STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER
By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—The average man probably will say $17,500 is a pretty good yearly income. An income's sufficiency, however, depends on how its recipient has to live. "How to live?" Can't he live to suit himself? Not always. An ambassador, among others, has got to live up to his job. "Got" is the word. His style of living is a matter concerning which a diplomat has no choice. That's why the United States diplomatic service is a service for rich men exclusively. This isn't necessarily true of the consular service. A consul hasn't a plenipotentiary's social obligations. It isn't true of foreign diplomats in America. Most of them draw two three or four times the pay ours do. Our ministers at a very low modest capitals do manage to live on their salaries. But generally speaking it spells ruin for a man whose staff of secretaries and attaches are in the same fix. Their expenses aren't as high as their chief's but neither are their salaries.

This is no argument in favor of higher diplomatic salaries. Most American diplomats are dead willing to foot ambassadorial bills for the honor they get out of it. They

The ambassador, or minister, isn't the only one whose official income won't support him. His without large financial resources of his own to accept a foreign post under our government. They can't afford it, too, or they wouldn't be foolish enough to accept appointments. In these days of rapid communication ambassadors and ministers aren't as important as they used to be, anyway.

FRENCH SECTION IN NEW ORLEANS TO BE PROTECTED

Commission Is Elected To Serve With City Officials In Preserving Remains Of Section 200 Years Old

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Vieux Carre, French quarter of Old New Orleans, where memories of yesterday abound on every side, will be protected from modernism. A commission of seven members has been created to act in an advisory capacity with city council to see that no buildings or remains "out of character" crowd into the historic section now 200 years old.

Here stand the Cabildo, where transfer of the Louisiana Purchase took place; St. Louis Cathedral, built in 1794; the French Market, dating from 1723; Napoleon House, built by Girard for the Emperor's residence when Lafayette's men should bring him from St. Helena; the shop of LaLette, the pirate himself, and the Old Absinthe House no longer selling absinthe, but still hale and hearty.

"MISSING LINK" OF DUTCH GUINEA IS CAUSING DEBATE

Tucson Editor Says Question Of Whether Pigmy Is Evolving Or Degenerating Will Have To Be Decided First

TUSCON, Ariz., Dec. 3.—(AP)—Whether the pigmy of Dutch New Guinea is evolving or degenerating first must be determined before it may be classed as the "missing link," in the opinion of Albert Rebel, Tucson editor, who has seen the creature.

In commenting on the Smithsonian Institution's expedition to Dutch New Guinea, Rebel told of impressions formed when he went with a Dutch geological party to the uncharted fastnesses of Sumatra in 1918.

Pigmies may easily be called "ape men," he said, for their mode of living is not much above that of apes. Although his first contact with the Bataks of Interior Sumatra almost convinced him he had found the gap in the Darwinian hypothesis, Rebel was amazed to learn the savages once had known a comparatively high state of civilization, as evidenced by remnants of art and writings in an alphabet known only to them.

Plans For New Fire Station On Palmetto Avenue Made Public

City Manager W. B. Williams this morning made public the preliminary plans for the proposed new fire station which, if erected will stand at the corner of Palmetto Avenue and Second Street.
The plans submitted to the city by Architect Elton J. Moughton, call for an estimated expenditure of $30,000. The proposed station is to be of two-story construction with towers at both front and rear ends of brick and stucco finish.
According to reliable authority the station will be equipped with the latest conveniences and complete fire house apparatus. Many innovations in the arrangement of the interior are to be incorporated in the building, it is said, and if erected the station will be one of the most modern in the state, Mr. Williams said.
It was stated this morning that more detailed information would be forthcoming upon the completion of the plans and drawings for the structure.

MARKETS

Reactionary tendencies predom- inated in the bond market early today reflecting the belief in investment circles that the advance in the Longon Bank rate to five per cent foreshadowed a higher Federal Reserve rate at New York. These features restricted buying and enabled sellings of both for- eign and domestic issues to proceed with little resistance. The in- flationary financial measures adopted in France created fresh uneasiness in the minds of French bondholders and both of these issues sold at lower prices.
Convertible rail bonds, such as Delaware and Hudson 5s and Chesapeake and Ohio 5s yielded their recent gains and motor issues also came under renewed selling pressure. Dodge Brothers 6s fell back more than a point and Murray Boody 6s broke more than seven points to a new low at 82 on reports that the company was experiencing difficulty in solv- ing its financial problem. Oil bonds maintained a firm tone.
The readiness with which stocks were taken in the early selling movement was regarded by some traders as indicating that support- ing orders were under the market and when the recognized leaders began to rally smartly, especially U. S. Steel, American Can and General Motors, the entire list moved up sympathetically.

Some of the specialties were marked up materially. Commer- cial Credit rising five and one- half. Remington Typewriter five and Dupont Pullman and Indian Defining pfd. three to three and one-half. Mack trucks, Hudson Company, Ludlum Steel, Eaton Axle, Atlantic Coast Line and Jewel Tea were also notably strong. The standing rate on call loans was unchanged at five per cent.

Eggs unsettled; fresh extra un- changed; first 62@65; storage 37 @38½; extras 60@61; storage 53.

The uncertain credit outlook en- couraged the resumption of sell- ing and at the same time impel- led interests which have been working for higher price to lighten their commitments. Reactions of one to two points were general among the popular industrials and specialties but rail shares were little affected.
The relatively narrow declines, however, indicated that the situa- tion should be continued to some extent. In addition to U. S. Steel and other pivotal issues, the early selling embraced Crucible Steel, General Electric, Woolworth, Foundation Co., United Cigar Stores, Chrysler and Cerrro de Pas- so Coppo.
Gimbel Brothers opened eight- points lower at 75 and then rallied to 80 and some of the selling in other issues was absorbed. Mur- ray Boody sagged more than two points to another new low for the year. Foreign exchanges opened steady with demand sterling ad- vancing to $484.

CHICAGO, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Near- ly vertical new jumps in the price of wheat took the market upward almost six cents a bushel in the first half hour here today Dec. rising to 1.77½. An unexpected big advance in Liverpool quotattion together with unusual scarci- ty of wheat there gave fresh im- petus to buying in Chicago.

Poultry alive steady; fowls 17 @24½; springs 23; turkeys 30; roosters 18; ducks 18@21; geese 18.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 3.—(AP)—Wholesale quotations pre- vailing on the Jacksonville market today as reported by the Florida

State Marketing Bureau are as follows:

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—(AP)—

Stock prices turned downward at the opening of today's market as the increase in the London Bank rate to 5 percent intensified the fears of a change in the local Fed- eral Reserve Bank at the after- noon meeting.
Cotton futures opened fairly steady. Dec. 20.48; Jan. 19.72; Mar. 19.68; May 19.33; July 19.03.

Again Buick has won first place in the motor car industry. This year, as in every one of the preceding seven, the public has invested more dollars in Buick automobiles than in other cars built by any member of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce.
This enables Buick to first choice of display space at the National Automobile Shows in New York and Chicago.
For eight years Buick has dominated quality motor car sales, enjoying nearly a decade of leadership, while a host of other line cars were striving for the place of honor held by Buick.
A better idea of the magnitude of this Buick achievement may be obtained when you consider that to duplicate it, a motor car would need to capture first place now, then hold it continuously until 1934.
To have won this lion's share of public prefer- ence, year after year, for so long, conclusively shows superior merit in the Buick product.
Buick has built a better motor car, and public recognition has followed—has singled it out as the one car among all—which contrasts in the greatest measure the essentials of dependability, economical and luxurious factoring.

Smoking at Bryn Mawr

For twenty-eight years Bryn Mawr has had a rule prohibiting cigarette smoking. Recently Dr. Marion Edwards Park, president of that institution, revoked the former edict and declared that in the future, girls should be permitted to smoke with certain minor restrictions.

Dr. Park realizes that a change in time effects changes in customs and says, "A regulation prohibiting smoking can no longer depend on the authority of conscience and convention which made up public opinion, and it is no longer effective in a self-governing commonwealth."

While we do not feel that Dr. Park's action warrants any unusual amount of praise, we cannot fail to approve. The effect of the ruling will be to give a general impression that she approves of smoking, which we believe is not the case.

On the other hand if a girl is going to smoke, it is better that she do so in a prescribed fashion than slip off to some dimly lighted recess where her escapade will pass unseen.

We believe that there is a rapidly growing tendency on the part of young women to smoke, and while it may be argued that smoking is no worse for them than for their young men friends, it cannot be denied that it does not do them any good.

It has been our experience that in such matters college rules have little effect. All the college presidential edicts in the world could not keep a girl from smoking if she wanted to smoke.

While Dr. Park has "legalized" at Bryn Mawr, it is not to be assumed that she expects all, or very many, of the girls to avail themselves of the opportunity.

We'll Cancel the Order

And now The New York World is worried, it is dubious, in a word, it is very pessimistic. Why? Because it has learned that twenty-five gondolas, equipped with modern devices for evoking romance, are in process of shipment to a Florida real estate company, which will use them to lend a distinctive picturesque atmosphere to its particular resort.

"This nails once and for all the canard that American business men have no regard for beauty," says The World. "But, though it does high credit to their aesthetic sense, does it do the same to their business sense? Will it sell lots? One fears not. Gondolas and Florida real estate are two concepts which cannot be associated without certain disastrous commercial consequences.

That settles it. We won't have gondolas. FLORIDA, ITSELF IS getting new capital in its state banks and trust companies alone at the rate of a million dollars a day. More than 450 million dollars was invested in the state last year.

—ARTHUR M. EVANS in Denver Post. We have little patience with those newspapers that appear to begrudge the South its present era of prosperity. An uncalled for prejudice has too long existed in certain Northern sections against the states below the Mason and Dixon line.

MY FAVORITE STORIES: THE PERILS OF PRANKING: There was a homicide trial going on at a remote county seat in the mountains of West Virginia and a lanky native took the stand to testify to the good character and peaceful disposition of the prisoner at the bar.

THAT "SYNDICATE": Referring to the Scripps-Howard chain of papers, the New York Commercial properly advises that the good people of Florida should not worry "because a certain syndicate of newspapers has seen fit to rather malign and abuse that state."

THE CENTER OF THINGS: We are the center of things in time, as well as in space and in importance. That, too, is always human nature.

MORE WHIPPING BOSS SCANDAL: A North Carolina grand jury has indicted the superintendent of a county convict camp for the murder of three negroes whom he is alleged to have flogged so severely that they died shortly after the whipping.

THE WEARING OF JEWELS: The wearing of jewelry is one of the oldest of human customs and, even in this enlightened age, a more universal custom than the wearing of clothing.

DAN DOBBS SAYS: A gang of children about the house is a great source of pleasure if you can stand the static.

THE CENTER OF THINGS: Time consists of past, present, and future, and its center is what ever instant we happen to be living.

THE WEARING OF JEWELS: Americans have always been fond of jewelry in moderation, but in recent years there has been evidence of an increasing use of jewelry in this country.

Two Million Cross

Gandy Bridge

Florida Times-Union

The Gandy bridge, which is said to be the longest automobile bridge in the world, is just a year old and already has counted more than two million persons in automobiles crossing from St. Petersburg to Tampa or from Tampa to St. Petersburg.

The St. Petersburg Independent commenting on the Gandy bridge on its first anniversary, said that taking trucks, buses and automobiles and the distance of twenty miles from city to city, the Gandy bridge traffic amounted to approximately sixteen million car miles.

There are several features of Gandy bridge traffic. One outstanding feature is the safety record attained. Of the 2,000,000 or more persons who crossed the bridge, all but a half dozen or so made the trip without injury and but two fatal accidents have occurred on the bridge or causeways.

During the first few months of bridge operation it became evident that motorists did have one or two faults, one of the principal of which was the habit of running out of gasoline and stalling their cars out on the bridge or causeways, miles from the nearest filling station.

Hence there was marked point in Mr. Miller's remark that there is evidence that a section of the public is losing its bearings and being drawn into the arena of speculation. For from this standpoint he reasoned that, in view of the fact that cheaper and more abundant credit than the country has ever known on so extensive a scale is giving to the people aid and encouragement, it is high time for a halt to be called lest a speculative frame of mind be engendered which might in time invade the field of legitimate trade and industry.

As a unit of the good roads system of Florida, the Gandy bridge stands prominent forward, and has done much to assist the traffic and interchange of civilities in the section of the state served. These are days of activity, and the man or woman with a motor car desires to go everywhere and discover personally the things peculiar and important localities.

A TIMELY WORD OF WARNING

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR

In sounding a word of warning against undue credit inflation and speculation, A. C. Miller, economist and member of the United States Federal Reserve Board, showed that he was possessed of a sound business sense and that he had glimpsed a vision of sane prosperity which many at this time would do well to emulate.

Hence there was marked point in Mr. Miller's remark that there is evidence that a section of the public is losing its bearings and being drawn into the arena of speculation.

LATEST FASHION HINTS FOR MILADY

BY MARY MARSHALL

Velvet Weddings for Mid-Winter Have Picturesque Possibilities That Appeal to the Smart Bride.

The blushing young girl protested to her ardent wooer. He begged her to marry him at once and she protested that she must postpone until June. Such haste was unseemly. Besides, it was a tradition in her family to be married in the month of roses.

Then the fervent young man who had wisely kept abreast of prevailing fashions whispered to her the possibilities of a velvet wedding. In June you may be married in a bower of roses, he said, but in January you can be married in velvet—with velvet bridesmaids and velvet pages and train bearers.

That makes one more wedding listed for the week after New Year's!

Perhaps you too are going to be married in January—for apparently no one is married before Christmas. If you are, you may have planned a velvet wedding gown, or, at any rate, velvet gowns for the bridesmaids.

At one of the last of the fashionable autumn weddings in France—the daughter of a vicomte and the son of a count—the bridesmaids wore frocks of cyclamen-colored velvet, with wide-brimmed hats of the same hue. This new type of wedding about the same time the maid of honor and bridesmaids wore burnt orange velvet gowns, with wide-brimmed brown velvet hats.

Wedding gowns of velvet have quite eclipsed for the nonce interest in gold and silver brocade. The sketch shows a new wedding gown of white velvet with embroidered girdle of rhinestones and pearls. There is a tulle veil edged with lace that falls from a tight-fitting cap of lace studded with pearls. The long train is embroidered all over in rhinestones and pearls. This type of frock, plain, straight bodice with short, circular flaring skirt, and unadorned long sleeves, is the type chosen by Molyneux for wedding gowns this season.

Mrs. John Meisch Is Hostess At Bridge On Wednesday Afternoon

Quantities of fragrant narcissus were used in decorating the spacious home of Mrs. John Meisch on Wednesday afternoon when she entertained at bridge, the guests included members of the Idlers Club and two extra tables of players.

The afternoon passed all too quickly in the spirited game of bridge and when scores were counted, it was found that Mrs. Alexander Vaughn held high score among the club members, while Miss Ellison White was the winner among the guests.

Refreshments of fruit salad, nut bread sandwiches, olives and coffee were served at the conclusion of the card game.

Club members present were Mrs. Alexander Vaughn, Mrs. Harry Heeren, Mrs. Ender Carlett, Mrs. George Davis Hart, Mrs. John Heender, Mrs. W. T. Tunniffice, the guests were: Miss Ellison White, Mrs. A. F. McAllister, Mrs. George Herbst, Mrs. Philip Bach, and Mrs. Edmund Meisch.

Mrs. David Caldwell Entertains At Bridge At Rose Court Home

Mrs. David Caldwell was the gracious hostess Wednesday afternoon when she entertained the members of the Wednesday Bridge Club at her home in Rose Court. The color scheme of yellow and green was effectively carried out with baskets of yellow chrysanthemums and ferns.

Floral tallies were used in keeping scores for the interesting game of bridge and after the usual number of progressions, the prize for high score, a box of dainty hand made handkerchiefs, was awarded Mrs. E. E. Roumillat.

Following the awarding of the prize, the hostess served delicious refreshments in two courses.

Substituting for an absent club member was Mrs. E. J. Gonzalez, while the club members present were Mrs. E. E. Roumillat, Mrs. A. B. Wallace, Mrs. Claude Howard, Mrs. E. F. Housholder, Mrs. Floyd Palmer, Mrs. M. S. Wiggins and Mrs. W. C. Hill.

Prohibition Is Making Capitalist Of Working Man, Says Ohio Congressman

CHICAGO, Dec. 2. — (AP) — Prohibition is making a capitalist of the worker, creating a general ownership of the means of production and solving a strife that once seemed perpetual in the opinion of Congressman John G. Cooper of Ohio, who addressed the national convention of the Anti-Saloon League here tonight.

Mr. Cooper, who is a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, asserted that the great gains had been made by labor since the adoption of the 18th amendment, with fewer strikes, than in any other period of time.

"When the saloon closed, the 'poor man's club' may have vanished," he said, "but we are replacing it today with comfortable homes, fine labor temples and a chain of strong labor banks. There are some who want to go back to the old days when the beer saloon was the center of a slum neighborhood where labor lived, but they are becoming fewer yearly."

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers was fighting the drink evil a decade before the churches began, Congressman Cooper asserted.

"When men began buying groceries, clothes, houses, autos, etc., instead of beer and booze, it meant more work for the workers who produced those things," he said. "The slogan invented by the brewery press agents of 'No Beer—No work,' should have read 'No Beer—More Work.' The American worker does not have to limit production or resort to sabotage to

MOVIE HOUSES VISITED DAILY BY 20 MILLIONS

Number of Picture Theaters Varies With Industrial Disputes And The Seasonal Vagaries Of The Weather

Total Is Now Placed At Over 20 Thousand

Situation In The Anthracite Region Has Adversely Affected Business, Is Report

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Feeling the pinch of industrial disputes and the seasonal vagaries of the weather, the number of motion picture theaters in the United States fluctuates much as do the figures on the stock market. The show houses of the industry have been counted, however, and the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America placed the November total at 20,415. At the same time, figures were released showing that upwards of twenty million people visit these theaters daily.

The tabulation of movie houses was first attempted and exceeds by nearly four thousand the estimates that variously have been made. A significant fact noted in the count was the increase in the number of small houses.

A guide book will be prepared from the data, making available to the patron an index of the picture theaters of the country.

The situation in the anthracite region adversely affected the movie business, as disclosed in a decrease in numbers. Across the country in Montana, however, the activity about the Anaconda mine operations brought the number to a new high figure. Approach of winter weather caused the closing of a large number of coast and resort amusement houses, although in other sections it became the season for reopening.

Passing of daylight time and the end of long summer evenings, inducements for the air dome and open air theater, were additional factors.

The distributors have concluded after a consideration of all seasonal features in the business that there is a balance in movie exhibitions and patronage.

Taking the seating capacity of the theaters as a basis and figuring conservatively on a filled house twice daily, the report on attendance was compiled principally from a report made by H. M. Richey, general manager of the Michigan Motion Picture Theater Owners Association.

A tendency toward the building of large theaters in the cities was noted, presumably to increase seating capacity and thereby lower admission prices. In towns, however, theaters are being erected on a smaller scale. Architectural and utility beauty was shown in the building plans of all modern theaters.

Officers Of Fair Body Are Elected

CHICAGO, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Officers of the International Association of Fairs and expositions were named yesterday. Frank D. Fuller of Memphis was elected president of the E. L. Richardson of Calgary, Alberta, Canada, vice-president; R. T. Hemphill, Oklahoma City, Okla., secretary and G. R. Lewis, Columbus, O., directors were re-elected while Charles Nash, Springfield, was also named a director.

The closing session also approved the proposal of funding a fellowship in universities for the study of fundamentals in their management.

KIPLING SERIOUSLY ILL

LONDON, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Lord Dawson of Penn, the king's physician, has been called to Burwash, to attend Rudyard Kipling, whose condition is giving rise to anxiety. The famous writer is reported to be suffering from bronchitis, complicated with pneumonia.

ROOSEVELT WAS FIRST TO SUGGEST ANIMAL PICTURES

Late President Is Called Father Of Picture That Has Developed Into Popular Film Entertainment

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Though perhaps he never guessed it, the late Theodore Roosevelt was the father of the animal picture, which has developed into one of the most popular forms of film entertainment.

W. N. Selig, who has begun making motion pictures on a commercial scale in Chicago in 1896 and was one of the leading producers when Roosevelt was president, tells the story, a hitherto unpublished sidelight on the statesman's career.

When Selig learned the president planned to go Africa on a big game hunt immediately after the expiration of his term in 1909, he began negotiations to bring Kermit Roosevelt to Chicago for a course in modern picture camera work. The plan was to have him photograph the hunt as a cameraman under contract to Selig.

Negotiations lagged, however, and the best Selig was able to do in a personal interview with the president shortly before Christmas was to obtain his promise that if he did not take a Selig cameraman along he would not take another.

Matters stood here when the expedition sailed. Selig had overlooked, however, the Smithsonian Institution's connection with the hunt. The Institution knew nothing of his conversation with the retiring president, and when the expedition entered the big game country an English motion picture cameraman was along.

This was bitter news to Selig. He thought Roosevelt had broken his promise, and so, when word of the former president's first lion kill was flashed to the United States, he resolved to fake the hunt in a film.

Up to this time animals had played no part in motion pictures, save for the occasional appearance of a cat, dog, horse or other domestic animal, and if Selig expected to film an African hunt he had to have African animals.

After some difficulty he found a debt-harassed owner of a small menagerie in Milwaukee who was only too glad to rent any or all of his African specimens and to sacrifice his most decrepit lion for slaughter in the Roosevelt film.

There was in Chicago at the time a vaudeville actor who was staging a clever impersonation of the famous statesman. He was signed, and the filming of "Big Game Hunting Africa" began.

The climax of the picture was enacted in a big cage, about 100 feet long and 50 feet wide, containing an African "set" convincing enough scenically and in which a stout iron grill separated the section in which "Roosevelt" aimed his rifle from the section in which the lion roared. Negroes gathered off the streets of Chicago made up the "native train" of the big game hunter.

At the critical moment a puff of white smoke issued from the counterfeit ex-president's rifle, and the menagerie lion fell mortally wounded. To avoid disappointment and a possible retake of the scene, "Roosevelt" was given only blank cartridges to shoot; the actual killing was done by a sharpshooter posted on the sidelines and using smokeless powder.

Although the name of Roosevelt was not mentioned anywhere in the film, the public generally accepted it as a picture of the Roosevelt hunt, photographed in Africa, and it was a tremendous hit. It was popular even abroad, and Roosevelt—the real Roosevelt—arrived in Berlin on his homeward journey from Africa just in time to see the fake film featured in the theaters.

He was furious, of course; and when he next met Selig, in the Republican club at New York, he spoke hot words. But his wrath vanished and the famous Roosevelt smile gleamed again when the film producer said:

"If only you had taken an American cameraman, Colonel, I wouldn't have done it. But you took an Englishman."

Terms, More Work, Strikes, Davis Says

try, which he held responsible for much part-time and seasonal employment of workers. No mention of the anthracite suspension was made in the report, which covered the fiscal year ending with last June.

"One of the great elements of the problem of unemployment is the present over developed state of some of our larger industries," he said. "Our productive machinery and equipment in many of these industries cannot run 300 days per year without producing a stock that cannot be sold in this or any other country. As an illustration, the census lists 1,570 boot and shoe factories: Of these 227 of 14 1-2 percent produce 65

But it is no use to consider the disease unless we make some attempt to discover the remedy. A generation ago our people were frightened by the term 'combination' or 'trust'. Most of the protest that went up against these new combinations came from the very people engaged in superfluous industry. Now we see the fact more clearly. The combination tends to wipe out overdevelopment and the wasteful unproductive.

"I do not advocate a movement toward monopoly or trusts such as were conceived in the minds of protestants a few years ago; not a single control or factory in each industry, but a cutting down of the number to the point where each establishment upon a competitive basis could operate at least approximately 50 weeks in each year.

"What is needed is some system that will keep going only the coal mines and the manufacturing plants needed to produce what we need and can sell, and need to keep an adequate number of work-would produce 95 percent of all shoes now produced and sold. In other words, 14 1-2 percent of the factories, employing 60.4 percent of the workers, could with steady work for 300 days a year produce all the boots and shoes we need.

"Take the flour mill industry as another example. Here we have perhaps the worst situation of all; 2.8 percent of the plants, employing 42 percent of the whole number of workers engaged in the industry, produce 62 per cent of the output, while 85 per cent of the establishments produce but 12 percent.

"Take another situation, that of bituminous coal. There are 338 Illinois. These operated an average of 139 days in a year. Had 84 of these 338 mines operated 300 days, they could have produced 5,000,000 tons more in one year than all of them produced in 1924.

"Go down the line and in nearly every industry you will find the same appalling state of affairs. need and can sell, and need to keep an adequate number of workers employed for 300 days in the year, while the unnecessary mines and plants can be closed or held in reserve. We need some system for scattering unneeded workers in any industry where they are really needed in industry yet to be developed. If this cannot be permitted under the existing laws, then there must be a way of modifying them so as to permit it without incurring any other more serious consequences."

The Secretary repeated his recommendations for legislation to permit examination abroad of all immigrants, upon the system now operating in England and Ireland. He asked likewise for more liberal terms of retirement on pension to government employees, and for the construction of a building to house the Labor Department.

As to general immigration policy he repeated recommendations for the establishment of quotas affecting immigrants from countries on the American continent, and for enrollment in the United States of aliens.

Heads of bureaus in the Labor

Department reported directly upon the particular work under their jurisdiction. Hugh L. Kerwin, director of conciliation, said that during the year federal representatives had coped with industrial disputes involving an aggregate of 334,000 workers, and had been successful in aiding settlement in a large portion.

The United States employment service, reported actually placing in employment during the fiscal year 1925, 1,609,977 workers.

For the immigration service, Commissioner General Hull gave the total of aliens admitted to the United States for the year as 458,435. The usual tourist and business travel accounting for large numbers, but immigrants admitted numbered 294,314. A total of 25,300 persons seeking to enter were rejected as inadmissible.

Additional patrol establishments on borders, Mr. Hull said, had bettered the work of the bureau, but he asked for an increased force to cope with alien smuggling.

Raymond F. Crist, chief of the Naturalization Bureau, said there were 277,318 declarations of intention to become citizens by aliens during the year, and 162,258 petitions for final naturalization. Of this last total, 15,813 petitions were denied, chiefly on grounds of bad character and insufficient length of residence.

Mr. Hull noted that desertions of seamen from foreign ships at United States ports were on the increase, and Secretary Davis took up the subject in his recommendations, asking the codifying of the immigration statutes with reference to this and other types of evasion of the immigration restriction policy. The legal provisions for deportation of aliens improperly within the United States, he said, were faulty, and should be revised by Congress.

Rehabilitation To Follow Rail Merger

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Complete rehabilitation of the Muscle Shoals, Birmingham and Pensacola railroad at an estimated cost of $2,500,000 will be started soon after Jan. 1 by the St. Louis, San Francisco Railway Company, President James M. Karn, of the Frisco announced today.

The Frisco recently purchased the Pensacola line and took it over Dec. 1. The line is 143 miles long and runs from Kibrough, Ala., to Pensacola, Fla. Approximately nine months will be needed to complete the work he said, since the road must be practically rebuilt.

"It is the Frisco's intention," said the railroad president "to divert a great deal of middle western, gulf port traffic over the new line to the splendid port at Pensacola."
