes their politics, but not their Junk mail. He says their correspondence with him is "an abuse of the government frank." Some use the freebie letters to pat themselves on the back, and then comes the follow-up letter from the lawmaker's campaign machine - that one with a stamp.

Packwood's office told our associate Scott Sleek that the senator's congressional staff and his campaign staff are separate operations, and that the congressional staff doesn't make a habit of sending franked constituent mail to out-of-state contributors. They said that if someone asks to be kept informed on an issue that person would go on Packwood's mailing list. But the Epsteins didn't ask

The franking privilege masquerades as a communications tool, but it is a self-serving freebie that members of Congress manipulate for their re-election campaigns.

Meanwhile the challengers, who are often less well known, must buy stamps to tell their stories to the voters. Our recent columns on abuses of the franking privilege brought a bundle of mail from readers, who paid for their own stamps. One newspaper in Illinois sent all the press releases it had received from Democratic Sen. Paul Simon, taped together like a continuous role of toilet paper, with about the same bulk. All of it was paid for by the taxpayers.

One reader wrote to complain that her dead husband still got mail from his senator. Another complained that her 8-year-old son and her dog ended up on her representative's

The Spirit of Farm Bureau, A Florida Tradition

How many times have you been north bound on Highway 17-92 and passed that building be-tween Magic Isuzu and Robertson Tire that sits back off the road, obscured by large oak trees, and wondered just what went on in that building with the Farm Bureau sign outside?

When the Farm Bureau first began serving Florida, in 1947, Seminole County was still an agricultural community and the main purpose of the Farm Bureau was to help farmers and their families acquire the services and benefits that urban dwellers received through their office and factory jobs.

Times have definitely changed in Seminole County. Less and less land in the county is now being used for agriculture or farm-related business. But Seminole County Farm Bureau is still providing the same services it did 40 years

Farm Bureau can provide for all your in-surance needs: Home, Health, Life, Auto, Disability, Boat, Mortgage, Cancer and Inland Marine. Farm Bureau also has a very good IRA program. The Farm Bureau's HXL9 Homeowners Insurance policy includes most extended coverages in the original policy. Young drivers can get coverage discounts if they are good students and have completed a drivers training course. Farm Bureau has a Young American Plan. for coverage for younger

After claiming NSA crown, Domino's chases ASA title

From stall reports

Domino's Pizza, a girls' 16-and-Under slowpitch softball team that draws much of its roster from the Seminole County area, won what it hopes is the first of two national championships this past

Playing in the National Softball Association's national championship tournament, Domino's swept through seven games over three days to claim the title.

Now Domino's turns its attention to the American Softball Association national championship tourney, which will be played in Jacksonville Aug. 8-12.

"This was a little tougher than I had thought it would be," said Domino's coach Bob Montalvo of the NSA tournament. "The next one coming up (the ASA event) is really the cream of the crop. We placed fourth in the ASA tournament last year out of the 53 or 54 teams that competed."

Montaivo is hoping the NSA win will serve as a springboard to success in the ASA tournament next week.

In the NSA tournament, Domino's outscored its opponents 64-6. All six of their opponents' runs came in three of the 47 innings Domino's played. Three of those runs were Domino's capped its run through the NSA tourney, which was played at sites in Rock Hill, S.C. and Charlotte, N.C., by beating Dyna-mite (South Carolina) 7-1 in a game played Sunday evening at Cherry Park in Rock Hill. Lake Howell High School's Diann Lowe, who was named the tournament MVP, was the winning pitcher for Domino's.

Providing the offense for Domino's against Dynamite were Deltona's Sharon Booth (3 for 3). Lake Brantley's Michelle Davis (3, for 4), Orlando-Boone's Tracy Souza (2 for 3 with a sacrifice). Orlando-Evans' Kasie Hirschy (2 for 4) and Tara Calvin of Lake Mary (also 2 for

Not only did Domino's play in the last game of the tournament, is also played in the very first, drawing Alabama's Glen Coe Pacers for a 7. p.m. game last Friday. Maria Mon-talvo (Lake Mary) pitched a shutout as Domino's opened with a 4-0 win. Montaivo, Souza and Davis each ☐See Champione, Page 28

Track series completes its dry run

From stall reports

LAKE MARY - Maybe Mike Gibson and Mother Nature worked out a deal.

For the first in the event's history, not one of the Lake Mary Track Series was cancelled by weather all five of the July meets went smoothly. And the final one, which was run last night at Lake Mary High School's Don T. Reynolds Stadium, saw 43 participants show up to compete.

"This is by far the best summer track series we ever had." stated Micahel Gibson, the Lake Mary High School girls' cross country and track coach. "Attendance climbed for a while.

'We went through over 500 ribbons in the track series. Some of the kids aren't worried about ribbons, but about getting their personal record. We were quite pleased with everything."

Results for the final night of the Series are as follows:

5-and-Under Kersenbrock took first in the long jump (4-9) while Willie Galloway Jr. won the 50-yard dash (10.3). 100-meter dash (22.8), 220 (57.8) and 440-yard dash (2:08.5). Michael Gibson Jr. placed second in four events and Matthew Mitchell finished fourth in the long jump and Kegren ran uncontested, completing the 50 in 11.6, the 100 in 25.5, and the 220 in 1:01.6.

6-7 Girls: Rebekah Colon was victorious in the 50 (9.1) and the 440 (1:30.3). Chessie Kersenbrock leaped 8-9 in the long jump to prevail over six others. Shalonda Calloway won the 220 (40.7) and finished second in the long jump.

Come one, come all

That's the beauty of the Lake Mary Summer Track Series—anyone who wants to can come come out and compete. Among the events is the 50-yard dash (above), a distance that even 2-year-old Matthew Mirchell (right) could cover. Chessie Kersenbrock (below) took a tumble in her heat of the 50-yard dash and needed a little consoling from her dad, Bob. Chessie, 6, came back later and ran in the 100-meter dash.

Oviedo shows mettle with state tournament victory

By TOMY Desoration Herald Sports Editor

ORANGE CITY — So far this All-Star season, the Oviedo Juniors have shown they can go toe-to-toe with an evenly-matched foe (as they did with the Altamonte Springs Americans in the District 14 finals).

They've also shown they can take care of lesser opponents (like they did last week when they romped through the Section I tournament). On Monday night, they showed they won't beat themselves. Playing in their first game of the state championship tournament at Southwest Volusia Little League's Bill Thompson Field, Oviedo won a war of attrition with stubborn Seminole from Pinellas County, pulling away to an 11-3 victory.

The win advances Oviedo to this evening's 7:30 p.m. game against Vero Beach, which held off a late rally to defeat North Brandon 9-8 in Monday's first game. North Brandon and Seminole will meet in an elimination contest this evening at 5

"We knew that our defense would hold up," said Oviedo manager Rich DiTore. "We knew that if Todd (Bellhorn, Oviedo's starting pitcher) threw the ball over the plate, the defense would make the outs. And Todd did a good job of doing what we needed him to do.'

Quite simply, all Bellhorn had to do was throw strikes. He did finish with 10 strikeouts (including a stretch where he fanned four in a row and five of six). But more importantly, Bellhorn only walked four. In his one start during the Bellhorn and King. Jones. Routsinoja (2), McNamee (5) and Bultman. WP — Bellhorn. LP — Routsinoja. 2B — None. 3B — None. HR —

Section I tournament, Bellhorn issued 12 free passes over five innings.

With Bellhorn making Seminole put the ball in play, the Oviedo defense played steady if unspectacular defense. There were no double plays turned, no diving catches. But except for a three-run third inning. Seminole couldn't sustain any offense.

At the same time, Oviedo continued its revolving hero policy on offense. On Monday night, it was Mark Metcalf who stepped through for Oviedo, collecting three hits in four at bats. He also had a walk. three RBI and a run scored.

Richie DiTore and Aaron Church both contributed a pair of RBI while Bellhorn. Mike Bergman and Jason Fore each scored two runs. Fore reached base every time he was up. collecting a hit and three walks.

Playing as the visitors. Oviedo scored twice in the top of the first inning and again in the second to go up 3-0. Seminole tied the score with its third-inning rally, but Oviedo immediately regained the lead in the top of the fourth. Brion King reaching on a fielder's choice and scoring on Metcalf's single.

Oviedo added two more runs in the fifth inning, then put the game away with a five-run explosion in the seventh.

Continued from 1B the four teams in the tournament to try and open with a victory, Monday night's win got Oviedo over a very important hurdle. Last year in the Little League All-Star State Tournament, Oviedo lost its first two games and was eliminated. Many of this year's squad played on that team. "It's a very big win for us," said DiTore, the manager. "We fell flat in our first two games last year. We had to win this one to establish our momentum." Monday also marked a slight shift in the strategy DiTore and associates are using to lead their club. Previously, every player on the Oviedo roster played in almost every game. That didn't happen on Monday night.

"We told everybody that we're stitutions just to make substitutions anymore," said DiTore. "We're going to go a game at a time and do our best to see everybody gets in.

"Each player has his own area of expertise. When they're (9-9), 50 (8.0) and 100 (18.5). nceded, they'll be ready."

the woman who asked how to introduce her ex-daughter-inlaw, Annie, really angered me.

You said, "Just introduce her as 'Annie, my son's former wife." Why should poor Annie continually be explained as someone's "whatever"? Annie is a person in her own right. She is not an appendage. "My friend. Annie" would have been sufficlent.

Your answer puts you in the category of people who think a woman has to belong to some man or she's a nobody.

I work in an airline reservations office. And nothing infuriates me more than when I ask a lady her name and she says. "Mrs. John Smith." I always say, politely, "The airline prefers that you use your own name when traveling.

Please rethink your answer.

ILENE IN DESCTO, MO. DEAR ILENE: Lay that pi-tol down, please. Never have I believed that a woman had to "belong" to some man — or she's a "nobody."

Students are absent so much, they can't possibly learn anything. No wonder the foreign students are so much better educated than ours. Our children are not any less intelligent, but they haven't been taught the seriousness of attending classes daily. Their parents note from their "doctor" - or come up with some other phony reason for their absence. Of course, the parents are to blame for being a party to this deceit. I hope this wakes up a few parents who do their children no favors when they cover for their absences. Please withhold my name and location: I am not looking for trouble.

DEAR ABBY: Isn't it refreshing that the top Oscar-winning film. "Driving Miss Dalsy," was a movie containing not one dirty word, not one steamy sex scene, or one hint of violence or crime?

I have enjoyed the film twice, and would go again. It handled the issues of human relationships and prejudice beautfully.

I wish the film industry would wake up and realize that a large segment of our society would flock to see a good movie without a lot of trash. I've gone to three films in two years, and' walked out on one. I'd go more: often if I knew it was something. worth seeing, and I'm no prude. I'm sure there are many others' who feel the same.

Amino acid linked to serious disease eosinophilia-myalgia syndrome. and how is it related to Ltryptophan?

DEARREADER: Eusinophilia-myalgia syndrome was first 'reported in 1989 in some people who used L-tryptophan, an amino acid nutritional supplement marketed to treat disorders such as depression, insomnia and pre-menstrual syndrome.

The syndrome, which is painful and occasionally lifethreatening, is marked by severe myalgias (muscular pains) and a striking increase in cosinophils, blood cells that are usually associated with allergic reac-tions. Additional symptoms are hair loss, joint pains, weakness, nerve malfunction, rash, swollen ankles, fever, pneumonia and scleroderma (a disease of con-nective tissue). Although reported only a year ago, the disease has probably been pres-ent for many years. Onset varies widely: from two weeks to 15 years, with a median of about five months from the time the L-tryptophan was taken.

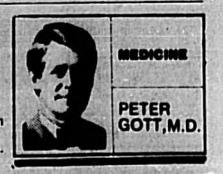

Because the syndrome appears to represent a new disease, specific criteria for diagnosis are lacking. With supportive care such as rest and pain medication - most patients recover. More than 1,300 cases, including several deaths, have been reported. However, the extent of the epidemic is unknown.

Although the basis for the cosinophilia-myalgia syndrome/L tryptophan relation is still unclear, the supplement was withdrawn from the market. pending further study.

At present, while experts investigate this new affliction. public health authorities unge people to discontinue taking L-tryptophan supplements and Despite North's initial pass. South fully expected to make five diamonds when he bid it. Against best defense (the opening lead of heart ace and a heart) declarer needs to find the diamond king favorably located to make the game. After the jack of spades lead, however, South can make five diamonds doubled with perfect foot-work. Declarer discarded a heart from dummy as he took the ace of spades.

Then he played the jack of diamonds. When West followed low, declarer went up with dummy's ace, expecting East to have the king for his double. Next came the A-K of clubs. When West played 10-Q. South decided that was a doubleton. So he led the eight of clubs and discarded a heart when East played low. He next ruffed a club and ruffed a space in dummy. Dummy's last club was led, but East ruffed low. South overruffed, but now East was able to come on lead with the king of hearts to draw declarer's last trump. The defenders then took another heart trick. Declarer had neglected the spade suit as a source of tricks. Let him win the ace and ruff a spade. Then come the ace of diamonds, club to the ace and another spade ruff. Then the club king is cashed and the eignt of clubs is The fourth club is ruffed, and another spade is ruffed. South's last spade is now a winner. When declarer plays dummy's good last club and East ruffs low. declarer can overruff and play his good spade, throwing a second heart from dummy. East can make the king of diamonds and a heart trick, but five diamonds doubled comes home.

By Bernice Bede Ocol YOUR BIRTHDAY August 1, 1990

In the year ahead you may have several opportunities to fulfill secret ambitions about which you've been reluctant to discuss with others. You'll find people in whom you can confide and they'll be helpful.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Everything will eventually sort itself out satisfactorily today if you are as equally concerned about protecting the interests of others as you are your own. Don't worry about what's in it for "me." Leo. treat yourself to a birthday gift. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions for the year ahead by mailing $1.25 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428. Cleveland. OH 44101-3428. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) The quality of your involvements today, should take precedence over the quantity of your involvements. Participate in activities you enjoy, but also be sure they're meaningful and constructive as well. LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You are now in a cycle that should prove favorable for you both financially and where your career is concerned. If you apply yourself properly, gains are likely in these two areas. SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You should be able to evaluate developments very effectively today, because your thought. processes will be both optimistic and realistic. Negatives and positives will be kept in perspective.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Something you've been wanting to change, but lacked the power or authority to, could begin to make some shifts in a preferred direction today. Ride the tide.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Legal agreements or contracts into which you enter today should prove beneficial for all parties involved, provided the intent is equally sincere on both AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) That which you couldn't get done yesterday can be ac-complished today rather quickly, because now everyone could be pulling together instead of pulling apart.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)

There is a possibility you may become involved with someone today whose mode of behavior will help restore your faith in human nature. This is an individual you'll want to know better.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) This is a good day to implement a change you've been seriously considering and that you feel could be of benefit to members of your household. Try not to be too disruptive.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Bonds can be strengthened today with someone you recently met to whom you were instantly attracted. This could become a valued relationship.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) An old arrangement can be slightly altered at this time to provide you with a new opportunity for personal gain. It will not require too much adjustment, so don't fix what isn't broken.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)

Don't be reluctant today to step in and take charge of something in which you're presently in-volved if you feel it is being mismanaged. Chances are you could do a much better job. (C)1990, NEWSPAPER EN-
