'Vigilantes' Depart Wednesday

U. S. NAVAL AIR STATION ALBANY, Ga. (AP)—Reconnaissance Attack Wing One will be officially welcomed to Albany Wednesday afternoon.

The "Vigilante" flyers arriving at their new homeport here from the Naval Air Station Sanford, Fla., at approximately 7 p.m., will be greeted at an informal ceremony in front of the station's Operations Building. The event will be open to the public.

Participating in the welcoming ceremony will be Capt. R. L. Johns, commanding officer of NAS Albany; Albany Mayor Fred Mills and Vice Adm. C. T. Booth II, commander Naval Air Force, U. S. Atlantic Fleet. Acknowledging the greeting on behalf of the Wing and its 10 squadrons, will be Capt. George W. Kimmons, commanding officer of Reconnaissance Attack Wing One.

Other official guests expected to be on the reviewing stand are Rear Adm. Robert J. Stroh, commander Fleet Air Jacksonville; Brig. Gen. E. E. Fairburn, commanding general, U. S. Marine Corps Supply Center, Albany; Col. R. J. Bohn, chief of staff, U. S. Marine Corps Supply Center, Albany; C. T. Orford, president of the Albany Chamber of Commerce; Max Sheppard, president of the Albany Council of the Navy League; George Kirkland, chairman of the military affairs committee of the Albany Chamber of Commerce; State Sen. A. W. Holway; Paul Keenan Jr., chairman of the Dougherty County Commission; Albany Mayor pro-tem Buford Collins; Albany City Manager Steve Ross; Joe Hughes, immediate past president of the Albany Navy League, and James H. Gray, editor and publisher of the Albany Herald.

The ceremony will be preceded by a low level, high speed, pass over the airfield by the RA-5C aircraft, followed by a flyover of the station by the arriving "Vigilantes" in formation, led by Wing Commander, Captain Kimmons. He will be the first to land. Following him will be the various squadron commanders. Then the remaining aircraft will land.

Captain Kimmons and the squadron commanders will then taxi to the reviewing stand area, where Captain Johns will meet the wing commander and escort him to the reviewing stand for the ceremony. Music for the occasion will be provided by the Commander Fleet Air Jacksonville band.

Fire Ant Detection Set

An intensive detection program to find any possible imported fire ants in the Seminole area got underway today.

The survey is part of a continued test to determine the effectiveness of the 1968 treatment against the stinging pest. Residents of the area are asked to be on the alert for any ant mounds that appear in the 450,000-acre treatment area, bounded on the west by Lake Apopka, on the east by Lake Harney, on the north by Dulany and on the south by Lake County.

Reports of any such mounds should be made to the Department of Agriculture office at 222 Virginia Drive, Orlando.

The telephone number is 384-2118.

Reports of any suspicious mounds will be checked out by members of an eight-man state-wide survey team on special assignment. The program is a joint effort of the U.S. and Florida Departments of Agriculture.

Only five mounds were found and treated in the 1967 survey of the 450,000-acre area, treated in 1968. One of them was reported by an Orlando resident. The public is urged to take an active part in the search for any possible mounds and report them to men in green.

"The best success in the past has been in the most important," according to an Orlando news item.

AROUND THE CLOCK

Patrolmen Roy E. Williams and Eddie Hughes, of city police, encountered a four-footed, slippery adversary Monday afternoon when they captured a four-foot alligator. The "gator" was hidden from view under a culvert at intersection of Eighth Street and Pecan Avenue, when the officers received the alarm. Using a piece of meat as bait, the "gator-getters" managed to trap the critter and haul him to the zoo.

A rain squall in the Oviedo area and heavy winds blowing in the right direction is helping the St. Johns River. The water-way had reached such a low level of fresh water that salt water was backing up from the ocean, to such an extent the river was up six inches. But, so says Jim Cowie, the water and the wind have reversed the flow. However the water is brackish and fishermen are pulling in croakers, a salt fish. Some flounder has been caught, too.

Moody said an additional three persons who had applied for aid withdrew their names.

According to Moody, the withdrawals were results or passage of a new law by the Legislature which requires welfare beneficiaries to give a lien on any property they may own to the extent of the assistance received, subject to recovery after the welfare patients in nursing homes who sign away their

Letter To Editor
Wing ONE Bids Adieu

Tomorrow as the officers and men of Reconnaissance Attack Wing ONE take departure from the City of Sanford and Seminole County, which has been our home since the Wing was formed, we reflect on the many wonderful years that we have spent in this community. It has been much more than just another duty station. It has become home for many of us. In fact, so much so that many of us plan to make it our permanent home when our tour of Naval Service is over.

We thank the City Fathers, the Armed Forces Committee, the County Officials and the many businessmen who have done so much to make our tour of duty the most pleasant and rewarding of any that we have had. But above all, it is the people that we wish to thank for your hospitality and generosity in making us feel a part of the community. We fully appreciate that it has not always been easy. Our aircraft have many times flown late at night and have been an irritant but in the main you have understood our mission and the necessity for our work. Your support even in trying times has been magnificent.

It has been a particular pleasure to work with our local News Media, Mr. Glew and his Staff at The Sanford Herald, Mr. Martin Harmon and the many businessmen who have done so much to make our tour of duty the most pleasant and rewarding of any that we have had. But above all, it is the people that we wish to thank for your hospitality and generosity in making us feel a part of the community. We fully appreciate that it has not always been easy. Our aircraft have many times flown late at night and have been an irritant but in the main you have understood our mission and the necessity for our work. Your support even in trying times has been magnificent.

We regret leaving our home of so many years but we take with us many fond memories and lasting friendships. Our sincere thanks and fond farewells to all.
CAPT. G. W. KIMMONS, USN

Decision To Decide Base Use

Under the General Services Act of 1950, certain benefits are allowable to receivers of government property, once that property has been phased out by federal government.

If the property is used for educational or airport services, land can be given free; if used for public parks and memorials, land could be returned for a 50 per cent allowance; if property is to be used for industrial purposes, then the land must be sold for what is determined as a fair market price.

These facts were made known today by Robert Sheehan, project director with Office of Economic Adjustment, Department of Defense, Washington, in a telephone interview by the Sanford Herald.

Sheehan, who is working on the Sanford Naval Air Station project, confirmed that the current study being made by Boeker Engineering Company of St. Louis, will determine what is best for the NAS property once it is turned over to General Services Administration on July 1, 1969.

Sheehan said that the current study being made by Boeker Engineering Company of St. Louis, will determine what is best for the NAS property once it is turned over to General Services Administration on July 1, 1969.

Turnout Of 80% Expected

By IVONNA ESTES

Greatest primary voter turnout in the history of Seminole County—80 per cent of the registered voters—was predicted for next Tuesday's party primary elections by Mrs. Camille Bruce, supervisor of elections, today.

The elections will total separate ones with primaries in both Democrat and Republican parties scheduled as well as a $10.3 million school bond referendum and vote on a constitutional amendment.

A total of 23,247 electors are qualified to vote. Republicans will vote in their party primary while Democrats will select their party's nominees. Property owners in both parties must cast ballots in the school bond election and all electors may vote for or against the constitutional amendment which will require, if passed, counties with appointed school superintendents to continue appointment method for at least three years before returning to an elected form if they desire to do so.

Previous high year in primary elections in Seminole was in 1964 when 75.8 per cent of the voters turned out. In 1956 the turnout percentage was 70.7 per cent.

All time high turnout in the county was in 1960 general election when votes were cast by 87.87 per cent of the electors.

To date a total of 472 absentee ballots have been issued by Mrs. Bruce's office, including 81 Republicans, 244 Democrats and 47 bond issues.

At the same time, Mrs. Bruce reminded candidates today that 5 p.m. Thursday is the deadline for submission of lists of poll watchers. Function of poll watchers is to observe and keep track of persons who have voted at home.

Persons who will be unable to vote at the polls next Tuesday may still vote absentee as late as 5 p.m. next Monday.

Second primary will take place May 28. At that time candidates who did not receive a majority of the Tuesday vote cast, because of more than two persons being in a given race, will participate in a run-off election. Also to be included on the ballot May 28 are slates of delegates for the two national conventions and national committeemen and committeewomen in both parties.

Convention states will be voted on in their entirety. Three Democratic delegations have qualified—one is pledged to Sen. George Smathers as a favorite son; one to Sen. Eugene McCarthy and the other headed by former Sen. Scott Kelly is unpledged.

The lone Republican delegation also is unpledged.

Marine Killed In Accident

Funeral services for 18-year-old Marine Private Donald Kyle Wilcox Jr., who was killed Sunday night in an automobile accident south of Sanford, will be at 2 p.m. Thursday in the Chapel at Grandview Funeral Home with Chaplain Ray W. Fullilove of Naval Air Station officiating.

Full military services will be celebrated at graveside in Oakland Memorial Park.

A native of Huntington, W. Va., young Wilcox attended Seminole County schools. He joined the U.S. Marine Corps Dec. 4 and was home on leave preparatory to departing for Vietnam at the time of his death.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Wilcox of 129 Lake Mimie Drive, Sanford. Other survivors are a sister, Mrs. Susan Christensen and a niece, Cheryl Ann Christensen, of Sanford; two brothers, John and Bill, both of Sanford; his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Annetta Livock of Sanford; his paternal grandparents, Mrs. Beth Wilcox of Orange City and Arlyn Wilcox of Huntington, and his great grandmother, Mrs. Julia Lang of Sanford.

Funeral and burial arrangements are under direction of Grandview Funeral Home.

Jail Apt. Will Be Converted

Renovations in the present two-story jail will be accomplished at the same time new floors are added to the facility next year, Sheriff Peter Millot revealed today.

Millot told The Sanford Herald the changes will be made at the least possible cost to the taxpayers to make the entire space functional for the purpose of operating offices.

"Changes already have been made to utilize the old apartment space which used 50 percent of the non-jail space at the sheriff's office. Now structural changes will be made for greater efficiency. The building as it stands is good. Utilization is poor," Millot said.

Structural changes which Millot has suggested to Architect John Burton IV includes removal of the wall between the outer office and the bookkeeper's office to make more work space available in the area which directly serves the public. Extra space created will be used by filing cabinets. Bookkeeper's office will be moved to the area currently occupied by the padded cells. These cells will be moved to the new addition.

"The locker room will become a storage area for the public. The sheriff's office will be turned into a communication center as it was originally intended. These changes will be made as a part of the new addition."

John said that while the formula "seems somewhat inequitable" it appears, according to the court precedent and the attorney general's office, to be the only one which can be used.

The county attorney further predicted court action can be expected from the two suspended officials due to the decision. Duncan had previously submitted a bill to the Board for the period of his first suspension totaling $2,675 for the total fees collected by the office now occupied by Alfred Davis. Kelsey also submitted a bill for $552.88 but used a formula based on the average

Choice Forms Lagging

Approximately one-fourth of choice forms for 1968-69 school year have been returned to the Board of Public Instruction.

This was revealed today by Thomas L. Ritchey, director of administrative services for school system.

Ritchey cautioned all parents that a child cannot be admitted to any school unless a form has been returned.

A choice form may be signed by a parent or other adult person acting as parent. A student who has reached the age of fifteen at the time of choice, or will enter the ninth or any higher grade, may sign his own choice form.

A choice form must be executed for each student who expects to attend school in this county. No assignment to any school can be made unless a choice is made first.

A choice of school for any student will be new to the school system may be made during the 30-day choice period or at any time before he enrolls in school.

The parent or other adult person acting as parent of every child entering the first grade is required to choose the school his child will attend. Choice forms can be filled out during the spring round-ups as announced by the schools, or parents can fill out the forms at any school in the county or the superintendent's office.

Sit-In

NEW YORK (AP) - Columbia University remained closed today as efforts continued to start a student sit-in at five buildings.

County OKs To Pay But...

Back pay for two suspended Seminole County officials was approved by the Board of County Commissioners today but the county appears headed for the courts on the matter.

On advice of County Attorney Harold Johnson and because of the motion to authorize Johnson to notify the two officials to submit bills based on the formula of gross receipts less expenses, both Swiford and Johnson said they would not be reinstated by the Florida Senate and suspended again by the governor within hours of the reinstatement.

Hall Gets Judgeship

TALLAHASSEE (AP) - Robert H. Hall, newly appointed Seminole County judge, met today with Gov. Claude Kirk, who named him to the post last week.

Hall had an early morning appointment and was not available for comment on the session with Kirk.

A Newberry, Hall, 31, was appointed by Kirk to succeed Karlisle Housholder, deceased.

Until his appointment, Hall had been engaged in a private law practice in Sanford.

Question: How has the drought affected you and what precautions are you taking, such as burning, watering the lawn and washing the car?

Joan Weaver was elected president last Wednesday. It's no wonder as she held almost a two-to-one lead over all the candidates at the convention.

The remainder of the officers elected were: Jim Fowler, vice-president; Vicki Moore, secretary; and Debbie Garrett, treasurer.

Any Junior high school student who wanted to vote in the elections last week had to be registered. Next year they hope to have a two party system.

John McMillan, Arlington Drive, Altamonte Springs.

Everything is so dry around here. I find it's best to water in the evening in the area where I live. The burning has to be stopped. The proclamation signed by Governor Kirk is a very good thing because this should be enforced. Business wise, it isn't hurting real estate, although the groves are probably feeling the effects.

Charles Long, 226 Sherry Avenue, North Orlando.

Really, it's not affecting me because we have a well that we use for watering the lawn. So far, it seems to have plenty of water. We don't burn anything because it's too dangerous.

Norman Fletcher, 227 Viking Way, Casselberry.

It looks like this year will be worse than last. I remember last year when several houses sank after a drought. People should beware of this and cut down on water usage. Many people waste a lot of water. They should be taking into consideration also. Things are so dry that we've cut down on watering the lawn.

D. G. Williams, 323 Oleander Street, Longwood.

It hasn't affected me too much but I'm certainly living in hopes of rain. We're not watering anymore nor are we washing the car. As for burning, we're not burning at all and it's really accumulated around our house.

Mrs. Lillian Thadell, Forest City.

My lawn and orange trees are suffering something terrible. I'm very careful about burning leaves. It's been over a week since I've burned anything. I'm glad to hear about the governor's proclamation.

George Cubbin, Country Club Manor, Sanford.

With everything so dry, we're watering more than usual. In fact, I don't think it does us any harm. I manage a 7-11 store and the "ice" sales are really booming since this dry spell.

Bill B. Geier, 126 North Sun Set Dr., Casselberry.

Personally, I'm not really being affected because I have a sprinkling system from the lake. However, the lake is down some eight to ten inches from normal. I have a well for drinking water, and sent the car to Billard Rice, Lake Mary.

The drought is really affecting everyone. I think, in one way or another, I'm not burning anything and all the watering I'm doing is just enough to keep things from dying. The lakes are really suffering.

Home Safety Survey Held

The Deland 4-H Club recently completed a home safety survey as one of its annual community service projects.

Teams of two club members each visited in the homes to check on 18 practices or equipment most often involved in home accidents. Records of answers were made on check sheets and leaflets suggesting ways to avoid disabling accidents in the home were distributed.

A summary by the adult safety project leader, Earl Merrill, of reports turned in indicated that most Delany families are aware of causes of home accidents and are taking necessary steps of prevention.

The summary showed that 85 per cent of the homes had placed over non-slip materials to avoid falls; 71 homes of 75 reported that electrical appliances are regularly disconnected when not in use; two-thirds store gasoline or other flammable liquids outside the house; medicines and poisonous materials almost universally were stored out of reach of children; five of six families had a sturdy step-stool for reaching high places, and frayed electric cords in all homes visited were kept repaired or replaced.

More than one-third of the homes did not have safe-trap bars to prevent falls in the bathtub and only one-third of the homes visited had fire extinguishers. Nearly one-third of the families did not have safety belts in their automobiles and less than half of those

Seminole Printers Observe 1st Birthday

Seminole Printers located at 750 West Ninth Street is celebrating its first anniversary this month and is continuing its policy of selling service and quality. No printing job is too small and none too large for Seminole Printers, which is owned by John Polk and James Shiels.

"I would like to thank the people of Sanford and Seminole for the warm and friendly reception our company has received during our first in business," John Polk said today. "We will continue to give our customers quality and service."

Custom printing including announcements, business cards, letterheads, envelopes, and business forms are specialties of Seminole Printers and good work at reasonable prices is guaranteed.

The shop is run efficiently under Robert Lippincott, whose 22 years experience in printing puts him in good stead.

Many folks know John well from his election campaign for the office of sheriff. For some seven years he served in the Sanford area with the Florida Highway Patrol as well as three and one-half years with the patrol elsewhere prior to coming to Sanford. "I liked Sanford and wanted to make it my permanent home, so I left FHP and went into business here," Polk said.

Open hours at Seminole Printers is 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday and 9:30 a.m. to noon on Saturday.

If you need printing done—either offset or letter printing—go see the genial folks at Seminole Printers. They are anxious to serve.

Woman Charged

LEESBURG (AP)—Murder and kidnap charges were filed against a Leesburg woman arrested Sunday in the death of the legal secretary to Lake County's public defender.

Maria Dean Arrington, 34, was jailed without bond on the first degree murder and kidnap charges.

Mrs. Arrington is accused of murdering June Ritter. Mrs. Ritter disappeared Monday after leaving the office of public defender Robert Pierce.

Price Increase Seen For April

By JOHN CUNIFF AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—As usual, there was little good news in the latest consumer price statistics. True, vegetable prices declined in March but almost everything else was higher, and food prices helped lead the advance.

This was the 14th straight month of rising prices. And, government men say, there will almost certainly be a 15th straight advance shown when the April figures are in.

The fact that essentials such as food led the advance in March could be interpreted as an omen, for it was increases in food prices a couple of years ago that led to the housewives' rebellion against retailers.

An even more ominous threat is that of price controls. With goods and services that sold for $10 in 1958 now retailing for $12.85, and with the rates of inflation the greatest since the Korean War, controls are a possibility.

Price Increase Seen For April

Arnold Chase, assistant commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, downgrades this possibility. With prospects being for peace talks in Vietnam price and wage controls, he said, seem "almost out of the question at this time."

But who knows when peace will come or inflation end? Many Americans have a tendency to discount the red flags of inflation because, they find, their pay checks are growing almost. But last month purchasing power dropped, should this continue, the sentiment for controls would grow.

Adding a powerful and steady thrust to the rising chart lines are the costs of services, the prices of which are often less obvious than the price tags at the grocery.

It will surprise some consumers to learn that increases in food costs and housing and apparel during the past 10 years have been at a rate smaller than the over-all price index.

Based on 1958 prices equaling 100, the consumer price index now is 119.5. But the food price index, despite recent sharp increases, is only 117.5, and the cost of clothing and upkeep of clothing is nearly the same at 117.6. Housing is 117.2.

The largest increases by far have been in services rather than goods, in items such as auto repair, automobile maintenance, recreation, taxes, home college tuition, but especially in medical and dental costs.

Medical care now has increased nearly 43 per cent in the past decade, but even this high percentage doesn't really tell the story. In some areas the cost per day of a hospital room has nearly doubled.

The damage to the nation wrought by such inflation becomes obvious when you recognize that many of those who need medical aid are those whose incomes do not rise with inflation. Living on pensions, insurance policies and perhaps on

Hobby Files New Motions

Claiming Florida's immunity law applies to recent Seminole County grand jury indictment of former Sheriff J. Luther Hobbs, additional motions to dismiss eight counts of bribery were filed by Attorney Albert N. Fitts and Mack N. Cleveland Jr. in Circuit Court.

Statutes cited in the motion, provide that no one can be prosecuted before a trial or required to give evidence which may tend to convict.

New motion says charges should be dismissed because "certain evidence and testimony was obtained in connection with the investigation conducted by the State Attorney Dominick Salfi."

The motion will be heard Thursday at 1:30 p.m. before Circuit Court Judge Tom Wardell Jr., after being postponed from last Tuesday.

WW Card Party

South Seminole Welcome Club will sponsor a benefit card party at 1 p.m. Wednesday in the Parish Hall of Christ Episcopal Church in Longwood. Proceeds will go for the club's charity work. There will be many valuable door and table prizes presented and the public is invited to attend. Tickets will be available at the door.

The Dialogue

A dialogue of importance which each major political party can now be expected to have in the months ahead is the dialogue between the Democratic and Republican parties in the months ahead. This dialogue is expected to be particularly important in the months ahead because of the Democratic nomination of Hubert H. Humphrey and the Republican nomination of Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Among the Democrats, where the front-runner Richard M. Nixon has had only a slender lead in his race for the GOP presidential nomination, the choice is expected to be particularly important. With the nomination of Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democrats are expected to have a strong candidate in the Democratic nomination.

It was the Humphrey appearance, however, which has been the most important factor in the Democratic nomination. With the nomination of Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democrats are expected to have a strong candidate in the Democratic nomination.

For the first time since accepting the vice-presidential nomination in 1964, the Humphrey administration has shown a willingness to listen to the views of the opposition. The Humphrey administration has shown a willingness to listen to the views of the opposition.

There is a worthy and eager contestant to match the very large capacities which are represented by the views of Senator Robert F. Kennedy of New York and of Senator Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota for the Democratic nomination.

The differences which have sprung the strength of the Republican party in more presidential elections than GOP leaders would like to remember could now focus into definable objectives as the Nixon and the Rockefeller stand on major issues emerge.

To that extent, however, one common fact should be remembered while the pre-convention oratory sounds of the show-down, the pay-off is in November. On that Election Day, the candidates and their promises fade-out and the spotlight moves to the Voter. Results could show clearly whether or not these six months of dialogue have been useful.

Nixon And Negro Self-Help

By ALVIN SCOTT
WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon's suggestion that whites help develop "black capitalism" puts him well on the way to backing a small but apparently growing faction of Negroes who oppose the idea of "handouts" from whites.

Civil rights leaders have been saying for decades that Negroes want an equal chance with whites to compete in America's capitalist system. They have applied pressure mainly on liberal Democrats to break down the twin barriers of legal segregation and racial attitudes.

The new faction believes the traditional approach has run its course. It is unrealistic, they argue, to expect profit-minded businessmen to broaden welfare programs or spend money to set up business in slums.

Furthermore, they say, such programs don't get at the heart of the Negro's problem—a legacy of psychological damage dating from slave days that leaves many Negroes with so little belief in their own ability that they can't compete in a white world.

Rather than appeal to liberals, they say, Negroes are now in a position to get conservatives to support self-help programs that are better for Negroes in the long run. It can be done, they argue, by appealing to the same instinct that has made the United States a booming country—the profit motive.

A leading spokesman for this viewpoint is Dr. Thomas Mattheis, a Queens, N.Y., neurosurgeon who has founded a string of small "self-help" businesses with whites to compete in America's capitalist system. They have applied pressure mainly on liberal Democrats to break down the twin barriers of legal segregation and racial attitudes.

Helen Fuller Says Ball To The UN Raises???

WASHINGTON — The appointment of former Undersecretary of State George Ball as our new Ambassador to the United Nations has caused a heated discussion among many who favor a negotiated settlement to end the Vietnam war.

Ball has been one of the President's closest critics on the policy of large-scale bombing of North Vietnam and on efforts to bring about a complete military victory.

He resigned from the Administration when he could not get a favorable hearing within the inner circle. He has continued to express the same views publicly since he returned to private life.

By choosing Ball to represent U.S. interests in the United Nations, President Johnson seemingly has delivered himself into the hands of a well-known and vocal critic of the Administration.

It is an old Johnson tactic to use dissenters to speak in support of his policies. Ball is no exception. He was named to the post at a time when Johnson chose Mr. Ball for the strategic UN post at this time. And why did Mr. Ball accept?

Rocky Joins Race

Ed Gurney Rips LBJ Policies

MIAMI (AP) — U.S. Rep. Ed Gurney ripped into the Johnson administration on Monday, Friday and canceled two days of campaign appearances to return to Washington for a floor fight over the space program.

Gurney, bidding for the U.S. Senate seat being vacated by George Smathers, came out at Johnson on spending and inflation; failure to curb violence in the streets; and a "stalemate" in Vietnam.

The Winter Park Republican said he was canceling two days of stump speaking because a National Aeronautics and Space Administration program involving a cost of $500 million is scheduled for floor action.

His opponent in the Republican primary, Herman Goldner, proposed establishment of a federal agency to coordinate the activities of local police departments.

Peace Talks Site Still Up In Air

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials voice confidence that agreement will be reached with North Vietnam on where to talk peace but Hanoi says Washington is still in the dark.

Reds Executed 1,000 At Hue

SAIGON (AP) — Communist forces executed more than 1,000 persons during the February of the offensive in Hue, the U.S. Embassy reported today.

The embassy said its atrocity charge as the U.S. Command reported hard fighting around Hue, the former imperial capital, and U.S. B-57 bombers executed their raids into Laos to protect American troops sweeping the A Shau Valley gateway to the northern city.

The embassy said its report was based on information from allied sources and the South Vietnamese national police. It said the victims were found in 19 separate mass graves.

"Many had been shot, some beheaded," the report said. "A number of bodies showed signs of mutilation. Most were found with hands bound behind their backs."

"Evidence also was discovered of victims having been clubbed unconscious prior to being buried alive."

"Victims included Father Urban, 52, and Father Guy, 48, French priests from the nearby Benedictine mission at Thien An," the report said. "Father Urban was bound hand and foot and buried alive with 19 others. Father Guy was forced to kneel and shot through the head."

The U.S. Command would not comment on the reported 852 raids on Laos, its customary policy toward U.S. operations in that supposedly neutral country. But U.S. communications reported only three 852 raids against any positions in South Vietnam Monday and today, a sharp deviation from the average of 10 a day the bombers had been flying previously.

Their aim was to scatter sizeable enemy forces reported just across the border from the A Shau Valley, the major North Vietnamese staging base in the northern part of South Vietnam where allied intelligence officers believe the enemy has been readying a new attack on Hue and other cities in the northern provinces.

"Thousands of U.S. air cavalrymen have set up fire support stations in the 25-mile-long valley and are sweeping through it, destroying enemy bases and communications."

Auto Bills In The Mail

Some 40,000 pre-written registration forms were mailed to motor vehicle owners of Seminole County Friday, Tax Collector G. Troy Ray's office reported.

Enclosed with the registration form was notice of the new motor vehicle inspection law enacted by the 1967 Legislature. The notice gives the location of the inspection stations and the manner in which the motor vehicle owner can determine the time of initial inspection. Further information can be obtained by contacting the Board of County Commissioners' office at the courthouse in Sanford.

License tags go on sale Wednesday and the renewal period ends on June 20. Prices on license tags remain the same as last year. Final rate prices on the more common plates are: 1TD, $14.00; 1P, $12.22; 1W, $13.47; 1V, $5.97; 1A and 1TR, $11.34.

There has been a change in the format of the 1968 tag registration form in that the $50 service charge is shown separately from the tag cost.

News Is News

So Governor Kirk is going to try to rearrange of new conferences! Well, he's in good company and is wrestling with a problem of communications which has plagued chief executives ever since voters insisted on knowing what the people they had put in office were up to.

Sometimes it seems as though there was no way, acceptable to all, which can be followed in this rather sticky but basically important matter.

Two factors need to be taken into consideration. One is that those who embrace every means of getting their faces and names before the public must recall that the very devotion to their professions which allows such reporting, carries with it the obligation to show the other side of the picture.

And the second is that any curtailing of the public's right to know strikes at one of the foundations of a true democracy. Of course, we are not even implying that Governor Kirk has found out that reporters want to ask questions about than he is and would not like to have this published.

But as a member of the Fourth Estate of many years standing we would urge that there be no curtailing of press conferences and that if the governor finds them too exacting in his busy schedule, that other means be found to relieve his pressures.

Crane's Worry Clinic:

Back To Basic Three 'Rs'

By Dr. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE F-554; Bill Z, aged 28, is a high school teacher.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "in my Chicago high school we actually have seniors who still can't read or even sign their own name!"

"Maybe your readers will not believe such a thing but it is true."

"And what makes it seem more incredible is the fact these students have had 8 years in Chicago public schools and now are in the 4th year of high school—all at the taxpayer's expense."

"They are promoted regularly on the basis of age in spite of merit, for nowadays we don't care how stupid a child is but we will promote him if he is old enough to produce his own name."

"If they produced a written CONSTITUTION that couldn't be equalled even by modern college professors!"

Prime Minister Gladstone called it the "ageist" document never ever struck off at a given time by the brain and purpose of man."

Free public schooling is thus a late luxury in mankind's development on this planet.

It is the "bake" on evolution's menu, and may well need to be eliminated, as shrinking resources require that we cut back to educational "bread."

BERRY'S WORLD

"O.K., it's your turn to get the 'hand' card and it's my turn to figure the 'bill' ratio!"

H. L. Hunt Says:

Watching "Stop Kennedy" Moves

Disdain of the obvious power of the White House to induce a major occurrence, through the means of a startlingly simple announcement, President Johnson changed his opinion from the public figure hated throughout the world to a world leader respected for his decision to sacrifice his position for the sake of the interest of "peace," "good will," and "unity." The skill and timing of his move also put him in line, if he chooses to be drafted for the presidential nomination at the Convention.

An unforeseen side effect of the "announcement" was the rush by Democratic politicians

Both Sides
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A television system installer suddenly found himself on the other end of a system he installed. Columbus officials ordered a closed circuit television system installed at the city prison for use by officers during interview and arrest procedures.

Putting in the system was a full day's work and one of the installers went out on the town afterward. He had a few drinks too many and soon found himself back at the prison standing before one of the cameras used for interview work.

Road Fight Reopens

Battle between north and south side property owners over the proper location of Sand Lake Road resumed again today. Marc N. Cleveland Jr., attorney for north side owners, filed a notice of appeal in Circuit Court to the court decision that the road must be maintained in its current location.

Within the next 10 days grounds on which the appeal is being sought will be made known.

Judge William Aldridge, several months ago, ruled that the county must recognize the current location of the road as the proper right of way.

North side owners have installed the road over the past money years has deviated off its recorded right of way.

'Sentinel' Pushed For Defense

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon's chief scientist has approved the first official acknowledgment that the $3 billion U.S. defense plan against any Red Chinese missile also is a first step toward an anti-Soviet shield.

Dr. John S. Foster, director of Defense Research and Engineering, told the Senate Armed Services Committee the proposed anti-Soviet missile (ASM) system, called Sentinel, would be the foundation for an expanded defense against the Soviets.

Foster made clear, however, that current U.S. plans and capabilities are only to try to handle the rather rudimentary missile that China is expected to have in the early 1970s.

Foster's Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara told the same group the Sentinel system was technically capable of intercepting Soviet missiles but only in small numbers.

As he had repeatedly since last fall's announcement on the ASM decision, McNamara emphasized the anti-Chinese character of the system.

Testimony by both men came in early February but was publicly released only recently.

Sanford CG Flotilla Cited As 'One Of The Best'

It was a auspicious occasion at the Trophy Lounge for Sanford Flotilla 41, U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary. The purpose of the gathering was twofold. Primarily members of the Coast Guard unit and guests met to honor the graduation of those who had completed the 8-lesson course in basic seamanship and others who were the recipients of certificates awarded for completing the intensive course in medical self-help.

The current celebration was that in recognition of the six month anniversary of Flotilla 41. Since its inception in October, 1967, held here on Holiday Isle, which brought Coast Guard and Coast Auxiliary dignitaries from points as distant as Puerto Rico and California, Flotilla 41 — Sanford's very own — came into existence. The organization was chartered by Rud Miller, National Commodore of the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary. Those who attended this colorful affair will recall that the 8-foot boat was moored to the Sanford marina and was open to the public. Admiral Prater, Commander of the Seventh Coast Guard District, comprising South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, was the honored guest. Members of the newly created Flotilla 41 proudly passed before the Admiral's board the cutter in the sharp fleet composed of Flotilla vessels.

Sanford Flotilla 41 was chartered with 14 members. Today the unit has 28 full-fledged Auxiliaries and 12 conditional members. Since its inception the group has doubled in size and has had an admiral record in its varied activities imposed upon it by the high standards of the U.S. Coast Guard. One of the primary functions of the Coast Guard Auxiliary in assisting its parent organization is the promotion of water safety and the education of the boating populace in seamanship. In its brief existence Flotilla 41 has sponsored 3 1/2-lesson public education courses, 1 1/2-lesson course and 1 single-lesson course in such subjects as maneuvering and small boat handling, rules of the road, altered to navigating, marinepike seamanship, charts and compass and legal requirements. More than 100 persons have taken these courses.

Another facet of Coast Guard Auxiliary activity is the free public inspection of boats, nets and other requirements, and the boat passing, such as the Flotilla, but rather the boat owner or operator must request that such examination be performed. The inspection determines whether the vessel is fit to ply the waters. Flotilla 41 has examined over 200 boats, establishing somewhat of a record in a short space of time and with limited highly qualified boat examiners.

An innovation of Sanford's Flotilla is the SunDown Safety Patrol on the St. Johns each Sunday evening. These patrols, manned by Coast Guard Auxiliary members who are frequently assisted by Sea Explorers, have performed 30 patrols in 70 hours of patrol assignment. In the recent motorboat show held in Orlando, Sanford Flotilla 41, accompanied by its distinctive black buoy, had a very important role in introducing the Coast Guard Auxiliary to the public, working with Flotilla 411, the Orlando-Winter Park unit. Prior to last October Flotilla 411 was known as Sanford-Orlando Flotilla.

Master of ceremonies at the meeting Saturday was Flotilla Commander Vincent Holmwood, to whom much credit is to be given not only for the establishment of Flotilla 41, but the craft is properly qualified to ply the waters. Flotilla 41 has been in operation, and praised all those who have worked diligently to make each enterprise a success. He warned against oversteering its activities, stressing the need for the influx of new members to maintain a successful, continuing program of helpfulness to the boating populace. He pointed out that high standards must be adhered to keep the admirable image that the public holds of the U.S. Coast Guard and the Auxiliary. Commodore Baldini presided over the ceremony.
