See Charlie Lewis!!

Those red-hot summer searches are just around the corner and already the sun is driving people into their air-conditioned homes and offices.

The grass is growing faster than ever, but summer days when you must pull out the old mower and push it around the yard? Well you could get out of it by paying an outrageous price to have your lawn cut. But the easy way out is to see Charlie Lewis of Lewis Sales and Service today.

Let Charlie fix you up with a riding mower, one just right for your lawn. But maybe you aren't ready to pay out money for a new mower. Why not check out one of his fine used mowers?

Charlie allows big trade allowances on old mowers and easy bank financing.

Retired from the U. S. Navy, Charlie has been in the business for ten years. Believing in the Sanford area, he is looking for big things to come.

His 22 years experience as a jet engine specialist and aviation mechanic with the Navy well qualifies him. He started out tinkering with motors, lawn mowers, and such, as a hobby and built it into a business.

Charlie has factory trained, qualified personnel to service your mowers and small engines. Used mowers as well as small engines are on sale at Lewis Sales and Service. Parts are available for most lawn mowers and small engines.

As an added convenience, Charlie provides pick up and delivery service.

So why not do yourself a favor and go out and let Charlie show you a riding mower to help beat the heat when you have to mow your lawn on these hot summer days.

Attempt At Kidnap Made For 2 Boys

Two South Seminole boys were kidnaped late Tuesday by two men in a car but managed to escape after the kidnapers stopped for a traffic signal.

Seminole County sheriff's office reported today that two youths, ages 10 and 11, were forced in a car after one of the two men placed his hand inside his shirt as if he had a gun and told the boys to "get in the car."

According to the report, the incident happened just outside the home of one of the youths on Lake Howell Road near SR 436.

The boys stated to investigators they were driven to an area near the Prairie Lake drive in theater on SR 436, where one of the youths jumped from the car as it stopped for traffic.

The two men became alarmed after the jump and shoved the other boy out the car door before the vehicle sped away in a westerly direction.

A group of approximately 20 men had begun a search of the wooded areas near one of the youths' home when the father of one boy spotted them walking back toward Lake Howell Road.

The boys said their captors appeared to be between the ages of 30-35 and acted nervously during the time they were forced to accompany them in the car.

A description of the vehicle and other information was given to county investigators, who are probing the report.

APOLLO THIRTEEN

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—The stricken Apollo 13 spaceship is slightly off course and its astronauts will miss the earth by 80 miles and soar off into a distant, fatal orbit if a steering correction is not made tonight or Thursday, controllers reported today.

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP)—Apollo 13's astronauts nursed their disabled spaceship back to earth today as confusion built among space officials that they would make it.

But the dangers remained clear. The men have no margin for error or further malfunctions. They are living and flying on emergency supplies.

James A. Lovell Jr., Fred W. Haise Jr. and John S. Swigert Jr. were hoarding their vital oxygen, water and power supplies effectively as Apollo 13 escaped from lunar gravity and sped into the earth's sphere of influence at a point 219,000 miles in space. The spacecraft was going 2,650 miles an hour.

Return Of State Board Asked CofC Endorses Barge Canal

By BILL SCOTT
Continued construction of the Cross State Barge Canal, from the Gulf of Mexico Palatka on the St. Johns River, was endorsed today by the legislative and national affairs committee of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce.

Chamber of Commerce Report of the action was to be forwarded to the Seminole Legislative Delegation at Tallahassee and Washington, D.C.

Chamber President George Touhy reminded the committee of what happened to the jet port planned for the Everglades when conservation groups fought the proposal and said the same thing might occur to the canal unless support was shown.

Touhy said this could damage the St. Johns-Indian River Canal and the Port of Sanford. "People who are trying to do something for the state are getting criticism for what it might do to the wildlife," Touhy argued.

Mack N. Cleveland Jr., attorney for the St. Johns-Indian River Canal and chairman of the legislative affairs committee, said there is real opposition to the canal.

Cleveland said he had appeared before the canal hearings at Tallahassee and felt the project would be safe unless some legislative action was taken. On a motion by Andrew Carraway, committee member, the group voted canal support.

With an eye aimed at the county road situation, and on a motion by Clifford McKibbin, the committee also approved sending notification to Tallahassee asking for the re-establishment of the State Road Board, which was recently reorganized into the State Department of Transportation.

Looking to the national scene, the group also approved support for the position of the Washington Chamber of Commerce which is opposed to the guaranteed federal minimum wage bill now before Congress.

James Ryan, administrator of the Seminole Port Authority, also appeared at the session to explain possible action by his waterways committee to get legislative action to stop inland

Plat Bond Is Released

By MARION BETHA
County Commissioner Greg Drummond voted alone at a meeting of the commission yesterday in which the others abstained to release St. Johns Property, Inc., from a performance bond.

County Engineer William Bush told the commission that a survey had been made of all the homes in this project with regard to ground elevation and floor level, and recommended that any future building in the area be 10 feet above sea level.

The bond dealt with 1959 specifications, and a stop order was issued four years ago with respect to the elevation of the building sites. The developer asserted that they had complied with all the terms laid down by the commission, and requested release from the performance bond.

Drummond questioned the flooding conditions which have occurred in the area during the element weather and said that he was "not about to bail out entrepreneurs who try to sneak in" with substandard developments.

Commission Chairman John Alexander agreed with Drummond's contentions, saying that the standards were not those which the board would like to impose in this particular development, but that they must abide by those set by the commission in 1959. Alexander went on to say that the streets were substandard, and "looked like boat ramps." This statement elicited the query as to whether the roads had been brought into the county road system, to which Alexander replied, "They're not about to be."

Drummond still pursued the issue, stating that it was "foolhardy to approve" the bonding release. Commissioner Dan Pelham contended that the City of Sanford is less than 10 feet above sea level... but the county was building a new court

City Replies To Suit On Tank Farm

City of Sanford has replied to a suit filed by an oil company opposed to the rezoning of the city's so-called "tank farm" area along the lakefront.

In a reply filed today to the 18th Circuit Court, William C. Hutchison, city attorney, asked that the petition of Thomas Freeman, Murphy Oil Company attorney, seeking a writ of certiorari be quashed.

Hutchison gave four reasons for his request and aside from the two of the allegations which are strictly questions of law, the attorney named the petitioners "premature action" in seeking the writ and states that the petition "failed to allege exhaustion of its administrative remedies."

Freeman is seeking a review by the court of the city's action, reasoning from M-I (Industrial) to C-2 (commercial) that protection of property which was recently purchased by Murphy Oil Corporation.

Freeman has alleged this rezoning would restrict the property owners use of his holdings. Mayor Lee P. Moore maintained Monday night at the final reading of the city ordinance to reason that Murphy could continue in his present operation but Freeman said the rezoning stopped Murphy's plans to expand its present fuel oil storage.

'Night Out With Boys' Scheduled For Monday

A group of local and area men, "who love to sing," will be heard in concert 8 p.m. Monday at Sanford Civic Center. Known formally as the Sanford Male Chorus, the singers will present "A Night Out with the Boys," featuring songs that are perennial favorites.

A newcomer to the scene this year is Larry Strawser, director of the group, who replaced Robert Carnie, resigned. Strawser is a resident of Altamonte Springs and is known locally as interim minister of music of First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Betty Smith, pianist, again will accompany the chorus. Guest artist will be Gary Steble, piano pupil of Mrs. Evinus McCoy.

Members of the chorus include Dick Alken, Fay Lee, Paul Parnisky, Myron Smith, George Wright and Aaron Compton, first tenors; Doug Flear, Bill Prasan, Howard Green, Harold Howe, Frank Leone, Al Marvel, James Sims, Ronnie Taylor and Al Williams, second tenors; Warren Adams, W. H. Gasser, P. E. McCoy, Rick Poovy, James Richards, H. W. Rucker, Jerry Reakirk and Claude Williams, baritone, and Floyd Peart, Ralph Penold, Donald Ogletree, Ray Setala, J. M. Stineslpher and Muel Weaver, basses.

Grand Jury Noses In Union Riot

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Flushing out the protection of police guns, a grand jury today nosed deeper into a riot in which laborers ripped down parts of a building put up by non-union workers.

The grand jury heard about 30 witnesses Tuesday. State Atty. Zell Davis refused to identify them, but most were women and most were believed to be wives of union men.

Union leaders had said they would picket the courthouse when the grand jury met, but none appeared Tuesday and there was no violence.

Riot and local policemen kept a careful watch over the court-house Tuesday. Some took up positions inside the courthouse. The sheriff said the jury plans to hear 35 witnesses, but may sum up as many as 200 or 300 if it finds evidence of a conspiracy.

Davis said the panel may be in session until Friday instead of the two days originally planned. He said, however, an interim report will be issued late Wednesday.

Davis said six or eight witnesses would be brought before a circuit court judge today on contempt of grand jury charges because they refused to testify. Heidman, who blamed the incident last week on a "union conspiracy," said he expects to be called before the grand jury. The sheriff said the jury plans to hear 35 witnesses, but may sum up as many as 200 or 300 if it finds evidence of a conspiracy.

Will Be First Law Of '70 Session

Alligator Poaching Bill Nearing Approval

By JOHN VAN GIESON Associated Press Writer
 TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — House approval of a Senate alligator poaching bill today would speed the Legislature toward passage of its first law of the 1970 session.

The bill by Sen. Warren Henderson, R-Venice, passed the Senate 49-8 last Thursday. In coming before the House it is the first bill to get action in both chambers.

Henderson's bill, identical to a House bill by Rep. Bill Patterson, D-Orlando, would provide that possession of lights and weapons in the presence of alligators at night was proof of intent to poach.

The bill has the endorsement of Conservation 70s.

Both houses have approved an 18-year-old vote resolution, but have not yet resolved differences created by a House version that would grant all rights of maturity to 18-year-olds.

The resolution is a constitutional amendment and could not become law until ratified by the voters at the November general election.

Also on the House calendar is a bill that some legislators are calling the "man's emancipation bill." The measure gained that name after 22-14 approval of a woman's rights bill Tuesday.

A local sign painter advertised on his pickup truck which reads: "A business with NO SIGN is a sign of NO BUSINESS."

Several legislators indicated during debate on Mrs. Grize's bill that they favored an amendment giving husbands the right to inherit from their wives' estates.

"I'm hoping that these people will not try to amend that into my bill," Whitson said. "I think that should be done separate."

Third on the House calendar was a bill by Rep. George Fife, D-Miami, providing that concealment of goods in a store would be evidence of intent to shoplift.

The Senate was not scheduled to go into session. In other action Tuesday, the House passed by 58-14 a bill that would allow garnishment of wages when a family head earned at least $100 a week.

County-Wide Crime Control And Its Challenge

No alert resident of Seminole County can fail to be aware that detected and undetected crime is an unwelcome fact and is increasing in alarming proportions.

Many informed persons have pointed out over the past few years that growth brings with it challenges in the areas of government, social changes and public services.

Now we believe the time has come when the increase in crime must be met by an increase in the number and quality of the agencies which can be under the one term — police.

We believe that serious consideration must be given to the broad goal of creating a county-wide network of crime-detection and crime-prevention which will amplify those now in existence.

It is evident that what has already been accomplished along these lines by Seminole Sheriff John E. Polk and his small staff indicates that it is in this office and in the operation that immediate steps to enlarge should be taken.

Narcotic arrests have become almost a daily happening and multiple breaking and entering violations occur nightly according to his records. With dope and burglary incidents topping the list, the number of reported county crimes has increased in the past eight months to four times the number of a year ago.

To cope with this four-fold increase the sheriff's office still has 20 uniformed men and five detectives to work three shifts around the clock, policing 465 square miles, excluding Sanford.

Orange County, California, the home of Disneyland, is approximately the same size geographically as Seminole County and employed 79 sheriff's deputies when that fun complex opened 12 years ago.

Last summer, there were 532 Orange County lawmen actively employed in the fight on crime with another 100 deputies expected to be hired last winter to handle a seven-fold crime increase within a 25 mile radius of Disneyland.

With Seminole crime already up four times over an eight month period of a year ago, one wonders just what the figure will be when our Disney World opens in late 1971.

We are just a "stone's throw" from Disney World and it is certain that cheap drifters, hoodlums, pick-pockets and other undesirables will follow the "well heeled" tourists to the nearby counties that make up the immediate vicinity.

This population increase and its resulting social problems faced with a dash of crime will surely tax the already understaffed law enforcement agencies.

The best time to prevent a crime is before it happens and the best way to deter criminals from attempting to practice their illicit trade is to provide enough good law enforcement to make evildoers and their ilk think it best to move into a less well policed area to operate.

Already, county authorities have had to call into duty all available county vehicles in an effort to stop the epidemic of break-ins in South Seminole, especially in the areas where new housing projects have brought an influx of affluency to serve as prey to the zealous burglars who prowl the $50,000 per home residential areas looking for victims.

Also deserving of consideration is the drug pusher and his victims, who can be found in every aspect of life, but strange as it may seem, may be observed more often plying his wares among the well-to-do than peddling to the poor, who don't have enough ready cash to afford an expensive habit.

The growth in the number of crimes should be met by an increase in the number of persons, whose job it is to combat this cancerous condition that saps our energy and money, which ought to be spent on more positive pursuits, but because of circumstances cannot.

The thinking of the governing agencies should be aimed at meeting problems at the beginning rather than employing stop-gap methods and slipshod remedies for situations that can easily become uncontrollable if allowed to fester.

Additional man power is needed by county and municipal law enforcement agencies now before the flood gates open too wide and the rush becomes so great it threatens to drown us in a deluge of disorder.

A Dog's Life

Remember when the elephant jokes were making rounds on the junior-high humor circuit? One, we recall, went like this:

Q: How do you stop an elephant from charging?

A: Take away his credit card.

That particular joke doesn't seem quite so funny any more. Credit cards have been inflicted upon the animal kingdom.

A Michigan man, Donald L. Boyd, but his wife that almost anyone could get a credit card today. So he filed out an application for the family pet, a Dalmatian dog named Tareyton, listing her age as 27, year and occupation as watchdog. That Tareyton had neither Social Security number nor income did not deter the department store to which Mr. Boyd mailed the application, for a credit card for Tareyton Boyd's use was promptly returned.

No kidding. What is that old saying about where the world is going to—Louisville (Ky.) Courier-Journal

The Rat Race

We have the word of a University of Pittsburgh researcher that life in the big city really goes something like this — or vice versa.

For 11 years now, Dr. Joseph Buckley has been running laboratory rats some 5,000 of them all told — through a "stress chamber" simulating a few of the characteristic environmental influences of the urban existence — flashing bright lights, blaring noise and constant movement, this last, at 40 jolts to the minute, supposed to duplicate the effects of auto and commuter train travel.

After a week of this pace, Dr. Buckley's rats develop high blood pressure, become irritable and tend to snap. In short, the urban syndrome. And in fact, a good description of some of the people we work with. — Anniston (Ala.) Star

O'Brien's Aims Misunderstood

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Some members of the young and adult New Left who seem more or less open-minded about developing a fairly consistent link with the Democratic party need to shed some serious misconceptions they have with regard to new National Chairman Lawrence O'Brien.

Largely lost in the shuffle at the time O'Brien resumed the chairmanship a month ago was a statement issued by 30 New Left members. Basically, it assailed the choice of O'Brien as a "backroom" process.

While the document itself specifically extolled O'Brien from criticism, at least one among the 30 signers indicated a principal concern was whether he would give full support to the McGovern and O'Hara Reform Commissions mandated by the 1968 Democratic convention to reform procedures both for delegate selection and for the convention itself.

Whoever these doubters are, they are poor readers of the print media and poor interrogators at the most elemental level.

In late 1968 I reported, and I could hardly have been alone in this, that O'Brien was laboring joggedly to put together the "ben-benanced and most-qualified membership he could muster for the two reform commissions. The task consumed a high proportion of his time in the chaotic months after Hubert Humphrey's defeat by President Nixon.

To anyone who troubled to talk to O'Brien and find out what kind of man he is, he would have proved (as he would today) utterly convincing on the reform issue.

As a matter of fact, he said then—and I gave it full account that he did believe the reform commissions could do more than scratch the surface in the remaining of the riddled Democratic party.

It was O'Brien's view, and it still is, that his party's councils at all levels need to be opened wide to participation by the young. He believes large numbers are qualified by knowledge

Nuclear Disarmament Talks

By STEWART HENSLEY
UPI Diplomatic Reporter

WASHINGTON (UPI) — As the United States and Russia resume their grim dialogue on nuclear disarmament, each side professes to be negotiating in "good faith." But neither has expressed any optimism concerning the outcome.

The objective of the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks (SALT), opening Thursday in Vienna, is an agreement to limit and possibly reduce the awesome arsenals of nuclear weapons.

Mutual suspicion and basic political conflicts at various points around the world are the major bars to such an agreement.

On the positive side, however, Moscow and Washington have been drawn to the conference table by a common desire to lessen the possibility of eventual annihilation. Short of this, there is also a pressing need in more he is not asking the nominees to do something he wouldn't be willing to do himself.

The President would gladly spare others the rigors of a nomination and appoint himself to the post if that were constitutionally possible.

The side went on to say that "somebody's gotta do it" (be reclassified and would become liable for Supreme Court) and that Nixon was striving to be as even-handed as possible in choosing the nominees.

Since the South was called upon to provide the two most recent nominees, the blow will fall upon another region next time, the aide said.

New Light On Nixon Strategy

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Because his two most recent Supreme Court nominees were Southerners, some people are saying that President Nixon is discriminating against the South.

A White House aide with whom I discussed this matter assured me, however, that the President has no regional bias of any kind.

"Being a great humanitarian the President naturally is distressed when he has to put someone through the ordeal of a Supreme Court nomination," the aide said.

"But this is one of those unpleasant duties that is imposed upon him by the Constitution, so he has no choice in the matter. Furthermore,

A study of one area around Washington, D.C., found that road salt had killed 189 out of 199 lodges and damaged 18 more, says the National Geographic Society. Of 310 trees in the area, salt had killed 25 and injured 129, while about 4,900 square feet of grass had been destroyed.

In addition to harming vegetation, salt also corrodes automobiles, helps create potholes and acts into concrete, marble and granite. But so far, researchers have been unable to come up with any feasible alternative.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — There is no logical reason for believing that new equity financing versus institutional demand should provide a reliable indication of market direction, according to Francis I. duPont & Co. The historical relationship between institutional purchases and the new supply of stock coming to the market each year does not in itself provide a reliable clue to the future direction of stock prices it says. The economic and political forces at work are the real determinants, the firm adds.

The Dines Letter finds today's market "the kind of market where no matter what you buy, you get in trouble." It is an old bear market and, while stocks are getting cheap, one must wait for technical indicators to agree with trend analysis, the firm says.

President Trying Again

By DON McLEOD
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The judicial record of Supreme Court nominee Harry A. Blackmun, a federal appeals judge considered a strict constructionist by President Nixon, does not appear that easy to pin down.

The judge himself brushed aside labels shortly after he learned Tuesday in St. Louis where he sits on the U.S. 8th Court of Appeals, that Nixon had named him to fill the vacancy created almost a year ago with the resignation of Justice Abe Fortas.

"I've been called liberal and conservative," Blackmun said. "Labels are deceiving. I call them as I see them."

Blackmun, 61, who lives in Rochester, Minn., has been referred to by his old friend and fellow Minnesotan, Chief Justice Warren E. Burger of the Supreme Court, as being fairly liberal on civil rights issues and strict on the rights of criminal defendants.

Nixon, who has frequently criticized court decisions expanding the rights of defendants in criminal cases, was reported by White House press secretary Ronald L. Ingler to have been highly impressed when he studied Blackmun's judicial record.

"I've been called liberal and conservative," Blackmun said. "Labels are deceiving. I call them as I see them."

Blackmun ruled against a Negro who charged a housing developer refused to sell him a home in a new subdivision in St. Louis County, but he indicated sympathy for the plaintiff's contention.

"It is not for my court, as an inferior one, to give full expression to any personal inclinations any of us might have and to take the lead in expanding constitutional precedents when we are faced with a limiting Supreme Court decision," Blackmun wrote.

"It would not be too surprising if the Supreme Court one day were to hold that a court error when it dismisses a complaint of this kind," he added.

CASSELBERRY - SUPER MONDAY IS COMING - April 20 at 7:15, and it promises to be one of the most exciting days ever, as the mammoth, sparkling new, Seminole Turf Club opens its gates for the initial night of a 96 night racing season.

Shades of Hialeah—as some of the fastest animals on earth, merged with a man in the saddle, break from the starting gate and start their breath-taking whirl around the 1/4 mile oval at the Casselberry based facility.

Crane Praises Bryant; Predicts New York Finish

His words inspiring all who attended, Paul Crane, former All-American center from Alabama and now a linebacker for the New York Jets, spoke at the annual banquet of the Seminole Chapter of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

IT'S CALLED ACING

JERRY SCANLON, Deltona, celebrated St. Patrick's Day in a memorable way by shooting a Hole in One on Par 3 at the Deltona Golf Course. Dick Smith, one of the team partners, verified the play.

Crane later consented to an exclusive Herald interview. Reminded of his old days under Paul "Bear" Bryant at Alabama, Crane commented, "If I were going to play college football again, there's no question who I would play for; it would be Coach Bryant."

Deltona League Closes

With only two more weeks of bowling left in this year's competition, the Deltona Sunday Night Mixed League retained the same three teams in top place. The Cyclones are still in first place with 87 wins and 41 losses.

Jet Star Big Hit At Banquet

Someone from Sanford will attend a Fellowship of Christian Athletes summer conference this year thanks to the all out effort of the Seminole Chapter in their fund raising project in ticket sales for last night's FCA banquet at the Sanford Civic Center.

Everybody's getting into the act. Everybody's making a small car. And since we've made more of them than anyone else, we thought we'd pass along some things we've learned about the business over the years.

Strikes And Spares

As you may or may not know, there are all kinds of ways to earn recognition in bowling. Some, by not missing any of the nights of bowling during the season, others by virtue of a high game or series; and still others for their attitude and contribution to the sport, plus any number of other avenues.

From the time that four of these senior citizens first visited Jet Lanes about four or five years ago and requested some 'aid' with their bowling, to the present group of two different leagues... Sunday evening as well as the Friday gang.

Gene (Big Daddy) Miller joined four other members of the Toyota Late Model League this past Thursday in breaking the 600-plus series. Come to think of it, Gene's been long overdue with a huge series.

And while we're on the subject of high 600 series, more specifically in the 80s, last week's Dekle's Classic League had Pete Petersen using a pocket as wide as the one-two-three area.

That was two weeks ago, and this past Wednesday, Alex Serrea made a strong rush to eliminate it as the one-two-three area. Unfortunately, the yellow league recap sheets aren't available at the time of writing this column to quote you his exact scores...

About Those Summer Leagues

It's that time of the year again when the questions are popped at us about which league will be bowling when during the summer months. The answer is very simple...

Giants Surpass Braves On Grand Slam

By HAL BOKK
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Atlanta Stadium scoreboard was flashing numbers so fast it was an electrician's dream—the ideal situation for a machine-age hitter like Ken Henderson.

Atlanta Stars Making History

Atlanta's 15th victory, the first since Henderson broke up the Giants-Braves game with his ninth inning grand slam against reliever Bill Pappas, Atlanta's sixth pitcher, after San Francisco had loaded the bases with three straight walks against Gary Nelsson.

It is also just 11 homers (about two months) off to Babe Ruth's record-setting lifetime home run pace. Aaron can set another major league record in 1970 with his 14th season of playing in 150 or more games.

What the Braves needed Tuesday was a pitcher who could hold the Giants back. They never did find one even though they speeded with an eight-run second inning. San Francisco, however, had its fourth homer of the young season for Atlanta.

(Left) Herald sports scribe Robert Smith is shown interviewing the New York Jets star center who was the featured speaker at last night's affair. Some 200 local sports personalities along with their backers were feted at the banquet. Crane spoke on the benefits of being a Christian and an athlete and how they work so much better when they are combined.

Braves Sailing On

But the stubborn and undefeated Braves were not to be put down. They bounced right back with four more runs. McLeod walked, and then two outs later, Griffin walked. Montgomers reached base on a pitcher's error as one run scored. Bill Bourdeau walked to lead the bases and then Wall unloaded with a three-run triple to give him five RBIs for the game.

Braves started on the mound for the Braves but coach Ken Hunt called on Frank Sloan for relief in the sixth. O'Brian went the distance for the Spartans.

Today at 4 p.m. the Braves play host to the Seminole High Junior varsity, which they earlier beat 7-1. Sloan is slated to pitch.

The Spartans meet South Seminole Junior High in another intra-county battle Friday night at 7 p.m. at Cooper Field, located near Five Points. The Spartan Wildcats will play host to South Seminole and Bishop Moore Thursday at 4 p.m. at the Milwee track.

Naval Tankers Splash

By RICHARD ANDERSEN
 The Sanford Naval Academy Bluejackets smashed Daytona Beach Father Lopez yesterday in swimming action at the SNA pool. Lopez, The Blue and Gold took every first place except for diving and broke six school records.

Ritchel took two records in taking firsts in the 200 Free and the 400 Free. He swam the 200 in 2:08.3 and the 400 in 4:42. Ritchel had been one of the best swimmers on the team throughout the season.

Bob Kay and Tim German battled it out in the 100 Free and both finished with a record time of 58.2. The judges awarded Kay with the first place. Tom Bouman managed to qualify for the state tournament to be held in Jacksonville with a time of 2:29.2 in the 200 IM.

The Middies are now 6-1 and are in their finest season ever. 200 Medley - SNA (Schenkel, Prenter, Hess, German) - 1:51.1

200 Free - Birtshel (SNA) - 2:08.3, 2nd-Kay (SNA)

Gall Appointed Steward

CASSELLBERY — Frank C. Gall, a veteran horseman and racing official, has been appointed a steward representing the Association for the Seminole Turf Club's inaugural meeting which opens April 20.

Gall will be one of three stewards serving at the 96th night season. C. Gary South Seminole president, announced Gall's appointment and said others will follow shortly.

A former trainer on the major thoroughbred circuit in Maryland, Gall has served as an official for nearly 15 years. He has worked as a steward in West Virginia where he lives. He stands the stallion, Burnin' Babe, at O'Sullivan Farms in Charles Town, and is a director of West Virginia Thoroughbred Breeders' Association.

Farm teams connected with the Boston Red Sox are training in Ocala, Fla., this spring. Their Louisville team trains nearby at DeLand, Fla.

Tankers Stun Atlanta Again

By ED SHEARER
 Associated Press Sports Writer

ATLANTA (AP)—Jerry West, the National Basketball Association's leading scorer, plays defense, too.

The Los Angeles star plucked in 23 points Tuesday night as the Lakers defeated Atlanta 100-84 to take a 2-0 lead in the West. Division playoff finals.

But West's key contribution came on offense where he continued to shake Atlanta's Lou Hudson, holding him to 12 points, 12 below his regular season average.

Hudson managed to hit only 2 of 26 shots from the floor, and went only 4 for 10 in his 16-point effort in the first game of the best-of-7 series here Sunday.

"We did not expect to win two games here," West said. "It's nice to be in this situation."

Los Angeles could sweep the series with victories on its home floor Friday and Sunday nights and then face the New York Milwaukee survivor for the NBA championship.

New York also leads the Eastern Division playoffs, which resume at Milwaukee Friday night by a 2-0 margin.

If the capacity crowd of 7,300 expected to see blood, they were disappointed.

Atlanta Coach Riche Guerin, irked at the officiating in Sunday's game, called a news conference Monday and accused officials of protecting West and Elgin Baylor.

"If we get called for little fouls, then West and Baylor won't be around at the end," Guerin had said. "A lot of blood will be spilt on the floor tomorrow night."

Tribe Clads Home Today For Meet

By GREY BOYLES
 Herald Sports Staff

The Seminole High track team will play host to Cocoa Beach in a dual meet this afternoon at 4:00 p.m. It will be the last regular season meet for the Seminoles, however, they will play host to the District track meet this year.

The Minutemen should give the Seminoles some good competition as they have some good athletes. Tim Ferrin should continue to improve in his specialty the 800 YARD RUN and Richard Settle and Steve Ryals has been doing very good in the MILE RUN. Ferrin, Aaron Johnson, David Cochran and Mike Stephens lead a strong mile relay. Chris Dunn and Mike Sweeney have shown great improvement in the 400 Yard Run. Ken Allford, Stephens and Tommy Parks are the top Seminoles in the Low Hurdles.

In the Discus Tom Benson is the leader and Wade Singletary is strong in the shot put but he is being challenged strongly by Dallas Brown. Dallas has not been pleased with himself and vows to make a strong showing today. Handy Britzer is the key man in the Broad Jump and Ricky Nemith plans to add to his school record in the High Jump.

This will be the last home meet for the seniors led by Tom Benson, Wade Singletary, Tim Ferrin, Ken Allford, Keith Krogh and David Cochran and the best of luck to all the Seminoles on the track team.

Coach Ferrin and Coach Pines have really improved the track program and the facilities and equipment are top. This is a chance to see a fine track team duel the Minutemen from Cocoa.

Alcindor NBA Rookie Pick

NEW YORK (UPI) — Lew Alcindor got a small bit of consolation after one of the most frustrating nights of his life on a basketball court.

Alcindor, who missed two free throws in the final minute of his team's 112-111 playoff loss to the New York Knicks Monday night, was named Tuesday as the National Basketball Association Rookie of the Year by a unanimous vote.

The 7-foot-2 center will receive a check for $500 for the award.

Alcindor scored 28.8 points a game in his rookie season in the NBA to finish second behind Jerry West of Los Angeles. He also pulled down 1,390 rebounds for a 11.5 average that was third in the NBA. Alcindor also led NBA centers in assists with 337.

But Alcindor's biggest contribution was taking Milwaukee from a last place club into one that posted the best record in the league over the last 30 games of the season.

Alcindor, though, may be on the verge of ending the season as a loser for the first time in his life in the playoffs against New York — the Bucks are trailing 2-0 in the best-of-seven series.

Alcindor has a great goal to shoot for. Bill Russell played on 11 title teams in 13 teams and Lew would like to match that — which would be quite a feat since Russell had a better supporting cast.

The Grand Illusion.

Something strange happens to a lot of people when they get behind the wheel of a car. They forget they're only human. They forget that mistakes on the road can be caused by them... just as well as by the other guy.

There's a little Napoleon in all of us. Some have a little more — some a little less. The important thing is that we all recognize this attitude leads to accidents. Because Napoleon sees things only one way — his. When something goes wrong out on the highway, he presumes it's the other guy's idiotic mistake. Not his.

Fairness and understanding in traffic situations can only help make driving conditions safer for all of us. Your new car dealer would like to see the Napoleons on our roads start caring about other drivers.

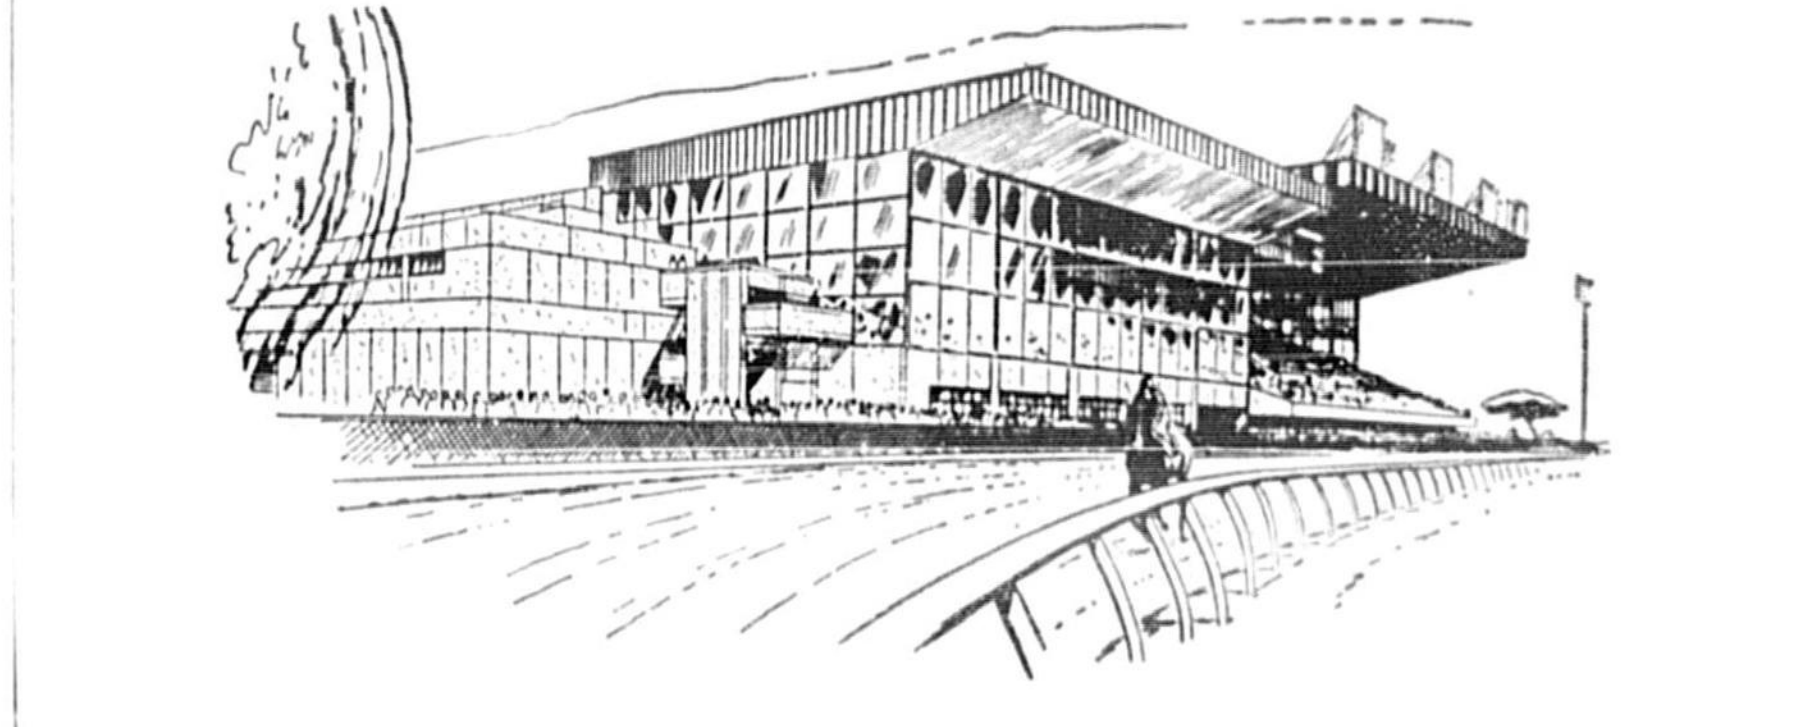

Napoleon may have made a pretty big name for himself. But please remember, after all was said and done, what he met.

Oil Spills Control Sought

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Florida's Department of Air and Water Pollution Control is seeking more power to regulate oil spills. The department spokesman said it has little success in getting agencies to give more power over oil spills.

The oil spill subcommittee of the Public Land and Parks Committee has voted previously to grant all responsibilities for oil spill control to the Department of Natural Resources.

The Department of Air and Water Pollution Control was put under the Department of Natural Resources in 1967. The department spokesman said it is imperative that it cooperate very closely with the Department of Natural Resources.

Natural Resources Director Randolph Hodges said the department works in very close cooperation and coordination with all other state agencies.

Harrison Shields, director of the department's Division of Marine Resources, told the subcommittee it will cost about $12,285 to set up an inspection and emergency control team in the agency. The department's plan calls for 18 inspectors to be located at 11 state ports.

Chris Jensen, lobbyist for the department, said the bill would grant the department authority to regulate oil spills.

Report of Progress!

Leading party newspapers speak frequently these days of the "Cominformists" who invade those never reconciled to the economic reforms and the political system which encourage the workers' self-management and incentives.

The name refers to the Cominform—the now defunct Communist Information Bureau organized by Moscow under Stalin in 1947 to insure bloc obedience. The Cominform pronounced Tito a heretic for talking back to Stalin and read him out of the family. The term "Cominformist" today does not necessarily refer to veterans of 1948 as such, but to a state of mind.

Splashdown Due Friday Noon Spacemen Inch Toward The Earth

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer

SPACE CENTER. Houston (AP) — Apollo 13's astronauts nursed their disabled spaceship back toward earth today.

The three spacemen and Mission Control Center appeared more confident with every passing hour that Apollo 13 would make it safely home.

But with two days to go it's still a potentially perilous journey with the astronauts reduced to dependence on the power and other resources of the attached lunar landing craft.

And ahead lies the critical re-entry when the crippled command ship must carry James A. Lovell Jr., Fred W. Haise Jr. and John L. Swigert Jr. on a blistering dive through the earth's atmosphere.

Splashdown is set for 12:18 p.m. EST Friday. However the recovery area southeast of Samoa was threatened by Tropical Storm Helen and the Astronauts might have to shift their landing site.

After hours of calm but tense composure following Monday night's oxygen tank rupture that wiped out their moon landing attempt, the astronauts today were in better spirits. For the first time since the chilling accident that drained oxygen and electrical power from the command ship they joked with Mission Control.

They were buoyed Tuesday night when astronaut boss Sonny Wortenzon said, "We're in good shape all the way around. Why don't you get worrying and go to sleep."

"We think that is a pretty good idea" Lovell said. "Aid of the service module. Each tank has a sort of electric blanket heater on the outside and a fan on the inside."

The two oxygen tanks in the spacecraft are causing the rise in pressure which exploded the tank, a source at the Manned Spacecraft Center said Tuesday.

Blast A Mystery

By PAUL BECKER

SPACE CENTER. Houston (AP) — Some spacecraft engineers believe an electrical short may have caused an explosion which disabled the Apollo 13 spacecraft.

A short circuit in either a fan or an explosion of the spacecraft's two oxygen tanks could have caused a rise in pressure which exploded the tank, a source at the Manned Spacecraft Center said Tuesday.

Soviet Shadow Hits Yugoslavia

WASHINGTON (AP) — Yugoslavia never had it so good economically. For that reason as much as any other, it is fearful. The Russians are annoyed.

From the looks of things, Moscow and its blue allies are neck-deep in intrigue aimed at toppling Yugoslavia's system of socialism. Moscow says it has a "Socialist republic" with a variety of creeds and nationalities. It has a Balkan history of feuds, fragmentation, foreign domination and wars. Tito has kept it together for a quarter century and at the same time stayed out of the embrace of the Russian bear.

In the normal course of events, if Tito should die, the presidency would be assumed by the constitution by Col. Gen. Koca Popovic, 62, the former foreign minister who is now vice president. He would hold the reins of power until the next election, and would then be in a strong position to stay.

But there could be a good deal of trouble, perhaps even before Tito passes from the scene.

The Yugoslav League of Communists, as the ruling party is called, obviously is worried by pressure from external sources at a time when internal political difficulties could generate the sort of confusion in which the Russians like to operate.

Allies Smash Red Base

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese troops, operating with a token force of Cambodians, smashed a North Vietnamese base camp inside Cambodia Tuesday in the first major combined operation reported in the war, informed sources said today.

They told me it was burning and we'd better get a lot of help so I did," he said.

Farrell said five departments which responded were from Pine Hill, Ocoee, Lochhart, Orlando, Union Park, Winter Garden, Kissel and Gloucester.

Justice Is Charged With Gambling Ties

By JEAN HELLER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford has set the stage for a possible impeachment against Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, charging that Douglas may have had long-time ties with gambling and underworld figures.

Ford's attack on Douglas, drafted for presentation to the House today, covers a wide range of the 71-year-old Justice's activities, including his voting record on the court, his off-the-bench writings and his relationships with Las Vegas figures Albert Parvin and possibly with Parvin's associates.

Douglas' dealings with Parvin began in 1940 when he aided in setting up the Albert Parvin Foundation and became a director and later its president at $12,000 a year. Douglas resigned from the post last May.

Ford charges that Parvin has long been connected with underworld figures, the associations dating back as far as 1940 when he was hired by Bugs Siegel to decorate the Flamingo Hotel in Las Vegas gambling palace.

Parvin also purchased a large share of El Rancho, another Las Vegas gambling enterprise and, according to Ford, eventually teamed up with William Israel "Ice Pick" Willie Alderman to run the Flamingo.

In 1960, the Parvin group decided to sell the Flamingo and husband Richard Burton arrived in this small resort town Thursday night aboard a private jet and denied rumors of a possible divorce.

The Associated Press disclosed last year that Miami-based gangster Meyer Lansky introduced the Parvin group to a trio of Miami hotelmen who bought the Las Vegas enterprise.

"Stories about a divorce are completely false," Miss Taylor said. "The rumors were invented by his share of the proceeds."

$1 Million Fire Hits Orlando

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Fire early today destroyed a building complex of about 1 a.m., estimated the loss at $1 million. No injuries were reported although close to 200 firemen and police converged in the area of the two and half block long building.

Mayor Carl Langford, on the scene shortly after the blaze broke out about 1 a.m., estimated the loss at $1 million. No injuries were reported although close to 200 firemen and police converged in the area of the two and half block long building.

Six hours after the fire was discovered by two Orange County sheriff's deputies, Assistant Fire Chief Larry Camnitz said, "It couldn't be any worse."

"The entire building and the several companies it housed have been destroyed. It is nothing but a smoldering mass of ruins."

Camnitz said investigators did not determine immediately the cause of the blaze, but said officials did not suspect arson.

The L-shaped structure was located one block outside the Orlando city limits in the unincorporated town of Fair Villa.

Eight fire departments sped to the scene with 20 pieces of large equipment, said Fair Villa Volunteer Fire Department Chief Frank Bass.

"It was a tough one. I knew it was going to be when I got here about 1:15 a.m.," Bass said. "But when I got here help I figured we could get it licked."

Sgt. Joe Farrell, night desk sergeant at the Sheriff's office, said Deputies Dow Orwig and Cecil Bowden discovered the fire and notified him.

FIRE STRUCK an industrial park section of Orlando, destroying a number of buildings at an estimated loss of $1 million. (Related photo on Page 1A.)

Worn-Out Traffic Signals Debated

By MARION BETHA

The malfunctioning traffic signal at I-4 and SR 436 was explained by a representative of Florida Signals to the County Commission. The representative stated that the problem stemmed from the age of the equipment and the unavailability of parts from the manufacturer.

He said that the manufacturer made replacement parts but not special orders.

Commission Chairman John Alexander queried if the state was knowledgeable of the age of this equipment, that when the county says "BID $99,815.00 they would like to think the equipment will be corrected when a malfunction occurs."

Read Suppl. J. C. Lavender stated that the state was apprised of the situation, "but all they tell me to do is fix it."

Alexander questioned the usefulness of signals and was advised that the state has never determined the life standards of signals.

There are four manufacturers, with voltage differing with each one. He continued that the county should specify certain minimum standards which they will accept, in a resolution to the Department of Transportation (DOT). He further stated that a signal which is being installed in Altamonte Springs (presumably one which was requested at Langwood Avenue) would probably be in need of replacement in the next six months.

County Engineer William Bush, Lavender and the representative of Florida Signals were requested to review the situation as to whether the county should approve a resolution that the state incorporate certain standards in so far as future maintenance of traffic signals in the county.

Plat Bond Is Released

By ROYER BOLLEN

The family black sheep bleaches rapidly once he begins to make money.

A critic is a fellow who never outgrows the game of knock-knock.

County Attorney Harold Johnson said that "if the county had caught the platting before any thing was done we could have vacated the plat."

The motion to release the developer from the bond was carried by a 4-2 vote, with the dissenting vote.

In another matter with relation to St. Johns River Estates, the commission adopted a resolution to advertise for vacating and abandoning Canal Street at the east end beginning at the intersection of Driftwood Drive. It was pointed out that this was a power line and no building could be done.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A portrait of Harry S. Truman which took two decades to finish has been unveiled at the National Portrait Gallery in the presence of many of his longtime Cabinet members and former President Lyndon B. Johnson.

The Taylors

PUERTO VALLARTA, Mexico (AP) — Elizabeth Taylor and husband Richard Burton arrived in this small resort town Thursday night aboard a private jet and denied rumors of a possible divorce.

The Associated Press disclosed last year that Miami-based gangster Meyer Lansky introduced the Parvin group to a trio of Miami hotelmen who bought the Las Vegas enterprise.

"Stories about a divorce are completely false," Miss Taylor said. "The rumors were invented by his share of the proceeds."

HEMS AND HERS: Fashion in stewardess garb have kept up with the times, as shown by haulies of uniforms worn by stewesses over the last four decades. The uniforms (from left) were introduced in 1923, 1931, 1951 and 1968 (current). This year marks the 40th anniversary of stewardess service, started by Boeing Air Transport, a pioneer division of United Air Lines.

Sorority Sojourns To Spain

"South of the Border" was the theme of a dinner party given by members of Xi Beta Eta Saturday night. The lovely Bob McKee hacienda was the scene of the festive evening. The spacious garage was converted into a most sumptuous dining room. Individual tables covered in red checkered tablecloths, centered with wine bottles and glowing candles were placed around the room. The walls were decorated with large colorful flowers, Mexican blankets and large sembers. Known for its good food, the Cantina management prepared a large assortment of fresh fruits and vegetables to tease the appetites of their guests. Later in the evening Cantina guests enjoyed a main course of Chili and Chips, Bean salad, crackers and rolls. Guests arrived for the fiesta dressed in the best fiesta costume. Most outstanding Gringo was the Cisco Kid, and his girlfriend, better known as Rick and More Walker. Other guests enjoying a festive evening were Claudia and Jim Blythe, Eleanor and Dick Butler, Kitty and Joe Corley, Barbara and Bob Debie, Jo and Walt Gardner, Helen and Don Hammer, Jan and Don Cahill, Betty and Don Rathel, Polly and Don Smith, Mimi and Rick Walker, Betty Erickson and hosts, Betty and Bob McKee. Special Gringo guests were Marley and Jay Warrick. Cantina management included Betty Rathel, Jo Gardner and Jan Cahill.

Miss Marsha Pope, P. W. Greathouse Married In Double Ring Ceremony

By JANE CASSELLBERRY
 Miss Marsha Pope, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Pope of 1010 Crystal Bowl Circle, Casselberry, became the bride of Sgt. Philip Wayne Greathouse, who is stationed at McCoy Air Force Base, Orlando, in a double ring ceremony at noon Saturday, April 4, 1970, in the McCoy Air Force Base Chapel. The groom is the son of Mrs. Frances Greathouse of Spencer, W. Va. and the late Mr. Greathouse, Chaplain Earl Duncan officiated at the nuptials. The bride was radiant in her gown of embroidered white lace embellished with net rose petals studded with tiny seed pearls and a single white orchid with satin streamers and miniature chrysanthemums. Maid of honor for her sister, Miss Janis Pope, wore an apricot fall length A-line gown of bridal satin with short sleeves, mandarin collar and inserted lace panels in front with inverted pleat in back caught with wide satin bow. The bridesmaids, Miss Luanna Pope, sister of the bride, and Miss Joan Fox wore identical gowns in pale green. The flower girl was Little Karen McHenry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard McHenry of Orlando, who wore an apricot gown — a miniature duplicate of that worn by the maid of honor. In fitting with a Spring wedding, all the bride's attendants carried white baskets of Spring flowers of snapdragons, chrysanthemums and fern nestled on matching net and satin and centered with a white orchid corsage. The mother of the groom chose a moss green jersey jacket dress with matching hat and accessories and wore an orchid corsage. Following their wedding trip they will make their home in Orlando on Lake Conroy. The bride is a graduate of Lyman High School and attended Seminole Junior College. She was a "Dancer Girl" last season and is employed by Lawyer's Title and Guaranty Fund of Orlando.

Breathtaking

...but it doesn't have the Gold Medallion.

Modern women would rather move to an all-electric Gold Medallion home. And enjoy the up-to-date luxury of a flameless electric range, water heater, reverse-cycle air conditioning. And at least two other major electric appliances, plus Ample Light for Living, and Full Housepower Wiring. The Gold Medallion home is more than breathtaking...it's all electric! Which means carefree living. And it's more economical too.

Baptist Choirs Plan Programs

Providence Observes Men's Day

By Mrs. R. B. Thomas, Jr., pastor.

The culmination of the Rest of the World program, "Men's Day," was observed at the Providence Baptist Church, Lake Wales, on Sunday, March 15.

The 11 a.m. service will be delivered by Charles Roberts, principal of Hopper Elementary School.

At 2 p.m. Tommie Jenkins, Youth Department director at First Shiloh Baptist Church, will be guest speaker.

The St. John Baptist Church Brotherhood Chorus will also perform at this service.

Everyone is invited to attend both of these services.

Ernest Cassanova, co-chairman, Henry Grooms, chairman, and Rev. R. W. Wiggins, pastor.

Choir No. 1 of St. John Baptist Church will present its annual Musical Extravaganza on Sunday at 3 p.m.

Several guest musical groups and soloists will highlight the program. Mrs. C. Metherston, president, Rev. R. T. Williams, pastor.

Choir No. 1 of Springfield Baptist Church will observe its fourth anniversary Sunday with a program beginning at 2:30 p.m.

The president, Mrs. Josephine Newsome is extending an invitation to the general public, requesting your presence on this very special day. Rev. N. A. Watson, pastor.

The independent Community Music Club will present a baby contest and fashion show on Sunday at 2 p.m. at Masonic Temple on West 12th Street.

Refreshments will be served immediately following the services. Rev. O. W. Williams, pastor.

Last Sunday's services at Springfield Missionary Baptist Church were most inspirational. The sermons, "The Resurrection of the Redeemer" and "The Great Commission," were expounded on by the pastor, Rev. N. A. Watson.

Several guests from other churches were visitors at Springfield.

The church family invites you to share with them a week of activities in observance of their pastor's fifth anniversary.

Services honoring the Rev. N. A. Watson will begin Monday and continue through Sunday, April 26 when the culminating address will be delivered by Robert B. Thomas, Jr., at 11 a.m.

Visitors or persons without personal church affiliations are always welcome to attend services at Springfield.

The musical group, attired in white leather boleros and ruffled-front shirts, had the crowd under its spell. They were awarded $100 for their efforts.

A reward for winning the Soul Lovers will participate again when "Orlando Presents" offers the Battle of the Sounds Street Dances.

Action will get underway at 8:30 p.m. on Friday at Rosalind Avenue in front of the Robert Meyer Motor Inn.

The group consists of five singers, Gene Cassanova, Lee Jackson, Bernard Harden, Marshall Holloway and Erwin Holloway.

Also the band with Johnny Goulet, Tony Brass, Tony Gilchrist, Kenny Birch, Sherwood Mobley and Dan Brown.

Soul Lovers Inc. is managed by Gregory Washington.

Bake A Passover Cake

PASSOVER CAKE... delectably flavored with banana and orange and served with an orange sauce.

CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Families of the Jewish faith who observe Passover (April 21-28) will be interested in a delectable Orange-Banana Spongecake. According to tradition, wheat flour and baking powder cannot be used in Passover cakes, so this one is made with potato starch, and eggs add the leavening.

The delicious flavor of this cake comes from a combination of grated orange rind, orange juice concentrate and banana. It is served with an Orange Sauce that is thickened with potato starch.

Potato starch, by the way, is available in many supermarkets and delicatessens.

PASSOVER ORANGE-BANANA SPONGECAKE WITH ORANGE SAUCE

7 large eggs, separated
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
1 cup mashed ripe banana

1 tablespoon frozen orange juice concentrate
1/2 cup sifted potato starch
2 tablespoons potato starch
2 oranges, sectioned

In a one-quart saucepan over moderate heat stir together the orange juice and sugar until sugar dissolves; bring to a boil. Remove from heat. Stir a little of the hot orange juice mixture into the potato starch; stir back into remaining hot orange juice mixture. Cook over moderately low heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Stir in orange sections; reheat gently. Makes about three cups. Serve warm over Passover Orange-Banana Spongecake.

NOTE: To section oranges, cut slice from top. Cut off peel in strips from top to bottom, or cut off peel round and round, spiral-fashion. Cut deep enough to remove white membrane; if any white membrane is left, cut away. Cut slice from bottom. Cut along side of each dividing membrane from outside to center, flipping each section into a bowl as you do so.

1/2 cup elder vinegar

Drain syrup from fruits into a medium saucepan. To syrup add cloves, cinnamon and allspice; bring to a boil and simmer for eight minutes. With a slotted spoon remove spices. Stir in molasses and vinegar. Heat. Add fruit and heat gently. Serve hot or cold. Store in refrigerator. Serve as a relish with a main course. Enough for 8 to 12 servings.

Good Luck (AP) — Bank president W. G. Miller hopes the lock at the Kevill Bank proves effective at keeping out burglars.

Miller knows it's pretty good at keeping the bank staff inside. The lock jammed as the workers started to leave and the employees waited one hour until a locksmith arrived to let them out.

Elderly Woman Evicted

By FARLE JONIAH

MIAMI (AP) — Mary Felder has survived 88 years of yesterday, but today she is praying tomorrow will never come.

The frail, little Negro woman says it because she faces eviction Wednesday from a ramshackle three-room apartment which has been her home for the last 30 years.

"I am a poor old woman and I have no where else to go," she said.

Stanley Bittner, chief of the demolition section of the City of Miami Building Department said the dirty, dilapidated wooden building, in a tumble-down neighborhood on the northwest fringe of downtown Miami, was condemned Feb. 16.

The owners tried to locate Mrs. Felder, but were unable to do so, Bittner said.

Her problem exploded March 25 when she received a written notice from Bonded Realty Agency, Inc. which said her present arrangement was "heretby terminated."

Lawyers Want Say In Nominees

"Is the man just barely qualified? Is he a man who makes your spirits soar?"

By MIKE FEINSLER

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Shortly after President Nixon nominated Warren E. Burger as chief justice, he abandoned the usual practice of clearing Supreme Court nominations with an American Bar Association (ABA) committee.

In the aftermath of the senate rejections of Nixon's next two nominees, ABA President Bernard G. Segal is seeking a meeting with Nixon to try to convince him to return to the method of his predecessor, Dwight D. Eisenhower, John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson.

Segal testified Monday before the Senate subcommittee on improvements in judicial machinery that Nixon retained the old system of advance clearance with the ABA's committee on the federal judiciary for district and circuit court judges. But, he testified, Nixon specifically ruled it out for Supreme Court nominations.

"Because Nixon kept advance clearance for the lower courts, they have 'been spared several judges' who were rated unqualified by the ABA committee even though they enjoyed 'the strongest kind of political backing.'"

If Nixon declines to return to the old system, Segal said, he will urge the ABA committee to change its method of rating Supreme Court nominees.

The committee was severely criticized in rating G. Harrold Carswell of Florida "qualified" a few days after Nixon made the nomination Jan. 19 and before Carswell's 1948 white

Bermuda's Fish Lure Tourists

By TOM ROSE
Associated Press Writer
HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP) — For nearly half a century, the swaying palms, turquoise seas and coral beaches of this lush little group of islands 570 miles off the North Carolina coast has lured the young, the bored, and the wealthy.

From the college kids who overrun the islands every spring to the staid British couples who cluster on hotel verandas, a parade of tourists floods here the year round to swim, sail and try their luck at catching the fish that abound in waters warmed by the Gulf Stream.

This patch of volcanic rock 21 miles square is teeming with restaurants of every style: plush dining rooms, patios with umbrella-topped tables, quaint tea shops and English-style pubs.

In all Bermuda kitchens, the chief attraction is fish. It may be in the form of the famed fish chowder laced with sherry peppers and black rum, Bermuda fish cooked a la maison, Bermuda lobster or conch salad. For the more adventurous, there's a spiced hash made from shark meat—something we passed up during our stay.

Bermuda's tourist officials claim the island has more species of shore and ocean fish than anywhere else in the world. This is a pretty sweeping statement but fish certainly do abound.

The cluster of islands is surrounded by coral reefs about 10 miles off the north shore and half a mile off the south. Inside these reefs you can catch dozens of small bottom fish, including grey snapper, yellowtail, grunt, angel fish and small rockfish.

Venture about 20 miles off shore and you will find larger rockfish, red snapper, grouper, bass and amberjack.

For the ultimate thrill of deep-sea fishing, proceed to the far side of the reefs, where there is a sudden drop to the ocean floor. Here are such quarry as barracuda, wahoo, bonito, tuna, mackerel and marlin.

If you don't want to catch your own fish but are anxious to cook on Front Street when the fishing boats are in, a crewman will clean the specimens you choose and drop it into your basket.

One of the island's most popular eating fish is snapper, which can be prepared in a variety of delicious ways. Betty Ross, an expert on Bermudian cooking, says the islanders have their own way of preparing snapper and many other types. Before cooking, they agree to line or lemon juice over the fish, season with salt and pepper. Then they let it stand at room temperature for an hour. The fruit juice tenderizes the flesh and shortens cooking time.

Here's a snapper recipe that's a favorite in many Bermuda kitchens:

BAKED RED SNAPPER
1 four-pound red snapper, dredged inside and out with seasoned flour
8 tablespoons butter
1 cup chopped cucumber
1 cup chopped onion
2 cups chopped celery
1/3rd cup chopped green pepper (removed all seeds)
1/4 cup white wine
3 cups canned tomatoes
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1 bay leaf
1 minced clove garlic
Pinch red pepper
Melt the butter. Add cucumber, onion, celery, green pepper, white wine, tomatoes, Worcestershire, bay leaf, garlic, pepper. Simmer for 20 minutes. Place fish in baking pan and cover with sauce. Bake in moderate oven about 45 minutes. Serve with chilled white or rose wine.

SATURDAY LUNCH
This sandwich spread is also delicious on crackers.
Tomato Rice Soup
Sandwiches with Olive, Cheese and Raisin Spread
Fruit Salad
Beverage
OLIVE-CHEESE-RAISIN
1 package (8-oz) cream cheese, softened
1/3rd cup chopped pimiento-stuffed olives
1/4 cup chopped medium-fine toasted pecans
1/4 cup raisins
Dash of salt
In a medium mixing bowl, with a wooden spoon, thoroughly mix together all the ingredients. Use as a sandwich filling for whole wheat bread. Makes about 1 1/2 cups.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

THE SANFORD HERALD — Wednesday, April 15, 1970

Having a dog run through an unfenced back yard is attacked and bitten by the property owner's dog. In due course, he retaliated with a suit for damages. At the trial, the defendant admitted that his dog was vicious.

"That is precisely why I keep him, to attack trespassers," he told the court. "I keep him chained, but the chain is long enough for him to protect my property. The plaintiff was bitten only because he went where he did not belong."

However, the court threw out this defense and granted Ed's claim.

"The safety of human life," said the judge, "may not be necessarily endangered in the protection of property."

Generally speaking, the law considers the keeping of a vicious dog similar to the keeping of a dangerous weapon. The dog, like the weapon, must be handled with extreme care. Against a trespasser who is innocent, embodying no personal menace to anyone, the property owner has no more right to use a vicious dog than to use a gun.

In fact, some courts impose liability on the owner even if he tried his best to prevent bites. One home owner kept his vicious dog locked in an enclosure beneath the front steps. A visiting neighbor was climbing the steps one day when his foot slipped through a loose board. The dog, seeing the foot come in range, lost no time in taking a bite.

Here, the court said the owner liable even though he had tried to avoid accidents. The court said this was the penalty for keeping such a dog on the premises in the first place.

On the other hand, the owner is usually not responsible if the victim plays an active role in bringing on his own trouble. Take this case.

A man went to pick up his car at a repair shop which had already closed for the day. He knew the proprietor kept a vicious watchdog, but "took a chance" and went in anyhow. Unfortunately, the dog did bite him severely.

Could the man collect damages? In these circumstances, the court said no.

"He fully appreciated the danger," said the court, "and voluntarily incurred the risk."

 Chocolate Milk
 Everyday Cookies
EVERYDAY COOKIES
 2 1/2 cups sifted flour
 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 cup (1 stick) butter
 1/2 cup sugar
 1/2 cup grated orange rind
 1 large egg
 1/2 cup raisins, chopped
 1/2 cup coarsely chopped walnuts

On wax paper sift together the flour, baking soda and salt. In a medium mixing bowl cream butter, sugar and orange rind; beat in egg. Blend in sifted dry ingredients and milk. Stir in raisins and walnuts. Chill.

Work with one quarter of the dough at a time. On a floured pastry cloth, with a floured stack-of-covered rolling pin, roll out dough to 1/4 inch thickness; cut out with a 2 1/2 to 3-inch cookie cutter. Place one inch apart on greased cookie sheets. Bake in a preheated 325-degree oven for seven to nine minutes. With a wide metal spatula, remove to wire racks to cool. Store in tightly covered tin box. Makes about four dozen.

FAMILY DINNER
 Meatballs with Mushroom Gravy
 Slice Salad Bowl
 Green Peas
 Chocolate Cake with Fluffy White Frosting

FLUFFY WHITE FROSTING
 2 large egg whites
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1 cup light corn syrup
 1/4 cup sugar
 1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla

In a medium mixing bowl beat the egg whites and salt until soft ribbed peaks form when beater is slowly withdrawn. In a small saucepan stir together the corn syrup and sugar. Over low heat, stirring constantly, cook until sugar is completely dissolved and mixture just reaches a full boil. Beat hot syrup, a little at a time, into egg whites. Beat in Vanilla. Continue beating until mixture holds stiff straight peaks when beater is slowly withdrawn. Makes 4 1/3 cups—enough to cover tops and sides of two 8- or 9-inch cake layers. After frosting cake, let stand, uncovered, at room temperature for about one hour; then store covered. Frosting will stay soft for about three days.

FAMILY SUPPER
 Brown sugar and molasses help to give these muffins good flavor.
 Frankfurters Baked Beans
 Oatmeal Raisin Muffins
 Cole Slaw
 Beverage

OATMEAL RAISIN MUFFINS
 1 cup sifted flour
 1 teaspoon baking powder
 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1 cup quick-cooking oats
 2 tablespoons firmly packed dark brown sugar
 1/2 cup raisins
 1/4 cup molasses
 1 large egg, slightly beaten
 3 tablespoons salad (not olive) oil
 1 cup milk

Into a medium mixing bowl sift together the flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt. Stir in oats, brown sugar and raisins. Add molasses, egg, oil and milk; stir only until dry ingredients are moistened. Batter will be very thin. Fill greased medium muffin-pan cups full. Bake in a preheated 425-degree oven until a cake tester inserted in center comes out clean—15 to 20 minutes. Serve hot or cold. Makes two dozen muffins.

Renting Machinery

ALTON, Ill. (AP) — A few Madison County farmers are finding that leasing farm machinery is one way of controlling their resources. Farmers have found that rapid changes in technology and the expanding farm business have created a need for new machines. This can cause a severe strain on the normal sources of investment capital.
 Custom hiring to get the job done or renting the machine by the job or by the season can relieve a tight capital situation and keep capital free for other uses in the farm business.

Caterer For UN A Diplomat

By TOM BROW
 Associated Press Writer
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.
 (AP) — "Every three months we circle the globe by menu," said the tall man with the festive necktie as he watched the diplomats enter the United Nations Delegates Dining Room.
 Frank W. Reickert, general manager of catering at U.N. headquarters here explained that "although the cookery of France and America is used as a base, the daily special always is a dish from a different part of the world."
 Reickert is not only in charge of the two U.N. dining rooms, two cafeterias and two bars, but also is responsible for catering about 500 diplomats a year. These social get-togethers, hosted by any of the 128 member states during the three-month run of the General Assembly may range from a cozy luncheon for 20 to a mammoth evening buffet for 800 or more.
 It is an exacting job, shifting gears for hosts of various religious faiths and national cultures, and Reickert has learned the hard way.
 "It was tricky at first, but it has finally become an automatic reflex," he said. "This shiftless or poor at Israeli receptions and no hard liquor at some of those Eastern Affairs."
 Sometimes a guest's sensibilities about food have nothing to do with his religion. When V. K. Krishna Menon of India was a delegate, he would call for a saucer of raw vegetables and munch them with strange glee while the rest of the guests carved up thick steaks.
 Reickert and his staff acquire the recipes for foreign dishes from a number of sources, including the diplomats' own selves.
 "The wives of delegates have a standing invitation to submit recipes," said Reickert. "We let the egg, one delegate's wife even insisted on coming to the kitchen and personally cooking her favorite dish."
 The U.N. cooks are versatile, but even they make mistakes on occasion.
 "Once we had a request to serve adobo, a Philippine national dish," Reickert recalled. "When I inquired, the chef said certainly, he knew how to fix it."
 Adobo, a concoction of chicken and pork seasoned with garlic, duty appeared on the menu, and a luncheon party of Filipinos ordered it.
 "It was simply marvelous," one diner told Reickert, wiping his chin contentedly. "Of course, it wasn't adobo, but it couldn't have been more delicious."
 For those who would like to try the Philippine version of adobo, here's a fairly simple recipe:
ADOBO
 2 pounds boneless pork, stripped of fat and cut into cubes
 1 cup white wine, fairly dry
 2 garlic cloves, minced
 1 medium onion, sliced
 1 teaspoon peppercorns
 1 bay leaf
 1 pitcher water (amount needed varies)
 1 fryin' chicken (3 1/2 pounds) cut into 2-inch pieces — chop thru bone
 Lard for frying or vegetable fat, if desired
 1 cup coconut milk
 Salt
 Combine pork, wine, garlic, onion, peppercorns and bay leaf. Add one cup water cover and cook slowly for one hour. Add chicken and cook another 45 minutes adding more water as needed. When pork and chicken are tender, remove pieces from liquid and fry in fat till brown. Return to liquid. Add coconut milk and salt to taste. Simmer five minutes. Serve with cold dry white wine. (Serves eight).
 NOTE: The refreshing liquid that comes from the coconut is coconut water, not milk. To make the milk, you must place two cups of shredded or grated coconut into one cup of hot water or freshly scalded cow's milk. Let stand for 15 minutes, then squeeze through cheesecloth. If liquid is too rich for your taste, add more hot water or milk, and let stand another 15 minutes, or half hour.

Births
 LONDON (AP) — England and Wales had 8,783 multiple births in 1968—including one set of sextuplets and one of quadruplets.
 Only two of the sextuplets, two boys, were born alive, but all four of the quadruplet girls were born alive.
 Of 1.6 total multiple births, 8,897 were twins and 84 triplets.

Dismissal Refused Murder Defendant

By MARION BETHEA

Circuit Judge E. Thom Rumberger this morning denied a defense motion to dismiss the indictment charging Charlene Bennett Powers with second degree murder in the death of her two-year-old daughter. Another motion by the defendant for severance of the defendants was denied without prejudice.

A motion by the defendant for more definite statements was granted by the court, as was a motion by the defendant for production of state's evidence.

Mrs. Powers was indicted by the Seminole County grand jury on March 9 on second degree murder charges in the death of Lana Bennett. The child was taken to Orange Memorial Hospital on Feb. 4 by her mother for treatment of injuries which she said occurred from a fall.

The child died two days later and county authorities were called into the case by physicians who treated the child. The autopsy report listed the cause of death as a ruptured spleen.

The child had been admitted to Orlando Naval Hospital several times previously for treatment of injuries alleged to have occurred by falls and county authorities were alerted by Navy authorities of possible child beating. The child also allegedly spent over two months in the hospital last year for treatment of various injuries, including several broken limbs.

The defendant was released on custody on March 30 on a $10,000 bond which was posted by the attorney by whom she is employed, Clark Jennings, Winter Park.

Trial has been set for the week of May 18 in circuit court.

Apollo Thirteen Astronauts Will Splash On Friday

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP)—Apollo 13's astronauts recharged a weak battery and prepared other systems in their command ship today for the unique and critical maneuvers needed to bring their crippled craft back to earth Friday.

James A. Lovell Jr., Fred W. Haise Jr. and John L. Swigert Jr. streaked toward a splash-down in the Pacific Ocean after an engine firing Wednesday night shifted them off a course that would have left them stranded in space.

With the veteran Lovell at the controls, they triggered their lunar module engine 15 seconds and successfully changed course. Had that firing and later course corrections failed, Apollo 13 would have missed earth by 104 miles and skipped off into space.

With that hurdle cleared, the spacemen turned all attention to Friday's re-entry and landing, scheduled for 1:07 p.m. EST.

News Ban Anticipated

An anticipated news ban which would curtail news coverage in the morals case of Orlando Attorney Edward J. Harlan Blackburn is legal according to Assistant State Attorney Thomas Speer.

Dissemination of news is at the discretion of the court and the judge has the legal authority to curtail any news, according to Speer.

If the news "blackout" does occur, it will not be in Seminole county. The latest incident of this nature was during the murder trial of Michael Thompson, when the press was prohibited from taking photos of the defendant inside the courthouse or on adjacent property.

In a recent hearing at Titusville, Judge Thom Rumberger denied a motion by Kirkland's attorney to dismiss a motion challenging the constitutionality of the 18th Judicial Circuit. The court granted motions for a bill of particulars, disclosure of witnesses and production of evidence.

Trial for Kirkland is set at Circuit Court on the week of May 18. He is charged with lewd and lascivious assault on a female under 14 and a crime against nature. He is free on $3,000 bond.

Blackburn, also charged with lewd and lascivious assault on a female child, was scheduled for trial on March 16. His trial was postponed at that time and his attorney appealed to the Florida Supreme Court at Tallahassee for a writ of prohibition. The motion was denied by the court. The attorney's petition was dismissed without prejudice and it was noted to the attorney that the question concerning the constitutionality of the 18th circuit could be brought up in an appeal which might be forthcoming after the trial.

Refuses To Cut Rental Fees SIC Firm On Rates

By BILL SCOTT

Sanford Industrial Commission (SIC) this morning served notice on prospective lessees of Sanford Airport buildings that rental fees already established will not be cut—even at the possible loss of a manufacturing-training operation to employ 110 people to start on the relocation from Orlando to Sanford of an existing drafting school.

SIC, on a motion by Scott Burns, member, approved holding fast to present $1.10 per square foot rates for buildings 310 and 289, which are the structures wanted by Draftex of Orlando, and Krebs and Son of Bavaria, Germany.

Burns' motion was not to reduce rates for anyone on any airport buildings and this pass will not be cut—even at the possible loss of a manufacturing-training operation to employ 110 people to start on the relocation from Orlando to Sanford of an existing drafting school.

He offered a beginning price of 60 cents a square foot and said his firm intended to renovate the building at a $72,000 cost. W. E. Knowles, member, said the proposal would fill up the building for 20 years with only 23 job opportunities. "This board should be concerned with getting job opportunities, not just leasing buildings," he commented.

Another point that disturbed John Krier, member, was that Draftex had not furnished a financial statement as promised in a meeting two weeks before. Harrison said since his firm has been involved with income tax returns it had not been able to get the information now, but would have it later. He also advised that a $150,000 loan from Small Business Administration (SBA) had been orally approved for the relocation with $15,000 of the amount being loaned locally by Florida State Bank.

When the SIC refused to budge on its asking price, Harrison inquired about the rental of another building but nothing was discussed further.

George Horowitz and Max Katburg, of Krebs and Son, appeared with Amos Jones, of Seminole Community Action, to make a proposal. The offer seeks first six months free rent and 30 cents a square foot per year from hereon. Board indicated no consideration would be given to the Krebs proposal and Max Katburg said he had been offered the 30 cents a square foot deal earlier by Don Rathel, former SIC director.

Krier also refused to budge on the five price and Knowles said Edward Turner, airport employee, had quoted a $1.10 price to the firm at one time. Krier also emphasized that the firm had no record and "We don't know with whom we're dealing."

120 Will Graduate At SJC Ceremony

Seminole Junior College will confer almost one hundred twenty diplomas at its third commencement ceremonies to be held at the Sanford Civic Center on April 24 at 8:00 p.m.

Dr. Earl S. Weldon, President of the College, has announced that Dr. Thomas G. Carpenter, President of the University of North Florida at Jacksonville, Florida, will deliver the commencement address. Dr. Carpenter, a native of Atlanta, Georgia, received his Bachelor's Degree from Memphis State University and Master's Degree from Baylor University and his Doctorate degree from the University of Florida.

Dr. Carpenter has been associated with the State University System since 1957. First as an instructor in Economics for two years at the University of Florida where he later served as administrator in the Housing Division until 1961 when he left to take a staff position at Florida Atlantic University, Boca Raton. In January, 1965, he went to the University of West Florida, Pensacola, as Business Manager, and ultimately became Vice President, his last position before his current appointment.

He assumed the presidency of the newly created state university at Jacksonville in September of 1969.

He is a member of Beta Gamma Sigma, Honorary Society and Phi Delta Theta Social Fraternity. Dr. Carpenter holds membership in various civic and service organizations including: The Rotary Club, Navy League.
