Truman Calls Leaders For Conference

President Postpones Trip To Caribbean; Greek Relief Discussed At Meeting

WASHINGTON, Mar. 7.—President Truman today postponed his Caribbean trip and called congressional leaders of both parties to a White House conference on Monday to discuss the international situation. The indefinite postponement of the Caribbean trip was announced by presidential Secretary Charles Ross, who said it had been made necessary by what he called developments.

Although Ross did not elaborate on the announcement, Senator Robert Taft of Ohio explained to newsmen about the nature of the conference. Taft said he and other congressional leaders had been asked to discuss the situation presented by the prospective British withdrawal of economic aid to Greece, and the Greek appeal to the United States for financial help.

Last week congressional leaders attended a White House conference at which President Truman and Secretary of State George Marshall outlined the Greek situation.

Voters Renew Franchise For Power Company

MIAMI, Mar. 7, (Special).—Citizens here overwhelmingly approved today the renewal of the Florida Power and Light Company franchise for electric light and power service in Delray Beach by a vote of 24 to 1.

The Delray Beach city council had unanimously approved the franchise renewal. In today's election 558 of the freeholders voted approval of the council's action. Only 23 were opposed.

McGregor Smith, president of Florida Power and Light Company, described the vote as "gratifying," not only for the substantial vote of confidence given our company, but even "most important," he said, "for the civic consciousness reflected in their vote." Mr. Smith also announced the election of three Florida business and civic leaders from outside the company ranks to its board of directors. All with backgrounds of agricultural, industrial and business success, the new directors are F. G. (Pat) Kiley, pioneer Miami hardware dealer; Alf R. Nielsen, prominent West Palm Beach businessman; and Benton W. Powell, agricultural expert from Sarasota.

"With a new and fresh outlook, these men will be able to speed our plans for a $24,000,000 expansion of electrical service," Smith said. "Their wide knowledge of Florida industry and farm production is a vital tie-in with the work of our electrical engineers and planning experts."

Chairman Names Four Causes Of Industrial Strife

Manufacturer Urges Congress To Outlaw Closed Shop

WASHINGTON, Mar. 7.—The first witness before the House Labor Committee this morning, Ira Mosher, the chairman of the executive committee of the National Association of Manufacturers, told the House committee he thinks Congress ought to outlaw what he termed the four causes of industrial trouble. He said these main causes of Labor trouble are industry-wide bargaining, closed shop, mass picketing and violence, and union boycotts.

Industry-wide bargaining must go, he said, because it suppresses wholesome relations between labor and management at the local levels. He said it suppresses competition and disregards damage to the national economy that results from wide-scale strikes.

Appearing before the Senate Labor Committee, Lewis was asked whether he has any suggestions on how to prevent another nation-wide coal strike. The question was asked by Senator Robert Taft of Ohio. In reply, Lewis declared, "No, I do not. That is a matter of litigation before the court. I doubt if I can make any contribution at this time."

The United Mine Workers president referred to an action pending in federal court, as to whether he has the right to terminate his union's contract with the government, which has been operating the mine which has been operating the mines.

Taft asked what would happen to the mines and production when the government relinquishes control of the pits on June 30. Lewis replied: "I don't have the answer to that, Senator, because I don't have the power of attorney." While he did not elaborate, the (Continued on Page Two)

Federal Or State

Of wide significance is the Department of Commerce statement on state surpluses. The total cash balances of 25 states reporting them amounted to $2,307,000,000. This is an unheard-of high because of war-deferred outlays for various state construction projects. New York state led with an accumulation of $501,000,000; California was second with $490,000,000; Illinois and Pennsylvania had $188,000,000 and $181,000,000 respectively.

These surpluses are related to the federal budget which is of so much concern to Congress just now. While Congressmen talk about cutting expenses, at the same time they want to expand expenditures for social security, housing, education, various forms of veteran aid, health, improved social and working conditions. Many of these are desirable. But the question arises as to how much of such expenses should be born by individual states.

At first thought it might seem that states with money should spend it for such worthy causes. But Governor Dewey of New York probably holds the opinion of many state officials when he proposed carrying such welfare levies as emergency state taxes, both to show voters the cost of such programs and to conserve the surplus for delayed and much-needed public construction.

This issue of state versus federal responsibility is one of the most important in the minds of all tax students today.

When Crooks Ruled

Not all modern office-holders are politicians, and not all those in the past were statesmen. The New York legislature of 1860 was notoriously and flagrantly corrupt, says Glyndon G. Van Deusen, author of a political study of the time. At least 80 per cent of its members were for sale. Even Thurlow Weed, a powerful party boss in those days, was shocked to the point of saying, "God grant we may never look upon its like again."

Politics in the '60's and '70's must have reduced decent citizens to despair. Urban New York was not much worse than, say, rural Kansas, whose Samuel C. Pomeroy ("Subsidy Pom") was for years a disgrace to the senate. Mark Twain, in "The Gilded Age," drew an unforgettable portrait of him as the sanctimonious and shady Senator Dilworthy.

It shows the tremendous vigor of American life that it could emerge from these depths and go on to international supremacy despite these occasional bugs in our political machinery.

No Money-Back Guarantee

The late P. T. Barnum, who once said that there's a fool born every minute, might revise his estimate upward if he could know of the brazen scheme that many Americans have fallen for lately. Until the Post Office Department clamped down, this message was appearing in the personal columns of newspapers: "Last chance to send your dollar to Post Office Box 106." Just that and nothing more. Yet hundreds of gullible individuals, having no remote idea of what the dollar was for, promptly mailed bills. And the man who inserted the notice simply pocketed the money! — Good Housekeeping.

Dear Friends:

We are beginning to see more clearly what the war did to the world. We have seen some tremendous changes in the world in our time. At the end of the last war, the old Austrian-Hungary Empire collapsed and a lot of new democratic states emerged. The old evil Czarist regime in Russia collapsed in the Soviet Revolution and there began the greatest social political experiment in human history. The Kaiser was thrown off his throne in Germany and Germany became a republic. Britain and France still remained great powers, dominant in world power politics, but they had suffered blows from that war from which they would not in our time recover. Meanwhile, the United States stood out as the world's great creditor nation. It had not yet developed strength to make it the first world power, but it was easy to see that the tremendous strength of our economy would make us in time the first world power.

At the end of World War II, a change in the world picture is even greater. Germany and Japan, respectively the strongest powers in Europe and Asia, are now beaten and broken. France, weakened by the war and torn by internal political dissension, is battling to remain in even fourth place as a world power. Russia, although she suffered terribly from the war—seven million soldiers dead in combat, with many millions of civilians killed; over two thousand towns and more than seventy thousand villages totally or partially destroyed; twenty-five million people made homeless—stood out as really the strongest power in Europe. The United States is acknowledged by all as the strongest world power due to a navy that is equal to all other navies in the world, the world's most effective air force with the greatest industrial and agricultural resources in the world and the world's greatest wealth.

It is becoming increasingly clear that World War II means the end of the British Empire as we have known it for over a hundred years. England itself has a population of around forty million. Great Britain, including North Ireland, together with the members of the British Commonwealth, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, and South Africa, have a population of less than one hundred million. The British Empire, including her colonies in all continents, India and all the Empire on which it is said, "the sun never sets," number only five hundred million people. This Empire holds a fourth of all the earth's population. But within the last few months, Britain has announced that she will quit India by June of next year; that she is giving independence to Burma; that she is getting out of Egypt; that she has turned Palestine over which she has had a mandate since the last war to the United Nations. Now she announces she will have to get out of Greece and probably other areas where her forces have maintained her influence as a great imperial power, unless we step in and at least put up the money if not most of the men. As the Russian Revolution was the first great importance of our time affecting one sixth of the earth's surface and one tenth of the earth's people, the breaking up of the British Empire is the second.

This breaking up of the British Empire is due to two things. First, the war so damaged Britain at home that she cannot afford the expense of keeping a great imperial power and second, the Labor government in power in Great Britain is fundamentally opposed to the

 000 in Coast Guard funds which the committee explained by saying that the Coast Guard is overstaffed with high-ranking officers.

The committee explained that although some of the reductions may appear drastic, no cuts have been made which would curtail any vital public service. It said the decreases were justified by the increased demand of the American public for economy in the federal government.

The Appropriations Bill will be taken up by the House next Monday.

RELIEF SUGGESTION

WASHINGTON, Mar. 7—Undersecretary of the Interior Oscar L. Chapman made a suggestion today for relieving the newspaper shortage. He said one thing that might help would be for the government to develop hydroelectric power in Alaska. Paper mills, he said, need a lot of electric power, and it is not now available. He told a Senate small business subcommittee investigating the paper shortage that Alaska could supply from 20 to 25 percent of this country's electric power needs.

Most apples furnish some minerals, a little Vitamin B-1 and C.

peraltic idea of exploiting other people.

In talking with Generalissimo Stalin in 1945, I told him that I thought the Labor government would bring about liberal changes in British foreign policy. He said he had not at that time convincing evidence of it, but he agreed it might be true. But even if the Labor government wanted to keep Britain a great imperial power, the country is just not strong enough to do it. For you remember Britain has no iron, no coal, and nearly all of its raw materials in order to make and sell things to other parts of the world. The tremendous question to answer is what is going to be the effect upon the United States of Britain's having to drop from the role of a major imperial power. There is going to be an immense demand from some people that we practically take over Britain's former position as the world's imperial power; that we become the protector of Greece, India, Burma, Palestine, Egypt, and all other areas from the Russians. They will play upon the American hatred of communism to make it seem that the only way the world can be saved from being flooded with the sinister power of communism is to let us take over the British Empire. I hope we will not fall into that trap. The age of empires has passed, not only for Britain, but for every other nation including Russia. The pursuit of imperialism is a search for a fool's gold. A great deal of the reason for the collapse of the British Empire is the searching sentiment of democracy among the people whom they have for so long dominated and held down. What we have said about freedom, independence, and democracy for all the people of the world when we were fighting the Germans and Japanese has taken root in the minds and hearts of these millions of underprivileged people whom the great imperialist powers have enslaved in one way or another for generations.

The sale of America, in my opinion, is to lead the world to democracy, not to become the world's master. The way to do that is through an effective United Nations. Let us

Tally Lassies Audrey M. Bach

Miss Sally Magardt of Utopia Junior College Utopia Dear Sal,

"Did you burst into the strains of 'No Letter Today' last Friday? Well, I had too good a time visiting everyone in town to bear (using myself away in writing. And just look at all the people I saw, here and there, and everywhere: NANCY COLLUM, JANE THOMPSON, SAM THURMOND, WAYDE RUCKER, BOBBY and DELORES PROCTOR, SONNY RABOHN, DONALD JONES, JEAN WILLIAM, GEORGE SPEER, GEORGE MALCOLM MCKENNEL, BILL MCKEMPLE, HARRY LEE, MALCOLM McNEILL, BOB GRAY, BOBBY JONES, MACKAY TRULUCK, BETTY SASSER, MAMIE DAMPER, JIMMY AIKEN, DOUG BROTCHE, PEGGY DUNCAN, JACKIE BROTCHE, FLUPPY DYSON, POOTS BRUMLEY, THOY RAY, KIRBY PITE, NEIL HOWELL, AL BAABER, JACK RAY, MACK CLEVELAND, BEAUFIE HOBBSON and lots of others. All the old familiar faces in all the old familiar places!

You can still hear some of the voice majors warbling the strains of "The Habenera" from "Carmen" in the New York Civic Opera Company presented both "Carmen" and "La Traviata" on campus recently.

BETTY MOORE spent last weekend in Gainesville attending a Presbyterian Youth Conference held on the University campus. A group of more than 100 went down for the meeting.

Although it is spelled very differently scientifically, MARY HELEN TEWS' name is hog cabbage just a minute, please! Since MARY HELEN is a biological science major, she has recently been initiated into the Bananas (which I take, has an awful lot to do with pigs) club. In a natural setting termed a hog's paradise by experts, the group was initiated into the ordrap of Radicans. (THAT means roofing!)

Other favorite names given to new members were pig-weed, hog plum, swine-cress, pig weed and hog pean-nut! But the Best of all is their slogan, "Many are called (sooner, sooner) but few are chosen!"

We really and truly had some regretment the other morning, but it was at such an ungodly time, that none of us were awake to appreciate it. No, I have YET to get up at 5:00 although I admit, I beat the sun nine-tenths of the time. Anyhow, while strolling through Gilchrist at dawn one morning the night director sniffed some smoke, followed her nose and arrived in the parlor a floor below where the radio was in flames! (That music they call that) Some more easily aroused than I girls were called, and they had a regular fire brigade from the kitchen sink to the blaze. Soon it was out, but not until the radio had been completely consumed and the wall badly scorched.

And now, the humorous side of the situation! Just that night the fire chairman and the residence counselors had called a committee meeting to re-discuss the procedure to follow in case a fire ever did break out in Gilchrist. The meeting was held in the PARLOR!

I thought that the funny, smoky odor had drifted in from the dining hall where they were cooking some extra-gooey smoked sausage for breakfast.

Sure is good to see HILLY EPPS around. He has just gotten out of the Navy.

ANNE LOVELL, a student at ROLLINS, (participated in the annual Bach festival held on campus last week. ANNE, who is a talented violinist, played in the orchestra.

Then there was the unfortunate parallel (reading) dodger who was apprehended through an entry on a list of books she had allegedly read. The statement was: Author, Edward Eggleston; Title, Who's Your School-master?

Who's your school-master? I pointed myself (not to mention the D. H. any more) rather this, that but the following—lipped from the Mal-tye View column in the "Flambeau" is too good to pass up.

"Contribution from a Discouraged Diner: Ode to D. M. Chew."

"In what hanger's fingers round up curl."

"Must we alone so few, so few."

Sidney Foster Will Give Concert Monday

Sidney Foster, American piano virtuoso, who will be heard at the Seminole High School Auditorium, on Monday at 8:15 o'clock, is in his middle twenties, his general appearance gives the impression that he is much younger. He is of medium height, slim build, with pleasant and unassuming manner.

Mr. Foster's program bears the stamp of a definite personality and his audiences have come to identify him with recitals that are outside the pale of the usual piano repertory there is always a new composition or seldom heard work included in his programs.

Of his interest in contemporary music Mr. Foster says, "I feel it a distinct privilege to be able to introduce new works to my audience, since in my opinion, many of them are profound and vital contributions to the growing repertoire of American music, and distinguished addition to the whole of piano literature."

He is appearing here under the auspices of the Sanford Civic Music Association of which H. H. Coleman is president.

Devour this wretched daily stew. Each day comes nearer to hysteria, As we enter our cafe-terias, Our clamorous cry is, "Something new!"

"What do we see—just stew, just stew."

"Chew! Chew! What is this brew? Is it stew, or is it glue? Chew! Chew! Is this our due? To always eat this foul residue?"

—William Shakespeare
The thought for the day, and they'll go, is the reply to a Deborah Kerr, Cande Carroll, and Lilian Bronson, all of whom he kisses in "The Hucksters" one of the kissiest films Gable ever made.

"I asked Ava to describe his kiss. Miss Gardner, a lush brunette with a cleft chin and a beautifully de-veloped and, as it happened, revealingly costumed bosom, replied thoughtfully, "Farm but tender."

"Didn't his scotch-duster mustache tickle?" At a time like that, Ava explained, you're not thinking about mustaches.

Gable said Miss Gardner's kiss was "full-lipped and sweet." What's his favorite kiss in 17 years on the screen? Gable's laugh was a roar. "I'm not answering that!"

The big man with the big ears, blue eyes, and costly winking forehead was conpling and croak-ing from a cold. He had caught it from Pyper old Diane Premeau and probably would pass it on to Ava.

"In what does conflict end?" The shattering answer, "In marriage!"

Hollywood

By GENE HANSACKER

HOLLYWOOD—Clark Gable had spent all morning kissing Ava Gardner when I looked it on the set of "The Hucksters." What with lights that failed and passing fire engines that spoiled the sound track, the scene had required—think of it, girls—11 takes.

Mindful of Gable's feminine fans, I asked Ava to describe his kiss. Miss Gardner, a lush brunette with a cleft chin and a beautifully de-veloped and, as it happened, revealingly costumed bosom, replied thoughtfully, "Farm but tender."

1,938 Florida Babies Have Good Health Because Of Law

JACKSONVILLE, Mar. 7.—A probable 1,938 babies who might have been blind, paralyzed, insane, dead or maimed because of a syphilitic mother were born in Florida during the past 15 months—and for one reason—the Prenatal blood-testing law. Also, at least 2,835 innocent individuals who would have entered marriage with a syphilitic-infected partner were saved from such a fate—and for one reason only—the Prenatal law.

This was revealed this week in the current issue of the State Board of Health's publication Florida Health Notes in pointing out the success of the two laws which have been in effect since October, 1945. It points out that "one of the great public health milestones to stamp out syphilis was the enactment of the Prenatal and Premarital Laws by the 1945 Legislature.

Blood tests of all couples planning to marry in Florida are required under the Prenatal law. The Prenatal law requires blood tests of all expectant mothers. During the past 15 months, blood tests showed that 1,938 expectant mothers out of 34,878 were infected with syphilis; would probably have given birth to dead babies, or crippled babies, or babies who, because of their congenital condition would have gone through life as private and public charges. "The Prenatal law is the most effective tool devised to aid in the elimination of congenital syphilis," says Florida Health Notes. "And, as progress is made with this weapon, congenital syphilis in Florida should become a rare condition."

The publication also emphasized that out of 42,407 premarital bloodtests, 2,825 were positive. Most of those 2,825 persons would probably have gone into married life blissfully ignorant that they were infected with syphilis. Certainly the innocent partners were saved from infection and a possible life of unhappiness because this condition was found in time.

The continuance of the Prenatal and Premarital laws to stamp out syphilis will result in happier marriages, strong, healthy children and should eventually relieve the insane asylums and state hospitals of patients who might be there because of untreated syphilis.

Recognizing the urgency for strong measures to control syphilis, 32 states have passed similar laws. It is hoped that every state in the Union will soon be enforcing Prenatal and Premarital Laws.

Approximately $200,000,000 in war death claims were paid by U. S. commercial insurance companies (not including National Service Life Insurance) in World War II.

The bolivar, unit of money in Venezuela, is named for Simon Bolivar who freed much of South America from Spanish rule.

The olive tree which was first planted in Asia, is now found in all continents.

Naming Of Young Colts Fascinating

MIAMI, Mar. 7.—Fascinating, this naming of young race horses! Take the breeder cult owned by Mrs. Fred C. Peters of Miami Beach, which is the star of Illinois juvenile racing this season.

Last summer Mr. Peters was selling surplus yearlings at Lexington, among them this son of Agrarian-Blossom Girl. The others went rapidly in the sale, but no one seemed to fancy the Agrarian colt. Finally Mrs. Peters came upon the scene and was informed that no one had bid for the youngster. With true feminine grasp of the situation, she walked up to the colt and announced, "I'll keep you." Thus came the name of Illinois, which has been officially registered with the Jockey Club.

More often, however, the names of young race horses is a play on the names of their sires, or dams, or both. President John C. Clark of Illinois has designated his horse-bred Whirlaway as Vortex (which the dictionary defines as whirlpool). Vortex is out of the stakes-winning mare, Pretty Pet, which raced in Mr. Clark's colors.

Taking the cue from the mare (Hanging Boss) Russell Firestone has given the name of Harrope to his Blenheim colt.

The sire is Amphitheatre. The mare is Never Change, the Greenree Stable dubbed the offspring Hill Camp. For her sweeping Light-Attraction colt, Miss M. M. Himmont has selected Auro Boro, which is the pronunciation, if not the spelling of the natural phenomena known as the Northern Lights.

Lester Manor Stable has titled its 2-year-old brown Requested filly as Compliance, and Chivalry has been picked by Mrs. H. H. Heighs for a chickie colt sired by Purple Knight. The mare, Some Pop, was the inspiration for the name Beau Dandy which Calumet Farm has given to a brown colt, by Hull Lea. Hiding Star is Allen T. Himmont's choice for a youngster out of Hyperion Comet.

The dictionary will tell you Halcyon pertains to the kingfisher family of birds, as well as to a state for peacefulness. A bay filly which William Vinneman has at Hialeah by the sire, Halcyon, has been registered with the Jockey Club as Peaceful Birt, Solo is the twin Ogden Phipps took for his filly Isolator, out of Soloia.

Shramrock Stables Tequila is the result of the breeding of Coldstream to Carnal Rose. Circle B Ranch has dubbed its Our Booby-Marching Along colt as Boot Along, and given the title of John's Date to a Johnstown-Bly Appointment colt.

Fascinating, this naming of young race horses!

The surface area of the Great Lakes is a little larger than that of Illinois and Indiana combined.

"Grass Roots" Boom In U. S. Is Reported By Real Estate Firm

NEW YORK—A "grass roots" boom in small businesses throughout the United States is reported by a national real estate firm. G.I.'s former war workers and others are buying pint-sized businesses, including small farms, at a rate exceeding any similar movement in history, says the E. A. Strout Realty Agency.

Eighty-five percent of all buyers are reported to be paying from 50 percent to all cash for business properties averaging around $7,000 on the west coast and $8,000 east of the Rockies. Western sales are listed as 66 2/3 percent greater than 1946 sales and higher prices of west coast properties seem to be no deterrent.

V. A. Michls, vice-president of the Strout Agency, said the firm's volume of business since V-J Day had exceeded 45 million dollars, which was 500 percent higher than the volume for any similar period in the past. The total included 8,000 small businesses and farms.

"The decentralization of cities is proceeding at a faster rate than at any time since the automobile became cheaply available," Michls explains. "The spreading out of big industries, the improvement of highways and the increasing network of airlines is aiding the process."

At no other time, Michls said, have there been such good opportunities for a man to make a living in the country.

Citing the success of some recent buyers, he said that renewed interest in tourist travel had become a profitable source of income to country hotel and auto court owners and that the present prosperous condition of the farmer has brought thousands of independent grocery store owners, dealers in hardware and farm equipment and other hard and soft goods lines to country districts.

The amount of life insurance in force in the United States rose from $1,468,828 in 1900 to $23,406,438,000 in 1945.

Only 5.3 per cent of U. S. life insurance policies issued or renewed in 1945, a 45-year record low.

Truman To Address Congress On Greece

President Will Talk To Joint Session; Leaders Anticipate Request For Loan

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10—President Truman will address a joint session of Congress at 1:00 P. M. on Wednesday, it was announced today by Senator Arthur Vandenberg following a meeting of congressional leaders at the White House. The President will go into the whole question of the Greek crisis and the critical situation in the Mediterranean and it is expected that he will ask for a loan to Greece.

Senator Tom Connally of Texas told newsmen the meeting had a harmonious one. They asked him if the President had specially recommended a Greek loan. Connally replied: "He discuss that on Wednesday." Newsmen interpreted that statement of Connally's as an indication that the President will talk in behalf of a loan.

Others among those who talked with the President today said flatly that he'll ask for a direct loan of $250,000,000 for Greece. Presidential secretary Charles Ross told newsmen the President's speech will take about 20 minutes to deliver. It hasn't been entirely written yet.

Meanwhile sentiment is growing among members of Congress for turning the problem over to the United Nations.

Senator Alexander Smith, observed that he believes that is the way to avoid the erosion of two members of influence in Europe, one dominated the U. S. (Continued on Page Four)

Gives Concert Tonight

Four Carnegie Hall concerts in four years is the record of the meteoric career of the young American pianist, Sidney Foster, who is appearing at the High School Auditorium tonight under the auspices of the Civic Music Association. In 1941, Mr. Foster made his debut with the New York Philharmonic Symphony Society and was unanimously acclaimed by the critics as an addition to the front rank of piano virtuosos.

Group Okays Appointment Of Lilienthal

Only Dissenting Vote Is Cast By Bricker; Nomination To Be Debated In Senate

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10—The disputed nomination of David Lilienthal as head of the Atomic Energy Control Commission was approved by the Senate Atomic Committee today with only one member dissenting. Voting against Lilienthal was Republican Senator John Bricker from Ohio. Taft has indicated that he will oppose the nomination when it reaches the Senate floor.

The committee today also approved the appointment of four other men to serve under Lilienthal on the Atomic Energy Commission. They are William Waymack, Des Moines, Ia., newspaper editor; Lewis Strauss, New York banker; Dr. Robert Bacher, atom scientist, and Sumner Pike of Philadelphia, industrialist and government official. Also approved was the appointment of Carroll Wilson as general manager of the atomic board.

Notes in favor of Lilienthal included those of Senators Tom Connally and Arthur Vandenberg, who were attending a White House conference this morning and cast their ballots by proxy. Chairman Bourke Hickenlooper said he would report the committee's recommendation to the Senate and that he would make every effort to get a final vote on the Senator floor at the earliest possible date.

However, most senators predict a bitter fight in the Senate, with the possibility that debate may continue for as long as three weeks. Lilienthal's arch foe, Senator Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee, has promised to put up a fight against Lilienthal's confirmation.

2 More Men Die As Result Of Gas Company Blast

BLACKWELL, Okla., Mar. 10—Two more persons died today as the result of injuries received in an explosion and fire last night at the City Service Gas Company compressor station.

Blackwell Fire Chief George Gebelin was on the scene a few minutes after the explosion. He saw a column of flaming gas 100 feet high. He said the heat was so intense that trees 100 feet away were set afire.

Marshall To Continue With Byrnes' Policy

Potsdam Agreement, Stuttgart Speech Will Be Followed At Moscow Meet

MOSCOW, Mar. 10—Secretary of State George Marshall announced today that he will take his text at the four power conference from the Potsdam Agreement and former secretary of state Byrnes' Stuttgart speech.

Secretary Marshall made his announcement just before the first session of the foreign ministers' council meeting in Moscow to discuss peace treaties for Germany and Austria.

A snowstorm was swirling over the Russian capital and only a handful of curious citizens were in the streets as the ministers drove to the meeting place, the house of the Soviet Aviation Industry, just two miles from the Kremlin.

Many cameras were grinding away as Secretary of State Marshall arrived at the building. He saw the early bird of the meeting, reaching the rendezvous site about 15 minutes before the session was scheduled to begin.

Workers who were clearing the streets with snow removal equipment cheered Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov and his deputy, A. Y. Vishinskiy, as they arrived together. Apparently they were the only ones the Russians in the street recognized. Molotov nodded cordially as a wave of handclapping rose from the bystanders.

By contrast, when Britain's Ernest Bevin made his appearance he passed almost unnoticed by the crowd.

Official Blames Large Papers For Newsprint Crisis

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10—Official ownership or control of paper mills by large publishing houses and larger newspapers, was blamed by officials of the Department of Commerce today for the difficulties of smaller publishers in getting newsprint in the present "tight situation."

Testifying before a senate subcommittee on newspaper and paper shortages, Philip M. Howard, assistant to W. Averell Harriman, Secretary of Commerce, said: "There is considerable ownership of industrial interest by large newspapers in newspaper mills in this country and in Canada, such interests operate in the present tight situation to the detriment of the smaller operator who is accustomed to securing his supplies in the open market."

He said there was "little chance of improving the supply situation by domestic production." He cited two potential sources for increasing the supply: utilization of waste paper and other fibers such as straw and corn stalks as pulping materials, and development of the untapped supply of log pulp in Alaska.

Samuel Gallowitz, vice-president of the Clinton Paper Company, of Brooklyn, was closely questioned by the committee on a contract he made for the sale of 6,000 tons of newsprint at $100 a ton, netting a projected profit of $450,000. He said he had contracted with the Bowater, Newfound-Land, paper mill for 6,000 tons of $84 a ton, and later sold the contract to William K. Friedman of New York City, for $109 a ton.
